٥٩- يَتَوَارَىٰ مِنَ الْقَوْمِ مِنْ سُوءِ

2080. Idols and fictitious gods are certainly things of which they have no knowledge, idols being lifeless things of whose life or doings no knowledge is possible, and fictitious gods being but figments of their imagination.

2081. Cf. vi. 136—140, 142-144, and v. 106. The Pagans, in assigning and dedicating some of their children, or some of their cattle, or some of the produce of their fields, to their false gods as sharers with the true Supreme God, made themselves doubly ridiculous; first, because every good thing that they valued was given to them by God, and how could they patronisingly assign to Him a share of His own gifts?—and secondly, because they brought in other gods as sharers, who had no existence whatever! Besides, the cattle and produce was given for their physical sustenance and the children for their social and spiritual sustenance, and how can they, poor creatures, give sustenance to God?

2082. Some of the Pagan Arabs called angels the daughters of God. In their own life they hated to have daughters, as explained in the next two verses. They practised female infanticide. In their state of perpetual war sons were a source of strength to them; daughters only made them subject to humiliating raids!

SECTION 8.

61. If God were to punish
 Men for their wrong-doing,
 He would not leave, on the (earth),
 A single living creature:
 But He gives them respite
 For a stated Term:
 When their Term expires,
 They would not be able
 To delay (the punishment)
 For a single hour, just as
 They would not be able
 To anticipate it (for a single hour). <sup>2087</sup>

٦١- وَلَوْ يُؤِخِّرُ اللَّهُ النَّاسَ بِظُلْمِهِمْ
 مَا تَرَكَ عَلَيْهَا مِنْ دَابَّةٍ
 وَلَكِنْ يُؤَخِّرُهُمْ إِلَىٰ أَجَلٍ مُّسَمًّى
 فَإِذَا جَاءَ أَجَلُهُمْ لَا يَسْتَأْخِرُونَ
 سَاعَةً ۚ وَلَا يَسْتَقْدِرُونَ ○

2083. "It," in this and the following clause, refers grammatically to the "news" (mā bushshira bihi). In meaning it refers to the "female child"—by the figure of speech known as metonymy.

2084. Cf. lxxx. 8-9. The practice of female infanticide is condemned in scathing terms. Female children used to be buried alive by the Pagan Arabs

2085. It was an evil choice to decide on. Either alternative—to keep the poor girl as a thing of sufferance and contempt, bringing disgrace on the family, or to get rid of it by burying it alive—was cruel and indefensible.

2086. Cf. xxx. 27. God is above all comparison. But if, for our own understanding, we use any similitudes at all, the highest and noblest would be for God, and the vilest for the Unbelievers, for they deny their own nature. The Pagans reversed this process, and attributed daughters to God, when they considered daughters a sign of shame and ignominy to themselves!

2087. God's decree works without fail. If He were to punish for every wrong or shortcoming, not a single living creature on earth would escape punishment. But in His infinite mercy and forgiveness, He gives respite: He provides time for repentance. If the repentance is forthcoming, God's Mercy is forthcoming without fail. If not, the punishment comes inevitably on the expiry of the Term. The sinner cannot anticipate it by an insolent challenge, nor can he delay it when the time arrives. Let him not think that the respite given him may mean that he can do what he likes, and that he can escape scot-free from the consequences.

62. They attribute to God
What they hate (for themselves),<sup>2088</sup>
And their tongues assert
The falsehood that all good things<sup>2089</sup>
Are for themselves: without doubt
For them is the Fire, and they
Will be the first to be
Hastened on into it!
63. By God, We (also) sent
(Our apostles) to Peoples
Before thee; but Satan
Made, (to the wicked),
Their own acts seem alluring:
He is also their patron to-day,<sup>2090</sup>
But they shall have
A most grievous penalty.
64. And We sent down the Book
To thee for the express purpose,
That thou shouldst make clear
To them those things in which<sup>2091</sup>
They differ, and that it should be
A guide and a mercy
To those who believe.
65. And God sends down rain
From the skies, and gives therewith
Life to the earth after its death:
Verily in this is a Sign

٦٢- وَيَجْعَلُونَ لِلَّهِ مَا يَكْفُرُونَ

لِّقَوْمٍ يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

٦٥- وَاللَّهُ أَنْزَلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً فَأَحْيَا بِهِ
الْأَرْضَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِهَا إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً

2088. See above. xvi. 57-58 and notes.

2091. But the path of duty before God's Messenger is clear. He is sent with the Revelation (the Qur-ān) for three express purposes: (1) that he should bring about unity among the jarring sects, for the Gospel of Unity, while preaching the One True God, leads also to the unity of mankind; (2) that the revelation should be a guide to right conduct; and (3) that it should show the path of repentance and salvation, and thus be the highest mercy to erring sinners.

67. And from the fruit

Also is a Sign
For those who are wise.

۞ وَمِنْ ثَمَرَاتِ النَّخِيلِ وَالْأَعْنَابِ

إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً لِقَوْمٍ يَعْقِلُونَ ۝

2093. The spiritual sustenance which God gives is typified by the wonderful ways of sustenance in the physical world, which figure forth God's providence and loving care for His creation. And the wonderful transformations in the physical world, which all tend to the benefit of man, are also Signs of His supreme wisdom. In the previous verse rain was mentioned, which gives new life to dead nature. In this and the following two verses our attention is drawn to milk, the products of the date and the vine, and honey.

2095. Milk is a secretion in the female body, like other secretions, but more specialised. Is it not wonderful that the same food, eaten by males and females, produces in the latter, when they have young, the wholesome and complete food, known as milk ? Then, when cattle are tamed and specially bred for milk, the supply of milk is vastly greater than is necessary for their young and lasts for a longer time than during the period they give suck to their young. And it is a wholesome and agreeable diet for man. It is pure, as typified by its whiteness. Yet it is a secretion like other secretions, between the excretions which the body rejects as worthless and the precious blood-stream which circulates within the body and is the symbol of life itself to the animal which produces it.

2096. There are wholesome drinks and foods that can be got out of the date-palm and the vine : e.g., non-alcoholic drinks from the date and the grape, vinegar, date-sugar, grape-sugar, and dates and grapes themselves for eating. If sakar must be taken in the sense of fermented wine, it refers to the time before intoxicants were prohibited : this is a Meccan Sūra and the prohibition came in Medina

68. And thy Lord taught the Bee<sup>2097</sup>
To build its cells in hills,
On trees, and in (men's) habitations;

69. Then to eat of all
The produce (of the earth),<sup>2098</sup>
And find with skill the spacious<sup>2099</sup>
Paths of its Lord : there issues
From within their bodies
A drink of varying colours,
Wherein is healing for men :
Verily in this is a Sign
For those who give thought.

70. It is God Who creates you
And takes your souls at death ;
And of you there are
Some who are sent back
To a feeble age, so that<sup>2100</sup>
They know nothing after
Having known (much) :
For God is All-Knowing,<sup>2101</sup>
All-Powerful.

٦٨- وَأَوْحَىٰ رَبُّكَ إِلَى النَّحْلِ أَنِ اتَّخِذِي
مِنَ الْجِبَالِ بُيُوتًا وَمِنَ الشَّجَرِ وَمِمَّا يَعْرِشُونَ

٦٩- ثُمَّ كُلِّي مِنْ كُلِّ الشَّجَرِ
فَاسْلُكِي سُبُلَ رَبِّكِ ذُلُلًا
يَخْرُجُ مِنْ بُطُونِهَا شَرَابٌ
مُخْتَلِفٌ أَلْوَانُهُ فِيهِ شِفَاءٌ لِلنَّاسِ
إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً لِّقَوْمٍ يَتَفَكَّرُونَ

٧٠- وَاللَّهُ خَلَقَكُمْ ثُمَّ يَتَوَقَّعُكُمْ
وَمِنْكُمْ مَّنْ يُرَدُّ إِلَى أَرْدَلِ الْعُرَى
لَكِنِّي لَا يَعْلَمُ بَعْدَ عِلْمٍ شَيْئًا
إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلِيمٌ قَدِيرٌ

2097. Auhā : wahyun ordinarily means inspiration, the Message put into the mind or heart by God. Here the Bee's instinct is referred to God's teaching, which it undoubtedly is. In xcix, 5, it is applied to the earth : we shall discuss the precise meaning when we come to that passage. The honey-comb, itself, with its hexagonal cells, geometrically perfect, is a wonderful structure, and is well called buyāt, homes. And the way the bee finds out inaccessible places, in the hills, in the trees, and even among the habitations of men, is one of the marvels of nature, i.e., of God's working in His Creation.

2099. Zululan : two meanings are possible : (1) ways easy and spacious, referring to the unerring way in which bees find their way from long distances to their combs ; and (2) the idea of humility and obedience in them. From both we can derive a metaphorical and spiritual meaning.

2100. Besides the mystery and beauty of the many processes going on in the working of God's Creation, there is the wonderful life of man himself on this earth : how he is created as a child ; how he grows in intelligence and knowledge ; and how his soul is taken back and his body suffers dissolution. In some cases he lives so long that he falls into a feeble old age like a second childhood : he forgets what he learnt and seems almost to go back in Time. Is not all this wonderful, and evidence of the Knowledge and Power of God ?

2101. Our attention having been called to the remarkable transformations in life and nature, by which the Knowledge and Power of God work out His beneficent Plan for His creatures, we are reminded that man at best is but a feeble creature, but for the grace of God. We then pass on in the next Section to the differences in the gifts which men themselves enjoy, distinguishing them into so many categories. How much greater is the difference between the created things and their Creator ?

SECTION 10.

71. God has bestowed His gifts
Of sustenance more freely on some
Of you than on others : those
More favoured are not going
To throw back their gifts
To those whom their right hands
Possess, so as to be equal
In that respect. Will they then
Deny the favours of God ? <sup>2102</sup>

٤١- وَاللَّهُ فَضَّلَ بَعْضَكُمْ عَلَى بَعْضٍ فِي
الرِّزْقِ فَمَا الَّذِينَ فُضِّلُوا بِرَأْدِي رِزْقِهِمْ
عَلَى مَا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُهُمْ
فَهُمْ فِيهِ سَوَاءٌ
أَفِينِعْمَةَ اللَّهِ يَجْحَدُونَ ○

72. And God has made for you
Mates (and Companions) of your own nature, <sup>2103</sup>
And made for you, out of them,
Sons and daughters and grandchildren, <sup>2104</sup>
And provided for you sustenance
Of the best : will they
Then believe in vain things,
And be ungrateful for God's favours ?—

٤٢- وَاللَّهُ جَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِنْ أَنْفُسِكُمْ أَزْوَاجًا
وَجَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِنْ أَزْوَاجِكُمْ بَنِينَ وَحَفَدًا
وَرَزَقَكُمْ مِنَ الطَّيِّبَاتِ
أَفِي الْبَاطِلِ يُؤْمِنُونَ
وَيَنْعَمَتِ اللَّهُ هُمْ يَكْفُرُونَ ○

73. And worship others than God,—
Such as have no power
Of providing them, for sustenance, <sup>2105</sup>

٤٣- وَيَعْبُدُونَ مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
مَا لَا يَمْلِكُ لَهُمْ رِزْقًا

2102. Even in the little differences in gifts, which men enjoy from God, men with superior gifts are not going to abandon them so as to be equal with men of inferior gifts, whom, perhaps, they hold in subjection. They will never deny their own superiority. How then (as the argument is pursued in the two following verses), can they ignore the immense difference between the Creator and created things, and make the latter, in their thoughts, partners with God ?

2103. Of your nature : or of yourselves. Cf. iv. 1 and n. 504. Self, or Personality, or Soul, all imply a bundle of attributes, capacities, predilections, and dispositions, which we may sum up in the word Nafs, or nature. Woman was made to be (1) a mate or companion for man ; (2) except for sex, of the same nature as man, and therefore, with the same moral and religious rights and duties ; and (3) she is not to be considered a source of all evil or sin, as the Christian monks characterised her but rather as a blessing, one of the favours (Ni'mat) of God.

2104. Hafadat : collective plural, daughters, grandchildren, and descendants. The root hafada also implies obedient service and ministration. Just as the sons (first mentioned) should be a source of strength, so daughters and grandchildren should serve and contribute to the happiness of fathers and grandparents, and are to be looked upon as further blessings.

2105. "Sustenance" (rizq) in all this passage (xvi. 65-74), as elsewhere, implies all that is necessary for man's life and growth, physical, mental, moral, and spiritual. Milk, fruit, and honey are examples of physical gifts, with a metaphorical reference to mental and moral health ; family life is an example of moral and social and (ultimately) spiritual opportunities in the life of man ; and in xvi. 65 is an example of rain in the physical world as a type of God's revelation in the spiritual world.

With anything in heavens or earth,

٤٣- فَلَا تَضْرِبُوا لِلَّهِ الْأَمْثَالَ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَعْلَمُ وَأَنْتُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ ۝

75. God sets forth the Parable
(Of two men : one) a slave
Under the dominion of another ; <sup>2107</sup>
He has no power of any sort ;
And (the other) a man
On whom We have bestowed
Goodly favours from Ourselves,
And he spends thereof (freely),
Privately and publicly :
Are the two equal ?
(By no means ; )
Praise be to God. But
Most of them understand not.

٤٥- ضَرَبَ اللَّهُ مَثَلًا عَبْدًا
مَمْلُوكًا لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى شَيْءٍ
وَمَنْ زَرَقْنَاهُ مِثْرًا رِزْقًا حَسَنًا
فَهُوَ يَنْفِقُ مِنْهُ سِرًّا وَجَهْرًا
هَلْ يَسْتَوُونَ
الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ
بَلْ أَكْثَرُهُمْ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ ۝

76. God sets forth (another) Parable
Of two men : one of them
Dumb, with no power
Of any sort ; a wearisome burden
Is he to his master ;
Whichever way he directs him,
He brings no good : <sup>2108</sup>
Is such a man equal
With one who commands

٤٦- وَضَرَبَ اللَّهُ مَثَلًا رَجُلَيْنِ أَحَدُهُمَا
أَبْكُمُ لَا يَقْدِرُ عَلَى شَيْءٍ وَهُوَ كَلٌّ عَلَى
مَوْلَاهُ
أَيْنَمَا يُوَجِّههُ لَا يَأْتِ بِخَيْرٍ
هَلْ يَسْتَوِي هُوَ وَمَنْ يَأْمُرُ

2106. Cf. xvi. 60 above, and n. 2086. One instance of false similitudes is where Pagans say their gods are mere types or symbols, or where men pray to men as Intercessors.

2107. The first parable is of two men, one of whom is a slave completely under the dominion of another, with no powers of any sort, and another a free man, who is gifted in every way, and is most generous in bestowing out of his opulent wealth (material as well as intangible), privately and publicly, without let or hindrance ; for he is his own master and owes no account to any one. The first is like the imaginary gods which men set up,—whether powers of nature, which have no independent existence but are manifestations of God, or deified heroes or men, who can do nothing of their own authority but are subject to the Will and Power of God ; the second describes in a faint way the position of God, the Self-Subsistent, to Whom belongs the dominion of all that is in heaven and earth, and Who bestows freely of His gifts on all His creatures.

2108. In the second Parable, one man is dumb ; he can explain nothing, and he can certainly do nothing ; he is only a wearisome burden to his master, no matter what his master asks him to do ; or perhaps he is really harmful instead of bringing any good ; such are idols (literal and metaphorical) when taken as false gods. The other man is in a position to command, and he commands what is just and righteous ; not only his commands but his doings also are on the path of righteousness. Such are the qualities of God.

Justice, and is on
A Straight Way? <sup>2109</sup>

SECTION 11.

77. No God belongeth the Mystery <sup>2110</sup>
Of the heavens and the earth.
And the Decision of the Hour <sup>2111</sup>
(Of Judgment) is as
The twinkling of an eye,
Or even quicker :
For God hath power
Over all things.

78. It is He Who brought you
Forth from the wombs
Of your mothers when Ye knew nothing; and He Gave you hearing and sight
And intelligence and affections : <sup>2112</sup>
That ye may give thanks
(To God).

79. Do they not look at
The birds, held poised
In the midst of (the air
And) the sky? Nothing
Holds them up but (the power <sup>2113</sup>
Of) God. Verily in this
Are Signs for those who believe.

٤٤- وَبِاللَّهِ غَيْبُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ

٤٨- وَاللَّهُ أَخْرَجَكُمْ مِنْ بُطُونِ
أُمَّهَاتِكُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ شَيْئًا

٤٩- أَلَمْ يَرَوْا إِلَى الطَّيْرِ مُسَخَّرَاتٍ فِي جَوِّ

إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِّقَوْمٍ يُؤْمِنُونَ ۝

2109. The gist of the argument is that those who deviate from the worship of the true God commit twofold treason. (1) They do not recognise the immense difference between the Creator and created things, although, in their own little selfish lives, they are tenacious of any little differences there may be between themselves and other fellow-creatures not so gifted. (2) They are guilty of gross ingratitude in forgetting that the source of all goodness and power is God, to Whom alone they owe all the gifts they enjoy in life.

2110. The key to all things—not only those which we see and understand, but those which we do not see or of which we have no idea—is with God, Whose knowledge and power are supreme.

2111. We must not imagine the Day (or Hour or Moment) of Judgment like a prolonged trial in an open court. It is independent of Time. Even "the twinkling of an eye" is not an adequate figure of speech.

2112. Literally, 'hearts,' which are considered the centres of the affections, and in Arabic idiom, of intelligence also. We should therefore give thanks to God, not to imaginary deities or powers or forces.

2113. All the wonderful things in creation are due to the artistry, power, and wisdom of God. Such is the flight of birds in mid-air. So also are the inventions and discoveries, due to man's intelligence, in the next verse; for man's intelligence is a gift direct from God.

80. It is God Who made your habitations
 Homes of rest and quiet <sup>2114</sup>
 For you ; and made for you,
 Out of the skins of animals,
 (Tents for) dwellings, which
 Ye find so light (and handy)
 When ye travel and when
 Ye stop (in your travels) ; <sup>2115</sup>
 And out of their wool,
 And their soft fibres <sup>2116</sup>
 (Between wool and hair),
 And their hair, rich stuff
 And articles of convenience
 (To serve you) for a time. <sup>2117</sup>

۸۰- وَاللّٰهُ جَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِّنْ بُيُوتِكُمْ سَكَنًا

 بُيُوتًا تَسْتَخِفُّونَهَا يَوْمَ ظَعْنِكُمْ
 وَيَوْمَ اِقَامَتِكُمْ

 وَاَشْعَارِهَا اَنَابًا
 وَمَتَاعًا اِلَىٰ حِينٍ ۝

81. It is God Who made.
 Out of the things He created,
 Some things to give you shade ; <sup>2118</sup>
 Of the hills He made some
 For your shelter ; He made you
 Garments to protect you
 From heat, and coats of mail
 To protect you from
 Your (mutual) violence. <sup>2119</sup>
 Thus does He complete
 His favours on you, that
 Ye may bow to His Will <sup>2120</sup>
 (In Islām).

۸۱- وَاللّٰهُ جَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِمَّا خَلَقَ
 ظِلَالًا وَجَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِّنَ الْجِبَالِ
 اَكْنَانًا وَجَعَلَ لَكُمْ سَرَابِيلَ
 تَقِيْكُمْ الْحَرَّ
 وَسَرَابِيلَ تَقِيْكُمْ بِاَسْكُمُ كَذٰلِكَ يَتِمُّ
 نِعْمَتُهُ عَلَيْكُمْ لَعَلَّكُمْ تُسَلِمُونَ ۝

2115. When man travels, he wants temporary dwellings, tents, which he can make of the skins of animals, or of the fabrics of vegetable fibres, similar to the skins of animals. These tents are easy to carry when moving, and easy to pitch during halts.

2116. Sūf, wool, is what we get from sheep. Sha'r, hair, is what we get from goats or similar animals, for weaving into fabrics. Wabar is the soft camel's hair of which, also, fabrics are woven: they may be considered intermediate between the other two: by extension and analogy the term may be applied to furs and such things, by way of illustration.

2119. Our clothes protect us from heat and cold, just as our armour protects us from the hurt which we might otherwise receive in battle.

2120. All these blessings, which have both a physical and (by promoting the good of man) a spiritual purpose, should teach us to rally to God and tune our will with His Universal Will, which is another name for Islām.

82. But if they turn away,
Thy duty is only to preach
The Clear Message.

C. 126.—God's apostles, if rejected, will be witnesses
(xvi. 84-100.) Against those who reject God's Truth!
And all false gods will disappear.
A life of justice and righteousness is enjoined
By God, and the strictest fidelity, in intent
And action. For God will judge us
By our faith and deeds, and no evil
Shall have power over those who believe
And put their trust in God their Lord.

SECTION 12.

84. ☉ One Day We shall raise
From all Peoples a Witness : <sup>2122</sup>
Then will no excuse be accepted
From Unbelievers, nor will they Receive any favours.

٨٤- وَيَوْمَ نَبْعَثُ مِنْ كُلِّ أُمَّةٍ شَهِيدًا
ثُمَّ لَا يُوَدِّنُ لِلَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا وَلَا لَهُمْ

Then receive respite.

٨٥- وَإِذَا رَأَى الَّذِينَ ظَلَمُوا الْعَذَابَ
فَلَا يَخَفُوا عَنْهُمْ وَلَا لَهُمْ

86. When those who gave partners
To God will see their "partners",

٨٦- وَإِذَا رَأَى الَّذِينَ أَشْرَكُوا شُرَكَاءَهُمْ

2121. 'Arafa is distinguished from 'alima in implying a specific discernment (or recognition) of various qualities and uses. All mankind recognises the value of the blessings they enjoy, but in forgetting or disobeying their Author, the wicked show gross ingratitude; for in practice they deny their obligation to Him for those blessings.

2122. To each People is sent God's Messenger or Teacher, to point out the right way. There may be one, or there may be many. Such a Messenger (Rasul) will be a witness that God's Truth was preached to all peoples in express terms, in addition to the Signs of God everywhere in nature. There will then be no room for excuses of any kind. Those who rejected God after repeated warnings cannot reasonably ask for more respite, as they have had every kind of respite during their life of probation; nor can they now take refuge behind God's Grace, which they had repeatedly rejected

2123. When the terrible Penalty is actually on them, it is too late for repentance and for asking for Mercy. Justice must take its course

They will say: "Our Lord!
These are our 'partners,' those Whom we used to invoke<sup>2124</sup>
Besides Thee." But they will Throw back their word at them
(And say): "Indeed ye are liars!"

87. That day shall they (openly) show<sup>2125</sup>
(Their) submission to God; and all
Their inventions shall leave
Them in the lurch.

88. Those who reject God
And hinder (men) from the Path
Of God—for them
Will We add Penalty
To Penalty; for that they Used to spread mischief.

89. One day We shall raise
From all Peoples a witness Against them, from amongst themselves:<sup>2126</sup>
And We shall bring thee
As a witness against these (Thy people): and We have sent down
To thee the Book explaining
All things, a Guide, a Mercy,
And Glad Tidings to Muslims.

SECTION 13.

90. God commands justice, the doing
Of good, and liberality to kith

قَالُوا رَبَّنَا هُوَ الَّذِي شَرَكْنَا وَنَا الَّذِينَ

2124. The worshippers of false gods will try to shift the responsibility from their own shoulders to that of the false gods. They will suggest (though they will not have the courage for such a bare-faced lie) that they were misled by the false gods. But their lying suggestion will be contradicted and thrown back at them as explained in the next note.

2125. In so far as the false gods were real things, such as deified men or forces of nature, they will openly disclaim them and then (as always) show their submission to God. In so far as the false gods were the inventions of the fancy of the idolaters, they will leave their worshippers in the lurch, for they will be shown as non-existent.

2126. To the thought expressed in xvi. 84 above, is added another detail here. Not only will there be witnesses from Peoples, but the witnesses will be men from amongst the Peoples themselves, men of their own kith and kin, who understood them and explained God's Message in their own language. The Apostle Muhammad will be witness against the Arabs who rejected him. For those who believe in him (of all races and peoples), the Book which he brought will be an Explanation, a Guide, a Mercy and a Gospel.

And kin, and He forbids
All shameful deeds, and injustice
And rebellion : He instructs you,<sup>2127</sup>
That ye may receive admonition.

91. Fulfil the Covenant of God
When ye have entered into it,
And break not your oaths
After ye have confirmed them ;
Indeed ye have made<sup>2128</sup>

Knoweth all that ye do.
92. And be not like a woman

For God will test you by this ;
And on the Day of Judgment

إِنَّمَا أَمْرُهُ إِتْيَانِي ذِي الْقُرْبَىٰ وَيَنْهَىٰ عَنِ الْفَحْشَاءِ

أَنْ تَكُونَ أُمَّةٌ هِيَ أَرْبَىٰ مِنْ أُمَّةٍ
إِنَّمَا يَنْبَلُوكمُ اللَّهُ بِهِ وَلِيَبَيِّنَنَّ لَكُمْ يَوْمَ

2127. Justice is a comprehensive term, and may include all the virtues of cold philosophy. But religion asks for something warmer and more human, the doing of good deeds even where perhaps they are not strictly demanded by justice, such as returning good for ill, or obliging those who in worldly language "have no claim" on you ; and of course à fortiori the fulfilling of the claims of those whose claims are recognised in social life. Similarly the opposites are to be avoided : everything that is recognised as shameful, and everything that is really unjust, and any inward rebellion against God's Law or our own conscience in its most sensitive form.

2128. The immediate reference may or may not be to the oath of fidelity to the Prophet taken at 'Aqaba fourteen months before the Hijra and repeated a little later : see v. 8, and n. 705. But the general meaning is much wider. And this may be viewed in two aspects (1) Every oath taken, or covenant made, is a Covenant before God, and should be faithfully observed. In this it approaches in meaning to v. 1. (2) In particular, every Muslim makes, by the profession, of his Faith, a Covenant with God, and he confirms that Covenant every time he repeats that profession. He should therefore faithfully observe the duties taught to him by Islam.

2129. The Covenant which binds us in the spiritual world makes us strong, like strands of fluffy cotton spun into a strong thread. It also gives us a sense of security against much evil in this world. It costs a woman much labour and skill to spin good strong yarn. She would be foolish indeed, after she has spun such yarn, to untwist its constituent strands and break them into flimsy pieces.

2130. Nor : I construe tattakhizūna with lā takūnū in the previous clause.

2131. Do not make your religion merely a game of making your own party numerically strong by alliances cemented by oaths, which you readily break when a more numerous party offers you its alliance. The Quraish were addicted to this vice, and in international politics at the present day, this seems to be almost a standard of national self-respect and international skill. Islam teaches nobler ethics for individuals and nations. A Covenant should be looked upon as a solemn thing, not to be entered into except with the sincerest intention of carrying it out ; and it is binding even if large numbers are ranged against it.

96. What is with you must vanish :
What is with God will endure.
And We will certainly bestow,
On those who patiently persevere,
Their reward according to
The best of their actions.<sup>2136</sup>

97. Whoever works righteousness,
Man or woman, and has Faith,
Verily, to him will We give
A new Life, a life<sup>2137</sup>
That is good and pure, and We
Will bestow on such their reward
According to the best
Of their actions.<sup>2138</sup>

98. When thou dost read<sup>2139</sup>
The Qur-ān, seek God's protection
From Satan the Rejected One.

99. No authority has he over those
Who believe and put their trust

100. His authority is over those
Only, who take him as patron
And who join partners with God.

١٠٠- إِنَّمَا سُلْطٰنُهُ عَلَى الَّذِينَ يَتَوَكَّلُونَ

C. 127.—God's Truth may come in stages, but it gives (xvi. 101-128.) Strength, guidance, and glad tidings, and should Be held fast when once received. Be not
Like those who get puffed up with pride

2136. What comparison can there possibly be between spiritual Good, which will endure for ever, and any temporal advantage which you may snatch in this world, which will fade and vanish in no time? And then, God's generosity is unbounded. He rewards you, not according to your merits, but according to the very best of your actions.

2137. Faith, if sincere, means right conduct. When these two confirm each other, God's grace transforms our life. Instead of being troubled and worried, we have peace and contentment: instead of being assailed at every turn by false alarms and the assaults of evil, we enjoy calm and attain purity. The transformation is visible in this life itself, but the "reward" in terms of the Hereafter will be far beyond our deserts.

2139. Evil has no authority or influence on those who put their trust in God. It is good to express that trust in outward actions, and a formal expression of it—as in the formula, "I seek God's protection from Evil"—helps us. Reading or reciting the Qur-ān should be understood both literally and figuratively, as the symbol of the earnest desire of the soul to know and understand God's Will and act in accordance therewith. Man is weak at best, and he should seek strength for his will in God's help and protection.

104. Those who believe not
In the Signs of God,—
God will not guide them,
And theirs will be
A grievous Penalty.

١٠٣- إِنْ الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِآيَاتِ اللَّهِ
لَا يَهْدِيَهُمُ اللَّهُ وَلَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ ۝

105. It is those who believe not

106. Any one who, after accepting Faith in God, utters Unbelief,—<sup>2145</sup>
Except under compulsion,
His heart remaining firm
In Faith—but such as
Open their breast to Unbelief,—
On them is Wrath from God,
And theirs will be
A dreadful Penalty.

١٠٦- مَنْ كَفَرَ بِاللَّهِ مِنْ بَعْدِ إِيمَانِهِ

فَعَلَيْهِمْ غَضَبٌ مِنَ اللَّهِ
وَلَهُمْ عَذَابٌ عَظِيمٌ ۝

107. This because they love
The life of this world
Better than the Hereafter :
And God will not guide
Those who reject Faith.

١٠٧- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّهُمْ اسْتَحَبُّوا الْحَيَاةَ الدُّنْيَا
عَلَى الْآخِرَةِ ۗ
وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَهْدِي الْقَوْمَ الْكَافِرِينَ ۝

108. Those are they whose hearts,
Ears, and eyes God has sealed up, <sup>2146</sup>
And they take no heed.

١٠٨- أُولَئِكَ الَّذِينَ طَبَعَ اللَّهُ عَلَى قُلُوبِهِمْ وَ

109. Without doubt, in the Hereafter
They will perish.

١٠٩- لَا جَرَمَ لَهُمْ فِي الْآخِرَةِ هُمْ الْخٰسِرُونَ ۝

2144. It is clearly those who raise the cry of forgery that are guilty of falsehood, as there is not the least basis or even plausibility in their suggestion.

2145. The exception refers to a case like that of 'Ammār, whose father Yāsir and mother Sumayya, were subjected to unspeakable tortures for their belief in Islam, but never recanted. 'Ammār himself was of less mature age and faith, and in a weak moment, suffering under tortures himself and his mind acted on by the sufferings of his parents, uttered a word construed as recantation, though his heart never wavered and he came back at once to the Prophet, who consoled him for his pain and confirmed his faith. There is no permission in this for weakness or dissembling under torture or persecution.

2146. Cf. ii. 7. On account of their iniquities and their want of Faith their hearts and their senses become impervious to God's grace, and they run headlong to perdition.

110. But verily thy Lord,—
To those who leave their homes
After trials and persecutions,—<sup>2147</sup>
And who thereafter strive
And fight for the Faith
And patiently persevere,—
Thy Lord, after all this
Is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

112. God sets forth a Parable:
A city enjoying security <sup>2149</sup>
And quiet, abundantly supplied
With sustenance from every place:
Yet was it ungrateful
For the favours of God:
So God made it taste
Of hunger and terror (in extremes)
(Closing in on it) like a garment <sup>2150</sup>
(From every side), because

۱۱۱- يَوْمَ تَأْتِي كُلُّ نَفْسٍ بِمَا كَسَبَتْ

أَرْضُهَا رَعْدًا مِنْ كُلِّ
مَكَانٍ
فَكَفَرَتْ بِأَنْعُمِ اللَّهِ
فَأَذَاقَهَا اللَّهُ لِبَاسَ
الْجُوعِ وَالْخَوْفِ

2147. I take this verse to refer to such men as were originally with the Pagans but afterwards joined Islam, suffered hardships and exile, and fought and struggled in the Cause, with patience and constancy. Their past would be blotted out and forgiven. Men like Khālid ibn Walid were numbered with the foremost heroes of Islam. In that case this verse would be a Medina verse, though the Sūra as a whole is Meccan. Perhaps it would be better to read, with some Commentators, fatānū in the active voice rather than futinū in the passive voice, and translate "after inflicting trials and persecutions (on Muslims)." Notice the parallelism in construction between this verse and verse 119 below.

2148. When the Reckoning comes, each soul will stand on its own personal responsibility. No one else can help it. Full justice will be done, and all the seeming inequalities of this world will be redressed.

2149. The reference may be to any of the cities or populations in ancient or modern times, which were favoured with security and other blessings from God, but which rebelled from God's Law and tasted the inevitable penalty, even in the midst of their iniquities. Some Commentators see here a reference to the city of Mecca under Pagan control. See next note.

2150. There is a double metaphor: (1) the tasting of hunger and terror after the abundant supplies and the full security which it had enjoyed; and (2) the complete enfolding of the City as with a garment, by these two scourges, hunger and a state of subjective alarm. If the reference is to Mecca shortly before its fall to the Muslims, the "hunger" was the seven years' severe famine which afflicted it, and the alarm was the constant fear in the minds of the Pagans that their day was done. Peace and prosperity were restored after the re-entry of the Apostle.

117. (In such falsehood)
Is but a paltry profit ;
But they will have
A most grievous Penalty.
118. A To the Jews We prohibited
Such things as We have
Mentioned to thee before : <sup>2154</sup>
We did them no wrong,
But they were used to
Doing wrong to themselves.
119. But verily thy Lord,—

2154. See vi. 146 and n. The further prohibitions to them were a punishment for their hardness of hearts, and not a favour.

2155. See above, xvi. 110, and n. 2147. The parallelism in construction confirms the suggestion of the alternative reading which is made in that note. The similarity of expressions also rounds off the argument, as by a refrain in poetry. What follows now in this Sūra is an exhortation to right conduct.

2156. Ummat : a model, pattern, example for imitation : but the idea that he was an Ummat in himself, standing alone against his world, should not be lost sight of. See next note.

2157. The Gospel of Unity has been the corner-stone of spiritual Truth for all time. In this respect Abraham is the model and fountain-head for the world of western Asia and its spiritual descendants all over the world. Abraham was among a people (the Chaldeans) who worshipped stars and had forsaken the Gospel of Unity. He was among them but not of them. He suffered persecution, and left his home and his people, and settled in the land of Canaan.

2158 Cf. ii. 130.

2159. If Abraham's Way was the right way, the Jews were ready with the taunt, "Why don't you then observe the Sabbath?" The answer is twofold. (1) The Sabbath has nothing to do with Abraham. It was instituted with the Law of Moses because of Israel's hardness of heart (ii. 74); for they constantly disputed with their Prophet Moses (ii. 108), and there were constantly among them afterwards men who broke the Sabbath (ii. 65, and n. 79). (2) Which was the true Sabbath Day? The Jews observe Saturday. The Christians, who include the Old Testament in their inspired Scripture, observe Sunday, and a sect among them (the Seventh Day Adventists) disagree, and observe Saturday. So there is disagreement among the People of the Book. Let them dispute among themselves. Their dispute will not be settled till the Day of Judgment. Meanwhile, Muslims are emancipated from such stringent restrictions. For them there is certainly the Day of United Prayer on Friday, but it is in no sense like the Jewish or the Scotch Sabbath!

2160. Cf. ii. 113.

2161. In this wonderful passage are laid down principles of religious teaching, which are good for all time. But where are the Teachers with such qualifications? We must invite all to the Way of God, and expound His Universal Will; we must do it with wisdom and discretion, meeting people on their own ground and convincing them with illustrations from their own knowledge and experience, which may be very narrow, or very wide. Our preaching must be, not dogmatic, not self-regarding, not offensive, but gentle, considerate, and such as would attract their attention. Our manner and our arguments should not be acrimonious, but modelled on the most courteous and the most gracious example, so that the hearer may say to himself, "This man is not dealing merely with dialectics; he is not trying to get a rise out of me; he is sincerely expounding the faith that is in him, and his motive is the love of man and the love of God."

And who receive guidance.<sup>2162</sup>

127. And do thou be patient,<sup>2164</sup>
For thy patience is but
From God ; nor grieve over them :
And distress not thyself
Because of their plots.
128. For God is with those<sup>2165</sup>
14 Who restrain themselves,
30 And those who do good.

وَهُوَ أَعْلَمُ بِالْمُهْتَدِينَ ○
۱۲۶- وَإِنْ عَاقَبْتُمْ فَعَاقِبُوا
بِمِثْلِ مَا عُوِّقْتُمْ بِهِ
وَإِنْ صَبَرْتُمْ لَهُوَ خَيْرٌ لِلصَّابِرِينَ ○
۱۲۷- وَاصْبِرْ وَمَا صَبْرُكَ
إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ وَلَا تَحْزَنْ عَلَيْهِمْ
وَلَا تَكُ فِي ضَلَالٍ مِمَّا يَنْكَرُونَ ○
۱۲۸- إِنَّ اللَّهَ مَعَ الَّذِينَ اتَّقَوْا
وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ يُحْسِنُونَ ○

2162. It may be that the Preacher sometimes says to himself "What is the use of teaching these people? they have made up their minds, or they are obstinate, or they are only trying to catch me out." Let him not yield to such a thought. Who knows how the seed of the Word of God may germinate in people's minds? It is not for man to look for results. Man's inner thoughts are known best to God.

2163. In the context this passage refers to controversies and discussions, but the words are wide enough to cover all human struggles, disputes, and fights. In strictest equity you are not entitled to give a worse blow than is given to you. But those who have reached a higher spiritual standard do not even do that. They restrain themselves, and are patient. Lest you should think that such patience only gives an advantage to the adversary, you are told that the contrary is the case: the advantage is with the patient, the self-possessed, those who do not lose their temper or forget their own principles of conduct.

2165. And the Sūra ends with the highest consolation which the righteous can receive: the assurance that God is with them. A double qualification is indicated for so high an honour,—(1) that they should not yield to human passion or anger or impatience, and (2) that they should go on with constancy doing good all around them. To attain to the Presence of God in the sense of "I am with you" is the culmination of the righteous man's aspiration.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA xvii (Banī Isrā-īl).

In the gradation of spiritual teaching (see Introduction to Sūra viii), we saw that the first seven Sūras sketched the early spiritual history of man, and led up to the formation of the new Ummat of Islam. Sūras viii to xvi formed another series dealing with the formation of the new Ummat and its consolidation, and God's dealing with man taken as an Ummat and considered in his social relations in organised communities (see Introduction to Sūras viii, x, and xvi). We now come to a fresh series, (Sūras xvii-xxix), which may be considered in three parts. Sūras xvii-xxi begin with an allusion to the Mi'rāj (of which more later), and proceed to spiritual history as touching individuals rather than nations. The old prophets and stories of the past are now referred to from this point of view. Sūras xxii-xxv refer to Hajj (pilgrimage), worship and prayer, chastity, privacy, etc., as related to a man's individual spiritual growth. Sūras xxvi-xxix go back to the old prophets and stories of the past, as illustrating the growth of the individual soul in its reactions against the lives of the communities and the reactions of the communities to the lives of its great individual souls.

Let us now consider S. xvii. by itself. It opens with the mystic Vision of the Ascension of the Holy Prophet : he was transported from the Sacred Mosque (of Mecca) to the Farthest Mosque (of Jerusalem) in a night and shown some of the Signs of God. The majority of Commentators take this Night Journey literally, but allow that there were other occasions on which a spiritual Journey or Vision occurred. Even on the supposition of a miraculous bodily Journey, it is conceded that the body was almost transformed into a spiritual fineness. The Hadīth literature gives details of this Journey and its study helps to elucidate its mystic meaning. The holy Prophet was first transported to the seat of the earlier revelations in Jerusalem, and then taken through the seven heavens, even to the Sublime Throne, and initiated into the spiritual mysteries of the human soul struggling in Space and Time. The Spaniard, Miguel Asin, Arabic Professor in the University of Madrid, has shown that this Mi'rāj literature had a great influence on the Mediæval literature of Europe, and especially on the great Italian poem, the Divine Comedy (or Drama) of Dante, which towers like a landmark in mediæval European literature.

The reference to this great mystic story of the Mi'rāj is a fitting prelude to the journey of the human soul in its spiritual growth in life. The first steps in such growth must be through moral conduct—the reciprocal rights of parents and children, kindness to our fellow-men, courage and firmness in the hour of danger, a sense of personal responsibility, and a sense of God's Presence through prayer and praise.

The Mi'rāj is usually dated to the 27th night of the month of Rajab (though other dates, e.g., 17th of Rabī' I, are also given) in the year before the Hijra. This fixes the date of the opening verse of the Sūra, though portions of the Sūra may have been a little earlier.

Summary.—The spiritual experiences of the men of God are given in order that God's Signs may be made clear to men : man is misled into evil, and must be guided to a sense of personal responsibility (xvii. 1-22, and C. 128).

Our service to God is shown also in our human relations, goodness to parents and kinsmen and strangers in want, as well as kindness to children, purity in sex relations, justice and respect for human life, protection of orphans, probity in all dealings, and avoidance of arrogance (xvii. 23-40, and C. 129).

God's glory is above all comparison, and the reception of His revelation marks off the man of faith from those who do not believe. But the Believers should speak fair and avoid dissensions, for God doth encompass all men (xvii. 41-60, and C. 130).

Pride caused the fall of Iblīs, but the children of Adam have been raised in excellence above other Creation. They will be judged by their deeds. Prayer is good at stated times and at night, and the Qur-ān is offered as healing and mercy (xvii. 61-84, and C. 131).

Inspiration (the Qur-ān) is a Sign of God's grace, and men should accept it without making carping excuses. Be humble in prayer and praise (xvii. 85-111, and C. 132).

C. 128.—It is the privilege of the men of God
 (xvii. 1-22.) To see the sublimest mysteries
 Of the spiritual world and instruct men
 In Righteousness; they warn and shield men
 Against Evil. But nothing can lessen
 Each soul's personal responsibility
 For its own deeds. It carries its fate
 Round its own neck. God's gifts
 Are for all, but not all receive
 The same gifts, nor are all gifts
 Of equal dignity or excellence.

2. We gave Moses the Book, <sup>2170</sup>
And made it a Guide

2166. The reference is to the Mi'rāj, for which see the Introduction to this Sūra.

2167. Masjid is a place of prayer : here it refers to the Ka'ba at Mecca. It had not yet been cleared of its idols and rededicated exclusively to the One True God. It was symbolical of the new Message which was being given to mankind.

2169. God's knowledge comprehends all things, without any curtain of Time or any separation of Space. He can therefore see and hear all things, and the Mi'rāj was a reflection of this knowledge without Time or Space.

In this and the subsequent verses, the reference to God is generally in the first person and plural. But in the first and the last clause of this verse it is in the third person singular : "Glorify to God, Who did take His Servant....."; "He is the One.....". In each of these two instances, the clause expresses the point of view of God's creatures, who glorify Him, and whose hearing and seeing are ordinarily so limited that they can do nothing but glorify Him when one of His creatures is raised up to hear and see the Mysteries. It is they who glorify Him.

2170. The Book : the revelation that was given to Moses. It was there clearly laid down that those who followed Moses must consider God as all-in-all. "Thou shalt have no other gods before me ; thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image..... ; thou shalt not bow down thyself to them nor serve them : for I the Lord thy God am a jealous God..... ;" etc. (Exod. xx. 3-5). These are the words of the English Bible. As a matter of fact the spirit of the Mosaic teaching went further. It referred all things to the Providence of God : God is the Disposer of all affairs, and we are to look to none but Him. This is Islam, and the Mi'rāj showed that it was the teaching of God from the most ancient times, and yet it was violated by the very people who claimed to be its custodians.

To the Children of Israel;
(Commanding): "Take not
Other than Me <sup>2171</sup>
As Disposer of (your) affairs."

3. O ye that are sprung
From those whom We carried
(In the Ark) with Noah! <sup>2172</sup>
Verily he was a devotee

4. And We gave (clear) warning
To the Children of Israel <sup>2173</sup>
In the Book, that twice <sup>2174</sup>
Would they do mischief
On the earth and be elated
With mighty arrogance
(And twice would they be punished)!

۴- وَقَضَيْنَا إِلَىٰ بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ

5. When the first of the warnings
Came to pass, We sent
Against you Our servants
Given to terrible warfare: <sup>2175</sup>
They entered the very inmost
Parts of your homes;
And it was a warning
(Completely) fulfilled.

۵- وَإِذَا جَاءَ وَعْدُ أُولَاهُمَا بَعَثْنَا
عَلَيْكُمْ عِبَادًا لَنَا أُولَىٰ بِأْسٍ شَدِيدٍ
فِيَأْسُوا خِلَلِ الدِّيَارِ
وَكَانَ وَعْدًا مَّفْعُولًا ۝

2171. Note the transition from "We" in the first clause to "Me" in the second clause. The first clause refers to the majesty of God as the Heavenly King; the second clause refers to His personal interest in all our affairs.

2172. After the Deluge of the time of Noah the only descendants of Noah were those who were saved in the Ark with him. They had special reason to celebrate the praises of God. But they relapsed into idolatry, sin, and abominations. They are reminded of the true and sincere devotion of Noah himself, as contrasted with the unworthiness of Noah's descendants, especially the Children of Israel.

2174. What are the two occasions referred to? It may be that "twice" is a figure of speech for "more than once", "often". Or it may be that the two occasions refer to (1) the destruction of the Temple by the Babylonian Nebuchadnezzar in 586 B.C., when the Jews were carried off into captivity, and (2) the destruction of Jerusalem by Titus in A.D. 70, after which the Temple was never re-built. See n. 2168 above. On both occasions it was a judgment of God for the sins of the Jews, their backslidings, and their arrogance.

2175. A good description of the war-like Nebuchadnezzar and his Babylonians. They were servants of God in the sense that they were instruments through which the wrath of God was poured out on the Jews, for they penetrated through their lands, their Temple, and their homes, and carried away the Jews, men and women, into captivity. As regards "the daughters of Zion" see the scathing condemnation in Isaiah, iii, 16-26.

6. Then did We grant you
The Return as against them : <sup>2176</sup>
We gave you increase
In resources and sons,
And made you
The more numerous
In man-power.

٦- ثُمَّ رَدَدْنَا لَكُمْ الْكَثْرَةَ عَلَيْهِمْ
وَأَمَدَدْنَكُمْ بِأَمْوَالٍ وَبَنِينَ
وَجَعَلْنَاكُمْ أَكْثَرَ نَفِيرًا ○

7. If ye did well,
Ye did well for yourselves ;
If ye did evil,
(Ye did it) against yourselves. <sup>2177</sup>
So when the second
Of the warnings came to pass,
(We permitted your enemies)
To disfigure your faces, <sup>2178</sup>
And to enter your Temple <sup>2179</sup>
As they had entered it before,
And to visit with destruction
All that fell into their power. <sup>2180</sup>

٧- إِنْ أَحْسَنْتُمْ أَحْسَنْتُمْ لِأَنْفُسِكُمْ

لِيُسَوِّئُوا وَجُوهَكُمْ
وَلِيَدْخُلُوا الْمَسْجِدَ كَمَا دَخَلُوهُ أَوَّلَ مَرَّةٍ

8. It may be that your Lord
May (yet) show Mercy <sup>2181</sup>

٨- عَسَىٰ رَبُّكُمْ أَنْ يُرْحَمَكُمُ

2176. The return of the Jews from the Captivity was about 520 B.C. They started life afresh. They rebuilt their Temple. They carried out various reforms and built up a new Judaism in connection with Ezra. See appendix II following S. v. For a time they prospered. Meanwhile their old oppressors the Babylonians had been absorbed by Persia. Subsequently Persia was absorbed in Alexander's Empire. The whole of western Asia was Hellenized, and the new school of Jews was Hellenized also, and had a strong centre in Alexandria. But their footing in Palestine continued, and under the Asmonæan Dynasty (B.C. 167-63), they had a national revival, and the names of the Macca-bees are remembered as those of heroes. Another dynasty, that of the Idumæans, (B.C. 63 to B.C. 4), to which Herod belonged, also enjoyed some semi-independent power. The sceptre of Syria (including Palestine) passed to the Romans in B.C. 65, and Jewish feudatory Kings held power under them. But the Jews again showed a stiff-necked resistance to God's Messenger in the time of Jesus, and the inevitable doom followed in the complete and final destruction of the Temple under Titus in 70 A.D.

2177. This is a parenthetical sentence. If anyone follows God's Law, the benefit goes to himself: he does not bestow a favour on anyone else. Similarly evil brings its own recompense on the doer of evil.

2178. The second doom was due to the rejection of the Message of Jesus. "To disfigure your faces" means to destroy any credit or power you may have got: the face shows the personality of the man.

2180. Merivale in his Romans Under the Empire gives a graphic account of the siege and final destruction (ed. 1890, vii. 221-255). The population of Jerusalem was then 200,000. According to the Latin historian Tacitus it was as much as 600,000. There was a famine and there were massacres. There was much fanaticism. The judgment of Merivale is: "They" (the Jews) "were judicially abandoned to their own passions and the punishment which naturally awaited them" (vii. 221).

2181. Now we come to the time of our holy Prophet. In spite of all the past, the Jews could still have obtained God's forgiveness if they had not obstinately rejected the greatest of the Prophets also. If they were to continue in their sins, God's punishment would also continue to visit them.

Unto you ; but if ye
Revert (to your sins),
We shall revert

For them a Penalty
Grievous (indeed).

١٠-وَأَنَّ الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِالْآخِرَةِ
أَعْتَدْنَا لَهُمْ عَذَابًا أَلِيمًا ٥

SECTION 2.

11. The prayer that man
Should make for good,
He maketh for evil ;<sup>2184</sup>
For man is given to Hasty (deeds).

١١-وَيَدْعُ الْإِنْسَانُ بِالشَّرِّ دُعَاءَهُ بِالْخَيْرِ
وَكَانَ الْإِنْسَانُ عَجُولًا ٥

12. We have made the Night
And the Day as two<sup>2185</sup>

١٢-وَجَعَلْنَا اللَّيْلَ وَالنَّهَارَ آيَاتَيْنِ

Notice that the allegorical reference to Jewish history, when brought into relation with the mystic meaning of Mi'rāj, refers to the constant struggle of the individual soul against evil. It has its setbacks and its punishments. But if it is true to itself and is true to the Faith in God, God will give it strength and make it successful in its fight against evil. For God's Mercy is unbounded and comes to suffering humanity again and again.

2183. The instability and crookedness of the Jewish soul having been mentioned, the healing balm which should have cured it is now pointed out. The Message of the Qur-ān is for all. Those who have Faith and show that Faith in their conduct must reap their spiritual reward. But those who reject Faith cannot escape punishment. Apart from what is past, apart from questions of national or racial history, there is a spiritual Hope—and a spiritual Danger—for every soul.

2184. Man in his ignorance or haste mistakes evil for good, and desires what he should not have. The wise and instructed soul has patience and does not put its own desires above the wisdom of God. He receives with contentment the favours of God, and prays to be rightly guided in his desires and petitions.

2185. If we were to cry when it is night, we shall look foolish when it is day ; for the night is but a preparation for the day : perhaps, as the last verse says, we pray for the day when we want rest for the night. Both are Signs from God. Darknes and light stand for ignorance and knowledge. "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." Darkness and light may also stand for shadow and sunshine, sorrow and joy : both may be necessary for our development.

(Of Our) Signs : the Sign
Of the Night have We obscured,
While the Sign of the Day
We have made to enlighten
You ; that ye may seek
Bounty from your Lord,<sup>2187</sup>
And that ye may know
The number and count
Of the years : all things
Have We explained in detail.

فَمَحَوْنَا آيَةَ اللَّيْلِ
وَجَعَلْنَا آيَةَ النَّهَارِ مُبْصِرَةً
لِتَبْتَغُوا فَضْلًا مِّن رَّبِّكُمْ
وَلِتَعْلَمُوا عَدَدَ السِّنِينَ وَالْحِسَابَ
وَكُلَّ شَيْءٍ فَصَّلْنَاهُ تَفْصِيلًا ۝

3. Every man's fate<sup>2187</sup>
We have fastened
On his own neck :
On the Day of Judgment
We shall bring out
For him a scroll,
Which he will see
Spread open.<sup>2189</sup>

۱۳- وَكُلَّ إِنسَانٍ أَلْمَمْنَاهُ
ظَهْرَهُ فِي عُنُقِهِ
وَنُخْرِجُ لَهُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ كِتَابًا
يَلْقَاهُ مَنشُورًا ۝

4. (It will be said to him :)
"Read thine (own) record :
Sufficient is thy soul
This day to make out
An account against thee."<sup>2189</sup>

۱۴- اقْرَأْ كِتَابَكَ
كَفَىٰ بِنَفْسِكَ الْيَوْمَ عَلَيْكَ حَسِيبًا ۝

2186. By the physical light we see physical facts. And this physical gift of God is good for us in two ways : (1) we can arrange for our livelihood, or we can attain the knowledge of the physical sciences and gain some control over the physical forces of nature ; and (2) the daily rising and setting of the sun gives us the computation of days and years, for the physical natural year is the solar year. But there is a spiritual light even more precious ; by it we can similarly attain two objects, viz : (1) our spiritual livelihood and knowledge, and (2) our computation of the stages we reach in our spiritual years. Let us be patient and seek everything as from God,—in joy and in sorrow, in knowledge and in want of knowledge of those things which are above us. Let us rejoice in what God has given us, and not be impatient about those things which He in His wisdom has thought fit to withhold from us. But all things should be sought and striven for under the guidance of the All-Knowing God.

2187. Fate : Tāir, literally a bird, hence an omen, an evil omen, fate. Cf. xxxvi. 19. The Arabs, like the ancient Romans, sought to read the mysteries of human fate from the flight of birds. And many of us in our own day seek to read our future fortunes by similar superstitions. We read in the previous verse that there are Signs of God, but they are not meant to subserve the vulgar purpose of disclosing our future destiny in a worldly sense. They are meant for quite other purposes, as we have explained. Our real fate does not depend upon birds or omens or stars. It depends on our deeds, good or evil, and they hang round our necks. Man is the maker of his own fortune.

2188. These deeds, good or evil, will be embodied in a scroll which will be quite open to us in the light of the Day of Judgment, however much we may affect to be ignorant of it now or waste our energies in prying into mysteries that do not concern us.

2189. Our true accusers are our own deeds. Why not look to them instead of vainly prying into something superstitious which we call a book of fortune or a book of omens ?

15. Who receiveth guidance,
 Receiveth it for his own
 Benefit : who goeth astray
 Doth so to his own loss : <sup>2190</sup>
 No bearer of burdens
 Can bear the burden <sup>2191</sup>
 Of another : nor would We Visit with Our Wrath
 Until We had sent
 An apostle (to give warning).

16. When We decide to destroy
 A population, We (first) send
 A definite order to those
 Among them who are given
 The good things of this life <sup>2192</sup>
 And yet transgress ; so that
 The word is proved true <sup>2193</sup>
 Against them : then (it is)
 We destroy them utterly.

17. How many generations
 Have We destroyed after Noah ? <sup>2194</sup>
 And enough is thy Lord
 To note and see
 The sins of His servants. <sup>2195</sup>

١٥- مِّنْ اهْتَدَىٰ فَإِنَّمَا يَهْتَدِي لِنَفْسِهِ
 وَمَنْ ضَلَّ فَإِنَّمَا يَضِلُّ عَلَيْهَا
 وَلَا تَزِرُ وَازِرَةٌ وِزْرَ أُخْرَىٰ
 وَمَا كُنَّا مُعَذِّبِينَ
 حَتَّىٰ نَبْعَثَ رَسُولًا

١٦- وَإِذَا أَرَدْنَا أَنْ نُهْلِكَ قَوْمًا
 مَّا فَتِنَاهُمْ أَنفُسَهُمْ فِيهَا
 فَحَقَّ عَلَيْهَا الْقَوْلُ
 فَدَمَّرْنَاهَا تَدْمِيرًا

١٧- وَكَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا مِنَ الْقُرُونِ مِن بَعْدِ
 نُوحٍ وَكَفَىٰ بِرَبِّكَ بِذُنُوبِ عِبَادِهِ
 خَبِيرًا بَصِيرًا

2190. The doctrine of personal responsibility is insisted on, and the basis of ethics is shown to be our own good or evil as furthering or obstructing our highest development.

2192. God's Mercy gives every chance to the wicked to repent. When wickedness gets so rampant that punishment becomes inevitable, even then God's Mercy and Justice act together. Those who are highly gifted from God—it may be with wealth or position, or it may be with talents and opportunities—are expected to understand and obey. They are given a definite order and warning. If they still transgress there is no further room for argument. They cannot plead that they were ignorant. The command of the Lord is proved against them, and its application is called for beyond doubt. Then it is that their punishment is completed.

2193. Qaul here has the sense of word, order, law, charge framed against one under a definite law.

2195. Let not the wicked think, because they are given a lease of life and luxury for a time, that their wickedness has escaped notice. God notes and sees all things, both open and secret. He knows the hidden motives and thoughts of men, and He has no need of any other evidence. His knowledge and sight are all-sufficient.

18. If any do wish
For the transitory things
(Of this life), We readily<sup>2196</sup>
Grant them—such things
As We will, to such persons
As We will : in the end
Have We provided Hell
For them : they will burn
Therein, disgraced and rejected.<sup>2197</sup>

١٨- مَنْ كَانَ يُرِيدُ الْعَاجِلَةَ
عَجَّلْنَا لَهُ فِيهَا مَا نَشَاءُ لِمَنْ نُرِيدُ
ثُمَّ جَعَلْنَا لَهُ جَهَنَّمَ
يُصَلِّهَا مَذْمُومًا مَدْحُورًا ○

19. Those who do wish
For the (things of) the
Hereafter,<sup>2198</sup>
And strive therefor
With all due striving,
And have Faith,—<sup>2199</sup>
They are the ones
Whose striving is acceptable
(To God).

١٩- وَمَنْ أَرَادَ الْآخِرَةَ
وَسَعَىٰ لَهَا سَعِيًّا
وَهُوَ مُؤْمِنٌ فَأُولَٰئِكَ
كَانَ سَعْيُهُمْ مَشْكُورًا ○

20. Of the bounties of thy Lord
We bestow freely on all—
These as well as those :
The bounties of thy Lord
Are not closed (to anyone).<sup>2200</sup>

٢٠- كَلَّا تَبَدُّ هَٰؤُلَاءِ وَهَٰؤُلَاءِ مِنْ عَطَاءِ
رَبِّكَ
وَمَا كَانَ عَطَاءُ رَبِّكَ مَحْظُورًا ○

21. See how We have bestowed
More on some than on others ;
But verily the Hereafter
Is more in rank and gradation

٢١- أَنْظُرْ كَيْفَ فَضَّلْنَا بَعْضَهُمْ عَلَىٰ بَعْضٍ
وَلِلْآخِرَةِ الْكِبْرُ دَرَجَاتٍ

2196. An explanation is now given of how it is that prosperity sometimes seems to attend the wicked. The explanation is threefold: (1) the transitory things of this life are worth little in the eternal scheme of things; (2) even they are provided, not just because their recipients wish for them, but according to a definite Plan of God; and (3) in the end there is for the wicked the eternal Misery and deprivation of grace,—the Hell which is worse than destruction in the terms of this world.

2197. All the pride and insolence will then be brought low. The disgrace and the exclusion from the "sight of the Face of God" will by themselves be punishments of which the magnitude cannot be measured in the terms of our present material life.

2199. A mere wish for moral and spiritual good is not enough. It must be backed up by hard endeavour and supported by a lively Faith. On those conditions the wishes are accepted by God.

2200. God's favours are showered on all,—the just and the unjust, the deserving and the undeserving. But there is a difference as explained in the last two verses.

And more in excellence.<sup>2201</sup>

22. Take not with God
Another object of worship ;<sup>2202</sup>
Or thou (O man !) wilt sit
In disgrace and destitution.<sup>2203</sup>

وَأكْبِرْ تَفْضِيلًا ۝

C. 129.—To be worthy of the service of the One True God,
(xvii. 23-40.) We must love and serve His Creatures.

The parents who cherished us in childhood
Deserve our humble reverence and service : next
Come the rights of kinsmen, those in want,
And wayfaring strangers : to each
According to his need, not in spendthrift show.
And gentleness is needed to those whom we Cannot help. God will provide. He has made
Life sacred and pure. Fulfil your trusts
For orphans and deal with all in strictest
Probity. Pry not into evil from curiosity,
And shun insolence : for God hates evil,—
The One, the Good, the Universal Lord !

SECTION 3.

23. Why Lord hath decreed
That ye worship none but Him,
And that ye be kind
To parents. Whether one
Or both of them attain
Old age in thy life,<sup>2204</sup>
Say not to them a word
Of contempt, nor repel them,
But address them
In terms of honour.

۲۳- وَقَضَىٰ رَبُّكَ أَلَّا تَعْبُدُوا إِلَّا إِيَّاهُ
وَبِالْوَالِدَيْنِ إِحْسَانًا
إِنَّمَا يَبْغُخُ عِنْدَكَ الْكِبَرُ أَحَدُهُمَا
أَوْ كِلَيْهِمَا فَلَا تَقُلْ لَهُمَا آفٍ وَلَا تَنْهَرْهُمَا
وَقُلْ لَهُمَا قَوْلًا كَرِيمًا ۝

2201. Nor should man suppose that all gifts are of equal value. The spiritual ones rank far higher in dignity and real worth than the transitory ones. Therefore it is altogether wrong to compare the worldly prosperity of a wicked man with the apparent want of it to a man of spiritual worth. There is no comparison between them when measured by right standards.

2202. The seeming inequality of gifts to men might make short-sighted men impugn the impartiality of God. But the fault lies with such men's own want of knowledge and want of Faith. There is no excuse for them to seek other objects of worship than God. For there is none worthy of worship except God.

2203. If foolish men turn to false objects of worship, they will not only be disappointed, but they will lose the respect of their own fellow-men, and spiritually they will be reduced to destitution. All their talents and their works will be of no avail.

2204. The spiritual and moral duties are now brought into juxtaposition. We are to worship none but God, because none but God is worthy of worship, not because "the Lord thy God is a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate Me" (Exod. xx. 5).

Note that the act of worship may be collective as well as individual ; hence the plural ta'budū. The kindness to parents is an individual act of piety ; hence the singular taqul, qul, etc.

24. And, out of kindness,
Lower to them the wing <sup>2:05</sup>
Of humility, and say :
" My Lord ! bestow on them
Thy Mercy even as they Cherished me in childhood." <sup>2:06</sup>

۲۴- وَأَخْفِضْ لَهُمَا جَنَاحَ الذَّلْمِ مِنَ
الرَّحْمَةِ وَقُلْ رَبِّ ارْحَمْهُمَا
كَمَا رَبَّيْنِي صَغِيرًا ۝

25. Your Lord knoweth best
What is in your hearts :
If ye do deeds of righteousness,
Verily He is Most Forgiving
To those who turn to Him
Again and again
(in true penitence). <sup>2:07</sup>

۲۵- رَبُّكُمْ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا فِي نُفُوسِكُمْ
إِنْ تَكُونُوا صَادِقِينَ
فَأِنَّهُ كَانَ لِلْأَوَّابِينَ غَفُورًا ۝

26. And render to the kindred
Their due rights, as (also)
To those in want,
And to the wayfarer : <sup>2:08</sup>
But squander not (your wealth)
In the manner of a spendthrift. <sup>2:09</sup>

۲۶- وَأْتِ ذَا الْقُرْبَىٰ حَقَّهُ
وَالْيَتَامَىٰ وَالسَّبِيلَ
وَلَا تُبْذِرْ تَبْذِيرًا ۝

2205. Cf. xv. 88 and n. 2011. The metaphor is that of a high-flying bird which lowers her wing out of tenderness to her offspring. There is a double aptness. (1) When the parent was strong and the child was helpless, parental affection was showered on the child : when the child grows up and is strong, and the parent is helpless, can he do less than bestow similar tender care on the parent? (2) But more : he must approach the matter with gentle humility : for does not parental love remind him of the great love with which God cherishes His creatures? There is something here more than simple human gratitude : it goes up into the highest spiritual region.

2206. Note that we are asked to honour our father and mother, not " that thy days may be long upon the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee " (Exod. xx. 12), but upon much higher and more universal grounds, such as befit a perfected revelation. In the first place, not merely respect, but cherishing kindness, and humility to parents, are commanded. In the second place, this command is bracketed with the command to worship the One True God : parental love should be to us a type of divine love : nothing that we can do can ever really compensate for that which we have received. In the third place (see next verse) our spiritual advancement is tested by this : we cannot expect God's forgiveness if we are rude or unkind to those who unselfishly brought us up.

2207. It is the heart, and its hidden and secret motives, by which we are judged : for God knows them all.

2208. In the Jewish Decalogue, which was given to a primitive and hard-hearted people, this refinement of kindness,—to those in want and to wayfarers (i.e. total strangers whom you come across) finds no place. Nor was there much danger of their wasting their substance out of exuberance. Even the command " to honour thy father and mother " comes after the ceremonial observance of the Sabbath. With us, the worship of God is linked up with kindness—to parents, kindred, those in want, those who are far from their homes though they may be total strangers to us. It is not mere verbal kindness. They have certain rights which must be fulfilled.

2209. All charity, kindness, and help are conditioned by our own resources. There is no merit if we merely spend out of bravado or for idle show. How many families are ruined by extravagant expenses at weddings, funerals, etc., or (as they may call it) to " oblige friends or relatives ", or to give to able-bodied beggars? To no one was this command more necessary than it is to Muslims of the present day.

27. Verily spendthrifts are brothers
Of the Evil Ones ;
And the Evil One
Is to his Lord (Himself)
Ungrateful.<sup>2210</sup>

٢٧- إِنَّ الْمُبَذِّرِينَ كَانُوا إِخْوَانَ الشَّيْطَانِ
وَكَانَ الشَّيْطَانُ لِرَبِّهِ كَفُورًا ۝

28. And even if thou hast
To turn away from them
In pursuit of the Mercy
From thy Lord which thou
Dost expect, yet speak
To them a word
Of easy kindness.<sup>2211</sup>

٢٨- وَإِمَّا تَعْرِضْ عَنْهُمْ
ابْتَغَاءَ رَحْمَةٍ مِنْ رَبِّكَ تَرْجُوهَا
فَقُلْ لَهُمْ قَوْلًا مَيْسُورًا ۝

29. Make not thy hand tied<sup>2212</sup>
(Like a niggard's) to thy neck,
Nor stretch it forth
To its utmost reach,
So that thou become
Blameworthy and destitute.

٢٩- وَلَا تَجْعَلْ يَدَكَ مَغْلُولَةً إِلَىٰ عُنُقِكَ
وَلَا تَبْسُطْهَا كُلَّ الْبَسْطِ
فَتَقْعَدَ مَلُومًا مَحْسُورًا ۝

30. Verily thy Lord doth provide Sustenance in abundance
For whom He pleaseth, and He
Provideth in a just measure.<sup>2213</sup>
For He doth know
And regard all His servants.

٣٠- إِنَّ رَبَّكَ يَبْسُطُ الرِّزْقَ
لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ وَيَقْدِرُ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ بِعِبَادِهِ خَبِيرًا بَصِيرًا ۝

2210. Spendthrifts are not merely fools. They are of the same family as the Evil Ones. And the chief of the Evil Ones (notice the transition from the plural to the singular)—Satan himself—fell by his ingratitude to God. So those who misuse or squander God's gifts are also ungrateful to God.

2211. You may have to "turn away" from people for two reasons. (1) You may not have the wherewithal with which to entertain them and give them their rights; or (2) you may have to give them a wide berth because their thoughts are not as your thoughts. In either case there is no need to speak harshly to them. Your words should be those of "easy kindness", i.e., the sort of kindness (not merely frigid politeness) which flows from pity and understanding and smooths over unnecessary difficulties in human intercourse.

2212. Cf. the phrase for niggardliness in v. 67. We are not to be so lavish as to make ourselves destitute and incur the just censure of wise men, nor is it becoming to keep back our resources from the just needs of those who have a right to our help. Even strangers have such a right, as we saw in xvii. 26 above. But we must keep a just measure between our capacity and other people's needs.

2213. If a foolish spendthrift pretends that his generosity, even if it ruins himself, is good for other people, he is reminded that God will take care of all. He knows every one's true needs and cares for them. He gives in abundance to some, but in all cases He gives in just measure. Who are we to pretend to greater generosity? A foolish Hindi saying was current in Oudh: jis ko nā de Maulā, tis ko de Āsaf-ud-daula: "To those to whom the Lord gives not, Āsaf-ud-daula gives." It was extravagance that ruined his family and wiped his kingdom of Oudh off the map.

SECTION_4.

31. Kill not your children <sup>2214</sup>
For fear of want : We shall Provide sustenance for them
As well as for you.
Verily the killing of them
Is a great sin.
32. Nor come nigh to adultery :
For it is a shameful (deed)
And an evil, opening the road <sup>2215</sup>
(To other evils).
33. Nor take life—which God
Has made sacred—except
For just cause. And if Anyone is slain wrongfully,
We have given his heir
Authority (to demand Qiṣāṣ <sup>2216</sup>
Or to forgive) : but let him
Not exceed bounds in the matter
Of taking life ; for he
Is helped (by the Law).
34. Come not nigh
To the orphan's property
Except to improve it, <sup>2217</sup>

۳۱- وَلَا تَقْتُلُوا أَوْلَادَكُمْ خَشْيَةً إِمْلَاقٍ
مَحْنُ نَزْرٍ فَهُمْ وَإِيَّاكُمْ
إِنَّ قَتْلَهُمْ كَانَ خِطَاً كَبِيراً ○

۳۲- وَلَا تَقْرَبُوا الزَّوْجَىٰ إِنَّهُ كَانَ فَاحِشَةً
وَسَاءَ سَبِيلًا ○

۳۳- وَلَا تَقْتُلُوا النَّفْسَ الَّتِي حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ
إِلَّا بِالْحَقِّ وَمَنْ قُتِلَ مَظْلُومًا
فَقَدْ جَعَلْنَا لَوَلِيِّهِ سُلْطَانًا
فَلَا يُسْرِفُ فِي الْقَتْلِ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ مَنصُورًا ○

۳۴- وَلَا تَقْرَبُوا مَالَ الْيَتِيمِ إِلَّا بِالَّتِي
هِيَ أَحْسَنُ

2215. Literally, "it is evil as a road (or a way)". Adultery is not only shameful in itself and inconsistent with any self-respect or respect for others, but it opens the road to many evils. It destroys the basis of the family ; it works against the interests of children born or to be born ; it may cause murders and feuds and loss of reputation and property, and also loosen permanently the bonds of society. Not only should it be avoided as a sin, but any approach or temptation to it should be avoided.

2217. Cf. vi. 152, and other passages relating to orphans, e.g., ii. 220. If an orphan's property is touched at all, it should be to improve it, or to give him something better than he had before,— never to take a personal advantage for the benefit of the guardian. A bargain that may be quite fair as between two independent persons would be, under this verse, unfair as between a guardian and his orphan ward until the latter attains the full age of understanding.

Until he attains the age <sup>2218</sup>
Of full strength ; and fulfil
(Every) <sup>2219</sup> engagement,
For (every) engagement
Will be enquired into

35. Give full measure when ye
Measure, and weigh
With a balance that is straight :
That is the most fitting
And the most advantageous
In the final determination. <sup>2221</sup>

۳۵- وَأَوْفُوا الْكَيْلَ إِذَا كَلْتُمْ

36. And pursue not that
Of which thou hast <sup>2222</sup>
No knowledge ; for
Every act of hearing,
Or of seeing
Or of (feeling in) the heart
Will be enquired into
(On the Day of Reckoning).

۳۶- وَلَا تَقْفُ مَا لَيْسَ لَكَ بِهِ عِلْمٌ

37. Nor walk on the earth <sup>2223</sup>
With insolence: for thou

۳۷- وَلَا تَمْشِ فِي الْأَرْضِ مَرَحًا إِنَّكَ

2218. Ashuddun means the age when the orphan reaches his full maturity of strength and understanding, say between the ages of 18 and 30. The age of legal majority may be 18 (as for certain purposes in India) or 21 (as in England). For certain purposes in Muslim law it may be less than 18. In the orphan's interest a much stricter standard is required in his case.

2219. The definite article al has here a generic meaning, and is best translated by "every".

2220. From the context the engagements referred to would relate to beneficial contracts connected with the orphan's property or promises or undertakings given by the guardian or implied in the terms of his appointment. But the words are general and may be interpreted in the general sense. Note that this sentence does not occur in the similar passage in vi. 152, where there was a discussion of social laws : it is appropriate here, where the discussion is about the guardian's personal and individual responsibility in a spiritual sense.

2222. Idle curiosity may lead us to nose into evil, through our ignorance that it is evil. We must guard against every such danger. We must only hear the things that are known to us to be of good report, and see things that are good and instructive, and entertain in our hearts feelings or in our minds ideas that we have reason to expect will be spiritually profitable to us. We shall be called to account for the exercise of every faculty that has been given to us. This goes a little farther than a famous sculpture on a Japanese temple in which three monkeys are shown as putting their hands to their ears, eyes, and mouths, respectively, to show that they were not prepared to hear any evil, or see any evil, or speak any evil. Here idle curiosity is condemned. Futility is to be avoided even if it does not reach the degree of positive evil.

2223. Insolence, or arrogance, or undue elation at our powers or capacities, is the first step to many evils. Besides, it is unjustified. All our gifts are from God.

Canst not rend the earth
Asunder, nor reach
The mountains in height.

38. Of all such things
The evil is hateful
In the sight of thy Lord.

39. These are among the (precepts
Of) wisdom, which thy Lord
Has revealed to thee.<sup>2224</sup>
Take not, with God,
Another object of worship,
Lest thou shouldst be thrown Into Hell, blameworthy and rejected.<sup>2225</sup>

40. Was then your Lord,
(O Pagans!) preferred for you
Sons, and taken for Himself
Daughters among the angels? <sup>2226</sup>
Truly ye utter
A most dreadful saying!

C. 130.—There is none like unto God. Exalted
(xvii. 41-60.) Beyond measure is He. All Creation
Declares His glory. His revelation
Is Truth, but is beyond comprehension
To those who believe not in the Hereafter.
Those who serve Him should beware
Lest words unseemly should escape them,
Whether to friend or foe. Avoid
Dissensions, and know that God's Wrath
When kindled is a terrible thing,
But we rejoice that He forbears and forgives.

2224. The moral law, as expounded in xvii. 23-39 is far in advance of the bare Decalogue in that it searches out motives, and draws pointed attention to the weak and helpless if we are to reach any spiritual understanding of God. It begins with a mention of the worship of the One True God and ends with a similar mention to close the argument, thus emphasizing the fact that the love of God embraces the love of man and practical help to our fellow-creatures.

2225. "Blameworthy" carries us back by reminiscence to xvii. 29, between which and this verse there is mention of crimes committed out of covetousness and a selfish disregard of other people's rights. "Rejected" carries back our reminiscence to xvii. 18, from which to here we have a reference to crimes that lead to deprivation of God's grace. The latter is of course wider than the former. Note how subtly the two streams of thought are here conjoined.

2226. Cf. xvi. 57-59. Insistence on true worship means also exclusion of false worship or worship derogatory to God. In circles where daughters were despised and even their lives had to be protected by special legislation, what could have been more dreadful than ascribing daughters to god?

SECTION 5.

41. We have explained (things)
In various (ways) in this Qur-ān,
In order that they may receive <sup>2227</sup>
Admonition, but it only increases
Their flight (from the Truth)!
42. Say : if there had been
(Other) gods with Him,—
As they say,—behold,
They would certainly have
Sought out a way
To the Lord of the Throne! <sup>2228</sup>
43. Glory to Him! He is high
Above all that they say!—
Exalted and Great (beyond measure)!
44. The seven heavens and the earth,
And all beings therein,
Declare His glory :
There is not a thing
But celebrates His praise ;
And yet ye understand not
How they declare His glory! <sup>2229</sup>
Verily He is Oft-Forbearing,
Most Forgiving !
45. When thou dost recite
The Qur-ān, We put,

٣١- وَلَقَدْ صَرَّفْنَا فِي هَذَا الْقُرْآنِ لِيَذَّكَّرُوا
وَمَا يَزِيدُهُمْ إِلَّا نُفُورًا ۝

٣٢- قُلْ لَوْ كَانَ مَعَهُ آلِهَةٌ
كَمَا يَقُولُونَ إِذْ الْأَبْتَعُوا
إِلَى ذِي الْعَرْشِ سَبِيلًا ۝

٣٣- سُبْحَانَہٗ وَتَعَالَى عَمَّا يَقُولُونَ
عُلُوًّا كَبِيرًا ۝

٣٤- تَسْبِيحُ لَهُ السَّمَاوَاتُ السَّبْعُ وَالْأَرْضُ
وَمَنْ فِيهِنَّ ۗ
وَإِنْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ إِلَّا يُسَبِّحُ بِحَمْدِہٖ
وَلَكِنْ لَا تَفْقَهُونَ تَسْبِيحَهُمْ ۗ
إِنَّہٗ كَانَ حَلِيمًا غَفُورًا ۝

٣٥- وَإِذَا قُرَأَتِ الْقُرْآنُ جَعَلْنَا

2227. Things are explained in the Qur-ān from all points of view, individual and national, by means of stories, parables, and figures of speech, and by way of categorical commands. But those who are evil, instead of profiting by such instruction, often go farther and farther away from the Truth.

2228. There is only One True God. But if, as polytheists say, there had been subsidiary gods, they would yet have had to go to the Throne of the Supreme God, for they could have done nothing without Him. Thus the Islamic idea of the unity of the Godhead is quite different from polytheistic ideas of a supreme god, as in the Greek Pantheon, where Jupiter was often defied by the minor deities ! But such ideas are absurd, as stated in the next verse.

2229. All Creation, animate and inanimate, sings God's praises and celebrates His glory,—animate, with consciousness, and inanimate, in the evidence which it furnishes of the unity and glory of God. The mystics believe that there is a soul in inanimate things also, which declares forth the glory of God. For all Nature bears witness to His power, wisdom, and goodness. It is only "ye", i.e., those who reject the whole trend of your nature and deny Faith simply because ye have been given a limited amount of choice and free-will,—it is only such as "ye" that understand not what every other creature understands and proclaims with joy and pride. What must be your degradation ! And yet God bears with you and forgives you ! Such is His goodness !

Between thee and those who
Believe not in the Hereafter,
A veil invisible : <sup>2230</sup>

46. And We put coverings
Over their hearts (and minds)
Lest they should understand
The Qur-ān, and deafness <sup>2231</sup>
Into their ears : when thou
Dost commemorate thy Lord—
And Him alone—in the Qur-ān,
They turn on their backs,
Fleeing (from the Truth).

47. We know best why it is
They listen, when they listen <sup>2232</sup>
To thee ; and when they
Meet in private conference,
Behold, the wicked say,
“Ye follow none other than
A man bewitched !”

48. See what similes they strike
For thee : but they have gone
Astray, and never can they Find a way. <sup>2233</sup>

49. They say : “What !
When we are reduced

بَيْنَكَ وَبَيْنَ الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِالْآخِرَةِ
حِجَابًا مَّسْتُورًا ۝

٢٦- وَجَعَلْنَا عَلَى قُلُوبِهِمْ
أَكِنَّةً أَنْ يَفْقَهُوهُ وَفِي آذَانِهِمْ وَقْرًا
وَإِذَا ذُكِّرْتُمْ رَبَّكَ فِي الْقُرْآنِ وَحْدَهُ
وَلَوْ عَلَى آدْبَارِهِمْ نُفُورًا ۝

٢٧- نَحْنُ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا يَسْتَمِعُونَ بِهِ إِذْ
يَسْتَمِعُونَ إِلَيْكَ وَإِذْ هُمْ مَجْوَى
إِذْ يَقُولُ الظَّالِمُونَ
إِنْ تَسْمِعُونَ إِلَّا رَجُلًا مَسْحُورًا ۝

٢٨- أَنْظِرْ كَيْفَ ضَرَبُوا لَكَ الْأَمْثَالَ
فَضَلُّوا فَلَا يَسْتَطِيعُونَ سَبِيلًا ۝

٢٩- وَقَالُوا إِذَا كُنَّا

2230. Veil invisible : Some Commentators understand mastūr here as equivalent to sātir : a veil that makes invisible, a thick or dark veil. But I think that the meaning of mastūr (in the passive voice) as “hidden or invisible” is more consonant with the mystic meaning of the whole passage. If all nature, external and within ourselves, declares God’s glory, those unfortunates who cut themselves off from their better nature are isolated from the men of God and the revelation of God, because (1) they are unfit for being in their company, and (2) because the men of God and the revelation of God must be protected from the pain which blasphemy or rebellion must cause to their unsullied nature. The veil is none the less real because it is invisible.

2231. The invisible veil being put against the ungodly on account of their deliberate rejection of Truth, the result is that their minds are fogged so that they cannot understand and their ears are clogged so that they cannot hear. In other words the effects of Evil become cumulative in shutting out God’s grace.

2232. See last note. That being so, the only motive for the ungodly to listen to God’s Truth is to scoff at it instead of to be instructed by it. They may make a show of listening, but when they meet together in private, they show themselves in their true colours. Cf. ii. 14. They cannot help seeing that there is singular charm and attractiveness in God’s Word, and that it consoles, helps, and elevates many people who receive it in the right spirit. So they pretend that they are superior to such people and laugh at them for listening to some one who is only under the influence of something which they call magic !

2233. Note that the word used is “Sabilan” “a way”, not “the way”. In going astray they have lost the way ; but never can they find any means of getting back to that way, or of justifying themselves or making good their wicked similes.

To bones and dust,
Should we really be raised up
(To be) a new creation? ” 2234

50. Say : “ (Nay!) be ye
Stones or iron,

51. “ Or created matter
Which, in your minds,
Is hardest (to be raised up),—
(Yet shall ye be raised up)! ”
Then will they say:
“ Who will cause us
To return? ” Say : “ He
Who created you first! ”
Then will they wag
Their heads towards thee, 2235
And say, “ When will
That be? ” Say, “ May be
It will be quite soon !

52. “ It will be on a Day
When He will call you,
And ye will answer
(His call) with (words
Of) His praise, and ye 2236
Will think that ye tarried
But a little while! ” 2237

عِظَامًا وَرُفَاتًا

۵۰- قُلْ كُوۡنُوۡا حِجَارَةً اَوْ حَدِيۡدًا ۝

۵۱- اَوْ خَلْقًا مِّمَّا يَكْبُرُۡ فِيۡ صُدُوۡرِكُمْ ؕ
فَسَيَقُوۡلُوۡنَ مَنْ يُّعِيۡدُنَا
قُلِ الَّذِيۡ فَطَرَكُمْ اَوَّلَ مَرَّةٍ ؕ
فَسَيُنۡغِضُوۡنَ اِلَيْكَ رُءُوۡسَهُمْ
وَيَقُوۡلُوۡنَ مَتٰى هُوَ
قُلْ عَسٰى اَنْ يَّكُوۡنَ قَرِيۡبًا ۝

۵۲- يَوْمَ يَدْعُوۡكُمْ
فَتَسْتَجِيۡبُوۡنَ بِحَمْدِ
وَتُظُنُّوۡنَ اِنْ لَبِثْتُمْ اِلَّا قَلِيۡلًا ۝

2234. They do not realise that God Who created them once out of nothing can create them again and again, with memories of their past, and in order to render to Him an account of how they used or misused the talents and opportunities which they were given. If it is to be a new Creation, what then? Bones and dust or ashes may yet retain something of the personality which was enshrined in them. But even if they were reduced to stones or iron or anything which their minds can conceive of as being most unlike them, yet there is nothing impossible to God; He has clearly sent a Message that we shall have to render an account of ourselves, and His Message is necessarily true.

2235. The sceptic shifts his ground when he is cornered in argument. It is no longer tenable for him to say that it cannot happen or that there is no one who can bring him back to life and memory. He now gets shaky, and says, “ Well, when is that going to happen? ” The actual time no man can tell. Indeed that event will be on a plane in which there will be no Time. Our relative ideas of time and place will have been completely overthrown, and it will appear to us then, not that it has been postponed too long, but that it has come too soon! See the next verse and note.

2236. It may be that this verse should not be in the inverted commas governed by the verb “ say ”, in the last clause of the last verse. In that case, the answer to the sceptic would be finished in the last verse, and this verse would be a general statement applying also to the righteous, who will rise up celebrating the praises of God. But on the whole, I think it is better to take this verse as part of the answer to the sceptic referred to in the last verse.

2237. Whatever may have been your spiritual blindness in this life, the “ new creation ” will have opened your eyes to the Truth. No one will any longer be in any delusion as regards the Reality of God, and all will be forced, by their new circumstances, to recognise the Truth and sing God’s praises. And all will be surprised at the seemingly short flight of time since they had their little ephemeral life on this earth. They will now appraise its true worth.

SECTION 6.

53. Say to My servants
That they should (only) say
Those things that are best : <sup>2238</sup>
For Satan doth sow
Dissensions among them :
For Satan is to man
An avowed enemy.

٥٣- وَقُلْ لِعِبَادِي يَقُولُوا الَّتِي هِيَ
أَحْسَنُ إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَنْزِعُ بَيْنَهُمْ
إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ كَانَ لِلْإِنْسَانِ عَدُوًّا
مُيْتَنًا

54. It is your Lord
That knoweth you best :
If He please, He granteth <sup>2239</sup>
You mercy, or if He please,
Punishment : We have not sent
Thee to be a disposer
Of their affairs for them.

٥٤- رَبُّكُمْ أَعْلَمُ بِكُمْ
إِنْ يَشَأْ يُرْحَمَكُمُ
أَوْ إِنْ يَشَأْ يُعَذِّبَكُمُ
وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ عَلَيْهِمْ وَكِيلًا

55. And it is your Lord
That knoweth best all beings
That are in the heavens <sup>2240</sup>
And on earth : We
Did bestow on some Prophets
More (and other) gifts
Than on others : and We gave
To David (the gift
Of) the Psalms. <sup>2241</sup>

٥٥- وَرَبُّكَ أَعْلَمُ
بِمَنْ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
وَلَقَدْ فَضَّلْنَا بَعْضَ النَّبِيِّينَ عَلَى بَعْضٍ
وَأَتَيْنَا دَاوُدَ زُبُورًا

2238. This command refers to two situations. (1) Even to your enemies and the enemies of God you should speak fair : who are you to judge others ? Judgment belongs to God alone, for He knows you (i.e. all mankind) best, and your personal knowledge is at best imperfect. And Satan is always trying to divide mankind. (2) Amongst yourselves, also, you should not entertain suspicions, but speak politely according to the best standards of human speech. A false or unkind word may destroy all your efforts at building up unity, because the forces of disruption are more numerous than the forces of unity.

2239. Man should never for a single moment entertain a thought that would imply that he was wiser than God. God's knowledge is all-embracing. If He grants mercy to some that you consider wicked or punishment to some that you consider righteous, it is your knowledge or your deductions that are at fault, not God's righteous Plan. Even men of God are not sent to arrange or dispose of men's affairs, but only to teach God's Message. How much less can ordinary men presume to judge other men ? The Mashiyat—Will and Plan of God—is above all human wisdom.

2240. Not only are we not to judge other ordinary men and carp at them. We are not to set up false standards for judging the men of God. If one was born of the unlearned Arab race, he yet was a mercy to all the worlds. If one spoke to God as Kalimullah or another's life as Ruh-ullah began with a spiritual miracle ; it does not imply superiority. It only means that God's wisdom is more profound than we can fathom.

2241. The spiritual gifts with which the prophets came may themselves take different forms, according to the needs of the world and the times in which they lived, as judged by the wisdom of God. A striking example here given is the gift of song and music as given to David, but it implies no superiority of David over others. David was given the Zabur, the Psalter or Psalms, intended to be sung for the worship of God and the celebration of God's praise. For the Book of Psalms, see the last part of n. 669 to iv. 163, where exactly the same words are used about David.

56. Say : " Call on those—
Besides Him—whom ye fancy :
They have neither the power
To remove your troubles
From you nor to change them." <sup>2242</sup>
57. Those whom they call upon
Do desire (for themselves) means
Of access to their Lord,—
Even those who are nearest: <sup>2243</sup>
They hope for His Mercy
And fear His Wrath :
For the Wrath of thy Lord
Is something to take heed of
58. Here is not a population
But We shall destroy it
Before the Day of Judgment
Or punish it with
A dreadful Penalty : <sup>2244</sup>
That is written
In the (eternal) Record.
59. And We refrain from sending
The Signs, only because
The men of former generations
Treated them as false : <sup>2245</sup>

٥- قُلْ ادْعُوا الَّذِينَ زَعَمْتُمْ مِنْ دُونِهِ
فَلَا يَمْلِكُونَ كَشْفِ الضَّرِّ عَنْكُمْ
وَلَا تَخْوِيلًا ۝

٥٤- اُولَئِكَ الَّذِينَ يَدْعُونَ يَبْتَغُونَ
اِلَى رَبِّهِمُ الْوَسِيلَةَ اَتَيْهِمْ اَقْرَبُ
وَيَرْجُونَ رَحْمَتَهُ وَيَخَافُونَ عَذَابَهُ
اِنَّ عَذَابَ رَبِّكَ كَانَ مَحْذُورًا ۝

٥٨- وَاِنَّ مِنْ قَرْيَةٍ اِلَّا نَحْنُ مُهْلِكُوهَا
قَبْلَ يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ اَوْ مُعَذِّبُوهَا عَذَابًا
شَدِيدًا
كَانَ ذَلِكَ فِي الْكِتَابِ مَسْطُورًا ۝

٥٩- وَاَمَّا مَنَعْنَا اَنْ نُرْسِلَ بِالْآيَاتِ الْاِ
اَنْ كَذَّبَ بِهَا الْاَوَّلُونَ

2242. Men's suspicions of each other or of the prophets have been condemned in the previous verses. We now have the strongest condemnation of all, that of imagining any other being as being equal or in the same category with the One True God. God has all power : they have no power. They cannot remove men's troubles. They cannot even mitigate or change them so as to afford the least relief. Why indulge in false worship ?

2243. Where men or heroes, or prophets or angels are worshipped, the worship is futile ; because (1) even if they are good and holy, and ever so near to God, yet the nearest of them have need to seek means of access to God, and they do seek such means, viz. : the hope of God's Grace ; (2) though by their very nature it is impossible for us to suppose that they will incur the Wrath of God, yet they are but creatures and are subject to the law of personal responsibility.

2244. These verses are a commentary on the last clause of the last verse. "The Wrath of thy Lord is something to take heed of." The godless thoughtlessly challenge God's Wrath, but do they realise its nature ? Even the best of us must be moved with terror when we think of its consequences, were it not for His unbounded Mercy. Those who deny the Hereafter fail to realise its terrible Portents. They ask for Portents and Miracles now, but do they realise that their coming means destruction and misery to those who reject faith ? They will come soon enough. The whole world will be convulsed before the Day of Judgment. The part of the wise is to prepare for it.

2245. Past generations treated Signs and Portents with contempt or rebellion, and brought about their own undoing. It is only God's Mercy that gives them Grace for a time and prevents the coming of those Portents and Punishments which would overwhelm them if they were put to their trial at once.

We sent the She-camel<sup>2246</sup>
To the Thamūd to open
Their eyes, but they
Treated her wrongfully :
We only send the Signs
By way of terror
(And warning from evil).<sup>2247</sup>

وَإِنَّا نَسُودُ النَّاقَةَ
مُبْصِرَةً فَظَلَمُوا بِهَا
وَمَا نُرْسِلُ بِالآيَاتِ إِلَّا تَخْوِيفًا ۝

60. Behold! We told thee
That thy Lord doth encompass
Mankind round about :<sup>2248</sup>
We granted the Vision
Which We showed thee,<sup>2249</sup>
But as a trial for men, —
As also the Cursed Tree<sup>2250</sup>
(Mentioned) in the Qur-ān:
We put terror (and warning)
Into them, but it only
Increases their inordinate transgression !

۝ وَإِذْ قُلْنَا لَكَ إِنَّ رَبَّكَ أَحَاطَ بِالنَّاسِ
وَمَا جَعَلْنَا الرُّءْيَا الَّتِي آرَيْنَاكَ
إِلَّا فِتْنَةً لِلنَّاسِ
وَالشَّجَرَةَ الْمَلْعُونَةَ فِي الْقُرْآنِ
وَمُخَوِّفُهُمْ فَمَا يَزِيدُهُمْ
إِلَّا طُغْيَانًا كَبِيرًا ۝

2246. An example is cited from the story of the Thamūd. A wonderful She-camel was sent among them as a Portent and a Symbol. In their wickedness they ham-strung her. So instead of her reclaiming them she was a cause of their destruction, as their sin and rebellion were laid bare. For the story of the She-camel and the references to the passages in which she is mentioned, see n. 1044 to vii. 73.

2247. Signs, Miracles, and Portents are sent by God as a warning, to strike terror into the hearts of evil-doers and reclaim them to the right path. I have discussed Fear as a motive for reclaiming certain kinds of hard hearts, in my note 82 to ii. 74. But some hearts are so hard that even this motive does not work. As they have a limited free-will given by God, they are to that extent free to choose. But when they actually choose evil, God in His infinite Mercy delays their punishment and removes the occasion for their immediate self-destruction by withholding the Signs which might make them transgress all the more and compass their total destruction.

2248. The reference may be to lxxii. 28, probably an earlier Meccan revelation. But the argument is independent of time. This verse falls naturally into three divisions. Warnings and Portents and Signs are sent or not sent according to God's All-Wise Plan of Mercy and Justice : this is in no wise inconsistent with the apparent freedom given to the wicked : because (1) in any case God is all round all His creatures, and His delay as a Sign of Mercy in no way diminishes His power ; (2) the Visions of Truth vouchsafed to men of God are themselves Signs by which they can warn the ungodly ; and (3) sometimes it is more merciful to give them time by not immediately bringing the matter to judgment.

2250. The tree Zaqqūm, a bitter and pungent tree described as growing at the bottom of Hell, a type of all that is disagreeable. See xxxvii. 62-65 ; xlv. 43-46 ; and lvi. 52. All these are Sūras chronologically earlier than this Sūra. The application of the name to a tree of the myrobalan kind in the region of Jericho is, I think, of post-Quranic date.

It is a trial for wrong-doers. See xxxvii. 63 and n. 4073.

64. "Lead to destruction those Whom thou canst among them,<sup>2254</sup>
With thy (seductive) voice; <sup>2255</sup>
Make assaults on them <sup>2256</sup>
With thy cavalry and thy
Infantry; mutually share
With them wealth and children; <sup>2257</sup>
And make promises to them."
But Satan promises them
Nothing but deceit. <sup>2258</sup>

٦٤- وَأَسْتَفْزِرُ مَنْ اسْتَطَعْتَ مِنْهُمْ
بِصَوْتِكَ وَأَجْلِبَ عَلَيْهِمْ
بِجَيْدِكَ وَرَجْلِكَ وَشَارِكِهِمْ
فِي الْأَمْوَالِ وَالْأَوْلَادِ وَعَدَّهُمْ
وَمَا يَعِدُهُمُ الشَّيْطَانُ إِلَّا غُرُورًا ٥

65. "As for My servants,<sup>2259</sup>
No authority shalt thou
Have over them : "
Enough is thy Lord
For a Disposer of affairs. <sup>2260</sup>

٦٥- إِنَّ عِبَادِي لَيْسَ لَكَ عَلَيْهِمْ
سُلْطَانٌ وَكَفَى بِرَبِّكَ وَكِيلًا ٥

66. Your Lord is He
That maketh the Ship
Go smoothly for you
Through the sea, in order that
Ye may seek of His Bounty. <sup>2261</sup>
For He is unto you
Most Merciful.

٦٦- رَبُّكُمْ الَّذِي يُزْجِي لَكُمْ الْفُلْكَ
فِي الْبَحْرِ لِتَبْتَغُوا مِنْ فَضْلِهِ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ بِكُمْ رَحِيمًا ٥

67. When distress seizes you
At sea, those that ye
Call upon—besides Himself—
Leave you in the lurch !
But when He brings you back
Safe to land, ye turn

٦٧- وَإِذَا مَسَّكُمُ الضُّرُّ فِي الْبَحْرِ ضَلَّ
مَنْ تَدْعُونَ إِلَّا إِيَّاهُ
فَلَمَّا بَجَلْتُمْ إِلَى الْبَرِّ أَعْرَضْتُمْ

2254. "Do thy worst; but ye are both warned that that path leads to destruction."

2256. The forcible assault of Evil is next mentioned under the metaphor of cavalry and infantry. It is when cajolery and tempting fair-seeming seem to fail that an attack is made in force with weapons of violence, of all kinds, like the different arms in an organised army.

2257. If the first assaults are resisted, Evil has other weapons in its armoury. Tangible fruits are dangled before the eyes, ill-gotten gains and children of sin, that follow from certain very alluring methods of indulgence in passions. Or it may be children dedicated to sin or worldly gains, etc. And then there are all kinds of promises for the future.

2258. This is a parenthetical clause inserted to show up what the promises of the Evil One are worth.

2259. This verse should be read along with the two preceding ones to complete their meaning. Evil has no power except over those who yield to its solicitations.

2260. As Evil has no authority over the sincere servants of God, they should put their trust completely in Him. For He is All-Sufficient to carry out their affairs, and by His grace, to save them from all harm and danger.

2261. This illustration of the sea, and the skill with which, by God's grace, men pass through it with ease in order to earn material gains by commerce, social gains by human intercourse, and spiritual gains by knowledge, is frequently used to enforce God's goodness to man. Cf. ii. 164.

Away (from Him). Most ungrateful<sup>2262</sup>
Is man !

وَكَانَ الْإِنْسَانُ كَفُورًا ۝

68. Do ye then feel secure
That He will not cause you
To be swallowed up
Beneath the earth<sup>2263</sup>
When ye are on land,
Or that He will not send
Against you a violent tornado
(With showers of stones)
So that ye shall find
No one to carry out
Your affairs for you ?

٦٨- أَفَأَمِنْتُمْ أَنْ يُخَسِفَ بِكُمْ
جَانِبَ الْبَرِّ
أَوْ يُرْسِلَ عَلَيْكُمْ حَاصِبًا
ثُمَّ لَا تَجِدُوا
لَكُمْ وَكِيلاً ۝

69. Or do ye feel secure
That He will not send you
Back a second time
To sea and send against you
A heavy gale to drown you
Because of your ingratitude,<sup>2264</sup>
So that ye find no helper
Therein against Us ?

٦٩- أَمْ أَمِنْتُمْ أَنْ يُعِيدَ كُمْ فِيهِ تَارَةً
أُخْرَى فَيُرْسِلَ عَلَيْكُمْ قَاصِفًا مِّنَ السَّمَاءِ
فَيَغْرِقَكُمْ بِمَا كَفَرْتُمْ
ثُمَّ لَا تَجِدُوا لَكُمْ عَلَيْنَا بِهِ تَبِيعًا ۝

70. We have honoured the sons
Of Adam ; provided them
With transport on land and sea ;
Given them for sustenance things
Good and pure ; and conferred
On them special favours,
Above a great part
Of Our Creation.<sup>2265</sup>

٤٠- وَلَقَدْ كَرَّمْنَا بَنِي آدَمَ
وَحَمَلْنَاهُمْ فِي الْبَرِّ وَالْبَحْرِ
وَرَزَقْنَاهُمْ مِّنَ الطَّيِّبَاتِ وَفَضَّلْنَاهُمْ
عَلَىٰ كَثِيرٍ مِّمَّنْ خَلَقْنَا تَفْضِيلًا ۝

2264. If a man flees from the Wrath of God, there is no place secure for him. He may flee from sea to land, and back again from land to sea. But his life depends on the Disposer of all affairs. He may go again and again to sea, and perhaps finally end by being drowned.

2265. The distinction and honour conferred by God on man are recounted in order to enforce the corresponding duties and responsibilities of man. He is raised to a position of honour above the brute creation; he has been granted talents by which he can transport himself from place to place by land, sea, and now by air; all the means for the sustenance and growth of every part of his nature are provided by God; and his spiritual faculties (the greatest gift of God) raise him above the greater part of God's Creation. Should he not then realise his noble destiny and prepare for his real life in the Hereafter ?

SECTION 8.

71. One day We shall call
Together all human beings
With their (respective) Imāms : <sup>2266</sup>
Those who are given their record
In their right hand
Will read it (with pleasure),
And they will not be
Dealt with unjustly
In the least. <sup>2267</sup>

72. But those who were blind
In this world, will be
Blind in the Hereafter, <sup>2268</sup>
And most astray
From the Path.

73. And their purpose was
To tempt thee away
From that which We
Had revealed unto thee,
To substitute in Our name
Something quite different : <sup>2269</sup>
(In that case), behold !
They would certainly have
Made thee (their) friend !

74. And had We not
Given thee strength,

١٠-يَوْمَ نَدْعُوا كُلَّ أُنَاسٍ بِإِمَامِهِمْ
فَمَنْ أُوتِيَ كِتَابَهُ بِيَمِينِهِ
فَأُولَئِكَ يَقْرَءُونَ كِتَابَهُمْ
وَلَا يُظْلَمُونَ فَتِيلًا ○

١١-وَمَنْ كَانَ فِي هَذِهِ أَعْمَى
فَهُوَ فِي الْآخِرَةِ أَعْمَى
وَأَضَلُّ سَبِيلًا ○

١٢-وَإِنْ كَادُوا لَيَفْتِنُونَكَ عَنِ الَّذِي
أَوْحَيْنَا إِلَيْكَ
لِتَفْتَرِيَ عَلَيْنَا غَيْرَهُ
وَإِذَا لَا تَأْخُذُوكَ خَلِيلًا ○

١٣-وَلَوْلَا أَنْ تَبَشِّرَكَ

2266. I have discussed the various meanings of Imām in ii. 124, n. 124. What is the meaning here? The Commentators are divided. Some understand the meaning to be that each People or Group will appear with its Leader, who will bear witness to its virtues or sins: Cf. xvi. 84. Another view is that the Imām is their revelation, their Book. A third is that the Imām is the record of deeds spoken of in the next clause. I prefer the first.

2267. Literally, by the value of a fatīl, a small skin in the cleft of a date-stone: this has no value.

2269. It happens with men of God, and it happened with the holy Prophet, that they are tempted by the world with many things which appeal to the world generally, if they would make some small concession in their favour. The "small concession" may hold the key of the position, and neutralise the whole teaching sent by God. If the Prophet had accepted wealth and position among the Quraish and "only respected" their idols! The Quraish would have taken him into their inner circle! A dishonest liar like Musailama would have jumped at the opportunity and been hailed as a friend and associate and made much of. But men of God are made of sterner stuff. They are given special strength to resist all plausible deception.

Thou wouldst nearly
Have inclined to them <sup>2270</sup>
A little.

75. In that case We should
Have made thee taste
An equal portion (of punishment)
In this life, and an equal portion <sup>2271</sup>
In death : and moreover
Thou wouldst have found
None to help thee against Us! <sup>2272</sup>

76. Their purpose was to scare
Thee off the land, <sup>2273</sup>
In order to expel thee ;
But in that case they
Would not have stayed
(Therein) after thee,
Except for a little while.

77. (This was Our) way
With the apostles We sent
Before thee : thou wilt find
No change in Our ways. <sup>2274</sup>

SECTION 9.

78. Establish regular prayers— <sup>2275</sup>
At the sun's decline

لَقَدْ كُنْتُمْ تَزْكُنُ الْيَوْمَ شَيْئًا قَلِيلًا ۝

٤٥- إِذَا الْأَذْقَانِكُ

ضَعَفَ الْحَيَاةِ وَضَعَفَ السَّمَاتِ
ثُمَّ لَا تَجِدُكَ عَلَيْنَا لَصِيرًا ۝

٤٦- وَإِنْ كَادُوا لَيَسْتَفْرِزُونَكَ مِنَ الْأَرْضِ
لِيُخْرِجُوكَ مِنْهَا وَإِذَا لَا يَلْبَثُونَ
خَلْفَكَ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا ۝

٤٧- سُنَّةٌ مِّنْ قَدْ أَرْسَلْنَا قَبْلَكَ مِنْ
رُسُلِنَا وَلَا تَجِدُ لِسُنَّتِنَا تَحْوِيلًا ۝

٤٨- أَتِمِّمِ الصَّلَاةَ لِلذِّكْرِ الشَّمْسِ

2271. If such a thing was possible for a true Apostle of God, viz. : a compromise with evil and a dereliction of his mission, he would be no exception to the law of personal responsibility. Indeed, as the power and the responsibility were greater, the punishment would have been greater too. It would have been double, — an exposure in this life and the usual punishment in or after death for a desertion of the Truth.

2272. The motive held out by the world for a compromise with Truth is itself fallacious. The motive is that the compromise may bring influence, position, and opportunity, if not wealth and the other good things of life. But these themselves (if attained) would be of no use or help if pitted against the command of God.

2273. As happened in the case of the holy Prophet, the enemies try to frighten the man of God away from their midst, so that, once away, they could expel him and keep him out. But they are counting without the Plan of God. If they persecute the righteous, they dig their own graves!

2274. This was no new thing in history. God protects His own, and the ungodly cannot long enjoy the fruits of their unrighteousness even if their punishment be delayed a little while.

2275. The Commentators understand here the command for the five daily canonical prayers, viz. : the four from the declination of the sun from the zenith to the fullest darkness of the night, and the early morning prayer, Fajr, which is usually accompanied by a reading of the holy Qur-ān. The four afternoon prayers are : Zuhr, immediately after the sun begins to decline in the afternoon ; 'Aṣr, in the late afternoon ; Maḡrib, immediately after sunset ; and Ishā, after the glow of sunset has disappeared and the full darkness of the night has set in. There is difference of opinion as to the meaning of particular words and phrases, but none as to the general effect of the passage.

Till the darkness of the night,
And the morning prayer
And reading : for the prayer
And reading in the morning
Carry their testimony.<sup>2276</sup>

إِلَى عَسَقِ الْيَلِيلِ وَقُرْآنِ الْفَجْرِ
إِنَّ قُرْآنَ الْفَجْرِ كَانَ مَشْهُودًا ۝

79. And pray in the small watches<sup>2277</sup>
Of the morning : (it would be)
An additional prayer
(Or spiritual profit)
For thee : soon will thy Lord
Raise thee to a Station
Of Praise and Glory!<sup>2278</sup>

٤٩- وَمِنَ الْيَلِيلِ فَتَهَجَّدْ بِهِ
نَافِلَةً لَّكَ ۝
عَسَىٰ أَنْ يَبْعَثَكَ رَبُّكَ مَقَامًا
مَّحْمُودًا ۝

80. Say : " O my Lord !
Let my entry be<sup>2279</sup>
By the Gate of Truth
And Honour, and likewise
My exit by the Gate
Of Truth and Honour ;
And grant me
From Thy Presence
An authority to aid (me)."<sup>2280</sup>

٨٠- وَقُلْ رَبِّ اذْخُلْنِي
مُدْخَلَ صِدْقٍ
وَ اُخْرِجْنِي مُخْرَجَ صِدْقٍ
وَ اجْعَلْ لِي مِنْ لَدُنْكَ سُلْطٰنًا
تَصِيْرًا ۝

2276. The morning prayer is specially singled out for separate mention, because the morning is a "holy hour" and special spiritual influences act on the soul awaking from the night's rest. Special testimony is borne to the prayers of this hour by the angelic host.

2277. This is held to be addressed specially to the holy Prophet who usually prayed more than the five canonical prayers. The Tahajjud was a prayer after midnight, in the small watches of the morning.

2278. To the Prophet was to be assigned in the Hereafter the highest Post of Honour and Glory—the Maqām Maḥmūd. There is much mystic meaning in this, implying his excellence above all other Prophets. The immediate reference may be to the hope that the Meccan persecution will soon be over and the glorious work in Medina will begin.

2279. The entry and exit here referred to may be interpreted in four senses : (1) entry into death and exit at the resurrection : for the righteous, who have purified their souls by prayer (last verse) and spiritual teaching from the Qur-ān (next verse), there is on each occasion a fuller and fuller realisation and enjoyment of truth and honour : for those who are estranged from God, the effect is the opposite : the truth becomes bitter and there is ignominy and exposure instead of honour : (2) entry for the holy Prophet into the new life at Medina, which was still in the womb of futurity, and exit from the life of persecution and the milieu of falsehood, which surrounded him in his native city of Mecca still given up to idolatry : (3) referring to the impending Hijrat again, the prayer may mean, " Let it be from pure motives of truth and spiritual honour, and not from motives of anger against the city of Mecca or its persecutors, or of ambition or worldly power from the city of Medina, which was ready to lay everything at the Apostle's feet " : (4) generally, entry and exit at every stage of life.

2280. All prayer must be for God's aid and authority. However much we may plan, our success must depend on His aid. However nobler our motives, we have no right to imperil any lives unless there is authority in the Word of God. The Apostle only acts on God's commission and inspiration.

81. And say : " Truth has (now)
Arrived, and Falsehood perished :
For Falsehood is (by its nature)
Bound to perish." <sup>2281</sup>
82. We send down (stage by stage)
In the Qur-an that which
Is a healing and a mercy
To those who believe :
To the unjust it causes
Nothing but loss after loss. <sup>2282</sup>
83. Yet when We bestow
Our favours on man,
He turns away and becomes Remote on his side (instead
Of coming to Us), and when
Evil seizes him he Gives himself up to despair ! <sup>2283</sup>
84. Say : " Everyone acts
According to his own disposition :
But your Lord knows best
Who it is that is
Best guided on the Way." <sup>2284</sup>

٨١- وَقُلْ جَاءَ الْحَقُّ وَزَهَقَ الْبَاطِلُ
إِنَّ الْبَاطِلَ كَانَ زَهُوقًا ○

٨٢- وَنُنزِلُ مِنَ الْقُرْآنِ
مَا هُوَ شِفَاءٌ وَرَحْمَةٌ لِّلْمُؤْمِنِينَ

٨٣- وَإِذَا أَنْعَمْنَا عَلَى الْإِنْسَانِ

C. 132.—Who can define the Spirit of Inspiration ?

- (xvii. 85-111.) Its gift is the highest of God's Mercies
To man. The Qur-ān is divine, and no carpings
Can affect its greatness or the greatness
Of the Messenger who brought it to men.
Those who reject it will be called
To account on the Day of Judgment. Let not Pride and Ignorance rush, like Pharaoh,
To the Punishment of the Hereafter.
The Qur-ān as revealed by stages teaches
The Truth : learn it and chant it, and praise
The Beautiful Names of God for ever !

2281. From its nature falsehood must perish, for it is the opposite of Truth, and Truth must ever prevail.

2282. In God's revelation there is healing for our broken spirits, hope for our spiritual future, and joy in the forgiveness of our sins. All who work in faith will share in these privileges. It is only the rebels against God's Law who will suffer loss. The more they will oppose Truth, the deeper down will they go into the mire—the state of sin and Wrath, which is worse than destruction.

2283. Truth saves us from two extremes : when we are happy, we are saved from being puffed up, for we realise that everything comes from God ; and when we suffer misfortunes, we are not in despair, for we know that God is our sure refuge and help.

2284. If the wicked go their own ways, there is nothing to discourage us. It is their nature. We must seek and hold fast to true guidance.

SECTION 10.

85. They ask thee concerning
The Spirit (of inspiration).<sup>2285</sup>
Say : " The Spirit (cometh)
By command of my Lord :
Of knowledge it is only
A little that is communicated
To you, (O men !)"

86 If it were Our Will,
We could take away
That which We have
Sent thee by inspiration :<sup>2285</sup>
Then wouldst thou find
None to plead thy affair
In that matter as against Us,—

87. Except for Mercy from thy Lord :<sup>2267</sup>
For His Bounty is
To thee (indeed) great.

88. Say : " If the whole
Of mankind and Jinns<sup>2288</sup>
Were to gather together
To produce the like
Of this Qur-ān, they
Could not produce
The like thereof, even if
They backed up each other

٨٥- وَيَسْأَلُونَكَ عَنِ الرُّوحِ
قُلِ الرُّوحُ مِنْ أَمْرِ رَبِّي
وَمَا أُوتِيتُمْ مِنَ الْعِلْمِ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا ۝

٨٦- وَلَئِنْ شِئْنَا لَنَذْهَبَنَّ بِالَّذِي
أَوْحَيْنَا إِلَيْكَ
ثُمَّ لَا تَجِدُ لَكَ بِهِ عَلَيْنَا وَكِيلًا ۝

٨٧- إِلَّا رَحْمَةً مِنْ رَبِّكَ
إِنَّ فَضْلَهُ كَانَ عَلَيْكَ كَبِيرًا ۝

٨٨- قُلْ لَئِنْ اجْتَمَعَتِ الْإِنْسُ وَالْجِنُّ
عَلَىٰ أَنْ يَأْتُوا بِمِثْلِ
هَذَا الْقُرْآنِ لَا يَأْتُونَ بِمِثْلِهِ
وَلَوْ كَانَتْ بَعْضُهُمْ لِبَعْضٍ

2285. What is the nature of inspiration? Who brings it? Can it ask its Bringer questions? Can we ask anything which we wish? These are the sort of questions always asked when inspiration is called in question. The answer is given here. Inspiration is one of those high spiritual mysteries which cannot be explained in the terms of our every-day human experience. It is spiritual. The Spirit (Gabriel) does not come of his own will. He comes by the command of God, and reveals what God commands him to reveal. Of the sum-total of true spiritual knowledge what a small part it is that ordinary mortals can understand! They can be only given that which they can understand, however dimly. We are not in a position to ask anything that we wish. If we did so, it would only make us look foolish, for the guidance comes from God's Wisdom, not from our worldly knowledge.

2286. Even the spiritual knowledge that comes to us comes because of the favour and mercy of God. If He were to withhold it, who can call Him in question?

2287. In that case the only one who can plead for us is the Mercy of God. We can interpret the phrase in its widest abstract sense, as well as in the concrete sense of the title which is applied to the holy Prophet Muḥammad, the Mercy of God. Thus we come from the abstract question to the concrete question of the Qur-ān, which is referred to by name in the verses that follow.

2288. For the meaning of " Jinns ", see n. 929 to vi. 100.

With help and support. <sup>2289</sup>

89. And We have explained
To man, in this Qur-ān,
Every kind of similitude : <sup>2290</sup>
Yet the greater part of men
Refuse (to receive it)
Except with ingratitude ! <sup>2291</sup>
90. They say : “ We shall not Believe in thee, until thou
Cause a spring to gush
Forth for us from the earth, <sup>2292</sup>
91. “ Or (until) thou have
A garden of date trees
And vines, and cause rivers
To gush forth in their midst,
Carrying abundant water ; <sup>2293</sup>
92. “ Or thou cause the sky
To fall in pieces, as thou
Sayest (will happen), against us ; <sup>2294</sup>

2289. The proof of the Qur-ān is in its own beauty and nature, and the circumstances in which it was promulgated. The world is challenged to produce a Book like it and has not produced one. It is the only revealed Book whose text stands pure and uncorrupted to-day. Cf., for a similar challenge, ii. 23, x. 38, and xi. 13.

2290. In the Qur-ān everything is explained in detail from various points of view, by commands, similitudes, examples, stories, parables, etc. It does not merely narrate stories or lay down vague abstract propositions. It gives every detailed help in outward and inner life.

2291. One form in which it can be received with ingratitude is to pay verbal tributes to it but not study it as it ought to be studied (ii. 121, haqqa tilawatih), or to disobey its precepts or standards.

2292. Cf. ii. 60.

2293. This ill-assorted and crude jumble of the sort of miracles which the Unbelievers wanted is in very appropriate contrast to the sober and reasoned argument which is begun in the last sentence of verse 93 and continued in sections 11 and 12, which close this Sūra. It is throughout reminiscent of the materialistic imagination of Jewish sceptics, which was mainly responsible for the fall of the Jewish nation (see verse 104 below). For a thirsty people sojourning in a dry land, the finding of a spring of water as in the story of Moses or of the well of Zamzam is an appropriate miracle. But miracles are not for faithless crowds to gape at. A beautiful well-watered Garden is a symbol of Felicity ; but a sceptic cannot order God to produce it for his pleasure. The same may be said about a house adorned with gold, except that its symbolism is even more materialistic. The fall of the sky or producing God face to face or climbing to the skies by a ladder, or bringing down a book of parchment which men could handle, are all irreverent suggestions that make no distinction between spiritual and material things.

2294. Contrast the sublime passages like that beginning with lxxxii. 1, or that in xxv. 25, where the final breaking up of the firmaments as we know them is referred to in the world's catastrophe, with the ridiculous demand that it should be done for the sport of the sceptics !

Or thou bring God
And the angels before (us)
Face to face; <sup>2295</sup>

93. "Or thou have a house
Adorned with gold,
Or thou mount a ladder
Right into the skies. <sup>2296</sup>
No, we shall not even believe
In thy mounting until thou
Send down to us a book
That we could read. <sup>2297</sup>
Say: "Glory to my Lord!
Am I aught but a man,—
An apostle?" <sup>2298</sup>

أَبْعَثَ اللَّهُ بَشَرًا رَسُولًا ۚ

۹۵- قُلْ لَوْ كَانَ فِي الْأَرْضِ مَلَائِكَةٌ

2295. Cf. ii. 55 and iv. 153 about the desire of the Israelites to see God face to face; and vi. 8-9, about angels coming down to convince men.

2296. Cf. vi. 35 about a ladder to the skies.

2298. An apostle of God is a man at the command of God, and not to satisfy the disingenuous whims and fancies of Unbelievers. Miracles greater than any that their foolish fancies could devise were before them. The Qur-ān was such a miracle, and it is a standing miracle that lasts through the ages. Why did they not believe? The real reason was spite and jealousy like that of Iblis. See next verse.

2300. The argument is that if angels inhabited this earth, an angel from heaven could be sent down as an apostle to them, as they could mutually understand each other, and the Message of God could be explained without difficulty. But the earth is inhabited by men, and the men themselves are divided into races, or groups, or nations. To each Group is sent an apostle from among their brethren: to 'Ad, their brother Hūd (xi. 50); to Thamūd, their brother Šāliḥ (xi. 61); and so on. As a matter of fact, with wicked men, constituted as they are, the appearance of an angel causes disturbance and an unseemly riot, as in the case of the angels that came to Lot (xi. 77-80). In any case they cannot carry out an effective mission among men (vi. 8-9).

In peace and quiet, We should Certainly have sent them
Down from the heavens
An angel for an apostle."

2301. 'If you want a real witness, it is not these sorts of fancy miracles, but the witness of the true ever-living God. God is always everywhere—and with you. Purify your hearts, and ask Him in true contrition and repentance, and He will guide you and show you the Way.'

2302. 'All your insincere subtleties are of no use. The only real guidance is the guidance of God. If you do not seek His grace, you will be lost. Besides Him, there is no true friend or protector.'

2303. 'If you still persist in your evil ways, what is to be your evil end? You will become more and more identified with the Company of Evil. You will come to shame and ignominy, like men thrown down prone on their faces. You will lose the use of all the faculties of judgment with which God has endowed you. Instead of seeing, you will be blind to God's Signs. Instead of having the power of seeking Him in prayer and rejoicing in His grace, you will be dumb. Instead of hearing the harmony and music of the spheres, as typified in the pure and harmonious lives of men, you will hear nothing or only hear dull or confused sounds like deaf men. The scorching fire of your punishment will not grow less, but grow more fierce as you go deeper into Hell.'

2304. This phrase is repeated from xvii. 49. The reminiscence rounds off the argument. After certain moral precepts to which Faith was linked, we have had a discussion of Unfaith. Its various motives have been analysed, and its penalties have been allegorically shadowed forth. After this, the example of Pharaoh is held as a type of Unfaith in the next section, and the Sūra closed with an exhortation to faith and a declaration of the glory of God.

99. See they not that God,
Who created the heavens
And the earth, has power
To create the like of them <sup>2305</sup>

Decreed a term appointed,
Of which there is no doubt.
But the unjust refuse

With ingratitude. <sup>2306</sup>

SECTION 12

101. ¶ To Moses We did give

يَبِينَاتٍ فَتَنَّىٰ بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ إِذْ جَاءَهُمْ
فَقَالَ لَهُ فِرْعَوْنُ

2305. God. Who created all that is in the heavens and on earth, has surely the power to revive the life of individual souls after their bodies have perished,—and revive them with memories of their past life and for a continuation of their spiritual history. Only He has fixed a term for each stage of our existence, which we can neither prolong nor shorten.

2306. This phrase carries us back to xvii. 89, after we began the argument about the real motives for the rejection of the Qur-ān by sceptics. That argument is now closed in a sort of minor circle within the major circle sketched in n. 2304 above.

2307. A fresh argument is now addressed to those who would confine God's revelations to a limited circle of men, such as they themselves belonged to. The immediate reference was to the Jews, who could not understand how any Gentiles could receive revelations and guidance even superior to what they considered their own birth-right. But the tendency is widespread in the human race. A particular race, or caste, or a particular kind of culture, claims to be the custodian of God's Message, whereas it is universal. God's Mercy is universal, and He scatters the priceless Treasures of His Mercy broadcast among His creatures. They are not exhausted by spending. It is only the misers who hoard their wealth for fear it should be used up by spending. Are you spiritual misers going to keep back God's holy Message from the multitude? Is that the reason why you deny the advent of the new Teacher, who comes as a Mercy to all men—to all Creation?'

2308. Nine Clear Signs : see vii. 133, n. 1091. The story of Pharaoh (or a phase of it) is here told with a view to exhibiting the decline of a soul on account of pride in outward power and dignity.

2309. To them : i.e. to Pharaoh, as sitting in his Council, with the Chiefs of his People. Cf. vii. 103. The whole scene is described in some detail from the point of view of nations or Ummats in vii. 103-133.

Indeed, to have been
Worked upon by sorcery ! <sup>2310</sup>

إِنَّ لَأَظُنُّكَ يُمُوسَىٰ مَسْحُورًا ۝

102. Moses said, " Thou knowest
Well that these things
Have been sent down by none
But the Lord of the heavens
And the earth as eye-opening <sup>2311</sup>
Evidence : and I consider thee
Indeed, O Pharaoh, to be
One doomed to destruction ! "

۱۰۲- قَالَ لَقَدْ عَلِمْتُمَا أَنزَلَ
هَؤُلَاءِ إِلَّا رَبُّ السَّمَاوَاتِ
وَالْأَرْضِ بِصَآئِرٍ ۝
وَأِنِّي لَأَظُنُّكَ يُفْرِعُونَ مَثْبُورًا ۝

103. So he resolved to remove them <sup>2312</sup>
From the face of the earth :
But We did drown him
And all who were with him.

۱۰۳- فَأَرَادَ أَنْ يَنْتَقِزَهُمْ مِنَ الْأَرْضِ
فَأَعْرَضْنَاهُ وَمَنْ مَعَهُ جَمِيعًا ۝

104. And We said thereafter
To the Children of Israel,
" Dwell securely in the land <sup>2313</sup>
(Of promise) " : but when
The second of the warnings came
To pass, We gathered you
Together in a mingled crowd <sup>2314</sup>

۱۰۴- وَقُلْنَا مِنْ بَعْدِهِ لِبَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ
اسْكُنُوا الْأَرْضَ فَإِذَا جَاءَ وَعْدُ الْآخِرَةِ
جِئْنَا بِكُمْ لَفِيفًا ۝

2310. At a different and later stage in the scene, Pharaoh's Chiefs call Moses a " sorcerer well-versed " (vii. 109). Here Moses, who had come with the Nine Signs but had not yet shown them, is reproached with being the object of sorcery : he is practically told that he is mad !

2311. We can well suppose Moses to ask Pharaoh to recall all the past history of Moses, for Moses had been brought up in Pharaoh's palace in all the learning of the Egyptians. He could not therefore be mad, or a simpleton worked on by Egyptian magic. What he was going to show was something far greater : it was not the deceptive magic of Pharaoh's sorcerers, but true Signs that came from the God of all power. They were to open the eyes of his people, and if Pharaoh resisted faith, Moses warns him that Pharaoh in that case was doomed to destruction. This is the course of the soul that sinks down by Pride !

2312. Pharaoh on this tries various subterfuges and plans for removing not only Moses but all his people by doing away with them. The detailed story is not told here but may be read in S. vii. But God's Wrath descended on Pharaoh and those who were with him in body and mind. The Egyptians who repented were subject to Pharaoh's wrath but were saved from the Wrath of God (vii. 121-126).

2313. The Israelites were taken to the Promised Land in Palestine, and they established their own kingdom there, but they forfeited God's favour by their sins and backslidings and will have to answer like all souls by the law of personal responsibility at the Day of Judgment.

2314. The second of the warnings : the first was probably that mentioned above, in xvii. 5, and the second that mentioned in xvii. 7 (middle). When this second warning due to the rejection of Jesus came to pass, the Jews were gathered together in a mingled crowd, and they have never had a Jewish nationality since. Some Commentators understand the second warning to be the Day of Judgment, the Promise of the Hereafter.

2315. The Qur-ān was sent down by God in Truth: it was not forged by any mortal. It has descended in Truth: it was not and has not been falsified or corrupted in the process of being communicated to mankind.

2316 The part of the Prophet was that of a Messenger: he was not responsible if the ungodly rejected it. He fulfilled his mission in promulgating and explaining it and leaving it as a legacy to the world.

2317. The marvel is that these parts, revealed at different times and in different circumstances, should fit together so closely and consistently as they do. All revelation is progressive. The previous revelations were also progressive. Each of them marked a stage in the world's spiritual history. Man's mind does not take in more than his spiritual state will have prepared him for. God's revelation comes as a light to illuminate our difficulties and show us the way in actual situations that arise.

2318. No one's belief or unbelief affects the beauty or grandeur of God's revelation. But those endowed with spiritual knowledge or insight know at once when they hear God's holy Word, and fall down and adore God. Those endowed with knowledge include those who had received previous revelations and had kept themselves free from corrupt ideas.

2319. Those who had received previous revelations find in the Qur-ān and in the Apostle who brought it, the promise of God fulfilled. Those who were spiritually prepared for it found in the same way the satisfaction of their spiritual yearnings: to them, also, God's promise was sent to be fulfilled.

109. They fall down on their faces,

Their (earnest) humility. <sup>2320</sup>

For His greatness and glory ! "

١٠٩- وَيَخْرُوتُ عَلَىٰ أَعْيُنِهِمْ

١١٠- قُلْ ادْعُوا اللَّهَ أَوْ ادْعُوا الرَّحْمَنَ

١١١- وَقُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي لَمْ يَتَّخِذْ
وَلَدًا ۖ لَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ شَرِيكٌ فِي الْمُلْكِ
وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ وِجْهٌ مِّنَ الدِّالِّ
وَكَبَّرَهُ تَكْبِيرًا ۝

2320. A feeling of earnest humility comes to the man who realises how, in spite of his own unworthiness, he is brought, by God's Mercy, into touch with the most sublime Truths. Such a man is touched with the deepest emotion, which finds its outlet in tears.

2321. Cf. vii. 180. Raḥmān describes one of the attributes of God,—His Grace and Mercy which come to the sinner even before he feels conscious of the need of it,—the preventive Grace which saves God's servants from sin. See n. 19 to i. 1. God can be invoked, either by His simple name, which includes all attributes, or in the highest Sūfī philosophy, rises above all attributes, or by one of the names implying the attributes by which we try to explain His nature to our limited understanding. The attribute of Mercy in Raḥmān was particularly repugnant to the Pagan Arabs (see xxv. 60, and xxi. 36) : that is why special stress is laid on it in the Qur-ān.

2323. Cf. vii, 205. All prayer should be pronounced with earnestness and humility, whether it is congregational prayer or the private outpouring of one's own soul. Such an attitude is not consistent with an over-loud pronunciation of the words, though in public prayers the standard of permissible loudness is naturally higher than in the case of private prayer. In public prayers, of course, the aḥān or call to prayer will be in a loud voice to be heard near and far, but the chants from the Sacred Book should be neither so loud as to attract the hostile notice of those who do not believe nor so low in tone as not to be heard by the whole congregation.

2324. A first step towards the understanding of God's nature is to clear our mind from superstitions, such as that God beget a son, or that He has partners, or that He is dependent upon other beings to protect Him from harm and humiliation. We must realise that He is the One and Only Reality : His greatness and glory are above anything we can conceive : but using our highest spiritual ideas, we must declare forth His greatness and glory.

The Sūra began with singing the glory and praises of God : it ends on the same note, concluding the argument. The next Sūra takes up the same theme from another point of view, and opens with the same note, " Praise be to God ".

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XVIII (Kahf).

It has been explained in the Introduction to S. xvii how the five Sūras xvii to xxi develop the theme of the individual soul's spiritual history, and how they fit into the general scheme of exposition.

This particular Meccan Sūra may be called a lesson on the brevity and mystery of Life. First there is the story of the Companions of the Cave who slept therein for a long period, and yet thought they had been there only a day or less. Then there is the story of the mysterious Teacher who shows Moses how Life itself is a parable. And further there is the story of Zul-qarnain, the two-horned one, the powerful ruler of west and east, who made an iron wall to protect the weak against the strong. The parables refer to the brevity, uncertainty, and vanity of this life; to the many paradoxes in it, which can only be understood by patience and the fulness of knowledge; and to the need of guarding our spiritual gains against the incursions of evil.

Summary.—The Qur-ān is a direction and a warning. This life is brief and subject to vicissitudes. Our ideas of Time are defective, as shown in the story of the Companions of the Cave, who had faith, truth, patience, and other virtues. But their life was a mystery that can be fathomed but by few (xviii. 1-22, and C. 133).

Knowledge is for God: be on your guard against idle conjectures and cock-sure hopes. Learn from the Qur-ān Parable of the man who is puffed up with this world's goods and is brought to nought (xviii. 23-44, and C. 134).

This life is uncertain and variable: goodness and virtue are better and more durable. For the Day of Reckoning will come, with its Mercy and its Wrath (xviii. 45-59, and C. 135).

Moses in his thirst for knowledge forgot his limitations. Patience and faith were enjoined on him, and he understood when the paradoxes of Life were explained (xviii. 60-82, and C. 136).

Zul-qarnain had a wide dominion: he punished the guilty and rewarded the good: he protected the weak from the lawless: but he had faith, and valued the guidance of God. God is One, and His service is righteousness (xviii. 83-110, and C. 137).

C. 133.—The Book of Revelation gives straight
(xviii. 1-22.) Directions to make our lives straight,—

To warn us against Evil and guide us
To the Good everlasting. Teach the Truth,
But fret not about men rejecting it.
The Parable of the Companions of the Cave
Shows how God works wonders beyond,
Our fathoming: how Faith is a sure
Refuge in ways we know not; how
Time itself works God's Plan
Before we know how it passes;
How He can give us rest, and raise
Us back to life against all odds;
And how futile it is to engage
In controversies about matters we know not.

Sūra XVIII.

Kahf, or the Cave.*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Praise be to God,<sup>2325</sup>
Who hath sent to His Servant
The Book, and hath allowed
Therein no Crookedness :<sup>2326</sup>

2. (He hath made it) Straight<sup>2327</sup>
(And Clear) in order that
He may warn (the godless)
Of a terrible Punishment
From Him, and that He May give Glad Tidings
To the Believers who work
Righteous deeds, that they Shall have a goodly Reward,

3. Wherein they shall Remain for ever :<sup>2328</sup>

4. Further, that He may warn
Those (also) who say,

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

۱- الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَنْزَلَ عَلَى عَبْدِهِ
الْكِتَابَ وَلَمْ يَجْعَلْ لَهُ عِوَجًا ۙ

۲- قَيِّمًا لِيُنذِرَ
بِأَسَاسٍ مُبِينٍ لِّذُنُوهِ
وَيُبَشِّرَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ الَّذِينَ يَعْمَلُونَ
الصَّالِحَاتِ أَنَّ لَهُمْ أَجْرًا حَسَنًا ۙ

۳- مَا كُنْتُمْ فِيهِ أَبَدًا ۙ

۴- وَيُنذِرَ الَّذِينَ قَالُوا

2325. See n. 2324 to xvii, 111. The theme of the last Sūra, that God is good and worthy of all praise from His creatures, to whom He has granted a clear revelation, is continued in this Sūra. The spirit of man makes gradual progress upwards, through the grace and mercy of God.

2326. Some people's idea of a Sacred Book is that it should be full of mysteries—dark corners, ambiguous expressions, words so far removed from human speech that they cover anything or nothing. Pagan oracles were couched in language which suggested one meaning to the hearer and claimed to have the very opposite meaning in the light of events which actually happened subsequently. They were distinctly crooked, not straight. In the next verse the word "Straight" (qaiyim) is used to characterize the Qur-ān, in contrast to this word "crooked" (iwajj). See also xix, 36, n. 2488.

2327. Qaiyim: straight, that which has no bends and no corners to mystify people, that which speaks clearly and unambiguously, that which guides to the right path. Cf. ix, 36, where the adjective is used for a straight usage, in contrast to usages, which tend to mystify and deceive people. The Qur-ān is above all things straight, clear, and perspicuous. Its directions are plain for everyone to understand. Any book that deals with the highest mysteries of spiritual life must necessarily have portions whose full meaning is clearer to some minds than to others not so well prepared. But here there is nowhere any mystification, any desire to wrap up things in dark sayings repugnant to human reason. God's purpose is to give clear warning of spiritual dangers and lead up to the highest bliss.

2328. The "Reward" is not a material thing, or limited by time or space. It is a state of bliss. Cf. Milton's "The mind is its own place, and in itself can make a Heaven of Hell, a Hell of Heaven" (P. L. i. 254-5).

“ God hath begotten a son ” : <sup>2329</sup>

5. No knowledge have they
Of such a thing, nor
Had their fathers. It is
A grievous thing that issues
From their mouths as a saying. <sup>2330</sup>
What they say is nothing
But falsehood !

6. Whou wouldst only, perchance,
Fret thyself to death,
Following after them, in grief, <sup>2331</sup>
If they believe not
In this Message.

7. That which is on earth
We have made but as
A glittering show for the earth, <sup>2332</sup>
In order that We may test
Them—as to which of them
Are best in conduct.

8. Verily what is on earth
We shall make but as

اتَّخَذَ اللَّهُ وَلَدًا ۝

٥- مَا لَهُمْ بِهِ مِنْ عِلْمٍ وَلَا لِآبَائِهِمْ
كَبُرَتْ كَلِمَةً تَخْرُجُ مِنْ أَفْوَاهِهِمْ
إِنْ يَقُولُونَ إِلَّا كَذِبًا ۝

٦- فَلَعَلَّكَ بَاخِعٌ نَفْسِكَ عَلَىٰ آثَارِهِمْ
إِنْ لَمْ يُؤْمِنُوا بِهَذَا الْحَدِيثِ أَسَفًا ۝

٧- إِنَّا جَعَلْنَا مَا عَلَىٰ الْأَرْضِ
زِينَةً لِّهَا لِنَبْلُوهُمْ
أَيُّهُمْ أَحْسَنُ عَمَلًا ۝

٨- وَإِنَّا لَجَاعِلُونَ مَا عَلَيْهَا

2329. The warning is not only needed for those who deny God or deny His Message, but also for those whose false ideas of God degrade religion in supposing that God begot a son, for God is One and is High above any ideas of physical reproduction.

2330. The attribution of a son “ begotten ” to God has no basis in fact or in reason. It is only a “ word ” or “ saying ” that issues out of their mouths. It is not even a dogma that is reasoned out or can be explained in any way that is consistent with the spiritual nature of God.

2331. In a reasonable world the preaching of a reasonable Faith like that of Islam would win universal acceptance. But the world is not altogether reasonable. It caused great distress to the unselfish Preacher of Islam that his Message met with so much opposition. He wanted to point the way to salvation. He only got, in the Meccan period, abuse from the chiefs of the Meccans—abuse and persecution, not only for himself but for the Truth which he was preaching. A heart less stout than his might have been appalled at what seemed the hopeless task of reclaiming the world from falsehood, superstition, selfishness, wrong, and oppression. He is here consoled, and told that he was not to fret himself to death: he was nobly doing his duty, and, as after-events showed, the seed of Truth was already germinating, although this was not visible at the time. Besides, these “ chiefs ” and “ leaders ” were only strutting in false plumes: their glory was soon to fade for ever.

2332. This world's goods—, worldly power, glory, wealth, position, and all that men scramble for,—are but a fleeting show. The possession or want of them does not betoken a man's real value or position in the spiritual world, the world which is to endure. Yet they have their uses. They test a man's sterling quality. He who becomes their slave loses rank in the spiritual world. He who uses them if he gets them, and does not fall into despair if he does not get them, shows his true mettle and quality. His conduct proclaims him.

Dust and dry soil
(Without growth or herbage).<sup>2333</sup>

صَعِيدًا جُرُزًا

9.  Or dost thou reflect<sup>2334</sup>
That the Companions of the Cave<sup>2335</sup>
And of the Inscription<sup>2336</sup>
Were wonders among Our Signs ?

٩- أَمْ حَسِبْتَ أَنَّ أَصْحَابَ الْكَهْفِ
وَالرَّقِيمِ كَانُوا مِنْ آيَاتِنَا عَجَبًا

10. Behold, the youths betook themselves<sup>2337</sup>

١٠- إِذْ أَوْى الْفِتْيَةُ

2333. The fairest sights on the earth will become as dust and waste when this earth vanishes, and true spiritual values are restored.

2334 A wonderful story or allegory is now referred to. Its lessons are : (1) the relativity of Time, (2) the unreality of the position of oppressor and oppressed, persecutor and persecuted, on this earth, (3) the truth of the final Resurrection, when true values will be restored, and (4) the potency of Faith and Prayer to lead to the Right. Wonderful though such things may seem to be, they happen every day on God's earth !

2335. The unbelieving Quraish were in the habit of putting posers to the holy Prophet—questions which they got from Christians and Jews, which they thought the Prophet would be unable to answer. In this way they hoped to discredit him. One of these questions was about the floating Christian legend of the Seven Sleepers of Ephesus. The Prophet not only told them the main story but pointed out the variations that were current, and rebuked men for disputing about such details (xviii. 22). Most important of all, he treated the story (under inspiration) as a parable, pointing to spiritual lessons of the highest value. This is Revelation in the highest sense of the term. The story is recapitulated in n. 2337 below.

2336. Raqīm=Inscription. So interpreted by the Jalālain, and the majority of Commentators agree. See n. 2337, below. Others think it was the name of the dog : see xviii. 18, and n. 2350 below.

2337. The bare Christian story (without the spiritual lessons taught in the Qur-ān) is told in Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire (end of chapter 33). In the reign of a Roman Emperor who persecuted the Christians, seven Christian youths of Ephesus left the town and hid themselves in a cave in a mountain near by. They fell asleep, and remained asleep for some generations or centuries. When the wall which sealed up the cave was being demolished, the youths awoke. They still thought of the world in which they had previously lived. They had no idea of the duration of time. But when one of them went to the town to purchase provisions, he found that the whole world had changed. The Christian religion, instead of being persecuted was fashionable : in fact it was now the State religion. His dress and speech, and the money which he brought, seemed to belong to another world. This attracted attention. The great ones of the land visited the Cave, and verified the tale by questioning the man's Companions.

When the story became very popular and circulated throughout the Roman Empire, we may well suppose that an Inscription was put up at the mouth of the Cave. See verse 9 and n. 2336. This inscription was probably to be seen for many years afterwards, as Ephesus was a famous city on the west coast of Asia Minor, about forty to fifty miles south of Smyrna. Later on, the Khalifa Wāthiq (842-846 A.D.) sent an expedition to examine and identify the locality, as he did about the Zul-Qarnain barrier in Central Asia (Appendix VII at the end of this Sūra).

A popular story circulating from mouth to mouth would necessarily be vague as to dates and vary very much in details. Somewhere about the 6th century A.D. a Syriac writer reduced it to writing. He suggested that the youths were seven in number ; that they went to sleep in the reign of the Emperor Decius (who reigned from 249 to 251 A.D., and who was a violent persecutor of Christianity) ; and that they awoke in the reign of Theodosius II, who reigned from 408 to 450 A.D. In our literature Decius is known as Daqyānūs (from the adjectival Latin from Decianus), and the name stands as a symbol of injustice and oppression, and also of things old-fashioned and out-of-date, as res Decianæ must have been two or three centuries after Decius.

To the Cave : they said,
 "Our Lord ! bestow on us
 Mercy from Thyself,
 And dispose of our affair
 For us in the right way ! " <sup>2338</sup>

إِلَى الْكَهْفِ فَقَالُوا رَبَّنَا آتِنَا
 مِنْ لَدُنْكَ رَحْمَةً
 وَهَيِّئْ لَنَا مِنْ أَمْرِنَا رَشَدًا ۝
 ۱۱- فَضَرَبْنَا عَلَىٰ أذَانِهِمْ
 فِي الْكَهْفِ سِنِينَ عَدَدًا ۝

11. Then We draw (a veil) <sup>2339</sup>
 Over their ears, for a number
 Of years, in the Cave,
 (So that they heard not) :

12. Then We roused them, <sup>2340</sup>
 In order to test which
 Of the two parties was best <sup>2341</sup>
 At calculating the term
 Of years they had tarried !

۱۲- ثُمَّ بَعَثْنَاهُمْ لِنَعْلَمَ
 أَيُّ الْحِزْبَيْنِ أَحْصَىٰ لِمَا لَبِثُوا أَمَدًا ۝

SECTION 2.

13. We relate to thee their story
 In truth : they were youths
 Who believed in their Lord,
 And We advanced them
 In guidance : <sup>2342</sup>

۱۳- نَحْنُ نَقُصُّ عَلَيْكَ نَبَأَهُم بِالْحَقِّ
 إِنَّهُمْ فِتْيَةٌ آمَنُوا بِرَبِّهِمْ وَزِدْنَاهُمْ
 هُدًى ۝

14. We gave strength to their hearts : <sup>2343</sup>

۱۴- وَرَبَطْنَا عَلَىٰ قُلُوبِهِمْ

2338. The youths hid in the cave, but they trusted in God, and made over their whole case to Him in prayer. Then they apparently fell asleep, and knew nothing of what was happening in the world outside.

2339. Drew (a veil) over their ears : i.e. sealed their ears, so that they heard nothing. As they were in the Cave they saw nothing. So they were completely cut off from the outer world. It was as if they had died, with their knowledge and ideas remaining at the point of time when they had entered the Cave. It is as if a watch stops at the exact moment of some accident, and any one taking it up afterwards can precisely fix the time of the accident.

2340. Roused them : or raised them up from their sleep or whatever condition they had fallen into (xviii. 18), so that they began to perceive the things around them, but only with the memories of the time at which they had ceased to be in touch with the world.

2341. When they awoke to consciousness, they had lost all count of time. Though they had all entered together, and lain together in the same place for the same length of time, their impressions of the time they had passed were quite different. Time is thus related to our own internal experiences. We have to learn the lesson that men as good as ourselves may yet differ as to their reactions to certain facts, and that in such matters disputes are unseemly. It is best to say, " God knows best " (xviii. 19).

2342. Their Faith carried them higher and higher on the road to Truth. Faith is cumulative. Each step leads higher and higher, by the grace and mercy of God.

2343. So that they were not afraid to speak out openly, and protest the truth of the Unity which they clearly saw in their own minds and hearts.

Behold, they stood up <sup>2344</sup>
 And said ; "Our Lord is
 The Lord of the heavens
 And of the earth : never Shall we call upon any god
 Other than Him : if we Did, we should indeed
 Have uttered an enormity !

15. " These our people have taken <sup>2345</sup>
 For worship gods other
 Than Him : why do they
 Not bring forward an authority
 Clear (and convincing)
 For what they do ?
 Who doth more wrong
 Than such as invent
 A falsehood against God ?

16. " When ye turn away
 From them and the things
 They worship other than God,
 Betake yourselves to the Cave :
 Your Lord will shower
 His mercies on you
 And dispose of your affair
 Towards comfort and ease." <sup>2346</sup>

17. Thou wouldst have seen
 The sun, when it rose,
 Declining to the right <sup>2347</sup>
 From their Cave, and when

إِذ قَامُوا فَقَالُوا رَبُّنَا
 رَبُّ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ لَنْ
 نَدْعُوا مِنْ دُونِهِ إِلَهًا لَقَدْ
 قُلْنَا إِذْ أَشْطَطَا ○

١٥- هَؤُلَاءِ قَوْمُنَا اتَّخَذُوا مِنْ دُونِهِ
 إِلَهَةً
 لَوْلَا يَأْتُونَ عَلَيْهِمْ بِسُلْطَنٍ بَيِّنٍ
 فَمَنْ أَظْلَمُ مِمَّنْ افْتَرَى
 عَلَى اللَّهِ كَذِبًا ○

١٦- وَإِذْ اعْتَزَلْتُمُوهُمْ وَمَا يُعْبُدُونَ إِلَّا
 اللَّهَ فَأَوْا إِلَى الْكَهْفِ
 يَنْشُرْ لَكُمْ رَبُّكُمْ مِنْ رَحْمَتِهِ
 وَيَهَيِّئْ لَكُمْ مِنْ أَمْرِكُمْ مَرْفَقًا ○

١٧- وَتَرَى الشَّمْسَ إِذَا طَلَعَتْ
 تَرُورِعْنَ كَهْفِهِمْ ذَاتَ الْيَمِينِ وَإِذَا

2344. We may suppose them to have taken their stand and made a public protest before they betook themselves to the Cave (xviii. 16). The story really begins at xviii. 13, and the verses xviii. 9-12 may be considered as introductory. As the emphasis is on spiritual lessons, the facts stated in the introductory part are passed over lightly in the story.

2345. Besides the heathen gods, the cult of the Emperors also became fashionable in the Roman Empire in the first three centuries of the Christian Era. The statue of Diana (Artemis) at Ephesus had been one of the wonders of the ancient world. The city was a great seaport and the capital of Roman Asia. We may therefore imagine how the heathen cults must have flourished there. St. Paul spent three years preaching there, and was mobbed and assaulted, and compelled to leave (Acts, xix. 1-41).

2346. That is, 'do not be afraid of anything: put your whole case in the hands of God: at present you are being persecuted; he will solve your difficulties and give you ease and comfort'. The public protest ends at verse 15. In verse 16 they are taking counsel among themselves. After they go into the Cave, verse 17 introduces us to the scene where they are lying in the midst of the Cave in tranquil confidence in God.

2347. In the latitude of Ephesus, 38° north, i. e. well above the sun's northern declination, a cave opening to north, would never have the heat of the sun within it, as the sunny side would be the south. If the youths lay on their backs with their faces looking to the north, i. e. towards the entrance of the Cave, the sun would rise on their right side, declining to the south, and set on their left side, leaving them cool and comfortable.

It set, turning away
From them to the left,
While they lay in the open
Space in the midst
Of the Cave. Such are
Among the Signs of God :
He whom God guides <sup>2348</sup>
Is rightly guided ; but he
Whom God leaves to stray,—
For him wilt thou find
No protector to lead him
To the Right Way.

SECTION 3.

18. Thou wouldst have deemed <sup>2349</sup>
Awake, whilst they were asleep,
And We turned them
On their right and on
Their left sides : their dog <sup>2350</sup>
Stretching forth his two fore-legs
On the threshold : if thou
Hadst come up on to them,
Thou wouldst have certainly
Turned back from them in flight,
And wouldst certainly have been Filled with terror of them. <sup>2351</sup>

19. Such (being their state),
We raised them up (from sleep),
That they might question <sup>2352</sup>
Each other. Said one of them,

عَرَبْتُ تُقَرِّضُهُمْ ذَاتَ الشَّمَالِ
وَهُمْ فِي فَجْوَةٍ مِنْهُ
ذَلِكَ مِنْ آيَاتِ اللَّهِ
مَنْ يَهْدِ اللَّهُ فَهُوَ الْمُهْتَدِ
وَمَنْ يُضِلِلْ فَلَنْ تَجِدَ
لَهُ وَلِيًّا مُرْشِدًا ۝

۱۶

۱۸- وَتَحْسَبُهُمْ آيْقَاتًا وَهُمْ رُقُودٌ
وَنُقَلِّبُهُمْ ذَاتَ الْيَمِينِ وَذَاتَ الشَّمَالِ
وَكَلْبُهُمْ بَاسِطٌ ذِرَاعَيْهِ بِالْوَصِيدِ
لَوِاطِعَت عَلَيْهِمْ
لَوَلَّيْتَ مِنْهُمْ فِرَارًا
وَلَمَلَّيْتَ مِنْهُمْ رُعبًا ۝

۱۹- وَكَذَلِكَ بَعَثْنَا لَهُمْ
قَالَ قَائِلٌ مِنْهُمْ

2348. The youths, having faith and trust in God, found safety and refuge in the Cave. They were protected from the persecution and violence of the heathen. Their prayer (xviii 16) was heard.

2349. Perhaps their eyes were open, even though their senses were sealed in sleep. They turned about on their sides as men do in sleep.

2350 The name of their dog is traditionally known as Qitmîr, but see n 2336 above.

2352. This is the point of the story. Their own human impressions were to be compared, each with the other. They were to be made to see that with the best goodwill and the most honest enquiry they might reach different conclusions; that they were not to waste their time in vain controversies, but to get on to the main business of life; and that God alone had full knowledge of the things that seem to us so strange, or inconsistent, or inexplicable, or that produce different impressions on different minds. If they entered the Cave in the morning and woke up in the afternoon, one of them might well think they had been there only a few hours—only part of a day. This relative or fallacious impression of Time also gives us an inkling of the state when there will be no Time, of the Resurrection when all our little impressions of this life will be corrected by the final Reality. This mystery of time has puzzled many contemplative minds. Cf. "Dark time that haunts us with the briefness of our days" (Thomas Wolfe in "Of Time and the River").

“ How long have ye stayed (here)? ”

They said, “ We have stayed
(Perhaps) a day, or part
Of a day.” (At length)
They (all) said, “ God (alone)
Knows best how long
Ye have stayed here...
Now send ye then one of you
With this money of yours <sup>2353</sup>
To the town : let him
Find out which is the best <sup>2354</sup>
Food (to be had) and bring some
To you, that (ye may)
Satisfy your hunger therewith :
And let him behave
With care and courtesy,
And let him not inform
Any one about you.

20. “ For if they should
Come upon you, they would
Stone you or force you <sup>2355</sup>
To return to their cult,
And in that case ye would Never attain prosperity.” <sup>2356</sup>

21. Thus <sup>2357</sup> did We make
Their case known to the people,

كَمْ لَبِثْتُمْ
قَالُوا لَبِثْنَا يَوْمًا أَوْ بَعْضَ يَوْمٍ
قَالُوا رَبُّكُمْ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا لَبِثْتُمْ
فَابْعَثُوا أَحَدَكُمْ بِوَرِقِكُمْ هَذِهِ
إِلَى الْمَدِينَةِ فَلْيَنْظُرْ أَيُّهَا أَزْكَى
طَعَامًا فَلْيَأْتِكُمْ بِرِزْقٍ مِنْهُ
وَلْيَتَلَطَّفْ
وَلَا يُشْعِرَنَّ بِكُمْ أَحَدًا ○

٢٠- إِنَّهُمْ إِنْ يَظْهَرُوا عَلَيْكُمْ
يَرْجُمُوكُمْ أَوْ يُعِيدُوكُمْ فِي مِلَّتِهِمْ
وَلَنْ تَفْلَحُوا إِذَا أَدَّأ ○

٢١- وَكَذَلِكَ أَخْذْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ

2353. They now give up barren controversy and come to the practical business of life. But their thoughts are conditioned by the state of things that existed when they entered the Cave. The money they carried was the money coined in the reign of the monarch who persecuted the Religion of Unity and favoured the false cults of Paganism.

2354. Best food : i.e., purest, most wholesome, perhaps also most suitable for those who rejected idol worship, i.e., not dedicated to idols. For they still imagined the world in the same state in which they had known it before they entered the Cave.

2355. They think that the world had not changed, and that the fierce persecution they knew was still raging, under which a man had to pay by his life for his religious faith, if he could not conform to Pagan worship.

2356. That is, never reap the spiritual good which your knowledge, instruction, and experience entitle you to attain. To become a renegade, to give up the Truth which you have won, simply on account of the fear of men, is the most despicable form of cowardice, and would rightly close the door of salvation if strict justice were to be done. But even then God's Mercy comes to the coward's aid so long as the door of repentance is open.

2357. Thus : in this way, by these means, i.e., by the sending out of one of the Sleepers with the old money to the town to buy provisions. His old-fashioned dress, appearance, and speech, and the old uncurrent money which he brought, at once drew the attention of people to him. When they learnt his story, they realised that God, Who can protect His servants thus and raise them up from sleep after such a long time, has power to raise up men for the Resurrection, and that His promise of goodness and mercy to those who serve Him is true and was exemplified in this striking way. On the other hand, to the men of the Cave themselves, it became clear that God can change the situation before we are aware, and our hope in Him is not futile, and that even when we are on the brink of despair, a revolution is surely working in the world before the world itself realises it.

That they might know
That the promise of God
Is true, and that there can
Be no doubt about the Hour
Of Judgment. Behold,
They dispute among themselves <sup>2358</sup>

As to their affair. (Some) said,
"Construct a building over them":
Their Lord knows best
About them: those who prevailed
Over their affair said,
"Let us surely build a place
Of worship over them."

22. (Some) say they were three,
The dog being the fourth
Among them; (others) say
They were five, the dog
Being the sixth,—doubtfully
Guessing at the unknown; <sup>2359</sup>
(Yet others) say they were
Seven, the dog being the eighth.
Say thou: "My Lord
Knoweth best their number;
It is but few that know <sup>2360</sup>
Their (real case)." Enter not,
Therefore, into controversies
Concerning them, except
On a matter that is clear, <sup>2361</sup>
Nor consult any of them
About (the affair of) the Sleepers. <sup>2362</sup>

لِيَعْلَمُوا أَنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ

فَلَا تُسَارِفِيهِمْ

2358 The perversity of man is such that as soon as ever a glimpse of truth becomes manifest, men fall into controversies about it. The Sleepers could not judge about the duration of their stay in the Cave, but they wisely left the matter and attended to the urgent business of their lives. The townsfolk could not agree as to the significance of the event: they fell to discussing immaterial details. What sort of a memorial should they raise?—a house or a place of worship or a tablet? The place of worship was built. But the real significance of the spiritual meaning was missed until explained in the Qur-ān

2359. The controversy in after ages raged about the number of the Sleepers: were they three or five or seven? People answered, not from knowledge, but from conjecture. Gibbon's version, which has now become best known, makes the number of Sleepers seven. The point was immaterial: the real point was the spiritual lesson.

2360. The true significance of the story is known only to a few. Most men discuss futile details, which are not in their knowledge.

2361. It is unprofitable to enter such immaterial controversies and many others that have been waged about Religion by shallow men from time immemorial. Yet, if there is a matter of clear knowledge from experience that matters, we must openly proclaim it, that the world may be brought to listen to God's Truth.

2362. Vulgar story-mongers as such know little of the true significance of stories and parables. We have a clear exposition in the Qur-ān. What need is there to go into details of the number of men in the Cave, or of the time they remained there?

C. 134.—True knowledge is with God alone.

(xviii. 23-44.) We are not to dispute on matters
Of conjecture, but to rely on the Truth
That comes from God. As in the Parable.
The man who piles up wealth
And is puffed up with this world's goods,
Despising those otherwise endowed,
Will come to an evil end,
For his hopes were not built on God.

SECTION 4.

23. Dor say of anything,
"I shall be sure to do
So and so to-morrow"—

٢٣- وَلَا تَقُولَنَّ لِشَيْءٍ
لِيُفْعَلَ ذَلِكَ غَدًا ۝

24. Without adding, "So please
God!"<sup>2363</sup>
And call thy Lord to mind
When thou forgettest, and say,
"I hope that my Lord
Will guide me ever closer
(Even) than this
To the right road."<sup>2364</sup>

٢٣- إِلَّا أَنْ يَشَاءَ اللَّهُ وَادْكُرْ رَبَّكَ
إِذَا نَسِيتَ وَقُلْ عَلَيَّ أَنْ يَهْدِيَنِّي رَبِّي
لِأَقْرَبَ مِنْ هَذَا ارشَادًا ۝

25. So they stayed in their Cave
Three hundred years, and (some)
Add nine (more)<sup>2365</sup>

٢٥- وَكُنْتُمْ فِي كَهْفِهِمْ ثَلَاثَ مِائَةٍ
سِنِينَ وَأَزْدَادُوا تِسْعًا ۝

2363. Verses 23 and 24 are parenthetical. We must never rely upon our own resources so much as to forget God. If, by any chance we do forget, we must come back to Him and keep Him in remembrance, as did the Companions of the Cave.

2364. In geometry the perfect circle is an ideal. Any given circle that we draw is not so perfect that we cannot draw one closer to the ideal. So in our life, there is always the hope of drawing closer and closer to God.

2365. This verse should be read with the next verse. In the floating oral tradition the duration of time in the Cave was given differently in different versions. When the tradition was reduced to writing, some Christian writers (e.g., Simeon Metaphrastes) named 372 years, some less. In round numbers 300 years in the solar Calendar would amount to 309 in the lunar Calendar. But the next verse points out that all these are mere conjectures: the number is known to God alone.

The authority on which Gibbon relies mentions two definite reigns, that of Decius (249-251 A.D.) and that of Theodosius II (408-450 A.D.). Taking 250 and 450, we get an interval of 200 years. But the point of the story does not lie in the name of any given Emperor, but in the fact that the beginning of the period coincided with an Emperor who persecuted: the Emperor's name at the end of the period may be taken as approximately correct, because the story was recorded within two generations afterwards. One of the worst Emperors to persecute the Christians was Nero who reigned from 54 to 68. If we took the end of his reign (A.D. 68) as the initial point, and (say) 440 A.D. as the final point, we get the 372 years of Simeon Metaphrastes. But none of these writers knew any more than we do. Our best course is to follow the Quranic injunction, "Say, God knows best how long they stayed" (xviii. 26). There is also a rebuke implied: 'do not imitate these men who love mischievous controversies!' After all, we are given the narrative more as a parable than as a story.

26. Say : " God knows best
How long they stayed :
With Him is (the knowledge
Of) the secrets of the heavens
And the earth : how clearly
He sees, how finely He hears
(Everything)! They have no protector <sup>2365</sup>
Other than Him ; nor does
He share His Command
With any person whatsoever. <sup>2367</sup>

٢٦- قُلِ اللَّهُ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا لَبِثُوا
لَهُ غَيْبُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
أَبْصَرُ بِهِ وَأَسْمَعُ
مَا لَهُمْ مِنْ دُونِهِ مِنْ وَلِيٍّ
وَلَا يُشْرِكُ فِي حُكْمِهِ أَحَدًا ○

27. And recite (and teach)
What has been revealed
To thee of the Book
Of thy Lord : none
Can change His Words, <sup>2368</sup>
And none wilt thou find
As a refuge other than Him.

٢٧- وَأَنْتَ مَا أَوْحَى
إِلَيْكَ مِنْ كِتَابِ رَبِّكَ
لَا مُبَدِّلَ لِكَلِمَاتِهِ
وَلَكِنْ يَجِدُ مِنْ دُونِهِ مُلْتَحِدًا ○

28. And keep thy soul content
With those who call
On their Lord morning
And evening, seeking <sup>2369</sup>
His Face ; and let not
Thine eyes pass beyond them,
Seeking the pomp and glitter
Of this Life ; nor obey
Any whose heart We
Have permitted to neglect
The remembrance of Us,
One who follows his own

٢٨- وَأَصْبِرْ نَفْسَكَ مَعَ الَّذِينَ يَدْعُونَ
رَبَّهُمْ بِالْعُدُوَّةِ وَالْعَشِيِّ
يُرِيدُونَ وَجْهَهُ وَلَا تَعْدُ عَيْنَاكَ عَنْهُمْ
تُرِيدُ زِينَةَ الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا
وَلَا تُطِعْ مَنْ أَغْفَلْنَا قَلْبَهُ
عَنْ ذِكْرِنَا وَاتَّبَعَ

2366. Who are "they" in this sentence? They may be the Companions of the Cave, for they put themselves under the protection of God, and disowned all attribution of partners to Him. Or "they" may refer to the people in general who go wrong and become "Mushriks", i.e., attribute imaginary partners to God.

2367. His Command : i.e., God's government of the world, or in His Judgment on the Day of Judgment.

2368. His Words : His Commands, Decrees, Orders.

2369. Cf. vi. 52, and n. 870. The true servants of God are those whose hearts are turned to Him morning, noon, and night, and who seek not worldly gain, but God's Grace, God's own Self, His Presence and nearness. "Face" is the symbol of Personality or Self. Even if they are poor in this world's goods, their society gives far more inward and spiritual satisfaction than worldly grandeur or worldly attractions.

Desires, whose case has Gone beyond all bounds.<sup>2370</sup>

29. Say, "The Truth is
From your Lord":
Let him who will,
Believe, and let him
Who will, reject (it):<sup>2371</sup>
For the wrong-doers We Have prepared a Fire
Whose (smoke and flames),
Like the walls and roof
Of a tent, will hem
Them in: if they implore
Relief they will be granted
Water like melted brass,
That will scald their faces.
How dreadful the drink!
How uncomfortable a couch
To recline on!

30. As to those who believe
And work righteousness,
Verily We shall not suffer
To perish the reward
Of any who do
A (single) righteous deed.<sup>2372</sup>

31. For them will be Gardens
Of Eternity; beneath them
Rivers will flow: they will
Be adorned therein
With bracelets of gold,
And they will wear

هُوَ وَكَانَ أَمْرُهُ قُرْطًا ۝

٢٩- وَقِيلَ الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّكُمْ ت
فَمَنْ شَاءَ فَلْيُؤْمِنْ
وَمَنْ شَاءَ فَلْيُكْفُرْ ۚ
إِنَّا أَعْتَدْنَا لِلظَّالِمِينَ نَارًا ۙ
أَحَاطَ بِهَمِّ سُرَادِقِهَا
وَأِنْ يَسْتَعْجِلُوْا يُعْجَلُوا
بِسَاءِ كَالسَّهْلِ يَشْوِي الْوُجُوْهَ
بِئْسَ الشَّرَابُ
وَسَاءَتْ مُرْتَفَقًا ۝

٣٠- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
إِنَّا لَا نُضِيعُ أَجْرَ
مَنْ أَحْسَنَ عَمَلًا ۝

٣١- أُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ جَدْتٌ عَذْرَى
تَجْرِي مِنْ تَحْتِهِمُ الْأَنْهَارُ يُجَلِّونَ فِيهَا
مِنْ أَسَاوِرَ مِنْ ذَهَبٍ وَيَلْبَسُونَ

2370 For those who stray from God's path, God's Grace is ever anxious: it seeks to reclaim them and bring them back to the path. If such a one resists, and follows his own lusts, a point is reached when his case becomes hopeless. God's Grace does not then reach him, and he is abandoned to his pride and insolence. Beware of following the example or advice of such a one or seeking his society, or hankering after his wretched idols.

2371. Our choice in our limited Free-will involves a corresponding personal responsibility. We are offered the Truth: again and again is it pressed on our attention. If we reject it, we must take all the terrible consequences which are prefigured in the Fire of Hell. Its flames and roof will completely enclose us like a tent. Ordinarily there is water to quench the heat of thirst: here the only drink will be like molten brass, thick, heavy, burning, sizzling. Before it reaches the mouth of the unfortunates, drops of it will scald their faces as it is poured out.

2372. The righteous will be rewarded, as has been said again and again, beyond their merits: xxviii. 84; xxx. 39. Not a single good deed of theirs will lose its reward, and the mercy of God will blot out their sins.

Green garments<sup>2373</sup> of fine silk
 And heavy brocade ;
 They will recline therein
 On raised thrones.
 How good the recompense !
 How beautiful a couch
 To recline on !<sup>2374</sup>

SECTION 5.

32. Set forth to them
 The parable of two men :
 For one of them We provided
 Two gardens of grape-vines
 And surrounded them
 With date palms ;
 In between the two
 We placed corn-fields.<sup>2375</sup>
33. Each of those gardens
 Brought forth its produce,
 And failed not in the least
 Therein : in the midst
 Of them We caused
 A river to flow.
34. (Abundant) was the produce
 This man had : he said
 To his companion, in the course
 Of a mutual argument :
 " More wealth have I
 Than you, and more honour
 And power in (my following
 Of) men." <sup>2376</sup>

ثِيَابًا خَضْرَاءَ مِنْ سُندُسٍ وَإِسْتَبْرَقٍ
 مُتَّكِنِينَ فِيهَا عَلَى الْأَرَائِكِ
 نِعْمَ الثَّوَابُ
 وَحَسُنَتْ مُرْتَفَقًا ۝

۳۲- وَأَضْرِبْ لَهُمْ مَثَلًا رَجُلَيْنِ
 جَعَلْنَا لِأَحَدِهِمَا جَنَّتَيْنِ مِنْ أَعْنَابٍ
 وَحَفَفْنَاهُمَا بِنَخْلٍ
 وَجَعَلْنَا بَيْنَهُمَا نَرْعًا ۝

۳۳- كِلْتَا الْجَنَّتَيْنِ آتَتْ أُكُلَهَا
 وَلَمْ تَظْلِمْ مِنْهُ شَيْئًا
 وَفَجَّرْنَا خِلْفَهُمَا نَهْرًا ۝

۳۴- وَكَانَ لَهُ ثَمَرٌ فَقَالَ
 لِصَاحِبِهِ وَهُوَ يُحَاوِرُهُ
 أَنَا أَكْثَرُ مِنْكَ مَالًا
 وَ أَعَزُّ نَفَرًا ۝

2373. Heaven is figured by all the pictures of ease and comfort which we can imagine in our present state : Gardens ; perpetual springs of crystal water, which we can see as in a landscape from above ; the finest and most costly ornaments ; the most beautiful clothes to wear ; green is the colour mentioned, because it is the most refreshing to the eye, and fits in well with the Garden ; the wearer takes the choice of fine silk or heavy brocade ; and for rest and comfort, high thrones of dignity on which the blessed ones recline.

2374. This picture is in parallel contrast to the picture of Misery in the last verse.

2376 The two men began to compare notes. The arrogant one was puffed up with his possessions, his income, and his large family and following, and thought in his self-complacency that it would last for ever. He was also wrong in looking down on his Companion, who, though less affluent, was the better man of the two.

35. He went into his garden
In a state (of mind)
Unjust to his soul: <sup>2377</sup>
He said, "I deem not
That this will ever perish,
36. "Nor do I deem
That the Hour (of Judgment)
Will (ever) come:
Even if I am brought back
To my Lord, I shall
Surely find (there)
Something better in exchange." <sup>2378</sup>
37. His companion said to him,
In the course of the argument
With him: "Dost thou deny
Him Who created thee
Out of dust, then out of
A sperm-drop, then fashioned
Thee into a man? <sup>2379</sup>
38. "But (I think) for my part
That He is God,
My Lord, and none shall I
Associate with my Lord.
39. "Why didst thou not,
As thou wentest into
Thy garden, say: 'God's Will
(Be done)! There is no power
But with God!' If thou <sup>2380</sup>

٣٥- وَدَخَلَ جَنَّتَهُ وَهُوَ ظَالِمٌ لِّنَفْسِهِ
قَالَ مَا أَظُنُّ أَنْ تَبِيدَ هَذِهِ أَبَدًا ۝

٣٦- وَمَا أَظُنُّ السَّاعَةَ قَائِمَةً
وَلَكِنْ رُودِدْتُ إِلَىٰ رَبِّي
لَأَجِدَنَّ خَيْرًا مِّنْهَا مُنْقَلَبًا ۝

٣٧- قَالَ لَهُ صَاحِبُهُ وَهُوَ يُحَاوِرُهُ
أَكْفَرْتَ بِالَّذِي خَلَقَكَ مِنْ تُرَابٍ
ثُمَّ مِنْ
نُطْفَةٍ ثُمَّ سَوَّكَ رَجُلًا ۝

٣٨- لَكِنَّا هُوَ اللَّهُ
رَبِّي وَلَا أَشْرِكُ بِرَبِّي أَحَدًا ۝

٣٩- وَلَوْلَا إِذْ دَخَلْتَ جَنَّتَكَ قُلْتَ مَا
شَاءَ اللَّهُ لَا قُوَّةَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ إِنَّ

2377. It was not wealth that ruined him, but the attitude of his mind. He was unjust, not so much to his neighbour, as to his own soul. In his love of the material, he forgot or openly defied the spiritual. As verse 37 shows, he took his companion with him, to impress him with his own importance, but the companion was unmoved.

2378. Here comes out the grasping spirit of the materialist. In his mind "better" means more wealth and more power, of the kind he was enjoying in this life, although in reality, even what he had, rested on hollow foundations and was doomed to perish and bring him down with it.

2379. The three stages of man's creation: first dust, or clay, itself created out of nothing, and forming the physical basis of his body; then, out of the produce of the earth as incorporated in the parents' body, the sperm drop (with the corresponding receptive element); and then when the different elements were mixed in due proportion, and the soul was breathed into him, the fashioned man. Cf. lxxxvii. 2, and xv. 28-29.

2380. The companion's argument divides itself into five parts. (1) He remonstrates against the proud man denying God. (2) He, from his own spiritual experience, proclaims that God is One and that He is good. (3) He points out to him the better way of enjoying God's gifts, with gratitude to Him. (4) He expresses contentment and satisfaction in God's dealings with him. (5) He gives a warning of the fleeting nature of this world's goods and the certainty of God's punishment for inordinate vanity.

Dost see me less than
Thee in wealth and sons,

40. " It may be that my Lord
Will give me something
Better than thy garden,
And that He will send
On thy garden thunderbolts
(By way of reckoning)
From heaven, making it
(But) slippery sand!—
41. " Or the water of the garden
Will run off underground
So that thou wilt never
Be able to find it." <sup>2381</sup>
42. So his fruits (and enjoyment)
Were encompassed (with ruin),
And he remained twisting
And turning his hands
Over what he had spent <sup>2382</sup>
On his property, which had
(Now) tumbled to pieces
To its very foundations,
And he could only say,
"Woe is me! Would I had Never ascribed partners
To my Lord and Cherisher!" <sup>2383</sup>
43. Nor had he numbers
To help him against God,
Nor was he able
To deliver himself. <sup>2384</sup>

تَرَبُّنَا أَنَا أَقَلُّ مِنْكَ مَالًا وَوَلَدًا ۝

۴۰- فَعَسَىٰ رَبِّي أَن يُؤْتِيَنِي
خَيْرًا مِّنْ جَنَّتِكَ وَيُرْسِلَ
عَلَيْهَا حُسْبَانًا
مِّنَ السَّمَاءِ فَتُصْبِحُ صَعِيدًا زَلَقًا ۝

۴۱- أَوْ يُصْبِحَ مَاءً هَاغُورًا
فَلَنْ تَسْتَطِيعَ لَهُ طَلَبًا ۝

۴۲- وَأُحِيطَ بِثَمَرِهِ
فَأَصْبَحَ يُغْلِبُ كَفَيْهِ
عَلَىٰ مَا آتَفَقَ فِيهَا
وَهُيَ حَاوِيَةٌ عَلَىٰ عُرُوشِهَا
وَيَقُولُ يَا لَيْتَنِي
لَمْ أَشْرِكْ بِرَبِّي أَحَدًا ۝

۴۳- وَلَمْ تَكُنْ لَهُ فِئَةٌ يَنْصُرُونَهُ مِنْ
دُونِ اللَّهِ وَمَا كَانَ مُنتَصِرًا ۝

2381. The punishment was that of thunderbolts (husbānan), but the general meaning of the word includes any punishment by way of a reckoning (hisāb), and I think that an earthquake is also implied, as it alters water-courses, diverts channels underground, throws up silt and sand, and covers large areas with ruin, as happened in the Bihar earthquake of 1934.

2382. "Fruits", "spent", "twisting of the hands", should all be understood in a wide metaphorical sense, as well as the literal sense. He had great income and satisfaction, which were all gone. What resources he had lavished on his property! His thoughts had been engrossed on it; his hopes had been built on it; it had become the absorbing passion of his life. If he had only looked to God, instead of to the ephemeral goods of this world!

2383. In this case, in his mind, there was his own Self and his Mammon as rivals to God!

2384. He had built up connections and obliged dependants, and was proud of having his "quiver full". But where were all things when the reckoning came? He could not help himself; how could others be expected to help him!

44. There, the (only) protection comes
From God, the True One.
He is the Best to reward,
And the Best to give success.<sup>2385</sup>

۴۴- هُنَالِكَ الْوَلَايَةُ لِلَّهِ الْحَقِّ
هُوَ خَيْرٌ ثَوَابًا وَخَيْرٌ عُقْبًا ۝

C. 135.- The life of this world is ephemeral,
(xviii, 45-59) And its gains will not last. Good Deeds
Are the best of possessions in God's sight :
All will be levelled up on the Day
Of Judgment, and a new Order created
On the basis of Truth, according to the Book
Of Deeds. Pride is the root of Evil,
Rebellion, and wrong. Who will choose
Evil ones in preference to God? Let us accept
Truth, for though Falsehood may flourish
For a time, it must perish in the end.

SECTION 6.

45. Set forth to them
The similitude of the life
Of this world : it is like
The rain which We send
Down from the skies :
The earth's vegetation absorbs it,
But soon it becomes
Dry stubble, which the winds<sup>2386</sup>
Do scatter : it is (only) God
Who prevails over all things.

۴۵- وَأَضْرِبْ لَهُمْ مَثَلَ الْحَيَاةِ
الدُّنْيَا كَمَاءٍ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ
فَاخْتَلَطَ بِهِ نَبَاتُ الْأَرْضِ
فَأَصْبَحَ هَشِيمًا تَذْرُوهُ الرِّيحُ
وَكَانَ اللَّهُ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مُّقْتَدِرًا ۝

46. Wealth and sons are allurements
Of the life of this world :
But the things that endure,
Good Deeds, are best
In the sight of thy Lord,
As rewards, and best
As (the foundation for) hopes.<sup>2387</sup>

۴۶- الْمَالُ وَالْبَنُونَ زِينَةُ الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا
وَالْبَقِيَّةُ الصَّالِحَاتُ خَيْرٌ
عِنْدَ رَبِّكَ ثَوَابًا وَخَيْرٌ أَمَلًا ۝

2385. All else is vanity, uncertainty, the sport of Time. The only hope or truth is from God. Other rewards and other successes are illusory : the best Reward and the best Success come from God.

2386. Rain-water is a good thing in itself, but it does not last, and you can build no solid foundations on it. It is soon absorbed in the earth, and produces the flourishing appearance of grass and vegetation—for a time. Soon these decay, and become as dry stubble, which the least wind from any quarter will blow about like a thing of no importance. The water is gone, and so is the vegetation to which it lent a brave show of luxuriance temporarily. Such is the life of this world, contrasted with the inner and real Life, which looks to the Hereafter. God is the only enduring Power we can look to, supreme over all.

2387. Other things are fleeting : but Good Deeds have a lasting value in the sight of God. They are best as (or for) rewards in two ways : (1) they flow from us by the Grace of God, and are themselves rewards for our Faith ; (2) they become the foundation of our hopes for the highest spiritual rewards in the Hereafter.

47. One Day We shall
Remove the mountains, and thou
Wilt see the earth
As a level stretch,<sup>2388</sup>
And We shall gather them,
All together, nor shall We
Leave out any one of them.

٣٤- وَيَوْمَ نُسَيِّرُ الْجِبَالَ وَ
تَرَى الْأَرْضَ بَارِزَةً
وَحَشَرْنَاهُمْ فَلَمْ نُغَادِرْ مِنْهُمْ أَحَدًا ۝

48. And they will be marshalled
Before thy Lord in ranks,
(With the announcement),
" Now have ye come to Us
(Bare) as We created you<sup>2389</sup>
First : aye, ye thought
We shall not fulfil
The appointment made to you
To meet (Us) ! " :<sup>2390</sup>

٣٨- وَعَرَّضُوا عَلَى رَبِّكَ صَفًّا
لَقَدْ جِئْتُمُونَا كَمَا خَلَقْنَاكُمْ
أَوَّلَ مَرَّةٍ بَلْ زَعَمْتُمْ
أَلَّن نَجْعَلَ لَكُمْ مَوْعِدًا ۝

49. And the Book (of Deeds)
Will be placed (before you);
And thou wilt see
The sinful in great terror
Because of what is (recorded)
Therein ; they will say,
" Ah ! woe to us !
What a book is this !
It leaves out nothing
Small or great, but
Takes account thereof ! "
They will find all that they
Did, placed before them :
And not one will thy Lord
Treat with injustice.<sup>2391</sup>

٣٩- وَوُضِعَ الْكِتَابُ
فَتَرَى الْجُرِمِينَ مُشْفِقِينَ
مَتَافِينَهُ وَيَقُولُونَ يَوْمَئِذٍ
مَا لِي هَذَا الْكِتَابِ لَا يُغَادِرُ
صَغِيرَةً وَلَا كَبِيرَةً
إِلَّا أَحْصَاهَا
وَوَجَدُوا مَا عَمِلُوا حَاضِرًا
وَلَا يَظْلِمُ رَبُّكَ أَحَدًا ۝

2388. On the Day of Judgment none of our present landmarks will remain.

2389. We shall stand as we were created, with none of the adventitious possessions that we collected in this life, which will all have vanished.

2390. The sceptics will now at length be convinced of the Reality which will be upon them.

2391. Personal responsibility, for all deeds in this life will then be enforced. But it will be done with perfect justice. Expressed in the forms of this world, it will amount to a clear statement of all we did in this life: the record will be put before us to convince us. As it will be a perfect record, with no omissions and no wrong entries, it will be perfectly convincing. Where there is punishment, it has been earned by the wrong-doer's own deeds, not imposed on him unjustly.

SECTION 7.

50. Behold! We said
To the angels, "Bow down <sup>2392</sup>
To Adam": they bowed down
Except Iblis. He was
One of the Jinns, <sup>2393</sup> and he Broke the Command
Of his Lord.
Will ye then take him
And his progeny <sup>2394</sup> as protectors
Rather than Me? And they
Are enemies to you!
Evil would be the exchange <sup>2395</sup>
For the wrong-doers!

51. I called them not
To witness the creation
Of the heavens and the earth,
Nor (even) their own creation:
Nor is it for Me
To take as helpers
Such as lead (men) astray! <sup>2396</sup>

52. One Day He will say,
"Call on those whom ye
Thought to be My partners,"
And they will call on them,
But they will not listen
To them; and We shall
Make for them a place
Of common perdition. <sup>2397</sup>

٥- وَإِذْ قُلْنَا لِلْمَلَائِكَةِ اسْجُدُوا
لِآدَمَ فَسَجَدُوا إِلَّا إِبْلِيسَ كَانَ
مِنَ الْإِنِّ فَفَسَقَ عَنْ أَمْرِ رَبِّهِ
أَفَتَتَّخِذُونَهُ وَذُرِّيَّتَهُ أَوْلِيَاءَ
مِن دُونِي وَهُمْ لَكُمْ عَدُوٌّ
بِئْسَ لِلظَّالِمِينَ بَدَلًا ○

٥١- مَا أَشْهَدُ لَهُمُ خَلْقَ
السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَلَا خَلْقَ
الْأَنْفُسِ إِنَّهُمْ
وَمَا كُنْتُ مُتَّخِذَ الْمُضِلِّينَ عَضُدًا ○

٥٢- وَيَوْمَ يَقُولُ نَادُوا
شُرَكَاءِيَ الَّذِينَ زَعَمْتُمْ فَدَعَوْهُمْ
فَلَمْ يَسْتَجِيبُوا لَهُمْ
وَجَعَلْنَا بَيْنَهُم مَّوْبِقًا ○

2392. Cf. ii. 34, where the story is told of the fall of mankind through Adam. Here the point is referred to in order to bring home the individual responsibility of the erring soul. 'Iblis is your enemy; you have been told his history; will you prefer to go to him rather than to the merciful God, your Creator and Cherisher? What a false exchange you would make!'

2393. Cf. vi. 100, n. 929.

2394. Satan's progeny: we need not take the epithet literally. All his followers are his progeny: even the evil thoughts born in man out of Satan's influence are Satan's progeny.

2395. Out of the limited free-will that man has, if he were to choose Evil instead of Good, Satan instead of God, what a dreadful choice it would be! It would really be an evil exchange. For man is God's creature, cared for and cherished by Him. He abandons his Cherisher to become the slave of his enemy!

2396. God wants man's good: how can He take Evil for His partner?

2397. Some Commentators construe: "And We shall make a partition between them": i.e., the Evil ones will not even be seen by their misguided followers, much as the latter may go on calling on them.

53. And the Sinful shall see
The Fire and apprehend
That they have to fall
Therein : no means will they
Find to turn away therefrom.

SECTION 8.

54. We have explained
In detail in this Qur-ān,
For the benefit of mankind,
Every kind of similitude :
But man is, in most things, <sup>2398</sup>
Contentious.

55. And what is there
To keep back men
From believing, now that
Guidance has come to them,
Nor from praying for forgiveness
From their Lord, but that
(They ask that) the ways
Of the ancients be repeated <sup>2399</sup>
With them; or the Wrath
Be brought to them
Face to face ?

56. We only send the apostles
To give glad tidings
And to give warnings : <sup>2400</sup>
But the Unbelievers dispute
With vain argument, in order
Therewith to weaken the truth,
And they treat My Signs
As a jest, as also the fact
That they are warned !

٥٣- وَرَأَى الْمُجْرِمُونَ النَّارَ فَظَنُّوا أَنَّهُمْ
مُؤَاقِعُهَا
وَلَمْ يَجِدُوا عَنْهَا مَصْرِفًا ۝

٥٤- وَلَقَدْ صَرَّفْنَا فِي هَذَا الْقُرْآنِ
لِلنَّاسِ مِنْ كُلِّ مَثَلٍ
وَكَانَ الْإِنْسَانُ أَكْثَرِ شَيْءٍ جَدَلًا ۝

٥٥- وَمَا مَنَعَ النَّاسَ أَنْ
يُؤْمِنُوا إِذْ جَاءَهُمُ الْهُدَى
وَيَسْتَغْفِرُوا رَبَّهُمْ إِلَّا أَنْ
تَأْتِيَهُمْ سُنَّةٌ الْأَوَّلِينَ
أَوْ يَأْتِيَهُمُ الْعَذَابُ قُبُلًا ۝

٥٦- وَمَا نُرْسِلُ الْمُرْسَلِينَ إِلَّا مُبَشِّرِينَ
وَمُنذِرِينَ وَيَجَادِلُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
بِالْبَاطِلِ لِيُدْحِضُوا بِهِ الْحَقَّ
وَاتَّخَذُوا آيَاتِي
وَمَا أَنْذَرُوا هُزُوعًا ۝

2398. If men had not cultivated the habit of contention and obstinacy, they would have found that the parables and similitudes of Scripture had fully met their difficulties, and they would gladly have obeyed the call of God.

2399. But man's obstinacy or contrariness asks or calls for a repetition of what happened to the wicked and those who rejected Faith in ancient times. Out of curiosity, or by way of challenge, they seem to court the Punishment and ask that it be brought to pass at once. But it will come soon enough, and then they will think it too early ! Cf. xiii. 6 and n. 1810.

2400. The men of God are not sent to humour us with dialectics or satisfy the vulgar curiosity for miracles or dark unusual things. There is no "crookedness" (xviii. 1) in their preaching. They come to preach the Truth,—not in an abstract way, but with special reference to our conduct. They give us the good news of salvation lest we despair in the presence of Sin, and to warn us clearly of the dangers of Evil. Vain controversies about words only weaken their mission, or turn it into ridicule. The ungodly have a trick also of treating the earnest preaching to them itself as a jest and ridiculing it.

57. And who doth more wrong
Than one who is reminded
Of the Signs of his Lord,
But turns away from them,
Forgetting the (deeds) which his hands <sup>2401</sup>
Have sent forth? Verily We
Have set veils over their hearts
Lest they should understand this,
And over their ears, deafness.
If thou callest them
To guidance, even then
Will they never accept guidance.

58. But your Lord is Most Forgiving,
Full of Mercy. If He were
To call them (at once) to account
For what they have earned,
Then surely He would
Have hastened their Punishment :
But they have their appointed
Time, beyond which <sup>2402</sup> they
Will find no refuge.

59. Such were the populations
We destroyed when they Committed iniquities; but
We fixed an appointed time
For their destruction. <sup>2403</sup>

٥٧- وَمَنْ أَظْلَمُ مِمَّنْ ذُكِّرَ
بِآيَاتِ رَبِّهِ فَأَعْرَضَ عَنْهَا
وَنَسِيَ مَا قَدَّمَتْ يَدَاهُ
إِنَّا جَعَلْنَا عَلَى قُلُوبِهِمْ
أَكِنَّةً أَنْ يَفْقَهُوهُ وَفِي آذَانِهِمْ وَقْرًا
وَإِنْ تَدْعُهُمْ إِلَى الْهُدَى
فَلَنْ يَهْتَدُوا وَإِذَا أَبَدًا ○

٥٨- وَرَبُّكَ الْغَفُورُ ذُو الرَّحْمَةِ لَوْ
يُؤَاخِذُ هُمْ بِمَا كَسَبُوا الْعَجَلُ لَأَمَّ الْعَذَابُ
بَلْ لَهُمْ مَوْعِدٌ لَنْ يَجِدُوا مِنْ دُونِهِ
مَوْئِلًا ○

٥٩- وَتِلْكَ الْقُرَىٰ أَهْلَكْنَاهُمْ لَمَّا
ظَلَمُوا وَجَعَلْنَا لِهَيْبَتِهِمْ مَوْعِدًا ○

C. 136.—Moses was up against mysteries

(xviii. 60-82.) Which he wanted to explore. He searched
Out a man endued with knowledge
Derived from the divine springs from which Flow the paradoxes of life. He is shown
Three such paradoxes and how human

2401. Considering the power of sin, and how it gets hold of the hearts of men, and considering all the wrongs that men have done, it is the height of folly and injustice on their part to turn away from warnings which are given expressly for their good. But a stage of callousness is reached, when, by their own choice, they have rendered themselves impervious to God's Grace. At that stage a veil is put over their hearts and they are left alone for a time, that they may commune with themselves and perhaps repent and seek God's Mercy again. If they do not, it is their own loss. See next verse.

2402. Min dāni-hi : should we take the pronoun to refer to "the appointed time," or to "your Lord," mentioned at the beginning of the verse? Most Commentators take the former view, and I have translated accordingly. But I agree with those who take the latter view, and the better translation would be: "But they have their appointed time, and except with God, they will find no refuge." That means that even during the period allowed them, when they are left to wander astray as they have rejected God's Grace. God's Mercy is open to them if they will repent and return; but nothing but God's Mercy can save them.

2403. The instances of exemplary Punishment in former times were also subject to this rule, that God gives plenty of rope to the wicked, in case they might turn, repent, and obtain His Mercy.

Impatience is inconsistent with their true
Understanding. The highest knowledge
Comes not except by divine gift,
And a constant, patient striving,
With Faith, to apprehend something
Of the purpose of the All-Wise God.

SECTION 9.

60. Behold, Moses said <sup>2404</sup>
To his attendant, "I will not Give up until I reach
The junction of the two <sup>2405</sup>
Seas or (until) I spend
Years and years in travel." <sup>2403</sup>
61. But when they reached
The Junction, <sup>2407</sup> they forgot
(About) their Fish, <sup>2408</sup> which took
Its course through the sea
(Straight) as in a tunnel.

٦- وَإِذْ قَالَ مُوسَى لِقَتْنَهُ لَا
أَبْرُحُ حَتَّى أَبْلُغَ مَجْمَعَ الْبَحْرَيْنِ أَوْ
أَمْضِيَ حُقُبًا ○

٦- فَلَمَّا بَلَغَا مَجْمَعَ بَيْنَهُمَا نَسِيَا حُوتَهُمَا
فَاتَّخَذَ سَبِيلَهُ فِي الْبَحْرِ سَرَبًا ○

2404. This episode in the story of Moses is meant to illustrate four points. (1) Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians. Even so that wisdom did not comprehend everything, even as the whole stock of the knowledge of the present day, in the sciences and the arts, and in literature, (if it could be supposed to be gathered in one individual), does not include all knowledge. Divine knowledge, as far as man is concerned, is unlimited. Even after Moses received his divine mission of Apostleship, his knowledge was not so perfect that it could not receive further additions. (2) Constant effort is necessary to keep our knowledge square with the march of time, and such effort Moses is shown to be making. (3) The mysterious man he meets (xviii. 65 and n. 2411), to whom Tradition assigns the name of Khidhr (literally, Green), is the type of that knowledge which is ever green, fresh, and flourishing, ever in contact with life as it is actually lived, and not merely crystallised in books or second-hand sayings. The second kind of knowledge has its uses, but is only a stepping-stone to the first kind of knowledge, which is true knowledge and which is from God direct (xviii. 65). (4) There are paradoxes in life: apparent loss may be real gain; apparent cruelty may be real mercy; returning good for evil may really be justice and not generosity (xviii 79-82). God's wisdom transcends all human calculation.

2405. The most probable geographical location (if any is required in a story that is a parable) is where the two arms of the Red Sea join together, viz., the Gulf of 'Aqaba and the Gulf of Suez. They enclose the Sinai Peninsula, in which Moses and the Israelites spent many years in their wanderings. There is also authority (see Baidhāwī's note) for interpreting the two seas as the two great streams of knowledge, which were to meet in the persons of Moses and Khidhr.

2406. Huqub means a long but indefinite space of time. Sometimes it is limited to 80 years.

2407. Literally, 'the Junction of (the space) between the two,' i.e., the point at which the two seas were united.

2408. Moses was to go and find a servant of God, who would instruct him in such knowledge as he had not already got. He was to take a fish with him. The place where he was to meet his mysterious Teacher would be indicated by the fact that the fish would disappear when he got to that place. The fish is the emblem of the fruit of secular knowledge, which merges itself in divine knowledge at the point where human intelligence is ready for the junction of the two. But the mere merger of secular knowledge does not in itself produce divine knowledge. The latter has to be sought patiently.

62. When they had passed on
(Some distance), Moses said
To his attendant: "Bring us
Our early meal; truly
We have suffered much fatigue <sup>2409</sup>
At this (stage of) our journey."

٦٢- فَلَمَّا جَاوَزْنَا قَالَ
لِقَتْنَاهُ إِنَّا كُنَّا لَنَقْدُ
لَقِينَا مِنْ سَفَرِنَا هَذَا نَصَبًا ۝

63. He replied: "Sawest thou
(What happened) when we
Betook ourselves to the rock?
I did indeed forget
(About) the Fish: none but
Satan made me forget
To tell (you) about it: <sup>2410</sup>
It took its course through
The sea in a marvellous way!"

٦٣- قَالَ أَرَأَيْتَ إِذْ أَوَيْنَا
إِلَى الصَّخْرَةِ فَإِنِّي نَسِيتُ الْحُوتَ
وَمَا أَسْمِيهِ إِلَّا الشَّيْطَانُ أَنْ أذْكُرَهُ
وَاتَّخَذَ سَبِيلَهُ فِي الْبَحْرِ عَجَبًا ۝

64. Moses said: "That was what
We were seeking after:"
So they went back
On their footsteps, following
(The path they had come).

٦٤- قَالَ ذَلِكَ مَا كُنَّا نَبْغُ
فَارْتَدَّا عَلَىٰ آثَارِهِمَا قَصَصًا ۝

65. So they found one <sup>2411</sup>
Of Our servants,

٦٥- فَوَجَدَا عَبْدًا مِنْ عِبَادِنَا

2409. When they came to the Junction of the Seas, Moses forgot about the fish, and his attendant forgot to tell him of the fact that he had seen the fish escaping into the sea in a marvellous way. They passed on, but the stages now became heavier and heavier, and more fatiguing to Moses. So when our old knowledge is exhausted, and we come to the brink of new knowledge, we have a feeling of strangeness, heaviness, and difficulty, especially when we want to pass the new knowledge by and do not make it our own. Some refreshment, even if it be in our old traditional way, is required to sustain us. But we must retrace our steps, and seek the accredited repository of the knowledge which is our quest. It is our business to seek him out. We shall not find him without effort.

2410. The attendant actually saw the fish swimming away in the sea, and yet "forgot" to tell his master. In his case the "forgetting" was more than forgetting. Inertia had made him refrain from telling the important news. In such matters inertia is almost as bad as active spite, the suggestion of Satan. So new knowledge or spiritual knowledge is not only passed by in ignorance, but sometimes by culpable negligence.

2411. One of Our servants: his name is not mentioned in the Qur-ān, but Tradition gives it as Khidr. Round him have gathered a number of picturesque folk tales, with which we are not here concerned. "Khidr" means "Green": his knowledge is fresh and green, and drawn out of the living sources of life for it is drawn from God's own Presence. He is a mysterious being, who has to be sought out. He has the secrets of the paradoxes of Life, which ordinary people do not understand, or understand in a wrong sense, as we shall see further on. The nearest equivalent figure in the literature of the People of the Book is Melchizedek or Melchisedek (the Greek form in the New Testament). In Gen. xiv. 18-20, he appears as king of Salem, priest of the Most High God: he blesses Abraham, and Abraham gives him tithes. St. Paul allegorises him in his Epistle to the Hebrews (v. 6-10; vii. 1-10): "he was without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days nor end of life". That is to say, he appeared mysteriously: neither his parentage nor his pedigree is known, and he seems to live for all time. These qualities are also attributed to Khidr in Muslim tradition.

On whom We had bestowed
Mercy from Ourselves
And whom We had taught
Knowledge from Our own <sup>2412</sup>
Presence.

أَتَيْنَهُ رَحْمَةً مِنْ عِنْدِنَا
وَعَلَّمْنَاهُ مِنْ لَدُنَّا عِلْمًا ○

66. Moses said to him :
“ May I follow thee,
On the footing that
Thou teach me something
Of the (Higher) Truth
Which thou hast been taught ? ” <sup>2413</sup>

٦٦- قَالَ لَهُ مُوسَى هَلْ أَتَّبِعُكَ
عَلَى أَنْ تُعَلِّمَنِي
مِمَّا عَلَّمْتَ رُشْدًا ○

67. (The other) said : “ Verily
Thou wilt not be able
To have patience with me ! ” <sup>2414</sup>

٦٧- قَالَ إِنَّكَ لَنْ تَسْتَطِيعَ مَعِيَ
صَبْرًا ○

68. “ And how canst thou
Have patience about things
About which thy understanding
Is not complete ? ” <sup>2415</sup>

٦٨- وَكَيْفَ تَصْبِرُ عَلَى
مَا لَمْ تُحِطْ بِهِ خُبْرًا ○

69. Moses said : “ Thou wilt
Find me, if God so will,
(Truly) patient : nor shall I
Disobey thee in aught. ” <sup>2416</sup>

٦٩- قَالَ سَتَجِدُنِي إِنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ
صَابِرًا وَلَا أَعْصِي لَكَ أَمْرًا ○

2412. Khidr had two special gifts from God : (1) Mercy from His own Presence, and (2) Knowledge from His own Presence. The first freed him from the ordinary incidents of daily human life; and the second entitled him to interpret the inner meaning and mystery of events, as we shall see further on. Much could be and has been written about this from the mystic point of view.

2413. Moses, not understanding the full import of what he was asking, makes a simple request. He wants to learn something of the special Knowledge which God had bestowed on Khidr.

2414. Khidr smiles, and says that there will be many things which Moses will see with him, which Moses will not completely understand and which will make Moses impatient. The highest spiritual knowledge often seems paradoxical to those who have not the key to it.

2415. Khidr does not blame Moses. Each one of us can only follow our own imperfect lights to the best of our judgment, but if we have Faith, we are saved many false steps.

2416. Moses has Faith. He adopts the true attitude of the learner to the Teacher, and promises to obey in all things, with the help of God. The Teacher is doubtful, but permits him to follow him on condition that he asks no questions about anything until the Teacher himself mentions it first.

70. The other said : " If then
Thou wouldst follow me,
Ask me no questions
About anything until I
Myself speak to thee
Concerning it."

٤٠- قَالَ وَإِنِ اتَّبَعْتَنِي
فَلَا تَسْأَلْنِي عَنْ شَيْءٍ حَتَّى
أُحَدِّثَ لَكَ مِنْهُ ذِكْرًا ۝

SECTION 10.

71. So they both proceeded :
Until, when they were
In the boat, he scuttled it.<sup>2417</sup>
Said Moses : " Hast thou
Scuttled it in order
To drown those in it ?
Truly a strange thing
Hast thou done !"

٤١- فَأَنْطَلَقَا حَتَّى إِذَا
رَكِبَا فِي السَّفِينَةِ خَرَقَهَا ۗ

73. Moses said : " Rebuke me not
For forgetting, nor grieve me
By raising difficulties.
In my case."

٤٣- قَالَ لَا تَأْخُذْ بِلِسَانِي وَ
لَا تَزِغْ بِنَفْسِي مِنْ أَمْرِي عَسْرًا ۝

74. When they proceeded :
Until, when they met
A young man, he slew him.<sup>2418</sup>
Moses said : " Hast thou
Slain an innocent person
Who had slain none ?
15 Truly a foul (unheard-of) thing
30 Hast thou done !"

٤٤- فَأَنْطَلَقَا حَتَّى إِذَا لَقِيَا
غُلَامًا فَقَتَلَهُ ۗ قَالَ
أَقْتَلْتُ نَفْسًا زَكِيَّةً بِغَيْرِ نَفْسٍ ۗ
لَقَدْ جِئْتَ شَيْئًا ثَكْرًا ۝

2417. The explanation follows in xviii. 79.

2418. The explanation follows in xviii. 80-81.

75. He answered: 'Did I not
Tell thee that thou canst
Have no patience with me?'

76. (Moses) said: "If ever I
Ask thee about anything
After this, keep me not
In thy company: then wouldst
Thou have received (full) excuse
From my side.

77. When they proceeded:
Until, when they came
To the inhabitants of a town,
They asked them for food,
But they refused them<sup>2419</sup>
Hospitality. They found there
A wall on the point of Falling down, but he
Set it up straight.
(Moses) said: "If thou
Hadst wished, surely thou
Couldst have exacted some Recompense for it!"<sup>2420</sup>

78. He answered: "This is
The parting between me
And thee: now will I
Tell thee the interpretation
Of (those things) over which
Thou wast unable
To hold patience."<sup>2421</sup>

79. "As for the boat,
It belonged to certain
Men in dire want:
They plied on the water:

٥٤- قَالَ أَلَمْ أَقُلْ لَكَ إِنَّكَ لَنْ
تَسْتَطِيعَ مَعِيَ صَبْرًا ○

٥٦- قَالَ إِنْ سَأَلْتَنِي عَنْ شَيْءٍ

٥٤- فَأَنْطَلَقَا حَتَّى إِذَا أَتِيَا

٥٩- أَمَّا السَّفِينَةُ فَكَانَتْ لِمَسْكِينٍ

2419. The inhabitants were churlish. They broke the universal Eastern rule of hospitality to strangers, and thus showed themselves beyond the pale of ordinary human courtesies. Note that they would have been expected to offer hospitality of themselves, unasked. Here Moses and his companion actually had to ask for hospitality and were refused point-blank.

2420. As they were refused hospitality, they should, as self-respecting men, have shaken the dust of the town off their feet, or shown their indignation in some way. Instead of that, Khidhr actually goes and does a benevolent act. He rebuilds for them a falling wall, and never asks for any compensation for it. Perhaps he employed local workmen for it and paid them wages, thus actually benefiting a town which had treated him and his companion so shabbily! Moses is naturally surprised and asks, "Could you not at least have asked for the cost?"

2421. The story and the interpretation are given with the greatest economy of words. It would repay us to search for the meaning in terms of our own inner and outer experience.

I but wished to render it
Unserviceable, for there was
After them a certain king
Who seized on every boat
By force.<sup>2422</sup>

فَارَدْتُ أَنْ أَعْيِبَهَا وَكَانَ وَرَاءَهُمْ فُلٌ

80. "As for the youth,
His parents were people

That he would grieve them
By obstinate rebellion
And ingratitude (to God and man).<sup>2423</sup>

٨٠- وَأَمَّا الْعُلَمَاءُ فَكَانَ آبَاؤُهُ

82. "As for the wall,
It belonged to two youths,
Orphans, in the Town;
There was, beneath it,
A buried treasure, to which
They were entitled; their father

٨٢- وَأَمَّا الْجِدَارُ فَكَانَ لِغُلَامَيْنِ
يَتِيمَيْنِ فِي الْمَدِينَةِ وَكَانَ تَحْتَهُ
كَنْزٌ لَهُمَا وَكَانَ أَبُوهُمَا

2422. They went on the boat, which was plying for hire. Its owners were not even ordinary men who plied for trade. They had been reduced to great poverty, perhaps from affluent circumstances, and deserved great commiseration, the more so as they preferred an honest calling to begging for charity. They did not know, but Khidhr did, that that boat, perhaps a new one, had been marked down to be commandeered by an unjust king who seized on every boat he could get—it may have been, for warlike purposes. If this boat had been taken away from these self-respecting men, they would have been reduced to beggary, with no resources left them. By a simple act of making it unseaworthy, the boat was saved from seizure. The owners could repair it as soon as the danger was past. Khidhr probably paid liberally in fares, and what seemed an unaccountably cruel act was the greatest act of kindness he could do in the circumstances.

2423. This seemed at first sight even a more cruel act than scuttling the boat. But the danger was also greater. Khidhr knew that the youth was a potential parricide. His parents were worthy, pious people, who had brought him up with love. He had apparently gone wrong. Perhaps he had already been guilty of murders and robberies and had escaped the law by subtleties and fraud. See next note.

2424. The son was practically an outlaw,—a danger to the public and a particular source of grief to his righteous parents. Even so, his summary capital punishment would have been unjustified if Khidhr had been acting on his own. But Khidhr was not acting on his own: see the latter part of the next verse. The plural "we" also implies that he was not acting on his own. He was acting on higher authority and removing a public scourge, who was also a source of extreme sorrow and humiliation to his parents. His parents are promised a better-behaved son who would love them and be a credit to them.

Had been a righteous man :<sup>2425</sup>
 So thy Lord desired that
 They should attain their age<sup>2426</sup>
 Of full strength and get out
 Their treasure—a mercy
 (And favour) from thy Lord.
 I did it not of my own<sup>2427</sup>
 Accord. Such is the interpretation
 Of (those things) over which
 Thou wast unable
 To hold patience.”

صَالِحًا فَأَرَادَ رَبُّكَ

C. 137.—Three episodes in the life of a great king.

(xviii. 83-110.) Zul-qarnain, illustrate how power

And opportunities should be used in the service
 Of God: he punished the guilty indeed,
 But was kind to the righteous; he left
 Primitive people their freedom of life;
 And he protected industrious people from grasping
 Neighbours. But he relied upon God, and made them
 Remember the Day of Judgment, when all
 Will see the Truth and receive the Punishments
 And Rewards earned in their present Life.

SECTION 11.

83. They ask thee concerning
Zul-qarnain.<sup>2428</sup> Say,

۸۳- وَيَسْأَلُونَكَ عَنِ الْقَرْنَيْنِ قُلْ

2425. The wall was in a ruinous state. If it had fallen, the treasure buried beneath it would have been exposed and would certainly have been looted, among so churlish and selfish a people. See n. 2419 above. The treasure had been collected and buried by a righteous man. It was not, in any sense of the word, ill-gotten gains: it was buried expressly in the interests of the orphans by their father before his death. It was intended that the orphans should grow up and safely take possession of their heritage. It was also expected that they would be righteous men like their father, and use the treasure in good works and in advancing righteousness among an otherwise wicked community. There was thus both public and private interests involved in all the three incidents. In the second incident Khidr uses the word "we", showing that he was associating in his act the public authorities of the place, who had been eluded by the outlaw.

2426. Age of full strength: Cf. xvii. 34 and n. 2218.

2427. Those who act, not from a whim or a private impulse of their own, but from higher authority, have to bear the blame, with the vulgar crowd, for acts of the greatest wisdom and utility. In human affairs many things are inexplicable, which are things of the highest wisdom in the Universal Plan.

2428. Literally, "the Two-horned one", the King with the Two Horns, or the Lord of the Two Epochs. Who was he? In what age, and where did he live? The Qur-ān gives us no material on which we can base a positive answer. Nor is it necessary to find an answer, as the story is treated as a Parable. Popular opinion identifies Zul-qarnain with Alexander the Great. An alternative suggestion is an ancient Persian King, or a pre-historic Himyarite King. See a brief account of the controversy in Appendix VII printed at the end of this Sūra.

Zul-qarnain was a most powerful king, but it was God, Who, in His universal Plan, gave him power and provided him with the ways and means for his great work. His sway extended over East and West, and over people of diverse civilisations. He was just and righteous, not selfish or grasping. He protected the weak and punished the unlawful and the turbulent. Three of his expeditions are described in the text, each embodying a great ethical idea involved in the possession of kingship or power.

“ I will rehearse to you
Something of his story.”

84. Verily We established his power
On earth, and We gave him
The ways and the means
To all ends.<sup>2429</sup>

85.  ne (such) way he followed,

86. Until, when he reached
The setting of the sun,<sup>2430</sup>
He found it set
In a spring of murky water :
Near it he found a People :
We said : “ O Zul-qarnain !
(Thou hast authority,) either
To punish them, or
To treat them with kindness.”<sup>2431</sup>

87. He said : “ Whoever doth wrong,
Him shall we punish ; then
Shall he be sent back<sup>2432</sup>
To his Lord ; and He will Punish him with a punishment
Unheard-of (before).

88. “ But whoever believes,
And works righteousness,—

سَأْتَلُوا عَلَيْكُمْ مِنْهُ ذِكْرًا ۝

۸۴- إِنَّا مَكِّنَّا لَهُ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَاتِّبَانَهُ
مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ سَبَبًا ۝

۸۵- فَاتَّبَعَ سَبَبًا ۝

۸۶- حَتَّىٰ إِذَا بَلَغَ مَغْرِبَ الشَّمْسِ
وَجَدَهَا تَغْرُبُ فِي عَيْنٍ حَمِئَةٍ
وَوَجَدَ عِنْدَهَا قَوْمًا قَلْبًا يَدْعُونَ الْقَرْنَيْنِ
إِمَّا أَنْ تُعَذِّبَ وَإِمَّا أَنْ تَتَّخِذَ فِيهِمْ
حُسْنًا ۝

۸۷- قَالَ أَمَّا مَنْ ظَلَمَ فَسَوْفَ نَعَذِّبُهُ
ثُمَّ يُرَدُّ إِلَىٰ رَبِّهِ
فِيُعَذِّبُهُ عَذَابًا تُكْرَهُ ۝

۸۸- وَأَمَّا مَنْ آمَنَ وَعَمِلَ صَالِحًا

2429. Great was his power and great were his opportunities (“ways and means”), which he used for justice and righteousness. But he recognised that his power and opportunities were given to him as a trust by God. He had faith, and did not forget God.

2430. This is the first of the three episodes here mentioned, his expedition to the west. “Reaching the setting of the sun” does not mean the extreme west, for there is no such thing. West and East are relative terms. It means a western expedition terminated by a ‘spring of murky water.’ This has puzzled Commentators, and they have understood this to mean the dark, tempestuous sea. If Zul-qarnain is Alexander the Great, the reference is easily understood to be to Lychnitis (now Ochrida), west of Macedonia. It is fed entirely by underground springs in a limestone region, where the water is never very clear. (See Appendix VII at the end of this Sūra.)

2431. He had great power and a great opportunity. He got authority over a turbulent and unruly people. Was he going to be severe with them and chastise them, or was he going to seek peace at any price, i.e., to wink at violence and injustice so long as it did not affect his power? He chose the better course, as described in the next verse. To protect the weak and the innocent, he punished the guilty and the headstrong, but he remembered always that the true Punishment would come in the Hereafter—the true and final justice before the throne of God.

2432. Though most powerful among kings, he remembered that his power was but human, and given by God. His punishments were but tentative, to preserve the balance of this life as he could appraise it. Even if his punishment was capital (“wrong doer sent back to his Lord”) it was nothing compared to the spiritual consequences of sin, in the final Justice of God.

He shall have a goodly
Reward, and easy will be
His task as we order it
By our command."<sup>2433</sup>

فَلَهُ جَزَاءٌ الْحَسَنَىٰ وَسَنَقُولُ
لَهُ مِنْ أَمْرِنَا يُسْرًا ۝

89. Then followed he (another) way,

٨٩- ثُمَّ اتَّبَعَ سَبِيلًا ۝

90. Until, when he came To the rising of the sun,<sup>2434</sup>
He found it rising
On a people for whom
We had provided
No covering protection<sup>2435</sup>
Against the sun.

٩٠- حَتَّىٰ إِذَا بَلَغَ مَطْلِعَ الشَّمْسِ
وَجَدَهَا تَطْعُ عَلَىٰ قَوْمٍ
لَمْ يَجْعَلْ لَهُمْ مِنْ دُونِهَا سِتْرًا ۝

91. (He left them) as they were :
We completely understood
What was before him.<sup>2436</sup>

٩١- كَذَلِكَ ۝
وَقَدْ أَحْطَيْنَا بِمَا لَدَيْهِ خُبْرًا ۝

92. Then followed he (another) way,

٩٢- ثُمَّ اتَّبَعَ سَبِيلًا ۝

93. Until, when he reached
(A tract) between two mountains,<sup>2437</sup>
He found, beneath them, a people
Who scarcely understood a word.<sup>2438</sup>

٩٣- حَتَّىٰ إِذَا بَلَغَ بَيْنَ السَّيِّئَيْنِ
وَجَدَ مِنْ دُونِهِمَا قَوْمًا
لَا يَكَادُونَ يَفْقَهُونَ قَوْلًا ۝

2433. He never said like Pharaoh, "I am your Lord Most High!" (lxxix. 24). On the contrary his punishments were humbly regulated as not being final, and he laid more stress on the good he could do to those who lived normal lives in faith and righteousness. His rule was easy to them : he imposed no heavy tasks because of his power, but gave every opportunity to rich and poor for the exercise of virtue and goodness. Such is the spiritual lesson to be learned from the first episode.

2434. We now come to the second episode. This is an expedition to the east. "Rising of the sun" has a meaning corresponding to "setting of the sun" in xviii. 86, as explained in n. 2430.

2435. The people here lived very simple lives. Perhaps the climate was hot, and they required neither roofs over their heads, nor much clothing to protect them from the sun. What did he do with them? See next note.

2436. They were a primitive people. He did not fuss over their primitiveness, but left them in the enjoyment of peace and tranquillity in their own way. In this he was wise. Power is apt to be intolerant and arrogant, and to interfere in everything that does not accord with its own glorification. Not so Zul-qarnain. He recognised his own limitations in the sight of God: man never completely understands his own position, but if he devoutly looks to God, he will live and let live. This is the spiritual lesson from the second episode.

2437. The geography of the place (if geography is relevant in a parable story) is discussed in Appendix VII at the end of this Sūra.

2438. It does not mean that they had no speech. It means that they did not understand the speech of the Conqueror. But they had parleys with him (through interpreters), as is evident from the verses following (xviii. 94-98).

94. They said: "O Zul-qarnain!
The Gog and Magog (people) <sup>2439</sup>
Do great mischief on earth:
Shall we then render thee
Tribute in order that
Thou mightest erect a barrier
Between us and them?"

95. He said: "(The power) in which
My Lord has established me
Is better (than tribute): <sup>2440</sup>
Help me therefore with strength
(And labour): I will Erect a strong barrier
Between you and them:"

96. "Bring me blocks of iron." <sup>2441</sup>
At length, when he had Filled up the space between
The two steep mountain-sides,
He said, "Blow (with your bellows)"
Then, when he had made <sup>2442</sup>
It (red) as fire, he said:
"Bring me, that I may Pour over it, molten lead."

٩٤- قَالُوا يَا زُلْقَرْنَائِنَ إِنَّكَ يَا جُوجَ وَمَاجُوجَ

مُفْسِدُونَ فِي الْأَرْضِ هَلْ نَجْعَلُكَ خَرَجًا عَلَيَّ أَنْ تَجْعَلَ بَيْنَنَا وَبَيْنَهُمْ سَدًّا

٩٥- قَالَ مَا مَكَّنِّي فِيهِ رَبِّي

خَيْرٌ فَأَعِينُونِي بِقُوَّةٍ أَجْعَلْ بَيْنَكُمْ وَبَيْنَهُمْ رَدْمًا

٩٦- أَتُونِي زُبَرَ الْحَدِيدِ حَتَّى إِذَا سَاوَى بَيْنَ الصَّدَفَيْنِ قَالَ انْفُخُوا

حَتَّى إِذَا جَعَلَهُ نَارًا قَالَ أَتُونِي أُفْرِغْ عَلَيْهِ قِطْرًا

2439. Who were the Gog and Magog people? This question is connected with the question, Who was Zul-qarnain? Some discussion on the question will be found in Appendix VII at the end of this Sūra.

What we are mainly concerned with is the spiritual interpretation. The Conqueror had now arrived among a people who were different in speech and race from him, but not quite primitive, for they were skilled in the working of metals, and could furnish blocks (or bricks) of iron, melt metals with bellows or blow-pipes, and prepare molten lead (xviii. 96). Apparently they were a peaceable and industrious race, much subject to incursions from wild tribes who are called Gog and Magog. Against these tribes they were willing to purchase immunity by paying the Conqueror tribute in return for protection. The permanent protection they wanted was the closing of a mountain gap through which the incursions were made.

2440. Zul-qarnain was not greedy and did not want to impose a tribute to be carried away from an industrious population. He understood the power which God had given him, to involve duties and responsibilities on his part—the duty of protecting his subjects without imposing too heavy a taxation on them. He would provide the motive force and organising skill. Would they obey him and provide the material and labour, so that they could close the gap with a strong barrier, probably with well-secured gates? The word adm, translated "Barrier," does not necessarily mean a wall, but rather suggests a blocked door or entrance.

2441. I understand the defences erected to have been a strong barrier of iron, with iron Gates. The jambs of the Gates were constructed with blocks or bricks of iron, and the interstices filled up with molten lead, so as to form an impregnable mass of metal. It may be that there was a stone wall also, but that is not mentioned. There was none in the Iron Gate near Bukhārā; see Appendix VII at the end of this Sūra.

2442. Made it (red) as fire: what does "it" refer to? Probably to the iron, either in sheets or blocks, to be welded with the molten lead.

97. Thus were they made
Powerless to scale it
Or to dig through it.<sup>2443</sup>

٩٤- فَمَا اسْتَطَاعُوا أَنْ يَظْهَرُوهُ
وَمَا اسْتَطَاعُوا عِوَالَهُ نَقْبًا ۝

98. He said : " This is
A mercy from my Lord : <sup>2444</sup>
But when the promise
Of my Lord comes to pass,
He will make it into dust ;
And the promise of
My Lord is true."

٩٨- قَالَ هَذَا رَحْمَةٌ مِنْ رَبِّي ۙ
فَإِذَا جَاءَ وَعْدُ رَبِّي جَعَلَهُ دَكَّاءَ ۙ
وَكَانَ وَعْدُ رَبِّي حَقًّا ۝

99. On that day We shall Leave them to surge
Like waves on one another : <sup>2445</sup>
The trumpet will be blown,
And We shall collect them
All together.

٩٩- وَتَرَكْنَا بَعْضَهُمْ يَوْمَئِذٍ
يَمُوجٌ فِي بَعْضٍ وَنُفِخَ فِي الصُّورِ
فَجَمَعْنَاهُمْ جَمْعًا ۝

100. And We shall present
Hell that day for Unbelievers
To see, all spread out,—<sup>2443</sup>

١٠٠- وَعَرَضْنَا جَهَنَّمَ يَوْمَئِذٍ لِلْكَافِرِينَ
عَرْضًا ۝

101. (Unbelievers) whose eyes
Had been under a veil
From Remembrance of Me,
And who had been unable
Even to hear.<sup>2447</sup>

١٠١- الَّذِينَ كَانَتْ أَعْيُنُهُمْ فِي غَطَاءٍ
عَنْ ذِكْرِي وَكَانُوا لَا يَسْتَطِيعُونَ
سَمْعًا ۝

2443. The iron wall and gates and towers were sufficiently high to prevent their being scaled and sufficiently strong with welded metal to resist any attempt to dig through them.

2444. After all the effort which Zul-qarnain has made for their protection, he claims no credit for himself beyond that of discharging his duty as a ruler. He turns their attention to God, Who has provided the ways and means by which they can be helped and protected. But all such human precautions are apt to become futile. The time must come when they will crumble into dust. God has said so in His Revelation ; and His Word is true.

And so the spiritual lesson from the third episode is : Take human precautions and do all in your power to protect yourselves from evil. But no protection is complete unless you seek the help and grace of God. The best of our precautions must crumble to dust when the appointed Day arrives.

2445. And so we pass on to the Last Days before the Great Summons comes from God. All human barriers will be swept away. There will be tumultuous rushes. The Trumpet will be blown, and the Judgment will be set on foot.

2446. If men had scoffed at Faith and the Hereafter, their eyes will be opened now, and they will see the terrible Reality.

2447. Those very men who refused to see the many Signs of God which in this world convey His Message and to hear the Word of the Lord when it came to them, will then see without any mistake the consequences fully brought up before them.

SECTION 12,

102. Do the Unbelievers think
That they can take
My servants as protectors
Besides Me? Verily We Have prepared Hell
For the Unbelievers
For (their) entertainment.
103. Say: "Shall we tell you
Of those who lose most
In respect of their deeds?—<sup>2448</sup>
104. "Those whose efforts have
Been wasted in this life,
While they thought that
They were acquiring good
By their works?"<sup>2449</sup>
105. They are those who deny
The Signs of their Lord
And the fact of their
Having to meet Him
(In the Hereafter): vain
Will be their works,
Nor shall We, on the Day
Of Judgment, give them
Any weight.<sup>2450</sup>
106. That is their reward,
Hell; because they rejected
Faith, and took My Signs
And My Messengers
By way of jest.<sup>2451</sup>

١٠٢-أَفَحَسِبَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا أَنْ يَتَّخِذُوا
عِبَادِي مِنْ دُونِي أَوْلِيَاءُ
إِنَّا أَعْتَدْنَا لَهُمُ الْجَهَنَّمَ نَزْلًا

١٠٣-قُلْ هَلْ نُنَبِّئُكُمْ بِالْأَخْسَرِينَ
أَعْمَالًا

١٠٤-الَّذِينَ ضَلَّ سَعْيُهُمْ فِي الْحَيَاةِ
الدُّنْيَا وَهُمْ يُحْسِبُونَ أَنَّهُمْ يُحْسِنُونَ
صُنْعًا

١٠٥-أُولَئِكَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا بِآيَاتِ رَبِّهِمْ
وَلِقَائِهِ
فَحَبِطَتْ أَعْمَالُهُمْ
فَلَا تُنْقِيمُ لَهُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَزَنًا

١٠٦-ذَلِكَ جَزَاءُ هُمُ جَهَنَّمَ بِمَا
كَفَرُوا وَاتَّخَذُوا آيَاتِي وَرُسُلِي هُزُوًا

2448. That is, those who prided themselves on their works in this life, and now find that those works are of no avail. Their loss is all the greater because they had a misplaced confidence in their own deeds or in the assistance of false "protectors". God is the only Protector: no one else's protection is of any use.

2449. Many people have such a smug sense of self-righteousness that while they go on doing wrong, they think that they are acquiring merit. So, in charity, all the elements that make for outward show or selfishness (as to get some worldly advantage) nullify the deed of charity. In the same way hypocrites sometimes affect to be surprised that their declared effort for somebody's good is not appreciated, when they are really seeking some hidden gain or false glory for themselves. The sincere are only those who believe in their spiritual responsibility and act as in God's sight.

2450. What weight can be attached to works behind which the motives are not pure, or are positively evil? They are either wasted or count against those who seek to pass them off as meritorious!

2451. False motives, pretence, deception, and hypocrisy, flourish because people do not take the higher life seriously. In effect they treat it as a jest. Signs and Messengers are sent as a special and personal Mercy from God, and for such things the first person singular is used as in this verse, even when it involves a sudden transition from the first person plural as in the last verse.

Sooner would the ocean be
Exhausted than would the words
Of my Lord, even if we
Added another ocean
Like it, for its aid."

110. Say: " I am but a man

2452. Firdaus in Persian means an enclosed place, a park. In technical theological language the word is used for the inner circle of Heaven, or the highest Heaven, the destination of those who perfectly fulfil both requirements, viz.: a sound faith, and perfectly righteous conduct. Small faults in either respect are forgiven; the Mercy of God steps in. Perhaps there is spiritual development and progress even after death.

2453. The Words and Signs and Mercies of God are in all Creation, and can never be fully set out in human language, however extended our means may be imagined to be.

2454. Righteousness and true respect for God—which excludes the worship of anything else, whether idols, or deified men, or forces of nature, or faculties of man, or Self—these are the criteria of true worship.

APPENDIX VII.

Who was Zul-qarnain?

(xviii. 83-98.)

As stated in my n. 2428 to xviii. 83, I do not consider that historical or geographical considerations have much bearing on a story treated as a Parable, as Zul-qarnain's story is. Indeed all stories or narrations are referred to in the Qur-ān as Parables, for their spiritual meaning. Heated controversies or dogmatic assertions as to precise dates, personalities, or localities, seem to me to be out of place. But a great deal of literature has been piled up among our writers on the subject, and it seems desirable to set down a few notes as to the different views that have been expressed.

What is the meaning of the name or title Zul-qarnain—"Lord of the two Qarns"? "Qarn" may mean: (1) a horn in the literal sense, as in the case of a ram or bull; (2) a horn in a metaphorical sense, as in English, the horns of a crescent, or by a further metaphor (not used in English), the horns of a kingdom or territory, two portions at opposite ends; (3) by another metaphor, a summit, a lock of hair, typifying strength, a crest such as Eastern kings wear on their diadems; (4) referring to time, an Epoch, an Age, a Generation. Meaning (1) is inapplicable to a man or a great King: but see the next paragraph about Alexander the Great. The other three meanings may be applicable, as implying: (2) Lord of East and West, Lord of wide territory or of two kingdoms; (3) Lord of two crests on his diadem, typifying two kingdoms, or a rank superior to that of an ordinary king; (4) Lord of more than one Epoch: one whose power and influence extend far beyond his lifetime.

If we accept the popular identification of Zul-qarnain with Alexander, all the three latter designations would be applicable to him, as he was Lord of the West and the East, Lord of the Greek States united for the first time (Hellenic Captain-General) and of the widely-extended Persian Dominion which included all Western Asia, Egypt, Central Asia, Afghanistan, and the Punjab (at least portions). He is represented on his coins with two horns on his head: he considered himself a son of Jupiter Ammon (who had the two horns of a ram), with a divine mission. He revolutionised the history of Europe, Asia, and Africa (Egypt), and his influence lasted for many generations after his death at the young age of 33. He lived from B.C. 356 to 323, but his name was one to conjure with for many centuries after him. It was not only on account of his political power, but his cultural influences. Through his conquests Greek art gave the impulse to Gandhara art in Central Asia and North-West India. The city of Alexandria which he founded in Egypt became the cultural centre, not only for Greece and Rome, but for Judaism and Christianity, and retained its supremacy till the sixth century of the Christian era. Justinian closed its schools of philosophy in 529. Its philosophic and scientific schools spread their influence over even a wider area than the Mediterranean basin.

Now the generality of the world of Islam have accepted Alexander the Great as the one meant by the epithet Zul-qarnain. But some of our 'Ulamā have raised doubts about it and made other suggestions. One is that it was not the Macedonian

Alexander the Great, but an earlier pre-historic king contemporary with Abraham; because, they say, Z̄ul-qarnain was a man of Faith (xviii. 88, 98), while Alexander the Great was a Pagan and believed in Grecian gods. An identification with a supposed pre-historic king, about whom nothing is known, is no identification at all. On the other hand, all that is known about Alexander the Great shows that he was a man of lofty ideals. He died over three centuries before the time of Jesus, but that does not mean that he was not a man of Faith, for God revealed Himself to men of all nations in all ages. Alexander was a disciple of the philosopher Aristotle, noted for his pursuit of sound Truth in all departments of thought. Alexander's reference to Jupiter Ammon may have been no more than a playful reference to the superstitions of his time. Socrates spoke of the Grecian gods, and so did Aristotle and Plato; but it would be wrong to call them idolaters or men without Faith. In the Ethiopic traditional stories of Alexander the Great, he is represented as a great prophet.

Another suggestion made is that Z̄ul-qarnain was an ancient king of Persia. A king of Persia is referred to as a Ram with two horns in the Book of Daniel (viii. 3) in the Old Testament. But in the same Book, the Ram with the two horns was smitten, cast down to the ground, and stamped upon by a he-goat with one horn (viii. 7-8). There is nothing in our literature to suggest that Z̄ul-qarnain came to any such ignominious end. Nor is the Book of Daniel an authority worth consideration. Its authenticity is very doubtful. There is no question that it is a patch-work, as parts of it are in the Aramaic (or Chaldee) language and parts in Hebrew, and there are in it a number of Greek words. The Septuagint version contained large additions. "Daniel"—whoever the writer or writers were—refers to historical Persian kings. If it is argued that it was some old pre-historic Persian king who built the Iron Gates (xviii. 96) to keep out the Gog and Magog tribes (xviii. 94), this is no identification at all. There is no unanimity about the identity of the Iron Wall, or the Gog and Magog tribes. Both these subjects will be referred to presently.

Another suggestion made is that it was some old pre-historic Himyarite king from Yemen, about whom nothing else is known. This, again, is no identification at all.

The question of Yājūj and Mājūj (Gog and Magog) and the iron Barrier built to keep them out is of some interest. It is practically agreed that they were the wild tribes of Central Asia which have made inroads on settled kingdoms and Empires at various stages of the world's history. The Chinese Empire suffered from their incursions and built the Great Wall of China to keep out the Manchus and Mongols. The Persian Empire suffered from them at various times and at various points. Their incursions into Europe in large hordes caused migrations and displacements of population on an enormous scale, and eventually broke up the Roman Empire. These tribes were known vaguely to the Greeks and Romans as "Scythians", but that term does not help us very much, either ethnically or geographically.

If we could locate the iron barrier or iron gates referred to in xviii. 96, we should have a closer idea of the tribes whom the barrier was meant to keep out. It is obvious that the Great Wall of China is out of the question. Begun in the third century B.C. and continued later, it covers the enormous length of 1,500 miles, and goes up the hills and down the valleys, with towers 40 feet high at intervals of 200 yards. Its average height is 20 to 30 feet. It is built of stone and earth. There is no particular point in it which can be identified with the iron barrier in the text. No one has suggested that Zul-qarnain was a Chinese Emperor, and none of the great Conquerors of Western Asia can be credited with the building of the Chinese Wall.

The Barrier in the text must have been more in the nature of iron gates than an iron wall. Two Iron Gates, geographically far apart, have been suggested in the alternative. Sometimes they have been mixed up by writers not strong in geography. Both of them have local associations with the name of Alexander the Great. Both are near a town Derbend, and have borne the name of Bāb-ul-hadīd (Arabic for "Iron Gate"). Let us examine the case of each in turn.

The best known in modern times is at the town and seaport of Derbend in the middle of the western coast of the Caspian Sea. It is now in Soviet territory, in the district of Dāghistan. Before the southern expansion of Russia in 1813 it belonged to Persia. A spur of Mount Caucasus here comes up north, close to the sea. The Wall in question is 50 miles long, with an average height of 29 feet. As Āzarbaijān (in Persia) is not far from this place, some writers have mixed up the Derbend Iron Gate with Āzarbaijān, and some with the Caucasian town of Kharz (Kars), which is to the south of the Caucasus. There are local traditions here, and in the Astrakhan region, at the mouth of the river Volga, higher up the Caspian, connecting this Caucasian Iron Gate with the name of Alexander, but there are good reasons why we should reject this as the site of the Iron Gate in the Qurānic story. (1) This does not correspond exactly to the description in xviii. 96 ("the space between the two steep mountain sides"); the gap is between the mountain and the sea. (2) Alexander the Great (assuming that Zul-qarnain is Alexander), is not known to have crossed the Caucasus. (3) There is an Iron Gate which corresponds exactly to the description, in a locality which we know Alexander to have visited. (4) In the early days, when Muslims spread to all parts of the world, local legends were started by ignorant people connecting the places they knew with places referred to in the Qur-ān.

We now come to the Iron Gate which corresponds exactly to the Qurānic description, and has the best claim to be connected with Alexander's story. It is near another Derbend in Central Asia, Hissar District, about 150 miles south-east of Bukhārā. A very narrow defile, with overhanging rocks, occurs on the main route between Turkestan and India: latitude 38°N; longitude 67°E. It is now called in Turki Buzghol-Khāna (Goat-house), but was formerly known as the Iron Gate (Arabic, Bāb-ul-hadīd; Persian, Dar-i-āhanī; Chinese T'ie-men-kuan). There is no iron gate there now, but there was one in the seventh century, when the Chinese traveller Hiouen Tsiang saw it on his journey to India. He saw two folding gates cased with iron and hung with bells. Near by is a lake named Iskandar Kul, connecting the locality with Alexander the Great. We know from history that Alexander, after his conquest of Persia and before his journey to India, visited Sogdiana (Bukhārā) and Maracanda (Samarqand). We also know from Muqaddasī, the Arab traveller and geographer, who wrote about A.H. 375 (A.D. 985-6) that the 'Abbāsī Khalifa Wathīq (842-846 A.D.) sent out a mission to Central Asia to report on this Iron Gate. They found the defile 150 yards wide: on two jambs made with bricks of iron welded together with molten lead, were hung two huge gates, which were kept closed. Nothing could correspond more exactly with the description in xviii. 95-96.

Then, the Barrier in xviii. 95-98 refers to the Iron Gate near Bukhārā, we are able to proceed to a consideration of the Gog-Magog people with some confidence. They were the Mongol tribes on the other side of the Barrier, while the industrious men who did not understand Zul-qarnain's language were the Turks, with their agglutinative language, so different from the languages then spoken in Western Asia. The Barrier served its purpose for the time being. But the warning that the time must come when it must crumble to dust has also come true. It has crumbled to dust. Long since, the Mongols pushed through on their westward journey, pushing the Turks before them, and the Turks became a European Power and have still a footing in Europe. We need not bother about the legends of the Gog and Magog people. They were reputed to be giants, and two tiny hills in flat Cambridgeshire are derisively called the Gog-Magog hills! Similarly the statues of Gog and Magog in the Guildhall in London, which M.M.A. takes so seriously, only remind us how legends are apt to grow and get transported to strange places. In the Alexander legends of medieval Europe, Gog and Magog are said to have come with 400,000 men to the help of Porus whom Alexander defeated, and to have fled after that defeat. They fled to the mountains, and Alexander built a wall with brass gates to prevent their irruptions. See Paul Meyer, Alexandre le Grand dans la littérature française du Moyen Age: Paris, 1886; Vol. 2, pp. 386-389.

Personally, I have not the least doubt that Zul-qarnain is meant to be Alexander the Great, the historic Alexander, and not the legendary Alexander, of whom more presently. My first appointment after graduation was that of Lecturer in Greek history. I have studied the details of Alexander's extraordinary personality in Greek historians as well as in modern writers, and have since visited most of the localities connected with his brief but brilliant career. Few readers of Quranic literature have had the same privilege of studying the details of his career. It is one of the wonders of the Qur-ān, that, spoken through an Ummī's mouth, it should contain so many incidental details which are absolutely true. The more our knowledge increases, the more we feel this. There are little touches which need not have been mentioned. They come in incidentally like the incidental remarks of a person full of knowledge, who does not intend to put forward those points but whose fulness of knowledge brings them in inevitably.

One such point occurs in the mention of Alexander's westward journey (xviii. 86). He saw the sun set in a piece of murky water which is described as a "Spring". Most Commentators have understood the "spring" to be the sea, and the "murky water" to be its dark-blue water. Nizāmi, in his Romance of Alexander, takes Alexander right west along North Africa to Andalusia and the Atlantic Ocean. There is no historic proof that Alexander ever reached the Atlantic. But he was of course familiar with the deep-blue waters of the Mediterranean. The Mediterranean interpretation may pass if we had not a closer explanation. Alexander's first exploits were when he was a mere boy, in the reign of his father Philip. The region of Illyricum was due west of Macedonia, and Macedonia's first expansion was in that direction. The town of Lychnis was annexed to Macedonia and thus the western frontier of Macedonia was secured. The northern frontier towards the Danube had already been secured, and the lesson he subsequently gave to Thebes secured him against attack from the Greek States to the south, and prepared the way for his great march east against the Persian Empire. To the west of the town of Lychnis is a lake 170 square miles in area, fed by underground springs that issue through limestone rocks and give out murky water. Both town and lake are now called Ochrida, about 50 miles west of Monastir. The water is so dark that the river which forms the outlet of the lake to the north is called the Black Drin. Looking at the sunset from the town, the observer would see the sun set in a pool of murky water (xviii. 86). It was a question before the boy Alexander—the dreamy, impulsive, fearless rider—whether he could put the barbarous Illyricans to the sword or show them mercy. He showed true discrimination and statesmanship. He punished the guilty but showed kindness to the innocent, and thus consolidated his power in the west. This I construe to be the meaning of xviii. 86-87; otherwise these verses do not seem to be perfectly clear.

Another point may be noted. The three episodes mentioned are the journey to the west, the journey to the east, and the journey to the Iron Gate. The journey to the west I have just explained. The journey to the east was to the Persian Empire. Here he found a people who lived in the open and wore little clothing. This might apply to people who live in an inland place in the latitude of Persepolis or Multan. He left them alone as they were (xviii. 91). He was not warring against populations: he was warring against the proud but effete Persian Empire. He left them as they were, with their local institutions, and under their local chiefs. In feeling he treated them as his own, not as aliens. In some things he himself adopted their ways. His followers misunderstood him. But God understood, for He approves of all things that lead to Unity among mankind.

The direction of the third journey is not mentioned. The Commentators suggest the north, but they might with better reason have suggested the south, as Alexander visited Egypt. But the visit to the Iron Gate was to the East—a continuation of his journey east. That is why the direction is not mentioned again. Here his mission was different. He had to protect a peaceful industrious population, whom perhaps the Persian Empire had failed to protect, against turbulent and restless invaders. He helped them to protect themselves, but warned them that all human precautions, though good and necessary, are vain without God's help.

Each of the episodes mentioned is historical. But the pomp and glitter of military conquest are not mentioned. On the contrary spiritual motives are revealed and commended. We need not know or learn any history or geography or science or psychology or ethics to understand them. But the more real knowledge we have, the more completely shall we understand them and the lessons to be drawn from them. The earthly journeys are treated as mere symbols to show us the evolution of a great and noble soul which achieved so much in a short earthly life.

His career was so extraordinary that it impressed his contemporaries as a world-event, as it undoubtedly was,—one of the greatest world-events in history. Legends began to grow up round his name. In many cases the legends overlaid the history. To-day the world is thrilled by Sir Aurel Stein's identification of Aornos, a very small geographical detail in a great career full of lessons, in political, ethical, and religious wisdom. But the generations immediately following Alexander's period wrote and transmitted all sorts of wonderful legends that passed current in East and West. The philosopher Kallisthenes had been with Alexander in Asia. Under his name was produced a Greek book in Alexandria some time before the second century of the Christian era. It was translated into Latin in the third century. Translations were subsequently made into most of the European languages. In Chaucer's time (1340-1400) these Alexander legends were known to every "wight that hath discrecion" (The Monk in Canterbury Tales).

Alexandria was a focus of Christian and Jewish learning for some centuries. The Christians also made Alexander a saint. The Jews carried the Alexander cycle into the East. Our Persian poet Jāmī (A.H. 535-599, A.D. 1141-1203) worked it up into his epic the Iskandar-nāma. He is careful to show the historical or semi-historical and the ethical parts separately. The one relates to action or exploits (Iqbāl) and the other to wisdom (Khīrad). He had the advantage of the Qur-ān story before him. That story mentions three historical episodes incidentally, but draws our attention to matters of the weightiest spiritual significance, and that is the chief thing to note in the story.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XIX (Maryam).

The spiritual growth of man as an individual soul having been explained in S. xvii. as beginning with the first principles of moral conduct and in S. xviii as being dependent upon our realisation of the brevity and mystery of this life and the true use of power as in the story of Zul-qarnain, we now pass on to the story of individual Messengers of God in their personal relations with their environment,—Yaḥyā with his father Zakarīya, Jesus with his mother Mary, Abraham with his unbelieving father, Moses with his brother Aaron, Ismā'il with his family, and Idrīs in the high station to which he was called. Seeing how these great ones fitted into the scheme of life, man is condemned for his want of faith, or for degrading his faith to superstition, and warned of the Hereafter.

In chronology, it was revealed before the first resort of the batch of Muslims to Abyssinia, say seven years before the Hijrat.

Summary.—Zakarīya was anxious to have an heir to carry on God's work in a world of unrighteousness, and Yaḥyā was given to him (xix. 1-15, and C. 138).

Mary the mother of Jesus was maligned by her people, but Jesus comforted her and was good to her (xix. 16-40, and C. 139).

Abraham was persecuted for his Faith by his people, including his unbelieving father, but he withdrew from them, and was blessed; Moses was helped by his brother Aaron; Ismā'il brought up his family in piety; and Idrīs was truthful and pious in a high station: they showed the way; yet men will not learn the good life (xix. 41-65, and C. 140).

Man should not disbelieve in the Hereafter, nor sully his faith by false notions about God (xix. 66-98, and C. 141).

C. 138.—Men of God show their qualities
 (xix. 1-15.) In their private relationships as much
 As in their public ministry. Zakarīya
 Was anxious, in a world of unrighteousness,
 To find a successor to continue his godly
 Errand. He was given a son, Yaḥyā,
 Who heralded Jesus, and lived a life
 Of wisdom, gentle love, and purity.

Sūra XIX.

Maryam, or Mary.

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. Kaf. Ha. Ya. 'Ain. Šād.<sup>2455</sup>

2. (This is) a recital<sup>2455</sup>
Of the Mercy of thy Lord
To His servant Zakariya.

3. Behold! he cried
To his Lord in secret,<sup>2457</sup>

4. Praying: "O my Lord!
Infirm indeed are my bones,
And the hair of my head
Doth glisten with grey:
But never am I unblest,
O my Lord, in my prayer<sup>2459</sup>
To Thee!

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- كَهَيْعَصَ ۙ

٢- ذِكْرُ رَحْمَتِ رَبِّكَ عَبْدَهُ زَكَرِيَّا ۙ

٣- اِذْ نَادَى رَبَّهُ نِدَاءً خَفِيًّا ۙ

٤- قَالَ رَبِّ اِنِّي وَهَنَ الْعَظْمُ مِنِّي

وَأَشْتَعَلَ الرَّأْسُ شَيْبًا

وَلَمْ أَكُنْ بِدُعَائِكَ رَبِّ شَقِيًّا ۙ

2455. This is the only Sūra which begins with these five Abbreviated Letters, K., H., Y., 'A., Š. For Abbreviated Letters generally, see Appendix I, pp. 118-120.

As stated in my note 25, such Letters are Symbols, of which the true meaning is known to God alone. We should not be dogmatic about any conjectures that we make. According to the interpretation of the last letter Šād, suggested in n. 989 to vii. 1. I should be disposed to accept Šād with the meaning of Qiṣaṣ, i.e., stories of the Prophets. The main figures referred to here are: Zakariya, Yaḥyā, Maryam, 'Isā, and Ibrāhīm: the others are mentioned but incidentally. The strong letter in ZaKariya is K; in IbrāHim, H; in YaḥYā and perhaps MarYam, Y; and in 'Isa,—'A (Ain). H also comes in Hārūn (Aaron), and the Arabic Yā comes in all the names including Ismā'il and Idris.

I offer this suggestion with some diffidence. The suggestion of the Tafsīr Kabīr is that the letters stand for attributes of God: K. for Kāfī (the One sufficient in Himself); H. for Hādī (He who guides); Y. for Yād (Hand as a symbol of Power or Authority; Cf. xlviii. 10, "The Hand of God is above their hands"); 'A. for 'Alīm (the All-Knowing); and Š for Šādiq (The True One).

2456. The Mercy of God to Zakariya was shown in many ways: (1) in the acceptance of his prayer; (2) in bestowing a son like Yaḥyā; and (3) in the love between father and son, in addition to the work which Yaḥyā did as God's Messenger for the world. Cf. iii. 38-41 and notes. There the public ministry was the point stressed; here the beautiful relations between the son and the father.

2457. In secret: because he feared that his own family and relatives were going wrong (xix. 5), and he wanted to keep the lamp of God burning bright. He could not very well mention the fear about his colleagues (who were his relations) in public.

2458. This preface shows the fervent faith of Zakariya. Zakariya was a priest of the Most High God. His office was in the Temple, and his relatives were his colleagues. But he found in them no true spirit of the service of God and man. He was filled with anxiety as to who would uphold the godly ideas he had in mind, which were strange to his worldly colleagues.

5. "Now I fear (what)
My relatives (and colleagues)
(Will do) after me :
But my wife is barren :
So give me an heir<sup>2459</sup>
As from Thyself,—
6. "(One that) will (truly)
Represent me, and represent<sup>2460</sup>
The posterity of Jacob ;
And make him, O my Lord !
One with whom Thou art
Well-pleased !"
7. (His prayer was answered) :
"O Zakariya! We give thee
Good news of a son :
His name shall be Yahya :
On none by that name
Have We conferred distinction before."<sup>2461</sup>
8. He said : "O my Lord !
How shall I have a son,
When my wife is barren
And I have grown quite decrepit
From old age ?"

٥- وَإِنِّي خِفْتُ الْمَوَالِيَ مِنْ وَرَائِي
وَكَانَتِ امْرَأَتِي عَاقِرًا
فَهَبْ لِي مِنْ لَدُنْكَ وَلِيًّا ۝

٦- يَرْثُنِي وَيَرِثْ
مَنْ أَلِ يَعْقُوبَ ۝
وَاجْعَلْهُ رَبِّ رَضِيًّا ۝

٧- يَذْكُرُ يَا أَيُّهَا نَبِيُّكَ
بِعُلْمِ اسْمِهِ يَحْيَىٰ
لَمْ نَجْعَلْ لَهُ مِنْ قَبْلُ سَمِيًّا ۝

٨- قَالَ رَبِّ أَتَىٰ يَكُونُ لِي غَلْمٌ
وَكَانَتِ امْرَأَتِي عَاقِرًا
وَقَدْ بَلَغْتُ مِنَ الْكِبَرِ عِتِيًّا ۝

2459. His was not merely a vulgar desire for a son. If it had been, he would have prayed much earlier in his life, when he was a young man. He was too full of true piety to put merely selfish things into his prayers. But here was a public need, in the service of the Lord. He was too old, but could he perhaps adopt a child—who would be an heir "as from God" (See n. 380 to iii. 38).

2460. It is true that an heir inherits property, but his higher duty is to represent in everything the personality of him from whom he inherits. It is doubtful whether Zakariya had any worldly property. But he had character and virtue, as a man of God, and this he wanted to transmit to his heir as his most precious possession. It was almost the most precious possession of the posterity of Jacob. The people around him had fallen away from God's Message. Could his heir, like him, try and renew it?

2461: This was John the Baptist, the forerunner of Jesus. In accordance with his father's prayer he, and Jesus for whom he prepared the way, renewed the Message of God, which had been corrupted and lost among the Israelites. The Arabic form Yahya suggests "Life". The Hebrew form is Johanan, which means "Jehovah has been Gracious". Cf. Hanan in verse 13 below. It does not mean that the name was given for the first time, for we read of a Johanan the son of Careah in II Kings, xxv. 23, an otherwise obscure man. It means that God had, for the first time, called one of His elect by that name.

9. He said : " So ( it will be ) : <sup>2462</sup>
Thy Lord saith, ' That is Easy for Me : I did
Indeed create thee before,
When thou hadst been nothing ! ' " <sup>2463</sup>

٩- قَالَ كَذَلِكَ ۚ قَالَ رَبُّكَ
هُوَ عَلَيَّ هَيِّئْ ۖ وَقَدْ خَلَقْتكَ مِنْ قَبْلُ
وَلَمْ تَكُ شَيْئًا ۝

10. ( Zakariya ) said : " O my Lord !
Give me a Sign. " <sup>2464</sup>
" Thy Sign, " was the answer,
" Shall be that thou
Shalt speak to no man
For three nights, <sup>2465</sup>
Although thou art not dumb. "

١٠- قَالَ رَبِّ اجْعَلْ لِي آيَةً ۚ
قَالَ آيَتُكَ
أَلَّا تُكَلِّمَ النَّاسَ ثَلَاثَ لَيَالٍ سَوِيًّا ۝

11. So Zakariya came out
To his people
From his chamber :
He told them by signs
To celebrate God's praises
In the morning
And in the evening.

١١- فَخَرَجَ عَلَى قَوْمِهِ مِنَ الْمِحْرَابِ
فَأَوْحَى إِلَيْهِمْ أَنْ سَبِّحُوا
بِكُرْتَةٍ وَعَشِيًّا ۝

12. ( ١٢ ) To his son came the command ) : <sup>2466</sup>

١٢- يٰيَحْيٰى خُذِ الْكِتٰبَ بِقُوَّةٍ ۚ

2462. Who is the " He " in this clause? As I have construed it, following the majority of Commentators, it means the angel who brought the message from God. Cf. xix. 21 below. But some Commentators construe it to refer to Zakariya. In that case the meaning will be : Zakariya after a little reflection said (in his wonder) " So ! ", i.e., " Can it really be so? Can I really have a son in my old age? " The speech following, " Thy Lord saith, " etc., will then be that of the angel-messenger.

2463. Every man was nothing just before he was created, i.e., his personality was called into being by God. Even if there are material processes in forming the body, in accordance with the laws of nature, the real creative force is in God. But here there is a subtler meaning. John was the harbinger of Jesus, preparing the way for him; and this sentence also prepares us for the more wonderful birth of Jesus himself : see verse 21 below. Everything is possible with God.

2464. The " Sign ", I understand, was not in order to convince Zakariya that the Lord's promise was true, for he had faith; but it was a symbol by which he was to show in his conduct that he was to conform to his new destiny as the father of Yahya who was to come. Yahya was to take up the work, and Zakariya was to be silent, although the latter was sound in body and there was nothing to prevent him from speaking.

2465. Compare this verse with iii. 41. The variations are interesting. Here it is " for three nights " : there it is " for three days ". The meaning is the same, for a day is a period of 24 hours. But the point of view is different in each case. There it was from the point of view of the Ummat or Congregation, among whom he worked by day; here the point of view is that of his individual soul, which spent the nights in prayer and praise. Notice again that at the end of the next verse, we have here, " In the morning and in the evening ", and at the end of iii. 41, " In the evening and in the morning "—showing again that the point of view is reversed.

2466. Time passes. The son is born. In this section of the Sura the centre of interest is Yahya, and the instruction is now given to him. ' Keep fast hold of God's revelation with all your might ' : for an unbelieving world had either corrupted or neglected it, and Yahya ( John the Baptist ) was to prepare the way for Jesus, who was coming to renew and re-interpret it.

Of the Book with might":
And We gave him Wisdom <sup>2467</sup>
Even as a youth,

13. And pity (for all creatures)
As from us, and purity: <sup>2468</sup>
He was devout,

14. And kind to his parents,
And he was not overbearing
Or rebellious.

15. So Peace on him
The day he was born,
The day that he dies,
And the day that he
Will be raised up
To life (again)! <sup>2469</sup>

C. 139.—Next comes the story of Jesus and his mother
(xix. 16-40.) Mary. She gave birth, as a virgin, to Jesus,
But her people slandered and abused her
As a disgrace to her lineage. Her son
Did defend her and was kind to her. He
Was a servant of God, a true Prophet,
Blessed in the gifts of Prayer and Charity,
But no more than a man: to call him
The son of God is to derogate from God's Majesty, for God is High above all
His Creatures, the Judge of the Last Day.

2467. Hukm, translated Wisdom, implies something more than Wisdom; it is the Wisdom or Judgment that is entitled to judge and command, as in the matter of denouncing sin.

2468. John the Baptist did not live long. He was imprisoned by Herod, the tetrarch (provincial ruler under the Roman Empire), whom he had reproofed for his sins, and eventually beheaded at the instigation of the woman with whom Herod was infatuated. But even in his young life, he was granted (1) wisdom by God, for he boldly denounced sin; (2) gentle pity and love for all God's creatures, for he moved among the humble and lowly, and despised "soft raiment"; and (3) purity of life, for he renounced the world and lived in the wilderness. All his work he did in his youth. These things showed themselves in his conduct, for he was devout, showing love to God and to God's creatures, and more particularly to his parents (for we are considering that aspect of his life): this was also shown by the fact that he never used violence, from an attitude of arrogance, nor entertained a spirit of rebellion against human or divine Law.

2469. This is spoken as in the life-time of Yahya. Peace and God's Blessings were on him when he was born; they continue when he is about to die an unjust death at the hands of a tyrant; and they will be specially manifest at the Day of Judgment.

SECTION 2.

16. Relate in the Book
(The story of) Mary,<sup>2470</sup>

From her family

17. She placed a screen
(To screen herself) from them ;
Then We sent to her
Our angel, and he appeared
Before her as a man
In all respects.

19. He said : " Nay, I am only
A messenger from thy Lord,

The gift of a holy son."<sup>2472</sup>
20. She said : " How shall I
Have a son, seeing that
No man has touched me,
And I am not unchaste ? "
21. He said : " So (it will be) :
Thy Lord saith, ' That is Wish) to appoint him

As a Sign unto men
And a Mercy from Us ' :<sup>2473</sup>

هُوَ عَلَيَّ هَيِّئْ وَلِنَجْعَلَهُ
آيَةً لِلنَّاسِ وَرَحْمَةً مِنَّا ۝

2470. Cf. the story of Mary as related in iii. 42-51. Here the whole theme is different : it is the personal side of the spiritual experiences of the worshippers of God in relation to their families or environment.

2471. To a private eastern chamber, perhaps in the Temple. She went into privacy, from her people and from people in general, for prayer and devotion. It was in this state of purity that the angel appeared to her in the shape of a man. She thought it was a man. She was frightened, and she adjured him not to invade her privacy.

2472. God had destined her to be the mother of the holy Prophet Jesus Christ, and now had come the time when this should be announced to her.

2473. The mission of Jesus is announced in two ways (1) he was to be a Sign to men ; his wonderful birth and wonderful life were to turn an ungodly world back to God ; and (2) his mission was to bring solace and salvation to the repentant. This, in some way or other, is the case with all apostles of God, and it was pre-eminently so in the case of the holy Apostle Muhammad. But the point here is that the Israelites, to whom Jesus was sent, were a hardened race, for whom the message of Jesus was truly a gospel of Mercy.

It is a matter
(So) decreed." 2474

22. So she conceived him,
And she retired with him
To a remote place. 2475
23. And the pains of childbirth
Drove her to the trunk
Of a palm-tree :
She cried (in her anguish) :
"Ah! would that I had
Died before this! would that
I had been a thing
Forgotten and out of sight!" 2476
24. But (a voice) cried to her
From beneath the (palm-tree) :
"Grieve not! for thy Lord
Hath provided a rivulet
Beneath thee ;
25. "And shake towards thyself
The trunk of the palm-tree :
It will let fall
Fresh ripe dates upon thee. 2477
26. "So eat and drink
And cool (thine) eye. 2478
And if thou dost see
Any man, say, 'I have

مِنَ الْبَشَرِ أَحَدًا فَقُولِي إِنَّي

2474. For anything that God wishes to create, He says "Be", and it is (Cf. iii. 47). There is no interval between His decree and its accomplishment, except such as He imposes by His decree. Time may be only a projection of our own minds in this world of relativity.

2475. The annunciation and the conception, we may suppose, took place in Nazareth (of Galilee), say 65 miles north of Jerusalem. The delivery took place in Bethlehem about 6 miles south of Jerusalem. It was a remote place, not only with reference to the distance of 71 miles, but because in Bethlehem itself the birth was in an obscure corner under a palm-tree, from which perhaps the babe was afterwards removed to a manger in a stable.

2476. She was but human, and suffered the pangs of an expectant mother, with no one to attend on her. The circumstances being peculiar, she had got far away from her people.

2478. Cool thine eye: An idiom for "comfort thyself and be glad". The literal meaning should not, however, be lost sight of. She was to cool her eyes (perhaps full of tears), with the fresh water of the rivulet and take comfort that a remarkable babe had been born to her. She was also to look round, and if any one came near, she was to decline all conversation. It was quite true: she was under a vow, and could not talk to any one.

Vowed a fast to (God)
Most Gracious, and this day
Will I enter into no talk
With any human being ' ' 2479

27. At length she brought
The (babe) to her people,
Carrying him (in her arms).
They said: " O Mary!
Truly an amazing thing:
Hast thou brought! 2480

28. " O sister of Aaron! 2481
Thy father was not
A man of evil, nor thy

29. But she pointed to the babe. 2482
They said: " How can we
Talk to one who is
A child in the cradle? "

30. He said: " I am indeed
A servant of God:
He hath given me
Revelation and made me
A prophet;

31. " And He hath made me

أَتَانِي الْكِتَابَ وَجَعَلَنِي نَبِيًّا ۝

۳۱- وَجَعَلَنِي مُبَارَكًا أَيْنَ مَا كُنْتُ ۝

2480. The amazement of the people knew no bounds. In any case they were ready to think the worst of her, as she had disappeared from her kin for some time. But now she comes, shamelessly parading a babe in her arms! How she had disgraced the house of Aaron, the fountain of priesthood! We may suppose that the scene took place in the Temple in Jerusalem, or in Nazareth.

2481. Aaron the brother of Moses was the first in the line of Israelite priesthood. Mary and her cousin Elisabeth (mother of Yaḥyā) came of a priestly family, and were therefore "sisters of Aaron" or daughters of 'Imrān (who was Aaron's father). See n. 375 to iii. 35. Mary is reminded of her high lineage and the unexceptionable morals of her father and mother. How, they said, she had fallen, and disgraced the name of her progenitors!

2482. What could Mary do? How could she explain? Would they, in their censorious mood, accept her explanation? All she could do was to point to the child, who, she knew, was no ordinary child. And the child came to her rescue. By a miracle he spoke, defended his mother, and preached—to an unbelieving audience. See iii. 46, and n. 388.

۳۶- وَإِنَّ اللَّهَ رَبِّي وَرَبُّكُمْ

2483. There is a parallelism throughout the accounts of Jesus and Yaḥyā, with some variations. Both the parallelisms and the variations are interesting. For instance Jesus declares at the very outset that he is a servant of God, thus negating the false notion that he was God or the son of God. The greatness of Yaḥyā is described in xix. 12-13 in terms that are not applied to Jesus, but the verses xix. 14-15 as applied to Yaḥyā are in almost identical terms with those applied to Jesus here (xix. 32-33). Devotion in Prayer and Charity is a good description of the Church of Christ at its best, and pity, purity, and devotion in Yaḥyā are a good description of the ways leading to Prayer and Charity, just as John led to Jesus.

2484. Overbearing violence is not only unjust and harmful to those on whom it is practised; it is perhaps even more harmful to the person who practises it, for his soul becomes turbid, unsettled, and ultimately unhappy and wretched,—the state of those in Hell. Here the negative qualities are "not overbearing or miserable." As applied to John they were "not overbearing or rebellious." John bore his punishment from the State without any protest or drawing back.

2485. Cf. xix. 15, and n. 2469. Christ was not crucified (iv. 157). But those who believe that he never died should ponder over this verse.

2486. The disputations about the nature of Jesus Christ were vain, but also persistent and sanguinary. The modern Christian churches have thrown them into the background, but they would do well to abandon irrational dogmas altogether.

2487. Begetting a son is a physical act depending on the needs of men's animal nature. God Most High is independent of all needs, and it is derogatory to Him to attribute such an act to Him. It is merely a relic of pagan and anthropomorphic materialist superstitions.

Therefore serve ye : this is

C. 140.— Abraham pleaded with loving earnestness

- (xix. 41-65.) With his father to accept the truth of God :
He was turned out, but he retained
His gentleness and was blessed. Moses
Asked for the aid of his brother Aaron
And was true to his people. Ismā'il
Was loyal to his father and his God, and was
A willing and accepted sacrifice to God.

2488. As opposed to the crooked superstitions which take refuge in all sorts of metaphysical sophistries to prove three in one and one in three. In the Qur-ān there is no crookedness (xviii. 1). Christ's teaching was simple, like his life, but the Christians have made it crooked.

2489. Judgment : the word in the original is Mash-had, which implies many things : (1) the time or place where evidence is taken, as in a Court of Judgment ; (2) the time or place where people are produced (to be judged) ; and (3) the occasion for such production for the taking of evidence. A very expressive phrase for the Day of Judgment.

2490. Cf. l. 22, and that whole passage, where the Resurrection is described.

2491. Hasrat : Sighs, sighing, regrets, distress.

2492. Cf. iii. 180, n. 485 ; xv. 23 n. 1964. Material property passes from one to another : when one dies, another inherits it. God gives life and death, and all that survives after physical death goes back to God, the original source of all things.

41. (Also) mention in the Book
(The story of) Abraham :
He was a man of Truth,

۴۳- يَا أَبَتِ إِنِّي قَدْ جَاءَنِي مِنَ الْعِلْمِ مَا

مِّنَ الرَّحْمَنِ فَتَكُونَ لِلشَّيْطَانِ وَلِيًّا ۝

2493. The reference to Abraham here is in relation to his tender solicitude for his father, who had not received the light of Unity, and to whom Abraham wanted to be a guide and friend.

2494. Some are more receptive of Light than others. It is their duty and privilege to guide and point to the right Way.

2496. The rebellion is all the more heinous and inexcusable, considering that God is Most Just, Most Merciful, Most Gracious.

2497. To entertain a feeling of friendliness, instead of aversion, to Evil, is in itself a degradation of our nature, a Penalty which God imposes on our deliberate rejection of the Truth. And the friendliness to Evil also implies the sharing of the outlawry of Evil.

46. (The father) replied : " Dost thou Hate my gods, O Abraham ? If thou forbear not, I will Indeed stone thee : Now get away from me For a good long while ! " <sup>2498</sup>

٢٦- قَالَ أَرَأَيْبُ أَنْتَ عَنِ إِلَهِي
يَا بَرَهَيْمُ لَئِنْ لَمْ تَنْتَهُ لَأَرْجُمَنَّكَ
وَاجْعُرْنِي مَلِيًّا ۝

47. Abraham said : " Peace be On thee : I will pray To my Lord for thy forgiveness : <sup>2499</sup> For He is to me Most Gracious.

٢٧- قَالَ سَلِّمْ عَلَيْكَ
سَأَسْتَغْفِرُكَ رَبِّي
إِنَّهُ كَانَ بِي حَفِيًّا ۝

48. " And I will turn away From you (all) and from those Whom ye invoke besides God : I will call on my Lord : Perhaps, by my prayer to my Lord, I shall be not unblest. " <sup>2500</sup>

٢٨- وَأَعْتَزِلْكُمْ وَمَا تَدْعُونَ
مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ وَادْعُوا رَبِّي
عَسَىٰ أَلَّا أَكُونَ بِدُعَاءِ رَبِّي شَقِيًّا ۝

49. When he had turned away From them and from those Whom they worshipped besides God, We bestowed on him Isaac and Jacob, and each one Of them We made a prophet. <sup>2501</sup>

٢٩- فَلَمَّا اعْتَزَلْتَهُمْ وَمَا يُعْبُدُونَ مِنْ دُونِ
اللَّهِ وَهَبْنَا لَهُ إِسْحَاقَ وَيَعْقُوبَ
وَكُلًّا جَعَلْنَا نَبِيًّا ۝

2498. Note the gentle persuasive tone of Abraham in his speeches in xix. 42-45 (for we may suppose those sentences to sum up a long course of arguments) and in xix. 47-48, contrasted with the brusque and repellent tone of the father's reply in this verse. The one was the outcome of the true Light which had come to Abraham from God, as the other was the outcome of Pagan arrogance and the worship of brute force. The spiritual lesson from this episode of Abraham's life may be stated in four propositions: (1) the pious son is dutiful to his father and wishes him well in all things, material and spiritual; (2) if the father refuses God's Light, the son will do his utmost to bring such Light to the father; (3) having received the Light, the son will never renounce that Light, even if he has to forfeit his father's love and renounce his home; (4) even if the father repels him and turns him out, his answer will be a soft answer, full of love and forgiveness on the one hand, but firmness on behalf of Truth on the other.

2499. Cf. ix. 114, where this promise of Abraham to pray for his father is referred to, and its limitations pointed out.

2500. Abraham left his father and the home of his fathers (Ur of the Chaldees) and never returned. He left because he was turned out, and because it was not possible for him to make any compromise with what was false in religion. In return for abuse, he spoke gentle words. And he expressed his fervent hope that at least he (Abraham) would have God's blessing in reply to his prayers. Here was a prefigurement of another Hijrat many centuries later! In both cases the prayer was abundantly fulfilled.

2501. Isaac and Isaac's son Jacob are mentioned here as carrying on one line of Abraham's traditions. The other line was carried on by Ismā'il, who is mentioned independently five verses lower down, as his line got special honour in the Holy Prophet of Islam. That is why his mention comes after that of Moses Cf. xxi. 72.

50. And We bestowed
Of Our Mercy on them,
And We granted them
Lofty honour on the tongue <sup>2502</sup>
Of truth.

SECTION 4.

51. Also mention in the Book
(The story of) Moses :
For he was specially chosen,
And he was an apostle
(And) a prophet. <sup>2503</sup>

52. And We called him
From the right side <sup>2504</sup>
Of Mount (Sinai), and made
Him draw near to Us,
For mystic (converse).

53. And, out of Our Mercy, <sup>2505</sup>
We gave him his brother
Aaron, (also) a prophet.

٥٠- وَوَهَبْنَا لَهُمْ مِنْ رَحْمَتِنَا
وَجَعَلْنَا لَهُمْ لِسَانَ صِدْقٍ عَلِيًّا ۝

٥١- وَإِذْ كُنَّا فِي الْكِتَابِ مُوسَى
إِنَّهُ كَانَ مَخْلُصًا
وَكَانَ رَسُولًا نَبِيًّا ۝

٥٢- وَنَادَيْنَاهُ مِنْ جَانِبِ الطُّورِ الْأَيْمَنِ
وَقَرَّبْنَاهُ نَجِيًّا ۝

٥٣- وَوَهَبْنَا لَهُ مِنْ رَحْمَتِنَا
أَخَاهُ هَارُونَ نَبِيًّا ۝

2503. Moses was (1) especially chosen, and therefore prepared and instructed in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, in order that he might free his people from Egyptian bondage ; there may also be a reference to Mose's title of Kalimullah, the one to whom God spoke without the intervention of angels but behind a cloud : see iv. 164, and n 670 ; (2) he was a prophet (nabī), in that he received inspiration ; and (3) he was an apostle (rasūl) in that he had a Book of Revelation, and an Ummat or organised Community, for which he instituted laws.

2504. The incident here I think refers to the incidents described more fully in xx. 9-36 ; a reference may also be made to Exod. iii. 1-18 and iv. 1-17. There is a great deal of mystic meaning. The time is when Moses (with his family) was travelling and grazing the flocks of his father-in-law Jethro, just before he got his commission from God. The place is somewhere near Mount Sinai (Jabal Mūsā). Moses sees a Fire in the distance, but when he goes there, he hears a voice that tells him it is sacred ground. God asked him to put off his shoes and to draw near, and when he went near, great mysteries were revealed to him. He was given his commission, and his brother Aaron was given to him to go with him and aid him. It is after that that he and Aaron went and faced Pharaoh in Egypt, as narrated in vii. 103-144, etc. The right side of the mountain may mean that Moses heard the voice from the right side of the mountain as he faced it ; or it may have the figurative meaning of "right" in Arabic, i.e., the side which was blessed or sacred ground.

2505. Moses was diffident, and reluctant to go to Pharaoh as he had an impediment in his tongue, and he asked that his brother Aaron should be associated with him in his mission. God in His Mercy granted his request : xx. 25-36.

54. Also mention in the Book
(The story of) Ismā'il :
He was (strictly) true
To what he promised,<sup>2506</sup>
And he was an apostle
(And) a prophet.

٥٤- وَأَذْكُرُ فِي الْكِتَابِ إِسْمَاعِيلَ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ صَادِقَ الْوَعْدِ
وَكَانَ رَسُولًا نَبِيًّا ۝

55. He used to enjoin
On his people Prayer
And Charity, and he was
Most acceptable in the sight
Of his Lord.<sup>2507</sup>

٥٥- وَكَانَ يَأْمُرُ أَهْلَهُ بِالصَّلَاةِ وَالزَّكَاةِ
وَكَانَ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِ مَرْضِيًّا ۝

56. Also mention in the Book
The case of Idris :<sup>2508</sup>
He was a man of truth
(And sincerity), (and) a prophet :

٥٦- وَأَذْكُرُ فِي الْكِتَابِ إِدْرِيْسَ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ صِدِّيقًا نَبِيًّا ۝

57. And We raised him
To a lofty station.

٥٧- وَرَفَعْنَاهُ مَكَانًا عَلِيًّا ۝

58. Those were some
Of the prophets on whom
God did bestow His Grace,—
Of the posterity of Adam,
And of those whom We Carried (in the Ark)
With Noah, and of
The posterity of Abraham<sup>2509</sup>
And Israel—of those Whom We guided and chose.

٥٨- أُولَئِكَ الَّذِينَ أَنْعَمَ اللَّهُ
عَلَيْهِمْ مِمَّنْ نَبَأْنَا مِنْ ذُرِّيَّةِ آدَمَ
وَمِمَّنْ حَمَلْنَا مَعَ نُوحٍ
وَمِمَّنْ ذُرِّيَّةَ إِبْرَاهِيمَ
وَإِسْرَائِيلَ وَمِمَّنْ هَدَيْنَا وَاجْتَبَيْنَا ۝

2506. Ismā'il was Zabihullah, i.e., the chosen sacrifice of God in Muslim tradition. When Abraham told him of the sacrifice, he voluntarily offered himself for it, and never flinched from his promise, until the sacrifice was redeemed by the substitution of a ram under God's commands. He was the fountain-head of the Arabian Ummat, and in his posterity came the Apostle of God. The Ummat and the Book of Islam reflect back the apostleship on Ismā'il.

2507. An acceptable sacrifice : see last note.

2508. Idris is mentioned twice in the Qur-ān, viz. : here and in-xxi. 85, where he is mentioned among those who patiently persevered. His identification with the Biblical Enoch, who "walked with God" (Gen. v. 21-24), may or may not be correct. Nor are we justified in interpreting verse 57 here as meaning the same thing as in Gen. v. 24 ("God took him"), that he was taken up without passing through the portals of death. All we are told is that he was a man of truth and sincerity, and a prophet, and that he had a high position among his people. It is this point which brings him in the series of men just mentioned : he kept himself in touch with his people, and was honoured among them. Spiritual progress need not cut us off from our people, for we have to help and guide them. He kept to truth and piety in the highest station.

2509. The earlier generations are grouped into three epochs from a spiritual point of view : (1) from Adam to Noah, (2) from Noah to Abraham, and (3) from Abraham to an indefinite time, say to the time when the Message of God was corrupted and the need arose for the final Apostle of Unity and Truth. Israel is another name for Jacob.

Whenever the Signs
Of (God) Most Gracious
Were rehearsed to them,<sup>2510</sup>
They would fall down
In prostrate adoration
And in tears.

إِذَا تَعَلَىٰ عَلَيْهِمْ
آيَةُ الرَّحْمَنِ
خَرُّوا سُجَّدًا وَبُكِيًّا ۝

59. But after them there followed
A posterity who missed
Prayers and followed after lusts
Soon, then, will they
Face Destruction,—<sup>2511</sup>

٥٩- فَخَلَفَ مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ خَلْفٌ أَضَاعُوا
الصَّلَاةَ وَاتَّبَعُوا الشَّهْوَاتِ فَسُوفَ يَلْقَوْنَ
عَذَابًا ۝

60. Except those who repent
And believe, and work
Righteousness : for these
Will enter the Garden
And will not be wronged
In the least,—

٦٠- إِلَّا مَنْ تَابَ وَآمَنَ وَعَمِلَ
صَالِحًا فَأُولَٰئِكَ يَدْخُلُونَ الْجَنَّةَ
وَلَا يُظْلَمُونَ شَيْئًا ۝

61. Gardens of Eternity, those
Which (God) Most Gracious
Has promised to His servants
In the Unseen : for His promise
Must (necessarily) come to pass.

٦١- جَنَّاتٍ عَدْنٍ الَّتِي وَعَدَ الرَّحْمَنُ
عِبَادَهُ بِالْغَيْبِ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ وَعْدُهُ مَأْتِيًّا ۝

62. They will not there hear
Any vain discourse, but
Only salutations of Peace : <sup>2512</sup>
And they will have therein
Their sustenance, <sup>2513</sup> morning
And evening.

٦٢- لَا يَسْمَعُونَ فِيهَا لَغْوًا إِلَّا سَلَامًا
وَلَهُمْ فِيهَا مِمَّا رَزَقَهُمْ فِيهَا
بُكْرَةً وَعَشِيًّا ۝

2510. The original is in the Aorist tense, implying that the "Posterity" alluded to includes not only the apostles but their worthy followers who are true to God and uphold His standard.

2511. This selfish godless posterity gains the upper hand at certain times, but even then there is always a minority who see the error of their ways, repent and believe, and live righteous lives. They are not penalised in the Hereafter because they were associated with the ungodly in time. They reap the full reward of their faith and righteousness.

2512. Salām, translated "Peace", has a much wider signification. It includes (1) a sense of security and permanence, which is unknown in this life; (2) soundness, freedom from defects, perfection, as in the word salīm; (3) preservation, salvation, deliverance, as in the word sallama; (4) salutation, accord with those around us; (5) resignation, in the sense that we are satisfied and not discontented; besides (6) the ordinary meaning of Peace, i.e., freedom from any jarring element. All these shades of meaning are implied in the word Islām. Heaven therefore is the perfection of Islām.

2513. Sustenance in the highest metaphorical sense, all the means of perfect satisfaction of the soul and its complete self-expression in the new conditions, which we can only imagine vaguely in our material life. Morning and evening : i.e., early and late, all the time, always.

63. Such is the Garden which
We give as an inheritance
To those of Our servants
Who guard against evil.

٦٣- تِلْكَ الْجَنَّةُ الَّتِي نُورِثُ
مِنْ عِبَادِنَا مَنْ كَانَ تَقِيًّا ۝

64. (The angels say :) <sup>2514</sup>
"We descend not but
By command of thy Lord :
To Him belongeth what is
Before us and what is Behind us, and what is Between : and thy Lord
Never doth forget,—

٦٤- وَمَا نُنزِّلُ إِلَّا بِأَمْرِ رَبِّكَ
لَهُ مَا بَيْنَ أَيْدِينَا وَمَا
خَلْفَنَا وَمَا بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ ۗ
وَمَا كَانَ رَبُّكَ نَسِيًّا ۝

65. "Lord of the heavens
And of the earth,
And of all that is
Between them : so worship Him,
And be constant and patient
In His worship : knowest thou
Of any who is worthy
Of the same Name as He ?" <sup>2515</sup>

٦٥- رَبُّ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا فَاعْبُدْهُ
وَاصْطَبِرْ لِعِبَادَتِهِ ۗ
هَلْ تَعْلَمُ لَهُ سَمِيًّا ۝

C. 141.—Why should man disbelieve in the Hereafter ?

(xix. 66-98.) We all must pass through the fire of temptation,
But God Most Gracious will save us
If we accept Him and do right. Sin
May have its respite, but must run
To its own destruction. We must not
Dishonour God by holding false
And monstrous ideas of Him. Glory
To Him that He cares for all His creatures !

SECTION 5.

66. Man says : "What!
When I am dead, shall I
Then be raised up alive ?"

٦٦- وَيَقُولُ الْإِنْسَانُ
إِذَا مَاتَ لَسَوْفَ أَخْرَجُ حَيًّا ۝

2514. We are apt to be impatient of the evils we see around us. We may give of our best service to God, and yet see no results. In our human short-sightedness we may complain within ourselves. We may address the Spirit of God, as Shelley addressed the Spirit of Poesy, "Rarely, rarely comest thou, Spirit of Delight !" But we must not be impatient. The angels of Grace come not haphazard, but by command of God according to His Universal Will and Purpose. God does not forget. If things are delayed, it is in accordance with a wise providence, which cares for all. Our plain duty is to be patient and constant in His service.

2515. The more we taste of the truth and mystery of life, the more do we realise that there is no one to be mentioned in the same breath as God. He is above all names. But when we think of His beautiful qualities, and picture them to ourselves by names which give us some idea of Him, we can search the whole wide world of our imagination, and we shall not find another to be compared with Him in name or quality. He is the One : praise be to Him !

67. But does not man
Call to mind that We
Created him before
Out of nothing ?
68. So, by thy Lord,
Without doubt, We shall gather
Them together, and (also)
The Evil Ones (with them); <sup>2516</sup>
Then shall We bring them
Forth on their knees
Round about Hell; <sup>2517</sup>
69. Then shall We certainly
Drag out from every sect
All those who were worst
In obstinate rebellion
Against (God) Most Gracious.
70. And certainly We know best
Those who are most worthy
Of being burned therein.
71. Not one of you but will <sup>2518</sup>
Pass over it : this is,
With thy Lord, a Decree
Which must be accomplished.
72. But We shall save those
Who guarded against evil,
And We shall leave
The wrong-doers therein,
(Humbled) to their knees.

٦٧- أَوَلَا يَذْكُرُ الْإِنْسَانُ أَنَّا
خَلَقْنَاهُ مِنْ قَبْلُ وَلَمْ يَكُ شَيْئًا ۝

٦٨- قَوْلِكَ لَنُخْضِرَّهُمْ
وَالشَّيْطِينَ ثُمَّ لَنُخْضِرَّهُمْ
حَوْلَ جَهَنَّمَ جِثِيًّا ۝

٦٩- ثُمَّ لَنَنْزِعَنَّ مِنْ كُلِّ شِيعَةٍ
أَيُّهُمْ أَشَدُّ عَلَى الرَّحْمَنِ عِتِيًّا ۝

٧٠- ثُمَّ لَنَحْنُ أَعْلَمُ بِالَّذِينَ
هُمُ أَوْلَىٰ بِهَا صِلِيًّا ۝

٧١- وَإِن مِّنكُمْ إِلَّا وَارِدُهَا
كَأَن عَلَى رَبِّكَ حَتْمًا مَّقْضِيًّا ۝

٧٢- ثُمَّ نُبْجِي الَّذِينَ اتَّقَوْا
وَنَذِّرُ الظَّالِمِينَ فِيهَا جِثِيًّا ۝

2516. The disbelief in a future state is not merely a philosophic doubt, but a warped will, a disingenuous obstinacy in face of our inner spiritual instincts and experiences. We were nothing before. Cannot the same God Who created us out of nothing also continue our personality? But if we refuse to accept His light and guidance, our state will grow worse and worse. We shall be deprived of His grace. We shall be herded with the Evil Ones. In utter humiliation we shall be faced with all the consequences of our refusal of Truth.

2517. Round about Hell : There are many ways leading to evil, and people get to it from all round. Hence the allegory of the seven Gates to Hell ; see xv. 44, and n. 1977.

2518. Three interpretations are possible. (1) The general interpretation is that every soul must pass through or by or over the Fire. It may be the fire of temptation or anxiety or distress ; but they must see Hell. Those who have had Taqwā (see n. 26 to ii. 2) will be saved by God's Mercy, while unrepentant sinners will suffer the torments in ignominy. (2) If we refer the pronoun "you" to those "in obstinate rebellion" in verse 69 above, both leaders and followers in sin, this verse only applies to the wicked. (3) Some refer this verse to the Bridge over Hell, the Bridge Ṣirāṭ, over which all must pass to their final Destiny. This Bridge is not mentioned in the Qur-ān.

73. When Our Clear Signs
Are rehearsed to them,
The Unbelievers say to those
Who believe, "Which of the two Sides is best in point of
Position? which makes the best
Show in Council?" <sup>2519</sup>

74. But how many (countless)
Generations before them
Have We destroyed,
Who were even better
In equipment and in glitter
To the eye?

75. Say: "If any men go
Astray, (God) Most Gracious
Extends (the rope) to them,
Until, when they see
The warning of God (being Fulfilled)—either in punishment <sup>2520</sup>
Or in (the approach of)
The Hour,—they will
At length realise who is
Worst in position, and (who)
Weakest in forces!

76. "And God doth advance
In guidance those who seek
Guidance: and the things
That endure, Good Deeds, <sup>2521</sup>
Are best in the sight
Of thy Lord, as rewards,
And best in respect of
(Their) eventual returns."

٤٣- وَإِذَا تُلِيَتْ عَلَيْهِمْ آيَاتُنَا بَيِّنَاتٍ
قَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا وَالَّذِينَ آمَنُوا أَيُّ
الْفَرِيقَيْنِ خَيْرٌ مَّقَامًا وَ أَحْسَنُ
نَدِيًّا ۝

٤٣- وَكَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا قَبْلَهُمْ
مِمَّنْ قُتِلَ مِنْهُمْ أَحْسَنُ
أَثَانًا وَرَهْمِيًّا ۝

٤٥- قُلْ مَنْ كَانَ فِي الضَّلَالَةِ
فَلْيَمْدُدْ لَهُ الرَّحْمَنُ مَدًّا ۚ
حَتَّىٰ إِذَا رَأَوْا مَا يُوعَدُونَ إِمَّا الْعَذَابَ
وَإِمَّا السَّاعَةَ ۖ
فَسَيَعْلَمُونَ مَنْ هُوَ
شَرٌّ مَكَانًا وَ أضعفُ جُنْدًا ۝

٤٦- وَبَرِّئِدْ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ اهْتَدَوْا هُدًى
وَالْبَقِيَّةِ الطَّالِحَاتِ
خَيْرٌ عِنْدَ رَبِّكَ ثَوَابًا
وَ خَيْرٌ مَرَدًّا ۝

2520. God's warning is that every evil deed must have its punishment, and that there will be a Hereafter, the Day of Judgment, or the Hour, as it is frequently called. The punishment of evil often begins in this very life. For instance, over-indulgence and excesses of all kinds bring on their Nemesis quite soon in this very life. But some subtler forms of selfishness and sin will be punished—as every evil will be punished—in its own good time, as the Hour approaches. In either case, the arrogant boasting sinners will realise that their taunt—who is best in position and in forces? (xix. 73)—is turned against themselves.

2521. These lines are the same as in xviii. 46 (second clause), (where see n. 2387), except that the word maradd (eventual returns) is here substituted for amal (hope). The meaning is practically the same: but "hope" is more appropriate in the passage dealing generally with this world's goods, and "eventual returns" in the passage dealing with the sinner's specific investments and commitments in worldly position and organised cliques.

77. Hast thou then seen
The (sort of) man who
Rejects Our Signs, yet
Says: "I shall certainly
Be given wealth and children?" <sup>2522</sup>

٤٤- أَفَرَأَيْتَ الَّذِي كَفَرَ بِآيَاتِنَا
وَقَالَ لَأَوْتَيْنَ مَالًا وَوَلَدًا ۝

78. Has he penetrated to
The Unseen, or has he Taken a contract with
(God) Most Gracious?

٤٨- أَظَلَعَ الْغَيْبِ أَمْ
اتَّخَذَ عِنْدَ الرَّحْمَنِ عَهْدًا ۝

79. Nay! We shall record
What he says, and We Shall add and add
To his punishment. <sup>2523</sup>

٤٩- كَلَّا سَنَكْتُبُ مَا يَقُولُ وَ
نَسُدُّ لَهُ مِنَ الْعَذَابِ مَدًّا ۝

80. To Us shall return <sup>2524</sup>
All that he talks of,
And he shall appear
Before Us bare and alone.

٥٠- وَنُرِثُهُ مَا يَقُولُ
وَيَأْتِينَا فَرْدًا ۝

81. And they have taken
(For worship) gods other than
God, to give them
Power and glory! <sup>2525</sup>

٥١- وَاتَّخَذُوا مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
إِلَهَةً لِيَكُونُوا لَهُمْ عِزًّا ۝

82. Instead, they shall reject
Their worship, and become
Adversaries against them. <sup>2526</sup>

٥٢- كَلَّا سَيَكْفُرُونَ بِعِبَادَتِهِمْ وَيَكُونُونَ
عَلَيْهِمْ ضِدًّا ۝

2522. Besides the man who boasts of wealth and power in actual possession, there is a type of man who boasts of getting them in the future and builds his worldly hopes thereon. Is he sure? He denies God, and His goodness and Mercy. But all good is in the hands of God. Can such a man then bind God to bless him when he rejects faith in God? Or does he pretend that he has penetrated to the mysteries of the future? For no man can tell what the future holds for him.

2523. Such a man deserves double punishment,—for rejecting God, and for his blasphemies with His holy name.

2524. Literally, "We shall inherit" Cf. xix, 40, and n. 2492. Even if the man had property and power, it must go back to the Source of all things, and the man must appear before the Judgment-seat, alone and unaccompanied, stripped of all the things from which he expected so much!

2525. 'Izz=exalted rank, glory, power, might, the ability to impose one's will or to carry out one's will.

2526. Cf. x, 28-30, where the idols deny that they knew anything of their worship, and leave their worshippers in the lurch; and v. 119, where Jesus denies that he asked for worship, and leaves his false worshippers to the punishment or the mercy of God.

SECTION 6.

83. Seest thou not that We Have set the Evil Ones on
Against the Unbelievers,
To incite them with fury? <sup>2527</sup>

۸۳- الْمُرْتَدَّاتَا أَرْسَلْنَا الشَّيْطَانَ
عَلَى الْكٰفِرِينَ تَوَّزَّهُمْ أَزًّا ۝

84. So make no haste
Against them, for We
But count out to them
A (limited) number (of days).

۸۴- فَلَا تَعْجَلْ عَلَيْهِمْ
إِنَّمَا نَعُدُّ لَهُمْ عَدًّا ۝

85. The day We shall gather
The righteous to (God)
Most Gracious, like a band
Presented before a king for honours,

۸۵- يَوْمَ نَحْشُرُ الْمُتَّقِينَ
إِلَى الرَّحْمٰنِ وَفَدًّا ۝

86. And We shall drive
The sinners to hell,
Like thirsty cattle
Driven down to water, — <sup>2528</sup>

۸۶- وَنُسُوقِ الْبٰجِرِمِينَ إِلَىٰ جَهَنَّمَ
وَمُرَدًّا ۝

87. None shall have the power
Of intercession, but such a one
As has received permission
(or promise)
From (God) Most Gracious.

۸۷- لَا يَنْبَلِكُونَ الشَّفَاعَةَ إِلَّا مَنِ
اتَّخَذَ عِنْدَ الرَّحْمٰنِ عَهْدًا ۝

88. They say: “(God) Most
Gracious
Has begotten a son!”

۸۸- وَقَالُوا اتَّخَذَ الرَّحْمٰنُ وَلَدًا ۝

89. Indeed ye have put forth
A thing most monstrous! <sup>2529</sup>

۸۹- لَقَدْ جِئْتُمْ شَيْئًا اِذًّا ۝

2528. Note the contrast between the saved and the doomed. The one march with dignity like honoured ones before a king, and the other rush in anguish to their punishment like a herd of cattle driven down by thirst to their watering place. Note the metaphor of the water. They rush madly for water but are plunged into the Fire!

2529. The belief in God begetting a son is not a question merely of words or of speculative thought. It is a stupendous blasphemy against God. It lowers God to the level of an animal. If combined with the doctrine of vicarious atonement, it amounts to a negation of God's justice and man's personal responsibility. It is destructive of all moral and spiritual order, and is condemned in the strongest possible terms.

90. At it the skies are ready
To burst, the earth
To split asunder, and
The mountains to fall down
In utter ruin,
91. That they should invoke
A son for (God) Most Gracious.
92. For it is not consonant
With the majesty of (God)
Most Gracious that He Should beget a son.<sup>2530</sup>
93. Not one of the beings
In the heavens and the earth
But must come to (God)
Most Gracious as a servant.
94. He does take an account
Of them (all), and hath
Numbered them (all) exactly.<sup>2531</sup>
95. And everyone of them
Will come to Him singly
On the Day of Judgment.
96. On those who believe
And work deeds of righteousness,
Will (God) Most Gracious
Bestow Love.<sup>2532</sup>
97. So have We made
The (Qur-ān) easy
In thine own tongue,
That with it thou mayest give

٩٠- تَكَادُ السَّمَوَاتُ يَتَفَطَّرْنَ مِنْهُ
وَتَشَقُّ الْأَرْضُ
وَتَخْرُ الْجِبَالُ هَدًّا ۝

٩١- أَنْ دَعُوا لِلرَّحْمَنِ وَلَدًا ۝

٩٢- وَمَا يَتَّبِعُنِي لِلرَّحْمَنِ
أَنْ يَتَّخِذَ وَلَدًا ۝

٩٣- إِنْ كُلُّ مَنْ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
إِلَّا أُنِيَ الرَّحْمَنِ عَبْدًا ۝

٩٤- لَقَدْ أَحْصَاهُمْ وَعَدَّهُمْ عَدًّا ۝

٩٥- وَكُلُّهُمْ آتِيهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ فَرْدًا ۝

٩٦- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
سَيَجْعَلُ لَهُمُ الرَّحْمَنُ وُدًّا ۝

٩٧- فَأَنشَأْنَا لِسَانَكَ

2530. This basic principle was laid down early in the argument (xix. 35). It was illustrated by a reference to the personal history of many apostles, including Jesus himself, who behaved justly as men to their kith and kin and humbly served God. The evil results of such superstitions were pointed out in the case of many previous generations which went to their ruin by dishonouring God. And the argument is now rounded off towards the close of the Sūra.

2531. God has no sons or favourites or parasites, such as we associate with human beings. On the other hand every creature of His gets His love, and His cherishing care. Everyone of them, however humble, is individually marked before His Throne of Justice and Mercy, and will stand before Him on his own deserts.

2532. His own love, and the love of man's fellow-creatures, in this world and in the Hereafter. Goodness breeds love and peace, and sin breeds hatred and contention.

Glad tidings to the righteous,
And warnings to people
Given to contention.

98. But how many (countless)
Generations before them <sup>2533</sup>
Have We destroyed? Canst thou
Find a single one of them
(Now) or hear (so much
As) a whisper of them?

لَتُبَشِّرَ بِهِ الْمُتَّقِينَ وَتُنذِرَ بِهِ قَوْمًا
لَّكَا

٩٨- وَكَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا قَبْلَهُمْ مِنْ قَرْنٍ
هَلْ نُحِشُ مِنْهُمْ مِنْ أَحَدٍ
أَوْ تَسْمَعُ لَهُمْ رِكْزًا ۝

٩٨

2533. Cf. xix 74, from which this sentence is brought up as a reminiscence, showing the progress of sin, the Guidance which God gives to the good, the degradation of blasphemy, the respite granted, and the final End, when personal responsibility will be enforced:

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XX (Tā Hā).

The chronology of this Sūra has some significance: it has some relation to the spiritual lessons which it teaches.

It was used with great effect in that remarkable scene which resulted in Ḥadhrat 'Umar's conversion, and which took place about the seventh year before the Hijrat.

The scene is described with dramatic details by Ibn Hishām. 'Umar had previously been one of the greatest enemies and persecutors of Islam. Like his blood-thirsty kinsmen the Quraish, he meditated slaying the Prophet, when it was suggested to him that there were near relations of his that had embraced Islam. His sister Fāṭima and her husband Sa'īd were Muslims, but in those days of persecution they had kept their faith secret. When 'Umar went to their house, he heard them reciting this Sūra from a written copy they had. For a while they concealed the copy. 'Umar attacked his sister and her husband, but they bore the attack with exemplary patience, and declared their faith. 'Umar was so struck with their sincerity and fortitude that he asked to see the leaf from which they had been reading. It was given to him: his soul was touched, and he not only came into the Faith but became one of its strongest supporters and champions.

The leaf contained some portion of this Sūra, perhaps the introductory portion. The mystic letters Tā Hā are prefixed to this Sūra. What do they mean? The earliest tradition is that they denote a dialectical interjection meaning "O man!" If so, the title is particularly appropriate in two ways. (1) It was a direct and personal address to a man in a high state of excitement, tempted by his temper to do grievous wrong, but called by God's Grace, as by a personal appeal, to face the realities, for God knew his inmost secret thoughts (xx. 7): the revelation was sent by God Most Gracious, out of His Grace and Mercy (xx. 5). (2) It takes up the story from the last Sūra, of man as a spiritual being and illustrates it in further details. It tells the story of Moses in the crisis of his life when he received God's Commission and in his personal relations with his mother, and how he came to be brought up in the Pharaoh's house, to learn all the wisdom of the Egyptians, for use in God's service, and in his personal relations with Pharaoh, whom we take to be his adoptive father (xxviii. 9). It further tells the story of a fallen soul who misled the Israelites into idolatry, and recalls how man's Arch-enemy Satan caused his fall. Prayer and praise are necessary to man to cure his spiritual blindness and enable him to appreciate God's revelation.

Summary.—The revelation of God (the Qur-ān) is not an occasion of distress, but is a gift of mercy from God Most Gracious (xx. 1-8, and C. 142).

How Moses was first chosen, and led to his mission to Pharaoh with his brother Aaron (xx. 9-36, and C. 143).

How the mother of Moses was directed to cast the infant Moses into the river, to be brought up in Pharaoh's house under God's own supervision, in order to preach to Pharaoh and declare God's glory (xx. 37-76, and C. 144).

How Moses was directed to lead his people and quell their rebellious spirit, and how that spirit was stirred up by Sāmīrī (xx. 77-104, and C. 145).

On the Day of Judgment personal responsibility will be enforced, and God's Truth acknowledged: man should guard against Adam's enemy, Satan, and should renounce vanities, purify himself with prayer and praise, and await the call to God (xx. 105-135, and C. 146).

C. 142—God's revelation is not an occasion
(xx. 1-8.) For man's distress: it is a Message
To show that God All-Knowing sits
On the throne of Mercy and guides all affairs.
There is no god but He: to Him
Belong all the most beautiful Names.

Sūra XX.

Tā-Hā. (Mystic Letters, T. H.) <sup>2534</sup>

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Tā-Hā. <sup>2534</sup>
2. We have not sent down
The Qur-ān to thee to be
(An occasion) for thy distress, <sup>2535</sup>
3. But only as an admonition
To those who fear (God),—
4. A revelation from Him
Who created the earth
And the heavens on high.
5. (God) Most Gracious <sup>2536</sup>
Is firmly established
On the throne (of authority).
6. To Him belongs what is
In the heavens and on earth,
And all between them,
And all beneath the soil. <sup>2537</sup>
7. If thou pronounce the word
Aloud, (it is no matter) :

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- طه ٥

٢- مَا أَنْزَلْنَا عَلَيْكَ الْقُرْآنَ لِتَشْقَى ٥

٣- إِلَّا تَذَكَّرَ لِمَنْ يَخْشَى ٥

٤- تَنْزِيلًا مِمَّنْ خَلَقَ الْأَرْضَ
وَالسَّمَوَاتِ الْعُلَى ٥

٥- الرَّحْمَنُ عَلَى الْعَرْشِ اسْتَوَى ٥

٦- لَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَمَا يَبِينُ مَا وَمَا تَحْتِ الثُّرَى ٥

٧- وَإِنْ تَجْهَرِ بِالْقَوْلِ فَآتَهُ

2534. For an explanation see the Introduction to this Sūra. If the meaning is "O man!", that is itself a mystic meaning, as explained, but the letters form a word and would not be classified strictly as Abbreviated Letters: see n. 25 to ii. 1. This, however, is a question of classification and does not affect the meaning. That is conjectural, and no one can be dogmatic about it.

2535. God's revelation may cause some human trouble for two reasons: (1) it checks man's selfishness and narrowness of view, and (2) it annoys the wicked and causes them to jeer and persecute. These are mere incidental things, due to man's own shortcomings. As far as the trouble is concerned, the revelation is meant to give a warning, so that persecutors may be reclaimed, (and of course for men of faith it is a comfort and consolation, though that point does not arise in this context).

2536. Cf. x. 3 n. 1386. If things seem to be wrong in our imperfect vision on this earth, we must remember that God, Who encompasses all Creation and sits on the throne of Grace and Mercy, is in command, and our Faith tells us that all must be right. God's authority is not like an authority on earth, which may be questioned, or which may not last. His authority is "firmly established".

2537. An exhaustive definition of everything we can conceive of—what is in the heavens, on the earth, or between, or within the bowels of the earth,

For verily He knoweth
What is secret and what
Is yet more hidden.<sup>2538</sup>

○ يَعْلَمُ السِّرَّ وَأَخْفَى

8. God! there is no god
But He! To Him belong
The Most Beautiful Names.<sup>2539</sup>

٨- اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ
○ لَهُ الْأَسْمَاءُ الْحُسْنَى

C. 143.—The story of how Moses was chosen and told
(xx. 9-36.) Of his mission, has a high mystic meaning.
He was true to his family and solicitous
For their welfare. Encamped in the desert,
He saw a fire far off. Approaching,
He found it was holy ground. God
Did reveal Himself to him, so
That he saw life in things lifeless,
And light in his glorified Hand, that shone
White with light divine. Armed
With these Signs he was told to go forth
On his mission. But he thought of his brother
Aaron, and prayed that God might join him
In his mission, and his prayer was granted.

9. كَيْفَ Was the story of Moses<sup>2540</sup>
Reached thee?

٩- وَهَلْ آتَاكَ حَدِيثُ مُوسَى ○

10. Behold, he saw a fire:<sup>2541</sup>
So he said to his family,

١٠- إِذْ رَأَى نَارًا فَقَالَ لِأَهْلِهِ

2538. There are two or three implications. (1) Whatever you profess, or say aloud, gives no information to God: He knows not only what is secret and perhaps unknown to others, but what people take special care to conceal. (2) It does you no good to make insincere professions: your hidden motives are known to Him, Who alone matters. (3) If you read the Word of God, or if you pray to God, it is not necessary to raise your voice: in either case, God will judge you by your inner thoughts which are like an open book to Him.

2539. Cf. xvii. 110 and n. 2322. God is all in all, but the most beautiful things we can think of are referable to Him. A great deal is made, in our mystic philosophy, of the word "Name", which sums up attributes, and is almost equivalent to a Title of Honour.

2540. The story of Moses in its different incidents is told in many places in the Qur-ān, and in each case the phase most appropriate in the context is referred to or emphasised. In ii. 49-61, it was a phase from the religious history of mankind; in vii. 103-162, it was a phase from the story of the Ummat (or nation) of Israel, and the story was continued to the times after Moses; in xvii. 101-103, we have a picture of the decline of a soul in the arrogance of Pharaoh; here, in xx. 9-24, we have a picture of the rise of a soul in the commission given to Moses from God; in xx. 25-36, we have his spiritual relationship with his brother Aaron; in xx. 37-40, we have his spiritual relation with his mother and sister, and his upbringing; in xx. 41-76, we have his spiritual combat with Pharaoh; and in xx. 77-98, we have his spiritual combat with his own people, the Israelites. For other incidents, consult the Index.

2541. A fire: It appeared like an ordinary fire, which always betokens the presence of men in a desert or a lonely place. Moses made for it alone, to fetch the wherewithal for making a fire for his family, and perhaps to find some direction as to the way, from the people he should meet there. But it was not an ordinary fire. It was a Burning Bush: a Sign of the Glory of God.

“Tarry ye; I perceive
A fire; perhaps I can
Bring you some burning brand
Therefrom, or find some guidance
At the fire.”<sup>2542</sup>

11. But when he came
To the fire, a voice
Was heard: “O Moses!

12. “Verily I am thy Lord!
Therefore (in My presence)<sup>2543</sup>
Put off thy shoes: thou art
In the sacred valley Ṭuwa.”<sup>2544</sup>

13. “I have chosen thee:
Listen, then, to the inspiration
(Sent to thee).

14. “Verily, I am God:
There is no god but I:
So serve thou Me (only),
And establish regular prayer
For celebrating My praise.

15. “Verily the Hour is coming—<sup>2545</sup>
My design is to keep it

امْكُثُوا لِي اَنْتُمْ نَارًا

۱۵- اِنَّ السَّاعَةَ اَتِيَةٌ اَكَّادٌ

2542. The spiritual history of Moses begins here. It was his spiritual birth. His physical life, infancy, and upbringing are referred to later on, to illustrate another point. Moses, when he grew up, left the palace of Pharaoh and went to the Midianite people, in the Sinai peninsula. He married among them, and was now travelling with his family and his flocks, when he was called to his mission by God. He went to look for a fire for comfort and guidance. He found a higher and holier comfort and guidance. The whole passage is full of the highest mystic meaning, which is reflected in the short rhymed verses in the original. Both the rhythm and the meaning suggest the highest mystery.

2543. The shoes are to be put off as a mark of respect. In the parallel mystic meaning, Moses was now to put away his mere worldly interests, and anything of mere worldly utility, he having been chosen by the Most High God.

2544. This was the valley just below Mount Sinai, where subsequently he was to receive the Law. In the parallel mystic meaning, we are selected by trials in this humble life, whose valley is just as sacred and receives God's glory just as much as the heights of the Mount (Ṭūr) if we but have the insight to perceive it.

2545. The first need is to mend our lives and worship and serve God, as in the last verse. The next is to realise the meaning of the Hereafter, when every soul will get the meed of its conduct in this life.

Hidden—<sup>2546</sup> for every soul
To receive its reward
By the measure of
Its Endeavour.

أُخْفِيهَا لِتُجْزَى كُلُّ نَفْسٍ
بِمَا تَسْعَى ○

16. "Therefore let not such as
Believe not therein
But follow their own
Lusts, divert thee therefrom,<sup>2547</sup>
Lest thou perish!"...

۱۶- فَلَا يَصُدُّكَ عَنْهَا مَنْ لَا يُؤْمِنُ بِهَا
وَاتَّبَعْ هَوَاهُ فَتَرْدَى ○

17. "And what is that
In thy right hand,
O Moses?"

۱۷- وَمَا تِلْكَ بِيَمِينِكَ يَا مُوسَى ○

18. He said, "It is<sup>2548</sup>
My rod : on it
I lean ; with it
I beat down fodder
For my flocks ; and
In it I find
Other uses."

۱۸- قَالَ هِيَ عَصَايَ أَتَوَكَّأُ عَلَيْهَا
وَأَهْشُّ بِهَا عَلَى غَنَمِي
وَلِي فِيهَا مَارِبٌ أُخْرَى ○

19. (God) said, "Throw it,
O Moses!"

۱۹- قَالَ أَلْقُهَا يَا مُوسَى ○

20. He threw it, and behold!
It was a snake,
Active in motion.<sup>2549</sup>

۲۰- فَالْقَهَا فَإِذَا هِيَ حَيَّةٌ تَسْعَى ○

2546. Ukhfi may mean either "keep it hidden", or "make it manifest", and the Commentators have taken, some one meaning and some the other. If the first is taken, it means that the exact hour or day when the Judgment comes is hidden from man; if the second, it means that the fact of the Judgment to come is made known, that man may remember and take warning. I think that both meanings are implied, as is the case in mystic interpretation.

2547. Moses had yet to meet the formidable opposition of the arrogant Pharaoh and his proud Egyptians, and latter, the rebellion of his own people. In receiving his commission, he is warned of both dangers. The mystic meaning relates to man's own soul: when once the light reaches him let him hold fast to it, lest he perish. He will be beset with dangers of all kinds around him: the worst will be the danger of unbelieving people who seem to thrive on their selfishness and in following their own vain desires!

2548. Now comes the miracle of the rod. The rod itself has a manifold mystic meaning. First of all, the attention of Moses himself is drawn to it, and he thinks of the ordinary uses to which he puts it in his daily life.

2549. Cf. vii. 107, where a different word (thu'ban is used for 'snake', and the qualifying adjective is "plain (for all to see)". The scene there is before Pharaoh and his magicians and people: the object is to show the hollowness of their magic by a miracle: the rod appears before them as a long and creeping, writhing serpent. Here there is a symbol to present God's Mystery to Moses's mind and understanding: the rod becomes a Hayi (a live snake), and its active motion is what is most to be impressed on the mind of Moses, for there were no other spectators. So the highest spiritual mysteries can be grasped, with God's gift of insight, from the most ordinary things of daily use. Once they are grasped, there is no question of fear. They really are the virtues of this life lifted up to the glorious spiritual plane.

21. (God) said, "Seize it,
And fear not: We
Shall return it at once
To its former condition"...
22. "Now draw thy hand <sup>2550</sup>
Close to thy side:
It shall come forth white
(And shining), without harm
(Or stain),—as another Sign,—
23. "In order that We
May show thee
(Two) of our Greater Signs.
24. "Go thou to Pharaoh, <sup>2551</sup>
For he has indeed
Transgressed all bounds."

SECTION 2.

25. (Moses) said: "O my Lord!
Expand me my breast; <sup>2552</sup>
26. "Ease my task for me;
27. "And remove the impediment <sup>2553</sup>
From my speech,
28. "So they may understand
What I say:

٢١- قَالَ خُذْهَا وَلَا تَخَفْ ۗ
سَنُعِيدُهَا سِيرَتَهَا الْأُولَى ۝

٢٢- وَأَضْمِرْ يَدَكَ إِلَى جَنَاحِكَ تَخْرُجُ
بَيَاضًا مِنْ غَيْرِ سَوْءٍ آيَةٍ أُخْرَى ۝

٢٣- لِنُرِيكَ مِنْ آيَاتِنَا الْكُبْرَى ۝

٢٤- إِذْ هَبْ إِلَى فِرْعَوْنَ إِنَّهُ طَغَى ۝

٢٥- قَالَ رَبِّ اشْرَحْ لِي صَدْرِي ۝

٢٦- وَيَسِّرْ لِي أَمْرِي ۝

٢٧- وَأَخْلِلْ لِي لِسَانِي ۝

٢٨- يَفْقَهُوا قَوْلِي ۝

2550. The second of the greater Miracles shown to Moses was the "White (shining) Hand". Ordinarily, when the skin becomes white, it is a sign of disease, leprosy or something loathsome. Here there was no question of disease: on the contrary, the hand was glorified, and it shone as with a divine light. Such a miracle was beyond Egyptian or human magic. So, the instruments of our activity in daily life may be sanctified by being pressed close to that side of us which is spiritual: then they become bright and shining instruments for the carrying out of the divine Will. Or perhaps pressing the hand close to the side may be a metaphor for casting off fear: a bird when agitated shakes its wings about, but presses them close to its body when it sits composed. Cf. xxviii. 32.

2551. Moses, having been spiritually prepared, now gets his definite commission to go to Pharaoh and point out the error of his ways. So inordinate was Pharaoh's vanity that he had it in his mind to say: "I am your Lord Most High!" (lxxix. 24).

2552. The breast is reputed to be the seat of knowledge and affections. The gift of the highest spiritual insight is what he prays for first. Cf. xciv. 1. This was the most urgent in point of time. There are three other things he also asks for: viz. (1) God's help in his task, which at first appears difficult to him; (2) the gift of eloquence, and the removal of the impediment from his speech; and (3) the counsel and constant attendance with him of his brother Aaron, whom he loved and trusted, for he would otherwise be alone among the Egyptians.

2553. Literally, "Loosen a knot from my tongue".

29. "And give me a Minister
From my family,

30. "Aaron, my brother ;

31. "Add to my strength<sup>2554</sup>
Through him,

32. "And make him share
My task :

33. "That we may celebrate<sup>2555</sup>
Thy praise without stint,

34. "And remember Thee
Without stint :

35. "For Thou art He
That (ever) regardeth us."<sup>2556</sup>

36. (God) said : "Granted
Is thy prayer, O Moses !"

C. 144.—From his birth was Moses prepared for his task.

(xx. 37-76.) His mother received guidance, so that God's purpose might be fulfilled. Moses Was brought up in Pharaoh's palace and trained In all the learning of Egypt. Yet he drank The love of his people in his mother's milk. Adventures and trials he had, including His stay with the Midianites — until He was called to his double mission : to preach To Pharaoh and the Egyptians, and to free His own people. So he and Aaron went To Pharaoh, who rejected God and His Signs, But appointed a trial of strength between His magicians and Moses. Moses won ; And the Truth of God was accepted By some Egyptians, but not by Pharaoh.

2554. Literally, "Strengthen my back with him". A man's strength lies in his back and backbone so that he can stand erect and boldly face his tasks.

2555. The requests that Moses makes are inspired, not by earthly but by spiritual motives. The motive, expressed in the most general terms, is to glorify God, not in an occasional way, but systematically and continuously, "without stint." The clauses in this verse and the next, taken together, govern all the requests he makes, from verse 25 to verse 32.

2556. The celebration of God's praise and remembrance is one form of showing gratitude on the part of Moses for the Grace which God has bestowed upon him.

37. “ And indeed We conferred
A favour on thee
Another time (before).

38. “ Behold! We sent <sup>2557</sup>
To thy mother, by inspiration,
The message :

39. “ “ Throw (the child)
Into the chest, and throw
(The chest) into the river :
The river will cast him
Up on the bank, and he
Will be taken up by one
Who is an enemy to Me
And an enemy to him ’ : <sup>2558</sup>
But I cast (the garment
Of) love over thee from Me : <sup>2559</sup>
And (this) in order that
Thou mayest be reared
Under Mine eye. <sup>2560</sup>

40. “ Behold! thy sister goeth forth
And saith, ‘ Shall I show you

٣٧- وَلَقَدْ مَنَّا عَلَيْكَ مَرَّةً أُخْرَى ۝

٣٨- إِذْ أَوْحَيْنَا إِلَىٰ أُمِّكَ مَا يُوحَىٰ ۝

٣٩- أَنْ أَقْدِفِيهِ فِي التَّابُوتِ
فَأَقْدِفِيهِ فِي الْيَمِّ
فَلْيُلْقِهِ الْيَمُّ بِالسَّاحِلِ
يَأْخُذْهُ عَدُوٌّ لِي وَعَدُوٌّ لَهُ
وَأَلْقَيْتُ عَلَيْكَ مَحَبَّةً مِنِّي هَٰ
وَلِيُتَّصَنَعَ عَلَيَّ عَيْنِي ۝

٤٠- إِذْ تَسْتَشِي أَخْتُكَ فَتَقُولُ هَلْ أَدُلُّكُمْ

2557. The story is not told, but only those salient points recapitulated which bear on the spiritual upbringing and work of Moses. Long after the age of Joseph, who had been a Wazir to one of the Pharaohs, there came on the throne of Egypt a Pharaoh who hated the Israelites and wanted them annihilated. He ordered Israelite male children to be killed when they were born. Moses's mother hid him for a time, but when further concealment was impossible, a thought came into her mind that she should put her child into a chest and send the chest floating down the Nile. This was not merely a foolish fancy of hers. It was God's Plan to bring up Moses in all the learning of the Egyptians, in order that that learning itself should be used to expose what was wrong in it and to advance the glory of God. The chest was floated into the river Nile. It flowed on into a stream that passed through Pharaoh's Garden. It was picked up by Pharaoh's people and the child was adopted by Pharaoh's wife. See xxviii. 4-13.

2558. Pharaoh was an enemy to God, because he was puffed up and he blasphemed, claiming to be God himself. He was an enemy to the child Moses, because he hated the Israelites and wanted to have their male children killed; also because Moses stood for God's revelation to come.

2559. God made the child comely and lovable, and he attracted the love of the very people who, on general grounds, would have killed him.

2560. See n. 2558 above. By making the child Moses so attractive as to be adopted into Pharaoh's household, not only was Moses brought up in the best way possible from an earthly point of view, but God's special Providence looked after him in bringing his mother to him, as stated in the next verse, and thus nourishing him on his mother's milk and keeping him in touch, in his inner growth, with the feelings and sentiments of his people Israel.

One who will nurse
 And rear the (child) ? <sup>2561</sup>
 So We brought thee back
 To thy mother, that her eye <sup>2562</sup>
 Might be cooled and she
 Should not grieve.
 Then thou didst slay <sup>2563</sup>
 A man, but We saved thee
 From trouble, and We tried
 Thee in various ways.
 Then didst thou tarry
 A number of years
 With the people of Midian. <sup>2564</sup>
 Then didst thou come hither
 As ordained, O Moses !

41. " And I have prepared thee
 For Myself (for service) "...

42. " So, thou and thy brother, <sup>2565</sup>
 With My Signs,

 فَرَجَعْنَاكَ إِلَىٰ أُمِّكَ
 كَيْ تَقَرَّ عَيْنُهَا وَلَا تَحْزَنَ ۗ
 وَقَتَلْتَ نَفْسًا فَرَجَّيْنَاكَ
 مِنَ الْغَمِّ وَفَتَنَّاكَ فُتُونًا ۗ
 فَلَبِثْتَ سِنِينَ فِي أَهْلِ مَدْيَنَ ۗ
 ثُمَّ جِئْتَ عَلَىٰ قَدَرٍ يَا مُوسَىٰ ۝

۴۱- وَأَصْطَنَعْتُكَ لِنَفْسِي ۝

۴۲- إِذْ هَبَّ أَنْتَ وَأَخُوكَ بِآيَاتِي

2561. We may suppose that the anxious mother, after the child was floated on the water, sent the child's sister to follow the chest from the bank and see where and by whom it was picked up. When it was picked up by Pharaoh's own family and they seemed to love the child, she appeared like a stranger before them, and said, "Shall I search out a good wet-nurse for the child, that she may rear the child you are going to adopt?" That was exactly what they wanted. She ran home and told her mother. The mother was delighted to come and fold the infant in her arms again and feed it at her own breast, and all openly and without any concealment.

2562. The mother's eyes had, we may imagine, been sore with scalding tears at the separation from her baby. Now they were cooled : a phrase meaning that her heart was comforted.

2563. Years passed. The child grew up. In outward learning he was of the house of Pharaoh. In his inner soul and sympathy he was of Israel. One day, he went to the Israelite colony and saw all the Egyptian oppression under which Israel laboured. He saw an Egyptian smiting an Israelite, apparently with impunity. Moses felt brotherly sympathy and smote the Egyptian. He did not intend to kill him, but in fact the Egyptian died of the blow. When this became known, his position in Pharaoh's household became impossible. So he fled out of Egypt, and was only saved by God's grace. He fled to the Sinai Peninsula, to the land of the Midianites, and had various adventures. He married one of the daughters of the Midianite chief, and lived with the Medianites for many years, as an Egyptian stranger. He had many trials and temptations, but he retained his integrity of character.

2564. See last note. After many years spent in a quiet life, grazing his father-in-law's flocks, he came one day to the valley of Ṭuwā underneath the great mountain mass of Sinai, called Ṭūr (in Arabic). The peak on the Arabian side (where Moses was) was called Horeb by the Hebrews. Then was fulfilled God's Plan : he saw the fire in the distance, and when he went up, he was addressed by God and chosen to be God's Messenger for that age.

2565. We may suppose that Moses had fled alone to the land of Midian, and that he had now come alone (with his family but not with his brother) to Ṭuwā, as described in n. 2542 above. When he was honoured with his mission, and was granted his request that his brother Aaron should accompany him, we may suppose that he took steps to get Aaron to come to him, and their meeting was in Ṭuwā. Some time may be supposed to have elapsed before they were in Egypt, and then they prayed, and received these directions in their Egyptian home.

Aaron was either an elder or a younger brother,—we are not told which. In either case he was born when the ban on Israelite new-born babes was not in operation. Moses had been out of touch with him, and it speaks greatly for his family affection that he remembered him and prayed for his comradeship in the most serious spiritual work of his life.

And slacken not,
 Either of you, in keeping
 Me in remembrance.

43. "Go, both of you, to Pharaoh,<sup>2566</sup>
 For he has indeed
 Transgressed all bounds ;<sup>2567</sup>

44. "But speak to him mildly ;
 Perchance he may take
 Warning or fear (God)."<sup>2568</sup>

45. They (Moses and Aaron) said :
 "Our Lord ! We fear lest
 He hasten with insolence<sup>2569</sup>
 Against us, or lest he Transgress all bounds."

46. He said : "Fear not :
 For I am with you :
 I hear and see (everything).

47. "So go ye both to him,
 And say, 'Verily we are
 Apostles sent by thy Lord :
 Send forth, therefore, the Children
 Of Israel with us, and
 Afflict them not :<sup>2570</sup>
 With a Sign, indeed,
 Have we come from thy Lord !

2566. Their mission was in the first instance to Pharaoh and to the Egyptians, and then to lead Israel out of Egypt.

2567. Compare the same phrase in xx. 24. Having glanced at the early life of Moses we come back now to the time when Moses's actual ministry begins. The earlier personal story of Moses is rounded off.

2568. So far Pharaoh in his inordinate vanity had forgotten himself and forgotten how small a creature he was before God. This was to be brought to his recollection, so that he might perhaps repent and believe, or at least be deterred by fear from "transgressing all bounds". Some men eschew wrong from sincere love of God and understanding of their fellow-men, and some (of coarser minds) from the fear of consequences. Even the latter conduct may be a step to the former.

2569. They were now in Egypt (see n. 2565 above) and therefore in the power of the Pharaoh. The local atmosphere called for the greatest courage and firmness on their part to carry out the dangerous mission which had been entrusted to them.

2570. The Children of Israel were subjected to all sorts of oppression and indignities. They were given hard tasks ; their leaders were unjustly beaten ; they were forced to make bricks without straw ; and they "groaned in bondage" (Exod. v. 6-19, vi. 5).

And Peace to all
Who follow guidance ! <sup>2571</sup>

48. " Verily it has been revealed
To us that the Penalty
(Awaits) those who reject
And turn away.' "

49. ( When this message was delivered),
(Pharaoh) said : " Who, then,
O Moses, is the Lord <sup>2572</sup>
Of you two ? "

50. He said : " Our Lord is
He Who gave to each
(Created) thing its form
And nature, and further,
Gave (it) guidance. " <sup>2573</sup>

51. (Pharaoh) said : " What then
Is the condition

2571. God, in His infinite Mercy, always offers Peace to the most hardened sinners, even those who are warring against Him. But, as stated in the next verse, their defiance cannot go on with impunity indefinitely. The punishment must inevitably come for sin, whether the sinner is great or small.

2572. Notice how subtly Pharaoh rejects the implication in Moses's speech, in which Moses had referred to "thy Lord" (verse 47). Pharaoh implicitly repudiates the suggestion that the God who had sent Moses and Aaron could possibly be Pharaoh's Lord. He asks insolently, "Who is this Lord of yours, of Whom ye speak as having sent you?"

2573. The answer of Moses is straightforward, dignified, and illuminating. He will not dispute about "my Lord" or "your Lord," the God of Israel, or the God of Egypt. He and his brother were proud to serve "our Lord," but He was the universal Lord and Cherisher, the One and Only God, Who had created all beings and all things. It was from Him that each created thing derived its form and nature, including such free-will and power as man had got. He, Pharaoh, was subject to the same condition. In order that the free-will should be rightly exercised, God had given guidance through His Messengers, and His Signs. Moses and Aaron stood as such Messengers, with such Signs. Will Pharaoh now understand and do right?

2574. But Pharaoh was not the man to accept teaching from the despised Israelite—one, too, who in his eyes was a renegade from the higher Egyptian civilisation. "If," he says in effect, "there is only one God, to Whom all things are referred, this is a new religion. What of the religion of our ancestors? Were they wrong in worshipping the Egyptian gods? And if they were wrong, are they in misery now?" He wanted to trap Moses into a scathing denunciation of his ancestors, which would at once have deprived him of the sympathy or the hearing of the Egyptian crowd.

52. He replied : " The knowledge
Of that is with my Lord,<sup>2575</sup>
Duly recorded : my Lord
Never errs, nor forgets,—
53. " He Who has made for you

٥٦- وَلَقَدْ آرَيْنَاهُ آيَاتِنَا كُلَّهَا
فَكَذَّبَ وَابْتَدَى ۝

2575. Moses did not fall into the trap. He remembered the injunction given to him to speak mildly (xx. 44). He speaks mildly, but does not in any way whittle down the truth. He said in effect: 'God's knowledge is perfect, as if, with men, it were a record. For men may make mistakes or may not remember, but God never mistakes and never forgets. But God is not only All-Knowing: He is also All-Good. Look around you: the whole earth is spread out like a carpet. Men go to and fro in it freely. He sends abundance of water from the skies, which comes down in Nile floods and fertilises the whole soil of Egypt, and feeds men and animals.'

2576. Sabīl means not only a road, but would include water-roads or channels, and in modern conditions, airways—in fact all means of communication.

2577. This seems to be outside the speech of Moses, and connects itself with the following verses 54-56, as part of the Word of God, expanding the speech of Moses and explaining the working of God's Providence in nature.

2578. Azwāj: we might translate here (as in xv. 88) by "classes" instead of "pairs"; but as sex in plants seems to be referred to elsewhere (see xiii. 3, and n. 1804), I translate "pairs".

2579. This verse ought really to go into the last Section.

2580. This is a sort of general introduction to the spiritual combat between Moses and Pharaoh. The Signs are not only the countering of the fraudulent magic of Egypt with real miracles, but the subsequent Plagues (not mentioned here) and the Crossing of the Red Sea by Israel.

57. He said: "Hast thou come
To drive us out
Of our land with thy magic,<sup>2581</sup>
O Moses?

٥٧- قَالَ اِحْتَدْنَا لِتُخْرِجَنَا
مِنْ اَرْضِنَا بِسِحْرِكَ يَا مُوسَى

58. "But we can surely produce
Magic to match thine!
So make a tryst
Between us and thee,
Which we shall not fail
To keep—neither we nor thou—
In a place where both
Shall have even chances."<sup>2582</sup>

٥٨- فَلَمَّا اتَيْنَكَ بِسِحْرٍ مِثْلِهِ
فَاَجْعَلْ بَيْنَنَا وَبَيْنَكَ مَوْعِدًا
لَّا نُخْلِفُهُ نَحْنُ
وَلَا اَنْتَ مَكَانًا سَوِيًّا

59. Moses said: "Your tryst
Is the Day of the Festival,<sup>2583</sup>
And let the people be assembled
When the sun is well up."

٥٩- قَالَ مَوْعِدُكُمْ يَوْمَ الزَّيْنَةِ
وَإِنَّ يُجْشِرُ النَّاسُ ضَحْيًا

60. So Pharaoh withdrew:
He concerted his plan,<sup>2584</sup>
And then came (back).

٦٠- فَتَوَلَّى فِرْعَوْنُ فَجَمَعَ كَيْدَهُ
ثُمَّ أَتَى

61. Moses said to him:
Woe to you! Forge not
Ye a lie against God,
Lest He destroy you (at once)

٦١- قَالَ لَهُمْ مُوسَى وَيْلَكُمْ لَا تَفْتَرُوا
عَلَى اللَّهِ كَذِبًا فَيُسْحِتَكُمْ

2581. The Egyptians accused Moses of a design to deprive them of their land, and of exercising black magic. Both charges were palpably false. What Moses wanted to do was to free his people from bondage. The Egyptians had all the power in their possession; they wished to use the Israelites as untouchable helots; and any one who wanted to mitigate this injustice was branded as a dreadful person who wished to deprive them of their lawful rights. As to magic, the Egyptians judged Moses by themselves. They practised sorcery to deceive the people. They accused the man of God of doing the same, though both his outlook and the source of his strength were altogether different.

2582. Suwan: literally, 'equal, even'. It has been construed to mean: (1) a place equally distant for both sides, a central place, or (2) equally convenient to both sides, or (3) an open level plain, where the people can collect with ease. All these are possible meanings, but the one I have adopted is more comprehensive, and includes the others, viz: (4) a place where both sides shall have even chances, "a fair place," as Palmer laconically translates it.

2584. Pharaoh was apparently taken aback at Moses appointing a solemn day of public Festival, when there would be a large concourse and there would be sure to be some people not in the Court clique, who might be critical of Pharaoh's own sorcerers. But probably there was something more in their dark counsels, something unfair and wicked, to which Moses refers in his speech in the next verse.

Utterly by chastisement :
The forger must suffer <sup>2585</sup>
Frustration!"

62. So they disputed, one with
Another, over their affair,
But they kept their talk secret. <sup>2586</sup>
63. They said: " These two
Are certainly (expert) magicians:
Their object is to drive you
Out from your land
With their magic, and
To do away with your
Most cherished institutions. <sup>2587</sup>
64. " Therefore concert your plan,
And then assemble
In (serried) ranks:
He wins (all along) to-day
Who gains the upper hand " <sup>2588</sup>
65. They said: " O Moses!
Whether wilt thou
That thou throw (first)
Or that we be the first
To throw? "
66. He said, " Nay, throw ye
First! " Then behold

2585. Moses had some idea of their trickery and deceit. They would palm off their fraudulent magic as coming from God or from their gods! He warns them that their tricks will stand exposed, and their hopes will be defeated.

2586. They knew that they had here to deal with no ordinary man, but a man with powers above what they could conceive of. But evil always thinks evil. Judging Moses and Aaron by their own standards, they thought that these two were also tricksters, with some tricks superior to their own. All they had to do was to stand together, and they must win. I construe xx. 63-64 to be their private talk among themselves, followed by their open challenge to Moses in xx. 65.

2587. Cf. xx. 104. 'Your most cherished institutions,' i.e. 'your ancestral and time-honoured religion and magic'. Muthlā, feminine of Amthal, most distinguished, honoured, cherished. Tariqat—way of life, institutions, conduct.

2588. Presumably Pharaoh was in this secret conference, and he promises the most lavish rewards to the magicians if they overcome Moses. See vii. 114. That—but I think more than that—is implied. That day was to be the crisis: if they won then, they would win all along, and Moses and his people would be crushed.

Their ropes and their rods—<sup>2589</sup>
 So it seemed to him
 On account of their magic—
 Began to be in lively motion!

حَبَالُهُمْ وَعَصِيُّهُمْ يُخَيَّلُ إِلَيْهِ
 مِنْ سِحْرِهِمْ أَنَّهَا تَسْعَى

67. So Moses conceived
 In his mind
 A (sort of) fear.<sup>2590</sup>

٦٧- فَأَوْجَسَ فِي نَفْسِهِ خِيفَةً مُوسَى

68. We said: "Fear not!
 For thou hast indeed
 The upper hand:

٦٨- قُلْنَا لَا تَخَفْ إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْأَعْلَى

69. "Throw that which is
 In thy right hand:
 Quickly will it swallow up
 That which they have faked
 What they have faked
 Is but a magician's trick:
 And the magician thrives not,
 (No matter) where he goes."<sup>2591</sup>

٦٩- وَأَلْقِ مَا فِي يَمِينِكَ
 تَلْقَفُ مَا صَنَعُوا إِنَّمَا صَنَعُوا كَيْدُ سِحْرٍ
 وَلَا يُفْلِحُ السَّاحِرُ حَيْثُ أَتَى

70. So the magicians were Thrown down to prostration:
 They said, "We believe
 In the Lord of Aaron and Moses"<sup>2592</sup>.

٧٠- فَأَلْقَى السَّحَرَةُ سُجُودًا
 قَالُوا آمَنَّا بِرَبِّ هَارُونَ وَمُوسَى

71. (Pharaoh) said: "Believe ye
 In Him before I give
 You permission? Surely
 This must be your leader,
 Who has taught you magic!<sup>2593</sup>
 Be sure I will cut off

٧١- قَالَ آمَنْتُمْ لَهُ قَبْلَ أَنْ أَدْنِ لَكُمْ
 إِلَّاهُ لَكَبِيرُكُمُ الَّذِي عَلَّمَكُمُ السِّحْرَ
 فَلَا تُقِطِعْنَ

2589. Their bag of tricks was so clever that it imposed upon all beholders. Their ropes and their rods were thrown, and seemed to move about like snakes. So realistic was the effect that even Moses felt the least bit of doubt in his own mind. He of course had no tricks, and he relied entirely on God.

2590. The concerted attack of evil is sometimes so well contrived from all points that falsehood appears and is acclaimed as the truth. The believer of truth is isolated, and a sort of moral dizziness creeps over his mind. But by God's grace Faith asserts itself, gives him confidence, and points out the specific truths which will dissipate and destroy the teeming brood of falsehood.

2591. The meaning may be either (1) that falsehood and trickery may have their day, but they cannot win everywhere, especially in the presence of Truth, or (2) that trickery and magic must come to an evil end.

2592. Cf. this passage with vii. 120-126 and the notes thereon.

2593. Pharaoh accuses his sorcerers who have been converted, of having been in league with Moses all the time, and in fact of having been led and taught by him! So arrogance and evil cannot conceive of God's worlds and worlds of beauty and truth beyond its own narrow vision! It is truly blind, and its very cleverness deludes it to wander far from the truth

Your hands and feet
On opposite sides, and I
Will have you crucified
On trunks of palm-trees :
So shall ye know for certain,
Which of us can give
The more severe and the more
Lasting Punishment !”

72. They said : “ Never shall we Regard thee as more than
The Clear Signs <sup>2594</sup> that have Come to us, or than
Him Who created us !
So decree whatever thou
Desirest to decree : for thou
Canst only decree (touching)
The life of this world. <sup>2595</sup>

73. “ For us, we have believed
In our Lord : may He
Forgive us our faults,
And the magic to which
Thou didst compel us : <sup>2596</sup>
For God is Best
And Most Abiding.”

2594. Clear Signs: the miracles, the personality of the Messengers of God, the logic of events as they unfolded themselves, and the light of inner conviction in their own conscience. There are in addition the Signs and Proofs of God in nature, which are referred to in many places, e.g., xx. 53-54.

2595. Thus was the first part of the mission of Moses—that to the Egyptians—fulfilled. See n. 1083 to vii. 126; also Appendix V, pp. 409-410.

2596. The magic, mummery, and deceptions which pertained to Egyptian Pagan religion became a creed, a State article of faith, to which all citizens were compelled to bow, and which its priests were compelled actively to practise. And Pharaoh was at the head of the whole system—the high priest or the supreme god. With justice, therefore, do the converted magicians lay the blame on Pharaoh, effectively negating Pharaoh's disingenuous charge that they had been in league with Moses.

These falsehoods and deceptions—combined in many cases with horrid cruelties, open and secret,—were common to many Pagan systems. Some of them have been investigated in detail in Sir John G. Frazer's Golden Bough.

2597. The verses xx. 74-76 are best construed as comments on the story of the converted Egyptians who had “purified themselves (from evil)”. But some construe them as a continuation of their speech.

C. 145.—The people of Israel were rescued from bondage
(xx. 77-104.) And led on their way to the Promised Land.
God's Grace gave them light and guidance, but they Rebelled under the leadership of one
Called the Sāmīrī : he melted the gold
Of their jewels and made an idol—a calf
For their worship—a thing without life or power.
Moses destroyed the idol, and cursed
The man who led the people astray.

SECTION 4.

77. We sent an inspiration<sup>2599</sup>
To Moses: "Travel by night
With My servants, and strike
A dry path for them
Through the sea, without fear
Of being overtaken (by Pharaoh)
And without (any other) fear."

٤٧- وَلَقَدْ أَوْحَيْنَا إِلَى مُوسَىٰ أَنِ اضْرِبْ
بِعَصَاكَ الْبَحْرَ يَئِسًا
لَا تَخَفْ وَرَاغِبًا ۝

78. Then Pharaoh pursued them
With his forces, but
The waters completely overwhelmed
Them and covered them up.

٤٨- فَأَتْبَعَهُمْ فِرْعَوْنُ بِجُنُودِهِ
فَغَشِيَ لَهُمُ مِنَ الْيَمِّ مَا غَشِيَ لَهُمْ ۝

79. Pharaoh led his people astray
Instead of leading them aright.<sup>2600</sup>

٤٩- وَأَضَلَّ فِرْعَوْنُ قَوْمَهُ وَمَهْدَى ۝

2598. As the Egyptian magicians had done when they confessed the One True God.

2599. Time passes, and at last Moses is commanded to leave Egypt with his people by night. They were to cross the Red Sea into the Sinai Peninsula. They were told to have no fear of Pharaoh or of the sea or of the unknown desert country of Sinai into which they were going. They crossed dry-shod, while Pharaoh who came in pursuit with his troops was overwhelmed by the sea. He and his men all perished. There is no emphasis on this episode here. But the emphasis is laid on the hard task which Moses had with his own people after he had delivered them from the Egyptian bondage.

2600. It is the duty of kings and leaders to give the right lead to their people. Instead of that, the evil ones among them lead them astray and are the cause of the whole of the people perishing.

80. Q ye Children of Israel!
We delivered you from
Your enemy, and We
Made a Covenant with you
On the right side of <sup>2601</sup>
Mount (Sinai), and We sent Down to you Manna
And quails :

81. (Saying) : " Eat of the good <sup>2602</sup>
Things We have provided
For your sustenance, but
Commit no excess therein,
Lest My Wrath should justly
Descend on you : and those
On whom descends My Wrath
Do perish indeed ! <sup>2603</sup>

82. " But, without doubt, I am '
(Also) He that forgives
Again and again, to those
Who repent, believe,
And do right,—who,
In fine, are ready to receive
True guidance."

83. (When Moses was up on the Mount, <sup>2604</sup>
God said :) " What made thee
Hasten in advance of thy people,
O Moses ? "

84. He replied : " Behold, they are
Close on my footsteps :

٨٠-يَبْنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ قَدْ أَنْجَيْنَاكُمْ مِنْ
عَدُوِّكُمْ وَوَعَدْنَاكُمْ
بِجَانِبِ الطُّورِ الْأَيْمَنِ
وَنَزَّلْنَا عَلَيْكُمُ الْمَنَّاءَ وَالسَّلْوَى

٨١-كُلُوا مِنْ طَيِّبَاتِ
مَا رَزَقْنَاكُمْ وَلَا تَطْغَوْا فِيهِ
فَيَحِلَّ عَلَيْكُمْ غَضَبِي
وَمَنْ يُحِلَّ عَلَيْهِ غَضَبِي فَقَدْ هَوَى

٨٢-وَإِنِّي لَغَفَّارٌ
لِمَنْ تَابَ وَآمَنَ
وَعَمِلَ صَالِحًا ثُمَّ اهْتَدَى

٨٣-وَمَا أَعْجَلَكَ
عَنْ قَوْمِكَ يَمُوسَى

٨٤-قَالَ هُمْ أَوْلَاءُ عَلَى أَثَرِي

2601. Right side : Cf. xix. 52, and n. 2504, towards the end. The Arabian side of Sinai (Jabal Mūsa) was the place where Moses first received his commission before going to Egypt, and also where he received the Law after the Exodus from Egypt.

2602. Cf. ii. 57 and n. 71 ; and vii. 160. I should like to construe this not only literally but also metaphorically. ' God has looked after you and saved you. He has given you ethical and spiritual guidance. Enjoy the fruits of all this, but do not become puffed up and rebellious (another meaning in the root ṭagā) ; otherwise the Wrath of God is sure to descend on you.'

2603. This gives the key-note to Moses's constant tussle with his own people, and introduces immediately afterwards the incident of the golden calf.

2604. This was when Moses was up on the Mount for forty days and forty nights : ii. 51, and n. 66. Moses had left the elders of Israel with Aaron behind him : Exod. xxiv. 14. While he was in a state of ecstatic honour on the Mount, his people were enacting strange scenes down below. They were tested and tried, and they failed in the trial. They made a golden-image of a calf for worship, as described below. See also vii. 148-150 and notes.

I hastened to Thee,
O my Lord,
To please Thee."

85. (God) said: "We have tested
Thy people in thy absence:
The Sāmīri has led them<sup>2605</sup>
Astray."
86. So Moses returned to his people
In a state of indignation
And sorrow. He said:
"O my people! did not
Your Lord make a handsome<sup>2606</sup>
Promise to you? Did then
The promise seem to you
Long (in coming)? Or did ye
Desire that Wrath should
Descend from your Lord on you,
And so ye broke your promise
To me?"
87. They said: "We broke not
The promise to thee, as far
As lay in our power:
But we were made to carry<sup>2607</sup>
The weight of the ornaments
Of the (whole) people, and we

وَعَجَلْتُ إِلَيْكَ رَبِّ لِتَرْضَىٰ

٨٥- قَالَ قَاتَا قَدْ قَتَبْنَا قَوْمَكَ مِنْ بَعْدِكَ
وَاضْلَهُمُ السَّامِرِيُّ

٨٦- فَرَجَعَ مُوسَىٰ إِلَىٰ قَوْمِهِ غَضْبَانَ
أَسْفَاهًا قَالَ يُقَوْمِ أَلَمْ
يَعِدْكُمْ رَبُّكُمْ وَعَدًّا حَسَنًا
أَفَطَالَ عَلَيْكُمُ الْعَهْدُ أَمْ
أَرَدْتُمْ أَنْ يَحِلَّ عَلَيْكُمْ غَضَبٌ مِّنْ
رَّبِّكُمْ فَأَخْلَفْتُم مَّوْعِدِي

٨٧- قَالُوا مَا أَخْلَفْنَا مَوْعِدَكَ بِمَلِكِنَا
وَلَكِنَّا حَمَلْنَا
أَوْزَارًا مِّنْ زِينَةِ الْقَوْمِ

2605. Who was this Sāmīri? If it was his personal name, it was sufficiently near the meaning of the original root-word to have the definite article attached to it: Cf. the name of the Khalifa Mu'tasim (Al-Mu'tasim). What was the root for "Sāmīri"? If we look to old Egyptian, we have Shemer—A stranger, foreigner (Sir E. A. Wallis Budge's Egyptian Hieroglyphic Dictionary, 1920, p. 815 b). As the Israelites had just left Egypt, they might quite well have among them an Egyptianised Hebrew bearing that nickname. That the name Shemer was subsequently not unknown among the Hebrews is clear from the Old Testament. In I Kings, xvi. 24 we read that Omri, king of Israel, the northern portion of the divided kingdom, who reigned about 903-896 B.C., built a new city, Samaria, on a hill which he bought from Shemer, the owner of the hill, for two talents of silver. See also Renan: History of Israel, ii. 210. For a further discussion of the word, see n. 2608 below.

2606. There are two promises referred to in this verse, the promise of God and the promise of the people of Israel. They form one Covenant, which was entered into through their leader Moses. See xx. 80, and ii. 63, n. 78. God's promise was to protect them and lead them to the Promised Land, and their promise was to obey God's Law and His commandments.

2607. Cf. Exod. xii. 35-36: the Israelites, before they left Egypt, borrowed from the Egyptians "jewels of silver and jewels of gold, and raiment"; and "they spoiled the Egyptians" i.e., stripped them of all their valuable jewellery. Note that the answer of the backsliders is disingenuous in various ways. (1) The Sāmīri was no doubt responsible for suggesting the making of the golden calf, but they could not on that account disclaim responsibility for themselves: the burden of the sin is on him who commits it, and he cannot pretend that he was powerless to avoid it. (2) At most the weight of the gold they carried could not have been heavy even if one or two men carried it, but would have been negligible if distributed. (3) Gold is valuable, and it is not likely that if they wanted to disburden themselves of it, they had any need to light a furnace, melt it, and cast it into the shape of a calf.

Threw them (into the fire),
And that was what
The Sāmīri suggested.<sup>2608</sup>

88. "Then he brought out
(Of the fire) before the (people)
The image of a calf:<sup>2609</sup>
It seemed to low:<sup>2610</sup>
So they said: 'This is
Your god, and the god
Of Moses, but (Moses)
Has forgotten!' "<sup>2611</sup>

89. Could they not see that
It could not return them
A word (for answer), and that
It had no power either
To harm them or
To do them good?<sup>2612</sup>

SECTION 5.

90. Aaron had already, before this
Said to them: "O my people!
Ye are being tested in this:<sup>2613</sup>
For verily your Lord is (God)
Most Gracious: so follow me
And obey my command."<sup>2614</sup>

٨٨- فَأَخْرَجَ لَهُمْ

وَاللَّهُ مُوسَىٰ فَتَسَىٰ ۝

٨٩- أَفَلَا يَرَوْنَ إِلَّا يَرْجِعُ إِلَيْهِمْ قَوْلًا
وَلَا يَمْلِكُ لَهُمْ
ضَرًّا وَلَا نَفْعًا ۝

٩٠- وَلَقَدْ قَالَ لَهُمْ هَارُونُ مِنْ قَبْلُ
يَقُومُوا إِنَّمَا فَتَنَّتُمْ بِهِ ۚ وَإِنَّ رَبَّكُمُ
الرَّحْمَنُ فَاتَّبِعُونِي وَأَطِيعُوا أَمْرِي ۝

2608. See n. 2605 about the Sāmīri. If the Egyptian origin of the root is not accepted, we have a Hebrew origin in "Shomer" a guard, watchman, sentinel; allied to the Arabic Samara, yasmuru, to keep awake by night, to converse by night; samīr, one who keeps awake by night. The Sāmīri may have been a watchman, in fact or by nickname.

2609. See n. 1113 to vii. 148, where the same words are used and explained.

2610. See n. 1114 to vii. 148.

2611. Moses has forgotten: i.e., 'forgotten both us and his god. He has been gone for so many days. He is searching for a god on the Mount when his god is really here!' This is spoken by the Sāmīri and his partisans, but the people as a whole accepted it, and it therefore becomes their speech.

2612. This is a parenthetical comment. How blind the people were! They had seen Signs of the true living God, and yet they were willing to worship this dead image! The true living God had spoken in definite words of command, while this calf could only emit some sounds of lowing, which were themselves contrived by the fraud of the priests. This image could do neither good nor harm, while God was the Cherisher and Sustainer of the Universe, Whose Mercy was unbounded and Whose Wrath was terrible.

2613. "Resist this temptation: you are being tested in this. Do not follow after the semi-Egyptian Sāmīri, but obey me."

2614. The Bible story makes Aaron the culprit, which is inconsistent with his office as the high priest of God and the right hand of Moses. See n. 1116 to vii. 150. Our version is more consistent, and explains in the Sāmīri the lingering influences of the Egyptian cult of Osiris the bull-god.

91. They had said : <sup>2615</sup> " We will not Abandon this cult, but we
Will devote ourselves to it
Until Moses returns to us. " <sup>2616</sup>

٩١- قَالُوا لَنْ نَبْرَحَ عَلَيْهِ عَظِيمِينَ
حَتَّى يَرْجِعَ إِلَيْنَا مُوسَى ○

92. (Moses) said : " O Aaron!

Then disobey my order? " <sup>2617</sup>

٩٣- أَلَا تَتَّبِعُنَّ أَنْعَمَيْتَ أَمْرِي ○

94. (Aaron) replied : " O son
Of my mother! Seize (me) not
By my beard nor by
(The hair of) my head! <sup>2618</sup>
Truly I feared lest thou
Shouldst say, ' Thou hast caused
A division among the Children
Of Israel, and thou didst not
Respect my word ! ' " <sup>2619</sup>

٩٤- قَالَ يَبْنَؤُمَّ لَا تَأْخُذْ
بِلِحْيَتِي وَلَا بِرَأْسِي
إِنِّي خَشِيتُ أَنْ تَقُولَ
فَرَّقْتَ بَيْنَ بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ
وَلَمْ تَرْقُبْ قَوْلِي ○

95. (Moses) said : " What then
Is thy case, O Sāmari? " <sup>2620</sup>

٩٥- قَالَ فَمَا خَطْبُكَ يَا سَامِرِيُّ ○

96. He replied : " I saw what
They saw not : so I took

٩٦- قَالَ بَصُرْتُ بِمَا لَمْ يَبْصُرُوا بِهِ فَقَبَضْتُ

2615. Obviously Aaron's speech in the last verse, and the rebels' defiance in this verse, were spoken before the return of Moses from the Mount.

2616. The rebels had so little faith that they had given Moses up for lost, and never expected to see him again.

2617. Moses, when he came back, was full of anger and grief. His speech to Aaron is one of rebuke, and he was also inclined to handle him roughly : see next verse. The order he refers to is that stated in vii. 142, " Act for me amongst my people : do right, and follow not the way of those who do mischief ".

2618. Cf. vii. 150.

2619. This reply of Aaron's is in no way inconsistent with the reply as noted in vii. 150. On the contrary there is a dramatic aptness in the different points emphasised on each occasion. In S. vii. we were discussing the Ummat of Israel, and Aaron rightly says, " The people did indeed reckon me as naught, and went near to slay me ! " In adding, " Let not the enemies rejoice over my misfortune " he is referring by implication to his brother's wish to maintain unity among the people. Here the unity is the chief point to emphasise : we are dealing with the Sāmiri as mischief-monger, and he could best be dealt with by Moses, who proceeds to do so.

2620. Moses now turns to the Sāmiri, and the Sāmiri's reply in the next verse sums up his character in a few wonderful strokes of character-painting. The lesson of the whole of this episode is the fall of a human soul that nominally comes to God's Truth in a humble position but makes mischief when and as it finds occasion. It is no less dangerous and culpable than the arrogant soul, typified by Pharaoh, which gets into high places and makes its leadership the cause of ruin to a whole nation

ظَلْتَ عَلَيْهِ عَاكِفًا
لَنُحَرِّقَنَّهُ ثُمَّ لَنَنْسِفَنَّهُ فِي الْيَمِّ نَسْفًا ۝

2621. This answer of the Sāmīri is a fine example of unblushing effrontery, careful evasion of issues, and invented falsehoods. He takes upon himself to pretend that he had far more insight than anybody else: he saw what the vulgar crowd did not see. He saw something supernatural. "The Apostle" is construed by many Commentators to mean the angel Gabriel. Rasūl (plural, rusul) is used in several places for "angels" e.g. in xi. 69, 77; xix 19; and xxxv. 1. But if we take it to mean the Apostle Moses, it means that the Sāmīri saw something sacred or supernatural in his footprints; perhaps he thinks a little flattery would make Moses forgive him. The dust became sacred, and his throwing it into the calf's image made the calf utter a lowing sound! As if that was the point at issue! He does not answer the charge of making an image for worship. But finally, with arrogant effrontery, he says, "Well, that is what my soul suggested to me, and that should be enough!"

2622. He and his kind were to become social lepers, untouchables; perhaps also sufficiently arrogant to hold others at arm's length, and say " Noli me tangere" (touch me not)

2623. Namely, the promised Wrath of God: see xx. 81; lxxxix. 25.

2624. The cast effigy was re-melted and destroyed. Thus ends the Sāmīri's story, of which the lessons are indicated in n. 2620 above. It may be interesting to pursue the transformations of the word Sāmīri in later times. For its origin see notes 2605 and 2608 above. Whether the root of Sāmīri was originally Egyptian or Hebrew does not affect the later history. Four facts may be noted. (1) There was a man bearing a name of that kind at the time of Moses, and he led a revolt against Moses and was cursed by Moses. (2) In the time of King Omri (903-896 B.C.) of the northern kingdom of Israel, there was a man called Shemer, from whom, according to the Bible, was bought a hill on which was built the new capital of the kingdom, the town of Samaria. (3) The name of the hill was Shomer (=watchman, vigilant guardian), and that form of the name also appears as the name of a man (see II Kings xii. 21); some authorities think the town was called after the hill and not after the man (Hastings's Encyclopædia of Religion and Ethics), but this is for our present purposes immaterial. (4) There was and is a dissenting community of Israelites called Samaritans, who have their own separate Pentateuch and Targum, who claim to be the true Children of Israel, and who hold the Orthodox Jews in contempt as the latter hold them in contempt; they claim to be the true guardians (Shomerim) of the Law, and that is probably the true origin of the name Samaritan, which may go further back in time than the foundation of the town of Samaria. I think it probable that the schism originated from the time of Moses, and that the curse of Moses on the Sāmīri explains the position.

98. But the God of you all
Is the One God: there is
No god but He: all things
He comprehends in His knowledge.
99. Thus do We relate to thee
Some stories of what happened
Before: for We have sent Thee a Message from
Our own Presence.<sup>2625</sup>
100. If any do turn away
Therefrom, verily they will Bear a burden
On the Day of Judgment;
101. They will abide in this (state):
And grievous will the burden<sup>2626</sup>
Be to them on that Day,—
102. The Day when the Trumpet
Will be sounded: that Day,
We shall gather the sinful,
Blear-eyed (with terror).<sup>2627</sup>
103. In whispers will they consult
Each other: "Ye tarried not Longer than ten (Days);"<sup>2628</sup>
104. We know best what they Will say, when their leader<sup>2629</sup>

۹۸- اِنَّمَا إِلَهُكُمُ اللَّهُ الَّذِي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا
هُوَ وَسِعَ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ عِلْمًا ۝

۹۹- كَذَلِكَ نَقُصُّ عَلَيْكَ مِنْ أَنْبَاءِ مَا
قَدْ سَبَقَ
وَقَدْ آتَيْنَكَ مِنْ لَدُنَّا ذِكْرًا ۝

۱۰۰- مَنْ أَعْرَضَ عَنْهُ فَإِنَّهُ
يَحْمِلُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وِزْرًا ۝

۱۰۱- خَالِدِينَ فِيهِ
وَسَاءَ لَهُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ حِمْلًا ۝

۱۰۲- يَوْمَ يُنْفَخُ فِي الصُّورِ
وَنُخْشِرُ الْبُجْرَمِينَ يَوْمِ بَدْرًا ۝

۱۰۳- يَتَنَفَّسُونَ بَيْنَهُمْ إِنْ لَبِثْتُمْ
إِلَّا عَشْرًا ۝

۱۰۴- نَحْنُ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا يَقُولُونَ إِذْ يَقُولُ أَمْثَلُهُمْ

2625. Thus superseding previous revelations; for this (the Qur-ān) is direct from God, and is not a second-hand exposition on other men's authority.

2626. Cf. vi. 31. If people are so immersed in the evanescent falsehoods of this life as to turn away from the True and the Eternal, they will have a rude awakening when the Judgment comes. These very things that they thought so enjoyable here—taking advantage of others, material self-indulgence, nursing grievances instead of doing good, etc., etc.—will be a grievous burden to them that day, which they will not be able to escape or lighten.

2627. Zurq = having eyes different from the normal colour, which in the East is black and white; having blue eyes, or eyes afflicted with dimness, or blindness, or squint; hence metaphorically, blear-eyed (with terror).

2628. Faced with eternity they will realise that their life on this earth, or the interval between their sin and their punishment, had a duration which practically amounted to nothing. They express this by the phrase "ten days", but their wiser heads think that even this is an over-estimate. It was but a brief day!

2629. Cf. xx. 63 and n. 2387. Note that it is the shrewdest and most versed in Life who will say this, because they will be the first to see the true situation.

Most eminent in Conduct
Will say: "Ye tarried not Longer than a day!"

كِرِيْقَةٌ اِنْ لَيْتُمْ اِلَّا يَوْمًا ۝

C. 14. —Such is the lure of Evil: but high
(xx. 105-135.) And low will be levelled on the Day
Of Judgment, before the Eternal, the Gracious,
The King, the Truth, who sends the Qur-ān
To teach and to warn. Will man remember
How Adam's arch-enemy, Satan, caused
His fall, and will he yet be blind
To the Signs of God? Nay,—but let
Not Evil make you impatient: the Prize
Of the Hereafter is better than aught
Of the glitter of this life: wait in Faith,
And the End will show the triumph
Of Truth, Godness, and Righteousness.

SECTION 6.

105. They ask thee concerning <sup>2630</sup>
The Mountains: say, "My Lord
Will uproot them and scatter
Them as dust; <sup>2631</sup>

۱۰۵-وَيَسْأَلُونَكَ عَنِ الْجِبَالِ فَقُلْ
يَنْسِفُهَا رَبِّي نَسْفًا ۝

106. "He will leave them as plains
Smooth and level;

۱۰۶-فَيَذَرُهَا قَاعًا صَفْصَفًا ۝

107. "Nothing crooked or curved
Wilt thou see in their place."

۱۰۷-لَا تَرَىٰ فِيهَا عِوَجًا وَلَا أَمْتًا ۝

108. On that Day will they follow
The Caller <sup>2632</sup> (straight): no
crookedness

۱۰۸-يَوْمَئِذٍ يَتَّبِعُونَ الدَّاعِيَ لَا عِوَجَ لَهُ ۝

2630. In the last verse, it was the deceptiveness and relativity of Time that was dealt with. Here we come to the question of space, solidity, bulk. The question was actually put to the holy Prophet: what will become of the solid Mountains, or in the English phrase, "the eternal hills"? They are no more substantial than anything else in this temporal world. When the "new world", (xiii. 5) of which Unbelievers doubted, is actually in being, the mountains will cease to exist. We can imagine the scene of judgment as a level plain, in which there are no ups and downs and no places of concealment. All is straight and level, without corners, mysteries, or lurking doubts.

2631. The one word nasafa carries the ideas of (1) tearing up by the roots, (2) scattering like chaff or dust, and (3) winnowing. Its twofold repetition here intensifies its meaning.

2632. The Caller: the angel whose voice will call and direct all souls. Gabriel will call, when Isrāfil has sounded the Trumpet.

(Can they show) him : all sounds <sup>2633</sup>
Shall humble themselves in
The Presence of (God) Most
Gracious :
Nothing shalt thou hear
But the tramp of their feet
(As they march).

وَحْشَعَتِ الْأَصْوَاتُ
لِلرَّحْمَنِ
فَلَا تَسْمَعُ
إِلَّا هَسًّا ○

109. On that Day shall no
Intercession avail
Except for those for whom <sup>2634</sup>
Permission has been granted
By (God) Most Gracious
And whose word is Acceptable to Him.

١٠٩-يَوْمَئِذٍ لَا تَنْفَعُ الشَّفَاعَةُ
إِلَّا مَنْ أِذِنَ لَهُ الرَّحْمَنُ
وَرَضِيَ لَهُ قَوْلًا ○

110. He knows what (appears
To His creatures as) before
Or after or behind them : <sup>2635</sup>
But they shall not compass it
With their knowledge.

١١٠-يَعْلَمُ مَا بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ
وَمَا خَلْفَهُمْ
وَلَا يُحِيطُونَ بِهِ عِلْمًا ○

111. (All) faces shall be humbled
Before (Him)—the Living,
The Self-Subsisting, Eternal :
Hopeless indeed will be
The man that carries
Iniquity (on his back). <sup>2636</sup>

١١١-وَعَنْتِ الْوُجُوهُ
لِلْحَيِّ الْقَيُّومِ
وَقَدْ خَابَ مَنْ حَمَلَ ظُلْمًا ○

2633. A beautiful personification of hushed Sound. First there is the loud blast of the Trumpet ; then there is the soft angelic Voice calling " Arise ". Then there is the stillness and hush of awe and reverence : only the tramp of the ranks marching along will be heard.

2634. Cf. ii. 255 in the Verse of the Throne. Here man is in the accusative case governed by tanfa'u, and it is better to construe as I have done. That is, intercession will benefit no one except those for whom God has granted permission, and whose word (of repentance) is true and sincere, and therefore acceptable to God. Others construe: no intercession will avail, except by those to whom God has granted permission, and whose word (of intercession) is acceptable to God. In that case the two distinct clauses have no distinct meanings.

2635. Cf. ii. 255 and n. 297. The slight difference in phraseology (which I have tried to preserve in the Translation) will be understood as a beauty when we reflect that here our attention is directed to the Day of Judgment, and in ii. 255 the wording is general, and applies to our present state also.

2636. The metaphor of the burden of sin which the unjust carry on their backs is referred to in xx. 100-101 (see n. 2626), in vi. 31, and in other passages. Note that all faces, those of the just as well as of the unjust, will be humble before God : the best of us can claim no merit equal to God's Grace. But the just will have Hope : while the unjust, now that the curtain of Reality has risen, will be in absolute Despair !

112. But he who works deeds
Of righteousness, and has faith,
Will have no fear of harm
Nor of any curtailment <sup>2637</sup>
(Of what is his due).

113. Thus have We sent this
Down—an Arabic Qur-ān—
And explained therein in detail
Some of the warnings,
In order that they may
Fear God, or that it may Cause their remembrance
(of Him). <sup>2638</sup>

114. High above all is God,
The King, the Truth!
Be not in haste
With the Qur-ān before
Its revelation to thee <sup>2639</sup>
Is completed, but say,
“O my Lord! advance me
In knowledge.”

115. We had already, beforehand, <sup>2640</sup>
Taken the covenant of Adam,

۱۱۲- وَمَنْ يَعْمَلْ مِنَ الصَّالِحَاتِ وَهُوَ
مُؤْمِنٌ

فَلَا يَخَفُ ظُلْمًا وَلَا هَضْمًا ۝

۱۱۳- وَكَذَلِكَ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ قُرْآنًا عَرَبِيًّا
وَصَرَّفْنَا فِيهِ مِنَ الْوَعِيدِ
لَعَلَّهُمْ يَتَّقُونَ

أَوْ يُحَدِّثُ لَهُمْ ذِكْرًا ۝

۱۱۴- فَتَعَالَى اللَّهُ الْمَلِكُ الْحَقُّ ۚ

وَلَا تَجْعَلْ بِالْقُرْآنِ مِنْ قَبْلِ

أَنْ يُفْطَى إِلَيْكَ وَحْيُهُ وَقُلْ

رَبِّ زِدْنِي عِلْمًا ۝

۱۱۵- وَلَقَدْ عَاهَدْنَا إِلَى آدَمَ مِنْ قَبْلُ

2637. See the last note. Unlike the unjust, the righteous, who have come with Faith, will now find their Faith justified; not only will they be free from any fear of harm, but they will be rewarded to the full, or, as has been said in other passages, where His bounty rather than His justice is emphasised, they will get more than their due reward (iii. 27; xxxix. 10).

2638. The Qur-ān is in clear Arabic, so that even an unlearned people like the Arabs might understand and profit by its warnings, and the rest of the world may learn through them, as they did in the first few centuries of Islam and may do again when we Muslims show ourselves worthy to explain and exemplify its meaning. The evil are warned that they may repent; the good are confirmed in their Faith and strengthened by their remembrance of Him.

2639. God is above every human event or desire. His purpose is universal. But He is the Truth, the absolute Truth; and His kingdom is the true kingdom, that can carry out its will. That Truth unfolds itself gradually, as it did in the gradual revelation of the Qur-ān to the holy Apostle. But even after it was completed in a volume, its true meaning and purpose only gradually unfold themselves to any given individual or nation. No one should be impatient about it. On the contrary, we should always pray for increase in our own knowledge, which can never at any given moment be complete.

2640. The spiritual fall of two individual souls, Pharaoh and the Sāmiri, having been referred to, the one through overweening arrogance, and the other through a spirit of mischief and false harking back to the past, our attention is now called to the prototype of Evil who tempted Adam, the original Man, and to the fact that though man was clearly warned that Evil is his enemy and will only effect his ruin, he showed so little firmness that he succumbed to it at once at the first opportunity.

But he forgot: and We found
On his part no firm resolve.

SECTION 7.

116. When We said to the angels,
"Prostrate yourselves to Adam",
They prostrated themselves, but

Iblis : he refused.

117. Then We said: "O Adam!
Verily, this is an enemy
To thee and thy wife:
So let him not get you
Both out of the Garden,
So that thou art landed
In misery."<sup>2641</sup>

118. "There is therein
(enough provision)
For thee not to go hungry<sup>2642</sup>
Nor to go naked,

119. "Nor to suffer from thirst,
Nor from the sun's heat."

120. But Satan whispered evil
To him: he said, "O Adam!

And to a kingdom
That never decays?"

١١٧- فَقُلْنَا يَا آدَمُ إِنَّ هَذَا عَدُوٌّ

١١٨- إِنَّ لَكَ أَلًا

١١٩- وَآتَاكَ لَا تَطْمَؤُنِيهَا وَلَا تَضْحَى ۝

١٢٠- فَوَسْوَسَ إِلَيْهِ الشَّيْطَانُ قَالَ يَا آدَمُ
هَلْ أَدُلُّكَ عَلَى شَجَرَةِ الْخُلْدِ
وَمُلْكٍ لَا يَبْئَلُ ۝

2641. See last note. The story is referred to, in order to draw attention to man's folly in rushing into the arms of Evil, though he had been clearly forewarned.

2642. Not only had the warning been given that Evil is an enemy to man and will effect his destruction, but it was clearly pointed out that all his needs were being met in the Garden of Happiness. Food and clothing, drink and shelter, were amply provided for. By these terms we must understand, if the Garden was a spiritual Garden, also spiritual good: the things that feed the soul and make it glad, that give it an æsthetic sense of beauty and afford it shelter from extremes of passion or emotion.

2643. The suggestion of the Evil One is clever, as it always is: it is false, and at the same time plausible. It is false, because (1) that felicity was not temporary, like the life of this world, and (2) they were supreme in the Garden, and a "kingdom" such as was dangled before them would only add to their sorrows. It was plausible, because (1) nothing had been said to them about Eternity, as the opposite of Eternity was not yet known, and (2) the sweets of Power arise from the savour of Self, and Self is an alluring (if false) attraction that misleads the Will.

121. In the result, they both
Ate of the tree, and so
Their nakedness appeared <sup>2644</sup>
To them: they began to sew
Together, for their covering,
Leaves from the Garden:
Thus did Adam disobey
His Lord, and allow himself <sup>2645</sup>
To be seduced.

122. But his Lord chose him
(For His Grace): He turned
To him, and gave him guidance.

123. He said: "Get ye down,
Both of you,—all together, <sup>2646</sup>
From the Garden, with enmity
One to another: but if,
As is sure, there comes to you
Guidance from Me, whosoever
Follows My guidance, will not Lose-his way, nor fall <sup>2647</sup>
Into misery.

124. "But whosoever turns away
From My Message, verily
For him is a life narrowed
Down, and We shall raise

۱۲۱- فَآكَلَا مِنْهَا
فَبَدَّتْ لَهُمَا سَوَاتُهُمَا
وَطَفَقَا يَخْصِفْنَ عَلَيْهِمَا مِنْ وُرُقِ
الْجَنَّةِ
وَعَصَىٰ آدَمُ رَبَّهُ فَغَوَىٰ ۝

۱۲۲- ثُمَّ اجْتَبَاهُ رَبُّهُ فَتَابَ
عَلَيْهِ وَهَدَىٰ ۝

۱۲۳- قَالَ اهْبِطَا مِنْهَا جَمِيعًا
بَعْضُكُمْ لِبَعْضٍ عَدُوٌّ
فَأَمَّا يَا تَيْتَكُم مِّمَّنِي هُدَىٰ ۙ
فَمَن اتَّبَعَ هُدَايَ
فَلَا يَضِلُّ وَلَا يَشْقَىٰ ۝

۱۲۴- وَمَنْ أَعْرَضَ عَن ذِكْرِي
فَإِنَّ لَهُ مَعِيشَةً ضَنْكًا وَنَحْشُرُهُ

2644. Hitherto they were clothed in the garb of Innocence and knew no evil. Now, when disobedience to God had sullied their soul and torn off the garment of their Innocence, their sullied Self appeared to themselves in all its nakedness and ugliness, and they had to resort to external things (leaves of the Garden) to cover the shame of their self-consciousness.

2645. Adam had been given the will to choose, and he chose wrong, and was about to be lost in the throng of the evil ones, when God's Grace came to his aid. His repentance was accepted, and God chose him for His Mercy, as stated in the next verse.

2646. The little variations between this passage and ii. 38 are instructive, as showing how clearly the particular argument is followed in each case. Here ihbiṣā ('get ye down') is in the dual number, and refers to the two individual souls, our common ancestors: in ii. 38 ihbiṣā is in the plural number, to include all mankind and Satan, for the argument is about the collective life of man. On the other hand, "all together" includes Satan, the spirit of evil, and the enmity "one to another" refers to the eternal feud between Man and Satan, between our better nature and Evil.

2647. For the same reason as in the last note, we have here the consequences of Guidance to the individual, viz.: being saved from going astray or from falling into misery and despair. In ii. 38, the consequences expressed, though they apply to the individual, are also appropriate taken collectively: "on them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve."

Him up blind on the Day<sup>2648</sup>
Of Judgment."

125. He will say: "O my Lord!
Why hast thou raised me
Up blind, while I had Sight (before)?"<sup>2649</sup>

126. (God) will say: "Thus
Didst thou, when Our Signs
Came unto thee, disregard
Them: so wilt thou,
This day, be disregarded."<sup>2650</sup>

127. And thus do We recompense
Him who transgresses beyond bounds
And believes not in the Signs
Of his Lord: and the Penalty
Of the Hereafter is far more
Grievous and more enduring.<sup>2651</sup>

128. Is it not a warning to such Men (to call to mind)
How many generations before them
We destroyed, in whose haunts
They (now) move? Verily,
In this are Signs for men
Endued with understanding.<sup>2652</sup>

يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ أَعْمَى

١٢٥- قَالَ رَبِّ لِمَ حَشَرْتَنِي

أَعْمَى وَقَدْ كُنْتُ بَصِيرًا

١٢٦- قَالَ كَذَلِكَ أَتَتْكَ آيَاتُنَا فَنَسِيْتَهَا

وَكَذَلِكَ الْيَوْمَ تُنْسَى

١٢٧- وَكَذَلِكَ نَجْزِي مَنْ أَسْرَفَ

وَلَمْ يُؤْمَرْ بِآيَاتِ رَبِّهِ

وَلَعَذَابُ الْآخِرَةِ أَشَدُّ وَأَبْقَى

١٢٨- أَقَلَّمْ بِهَذَا لَهُمْ

كَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا قَبْلَهُمْ مِنَ الْقُرُونِ

يَنْشُونَ فِي مَسَلِكِهِمْ

إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِّأُولِي النَّهْيِ

2648. Again, as in the last two verses, there is a variation from the previous passage (ii. 39). The consequences of the rejection of God's guidance are here expressed more individually: a life narrowed down, and a blindness that will persist beyond this life. "A life narrowed down" has many implications: (1) it is a life from which all the beneficent influences of God's wide world are excluded; (2) it is a life for Self, not for all; (3) in looking exclusively to the "good things" of this life, it misses the true Reality.

2649. Because God gave him physical sight in this life for trial, he thinks he should be favoured in the real world, the world that matters! He misused his physical sight and made himself blind for the other world.

2650. 'You were deliberately blind to God's Signs: now you will not see God's favours, and will be excluded from His Grace.'

2651. Blindness in the world of enduring Reality is far worse than physical blindness in the world of probation.

2652. Cf. xx. 54. This phrase concluded the argument of Moses with Pharaoh about Pharaoh's blindness to God and the Signs of God. Now it concludes the more general argument about men, concerning whom the saying arose: 'none are so blind as those who will not see.'

SECTION 8.

129. Had it not been
For a Word that went forth
Before from thy Lord,<sup>2653</sup>
(Their punishment) must necessarily
Have come; but there is
A term appointed (for respite).
130. Therefore be patient with what
They say, and celebrate
(constantly)<sup>2654</sup>
The praises of thy Lord,
Before the rising of the sun,
And before its setting;
Yea, celebrate them
For part of the hours
Of the night, and at the sides<sup>2655</sup>
Of the day: that thou
Mayest have (spiritual) joy.
131. Nor strain thine eyes in longing
For the things We have given
For enjoyment to parties
Of them, the splendour

١٢٩- وَلَوْ لَا كَلِمَةٌ سَبَقَتْ

١٣٠- فَاصْبِرْ عَلَىٰ مَا يَقُولُونَ وَسَبِّحْ
بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ
وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا
وَمِنْ أَنَاثَىٰ الْيَلِيلِ فَسَبِّحْ وَأَطْرَافَ النَّهَارِ
لَعَلَّكَ تَرْضَىٰ ۝

١٣١- وَلَا تَمُدَّنَّ عَيْنَيْكَ إِلَىٰ مَا مَتَّعْنَا بِهِ
أَزْوَاجًا مِنْهُمْ زَهْرَةً

2653. Cf. x. 19 and n. 1407: also xi. 110. In God's holy Plan and Purpose, there is a wise adjustment of all interests, and a merciful chance and respite given to all, the unjust as well as the just, and His decree or word abides. The most wicked have a term appointed them for respite. Had it not been so, the punishment must necessarily have descended on them immediately for their evil deeds.

2654. All good men must be patient with what seems to them evil around them. That does not mean that they should sit still and do nothing to destroy evil; for the fight against evil is one of the cardinal points in Islam. What they are told is that they must not be impatient: they must pray to God and commune with Him, so that their patience and faith may be strengthened, and they may be able the better to grapple with evil. For they thus not only get strength but inward spiritual joy.

2655. Ṭaraḥ, plural aṭrāḥ, may mean sides, ends, extremities. If the ḍay be compared to a tubular figure standing erect, the top and bottom are clearly marked, but the sides are not so clearly marked: they would be aṭrāḥ (plural), not ṭaraḥain (dual). Now the prayer before sunrise is clearly Fajr; that before sunset is 'Aṣr: "part of the hours of the night" would indicate Maḡrib (early night, just after sunset), and 'Ishā, before going to bed. There is left Zuhr, which is in the indefinite side or middle of the day: it may be soon after the sun's decline from noon, but there is considerable latitude about the precise hour. The majority of Commentators interpret in favour of the five Canonical prayers, and some include optional prayers. But I think the words are even more comprehensive. A good man's life is all one sweet Song of Praise to God.

Of the life of this world,
Through which We test them :
But the provision of thy Lord <sup>2656</sup>
Is better and more enduring.

132. Enjoin prayer on thy people,
And be constant therein.
We ask thee not to provide <sup>2657</sup>
Sustenance : We provide it
For thee. But the (fruit of)
The Hereafter is for Righteousness.

133. They say : " Why does he not <sup>2658</sup>
Bring us a Sign from
His Lord ? " Has not
A Clear Sign come to them
Of all that was
In the former Books
Of revelation ?

134. And if We had inflicted
On them a penalty before this, <sup>2659</sup>
They would have said :
" Our Lord ! If only Thou
Hadst sent us an apostle,
We should certainly have followed

الْحَيٰوةَ الدُّنْيَا لِنَفْسِنَا فِيهَا
وَرِزْقُ رَبِّكَ خَيْرٌ وَآبَقِي ۝

۱۳۲- وَأْمُرْ أَهْلَكَ بِالصَّلٰوةِ وَاصْطَبِرْ عَلَيْهَا
لَا تَسْأَلُكَ رِزْقًا نَحْنُ نَرْزُقُكَ
وَالْعَاقِبَةُ لِلتَّقْوٰى ۝

۱۳۳- وَقَالُوا لَوْلَا
يَأْتِينَنَا بِآيَةٍ مِنْ رَبِّهِ
أَوْلَمُنَا بِتَمِيمٍ بَيِّنَةٍ
مَا فِي الصُّحُفِ الْأُولٰى ۝

۱۳۴- وَلَوْ أَنَّا أَهْلَكْنَاهُمْ بِعَذَابٍ مِّنْ
قَبْلِهِ لَقَالُوا إِنَّا لَبَنَاتٌ لَّوَلَا أَرْسَلْتَ
إِلَيْنَا رَسُولًا فَنَتَّبِعَ

2656. The good things of this life may make a brave show, but they are as nothing compared with the good of the Hereafter. Both are provided by God. But the former are given to the just and the unjust as a test and trial, and in any case will pass away ; while the latter come specially from God for His devoted servants, and are incomparably of more value and will last through eternity.

2657. Sustenance, in the sense of the ordinary needs of life, the man of God does not worry about. That is provided by God for all, the just and the unjust. But the special provision, the real Sustenance, the spiritual fruit, is for a righteous life in the service of God.

2658. The question or plea of the Unbelievers is disingenuous. Many Signs have come with this Revelation. But the one that should have appealed to those who believed in former revelations and should have convinced them was what was in their own books.

2659. If the Sign mentioned in the last note did not convince them, it would mean that they were not true to their own faith. They were not straight with themselves. In justice they should have been punished for their falsehood. But they were given further respite. Or they would again have argued in a circle, and said : " If only God had sent us a living apostle we should have believed ! " The living apostle they flout because they want a Sign. The Sign they wish to ignore, because they want a living apostle !

Thy Signs before we were
Humbled and put to shame."

135. Say : " Each one (of us)
Is waiting : wait ye, therefore,<sup>2660</sup>
And soon shall ye know
Who it is that is
On the straight and even<sup>2661</sup>
16 Way, and who it is
30 That has received guidance."

أَيَّتِكَ مِنْ قَبْلِ أَنْ تَذَلَّ وَتَخْزَى ۝

١٣٥- قُلْ كُلٌّ مُتَرَبِّصٌ فَتَرَبَّصُوا ۚ

فَسَتَعْلَمُونَ مَنْ

أَصْحَبُ الصِّرَاطِ السَّوِيِّ

وَمَنْ اهْتَدَى ۝

ع

2660. If people will not be true to their own lights, what further argument is left? The man of God can only say: "Let us wait the issue: my faith tells me that God's Truth must prevail." Cf. ix. 52.

2661. Cf. xix. 43. The straight and even Way must endure, and show that the man who follows it has received true guidance. All falsehood and crookedness must ultimately disappear.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXI (Anbiyāa).

The last Sūra dealt with the individual story (spiritual) of Moses and Aaron, and contrasted it with the growth of evil in individuals like Pharaoh and the Sāmīrī, and ended with a warning against Evil, and an exhortation to the purification of the soul with prayer and praise. This Sūra begins with the external obstacles placed by Evil against such purification, and gives the assurance of God's power to defend men, illustrating this with reference to Abraham's fight against idolatry, Lot's fight against unnatural wickedness, Noah's against unbelief, that of David and Solomon against injustice and failure to proclaim God's glory by making full use of man's God-given faculties and powers, that of Job against impatience and want of self-confidence, that of Ismā'il, Idris, and Zul-kifl against want of steady perseverance, that of Zun-nūn against hasty anger, that of Zakariya against spiritual isolation, and that of Mary against the lusts of this world. In each allusion there is a special point about the soul's purification. The common point is that the Prophets were not, as the vulgar suppose, just irresistible men. They had to win their ground inch by inch against all kinds of resistance from evil.

The chronology of this Sūra has no significance. It probably dates from the middle of the Meccan period of inspiration.

Summary.—Man treats, as he has always treated, the serious things of life with jest or contempt; but the Judgment must come, and Truth must triumph (xxi. 1-29, and C. 147).

Unity of Design, and certainty of God's Promise : God's protection and mercy, and His justice (xxi 30-50, and C. 148).

How Abraham triumphed over idols, as did others among God's chosen ones over various forms of evil (xxi. 51-93, and C. 149).

Work righteousness while it is yet time, for the Judgment will come, and only he righteous will inherit (xxi. 94-112, and C. 150).

C. 147.—Men may lightly treat God's Signs
 (xxi. 1-29.) As jests, but the Judgment must come
 Inevitably. His Message is true,
 And delivered by God's Apostle, as from
 Man to men. Truth must triumph,
 And all false gods and false worship
 Must come to naught : for God is One,
 And His Truth has been one throughout the ages.

Sūra XXI.

Anbiyāa, or The Prophets

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1.  closer and closer to mankind <sup>2662</sup>
Comes their Reckoning : yet they
Heed not and they turn away.
2. Never comes (aught) to them
Of a renewed Message <sup>2663</sup>
From their Lord, but they
Listen to it as in jest,—
3. Their hearts toying as with Trifles. The wrong-doers conceal <sup>2664</sup>
Their private counsels, (saying),
“Is this (one) more than
A man like yourselves?
Will ye go to witchcraft
With your eyes open?” <sup>2665</sup>
4. Say : <sup>2666</sup> “My Lord
Knoweth (every) word (spoken) <sup>2667</sup>
In the heavens and on earth :
He is the One that heareth
And knoweth (all things).”

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

۱- اِقْتَرَبَ لِلنَّاسِ حِسَابُهُمْ وَهُمْ
فِي غَفْلَةٍ مُّعْرِضُونَ ۝

۲- مَا يَأْتِيهِمْ مِّنْ ذِكْرٍ مِّن رَّبِّهِمْ مُّحَدَّثٍ
إِلَّا اسْتَعْوَجُواْ وَهُمْ يَلْعَبُونَ ۝

۳- لَاهِيَةً قُلُوبُهُمْ وَأَسْرَأَ الْبُجُوبِ
الَّذِينَ ظَلَمُواْ ۝

هَلْ هَذَا إِلَّا بَشْرٌ مِّثْلُكُمْ
أَفَتَأْتُونَ السَّحْرَ وَأَنْتُمْ تُبْصِرُونَ ۝

۴- قُلْ مَرَبِّي يَعْلَمُ الْقَوْلَ فِي السَّمَاءِ وَ
الْأَرْضِ وَهُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ ۝

2662. Every minute sees them nearer to their doom, and yet they are sadly heedless, and even actively turn away from the Message that would save them.

2663. In each age, when the Message of God is renewed, the very people who should have known better and welcomed the renewal and the sweeping away of human cobwebs, either receive it with amused self-superiority, which later turns to active hostility, or with careless indifference.

2664. God's Message is free and open, in the full light of day. His enemies plot against it in secrecy, lest their own false motives be exposed. Their jealousy prevents them from accepting a "man like themselves" as a teacher or warner or guide.

2665. Literally, "in a state in which you (actually) see (that it is witchcraft)". When God's Messenger is proved to be above them in moral worth, in true insight, in earnestness and power of eloquence, they accuse him of witchcraft, a word which may mean nothing, or perhaps some mysterious deceitful arts.

2666. Notice that in the usual Arabic texts printed in India the word qāla is here and in xxi. 112 below, as well as in xxiii. 112, spelt differently from the usual spelling of the word in other places (e.g., in xx. 125-126). Qul is the reading of the Baṣra Qirāat, meaning, "Say thou" in the imperative. If we construe "he says", the pronoun refers to "this (one)" in the preceding verse, viz.: the Prophet. But more than one Commentator understands the meaning in the imperative, and I agree with them. The point is merely one of verbal construction. The meaning is the same in either case. See n. 2948 to xxiii. 112.

2667. Every word, whether whispered in secret (as in xxi. 3 above) or spoken openly, is known to God. Let not the wrong-doers imagine that their secret plots are secret to the Knower of all things.

5. "Nay," they say, "(these are)
Medleys of dreams!—Nay,
He forged it!—Nay,
He is (but) a poet! <sup>2668</sup>
Let him then bring us
A Sign like the ones
That were sent to (Prophets) of old!"

٥- بَلْ قَالُوا أَضْغَاثُ أَحْلَامٍ
بَلْ افْتَرَاهُ بَلْ هُوَ شَاعِرٌ
فَلْيَأْتِنَا بآيَةٍ كَمَا
أُرْسِلَ الْأَوَّلُونَ ○

6. (As to those) before them,
Not one of the populations
Which We destroyed believed:
Will these believe? <sup>2669</sup>

٦- مَا آمَنَتْ قَبْلَهُمْ مِنْ قَرْيَةٍ
أَهْلَكْنَاهَا أَفَهُمْ يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

7. Before thee, also, the apostles
We sent were but men,
To whom We granted inspiration:
If ye realise this not, ask
Of those who possess the Message. <sup>2670</sup>

٧- وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَا قَبْلَكَ إِلَّا رِجَالًا
نُوحِيں إِلَيْهِمْ فَسْئَلُوا أَهْلَ الذِّكْرِ إِنْ
كُنْتُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ ○

8. Nor did We give them
Bodies that ate no food,
Nor were they exempt from death. <sup>2671</sup>

٨- وَمَا جَعَلْنَاهُمْ جَسَدًا لَا يَأْكُلُونَ
الطَّعَامَ وَمَا كَانُوا خَالِدِينَ ○

9. In the end We fulfilled
To them Our promise,
And We saved them
And those whom We pleased,

٩- ثُمَّ صَدَقْنَاهُمُ الْوَعْدَ فَأَنْجَيْنَاهُمْ وَمَنْ
نَشَاءُ

2668. The charges against God's inspired Apostle are heaped up. "Magic!" says one: that means, "We don't understand it!" Says another, "Oh! but we know! he is a mere dreamer of confused dreams!" If the "dreams" fit in with real things and vital experiences, another will suggest, "Oh yes! why drag in supernatural agencies? he is clever enough to forge it himself!" Or another suggests, "He is a poet! Poets can invent things and say them in beautiful words!" Another interposes, "What we should like to see is miracles, like those we read of in stories of the Prophets of old!"

2669. 'If such miracles as you read of failed to convince Unbelievers of old, what chance is there that these Unbelievers will believe? Miracles may come, but they are no cures for Unbelief.

2670. See xvi. 43 and n. 2069. This answers the Unbelievers' taunt, "he is just a man like ourselves!" True, but all apostles sent by God were men, not angels or another kind of beings, who could not understand men or whom men could not understand.

2671. As men they were subject to all the laws governing the physical bodies of men. They ate and drank, and their bodies perished in death.

But We destroyed those Who transgressed beyond bounds.<sup>2672</sup>

10. We have revealed for you
(O men!) a book in which
Is a Message for you:
Will ye not then understand?

SECTION 2.

11. How many were the populations
We utterly destroyed because
Of their iniquities, setting up
In their places other peoples?

12. Yet, when they felt
Our Punishment (coming),
Behold, they (tried to) flee
From it.<sup>2673</sup>

13. Flee not, but return to
The good things of this life
Which were given you,
And to your homes,
In order that ye may
Be called to account.<sup>2674</sup>

14. They said: "Ah! woe to us!
We were indeed wrong-doers!"

15. And that cry of theirs
Ceased not, till we made

2672. But, however difficult (or impossible) their mission may have appeared to them, or to the world at first, they won through eventually, even those who seemed to have been defeated. Examples are given in the latter part of this Sūra, especially in xxi. 51-93. They were delivered from the Wrath which overtook the Unbelievers, as were those with them who accepted God's Message and placed themselves in conformity with His Will and Plan. That is the meaning of "whom We pleased".

2673. When they had every chance of repentance and reform, they rejected God's Message, and perhaps even put up an open defiance. When they actually began to feel the Wrath coming, they began to flee, but it was too late! Besides, where could they flee to from the Wrath of God? Hence the ironical appeal to them in the next verse: better go back to your luxuries and what you thought were your permanent homes! Cf. Christ's saying in the present Gospel of St. Matthew (iii. 7): "O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the Wrath to come?"

2674. See last note. 'You thought your homes so comfortable: why don't you go back to them? You will be called to account. Perhaps there may be rewards to be given you, who knows?' This irony is itself the beginning of the Punishment. But the ungodly now see how wrong they had been. But their sighs and regrets now avail them nothing. It is too late. They are lost, and nothing can save them.

We should surely have taken

2675. The two similes present two different aspects of the lamentation of the ungodly. When they really see the Wrath to come, there is a stampede, but where can they go to? Their lamentation is now the only mark of their life. But it dies away, as corn vanishes from a field that is being mown, or as a dying fire is slowly extinguished! They do not die. They wish they were dead! (lxxviii. 40).

2676. The Hindu doctrine of Lila, that all things were created for sport, is here negatived. But more: with God we must not associate any ideas but those of Truth, Righteousness, Mercy, Justice, and the other attributes implied in His Beautiful Names. He does not jest nor play with His creatures.

2677. If such an idea as that of play or pastime had been possible with regard to God, and if He had wished really to indulge in pastime, He would have done it with creatures of Light nearest to Him, not with the lowly material creation that we see around us.

2678. Such as that (1) God has partners (xxi. 22), or (2) that He has begotten a son (xxi. 26), or (3) has daughters (xvi. 57), or any other superstitions derogatory to the dignity and glory of God.

2679. The pure angelic hosts, whom we imagine to be glorious creatures of light, high in the spiritual world, near the Throne of God Himself, are yet His creatures, and serve Him without ceasing, and are proud to do so. Such is the majesty of God Most High.

21. ﴿ع﴾r have they taken

Of those before me." <sup>2685</sup>
But most of them know not
The Truth, and so turn away.

بَلْ أَكْثَرُهُمْ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ
الْحَقَّ فَهُمْ مُّعْرِضُونَ ○

2680. The different kinds of false gods whom people raise from their imagination are now referred to. In verses 21-23, the reference is to the gods of the earth, whether idols or local godlings, or deified heroes, or animals or trees or forces of the nature around us, which men have from time to time worshipped. These, as deities, have no life except what their worshippers give to them.

2681. The answer of course is "no". No one but God can raise the dead to life. The miracle in the story of Jesus (iii. 49 and v. 113) was "by God's leave". It was a miracle of God, not one of Jesus by his own power or will.

2682. After the false gods of the earth (verse 21), are mentioned the false gods in the heavens and the earth, like those in the Greek Pantheon (verse 22), who quarrelled and fought and slandered each other and made their Olympus a perfect bear-garden !

2683. God is Self-Subsisting. All His creatures are responsible to Him and dependent on Him there is no other being to whom He can be responsible or on whom He can be dependent.

2684. See above, n. 2682, where two kinds of false worship are noted. Now we are warned against a third danger, the worship of false gods of any sort. Pagan man is prolific of creating abstract images for worship, including Self or abstract Intelligence or Power. In verse 26 below is mentioned a fourth kind of false worship, which imagines that God begets sons or daughters.

2685. This verse should be read with the next. All reason revolts against the idea of conflicting gods, and points to Unity in Creation and Unity in Godhead. This is not only the Message of Islam ("those with me") but the message of all prophets who came before the holy Prophet Muhammad ("those before me"), and the line of prophets was closed with him. The Message given to every apostle in all ages was that of Unity as the fundamental basis of Order and Design in the world, material, moral, and spiritual.

25. Not an apostle did We

٢٨- يَعْلَمُ مَا بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَمَا خَلْفَهُمْ
وَلَا يَشْفَعُونَ إِلَّا لِمَنْ
ارْتَضَىٰ وَهُمْ مِنَ خَشِيَّتِهِ مُّشْفِقُونَ ۝

29. If any of them should say,
" I am a god besides Him ",
Such a one We should Reward with Hell : thus
Do We reward those
Who do wrong.

٢٩- وَمَنْ يَقُلْ مِنْهُمْ إِنِّي إِلٰهٌ مِّنْ دُونِهِ
فَذٰلِكَ نَجْزِيهِ جَهَنَّمَ ۚ كَذٰلِكَ
نَجْزِي الظَّٰلِمِينَ ۝

2686. This refers both to the Trinitarian superstition that God has begotten a son, and to the Arab superstition that the angels were daughters of God. All such superstitions are derogatory to the glory of God. The prophets and the angels are no more than servants of God : they are raised high in honour, and therefore they deserve our highest respect, but not our worship.

2687. They never say anything before they receive God's command to say it, and their acts are similarly conditioned. This is also the teaching of Jesus as reported in the Gospel of St. John (xii. 49-50) : " For I have not spoken of myself : but the Father which sent me, He gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak. And I know that His commandment is life everlasting : whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak." If rightly understood, " Father " has the same meaning as our " Rabb ", Sustainer and Cherisher, not Begetter or Progenitor.

2688. Cf. xx. 109. " Acceptable " means that they have conformed to the Will of God and obeyed His Law, thus winning the stamp of His approval.

2689. They : the usual interpretation refers the pronoun to the servants of God who intercede : it may also refer to those on whose behalf intercession is made : they do not take it as a matter of course, but stand in due awe and reverence of God's great glory and mercy.

C. 148.—Look at God's Creation : contemplate
 (xxi. 30-50.) Its unity of Design and benevolence
 Of Purpose. Death must come to all,
 But life and faith are not objects of ridicule.
 Truth will outlast all mockery : 'tis God
 Who calls, because He cares for you,
 And on His Judgment Seat will weigh
 Each act, each thought, each motive, great
 Or small, with perfect justice. Come,
 Ye all, reject not His blessed Message.

SECTION 3.

30. Do not the Unbelievers see
 That the heavens and the earth
 Were joined together (as one <sup>2690</sup>
 Unit of Creation), before
 We clove them asunder?
 We made from water <sup>2691</sup>
 Every living thing. Will they
 Not then believe?

٣٠- أَوَلَمْ يَرِ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا أَنَّ السَّمَوَاتِ
 وَالْأَرْضَ كَانَتَا رَتْقًا فَفَتَقْنَاهُمَا
 وَجَعَلْنَا مِنَ الْمَاءِ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ حَيًّا
 أَفَلَا يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

31. And We have set on the earth
 Mountains standing firm, <sup>2692</sup>

٣١- وَجَعَلْنَا فِي الْأَرْضِ رَوَاسِيَ

2691. About 72 per cent. of the surface of our Globe is still covered with water, and it has been estimated that if the inequalities on the surface were all levelled, the whole surface would be under water, as the mean elevation of land sphere-level would be 7,000—10,000 feet below the surface of the ocean. This shows the predominance of water on our Globe. That all life began in the water is also a conclusion to which our latest knowledge in biological science points. Apart from the fact that protoplasm, the original basis of living matter, is liquid or semi-liquid and in a state of constant flux and instability, there is the fact that land animals, like the higher vertebrates, including man, show, in their embryological history, organs like those of fishes, indicating the watery origin of their original habitat. The constitution of protoplasm is about 80 to 85 per cent. of water.

2692. Cf. xvi. 15 and n. 2038. Lest it should shake with them: here "them" refers back to "they" at the end of the preceding verse, meaning "Unbelievers". It might be mankind in general, but the pointed address to those who do not realise and understand God's mercies is appropriate, to drive home to them the fact that it is God's well-ordered providence that protects them normally from cataclysms like earthquakes, but that they could for their iniquities be destroyed in an instant, as the 'Ad and the Thamūd were destroyed before them. As pointed out in n. 2691 above, if the surface of the earth were levelled up, it would all be under water, and therefore the firm mountains are a further source of security to life which has evolved in terrestrial forms. Though the mountains may seem impassable barriers, yet God's providence has provided broad passes between them to afford highways for human communications.

Lest it should shake with them,
And We have made therein
Broad highways
(between mountains)
For them to pass through :
That they may receive guidance.<sup>2693</sup>

35. Every soul shall have
A taste of death :<sup>2697</sup>
And We test you
By evil and by good

۳۵- كُلُّ نَفْسٍ ذَائِقَةُ الْمَوْتِ
وَنَبِّئُوكُمْ بِالشَّرِّ وَالْخَيْرِ

2693. In both the literal and the figurative sense. Literally these natural mountain highways direct men in the way they should go. Figuratively, these wonderful instances of God's providence should turn men's thoughts to the true guidance of God in life and spiritual progress.

2694. Canopy well guarded : the heavens form a canopy that is secure from falling down : they also form a sublime spectacle and a Mystery that man can only faintly reach. Perhaps also the mystery of spiritual life is metaphorically hinted at. Cf. also xv. 17.

2695. I have indicated, unlike most translators, the metaphor of swimming implied in the original words : how beautiful it is to contemplate the heavenly bodies swimming through space (or ether) in their rounded courses before our gaze !

2696. Life on this planet without death has not been granted to any man. The Khidhr legends are popular tales. His life without death on this earth is nowhere mentioned in the Qur-ān. The taunt of the Unbelievers at the holy Prophet was therefore futile. Could any of them live without death at some time or other? Could they name any one who did?

2697. Cf. iii. 185, and n. 491. The soul does not die, but when it separates from the body at the death of the body, the soul gets a taste of death. In our life of probation on this earth, our virtue and faith are tested by many things : some are tested by calamities, and some by the good things of this life. If we prove our true mettle, we pass our probation with success. In any case all must return to God, and then will our life be appraised at its true value.

By way of trial.
To Us must ye return.

36. When the Unbelievers see thee,
They treat thee not except
With ridicule. "Is this,"
(They say), "the one who talks <sup>2698</sup>
Of your gods?" And they
Blaspheme at the mention
Of (God) Most Gracious!

37. Man is a creature of haste: <sup>2699</sup>
Soon (enough) will I show
You My Signs; then
Ye will not ask Me
To hasten them!

38. They say: "When will this
Promise come to pass,
If ye are telling the truth?"

39. If only the Unbelievers <sup>2700</sup>
Knew (the time) when they
Will not be able
To ward off the Fire
From their faces, nor yet
From their backs, and (when)
No help can reach them!

40. Nay, it may come to them
All of a sudden and confound
Them: no power will they
Have then to avert it,
Nor will they (then)
Get respite.

2698. To the godly man the issue between false worship and true worship is a very serious matter. To the sceptics and unbelievers it is only a joke. They take it lightly, and laugh at the godly man. They not only laugh at him, but they blaspheme when the name of the One True God is mentioned. The reply to this is in the next verse.

2699. Haste is in the very bone and marrow of man. If he is granted respite for his own sake, in order that he may have a further chance of repentance and coming back to God, he says impatiently and incredulously: "Bring on the Punishment quickly, that I may see if what you say is true!" Alas, it is too true! When the Punishment actually comes near and he sees it, he will not want it hastened. He will want more time and further delay! Poor creature of haste!

2700. They would not be so unreasonable if they only realised the terrible future for them! The Fire will envelop them on all sides, and no help will then be possible. Is it not best for them now to turn and repent? The Punishment may come too suddenly, as is said in the next verse.

41. Mocked were (many)

Turn away from the mention
Of their Lord.

43. Or have they gods that
Can guard them from Us?
They have no power to aid
Themselves, nor can they
Be defended from Us.<sup>2703</sup>

44. Nay, We gave the good things

2701. The same verse occurs at vi. 10, where see n. 843. 'What they are mocking at now will be in a position to mock them in due time.'

2702. 'God is most Gracious: if, in spite of His great mercy, you are so rebellious and depraved as to incur His Wrath, who is there who can save you? His Wrath can descend on you at any time, by night or by day.'

2703. Ashāba: to join as companion; with 'an or min it has also the meaning of to defend or remove from someone. The full signification can only be got by a long paraphrase: 'they are not fit to be mentioned in the same breath with Us, nor can they be defended from Us.'

2704. 'Umr, or 'Umur: age, generation, period, time, life. Here "period" is most appropriate, as it covers many generations, "these men and their fathers."

2705. Cf. xiii. 41 and n. 1865. The particular signification is that Islam spread from the outer borders. social and geographical, gradually inwards. The social fringe was the humbler people, such as slaves and poor men. The geographical reference is to Medina and tribes away from the Mecca centre. The proud and unbelieving Quraish were the last to come in when the circle was gradually drawn tighter and tighter around them. The general signification applies to all times. God's Truth makes its way first among the poor and the lowly, those whose minds are unsoiled by prejudices of false pride or false knowledge, but it gradually hems in the obstinate, until it prevails in the end.

45. Say, "I do but warn you
According to revelation":
But the deaf will not hear
The call, (even) when
They are warned! <sup>2706</sup>

٢٨- وَلَقَدْ آتَيْنَا مُوسَىٰ وَهَارُونَ

2706. According to the English saying, "none is so deaf as those who will not hear". When they deliberately shut their ears to warnings from the Merciful God, meant for their own good, the responsibility is their own. But their cowardice is shown in the next verse by their behaviour when the first breath of the Wrath reaches them.

2707. Not the smallest action, word, thought, motive, or predilection but must come into the account of God. Cf. Browning (in Rabbi Ben Ezra): "But all, the world's coarse thumb And finger failed to plumb, So passed in making up the main account; All instincts immature, All purposes unsure, That weighed not as his work, yet swelled the man's account; Thoughts hardly to be packed Into a narrow act, Fancies that broke through language and escaped; All I could never be, All, men ignored in me, This, I was worth to God, Whose wheel the pitcher shaped."

2708. The literalism of Sale has here excelled itself: he translates, "and there will be sufficient accountants with us"! What is meant is that when God takes account, His accounting will be perfect: there will be no flaw in it, as there may be in earthly accountants, who require other people's help in some matters of account which they do not understand for want of knowledge of that particular department they are dealing with. God's knowledge is perfect, and therefore His justice will be perfect also; for He will not fail to take into account all the most intangible things that determine conduct and character. See last note. There is no contradiction between this and xviii. 104-105, where it is said that men of vain works, i.e., shallow hypocritical deeds, will have no weight attached to their deeds. In fact the two correspond.

C. 149.—The great exemplars of virtue conquered
(xxi, 51-93.) Evil, each according to his circumstances :
Abraham stood staunch in the fire
Of persecution, unhurt ; Lūṭ was bold
In reproving abominations ; Noah survived
The Flood by his faith, in a world of Unbelief ;
David sought justice, and sang God's praises ;
Solomon by wisdom subdued the refractory ;
Job was patient in suffering ; Ismā'il,
Idrīs, and Zūl-kifl were true in constancy
Amid temptation ; Jonah turned to God
After a short misunderstanding ; Zakariyā
And his family were exemplars of devoutness ;
And Mary of chastity. All men and women
Of God form one united Brotherhood.

2709. Cf. ii. 53 and n. 68, where the meaning of Furqān is discussed. Here three things are mentioned as given to Moses and Aaron : (1) The Criterion for judgment ; this might well be the wonderful Proofs they saw of God's goodness and glory from which they could have no doubt as to God's will and command ; (2) the Light ; this was the inner enlightenment of their soul, such as comes from inspiration : and (3) the Message, the Book, the original Book of Moses, which Aaron as his lieutenant would also use as a guide for his people.

2710. Note the three kinds of fear mentioned in xxi. 48-49. Taqwā is the fear of running counter to the will of God ; it is akin to the love of Him ; for we fear to offend those we love : it results in right conduct, and those who entertain it are " those who would do right ". Then there is Khashyā, the fear of God, lest the person who entertains it may be found, in his inmost thoughts, to be short of the standard which God wishes for him ; this is also righteousness but in a less high degree than Taqwā which is akin to love. And thirdly, there is the fear of consequences on the Day of Judgment (ishfāq) ; this also may lead to righteousness, but is on a still lower plane. Perhaps the three correspond to the Criterion, the Light, and the Message (or Warning) of the last verse.

2711. Here is a man and a Book, greater than Moses and his Book. Are you going to reject him and it ?

SECTION 5.

51. We bestowed aforetime
On Abraham his rectitude<sup>2712</sup>
Of conduct, and well were We Acquainted with him.<sup>2713</sup>
52. Behold! he said
To his father and his people,<sup>2714</sup>
"What are these images,
To which ye are
(So assiduously) devoted?"
53. They said, "We found
Our fathers worshipping them."
54. He said, "Indeed ye
Have been in manifest
Error—ye and your fathers."
55. They said, "Have you
Brought us the Truth,
Or are you one
Of those who jest?"<sup>2715</sup>
56. He said, "Nay, your Lord
Is the Lord of the heavens
And the earth, He Who Created them (from nothing):<sup>2716</sup>
And I am a witness
To this (truth).

2712. Rushd: right conduct, corresponding in action to the quality expressed in the epithet Hanif (sound or true in Faith) applied to Abraham in ii, 135 and elsewhere.

2713. Hence Abraham's title "Friend of God" (Khalil-ullah): iv. 125.

2715. Abraham looked at life with a serious eye, and his people took it light-heartedly. He was devoted to Truth, and they cared more for ancestral custom. In the conflict he seemed to be in their power. But he was fearless, and he triumphed by God's Grace.

2716. For the various words for "creation"—see n. 120 to ii, 117, where fajara is explained and differentiated from other words of similar meaning.

57. "And by God, I have
A plan for your idols—
After ye go away
And turn your backs"...<sup>2717</sup>
58. So he broke them to pieces,
(All) but the biggest of them,
That they might turn
(And address themselves) to it.<sup>2718</sup>
59. They said, "Who has Done this to our gods?
He must indeed be
Some man of impiety!"
60. They said, "We heard
A youth talk of them."<sup>2719</sup>
He is called Abraham."
61. They said, "Then bring him
Before the eyes of the people,
That they may bear witness."
62. They said, "Art thou
The one that did this
With our gods, O Abraham?"<sup>2720</sup>

٦٢- قَالُوْا ءَاَنْتَ فَعَلْتَ هٰذَا
بِالِهٰتِنَا يَا اِبْرٰهِيْمُ

2717. He wants to convince them of the powerlessness of their idols. But he does not do it underhand. He tells them that he is going to do something when once they are gone and their backs are turned to the idols,—as much as to say that the idols are dependent on their care and attention. Apparently the people are amused and want to see what he does. So they leave him to his own devices.

2718. He was enacting a scene, to make the people ashamed of worshipping senseless stocks and stones. He left the biggest idol untouched and broke the others to pieces, as if a fight had taken place between the idols, and the biggest had smashed the others. Would they turn to the surviving idol and ask him how it all happened?

2719. Different groups of people are speaking. Those who were not present at Abraham's speech in verse 57 ask, "who has done this?" Those who were, at once name him, whereupon a formal council of the people was held, and Abraham was arraigned.

2720. They asked him the formal question. There was no mystery about it. He had already openly threatened to do something to the idols, and people who had heard his threats were there. He now continues his ironic taunt to the idol-worshippers. 'You ask me! Why don't you ask the idols? Doesn't it look as if this big fellow has smashed the smaller ones in a quarrel?' If they do not ask the idols, they confess that the idols have not intelligence enough to answer! This argument is developed in verses 64-67. Note that while the false worshippers laughed at his earnestness, he pays them out by a grim practical joke, which at the same time advances the cause of Truth.

63. He said : " Nay, this Was done by—
This is their biggest one !
Ask them, if they
Can speak intelligently ! "
64. So they turned to themselves
And said, " Surely ye
Are the ones in the wrong ! " <sup>2721</sup>
65. Then were they confounded <sup>2722</sup>
With shame : (they said),
" Thou knowest full well that
These (idols) do not speak ! "
66. (Abraham) said, " Do ye then
Worship, besides God,
Things that can neither
Be of any good to you
Nor do you harm ? "
67. " Fie upon you, and upon <sup>2723</sup>
The things that ye worship
Besides God ! Have ye
No sense ? " ...
68. They said, " Burn him
And protect your gods,
If ye do (anything at all) ! "

2721. Abraham's biting irony cut them to the quick. What could they say? They turned to each other. Some among them thought he had the best of the argument. They were not keen on idolatry, and they told their fellows that it was useless arguing with Abraham. They all hung their heads in shame. But presently they thought they would face out Abraham, and take his words literally. They said, " You know quite well that idols do not speak ! " This was precisely what Abraham wanted them to say, and he delivered his final blow ! See n. 2723 below.

2722. Literally, " they were turned down on their heads " which may suggest a metaphorical somersault, i.e., that they recovered from their dawning shame for idolatry and were prepared to argue it out with the youth Abraham. But I think there is better authority for the interpretation I have adopted.

2723. As soon as they admitted in so many words that the idols could not speak, Abraham delivered his final attack : ' Then why do you worship such useless impotent creatures ? ' After that, there remains nothing but the argument of violence, which they proceed to exercise, being the party in power. ' Burn him at the stake ' is an easy cry ! But it was not Abraham that suffered : it was his persecutors (xxi. 70).

69. We said, " O Fire! <sup>2724</sup>
 Be thou cool,
 And (a means of) safety
 For Abraham! " <sup>2725</sup>

2724. The nature of fire, by all the physical laws of matter, is to be hot. The supremacy of mind over matter is a phrase much used, but the supremacy of the spiritual over the material is not so commonly understood. And yet it is the greatest factor in the estimate of Reality. The material is ephemeral and relative. The spiritual is eternal and absolute. Through all the fire of persecution and hatred Abraham remained unhurt. The fire became cool, and a means of safety for Abraham.

2725. Can we form any idea of the place where he passed through the furnace, and the stage in his career at which this happened? He was born in Ur of the Chaldees, a place on the lower reaches of the Euphrates, not a hundred miles from the Persian Gulf. This was the cradle, or one of the cradles, of human civilisation. Astronomy was studied here in very ancient times, and the worship of the sun, moon, and stars was the prevailing form of religion. Abraham revolted against this quite early in life, and his argument is referred to in vi. 74-82. They also had idols in their temples, probably idols representing heavenly bodies and celestial winged creatures. He was still a youth (xxi. 60) when he broke the idols. This was stage No. 2. After this he was marked down as a rebel and persecuted. Perhaps some years passed before the incident of his being thrown into the Fire (xxi. 68-69) took place, or the incident may be only allegorical. Traditionally the Fire incident is referred to a king called Nimrūd, about whom see n. 1565 to xi. 69. If Nimrūd's capital was in Assyria, near Nineveh (site near modern Mosul), we may suppose either that the king's rule extended over the whole of Mesopotamia, or that Abraham wandered north through Babylonia to Assyria. Various stratagems were devised to get rid of him (xxi. 70), but he was saved by the mercy of God. The final break came when he was probably a man of mature age and could speak to his father with some authority. This incident is referred to in xix. 41-48. He now left his ancestral lands, and avoiding the Syrian desert, came to the fertile lands of Aram or Syria, and so south to Canaan, when the incident of xi. 69-76 and the adventure of his nephew Lūt took place. It is some years after this that we may suppose he built the Ka'ba with Ismā'il (ii. 124-29), and his prayer in xiv. 35-41 may be referred to the same time. His visit to Egypt (Gen. xii. 10) is not referred to in the Qur'an.

2726. As they could not get rid of him by open punishment, they tried secret plans, but were foiled throughout. It was not he that lost, but they. On the contrary he left them and prospered and became the progenitor of great peoples.

2727. The land of Aram or Syria, which in its widest connotation includes Canaan or Palestine. Syria is a well-watered fertile land, with a Mediterranean sea coast, on which the famous commercial cities of Tyre and Sidon were situated. Its population is very mixed, as it has been a bone of contention between all the great kingdoms and empires of Western Asia and Egypt, and European interest in it dates from the most ancient times and continues under the French Mandate to the present day.

And, as an additional gift,<sup>2728</sup>

2728. Nāfilat has many meanings : (1) booty ; (2) extra work or prayer ; (3) extra or additional gift ; (4) grandson. The two last significations are implied here. Not only was Abraham given a son in his old age ; he was given not only Isaac, but several sons, the chief being Ismā'il and Isaac, who both joined in burying him (Gen. xxv. 9) ; and he also saw grandsons. Ismā'il is specially mentioned later (xxi. 85) apart from Isaac's line, on account of his special importance for Islam.

2729. The spiritual lesson from this passage may be recapitulated. The righteous man makes no compromise with evil. If the votaries of evil laugh at him he pays them in their own coin, but he stands firmly by his principles. His firmness causes some confusion among the followers of evil, and he openly declares the faith that is in him. They try, openly and secretly, to injure or kill him, but God protects him, while evil perishes from its own excesses.

2730. Lot's people were given to unspeakable abominations. His mission was to preach to them. He withstood Evil, but they rejected him. They were punished, but he and his followers were saved. See xv. 61-74 ; xi. 77-82 ; and vii. 80-84.

2730-A. The date of Noah was many centuries before that of Abraham.

2731. The contemporaries of Noah were given to Unbelief, oppression of the poor, and vain disputations. He carried God's Message to them, and standing fast in faith, built the Ark, in which he was saved with his followers from the Flood, while the wicked were drowned. See. xi. 25-48.

77. We helped him against
People who rejected Our Signs :
Truly they were a people
Given to Evil : so We
Drowned them (in the Flood)
All together.

80. It was We Who taught him<sup>2734</sup>
The making of coats of mail

٨٠- وَعَلَّمْنَاهُ صَنْعَةَ لَبُوسٍ

2732. The sheep, on account of the negligence of the shepherd, got into a cultivated field (or: vineyard) by night and ate up the young plants or their tender shoots, causing damage, to the extent of perhaps a whole year's crop. David was king, and in his seat of judgment he considered the matter so serious that he awarded the owner of the field the sheep themselves in compensation for his damage. The Roman law of the Twelve Tables might have approved of this decision, and on the same principle was built up the Deodand doctrine of English Law, now obsolete. His son Solomon, a mere boy of eleven, thought of a better decision, where the penalty would better fit the offence. The loss was the loss of the fruits or produce of the field or vineyard : the corpus of the property was not lost. Solomon's suggestion was that the owner of the field or vineyard should not take the sheep altogether but only detain them long enough to recoup his actual damage, from the milk, wool, and possibly young of the sheep, and then return the sheep to the shepherd. David's merit was that he accepted the suggestion, even though it came from a little boy : Solomon's merit was that he distinguished between corpus and income, and though a boy, was not ashamed to put his case before his father. But in either case it was God Who inspired the true realisation of justice. He was present and witnessed the affair, as He is present everywhere.

2733. Whatever is in the heavens and the earth celebrates the praises of God : xvii. 44 ; lvii. 1 ; xvi. 48-50. Even the "thunder repeateth His praises" : xiii. 13. All nature ever sings the praises of God. David sang in his Psalms, cxlviii. 7-10 : "Praise the Lord from the earth, ye...mountains and all hills ; ...creeping things and flying fowl!" All nature sings to God's glory, in unison with David, and angels, and men of God. If the Jewish Talmudists take this literally, there is no need for Muslims to do so. Cf. also xxxiv. 10 and xxxviii. 18-19.

2734. The making of coats of mail is attributed to David. It is defensive armour, and therefore its discovery and supply is associated with deeds of righteousness in xxxiv. 10-11, in contrast with the deadly weapons which man invents for offensive purposes. Indeed, all fighting, unless in defence of righteousness, is mere "violence."

For your benefit, to guard
You from each other's violence :
Will ye then be grateful ? <sup>2735</sup>

81. (It was Our power that Made) the violent (unruly)
Wind flow (tamely) for
Solomon, <sup>2736</sup>
To his order, to the land <sup>2737</sup>

82. And of the evil ones,
Were some who dived
For him, and did other work <sup>2738</sup>

Who guarded them.

83. And (remember) Job, when
He cried to his Lord,
" Truly distress has seized me, <sup>2739</sup>
But Thou art the Most

٨٣- وَأَيُّوبَ إِذْ نَادَى رَبَّهُ
إِنِّي مَسْنِي الضَّرَّ وَأَنْتَ

2735. David's good work then was : (1) he was open to learn wisdom wherever it came from ; (2) he sang the praises of God, in unison with all nature ; (3) he made defensive armour. But all these things he did, because of the faculties which God had given him, and we must be grateful for this and for all things to God.

2736. Cf. xxxiv. 12, and xxxviii. 36-38. This has been interpreted to mean that Solomon had miraculous power over the winds, and he could make them obey his orders. Rationalists say that he had naval power on the Mediterranean, and through the Gulf of 'Aqaba on the Red Sea, and that he therefore figuratively commanded the winds, and we may say the same of airmen at the present day. In any case the power behind was, and is, from God, Who has granted man intelligence and the faculties by which he can tame the more unruly forces of nature.

2738. As in n. 2736, the literalists and the rationalists take different views. The former say that Solomon had power over supernatural beings of evil, whom he compelled to dive for pearls and do other hard tasks. Rationalists refer this to hostile unruly races whom he subjected to his sway. It was God's power ultimately, Who granted him wisdom. Solomon tamed evil with Wisdom.

2739. Job (Aiyūb) was a prosperous man, with faith in God, living somewhere in the north-east corner of Arabia. He suffers from a number of calamities : his cattle are destroyed, his servants slain by the sword, and his family crushed under his roof. But he holds fast to his faith in God. As a further calamity he is covered with loathsome sores from head to foot. He loses his peace of mind, and he curses the day he was born. His false friends come and attribute his afflictions to sin. These "Job's comforters" are no comforters at all, and he further loses his balance of mind, but God recalls to him all His mercies, and he resumes his humility and give up self-justification. He is restored to prosperity, with twice as much as he had before ; his brethren and friends come back to him ; he had a new family of seven sons and three fair daughters. He lived to a good old age, and saw four generations of descendants. All this is recorded in the Book of Job in the Old Testament. Of all the Hebrew writings, the Hebrew of this Book comes nearest to Arabic.

Merciful of those that are

84. So We listened to him :
We removed the distress
That was on him,

2740. Job is the pattern of humility, patience, and faith in God. It was with these weapons that he fought and conquered evil.

2741. Ismā'il is mentioned specially, apart from the line which descended through Isaac (xxi. 72), as he was the founder of a separate and greater Ummat. His sufferings began in infancy (see n. 160 to ii. 158) ; but his steady constancy and submission to the will of God were specially shown when he earned the title of " Sacrifice to God " (see n. 2506 to xix. 54). That was the particular quality of his constancy and patience.

2742. For Idris see n. 2508 to xix. 56. He was in a high station in life, but that did not spoil him. He was sincere and true, and that was the particular quality of his constancy and patience.

2743. Zūl-kifl would literally mean " possessor of, or giving, a double requital or portion " ; or else, " one who used a cloak of double thickness," that being one of the meanings of Kifl. The Commentators differ in opinion as to who is meant, why the title is applied to him, and the point of his being grouped with Ismā'il and Idris for constancy and patience. I think the best suggestion is that afforded by Karsten Niebuhr in his Reisebeschreibung nach Arabien, Copenhagen. 1778, ii. 264-266, as quoted in the Encyclopædia of Islam under " Dhul-Kifl ". He visited Meshed 'Alī in 'Irāq, and also the little town called Kefil, midway between Najaf and Hilla (Babylon). Kefil, he says, is the Arabic form of Ezekiel. The shrine of Ezekiel was there, and the Jews came to it on pilgrimage.

If we accept " Zūl-kifl " to be not an epithet, but an Arabicised form of " Ezekiel ", it fits the context. Ezekiel was a prophet in Israel who was carried away to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar after his second attack on Jerusalem (about B. C. 599). His Book is included in the English Bible (Old Testament). He was chained and bound, and put into prison, and for a time he was dumb (Ezekiel, iii. 25-26). He bore all with patience and constancy, and continued to reprove boldly the evils in Israel. In a burning passage he denounces false leaders in words which are eternally true : " Woe be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves ! Should not the shepherds feed the flocks ? Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed : but ye feed not the flock. The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken..." , etc. (Ezekiel, xxxiv. 2-4).

Zūl-kifl is again mentioned in xxxviii. 48 along with Ismā'il and Elisha.

87. And remember Zūn-nūn,<sup>2744</sup>
When he departed in wrath :
He imagined that We
Had no power over him !
But he cried through the depths
Of darkness, " There is
No god but Thou :
Glory to Thee : I was Indeed wrong ! "

88. So We listened to him :
And delivered him from Distress : and thus do We
Deliver those who have faith.

89. And (remember) Zakariyā,<sup>2745</sup>
When he cried to his Lord :

٩٠- فَاسْتَجَبْنَا لَهُ وَوَهَبْنَا لَهُ

2744. Zūn-nūn, " the man of the Fish or the Whale ", is the title of Jonah (Yūnus), because he was swallowed by a large Fish or Whale. He was the prophet raised to warn the Assyrian capital Nineveh. For Nineveh see n 1478 to x. 98. His story is told in xxxvii. 139-148. When his first warning was unheeded by the people, he denounced God's wrath on them. But they repented and God forgave them for the time being. Jonah, meanwhile, departed in wrath, discouraged at the apparent failure of his mission. He should have remained in the most discouraging circumstances, and relied on the power of God; for God had power both over Nineveh and over the Messenger He had sent to Nineveh. He went away to the sea and took a ship, but apparently the sailors threw him out as a man of bad omen in a storm. He was swallowed by a big Fish (or Whale), but in the depth of the darkness, he cried to God and confessed his weakness. The " darkness " may be interpreted both physically and spiritually : physically, as the darkness of the night and the storm and the Fish's body ; spiritually as the darkness in his soul, his extreme distress in the situation which he had brought on himself. God Most Gracious forgave him. He was cast out ashore ; he was given the shelter of a plant in his state of mental and physical lassitude. He was refreshed and strengthened, and the work of his mission prospered. Thus he overcame all his disappointment by repentance and Faith, and God accepted him.

2745. See xix. 2-15, and iii. 38-41. Zakariyā was a priest ; both he and his wife were devout and pious in their duties. They were old, and they had no son. He was troubled in mind, not so much by the vulgar desire to have a son to carry on his line, but because he felt that his people were not unselfishly devout, and there would be no sincere work for God unless he could train up some one himself. He was given a son Yahyā (John the Baptist), who added to the devout reputation of the family, for he is called " noble, chaste, and a prophet, " (iii. 39). All three, father, mother, and son, were made worthy of each other, and they repelled evil by their devout emulation in virtue.

2746. ' It is not that I crave a personal heir to myself : all things go back to Thee, and Thou art the best of inheritors : but I see no one around me sincere enough to carry on my work for Thee ; wilt Thou give me one whom I can train ?

C. 150.—No good deed is fruitless: work

(xxi. 94-112.) While yet there's time: for with Judgment
 The door will be closed to repentance.
 No false gods of fancy can help.

2747. Aṣḥaḥa—to improve, to mend, to reform, to make better. Here, with reference to Zakariyā's wife, the signification is twofold: (1) that her barrenness would be removed, so that she could become a mother; and (2) her spiritual dignity should be raised in becoming the mother of John the Baptist; and by implication his also, in becoming the father of John.

2748. Mary the mother of Jesus. Chastity was her special virtue: with a son of virgin birth, she and Jesus became a miracle to all nations. That was the virtue with which they (both Mary and Jesus) resisted evil.

2749. Ummat: this is best translated by Brotherhood here. "Community", "race", and "nation," and "people" are words which import other ideas and do not quite correspond to "Ummat". "Religion" and "Way of Life" are derived meanings, which could be used in other passages, but are less appropriate here. Our attention has been drawn to people of very different temperaments and virtues, widely different in time, race, language, surroundings, history, and work to be performed, but forming the closest brotherhood as being men and women united in the highest service of God. They pre-figure the final and perfected Brotherhood of Islam.

2750. God's Message was and ever is one; and His Messengers treated it as one. It is people of narrower views who come later and trade on the earlier names, that break up the Message and the Brotherhood into jarring camps and sects.

The Righteous will have no fear ; for them
 The angelic greetings will truly open
 A new world, which they will inherit.
 This was God's Message of old, and the same
 Is God's Message renewed : for God
 Is one, and so is His Message, proclaimed
 For all, freely and in loving Truth.

2751. God gives credit for every act of righteousness, however small : when combined with sincere Faith in God, it becomes the stepping stone to higher and higher things. It is never lost.

2752. But when wickedness comes to such a pass that the Wrath of God descends, as it did on Sodom, the case becomes hopeless. The righteous were warned and delivered before the Wrath descended. But those destroyed will not get another chance, as they flouted all previous chances. They will only be raised up at the approach of the Day of Judgment.

2753. For Gog and Magog see n. 2439 to xviii. 92. Their geographical position was discussed in Appendix VII, pp. 761-63. Here I do not think we are concerned with their geographical position. The name stands for wild and lawless tribes who will break their barriers and swarm through the earth. This will be one of the prognostications of the approaching Judgment.

2754. Cf. xiv. 42.

98. Verily ye, (Unbelievers),
And the (false) gods that
Ye worship besides God,

2755. The ultimate proof of Truth and Falsehood will be that Truth will endure and come to its own, while Falsehood will be destroyed. And so the men who worshipped Truth will come to their own, while those who worshipped Falsehood will be in a Fire of Punishment they could scarcely have imagined before. In that state there will be nothing but regrets and sighs and groans, and these evil sounds will drown everything else.

2756. In contrast to the misery of those who rejected Truth and Right, will be the happiness of those who accepted it. Their record does not lag behind: in fact it goes before. Our Deeds go before our journey in this life is completed. What then is the Judgment? It is instantaneous: it will all be decided in the twinkling of an eye (xvi. 77). The good will not hear the least sound of the groans of evil. Their true soul's desires will be fulfilled—not temporarily as in this world, but in a permanent form.

2757. The Judgment and balancing of accounts will be a mighty Terror to the evil-doers. But it will cause, to the righteous, not grief or anxiety, but hope and happiness, for now they will be in a congenial atmosphere, and will see the fulfilment of their ideals in the meeting and greeting of the angels, preparatory to their enjoyment of the supreme Bliss—seeing the Face of God.

104. The Day that We roll up

We have undertaken:
Truly shall We fulfil it.

2758. The world—the universe—as we know it, will be folded up like a scroll of parchment, for it will have done its work. If God created all this world out of nothing, He can create an entirely new heaven and a new earth, on a plane of which we can form no conception in our present life. And He will do so, for that is His promise.

Some Commentators understand Sijil to be the name of the Recording Angel who closes the Book of a man's Deeds after the man's death.

2759. Zabūr: the Book of the Psalms of David. The name of David is expressly mentioned in connection with the Zabūr in iv. 163 and xvii. 55, although there the indefinite article is applied to the word as meaning a Book of Scripture. See Psalms xxv. 13, "his seed shall inherit the earth"; xxxvii. 11, "the meek shall inherit the earth" (quoted by Jesus in Matt. v. 3); and xxxvii. 29, "the righteous shall inherit the land." This may be understood both literally, as referring to power and authority on this earth, and figuratively, as referring to the new and real world of the spirit.

2760. The same promise occurs in the Pentateuch, Exod. xxxii. 13, "they shall inherit it (the land) for ever".

2761. The culmination of God's Revelation is in the Qur-ān, which confirms previous scriptures, corrects the errors which men introduced into them, and explains many points in detail for all who seek for right worship and service to God—whether they inherit the previous Books ("People of the Book") or not. It is a universal Message.

2762. There is no question now of race or nation, of a "chosen people" or the "seed of Abraham"; or the "seed of David"; or of Hindu Arya-varta; or Jew or Gentile, Arab or 'Ajam (Persian), Turk or Tājik, European or Asiatic, White or Coloured; Aryan, Semitic, Mongolian, or African; or American, Australian, or Polynesian. To all men and creatures other than men who have any spiritual responsibility, the principles universally apply.

108. Say : " What has come to me
By inspiration is that
Your God is One God :
Will ye therefore bow
To His Will (in Islām)? " 2763

١٠٨- قُلْ إِنَّمَا يُوحَىٰ إِلَيَّ
إِلَهُكُمْ إِلَهٌ وَاحِدٌ
فَهَلْ أَنْتُمْ مُّسْلِمُونَ ○

109. But if they turn back,
Say : " I have proclaimed
The Message to you all alike
And in truth ; but I
Know not whether that
Which ye are promised

2763. ' Not my God only, but also your God ; for there is but One God, the Universal Lord, Who made and loves and cherishes all.'

2764. ' If you do not realise the significance of the Message, I at least have done my duty. I have given the Good News for the Righteous and the Warning for the Unjust, without favour or partiality, and without abating one jot of the truth, openly and squarely for all. Do not ask me when the Good News and the Warning will be fulfilled. That is for God to decide, not for me or for you to know.'

2765. The Messenger of God freely and impartially teaches all how to carry out God's Will and live a good life. If some of them are hypocrites and come into the Ummat (Brotherhood) from baser motives and not the pure motives of the love of God, their motives and conduct will be judged by God and not by men.

2766. In the same way if men who come into the Brotherhood from pure motives and yet feel aggrieved that those outside are better off from a worldly point of view, they are wrong. It may be that the fleeting enjoyment of this world's goods is but a trial, and they should be grateful for being saved from temptation.

112. Say : <sup>2767</sup> " O my Lord!
 Judge Thou in truth ! " <sup>2768</sup>
 " Our Lord Most Gracious
 Is the One Whose assistance
 Should be sought against
 The blasphemies ye utter ! " <sup>2769</sup>

۱۱۲- قُلْ رَّبِّ احْكُم بِالْحَقِّ
 وَرَبُّنَا الرَّحْمَنُ الْمُسْتَعَانُ
 عَلَى مَا تَصِفُونَ ۝

التَّوْحِيدُ

2767. See above, n. 2666 to xxi. 4. The better reading is " Say " in the imperative, rather than " He (the Prophet) said (or says) " in the indicative mood. Note that, on that construction, there are three distinct things which the Prophet is asked to say : viz. : (1) the statement in verses 109-111, addressed to those who turn away from the Message ; (2) the prayer addressed to God in the first part of verse 112 ; and (3) the advice given indirectly to the Believers, in the second part of verse 112. I have marked these divisions by means of inverted commas.

768. That is, God's judgment as between the Teacher and those who refuse his Message, or between the righteous and those who taunt them for their poverty, will be the true one, and both the Teacher and the Ummat must leave the judgment to God.

2769. Blasphemy is a dreadful sin. We must guard ourselves from it. But as regards others, if we cannot prevent it, we must pray to God for assistance and not rely upon carnal weapons.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXII (Hajj).

We now come to a new series of four Sūras, dealing with the environments and methods contributing to our spiritual progress, as the last five Sūras dealt with the Messengers who came in various ways to proclaim the Truth and conquer evil. See Introduction to S. xvii.

The subject-matter of this particular Sūra is concerned mainly with the spiritual implications of the Sacred House, the Pilgrimage, the Sacrifices, Striving and Fighting in defence of Truth when attacked, and other acts that make for Unselfishness and uproot Falsehood.

On the chronology of this Sūra, opinion is divided. Some parts were probably revealed in the later Meccan period, and some in Medina. But the chronological question has no significance here.

Summary.—Importance of the spiritual Future, and need of firmness in Faith : help for Truth and punishment for Evil (xxii. 1-25, and C. 151).

Purity, Prayer, Humility, and Faith are implied in the Pilgrimage ; in solemn Sacrifice we express our gratitude and reverence to God, and our desire to share food with our poorer brethren ; Striving and Fighting in defence of Truth when attacked are necessary as tests of self-sacrifice (xxii. 26-48, and C. 152).

The promptings of Evil may hinder the work of God's Apostle, but that work must triumph, and the Mercy and Truth of God must be established ; therefore serve God humbly, and He will protect and help you (xxii. 49-78, and C. 153).

C. 151.—Will not mankind take warning
 (xxii. 1-25.) From the dreadful consequences of Evil
 Clearly proclaimed to them ? Will they
 Dispute about God and the Life of the Future ?
 They have only to look around and within them,
 And they will see vestiges of the Plan
 And Purpose of God. Let them not halt
 Between Good and Evil : God's Message as well
 As His Messenger must win against all Obstacles. Only the evil will be brought
 To shame and agony. The good—whose speech
 Is pure and conduct worthy of praise—
 Will have a meed of refinement, beauty, and bliss.

Sūra XXII.

Hajj, or The Pilgrimage.

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. ﴿٢٧﴾ mankind! Fear your Lord!
For the convulsion of the Hour
(Of Judgment) will be
A thing terrible! <sup>2770</sup>
2. The Day ye shall see it,
Every mother giving suck
Shall forget her suckling-babe,
And every pregnant female
Shall drop her load (unformed):
Thou shalt see mankind
As in a drunken riot, <sup>2771</sup>
Yet not drunk : but dreadful
Will be the Wrath of God.
3. And yet among men
There are such as dispute
About God, without knowledge,
And follow every evil one
Obstinate in rebellion!
4. About the (Evil One)
It is decreed that whoever
Turns to him for friendship,
Him will he lead astray,
And he will guide him
To the Penalty of the Fire. <sup>2772</sup>

2770. As an introduction to the spiritual meaning of various symbolical acts in this life, the serious issues involved are indicated by showing how terrible the consequences will be for those who disobey God's Will. The terror will only be for those who rebel and disobey : the righteous will not suffer from it, but on the contrary will be greeted by angels with joy (xxi, 103)

2771. Three metaphors are used for the extreme terror which the Awful Day will inspire, (1) No mother abandons the baby at her breast in the greatest danger ; yet that will happen in this Dreadful Hour. (2) An expectant mother carries the young life within her with great pride and hope : "hope" is the actual word used in Urdu for this physical state ; yet the terror will overpower the hope at this " Hour ", and nature's working will be reversed. (3) Men ordinarily retain their self-possession except under intoxication : here, without intoxication, they will be driven to frenzy with terror.

2772. Even after the warnings there are men who are such fools as to turn away from God Who created them and cherishes them with His love and care ; they become outlaws in His Kingdom, making friends with Evil, which is a rebel in God's Kingdom.

5. ② mankind! if ye have
 A doubt about the Resurrection,<sup>2773</sup>
 (Consider) that We created you
 Out of dust, then out of
 Sperm, then out of a leech-like
 Clot, then out of a morsel
 Of flesh, partly formed<sup>2774</sup>
 And partly unformed, in order
 That We may manifest
 (Our power) to you ;
 And We cause whom We will<sup>2775</sup>
 To rest in the wombs
 For an appointed term,
 Then do We bring you out
 As babes, then (foster you)
 That ye may reach your age
 Of full strength ; and some
 Of you are called to die,
 And some are sent back
 To the feeblest old age,
 So that they know nothing
 After having known (much).<sup>2776</sup>
 And (further), thou seest
 The earth barren and lifeless,
 But when We pour down
 Rain on it, it is stirred
 (To life), it swells,
 And it puts forth every kind
 Of beautiful growth (in pairs).<sup>2777</sup>

هـ يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ إِن كُنْتُمْ فِي رَيْبٍ مِّنَ الْبَعْثِ
 فَإِنَّا خَلَقْنَاكُمْ مِّن تُّرَابٍ
 ثُمَّ مِّن نُّطْفَةٍ ثُمَّ مِّن عَلَقَةٍ
 ثُمَّ مِّن مُّضْغَةٍ مُّخَلَّقَةٍ
 وَغَيْرِ مُخَلَّقَةٍ لِّنُبَيِّنَ لَكُمْ
 وَنُقَرِّرُ فِي الْأَرْحَامِ مَا نَشَاءُ إِلَىٰ آجَلٍ مُّسَمًّى
 ثُمَّ نُخْرِجُكُمْ طِفْلًا ثُمَّ لَتَبَلَّغُوا أَشُدَّكُمْ
 وَمِنْكُمْ مَّن يُّتَوَقَّىٰ
 وَمِنْكُمْ مَّن يُرَدُّ إِلَىٰ أَرْذَلِ الْعُمُرِ
 لِكَيْلَا يَعْلَمَ مَن بَعْدَ عِلْمٍ شَيْئًا
 وَنَرَىٰ الْأَرْضَ هَامِدَةً
 فَإِذَا أَنْزَلْنَا عَلَيْهَا الْمَاءَ
 اهْتَزَّتْ وَرَبَتْ
 وَأَبْتَتْ مِّن كُلِّ زَوْجٍ بَهِيجٍ ۝

2773. If they really have doubts in their minds about the life after death, they have only to turn their attention, either to their own nature, or to the nature around. How wonderful is their own physical growth, from lifeless matter, to seed, fertilised ovum, foetus, child, youth, age, and death! How can they doubt that the Author of all these wonderful stages in their life here can also give them another kind of life after the end of this life? Or, if they look at external nature, they see the earth dead and barren, and God's fertilising showers bring it to life, growth, and beauty in various forms. The Creator of this great pageant of Beauty can surely create yet another and a newer world.

2774. The stages of man's physical growth from nothing till he completes the cycle of this life are described in words whose accuracy, beauty, and comprehensiveness can only be fully understood by biologists. Parallel to the physical growth, may be understood man's inner growth, also by stages and by God's creative artistry.

2775. That is, a male or a female child, a fair or an ugly child, a good or a rebellious child, etc., involving countless mysteries of genetics and heredity.

2776. Cf. xvi. 70. In that passage the mystery of our life was used to illustrate God's abundant mercies and favours to us. Here it is used to illustrate God's power in giving us a future Life of even greater promise.

2777. A beautiful nature passage so pregnant in meaning that the earnest student wonders what magic and truth have been conveyed in so few words. M. P.'s Egyptian colleague, Prof. Ghamrawi (see M. P.'s note on this passage) was but expressing the feelings of every careful student of the Qur-ān. The "subtlety and wealth of meaning" are indeed marvellous.

6. This is so, because God
Is the Reality : it is He
Who gives life to the dead,
And it is He Who has
Power over all things. <sup>2778</sup>
7. And verily the Hour will come :
There can be no doubt
About it, or about (the fact)
That God will raise up
All who are in the graves.
8. Yet there is among men
Such a one as disputes
About God, without knowledge,
Without guidance, and without
A Book of Enlightenment,—<sup>2779</sup>
9. (Disdainfully) bending his side,
In order to lead (men) astray
From the Path of God :
For him there is disgrace <sup>2780</sup>
In this life, and on the Day
Of Judgment We shall
Make him taste the Penalty
Of burning (Fire).
10. (It will be said) : " This is
Because of the deeds which
Thy hands sent forth,
For verily God is not
Unjust to His servants. " <sup>2781</sup>

٦- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّ اللَّهَ هُوَ الْحَقُّ

وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ يَبْعَثُ مَنْ فِي الْقُبُورِ ۝

٨- وَمِنَ النَّاسِ مَنْ يُجَادِلُ فِي اللَّهِ بِغَيْرِ

٩- ثَانِيًا عِطْفُهُ لِيُضِلَّ عَنْ سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ

الْقِيَامَةِ عَذَابَ الْحَرِيقِ ۝

١٠- ذَلِكَ بِمَا قَدَّمْتَ يَدَكَ
وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ لَيْسَ بِظَلَّامٍ لِّلْعَبِيدِ ۝

2778 All these beautiful and well-articulated pageants of life and nature point to the Reality behind them, i.e., God. They will perish, but He is eternal. They are but shadows ; the substance (if such a word may be used) is in Him. They are shifting and illusory, in the sense that they have neither permanency nor independent existence. But they have a sort of secondary reality in the sense in which a shadow is a real reflection from a substance. No Power or Existence has any meaning except as a reflection of God's ineffable Glory.

2779. For " Book of Enlightenment " see iii. 184 and n. 490. I understand " knowledge " to mean here their human knowledge or intelligence, " guidance " to mean divine guidance, such as comes from God or men of God or a revelation from God, and the " Book of Enlightenment " to mean the fundamental guide to good conduct, the clear rules laid down in all Dispensations to help men to lead good lives. The " Book of Enlightenment " may mean a revealed Book in which case " Guidance " would refer to divine guidance through a man of God.

2780. Some Commentators think this refers to Abū Jahl, but the words are perfectly general, and this type of man is common in all ages. The same may be said about verse 3 above : Commentators give the immediate reference to one Nadhar ibn Hārith.

2781. ' What you suffer is the consequence of your own sinful deeds ; God is just ; He is not unjust to the least of His creatures. '

SECTION 2.

11. There are among men
Some who serve God,
As it were, on the verge : <sup>2782</sup>
If good befalls them, they are,
Therewith, well content ; but
If a trial comes to them,
They turn on their faces :
They lose both this world
And the Hereafter : that
Is loss for all to see !

١١- وَمِنَ النَّاسِ مَن يَّعْبُدُ اللَّهَ عَلَى حَرْفٍ
فَإِنِ أَصَابَهُ خَيْرٌ اطْمَأَنَّ بِهِ
وَإِنِ أَصَابَتْهُ فِتْنَةٌ انْقَلَبَ عَلَى وَجْهِهِ
خَسِرَ الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةَ
ذَلِكَ هُوَ الْخُسْرَانُ الْمُبِينُ ۝

12. They call on such deities, <sup>2783</sup>
Besides God, as can neither
Hurt nor profit them :
That is straying far indeed
(From the Way) !

١٢- يَدْعُوا مِن دُونِ اللَّهِ مَا لَا
يُضُرُّهُ وَمَا لَا يَنْفَعُهُ
ذَلِكَ هُوَ الضَّلَالُ الْبَعِيدُ ۝

13. (Perhaps) they call on one
Whose hurt is nearer <sup>2784</sup>
Than his profit : evil, indeed,
Is the patron, and evil
The companion (for help) !

١٣- يَدْعُوا لِمَن ضَرُّهُ أَقْرَبُ مِن نَّفْعِهِ
لَيْسَ الْمَوْلَىٰ وَكَيْسَ الْعَشِيرِ ۝

14. Verily God will admit
Those who believe and work
Righteous deeds, to Gardens,
Beneath which rivers flow :
For God carries out
All that He plans. <sup>2785</sup>

١٤- إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُدْخِلُ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا
الصَّالِحَاتِ جَنَّاتٍ تَجْرِي مِن تَحْتِهَا الْأَنْهَارُ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَفْعَلُ مَا يُرِيدُ ۝

2782. They are men whose minds are not firm : they will have faith, if all goes well with them, but as soon as they are tried, they are found wanting. They are a different kind from hypocrites. It is not fraud or double-dealing that is their sin : it is a weak mind, petty standards of judging right by success, a selfishness that gives nothing but asks for all, a narrow-mindedness that does not go beyond petty mundane calculations—a "nicely calculated less or more" of the good things of this world. They fail in both worlds, and their failure in this world is patent for every on-looker.

2783. To such minds religion does not mean high endeavour, self-sacrifice for noble ends, the recognition of God's infinite world, but just a small concession to formalism, perhaps a present to an idol (literal or figurative), perhaps attendance at worship if it can be done without trouble ! It is false gods they worship, and the more they worship, the more they stray.

2784. Such false worship is not always neutral, bringing neither harm nor good. Perhaps the harm comes first, and there is no help from God. Such minds are themselves demoralised, and render themselves unfit for help !

2785. God is both true to His promise, and He has power to give full effect to His Will and Plan,

15. If any think that God
Will not help him
(His Apostle) in this world
And the Hereafter, let him
Stretch out a rope
To the ceiling and cut (himself) <sup>278</sup>
Off: then let him see
Whether his plan will remove
That which enrages (him)!

16. Thus have We sent down <sup>2787</sup>
Clear Signs; and verily
God doth guide whom
He will!

17. Those who believe (in the Qur-ān),
Those who follow the Jewish (scriptures),
And the Sabians, <sup>2788</sup> Christians,
Magians, <sup>2789</sup> and Polytheists,—
God will judge between them

١٥- مَنْ كَانَ يَظُنُّ أَنْ لَنْ يَنْصُرَهُ اللَّهُ
فِي الدُّنْيَا وَآخِرَةِ
فَلْيَمْدُدْ بِسَبَبٍ إِلَى السَّمَاءِ ثُمَّ لِيَقْطَعْ
فَلْيَنْظُرْ هَلْ يُذْهِبَ كَيْدَهُ مَا يَغِيظُ ○

١٦- وَكَذَلِكَ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ آيَاتٍ بَيِّنَاتٍ
وَآتَى اللَّهُ يَهْدِي مَنْ يَشَاءُ ○

١٧- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَالَّذِينَ هَادُوا
وَالضَّالِّينَ وَالنَّصْرِيَّ وَالْمُجْرِمِينَ وَالَّذِينَ
أَشْرَكُوا إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَفْصِلُ بَيْنَهُمْ

2786. There is some difference of opinion as to the interpretation of this verse. Most Commentators are agreed that the pronoun "him" in the second line ("will not help him") refers to the holy Prophet, and that the "any" in the first line refers to his enemies, who wished to see him destroyed and removed from the scene of his labours. Ibn 'Abbās, whom I have followed here, and whom a great number of Commentators follow, construes the later clauses in the sense given in the text. Freely paraphrased, it means: if the enemies of God's Apostle are enraged at his successes, let them fix a rope to their ceiling and hang themselves. Samāa is thus rendered by the word "ceiling". If Samāa is rendered by the word "heaven" (the usual meaning), the paraphrase would be: if the enemies of God's Apostle are enraged at the help he gets from heaven, let them stretch a rope to heaven and see if they can cut off the help in that way!—in other words, they are fools if they think they can intercept God's help by their petty devices!

2787. Instead of plotting against God's Messenger, the Unbelievers should observe the Clear Signs which he has brought, and obey and follow the Guidance which comes from God according to the Laws which He has fixed by His holy Will and Plan.

2788. For Sabians, see n. 76 to ii. 62. They are also referred to in v. 72. In both those passages the Muslims are mentioned with the Jews, Christians, and Sabians, as receiving God's protection and mercy. Here, besides the four religions, there is further mention of Magians and Polytheists: it is not said that they would receive God's Mercy, but only that God will judge between the various forms of faith. The addition of Polytheists—those who join gods with God—may seem a little surprising. But the argument is that all forms of faith that are sincere (and not merely contumacious) are matters in which we as men cannot interfere. Our duty is to be tolerant within all the limits of tolerance—i.e., so long as there is no oppression, injustice, and persecution. Where we can right an obvious wrong, it is our duty to do so; but it would be wrong on our part to rush in without power or authority simply because other people do not see our point of view.

2789. This is the only place where the Magians (Majūs) are mentioned in the Qur-ān. Their cult is a very ancient one. They consider Fire as the purest and noblest element, and worship it as a fit emblem of God. Their location was the Persian and Median uplands and the Mesopotamian valleys. Their religion was reformed by the Prophet Zardusht (date uncertain, about B.C. 600?). Their scripture is the Zend-Avesta, the bible of the Pārsis. They were "the Wise men of the East" mentioned in the Gospels.

On the Day of Judgment :
For God is witness
Of all things.

18. Seest thou not that
To God bow down in worship
All things that are
In the heavens and on earth,—<sup>2790</sup>
The sun, the moon, the stars ;
The hills, the trees, the animals ;
And a great number among
Mankind ? But a great number
Are (also) such as are Fit for Punishment : and such
As God shall disgrace,—
None can raise to honour :
For God carries out
All that He wills.<sup>2791</sup>

19. These two antagonists dispute <sup>2792</sup>
With each other about their Lord :
But those who deny (their Lord),—
For them will be cut out
A garment of Fire :
Over their heads will be
Poured out boiling water.

20. With it will be scalded
What is within their bodies,
As well as (their) skins.<sup>7293</sup>

21. In addition there will be
Maces of iron (to punish) them.<sup>2794</sup>

2790. Cf. xxi. 79, and n 2733. All created things, animate and inanimate, depend on God for their existence, and this dependence can be construed as their Sajda or bowing down in worship. Their very existence proclaims their dependence. How can they be objects of worship? For haqqa in this verse. Cf. xv. 64, n. 1990.

2791. Cf. xxii. 16. There the argument was that those who work in harmony with God's Law and Will will get their reward, for God always carries out His Plan. Here is the parallel argument : those who defy God's Will must suffer pain and disgrace, for God is well able to carry out His Will.

2792. Two antagonists : i.e., parties of antagonists, viz., Men of Faith, who confess their Lord and seek to carry out His Will, and Men who deny their Lord and defy His Will.

2793. The punishment, expressed in physical terms, will be all-pervading, not merely superficial.

2794. Read this with the next verse. There will be no escape from the final Punishment adjudged after the time of repentance is past.

22. Every time they wish
To get away therefrom,
From anguish, they will be Forced back therein, and

C. 152.— For our spiritual growth are provided
(xxii. 26-48.) Symbols and means of expression in our ordinary Lives. Such is the pilgrimage, meant
To gather men and women from far and near

2795. In xxii. 14 above, was described the meed of the Righteous as compared with the time-servers and those who worshipped false gods (vv. 11-13): here we have the case of those who were persecuted, abused, prevented from entering the Ka'ba and deprived of all that makes life smooth, agreeable, and comfortable. For them the meed is described in metaphors that negative these afflictions: costly adornments (as against being stripped of home and property), purity of speech (as against the abuse they received), the Path of the Lord of Praise (as against the fierce and malignant persecution to which they were subjected).

2796. All these were enormities of which the Pagan clique in power in Mecca before and during the Hijrat were guilty.

To share in sacrifice, and prayer and praise,
 In an age-old centre of worship. The sacrifices,
 Too, are symbols of Piety of Heart,
 A longing to share with fellow-men
 In the bounties of God. In the Fight for Truth
 Is tested our purity of motive, unselfishness
 Of aim, and devotion to Right at the cost
 Of Self. Fearless must we fight ; for Truth
 Has often been flouted, but must finally win.

SECTION 4.

26. Behold ! We gave the site,<sup>2797</sup>
 To Abraham, of the (Sacred)
 House,
 (Saying) : " Associate not anything
 (In worship) with Me ;
 And sanctify My House
 For those who compass it round,<sup>2798</sup>
 Or stand up,
 Or bow, or prostrate themselves
 (Therein in prayer).
27. " And proclaim the Pilgrimage
 Among men : they will come
 To thee on foot and (mounted)
 On every kind of camel,
 Lean on account of journeys
 Through deep and distant
 Mountain highways ;<sup>2799</sup>
28. " That they may witness
 The benefits (provided) for them,<sup>2800</sup>

۲۶- وَإِذْ بَوَّأْنَا لِإِبْرَاهِيمَ مَكَانَ الْبَيْتِ
 أَنْ لَا تُشْرِكْ بِي شَيْئًا

 وَالْقَائِمِينَ وَالرُّكَّعِ السُّجُودِ ۝

۲۷- وَأَذِّنْ فِي النَّاسِ بِالْحَجِّ
 يَا أَيُّكَ رِجَالًا وَعَلَى كُلِّ ضَامِرٍ
 يَأْتِينَ مِنْ كُلِّ فَجٍّ عَمِيقٍ ۝

۲۸- لِيَشْهَدُوا مَنَافِعَ لَهُمْ

2797. The site of Mecca was granted to Abraham (and his son Ismā'il) for a place of worship that was to be pure (without idols, the worship being paid to the One True God) and universal, without being reserved (like Solomon's Temple of later times) to any one People or Race.

2798. Cf. ii. 125. Note that here the word qā'imīn ('who stand up for prayer') occurs in place of 'ākhīfīn. (who use it as a retreat). In practice the meaning is the same. Those who go for a retreat to the Ka'ba stay there for the time being.

2799. When the Pilgrimage was proclaimed, people came to it from every quarter, near and far, on foot and mounted. The "lean camel" coming after a fatiguing journey through distant mountain roads typifies the difficulties of travel, which Pilgrims disregard on account of the temporal and spiritual benefits referred to in the next verse.

2800. There are benefits both for this our material life and for our spiritual life. Of the former kind are those associated with social intercourse which furthers trade and increases knowledge. Of the latter kind are the opportunities of realising some of our spiritual yearnings in sacred associations that go back to the most ancient times. Of both kinds may be considered the opportunities which the Pilgrimage provides for strengthening our international Brotherhood.

And celebrate the name
Of God, through the Days<sup>2801</sup>
Appointed, over the cattle<sup>2802</sup>
Which He has provided for them
(For sacrifice) : then eat ye
Thereof and feed the distressed
Ones in want.

29. " Then let them complete
The rites prescribed<sup>2803</sup>
For them, perform their vows,<sup>2804</sup>
And (again) circumambulate
The Ancient House."

30. Such (is the Pilgrimage) :
Whoever honours the sacred
Rites of God, for him
It is good in the sight
Of his Lord. Lawful to you
(For food in Pilgrimage) are cattle,
Except those mentioned to you<sup>2805</sup>
(As exceptions) : but shun
The abomination of idols,
And shun the word
That is false,—

31. Being true in faith to God,
And never assigning partners

وَيَذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللَّهِ فِي أَيَّامٍ مَّعْلُومَاتٍ

٢٩- ثُمَّ لِيَقْضُوا تَفَثَهُمْ وَلِيُوفُوا نُدُورَهُمْ

٣٠- ذَٰلِكَ وَمَنْ يُعْظَمْ حُرْمَتِ اللَّهِ

إِلَّا مَا يُتْلَىٰ عَلَيْكُمْ
فَاجْتَنِبُوا الرِّجْسَ مِنَ الْأَوْثَانِ
وَاجْتَنِبُوا قَوْلَ الثُّورِ ۝
٣١- حُنْفَاءَ اللَّهِ غَيْرَ مُشْرِكِينَ

2801. The three special days of Ḥajj are the 8th, 9th, and 10th of the month of Zūl-ḥajj, and the two or three subsequent days of Tashrīq : see the rites explained in n. 217 to ii. 197. But we may ordinarily include the first ten days of Zūl-ḥajj in the term.

2802. The great day of commemorative Sacrifice ('Id-ul-Adḥḥā) is the 10th of Zūl-ḥajj : the meat then killed is meant to be eaten for food and distributed to the poor and needy. In present conditions, where much of it is wasted on the spot, it would be a good thing if the surplus meat were canned and utilised for export, or if the sacrifice were performed in some other form approved by due authority. Bahīmat means animal generally ; an'ām means cattle specifically used for meat, and here for sacrifice.

2803. Tafaṭh—the superfluous growth on one's body, such as nails, hair, etc., which it is not permitted to remove in Ihrām. These may be removed on the 10th day, when the Ḥajj is completed : that is the rite of completion.

2804. The spirit of the Pilgrimage is not completed by the performance of the outward rites. The Pilgrim should carry in mind some vow of spiritual service and endeavour to perform it. Then comes the final Tawāf.

2805. The general food prohibitions will be found in ii. 173, v. 4-5, and vi. 121, 138-146. They are meant for health and cleanliness, but the worst abominations to shun are those of false worship and false speech. Here the question is about food during Pilgrimage. Lawful meat but not game is allowed.

To Him : if anyone assigns
Partners to God, he is

That they might celebrate
The name of God over

۳۴- وَلِكُلِّ أُمَّةٍ جَعَلْنَا مَنَسَكًا
لِيَذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللَّهِ عَلَىٰ مَا رَزَقَهُمْ

2806. A parable full of meaning. The man who falls from the worship of the One True God is like a man who falls from heaven. His being taken up with false objects of worship is like the falling man being picked up in the air by birds of prey. But the false objects of worship cannot hold him permanently in their grip. A fierce blast of wind—the Wrath of God—comes and snatches him away and throws him into a place far, far away from any place he could have imagined—into the hell of those who defied God.

2807. Sha'air, symbols, signs, marks by which something is known to belong to some particular body of men, such as flags. In ii. 158 the word was applied to Şafā and Marwa : see n. 160 there. Here it seems to be applied to the rites of sacrifice. Such sacrifice is symbolical : it should betoken dedication and piety of heart. See below, xxii. 37.

2808. In them : in cattle, or animals offered for sacrifice. It is quite true that they are useful in many ways to man, e.g., camels in desert countries are useful as mounts or for carrying burdens, or for giving milk, and so for horses and oxen ; and camels and oxen are also good for meat, and camel's hair can be woven into cloth ; goats and sheep also yield milk and meat, and hair or wool. But if they are used for sacrifice, they become symbols by which men show that they are willing to give up some of their own benefits for the sake of satisfying the needs of their poorer brethren.

2809. Ilā—towards, near. The actual sacrifice is not performed in the Ka'ba, but at Minā, five or six miles off, where the Pilgrims encamp : see n. 217 to ii. 197. Thumma—then, finally, in the end ; i.e., after all the rites have been performed, Tawāf, Şafā and Marwa, and 'Arafāt.

The sustenance He gave them
From animals (fit for food).<sup>2810</sup>
But your God is One God :
Submit then your wills to Him
(In Islām) : and give thou
The good news<sup>2811</sup> to those
Who humble themselves, —

35. To those whose hearts,
When God is mentioned,
Are filled with fear,
Who show patient perseverance
Over their afflictions, keep up
Regular prayer, and spend
(In charity) out of what
We have bestowed upon them.<sup>2812</sup>

36. The sacrificial camels
We have made for you
As among the Symbols from
God : in them is (much)
Good for you : then pronounce
The name of God over them
As they line up (for sacrifice) :<sup>2813</sup>
When they are down
On their sides (after slaughter),
Eat ye thereof, and feed
Such as (beg not but)
Live in contentment,<sup>2814</sup>
And such as beg
With due humility : thus have

مِنْ بَهِيمَةِ الْأَنْعَامِ
فَالْهَيْكُمُ إِلَهُ وَاحِدٌ فَلَهُ أَسْلِمُوا
وَبَشِّرِ الصَّابِرِينَ ۝

٣٥- الَّذِينَ إِذَا ذُكِرَ اللَّهُ وَجِلَتْ قُلُوبُهُمْ
وَالصَّابِرِينَ عَلَى مَا آصَابَهُمْ
وَالْمُقِيمِي الصَّلَاةِ
وَمِمَّا رَزَقْنَاهُمْ يُنْفِقُونَ ۝

٣٦- وَالْبُدْنَ جَعَلْنَاهَا لَكُمْ
مِنْ شَعَائِرِ اللَّهِ
لَكُمْ فِيهَا خَيْرٌ ۗ
فَاذْكُرُوا اسْمَ اللَّهِ عَلَيْهَا صَوَافٍ ۗ
فَإِذَا وَجِدْتُمْ جُنُوبَهَا
فَكُلُوا مِنْهَا وَأَطْعَمُوا
الْقَائِمَةَ وَالْمُعْتَصِمَةَ كَذَلِكَ

2810. This is the true end of sacrifice, not propitiation of higher powers, for God is One, and He does not delight in flesh or blood (xxii. 37), but a symbol of thanksgiving to God by sharing meat with fellow-men. The solemn pronouncement of God's name over the sacrifice is an essential part of the rite.

2811. The good news : i.e. the Message of God, that He will accept in us the sacrifice of self for the benefit of our fellow-men.

2812. Some qualities of God's devotees are mentioned here, in ascending order : (1) Humility before God makes them receptive, and prepares them to listen to God's Message ; (2) fear of God, which is akin to love, touches their heart, and penetrates through their inmost being ; (3) they are not afraid of anything in mortal life ; they take their trials patiently, and they go on in a course of righteousness with constancy ; (4) their prayer now is not a matter of form, but a real communion with God, with a sense of confidence such as a faithful servant feels in the presence of a kind and loving master ; and (5) gratitude to God, as shown by practical acts of charity to all fellow-creatures.

2813. See n. 2808 to xxii. 33 above. What was expressed in general terms is applied here more particularly to camels, the most precious and useful animals of Arabia, whose mode of slaughter for sacrifice is different from that of smaller animals : the special word for such sacrifice is Nahr (cviii. 2).

2814. There are ethics in begging, as in charity. No approval is given to arrogant and insolent begging, though the relief of distress of all kinds, deserved and undeserved, is included in charity. But those who beg with humility and those who receive gifts with gratitude and contentment are both mentioned for special attention. Charity should not be given for show, or to get rid of importunate demands. It should find out real needs and meet them.

We made animals subject
To you, that ye
May be grateful.

سَخَّرْنَاهَا لَكُمْ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَشْكُرُونَ ٥

37. It is not their meat
Nor their blood, that reaches
God: it is your piety
That reaches Him: He
Has thus made them subject
To you, that ye may glorify
God for His guidance to you: <sup>2815</sup>
And proclaim the Good News
To all who do right.

٣٦- لَنْ يَنَالَ اللَّهُ لُحُومَهَا وَلَا دِمَآؤُهَا
وَلَكِنْ يَنَالُهُ التَّقْوَىٰ مِنكُمْ
كَذَٰلِكَ سَخَّرَهَا لَكُمْ
لِتَشْكُرُوا اللَّهَ عَلَىٰ مَا هَدَاكُمْ
وَبَشِّرِ الْمُحْسِنِينَ ٥

38. Verily God will defend
(From ill) those who believe:
Verily, God loveth not
Any that is a traitor
To faith, or shows ingratitude.

٣٨- إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُدْفِعُ عَنِ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا
إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يُحِبُّ كُلَّ خَوَّانٍ كَفُورٍ ٥

SECTION 6.

39. Allo those against whom <sup>2816</sup>
War is made, permission
Is given (to fight), because
They are wronged;—and verily,
God is Most Powerful
For their aid;—

٣٩- أُذِنَ لِلَّذِينَ
يُقَاتِلُونَ بِأَنَّهُمْ ظَلَمُوا
وَإِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلَىٰ نَصْرِهِمْ لَقَدِيرٌ ٥

40. (They are) those who have
Been expelled from their homes

٤٠- الَّذِينَ أُخْرِجُوا مِنْ دِيَارِهِمْ

الَّذِينَ

2815. The essence of sacrifice has been explained in n. 2810. No one should suppose that meat or blood is acceptable to the One True God. It was a Pagan fancy that God could be appeased by blood-sacrifice. But God does accept the offering of our hearts, and as a symbol of such offer, some visible institution is necessary. He has given us power over the brute creation, and permitted us to eat meat, but only if we pronounce His name at the solemn act of taking life, for without this solemn invocation, we are apt to forget the sacredness of life. By the invocation we are reminded that wanton cruelty is not in our thoughts, but only the need of food. Now if we further deny ourselves the greater part of the food (some theologians fix the proportion at three-quarters or two-thirds) for the sake of our poorer brethren in solemn assembly in the precincts of the Haram (sacred territory), our symbolic act finds practical expression in benevolence, and that is the virtue sought to be taught. We should be grateful to God for His guidance in this matter, in which many Peoples have gone wrong, and we should proclaim the true doctrine, so that virtue and charity may increase among men.

2816. Several translators have failed to notice that yuqataluna (in the best-approved texts) is in the passive voice, "against whom war is made",—not "who take arms against the unbelievers" as Sale translates it. The clause "and verily...their aid" is parenthetical. Verse 40 connects on with "they are wronged". The wrong is indicated: 'driven by persecution from their home, for no other reason than that they worshipped the One True God.' This was the first occasion on which fighting—in self-defence—was permitted. This passage therefore undoubtedly dates from Medina.

In defiance of right,—
 (For no cause) except
 That they say, " Our Lord
 Is God ". Did not God
 Check one set of people
 By means of another,<sup>2817</sup>
 There would surely have been
 Pulled down monasteries, churches,
 Synagogues, and mosques, in which
 The name of God is commemorated

In abundant measure. God will Certainly aid those who
 Aid His (cause);—for verily
 God is Full of Strength,
 Exalted in Might,<sup>2818</sup>
 (Able to enforce His Will).

41. (They are) those who,
 If We establish them
 In the land, establish
 Regular prayer and give
 Regular charity, enjoin
 The right and forbid wrong :<sup>2819</sup>
 With God rests the end
 (And decision) of (all) affairs.

42. If they treat thy (mission)
 As false, so did the Peoples

بِغَيْرِ حَقِّ
 إِلَّا أَنْ يَقُولُوا رَبُّنَا
 اللَّهُ وَلَوْ لَا دَفَعُ اللَّهُ النَّاسَ
 بَعْضَهُمْ بِبَعْضٍ
 لَهَدَمَتِ صَوَامِعُ
 وَبِيَعٌ وَصَلَوَاتٌ وَمَسْجِدٌ
 يُذَكَّرُ فِيهَا اسْمُ اللَّهِ كَثِيرًا
 وَلَيَنْصُرَنَّ اللَّهُ مَنْ يَنْصُرُهُ
 إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَقَوِيٌّ عَزِيزٌ

٣١- الَّذِينَ إِنْ مَكَّنَّا لَهُمْ فِي الْأَرْضِ
 أَقَامُوا الصَّلَاةَ وَآتَوُا الزَّكَاةَ
 وَأَمَرُوا بِالْمَعْرُوفِ وَنَهَوْا عَنِ الْمُنْكَرِ
 وَلِلَّهِ عَاقِبَةُ الْأُمُورِ

٣٢- وَإِنْ يَكْفُرْ بِكَ فَكُذِّبَتْ

2817. Cf. ii. 251, where the expression is used in connection with David's fight against the Philistines. To allow a righteous people to fight against a ferocious and mischief-loving people was fully justified. But the justification was far greater here, when the little Muslim community was not only fighting for its own existence against the Meccan Quraish, but for the very existence of the Faith in the One True God. They had as much right to be in Mecca and worship in the Ka'ba as the other Quraish; yet they were exiled for their Faith. It affected not the faith of one peculiar people. The principle involved was that of all worship, Jewish or Christian as well as Muslim, and of all foundations built for pious uses.

2818. 'Aziz means Exalted in power, rank, dignity; Incomparable; Full of might and majesty; Able to enforce His Will. The last signification is the one that predominates here.

2819. The justification of the righteous in resisting oppression when not only they but their Faith is persecuted and when they are led by a righteous Imam, is that it is a form of self-sacrifice. They are not fighting for themselves, for land, power, or privilege. They are fighting for the right.

Before them (with their Prophets),—<sup>2820</sup>
The People of Noah,
And 'Ād and Thamūd;

قَبْلَهُمْ قَوْمُ نُوحٍ
وَعَادٌ وَثَمُودٌ ۝

43. Those of Abraham and Lūṭ;

۴۳- وَقَوْمُ إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَقَوْمُ لُوطٍ ۝

44. And the Companions<sup>2821</sup>
Of the Madyan people;
And Moses was rejected
(In the same way). But I
Granted respite to the Unbelievers,
And (only) after that
Did I punish them:
But how (terrible) was
My rejection (of them)!<sup>2822</sup>

۴۴- وَأَصْحَابُ مَدْيَنَ
وَكَذَّبَ مُوسَى
فَأَمَلَيْتُ لِلْكَافِرِينَ
ثُمَّ أَخَذْتُهُمْ
فَكَيْفَ كَانَ نَكِيرِ ۝

45. How many populations have We Destroyed, which were given
To wrong-doing? They tumbled down<sup>2823</sup>
On their roofs. And how many Wells are lying idle and neglected,<sup>2824</sup>
And castles lofty and well-built?

۴۵- نَكَايِنَ مِمَّنْ قَرَّبَةٍ أَهْلَكْنَاهَا
وَهِيَ ظَالِمَةٌ فِيهَا خَاوِيَةٌ عَلَى عُرُوشِهَا
وَبُيُوتٌ مُّعْتَظَلَةٌ
وَقُصُورٌ مُّشِيدَةٌ ۝

46. Do they not travel
Through the land, so that
Their hearts (and minds)<sup>2825</sup>
May thus learn wisdom

۴۶- أَلَمْ يَسِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ
فَتَكُونُ لَهُمْ قُلُوبٌ يَعْقِلُونَ بِهَا

2820. It is nothing new if the Prophet of God is accused of imposture. This was done in all ages; e.g., Noah (vii. 64); Hūd the prophet of the 'Ād people (vii. 66); Ṣāliḥ the prophet of the Thamūd (vii. 76); Abraham (xxi. 55); Lūṭ (vii. 82); Shu'aib the prophet of the Madyan people (vii. 85) and also of the Companions of the Wood (xv. 78). The case of Moses is mentioned apart, as his people survived to the time of our Prophet and survive to the present, and they frequently rebelled against Moses (ii. 49-61).

2821. Were they the same as the Companions of the Wood? See n. 2000 to xv. 78.

2822. My Wrath on them, and the complete reversal of their fortune in consequence.

2823. The roofs fell in first, and the whole structure, walls and all, came tumbling after, as happens in ruins. The place was turned upside down.

2825. The word for "heart" in Arabic speech imports both the seat of intelligent faculties and understanding as well as the seat of affections and emotions. Those who reject God's Message may have their physical eyes and ears, but their hearts are blind and deaf. If their faculties of understanding were active, would they not see the Signs of God's Providence and God's Wrath in nature around them and in the cities and ruins if they travel intelligently?

And their ears may
Thus learn to hear?
Truly it is not their eyes
That are blind, but their Hearts which are
In their breasts.

أَوِ اذَانٌ يَسْمَعُونَ بِهَا
فَأَنهَآ لَا تَعْنَى الْإِبْصَارُ
وَلَكِنْ تَعْنَى الْقُلُوبِ الَّتِي فِي الصُّدُورِ

47. Yet they ask thee
To hasten on the Punishment!
But God will not fail<sup>2826</sup>
In His promise. Verily
A Day in the sight of thy Lord
Is like a thousand years
Of your reckoning.

٢٤- وَكَيْسَتَعْجَلُونَكَ بِالْعَذَابِ
وَلَكِنْ يُخَلِّفُ اللَّهُ وَعْدَهُ
وَإِنَّ يَوْمًا عِنْدَ رَبِّكَ كَأَلْفِ سَنَةٍ مِمَّا
تَعُدُّونَ

48. And to how many populations
Did I give respite, which<sup>2827</sup>
Were given to wrong-doing?
In the end I punished them.
To Me is the destination (of all).

٢٨- وَكَأَيِّن مِّن قَرْيَةٍ أَمَلَيْتُ لَهَا
وَهِيَ ظَالِمَةٌ ثُمَّ أَخَذْتُهَا
وَالرَّالِ الْمَصِيرُ

C. 153.—The power of Evil is in insidious suggestions:
(xxii, 49-78.) They are only a trial to those whose hearts
Are inclined to evil, but Truth doth shine
The nobler for the Believers, by the grace
And guidance of God. Martyrs who give
Their all in the cause of God will find
A provision ample and eternal. The finest
And subtlest mysteries are but proofs of the goodness
Of God. Dispute not about rites and ceremonies:
Follow the Straight Way. Seek for worship
The Only True God, and strive in His service,
That ye may be witnesses among men
To God's Truth, as the Apostle is a witness to you.

SECTION 7.

49. Say: "O men! I am
(Sent) to you only to give

٢٩- قُلْ يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ إِنَّمَا أَنَا لَكُمْ

2826. If God gives respite, those to whom it is given have a real chance of repentance and amendment. He will not curtail His promise of respite. But on the other hand He has promised to call everyone to account for his deeds, and this involves justice and punishment for sin. This promise will also come true. It is foolish to try to hasten it. Time with Him is nothing. We keep count of time for our relative calculations. His existence is absolute, and not conditioned by Time or Place. What we call a thousand years may be nothing more than a day or a minute to Him.

2827. The argument begun in xxii, 45 is now rounded off and closed.

A clear warning : <sup>2828</sup>

50. " Those who believe and work
Righteousness, for them
Is forgiveness and a sustenance
Most generous. <sup>2829</sup>

51. " But those who strive
Against Our Signs, to frustrate <sup>2830</sup>
Them,—they will be
Companions of the Fire."

52. Never did We send
An apostle or a prophet
Before thee, but, when he
Framed a desire, Satan
Threw some (vanity) <sup>2831</sup>
Into his desire : but God
Will cancel anything (vain)
That Satan throws in,
And God will confirm
(And establish) His Signs :
For God is full of knowledge
And wisdom : <sup>2832</sup>

53. That He may make
The suggestions thrown in
By Satan, but a trial <sup>2833</sup>
For those in whose hearts

نَذِيرٌ مُّبِينٌ ۝

٥٠- قَالِ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
لَهُمْ مَغْفِرَةٌ وَأَرْزُقٌ كَرِيمٌ ۝

٥١- وَالَّذِينَ سَعَوْا فِي آيَاتِنَا مُعْجِزِينَ
أُولَئِكَ أَصْحَابُ الْجَحِيمِ ۝

٥٢- وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَا مِنْ قَبْلِكَ مِنْ رَسُولٍ
وَلَا نَبِيٍّ إِلَّا إِذَا تَمَنَّى
أَلْقَى الشَّيْطَانُ فِي أُمْنِيَّتِهِ ۖ
فَيَنسَخُ اللَّهُ مَا يُلْقِي الشَّيْطَانُ
ثُمَّ يُحْكِمُ اللَّهُ آيَاتِهِ
وَاللَّهُ عَلِيمٌ حَكِيمٌ ۝

٥٣- لِيَجْعَلَ مَا يُلْقِي
الشَّيْطَانُ فِتْنَةً لِلَّذِينَ فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ

2828. It is the Apostle's duty to convey the warning in the clearest terms to the wicked. It is no part of his duty to coerce them or judge them, or bring on the Punishment for them. That only rests with God. But the warning itself is full of Mercy: for it gives the highest hope to the repentant sinner who turns and comes to God.

2829. The "sustenance" must be construed in the widest sense, spiritual as well as intellectual and physical. The reward of righteousness is far more generous than any merit there may be in the creature following the Will of his Creator.

2830. It will not be in their power to frustrate God's Plan; all they will do is to go further and further down in their spiritual state, deeper and deeper in their Hell.

2831. Prophets and apostles (the distinction is explained in n. 2503 to xix. 51) are but human. Their actions are righteous and their motives pure. But in judging things from a human point of view, the suggestion may come to their mind (from Satan) that it would be good to have power or wealth or influence for furthering God's cause, or that it may be good to conciliate some faction which may be irreconcilable. In fact, in God's Plan, it may be the opposite. God, in His mercy and inspiration, will cancel any false or vain suggestions of this kind, and confirm and strengthen His own Commands and make known His Will in His Signs or revelations.

2832. This clause and the similar clause at the end of the next verse are parenthetical.

2833. If any suggestion comes to the human mind that is not in accordance with God's Will and Plan, it has two opposite effects: to evil minds it is a trial and temptation from the Evil One, but to the mind well-instructed in Faith, it stands self-condemned at once, and becomes a means of strengthening the Faith and stimulating redoubled efforts to conform to the Will of God.

I a disease and who are <sup>2834</sup>
 Hardened of heart: verily
 The wrong-doers are in a schism
 Far (from the Truth):

مَرَضٌ وَالْقَاسِيَةَ قُلُوبُهُمْ
 وَإِنَّ الظَّالِمِينَ لَفِي شِقَاقٍ بَعِيدٍ ۝

54. And that those on whom <sup>2835</sup>
 Knowledge has been bestowed may learn
 That the (Qur-an) is the Truth
 From thy Lord, and that they
 May believe therein, and their hearts
 May be made humbly (open)
 To it: for verily God is
 The Guide of those who believe,
 To the Straight Way.

۵۴- وَيُعَلِّمُ الَّذِينَ أُوتُوا الْعِلْمَ
 أَنَّهُ الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّكَ
 فَيُؤْمِنُوا بِهِ فَتُخْبِتَ لَهُ قُلُوبُهُمْ
 وَإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَهَادٍ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا
 إِلَى صِرَاطٍ مُسْتَقِيمٍ ۝

55. Those who reject Faith
 Will not cease to be <sup>2836</sup>
 In doubt concerning (Revelation)
 Until the Hour (of Judgment)
 Comes suddenly upon them,
 Or there comes to them
 The Penalty of a Day of Disaster.

۵۵- وَلَا يَزَالُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا فِي مِرْيَةٍ مِنْهُ
 حَتَّى تَأْتِيَهُمُ السَّاعَةُ بَغْتَةً
 أَوْ يَأْتِيَهُمْ عَذَابٌ يَوْمٍ عَقِيمٍ ۝

56. On that Day the Dominion <sup>2837</sup>
 Will be that of God:
 He will judge between them:
 So those who believe
 And work righteous deeds will be
 In Gardens of Delight.

۵۶- الْمَلِكُ يَوْمَئِذٍ لِلَّهِ يَحْكُمُ بَيْنَهُمْ
 فَالَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ فِي
 حَيَاتِهِمْ ۝

57. And for those who reject Faith
 And deny Our Signs,
 There will be a humiliating
 Punishment.

۵۷- وَالَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا وَكَذَّبُوا بِآيَاتِنَا
 فَأُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ مُهِينٌ ۝

2834. Cf. ii. 10. I understand the "disease in the heart" to be an earlier state of curse, which leads in an intensified form to a complete "hardening of the heart".

2835. The last clause in the last verse was parenthetical. Treat this clause as parallel with the first clause in verse 53, "that he may make", etc. Both will then connect with "God will confirm (and establish) His Signs" in verse 52. See n. 2833 above.

2836. The penalty of deliberately rejecting Faith is that the person doing so closes the channels of Mercy that flow from God. He will always be subject to doubts and superstitions, until the time comes when all earthly scales fall from his spiritual eyes. But then there will be no time for Repentance: it will be too late to profit by the guidance of God given through Revelation.

2837. Such power as Evil has over those who yield to it (xvii. 62-64) will then be gone, as the respite granted to Satan will be over, and God's Kingdom will be established.

SECTION 8.

58. Alhose who leave their homes
In the cause of God,
And are then slain or die,—
On them will God bestow verily
A goodly Provision: <sup>2838</sup>
Truly God is He Who
Bestows the best Provision.
59. Verily He will admit them
To a place with which
They shall be well pleased:
For God is All-Knowing,
Most Forbearing. <sup>2839</sup>
60. That (is so). And if one
Has retaliated to no greater
Extent than the injury he received,
And is again set upon
Inordinately, God will help
Him: for God is One
That blots out (sins)
And forgives (again and again). <sup>2840</sup>
61. Alhat is because God merges
Night into Day, and He
Merges Day into Night, and
Verily it is God Who hears

٥٨- وَالَّذِينَ هَاجَرُوا فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ
ثُمَّ قُتِلُوا أَوْ مَاتُوا
لَيَرْزُقَهُمُ اللَّهُ رِزْقًا حَسَنًا
وَلَإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَهُوَ خَيْرُ الرَّازِقِينَ ○

٥٩- لَيُدْخِلَنَّهُمْ مُدْخَلًا يَرْضَوْنَ
وَلَإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَعَلِيمٌ حَلِيمٌ ○

٦٠- ذَلِكَ وَمَنْ عَاقَبَ
بِشَيْءٍ مَّا عُوِّقَ بِهِ
ثُمَّ بَغَىٰ عَلَيْهِ لَيَنْصُرْهُ اللَّهُ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَعَفُوفٌ غَفُورٌ ○

٦١- ذَلِكَ يَأْتِ اللَّهَ يَوْمَ الْبَيْتِ فِي النَّهَارِ
وَيَوْمَ الْبَيْتِ فِي اللَّيْلِ وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ سَمِيعٌ

2838. Rizq: sustenance, provision. I have preferred the latter word here, because after death we can only think of rizq in a large metaphorical sense, i.e., all the provision necessary to equip the person for a full and happy Future Life, and also, I think, a provision for his dependants and near and dear ones in this life.

2839. Martyrdom is the sacrifice of life in the service of God. Its reward is therefore even greater than that of an ordinarily good life. The martyr's sins are forgiven by the very act of martyrdom, which implies service and self-surrender in the highest sense of the word. God knows all his past life but will forbear from calling him to account for things that should strictly come into his account.

2840. Ordinarily Muslims are enjoined to bear injuries with patience and return good for evil (xxiii. 96). But there are occasions when human feelings get the better of our wise resolutions, or when, in a state of conflict or war, we return "as good as we get". In that case our retaliation is permissible, provided the injury we inflict is not greater than that we receive. After such retaliation we are even, but if the other side again acts aggressively and goes beyond all bounds in attacking us, we are entitled to protection from God in spite of all our faults: for God is One that blots out our sins, and forgives again and again.

And sees (all things).<sup>2841</sup>

62. That is because God—He<sup>2842</sup>
Is the Reality; and those
Besides Him whom they invoke,—
They are but vain Falsehood:
Verily God is He, Most High,
Most Great.<sup>2843</sup>

63. Seest thou not that God
Sends down rain from the sky,
And forthwith the earth
Becomes clothed with green?
For God is He Who understands<sup>2844</sup>
The finest mysteries, and
Is well-acquainted (with them).

64. To Him belongs all that is
In the heavens and on earth:
For verily God,—He is
Free of all wants,
Worthy of all praise.<sup>2845</sup>

○ بَصِيرٌ

٦٢- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّ اللَّهَ هُوَ الْحَقُّ
وَأَنَّ مَا يَدْعُونَ مِنْ دُونِهِ هُوَ الْبَاطِلُ
وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ هُوَ الْعَلِيُّ الْكَبِيرُ ○

٦٣- أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ أَنْزَلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً
فَتَصْبِغُ الْأَرْضَ مُخْضَرَّةً
إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَطِيفٌ خَبِيرٌ ○

٦٤- لَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَلِإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَهُوَ الْغَنِيُّ الْحَمِيدُ ○

2841. To some it may appear strange or even irreconcilable that God should be both Merciful and Just; that He should both protect His devotees and yet ask for their self-sacrifice: that He should command them to return good for evil, and yet permit retaliation under certain restrictions. But such thoughts are short-sighted. Do they not see many inconsistencies in all Life, all Nature, and all Creation? Why, even in such simple phenomena as Night and Day, the one merges into the other, and no one can tell when precisely the one begins and the other ends. Yet we can see in a rough sort of way that the one gives rest and the other activity, that the one reveals the beauties of the starry heavens and the other the splendour of the sun. In countless ways we can see there the wisdom and the fine artistry of God. And there are subtle nuances and mergings in nature that our intelligence can hardly penetrate. Now human life and human relations are far more complicated, and it is God alone Who can see all the subtle distinctions and hear the cries of all His creatures, in a world which Tennyson described as "red in tooth and claw".

2842. The emphatic construction calls attention to the fact that God is the only abiding Reality. All else is like shadows that will pass away.

2844. Latif, as a name of God, is as difficult to define in words as the idea it seeks to represent is difficult to grasp in our minds. It implies: (1) fine, subtle (the basic meaning); (2) so fine and subtle as to be imperceptible to human sight; (3) so pure as to be incomprehensible; (4) with sight so perfect as to see and understand the finest subtleties and mysteries; (5) so kind and gracious as to bestow gifts of the most refined kind; extraordinarily gracious and understanding. No. 4 is the predominant meaning here and in xii 100; Nos. 2 and 3 in vi. 103; and No. 5 in xlii, 19; but every shade of meaning must be borne in mind in each case, as a subsidiary factor in the spiritual melody.

2845. Each of the verses xxii. 61-63 mentioned two attributes of God with reference to the contents of that verse. This verse now sums up the whole argument, and the two attributes with which it closes sum up the idea by which we can understand God's goodness. God's loving kindness and mercies are not like those of human creatures who all depend upon one another, and often expect some kindness or recognition in return. God is above all wants and depends in no way whatever on His creatures. His mercies have therefore a special quality, which we cannot describe except by gratefully singing the praises of God. Cf. ii. 267.

SECTION 9.

65. Seest thou not that God
Has made subject to you (men)
All that is on the earth,
And the ships that sail <sup>2846</sup>
Through the sea by His command?
He withholds the sky (rain) <sup>2847</sup>
From falling on the earth
Except by His leave:
For God is Most Kind
And Most Merciful to man.

٦٥- أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ سَخَّرَ لَكُمْ
قَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَالْفَلَكَ تَجْرِي فِي الْبَحْرِ
بِأَمْرِهِ وَيُمْسِكُ السَّمَاءَ أَنْ تَقَعَ عَلَى
الْأَرْضِ إِلَّا بِإِذْنِهِ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ بِالنَّاسِ لَكَرِيمٌ ۝

66. It is He Who gave you life,
Will cause you to die,
And will again give you
Life: truly man is
A most ungrateful creature!

٦٦- وَهُوَ الَّذِي أَحْيَاكُمْ ثُمَّ يُمِيتُكُمْ
ثُمَّ يُحْيِيكُمْ
إِنَّ الْإِنْسَانَ لَكَفُورٌ ۝

67. To every People have We Appointed rites and ceremonies <sup>2848</sup>
Which they must follow:
Let them not then dispute
With thee on the matter,
But do thou invite (them)
To thy Lord: for thou art
Assuredly on the Right Way.

٦٧- لِكُلِّ أُمَّةٍ جَعَلْنَا مَنْسَكًا
هُم نَاسِكُوهُ فَلَا بُرَآءَةَ لَكَ فِي الْأَمْرِ
وَإِنِّي إِلَى رَبِّكَ
إِنَّكَ لَعَلَّ هُدًى مُسْتَقِيمٌ ۝

68. If they do wrangle with thee,
Say, "God knows best
What it is ye are doing." <sup>2849</sup>

٦٨- وَإِنْ جَدَلُواكَ
فَقُلِ اللَّهُ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ ۝

2846. Land and sea have been made subject to man by God's command, so that man can develop his life freely on earth.

2847. Samāa means (1) something high, (2) a roof, a ceiling, (3) the sky, the canopy of heaven. (4) cloud or rain. I understand the last meaning here, though most authorities seem to render it by some such word as "sky". If we understand rain here, we have a complete picture of the three elements in which man lives—land, air and sea. Rain is also appropriate for mention with God's kindness and mercy. He regulates the rain for man's benefit.

2848. Rites and ceremonies may appear to be an unimportant matter compared with "weightier matters of the Law" and with the higher needs of man's spiritual nature. But they are necessary for social and religious organisation, and their effect on the individual himself is not to be despised. In any case, as they are visible external symbols, they give rise to the most heated controversies. Such controversies are to be deprecated. That does not mean that our rites and ceremonies are to be made light of. Those in Islam rest on the highest social and religious needs of man, and if we are convinced that we are on the Right Way, we should invite all to join us, without entering into controversies about such matters.

2849. 'You are only wrangling about matters about which you have no knowledge nor any deep religious feeling. The springs of your conduct are all open before God, and He will judge you.'

69. " God will judge between you
On the Day of Judgment
Concerning the matters in which
Ye differ." <sup>2850</sup>

70. Knowest thou not that
God knows all that is
In heaven and on earth ?
Indeed it is all
In a record, and that
Is easy for God. <sup>2851</sup>

71. Yet they worship, besides God,
Things for which no authority
Has been sent down to them,
And of which they have (Really) no knowledge :
For those that do wrong
There is no helper. <sup>2852</sup>

72. When Our Clear Signs
Are rehearsed to them,
Thou wilt notice a denial <sup>2853</sup>
On the faces of the Unbelievers !
They nearly attack with violence
Those who rehearse Our Signs
To them. Say, " Shall I
Tell you of something
(Far) worse than these Signs ? <sup>2854</sup>
It is the Fire (of Hell) !

٦٩- اللَّهُ يَحْكُمُ بَيْنَكُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ
فِيمَا كُنْتُمْ فِيهِ تَخْتَلِفُونَ ○

٧٠- أَلَمْ تَعْلَمْ أَنَّ اللَّهَ يَعْلَمُ مَا فِي السَّمَاءِ
وَالْأَرْضِ إِنَّ ذَلِكَ فِي كِتَابٍ
إِنَّ ذَلِكَ عَلَى اللَّهِ يَسِيرٌ ○

٧١- وَيَعْبُدُونَ مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
مَا لَمْ يُنَزَّلْ بِهِ سُلْطَانًا
وَمَا لَيْسَ لَهُمْ بِهِ عِلْمٌ
وَمَا لِلظَّالِمِينَ مِنْ تَصْدِيرٍ ○

٧٢- وَإِذَا تُتْلَى عَلَيْهِمْ آيَاتُنَا بَيِّنَاتٍ
تَعْرِفُ فِي وُجُوهِ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا الْمُنْكَرَ
يَكَادُونَ يَسْطُونَ بِالَّذِينَ
يَتْلُونَ عَلَيْهِمْ آيَاتِنَا
قُلْ أَفَأَنْتُمْ كُمْ بِشَرِّ مِمَّنْ ذُكِّرُوا النَّارَ

2850. 'You not only find fault with the very few and simple rites and ceremonies in Islam : you, outside Islam, have no rites and ceremonies which you are yourselves agreed upon, either as Christians or as Jews, or one compared with the other.'

2851. We human beings can only think of knowledge being accurately and permanently preserved by means of a record. God's knowledge has all the qualities of a perfect record, and it is moreover complete and comprehensive. This is not difficult for Him from whom flow all knowledge and intelligence.

2852. When plain common-sense shows the absurdity of false worship, behind which there is neither knowledge, intelligence, nor authority (quite the contrary), who or what can help the false misguided creatures who dishonour God by false worship ?

2853. Munkar : (1) a refusal to accept something offered ; (2) a denial of something stated or pointed out ; (3) a feeling of disapproval or active aversion, or disgust.

2854. There is irony here. 'You think God's revelations and Signs are distasteful to you! There will be something far more distasteful to you if you do not repent! What do you say to the inevitable Punishment.'

God has promised it
To the Unbelievers!
And evil is that destination!"

SECTION 10.

73. ﴿٢٥﴾ men! Here is
A parable set forth!
Listen to it! Those
On whom, besides God,
Ye call, cannot create
(Even) a fly, if they all
Met together for the purpose!
And if the fly should snatch
Away anything from them,
They would have no power
To release it from the fly.
Feeble are those who petition <sup>2855</sup>
And those whom they petition!
74. No just estimate have they Made of God: for God
Is He Who is strong
And able to carry out
His Will. <sup>2856</sup>
75. God chooses Messengers <sup>2837</sup>
From angels and from men.
For God is He Who hears
And sees (all things). <sup>2858</sup>
76. He knows what is before them
And what is behind them:

وَعَدَّهَا اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
وَبَيْتَ الْمَصِيدِ ۝

٤٣- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ ضَرْبٌ مِثْلُ
فَأَسْتَمِعُوا لَهُ إِنَّ الَّذِينَ تَدْعُونَ مِنْ
دُونِ اللَّهِ
لَنْ يَخْلُقُوا ذُبَابًا وَلَوْ اجْتَمَعُوا لَهُ
وَإِنْ يَسْلُبْهُمُ الذُّبَابُ شَيْئًا
لَا يَسْتَنْقِذُوهُ مِنْهُ
ضَعْفَ الطَّالِبِ وَالْمَطْلُوبِ ۝

٤٤- مَا قَدَرُوا اللَّهَ حَقَّ قَدْرِهِ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَقَوِيٌّ عَزِيزٌ ۝

٤٥- اللَّهُ يَصْطَفِي مِنَ الْمَلَائِكَةِ رُسُلًا

٤٦- يَعْلَمُ مَا بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَمَا خَلْفَهُمْ

2855. Both idols and their worshippers are poor, foolish, feeble creatures!

2856. No one can have a true idea of God, who descends to the base forms of false worship. God has all power, and He is fully able to carry out every part of His Will and Plan. He is exalted above all in power and dignity. Cf. xxii. 40 and n. 2818 for the full meaning of 'Aziz.

2857. Men are chosen as Messengers to ordinary men; for ordinary men will not be able to understand and be in communion with beings so refined as angels. But angels are sent as Messengers to God's chosen apostles, to convey the Message from time to time. In either case they are chosen by God, are subject to God's Will, and should not be worshipped as gods.

2858. As God regards the humblest of His creatures and hears their prayer, He sends men apostles out of their own brethren (see last note), and to such apostles He communicates the highest spiritual Truths through His angels.

And to God go back
All questions (for decision).<sup>2859</sup>

77. ﴿٧٧﴾ ye who believe!
Bow down, prostrate yourselves,
And adore your Lord;
And do good;
That ye may prosper.<sup>2860</sup>

78. And strive in His cause
As ye ought to strive,
(With sincerity and under discipline).<sup>2861</sup>

He has chosen you, and has
Imposed no difficulties on you<sup>2862</sup>
In religion; it is the cult
Of your father Abraham.
It is He Who has named<sup>2863</sup>
You Muslims, both before
And in this (Revelation);
That the Apostle may be
A witness for you, and ye
Be witnesses for mankind!<sup>2864</sup>
So establish regular Prayer,
Give regular Charity,
And hold fast to God!
He is your Protector—

2859. Time, before or behind, may be of some importance to men. They may dispute as to what was the first Message, and what is the last Message. To God, this question of priority and posteriority is of no consequence. All questions go back ultimately to him and are judged on their merits.

2860. Prosper: in a spiritual sense, both in this life and the Hereafter.

2861. As far as the striving is concerned with Jihād in the narrow sense, see the limitations in n. 204 to ii. 190 and n. 205 to ii. 191. But the words are perfectly general and apply to all true and unselfish striving for spiritual good.

2862. The Jews were hampered by many restrictions, and their religion was racial. Christianity, as originally preached, was a hermit religion: "sell whatsoever thou hast" (Mark. x. 21); "take no thought for the morrow" (Matt. vi. 34). Islam, as originally preached, gives freedom and full play to man's faculties of every kind. It is universal, and claims to date from Adam: father Abraham is mentioned as the great Ancestor of those among whom Islam was first preached (Jews, Christians, and Arab Quraish).

2863. Before: see Abraham's prayer in ii. 128. In this Revelation: in this very verse, as well as in other places.

2864. See ii. 143, and notes 143 and 144. As the Prophet is a guide and exemplar among us, so Muslims ought to be exemplars amongst mankind. The best witness to God's Truth are those who show its light in their lives.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXIII (Mū-minūn).

This Sūra deals with the virtues which are the seed-bed of Faith, especially in an environment in which Truth is denied and its votaries insulted and persecuted. But Truth is One and must prevail. Those who do wrong will be filled with vain regrets when it is too late for repentance.

It belongs to the late Meccan period.

Summary.—Faith, coupled with humility in prayer, charity, abstinence from vanity and from indulgence in appetites, and strict probity, must lead to final success, even though people mock and accuse the righteous of false motives, as did the contemporaries of Noah, of Moses, and of Jesus (xxiii. 1-50, and C. 154).

The apostles of God and the righteous form one Brotherhood, but those who make schisms and refuse to believe have ample evidence pointing to Truth and the goodness and greatness of God (xxiii. 51-92, and C. 155).

Evil must be repelled by goodness and faith in God; for the future life is sure, and those who disbelieve will wish for another chance when it is too late (xxiii. 93-118, and C. 156).

C. 154.—Faith leads to humility, avoidance
(xxiii. 1-50.) Of vanity in word and deed, charity,
Contenance, faithful observance
Of trusts and covenants, and devout
Approach to God,—surest steps
To Bliss. Man carries in himself
Proofs of God's Providence; the same
Story is told if he looks at nature
Around him; and the long line of Teachers
Sent by God shows God's special care
Of humanity. What though they were Rejected and scorned, maligned and persecuted?
God's Truth won through, as it always will.

Sūra XXIII.

Mu-minūn, or The Believers.*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. The Believers must (Eventually) win through, —<sup>2865</sup>
2. Those who humble themselves<sup>2866</sup>
In their prayers;
3. Who avoid vain talk ;
4. Who are active in deeds
Of charity ;
5. Who abstain from sex,<sup>2867</sup>
6. Except with those joined
To them in the marriage bond,
Or (the captives) whom
Their right hands possess, —<sup>2868</sup>
For (in their case) they are
Free from blame,
7. But those whose desires exceed
Those limits are transgressors ;—

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- قَدْ أَفْلَحَ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ ۝

٢- الَّذِينَ هُمْ فِي صَلَاتِهِمْ خَشِعُونَ ۝

٣- وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ عَنِ اللَّغْوِ مُعْرِضُونَ ۝

٤- وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ لِلزَّكَاةِ فَاعِلُونَ ۝

٥- وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ لِفُرُوجِهِمْ حَافِظُونَ ۝

٦- إِلَّا عَلَىٰ أَزْوَاجِهِمْ

أَوْ مَا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُهُمْ فَإِنَّهُمْ غَيْرُ

مَلُومِينَ ۝

٧- فَمَنْ ابْتَغَىٰ وَرَاءَ ذَلِكَ فَأُولَٰئِكَ هُمُ الْعَادُونَ ۝

2865. Aflaha: win through, prosper, succeed, achieve their aims or obtain salvation from sorrow and all evil. This verse connects on with verses 10 and 11 below. The success or victory may come in this world, but is certain and lasting in the world to come.

2866. Humility in prayer as regards (1) their estimate of their own worth in God's presence, (2) as regards their estimate of their own powers or strength unless they are helped by God, and (3) as regards the petitions they offer to God.

2867. The Muslim must guard himself against every kind of sex abuse or sex perversion. The new psychology associated with the name of Freud traces many of our hidden motives to sex, and it is common knowledge that our refinement or degradation may be measured by the hidden workings of our sex instincts. But even the natural and lawful exercise of sex is restricted to the marriage bond, under which the rights of both parties are duly regulated and maintained.

2868. This is further explained and amplified in iv. 25. It will be seen there that the status of a captive when raised to freedom by marriage is the same as that of a free woman as regards her rights, but more lenient as regards the punishment to be inflicted if she falls from virtue.

8. Those who faithfully observe
Their trusts and their covenants ; <sup>2869</sup>
9. And who (strictly) guard <sup>2870</sup>
Their prayers ;—
10. These will be the heirs, <sup>2871</sup>
11. Who will inherit Paradise :
They will dwell therein
(For ever).
12. Man We did create
From a quintessence (of clay) ; <sup>2872</sup>
13. Then We placed him
As (a drop of) sperm

وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ لِأَمْتِنَتِهِمْ وَعَهْدِهِمْ رَاعُونَ ۝

وَالَّذِينَ هُمْ عَلَى صَلَاتِهِمْ حَافِظُونَ ۝

۱۰- أُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْوَارِثُونَ ۝

۱۱- الَّذِينَ يَرِثُونَ الْفِرَادُوسَ هُمْ فِيهَا

خَالِدُونَ ۝

۱۲- وَلَقَدْ خَلَقْنَا الْإِنْسَانَ مِنْ سُلَالَةٍ

مِنْ طِينٍ ۝

۱۳- ثُمَّ جَعَلْنَاهُ نُطْفَةً ۝

2869. Trusts may be express or implied. Express trusts are those where property is entrusted or duties are assigned by some one to some other whom he trusts, to carry out either immediately or in specified contingencies, such as death. Implied trusts arise out of power, or position, or opportunity ; e.g., a king holds his kingdom on trust from God for his subjects : the Afghan official phrase for their kingdom used to be Daulat-i-Khudā-dād ('God-given kingdom'). The subject of covenants, express and implied, has been discussed in n. 682 to v. 1. Covenants create obligations, and express and implied trusts and covenants taken together cover the whole field of obligations.

2870. In verse 2 we were directed to the spirit of humility and earnestness in our prayers. Here we are told how necessary the habit of regular prayer is to our spiritual well-being and development, as it brings us closer to God, and thus sums up the light of the seven jewels of our Faith, viz. : (1) humility, (2) avoidance of vanity, (3) charity, (4) sex purity, (5) fidelity to trusts, and (6) to covenants, and (7) an earnest desire to get closer to God.

2871. Cf. xxi. 105, where it is said that the righteous will inherit the earth. In the first verse of this Sūra, the final success or victory is referred to. Truth will prevail even on this earth, but it may not be for any individual men of righteousness to see it : it may be in the time of their heirs and successors. But in the life to come, there is no doubt that every man will see the fruit of his life here, and the righteous will inherit heaven, in the sense that they will attain it after their death here.

2872. In this beautiful passage, God's creative work, as far as man is concerned, is recapitulated, in order to show man's real position in this life, and the certainty of the future : to which he was referred for his reward in verses 10-11 above. For the various stages of creation, see n. 120 to ii. 117. Here we are not concerned with the earliest stage, the creation of primeval matter out of nothing. It is also a process of creation when inorganic matter becomes living matter. Thus inorganic constituents of the earth are absorbed into living matter by way of food and living matter reproduces itself by means of sperm. This is deposited in the ovum and fertilises it and rests for a time in security in the mother's womb. The first change in the fertilised ovum is the conversion into a sort of clot of thickly congealed blood ; the zygote cells grow by segmentation ; then the mass gradually assumes shape in its growth as a foetus. From the lump develop bones and flesh and organs and a nervous system. So far man's growth is like that of an animal, but a further process takes place which makes the infant animal into the infant man. This is the breathing of God's spirit into him (xv. 29) : that process need not be precisely at a given point of time. It may be a continuous process parallel to that of physical growth. The child is born ; it grows ; it decays and dies ; but after death another chapter opens for the individual, and it is to remind us of this most momentous chapter that the previous stages are recapitulated.

In a place of rest,<sup>2873</sup>
Firmly fixed;

14. Then We made the sperm
Into a clot of congealed blood;
Then of that clot We made
A (foetus) lump; then We
Made out of that lump
Bones and clothed the bones
With flesh; then We developed
Out of it another creature.<sup>2874</sup>
So blessed be God,
The Best to create!
15. After that, at length
Ye will die.<sup>2875</sup>
16. Again, on the Day
Of Judgment, will ye be
Raised up.
17. And We have made, above you,
Seven tracts;<sup>2876</sup> and We
Are never unmindful
Of (Our) Creation.<sup>2877</sup>

فِي قَرَارٍ مُّكَيَّنٍ ۝

۱۴- ثُمَّ خَلَقْنَا الطُّفْلَةَ عَلَقَةً
فَخَلَقْنَا الْعَلَقَةَ مَضْغَةً فَخَلَقْنَا الْمَضْغَةَ
عِظْمًا فَكَسَوْنَا الْعِظْمَ لَحْمًا
ثُمَّ أَنشَأْنَاهُ خَلْقًا آخَرَ
فَتَبَارَكَ اللَّهُ أَحْسَنُ الْخَالِقِينَ ۝

۱۵- ثُمَّ إِنَّكُمْ بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ لَنَيِّتُونَ ۝

۱۶- ثُمَّ إِنَّكُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ تَبْعَثُونَ ۝

۱۷- وَلَقَدْ خَلَقْنَا فَوْقَكُمْ سَبْعَ طَرَائِقَ
وَمَا كُنَّا عَنِ الْخَلْقِ غَافِلِينَ ۝

2873. The growth in the foetal stage is silent and unseen. The foetus is protected in the mother's womb like a king in a castle; it is firmly fixed, and gets the protection of the mother's body, on which it depends for its own growth until birth.

2874. From a mere animal, we now consider man as man. Is it not a Sign of wonder in itself that from dry dust (turāb, xxii. 5) or inorganic matter should be made protoplasm (moist clay or organic matter); from it should grow a new animal life; and out of it should grow human life, with all its capacities and responsibilities? Man carries within himself Signs of God's wisdom and power, and he can see them every day in the universe around him.

2875. Our physical death in this mortal life seems to make a break. But if it were the end of all, our life becomes meaningless. Our own instinct tells us that it cannot be so, and God assures us that there will be a resurrection for judgment.

2876. Ṭarāiq: tracts, roads, orbits, or paths of motion in the visible heavens. These seven are regular and clearly marked to our eyes, in the immense space that we see around us. We must go to astronomy to form any plausible theories of these motions. But their simplest observation gives us a sublime view of beauty, order, and grandeur in the universe. The assurance given in the next clause, that God cares for us and all His Creation, calls our attention to God's goodness, which is further illustrated in the subsequent verses.

2877. God's care for His Creation is ceaseless. A few examples of His care for our physical well-being are given in verses 18-22, and for our spiritual well-being, in Sections 2 to 5.

18. And We send down water
From the sky according to <sup>2878</sup>
(Due) measure, and We cause it
To soak in the soil;
And We certainly are able
To drain it off (with ease).

١٨- وَأَنْزَلْنَا مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً بِقَدَرٍ
فَأَسْكَنَهُ فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَلِنَا عَلَى ذَهَابٍ بِهِ لِقَدَرُونَ ۝

19. With it We grow for you
Gardens of date-palms
And vines: in them have ye
Abundant fruits: and of them
Ye eat (and have enjoyment),—<sup>2879</sup>

١٩- فَأَنْشَأْنَا لَكُمْ بِهِ جَدَاتٍ مِّنْ تَجْوِيلٍ
وَأَعْنَابٍ لَّكُمْ فِيهَا فَاوَاكِهِ كَثِيرَةٌ
وَمِنْهَا تَأْكُلُونَ ۝

20. Also a tree springing
Out of Mount Sinai,<sup>2880</sup>
Which produces oil,
And relish for those
Who use it for food.

٢٠- وَشَجْرَةً تَخْرُجُ مِنْ طُورِ سَيْنَاءَ
تَثْبُتُ بِالذُّهْنِ وَصَبْغٍ لِلْكَالِينَ ۝

21. And in cattle (too) ye
Have an instructive example: <sup>2881</sup>
From within their bodies
We produce (milk) for you

٢١- وَإِنَّ لَكُمْ فِي الْأَنْعَامِ لَعِبْرَةً
نُسْقِيكُمْ مِمَّا فِي بُطُونِهَا

2878. Normally the rain comes well distributed; it soaks into the soil; the moisture is retained for a long time in all high grounds; it soaks and penetrates through many layers of soil and forms the architecture of physical geography; the retentive powers of higher soil enable rivers to flow perennially even where, as in India, the rainfall is seasonal and confined to a few months in the year. Another form in which water comes down from the sky according to due measure is in snow and hail: these also have their place in the economy of air and soil. Were it not for snow and glaciers in the higher mountain regions, some of the rivers would fail in their abundant flow. As wonderful as the supply of water and moisture is its drainage. It returns to the sea and air in all sorts of ways, and the formation of mist and clouds repeats the cycle. Were it not for the drainage and the clearance of the waters, we should have floods and waterlogging, as happens when the normal processes of nature are temporarily obstructed. The same thing happens when the rain comes down in other than due measure. These abnormal conditions also have their value. But how grateful should man be for God's gifts in the ceaseless processes of nature on such an enormous scale!

2879. Cf. vii. 19 and n. 776 to v. 69.

2880. For Arabia the best olives grow round about Mount Sinai. The fig, the olive, Mount Sinai, and the sacred city of Mecca are mentioned together in association in xcv. 1-3, where we shall consider the mystic meaning. Olive oil is an ingredient in medicinal ointments and in ointments used for religious ceremonies such as the consecration of kings. It has thus a symbolic meaning. If used for food, the olive has a delicious flavour. Cf. also xxiv. 35, where the olive is called a Blessed Tree, and n. 3000.

2881. 'Ibrat: the root meaning of the verb is "to interpret, or expound, or instruct", as in xii. 43; the noun means, an interpretation, or example or Sign that instructs, as here and in xvi. 66, or gives warning, as in iii. 13. From cattle we get milk and meat; also from their skins we make leather for shoes, boots, straps, saddlery, and numerous other uses; from camel's hair and sheep's wool we weave cloth, hangings, carpets, etc.; from the horns of cattle we make cups and articles of ornament or use; and camels, horses, donkeys, mules, etc., are used for riding, carrying loads, or drawing vehicles.

To drink; there are, in them,
(Besides), numerous (other)
Benefits for you;
And of their (meat) ye eat;

22. And on them, as well as
In ships, ye ride.

SECTION 2.

23. (Further, We sent a long line
Of prophets for your instruction).<sup>2882</sup>
We sent Noah to his people: <sup>2883</sup>
He said, "O my people!
Worship God! Ye have
No other god but Him:
Will ye not fear (Him)?" <sup>2884</sup>

24. The chiefs of the Unbelievers
Among his people said:
"He is no more than a man
Like yourselves: his wish is
To assert his superiority
Over you: if God had wished <sup>2885</sup>
(To send messengers),
He could have sent down
Angels: never did we hear
Such a thing (as he says),
Among our ancestors of old."

25. (And some said): "He is <sup>2886</sup>
Only a man possessed:
Wait (and have patience)
With him for a time."

وَلَكُمْ فِيهَا مَنَافِعُ كَثِيرَةٌ
وَمِنْهَا تَأْكُلُونَ ۝

۲۲- وَعَلَيْهَا وَعَلَى الْفُلْكِ تُحْمَلُونَ ۝

۲۳- وَقَدْ أَرْسَلْنَا نُوحًا إِلَىٰ قَوْمِهِ
فَقَالَ يَقُومُوا عِبُدُوا اللَّهَ
مَا لَكُمْ مِنْ إِلَهٍ غَيْرُهُ أَفَلَا تَتَّقُونَ ۝

۲۴- فَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا مِنْ قَوْمِهِ
مَا هَذَا إِلَّا بَشَرٌ مِثْلُكُمْ يُرِيدُ
أَنْ يَتَفَضَّلَ عَلَيْكُمْ وَلَوْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ
لَأَنْزَلَ مَلَائِكَةً ۝
مَا سَمِعْنَا بِهَذَا فِي آبَائِنَا الْأَوَّلِينَ ۝

۲۵- إِنْ هُوَ إِلَّا رَجُلٌ بِهِ جِنَّةٌ
فَتَرَبَّصُوا بِهِ حَتَّىٰ حِينٍ ۝

2882. The material gifts having been mentioned, which we receive from a wise and kindly Providence, our attention is now directed to God's Providence in spiritual matters. He sent Teachers to instruct and guide us, and though they were mocked, rejected, and accused of falsehood and selfishness, they were protected by God, and God's Truth at length prevailed.

2883. "People" here is almost equivalent to "contemporaries".

2884. Cf. vii. 59. To fear God is to lead righteous lives and eschew evil.

2885. They attribute altogether wrong motives to him (such as would have actuated them themselves), in saying that he was trying to establish his own personal superiority over them by his preaching. Then they accuse him of falsehood in claiming to bring a message of God. "If", they say, "God had wished to send us messengers, He would have sent angels, not a man like ourselves and from among ourselves. Our ancestors did not worship One God: why should we?"

2886. I construe this to be a speech of another group among them. They thought he was mad, and best left alone. His madness would run out, or he would come to an evil end.

26. (Noah) said : " O my Lord!
Help me: for that they
Accuse me of falsehood! "
27. So We inspired him
(With this message): " Construct
The Ark within Our sight <sup>2887</sup>
And under Our guidance: then
When comes Our command,
And the fountains of the earth <sup>2888</sup>
Gush forth, take thou on board
Pairs of every species, male <sup>2889</sup>
And female, and thy family —
Except those of them
Against whom the Word
Has already gone forth: <sup>2890</sup>
And address Me not
In favour of the wrong-doers ;
For they shall be drowned
(In the Flood).
28. And when thou hast embarked <sup>2891</sup>
On the Ark—thou and those
With thee,—say: " Praise be
To God, Who has saved us
From the people who do wrong."
29. And say: " O my Lord! <sup>2892</sup>
Enable me to disembark
With Thy blessing: for Thou
Art the Best to enable (us)
To disembark."
30. Verily in this there are
Signs (for men to understand) ;
(Thus) do We try (men). <sup>2893</sup>

٢٦- قَالَ رَبِّ انصُرْنِي بِمَا كَذَّبُونِ ○

٢٧- فَأَوْحَيْنَا إِلَيْهِ أَنْ اصْنَعِ
الْفُلَّكَ بِأَعْيُنِنَا وَوَحَيْنَا
فَإِذَا جَاءَ أَمْرُنَا وَفَارَ التَّنُّورُ
فَأَسْلُكْ فِيهَا مِنْ كُلِّ زَوْجَيْنِ اثْنَيْنِ
وَأَهْلَكَ إِلَّا مَنْ سَبَقَ عَلَيْهِ الْقَوْلُ
مِنْهُمْ ○
وَلَا تُخَاطِبْنِي فِي الَّذِينَ ظَلَمُوا
إِنَّهُمْ مُعْرِقُونَ ○

٢٨- فَإِذَا اسْتَوَيْتَ أَنْتَ وَمَنْ مَعَكَ عَلَى
الْفُلِّ فَقُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي
نَجَّيْنَا مِنَ الْقَوْمِ الظَّالِمِينَ ○

٢٩- وَقُلْ رَبِّ انزِلْنِي مُنزلاً مُبْرَكاً
وَأَنْتَ خَيْرُ الْمُنزِلِينَ ○

٣٠- إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لآيَاتٍ
لِأُولِي الْأَبْصَارِ ○

2887. Cf. this whole passage with xi. 35-48, and notes thereon.

2888. See n. 1533 to xi. 40, where the word Tannūr is explained.

2889. See n. 1534 to xi. 40.

2890. See n. 1535 to xi. 40.

2891. For istawā see n. 1386 to x. 3. Here the meaning is: mounted on board, ascended, embarked.

2892. This second prayer was inspired when the Flood subsided, and the time came for disembarkation.

2893. Noah's contemporaries had all sorts of chances and warnings. But they refused to believe and perished. But God's Truth survived, and it went to the next and succeeding generations. Will not mankind understand?

31. Then We raised after them
Another generation.

٣١- ثُمَّ أَنشَأْنَا مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ قَرْنًا آخَرِينَ ۝

32. And We sent to them
An apostle from among themselves,<sup>2894</sup> (Saying), "Worship God!
Ye have no other god
But Him. Will ye not Fear (Him)?"

٣٢- فَأَرْسَلْنَا فِيهِمْ رَسُولًا مِنْهُمْ
أَنِ اعْبُدُوا اللَّهَ مَا لَكُمْ مِنْ إِلَهٍ غَيْرُهُ
أَفَلَا تَتَّقُونَ ۝

SECTION 3.

33. And the chiefs
Of his people, who disbelieved
And denied the Meeting
In the Hereafter, and on whom
We had bestowed the good things
Of this life, said: "He is
No more than a man
Like yourselves: he eats
Of that of which ye eat,
And drinks of what ye drink.

٣٣- وَقَالَ الْمَلَأُ مِنَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
وَكَذَّبُوا بِلِقَاءِ الْآخِرَةِ وَأُتْرَفْنَاهُمْ فِي
الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا مَا هَذَا إِلَّا بَشَرٌ مِثْلُكُمْ
يَأْكُلُ مِمَّا تَأْكُلُونَ مِنْهُ
وَيَشْرَبُ مِمَّا تَشْرَبُونَ ۝

34. "If ye obey a man
Like yourselves, behold,
It is certain ye will be lost."<sup>2895</sup>

٣٤- وَلَئِنْ أَطَعْتُمْ بَشَرًا مِثْلَكُمْ
إِنَّكُمْ إِذًا لَخَسِرُونَ ۝

35. "Does he promise that
When ye die and become dust
And bones, ye shall be Brought forth (again)?"

٣٥- أَيْعِدُكُمْ أَنْكُمْ إِذَا مِتُّمْ وَكُنْتُمْ تُرَابًا
وَعِظَامًا أَنْكُمْ تُخْرَجُونَ ۝

36. "Far, very far is that
Which ye are promised!"

٣٦- هَيْهَاتَ هَيْهَاتَ لِمَا تُوعَدُونَ ۝

2894. If this refers to any particular prophet, it must be Hūd whose mission was to the 'Ad people, or to Ṣāliḥ, whose mission was to the Thamūd people. That is the sequence after Noah in S. xi. 50-60 and 61-68. But I think that as the name is not mentioned, we are to understand in general the type of the post-Flood prophets until we come later on to Moses and Jesus. The object here is not to recount the stories, but to show that the resistance of the wicked made no difference to the triumph of God's holy Truth.

2895. The type of the narrow Sybarite, who enjoys the good things of this life, denies a future life, and is jealous of any one who presumes to widen his horizon, is here described in a few masterly strokes. He is bored by any mention of the serious things beyond his ken. What good is it, he says, to talk about the future? Enjoy the present. The gain is all in the present: the loss is all in the future.

37. " There is nothing but
Our life in this world!
We shall die and we live! <sup>2876</sup>
But we shall never
Be raised up again!

38. " He is only a man
Who invents a lie
Against God, but we
Are not the ones
To believe in him! " <sup>2897</sup>

39. (The prophet) said:
" O my Lord! help me:
For that they accuse me
Of falsehood. " <sup>2898</sup>

40. (God) said: " In but
A little while, they
Are sure to be sorry! " <sup>2899</sup>

41. Then the Blast <sup>2900</sup> overtook them
With justice, and We made them
As rubbish of dead leaves <sup>2901</sup>
(Floating on the stream of Time)!
So away with the people
Who do wrong!

42. When We raised after them
Other generations.

43. No people can hasten
Their term, nor can they Delay (it).

٣٧- إِنْ هِيَ إِلَّا حَيَاتُنَا الدُّنْيَا
نَمُوتُ وَنَحْيَا

وَمَا نَحْنُ بِمَبْعُوثِينَ ۝

٣٨- إِنْ هُوَ إِلَّا رَجُلٌ افْتَرَىٰ عَلَى اللَّهِ
كَذِبًا

وَمَا نَحْنُ لَهُ بِمُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

٣٩- قَالَ رَبِّ انصُرْنِي بِمَا كَذَّبُونِ ۝

٤٠- قَالَ عَمَّا قَلِيلٍ

لَيُصْبِحُنَّ نَادِمِينَ ۝

٤١- فَآخَذَتْهُمْ الصَّيْحَةُ بِالْحَقِّ

فَجَعَلْنَاهُمْ غُبَاءً فَبَعْدَ اللُّقْمِ الظَّالِمِينَ

٤٢- ثُمَّ أَنشَأْنَا مِن بَعْدِهِمْ قُرُونًا آخَرِينَ

٤٣- مَا تَسْبِقُ مِن أُمَّةٍ أَجَلَهَا وَمَا

يَسْتَأْخِرُونَ ۝

2896. They seem to say: " There is no future life : that we shall die is certain ; that we have this life is certain : some die, some are born, some live : and so the cycle continues : but how can dead men be raised to life ? "

2897. " He is only a fool, and invents things, and attributes them to God's inspiration ! We are too wise to believe such things ! "

2898. See above, xxiii. 26. Every prophet is maligned and persecuted : it is always the same story with them, told in different ways.

2899. When the Punishment comes, they will be sorry for themselves, but it will be too late then.

2900. See xi. 66, and notes 1563 and 1561.

2901. Gathā-un : rubbish of dead leaves, or scum floating on a torrent.

44. Then sent We Our apostles
In succession: every time
There came to a people
Their apostle, they accused him
Of falsehood: so We made
Them follow each other
(In punishment): We made them
As a tale (that is told):<sup>2902</sup>
So away with a people
That will not believe!

45. Then We sent Moses
And his brother Aaron,
With Our Signs and
Authority manifest,<sup>2903</sup>

46. To Pharaoh and his Chiefs:
But these behaved insolently:
They were an arrogant people.

47. They said: "Shall we believe
In two men like ourselves?
And their people are subject<sup>2904</sup>
To us!"

48. So they accused them
Of falsehood, and they became
Of those who were destroyed.

49. And We gave Moses
The Book, in order that
They might receive guidance.<sup>2905</sup>

٢٢- ثُمَّ أَرْسَلْنَا رُسُلَنَا تَتْرًا
كَلَّمَآ جَاءَ أُمَّةً رَّسُولَهَا كَذَّبُوهُ
فَاتَّبَعْنَا بَعْضَهُمْ بَعْضًا
وَجَعَلْنَاهُمْ أَحَادِيثَ
فَبَعْدَ الْقَوْمِ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

٢٥- ثُمَّ أَرْسَلْنَا مُوسَىٰ وَأَخَاهُ هَارُونَ
بِآيَاتِنَا وَسُلْطٰنٍ مُّبِينٍ ○

٢٦- إِلَىٰ فِرْعَوْنَ وَمَلَآئِهِ
فَاسْتَكْبَرُوا وَكَانُوا قَوْمًا عَالِينَ ○

٢٧- فَقَالُوا أَنُؤْمِنُ لِبَشَرَيْنِ مِثْلِنَا
وَقَوْمَهُمَا لَنَا عِبَادُونَ ○

٢٨- فَلَدَّ بُرْهُمَا فَكَانُوا مِنَ الْمُهْلَكِينَ ○

٢٩- وَلَقَدْ آتَيْنَا مُوسَىٰ الْكِتَابَ
لَعَلَّهُمْ يَهْتَدُونَ ○

2902. Their habitations and their organisation have been wiped out. What remains is merely a vague story of their existence, a tale that is told. Where their name remains, which is not always the case, it is only a by-word, suggesting all that is unstable and ephemeral,—“to point a moral and adorn a tale”.

2903. Moses and Aaron had a twofold mission: (1) to Pharaoh and his Court, which failed because of Egyptian arrogance; (2) to the Israelites, for whom the Law was received on Mount Sinai, but they repeatedly rebelled against God. In both cases there were miracles (“Clear Signs”) and other proofs which showed that they came at God’s command and were inspired by His authority.

2904. Racial arrogance made the Egyptians say, ‘These men belong to a race which we hold in subjection as our slaves: how can we accept them as messengers of God?’

2905. Here the reference is to the second part of the mission of Moses, that to the Israelites, which the Israelites rendered ineffective by their want of faith. See n. 2903 above.

50. And We made
The son of Mary
And his mother
As a Sign : <sup>2906</sup>
We gave them both
Shelter on high ground,
Affording rest and security
And furnished with springs. <sup>2907</sup>

٥- وَجَعَلْنَا ابْنَ مَرْيَمَ
وَآمَةً آيَةً
وَأَوْيَيْنَاهُمَا إِلَىٰ رَبْوَةٍ
ذَاتِ قُرَارٍ وَمَعِينٍ ۝

C. 155.—The Brotherhood of Truth is one in all ages :
(xxiii. 51-92.) It is narrow men who create sects.

Let them not think that the goods
Of this world can shield them from evil
Or its consequences. God's Truth and His Messenger
Can be known to all : for He in His Mercy
Has given us faculties and judgment, if we Would but use them. The Message is not
New : all Creation proclaims it : High
Above all is the Lord of Glory Supreme !

SECTION 4.

51. Ye apostles ! enjoy <sup>2908</sup>
(All) things good and pure,
And work righteousness :
For I am well-acquainted
With (all) that ye do.
52. And verily this Brotherhood
Of yours is a single Brotherhood, <sup>2909</sup>
And I am your Lord
And Cherisher : therefore
Fear Me (and no other).

٥- يَا أَيُّهَا الرُّسُلُ كُلُّوَا مِنَ الطَّيِّبَاتِ
وَاعْمَلُوا صَالِحًا
إِنِّي بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ عَلِيمٌ ۝
٥١- وَإِنَّ هَذِهِ أُمَّتُكُمْ أُمَّةً وَاحِدَةً
وَإِنَّا رَبُّكُمْ فَاتَّقُونِ ۝

2906. The virgin birth of Jesus was a miracle both for him and his mother. She was falsely accused of unchastity, but the child Jesus triumphantly vindicated her by his own miracles (xix. 27-33), and showed by his life the meanness of the calumny against his mother.

2907. There is no need to look far for the place where mother and child were given secure shelter. It is described in xix. 22-26. It was the place to which she withdrew to be delivered when the time drew near. There was a fruitful palm-tree, evidently on high ground, for beneath it flowed a spring. She retired there in seclusion, and she and her child rested there until it was time for her to go to her people with her child.

2908. Literally, "eat". See n. 776 to v. 69. The men of God do not pose as ascetics, but receive gratefully all God's gifts, and show their gratitude by their righteous lives.

2909. Cf. xxi. 92-93. All prophets form one Brotherhood : their Message is one, and their religion and teaching are one ; they serve the One True God, Who loves and cherishes them ; and they owe their duty to Him and Him alone.

53. But people have cut off
Their affair (of unity),
Between them, into sects :
Each party rejoices in that
Which is with itself.<sup>2910</sup>
54. But leave them
In their confused ignorance
For a time.
55. Do they think that because
We have granted them abundance
Of wealth and sons,
56. We would hasten them
On in every good? Nay,
They do not understand.<sup>2911</sup>
57. Verily those who live
In awe for fear of their Lord ;
58. Those who believe
In the Signs of their Lord ;
59. Those who join not (in worship)
Partners with their Lord ;
60. And those who dispense
Their charity with their hearts<sup>2912</sup>
Full of fear, because
They will return to their Lord ;—
61. It is these who hasten
In every good work,
And these who are
Foremost in them.

٥٣- تَنقَطَعُوا أَمْرَهُمْ بَيْنَهُمْ زُبُرًا

٦١- أُولَٰئِكَ يُسْرِعُونَ فِي الْخَيْرَاتِ
وَهُمْ لَهَا سَابِقُونَ ○

2910. The people who began to trade on the names of the prophets cut off that unity and made sects ; and each sect rejoices in its own narrow doctrine, instead of taking the universal teaching of Unity from God. But this sectarian confusion is of man's making. It will last for a time, but the rays of Truth and Unity will finally dissipate it.

2911. Worldly wealth, power, and influence may be but trials. Let not their possessors think that they are in themselves things that will necessarily bring them happiness.

2912. Their hearts are full of reverence for God and fear lest their charity or their hearts be not good enough for acceptance before their Lord ; for they have the certainty of a future life, in which they will stand before the Judgment Seat. They fear for their own worthiness, but they hope in Faith.

62. On no soul do We

2913. Cf. ii. 286 and n. 339.

2914 The record speaks clearly, and shows exactly what each soul has done and thought, and what is due to it in justice. The worst will receive full justice. The best will receive far more than their due: xxviii. 84.

2915. This is said of the Unbelievers who rejected Faith and rejoiced in the vanities of this world. In spite of the proclamation of Truth, they are doubtful of the future Life and Judgment.

2916. In addition to their rejection of Faith, they have against them positive deeds of wrong-doing, from which, on account of their contempt of the Light from God, they will not desist until they are sharply pulled up for punishment : and then repentance will be too late !

2917. Sāmīr : one who remains awake by night, one who passes the night in talk or in the recital of stories or romances, a favourite amusement of the Days of Ignorance.

68. Do they not ponder over
The Word (of God), or
Has anything (new) come
To them that did not
Come to their fathers of old? <sup>2918</sup>

69. Or do they not recognise
Their Apostle, that they Deny him?

70. Or do they say, "he is Possessed"? Nay, he has Brought them the Truth,
But most of them
Hate the Truth.

71. If the Truth had been
In accord with their desires,
Truly the heavens and the earth,
And all beings therein
Would have been in confusion <sup>2919</sup>
And corruption! Nay, We
Have sent them their admonition,
But they turn away
From their admonition.

72. Or is it that thou
Askest them for some <sup>2920</sup>
Recompense? But the recompense
Of thy Lord is best:
He is the Best of those
Who give sustenance.

73. But verily thou callest them
To the Straight Way;

٤٨- أَفَلَمْ يَدَّبَّرُوا الْقَوْلَ
أَمْ جَاءَهُمْ مَثَلُ مَا آتَى آبَاءَهُمُ الْأَوَّلِينَ ۝

٤٩- أَمْ لَمْ يَعْرِفُوا رَسُولَهُمْ
فَهُمْ لَهُ مُنْكَرُونَ ۝

٥٠- أَمْ يَقُولُونَ بِهِ جِنَّةٌ ۚ
بَلْ جَاءَهُمُ بِالْحَقِّ
وَأَكْثَرُهُمْ لِلْحَقِّ كِرْهُونَ ۝

٥١- وَلَوْ اتَّبَعَ الْحَقُّ أَهْوَاءَهُمْ
لَفَسَدَتِ السَّمَاوَاتُ وَالْأَرْضُ
وَمَنْ فِيهِنَّ ۚ

بَلْ آتَيْنَاهُمْ بِذِكْرِهِمْ
فَهُمْ عَنِ ذِكْرِهِمْ مُعْرِضُونَ ۝

٥٢- أَمْ تَسْأَلُهُمْ خَرْجًا

وَهُوَ خَيْرُ الرَّازِقِينَ ۝

٥٣- وَإِنَّكَ لَتَدْعُوهُمْ إِلَى صِرَاطٍ مُسْتَقِيمٍ ۝

2918. If they ponder over the matter, they will find that God's Message to humanity is as old as Adam. It is good for all ages. It never grows old, and it is never new.

2919. God is All-Wise and All-Good, and His architecture of the universe is on a perfect Plan. If these poor, low, selfish, ignorant creatures were to plan it according to their hearts' desires, it would be a dreadful world, full of confusion and corruption.

2920. This is the last of the questions, beginning with xxiii. 68 above, showing the absurdity of the position taken up by the Unbelievers. (1) The Message of God is as old as humanity: why do they fight shy of it? (2) They have known their Apostle to be true and righteous: why do they deny him? (3) Is it madness to bring the bitter Truth before them? (4) Does the Prophet ask any worldly reward from them? If not, why do they reject his unselfish efforts for their own good?

74. And verily those who
Believe not in the Hereafter
Are deviating from that Way.

75. ¶f We had mercy on them
And removed the distress <sup>2921</sup>
Which is on them, they
Would obstinately persist
In their transgression,
Wandering in distraction
To and fro.

76. We inflicted Punishment <sup>2922</sup>
On them, but they
Humbled not themselves
To their Lord, nor do they Submissively entreat (Him) !—

77. Until We open on them
A gate leading to
A severe Punishment : then
Lo ! they will be plunged
In despair therein ! <sup>2923</sup>

SECTION 5.

78. ¶t is He Who has created

٤٨- وَهُوَ الَّذِي أَنشَأَ لَكُمْ
السَّمْعَ وَالْأَبْصَارَ وَالْأَفْئِدَةَ
قَلِيلًا مَّا تَشْكُرُونَ ○

2921. The reference is to a very severe famine felt in Mecca, which was attributed by the Unbelievers to the presence of the holy Prophet among them and his preaching against their gods. As this is a Meccan Sūra, the famine referred to must be that described by Ibn Kathīr as having occurred in the 8th year of the Mission, say about four years before the Hijra. There was also a post-Hijra famine, which is referred to by Bukhāri, but that was a later event.

2922. Some Commentators understand the battle of Badr to be meant here : if so, this particular verse would be of the Medina period. But it is better to understand it as referring to the same "distress" as in the preceding verse, or to punishments in general, which obstinate sinners refuse to take as warnings given to them to mend their ways and turn in repentance to God.

2923. Cf. vi. 44. If the little trials in the present life will not open their eyes, will great trials do so? Unfortunately they only cause in the wicked a feeling of despair. In the final Punishment after the Judgment, it will be too late for them to repent, and despair will be their only lot.

2924. As elsewhere, "heart" is to be understood as the seat both of feeling and intelligence. 'All the means by which knowledge can be gathered, judgment formed, and goodness cultivated, are provided for you by God. If you were grateful, you would use those in His service, which is expressed in your service to your fellow-men. But instead you ignore these gifts, question God's Providence, and blaspheme against Him !'

79. And He Has multiplied you
Through the earth, and to Him
Shall ye be gathered back.

80. It is He Who gives
Life and death, and to Him
(Is due) the alternation <sup>2925</sup>
Of Night and Day:
Will ye not then understand?

81. On the contrary they say
Things similar to what
The ancients said. <sup>2926</sup>

82. They say: "What! When we
Die and become dust and bones,
Could we really be
Raised up again?"

83. "Such things have been promised
To us and to our fathers
Before! They are nothing
But tales of the ancients!"

84. Say: "To whom belong
The earth and all beings therein?
(Say) if ye know!"

85. They will say, "To God!"
Say: "Yet will ye not Receive admonition?" <sup>2927</sup>

86. Say: "Who is the Lord
Of the seven heavens,
And the Lord of the Throne
(Of Glory) Supreme?" <sup>2928</sup>

٤٩- وَهُوَ الَّذِي ذَرَأَكُمْ فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَإِلَيْهِ تُحْشَرُونَ ○

٨٠- وَهُوَ الَّذِي يُحْيِي وَيُمِيتُ

٨٦- قُلْ مَنْ رَبُّ السَّمَوَاتِ السَّبْعِ
وَرَبُّ الْعَرْشِ الْعَظِيمِ ○

2925. The alternation of Night and Day stands here as a symbol for all the beneficent processes of Nature provided by God for the comfort and growth of man's outer and inner life.

2926. And they are the more culpable, as they have received a later and completer revelation. Why should they now stand on the primitive ideas of their ancestors?

2927. If their argument is that such things about a future life cannot be known or proved, they are referred to the things which are actually before them. The tangible things of the earth—can they postulate their order or government except by a Power or Force or Energy outside them? They will admit that there is such a Power or Force or Energy. We call it God. Go a step further. We see a sublime Universe in the heavens above, stretching far, far beyond our ken. They will admit its existence and its grandeur. We ask them to entertain a feeling of reverence for the Power behind it, and to understand their own littleness and their dependence upon that Power.

2928. Cf. ix. 129.

87. They will say, "(They belong)
To God." Say: "Will ye not
Then be filled with awe?" <sup>2929</sup>

٨٤- سَيَقُولُونَ لِلّٰهِ
قُلْ اَفَلَا تَتَّقُونَ

88. Say: "Who is it in whose Hands is the governance
Of all things,—who protects
(All), but is not protected
(Of any)? (Say) if ye know."

٨٨- قُلْ مَنْ مِّنْ بِيَدِهِ مَلَكُوتُ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ
وَّهُوَ يُجِيرُ وَلَا يُجَارُ عَلَيْهِ
اِنْ كُنْتُمْ تَعْلَمُونَ

89. They will say, "(It belongs)
To God." Say: "Then how
Are ye deluded?" <sup>2930</sup>

٨٩- سَيَقُولُونَ لِلّٰهِ
قُلْ فَاَتَى تُسْحَرُونَ

But they indeed practise
Falsehood!

٩٠- بَلْ آتَيْنَاهُم بِالْحَقِّ
وَإِنَّهُمْ لَكَاذِبُونَ

91. No son did God beget,
Nor is there any god
Along with Him : (if there were Many gods), behold, each god
Would have taken away
What he had created,
And some would have
Lorded it over others! <sup>2931</sup>
Glory to God! (He is free)
From the (sort of) things

سُبْحٰنَ اللّٰهِ عَمَّا يُصِفُونَ

92. He knows what is hidden
And what is open : too high
Is He for the partners
They attribute to Him! <sup>2932</sup>

٩٢- عَلِيمِ الْغَيْبِ وَالشَّهَادَةِ
فَتَعَلٰى عَمَّا يُشْرِكُونَ

2929. See n. 2927 above. 'If this great and glorious Universe inspires you with awe, surely the Power behind is more worthy of your awe, especially if you compare your dependence and its dependence upon Him.'

2930. The order and unity of purpose in the Universe argue unity of design and goodness in its Maker. Is it not then sheer madness for you to run after false fancies and fail to understand and obey His Will? It is delusion in you to seek other than God.'

2931. Cf. xvii. 42. The multiplicity of gods is intellectually indefensible, considering the unity of Design and Purpose in His wonderful Universe.

2932. To suppose that God has a son or family or partners or companions is to have a low idea of God, Who is high above all such relationships. He is the One True God, and there can be none to compare with Him.

C. 156.—Let us eschew evil, but not
 (xxiii. 93-118.) Pay back evil in its own coin,
 However great the temptation: no chance<sup>3</sup>
 Will there be to retrieve our conduct,
 Once death cuts us off. Then we shall only
 Have to wait for Judgment: none can pass
 That Barrier: our deeds will be weighed,
 And happy those whose good weighs more
 In the scale than ill. Only Faith and Goodness
 Will prevail in the end: so glory to the Lord
 Of the Throne exalted, of Mercy and Honour!

SECTION 6.

93. Say: "O my Lord!
 If Thou wilt show me
 (In my lifetime) that which
 They are warned against,—<sup>2933</sup>

94. "Then, O my Lord! put me not
 Amongst the people
 Who do wrong!"

95. And We are certainly able
 To show thee (in fulfilment)
 That against which they are warned.

96. Repel evil with that<sup>2934</sup>
 Which is best: We are
 Well acquainted with
 The things they say.

97. And say "O my Lord!
 I seek refuge with Thee

٩٣- قُلْ رَبِّ
 اِمَّا تُرِيْنِي مَا يُوْعَدُوْنَ ۝

٩٤- رَبِّ فَلَا تَجْعَلْنِي فِي الْقَوْمِ
 الظَّالِمِيْنَ ۝

٩٥- وَاِنَّا عَلٰى اَنْ تُرِيْكَ
 مَا نَعِدُهُمْ لَقَدٰرُوْنَ ۝

٩٦- اِدْفَعْ بِالَّتِيْ هِيَ اَحْسَنُ السِّيْئَةِ
 نَحْنُ اَعْلَمُ بِمَا يَصِفُوْنَ ۝

٩٧- وَقُلْ رَبِّ اَعُوْذُ بِكَ

2933. In the first instance, this applied to the holy Apostle. His subsequent Hijrat from Mecca and the eventual overthrow of the Meccan oligarchy amply prove the fulfilment of the prophecy. But in general meaning it applies to all. We are taught that evil will be visited with a terrible punishment, not only in a future life, but in this very life when its cup is full and the time comes for punishment in God's Plan. If it has to come while we are still on the scene of this life, we are asked to pray that we may not be found in the company of those who draw such punishment on themselves. In other words we must eschew the society of evil ones.

2934. Whether people speak evil of you, in your presence or behind your back, or they do evil to you in either of those ways, all is known to God. It is not for you to punish. Your best course is not to do evil in your turn, but to do what will best repel the evil. Two evils do not make a good. Cf. xii. 34, n. 4504.

From the suggestions
Of the Evil Ones.<sup>2935</sup>

98. "And I seek refuge with Thee
O my Lord! lest they Should come near me."
99. (When Falsehood will they be)<sup>2936</sup>
Until, when death comes
To one of them, he says:
"O my Lord! send me back<sup>2937</sup>
(To life),—
100. "In order that I may Work righteousness in the things<sup>2938</sup>
I neglected."—"By no means!
It is but a word he says."<sup>2939</sup>
Before them is a Partition<sup>2940</sup>
Till the Day they are
Raised up.
101. When when the Trumpet
Is blown, there will be
No more relationships
Between them that day,
Nor will one ask after another!<sup>2941</sup>

مِنْ هَزَبَتِ الشَّيْطَانِ ۝

٩٨- وَأَعُوذُ بِكَ رَبِّ أَنْ يَحْضُرُونِ ۝

٩٩- حَتَّىٰ إِذَا جَاءَ أَحَدَهُمُ الْمَوْتُ
قَالَ رَبِّ ارْجِعُونِ ۝

١٠٠- لَعَلِّي أَعْمَلُ صَالِحًا فِيمَا تَرَكْتُ
كَلَّا إِنَّهَا كَلِمَةٌ هُوَ قَائِلُهَا
وَمِنْ ذُرِّيَّتِهِمْ بِرَزْخٍ
إِلَىٰ يَوْمٍ يُبْعَثُونَ ۝

١٠١- فَإِذَا نُفِخَ فِي الصُّورِ
فَلَا أَنْسَابَ بَيْنَهُمْ يَوْمَئِذٍ
وَلَا يَتَسَاءَلُونَ ۝

2935. But in any case, shun evil for yourself, and you cannot do this without seeking the help and protection of God. Not only must you shun all promptings of evil, but you must shun its proximity. It may be that in retaliating on evil, or even in your curiosity to discover what evil is, you may fall into evil yourself. You should avoid going near it or anything which brings it near to you. And in this matter you should seek God's help.

2936. This verse I think connects on with xxiii. 90 above. Though God proclaims His Truth everywhere, the wicked cling to Falsehood until they face the reality of Death.

2937. The verb for "send me back" is in the plural in Arabic, which is construed either (1) as an emphatic form, as if the singular were repeated, or (2) as a plural of respect, though such a plural is not ordinarily used in addressing God, or (3) as a plural addressed to the angels, after the address to God in "O my Lord!"

2938. The unrighteous will ask for another chance. But it will be too late then. The time for repentance will then have passed.

2939. Their request will mean nothing. It will be treated merely as an empty word of excuse. They had plenty of chances in this life. Not only did they reject them, but they did not even believe in God or ask for His assistance.

2940. Barzakh: a partition, a bar or barrier; the place or state in which people will be after death and before Judgment. Cf. xxv. 53 and lv. 20. Behind them is the barrier of death, and in front of them is the Barzakh, partition, a quiescent state until the judgment comes.

2941. The old relationships of the world will then be dissolved. Each soul will stand on its merits.

102. Then those whose balance
(Of good deeds) is heavy,—
They will attain salvation : <sup>2942</sup>

۱۰۲- فَمَنْ ثَقَلَتْ مَوَازِينُهُ
فَأُولَٰئِكَ هُمُ الْمُفْلِحُونَ ○

103. But those whose balance
Is light, will be those
Who have lost their souls ; <sup>2943</sup>
In Hell will they abide.

۱۰۳- وَمَنْ خَفَّتْ مَوَازِينُهُ فَأُولَٰئِكَ الَّذِينَ
خَسِرُوا أَنفُسَهُمْ فِي جَهَنَّمَ خَالِدُونَ ○

104. The Fire will burn their faces,
And they will therein
Grin, with their lips displaced. <sup>2944</sup>

105. “ Were not My Signs rehearsed

2942. Good and evil deeds will be weighed against each other. If the good deeds prevail, the soul will attain salāh, i.e., prosperity, well-being, bliss, or salvation; if the contrary, there will be the misery and anguish of Hell.

2943. The loss or perdition will not mean that they will die and feel no more: xiv. 17. The punishment will mean nothing, if there was no sensibility, but total annihilation.

2944. That is to say, their faces will be disfigured with anguish, and their lips will quiver and fall out of place, exposing their teeth.

2945. ‘The evil in us conquered us; it was our misfortune that we surrendered to evil, and went astray.’ They forget that it was by their own deliberate choice that they surrendered to evil, and they are reminded in verses 109-110 of the ridicule with which they covered godly men in their life on earth.

2946. After their flouting of God’s Signs and their mockery of godly men on earth, they have forfeited their right to plead for mercy before God’s Throne.

'Our Lord! we believe;
Then do Thou forgive us,
And have mercy upon us:
For Thou art the Best
Of those who show mercy!'

110. "But ye treated them
With ridicule, so much so
That (ridicule of) them made

Forget My Message while
Ye were laughing at them!

111. "I have rewarded them
This day for their patience
And constancy: they are indeed
The ones that have achieved
Bliss..."

112. He will say: <sup>2948</sup> "What number
Of years did ye stay
On earth?"

113. They will say: "We stayed
A day or part of a day: <sup>2949</sup>
But ask those who
Keep account."

114. He will say: "Ye stayed
Not but a little,—
If ye had only known!

115. "Did ye then think

۱۱۵- أَلَمْ حَسِبْتُمْ أَنَّمَا خَلَقْنَاكُمْ

2947. Literally, 'they made you forget My Message'. The ungodly were so occupied in the backbiting and ridicule of the godly that the godly themselves became the unconscious cause of the ungodly forgetting the warnings declared by God against those who do not treat His Signs seriously. Thus evil often brings about its own ruin through the instrumentality of those whom it would make its victims.

2949. The question and answer about Time imply two things. (1) The attention of the ungodly is drawn to the extremely short time of the life in this world, compared to the eternity which they face: they are made to see this, and to realise how mistaken they were in their comparative valuation of things spiritual and things material. (2) Time, as we know it now, will have faded away and appear as almost nothing. It is just a matter relative to this life of temporary probation. Cf. the experience of the Companions of the Cave: xviii. 19.

In jest, and that ye
Would not be brought back

116. Wherefore exalted be God,
The King, the Reality:
There is no god but He,
The Lord of the Throne

117. If anyone invokes, besides God,
Any other god, he has
No authority therefor;
And his reckoning will be
Only with his Lord! 2951
And verily the Unbelievers
Will fail to win through! 2952

118. So say: “O my Lord!
Grant Thou forgiveness and mercy!
For Thou art the Best
Of those who show mercy!”

فَأَمَّا حِسَابُهُ عِنْدَ رَبِّهِ ۝

إِنَّهُ لَا يُفْلِحُ الْكَافِرُونَ ۝

۱۱۸- وَقُلْ رَبِّ اغْفِرْ وَارْحَمْ ۝

وَأَنْتَ خَيْرُ الرَّحِيمِينَ ۝

2950. God's Creation is not without a high serious purpose. It is not vain, or for mere play or sport. As far as man is concerned, the highest issues for him hang on his behaviour in this life. "Life is real, life is earnest, And the grave is not its goal", as Longfellow truly says. We must therefore earnestly search out God's Truth, encouraged by the fact that God's Truth is also, out of His unbounded mercy, searching us out and trying to reach us.

2951. Not with any one else whatever, as God is the only Reality. If men, out of the figments of their imagination, fancy other gods, they will be rudely undeceived. And God is Lord, i.e., our Cherisher as well as our Creator. In spite of all our shortcomings and our rebellions, He will forgive us if we go to Him not on our merits but on His grace.

2952. See the same word used in describing the contrast with the Believers, in the first verse of this Sura: Righteousness must win and all opposition to it must fail. Thus the circle of the argument is completed.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXIV (Nūr).

The environmental and social influences which most frequently wreck our spiritual ideals have to do with sex, and especially with its misuse, whether in the form of unregulated behaviour, of false charges or scandals, or breach of the refined conventions of personal or domestic privacy. Our complete conquest of all pitfalls in such matters enables us to rise to the higher regions of Light and of God-created Nature, about which a mystic doctrine is suggested. This subject is continued in the next Sūra.

As the reprobation of false slanders about women (xxiv. 11-20) is connected with an incident that happened to Ḥadh̄rat 'Āisha in A.H. 5-6. that fixes the chronological place of this Medina Sūra.

Summary.—Sex offences should be severely punished, but the strictest evidence should be required, and false slanderers are also worthy of punishment. Light talk about women reprobated (xxiv. 1-26, and C. 157).

Privacy should be respected, and the utmost decorum should be observed in dress and manners (xxiv. 27-34, and C. 158).

Parable of Light and Darkness : order and obedience in Nature point to the spiritual duty of man (xxiv. 35-57, and C. 159).

Domestic manners and manners in public or collective life all contribute to the highest virtues, and are part of our spiritual duties leading up to God (xxiv. 58-64, and C. 160).

C. 157.—Chastity is a virtue, for men and women,
 (xxiv. 1-26.) Whether joined in marriage, or single,
 Or widowed. The punishment for offences
 In such matters should be public. No less
 Grave is the launching of false charges
 Or rumours against the fair reputation
 Of women, or the spreading of such
 Slanders, or the facile belief in them.
 Evil is ever spreading its net:
 Good men and women should ever be
 On their guard, and pray for God's grace and mercy.

Sūra XXIV.

Nūr, or Light.

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. ١ Sūra which We Have sent down and <sup>2953</sup>
Which We have ordained :
In it have We sent down
Clear Signs, in order that
Ye may receive admonition.
2. ٢ The woman and the man
Guilty of adultery or fornication, — <sup>2954</sup>
Flog each of them
With a hundred stripes : <sup>2955</sup>
Let not compassion move you
In their case, in a matter
Prescribed by God, if ye believe
In God and the Last Day :
And let a party
Of the Believers
Witness their punishment. <sup>2956</sup>
3. Let no man guilty of Adultery or fornication marry
Any but a woman
Similarly guilty, or an Unbeliever :
Nor let any but such a man
Or an Unbeliever
Marry such a woman :
To the Believers such a thing
Is forbidden. <sup>2957</sup>

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- سُورَةٌ أَنْزَلْنَاهَا وَفَرَضْنَاهَا
وَأَنْزَلْنَا فِيهَا آيَاتٍ بَيِّنَاتٍ
لَعَلَّكُمْ تَذَكَّرُونَ ○

٢- الزَّانِيَةُ وَالزَّانِي
فَأَجْلِدُوا كُلَّ وَاحِدٍ مِّنْهُمَا مِائَةَ جَلْدَةٍ
وَلَا تَأْخُذْكُمْ بِهِمَا رَأْفَةٌ
فِي دِينِ اللَّهِ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ
تُؤْمِنُونَ بِاللَّهِ وَالْيَوْمِ الْآخِرِ وَلِيَشْهَدَ
عَدَابُهُمَا طَائِفَةٌ مِّنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ ○

٣- الزَّانِي إِنْ لَا يَنْكُحِ إِلَّا زَانِيَةً أَوْ مُشْرِكَةً
وَالزَّانِيَةُ إِنْ لَا يَنْكُحُهَا إِلَّا زَانٍ أَوْ مُشْرِكٌ
وَحُرْمَ ذَلِكَ عَلَى الْمُؤْمِنِينَ ○

2953. It must not be thought that the checking of sex offences or of minor improprieties, that relate to sex or privacy, are matters that do not affect spiritual life in the highest degree. These matters are intimately connected with spiritual teaching such as God has sent down in this Sūra. The emphasis is on "We": these things are not mere matters of convenience, but God has ordained them for our observance in life.

2954. Zinā includes sexual intercourse between a man and a woman not married to each other. It therefore applies both to adultery (which implies that one or both of the parties are married to a person or persons other than the ones concerned) and to fornication, which, in its strict signification, implies that both parties are unmarried. The law of marriage and divorce is made easy in Islam, so that there may be the less temptation for intercourse outside the well-defined incidents of marriage. This makes for greater self-respect for both man and woman. Other sex offences are also punishable, but this Section applies strictly to Zinā as above defined.

2955. Cf. iv. 15, and n. 523.

2956. The punishment should be open, in order to be deterrent.

2957. Islam commands sex purity, for men and for women, at all times,—before marriage, during marriage, and after the dissolution of marriage. Those guilty of illicit practices are shut out of the marriage circle of chaste men and women.

4. And those who launch
A charge against chaste women,
And produce not four witnesses
(To support their allegations),—
Flog them with eighty stripes ;
And reject their evidence <sup>2958</sup>
Ever after : for such men
Are wicked transgressors ;—

٤- وَالَّذِينَ يَرْمُونَ الْمُحْصَنَاتِ ثُمَّ لَمْ
يَأْتُوا بِأَرْبَعَةِ شُهَدَاءَ فَاجْلِدُوهُمْ ثَمَانِينَ
جَلْدَةً وَلَا تَقْبَلُوا لَهُمْ شَهَادَةً أَبَدًا
وَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْفَاسِقُونَ ۝

5. Unless they repent thereafter <sup>2959</sup>
And mend (their conduct) ;
For God is Oft-Forgiving,
Most Merciful.

٥- إِلَّا الَّذِينَ تَابُوا مِنْ بَعْدِ ذَلِكَ وَأَصْلَحُوا
فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ غَفُورٌ رَحِيمٌ ۝

6. And for those who launch
A charge against their spouses,
And have (in support)
No evidence but their own,— <sup>2960</sup>

٦- وَالَّذِينَ يَرْمُونَ أَزْوَاجَهُمْ
وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُمْ شُهَدَاءُ إِلَّا أَنْفُسُهُمْ

2958. The most serious notice is taken of people who put forward slanders or scandalous suggestions about women without adequate evidence. If anything is said against a woman's chastity, it should be supported by evidence twice as strong as would ordinarily be required for business transactions, or even in murder cases. That is, four witnesses would be required instead of two. Failing such preponderating evidence, the slanderer should himself be treated as a wicked transgressor and punished with eighty stripes. Not only would he be subjected to this disgraceful form of punishment, but he would be deprived of the citizen's right of giving evidence in all matters all his life, unless he repents and reforms, in which case he can be readmitted to be a competent witness.

2959. The punishment of stripes is inflicted in any case for unsupported slander. But the deprivation of the civic right of giving evidence can be cancelled by the man's subsequent conduct, if he repents, shows that he is sorry for what he did, and that he would not in future support by his statement anything for which he has not the fullest evidence. Secular courts do not enforce these principles, as their standards are lower than those which good Muslims set for themselves, but good Muslims must understand and act on the underlying principles, which protect the honour of womanhood. Abū Ḥanīfa considers that neither the stripes nor the incompetence for giving future evidence is cancelled by repentance, but only the spiritual stigma of being "wicked transgressors". This of course is the more serious punishment, though it cannot be enforced in the Courts.

2960 The case of married persons is different from that of outsiders. If one of them accuses the other of unchastity, the accusation partly reflects on the accuser as well. Moreover, the link which unites married people, even where differences supervene, is sure to act as a steadying influence against the concoction of false charges of unchastity particularly where divorce is allowed (as in Islam) for reasons other than unchastity. Suppose a husband catches a wife in adultery. In the nature of things four witnesses—or even one outside witness—would be impossible. Yet after such an experience it is against human nature that he can live a normal married life. The matter is then left to the honour of the two spouses. If the husband can solemnly swear four times to the fact, and in addition invoke a curse on himself if he lies, that is prima facie evidence of the wife's guilt. But if the wife swears similarly four times and similarly invokes a curse on herself, she is in law acquitted of the guilt. If she does not take this step, the charge is held proved and the punishment follows. In either case the marriage is dissolved, as it is against human nature that the parties can live together happily after such an incident.

Their solitary evidence
(Can be received) if they Bear witness four times
(With an oath) by God
That they are solemnly
Telling the truth ;

7. And the fifth (oath)
(Should be) that they solemnly
Invoke the curse of God
On themselves if they Tell a lie.

8. But it would avert
The punishment from the wife,
If she bears witness
Four times (with an oath)
By God, that (her husband)
Is telling a lie ;

9. And the fifth (oath)
Should be that she solemnly
Invokes the wrath of God
On herself if (her accuser)
Is telling the truth.

10. If it were not
For God's grace and mercy
On you, and that God
Is Oft-Returning,
Full of wisdom,—
(Ye would be ruined indeed).<sup>2961</sup>

SECTION 2.

11. Those who brought forward<sup>2962</sup>

١١- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ جَاءُوا بِالْإِفْكِ عُصْبَةٌ

2961. Cf. xxiv. 11-14, and n. 2962, which illustrates the matter by a concrete instance.

2962. The particular incident here referred to occurred on the return from the expedition to the Banū Muṣṭaliq, A.H. 5-6. When the march was ordered, Ḥadīrat 'Aisha was not in her tent, having gone to search for a valuable necklace she had dropped. As her litter was veiled, it was not noticed that she was not in it, until the army reached the next halt. Meanwhile, finding the camp had gone, she sat down to rest, hoping that some one would come back to fetch her when her absence was noticed. It was night, and she fell asleep. Next morning she was found by Ṣafwān, a Muḥājir, who had been left behind the camp expressly to pick up anything inadvertently left behind. He put her on his camel and brought her, leading the camel on foot. This gave occasion to enemies to raise a malicious scandal. The ringleader among them was the chief of the Medina Hypocrites, 'Abdullah ibn Ubai, who is referred to in the last clause of this verse. He had other sins and enormities to his debit, and he was left to the spiritual punishment of an unrepentant sinner, for he died in that state. The minor tools were given the legal punishment of the law, and after penitence mended their lives. They made good.

Among yourselves : think it not
To be an evil to you ;
On the contrary it is good <sup>2963</sup>
For you : to every man
Among them (will come
The punishment) of the sin
That he earned, and to him <sup>2964</sup>
Who took on himself the lead
Among them, will be
A Penalty grievous.

12. Why did not the Believers—
Men and women <sup>2965</sup>—when ye
Heard of the affair,—put
The best construction on it
In their own minds
And say, “ This (charge)
Is an obvious lie ” ?

۱۲- لَوْلَا إِذْ سَمِعْتُمُوهُ

14. Were it not for the grace
And mercy of God on you,
In this world and the Hereafter,
A grievous penalty would have
Seized you in that ye rushed
Glibly into this affair. <sup>2967</sup>

۱۴- وَلَوْلَا فَضْلُ اللَّهِ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَتُهُ

15. Behold, ye received it
On your tongues,

۱۵- إِذْ تَلَقَّوْنَهُ بِالسِّنِّتِ كُمْ

2963. It is worse for a scandal to be whispered about with bated breath, than that it should be brought into the light of day and disproved.

2964. The ringleader : see n. 2962 above.

2965. Both men and women were involved in spreading the scandal. Their obvious duty was to put the best, not the worst, construction on the acts of one of the “mothers of the Believers”.

2966. If any persons took it seriously, it was their duty to search for and produce the evidence, in the absence of which they themselves became guilty of slander.

2967. Cf. xxiv. 10 above. It was God's mercy that saved them from many evil consequences, both in this life and in the Hereafter,—in this life, because the Apostle's wise measures nipped in the bud any incipient estrangement between those nearest and dearest to him, and from a spiritual aspect in that the minor agents in spreading the scandal repented and were forgiven. No doubts and divisions, no mutual distrust, were allowed to remain in their hearts after the whole matter had been cleared up.

And said out of your mouths
Things of which ye had
No knowledge; and ye thought
It to be a light matter,
While it was most serious
In the sight of God.<sup>2968</sup>

16. And why did ye not,
When ye heard it, say?—
“It is not right of us
To speak of this:
Glory to God! this is
A most serious slander!”<sup>2969</sup>

17. God doth admonish you,
That ye may never repeat
Such (conduct), if ye
Are (true) Believers.

18. And God makes the Signs
Plain to you: for God
Is full of knowledge and wisdom.

19. Those who love (to see)
Scandal published broadcast
Among the Believers, will have
A grievous Penalty in this life

١٦- وَلَوْلَا إِذْ سَمِعْتُمُوهُ قُلْتُمْ
مَا يَكُونُ لَنَا أَنْ نَتَكَلَّمَ بِهَذَا ۖ
سُبْحَانَكَ هَذَا بُهْتَانٌ عَظِيمٌ ۝

١٧- يَعْظُمُ اللَّهُ أَنْ تَعُودُوا لِمِثْلِهِ أَبَدًا
إِنْ كُنْتُمْ مُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

١٨- وَيُبَيِّنُ اللَّهُ لَكُمُ الْآيَاتِ
وَاللَّهُ عَلِيمٌ حَكِيمٌ ۝

١٩- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يُحِبُّونَ أَنْ تَشِيعَ الْفَاحِشَةُ
فِي الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ فِي
الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ وَأَنْتُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ

٢٠- وَلَوْلَا فَضْلُ اللَّهِ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَتُهُ

2968. There are three things here reprobated by way of spiritual teaching: (1) if others speak an evil word, that is no reason why you should allow it to defile your tongue; (2) if you get a thought or suspicion which is not based on your certain knowledge, do not give it currency by giving it expression; and (3) others may think it is a small matter to speak lightly of something which blasts a person's character or reputation: in the eyes of God it is a most serious matter in any case, but specially when it involves the honour and reputation of pious women.

2969. The right course would have been to stop any further currency of false slanders by ignoring them and at least refusing to help in their circulation. The exclamation "Subhānaka", "Praise to Thee (O God!)", or "Glory to God!" is an exclamation of surprise and disavowal as much as to say, "We do not believe it! And we shall have nothing to do with you, O false slanderers!"

2970. What mischiefs can be planned by Evil to delude simple folk who mean no harm in their own minds but who by thoughtlessness are deluded step by step to become the instruments of Evil, may not be known to the most instructed of men, but it is all known to God. Man should therefore always be on his guard against the traps of Evil, and it is only God's grace that can save him.

And that God is
Full of kindness and mercy,
(Ye would be ruined indeed).<sup>2971</sup>

وَإِنَّ اللَّهَ دَعُوفٌ رَحِيمٌ ۝

SECTION 3.

21. ﴿٢١﴾ ye who believe!
Follow not Satan's footsteps :
If any will follow the footsteps
Of Satan, he will (but) command
What is shameful and wrong :
And were it not for the grace
And mercy of God on you,<sup>2972</sup>
Not one of you would ever
Have been pure : but God
Doth purify whom He pleases :<sup>2973</sup>
And God is One Who
Hears and knows (all things).

٢١- يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَتَّبِعُوا خُطُوَاتِ
الشَّيْطَانِ ۚ وَمَنْ يَتَّبِعْ خُطُوَاتِ الشَّيْطَانِ
فَاتَهُ يَأْمُرُ بِالْفَحْشَاءِ وَالْمُنْكَرِ وَلَوْلَا
فَضْلُ اللَّهِ عَلَيْكُمْ وَرَحْمَتُهُ مَا زَكَا
مِنْكُمْ مِنْ أَحَدٍ أَبَدًا ۚ وَلَكِنَّ اللَّهَ
يُزَكِّي مَنْ يَشَاءُ ۚ وَاللَّهُ سَمِيعٌ عَلِيمٌ ۝

22. Let not those among you
Who are endued with grace
And amplitude of means<sup>2974</sup>
Resolve by oath against helping
Their kinsmen, those in want,
And those who have left

٢٢- وَلَا يَأْتِلْ أُولُو الْفَضْلِ مِنْكُمْ
وَالسَّعَةِ أَنْ يُؤْتُوا
أُولَى الْقُرْبَى وَالسَّنَكِينِ

2971. Note the refrain that comes four times in this passage, " Were it not for the grace and mercy of God,...". Each time it has a different application. (1) In xxiv. 10, it was in connection with the accusation of infidelity by one of the spouses against the other : they were both reminded of God's mercy and warned against suspicion and untruth. (2) In xxiv. 14, the Believers were told to be wary of false rumours lest they should cause pain and division among themselves : it is God's grace that keeps them united. (3) Here is an admonition for the future : there may be conspiracies and snares laid by Evil against simple people : it is God's grace that protects them. (4) In xxiv. 21, the general warning is directed to the observance of purity in act and in thought, concerning one's self and concerning others : it is only God's grace that can keep that purity spotless, for He hears prayers and knows of all the snares that are spread in the path of the good.

2972. See last note.

2973. Spotless purity in thought, word, and deed, includes the disposition to put the best construction on the motives of others, so that we ascribe no evil motive to the seeming indiscretions of virtuous people. Such a high standard can only come by the grace of God, Who hears all prayers and knows all the temptations to which human nature is subject. His Will and Plan make both for spiritual protection and spiritual peace, and we must place ourselves trustingly in his hands.

2974. The immediate reference was to Ḥadh̄rat Abū Bakr, the father of Ḥadh̄rat 'Aisha. He was blessed both with spiritual grace from God and with ample means, which he always used in the service of Islam and of Muslims. One of the slanderers of Ḥadh̄rat 'Aisha turned out to be Miṣṭah, a cousin of Ḥadh̄rat Abū Bakr, whom he had been in the habit of supporting. Naturally Ḥadh̄rat Abū Bakr wished to stop that aid, but according to the highest standards of Muslim ethics he was asked to forgive and forget, which he did, with the happiest results to the peace and unity of the Muslim community. But the general application holds good for all time. A generous patron should not, in personal anger, withdraw his support even for serious faults if the delinquent repents and mends his ways. If God forgives us, who are we to refuse forgiveness to our fellows?

Their homes in God's cause :
Let them forgive and overlook,
Do you not wish
That God should forgive you ?
For God is Oft-Forgiving,
Most Merciful.

23. Those who slander chaste women,
Indiscreet but believing,<sup>2975</sup>
Are cursed in this life
And in the Hereafter :
For them is a grievous Penalty,—

24. On the Day when their tongues,
Their hands, and their feet
Will bear witness against them<sup>2976</sup>
As to their actions.

25. On that Day God
Will pay them back
(All) their just dues,
And they will realise
That God is
The (very) Truth,
That makes all things manifest.<sup>2977</sup>

26. Women impure are for men impure,
And men impure for women
impure
And women of purity
Are for men of purity,
And men of purity
Are for women of purity :
These are not affected

٢٣- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يَرْمُونَ الْمُحْصَنَاتِ
الْغَفْلَاتِ الْمُؤْمِنَاتِ لَعُنُوا فِي الدُّنْيَا

وَ الْخَبِيثُونَ لِلْخَبِيثَاتِ
وَ الطَّيِّبَاتُ لِلطَّيِّبِينَ
وَ الطَّيِّبُونَ لِلطَّيِّبَاتِ
أُولَئِكَ مُبَرَّءُونَ

2975. Good women are sometimes indiscreet because they think of no evil. But even such innocent indiscretion lands them, and those who hold them dear, in difficulties. Such was the case with Hadhrat 'Aisha, who was in extreme pain and anguish for a whole month because of the slanders spread about her. Her husband and her father were also placed in a most awkward predicament, considering their position and the great work in which they were engaged. But unprincipled people, who start false slanders, and their unthinking tools who help in spreading such slanders, are guilty of the gravest spiritual offence, and their worst punishment is the deprivation of God's grace, which is the meaning of a state of Curse.

2976. Our own limbs and faculties are the strongest witnesses against us if we misuse them for evil deeds instead of using them for the good deeds for which they were given to us.

2977. All that we thought of hiding will be clear as day before God's Judgment Seat, because He is the very essence of Truth and Reality. He is the true Light (xxiv. 35), of which all physical light is merely a type or reflection.

By what people say: <sup>2978</sup>
 For them there is forgiveness,
 And a provision honourable. <sup>2979</sup>

مِمَّا يَقُولُونَ
 لَهُمْ مَغْفِرَةٌ وَأَمْزُقٌ كَرِيمٌ ۝

C. 158.—Privacy in the home is a nurse of virtue:

(xxiv. 27-34.) Respect it with dignity and decorum. Guard
 Your eyes and thoughts with rules of modesty
 In dress and manners : and learn from these
 To keep your spiritual gaze from straying
 To any but God. True marriage should teach
 Us chastity and purity, and such
 Are the virtues which lead us to the Light
 Sublime which illuminates the world.

SECTION 4.

27. ﴿٢٧﴾ ye who believe!
 Enter not houses other than
 Your own, until ye have Asked permission and saluted
 Those in them : that is Best for you, in order that
 Ye may heed (what is seemly). <sup>2980</sup>

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَدْخُلُوا بُيُوتًا
 غَيْرَ بُيُوتِكُمْ
 حَتَّى تَسْتَأْذِنُوا وَتَسَلِّمُوا عَلَىٰ أَهْلِهَا
 ذَٰلِكُمْ خَيْرٌ لَّكُمْ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَذَكَّرُونَ ۝

28. If ye find no one <sup>2981</sup>
 In the house, enter not Until permission is given
 To you : if ye are asked
 To go back, go back :
 That makes for greater purity

۝۲۸ فَإِنْ لَمْ تَجِدُوا فِيهَا أَحَدًا فَلَا تَدْخُلُوهَا
 حَتَّىٰ يُؤْذَنَ لَكُمْ وَإِنْ قِيلَ لَكُمْ
 ارجِعُوا فَأَرْجِعُوا هُوَ أَزْكَىٰ

2978. The pure consort with the pure, and the impure with the impure. If the impure, out of the impurity of their thoughts, or imaginations, impute any evil to the pure, the pure are not affected by it, but they should avoid all occasions for random talk.

2979. Forgiveness for any indiscretion which they may have innocently committed, and spiritual provision or protection against the assaults of Evil. It is also meant that the more the evil ones attempt to defame or slander them, the more triumphantly will they be vindicated and provided with the physical and moral good which will advance their real life.

2981. That is, if no one replies : there may be people in the house not in a presentable state. Or, even if the house is empty, you have no right to enter it until you obtain the owner's permission, wherever he may be. The fact of your not receiving a reply does not entitle you to enter without permission. You should wait, or knock twice or three times, and withdraw in case no permission is received. If you are actually asked to withdraw, as the inmates are not in a condition to receive you, you should a fortiori withdraw, either for a time, or altogether, as the inmates may wish you to do. Even if they are your friends, you have no right to take them by surprise or enter against their wishes. Your own purity of life and conduct as well as of motives is thus tested.

For yourselves : and God
Knows well all that ye do.

29. It is no fault on your part
To enter houses not used
For living in, which serve
Some (other) use for you : <sup>2982</sup>
And God has knowledge
Of what ye reveal
And what ye conceal.

30. Say to the believing men
That they should lower
Their gaze and guard <sup>2983</sup>
Their modesty : that will make
For greater purity for them :
And God is well acquainted
With all that they do.

31. And say to the believing women
That they should lower
Their gaze and guard <sup>2984</sup>
Their modesty ; that they Should not display their Beauty and ornaments <sup>2935</sup> except
What (must ordinarily) appear
Thereof ; that they should

غَيْرَ مَسْكُونَةٍ فِيهَا مَتَاعٌ لَكُمْ
وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ مَا تُبْدُونَ وَمَا تَكْتُمُونَ ۝

٣٠- قُلْ لِلْمُؤْمِنِينَ يَغْضُوا مِنْ
أَبْصَارِهِمْ وَيَحْفَظُوا فُرُوجَهُمْ

إِنَّ اللَّهَ خَبِيرٌ بِمَا يَصْنَعُونَ ۝

٣١- وَقُلْ لِلْمُؤْمِنَاتِ يَغْضُضْنَ
مِنْ أَبْصَارِهِنَّ وَيَحْفَظْنَ فُرُوجَهُنَّ
وَلَا يُبْدِينَ زِينَتَهُنَّ إِلَّا مَا ظَهَرَ
مِنْهَا وَلْيَضْرِبْنَ

2982 The rule about dwelling-houses is strict, because privacy is precious, and essential to a refined, decent, and well-ordered life. Such a rule of course does not apply to houses used for other useful purposes, such as an inn or caravanserai, or a shop, or a warehouse. But even here, of course, implied permission from the owner is necessary as a matter of common-sense. The question in this passage is that of refined privacy, not that of rights of ownership.

2983. The rule of modesty applies to men as well as women. A brazen stare by a man at a woman (or even at a man) is a breach of refined manners. Where sex is concerned, modesty is not only "good form" : it is not only to guard the weaker sex, but also to guard the spiritual good of the stronger sex.

2984. The need for modesty is the same in both men and women. But on account of the differentiation of the sexes in nature, temperaments, and social life, a greater amount of privacy is required for women than for men, especially in the matter of dress and the uncovering of the bosom.

2985. Zinat means both natural beauty and artificial ornaments. I think both are implied here, but chiefly the former. The woman is asked not to make a display of her figure or appear in undress except to the following classes of people : (1) her husband, (2) her near relatives who would be living in the same house, and with whom a certain amount of negligé is permissible ; (3) her women, i.e., her maid-servants, who would be constantly in attendance on her ; some Commentators include all believing women ; it is not good form in a Muslim household for women to meet other women, except when they are properly dressed ; (4) slaves, male and female, as they would be in constant attendance ; but this item would now be blank, with the abolition of slavery ; (5) old or infirm men-servants ; and (6) infants or small children before they get a sense of sex. Cf. also xxxiii. 59.

Draw their veils over
Their bosoms and not display
Their beauty except
To their husbands, their fathers,
Their husbands' fathers, their sons,
Their husbands' sons,
Their brothers or their brothers' sons,

Or their sisters' sons,
Or their women, or the slaves
Whom their right hands
Possess, or male servants
Free of physical needs,
Or small children who
Have no sense of the shame
Of sex; and that they
Should not strike their feet
In order to draw attention
To their hidden ornaments.<sup>2986</sup>
And O ye Believers!
Turn ye all together
Towards God, that ye
May attain Bliss.<sup>2987</sup>

32. Qarry those among you
Who are single,<sup>2988</sup> or
The virtuous ones among
Your slaves, male or female:
If they are in poverty,
God will give them
Means out of His grace:
For God encompasseth all,<sup>2989</sup>
And He knoweth all things.

وَاللَّهُ وَاسِعٌ عَلِيمٌ ○

2986. It is one of the tricks of showy or unchaste women to tinkle their ankle ornaments, to draw attention to themselves.

2987. While all these details of the purity and good form of domestic life are being brought to our attention, we are clearly reminded that the chief object we should hold in view is our spiritual welfare. All our brief life on this earth is a probation, and we must make our individual, domestic, and social life all contribute to our holiness, so that we can get the real success and bliss which is the aim of our spiritual endeavour. Mystics understand the rules of decorum themselves to typify spiritual truths. Our soul, like a modest maiden, allows not her eyes to stray from the One True God. And her beauty is not for vulgar show, but for God.

2988. The subject of sex ethics and manners brings us to the subject of marriage. "Single" (ayāmā, plural of Aiyim) here means any one not in the bond of wedlock, whether unmarried or lawfully divorced, or widowed. If we can, we must marry in our own circle, but if we have not the means, there is no harm if we choose from a lower circle, provided our choice is determined by virtue. Poverty in the other party does not matter if there is virtue and love. A happily married man has the best wealth in a virtuous wife, and his very happiness makes him a better potential earner of wealth. A slave becomes free by marriage.

2989. Cf. v. 57. God's mercy is for all: it is not confined to a class or grade of people.

33. Let those who find not
 The wherewithal for marriage
 Keep themselves chaste, until
 God gives them means <sup>2990</sup>
 Out of His grace.
 And if any of your slaves
 Ask for a deed in writing
 (To enable them to earn
 Their freedom for a certain sum),
 Give them such a deed <sup>2991</sup>
 If ye know any good
 In them; yea, give them
 Something yourselves
 Out of the means which
 God has given to you.
 But force not your maids <sup>2992</sup>
 To prostitution when <sup>2993</sup> they desire
 Chastity, in order that ye
 May make a gain
 In the goods of this life.
 But if anyone compels them,
 Yet, after such compulsion,
 Is God Oft-Forgiving,
 Most Merciful (to them). <sup>2994</sup>

34. We have already sent down
 To you verses making things
 Clear, an illustration from (the story
 Of) people who passed away
 Before you, and an admonition
 For those who fear (God). <sup>2995</sup>

۳۳- وَ لَيْسَتْ عَفِيفَ الَّذِينَ لَا يُجِدُونَ نِكَاحًا
 حَتَّى يُعْزِبَهُمُ اللَّهُ مِنْ فَضْلِهِ

 وَ مَن يُكْرِهْتُمْ
 فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ مِنْ بَعْدِ إِكْرَاهِهِمْ
 غَفُورٌ رَّحِيمٌ ۝

۳۴- وَ لَقَدْ أَنْزَلْنَا إِلَيْكُمْ آيَاتٍ مُّبِينَاتٍ
 وَ مَثَلًا مِّنَ الَّذِينَ خَلَوْا مِن قَبْلِكُمْ
 وَ مَوْعِظَةً لِّلْمُتَّقِينَ ۝

2990. A Muslim marriage requires some sort of a dower for the wife. If the man cannot afford that, he must wait and keep himself chaste. It is no excuse for him to say that he must satisfy his natural cravings within or outside marriage. It must be within marriage.

2991. The law of slavery in the legal sense of the term is now obsolete. While it had any meaning, Islam made the slave's lot as easy as possible. A slave, male or female, could ask for conditional manumission by a written deed fixing the amount required for manumission and allowing the slave meanwhile to earn money by lawful means and perhaps marry and bring up a family. Such a deed was not to be refused if the request was genuine and the slave had character. Not only that, but the master is directed to help with money out of his own resources in order to enable the slave to earn his or her own liberty.

2992. Where slavery was legal, what is now called the "white slave traffic" was carried on by wicked people like 'Abdullah ibn Ubai, the Hypocrite leader at Medina. This is absolutely condemned. While modern nations have abolished ordinary slavery, the "White Slave Traffic" is still a big social problem in individual States and before the League of Nations. Here it is absolutely condemned. No more despicable trade can be imagined.

2993. I have translated "in" (literally, "if") by "when", because this is not a conditional clause but an explanatory clause, explaining the meaning of "force". "Forcing" a person necessarily means that it is against the wish or inclination of the person forced. Even if they were to give a formal consent, it is not valid because the persons concerned are in (legal, or now) economic slavery.

2994. The poor unfortunate girls, who are victims of such a nefarious trade, will yet find mercy from God, whose bounties extend to the lowest of His creatures.

2995. This prepares the way for the magnificent Verse of Light that follows, and its mystic meaning.

C. 159.—God is the Light of the heavens and the earth.
 (xxiv. 35-57.) High above our petty evanescent lives,
 He illumines our souls with means that reach
 Our inmost being. Universal is
 His light, so pure and so intense
 That grosser beings need a veil
 To take His rays : His elect are e'er
 Absorbed in prayer and praise and deeds
 Of love, unlike the children of Darkness,
 Struggling in Depths profound of vanities
 False. All Nature sings to the glory
 Of God, and men of fraud and hypocrisy
 Are but rebels in the Kingdom of God.

SECTION 5.

35. God is the Light<sup>2996</sup>
 Of the heavens and the earth.<sup>2997</sup>
 The parable of His Light
 Is as if there were a Niche
 And within it a Lamp :
 The Lamp enclosed in Glass :<sup>2998</sup>

٣٥-الله نُورُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
 مَثَلُ نُورِهِ كَمِشْكُوتٍ فِيهَا مِصْبَاحٌ
 الْمِصْبَاحُ فِي زُجَاجَةٍ

2996. Embedded within certain directions concerning a refined domestic and social life, comes this glorious parable of Light, which contains layer upon layer of allegorical truth about spiritual mysteries. No notes can do adequate justice to its full meaning. Volumes have been written on this subject, the most notable being Imām Gazālī's Mishkāt-ul-Anwār. In these notes I propose to explain the simplest meaning of this passage, reserving a brief account of Gazālī's exposition for Appendix VIII (printed at the end of this Sūra), pp. 920-924.

2997. The physical light is but a reflection of the true Light in the world of Reality, and that true Light is God. We can only think of God in terms of our phenomenal experience, and in the phenomenal world, light is the purest thing we know. But physical light has drawbacks incidental to its physical nature : e.g. (1) it is dependent upon some source external to itself ; (2) it is a passing phenomenon ; if we take it to be a form of motion or energy it is unstable, like all physical phenomena ; (3) it is dependent on space and time ; its speed is 186,000 miles per second, and there are stars whose light takes thousands of years before it reaches the earth. The perfect Light of God is free from any such defects.

2998. The first three points in the Parable centre round the symbols of the Niche, the Lamp, and the Glass. (1) The Niche (Alishkāt) is the little shallow recess in the wall of an Eastern house, fairly high from the ground, in which a light (before the days of electricity) was usually placed. Its height enabled it to diffuse the light in the room and minimised the shadows. The background of the wall and the sides of the niche helped to throw the light well into the room, and if the wall was white-washed, it also acted as a reflector : the opening in front made the way for the light. So with the spiritual Light : it is placed high, above worldly things ; it has a niche or habitation of its own, in Revelation and other Signs of God ; its access to men is by a special Way, open to all, yet closed to those who refuse its rays. (2) The Lamp is the core of the spiritual Truth, which is the real illumination ; the Niche is nothing without it ; the Niche is actually made for it. (3) The Glass is the transparent medium through which the Light passes. On the one hand, it protects the light from moths and other forms of low life (lower motives in man) and from gusts of wind (passions), and on the other, it transmits the light through a medium which is made up of and akin to the grosser substances of the earth (such as sand, soda, potash, etc.), so arranged as to admit the subtle to the gross by its transparency. So the spiritual Truth has to be filtered through human language or human intelligence to make it intelligible to mankind.

The glass as it were
 A brilliant star : <sup>2999</sup>
 Lit from a blessed Tree, <sup>3000</sup>
 An Olive, neither of the East
 Nor of the West, <sup>3001</sup>
 Whose Oil is well-nigh
 Luminous,
 Though fire scarce touched it : <sup>3002</sup>
 Light upon Light !
 God doth guide
 Whom He will
 To His Light : <sup>3003</sup>
 God doth set forth Parables
 For men : and God
 Doth know all things.

36. (Lit is such a Light) <sup>3004</sup>
 In houses, which God
 Hath permitted to be raised <sup>3005</sup>
 To honour ; for the celebration,

الرُّجَاجَةُ كَانَهَا كَوُكْبٌ دُرِّيٌّ
 يُوقَدُ مِنْ شَجَرَةٍ مُبْرَكَةٍ زَيْتُونَةٍ لَا
 شَرْقِيَّةٍ
 وَلَا غَرْبِيَّةٍ يَكَادُ زَيْتُهَا يُضِيءُ
 وَلَوْ لَمْ تَمْسَسْهُ نَارٌ
 نُورٌ عَلَى نُورٍ يَهْدِي اللَّهُ لِنُورِهِ مَنْ يَشَاءُ
 وَيَضْرِبُ اللَّهُ الْأَمْثَالَ لِلنَّاسِ
 وَاللَّهُ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عَلِيمٌ
 ٣٦- فِي بُيُوتِ آذِنَ اللَّهُ
 أَنْ تَرْفَعَهُ وَيُذَكَّرَ

2999. The glass by itself does not shine. But when the light comes into it, it shines like a brilliant star. So men of God, who preach God's Truth, are themselves illuminated by God's Light and become the illuminating media through which that Light spreads and permeates human life.

3000. The olive tree is not a very impressive tree in its outward appearance. Its leaves have a dull greenish-brown colour, and in size it is inconspicuous. But its oil is used in sacred ceremonies and forms a wholesome ingredient of food. The fruit has a specially fine flavour. Cf. n. 2880 to xxiii. 20. For the illuminating quality of its oil, see n. 3002 below.

3001. This mystic Olive is not localised. It is neither of the East nor of the West. It is universal, for such is God's Light. As applied to the olive, there is also a more literal meaning, which can be allegorised in a different way. An olive tree with an eastern aspect gets only the rays of the morning sun ; one with a western aspect, only the rays of the western sun. In the northern hemisphere the south aspect will give the sun's rays a great part of the day, while a north aspect will shut them out altogether, and vice versa in the southern hemisphere. But a tree in the open plain or on a hill will get perpetual sunshine by day : it will be more mature, and the fruit and oil will be of superior quality. So God's light is not localised or immature : it is perfect and universal.

3002. Pure olive oil is beautiful in colour, consistency, and illuminating power. The world has tried all kinds of illuminants, and for economic reasons or convenience, one replaces another. But for coolness, comfort to the eyes, and steadiness, vegetable oils are superior to electricity, mineral oils, and animal oils. And among vegetable oils, olive oil takes a high place and deserves its sacred associations. Its purity is almost like light itself : you may suppose it to be almost light before it is lit. So with spiritual Truth : it illuminates the mind and understanding imperceptibly, almost before the human mind and heart have been consciously touched by it.

3003. Glorious, illimitable Light, which cannot be described or measured. And there are grades and grades of it, passing transcendently into regions of spiritual height, which man's imagination can scarcely conceive of. The topmost pinnacle is the true prototypal Light, the real Light, of which all others were reflections, the Light of God. Hence the saying of the holy Prophet about God's " Seventy thousand veils of Light ".

3005. That is, in all places of pure worship ; but some Commentators understand special Mosques, such as the Ka'ba in Mecca, or the Mosques in Medina or Jerusalem ; for these are specially held in honour.

In them, of His name :
 In them is He glorified
 In the mornings and
 In the evenings, (again and again), —<sup>3006</sup>

37. By men whom neither
 Traffic nor merchandise
 Can divert from the Remembrance<sup>3007</sup>
 Of God, nor from regular Prayer,
 Nor from the practice
 Of regular Charity :
 Their (only) fear is
 For the Day when
 Hearts and eyes
 Will be transformed<sup>3008</sup>
 (In a world wholly new), —

٣٦- رِجَالٌ لَا تُلْهِيهِمْ تِجَارَةٌ وَلَا بَيْعٌ
 عَن ذِكْرِ اللَّهِ وَإِقَامِ الصَّلَاةِ
 وَإِيتَاءِ الزَّكَاةِ ۗ
 يَخَافُونَ يَوْمًا تَتَقَلَّبُ
 فِيهِ الْقُلُوبُ وَالْأَبْصَارُ ۝

38. That God may reward them

 Of their deeds, and add
 Even more for them
 Out of His Grace :
 For God doth provide
 For those whom He will,
 Without measure.

٣٨- لِيَجْزِيَ اللَّهُ أَحْسَنَ مَا عَمِلُوا
 وَيَزِيدَهُمْ مِنْ فَضْلِهِ ۗ
 وَاللَّهُ يَرْزُقُ مَنْ يَشَاءُ
 بِغَيْرِ حِسَابٍ ۝

39. But the Unbelievers, —
 Their deeds are like a mirage<sup>3010</sup>

٣٩- وَالَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا أَعْمَالُهُمْ كَسَرَابٍ

3006. In the evenings: the Arabic word is Āṣāl, a plural of a plural, to imply emphasis: I have rendered that shade of meaning by adding the words "again and again".

3007. "Remembrance of God" is wider than Prayer: it includes silent contemplation, and active service of God and His creatures. The regular Prayers and regular Charity are the social acts performed through the organised community.

3008 Some renderings suggest the effects of terror on the Day of Judgment. But here we are considering the case of the righteous, whose "fear" of God is akin to love and reverence and who (as the next verse shows) hope for the best reward from God. But the world they will meet will be a wholly changed world.

3009. The best of the righteous do not deserve the reward that they get: all their faults are forgiven, and only their best actions are considered in the reward that they get. Nay, more! Out of the unbounded Grace of God even more is added to them. For in giving rewards, God's bounty is boundless.

3010. We have had various metaphors to give us an idea of the beneficent Light of God in the spiritual world. Now we have contrasted metaphors to enable us to see those who deny or refuse that Light, and are overwhelmed in utter darkness. The Light (of God) is an absolute Reality, and is mentioned first, and the souls that follow that Light are a reflected reality and are mentioned after the Light. On the other hand the Darkness is not a reality in itself, but a negation of reality; the reflected existences that refuse the Light are mentioned, and then their state, which is Unreality. Two metaphors are given: a mirage, in this verse, and the depths of darkness in the sea, in the next.

In sandy deserts, which
The man parched with thirst
Mistakes for water; until
When he comes up to it,
He finds it to be nothing : <sup>3011</sup>
But he finds God <sup>3012</sup>
(Ever) with him, and God
Will pay him his account :
And God is swift
In taking account.

40. Or (the Unbelievers' state)
Is like the depths of darkness
In a vast deep ocean,
Overwhelmed with billow
Topped by billow,
Topped by (dark) clouds : <sup>3013</sup>
Depths of darkness, one <sup>3014</sup>
Above another : if a man
Stretches out his hand,
He can hardly see it!
For any to whom God
Giveth not light,
There is no light ! <sup>3015</sup>

SECTION 6.

41. Seest thou not that it is
God Whose praises all beings
In the heavens and on earth <sup>3016</sup>
Do celebrate, and the birds

بِقَيْعَةٍ يَحْسِبُهُ الظَّنَّ مَاءً ۖ

فَوَقَّهٖ حِسَابَهُ ۗ
وَاللَّهُ سَرِيعُ الْحِسَابِ ۝

٣٠- أَوْ كَظُلُمَاتٍ فِي بَحْرٍ

مَوْجٌ مِّنْ فَوْقِهِ سَابِكٌ ۗ
ظَلُمَاتٍ بَعْضُهُمَا فَوْقَ بَعْضٍ ۗ
إِذَا أَخْرَجَ يَدَهُ لَمْ يَكِدْ يَرُهَا ۗ
وَمَنْ لَّمْ يَجْعَلِ اللَّهُ لَهُ نُورًا

٣١- أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ يُسَبِّحُ
لَهُ مَنْ فِي السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَالطَّيْرِ

3011. The mirage, of which I have seen several instances in the Arabian deserts and in Egypt, is a strange phenomenon of illusion. It is a trick of our vision. In the language of our Parable, it rejects the Light which shows us the Truth, and deceives us with Falsehood. A lonely traveller in a desert, nearly dying of thirst, sees a broad sheet of water. He goes in that direction, lured on and on, but finds nothing at all. He dies in protracted agony.

3012. The rebel against God finds himself like the man deluded by a mirage. The Truth which he rejected is always with him. The mirage which he accepted leads to his destruction.

3013. What a graphic picture of darkness in the depths of the Ocean. wave upon wave, and on top of all, dense dark clouds! There is so little light even in ordinary depths of the Ocean that fishes which live there lose their eyes as useless organs. For lines 4-5 I am indebted to Gairdner's Translation of Gazālī's Mishkāṭ.

3014. A contrast to "Light upon Light" in xxiv. 35 above.

3015. The true source of Light in the world of Reality is God, and anyone who cuts himself off from that Light is in utter darkness indeed, for it is the negation of the only true Light, and not merely relative darkness, like that which we see, say, in the shadows of moonlight.

3016. Cf. xxi. 19-20.

(Of the air) with wings<sup>3017</sup>
 Outspread? Each one knows
 Its own (mode of) prayer
 And praise. And God
 Knows well all that they do.

42. Yea, to God belongs
 The dominion of the heavens
 And the earth; and to God
 Is the final goal (of all).<sup>3018</sup>

43. Seest thou not that God
 Makes the clouds move
 Gently, then joins them
 Together, then makes them
 Into a heap?—then wilt thou
 See rain issue forth<sup>3019</sup>
 From their midst. And He Sends down from the sky
 Mountain masses (of clouds)
 Wherein is hail: He strikes
 Therewith whom He pleases
 And He turns it away
 From whom He pleases.
 The vivid flash of His lightning
 Well-nigh blinds the sight.

44. It is God Who alternates
 The Night and the Day: <sup>3020</sup>

صَفَّتْ كُلُّ قَدِّعَلَمِ صَلَاتِهِ وَتَسْبِيحِهِ
 وَاللَّهُ عَلَيْهِم بِمَا يَفْعَلُونَ ○

۴۲- وَ لِلَّهِ مُلْكُ السَّمَوَاتِ
 وَالْأَرْضِ وَإِلَى اللَّهِ الْمَصِيرُ ○

۴۳- أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ يُزْجِي سَحَابًا
 ثُمَّ يُؤَلِّفُ بَيْنَهُ
 ثُمَّ يَجْعَلُهُ رُكَامًا
 فَتَرَى الْوَدْقَ يَخْرُجُ مِنْ خِلَالِهِ وَيُنزِلُ
 مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مِنْ جِبَالٍ فِيهَا مِنْ بَرَدٍ
 فَيُصِيبُ بِهِ مَنْ يَشَاءُ
 وَيَصْرِفُهُ عَنِ مَنْ يَشَاءُ
 يَكَادُ سَنَا بَرْقِهِ يَذْهَبُ بِالْأَبْصَارِ
 ۴۴- يُقَلِّبُ اللَّهُ اللَّيْلَ وَالنَّهَارَ

3017. All denizens of the heavens, such as angels, all denizens of the earth (including the waters) such as man, animals, insects, fishes, etc., and all denizens of the air, such as birds, celebrate the praises of God. Each has his own mode of prayer and praise. It is not necessarily with words, for language (as we know it) is peculiar to man. But actions and other modes of self-expression recognise and declare the Glory of God.

3018. From Him we are; to Him we belong; and to Him we shall return. Not only we, but all Creation, proclaims this in the whole world.

3019. Artists, or lovers of nature, or observers of clouds will appreciate this description of cloud effects—thin clouds floating about in fantastic shapes, joining together and taking body and substance, then emerging as heavy clouds heaped up, which condense and pour forth their rain. Then the heavy dark clouds in the upper regions, that bring hail,—how distinct and yet how similar! They are truly like mountain masses! And when the hailstones fall, how local their area! It hits some localities and leaves free others almost interlaced! And the lightning—how blinding flashes come from thunderous clouds! In this Book of Nature can we not see the hand of the powerful and beneficent God?

3020. His power, wisdom, and goodness are shown no less in the regular phenomena of nature like the succession of Day and Night, than in the seasonal or seemingly irregular movements of clouds and rain and hail and lightning. Those who have the spiritual vision can read this Book of God with delight and instruction.

Verily in these things
Is an instructive example
For those who have vision!

45. And God has created
Every animal from water: <sup>3021</sup>
Of them there are some
That creep on their bellies;
Some that walk on two legs;
And some that walk on four. <sup>3022</sup>
God creates what He wills; <sup>3023</sup>
For verily God has power
Over all things.
46. We have indeed sent down
Signs that make things manifest:
And God guides whom He wills
To a Way that is straight.
47. They <sup>3024</sup> say, "We believe
In God and in the Apostle,
And we obey": but
Even after that, some of them
Turn away: they are not (Really) Believers.
48. When they are summoned
To God and His Apostle,
In order that he may judge
Between them, behold, some
Of them decline (to come).

3021. Cf. xxi. 30, n. 2691. Protoplasm is the basis of all living matter, and "the vital power of protoplasm seems to depend on the constant presence of water" (Lowson's Text-book of Botany, Indian Edition, London 1922, p. 23). Text books on Zoology are also clear on the point. For example, see T. J. Parker and W. A. Haswell, Text-book of Zoology, London 1910, vol. I, p. 15: "Living protoplasm always contains a large amount of water."

3022. The creeping things include worms and lowly forms of animal life as well as reptiles (like snakes), centipedes, spiders, and insects. Where these have legs they are small, and the description of creeping or crawling is more applicable to them than that of walking. Fishes and sea-animals generally cannot be said to walk: their swimming is like "creeping on their bellies". Two-legged animals include birds and man. Most of the mammals walk on four legs. This includes the whole of the animal world.

3023. In God's Will and Plan, the variety of forms and habits among animals is adapted to their various modes of life and stages of biological evolution.

3024. The Hypocrites, far from profiting from God's Light and Revelation, or declaring their open hostility, play fast and loose according to their selfish worldly aims.

49. But if the right is <sup>3025</sup>
On their side, they come

۴۹- وَإِنْ يَكُنْ لَهُمُ الْحَقُّ

50. Is it that there is
A disease in their hearts ?
Or do they doubt,
Or are they in fear,
That God and His Apostle
Will deal unjustly with them ?
Nay, it is they themselves
Who do wrong. <sup>3026</sup>

۵۰- أَرَأَيْتُمْ قُلُوبَهُمْ تَرْضَى

SECTION 7.

51. The answer of the Believers,
When summoned to God
And His Apostle, in order
That he may judge between them,
Is no other than this :
They say, " We hear and we obey " : <sup>3027</sup>

۵۱- إِنَّمَا كَانَ قَوْلَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ إِذَا دُعُوا
إِلَى اللَّهِ
وَرَسُولِهِ لِيَحْكُمَ بَيْنَهُمْ
أَنْ يَقُولُوا سَمِعْنَا وَأَطَعْنَا
وَأَوْلِيَاءُ هُمُ الْمُفْلِحُونَ ۝

It is such as these
That will attain felicity. <sup>3028</sup>

52. It is such as obey
God and His Apostle,
And fear God and do
Right, that will win
(In the end).

۵۲- وَمَنْ يُطِيعِ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ
وَيَخْشِ اللَّهَ وَيَتَّقْهُ
فَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْفَائِزُونَ ۝

53. They swear their strongest oaths
By God that, if only thou

۵۳- وَأَقْسَمُوا بِاللَّهِ جَهْدَ أَيْمَانِهِمْ لَئِنْ

3025. The Hypocrites only wanted to go to the judge who they thought was likely to give judgment in their favour. If their case was incontestable, and justice was on their side, they readily came to the Apostle, knowing that he was just and would judge in their favour, even against his own adherents. But if they had done wrong, an impartial judge was not to their taste. They would rather go to some one who would tip the balance in their favour! This form of selfishness and iniquity was not confined to the Hypocrites of Medina. It is common in all ages, and should be suppressed.

3026. The real fact is that their conscience smites them. They know their own iniquity, and do not wish to go before a just judge who would be open to no influence and would be sure to give a righteous decree.

3027. Cf. ii. 285. Contrast with it the attitude of the Unbelievers or Hypocrites, who say aloud, " we hear ", but intend in their hearts to disobey (ii. 93).

3028. True happiness, whether here or in the Hereafter, is not to be attained by fraud or duplicity : it is the privilege of those who listen attentively to good counsel and carry it out in their lives.

Wouldst command them, they
 Would leave (their homes).<sup>3029</sup>
 Say : "Swear ye not ;
 Obedience is (more) reasonable ;
 Verily, God is well acquainted
 With all that ye do."

54. Say : "Obey God, and obey
 The Apostle : but if ye turn
 Away, he is only responsible
 For the duty placed on him
 And ye for that placed
 On you. If ye obey him,
 Ye shall be on right guidance.
 The Apostle's duty is only
 To preach the clear (Message).<sup>3030</sup>

55. God has promised, to those Among you who believe
 And work righteous deeds, that
 He<sup>3031</sup>
 Will, of a surety, grant them
 In the land, inheritance
 (Of power), as He granted it
 To those before them ; that
 He will establish in authority
 Their religion—the one
 Which He has chosen for them ;
 And that He will change
 (Their state), after the fear<sup>3032</sup>
 In which they (lived), to one

 فَإِنْ تَوَلَّوْا فَإِنَّمَا عَلَيْهِ مَا حُمِّلَ
 وَعَلَيْكُمْ مَا حُمِّلْتُمْ

 دِينَهُمُ الَّذِي ارْتَضَى لَهُمْ
 وَلِيُعَدِّلَنَّ لَهُمْ مِنْ بَعْدِ خَوْفِهِمْ

3029. Some people, especially hypocrites, give hyperbolic assurances, as did the Medina Hypocrites to the holy Apostle, that they would do any bidding, even to the forsaking of their hearths and homes. To this they are ready to swear their strongest oaths, which mean nothing. They are asked to spare their oaths, and quietly do at least such unheroic duties as they are asked to do in every-day life. Idle words are not of the least value. God will judge by your actions, and He knows all, whether it is open or secret.

3030. 'If you disobey God's commands as explained by His Apostle, you are not going to be forced. The Apostle's mission is to train your will and explain clearly all the implications of your conduct. The responsibility for your conduct rests entirely on yourselves.'

3031. Three things are promised here, to those who have Faith and obey God's Law : (1) that they will inherit power and authority in the land, not for any selfish purposes of theirs nor by way of favouritism, but in order that they may maintain God's Law ; (2) that the Religion of Right, which God has chosen for them, will be openly established, and will suppress all wrong and oppression ; (3) that the righteous will live in peace and security, instead of having to suffer persecution, or leave their hearths and homes for the cause of God, or practise the rites of their Faith in secret.

3032. If this verse was revealed about the time of the Battle of the Ditch (Khandaq), also called the Battle of the Confederates (Ahzāb), A.H. 4-5, we can imagine the comfort it gave to the Muslims who were besieged in Medina by a force ten times their number. The Muslims then lived in a state of great suspense and danger, and under arms for days on end. (See xxxiii. 9-20.) The security and authority they were promised came to them subsequently in abundant measure.

Of security and peace :
 ' They will worship Me (alone)
 And not associate aught with Me.'
 If any do reject Faith
 After this, they are
 Rebellious and wicked.

أَمَّنَا يَعْْبُدُونَنِي لَا يَشْرِكُونَ بِي شَيْئًا
 وَمَنْ كَفَرَ بَعْدَ ذَلِكَ
 فَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْفَاسِقُونَ ○

56. So establish regular Prayer
 And give regular Charity ;
 And obey the Apostle ;
 That ye may receive mercy.

٥٦- وَأَقِيمُوا الصَّلَاةَ وَآتُوا الزَّكَاةَ
 وَأَطِيعُوا الرَّسُولَ لَعَلَّكُمْ تُرْحَمُونَ ○

57. Never think thou
 That the Unbelievers
 Are going to frustrate
 (God's Plan) on earth :
 Their abode is the Fire,—
 And it is indeed
 An evil refuge !

٥٧- لَا تَحْسَبَنَّ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
 مُعْجِزِينَ فِي الْأَرْضِ
 وَمَا لَهُمُ النَّارُ
 وَلَيْسَ الْمَصِيرُ ○

C. 160.—For a self-respecting life on earth, respect
 (xxiv. 58-64.) For others' privacy is most essential,
 In the home and abroad : but superstitions
 Are not meet in intercourse amongst kin
 Or true friends. In public council never Fail to observe the most punctilious
 Form and order : your self-respect
 Demands that ye should give your Leader
 Sincere respect and all obedience.
 Ye may not know but God doth know
 The inwardness of things both great and small.

SECTION 8.

58. ﴿٥٨﴾ ye who believe !<sup>3033</sup>
 Let those whom your right
 Possess, and the (children) among you

٥٨- يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لِيَسْتَأْذِنَكُمْ
 الَّذِينَ مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُكُمْ وَالَّذِينَ

3033. We now come to rules of decorum within the family circle in refined society. Servants and children have rather more freedom of access, as they come and go at all hours, and there is less ceremony with them. But even in their case there are limitations. During the night, before morning prayer, i.e., before dawn, they must discreetly ask for permission before they enter, partly because they must not unnecessarily disturb people asleep, and partly because the people are then undressed. The same applies to the time for the midday siesta, and again to the time after night prayers, when people usually undress and turn in to sleep. For grown-ups the rule is stricter: they must ask permission to come in at all times (xxiv. 59).

3034. This would mean slaves in a régime of slavery. But the principle applies to all personal servants, who have to render personal service to their masters or mistresses by day and by night.

Who have not come of age <sup>3035</sup>
 Ask your permission (before
 They come to your presence),
 On three occasions : before
 Morning prayer ; the while
 Ye doff your clothes
 For the noonday heat ;
 And after the late-night prayer :
 These are your three times <sup>3036</sup>
 Of undress : outside those times
 It is not wrong for you
 Or for them to move about
 Attending to each other :
 Thus does God make clear
 The Signs to you : for God
 Is full of knowledge and wisdom.

59. But when the children among you <sup>3037</sup>
 Come of age, let them (also)
 Ask for permission, as do those
 Senior to them (in age) : <sup>3038</sup>
 Thus does God make clear
 His Signs to you : for God
 Is full of knowledge and wisdom. <sup>3039</sup>

60. Such elderly women <sup>3040</sup> as are Past the prospect of marriage,—
 There is no blame on them
 If they lay aside

لَمْ يَبْلُغُوا الْحُلُمَ مِنْكُمْ ثَلَاثَ مَرَاتٍ
 مِنْ قَبْلِ صَلَاةِ الْفَجْرِ وَحِينَ تَضَعُونَ
 ثِيَابَكُمْ مِنَ الظَّهْرِ وَمِنْ بَعْدِ صَلَاةِ
 الْعِشَاءِ ثَلَاثُ عَوْرَاتٍ لَكُمْ
 لَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ وَلَا عَلَيْهِمْ جُنَاحٌ بَعْدَ هُنَّ
 طَوْفُونَ عَلَيْكُمْ بَعْضُكُمْ عَلَى بَعْضٍ
 كَذَلِكَ يُبَيِّنُ اللَّهُ لَكُمْ الْآيَاتِ
 وَاللَّهُ عَلِيمٌ حَكِيمٌ ۝

٥٩- وَإِذَا بَلَغَ الْأَطْفَالُ مِنْكُمُ الْحُلُمَ
 فَلْيَسْتَأْذِنُوا كَمَا اسْتَأْذَنَ الَّذِينَ
 مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ كَذَلِكَ يُبَيِّنُ اللَّهُ لَكُمْ آيَاتِهِ
 وَاللَّهُ عَلِيمٌ حَكِيمٌ ۝

٦٠- وَالْقَوَاعِدُ مِنَ النِّسَاءِ الَّتِي لَا يَرْجُونَ
 نِكَاحًا فَلَيْسَ عَلَيْهِنَّ جُنَاحٌ أَنْ يَضَعْنَ

3035. I have translated "come of age" euphemistically for "attain the age of puberty".

3036. It is a mark of refinement for ladies and gentlemen not to be slipshod or vulgarly familiar, in dress, manners, or speech; and Islam aims at making every Muslim man or woman, however humble in station, a refined gentleman or lady, so that he or she can climb the ladder of spiritual development with humble confidence in God, and with the co-operation of his brothers and sisters in Islam. The principles here laid down apply, if they are interpreted with due elasticity, even if social and domestic habits change, with changes in climate or in racial and personal habits. Punctilious self-respect and respect for others, in small things as well as great, are the key-notes in these simple rules of etiquette.

3037. Children among you: i.e., in your house, not necessarily your own children. All in the house, including the stranger within your gate, must conform to these wholesome rules.

3038. Those senior to them: literally, those before them, i.e., those who have already become grown-up before these children attain their age. It is suggested that each generation as it grows up should follow the wholesome traditions of its predecessors. While they were children, they behaved like children: when they grow up, they must behave like grown-ups.

3039. The refrain connects up this verse with the last verse, whose meaning is completed here. The slight variation ("His Signs" here, against "the Signs" there) shows that this verse is more personal, as referring to children who have now become responsible men and women.

3040. For elderly women in the home the rules of dress and decorum are not so exacting as for younger women, but they are also enjoined to study modesty, both because it is good in itself, and as an example to the younger people.

Their (outer) garments, provided
They make not a wanton display
Of their beauty: but
It is best for them
To be modest: and God
Is One Who sees and knows <sup>3041</sup>
All things.

ثِيَابَهُنَّ غَيْرَ مُتَبَرِّجَاتٍ بِزِينَةٍ
وَأَنْ يَسْتَغْفِرْنَ خَيْرٌ لَّهُنَّ
وَاللَّهُ سَمِيعٌ عَلِيمٌ ۝

61. It is no fault in the blind
Nor in one born lame, nor
In one afflicted with illness, <sup>3042</sup>
Nor in yourselves, that ye
Should eat in your own houses,
Or those of your fathers,
Or your mothers, or your brothers,
Or your sisters, or your father's brothers
Or your father's sisters,
Or your mother's brothers,
Or your mother's sisters,
Or in houses of which
The keys are in your possession,
Or in the house of a sincere
Friend of yours: there is
No blame on you, whether
Ye eat in company or Separately. But if ye
Enter houses, salute each other—
A greeting of blessing
And purity as from God. <sup>3043</sup>

٦١- لَيْسَ عَلَى الْأَعْمَى حَرَجٌ وَلَا عَلَى
الْأَعْرَجِ حَرَجٌ وَلَا عَلَى الْمَرِيضِ حَرَجٌ وَلَا
عَلَى أَنْفُسِكُمْ أَنْ تَأْكُلُوا مِنْ بُيُوتِكُمْ أَوْ
بُيُوتِ آبَائِكُمْ أَوْ بُيُوتِ أُمَّهَاتِكُمْ أَوْ بُيُوتِ
إِخْوَانِكُمْ أَوْ بُيُوتِ أَخَوَاتِكُمْ أَوْ بُيُوتِ أَعْمَامِكُمْ
أَوْ بُيُوتِ عَمَّاتِكُمْ أَوْ بُيُوتِ إِخْوَانِكُمْ أَوْ بُيُوتِ
خَالَاتِكُمْ أَوْ مَا مَلَكَتُمْ أَيْمَانُهُمْ أَوْ صَدِيقِكُمْ
لَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ جُنَاحٌ
أَنْ تَأْكُلُوا جَمِيعًا أَوْ أَشْتَاتًا
فَإِذَا دَخَلْتُمْ بُيُوتًا فَسَلِّمُوا عَلَى أَنْفُسِكُمْ
تَحِيَّةً مِّنْ عِنْدِ اللَّهِ مُبْرَكَةٌ طَيِّبَةٌ

3042. There were various Arab superstitions and fancies which are combated and rejected here. (1) The blind, or the halt, or those afflicted with serious disease were supposed to be objects of divine displeasure, and as such not fit to be associated with us in meals in our houses: we are not to entertain such a thought, as we are no judges of the causes of people's misfortunes, which deserve our sympathy and kindness. (2) It was considered unbecoming to take meals in the houses of near relatives: this taboo is not approved. (3) A similar superstition about houses in our possession but not in our actual occupation is disapproved. (4) If people think they should not fall under obligation to casual friends, that does not apply to a sincere friend, in whose company a meal is not to be rejected, but welcomed. (5) If people make a superstition either that they should always eat separately, as in a Chauka in India, or that they must always eat in company, as some people weary of their own company think, either of them is wrong. Man is free and should regulate his life according to needs and circumstances.

3043. The shades of meaning in Salām are explained in n. 2512 to xix. 62. Here, we were first told that we might accept hospitality and good fellowship in each other's houses. Now we are told what spirit should animate us in doing so: It should not be a spirit only of self-satisfaction in a worldly sense. It should rather be a spirit of good-will in the highest spiritual sense of the term—purity of motives and purity of life, as in the sight of God. Cf. Dante in the Paradiso (iii. 85): "In His will is our Peace."

Thus does God make clear
The Signs to you: that ye
May understand.<sup>3044</sup>

SECTION 9.

62. Only those are Believers,
Who believe in God and
His Apostle: when they are
With him on a matter
Requiring collective action,<sup>3045</sup>
They do not depart until
They have asked for his leave;
Those who ask for thy leave
Are those who believe in God
And His Apostle; so when
They ask for thy leave,
For some business of theirs,
Give leave to those of them
Whom thou wilt,<sup>3046</sup> and ask
God for their forgiveness:<sup>3047</sup>
For God is Oft-Forgiving,
Most Merciful.

63. Deem not the summons
Of the Apostle among yourselves
Like the summons of one<sup>3048</sup>
Of you to another: God
Doth know those of you
Who slip away under shelter
Of some excuse: then
Let those beware who

كَذَلِكَ يبينُ اللهُ لَكُمْ
الآياتِ لعلَّكُمْ تعقلونَ ۝

٦٢- إِنَّمَا الْمُؤْمِنُونَ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا بِاللَّهِ
وَرَسُولِهِ وَإِذَا كَانُوا مَعَهُ عَلَى أَمْرٍ جَامِعٍ
لَمْ يَذْهَبُوا حَتَّى يَسْتَأْذِنُوهُ
إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يَسْتَأْذِنُونَكَ
أُولَئِكَ الَّذِينَ يُؤْمِنُونَ بِاللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ
فَإِذَا اسْتَأْذَنُوكَ لِبَعْضِ شَأْنِهِمْ
فَأَذَنْ لِمَنْ شِئْتَ مِنْهُمْ وَاسْتَغْفِرْ لَهُمْ
اللَّهُ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ غَفُورٌ رَحِيمٌ ۝

٦٣- لَا تَجْعَلُوا دُعَاءَ الرَّسُولِ بَيْنَكُمْ
كَدُعَاءِ بَعْضِكُمْ بَعْضًا
قَدْ يَعْلَمُ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ يَتَسَلَّلُونَ مِنْكُمْ
لِوَإِذَا قَالُوا لِلَّذِينَ

3044. See notes 3039 and 3041 above. The refrain comes again, in a different form, closing the argument from a different point of view.

3045. Matter requiring collective action: anything that affects the Community as a whole: Jumu'a and 'Id prayers are periodical occasions of this kind, but what is meant here is, I think, joint consultations with a view to joint undertakings, such as a Jihād, or some kind of organisation in peace.

3046. That is, those to whom, in the exercise of your impartial discretion, you think it expedient to give leave. "Will", unless the context shows otherwise, means "right will", not a will without any definite principle behind it.

3047. In important matters of general consultation, even though leave of absence is given on sufficient excuse, it implies some defect in duty on the part of the person to whom the leave is given, and therefore the need of forgiveness from Him to Whom we owe duty in a perfect measure.

3048. Three significations are possible. One is that adopted in the Translation, which agrees with the view of most Commentators. Another would be: 'Do not think that the prayer of the Apostle of God is like your ordinary requests to another: the Apostle's prayer will be about serious matters and will be accepted by God.' A third interpretation would be: 'Do not address the Apostle familiarly as you would address one another: use proper terms of respect for him.'

Withstand the Apostle's order,
Lest some trial befall them,<sup>3049</sup>
Or a grievous Penalty
Be inflicted on them.

64. Be quite sure that
To God doth belong
Whatever is in the heavens
And on earth. Well doth He Know what ye are intent upon :<sup>3050</sup>
And one day they will be Brought back to Him, and He
Will tell them the truth
Of what they did :<sup>3051</sup>
For God doth know
All things.

يُخَالِفُونَ عَنْ أَمْرِهِ أَنْ تُصِيبَهُمْ فِتْنَةٌ
أَوْ يُصِيبَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ ٥

٦٣-الْإِنِّ لِلَّهِ
مَا فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
قَدْ يَعْلَمُ مَا أَنْتُمْ عَلَيْهِ
وَيَوْمَ يُرْجَعُونَ إِلَيْهِ فَيُنَبِّئُهُمْ بِمَا عَمِلُوا
وَاللَّهُ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عَلِيمٌ ٥

3049. The "trial" is understood to be some misfortune in this life, and the "grievous Penalty" to be the punishment in the Hereafter.

3050. The condition or position you are in, the motives which actuate you, and the ends you have in view.

3051. Things misunderstood or maligned, falsely praised or held in honour, or fraudulently shown to be good when they are evil—everything will be revealed in its true light on the Day of final Judgment.

APPENDIX VIII.

Mystic Interpretation of the Verse of Light (xxiv. 35).

Among the beauties of the Qur-ān, not the least is that which sends its mystic interpreters into ecstasies of spiritual delight. While its plain meaning contains noble precepts of ordinary conduct, its mystic passages reveal spiritual mysteries which can only be expressed by the phrase "Light upon Light!" (xxiv. 35). It is an endless chain of illumination in which ordinary knowledge dissolves as if it were ignorance.

The highest place among the mystic interpreters should be assigned to Imām Gazālī, whose Mishkāt-ul Anwār deals with the verse of Light (xxiv. 35), the contrasted verse of Darkness (xxiv. 40), and the saying of the holy Prophet quoted by him from the Hadīth: "God has Seventy Thousand Veils of Light and Darkness: were He to withdraw their curtain, then would the splendours of His Aspect (or Countenance, or Face, Wajh) surely consume everyone who apprehended Him with his sight." In the Mishkāt Sharīf (Bāb-ul-Masājīd, end of section 2) Jibrīl says: "Kāna bainī wa bainahū sab'ūna alfa hijābin min nūrīn: Between me and Him are seventy thousand veils of Light."

English readers will thank me for drawing their attention to a meritorious English translation of Gazālī's interpretation of these sublime passages. It is in the Asiatic Society Monographs series, vol. xix: "Al-Ghazālī's Mishkāt-ul-Anwār, a Translation with Introduction, by W.H.T. Gairdner, published by the Royal Asiatic Society, London, 1924". They are asked to study this carefully, and better still (if they can), to study the original, and see for themselves how much spiritual wisdom is enshrined in just two verses of the holy Qur-ān, when interpreted by a learned Imām. And there are over 6,000 verses in the Qur-ān. In my Summary of Gazālī's argument I have used Gairdner's Translation throughout this Appendix.

Gazālī died in A.H. 505 (=1111 A.D.). He lived in an age when Greek philosophy and other philosophies had been studied by Muslims, many new arts and sciences had been added by them to the world's stock of knowledge, but the quest of the Timeless and the Universal was still urging thirsty enquirers on. It was his mission to expose the hollow pretensions of some superficial thinkers who pursued mirages. He turned Muslim thought in the direction of the subtler Realities of spiritual life. Within a century and a half of his death the Muslim world was engulfed in a mighty cataclysm which well-nigh wiped out its channels of culture and civilisation.

Now for Gazālī's argument.

If we take physical light as ordinarily understood, it is a phenomenon or appearance, and is therefore liable to pass away. For its illuminative power it has to depend upon the perceiving faculty or the perceiving instrument, the Eye. But the Eye has many defects. It is only the perceiving faculty or intelligence which is properly entitled to the name of Light considered as a source of enlightenment.

The verses of the Qur-ān, in relation to Intelligence, have the value of sunlight in relation to eyesight. The Qur-ān is therefore spoken of as the Light: "For We have sent unto you a light (that is) manifest": iv. 174.

Thus the physical eye sees by the sun; the spiritual eye sees by Revelation (the Qur-ān). There is a world invisible, with a Light of its own, quite different from the world visible, with its own physical light. The former, the spiritual world, is far above the physical world: not in space, for there is no question of space, but in grade. Yet the World of Sense is a type of the World of the Realm Celestial. All the Prophets are Lamps, and so are the Learned: but the difference between them is incalculable. If the Prophet of God is a Lamp Illuminant, that from which the Lamp is itself lit may fitly be symbolised by Fire. It is the Spirits Celestial, the angels, considered as the kindling-source of the Lamps Terrestrial, that can be compared alone with Fire: xxviii. 29-30. These Lamps Celestial have their own grades and orders, and the highest is the one nearest to the Ultimate Light.

That Ultimate Light is the final Fountain-head, Who is Light in and by Himself, not a light kindled from other lights. The term 'light' as applied to any other than this primary Light is purely metaphorical. But these metaphorical lights have various gradations. So are there gradations in their opposites. There is no darkness so intense as the darkness of Not-being. A dark thing is called "dark" simply because it cannot appear to anyone's vision; it never comes to exist for sight, though it may exist in itself. But that which has no existence for others nor for itself is assuredly the very extreme of darkness. In contrast with it is Being, which is therefore Light. Thus God Most High is the only Reality, as He is the only Light.

In the physical world Light is itself visible and makes other things visible. It lies behind all colour, and is apprehended with colour. Through its intense union with the colours, it may appear [under refraction] as colours and not as light at all. Its very intensity may cause its invisibility. So God is with all things, but some visions perceive Him not on account of His very brightness. [The absorption of some colours through the media through which they pass may result in the appearance of other colours. Some may consider it as a merit of the media. But it detracts from the appearance of the perfect colourless Light, which is the type for the perfection of God's Light.]

From the material world, the world of Sense, we rise through the world of Intelligence to the spiritual world, or the world of the Realm Supernal (or Celestial). This world of the Realm Supernal contains Light-substances, high and lofty, called "Angels", from which substances the various lights are effused upon the various mortal spirits.

The human soul has five faculties or spirits: (1) the sensory spirit which takes in the information brought by the senses; (2) the imaginative spirit, which records the information conveyed by the senses and presents it to the intelligential spirit above it, when required; (3) the intelligential spirit, which apprehends ideas beyond the spheres of sense and imagination; these ideas are of universal application, and are symbolised by the particular things that are known by the senses; (4) the discursive [or ratiocinative] spirit, which takes the data of pure reason, combines them, and deduces from them abstract knowledge; (5) the transcendental prophetic spirit, which is possessed by prophets and some saints; by it the unseen tables and statutes of the Law are revealed from the other world, together with several of the sciences of the Realms Celestial and Terrestrial, and pre-eminently Theology, the science of Deity, which the intelligential and discursive spirits cannot compass. All of these are Lights, for it is through them that every kind of existing thing is manifested, including objects of sense or imagination.

These five faculties or spirits are symbolised by the Niche, Glass, Lamp, Tree, and Oil in the verse of Light. The Niche is the sensory spirit, whose lights come through the eyes, ears, nostrils, etc. The Glass is the Imagination; for it is made out of opaque substances [like sand, soda, potash, etc.], but is clarified and refined till it becomes transparent to the light of a lamp, and it also keeps the lamp from being put out by a draught or violent jerking. So Imagination, though its origin is from the ideas of grosser substances, becomes clarified and transparent to ideas of intelligence and to the light from them, as well as serves to hold knowledge together and prevents it from being disturbed, unsettled, and dissipated. The lamp is the intelligential spirit, which gives cognisance of divine ideas. The Tree is the ratiocinative spirit, which begins with a proposition, then branches into two, which become four, and so on. It leads to conclusions which in their turn become germs producing like conclusions, these latter being also susceptible of continuation, each with each. The Tree in the symbol is the Olive, which gives oil producing the most radiant illumination. So the ratiocinative spirit multiplies, establishes, and fixes all knowledge. Illumination can be infinitely multiplied; therefore a tree like the olive, whose oil can multiply light infinitely is entitled to be called "blessed" above other trees like fruit trees, whose fruit is consumed in use. Again, the ramifications of pure intelligential propositions do not admit of relation to direction or distance, and therefore the symbolical Tree may well be said to be "neither of the East nor of the West".

Finally, the Oil is the type of the transcendental prophetic spirit, which is absolutely luminous and clear. The thought-spirit is divided into that which needs to be instructed, advised, and supplied from without, if the acquisition of knowledge is to be continuous; while a portion of it is absolutely clear, as though it were self-luminous, and had no external source of supply. There are Saints whose light shines so bright that it is well-nigh independent of what the Angels supply. For the human soul there is a graded succession of Lights, and this explains the phrase "Light upon Light."

Now we come to the Darkness-verse (xxiv. 40). The man who has turned away from the path of guidance [light, truth],—he is false, he is darkness; nay, he is darker than darkness. For darkness is neutral [or negative]; it leads one neither one way nor the other. But the minds of misbelievers, and the whole of their perceptions, are perverse, and support each other mutually in the actual deluding of their owners. That "vast deep ocean" is this world of mortal dangers, of evil chances, of blinding trouble. Wave upon wave of selfish passion darkens the man's soul. And the dark clouds above are rank beliefs and corrupt imaginings, which become so many veils veiling the misbeliever from the true faith, from knowledge of the Real, and from illumination by the sunlight of the Qur'ān and human intelligence. As all our Lights have their source in the great Primary Light, the One Reality, there can be no light unless God gives the Light.

What is the meaning of the Prophet's saying that "God has Seventy Thousand Veils of Light and Darkness"? (Inna lillāhi la-sab'ina alfa ḥijābin min nūrin wa zulmatin). The number, 70,000, varies in different versions, and is not by way of definite enumeration, but rather to denote some indefinitely great quantity. There are three classes of men who are veiled from the ineffably glorious Light of God: (1) those veiled by Pure Darkness; (2) those veiled by mixed Light and Darkness; and (3) those veiled by Pure Light. In each class there are numerous sub-divisions. [When we take account of all these, we may well speak of 70,000 Veils.]

Those veiled by Pure Darkness are such as are atheists, or such as take something else, which is not God, for God. For example, they take Nature or Self for God. But there are numerous varieties of such men. One particularly mentioned by Ḡazālī is the sort of men that confess with their tongues the Creed of Islam, but are probably urged to it by fear alone, or the desire to beg from Muslims, or to curry favour with them, or to get financial [or other] assistance out of them, or, by a merely fanatical zeal, to support the opinions of their fathers. If the Creed fails to impel them to good works, it will not secure their elevation from the dark sphere to light. Rather are their patron-saints devils, who lead them from the light into the darkness. But he whom the Creed so touches that evil disgusts him and good gives him pleasure, has passed from pure darkness even though he be a great sinner still.

Those veiled by mixed Light and Darkness may be: (1) those veiled by the darkness of the Senses; they are above those who worship Self, but they give God's attributes of Majesty and Beauty to sense-perceived bodies, or to Nature or the forces of nature; (2) those veiled by some light, mixed with the darkness of the Imagination; they have got above the senses, but they allow their Imagination to govern their ideas of God, Who is above anything that the imagination of man can conceive; and (3) those veiled by some Light divine, mixed with the darkness of Intelligence; they fall into anthropomorphism in their ideas of God [and fail to perceive that the Soul is above the Intellect].

Those veiled by Pure Light are those who have perceived spiritual truths up to a certain point, but whose eyes have been so dazzled by the Light itself that there is a Veil between them and the Light. But these are only the Few of the Few whom "the splendours of the Countenance sublime consume", and the majesty of the Divine Glory obliterates ; so that they are themselves blotted out, annihilated. [That is the true meaning of the Buddha's Nirvāna.] For self-contemplation there is no more a place, because with the self they have no longer anything to do. Nothing then remain save the One, the Real : that becomes the experience of the soul. That is the true meaning of attainment or Salvation. And Gazālī concludes with the words : " Hard, hard it is to essay the discovery of the Lights Supernal that are beyond the Veil." How true, and how appropriate for all who seek to interpret the Light ! May God grant that their own feeble lights may not act as a veil between them and the Light Divine !

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXV (Furqān).

This Sūra further develops the contrast between Light and Darkness, as symbolical of knowledge and ignorance, righteousness and sin, spiritual progress and degradation. It closes with a definition of the deeds by which the righteous are known in the environment of this world.

It is mainly an early Meccan Sūra, but its date has no significance.

Summary.—God's highest gift to man is that He has furnished a Criterion for judgment between right and wrong,—in His revelation, which teaches us the true significance of our eternal Future (xxv. 1-20, and C. 161).

Those who do not use that Criterion will be full of woe when the Judgment comes, for God gave full warning at all times (xxv. 21-44, and C. 162).

In the contrasts of shade and sun, night and day, death and life, and the whole ordering of God's Creation, men may learn of God Most Gracious; and the virtues of the righteous respond to God's care for them (xxv. 45-77, and C. 163).

C. 161.—Among the highest and greatest of the gifts of God
 (xxv. 1-20.) Is His Revelation, which is the Criterion
 By which we may judge between right
 And wrong—between false and true worship,
 Between the Message that comes from God
 And the forgeries of men, between the Real
 In our eternal Future and the Fancies
 By which we are misled. The apostles of God
 Come as men to live among men and guide them.

Sūra XXV.

Furqān, or The Criterion.*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Blessed <sup>3052</sup> is He Who Sent down the Criterion <sup>3053</sup>
To His Servant, that it <sup>3051</sup>
May be an admonition
To all creatures ;—
2. He to Whom belongs
The dominion of the heavens
And the earth : no son
Has He begotten, nor has He
A partner in His dominion :
It is He Who created
All things, and ordered them
In due proportions. <sup>3055</sup>
3. Yet have they taken, <sup>3056</sup>
Besides Him, gods that can Create nothing but are themselves
Created ; that have no control
Of hurt or good to themselves ;
Nor can they control Death
Nor Life nor Resurrection.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

۱- تَبْرَكَ الَّذِي نَزَّلَ الْفُرْقَانَ
عَلَى عَبْدِهِ لِيَكُونَ لِلْعَالَمِينَ نَذِيرًا ۝

۲- الَّذِي لَهُ مَلِكُ السَّمَوَاتِ
وَالْأَرْضِ وَلَمْ يَتَّخِذْ وَلَدًا
وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ شَرِيكٌ فِي الْمَلِكِ
وَخَلَقَ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ فَقَدَرَهُ تَقْدِيرًا ۝

۳- وَاتَّخَذُوا مِنْ دُونِهِ آلِهَةً
لَا يَخْلُقُونَ شَيْئًا وَهُمْ يُخْلَقُونَ
وَلَا يَمْلِكُونَ أَنْ يَنْفَعُوا وَلَا
يَنْزِلُوا وَلَا يَحْيُوا وَلَا يَمُوتُوا ۝

3054. The pronoun in yakūna may refer either to Furqān (the Criterion) or to 'Abd (the holy Prophet). In either case the ultimate meaning is the same. The Qur-ān is the standing Criterion for judgment between right and wrong.

3055. The majesty of God and His independence of all wants or help are mentioned, to show how exceeding great is His goodness in revealing His Will to us.

3056. This is the first great distinction taught by the Criterion ; to know the nature of the true God, as against the false fancies of men.

4. But the Misbelievers say :
 "Naught is this but a lie <sup>3057</sup>
 Which he has forged,
 And others have helped him
 At it." In truth it is they
 Who have put forward
 An iniquity and a falsehood.
5. And they say : " Tales of
 The ancients, which he has caused
 To be written : and they
 Are dictated before him
 Morning and evening." <sup>3058</sup>
6. Say : " The (Qur-ān) was sent down
 By Him Who knows
 The Mystery (that is) in the heavens <sup>3059</sup>
 And the earth : verily He
 Is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful."
7. And they say : " What sort
 Of an apostle is this,
 Who eats food, and walks
 Through the streets? Why
 Has not an angel
 Been sent down to him
 To give admonition with him ? <sup>3060</sup>

٤- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا إِنَّ هَذَا إِلَّا
 لِفُكٌّ

اِفْتِرَاءٌ وَأَعَانَهُ عَلَيْهِ قَوْمٌ آخَرُونَ
 فَقَدْ جَاءَ وَظُلْمًا وَزُورًا ۝

٥- وَقَالُوا لَوْ أَنَّا ظَلَمْنَا لَوَلَيْنَ أَلْتَنَّبَهُمَا
 قَهْمِي تُسَلِّي عَلَيْهِ
 بَكْرَةً وَأَصِيلًا ۝

٦- قُلْ أَنْزَلَهُ الَّذِي يَعْلَمُ
 السِّرَّ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
 إِنَّهُ كَانَ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ۝

٧- وَقَالُوا مَالِ هَذَا الرَّسُولِ
 يَأْكُلُ الطَّعَامَ وَيَمْشِي فِي الْأَسْوَاقِ
 لَوْلَا أَنْزَلَ إِلَيْهِ مَلَكٌ
 فَيَكُونُ مَعَهُ نَذِيرًا ۝

3057. Ifk, which I have translated a "lie" may be distinguished from zūr at the end of this verse, translated "falsehood". The "lie" which the enemies attributed to the holy man of God was supposed to be something which did not exist in reality, but was invented by the Prophet with the aid of other people : the implication was that (1) the Revelation was not a revelation but a forgery, and that (2) the things revealed, e.g., the news of the Hereafter, the Resurrection, the Judgment, the Bliss of the Righteous and the sufferings of the Evil, were fanciful and had no basis in fact. Delusion is also suggested. The reply is that, so far from that being the case, the facts were true and the charges were false (zūr),—the falsehood being due to the habits of iniquity for which the Misbelievers' whole mental and spiritual attitude was responsible.

3058. In their misguided arrogance they say : ' We have heard such things before ; they are pretty tales which have come down from ancient times ; they are good for amusement, but who takes them seriously ? ' When the beauty and power of the Revelation are pointed out, and its miracle as coming from an unlearned man, they again hint at other men who wrote them, though they could not produce any one who could write anything like it.

3059. The answer is that the Qur-ān teaches spiritual knowledge of what is ordinarily hidden from men's sight, and such knowledge can only come from God, to Whom alone is known the Mystery of the whole Creation. In spite of man's sin and shortcomings, He forgives, and He sends His most precious gift, i.e., the Revelation of His Will.

3060. This is another objection : ' He is only a man like us : why is not an angel sent down, if not by himself, at least with him ? ' The answer is : angels would be of no use to men as Messengers, as they and men would not understand each other, and if angels came, it might cause more confusion and wonder than understanding in men's minds. Cf. xxi. 7-8 ; xxvii. 94-95. The office of an angel is different. A teacher for mankind is one who shares their nature, mingles in their life, is acquainted with their doings, and sympathises with their joys and sorrows.

“ Or (why) has not a treasure
Been bestowed on him, or
Why has he (not) a garden
For enjoyment? ”<sup>3061</sup> The wicked
Say: “ Ye follow none other
Than a man bewitched. ”<sup>3062</sup>

٨- أَوْ يُلْقَى إِلَيْهِ كَنْزٌ أَوْ تَكُونُ لَهُ جَنَّةٌ
يَأْكُلُ مِنْهَا وَقَالَ الظَّالِمُونَ إِنْ تَتَّبِعُونَ
إِلَّا رَجُلًا مَسْحُورًا ۝

9. See what kinds of comparisons
They make for thee!
But they have gone astray,
And never a way will they
Be able to find!<sup>3063</sup>

٩- أَنْظِرْ كَيْفَ ضَرَبُوا لَكَ الْأَمْثَالَ
فَضَلُّوا فَلَا يَسْتَطِيعُونَ سَبِيلًا ۝

SECTION 2.

10. Blessed is He Who,<sup>3064</sup>
If that were His Will,
Could give thee better (things)
Than those,—Gardens beneath which<sup>3065</sup>
Rivers flow; and He could Give thee Palaces (secure
To dwell in).

١٠- تَبَارَكَ الَّذِي إِنْ شَاءَ
جَعَلَ لَكَ خَيْرًا
مِمَّنْ ذَلِكَ جَدَّتِ تَجْرِي مِنْ تَحْتِهَا
الْأَنْهَارُ وَيَجْعَلُ لَكَ قُصُورًا ۝

11. Nay, they deny the Hour
(Of the Judgment to come).<sup>3066</sup>
But We have prepared
A Blazing Fire for such
As deny the Hour:

١١- بَلْ كَذَّبُوا بِالسَّاعَةِ
وَاعْتَدْنَا لِلَّذِينَ كَذَّبَ بِالسَّاعَةِ سَعِيرًا ۝

3061. Literally, 'that he may eat out of it'. As shown in n. 776 to v. 69, akala (to eat) has a comprehensive meaning, implying enjoyment of all kinds,—physical, social, mental and moral, and spiritual. Here, the garden itself stands for a type of the amenities of life: its fruits would be available for eating, its coolness for rest and refreshment, its waters and its landscape for æsthetic delight.

3062. Cf. xvii 47. This speech, of the wicked or the ungodly, is meant to be even more bitter than that of the Misbelievers. It makes out the Teacher to be a demented fool!

3063. The charges the enemies made against the Apostle of God recoiled on those who made them. The Apostle was vindicated, and went from strength to strength, for God's Truth will always prevail. The men who perversely leave the way of truth, righteousness, and sincerity, have not only missed the Way, but on account of their perversity they will never be able to find any way by which they can get back to Truth.

3064. Cf. above, xxv. 1. The reminiscent phrase shows that the first argument, about the Revelation and Prophethood, is completed, and we now pass on to the contrast, the fate of the rejecters of both.

3065. This phrase is usually symbolical of the Bliss in the Hereafter. If it were God's Plan, He could give his Messengers complete felicity and power in this life also. Instead of being persecuted, mocked, driven out of their homes, and having to exert their utmost powers of body, mind, and character to plant the flag of Truth in an unbelieving world, they could have lived in ease and security. But that would not have given the real lessons they came to teach struggling humanity by their example.

3066. Denying the Hour of Judgment means denying the power of Justice and Truth to triumph; it means asserting the dominion of Evil. But the Reality itself will punish them, as shown in the following verses.

12. When it sees them
From a place far off,
They will hear its fury
And its raging sigh.<sup>3067</sup>

۱۲- إِذَا رَأَيْتَهُمْ مِنْ مَّكَانٍ بَعِيدٍ
سَمِعُوا لَهَا تَغَيُّظًا وَزَفِيرًا ۝

13. And when they are cast,
Bound together, into a
Constricted place therein, they
Will plead for destruction
There and then!<sup>3068</sup>

۱۳- وَإِذَا أُلْقُوا مِنْهَا مَكَانًا ضَيِّقًا
مُقْتَرَبِينَ دَعَوْا هُنَاكَ تَبُورًا ۝

14. " This day plead not
For a single destruction :
Plead for destruction oft-repeated ! "

۱۴- لَا تَدْعُوا الْيَوْمَ تَبُورًا وَاحِدًا
وَادْعُوا تَبُورًا كَثِيرًا ۝

15. Say : " Is that best, or
The eternal Garden, promised<sup>3069</sup>
To the righteous ? For them,
That is a reward as well
As a goal (of attainment).<sup>3070</sup>

۱۵- قُلْ أَذَلِكَ خَيْرٌ أَمْ جَنَّةُ الْخُلْدِ
الَّتِي وَعَدَ الْمُتَّقُونَ كَانَتْ لَهُمْ جُزْءًا
وَمَصِيرًا ۝

16. " For them there will be
Therein all that they wish for :
They will dwell (there) for aye :
A promise to be prayed for
From thy Lord."<sup>3071</sup>

۱۶- لَهُمْ فِيهَا مَا يَشَاءُونَ خَالِدِينَ
كَانَ عَلَى رَبِّكَ وَعْدًا مَسْئُورًا ۝

17. Alhe Day He will gather
Them together as well as
Those whom they worship
Besides God, He will ask :<sup>3072</sup>

۱۷- وَيَوْمَ يُحْشَرُهُمْ
وَمَا يَعْبُدُونَ مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ فَيَقُولُ

3067. For zafir, a deep emission of breath or a sigh, see n. 1607 to xi, 106. Here the Fire is personified. It is raging with hunger and fury, and as soon as it sees them from ever so far, it emits a sigh of desire. Till then they had not realised their full danger. Now, just as their heart begins to tremble with terror, they are bound together—like with like,—and cast into the roaring flames !

3068. Anything—total annihilation—would be better than the anguish they will suffer. But no annihilation will be granted to them. One destruction will not be enough to wipe out the intensity of their anguish. They will have to ask for many destructions, but they will not get them !

3069. Shifting the scene back to this life, they may fairly be asked : " Here is the result of the two courses of conduct : which do you prefer ? "

3070. To the righteous, the final Bliss will in one sense be a reward. But the word " reward " does not truly represent facts, for two reasons : (1) the Bliss will be greater than they deserved ; and (2) righteousness is its own reward. The best way of expressing the result would be to say that their highest Wish will now have been attained ; the goal will have been reached ; they will be in God's Presence. That is salvation in the highest.

3071. That is the sort of thing—the Goal of God's Presence—to be prayed for from God, and not ephemeral things, even though they may be good. And that is the sort of thing that God has promised and undertaken to give.

3072. The question is as in a Court of Justice, to convince those who stand arraigned.

“Was it ye who led
These My servants astray,
Or did they stray
From the Path themselves?”

18. They will say: “Glory to Thee!
Not meet was it for us
That we should take
For protectors others besides
Thee: <sup>3073</sup>

But Thou didst bestow,
On them and their fathers,
Good things (in life), until
They forgot the Message:
For they were a people
(Worthless and) lost.”

19. (God will say): “Now
Have they proved you liars
In what ye say: so
Ye cannot avert (your penalty) <sup>3074</sup>
Nor (get) help.” And whoever
Among you does wrong,
Him shall We cause to taste
Of a grievous Penalty.

20. And the apostles whom We Sent before thee were all
(Men) who ate food
And walked through the streets: <sup>3075</sup>
We have made some of you
As a trial for others: <sup>3076</sup>
Will ye have patience?
18 For God is One Who
30 Sees (all things).

أَأَنْتُمْ أَضَلَّكُمْ عِبَادِي هُوَ أَوْ
أَمْ هُمْ ضَلُّوا السَّبِيلَ ۝

١٨- قَالُوا سُبْحَانَكَ مَا كَانَ يَنْبَغِي لَنَا
أَنْ نَتَّخِذَ مِنْ دُونِكَ مِنْ أَوْلِيَاءَ
وَلَكِنْ مَتَّعْتَهُمْ وَأَبَاءَهُمْ
حَتَّى نَسُوا الذِّكْرَ
وَكَانُوا قَوْمًا بُورًا ۝

١٩- فَقَدْ كَذَّبْتُمْ بِمَا تَقُولُونَ
فَمَا تَسْتَطِيعُونَ صَرْفًا وَلَا نَصْرًا
وَمَنْ يَظْلِمْ مِنْكُمْ
نُذِقْهُ عَذَابًا كَبِيرًا ۝

٢٠- وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَا قَبْلَكَ مِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ
إِلَّا أَنْهُمْ لَيَّا كُلُّونَ الطَّعَامِ وَيَسْئُونَ
فِي الْأَسْوَاقِ وَجَعَلْنَا بَعْضَكُمْ لِبَعْضٍ
فِتْنَةً أَتَصْبِرُونَ وَكَانَ رَبُّكَ بَصِيرًا ۝

3073. The creatures of God who were worshipped will prove that they never asked for worship: on the contrary they themselves worshipped God and sought the protection of God and of none but God. Cf. xvi, 5-6. They will go further and show that the false worshippers added ingratitude to their other sins: for God bestowed abundance on them, and they blasphemed against God. They were indeed “worthless and lost”, for the word būr bears both significations.

3074. The argument is as in a court of justice. If the false worshippers plead that they were misled by those whom they falsely worshipped, the latter will be confronted with them and will prove that plea to be false. No help can be got from them, and the penalty cannot then be averted. After all these things are thus explained in detail beforehand, all ungodly men should repent and turn to God. False worship is here identified with sin, for sin is disobedience to God, and arises from a wrong appreciation of God's nature and His goodness to His creatures. The sinful man refuses, in his conduct, to serve God: he serves other things than God.

3075. Cf. above, xxv. 7.

3076. In God's universal Plan, each unit or thing serves a purpose. If some are rich, the poor should not envy them: it may be that the rich man's proximity is itself a trial of their virtue. If some are poor, the righteous rich should not despise or neglect them: it may be that their coming within their sight is a trial for the real feeling of charity or brotherly love in the rich. If A is bad-tempered or persecutes or ill-uses B, it may be an opportunity for B to show his patience or humility or his faith in the ultimate prevalence of justice and truth. Whatever our experiences with other human beings may be, we must make them subserve the ends of our spiritual improvement and perhaps theirs also.

C. 162.—Woe to the misbelievers who arrogantly
(xxv. 21-44.) Demand to see God, yet reject
His Signs! The Judgment will come,
And then they will see, too late, how evil
Casts nothing but treacherous snares for man.
Slowly comes God's Revelation, in ways
Most conducive to man's enlightenment.
Men in their folly reject the most obvious
Signs of God. Let them mock! Soon
Will they know! Alas! men ruled by self-impulse
Are worse than brute beasts to guide or control!

SECTION 3.

21. Such as fear not
The meeting with Us <sup>3077</sup>
(For Judgment) say :
"Why are not the angels
Sent down to us, or
(Why) do we not see <sup>3078</sup>
Our Lord?" Indeed they
Have an arrogant conceit
Of themselves, and mighty
Is the insolence of their impiety!

22. The Day they see the angels,—
No joy will there be
To the sinners that Day :
The (angels) will say :
"There is a barrier
Forbidden (to you) altogether!" <sup>3079</sup>

23: And We shall turn
To whatever deeds they did
(In this life), and We shall
Make such deeds as floating dust
Scattered about. <sup>3080</sup>

٢١- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ لَا يَرْجُونَ لِقَاءَنَا
لَوْلَا أَنْزَلَ عَلَيْنَا الْمَلَائِكَةُ
أَوْ نَرَى رَبَّنَا
لَقَدْ اسْتَكْبَرُوا فِي أَنْفُسِهِمْ
وَعَتَوْعَتُوا كِبِيرًا ۝

٢٢- يَوْمَ يَرَوْنَ الْمَلَائِكَةَ
لَا بُشْرَى يَوْمَئِذٍ لِلْمُجْرِمِينَ
وَيَقُولُونَ حِجْرًا مَحْجُورًا ۝

٢٣- وَقَدْ مَنَّآ إِلَىٰ مَا عَمِلُوا مِنْ عَمَلٍ
فَجَعَلْنَاهُ هَبَاءً مَّنْثُورًا ۝

3077. The blasphemers who have given up all Faith and laugh at the Hereafter : nothing is sacred to them : their arrogance and insolence are beyond all bounds.

3078. Cf. ii. 55. The Israelites in the time of Moses demanded to see God. But they were dazed with thunder and lightning even as they looked on. Indeed death would have been their fate, had it not been for the mercy of God.

3079. They will not be allowed to enjoy any of the felicity or peace which will be the normal state of the new world of Reality. Their own past will stand as a barrier to shut them off.

3080. The false hopes they built on in this life, and the deeds they did under the shadow of such false hopes will be dissipated as if they were dust flying about in the wind. They will have no value whatever.

24. The Companions of the Garden
Will be well, that Day,
In their abode, and have
The fairest of places for repose.<sup>3081</sup>

٢٣- أَصْحَابُ الْجَنَّةِ يَوْمَئِذٍ خَيْرٌ مُسْتَقَرًّا
وَ أَحْسَنُ مَقِيلًا ○

25. The Day the heaven shall be
Rent asunder with clouds,<sup>3082</sup>
And angels shall be sent down,
Descending (in ranks),—

٢٥- وَيَوْمَ نَشَقُّ السَّمَاءَ بِالْغَمَامِ
وَنُنزِّلُ الْمَلَائِكَةَ تَنْزِيلًا ○

26. That Day, the dominion
As of right and truth,
Shall be (wholly) for (God)<sup>3083</sup>
Most Merciful: it will be
A Day of dire difficulty
For the Misbelievers.

٢٦- الْمَلِكُ يَوْمَئِذٍ
الْحَقُّ لِلرَّحْمَنِ
وَ كَانَ يَوْمًا عَلَى الْكَافِرِينَ عَسِيرًا ○

27. The Day that the wrong-doer
Will bite at his hands,
He will say, "Oh! would that
I had taken a (straight) path
With the Apostle!"<sup>3084</sup>

٢٧- وَيَوْمَ يَعْصُ الظَّالِمُ عَلَى يَدَيْهِ
يَقُولُ يَا لَيْتَنِي اتَّخَذْتُ
مَعَ الرَّسُولِ سَبِيلًا ○

28. "Ah! woe is me!
Would that I had never Taken such a one
For a friend!

٢٨- يَا لَيْتَنِي لَيْتَنِي
لَمْ أَتَّخِذْ فُلَانًا حَلِيلًا ○

29. "He did lead me astray
From the Message (of God)
After it had come to me!
Ah! the Evil One is
But a traitor to man!"<sup>3085</sup>

٢٩- لَقَدْ أَضَلَّنِي عَنِ الذِّكْرِ بَعْدَ إِذٍ
جَاءَنِي وَ كَانَ الشَّيْطَانُ لِلْإِنْسَانِ
خَدُولًا ○

3081. The barrier which will shut out the evil ones will not exist for the righteous, who will have an abode of bliss and repose, for they will be in the Garden of God's Good Pleasure.

3082. It will be a new world, and the symbolism to describe it must necessarily draw upon our present experience of the finest things in nature. The sky, which now appears remote and unpeopled will be rent asunder. There will appear clouds of glory—angels and spiritual Lights of all grades and ranks (see Appendix VIII, p. 921),—and the true majesty and goodness of God will be visible as it should be in reality, and as it is not now, on account of "our muddy vesture of decay".

3083. See last note.

3084. The words are general, and for us the interest is in a general sense. A man who actually receives the Truth and is on the right path is all the more culpable if he is diverted from that path by the machinations of a worldly friend. The particular person whom some Commentators mention in this connection was one 'Uqba who received the light of Islam, but was misled afterwards by a worldly friend into apostasy and blasphemy. He came to an evil end afterwards.

3085. The seductive wiles of the Evil One are merely meant for snares. There is fraud and treachery in them. The deceived ones are left in the lurch after the way of escape is made impossible for them

Then the Apostle will say :
30 " O my Lord ! Truly
My people took this Qur-ān
For just foolish nonsense." <sup>3086</sup>

31. Thus have We made
For every prophet an enemy
Among the sinners : but enough
Is thy Lord to guide
And to help. <sup>3087</sup>

32. Those who reject Faith
Say : " Why is not the Qur-ān
Revealed to him all at once ?
Thus (is it revealed), that We
May strengthen thy heart <sup>3088</sup>
Thereby, and We have
Rehearsed it to thee in slow,
Well-arranged stages, gradually.

33. And no question do they Bring to thee but We Reveal to thee the truth
And the best explanation
(thereof). <sup>3089</sup>

۳۰- وَقَالَ الرَّسُولُ يُرَبِّ إِنِّ
قَوْمِي اتَّخَذُوا هَذَا الْقُرْآنَ مَهْجُورًا ۝

۳۱- وَكَذَلِكَ جَعَلْنَا لِكُلِّ نَبِيٍّ عَدُوًّا
مِّنَ الْمُجْرِمِينَ وَكَفَى
بِرَبِّكَ هَادِيًا وَنَصِيرًا ۝

۳۲- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
لَوْلَا نُزِّلَ عَلَيْهِ الْقُرْآنُ جُمْلَةً وَّاحِدَةً
كَذَلِكَ لِنُثَبِّتَ بِهِ فُؤَادَكَ
وَرَتَّلْنَاهُ تَرْتِيلًا ۝

۳۳- وَلَا يَأْتُونَكَ بِمَثَلٍ
إِلَّا جَاءْنَاكَ بِالْحَقِّ وَأَحْسَنَ تَفْسِيرًا ۝

3086. " My people " are of course the unbelieving Quraish. But they were only a handful of people whose vested interests were touched by the beneficent reforms initiated by Islam. They soon passed away, and all Arabic-speaking or Arabic-understanding people have considered the Qur-ān as a treasury of Truths expressed in the most beautiful possible language, with a meaning that grows deeper with research.

3087. It is the nature of sin to be hostile to truth and righteousness, but such hostility will not harm the righteous and need cause no misgiving, because God will guide and help those who work in His cause. And what could be better or more effective than His guidance and help ?

3088. Three reasons are given for the gradual revelation of the Qur-ān, (1) " To strengthen thy heart " : the tremendous task of winning the Arab nation, and, through them, the whole world, to Islam, required superhuman patience, constancy, and firmness, and these qualities were strengthened by the gradual promulgation of solutions to each difficulty as it arose. (2) " Slow, well-arranged stages " : though the stages were gradual, as the occasion demanded from time to time, in the course of twenty-three years, the whole emerged, when completed, as a well-arranged scheme of spiritual instruction, as we have seen in following the arrangement of the Sūras. (3) Questions put and answers given : See next note.

3089. Divine knowledge is a fathomless ocean. But glimpses of it can be obtained by any individuals sincerely searching for the Truth. Their progress will be in grades. If they ask questions, and answers are then furnished to them, they are more likely to apprehend the Truth, as they have already explored the part of the territory in which they are interested. In the same way, when concrete questions arise by the logic of events, and they are answered not only for the occasion, but from a general stand-point, the teaching has a far greater chance of penetrating the human intelligence and taking shape in practical conduct. And this is the usual way of instruction in the Qur-ān.

34. Those who will be gathered
To Hell (prone) on their faces,—<sup>3090</sup>
They will be in an evil
Plight, and, as to Path,
Most astray.<sup>3091</sup>

3090. That is, in ignominy.

3091. This verse may be compared and contrasted with xxv. 24 above. Here the argument is rounded off about the distinction between the Good and Evil in their final Destiny. The Good are to have "the fairest of places for repose", and in contrast, the Evil are, "as to Path, most astray". They have no repose, and their wanderings lead nowhere.

3092. Cf. xx. 29, and the whole passage there, which is merely referred to here, to show how previous apostles were treated, but how they stuck fast to the Criterion given, to distinguish between Good and Evil.

3094. Commentators are not clear as to who the "Companions of the Rass" were. The root meaning of "rass" is an old well or shallow water-pit. Another root connects it with the burial of the dead. But it is probably the name of a town or place. The "Companions of the Rass" may well have been the people of Shu'aib, as they are here mentioned with the 'Ad, the Thamūd, and Lot's people, and the people of Shu'aib are mentioned in a similar connection in xxvi. 176-190 and in xi. 84-95. Shu'aib was the prophet of the Madyan people in the north-west of Arabia, where many old wells are found. There is however an oasis town al-Rass in the district of Qaṣīm in Middle Najd, about thirty-five miles south-west of the town of 'Unaiza, reputed to be the central point of the Arabian Peninsula, and situated midway between Mecca and Basra. See Doughty's Arabia Deserta, thin-paper one-volume edition, London 1926, II, 435, and Map, Lat. 26°N., and Long. 43°E.

Of the Rass, and many

40. And the (Unbelievers) must indeed
Have passed by the town
On which was rained:<sup>3095</sup>
A shower of evil: did they not
Then see it (with their own Eyes)? But they fear not
The Resurrection.
41. When they see thee,
They treat thee no otherwise
Than in mockery: " Is this
The one whom God has sent
As an apostle ? "
42. " He indeed would well-nigh
Have misled us from
Our gods, had it not been
That we were constant
To them ! "—Soon will they Know, when they see
The Penalty, who it is
That is most misled
In Path!<sup>3096</sup>
43. Seest thou such a one
As taketh for his god
His own passion (or impulse) ?
Couldst thou be a disposer

3095. This refers to Lūt's story and the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah, the wicked cities of the plain near the Dead Sea, by a shower of brimstone. The site lies on the highway between Arabia and Syria. Cf. xv. 74, 76, and n. 1998.

3096. " Path " (Sabīl) is almost equivalent here to conduct, way of life.

3097. The man who worships his own passions or impulses or desires is the most hopeless to teach or lead or guide. If it were anything else the matter with him, the Teacher could argue with him. But Reason cannot prevail over blind passion. It is vain to hope that such a man could be led, until his mad desires are killed. No one could undertake any responsibility for him, for he obeys no law and follows no advice. He is worse than brute beasts, which may not understand, but at least follow the wholesome instincts implanted in them by God. The lawless man has killed his instincts and is unwilling to submit to guidance.

44. Or thinkest thou that most
Of them listen or understand ?
They are only like cattle ;—
Nay, they are worse astray
In Path.

C. 163.— But the Signs of God are everywhere
(xxv. 45-77.) In creation. The Sun and the Shadow,
The Day and the Night, the Wind and the Rain,—
All things in nature are symbols, and point
To the Law Divine, and the destiny, good
Or ill, of man. Will he not learn
And put his trust in Him, the Merciful?
His true servants ever adore him
In humility and fear of wrong, in faith
And just moderation in life, in respect
For duties owed to God and men
And self, in avoidance of all that is false
Or futile, in strict and grateful attention
To God's Message, and in the wish
To put themselves and their families
In the van of those who love and honour God.

SECTION 5.

45. Hast thou not turned <sup>3098</sup>
Thy vision to thy Lord ?—
How He doth prolong <sup>3099</sup>
The Shadow! If He willed,
He could make it stationary!
Then do We make
The sun its guide ; <sup>3100</sup>

۴۵- اَلَمْ تَرَ اِلَى رَبِّكَ كَيْفَ مَدَّ الظِّلَّ
وَلَوْ شَاءَ لَجَعَلَهُ سَاكِنًا
ثُمَّ جَعَلْنَا الشَّمْسَ عَلَيْهِ دَلِيْلًا ۝

3098. We saw in xxiv. 35 that God is the Light of the heavens and the earth, and we tried, in Appendix VIII, to catch a glimpse of the mystic meaning under the guidance of Imām Gazāli. We have now another sublime passage, in which we are asked to contemplate the Glory of God by a parable of the subtle play of Light and Shade in God's creation. Let us first understand the literal meaning as applied to the physical world, before attempting the spiritual interpretation, which takes us (if we are worthy) to the foot of the Throne of Glory.

3099. In our artificial life and surroundings we fail to see some of the finest mysteries of Light and Shade. We praise, and rightly, the wonderful colours of sunset. We see, particularly in climates more northerly than that of India, the subtle play of Light and Shade in the twilights succeeding sunsets. If we were as assiduous in seeing sunrises and the play of Light and Shade preceding them, we should see phenomena even more impressive, as the early morning seems to us more holy than any other time in the twenty-four hours of the sun's daily journey. There is first the false dawn, with its curious uncertain light and the curious long uncertain shadows which it casts. Then there are the streaks of black in the East, succeeded by the true dawn, with its delicate tones of colours and light and shade. The light of this true or false Dawn is not given by the direct rays of the sun. In a sense it is not light, but the shadows or reflections of light. And they gradually merge into actual sunrise, with its more substantial or more defined shadows, which we can definitely connect with the sun.

3100. The morning shadows are long but more definite, and their length and direction are seen to be guided by the sun. But they change insensibly every second or fraction of a second.

46. Then We draw it in<sup>3101</sup>
Towards Ourselves,—
A contraction by easy stages.<sup>3102</sup>

47. And He it is Who makes
The Night as a Robe
For you, and Sleep as Repose,
And makes the Day
(As it were) a Resurrection.<sup>3103</sup>

48. And He it is Who sends
The Winds as heralds
Of glad tidings, going before<sup>3101</sup>
His Mercy, and We send down

٢٦- ثُمَّ قَبَضْنَاهُ إِلَيْنَا قَبْضًا يَسِيرًا ○

٢٧- وَهُوَ الَّذِي جَعَلَ لَكُمُ اللَّيْلَ لِبَاسًا
وَالنُّوْمَ سُبَاتًا
وَجَعَلَ النَّهَارَ نُشُورًا ○

٢٨- وَهُوَ الَّذِي أَرْسَلَ الرِّيْحَ
بُشْرًا بَيْنَ يَدَيْ رَحْمَتِهِ وَأَنْزَلْنَا

3101. As the sun rises higher and higher, the shadows contract. In regions where the sun gets actually to the zenith at noon, there is no shadow left at that time. Where does it go to? It was but a shadow cast by a substance, and it gets absorbed by the substance which produced it. But all material substances are themselves but shadows (xvi. 48, and n. 1074), and the only true Reality is God, to Whom all things return. Thus are shadows absorbed in the self-subsisting Reality.

3102. Let us now reverently turn our vision (as far as we are able) to the symbolic meaning. God is the Light. All things in creation—whether concrete or abstract—are but shadows, depending on His Light. All shadows are not equal. He gives length or size of substance to such as He pleases. And some shadows almost become reflected lights, like the light of the false or the true Dawn. Such are holy men, in all kinds of gradations. The shadows are constantly in a state of flux; so are all things in Creation, all things we see or covet in this life. God, if He wills, can give some of them greater fixity or comparative stability. The sun is but a shadow of God's Light; yet it illumines our whole world. So the great Prophet of the Age derives his light from God, and we can light our little spiritual candles from him. Or the Revelation is the sun's light, and we can light our life with it. As the light of the sun is identified with the sun, which is its living source, so is Revelation identified with the living Prophet through whom it comes.

3103. Here the symbolism presents a fresh point of view. It is still the contrast between Light and Shade; but the shade of Night is as a Robe to cover and screen us and give us Repose from activity; and the Light of Day is for striving, work, activity. Or again, the Night is like Death, our temporary Death before Judgment, the time during which our senses are as sealed in Sleep; and the Day is like the renewal of Life at the Resurrection.

3104. Cf. vii. 57. The Winds are heralds of Joy, ushering in Rain, which is one form of God's Mercy. Again, the symbolism presents a fresh point of view. Heat (which is connected with light) sets up currents in the atmosphere, besides sucking up moisture from the seas, and distributing it by means of Winds over wide surfaces of the earth. In the physical world we know the beneficent action of heat on life, and by contrast, we also know how intolerable high temperatures may become, and how the cloud-bearing Winds come as welcome heralds of rain. This is particularly true where there are marked contrasts of drought and rain as in India. The Monsoon winds and clouds are the Good Angels of Rain, as in Kalidas's "Megha-dūta". The symbolic meaning refers to God's Mercy, which to the ungodly may be as intolerable as extreme summer heat in the physical world, but which performs its beneficent mission of fostering care to all Creation. It may produce apparently unpleasant movements like Storms. But in reality they distribute God's Message, His greatest gift, among mankind, and are thus really heralds of joy to all who understand.

Pure water from the sky,—<sup>3105</sup>

49. That with it We may give
Life to a dead land,
And slake the thirst
Of things We have created,—<sup>3106</sup>
Cattle and men in great numbers.

3105. Rain water (in pure air) is not only pure water distilled in air and sky, but it is the best purifying and sanitating agent on the largest scale known to us.

3106. The whole cycle of water,—sea, clouds, rain or hail or snow, rivers, and sea again,—is a remarkable illustration of the processes of nature making God's providence visible to us. The salts of the sea sanitize and purify all the filth that pours into it. Water action, in the form of rain, frost, glaciers, rivers, lakes, etc., is responsible for the building up and configuration of the crust of the earth, and is the chief agent in physical geography. A parched desert quickly comes to life under the action of water. All drinking water, whether derived from rivers, canals, lakes, reservoirs, springs, wells, or water-works of any kind, are ultimately traceable to rain. The connection of life with water is intimate. The physical basis of life itself, protoplasm, is in great part water: see.xxv. 54 below.

3107. The water is distributed all over the world, in order that all life may receive its support according to its needs. In xxv. 48-50, we have the argument of contrasts stated in another way. Water is life, and is made available to sustain life all over the world: this is a physical fact which all can see. But water is also the symbol of spiritual life, whose sustaining principle is the Will of God as made known to us through Revelation. It sometimes comes to us in our inward or spiritual storms. Many violent unsettlements of the spirit are but heralds of the refreshing showers of spiritual understanding that come in their wake. They purify our souls, and produce spiritual Life even where there was a parched spiritual desert before. They continue to sustain us in our normal spiritual Life out of the reservoirs of God's Revelation, which are open to all, and well distributed in time and space. The universality of distribution is again referred to in the following verse.

3108. In contrast to God's abounding Mercy is man's base ingratitude: another symbolical contrast between Light and Darkness, or Water and Drought.

3109. God's Message has been distributed to all nations. If it had been necessary, a Prophet could have been sent to every town and village. But God's Plan is different. He has sent His Light to every heart, through His Signs in man's conscience, in Nature, and in Revelation.

۝۵۴- وَهُوَ الَّذِي خَلَقَ مِنَ الْمَاءِ بَشَرًا
فَجَعَلَهُ نَسَبًا

3110. The distribution of God's Signs being universal, the man of God pays no heed to carping critics who reject Faith. He wages the biggest Jihād of all, with the weapon of God's Revelation.

3111. Maraja : literally, let free or let loose cattle for grazing. Bahrain : two seas, or two bodies of flowing water ; for bahr is applied both to the salt sea and to rivers. In the world taken as a whole, there are two bodies of water, viz. : (1) the great salt Ocean, and (2) the bodies of sweet water fed by rain, whether they are rivers, lakes, or underground springs : their source in rain makes them one, and their drainage, whether above-ground or underground, eventually to the Ocean, also makes them one. They are free to mingle, and in a sense they do mingle, for there is a regular water-cycle : see n. 3106 above : and the rivers flow constantly to the sea, and tidal rivers get sea-water for several miles up their estuaries at high tide. Yet in spite of all this, the laws of gravitation are like a barrier or partition set by God, by which the two bodies of water as a whole are always kept apart and distinct. In the case of rivers carrying large quantities of water to the sea, like the Mississippi or the Yangtse-Kiang, the river-water with its silt remains distinct from sea-water for a long distance out at sea. But the wonderful Sign is that the two bodies of water, though they pass through each other, remain distinct bodies, with their distinct functions.

3112. Again a new symbolic contrast ; the two bodies of water, sweet and salt, free to intermingle, yet distinct as by an impassable barrier. Sweet water is the wholesome spiritual desires of man fed by the rain of God's Revelation ; salt water is the bundle of worldly desires, ambitions, passions, and motives of man : the two may seem to mingle, yet they are always distinct, and there is an impassable barrier between them. The righteous judgment is the Criterion that distinguishes between them. Further, the two bodies of water, or the two seas, may mean the two kinds of knowledge, divine and human, as in the allegory in the story of Moses : see xviii. 60, and notes 2404 and 2405.

3113. The basis of all living matter in the physical world, protoplasm, is water : Cf. xxiv. 45 and xxi. 30, and notes thereon.

3114. Water is a fluid, unstable thing : yet from it arises the highest form of life known to us, in this world, man. And man has not only the functions and characteristics of the noblest animals, but his abstract relationships are also typical of his highest nature. He can trace lineage and pedigree, and thus remember and commemorate a long line of ancestors, to whom he is bound by ties of piety, which no mere animal can do. Further, there is the mystic union in marriage : it is not only like the physical union of animals, but it gives rise to relationships arising out of the sexes of individuals who were not otherwise related to each other. These are physical and social facts. But behind them, again, is the symbolical lesson of spiritual contrasts : as there is a long way to go between water and man, so there is a long way to go between an ordinary man and him who is lifted up to divine Light. As opposite sexes, though different in function, are one and contribute to each other's happiness, so persons of diverse talents may unite in the spiritual world for their own highest good and in the service of God.

And marriage : for thy Lord
Has power (over all things).

The faults of His servants;—<sup>3116</sup>

59. He Who created the heavens
And the earth and all
That is between, in six days,<sup>3117</sup>
And is firmly established
On the Throne (of authority):<sup>3118</sup>
God Most Gracious :
Ask thou, then, about Him
Of any acquainted (with such things).<sup>3119</sup>

وَ صِهْرًا ۚ وَ كَانَ رَبُّكَ قَدِيرًا ۝

۵۵- وَيَعْبُدُونَ مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
مَا لَا يَنْفَعُهُمْ وَلَا يَضُرُّهُمْ
وَ كَانَ الْكَافِرُ عَلَىٰ رَبِّهِ ظَهِيرًا ۝

۵۶- وَ مَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ إِلَّا مُبَشِّرًا وَ نَذِيرًا ۝

۵۷- قُلْ مَا أَسْأَلُكُمْ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ أَجْرٍ إِلَّا
مَنْ شَاءَ أَنْ يَتَّخِذَ إِلَىٰ رَبِّهِ سَبِيلًا ۝

۵۸- وَ تَوَكَّلْ عَلَىٰ الْحَيِّ الَّذِي
لَا يَمُوتُ ۚ وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِهِ
وَ كَفَىٰ بِهِ بَدَأُ نُوبِ عِبَادِهِ خَيْرًا ۝

۵۹- الَّذِي خَلَقَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ وَ مَا
بَيْنَهُمَا فِي سِتَّةِ أَيَّامٍ
ثُمَّ اسْتَوَىٰ عَلَى الْعَرْشِ ۚ الرَّحْمَنُ
فَسْئَلُ بِهِ خَيْرًا ۝

3115. Here is the highest contrast of all,—material things which are inert, and God, Whose goodness and power are supreme; Faith and Unfaith, meriting glad tidings and admonition; the selfish man who is self-centred, and the man of God, who works for others without reward.

3116. God knows our faults better than we or anyone else. It is no use hiding anything from Him. We must put our trust completely in Him. His care is for all, and He is God Most Gracious.

3117. Cf. vii. 54 and n. 1031.

3118. See n. 1386 to x. 3.

3119. The argument is about the question, in whom shall we put our trust? Worldly men put their trust in worldly things: the righteous man only in God. The true distinction will be quite clear from a ray of divine knowledge. If you do not see it all clearly, ask of those who possess such knowledge.

60. When it is said to them,
 "Adore ye (God) Most Gracious!",
 They say, "And what is (God)
 Most Gracious? Shall we adore
 That which thou commandest us?"
 And it increases their flight
 (From the Truth).<sup>3120</sup>

٦٠- وَإِذَا قِيلَ لَهُمْ اسْجُدُوا لِلرَّحْمَنِ
 قَالُوا وَمَا الرَّحْمَنُ
 أَنَسْجُدُ لِمَا تَأْمُرُنَا
 وَزَادَهُمْ نُفُورًا

SECTION 6

61. Blessed is He Who made
 Constellations in the skies,
 And placed therein a Lamp<sup>3121</sup>
 And a Moon giving light;

٦١- تَبَارَكَ الَّذِي جَعَلَ فِي السَّمَاءِ بُرُوجًا
 وَجَعَلَ فِيهَا سِرَاجًا وَقَمَرًا مُنِيرًا

62. And it is He Who made
 The Night and the Day
 To follow each other:
 For such as have the will<sup>3122</sup>
 To celebrate His praises
 Or to show their gratitude.

٦٢- وَهُوَ الَّذِي جَعَلَ اللَّيْلَ وَالنَّهَارَ خِلْفَةً
 لِمَن أَرَادَ أَن يَذَّكَّرَ
 أَوْ أَرَادَ شُكُورًا

63. And the servants of (God)
 Most Gracious are those
 Who walk on the earth
 In humility, and when the ignorant<sup>3123</sup>
 Address them, they say,
 "Peace!";

٦٣- وَعِبَادُ الرَّحْمَنِ الَّذِينَ
 يَمْشُونَ عَلَى الْأَرْضِ هَوْنًا
 وَإِذَا خَاطَبَهُمُ الْجَاهِلُونَ
 قَالُوا سَلَامًا

3120. Those who have no spiritual Light cannot understand this precept about putting all our trust in God. It seems to them foolish. They have no faith, or but a superficial faith. They may possibly take the name of God on their lips, but they cannot understand the full significance of His title of Rahmān (Most Gracious). Perhaps they are afraid on account of their sins; perhaps they do not see how unbounded is the mercy of God. Such men are contrasted against the true servants of God, who are described below in xxv. 63-75.

3121. The glorious Lamp of the skies is the Sun; and next to him is the Moon, which gives borrowed light. The Constellations of course include the Signs of the Zodiac, which mark the path of the planets in the heavens.

3122. The scenes of the phenomenal world are Signs of the Self-Revelation of God, for those who understand and who have the will to merge their wills in His. This they do (1) by praising Him, which means understanding something of His nature, and (2) by gratitude to Him, which means carrying out His Will, and doing good to their fellow-creatures. These two attitudes of mind and heart give rise to various consequences in their lives, which are detailed in the following verses.

3123. Ignorant; in a spiritual sense. Address; in the aggressive sense. Their humility is shown in two ways: (1) to those in real search of knowledge, they give such knowledge as they have and as the recipients can assimilate; (2) to those who merely dispute, they do not speak harshly, but say "Peace!", as much as to say, "May it be well with you, may you repent and be better"; or "May God give me peace from such wrangling"; or "Peace, and Good-bye; let me leave you!"

64. Those who spend the night
In adoration of their Lord
Prostrate and standing ; <sup>3124</sup>

65. Those who say, " Our Lord !
Avert from us the Wrath
Of Hell, for its Wrath
Is indeed an affliction

grievous, — <sup>3125</sup>

66. " Evil indeed is it
As an abode, and as
A place to rest in " ; <sup>3126</sup>

67. Those who, when they spend,
Are not extravagant and not
Niggardly, but hold a just (balance)
Between those (extremes) ; <sup>3127</sup>

68. Those who invoke not,
With God, any other god,
Nor slay such life as God
Has made sacred, except
For just cause, nor commit <sup>3128</sup>
Fornication ;—and any that does
This (not only) meets punishment

٦٤- وَالَّذِينَ يَبِيتُونَ لِرَبِّهِمْ سُجَّدًا
وَاقِيًا ۝

٦٥- وَالَّذِينَ يَقُولُونَ رَبَّنَا
اصْرِفْ عَنَّا عَذَابَ جَهَنَّمَ ۚ
إِنَّ عَذَابَهَا كَانَ غَرَامًا ۝

٦٦- إِنَّهَا سَاءَتْ مُسْتَقَرًّا وَمُقَامًا ۝

٦٧- وَالَّذِينَ إِذَا أَنْفَقُوا لَمْ يُسْرِفُوا وَلَمْ
يَقْتُرُوا وَكَانَ بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ قَوَامًا ۝

٦٨- وَالَّذِينَ لَا يَدْعُونَ مَعَ اللَّهِ إِلَهًا آخَرَ
وَلَا يَقْتُلُونَ النَّفْسَ الَّتِي حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ إِلَّا
بِالْحَقِّ وَلَا يَزْنُونَ ۚ
وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَلْقَ أَثَامًا ۝

3124. Humble prayer brings them nearer to God.

3125. This is a prayer of humility : such a person relies, not on any good works which he may have done, but on the Grace and Mercy of God ; and he shows a lively sense of the Day of Judgment, when every action will weigh for or against a soul.

3126. The misery which results from sin is not only grievous to live in ("an abode") but also grievous "to rest in" or "to stand in", if it be only for a short time.

3127. In ordinary spending this is a wise rule. But even in charity, in which we give of our best, it is not expected that we should be extravagant, i.e., that we should either do it for show, to impress other people, or do it thoughtlessly, which would be the case if we "rob Peter to pay Paul". We should certainly not be niggardly, but we should remember everyone's rights, including our own, and strike a perfectly just balance between them.

3128. Here three things are expressly condemned : (1) false worship, which is a crime against God ; (2) the taking of life, which is a crime against our fellow-creatures ; and (3) fornication, which is a crime against our self-respect, against ourselves. Every crime is against God, His creatures, and ourselves, but some may be viewed more in relation to one than to another. The prohibition against taking life is qualified : "except for just cause" : e.g., in judicial punishment for murder, or in self-preservation, which may include not only self-defence in the legal sense, but also the clearing out of pests, and the provision of meat under conditions of Halal ; see n. 698 to v. 5. After this comes a long parenthesis, which ends with verse 71 below.

69. (But) the Penalty on the Day
Of Judgment will be doubled
To him, and he will dwell
Therein in ignominy.—<sup>3123</sup>
70. Unless he repents, believes,
And works righteous deeds,
For God will change
The evil of such persons
Into good, and God is
Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful,<sup>3119</sup>
71. And whoever repents and does good
Has truly turned to God
With an (acceptable) conversion ; —
72. Those who witness no falsehood,<sup>3131</sup>
And, if they pass by futility,<sup>3132</sup>
They pass by it
With honourable (avoidance) ;
73. Those who, when they are Admonished with the Signs
Of their Lord, droop not down<sup>3133</sup>
At them as if they were
Deaf or blind ;
74. And these who pray,
“ Our Lord ! Grant unto us
Wives and offspring who will be
The comfort of our eyes,<sup>3134</sup>

٦٩- يُضَعَفُ لَهُ الْعَذَابُ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ
وَيُخَلَّدُ فِيهِ مَهَانًا ۝

٤٠- إِلَّا مَنْ تَابَ وَآمَنَ وَعَمِلَ عَمَلًا
صَالِحًا فَأُولَئِكَ يُبَدِّلُ اللَّهُ سَيِّئَاتِهِمْ
حَسَنَاتٍ وَكَانَ اللَّهُ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ۝

٤١- وَمَنْ تَابَ وَعَمِلَ صَالِحًا
فَأِنَّهُ يُتَوَّبُ إِلَى اللَّهِ مُتَابًا ۝

٤٢- وَالَّذِينَ لَا يَشْهَدُونَ الشُّرُوكَ
وَإِذَا امْرُؤًا بِاللَّغْوِ مَرُؤًا كِرَامًا ۝

٤٣- وَالَّذِينَ إِذَا ذُكِّرُوا بِآيَاتِ رَبِّهِمْ
لَمْ يَحْجُرُوا عَلَيْهَا صُنًّا وَعُمِيَانًا ۝

٤٤- وَالَّذِينَ يَقُولُونَ رَبَّنَا هَبْ لَنَا
مِنْ أَزْوَاجِنَا وَذُرِّيَّتِنَا قُرَّةَ أَعْيُنٍ

3129. The three crimes just mentioned are specially detestable and infamous, and as ignominy will be added to other punishments, the penalty will be double that of ordinary punishment.

3130. But even in the case of great crimes, if there is true repentance as tested by a changed life in conduct, God's Mercy is available, and it will transform the repentant's nature from evil to good.

3131. Witness no falsehood has two significations, both implied in this passage : (1) those who give no evidence that is false ; and (2) those who do not assist at anything which implies fraud or falsehood.

3132. There is not only condemnation of positive falsehood or of being mixed up with things implying falsehood ; but futilities—vain random talk, unedifying jokes, useless show, etc.—are all condemned. If a good man finds himself in such an affair, he must withdraw from it in an honourable, dignified way, not in a fussy arrogant way.

3133. Kharra may mean : to fall down, to snore, to droop down as if the person were bored or inattentive, or did not wish to see or hear or pay attention.

3134. We must also pray for the maintenance of God's Law after us, through our wives and descendants : in our eyes they should not be mere accidents or play-things, but a real comfort and fulfilment of our spiritual longings. Perhaps, through them, as well through ourselves, we may, by God's grace, be able to give a lead for truth and righteousness.

And give us (the grace)
To lead the righteous." 3135

75. Those are the ones who
Will be rewarded with
The highest place in heaven,
Because of their patient constancy :
Therein shall they be met
With salutations and peace,

76. Dwelling therein ;—how beautiful
An abode and place of rest !

77. Say (to the Rejecters):
"My Lord is not uneasy
Because of you if ye call not on Him : 3136
But ye have indeed rejected
(Him), and soon will come
The inevitable (punishment) !"

وَأَجْعَلْنَا لِلْمُتَّقِينَ إِمَامًا ۝

٤٥- أُولَئِكَ يُجْزَوْنَ
الْغُرْفَةَ بِمَا صَبَرُوا
وَيُلَقَّوْنَ فِيهَا تَحِيَّةً وَسَلَامًا ۝

٤٦- خَالِدِينَ فِيهَا حَسُنَتْ مُسْتَقَرًّا وَمُقَامًا ۝

٤٤- قُلْ مَا يَعْבוأ بِكُمْ رَبِّي
لَوْلَا دُعَاؤُكُمْ
فَقَدْ كَذَّبْتُمْ فَسَوْفَ يَكُونُ لِزَامًا ۝

تَعَالَى

3135. Let us recapitulate the virtues of the true servants of God : (1) they are humble and forbearing to those below them in spiritual worth ; (2) they are constantly, by adoration, in touch with God ; (3) they always remember the Judgment in the Hereafter ; (4) they are moderate in all things ; (5) they avoid treason to God, to their fellow-creatures, and to themselves ; (6) they give a wide berth not only to falsehood but to futility ; (7) they pay attention, both in mind and manner, to the Signs of their Lord ; (8) their ambition is to bring up their families in righteousness and to lead in all good. A fine code of individual and social ethics, a ladder of spiritual development, open to all.

3136. Let not the wicked think that it causes God any annoyance or uneasiness if they do not serve or worship Him. He is high above all needs. But He turns in His Mercy to all who call on Him. For those who arrogantly reject Him, the spiritual consequences (the Hell of spiritual misery and degradation) are inevitable, and must soon come to pass.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXVI (Shu'arāa):

This Sūra begins a new series of four Sūras (xxvi-xxix), which illustrate the contrast between the spirit of Prophecy and spiritual Light and the reactions to it in the communities among whom it appeared, by going back to old Prophets and the stories of the Past, as explained in the Introduction to S. xvii.

In this particular Sūra we have the story of Moses in his fight with Pharaoh and of Pharaoh's discomfiture. Other Prophets mentioned are Abraham, Noah, Hūd, Ṣāliḥ, Lūṭ, and Shu'aib. The lesson is drawn that the Qur ān is a continuation and fulfilment of previous Revelations, and is pure Truth, unlike the poetry of vain poets.

Chronologically the Sūra belongs to the middle Meccan period, when the contact of the Light of Prophecy with the milieu of Pagan Mecca was testing the Meccans in their most arrogant mood.

Summary.—The conflict of Unbelief with Truth is vain: so was the conflict of Pharaoh with Moses: Pharaoh's magicians bowed to the Truth, and Pharaoh and his hosts were drowned (xxvi. 1-69, and C. 164).

Nor did Abraham's people gain anything by their resisting the Truth he preached, and Noah's people perished by their Unbelief (xxvi. 70-122, and C. 165).

Hūd warned his people against reliance on their material strength, and Ṣāliḥ against sacrilege, but in both cases the evil ones were brought low (xxvi. 123-159, and C. 166).

Lūṭ had to deal with unspeakable crimes, and Shu'aib against dishonest dealings and mischief; their teaching was rejected, but the rejecters were wiped out (xxvi. 160-191, and C. 167).

So, when the spirit of Prophecy came to Mecca, it was resisted by the votaries of Evil: but Truth is not like vain poetry, and must triumph at last (xxvi. 192-277, and C. 168).

C. 164.—God's Plan works unceasingly: His Light
(xxvi. 1-69.) Shines none the less brightly, because some Reject it or mock at it. Moses was freed
From all fear when God gave him His Signs
And sent him to Pharaoh: he boldly
Proclaimed the Message, and won the wise ones
Of Egypt: the rejecters, with Pharaoh, perished,
And their heritage passed to worthier hands.

Sūra XXVI.

Shu'arāa, or The Poets.

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. Ha. Sin. Mim.<sup>3137</sup>
2. These are Verses of the Book
That makes (things) clear.<sup>3138</sup>
3. Et may be thou frettest
Thy soul with grief, that they<sup>3139</sup>
Do not become Believers.
4. If (such) were Our Will,<sup>3140</sup>
We could send down to them
From the sky a Sign,
To which they would bend
Their necks in humility.
5. But there comes not
To them a newly-revealed
Message from (God) Most Gracious,
But they turn away therefrom.

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- طسّم

٢- تِلْكَ آيَاتُ الْكِتَابِ الْمُبِينِ

٣- لَعَلَّكَ بِأَخَعٍ تُفْسِكُ

أَلَّا يَكُونُوا مُؤْمِنِينَ

٤- إِنْ نَشَاءُ نُنزِلْ عَلَيْهِمْ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ آيَةً

فَظَلَّتْ أَعْنَاقُهُمْ لَهَا خَاضِعِينَ

٥- وَمَا يَأْتِيهِمْ مِنْ ذِكْرِ مِنَ الرَّحْمَنِ

مُحْدِثٍ إِلَّا كَانُوا عَنْدَهُ مُعْرِضِينَ

3137. This is a combination of three Abbreviated Letters, as to which, generally, see Appendix I, printed at the end of S. ii. This particular combination occurs here and at the head of S. xxviii, while the intervening Sūra xxvii has it in the syncopated form Tā. Sīn. None of the explanatory conjectures which I have seen carries conviction to me. If the letters stand for Tur-i-Sīnīn (Mount Sinai) and Mūsā (Moses), whose story fills a large part of this Sūra, why is the letter Mīm omitted in S. xxvii, where the same meaning would apply? There is, however, one fact to which I should like to draw attention. There are eleven sections in this Sūra, and eight of them end with the word Rahīm (with the final Mīm). The three exceptions are sections 2 and 3, and section 11. But sections 2 and 3 are part of the story of Moses, which is completed in section 4, and that ends with "Rahīm". The main argument in section 11 ends at verse 217, which ends with Rahīm. We can say that the whole Sūra is based on a refrain ending in the word "Rahīm". Whether this has any bearing on our present enquiry I cannot say. My own position is that where we have material, we should pursue our researches, but we should never be dogmatic in such matters, as some Mysteries can never be solved by mere research.

3138. Cf. v. 17, and n. 716. The comparison of God's revelation with Light is continued.

3139. "They" are the Pagans of Mecca. From a human point of view it was a great disappointment to God's Apostle in the middle period of his Meccan ministry that the Meccans could not be brought to believe in the Truth,

3140. If it had been God's Will and Plan to force people's will, He could quite easily have forced the Meccans. But His Will and Plan work differently. His revelation is meant to train man's own will so that it conforms to God's beneficent purpose.

6. They have indeed rejected
(The Message): so they will Know soon (enough) the truth
Of what they mocked at! <sup>3141</sup>

7. Do they not look
At the earth,—how many
Noble things of all kinds
We have produced therein? <sup>3142</sup>

8. Verily, in this is a Sign:
But most of them
Do not believe.

9. And verily, thy Lord
Is He, the Exalted in Might, <sup>3143</sup>
Most Merciful.

SECTION 2.

10. Behold, thy Lord called <sup>3144</sup>
Moses: "Go to the people
Of iniquity,—

11. "The people of Pharaoh:
Will they not fear God?"

12. He said: "O my Lord!
I do fear that they
Will charge me with falsehood:

٦- فَقَدْ كَذَّبُوا
فَسَيَأْتِيهِمْ أَنتَبُوا مَا كَانُوا بِهِ يَسْتَهْزِءُونَ

٧- أَوَلَمْ يَرَوْا إِلَى الْأَرْضِ
كَمْ آتَيْنَاهَا فِيهَا مِنْ كُلِّ زَوْجٍ كَرِيمٍ

٨- إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً
وَإِنْ كَانُوا أَكْثَرُ هُمْ مُؤْمِنِينَ

٩- وَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ
لَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ

ع

١٠- وَإِذْ نَادَى رَبُّكَ مُوسَى
إِنَّ أَنْتَ الْقَوْمَ الظَّالِمِينَ
١١- قَوْمَ فِرْعَوْنَ ۗ أَلَا يَتَّقُونَ

١٢- قَالَ رَبِّ
إِنِّي أَخَافُ أَنْ يُكَذِّبُونِ

3141. They may laugh at God's Message of righteousness, but they will soon see the power of Truth and realise the real significance of the movement which they opposed. Where were the Pagans of Mecca after Badr, and still more, after the bloodless surrender of Mecca? And the meaning may be applied universally in all history.

3142. If evil has a little run in this life, let them not run away with the notion that the world is for evil. They have only to look round at the physical and moral world around them, and they would be undeceived. But they are blind and without the Faith (the Light) which would open their eyes.

3143. One Who is able to carry out all His Will and Plans. See n. 2818 to xxii. 40.

3144. The part of the story of Moses told here is how Moses felt diffident about undertaking his commission; how God reassured him; how he went to Pharaoh with "the Signs"; how Pharaoh and his people rejected him; how their blasphemy recoiled on themselves, but the cause of God triumphed; in other words the point here is the reaction of a wicked people to the Light that was held up to them, considered in its relation to the mind of God's Messenger.

13. " My breast will be straitened.<sup>3145</sup>
And my speech may not go
(Smoothly): so send unto Aaron.

14. " And (further), they have
A charge of crime against me; <sup>3146</sup>
And I fear they may
Slay me."

15. God said: " By no means!
Proceed then, both of you,
With Our Signs; We
Are with you, and will
Listen (to your call).

16. " So go forth, both of you,
To Pharaoh, and say:
' We have been sent
By the Lord and Cherisher
Of the Worlds;

17. " " Send thou with us
The Children of Israel.' "

18. (Pharaoh) said: " Did we not <sup>3147</sup>
Cherish thee as a child
Among us, and didst thou not
Stay in our midst
Many years of thy life?

١٣- وَيَضِيقُ صَدْرِي وَلَا يَنْطَلِقُ لِسَانِي
فَأَرْسِلْ إِلَىٰ هَارُونَ

١٤- وَلَهُمْ عَلَيَّ ذَنْبٌ
فَأَخَافُ أَنْ يَقْتُلُونَنِي

١٥- قَالَ كَلَّا ۗ فَاذْهَبَا بِآيَاتِنَا
إِنَّا مَعَكُمْ مُسْتَمِعُونَ

١٦- فَأْتِيَا فِرْعَوْنَ فَقُولَا
إِنَّا رَسُولُ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ

١٧- أَنْ أَرْسِلَ مَعَنَا بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ

١٨- قَالَ أَلَمْ نُرَبِّكَ فِينَا وَلِيدًا
وَأَكْبَدْتَنَا فِينَا مِنْ عَمْرِكَ سِنِينَ

3145. As we should say in English, " My heart would fail me, and my tongue cleave to my mouth." Moses had an impediment in his speech, and his mission was risky: see next note. But God's Plan works in wondrous ways. Aaron was given to assist him in his mission, and Moses's shortcomings were transformed by God's grace into power, so that he became the most powerful leader of Israel.

3146. Moses was brought up in the palace of Pharaoh, as narrated in his personal story in xx. 39-40 and n. 2563. When he was grown-up he saw an Egyptian smiting an Israelite, and as the Israelites were being generally oppressed by the Egyptians, Moses's anger was roused, and he slew the Egyptian. He then fled to the Midianite country in the Sinai peninsula, where he received the divine commission. But the charge of slaying the Egyptian was hanging against him. He was also apparently quick-tempered. But God's grace cured his temper and he became wise; his impediment in speech, for he stood up boldly to speak to Pharaoh; and his fear, for he dared the Egyptians with God's Signs, and they were afraid of him.

3147. There is here a little play of wit on the part of Pharaoh. When Moses speaks of the " Lord and Cherisher of the Worlds ", Pharaoh says: " Who cherished you? Did we not bring you up as a child? Did you not grow up among us? " By implication Pharaoh suggests that he is the cherisher of Moses, and in any case Pharaoh laid claim to godhead himself.

19. "And thou didst a deed
Of thine which (thou knowest) <sup>3148</sup>
Thou didst, and thou art
An ungrateful (wretch)!"

١٩- وَفَعَلْتَ فَعَلْتِكَ الرَّبِّي فَعَلْتَ
وَأَنْتَ مِنَ الْكَافِرِينَ ۝

20. Moses said: "I did it
Then, when I was
In error. <sup>3149</sup>

٢٠- قَالَ فَعَلْتُهَا ۝

21. "So I fled from you (all)
When I feared you; <sup>3150</sup>
But my Lord has (since)
Invested me with judgment
(And wisdom) and appointed me
As one of the apostles.

٢١- إِذَا وَأَنَا مِنَ الصَّالِحِينَ ۝
٢١- فَفَرَرْتُ مِنْكُمْ لَمَّا خِفْتُمْكُمْ
فَوَهَبَ لِي رَبِّي حُكْمًا
وَجَعَلَنِي مِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝

22. "And this is the favour <sup>3151</sup>
With which thou dost
Reproach me,— that thou
Hast enslaved the Children
Of Israel!"

٢٢- وَتِلْكَ نِعْمَةٌ تَسْتَهْجِئُهَا عَلَى
أَنْ عَبَّدْتَ بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ ۝

23. Pharaoh said: "And what
Is the 'Lord and Cherisher
Of the Worlds' ?" <sup>3152</sup>

٢٣- قَالَ فِرْعَوْنُ وَمَا رَبُّ الْعَالَمِينَ ۝

3148. Further, Pharaoh reminds Moses of his having slain the Egyptian, and taunts him: "You are not only a murderer: you are an ungrateful wretch" (using kāfir again in a double sense) "to have killed one of the race that brought you up!"

3149. What is Moses's reply? He is no longer afraid. He tells the whole truth, extenuating nothing in his own favour. "Yes I did it: but I did it under an error." There are three implications in this: "(1) I was wrong in doing it in a temper and in being hasty; (2) I was wrong in taking the law into my own hands, but I repented, and asked for God's pardon (xxviii. 15-16); (3) that was at a time when I was under your influence, but since then I am a changed man, as God has called me."

3150. He accounts for all his movements, much more than Pharaoh had asked for. He has nothing to hide. At that time he was under the influence of fear, and he had fled from him. Now he is serving God, the Lord of the Worlds. He has no fear: he is an apostle.

3151. Pharaoh had called Moses ungrateful and reproached him with all the favours which Moses had received from the Egyptians. "What favours?" he says; "Do you count it also as a favour to me that you have enslaved my brethren the Children of Israel?" Moses was now speaking as a man of God, not as an individual. Any individual favours he may have received were blotted out by the oppression of his people.

3152. Moses having eliminated all personalities, the argument now comes up to the highest plane of all,—the nature of God and His mercies. Moses had put forward this before, as implied in verse 16 above, but Pharaoh had twisted it into personalities. Now we come back to the real issue. It may have been in the same sitting, or it may have been in a later sitting.

24. (Moses) said : " The Lord
And Cherisher of the heavens
And the earth, and all between,—
If ye want to be Quite sure."
25. (Pharaoh) said to those Around : " Do ye not listen
(To what he says) ? " 3153
26. (Moses) said : " Your Lord
And the Lord of your fathers
From the beginning ! "
27. (Pharaoh) said : " Truly
Your apostle who has been Sent to you is
A veritable madman ! " 3154
28. (Moses) said : " Lord of the East
And the West, and all between !
If ye only had sense ! "
29. (Pharaoh) said : " If thou
Dost put forward any god
Other than me, I will Certainly put thee in prison ! " 3155
30. (Moses) said : " Even if I
Showed you something
Clear (and) convincing ? " 3156

٢٤- قَالَ رَبُّ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَمَا
بَيْنَهُمَا
إِنْ كُنْتُمْ مُوقِنِينَ

٢٥- قَالَ لِمَنْ حَوْلَهُ أَلَا تَسْمَعُونَ

٢٦- قَالَ رَبُّكُمْ وَرَبُّ آبَائِكُمُ الْأَوَّلِينَ

٢٧- قَالَ إِنَّ رَسُولَكُمْ الَّذِي
أُرْسِلَ إِلَيْكُمْ لَمَجْنُونٌ

٢٨- قَالَ رَبُّ الْمَشْرِقِ وَالْمَغْرِبِ وَمَا
بَيْنَهُمَا إِنْ كُنْتُمْ تَعْقِلُونَ

٢٩- قَالَ لَكِنِ اتَّخَذَتِ الْهَاءُ غَيْرِي
لَأَجْعَلَنَّكَ مِنَ الْمَسْجُونِينَ

٣٠- قَالَ أَوْ لَوْ جِئْتِكَ بِشَيْءٍ مُّيَسَّرٍ

3153. Moses had stirred up the wrath of Pharaoh both by putting forward the name of the One True God as against Pharaoh's pretended godhead, and by suggesting that any man of judgment would understand God's majesty. While Pharaoh turns to his people in indignation, Moses drives the nail in further : " He is the God of the heavens and the earth and all between : therefore He is also your God, and the God of your fathers from the beginning. Any other pretensions are false ! "

3154. Pharaoh is further perturbed. In reply to Moses's statement that the One True God is also the God of the Egyptians and of Pharaoh also, Pharaoh says sarcastically to his Court : " Look at this 'apostle' of yours ; he seems to be mad ! " But Moses is not abashed. He boldly says what is the truth : " It is you who are mad ! The God Whom I preach is the universal Lord,—of the East and of the West. He reigns wherever you go ! "

3155. Now we come to the crisis. Pharaoh threatens Moses with prison for treason. Moses remains calm and still argues : " What if I show you a miracle ? Will it convince you that I am not mad, and that I have behind me the Lord of all the Worlds ? "

3156. The Egyptians were addicted to magic and sorcery, which was mostly false. If a true miracle were shown to them, would they believe ? Perhaps they would see the hollowness of their own magic. In fact this actually happened with the Egyptian sorcerers themselves and perhaps with the commonalty. But Pharaoh and his Court were too arrogant, and battered too much on frauds to yield to Truth.

31. (Pharaoh) said: " Show it then,
If thou tellest the truth!"
32. So (Moses) threw his rod,
And behold, it was
A serpent, plain (for all to see)!
33. And he drew out his hand,
And behold, it was white
To all beholders! <sup>3157</sup>

SECTION 3.

34. (Pharaoh) said to the Chiefs <sup>3158</sup>
Around him: " This is indeed
A sorcerer well-versed:
35. " His plan is to get you out
Of your land by his sorcery;
Then what is it ye counsel?"
36. They said: " Keep him
And his brother in suspense
(For a while), and dispatch
To the Cities heralds to collect —
37. " And bring up to thee
All (our) sorcerers well-versed."
38. So the sorcerers were got Together for the appointment.
Of a day well-known, <sup>3159</sup>
39. And the people were told:
" Are ye (now) assembled?—
40. " That we may follow <sup>3160</sup>
The sorcerers (in religion)
If they win?"

٣١- قَالَ فَأْتِ بِهِ إِنْ كُنْتَ مِنَ الصّٰدِقِيْنَ

٣٢- فَالْقَىٰ عَصَاهُ فَإِذَا هِيَ ثُعْبَانٌ مُّبِينٌ

٣٣- وَنَزَعَ يَدَهُ فَإِذَا هِيَ بَيْضَاءُ
لِلنّٰظِرِيْنَ ۝

٣٤- قَالَ لِلْمَلَاحِقَةِ
إِنَّ هٰذَا سَاحِرٌ عَلِيْمٌ ۝

٣٥- يُرِيْدُ أَنْ يُخْرِجَكُمْ مِنْ اَرْضِكُمْ
بِسِحْرِهِ ۗ فَمَا ذَا تَأْمُرُوْنَ ۝

٣٦- قَالُوْا ارْحَبْهُ وَاخَاهُ
وَابْعَثْ فِي الْمَدَآئِنِ حٰشِرِيْنَ ۝

٣٧- يَا تُوْكَ بِكُلِّ سَاحِرٍ عَلِيْمٍ ۝

٣٨- فَجُمِعَ السّٰحِرَةُ لِبَيْعَاتِ يَوْمٍ مَّعْلُوْمٍ ۝

٣٩- وَقِيْلَ لِلنّٰسِ هَلْ اَنْتُمْ مُّجْتَمِعُوْنَ ۝

٤٠- لَعَلَّنَا نَتَّبِعُ السّٰحِرَةَ
اِنْ كَانُوْا هُمُ الْغٰلِبِيْنَ ۝

3157. Cf. vii. 107-8. See the whole passage there, and the notes thereon.

3158. In vii. 109 it is the Chiefs who say this. The fact is that it was a general consultation, and this was the general feeling, expressed in words by each to the others.

3159. A day well-known: a solemn day of festival: see xx. 59. The object was to get together as large a concourse of people as possible. It was confidently expected that the Egyptian sorcerers with all their organisation would win with their tricks against these amateur Israelites, and so the State cult of the worship of Pharaoh would be fastened on the necks of the people more firmly than ever.

3160. See the last note. The people are to come and witness the triumph of the State religion, so that they may become the more obedient to Pharaoh and more compliant with the demands of the priests. The State religion included magic and the worship of Pharaoh.

41. So when the sorcerers arrived,
They said to Pharaoh :
“Of course—shall we have
A (suitable) reward <sup>3161</sup>
If we win ?”

٣١- فَلَمَّا جَاءَ السَّحَرَةُ قَالُوا لِفِرْعَوْنَ
أَيُّنَ لَنَا لَاجِرًا
إِنْ كُنَّا نَحْنُ الْغَالِبِينَ ○

42. He said : “Yea, (and more),—
For ye shall in that case
Be (raised to posts)
Nearest (to my person).”

٣٢- قَالَ نَعَمْ وَإِنَّكُمْ إِذَا
لَمِنَ الْمُقَرَّبِينَ ○

43. Moses said to them :
“Throw ye—that which Ye are about to throw!” <sup>3362</sup>

٣٣- قَالَ لَهُمْ مُوسَى الْقُوا مَا أَنْتُمْ مُتْلِقُونَ ○

44. So they threw their ropes
And their rods, and said :
“By the might of Pharaoh,
It is we who will
Certainly win !” <sup>3363</sup>

٣٤- فَالْقَوَا جِبَالَهُمْ وَعِصِيَّهُمْ وَقَالُوا
بِعِزَّةِ فِرْعَوْنَ إِنَّا لَنَحْنُ الْغَالِبُونَ ○

45. Then Moses threw his rod,
When, behold, it straightway
Swallows up all
The falsehoods which they fake! <sup>3364</sup>

٣٥- فَالْقَى مُوسَى عَصَاهُ
فَإِذَا هِيَ تَلْقَفُ مَا يَأْفِكُونَ ○

46. When did the sorcerers
Fall down, prostrate in adoration,

٣٦- فَالْقَى السَّحَرَةُ سَيْدِينَ ○

47. Saying : “We believe
In the Lord of the Worlds,

٣٧- قَالُوا آمَنَّا بِرَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ○

48. “The Lord of Moses and Aaron.”

٣٨- رَبِّ مُوسَى وَهَارُونَ ○

3161. There was no such thing as pure loyalty to an exploiting ruler like this Pharaoh. The sorcerers, who were probably also priests, were venal, and they hoped to establish their own hold on both king and people by the further enrichment of themselves and their order.

3162. The euphemism implies a taunt, as if Moses had said: “I know about your tricks! You pretend to throw ropes and rods, and make people believe they are snakes. But now come on!”

3163. Though Pharaoh claimed to be a god, it is not likely that those nearest to him—his priests and sorcerers—believed such a thing! But it was a game of mutual pretence before the world. And so they appeal to his “divine” power.

3164. The sorcerers' ropes and rods seemed to have become serpents, but the rod of Moses was mightier than all of them and quickly swallowed them up. So Truth is more powerful than tricks and will expose and destroy them.

49. Said (Pharaoh): " Believe ye
In Him before I give
You permission? Surely he
Is your leader, who has Taught you sorcery!
But soon shall ye know! <sup>3265</sup>

٤٩- قَالَ آمَنْتُمْ لَهُ قَبْلَ أَنْ أَدْنُ لَكُمْ
إِنَّهُ لَكَبِيرِكُمْ الَّذِي عَلَّمَكُمُ السِّحْرَ
فَلَسَوْفَ تَعْلَمُونَ ○

50. " Be sure I will cut off
Your hands and your feet
On opposite sides, and I
Will cause you all
To die on the cross! "

٥٠- لَا قَطْعَنَ أَيْدِيكُمْ وَأَرْجُلِكُمْ
مِنْ خِلَافٍ وَلَا وُصَلْبًا لَكُمْ أَجْمَعِينَ ○

51. They said: " No matter!
For us, we shall but
Return to our Lord!

٥١- قَالُوا لَا ضَيْرَ
إِنَّا إِلَى رَبِّنَا مُنْقَلِبُونَ ○

52. " Only, our desire is
That our Lord will
Forgive us our faults,
That we may become
Foremost among the Believers! " <sup>3366</sup>

٥٢- إِنَّا نَطْمَعُ أَنْ يَغْفِرَ لَنَا رَبُّنَا خَطِيئَاتِنَا
أَنَّ كُنَّا أَوَّلَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ ○

SECTION 4.

53. By inspiration We told Moses:
" Travel by night with
My servants; for surely
Ye shall be pursued. " <sup>3367</sup>

٥٣- وَأَوْحَيْنَا إِلَىٰ مُوسَىٰ أَنْ أَسْرِ
بِعِبَادِي إِنَّكَ مُتَّبَعُونَ ○

54. Then Pharaoh sent heralds
To (all) the Cities,

٥٤- فَأَرْسَلَ فِرْعَوْنُ فِي الْمَدَائِنِ خَيْرِينَ ○

3165. The sorcerers knew that they had met something very different from their tricks. God's spirit worked on them, and they professed the True God. As they represented the intelligence of the community, it may be presumed that they carried the intelligence of Egypt with them and perhaps some of the commonalty, who were impressed by the dramatic scene! Hence Pharaoh's anger, but it is the beginning of his decline!

3166. This is the core of the lesson enforced in this passage. What was the reaction of the environment to the Light or Message of God? (1) It transformed Moses so that he became a fearless leader, one of the foremost in faith. (2) From men like Pharaoh and his corrupt court, it called forth obstinacy, spite, and all the tricks and snares of Evil, but Evil was defeated on its own ground. (3) The very dupes of Evil were touched by the glorious Light of God, and they were ready to suffer tortures and death, their sole ambition (in their transformed state) being to be foremost in Faith!

3167. The rest of the story—of the plagues of Egypt—is passed over as not germane to the present argument. We come now to the story of Israel leaving Egypt, pursued by Pharaoh. Here again there are three contrasts: (1) the blind arrogance of the Egyptians, against the development of God's Plan; (2) the Faith of Moses, against the fears of his people; and (3) the final deliverance of the seed of righteousness, against the destruction of the hosts of brute force.

55. (Saying) : " These (Israelites)
Are but a small band,
56. " And they are raging
Furiously against us ;
57. " But we are a multitude
Amplly fore-warned."
58. So We expelled them <sup>3368</sup>
From gardens, springs,
59. Treasures, and every kind
Of honourable position ;
60. Thus it was, but
We made the Children
Of Israel inheritors <sup>3369</sup>
Of such things.
61. So they pursued them <sup>3370</sup>
At sunrise.
62. And when the two bodies
Saw each other, the people
Of Moses said : " We are Sure to be overtaken."
63. (Moses) said : " By no means !
My Lord is with me !
Soon will He guide me ! " <sup>3371</sup>

٥٥- إِنَّ هَؤُلَاءِ لَشِرْذِمَةٌ قَلِيلُونَ ۝

٥٦- وَإِنَّهُمْ لَنَا لَغَائِظُونَ ۝

٥٧- وَإِنَّا لَجَمِيْعٌ حَذِرُونَ ۝

٥٨- فَأَخْرَجْنَاهُمْ مِنْ جَدَّتِ وَعُيُونٍ ۝

٥٩- وَكُنُوزٍ وَمَقَامٍ كَرِيمٍ ۝

٦٠- كَذَلِكَ ۝

وَأَوْرَثْنَاهَا بِنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ ۝

٦١- فَاتَّبَعُوهُمْ مُشْرِقِينَ ۝

٦٢- فَلَمَّا تَرَاءَ الْجَمْعَيْنِ

قَالَ أَصْحَابُ مُوسَى إِنَّا لَكُدْرَاءُ ۝

٦٣- قَالَ كَلَّا إِنَّ مَعِيَ رَبِّي سَيَهْدِينِ ۝

3168. In deference to almost unanimous authority I have translated this passage (verses 58-60) as if it were a parenthetical statement of God's purpose. Personally I prefer another construction. According to that, verses 58-59 will be part of Pharaoh's proclamation : " We have dispossessed the Israelites from everything good in the land, and made them our slaves " ; and verse 60 only will be parenthetical : " Poor ignorant men ! you may oppress those who are helpless, but We (i.e., God) have decreed that they shall inherit all these things ", as they certainly did (for a time) in the Land of Promise, Palestine.

3169. The Children of Israel certainly inherited the gardens, springs, treasures, and honourable positions in Palestine after many years' wanderings in the wilderness. But when they were false to God, they lost them again, and another people (the Muslims) inherited them when they were true in Faith. These latter not only inherited Palestine but also Egypt, and the old Pharaonic power and institutions were lost for ever. " Of such things " : literally, " of them ".

3170. The story is here resumed after the parenthesis of verses 58-60.

3171. Guide me : i.e., show me some way of escape from danger. This actually happened, for Pharaoh's host was drowned. The faith of Moses stands in strong contrast to the fears of his people,

64. Then We told Moses
By inspiration: "Strike
The sea with thy rod."
So it divided, and each
Separate part became
Like the huge, firm mass
Of a mountain.
65. And We made the other
Party approach thither.<sup>3172</sup>
66. We delivered Moses and all
Who were with him;
67. But We drowned the others.
68. Verily in this is a Sign:
But most of them
Do not believe.<sup>3173</sup>
69. And verily thy Lord
Is He, the Exalted in Might,
Most Merciful.<sup>3174</sup>

٦٤- فَأَوْحَيْنَا إِلَىٰ مُوسَىٰ أَنْ اصْرِبْ
بِعَصَاكَ الْبَحْرَ
فَانْفَلَقَ فَكَانَ كُلُّ فِرْقٍ
كَالظُّوْدِ الْعَظِيمِ ۝

٦٥- وَأَزَلَفْنَا لِمَنْ الْأَخْرَبِينَ ۝

٦٦- وَأُنجَيْنَا مُوسَىٰ وَمَنْ مَعَهُ أَجْمَعِينَ ۝

٦٧- ثُمَّ أَغْرَقْنَا الْأَخْرَبِينَ ۝

٦٨- وَإِنَّ فِي ذَٰلِكَ لَآيَةً
وَمَا كَانَ أَكْثَرُهُمْ مُّؤْمِنِينَ ۝

٦٩- وَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ ۝

C. 165. — Abraham patiently argued with his people
(xxvi. 70-122.) About God's Truth; prayed for wisdom
And righteousness, for himself, his father,
And future generations; and taught Truth
About the Hereafter. Noah preached
To a world of Unfaith, and would not reject
The humble and lowly: his arrogant rejecters
Were brought low: in him and his following
Were vindicated God's righteous Purpose and Mercy.

SECTION 5.

70. And rehearse to them
(Something of) Abraham's story.<sup>3175</sup>

٧٠- وَأَتْلُ عَلَيْهِمْ نَبَأَ إِبْرَاهِيمَ ۝

3172. The miracle was twofold: (1) Moses with his people passed safely through the sea; and (2) Pharaoh and his great host were drowned in the sea.

3173. As it was then, so it is now. In spite of the obvious Signs of God, people who are blind in their obstinate resistance to Truth accomplish their own destruction, while humble, persecuted men of Faith are transformed by the Light of God, and obtain salvation.

3174. Nothing that the powers of Evil can do, will ever defeat the merciful Purpose of God. Evil, in resisting good, will effect its own destruction.

3175. For the argument of this Sūra the incidents in Abraham's life are not relevant and are not mentioned. What is mentioned is: (1) the steps by which he taught about the sin of false worship, in the form of a Dialogue; (2) the aims of a righteous man not only in his individual life, but for his ancestors and posterity, in the form of a Prayer; and (3) a picture of the Future Judgment, in the form of a vision. (1) is covered by verses 70-82; (2) by 83-87; and (3) by 88-102.

71. Behold, he said
To his father and his people :
"What worship ye?"

72. They said : "We worship
Idols, and we remain constantly <sup>3176</sup>
In attendance on them."

73. He said : "Do they listen
To you when ye call (on them),
Or do you good or harm?"

74. They said : "Nay, but we Found our fathers doing
Thus (what we do)."

75. He said : "Do ye then
See whom ye have been Worshipping,—

76. "Ye and your fathers before you?—

77. "For they are enemies to me; <sup>3177</sup>
Not so the Lord and Cherisher
Of the Worlds;

78. "Who created me, and
It is He who guides me;

79. "Who gives me food and drink,

80. "And when I am ill,
It is He who cures me;

81. "Who will cause me to die,
And then to live (again);

٤١- إِذْ قَالَ لِأَبِيهِ وَقَوْمِهِ مَا تَعْبُدُونَ

٤٢- قَالُوا نَعْبُدُ أَصْنَامًا فَنَنظُلُّ لَهَا
عِكْفِينَ ○

٤٣- قَالَ هَلْ يَسْمَعُونَكُمْ إِذْ تَدْعُونَ
أَوْ يَنْفَعُونَكُمْ أَوْ يُضُرُّونَ ○

٤٤- قَالُوا بَلْ وَجَدْنَا آبَاءَنَا كَذَلِكَ
يَفْعَلُونَ ○

٤٥- قَالَ أَفَرَأَيْتُمْ مَا كُنْتُمْ تَعْبُدُونَ ○

٤٦- أَنْتُمْ وَأَبَاؤُكُمْ الْأَقْدَامُونَ ○

٤٧- فَإِنَّهُمْ عَدُوٌّ لِي إِلَّا رَبَّ الْعَالَمِينَ ○

٤٨- الَّذِي خَلَقَنِي فَهُوَ يَهْدِينُ ○

٤٩- وَالَّذِي هُوَ يُطْعِمُنِي وَيَسْقِينُ ○

٥٠- وَإِذَا مَرِضْتُ فَهُوَ يَشْفِينُ ○

٥١- وَالَّذِي يُمِيتُنِي ثُمَّ يُحْيِينُ ○

3176. They want to show their true and assiduous devotion. But Abraham goes at once to the heart of the matter by asking: "To whom is your devotion paid? Is the object worthy of it?"

3177. The things that you worship are enemies to mankind: let me testify from my own personal experience: they are enemies to me: they can do me no good, but would lead me astray. Contrast with their impotence or their power of mischief the One True God Whom I worship: He created me and all the Worlds; He cherishes me and guides me; He takes care of me; and when I die, He will give me new life; He will forgive me and grant me final Salvation. Will you then come to this true worship? How can you doubt, after seeing the contrast of the one with the other? Is it not as the contrast between Light and Darkness?"

82. "And who, I hope,
Will forgive me my faults
On the Day of Judgment..
83. "☉ my Lord I bestow wisdom<sup>3178</sup>
On me, and join me
With the righteous;
84. "Grant me honourable mention
On the tongue of truth<sup>3179</sup>
Among the latest (generations);
85. "Make me one of the inheritors
Of the Garden of Bliss;
86. "Forgive my father, for that
He is among those astray;
87. "And let me not be
In disgrace on the Day
When (men) will be raised up;—
88. "The Day whereon neither<sup>3180</sup>
Wealth nor sons will avail,

That brings to God
A sound heart;
90. "To the righteous, the Garden
Will be brought near,<sup>3181</sup>

3178. Having shown clearly the distinction between the False and the True, Abraham now shows in the form of a Prayer what his inmost wishes are. (1) He wants his own soul enlightened with divine wisdom, and (2) his heart and life filled with righteousness; (3) he will not be content with working for himself or his own generation; his view extends to all future generations; (4) and of course he wishes to attain the goal of the righteous, the Garden of the Bliss of the Divine Countenance; but he is not content with this; for (5) he wants his father and relatives to share in his spiritual joy, so that he can proudly see all whom he can reach, in an honourable station (contrasted with disgrace) on the Day of Judgment.

3179. Cf. xix. 50. The whole of the passage about Abraham there may be compared with this passage.

3180. Now we have a vision of the Day of Judgment. Nothing will then avail except a pure heart; all sorts of the so-called "good deeds" of this world, without the motive of purity, will be useless. The contrast of the Garden of Bliss with the Fire of Misery will be plainly visible. Evil will be shown in its true colours,—isolated, helpless, cursing and despairing; and all chances will then have been lost.

3181. The Good will only see good (the Garden of Bliss), and the Evil will only see evil (the Fire of Hell). The type of this contrast is shown to us in the world of our spiritual sense even in this life.

91. "And to those straying in Evil,
The Fire will be placed
In full view;
92. "And it shall be said
To them: 'Where are
The (gods) ye worshipped—
93. "' Besides God? Can they
Help you or help themselves?'
94. "Then they will be thrown
Headlong into the (Fire),—
They and those straying<sup>3182</sup>
In Evil,
95. "And the whole hosts
Of Iblis together.
96. "They will say there
In their mutual bickerings:
97. "' By God, we were truly
In an error manifest,<sup>3183</sup>
98. "' When we held you as equals
With the Lord of the Worlds;
99. "' And our seducers were
Only those who were
Steeped in guilt.<sup>3184</sup>
100. "' Now, then, we have none
To intercede (for us),

3182. The false gods, being devils or personified false fancies, will be all involved in the punishment of Hell, together with their worshippers, and the ultimate sources of evil, the hosts of Iblis or Satan.

3183. Error manifest: 'our error is now plainly manifest, but it should have been manifest to us before it was too late, because the Signs of God were always around us'. This will be said by the ungodly, whose eyes will then be fully opened.

3184. They now see that the people who seduced them were themselves evil and subject to the penalties of evil, and their seductions were frauds. They feel that they ought to have seen it before. For who would deliberately follow the paths of those condemned to misery and punishment? How simple they were not to see the true character of their seducers, though they had been warned again and again against them! It was their own folly that made them accept such obviously false guidance!

105. The people of Noah rejected
The apostles.

١٠٥- كَذَّبَتْ قَوْمُ نُوحٍ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝

106. Behold, their brother Noah 3186
Said to them: "Will ye not Fear (God)?"

١٠٦- إِذْ قَالَ لَهُمْ أَخُوهُمْ نُوحٌ أَلَا

107. "I am to you an apostle

١٠٧- إِنِّي لَكُمْ رَسُولٌ أَمِينٌ ۝

108. "So fear God, and obey me.

١٠٨- فَاتَّقُوا اللَّهَ وَأَطِيعُوا ۝

109. "No reward do I ask

Of the Worlds:

إِنْ أَجْرِيَ إِلَّا عَلَى رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ۝

3185. This apparent longing for a chance of return is dishonest. If they were sent back, they would certainly return to their evil ways: vi. 27-28. Besides, they have had numerous chances already in this life, and they have used them for mischief or evil.

3186. Noah's generation had lost all faith and abandoned themselves to evil. They had rejected the Message of apostles previously sent to the world. Noah was sent to them as one of themselves ("their brother"). His life was open before them; he had proved himself pure in heart and conduct (like the holy Apostle of Arabia long after him), and worthy of every trust. Would they fear God and follow his advice? They could see that he had no ends of his own to serve. Would they not listen to him?

3187. Amīn = one to whom a trust has been given, with several shades of meaning implied: e.g., (1) worthy of trust, (2) bound to deliver his trust, as a prophet is bound to deliver his Message, (3) bound to act entirely as directed by the trust, as a prophet is bound to give only the Message of God, and not add anything of his own, and (4) not seeking any interest of his own.

110. "So fear God, and obey me." <sup>3188</sup>

١١٠- قَاتِقُوا اللَّهَ وَأَطِيعُونِ ۝

111. They said: "Shall we

١١١- قَالُوا أَنْتُومِنْ كَلِّ

١١٢- قَالَ وَمَا عَلَيَّ بِمَا كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ ۝

113. "Their account is only

Those who believe." <sup>3190</sup>

١١٤- وَمَا أَنَا بِطَارِدِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

115. "I am sent only
To warn plainly in public."

١١٥- إِنْ أَنَا إِلَّا نَذِيرٌ مُّبِينٌ ۝

١١٨- كَافَتِهِ بَيْنِي وَبَيْنَهُمْ فَتَحَاوَيْجِي

3188. Note how the repetition rounds off the argument. See n. 3186 above.

3189. The leaders of the people are speaking, as the Quraish leaders spoke in the time of the holy Prophet. "We know that thou hast been trustworthy in thy life. But look at the 'tag rag and bob tail' that follow thee! Dost thou expect us to be like them or to be classed with them?" His answer was: "I know nothing against them; if they have done any wrong, or are only hypocrites, they are answerable to God; how can I drive them away from me, seeing that I am expressly sent to admonish all people?"

3190. Cf. xi. 29. All people who have faith have the right to come and listen to God's Word and receive God's Mercy, whether they are publicans and sinners, "Harajans" and low-caste men, men of "superior" or "inferior" races. The man of God welcomes them all, as His Message has to shine before the whole world.

3191. Two other cases occur to me where prophets of God were threatened with death by stoning: one was Abraham (xix. 46), and the other was Shu'aib (xi. 91). In neither case did the threats deter them from carrying out their mission. On the contrary the threats recoiled on those who threatened. So also did it happen in the case of Noah and the holy Prophet.

- Me and those of the Believers
Who are with me.”
119. So We delivered him
And those with him,
In the Ark filled

Who remained behind.

But most of them
Do not believe.<sup>3193</sup>
122. And verily thy Lord
Is He, the Exalted in Might,
Most Merciful.

C. 166.—The ‘Ād were addicted to arrogance ;
(xxvi. 123-159.) They exulted in material strength
And possessions, and had no faith but in force :
They were brought low, as were the Thamūd,
Who gave way to extravagance, and were guilty
Of sacrilege in destroying a symbol
Of justice and fair-dealing : their repentance
Was too late : they were blotted out
Of the earth for the mischief they had made.

SECTION 7.

123. The ‘Ād (people) rejected<sup>3194</sup>
The apostles.
124. Behold, their brother Hūd
Said to them : “ Will ye not
Fear (God) ?

- ١٢٣- كَذَّبَتْ عَادٌ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝
- ١٢٤- إِذْ قَالَ لَهُمْ أَخُوهُمْ هُودٌ
أَلَا تَتَّقُونَ ۝

3192. The story of Noah's Flood is told in xi. 36-48. Here the point emphasised is Noah's patience and constancy against threats, and the triumph and preservation of God's Truth even though the world was ranged against it.

3193. This and the following verse run like a refrain throughout this Sūra, and give the key-note to the subject-matter : how the Message of God is preached, how it is rejected in all ages, and how it triumphs at last, through the Mercy of God. See xxvi. 8-9, 68-69, 103-104, here (121-122), 139-140, 158-159, 174-175, and 190-191. There are minor refrains, like echoes in music, which will reveal themselves to the careful student.

3194. See n. 1040 to vii. 65 for the ‘Ād people and their location. Here the emphasis is on the fact that they were materialists believing in brute force, and felt secure in their fortresses and resources, but were found quite helpless when God's Message came and they rejected it.

125. " I am to you an apostle
Worthy of all trust : <sup>3195</sup>
126. " So fear God and obey me.
127. " No reward do I ask
Of you for it : my reward
Is only from the Lord
Of the Worlds.
128. " Do ye build a landmark
On every high place
To amuse yourselves ? <sup>3196</sup>
129. " And do ye get for yourselves
Fine buildings in the hope
Of living therein (for ever) ?
130. " And when ye exert
Your strong hand,
Do ye do it like men
Of absolute power ? <sup>3197</sup>
131. " Now fear God, and obey me. <sup>3198</sup>
132. " Yea, fear Him Who
Has bestowed on you
Freely all that ye know. <sup>3199</sup>
133. " Freely has He bestowed
On you cattle and sons,—

١٢٥- إِنْ لَكُمْ رَسُولٌ أَمِينٌ ۚ

١٢٦- فَاتَّقُوا اللَّهَ وَأَطِيعُوا ۚ

١٢٧- وَمَا أَسْأَلُكُمْ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ أَجْرٍ ۗ
إِنْ أَجْرِيَ إِلَّا عَلَى رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ۚ

١٣١- فَاتَّقُوا اللَّهَ وَأَطِيعُوا ۚ

١٣٢- وَاتَّقُوا الَّذِي أَمَدَّكُمْ بِمَا
تَعْلَمُونَ ۚ

١٣٣- أَمَدَّكُمْ بِأَنْعَامٍ وَبَنِينَ ۚ

3195. See n. 3187 to xxvi. 107 above.

3196. Any merely material civilisation prides itself on show and parade. Its votaries scatter monuments for all sorts of things in conspicuous places—monuments which commemorate deeds and events which are forgotten in a few generations! Cf. Shelley's poem on Ozymandias: "I am Ozymandias, King of Kings! Look on my works, ye mighty, and despair !.....Boundless and bare the lonely and level sands stretch far away !"

3197. "Without any responsibility or consideration for those who come within your power?"

3198. See n. 3188 above.

3199. The gifts are described generally, immaterial and material. "All that ye know" includes not only material things, but knowledge and the faculties by which knowledge may be used for human well-being, all that makes life beautiful and refined. "Cattle" means wealth generally, and "sons" means population and man-power. "Gardens and Springs" are things that contribute to the delight and pleasure of man.

134. "And Gardens and Springs.

۱۳۴- وَجَدْتُمْ وَعُيُونٌ ۝

135. "Truly I fear for you
The Penalty of a Great Day." 3200

۱۳۵- إِنِّي أَخَافُ عَلَيْكُمْ عَذَابَ يَوْمٍ عَظِيمٍ ۝

136. They said: "It is the same
To us whether thou

Among (our) admonishers!" 3201

تَكُنْ مِنَ الْوَاعِظِينَ ۝

137. "This is no other than
A customary device
Of the ancients," 3202

۱۳۷- إِنَّ هَذَا إِلَّا خُلُقُ الْأَوَّلِينَ ۝

138. "And we are not the ones
To receive Pains and Penalties!"

139. So they rejected him,
And We destroyed them.
Verily in this is a Sign:
But most of them
Do not believe.

۱۳۹- كَذَّبُواهُ فَاهْتَكَمْنَاهُمْ
إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً

Most Merciful.

۱۴۰- وَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ ۝

SECTION 8.

141. The Thamūd (people)
rejected 3203
The apostles.

۱۴۱- كَذَّبَتْ ثَمُودُ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝

3200. "But you have misused all those gifts, and you will suffer the inevitable penalties for your misuse and for your ingratitude."

3201. "We are not going to attend to you whether you preach to us or not." The construction of the second clause, 'or be not among our admonishers' is a rapier cut at Hūd, as if they had said: "Oh yes! we have heard plenty of admonishers like you!" See the next verse.

3202. They said, as many of our modern enemies of religion say, "you are only reviving an ancient superstition, a dope of the crowd; there is no such thing as a Hereafter, or the sort of punishments you denounce!"

3203. For the Thamūd people see n. 1043 to vii. 73. They were great builders in stone and a people with agricultural wealth, but they were an exclusive people and oppressed the poor. The point emphasised here is: "How long will your wealth last, especially if you depress your own people and dishonour God's Signs by sacrilege?" The inscriptions on the Thamūd remains of rock-cut buildings in Al-Ḥijr are described in Appendix IX at the end of this Sūra.

142. Behold, their brother Ṣāliḥ
Said to them: "Will you not Fear (God)?"

١٤٢- اِذْ قَالَ لَهُمْ أَخُوهُمْ صَالِحٌ
اَلَا تَتَّقُونَ ۝

143. "I am to you an apostle

اِنْ اَجْرِىْ اِلَّا عَلَى رِبِّ الْعٰلَمِيْنَ ۝

146. "Will ye be left secure,
In (the enjoyment of) all
That ye have here?—

١٤٨- وَزُرُوْعٍ وَنَخْلٍ طَلَعَهَا هٰضِيْمٌ ۝

149. "And ye carve houses
Out of (rocky) mountains
With great skill.

١٤٩- وَتَنْحِتُوْنَ مِنَ الْجِبَالِ بُيُوْتًا فَرٰهِيْنَ ۝

150. "But fear God and obey me ;

١٥٠- فَاتَّقُوا اللّٰهَ وَاَطِيعُوْنَ ۝

151. "And follow not the bidding
Of those who are extravagant, —<sup>3205</sup>

١٥١- وَلَا تُطِيعُوْا اَمْرَ السُّرْفِيْنَ ۝

152. "Who make mischief in the land,
And mend not (their ways)."

١٥٢- الَّذِيْنَ يَفْسِدُوْنَ فِى الْاَرْضِ وَلَا

يُصْلِحُوْنَ ۝

153. They said: "Thou art only
One of those bewitched!"<sup>3206</sup>

١٥٣- قَالُوْا اِنَّمَا اَنْتَ مِنَ السَّخِرِيْنَ ۝

3204. The date palm flowers on a long spathe: when the flowers develop into fruit, the heavy ones hang with the load of fruit. The Thamūd evidently were proud of their skill in producing corn and fruit and in hewing fine dwellings out of rocks, like the later dwellings of Roman times in the town of Petra.

3205. They are told: 'All your skill is very well; but cultivate virtue and do not follow the ways of those who put forward extravagant claims for men's powers and material resources, or who lead lives of extravagance in luxury and self-indulgence; that makes mischief: but the door of repentance is open; will you repent?'

3206. They think he is talking like a madman, and they say so.

154. "Thou art no more than
A mortal like us:
Then bring us a Sign,
If thou tellest the truth!"

155. He said: "Here is
A she-camel: she has <sup>3207</sup>
A right of watering,
And ye have a right
Of watering, (severally)
On a day appointed.

156. "Touch her not with harm,
Lest the Penalty
Of a Great Day
Seize you."

157. But they ham-strung her:
Then did they become
Full of regrets. <sup>3208</sup>

158. But the Penalty seized them.
Verily in this is a Sign:
But most of them
Do not believe.

159. And verily thy Lord
Is He, the Exalted in Might,
Most Merciful.

١٥٣- مَا أَنْتَ إِلَّا بَشَرٌ مِّثْلُنَا

١٥٩- وَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ ○

C. 167.—The task of Lot was a hard one: his mission
(xxvi. 160-191.) Was to people addicted to crimes abominable.
His reasoning with them was in vain: it only
Excited their wrath. They threatened to cast
Him out, but were themselves overwhelmed
In disaster. Shu'aib had to rebuke fraud
And commercial dishonesty: he met only
Ridicule, but the just and fair dealing
He preached was vindicated in the end.

3207. For this she-camel, see n. 1044 to vii. 73. The she-camel was to be a Sign and a test-case.
Would they respect her rights of watering (and pasturage)?

3208. Their regrets were too late. They had themselves asked for a Sign. The Sign had been given them in the she-camel, which their prophet Ṣāliḥ had put forward as a test-case. Would they, through that symbol, respect the law of equity by which all people had rights in water and in the gifts of nature? They refused to respect that law, and committed sacrilege by deliberately killing the she-camel. They themselves came to an evil end.

SECTION 9.

160. ¶The people of Lūt rejected <sup>3209</sup>
The apostles.
161. Behold, their brother Lūt
Said to them : " Will ye not
Fear (God) ?
162. " I am to you an apostle
Worthy of all trust.
163. " So fear God and obey me.
164. " No reward do I ask
Of you for it : my reward
Is only from the Lord
Of the Worlds.
165. " Of all the creatures
In the world, will ye
Approach males,
166. " And leave those whom God
Has created for you
To be your mates ?
Nay, ye are a people
Transgressing (all limits) ! "
167. ¶They said : " If thou desist not,
O Lūt ! thou wilt assuredly
Be cast out ! " <sup>3210</sup>
168. He said : " I do detest <sup>3211</sup>
Your doings."
- ١٦٠- كَذَّبَتْ قَوْمُ لُوطٍ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝
- ١٦١- اِذْ قَالَ لَهُمْ أَخُوهُمْ لُوطُ اَلَا تَتَّقُونَ ۝
- ١٦٢- اِنِّى لَكُمْ رَسُوْلٌ اَمِيْنٌ ۝
- ١٦٣- فَاتَّقُوا اللّٰهَ وَاَطِيعُوْنَ ۝
- ١٦٤- وَمَا اَسْئَلُكُمْ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ اَجْرٍ ۝
اِن اَجْرِى اِلَّا عَلَى رِبِّ الْعٰلَمِيْنَ ۝
- ١٦٥- اَتَاْتُوْنَ الذُّكْرَانَ مِنَ الْعٰلَمِيْنَ ۝
- ١٦٦- وَتَدْرُوْنَ مَا خَلَقَ لَكُمْ رَبُّكُمْ
مِّنْ اَزْوَاجِكُمْ ۝
بَلْ اَنْتُمْ قَوْمٌ عٰدُوْنَ ۝
- ١٦٧- قَالُوْا لَئِنْ لَّمْ تَنْتَهِ يَلُوْطُ
لَتَكُوْنَنَّ مِنَ الْمُخْرَجِيْنَ ۝
- ١٦٨- قَالَ اِنِّى لِعِبٰدِكُمْ مِنَ الْقٰلِيْنَ ۝

3209. The story of Lūt (Lot) will be found in vii. 80-84 : see n. 1049. Here the point is that the people of the Cities of the Plain were shamelessly addicted to vice against nature, and Lūt's warning only exasperated them, until they were destroyed by a shower of brimstone.

3210. Their threat to cast him out has a grim significance in what actually happened. They were destroyed where they were, and he was glad to escape the dreadful Punishment according to the warning he had received.

3211. He was only among them from a stern sense of duty. The whole atmosphere there was detestable to him, and he was glad to escape when duty no longer demanded his presence there. He prayed for deliverance from such surroundings.

169. " O my Lord ! deliver me
And my family from
Such things as they do ! "

170. So We delivered him
And his family,—all

171. Except an old woman <sup>3212</sup>
Who lingered behind.

172. But the rest We destroyed
Utterly.

173. We rained down on them
A shower (of brimstone) : <sup>3213</sup>
And evil was the shower
On those who were admonished
(But heeded not) !

174. Verily in this is a Sign :
But most of them
Do not believe.

175. And verily thy Lord
Is He, the Exalted in Might
Most Merciful.

SECTION 10.

176. The Companions of the Wood <sup>3214</sup>
Rejected the apostles.

177. Behold, Shu'aib <sup>3215</sup> said to them :
" Will ye not fear (God) ?

178. " I am to you an apostle
Worthy of all trust.

١٦٩- رَبِّ يَخْتِئِي وَأَهْلِي مِمَّا يَعْمَلُونَ ۝

١٧٠- فَجَعَلْنَاهُ وَأَهْلَهُ أَجْعِينَ ۝

١٧١- إِلَّا عَجُوزًا فِي الْغَدِيرِينَ ۝

١٧٢- ثُمَّ دَمَرْنَا الْأَخْرِينَ ۝

١٧٣- وَأَمْطَرْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ مَطَرًا
فَسَاءَ مَطَرُ الْمُنْذَرِينَ ۝

١٧٤- إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لآيَةً

وَمَا كَانَ أَكْثَرُهُمْ مُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

١٧٥- وَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَهوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ ۝

١٧٦- كَذَّبَ أَصْحَابُ الْاُيُودِ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝

١٧٧- إِذْ قَالَ لَهُمْ شُعَيْبٌ أَلَا تَتَّقُونَ ۝

١٧٨- إِنِّي لَكُمْ رَسُولٌ أَمِينٌ ۝

3212. This was Lū't's wife, who lingered behind and was among those who perished. See n. 1051 to vii. 83.

3213. See n. 1052 to vii. 84.

3214. See n. 2000 to xv. 78.

3215. For Shu'aib see n. 1054 to vii. 85.

179. " So fear God and obey me.
180. " No reward do I ask
Of you for it : my reward
Is only from the Lord
Of the Worlds.
181. " Give just measure,<sup>3216</sup>
And cause no loss
(To others by fraud).
182. " And weigh with scales
True and upright.
183. " And withhold not things
Justly due to men,
Nor do evil in the land,
Working mischief.
184. " And fear Him Who created
You and (Who created)
The generations before (you) "
185. They said : " Thou art only
One of those bewitched !
186. " Thou art no more than
A mortal like us,
And indeed we think
Thou art a liar !<sup>3217</sup>
187. " Now cause a piece
Of the sky to fall on us,
If thou art truthful ! "<sup>3218</sup>
188. He said : " My Lord Knows best what ye do. "<sup>3219</sup>

- ١٧٩- فَاتَّقُوا اللَّهَ وَأَطِيعُوا ۞
- ١٨٠- وَمَا أَسْأَلُكُمْ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ أَجْرٍ
إِنْ أَجْرِيَ إِلَّا عَلَى رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ۞
- ١٨١- أَوْفُوا الْكَيْلَ وَلَا تَكُونُوا مِنَ
الْمُخْسِرِينَ ۞
- ١٨٢- وَزِنُوا بِالْقِسْطِاسِ الْمُسْتَقِيمِ ۞
- ١٨٣- وَلَا تَبْخَسُوا النَّاسَ أَشْيَاءَهُمْ
وَلَا تَعْتُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ مُفْسِدِينَ ۞
- ١٨٤- وَاتَّقُوا الَّذِي خَلَقَكُمْ
وَالْجِبِلَّةَ الْأُولِينَ ۞
- ١٨٥- قَالُوا إِنَّمَا أَنْتَ مِنَ الْمُسْتَضْرَبِينَ ۞
- ١٨٦- وَمَا أَنْتَ إِلَّا بَشَرٌ مِثْلُنَا
وَإِنْ نَطَّلِكَ لَكِنَ الْكَذِبِ بَيْنَ ۞
- ١٨٧- فَاسْقِطْ عَلَيْنَا كِسْفًا مِنَ السَّمَاءِ
إِنْ كُنْتَ مِنَ الصَّادِقِينَ ۞
- ١٨٨- قَالَ رَبِّي أَعْلَمُ بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ ۞

3216. They were a commercial people, but they were given to fraud, injustice, and wrongful mischief (by intermeddling with others). They are asked to fear God and follow His ways: it is He Who also created their predecessors among mankind, who never prospered by fraud and violent wrong-doing, but only by justice and fair dealing.

3217. They deny that he is a prophet or that they are doing wrong, or that any former generations behaved differently. They think they are the true exponents of human nature, and that such as he—idealists—are mere madmen.

3218. ' If you really claim any real contact with God, let us see if you can bring down a piece of the sky to fall on us ! '

3219. The challenge to bring down a piece of the sky was merely empty bravado, on the part of those who had called him a liar. But Shu'aib does not insult them. He merely says: " God is the best judge of your conduct: what more can I say ? " And God did punish them.

189. But they rejected him.
Then the punishment
Of a day of overshadowing gloom <sup>3220</sup>
Seized them, and that was
The Penalty of a Great Day. <sup>3221</sup>

١٨٩-فَكَذَّبُوهُ
فَأَخَذَهُمْ عَذَابُ يَوْمِ الظُّلَّةِ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ عَذَابَ يَوْمٍ عَظِيمٍ ۝

190. Verily in that is a Sign :
But most of them
Do not believe.

١٩٠-إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لآيَةً
وَمَا كَانَ أَكْثَرُهُمْ مُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

191. And verily thy Lord
Is He, the Exalted in Might,
Most Merciful. <sup>3222</sup>

١٩١-وَلَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَهوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ ۝

C. 168.—Thus the Truth of God must win against folly
(xxvi. 192-227.) And falsehood. The Spirit of Inspiration
And Faith brought down the Qur-ān to the mind
Of the holy Prophet, that he might teach
In noble Arabic speech, and through it
Reach the world. If obstinate rebels
Do resist the Message, their day is brief :
With humble, gentle kindness it must make
Its way to all, nearest and farthest.
It is not like the vain words of poets false,
Wandering without a goal : it is Truth,
That fills the heart which trusts in God.

SECTION 11.

192. Verily this is a Revelation <sup>3223</sup>
From the Lord of the Worlds :

١٩٢-وَإِنَّهُ لَنَزْلٌ رَّبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ۝

193. With it came down
The Spirit of Faith and Truth— <sup>3224</sup>

١٩٣-نَزَلَ بِهِ الرُّوحُ الْأَمِينُ ۝

3220. Perhaps a shower of ashes and cinders accompanying a volcanic eruption. If these people were the same as the Midianites, there was also an earthquake. See vii. 91 and n. 1063.

3221. It must have been a terrible day of wholesale destruction,—earthquake, volcanic eruption, lava, cinders and ashes. and rumbling noises to frighten those whose death was not instantaneous.

3222. See above, n. 3193 to xxvi. 121.

3223. The hostile reception of some of the previous Messengers having been mentioned, the special characteristics of the Qur-ān are now referred to, to show (1) that it is true, and (2) that its rejection by the Meccan Pagans was of a piece with previous experience in the history of man : vested interests resist Truth, but it conquers.

3224. Rūh-ul-amīn, the epithet of Gabriel, who came with the inspired Messages to the holy Prophet, is difficult to render in a single epithet in translation. In n. 3187 to xxvi. 107 I have described some of the various shades of meaning attached to the adjective Amīn as applied to a Prophet. A further signification as attached to the Spirit of Inspiration is that it is the very quintessence of Faith and Truth, unlike the lying spirits which delude men with falsehood. On the whole, I think "the Spirit of Faith and Truth" will represent the original best here.

194. To thy heart and mind,<sup>3225</sup>
That thou mayest admonish

195. In the perspicuous
Arabic tongue.

196. Without doubt it is (announced)
In the mystic Books<sup>3226</sup>
Of former peoples.

197. Is it not a Sign
To them that the Learned
Of the Children of Israel
Knew it (as true)?<sup>3227</sup>

198. Had We revealed it
To any of the non-Arabs,

199. And had he recited it
To them, they would not
Have believed in it.<sup>3228</sup>

200. Thus have We caused it
To enter the hearts
Of the Sinners.<sup>3229</sup>

١٩٤- عَلَى قَلْبِكَ لِتَكُونَ مِنَ الْمُنذِرِينَ ۝

١٩٥- بِلِسَانٍ عَرَبِيٍّ مُبِينٍ ۝

١٩٦- وَإِنَّهُ لَفِي زُبُرِ الْأَوَّلِينَ ۝

١٩٧- أَوَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُمْ آيَةٌ

أَنْ يَعْلَمَهُ عُلَمَاءُ بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ ۝

١٩٨- وَلَوْ نَزَّلْنَاهُ عَلَى بَعْضِ الْأَعْجَمِينَ ۝

١٩٩- فَقَرَأَهُ عَلَيْهِمْ مَا كَانُوا بِهِ

مُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

٢٠٠- كَذَلِكَ سَلَكْنَاهُ فِي قُلُوبِ الْمُجْرِمِينَ ۝

3225. Qalb (Heart) signifies not only the seat of the affections, but also the seat of the memory and understanding. The process of inspiration is indicated by the impression of the divine Message on the inspired one's heart, memory, and understanding, from which it was promulgated in human speech to the world. In this case the human speech was the perspicuous Arabic tongue, which would be plainly intelligible to the audience who would immediately hear it and be through them transmitted to all the world.

3226. In iii. 184 I have translated Zubur as Books of dark prophecies. See n. 490 there. Here perhaps mystic Scriptures of all kinds are meant, as the universal Message of Islam was adumbrated in all true Books of divine knowledge.

3227. Many of the Jewish Doctors recognised the holy Prophet's Message as a Message from God, e.g., 'Abdullāh ibn Salām and Mukhairiq. The latter was a man of property, which he left for Islam. (There were also Christian monks and learned men who recognised the Prophet's mission.)

3228. The turn of Arabia having come for receiving God's Revelation, as was foretold in previous Revelations, it was inevitable that it should be in the Arab tongue through the mouth of an Arab. Otherwise it would have been unintelligible, and the Arabs could not have received the Faith and become the vehicles for its promulgation as actually happened in history.

3229. "Thus" I think means through the medium of the Arabic language and the Arab people. The Qur-ān penetrated through their language and their hearts. If the hard-hearted among them did not believe, they will see when the Penalty comes, how grievous a mistake they made. For the Penalty must come; even when they least expected it. They will be caught saying or thinking, "There is plenty of time; we can get another respite," when already it will have become too late for them to turn over a new leaf.

201. They will not believe
In it until they see
The grievous Penalty ;
202. But the (Penalty) will come
To them of a sudden,
While they perceive it not ;
203. Then they will say :
" Shall we be respited ? "
204. Do they then ask
For Our Penalty to be
Hastened on ? <sup>3230</sup>
205. Seest thou ? If We do
Let them enjoy (this life)
For a few years,
206. Yet there comes to them
At length the (Punishment)
Which they were promised !
207. It will profit them not
That they enjoyed (this life) !
208. Never did We destroy
A population, but had
Its warners—
209. By way of reminder ;
And We never are unjust. <sup>3231</sup>
210. No evil ones have brought <sup>3232</sup>
Down this (Revelation) :

٢٠١- لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِهِ حَتَّىٰ يَرَوُا الْعَذَابَ
الْأَلِيمَ ۝

٢٠٢- فَيَأْتِيَهُمْ بَغْتَةً وَهُمْ لَا يَشْعُرُونَ ۝

٢٠٣- فَيَقُولُوا هَلْ نَحْنُ مُنظَرُونَ ۝

٢٠٤- أَفَبِعَذَابِنَا يَسْتَعْجِلُونَ ۝

٢٠٥- أَفَرَأَيْتَ إِنْ مَتَّعْنَاهُمْ سِنِينَ ۝

٢٠٦- ثُمَّ جَاءَهُمْ مَا كَانُوا يُوعَدُونَ ۝

٢٠٧- مَا أَغْنَىٰ عَنْهُمْ مَا كَانُوا يَمْتَعُونَ ۝

٢٠٨- وَمَا أَهْلَكْنَا مِنْ قَرْيَةٍ إِلَّا لَهَا
مُنذِرُونَ ۝

٢٠٩- ذِكْرِي ۚ وَمَا كُنَّا ظَالِمِينَ ۝

٢١٠- وَمَا تَنْزَلَتْ بِهِ الشَّيْطَانُ ۝

3230. While some sinners out of negligence postpone the day of repentance till it is too late, others more bold actually ask out of bravado that God's Punishment should be brought down on them at once, as they do not believe in God or His Punishment! The answer to them is: It will come soon enough—too soon, they will think, when it comes! Cf. xxii. 47 and notes.

3231. God will grant much respite to sinners, for He is Most Gracious and Merciful. But all this respite will profit them nothing if they are merely immersed in the vanities of this world. Again and again, in spite of their rebellion and their rejection, does God send warnings and warners before the final Punishment of Justice. For God knows human weakness, and He will never be unjust in the least.

3232. When anything extraordinary happens, there are always people desirous of putting the worst construction on it, and saying that it is the work of the evil ones, the devils. So when the Qur-ān came with its Message in wondrous Arabic, its enemies could only account for its power by attributing it to evil spirits! Such a beneficent message can never suit the purposes of the evil ones, nor would it be in their power to produce it. In fact Good and Evil are poles asunder, and Evil cannot even hear words of Good, of tender Pity for sinners and Forgiveness for the penitent!

211. It would neither suit them
Nor would they be able (To produce it).

٢١١- وَمَا يَبْغِي لَهُمْ وَمَا يَسْتَطِيعُونَ ۝

212. Indeed they have been removed
Far from even (a chance of)
Hearing it.

٢١٢- إِنَّهُمْ عَنِ السَّمْعِ لَمَعْرُؤُونَ ۝

213. So call not on any
Other god with God,
Or thou wilt be among
Those under the Penalty.

٢١٣- فَلَا تَدْعُ مَعَ اللَّهِ إِلَهًا آخَرَ
فَتَكُونَ مِنَ الْمُعَذَّبِينَ ۝

214. And admonish thy nearest
Kinsmen,

٢١٤- وَأَنْذِرْ عَشِيرَتَكَ الْأَقْرَبِينَ ۝

215. And lower thy wing<sup>3233</sup>
To the Believers who Follow thee.

٢١٥- وَأَخْفِضْ جَنَاحَكَ لِمَنِ اتَّبَعَكَ
مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

216. Then if they disobey thee,
Say: "I am free (of responsibility)
For what ye do!"<sup>3234</sup>

٢١٦- فَإِنْ عَصَوْكَ
فَقُلْ إِنِّي بَرِيءٌ مِمَّا تَعْمَلُونَ ۝

217. And put thy trust
On the Exalted in Might,
The Merciful,—

٢١٧- وَتَوَكَّلْ عَلَى الْعَزِيزِ الرَّحِيمِ ۝

218. Who seeth thee standing
Forth (in prayer),

٢١٨- الَّذِي يَرَىٰكَ حِينَ تَقُومُ ۝

219. And thy movements among Those who prostrate themselves.<sup>3235</sup>

٢١٩- وَتَقَلُّبِكَ فِي السُّجُودِ ۝

3233. That is, be kind, gentle, and considerate with them, as a high flying bird is when she lowers her wing to her offspring. Cf. xvii. 24 and n. 2205, and xv. 88 and n. 2011.

3234. "Disobey thee" implied that they did something wrong, for the holy Prophet commanded what was right and forbade what was wrong. If, then, any of his flock did wrong, the responsibility was not his, for he, like a good shepherd, tried to keep them right. What was he then to do? He would continue his teaching. But if any of them went so far wrong as to try to injure their own Teacher, Leader, and Guide, there was nothing for him to fear. His trust was only in God, and God sees and appraises all men's actions at their true worth.

3235. Literally, the standing and prostration are postures in Muslim prayer: the holy Prophet was equally earnest, sincere, and zealous in prayer for himself and for all his people. But there is a wider meaning. The postures in prayer are symbolical of attitudes of mind, and behaviour in life generally, and the "movements" may refer also to various vicissitudes, in which a man's soul is tried and tested just as the body is exercised in standing, bowing, kneeling, and prostration in prayer. The Prophet's behaviour was exemplary in all the turns of fortune, and however foolish men may cavil, his purity and uprightness are fully known to God.

220. For it is He
Who heareth and knoweth
All things.
221. Shall I inform you,
(O people!), on whom it is
That the evil ones descend? <sup>3236</sup>
222. They descend on every
Lying, wicked person,
223. (Into whose ears) they pour
Hearsay vanities, and most
Of them are liars.
224. And the Poets, — <sup>3237</sup>
It is those straying in Evil,
Who follow them :
225. Seest thou not that they
Wander distracted in every Valley?—
226. And that they say
What they practise not?—
227. Except those who believe, <sup>3238</sup>
Work righteousness, engage much

٢٢٠-إِنَّهُ هُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ

٢٢١-هَلْ أُنَبِّئُكُمْ عَلَىٰ مَنْ تَنَزَّلُ
الشَّيَاطِينُ ۗ

٢٢٢-تَنَزَّلُ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ أَفَّاكٍ أَثِيمٍ ۗ

٢٢٣-يُلْقُونَ السَّمْعَ وَأَكْثُرُهُمْ كَاذِبُونَ ۗ

٢٢٤-وَالشُّعْرَاءُ يَتَّبِعُهُمُ الْغَاوُونَ ۗ

٢٢٥-أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّهُمْ فِي كُلِّ وَادٍ يَمْحِجُونَ

٢٢٦-وَأَنَّهُمْ يَقُولُونَ مَا لَا يَفْعَلُونَ ۗ

٢٢٧-إِلَّا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ

3237: The Poets: to be read along with the exceptions mentioned in verse 227 below. Poetry and other arts are not in themselves evil, but may on the contrary be used in the service of religion and righteousness. But there is a danger that they may be prostituted for base purposes. If they are insincere ("they say what they do not") or are divorced from actual life or its goodness or its serious purpose, they may become instruments of evil or futility. They then wander about without any set purpose, and seek the depths (valleys) of human folly rather than the heights of divine light.

3238. Poetry and the fine arts which are to be commended are those which emanate from minds steeped in Faith, which try to carry out in life the fine sentiments they express in their artistic work, aim at the glory of God rather than at self-glorification or the fulsome praise of men with feet of clay, and do not (as in Jihād) attack anything except aggressive evil. In this sense a perfect artist should be a perfect man. Perfection may not be attainable in this life, but it should be the aim of every man, and especially of one who wishes to become a supreme artist, not only in technique but in spirit and essentials. Among the commendable poets contemporary with the holy Prophet may be mentioned Ḥassān and Labīd: the latter had the honour of being one of the seven whose poems were selected for "hanging" (the Mu'allaqāt) in the Days of Ignorance.

In the remembrance of God,
 And defend themselves only after
 They are unjustly attacked.
 And soon will the unjust<sup>3239</sup>
 Assailants know what vicissitudes
 Their affairs will take!

وَذَكِّرُوا اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا
 وَانْتَصِرُوا مِنْ بَعْدِ مَا ظَلَمْتُمْ وَسَيَعْلَمُ
 الَّذِينَ ظَلَمُوا أَيَّ مُنْقَلَبٍ يَنْقَلِبُونَ ۝

3239. These were the scurrilous rhymesters, who were doomed to come to an evil end.

APPENDIX IX.

Thamūd Inscriptions at al-Ḥijr. (xxvi. 141-159 ; xv. 80-84 ; and vii. 73-79.)

Mr. C.M. Doughty travelled in North-Western Arabia and Najd in the 1880's, and his book Arabia Deserta forms one of the most notable of Arabian Travel-books. It was first published in two volumes by the Cambridge University Press in 1888, and has recently gone through several editions. The edition I have used is the unabridged one-volume edition printed in London in 1926. The references in this Appendix should be understood to refer to that edition.

Doughty travelled on the old Pilgrim Caravan route (Darb-ul-Ḥajj) with a Pilgrim Caravan from Damascus as far as Madāin Ṣāliḥ, and then parted company with the Pilgrims and turned into Najd. Madāin Ṣāliḥ (the Cities of Ṣāliḥ), is one of the stations on the Syrian Pilgrim route, about 180 miles north of Medina. Tabūk, to which the holy Prophet led an expedition in A.H. 9 (see Introduction to S. ix), is about 170 miles farther to the north-west, and Ma'an Junction about 150 miles still farther. Madāin Ṣāliḥ was also an important station on the prehistoric gold and frankincense (bakhūr) route between Yemen and Egypt or Syria. In sacred history it marks the ruined site of the Thamūd people to whom the prophet Ṣāliḥ was sent, whose she-camel was a symbolic Sign and is connected with Ṣāliḥ's history. See n. 3208 to xxvi. 155-157. To the west and north-west of Madāin Ṣāliḥ are three Harrats or tracts of volcanic land covered with lava, stretching as far as Tabūk.

This is how Doughty describes his first view of Madāin Ṣāliḥ, approaching from the north-west. "At length in the dim morning twilight, as we journeyed, we were come to a sandy brow and a straight descending-place betwixt cliffs of sandstones. There was some shouting in the forward, and Aswad bid me look up, 'this was a famous place, Mabrak-an-Nāqa'" (the kneeling place of the she-camel of Ṣāliḥ). "It is short, at first steep, and issues upon the plain of al-Ḥijr, which is Madāin Ṣāliḥ; where the sun coming up showed the singular landscape of this valley-plain, encompassed with mighty sand-rock precipices (which here resemble ranges of city walls, fantastic towers, and castle buildings), and upon them lie high shouldering sand drifts. The bottom is sand, with much growth of desert bushes; and I perceived some thin sprinkled volcanic drift. Westward is seen the immense mountain blackness, terrible and lowering, of the Harrat." (Arabia Deserta, p. 83, vol. I.)

Doughty took rubbings of some of the Inscriptions which were accessible to him and they were studied by the great Semitic scholar M. Ernest Renan and published by the Académie des Inscriptions et Belles-Lettres. Renan's Report in French is printed as an Appendix to Chapters IV, V and VI of Arabia Deserta (pp. 180-187, vol. I) and M. le Marquis de Vogüé's Note (also in French) on the Nabatæan sculptured Architecture at Madāin Ṣāliḥ at pp. 620-623, vol. I.

The general result of these studies may be summarised. The sculpture and architecture are found to be of the same kind as in the Nabatæan monuments at Petra (for which see n. 1043 to vii. 73). At Petra there are no dated Inscriptions preserved, but at Madāin Šāliḥ we have several. There are at Madāin Šāliḥ perhaps 100 sepulchral rock-hewn chambers, in some of which are found human bones and remains, showing that the Nabatæans knew the art of embalming, and used linen of the same kind as was used in ancient Egypt. The tombs are dedicated in perpetuity to named families, and the named Nabatæan kings have, each, the epithet "loving his people". There are flat side-pilasters, and the figures of four-footed beasts, eagles, and other birds are discernible. Besides the sepulchral chambers, there is a great Hall or Council Chamber (Liwān), 25ft. × 27ft. × 13ft. This may have been a Temple. The gods worshipped were those whose names we know of from other Nabatæan sources,—Dusarés, Martaba, Allāt, Manā, Keīs, and Hubal. Allāt, Manāt, and Hubal are also known to us in connection with the idols of the Pagan Quraish of the Times of Ignorance. It is interesting to find the word Mesjeda (Arabic Masjid) already used here for a "place of worship". Triads of stones were worshipped as gods.

The Inscriptions have dates from 3 B.C. to 79 A.D. Within this short period of 82 years we can see something of the development of Semitic palæography. The writing becomes more and more cursive with the years. We have here a central point between Old Armenian, Square Hebrew, Palmyran, Sinaitic, Kūfi and Naskh.

We may treat the Nabatæans as historical, as we have established dates. The Thamūd were prehistoric, and occupied sites which were afterwards occupied by the Nabatæans and others. The kneeling place of Šāliḥ's she-camel Mabrak-un-Nāqa and the well of the she-camel (Bīr-un-Nāqa), and a number of local names keep alive the race-memory of an ancient Arabian people and their prophet Šāliḥ.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXVII (Naml).

This Sūra is cognate in subject to the one preceding it and the two following it. Its chronological place is also in the same group of four, in the middle Meccan period.

Here there is much mystic symbolism. Wonders in the physical world are types of greater wonders in the spiritual world. The Fire, the White Hand, and the Rod, in the story of Moses; the speech of birds, the crowds of Jinns and men pitted against a humble ant, and the Hoopoe and the Queen of Sheba, in Solomon's story; the defeat of the plot of the nine wicked men in the story of Ṣāliḥ; and the crime of sin with open eyes in the story of Lot;—lead up to the lessons of true and false worship and the miracles of God's grace and revelation.

Summary.—Wonderful is Revelation, like the Fire which Moses saw, which was a glimpse of God's Glory, and His Miracles, which searched out those who refused Faith in spite of the light they had received (xxvii. 1-14, and C. 169).

Solomon knew the speech of Birds and had hosts of Jinns and men; yet the wise ant had ample defence against them: the Hoopoe who was absent at his muster, was yet serving him: the Queen of Sheba had a kingdom, but it submitted with conviction to the Wisdom of Solomon and the Kingdom of God (xxvii. 15-44, and C. 170).

Fools ascribe ill-luck to godliness as in Ṣāliḥ's story, or fall into their lusts with their eyes open, as in Lūṭ's story; but their plots and their rage will be foiled by God (xxvii. 45-58, and C. 171).

God's glory and goodness are supreme over all Creation: Unfaith will yield to Faith in the final adjustment of values: so follow Revelation, serve God, and trust in Him (xxvii. 59-93, and C. 172).

C. 169.—Revelation shows us a glimpse of the spiritual
(xxvii. 1-14.) World, guides us in this life, and gives us
The Hope of eternal Bliss in the Hereafter.
It works a complete transformation in us,
As it did with Moses when he saw
The mystic Fire and was given the Signs
With which to reclaim a people lost
In superstition and sin, and proud of sin.

الْقُرْآنِ

3240. See n. 3137 to xxvi. 1.

3241. Revelation is here presented in three aspects : (1) it explains things, the nature of God, our own position, and the spiritual world around ; (2) it directs us to right conduct and keeps us from evil ; and (3) to those who have Faith and accept its guidance, it gives the good news of forgiveness, purification, and the achievement of salvation.

3242. Those who reject God and follow Evil have a good conceit of themselves. Their deeds are pleasing to no one else. As they have rejected God's guidance, they are allowed to hug their own self-conceit, and given further respite for repentance. But they follow their own whims and wander about in distraction, as they have no standards such as guide the godly.

3243. The account will then be made up, and they will be found to be terribly in loss. They will be the worst in loss, for all their self-complacency.

7. Behold! Moses said<sup>3244</sup>
To his family: "I perceive
A fire; soon will I bring you
From there some information,
Or I will bring you
A burning brand to light
Our fuel, that ye may
Warm yourselves.

8. But when he came
To the (Fire), a voice
Was heard: "Blessed are those<sup>3245</sup>
In the Fire and those around:
And Glory to God,
The Lord of the Worlds.

9. "O Moses! Verily,
I am God, the Exalted
In Might, the Wise!...

10. "Now do thou throw thy rod!"<sup>3246</sup>
But when he saw it
Moving (of its own accord)
As if it had been a snake,
He turned back in retreat,
And retraced not his steps:
"O Moses!" (it was said),
"Fear not: truly, in My presence,
Those called as apostles
Have no fear,—<sup>3247</sup>

٤- اِذْ قَالَ مُوسَىٰ لِاهْلِيهِ اِنِّي اَنْتُمْ نَارًا
سَايِبِكُمْ مِنْهَا يُخْرِجُ
اَوْ اْتِيَكُمْ بِسَهَابٍ مِّنْ

٨- فَلَمَّا جَاءَهَا نُورٌ مِّنْ اَنْبِيَائِ

يٰمُوسَىٰ لَا تَخَفْ
اِنِّي لَا يَخَافُ لَدَيْ الْمُرْسَلِيْنَ ۝

3244. Cf. xx. 9-24. Both there and here there is a reference to the dawn of Revelation in the heart of Moses. The points there emphasised will be found in the notes to that passage. Here the emphasis is on the wonderful nature of the Fire and the wonderful way in which Moses was transformed at the touch of spiritual Light. He was travelling in the Sinai desert with his family. Seeking ordinary light, he came upon a Light which took him to the highest mysteries of God. No doubt all his inner history had prepared him for his great destiny. It is the inner history that matters, and not the place or position of a man in the eyes of his ordinary fellows.

3245. Those: in the original the pronoun is in the singular, "man", which is often used with a plural meaning. The Commentators usually construe it to mean that it was not a physical fire, but it was the glory of the Angels, a reflection of the Glory of God. Hence the exclamation at the end of the verse.

3246. Moses was now transported into an entirely new world. What he had taken to be an ordinary fire was a gleam of the spiritual world,—rays from the angels of light. The desert in which he had been was the lower life stripped of its ornaments, leading to the divine light of Sinai. Through that Light he heard the Voice of the Source of Wisdom and Power. His own rod or staff was no longer the dead piece of wood that had hitherto supported him. It became instinct with life, a life that moved, and had the power of offence and defence in it, as all living Good must have in its fight with Evil. His own transformation is described in the next note.

3247. In this great, new, wonderful world, that was opening out to Moses, he had to get his vision adjusted to his new surroundings, as an ordinary man has to adjust his sight before he can see in any very strong light that is new to him. The staff which had become alive as a snake frightened him: yet it was to be his own instrument of work in his new mission. All fear was to be cast out of his mind, as befitted a man chosen by God.

11. " But if any have done wrong
And have thereafter substituted
Good to take the place of evil,<sup>3248</sup>
Truly, I am Oft-Forgiving,
Most Merciful.

C. 170.—No less were David and Solomon versed
(xxvii. 15-44.) In knowledge and mystic wisdom. Even Solomon could appreciate the wisdom
Of the humble Ant. He used all his power
And resources in extending the Kingdom

3248. His slaying the Egyptian (n. 3146 to xxvi. 14), however defensible from certain aspects, was yet something from his past that had to be washed off, and God, Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful, did it out of His abounding Grace. Nay, more; he was given a pure, Radiant Hand, as a Sign of his personal transformation, as stated in the next verse.

3249. Cf. xx. 22. There the expression is: "Draw thy hand close to thy side." As far as the physical act is concerned, the expressions there and here mean the same thing. Moses had a loose-fitting robe. If he put his hand within the folds of the robe, it would go to his bosom on the side of his body opposite to that from which his hand came; i.e., if it was his right hand it would go to the left side of his bosom. But the difference of expression has a little spiritual significance. The bosom here stands for his innermost being, which was being so transformed with divine light as to lend the radiance to his hand also, his instrument of action. The hand comes out white and radiant, without a stain. Ordinarily if the skin becomes white it is a sign of disease or leprosy. Here it was the opposite. It was a sign of radiance and glory from the higher Light.

3250. The nine Signs: see n. 1091 to vii. 133.

3251. The Signs should have clearly opened the eyes of any persons who honestly examined them and thought about them. Those who rejected them were perverse and were going against their own light and inner conviction. That was the aggravating feature of their sin.

Of God. In wonderful ways did He lead
The Queen of Sheba to the Light of the Faith
Of Unity, and confirmed her in pure
Worship, the worship of the Lord of the Worlds.

SECTION 2.

15. We gave (in the past)
Knowledge to David and
Solomon : <sup>3252</sup>

And they both said :
" Praise be to God, Who
Has favoured us above many
Of His servants who believe ! " <sup>3253</sup>

16. And Solomon was David's heir. <sup>3254</sup>
He said : " O ye people !
We have been taught the speech <sup>3255</sup>
Of Birds, and on us
Has been bestowed (a little)
Of all things : this is Indeed Grace manifest (from God.) " <sup>3256</sup>

17. And before Solomon were marshalled

١٥- وَ لَقَدْ اَتَيْنَا دَاوُدَ وَ سُلَيْمَانَ عِلْمًا
وَ قَالَا الْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ الَّذِي

١٦- وَ وَّرِثَ سُلَيْمٰنُ دَاوُدَ

وَ اَوْتَيْنَا مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ
اِنَّ هٰذَا لَهٗوَ الْفَضْلُ الْمُبِيْنُ

١٧- وَ حَشَرَ لِّسُلَيْمٰنَ

3252. Cf. xxi 78-82. " Knowledge " means such knowledge as leads up to the higher things in life, the Wisdom that was shown in their decisions and judgments, and the understanding that enabled them to fulfil their mission in life. They were both just men and apostles of God. The Bible, as we have it, is inconsistent : on the one hand it calls David " a man after God's own heart " (1 Samuel, xiii. 14, and Acts xiii. 22) ; and the Christians acclaim Christ as a son of David ; but on the other hand, horrible crimes are ascribed to him, which, if he had committed them, would make him a monster of cruelty and injustice. About Solomon, too, while he is described as a glorious king, there are stories of his lapses into sin and idolatry. The Muslim teaching considers them both to be men of piety and wisdom, and high in spiritual knowledge.

3253. They ascribed, as was proper, their knowledge, wisdom, and power to the only true Source of all good, God.

3254. The point is that Solomon not only inherited his father's kingdom but his spiritual insight and the prophetic office, which do not necessarily go from father to son.

3255. Speech of Birds. The spoken word in human speech is different from the means of communication which birds and animals have between each other. But no man can doubt that they have means of communication with each other, if he only observes the orderly flight of migratory birds or the regulated behaviour of ants, bees, and other creatures who live in communities. The wisdom of Solomon and others like him (he speaks of " we ") consisted in understanding these things—in the animal world and in the lower fringes of human intelligence.

3256. " A little of all things " : Solomon was a king of power and authority ; outside his kingdom he had influence among many neighbouring peoples ; he had knowledge of birds, and beasts and plants ; he was just and wise, and understood men ; and above all, he had spiritual insight, which brought him near to God. Thus he had something of all kinds of desirable gifts. And with true gratitude he referred them to God, the Giver of all gifts.

His hosts,—of Jinns and men
And birds, and they were all
Kept in order and ranks. <sup>3257</sup>

18. At length, when they came
To a (lowly) valley of ants,
One of the ants said:
"O ye ants, get into
Your habitations, lest Solomon
And his hosts crush you
(Under foot) without knowing it." <sup>3258</sup>

19. So he smiled, amused
At her speech; and he said:
"O my Lord! so order me
That I may be grateful
For Thy favours, which Thou
Hast bestowed on me and <sup>3259</sup>
On my parents, and that
I may work the righteousness
That will please Thee: <sup>3260</sup>
And admit me, by Thy Grace,
To the ranks of Thy Righteous Servants." <sup>3261</sup>

تَرْضَاهُ وَأَدْخِلْنِي بِرَحْمَتِكَ
فِي عِبَادِكَ الصَّالِحِينَ ○

3257. Besides the literal meaning, there are two symbolical meanings. (1) All his subjects of varying grades of intelligence, taste, and civilization, were kept in due order and co-operation, by his discipline, justice, and good government. (2) The gifts of various kinds, which he possessed (see last note), he used in proper order and co-ordination, as if they were a well disciplined army, thus getting the best possible results from them.

3258. This verse and the next, read together, suggest the symbolical meaning as predominant. The ant, to outward appearance, is a very small and humble creature. In the great pomp and circumstances of the world, she (generic feminine in Arabic) may be neglected or even trampled on by a people who mean her no harm. Yet, by her wisdom, she carries on her own life within her own sphere ("habitations") unmolested, and makes a useful contribution to the economy of the world. So there is room for the humblest people in the spiritual world.

3259. The counterpart to the position of the humble ant is the position of a great king like Solomon. He prays that his power and wisdom and all other gifts may be used for righteousness and for the benefit of all around him. The ant being in his thoughts, we may suppose that he means particularly in his prayer that he may not even unwittingly tread on humble beings in his pre-occupations with the great things of the world.

3260. The righteousness which pleases the world is often very different from the righteousness which pleases God. Solomon prays that he may always take God's Will as his standard, rather than the standards of men.

3261. In the Kingdom of God, righteousness is the badge of citizenship. And although there are great and noble grades (see n. 586 to iv. 69), the base of that citizenship is the universal brotherhood of righteousness. The greatest in that Kingdom are glad and proud to pray for that essential badge.

20. And he took a muster

With a severe penalty,

3262. Solomon was no idle or easy-going king. He kept all his organisation strictly up to the mark, both his armies literally and his forces (metaphorically). His most mobile arm was the Birds, who were light on the wing and flew and saw everything like efficient scouts. One day he missed the Hoopoe in his muster. The hoopoe is a light, graceful creature, with elegant plumage of many colours, and a beautiful yellow crest on his head, which entitles him to be called a royal bird.

3263. Sabā may reasonably be identified with the Biblical Sheba (1 Kings x. 1-10). It is further referred to in the Sūra called after its name : xxxiv. 15-20. It was a city in Yemen, said to have been three days' journey (say 50 miles) from the city of San'ā. A recent German explorer, Dr. Hans Helfritz, claims to have located it in what is now Ḥadhramaut territory. The famous dam of Maārib made the country very prosperous, and enabled it to attain a high degree of civilization ("provided with every requisite" in the next verse). The Queen of Sheba therefore rightly held up her head high until she beheld the glories of Solomon.

3264. The Queen of Sheba (by name Bilqis in Arabian tradition) came apparently from Yemen, but she had affinities with Abyssinia and possibly ruled over Abyssinia also. The Ḥabasha tribe (after whom Abyssinia was named) came from Yemen. Between the southern coast of Yemen and the north-eastern coast of Abyssinia (now occupied by Italy and France) there are only the Straits of Bāb-al-Mandab, barely twenty miles across. In the 10th or 11th century B.C. there were frequent invasions of Abyssinia from Arabia, and Solomon's reign of 40 years is usually synchronised with B.C. 992 to 952. The Sabæan and Ḥimyarite alphabets, in which we find the south Arabian pre-Islamic inscriptions, passed into Ethiopic, the language of Abyssinia. The Abyssinians possess a traditional history called "The Book of the Glory of Kings" (Kebra Nagast), which has been translated from Ethiopic into English by Sir E. A. Wallis Budge (Oxford, 1932). It gives an account of the Queen of Sheba and her only son Menyelek I, as founders of the Abyssinian dynasty.

3265. Provided with every requisite: I take this to refer not only to the abundance of spices and gems and gold in her country, but to sciences and arts, and perhaps the spiritual possibilities which made her accept the religion of Unity and Truth (xxvii. 44).

3266. The ancient religion of the people of Sabā (the Ḥimyar or Sabæans) consisted in the worship of the heavenly bodies, the sun, the planets, and the stars. Possibly the cult was connected with that of Chaldæa, the home-land of Abraham: see vi. 75-79 and notes thereon. Yemen had easy access to Mesopotamia and the Persian Gulf. by way of the sea, as well as with Abyssinia. That accounts for the Christians of Najrān and the Jewish dynasty of kings (e.g., Zū-Nuwās, d. 525 A.D.) who persecuted them in the century before Islam,—also for the Christian Abyssinian Governor Abraha and his discomfiture in the year of the Prophet's birth (S. cv.), say 570 A.D. Jewish-Christian influences were powerful in Arabia in the sixth century of the Christian era.

The religion of these Sabæans (written in Arabic with a Sīn) should not be confounded with that of the Ṣabians (with a Ṣād), as to whom see n. 76 to ii. 62.

3267. The false worship of the Sabæans is here exposed in three ways: (1) that they were self-satisfied with their own human achievements, instead of looking up to God; and (2) that the light of the heavenly bodies which they worshipped was only dependent on the true Light of God, which extends over heaven and earth; the Creator should be worshipped rather than His Creation; and (3) God knows the hidden secrets of men's minds as well as the objects which they openly profess: are false worshippers really only worshipping their own selves, or the "sins they have a mind to" and are therefore afraid to go to God, Who knows all?

3268. The messenger (Hoopoe) is a pious bird, as befits a messenger of Solomon. After mentioning the false worship of the Sabæans, he pronounces the Creed of Unity, and emphasises God's attribute as Lord of the Throne of Glory supreme, in order to make it clear that whatever may be the magnificence of a human throne such as he has described (in verse 23), he is not in any way misled from his loyalty to Solomon, the exponent of the true Religion of Unity.

3269. Solomon does not doubt his messenger's plea that he has scouted a new country, but wants to test whether he has loosened the rein of his imagination in describing its splendours or its worship.

٣٤- قَالَتْ إِنَّ الْمُلُوكَ إِذَا دَخَلُوا قَرْيَةً

3270. Solomon expressly begins his letter with the formula of the true and universal Religion of Unity, and he invites to the true Faith the new people with whom he establishes honourable relations, not for worldly conquest but for the spreading of the Light of God.

3271. The character of Queen Bilqis, as disclosed here, is that of a ruler enjoying great wealth and dignity, and the full confidence of her subjects. She does nothing without consulting her Council, and her Council are ready to carry out her commands in all things. Her people are manly, loyal, and contented, and ready to take the field against any enemy of their country. But their queen is prudent in policy, and is not willing to embroil her country in war. She has the discrimination to see that Solomon is not like ordinary kings who conquer by violence. Perhaps in her heart she has a ray of the divine light already, though her people are yet Pagans. She wishes to carry her people with her in whatever she does, because she is as loyal to them as they are to her. An exchange of presents would probably establish better relations between the two kingdoms. And perhaps she anticipates some spiritual understanding also, a hope which was afterwards realised. In Bilqis we have a picture of womanhood, gentle, prudent, and able to tame the wilder passions of her subjects. She is like Una in Spenser's Faerie Queene.

And make the noblest
Of its people its meanest:
Thus do they behave.

35. "But I am going to send
Him a present, and (wait)

36. Now when (the embassy) came
To Solomon, he said:
"Will ye give me abundance
In wealth? But that which
God has given me is better
Than that which He has Given you! Nay it is ye
Who rejoice in your gift!"<sup>3272</sup>
37. "Go back to them, and be sure
We shall come to them
With such hosts as they
Will never be able to meet:
We shall expel them
From there in disgrace,
And they will feel
Humbled (indeed)."
38. He said (to his own men):
"Ye Chiefs! which of you
Can bring me her throne"<sup>3273</sup>
Before they come to me
In submission?"
39. Said an 'Ifrīt,<sup>3274</sup> of the Jinns:
"I will bring it to thee

٣٩- قَالَ عِفْرِيْتُ مِنَ الْجِنِّ أَنَا آتِيكَ بِهِ

3272. Poor Bilqis! she thought she had arranged with womanly tact to conciliate Solomon, and at the same time pacify her warlike subjects! But the effect of the embassy with presents was the very opposite. Solomon took it as an insult that she should send her presents instead of her submission to the true Religion! He flung back the presents at her, as much as to say, "Let these baubles delight your own hearts! God has blessed me with plenty of worldly goods, and something infinitely better, viz.: His Light and Guidance! Why do you say nothing about that? Will you only understand the argument of armies and violence?" Or perhaps his speech was only meant for the Sabæan crowd. For when she actually came, he treated her kindly, and she accepted the religion of Unity.

3273. The throne is symbolical of power and dignity. So far her throne was based on material wealth: Solomon is going to alter it to a basis of Faith and the Religion of Unity.

3274. 'Ifrīt: a large, powerful jinn, reputed to be wicked and crafty: hence he is anxious to be recognised as one that "could be trusted".

Before thou rise from thy Council: indeed I have Full strength for the purpose,
And may be trusted."

40. Said one who had knowledge<sup>3275</sup>
Of the Book: "I will
Bring it to thee within
The twinkling of an eye!" ...
Then when (Solomon) saw it
Placed firmly before him,
He said: "This is
By the grace of my Lord!—<sup>3276</sup>
To test me whether I am
Grateful or ungrateful!
And if any is grateful,
Truly his gratitude is (a gain)
For his own soul; but if
Any is ungrateful, truly
My Lord is Free of all Needs,
Supreme in Honour!"<sup>3277</sup>

41. He said: "Transform her throne
Out of all recognition by her:
Let us see whether she
Is guided (to the truth)"<sup>3278</sup>

۴۱- قَالَ تَكَرَّرُوا لَهَا عَرْشَهَا
نَنْظُرًا أَتَهْتَدِي

3275. The symbolic meaning still continues. The big 'Ifrit had boasted of his brute strength, and his reliability. But this is not enough to transform a power (throne) based on materialism into one based on inward knowledge, knowledge of the heart and spirit, the sort of knowledge that comes from the Book of the Grace of God, the spirit of truth and benevolence which is the invisible magic of men of God. Even if worldly power and common honesty may be able to effect some good, it will take a comparatively long time, while the magic of spiritual love acts instantaneously. Solomon was thankful to God that he had men endowed with such power, and he had the throne of Bilqis transported to his Court and transformed as he desired, without Bilqis even knowing it.

3276. If Solomon had been ungrateful to God, i.e. if he had worked for his own selfish or worldly ends, he could have used the brute strength of 'Ifrit to add to his worldly strength and glory. Instead of it he uses the higher magic of the Book,—of the Spirit—to transform the throne of Bilqis for her highest good, which means also the highest good of her subjects, by the divine Light. He had the two alternatives, and he chooses the better, and he thus shows his gratitude to God for the Grace He had given him.

3277. Man's gratitude to God is not a thing that benefits God, for God is high above all needs: it benefits a man's own soul and gives him higher rank in the spiritual world. Per contra, man's ingratitude will not detract from God's Glory and Honour or the value of God's generous gifts to man: for God is supreme in honour, glory, and generosity. Karim in Arabic involves all three significations.

3278. The throne having been transformed, it will be a test to see whether Bilqis recognises it as her own and accepts it of her own free will as her own, or rejects it as something alien to her, something she will not accommodate herself to. So in our life. We get used to certain habits and customs and certain ways of thought. God's Message comes to transform us and set us on a different kind of throne, with our own active and willing consent. If we are wise, we feel honoured and grateful. If we are "obstinately rebellious", we reject it as not our own, and pine for the old slavery, as the Israelites pined for Egypt when they were under God's guidance in the wilderness.

Or is one of those who Receive no guidance.'

42. So when she arrived,
She was asked, "Is this Thy throne?" She said,
"It was just like this;<sup>3279</sup>
And knowledge was bestowed
On us in advance of this,
And we have submitted
To God (in Islām)."

43. And he diverted her<sup>3280</sup>
From the worship of others
Besides God: for she was (Sprung) of a people
That had no faith.

44. She was asked to enter<sup>3281</sup>
The lofty Palace: but
When she saw it, she
Thought it was a lake
Of water, and she (tucked up
Her skirts), uncovering her legs.
He said: "This is

3279. Bilqis stands the test. She knows it was her throne, yet not exactly the same, for it was now much better. And she is proud of her good fortune, and acknowledges, for herself and her people, with gratitude, the light which was given to them by God, by which they recognised God's apostle in Solomon, and received the true Religion with all their will and heart and soul.

3280. Some Commentators and Translators adopt an alternative construction for the last clause of the last verse and the first clause of this verse. They understand the former to be spoken by Solomon and to mean, 'we had knowledge of God's Message and accepted it before her.' They understand the latter to mean, 'the worship of others besides God diverted her (from the true Religion).' If we accept the construction adopted in this Translation, the visit to Solomon confirmed the true Faith of Bilqis and prevented her from lapsing into her ancestral false worship.

3281. The symbolic meaning takes us a stage further. But first let us take the literal story. Bilqis, having been received with honour on her arrival, and having accepted the transformation of her throne, placed presumably in an outer building of the Palace, is asked to enter the great Palace itself. Its floor was made of slabs of smooth polished glass, that glistened like water. She thought it was water, and tucked up her clothes to pass through it, showing her bare feet and ankles. This was a very undignified position for a woman, especially one of the position of a Queen. Solomon immediately undeceived her, and told her the real facts, when she felt grateful, and joined herself with Solomon in praising God.

Smooth with slabs of glass."
 She said: "O my Lord!
 I have indeed wronged <sup>3282</sup>

C. 171.—In Ṣāliḥ's pure preaching the evil Thamūd
 (xxvii. 45-58.) Found omens of ill to themselves: in secret
 They plotted to take his life, and like cowards
 They made a league to cover their crime
 With lies. Lo! on themselves recoiled
 The plot: they perished in utter ruin.
 The men admonished by Lot were false
 To themselves: they insulted the nature given
 Them by God, and mocked the Message of Purity.
 Lo! they were buried in a shower of brimstone!

3282. In symbolic language, a new entrant into the Palace of divine knowledge, may yet carry in his mind many of the illusions of the lower world. The transparent crystal of Truth he may yet mistake for the unstable water of worldly vanity, which soils the vestments of those who paddle in it. This leads to many undignified positions and mistakes. But a gentle leader points out the truth. Instead of resenting it, the new entrant is grateful; acknowledges his own mistake freely and frankly; and heartily joins with the Teacher in the worship of God, the Source of all truth and knowledge.

3283. The main story of the Thamūd, who were broken up into two factions, the rich oppressing the poor and keeping them out of the good things of life and the test case of the She-camel, will be found in xxvi. 141-159 and the notes thereon. The point here is the secret plot of the nine men against the man of God, whose teaching, they thought, brought them ill-luck; but what they called ill-luck was the just punishment from God for their own ill-deeds. Their plot was foiled, and the whole community, which was involved in evil, was destroyed.

3285. All evil unpunished is not evil condoned, but evil given a chance for reform. They are on trial, by the mercy of God. What they call "ill omen" is really the just punishment for their ill-deeds, and that punishment rests with God.

3286. They had made up their minds to wage a relentless war against justice. They did not destroy justice, but justice destroyed them.

3287. A most dastardly plot, because (1) it was to be secret, (2) by night, (3) taking their victims unawares, and (4) because careful provision was made that they should all tell lies together, saying that they knew nothing about it, in order to evade the vengeance which ʿAlī's heirs (if any were left) or his tribe might want to exact! And yet such were exactly the plots laid against the holy Prophet himself.

50. They plotted and planned,<sup>3288</sup>

٥٦- فَمَا كَانَ جَوَابَ قَوْمِهِ إِلَّا
أَنْ قَالُوا أَخْرِجُوْنَا ٥٦

3288. Cf. iii. 54. Their secret plotting is all known to God, but of God's just and beneficent plans they know nothing. And the wicked must come to an evil end.

3289. The story of Lūt is referred to elsewhere. The passages to which reference may be made here are: xxvi. 160-175, and vii. 80-84. But the point emphasised here is that the crime of the Cities of the Plain was against their own nature, and they saw its enormity, and yet they indulged in it. Can degradation go further? His wife was not apparently a Believer. Her previous sympathy with the sinful people "destined her" (verse 57 below) to a miserable end, as she lagged behind and shared in the destruction of her kinsfolk.

3290. The ignorance referred to here is the spiritual Ignorance, the Ignorance of how grossness and sins that bring shame on their own physical and moral nature are doomed to destroy them: it is their own loss. That they knew the iniquity of their sins has already been stated in the last verse. That knowledge makes their spiritual Ignorance all the more culpable, just as a man consciously deceiving people by half-truths is a greater liar than a man who tells lies inadvertently.

The followers of Lūt from
Your city : these are Indeed men who want
To be clean and pure !” 3291

C. 172.—God's goodness and mercy are manifest

(xxvii. 59-93.) Through all nature and in the heart and conscience
Of man. He alone knows all : our knowledge
Can at best be partial. Yet we can travel
Through space and time and see how Evil
Never prospered. God teaches us good,
But how can we see if we make ourselves blind ?
At the end of all things shall we know how small
Is our state, but for God's Grace : let us bow
To His Will and accept His true guidance :
Let us praise Him and trust Him—now and for ever !

SECTION 5.

59. Say : Praise be to God,
And Peace on His servants 3292
Whom He has chosen
(For His Message). (Who)
Is better ?—God or
19 The false gods they associate
30 (With Him) ?

٥٩- قُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ وَسَلَامٌ عَلَى عِبَادِهِ
الَّذِينَ اصْطَفَى
اللَّهُ خَيْرٌ أَمَا يَشْكُرُونَ ○

3291. Cf. vii. 82-84. Instead of being ashamed on account of the consciousness of their own guilt, they attack the pure ones with their sarcasms, as if not they but the pure ones were in the wrong in trying to set them on the right way.

3292. God's revelation having been described as Light, Guidance, and Mercy, we ought all to be grateful to God for vouchsafing His revelation. We ought also to appreciate the services of God's Messengers, who are chosen to deliver His Message : we ought to send salutations of Peace on them, instead of plotting, as the wicked do, for their removal or persecution, or banishment or death. For these men of God undergo every kind of hardship and forego every kind of advantage or pleasure in life for serving mankind. And God is truth and goodness, and all our fancies of false worship are falsehoods and evils. Shall we prefer falsehood and evil to truth and goodness ?

60. Or, who has created <sup>3293</sup>
 The heavens and the earth,
 And who sends you down
 Rain from the sky ?
 Yea, with it We cause
 To grow well-planted orchards
 Full of beauty and delight :
 It is not in your power
 To cause the growth <sup>3294</sup>
 Of the trees in them. (Can there be Another) god besides God ?
 Nay, they are a people
 Who swerve from justice.

٦٠- أَمَّنْ خَلَقَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ
 وَأَنْزَلَ لَكُمْ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً
 فَأَنْبَتْنَا بِهِ حَدَائِقَ ذَاتَ بَهْجَةٍ
 مَا كَانَ لَكُمْ أَنْ تُنْبِتُوا شَجَرَهَا
 ءِإِلَهُ مَعَ اللَّهِ
 بَلْ هُمْ قَوْمٌ يَعْدِلُونَ ۝

61. Or, who has made the earth
 Firm to live in ; made
 Rivers in its midst ; set
 Thereon mountains immovable ; <sup>3295</sup>
 And made a separating bar
 Between the two bodies <sup>3296</sup>
 Of flowing water ?
 (Can there be another) god
 Besides God ? Nay, most
 Of them know not.

٦١- أَمَّنْ جَعَلَ الْأَرْضَ قَرَارًا
 وَجَعَلَ خِلَالَهَا أَنْهَارًا وَجَعَلَ لَهَا رَوَاسِيَ
 وَجَعَلَ بَيْنَ الْبَحْرَيْنِ حَاجِزًا
 ءِإِلَهُ مَعَ اللَّهِ
 بَلْ أَنْزَلْنَاهُمْ لَآ يَعْلَمُونَ ۝

62. Or, who listens to the (soul)
 Distressed when it calls
 On Him, and who relieves <sup>3297</sup>
 Its suffering, and makes you

٦٢- أَمَّنْ يُجِيبُ الْمُضْطَرَّ إِذَا دَعَاهُ
 وَيَكْشِفُ السُّوءَ وَيَجْعَلُكُمْ

3293. The order, beauty, and grandeur of the Universe are appealed to. They show unity of design and purpose. How can unjust, ignorant, foolish, heedless, false men think of a multiplicity of gods, or of any god besides the One True God ?

3294. To make a single seed germinate and grow into a tree is beyond man's power. When it comes to a great well-laid-out garden of beauty and delight, no one would think it grew up of itself without a Gardener's consummate art. And the orchard is more than the trees in it : there is design and beauty in their arrangement : proper spaces have to be left between them for the growth of their roots, for the aeration of the soil beneath them, and for the penetration of air and sunlight between their branches. How can any one then think of the wonderful Universe as a whole, without thinking of the far higher Unity of Design, the evidence of the One True God ?

3295. Cf. xvi. 15 and notes 2038 and 2039. The terra firma, the flowing water, and the cycle of water circulation—sea, vapour, clouds, rain, rivers, and sea again,—all one and yet all distinct, with a sort of wonderful barrier between salt water and fresh water : can man see all this and yet be ignorant of God ?

3296. Cf. xxv. 53 and notes 3111 and 3112.

3297. Besides the evidence of external nature, there is the still more intimate evidence in man's inner conscience and heart. God listens to man's cry of agony and relieves his suffering, and He has given him superiority over other creation on this earth, through his mind and soul. Is man then going to run after inferior beings and forget God ?

(Mankind) inheritors of the earth? <sup>3298</sup>

(Can there be another) god
Besides God? Little it is That ye heed!

63. Or, who guides you
Through the depths of darkness
On land and sea, and who
Sends the winds as heralds <sup>3299</sup>
Of glad tidings, going before
His Mercy? (Can there be Another) god besides God?—
High is God above what
They associate with Him!

64. Or, who originates Creation,
Then repeats it, <sup>3300</sup>
And who gives you sustenance
From heaven and earth? <sup>3301</sup>
(Can there be another) god
Besides God? Say, "Bring forth
Your argument, if ye
Are telling the truth!" <sup>3302</sup>

65. Say: None in the heavens
Or on earth, except God,
Knows what is hidden: <sup>3303</sup>
Nor can they perceive
When they shall be raised
Up (for Judgment).

66. Still less can their knowledge
Comprehend the Hereafter: nay,

خُلَفَاءَ الْأَرْضِ

٦٤- أَمْ مَنْ يَبْدَأُ الْخَلْقَ ثُمَّ يُعِيدُهُ

٦٦- بَلِ ادْرِكْ عَلَيْهِمْ فِي الْآخِرَةِ تَبْلُ

3298. Cf. vi. 165, n. 988.

3299. Cf. xxv. 48, n. 3104. After external nature, our attention was drawn to our inner consciousness; after that, it is drawn here to our social and collective life, in which we use the forces of nature for international intercourse, trade, agriculture, production, and economic well-being generally. In the next verse, we are asked to contemplate creation from its primeval stages, through its intermediate processes, to the final Destiny in a new Creation—a new heaven and a new earth.

3300. Cf. x. 34, and n. 1428.

3301. Sustenance: of course in the spiritual as well as the material sense.

3302. All the arguments point to the Unity of God: there is none whatever against it.

3303. The existence of God is certain. But nothing else can be known with certainty to our knowledge. He has told us of the Hereafter, and therefore we know it is true. But those who do not believe in God,—what knowledge or certainty can they have? Even when it is actually coming, they will not have the sense to perceive it.

They are in doubt and uncertainty
Thereanent; nay, they are blind
Thereunto! <sup>3304</sup>

SECTION 6.

67. THE Unbelievers say: "What!
When we become dust,—
We and our fathers,—shall we Really be raised (from the dead)?"

68. "It is true we were promised
This,—we and our fathers
Before (us): these are nothing
But tales of the ancients."

69. Say: "Go ye through the earth
And see what has been
The end of those guilty
(Of sin)." <sup>3305</sup>

70. But grieve not over them,
Nor distress thyself
Because of their plots. <sup>3306</sup>

71. THEY also say: "When will
This promise (come to pass)?
(Say) if ye are truthful."

72. Say: "It may be that
Some of the events which
Ye wish to hasten on
May be (close) in your pursuit!" <sup>3307</sup>

هُم فِي شَكٍّ مِنْهَا
بَلْ هُمْ مِنْهَا عَمُونَ

٦٤- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا إِذَا كُنَّا تُرَابًا
وَأَبَاءُنَا أَرَبْنَا لَمُخْرَجُونَ

٦٨- لَقَدْ وَعَدْنَا هَذَا مَخْنُوعًا
وَأَبَاءُنَا مِنْ قَبْلُ إِن هَذَا إِلَّا آسَاطِيرُ الْأَوَّلِينَ

٦٩- قُلْ سِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ فَانظُرُوا كَيْفَ
كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الْمُجْرِمِينَ

٧٠- وَلَا تَحْزَنْ عَلَيْهِمْ
وَلَا تَكُن فِي ضَيْقٍ مِمَّا يَمْكُرُونَ

٧١- وَيَقُولُونَ مَتَى هَذَا الْوَعْدُ
إِنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ

٧٢- قُلْ عَلَىٰ أَنْ يَكُونَ
رَدْفٌ لَكُمْ بَعْضُ الَّذِي تَسْتَعْجِلُونَ

3304. The Unbelievers are generally materialists, who cannot go beyond the evidence of their physical senses. As to a spiritual vision of the future, their physical senses would only leave them in doubt and uncertainty, while their rejection of the spiritual Light makes them blind altogether to the spiritual world.

3305. Even if the Unbelievers are unwilling to take any mystic doctrine, they have only to observe what has actually happened on the earth, and they will see that evil always came to an evil end, and that Truth and righteousness ultimately won.

3306. Cf. xvi. 127, and n. 2164. The righteous need not worry over the unjust. The plots of the unjust can never defeat or deflect the purpose of God.

3307. The Unbelievers—or even men of half-hearted faith—may say, "Why worry over distant future events? Take the day as it comes!" But that is a fallacy. Judgment is certain, and it may be that this very hour may be the hour of doom for any given individual. This is the hour of repentance and amendment. For God wishes well to all mankind in spite of their ingratitude.

73. But verily thy Lord is Full of grace to mankind :
Yet most of them are ungrateful.

74. And verily thy Lord knoweth
All that their hearts do hide,
As well as all that
They reveal.

75. Nor is there aught
Of the Unseen, in heaven
Or earth, but is (recorded) <sup>3308</sup>
In a clear record.

76. Verily this Qur-ān doth explain
To the Children of Israel
Most of the matters
In which they disagree. <sup>3309</sup>

77. And it certainly is
A Guide and a Mercy
To those who believe.

78. Verily thy Lord will decide
Between them by His Decree : <sup>3310</sup>
And He is Exalted in Might,
All-Knowing.

79. So put thy trust in God :
For thou art on (the Path
Of) manifest Truth.

٤٣- وَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَذُو فَضْلٍ عَلَى النَّاسِ
وَلَكِنَّ أَكْثَرَهُمْ لَا يَشْكُرُونَ ○

٤٤- وَإِنَّ رَبَّكَ لَيَعْلَمُ مَا تُكِنُّ صُدُورُهُمْ
وَمَا يُعْلِنُونَ ○

٤٥- وَمَا مِنْ غَائِبَةٍ فِي السَّمَاءِ
وَالْأَرْضِ إِلَّا فِي كِتَابٍ مُبِينٍ ○

٤٦- إِنَّ هَذَا الْقُرْآنَ يَنْقُصُ عَلَى بَنِي
إِسْرَائِيلَ نِيلَ أَكْثَرِ الَّذِي هُمْ فِيهِ يَخْتَلِفُونَ ○

٤٧- وَإِنَّهُ لَهْدَىٰ وَرَحْمَةٌ لِّلْمُؤْمِنِينَ ○

٤٨- إِنَّ رَبَّكَ يَقْضِي بَيْنَهُمْ بِحُكْمِهِ
وَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الْعَلِيمُ ○

٤٩- فَتَوَكَّلْ عَلَى اللَّهِ
إِنَّكَ عَلَى الْحَقِّ الْمُبِينِ ○

3308. The chain of cause and effect is certain and clear. We stand or fall by our record. In this sense the doctrine of "Karma" is true, but it needs to be modified by the doctrine of "Grace"; for man may repent and obtain God's Mercy, and God's Mercy is like a good angel always trying to reclaim man.

3309. The Jews had numerous sects. Some were altogether out of the pale, e.g., the Samaritans, who had a separate Taurāt of their own : they hated the other Jews and were hated by them. But even in the orthodox body, there were several sects, of which the following may be mentioned : (1) the Pharisees, who were literalists, formalists, and fatalists, and had a large body of traditional literature, with which they overlaid the Law of Moses ; (2) the Sadducees, who were rationalists, and seemed to have doubted the doctrine of the Resurrection or of a Hereafter ; (3) the Essenes, who practised a sort of Communism and Asceticism and prohibited marriage. About many of their doctrines they had bitter disputes, which were settled by the Qur-ān, which supplemented and perfected the Law of Moses. It also explained clearly the nature of God and of Revelation, and the doctrine of the Hereafter.

3310. Decree : ḥukm : the disputes between rival sects can only be settled by the Decree of God,—(1) in the form of a Revelation, as was done by the Qur-ān, or (2) by the logic of events, for hundreds of sects have been extinguished and forgotten in the course of time, and (3) in the Decree of Judgment in the Hereafter, when all jarring sects will at length see their errors.

80. Truly thou canst not cause
The Dead to listen, nor
Canst thou cause the Deaf
To hear the call,
(Especially) when they Turn back in retreat.<sup>3311</sup>

٨٠- إِيَّاكَ لَا تَسْمِعُ الْمَوْتَى
وَلَا تَسْمِعُ الصُّمَّ الدُّعَاءَ
إِذَا وَلَّوْا مُدْبِرِينَ ○

81. Nor canst thou be a guide
To the Blind, (to prevent them)
From straying : only those
Wilt thou get to listen
Who believe in Our Signs,
And they will bow in Islam.

٨١- وَكَأَنْتَ بِهَدَى الْعُيَّى عَنْ ضَلَالَتِهِمْ
إِنْ تَسْمِعُ إِلَّا

82. And when the Word is<sup>3312</sup>
Fulfilled against them (the unjust),
We shall produce from the earth
A Beast to (face) them :<sup>3313</sup>
He will speak to them,
For that mankind did not
Believe with assurance
In Our Signs.

٨٢- وَإِذَا وَقَعَ الْقَوْلُ عَلَيْهِمْ
أَخْرَجْنَا لَهُمْ دَابَّةً مِّنَ الْأَرْضِ
تُكَلِّمُهُمْ أَنَّ النَّاسَ
كَانُوا بِآيَاتِنَا لَا يُوقِنُونَ ○

SECTION 7.

83. One Day We shall gather
Together from every people
A troop of those who reject
Our Signs, and they shall
Be kept in ranks,—

٨٣- وَيَوْمَ نَحْشُرُ مِنْ كُلِّ أُمَّةٍ
فُوجًا مِّمَّنْ يُكَذِّبُ بِآيَاتِنَا
فَهُمْ بُوْرَعُونَ ○

84. Until, when they come
(Before the Judgment-seat),
(God) will say : " Did ye
Reject My Signs, though ye<sup>3314</sup>

٨٤- حَتَّىٰ إِذَا جَاءُوكُمْ
قَالَ أَكَذَّبْتُمْ بِآيَاتِي وَالَمْ

3311. The Apostle's responsibility was to preach and show the way. Men and women of good-will had faith and accepted the Message. But he was not responsible for the obstinacy and perversity of men who turned away from God's Signs and rejected the Truth.

3312. The Word : the Decree or Sentence, the Decision to end the respite and restore the true values of right and wrong in a new world : their cup of iniquity will then have been full.

3313. The Beast will be one of the Signs of the Last Days to come, before the present World passes away and the new World is brought into being. In symbolic language it would represent gross Materialism. It will be the embodiment of fat worldly triumph, which will appeal to a misguided and degenerate world, because such a corrupt world will have no assured belief in the Signs of God or in spiritual Light. It will itself be a Sign or Portent, closing the door of repentance. I do not know whether this Beast has any reference to the symbolism in chapter xii. of the Book of Revelation, which closes the New Testament. If taklimuhum is read instead of tukallimuhum, it would mean that the Beast would wound them ; symbolically, that Materialism would produce its own Nemesis.

3314. The charge against them will be : ' You had no knowledge, and yet you arrogantly rejected my Signs : is that true, or have you any plea in your defence? '

Comprehended them not
In knowledge, or what
Was it ye did?"

85. And the Word will be <sup>3315</sup>
Fulfilled against them, because
Of their wrong-doing, and they
Will be unable to speak
(In plea).
86. See they not that We Have made the Night
For them to rest in
And the Day to give <sup>3316</sup>
Them light? Verily in this
Are Signs for any people
That believe!
87. And the Day that the Trumpet
Will be sounded—then will be
Smitten with terror those
Who are in the heavens,
And those who are on earth,
Except such as God will please
(To exempt): and all shall come
To His (Presence) as beings <sup>3317</sup>
Conscious of their lowliness.
88. Thou seest the mountains
And thinkest them firmly fixed: <sup>3318</sup>
But they shall pass away
As the clouds pass away:

تَحِيْطُوْا بِهَا عِلْمًا اَمَّا ذَا كُنْتُمْ
تَعْبَلُوْنَ ۝

٨٥- وَوَقَعَ الْقَوْلُ عَلَيْهِمْ بِمَا
ظَلَمُوْا فَهُمْ لَا يَنْطِقُوْنَ ۝

٨٦- اَلَمْ يَرَوْا اَنَّا جَعَلْنَا الْيَلَّ
لَيْسَكُنُوْا فِيْهِ وَالنَّهَارُ مُبْصِرًا
اِنَّ فِيْ ذٰلِكَ لَاٰيٰتٍ لِّقَوْمٍ يُؤْمِنُوْنَ ۝

٨٧- وَيَوْمَ يُنْفَخُ فِي الصُّوْرِ
فَقَرْعَمُ مَنْ فِي السَّمٰوٰتِ وَ مَنْ فِي
الْاَرْضِ
اِلَّا مَنْ شَاءَ اللّٰهُ
وَ كُلُّ اٰتُوْهُ دٰخِرِيْنَ ۝

٨٨- وَ تَرَى الْجِبَالَ تَحْسَبُهَا جَامِدًا
وَّ هِيَ تَكْرُمُ السَّحَابِ

3315. There will be no plea, because the charge will be only too true. The Decree will be passed and executed.

3316. Night, Day, Rest, and Light: both in the literal and the symbolic sense. Any one with a scrap of faith or spiritual insight could see that the Night is a blessing when used for rest and a curse when used to cover ignorance or sin; and that the Day is for work and enlightenment, and its misuse is gross ingratitude to God. Or, understand Truth and practise Righteousness while it is yet Light and the Message of God is here to guide you: for there comes the Night when Endeavour will cease and there will be no room for Repentance.

3317. Arrogance will flee with Ignorance, and Self will see itself in its true place—that of humility and lowliness—when the scales of ignorance fall from its eyes.

3318. This is so in the present phase of phenomenal things, both literally and figuratively. There seems nothing more firm or fixed or permanent than the "eternal hills": yet when the new order of things comes and the new World is brought into being, they will be as flimsy and unsubstantial as clouds. So, in the revaluation of things in the spiritual World, persons or things or ideas that seem so great and so firmly established now will pass away like mere fancies and give way to the Reality of God.

(Such is) the artistry of God,
Who disposes of all things<sup>3319</sup>
In perfect order : for He is
Well acquainted with all that ye do.

صُنِعَ اللَّهُ الَّذِي أَنْقَنَ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ

3319. Atqana : to arrange or dispose of things with art, or so as to obtain the most perfect results. The present phenomenal world and the Future that is to be, all have a definite object and purpose in the Plan of God, Who knows perfectly what we are, what we do, what we think, and what we need. Who can praise His artistry enough ?

3320. Headlong : it may be that the very things of which we were proudest, which we considered foremost in our present order of the world, will be the first to go into the Fire, as they are but the window-dressing (=faces) of Evil.

3321. There will be no punishment except such as has been deserved by actual conduct in the present life of probation.

3322. The Lord of this City. This was spoken in Mecca, say about the 5th year before the Hijrat, when the holy Prophet and his adherents were being persecuted as enemies to the cult of Mecca. So far from being against the true spirit of the holy City of Mecca, it was actually in furtherance of that spirit, which had been overlaid by the idolatries and abominations of the Pagan Quraish. They are told that the new Teaching is from the Lord of Mecca itself, the One True God, Who had sanctified it in the time of Abraham. Lest they should think that it was a local or tribal or narrow cult, it is added that He is not only Lord of this City, but Lord of the Worlds, "to Whom belong all things". It is a universal message; but how sad it would be if the Meccans, among whom it came first, were to reject it ?

3323. The duty of the Apostle and his adherents was, first, to accept Islam and become themselves shining examples of God's grace and mercy, as they in fact were, and secondly, to preach that message and spread that Light to all around. It was not for them to force it on unwilling people : for any who rejected it would find their own spiritual loss in such rejection. But they must clearly warn them of the consequences.

They do it for the good
Of their own souls,
And if any stray, say:
"I am only a Warner".

93. And say: "Praise be to God,
Who will soon show you <sup>3324</sup>
His Signs, so that ye
Shall know them"; and thy Lord
Is not unmindful
Of all that ye do. <sup>3325</sup>

3324. In a few years after that, many wonderful things happened that removed the doubts of the doubters and confirmed the faith of the Believers. They showed how the logic of events proved the true mission of the holy Prophet. Other things some minds may not be able to grasp. But the logic of events is for all to see.

3325. Trials and tribulations, persecution and exile, and the patient endurance and constancy with which they were met by the Believers—all are known to God and will be credited to their spiritual account.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXVIII (Qaṣaṣ).

This Sūra continues the subject of Revelation and its reception by those to whom it is sent. But it emphasises new points: how the recipient of inspiration is prepared for his high destiny, even in the growth of his ordinary life, and how the rejection of God's Message by groups of men or by individuals is caused by overweening arrogance or avarice. The plight of those who reject the Truth is contrasted with the reward of the righteous.

With the possible exception of a few verses, it belongs to the late Meccan period, just preceding the Hijrat.

Summary.—Pharaoh was arrogant and unjust, but God's Plan was to strengthen the weak: in infancy Moses was prepared for his mission; in youth he trusted in the Lord and was guided; in his exile he found help and love; and when he was called, he was supported by God (xxviii. 1-42, and C. 173).

So was the holy Apostle Muḥammad fed spiritually by God's Grace, and his Revelation was recognised by those who knew the earlier Revelations: it came to an old and sacred Centre, to warn those seduced by this world's life (xxviii. 43-60, and C. 174).

The Future is with those who repent, have faith, and do good: for all Mercy and Truth are with God (xxviii. 61-75, and C. 175).

But men puffed up with wealth, like Qārūn, will come to an evil end, while the lowly and the righteous will attain God's Mercy (xxviii. 76-88, C. 176).

C. 173.—God's Apostles are men, and win through good life
(xxviii. 1-42.) By God's Grace and their Faith. So Moses
Was saved from the Tyrant's wrath in infancy,
And reared in the Tyrant's own den, but gently
In a mother's love. In youth was he endowed
With wisdom and knowledge, strength and the will
To do right. In sorrow or misfortune
He trusted in God and opened his heart
To Him. In self-imposed exile he won
Love by his chivalry and confidence by Truth.
In his mission he triumphed over arrogant
Wrong by his meekness, patience, and Faith.
So good follows good, and Evil must fall,
Cursed, loathed, disgraced, and despised.

3327. See n. 3138 to xxvi. 2.

3328. The part of the story of Moses told here is how Moses and his mother were guided in the child's infancy, that even as he grew up, he might be prepared for his high destiny; how in youth he trusted God in the most awkward situations and sought His help; how he fled into exile, and yet found love and support because of his well-doing; and how, when he was called to his mission, he received God's favour, which defeated all the plots of his enemies. Thus God's Plan works continuously in the web of events which the Fates are supposed to be weaving. Those who have faith will thus see the hand of God in everything, and welcome the light that comes to them by Revelation. With such a Faith there is no room for Chance or blind Fate.

3330. What Pharaoh wished was to crush them. But God's Plan was to protect them as they were weak, and indeed to make them custodians and leaders in His Faith, and to give them in inheritance a land "flowing with milk and honey". Here they were established in authority for such time as they followed God's Law. As regards Pharaoh and his ministers and hosts, they were to be shown that they would suffer, at the hands of the Israelites, the very calamities against which they were so confidently taking precautions for themselves.

6. To establish a firm place
For them in the land,
And to show Pharaoh, Hāmān,<sup>3331</sup>
And their hosts, at their hands,
The very things against which
They were taking precautions.<sup>3332</sup>

٤- وَثَبَّنَا لَهُمْ فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَوَثَّرْنَا بِمَنْزِلِنَا
وَوَثَّرْنَا بِمَنْزِلِنَا
وَوَثَّرْنَا بِمَنْزِلِنَا

7. So We sent this inspiration
To the mother of Moses :
"Suckle (thy child), but when
Thou hast fears about him,
Cast him into the river,<sup>3333</sup>
But fear not nor grieve :
For We shall restore him
To thee, and We shall make Him one of Our apostles."

٥- وَأَوْحَيْنَا إِلَىٰ أُمِّ مُوسَىٰ

إِنَّا سَرَّادُوهُ إِلَيْكِ وَجَاعِلُوهُ مِنَ
الْمُرْسَلِينَ ○

8. Then the people of Pharaoh
Picked him up (from the river) :
(It was intended) that (Moses)
Should be to them an adversary
And a cause of sorrow :<sup>3334</sup>
For Pharaoh and Hāmān
And (all) their hosts were
Men of sin.

٨- فَالْتَقَطَهُ آلُ فِرْعَوْنَ
لِيَكُونَ لَهُمْ عَدُوًّا وَحَزَنًا ۗ
إِنَّ فِرْعَوْنَ وَهَامَانَ
وَجُنُودَهُمَا كَانُوا خَاطِبِينَ ○

9. The wife of Pharaoh said :
"(Here is) a joy of the eye,<sup>3335</sup>
For me and for thee :
Slay him not. It may be

٩- وَقَالَتِ امْرَأَتُ فِرْعَوْنَ قُرْتُ عَيْنٍ
لِي وَكَذَلِكَ لَا تَقْتُلُوهُ ۗ

3331. Hāmān was evidently Pharaoh's minister, not to be confounded with a Hāmān who is mentioned in the Old Testament (Esther iii. 1), as a minister of Ahasuerus (Xerxes) King of Persia, the same who invaded Greece, and ruled from B.C. 485 to 464.

3332. Pharaoh was trying to kill the Israelites. Instead, the Plagues of Egypt, invoked by Moses, killed thousands of Egyptians (vii. 133, and notes 1091-92), because "they were steeped in arrogance, —a people given to sin." In pursuing the Israelites in their flight, Pharaoh and his army were themselves overwhelmed in the sea.

3333. The Egyptian midwives had orders to kill Israelite babes. Moses was saved from them, and his mother nursed the infant at her breast herself. But when the danger of discovery was imminent, she put him into a chest or basket, and floated him on the river Nile. It flowed by the King's palace, and the chest with the baby was picked up, as related further on. The mother had no cause to fear or grieve afterwards, as the child grew up under her tender care and became afterwards one of the apostles of God.

3334. This was the Plan of Providence: that the wicked might cast a net round themselves by fostering the man who was to bring them to naught and be the instrument of their punishment,—or (looking at it from the other side) that Moses might learn all the wisdom of the Egyptians in order to expose all that was hollow and wicked in it.

3335. He was a darling to look at, and Pharaoh had apparently no son, but only a daughter, who afterwards shared his throne. This is on the supposition that the Pharaoh was Thothmes I (see Appendix IV, S. vii).

That he will be of use
To us, or we may adopt
Him as a son." And they Perceived not (what they Were doing)! <sup>3336</sup>

10. But there came to be
A void in the heart
Of the mother of Moses :
She was going almost to
Disclose his (case), had We
Not strengthened her heart
(With faith), so that she Might remain a (firm) believer. <sup>3337</sup>

11. And she said to the sister
Of (Moses), " Follow him ".
So she (the sister) watched him
In the character of a stranger.
And they knew not.

12. And We ordained that he Refused suck at first, until (His sister came up
And) said : " Shall I
Point out to you the people
Of a house that will nourish
And bring him up for you <sup>3338</sup>
And be sincerely attached
To him ? "...

13. Thus did We restore him
To his mother, that her eye
Might be comforted, that she Might not grieve, and that
She might know that the promise
Of God is true : but
Most of them do not understand. <sup>3339</sup>

وَلَكِنَّ أَكْثَرَهُمْ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ ۝

3336. In all life Providence so orders things that Evil is defeated by its own weapons. Not only is it defeated, but it actually, though unwittingly, advances the cause of Good! In non-religious language this is called the work of the Ironic Fates. If Thomas Hardy had not made Napoleon the Puppet of Fate in his " Dynasts ", he could well have taken Pharaoh as an illustration of the Irony of Fate, or, as we should prefer to call it, the working of the Universal Plan.

3337. The mother's heart felt the gaping void at parting from her son ; but her Faith in God's Providence kept her from betraying herself.

3338. For you : i.e. on your behalf. Thus Moses got the benefit of his mother's milk (symbolical of all the traditions and spiritual heritage of his ancestry and his people) as well as the prestige and the opportunities of being brought up in the royal family, with the best of teachers to teach him Egyptian wisdom. In addition, there was the comfort to his mother.

3339. God's promise is always true, but short-sighted people, if they are a little thwarted in their plan, do not understand that God's wisdom, power, and goodness are far more comprehensive than any little plans which they may form.

14. When he reached full age,
And was firmly established<sup>3340</sup>

Wisdom and knowledge: for thus

15. And he entered the City
At a time when its people<sup>3341</sup>
Were not watching: and he Found there two men fighting,—
One of his own religion,
And the other, of his foes.
Now the man of his own
Religion appealed to him
Against his foe, and Moses
Struck him with his fist<sup>3342</sup>
And made an end of him.
He said: "This is a work
Of Evil (Satan): for he is
An enemy that manifestly

16. He prayed: "O my Lord!
I have indeed wronged my soul!
Do Thou then forgive me!"
So (God) forgave him: for He Is the Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

إِنَّهُ هُوَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ ○

3340. Full age may be taken to be mature youth, say between 18 and 30 years of age. By that time a person is fully established in life: his physical build is completed, and his mental and moral habits are formed. In this case, as Moses was good at heart, true and loyal to his people, and obedient and just to those among whom he lived, he was granted wisdom and knowledge from on high, to be used for the times of conflict which were coming for him. His internal development being complete, he now goes out into the outer world, where he is again tried and proved, until he gets his divine commission.

3341. That may have been either the time of the noontide siesta, when all business is suspended even now in Egypt, or the time of night, when people are usually asleep. The latter is more probable, in view of verse 18 below. But there is also another suggestion. A guest in a Palace is not free to wander about at will in the plebeian quarters of the City at all sorts of hours, and this applies even more to an inmate of the Palace brought up as a son. Moses was therefore visiting the City privately and eluding the guards. His object may have been to see for himself how things were going on; perhaps he had heard that his people were being oppressed, as we may suppose that he had retained contact with his mother.

3342. His object was apparently to strike him so as to release the Israelite, not to kill the Egyptian. In fact he killed the Egyptian. This was unfortunate in more ways than one. His visit to the City was clandestine; he had taken the side of the weaker and despised party; and he had taken the life of an Egyptian. He was full of regrets and repentance, and he prayed to God, and obtained God's forgiveness.

17. He said : " O my Lord !
For that Thou hast bestowed
Thy Grace on me, never Shall I be a help
To those who sin ! " <sup>3343</sup>

١٧- قَالَ رَبِّ بِمَا أَنْعَمْتَ عَلَيَّ
فَلَنْ أَكُونَ ظَهِيرًا لِلْمُجْرِمِينَ ○

18. So he saw the morning
In the City, looking about,
In a state of fear, when
Behold, the man who had,
The day before, sought his help
Called aloud for his help
(Again). Moses said to him :
" Thou art truly, it is clear,
A quarrelsome fellow ! " <sup>3344</sup>

١٨- فَأَصْبَحَ فِي الْمَدِينَةِ خَائِفًا يَتَرَقَّبُ
فَإِذَا الَّذِي اسْتَنْصَرَهُ بِالْأَمْسِ
يَسْتَصْرِحُهُ
قَالَ لَهُ مُوسَى
إِنَّكَ لَعَوِيٌّ مُبِينٌ ○

19. Then, when he decided to lay
Hold of the man who was <sup>3345</sup>
An enemy to both of them,
That man said : " O Moses !
Is it thy intention to slay me
As thou slewest a man
Yesterday ? Thy intention is None other than to become
A powerful violent man
In the land, and not to be
One who sets things right ! " <sup>3346</sup>

١٩- فَلَمَّا أَنْ أَرَادَ أَنْ يَبْطِشَ بِالَّذِي
هُوَ عَدُوٌّ لَهُمَا
قَالَ يَمُوسَى أَتُرِيدُ أَنْ تَقْتُلَنِي
كَمَا قَتَلْتَ نَفْسًا بِالْأَمْسِ ۗ إِنْ تُرِيدُ
إِلَّا أَنْ تَكُونَ جَبَّارًا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَمَا
تُرِيدُ أَنْ تَكُونَ مِنَ الْمُصْلِحِينَ ○

3343. He takes a conscious and solemn vow to dedicate himself to God, and to do nothing that may in any way assist those who were doing wrong. This was his general idea, but no plan had yet shaped itself in his mind, until a second catastrophe brought matters to a head, and he was plunged in adventure.

3344. The man was an Israelite. But Moses was himself in a distracted mood, for the reasons given in n. 3342 above, and he was exasperated at this public appeal to him again.

3345. When Moses considered further that the Egyptian was unjust and that the Egyptian was an enemy to Israel generally (including both Moses and the man assaulted), he was going to intervene again, when he received a double warning, one from the Egyptian who was fighting, and the other from some man (Israelite or Egyptian) who was friendly to him, as explained below. We may suppose that after the first day's fight, there had been a great deal of talk in the bazars, both among Israelites and Egyptians. Probably the Israelites were elated at finding a champion—perhaps more elated than they should have been, and in a provocative mood, which deserved Moses's rebuke. Probably the Egyptians had discussed who this new champion was, and had already apprised the Palace, to which Moses had not dared to return.

3346. The Egyptian saw the tactical advantage of his position. In effect he said : ' We have found out all about you. You live in the Palace, and yet you come clandestinely and kill our Egyptians. Are you going to do the same with me ? You are nothing but a bully ! And you talk of setting things right ! That is what you should do if you were true to your salt ! '

20. And there came a man,
Running, from the furthest end <sup>3347</sup>
Of the City. He said:
"O Moses! the Chiefs
Are taking counsel together
About thee, to slay thee:
So get thee away, for I
Do give thee sincere advice."

٢٠- وَجَاءَ رَجُلٌ مِنْ أَقْصَا الْمَدِينَةِ يَسْعَى

لِيَقْتُلُوكَ فَاخْرُجْ
إِنِّي كُنتُ مِنَ النَّاصِحِينَ ○

21. He therefore got away therefrom, <sup>3348</sup>
Looking about, in a state
Of fear. He prayed:

22. Then, when he turned his face
Towards (the land of) Madyan, <sup>3349</sup>
He said: "I do hope
That my Lord will show me
The smooth and straight Path."

٢٢- وَلَمَّا تَوَجَّهَ تَلْقَاءَ مَدْيَنَ

23. And when he arrived at
The watering (place) in Madyan, <sup>3350</sup>
He found there a group
Of men watering (their flocks),
And besides them he found
Two women who were keeping

٢٣- وَلَمَّا وَرَدَ مَاءَ مَدْيَنَ

وَوَجَدَ مِنْ دُونِهِمُ امْرَأَتَيْنِ تَذُودَانِ

3347. Apparently rumours had reached the Palace, a Council had been held, and the death of Moses had been decreed!

3348. Moses saw that his position was now untenable, both in the Palace and in the City, and indeed anywhere in Pharaoh's territory. So he suffered voluntary exile. But he did not know where to go to. His mind was in a state of agitation. But he turned to God and prayed. He got consolation, and felt that after all it was no hardship to leave Egypt, where there was so much injustice and oppression.

3349. East of Lower Egypt, for about 300 miles, runs the Sinai Peninsula, bounded on the south by the Gulf of Suez, and on the north by what was the Isthmus of Suez, now cut by the Suez Canal. Over the Isthmus ran the highroad to Palestine and Syria, but a fugitive could not well take that road, as the Egyptians were after him. If he could, after crossing the Isthmus, plunge into the Sinai desert, east or south-east, he would be in the Midianite territory, where the people would be Arabs and not Egyptians. He turned thither, and again prayed to God for guidance.

3350. The first thing that a wanderer in a desert would make for would be an oasis where he could get water from a spring or well, the shade of trees against the scorching sun, and some human company. The Midianite watering place was probably a deep well, as surface springs are rare in sandy deserts, where the water level is low, unless there was a hill from which issued a spring.

Back (their flocks). He said :
 "What is the matter with you ?"
 They said : " We cannot water
 (Our flocks) until the shepherds
 Take back (their flocks):
 And our father is
 A very old man." <sup>3351</sup>

25. Afterwards one of the (damsels)
 Came (back) to him, walking
 Bashfully. She said : " My father

 He came to him and narrated
 The story, he said :

 فَلَمَّا جَاءَهُ وَقَصَّ عَلَيْهِ الْقِصَصَ ۗ قَالَ

3351. Here is a pretty little idyll, told in the fewest and most beautiful words possible. Moses arrives at an oasis in the desert, weary and travel-worn, with his mind full of anxiety and uncertainty owing to his recent experiences in Egypt. He was thirsty and would naturally seek water. At the well or spring he found shepherds (or perhaps goat-herds) watering their flocks. As a stranger it was not for him to thrust himself among them. He waited under the shade of a tree until they should finish. He noticed two damsels, also waiting, with their flocks, which they had come to water. His chivalry was roused. He went at once among the goat-herds, made a place for the flocks of the damsels, gave them water, and then resumed his place in the shade. They were modest maidens, and had given him in three Arabic words the key of the whole situation. ' Abū-nā shaiḥhun kabīrun : our father is a very old man, and therefore cannot come to water the flocks; we therefore do the work; we could not very well thrust ourselves among these men.'

3352. The maidens are gone, with smiles on their lips and gratitude in their hearts. What were the reflections of Moses as he returned to the shade of the tree? He returned thanks to God for the bright little vision which he had just seen. Had he done a good deed? Precious was the opportunity he had had. He had slaked his thirst. But he was a homeless wanderer and had a longing in his soul, which he dared not put into words. Those shepherds were no company for him. He was truly like a beggar in desperate need. For any little good that came his way, he was grateful. But what was this?—this vision of a comfortable household, presided over by an old man rich in flocks and herds, and richer still in two daughters, as modest as they were beautiful? Perhaps he would never see them again! But Providence was preparing another surprise for him

3353. Scarcely had he rested, when one of the damsels came back, walking with bashful grace! Modestly she gave her message. ' My father is grateful for what you did for us. He invites you, that he may thank you personally, and at least give some return for your kindness.

“Fear thou not: (well) hast thou
Escaped from unjust people.”<sup>3354</sup>

لَا تَخَفُ لِلَّهِ فُجُوتَ مِنَ الْقَوْمِ الظَّالِمِينَ ○

26. Said one of the (damsels):
“O my (dear) father! engage<sup>3355</sup>
Him on wages: truly the best
Of men for thee to employ is
The (man) who is strong and trusty”...<sup>3356</sup>

٢٦- قَالَتْ إِحْدَاهُمَا يَا أَبَتِ اسْتَأْجِرْهُ
إِنَّ خَيْرَ مَنِ اسْتَأْجَرْتَ
الْقَوِيُّ الْأَمِينُ ○

27. He said: “I intend to wed
One of these my daughters
To thee, on condition that
Thou serve me for eight years;<sup>3357</sup>
But if thou complete ten years,
It will be (grace) from thee.
But I intend not to place
Thee under a difficulty:

٢٧- قَالَ إِنِّي أُرِيدُ أَنْ نَنْكِحَكَ إِحْدَى ابْنَتَيَّ
هَاتَيْنِ عَلَى أَنْ تَأْجُرَنِي ثَمَنِي حَبِيبٌ
فَإِنْ أَتَمَمْتِ عَشْرًا فَمِنْ عِنْدِكَ
وَمَا أُرِيدُ أَنْ أَمْسُقَ عَلَيْكَ

3354. Nothing could have been more welcome than such a message, and through such a messenger. Moses went of course, and saw the old man. He found such a well-ordered patriarchal household. The old man was happy in his daughters and they in him. There was mutual confidence. They had evidently described the stranger to him in terms which made his welcome a foregone conclusion. On the other hand Moses had allowed his imagination to paint the father in something of the glorious colours in which his daughters had appeared to him like an angelic vision. The two men got to be friends at once. Moses told the old man his story,—who he was, how he was brought up, and what misfortunes had made him quit Egypt. Perhaps the whole household, including the daughters, listened breathlessly to his tale. Perhaps their wonder and admiration were mingled with a certain amount of pity—perhaps with some more tender feeling in the case of the girl who had been to fetch him. Perhaps the enchantment which Desdemona felt in Othello's story was working on her. In any case the stranger had won his place in their hearts. The old man, the head of the household, assured him of hospitality and safety under his roof. As one with a long experience of life he congratulated him on his escape. ‘Who would live among unjust people? It is as well you are free of them!’

3355. A little time passes. A guest after all cannot stay for ever. They all feel that it would be good to have him with them permanently. The girl who had given her heart to him had spoken their unspoken thoughts. Why not employ him to tend the flocks? The father was old, and a young man was wanted to look after the flocks. And—there may be other possibilities.

3356. Strong and trusty: Moses had proved himself to be both, and these were the very qualities which a woman most admires in the man she loves.

3357. A little time passed, and at length the father broached the subject of marriage. It was not for the fugitive to suggest a permanent tie, especially when, in the wealth of this world, the girl's family was superior, and they had an established position, while he was a mere wanderer. The father asked if he would marry one of the daughters and stay with them for at least eight years, or if he liked, ten years, but the longer term was at his option. If he brought no dower, his service for that period was more than sufficient in lieu of dower. The particular girl intended was no doubt tacitly settled long before, by the mutual attraction of the young hearts themselves. Moses was glad of the proposal, and accepted it. They ratified it in the most solemn manner, by appealing to God. The old man, knowing the worth of his son-in-law, solemnly assured him that in any event he would not take advantage of his position to be a hard task-master or to insist on anything inconsistent with Moses's interests, should a new future open out to him. And a new and glorious future was awaiting him after his apprenticeship.

Thou wilt find me,
Indeed, if God wills,
One of the righteous."

28. He said: "Be that (the agreement)
Between me and thee:
Whichever of the two terms
I fulfil, let there be
No ill-will to me.
Be God a witness
To what we say." <sup>3358</sup>

SECTION 4.

29. Now when Moses had fulfilled
The term, and was travelling <sup>3359</sup>

A fire in the direction
Of Mount Tūr. He said

أَوْ جَذْوَةً مِنَ النَّارِ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَصْطَلُونَ ○

٣٠- فَلَمَّا أَتَاهَا نُودِيَ

3358. In patriarchal society it was not uncommon to have a marriage bargain of this kind conditional on a certain term of service. In this case the episode conveys two lessons. (1) A man destined to be an apostle of God is yet a man, and must pass through the ups and downs of life like any other man: only he will do it with more grace and distinction than other men. (2) The beautiful relations in love and marriage may themselves be a preparation for the highest spiritual destiny that may await a Messenger of God. A woman need not necessarily be a snare and a temptation: she may be the understanding help-mate that the Lady Khadija was to the holy Apostle

3359. The episode in the desert, full of human interest, now closes, and we come to the threshold of the sacred Call to the divine ministry of Moses. Here we may compare this passage with that in xxvii, 7-14 and previous passages. Note that a speech in such cases is not a literal report of spoken words, but a general rendering in human words of Commands, Events, and Thoughts, such as may be relevant in connection with any particular episode and its context. In this passage we are told, after reference to Moses's preparation for his high destiny, of the particular sin of Arrogance and Sacrilege of which Pharaoh was guilty (xxviii 38-39), how it was punished, and with what instruments in the hands of Moses and Pharaoh. The notes on the earlier passage should be read, as explanations already given need not now be repeated.

3360. Note how the transition is effected from the happy earthly life of Moses (with its previous earthly storm and stress) to the new spiritual storm and stress of his prophetic mission.

33. He said: "O my Lord!

۳۳- قَالَ رَبِّ إِنِّي قَتَلْتُ

3361. We are to suppose the appearance of a bush burning but not consumed (Exod. iii. 2), a device adopted by the Scottish Church in its armorial bearings. Scotland apparently took that emblem and motto (Nec tamen consumebatur, 'nevertheless it was not consumed') from the Synod of the Reformed Church of France, which had adopted it in 1583. (I am indebted for this information to the Rev. D.Y. Robertson, Chaplain of the Church of Scotland in Simla). The real explanation of the Burning Bush will be found in xxvii. 8, n. 3245: it was not a fire, but a reflection of the Glory of God.

3362. The verbal meaning is: 'you have nothing to fear from what appears to be a snake: it is a snake, not for you, but for Pharaoh.' But there is a deeper meaning besides. Moses had now been called to a higher and spiritual mission. He had to meet the hatred of the Egyptians and circumvent their trickery and magic. He had now the security of Faith: in all dangers and difficulties God would guide and protect him, for he was actually in God's service, one of the Elect.

3363. Literally, "draw thy wing close to thy side, (away) from fear". When a bird is frightened, it ruffles its wings and prepares to fly away, but when it is calm and composed, it sits with its wings drawn close to its sides, showing a mind secure from danger. Cf. also n. 2550 to xx. 22.

Among them, and I fear<sup>3364</sup>
Lest they slay me.

34. "And my brother Aaron—
He is more eloquent in speech
Than I: so send him

To confirm (and strengthen) me:
For I fear that they may
Accuse me of falsehood."

35. He said: "We will certainly
Strengthen thy arm through
Thy brother, and invest you both
With authority, so they Shall not be able to<sup>3365</sup>

3364. It is not that Moses is not reassured from all fear on account of the apparent snake which his rod had become, or from the sacred and unfamiliar surroundings in which he found himself. On this point his heart has been completely assured. But he is still new to his mission, and the future is obscure to his mind. Pharaoh was after him, to take his life, and apparently with good cause, because one of Pharaoh's men had been slain at his hands. And now he is commanded to go to Pharaoh and rebuke him and his Chiefs. The inner doubts and difficulties of his human mind he frankly lays before his Lord, and asks for a little human and visible support, which is granted him at once, viz.: the help of his brother Aaron.

3365. To touch you: to approach you anywhere near, in the wonders and Signs that you will show them under the divine authority with which you are invested.

3366. The potency of God's Light is such that its divine rays reach the humblest of those who seek after Him. The Prophets can certainly work wonders, but their sincere followers in Faith can do so also in their own spheres. Wonders may appeal to people, but they are not the highest signs of God's workings, and they are around us every day in our lives.

3367. This is what Moses was thinking of when he had said: "They may accuse me of falsehood". To accuse the purest Truth of lying is a favourite trick of those whose chief stock-in-trade is deception and sorcery and catching the attention of the vulgar by arts adapted to their ignorant minds!

3368. 'As to this higher talk of the worship of the One true God, why, our ancestors have worshipped power and patronage, as concentrated in Pharaoh, from the most ancient times!'

37. Moses said : " My Lord

3369. Cf. vi. 135. The only argument in such a case is an appeal to God, and to the ultimate Future. Both of these appeals require Faith. But even if you do not rely on anything so high, you can see that Falsehood or evils crystallised in ancestral customs are not going to do any one any good.

3370. Pharaoh claimed, himself, to be God,—not only one god among many, but the only god : " I am your Lord Most High " : lxxix. 24. At any rate he did not see why his people should worship any one but him

3371. I understand his speech to his minister Hāmān to be sarcastic. But some Commentators have taken it very seriously and imagined that he actually thought of reaching the heavens by building lofty towers.

3372. They did not believe in the Hereafter. They did not understand that every deed must have its inevitable consequence, good or evil, unless the Grace of God intervenes to save us from ourselves !

3373. Pharaoh and his hosts were drowned in the sea in their pursuit of the Israelites : see vii. 130-136. They are the type of men who lead—only to Destruction. They invite, not to Peace and Happiness, but to the Fire of Wrath, mutual Envy, and Hatred.

C. 174.—As with Moses, so with the Apostle Muḥammad :

(xxviii. 43-60.) Revelation was given to him, by which
He knew and understood, and led men and was kind.
He was a Mercy to men, sent by God, to warn
Those in sin, and, by precept and example,
To bring the Light to their very doors.
Those who had spiritual eyes rejoiced,
And walked in God's ancient Way, now reopened,
Valuing the things of the Spirit as God's
Own gifts, to be their possession for ever !

3374. Power and patronage may be lauded by sycophants and selfish place-hunters ; but when they are misused, and when their exposure causes their fall, they suffer ignominy even in this life. If they manage to escape exposure while alive, it often happens that they are found out after their death, and the curses of many generations follow those whose oppressions and wrong-doing spoiled the fair face of God's earth. But even this is nothing to the true Punishment that will come in the Hereafter. There, true values will be restored, and some of the highest and mightiest will be in the lowest depths of degradation.

3375. After the destruction of the Pharaonic Tyranny and other similar Tyrannies before them, God began a new age of Revelation, the age of Moses and his Book. Humanity began as it were with a clean slate again. It was a full Revelation (or Shar'at) which may be looked at from three points of view : (1) as Light or Insight for men, so that they should not grope in darkness ; (2) as a Guide to show them the Way, so that they should not be misled into wrong Paths ; and (3) as a Mercy from God, so that by following the Way they may receive God's Forgiveness and Grace. In vi. 91, we have a reference to Light and Guidance in connection with the Revelation of Moses, and in vi. 154 we have a reference to Guidance and Mercy in the same connection. Here all three are combined, with the substitution of Başîr for Nûr. Başîr is the plural of Başîrat, and may also be translated Proofs, as I have done in vi. 104. Cf. also vii. 203, n. 1175, where the word is translated "Lights"

۴۶- وَمَا كُنْتَ بِجَانِبِ الطُّورِ
إِذْ نَادَيْنَا وَلَكِنْ رَحْمَةً مِّنْ رَبِّكَ
لِتُنذِرَ قَوْمًا مَّا آتَاهُم مِّنْ نَّذِيرٍ
مِّن قَبْلِكَ لَعَلَّهُمْ يَتَذَكَّرُونَ ۝

47. If (We had) not (sent thee
To the Quraish),— in case
A calamity should seize them
For (the deeds) that their hands
Have sent forth, they might say :
“ Our Lord ! why didst Thou not <sup>3380</sup>

۴۷- وَلَوْ لَا أَن تُصِيبَهُمْ مُصِيبَةٌ
بِمَا قَدَّمْت أَيْدِيَهُمْ
فَيَقُولُوا رَبَّنَا لَوْلَا

3376. The Sinai Peninsula is in the north-west corner of Arabia. But the reference here is, I think, to the western side of the valley of Ṭuwā. Mount Ṭūr, where Moses received his prophetic commission, is on the western side of the valley.

3377. That is, there were many generations that passed between Moses and the holy Prophet. Yet he knew by inspiration of the events of those times. Even if he had lived then, he could not have known the events that took place among the Midianites, except by inspiration, as he did not dwell among them.

3378. 'Though thou wast not among the Midianites, Our inspiration has told thee of the momentous events that took place among them when Moses was with them. This is itself a Sign that should make thy people understand.'

3379. This people was the Quraish. 'Though thou didst not see how Moses was invested with the prophetic office at Mount Ṭūr, thou hast had similar experience thyself, and We have sent thee to the Quraish to warn them of all their sins, and to repent and come into the Faith.'

3380. Now that a warner has come among them with all the authority that previous apostles possessed, and with all the knowledge which can only come by divine inspiration, they have no excuse left whatever. They cannot say, "No warner came to us." If any evil comes to them, as the inevitable result of their ill-deeds, they cannot blame God and say that they were not warned. Cf. xx. 134.

Send us an apostle? We Should then have followed
Thy Signs and been amongst
Those who believe!"

48. But (now), when the Truth
Has come to them from Ourselves,
They say, "Why are not
(Signs) sent to him, like
Those which were sent to Moses?" <sup>3381</sup>

Do they not then reject
(The Signs) which were formerly
Sent to Moses? They say:
"Two kinds of sorcery,
Each assisting the other!" <sup>3382</sup>
And they say: "For us,
We reject all (such things)!"

49. Say: "Then bring ye
A Book from God,
Which is a better Guide
Than either of them,
That I may follow it!
(Do), if ye are truthful!"

50. But if they hearken not <sup>3383</sup>
To thee, know that they
Only follow their own lusts:
And who is more astray
Than one who follows his own
Lusts, devoid of guidance
From God? For God guides not
People given to wrong-doing.

3381. When a Revelation is sent to them, in the Qur-ān, adapted to all their needs and the needs of the time they live in, they hark back to antiquity. The holy Prophet was in many respects like Moses, but the times in which he lived were different from the times of Moses, and his age did not suffer from the deceptions of sorcery, like that of Moses. The remedies which his age and future ages required (for his Message was universal) were different. His miracle of the Qur-ān was different and more permanent than the Rod and the Radiant-White Hand of Moses. But supposing that the Quraish had been humoured in their insincere demands, would they have believed? Did they believe in Moses? They were only put up by the Jews to make objections which they themselves did not believe in.

3382. Moses was called a sorcerer by the Egyptians, and the wonderful words of the Qur-ān were called sorcery by the Quraish. As the Qur-ān confirmed the Message of Moses, the Quraish objectors said that they were in collusion. The Quraish did not believe in God's Revelation at all.

3383. They were challenged to produce something better, to be a guide in life. But as they could not, it was evident that their objections were fractious. They were only following their own selfish lusts of power, monopoly, and exploitation of the poor and ignorant. How can such people receive guidance?

SECTION 6.

51. Now have We caused
The Word to reach them
Themselves, in order that
They may receive admonition.<sup>3384</sup>

٥١- وَلَقَدْ وَصَّلْنَا لَهُمُ الْقَوْلَ
لَعَلَّهُمْ يَتَذَكَّرُونَ ۝

52. Those to whom We sent
The Book before this, — they
Do believe in this (Revelation);

٥٢- الَّذِينَ آتَيْنَاهُمُ الْكِتَابَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِ
هُم بِهِ يُؤْمِنُونَ ۝

53. And when it is recited
To them, they say: " We Believe therein, for it is
The Truth from our Lord:
Indeed we have been Muslims
(Bowling to God's Will)
From before this."<sup>3385</sup>

٥٣- وَإِذَا يُتْلَى عَلَيْهِمْ قَالُوا
أَمْثَابِهِ إِنَّهُ الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّنَا
إِنَّا كُنَّا مِنْ قَبْلِهِ مُسْلِمِينَ ۝

54. Twice will they be given<sup>3386</sup>
Their reward, for that they
Have persevered, that they avert
Evil with Good, and that
They spend (in charity) out of
What We have given them.

٥٤- أُولَٰئِكَ يُؤْتَوْنَ أَجْرَهُمْ مَرَّتَيْنِ بِمَا
صَبَرُوا وَيَدْرُءُونَ بِالْحَسَنَةِ السَّيِّئَةَ
وَمَا تَزَكَّرْنَاهُمْ يَنْفِقُونَ ۝

55. And when they hear vain talk,
They turn away therefrom
And say: " To us our deeds,
And to you yours ;"<sup>3387</sup>

٥٥- وَإِذَا سَمِعُوا اللَّغْوَ أَعْرَضُوا عَنْهُ
وَقَالُوا لَنَا أَعْمَالُنَا وَلَكُمْ أَعْمَالُكُمْ

3384. Before this the Quraish might have said that the Word of God had come to the Hebrews in their tongue or in Greek, which was used by the Hebrews in the time of Jesus. Now that Word is brought to their own doors, in their own Arabic tongue, by a man of their own race and family. Surely they have no excuse now for remaining strangers to the higher moral and spiritual law.

3385. There were Christians and Jews who recognised that Islam was a logical and natural development of God's revelations as given in earlier ages, and they not only welcomed and accepted Islam, but claimed, and rightly, that they had always been Muslims. In that sense Adam, Noah, Abraham, Moses, and Jesus had all been Muslims. There were Muslims who had been Christians or Jews, both in Mecca and Medina. But when some Commentators proceed to illustrate this Meccan verse by referring, for example, to the Christian converts who came from Abyssinia with Ja'far the brother of Hadhrat 'Ali, they make a historical slip. The verse is perfectly general. It applies even now. True adherents of the law of Moses and Jesus must be Muslims, and the converse is also true.

3386. Their credit is twofold, in that before they knew Islam, they followed the earlier Law in truth and sincerity, and when they were offered Islam, they readily recognised and accepted it, suffered in patient perseverance for its sake, and brought forth the fruits of righteousness.

3387. The righteous do not encourage idle talk or foolish arguments about things sacred. If they find themselves in some company in which such things are fashionable, they leave politely. Their only rejoinder is: " We are responsible for our deeds, and you for yours; we have no ill-will against you; we wish you well, and that is why we wish you to know of the knowledge we have received; after that knowledge you cannot expect us to go back to the Ignorance which we have left."

Peace be to you : we Seek not the ignorant."

56. It is true thou wilt not
Be able to guide every one.<sup>3388</sup>
Whom thou lovest ; but God
Guides those whom He will.
And He knows best those
Who receive guidance.
57. They say : " If we were
To follow the guidance with thee,
We should be snatched away.<sup>3389</sup>
From our land." Have We not Established for them a secure
Sanctuary, to which are brought
As tribute fruits of all kinds,—
A provision from Ourselves ?
But most of them understand not.
58. And how many populations
We destroyed, which exulted
In their life (of ease and plenty) !
Now those habitations of theirs,
After them, are deserted,—
All but a (miserable) few !
And We are their heirs !<sup>3390</sup>

3388. The immediate occasion for this was the death of Abū Talib, an uncle whom the holy Apostle loved dearly and who had befriended and protected him. The Apostle was naturally anxious that he should die in the profession of the true Faith, but the pagan Quraish leaders persuaded him to remain true to the faith of his fathers. This was an occasion of disappointment and grief to the Apostle. We are told that in such circumstances we should not grieve. All whom we love do not necessarily share our views or beliefs. We must not judge. God will guide whom He pleases and as He pleases. He alone knows the true inwardness of things.

3389. Some Quraish said : " We see the truth of Islam, but if we abandon our people, we shall lose our hold on the land, and other people will dispossess us." The answer is twofold, one literal and the other of deeper import. (1) 'Your land? Why, the sanctuary of Mecca is sacred and secure because God has made it so. If you obey God's Word, you will be strengthened, not weakened.' (2) 'Mecca is the symbol of the Fortress of Spiritual Well-being. The Fruit of every Deed comes or should come as a tribute to Spiritual Well-being. What are you afraid of? It is God's Fortress. The more you seek God, the stronger you are in the Fortress.'

3390. A life of ease and plenty is nothing to boast of. Yet peoples or cities or civilisations grow insolently proud of such things. There were many such in the past, which are now mere names ! Their very sites are deserted in most cases, or buried in the debris of ages. India is full of such sites nearly everywhere. The sites of Harappa and Mohenjo Daro are the most ancient hitherto unearthed in India, and they are themselves in layers covering centuries of time ! And how many more there may be, of which we do not know even names ! Fatehpur-Sikri was a magnificent ruin within a single generation. And there are thousands of Qasbas once flourishing and now reduced to small villages or altogether deserted. But God is merciful and just. He does not destroy or degrade a people until they have had full opportunities of turning in repentance to Him and they have deliberately rejected His Law and continued in the practice of iniquity.

59. Nor was thy Lord the one
To destroy a population until
He had sent to its Centre
An apostle, rehearsing to them
Our Signs; nor are We Going to destroy a population
Except when its members
Practise iniquity.

٥٩- وَمَا كَانَ رَبُّكَ مُهْلِكَ الْقُرَى

60. The (material) things which
Ye are given are but
The conveniences of this life
And the glitter thereof;<sup>3391</sup>
But that which is with God
Is better and more enduring:
Will ye not then be wise?

٦٠- وَمَا أُوتِيتُمْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ

وَمَا عِنْدَ اللَّهِ خَيْرٌ وَأَبْغَى
أَفَلَا تَعْقِلُونَ ○

C. 175.—Material good is nothing compared
(xxviii. 61-75.) To the spiritual. In the Hereafter
No plea 'that others misled' will avail.
Each soul must answer for itself,
Whether it honoured God alone
Or worshipped something else,
And whether it received or rejected
The Teachers sent by God. The Wisdom
And Plan of God are beyond all praise:
All mercy and truth proceed from Him,
And there is no other—none—besides Him.

SECTION 7.

61. Are (these two) alike?—
One to whom We have made
A goodly promise, and who
Is going to reach its (fulfilment),<sup>3392</sup>
And one to whom We have Given the good things of this Life, but who, on the Day
Of Judgment, is to be among
Those brought up (for punishment)?

٦١- أَفَمَنْ وَعَدْنَاهُ وَعَدًا حَسَنًا
فَهُوَ لَاقِيهِ كَمَنْ مَتَّعْنَاهُ
مَتَاعِ الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا
ثُمَّ هُوَ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ مِنَ الْمُحْضَرِينَ ○

3391. The good things of this life have their uses and serve their convenience. But they are fleeting and their value is infinitely lower than that of Truth and Justice and Spiritual Well-being, the gifts which come as it were from the very Presence of God. No wise soul will be absorbed in the one and neglect the other, or will hesitate for a moment if it comes to be a choice between them.

3392. The two classes of people are: (1) those who have faith in the goodly promise of God to the righteous, and who are doing everything in life to reach the fulfilment of that promise, i.e., those who believe and work righteousness, and (2) those who are ungrateful for such good things in this life as God has bestowed on them, by worshipping wealth or power or other symbols or idols of their fancy, i.e., those who reject Faith and lead evil lives, for which they will have to answer in the Hereafter. The two classes are poles asunder, and their future is described below.

62. That Day (God) will
Call to them, and say :
"Where are My 'partners' ?—
Whom ye imagined (to be such) ?"

٦٢- وَيَوْمَ يُنَادِيهِمْ فَيَقُولُ
أَيْنَ شُرَكَائِيَ الَّذِينَ كُنْتُمْ تَدْعُونَ ○

36. Those against whom the charge <sup>3393</sup>
Will be proved, will say :
"Our Lord! These are the ones
Whom we led astray :
We led them astray, as we
Were astray ourselves : we free
Ourselves (from them) in Thy
presence :
It was not us they worshipped." <sup>3394</sup>

٦٣- قَالَ الَّذِينَ حَقَّ عَلَيْهِمُ الْقَوْلُ
رَبَّنَا هَؤُلَاءِ الَّذِينَ أَغْوَيْنَا
أَغْوَيْنَاهُمْ كَمَا غَوَيْنَا
تَبَرَّأْنَا إِلَيْكَ مَا كَانُوا
إِيَّانَا يَعْبُدُونَ ○

64. It will be said (to them) :
"Call upon your 'partners'
(For help)" : they will call
Upon them, but they will not
Listen to them ; and they
Will see the Penalty (before them) ;
(How they will wish)
'If only they had been
Open to guidance !'

٦٤- وَقِيلَ ادْعُوا شُرَكَاءَكُمْ
فَدَعَوْهُمْ فَلَمْ يَسْتَجِيبُوا لَهُمْ
وَسَرَّوْا الْعَذَابَ
لَوْ أَنَّهُمْ كَانُوا يَهْتَدُونَ ○

65. That Day (God) will <sup>3395</sup>
Call to them, and say :
"What was the answer
Ye gave to the apostles ?"

٦٥- وَيَوْمَ يُنَادِيهِمْ فَيَقُولُ
مَاذَا أَجَبْتُمُ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ○

66. Then the (whole) story that day
Will seem obscure to them <sup>3396</sup>
(Like light to the blind)
And they will not be able (Even) to question each other.

٦٦- فَعَمِيَّتْ عَلَيْهِمُ الْأَنْبَاءُ يَوْمَئِذٍ
فَهُمْ لَا يَتَسَاءَلُونَ ○

3393. This and the next verse are concerned with the examination of those who neglected truth (and righteousness and went after the worship of false gods, viz., their own lusts. These were the "partners" they associated with God. In so far as they were embodied in false or wicked leaders, the leaders will disown responsibility for them. 'We ourselves went wrong, and they followed our example, because it suited them : they worshipped, not us, but their own lusts.

3394. Cf. x. 28. False worship often names others, but really it is the worship of Self. The others whom they name will have nothing to do with them when the awful Penalty stands in the sight of both. Then each wrong-doer will have to look to his own case. The wicked will then realise the gravity of the situation and wish that they had accepted the true guidance of God's Messengers.

3395. Now we come to the examination of those who rejected or persecuted God's Messengers on the earth. It may be the same men as those mentioned in xxviii. 62-64, but this is a different count in the charge.

3396. In their utter confusion and despair their minds will be blank. The past will seem to them unreal, and the present unintelligible, and they will not even be able to consult each other, as every one's state will be the same.

67. But any that (in this life)
Had repented, believed, and worked
Righteousness, will have hopes
To be among those who Achieve salvation.

٦٧- فَأَمَّا مَنْ تَابَ وَآمَنَ وَعَمِلَ صَالِحًا
فَعَسَىٰ أَنْ يَكُونَ مِنَ الْمُفْلِحِينَ ○

68. Why Lord does create and choose
As He pleases: <sup>3397</sup> no choice
Have they (in the matter) :
Glory to God! and far
Is He above the partners
They ascribe (to Him)!

٦٨- وَرَبُّكَ يَخْلُقُ مَا يَشَاءُ وَيَخْتَارُ
مَا كَانَ لَهُمُ الْخِيَرَةُ
سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ وَتَعَالَىٰ عَمَّا يُشْرِكُونَ ○

69. And thy Lord knows all
That their hearts conceal
And all that they reveal. <sup>3398</sup>

٦٩- وَرَبُّكَ يَعْلَمُ مَا تُكِنُّ صُدُورُهُمْ
وَمَا يُعْلِنُونَ ○

70. And He is God : there is
No god but He. To Him
Be praise, at the first
And at the last :
For Him is the Command,
And to Him shall ye
(All) be brought back.

٧٠- وَهُوَ اللَّهُ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ
لَهُ الْحَمْدُ فِي الْأُولَىٰ وَالْآخِرَةِ
وَلَهُ الْحُكْمُ وَإِلَيْهِ تُرْجَعُونَ ○

71. Say : See ye? If God
Were to make the Night <sup>3399</sup>

٧١- قُلْ أَرَأَيْتُمْ إِنْ جَعَلَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْكُمُ

3397. As He pleases : according to His own Will and Plan. God is not dependent on other people for advice or help. He has no partners. All creation is an act of His Will, and no one can direct Him how or why certain things should be, because He is supreme in wisdom and knowledge. He chooses His apostles also by His own unfettered choice. Inspiration or spiritual knowledge and dignity cannot be judged of by our relative or temporary standards. Worldly greatness or even wisdom do not necessarily go with spiritual insight.

3398. Men may form all sorts of vain wishes or conceal their designs. But God's Will is supreme, and nothing can withstand its fulfilment.

3399. In the physical world the Night and the Day are both blessings, the one for rest and the other for work, and the alternation itself is one of the mercies of God, and none but He can give us these blessings. If we were perpetually resting, or screened from the light, our faculties would be blunted and we should be worse than dead. If we were perpetually working, we should be tired, and we should also be dead in another way. This daily miracle keeps us alive and prepares us, in this our probationary life, for our final destiny in the Hereafter. So in the spiritual world, Some kinds of ignorance—such as ignorance of what is coming in the future—are necessary to conserve our powers and give rest to our minds and spirits, but if we were to remain ignorant perpetually, we should be spiritually dead. In the same way our spiritual strivings require periodical alternations of rest in the form of attention to our temporal concerns: hence the justification of a good and pure life on the plane of this earth also. Also, in the world's history, there are periods when a living apostle stimulates intense spiritual activity, and periods when it is comparatively quiescent (the so-called Dark Ages); but both are examples of the working of God's Plan of wisdom and mercy. But this applies only up to the Day of Judgment. After that we shall be on another plane altogether

Perpetual over you to the Day
Of Judgment, what god
Is there other than God,
Who can give you enlightenment?
Will ye not then hearken?

الْيَلِ سَرْمَدًا إِلَى يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ
مَنْ إِلَهٌ غَيْرُ اللَّهِ يَا تَيْكُمْ بِضِيَاءٍ

72. Say : See ye ? If God
Were to make the Day
Perpetual over you to the Day
Of Judgment, what god
Is there other than God,
Who can give you a Night
In which ye can rest ?
Will ye not then see ? <sup>3400</sup>

٤٢- قُلْ أَرَأَيْتُمْ إِنْ جَعَلَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْكُمُ النَّهَارَ
سَرْمَدًا إِلَى يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ
مَنْ إِلَهٌ غَيْرُ اللَّهِ يَا تَيْكُمْ بِلَيْلٍ تَسْكُنُونَ
فِيهِ أَفَلَا تَبْصُرُونَ

73. It is out of His Mercy
That He has made for you
Night and Day,—that ye
May rest therein, and that
Ye may seek of His Grace ;—
And in order that ye
May be grateful.

٤٣- وَ مِنْ رَحْمَتِهِ جَعَلَ لَكُمْ الَّيْلَ وَالنَّهَارَ

وَلِتَبْتَغُوا مِنْ فَضْلِهِ
وَلَعَلَّكُمْ تَشْكُرُونَ

74. ~~The~~ Day that He will <sup>3401</sup>
Call on them, He will say :
“ Where are My ‘ partners ’ ?—
Whom ye imagined (to be such) ? ”

٤٤- وَيَوْمَ يُنَادِيهِمْ فَيَقُولُ أَيْنَ شُرَكَائِيَ
الَّذِينَ كُنْتُمْ تُزْعِمُونَ

75. And from each people
Shall We draw a witness, <sup>3402</sup>
And We shall say : “ Produce
Your Proof ” : then shall they Know that the Truth is in
God (alone), and the (lies)
Which they invented will Leave them in the lurch. <sup>3403</sup>

٤٥- وَ نَزَعْنَا مِنْ كُلِّ أُمَّةٍ شَهِيدًا
فَقُلْنَا هَاتُوا بُرْهَانَكُمْ

3400. In verse 71 was mentioned a “perpetual Night,” for which the faculty of “hearkening” was appropriate, as all light was shut out. In this verse a perpetual Day is mentioned, for which the faculty of “seeing” is appropriate. Through many doors can the higher knowledge enter our souls. Shall we not use each of them as the occasion demands?

3401. Cf. xxviii. 62 above. The reminiscence of the words closes and rounds off the argument of this Section.

3402. Cf. iv. 41. The Prophet from each People or Nation will bear testimony that he preached the true gospel of Unity, and the People who rejected him will be asked to show the Proof or authority on which they rejected him: Cf. ii. 111.

3403. In that new world, God will be the only Truth or Reality, and all the fancies or lies, which had been invented in this world of reflected or relative truths mixed with illusions, will have vanished, and left those in the lurch who relied on them. Cf. vi. 24.

C. 176.—Men puffed up with wealth, like Qārūn,
 (xxviii. 76-88.) Are not pleasing to God: for wealth
 Is for service, not for hoarding or show
 In the midst of his pride was Qārūn
 Swallowed up in the earth, and the earth
 Knew him no more! It is the righteous
 That attain a happy End. Let nothing
 Keep your eyes back from that End:
 Then, and only then, shall ye reach
 The only Reality, the glorious Reality,
 Which is God, Who endureth for ever!

SECTION 8.

76. Qārūn was doubtless,<sup>3404</sup>
 Of the people of Moses; but
 He acted insolently towards them:
 Such were the treasures We<sup>3405</sup>
 Had bestowed on him, that
 Their very keys would
 Have been a burden to
 A body of strong men.<sup>3406</sup>
 Behold, his people said to him:
 "Exult not, for God loveth not
 Those who exult (in riches).

٤٦- إِنْ قَارُونَ كَانَ مِنْ قَوْمِ مُوسَىٰ يَتَّبِعُوا

 وَلَا تَنْسَ نَصِيبَكَ مِنَ

3404. Qārūn is identified with the Korah of the English Bible. His story is told in Num. xvi. 1-35. He and his followers, numbering 250 men, rose in rebellion against Moses and Aaron, on the ground that their position and fame in the congregation entitled them to equality in spiritual matters with the Priests,—that they were as holy as any, and they claimed to burn incense at the sacred Altar reserved for the Priests. They had an exemplary punishment: "the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods: they, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from among the congregation."

3406. 'Uṣbat: a body of men, here used indefinitely. It usually implies a body of 10 to 40 men. The old-fashioned keys were big and heavy, and if there were hundreds of treasure-chests, the keys must have been a great weight. As they were travelling in the desert, the treasures were presumably left behind in Egypt, and only the keys were carried. The disloyal Qārūn had left his heart in Egypt, with his treasures.

3407. That is, 'spend your wealth in charity and good works. It is God Who has given it to you, and you should spend it in God's cause. Nor should you forget the legitimate needs of this life, as misers do, and most people become misers who think too exclusively of their wealth. If wealth is not used properly, there are three evils that follow: (1) its possessor may be a miser and forget all claims due to himself and those about him; (2) he may forget the higher needs of the poor and needy, or the good causes which require support; and (3) he may even misspend on occasions and cause a great deal of harm and mischief." Apparently Qārūn had all three vices.

World : but do thou good,
As God has been good
To thee, and seek not (Occasions for) mischief in the land :
For God loves not those
Who do mischief."

78. He said : " This has been given
To me because of a certain
Knowledge which I have." <sup>3408</sup>
Did he not know that God
Had destroyed, before him,
(Whole) generations, — which were Superior to him in strength
And greater in the amount
(Of riches) they had collected ?
But the wicked are not

For their sins.

79. So he went forth among
His people in the (pride
Of his worldly) glitter.
Said those whose aim is
The Life of this World :
" Oh ! that we had the like
Of what Qārūn has got !
For he is truly a lord
Of mighty good fortune ! " <sup>3410</sup>

80. But those who had been granted
(True) knowledge said : " Alas
For you ! The reward of God
(In the Hereafter) is best
For those who believe
And work righteousness : but this

3408. He was so blind and arrogant that he thought that his own merit, knowledge, and skill or cleverness had earned him his wealth, and that now, on account of it, he was superior to everybody else and was entitled to ride rough-shod over them. Fool! — he was soon pulled up by God.

3409. Even Qārūn was given a long run of enjoyment with his fabulous wealth before he had to be removed for the mischief he was doing.

3410. When he was in the hey-day of his glory, worldly people envied him and thought how happy they would be if they were in his place. Not so the people of wisdom and discernment. They knew of a more precious and lasting wealth, which is described in the next verse.

None shall attain, save those

His position the day before
Began to say on the morrow:

Of His servants He pleases!
Had it not been that God
Was gracious to us, He
Could have caused the earth
To swallow us up! Ah!
Those who reject God
Will assuredly never prosper."

SECTION 9.

83. That Home of the Hereafter
We shall give to those
Who intend not high-handedness
Or mischief on earth: <sup>3413</sup>

وَلَا يَكْتُمِبُ إِلَّا الصَّابِرُونَ

٨١- فَخَسَفْنَا بِهِ وَبِدَارِهِ الْأَرْضَ

لَوْ لَا أَنْ مَرَّنَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْنَا لَخَسَفَ بِنَا
وَيَكَاكَ لَا يَغْلِبُ إِلَّا الْكَافِرُونَ

٨٣- تِلْكَ الدَّارُ الْآخِرَةُ نَجْعَلُهَا لِلَّذِينَ لَا
يُرِيدُونَ عُلُوًّا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَلَا فُسَادًا

3411. See n. 3404 above. Cf. also xvi. 45 and n. 2071. Besides the obvious moral in the literal interpretation of the story, that material wealth is fleeting and may be a temptation and a cause of fall, there are some metaphorical implications that occur to me. (1) Qārūn was with Israel in the wilderness: even his material wealth was of no use to him there; he had the mere empty keys; material wealth has no value in itself, but only a relative and local value. (2) In body he was with Israel in the wilderness, but his heart was in Egypt with its fertility and its slavery. Such is the case of many hypocrites, who like to be seen in righteous company but whose thoughts, longings, and doings are inconsistent with such company. (3) There is no good in this life but comes from God. To think otherwise is to set up a false god besides God. Our own merits are so small that they should never be the object of our idolatry. (4) If Qārūn on account of his wealth was setting himself up in rivalry with Moses and Aaron, he was blind to the fact that spiritual knowledge is far above any little cleverness in worldly affairs. Mob-leaders have no position before spiritual guides.

3412. Provision or Sustenance, both literally and figuratively: wealth and material things in life as well as the things that sustain our higher and spiritual faculties. The rabble, that admired Qārūn's wealth when he was in worldly prosperity, now sees the other side of the question and understands that there are other gifts more precious and desirable, and that these may actually be withheld from men who enjoy wealth and worldly prosperity. In fact it is false prosperity, or no prosperity in the real sense of the word, which is without spiritual well-being.

3413. High-handedness or arrogance, as opposed to submission to the Will of God, Islam. Mischief, as opposed to doing good, bringing forth fruits of righteousness. It is the righteous who will win in the end.

And the End is (best)
For the righteous.

84. If any does good, the reward
To him is better than
His deed ; but if any
Does evil, the doers of evil
Are only punished (to the extent)
Of their deeds.<sup>3414</sup>

85. Verily He Who ordained<sup>3415</sup>
The Qur-ān for thee, will bring
Thee back to the Place<sup>3416</sup>
Of Return. Say : " My Lord
Knows best who it is
That brings true guidance,
And who is in manifest error."<sup>3417</sup>

86. And thou hadst not expected
That the Book would be Sent to thee except as
A Mercy from thy Lord :<sup>3418</sup>
Therefore lend not thou support
In any way to those

فَلَا تَكُونَنَّ ظَاهِرًا

3414. A good deed has its sure reward, and that reward will be better than the merits of the doer. An evil deed may be forgiven by repentance, but in any case will not be punished with a severer penalty than justice demands.

3415. That is : ordered in His wisdom and mercy that the Qur-ān should be revealed, containing guidance for conduct in this life and the next, and further ordered that it should be read out and taught and its principles observed in practice. It is because of this teaching and preaching that the holy Prophet was persecuted, but as God sent the Qur-ān, He will see that those who follow it will not eventually suffer, but be restored to happiness in the Place of Return, for which see next note.

3416. Place of Return : (1) a title of Mecca ; (2) the occasion when we shall be restored to the Presence of our Lord. It is said that this verse was revealed at Juhfa, on the road from Mecca to Medina, a short distance from Mecca, on the Hijrat journey. The Prophet was sad at heart, and this was given as consolation to him. If this was the particular occasion, the general meaning would refer the Place of Return to the occasion of the Resurrection, when all true values will be restored, however they may be disturbed by the temporary interference of Evil in this life.

3417. God knows the true from the false, and if we are persecuted for our Faith and attacked or spoken ill of because we dare to do right; our surest refuge is an appeal to God rather than to men.

3418. Revelation and the preaching of Truth may in the beginning bring persecution, conflict, and sorrow in its train; but in reality it is the truest mercy from God, which comes even without our expecting it, as it came to the apostles without their consciously asking for it. This is proved in the history of Moses related in this Sūra, and the history of the holy Prophet which it is meant to illustrate.

Who reject (God's Message).<sup>3419</sup>

37. And let nothing keep thee
Back from the Signs of God
After they have been revealed
To thee : and invite (men)
To thy Lord, and be not
Of the company of those
Who join gods with God.<sup>3420</sup>

88. And call not, besides God,
On another god. There is No god but He. Everything
(That exists) will perish
Except His own Face.<sup>3421</sup>
To Him belongs the Command,
And to Him will ye
(All) be brought back.

3419. If God's Message is unpalatable to Evil and is rejected by it, those who accept it may (in their natural human feelings) sometimes wonder that such should be the case, and whether it is really God's Will that the conflict which ensues should be pursued. Any such hesitation would lend unconscious support to the aggressions of evil and should be discarded. The servant of God stands forth boldly as His Mujāhid (fighter of the good fight), daring all, and knowing that God is behind him.

3420. The soldier of God, having taken up the fight against Evil, and knowing that he is in touch with the true Light, never yields an inch of ground. He is always to the fore in inviting others to his own ranks, but he himself refuses to be with those who worship anything else but God.

3421. This sums up the lesson of the whole Sūra. The only Reality is God. His "Face" or Self, Personality or Being is what we should seek, knowing that it is the only enduring thing of which we can have any conception. The whole phenomenal world is subject to flux and change and will pass away, but He will endure for ever. If we think of an impersonal God, an abstract force of good, we cannot reconcile it with the vital Self or Being, of which we have a faint echo or reflection in our intensest moments of spiritual exaltation. We know then that what we call our own Self has no meaning, for there is only one true Self, and that is God. This is also the Advaita doctrine of Shri Shankara in his exposition of the Bṛihad-aranyaka Upanishad in Hindu philosophy.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXIX ('Ankabūt).

This Sūra is the last of the series begun with S. xvii, in which the growth of the spiritual man as an individual is considered, especially illustrated by the way in which the great apostles were prepared for their work and received their mission, and the nature of Revelation in relation to the environments in which it was promulgated. (See Introduction to S. xvii.) It also closes the sub-series beginning with S. xxvi, which is concerned with the spiritual Light, and the reactions to it at certain periods of spiritual history. (See Introduction to S. xxvi.)

The last Sūra closed with a reference to the doctrine of the Ma'ād, or final Return of man to God. This theme is further developed here, and as it is continued in the subsequent three Sūras all bearing the Abbreviated Letters A.L.M., it forms a connecting link between the present series and those three Sūras.

In particular, emphasis is laid here on the necessity of linking actual conduct with the reception of God's revelation, and reference is again made to the stories of Noah, Abraham, and Lot among the apostles, and the stories of Midian, 'Ād, Thamūd, and Pharaoh among the rejecters of God's Message. This world's life is contrasted with the real Life of the Hereafter.

Chronologically the main Sūra belongs to the late Middle Meccan period, but the chronology has no significance except as showing how clearly the vision of the Future was revealed long before the Hijrat, to the struggling Brotherhood of Islām.

Summary.—Belief is tested by trial in life and practical conduct : though Noah lived 950 years, his people refused Faith, and Abraham's generation threatened to burn Abraham (xxix. 1-27, and C. 177).

Lot's people not only rejected God's Message but publicly defied him in sin ; the 'Ād and the Thamūd had intelligence but misused it, and Qārūn, Pharaoh, and Hāmān perished for their overweening arrogance : they found their worldly power as frail as a spider's web (xxix. 28-44, and C. 178).

The Qur-ān as a revelation stands on its own merits and is a Sign : it teaches the distinction between Right and Wrong, and shows the importance and excellence of the Hereafter (xxix. 45-69, and C. 179).

C. 177.—Faith must be tested in the conflicts
(xxix. 1-27.) Of practical life, but Good can never Be submerged. On the contrary God
Will wash off all stains from those
Who strive, and admit them to the Fellowship
Of the Righteous. Not so are the hypocrites
And those who reject Faith. Their hearts
Are diseased, and they will not accept
The right though a Noah preached to them
For a thousand years, or an Abraham
Reasoned with them on God's most wonderful
Providence. But the true will ever search out
The Truth, and Truth will always prevail.

Most Merciful.

They will be left alone

3422. For these Abbreviated Letters see n. 25 to ii. 1. We are asked to contrast, in our present life the real inner life against the outer life, and learn from the past about the struggles of the soul which upholds God's Truth, against the environment of evil, which resists it, and to turn our thoughts to the Ma'ād, or man's future destiny in the Hereafter.

3423. Mere lip profession of Faith is not enough. It must be tried and tested in the real turmoil of life. The test will be applied in all kinds of circumstances, in individual life and in relation to the environment around us, to see whether we can strive constantly and put God above Self. Much pain, sorrow, and self-sacrifice may be necessary, not because they are good in themselves, but because they will purify us, like fire applied to a goldsmith's crucible to burn out the dross.

3424. The word "know" is used here more in the sense of testing than of acquiring knowledge. God is All-Knowing: He needs no test to increase His own knowledge, but the test is to burn out the dross within ourselves, as explained in the last note.

3425. If the enemies of Truth imagine that they will "be first" by destroying Truth before it takes root, they are sadly at fault, for their own persecution may help to plant God's Truth more firmly in men's hearts.

3426. The men of Faith look forward to God. Their quest is God, and the object of their hopes is the meeting with God. They should strive with might and main to serve Him in this life, for this life is short, and the Term appointed for their probation will soon be over.

By God is surely coming :<sup>3427</sup>

Needs from all creation.

Righteous deeds,—from them
Shall We blot out all evil

The best of their deeds.

8. We have enjoined on man
Kindness to parents : but if
They (either of them) strive
(To force) thee to join
With Me (in worship)
Anything of which thou hast
No knowledge,<sup>3430</sup> obey them not.
Ye have (all) to return
To Me, and I will
Tell you (the truth)
Of all that ye did.<sup>3431</sup>

إِنِّي مُرْجِعُكُمْ
فَأَنْتُمْكُمْ بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ ۝

3427. The Term (ajal) may signify : (1) the time appointed for death, which ends the probation of this life ; (2) the time appointed for this life, so that we can prepare for the Hereafter ; the limit will soon expire. In either case the ultimate meaning is the same. We must strive now, and not postpone anything for the future. And we must realise and remember that every prayer we make to God is heard by Him, and that every unspoken wish or motive of our heart, good or bad, is known to Him, and goes to swell our spiritual account.

3428. All our striving enures to our own spiritual benefit. When we speak of serving God, it is not that we confer any benefit on Him. For He has no needs, and is independent of all His Creation. In conforming to His Will, we are seeking our own good, as in yielding to evil we are doing harm to ourselves.

3429. In striving to purify our Faith and our Life, we are enabled to rise above our own Karma, for God will forgive any evil in our past, purify any tendencies towards evil which we may have inherited from that past, and help to the attainment of a Future based on the best of what we have done rather than on the poor average of our own merits. The atonement or expiation is by God's Mercy, not by our merits or the merits or sacrifice of anyone else.

3430. That is, no certainty, in virtue of the spiritual light. In matters of faith and worship, even parents have no right to force their children. They cannot and must not hold up before them any worship but that of the One True God.

3431. Children and parents must all remember that they have all to go before God's tribunal, and answer, each for his own deeds. In cases where one set of people have lawful authority over another set of people (as in the case of parents and children), and the two differ in important matters like that of Faith, the latter are justified in rejecting authority : the apparent conflict will be solved when the whole truth is revealed to all eyes in the final Judgment.

9. And those who believe
And work righteous deeds,—
Them shall We admit
To the company of the Righteous.<sup>3432</sup>

٩-وَالَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ

10. When there are among men
Such as say, "We believe
In God"; but when they suffer
Affliction in (the cause of) God,
They treat men's oppression
As if it were the Wrath
Of God! And if help
Comes (to thee) from thy Lord,
They are sure to say,<sup>3433</sup>
"We have (always) been
With you!" Does not God
Know best all that is
In the hearts of all Creation?

١٠-وَمِنَ النَّاسِ مَن يَقُولُ آمَنَّا
بِاللَّهِ فَإِذَا أُوْذِيَ فِي اللَّهِ
جَعَلَ فِتْنَةَ النَّاسِ كَعَذَابِ اللَّهِ

11. And God most certainly knows
Those who believe, and as certainly
Those who are Hypocrites.<sup>3434</sup>

١١-وَلَيَعْلَمَنَّ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا
وَلَيَعْلَمَنَّ الْمُنَافِقِينَ ○

12. And the Unbelievers say
To those who believe:
"Follow our path, and we
Will bear (the consequences)<sup>3435</sup>
Of your faults." Never
In the least will they
Bear their faults: in fact
They are liars!

١٢-وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا لِلَّذِينَ آمَنُوا
اتَّبِعُوا سَبِيلَنَا وَلنَحْمِلْ خَطِيئَتَكُمْ
وَمَا هُمْ بِمُحْمِلِينَ مِنْ خَطِيئَتِهِمْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ
إِنَّهُمْ لَكَاذِبُونَ ○

3432. The picking up again of the words which began verse 7 above shows that the same subject is now pursued from another aspect. The expiation or reward which was first spoken of is not so much a tangible thing as a restoration of status. The striving in righteous deeds will restore fallen man to the society of the Righteous,—the ideal Fellowship described in iv. 69 and n. 586.

3433. Cf. ix. 56. and other passages where the cunning of the Hypocrites is exposed. The man who turns away from Faith in adversity and only claims the friendship of the Faithful when there is something to be gained by it, is worthy of a double condemnation: first because he rejected Faith and Truth, and secondly because he falsely pretended to be of those whom he feared or hated in his heart. But nothing in all Creation is concealed from God.

3435. Besides the hypocrite there is another type of man who openly scoffs at Faith. Take life as we take it,' he says; 'we shall bear your sins.' As if they could! Each soul bears its own burdens, and no one else can bear them. The principle also applies to the type of man who preaches vicarious atonement, for, if followed to its logical conclusion, it means both injustice and irresponsibility, and puts quite a different complexion on the nature of sin.

13. They will bear their own
Burdens, and (other) burdens
Along with their own,<sup>3436</sup>
And on the Day of Judgment
They will be called to account
For their falsehoods.

SECTION 2.

14. We (once) sent Noah
To his people, and he tarried
Among them a thousand years<sup>3437</sup>
Less fifty : but the Deluge
Overwhelmed them while they (Persisted in) sin.

15. But We saved him
And the Companions
Of the Ark, and We made
The (Ark) a Sign
For all Peoples !

16. And (We also saved)
Abraham : behold, he said<sup>3438</sup>
To his people, " Serve God
And fear Him : that
Will be best for you—
If ye understand !

17. " For ye do worship idols
Besides God, and ye invent
Falsehood. The things that ye
Worship besides God have
No power to give you sustenance :

۱۳- وَ لِيَحْمِلْنَ اَنْفُسَهُمْ

دُوْنِ اللّٰهِ لَا يَنْبَلِكُوْنَ لَكُمْ رِزْقًا

3436. Besides the burden of their own infidelity, they will bear the burden of deluding others with falsehood.

3437. The story of Noah and his Flood is not told here. It is told in other places; e.g., see xi. 25-48 or xxvi. 105-22. It is only referred to here to point out that Noah's period lasted a long time, 950 years. (Cf. Gen. ix. 28-29, where his whole age is declared to have been 950 years, of which 350 years were after the Flood). In spite of this long period, his contemporaries failed to listen, and they were destroyed. But the story of the Ark remains an everlasting Sign and Warning to mankind—a Sign of deliverance to the righteous and of destruction to the wicked.

3438. The story of Abraham has been told in various phases in different passages. The ones most germane to the present passage are: xxi. 51-72 (his being cast into the fire and being saved from it); and xix. 41-49 (his voluntary exile from the home of his fathers). Here the story is not told, but is referred to in order to stress the following points; (1) Abraham's people only responded to his preaching by threatening to burn him (xxix. 16-18, 24); (2) evil consorts with evil but will have a rude awakening (xxix. 25); (3) the good adhere to the good, and are blessed (xxix. 26-27). Note that the passage xxix. 19-23 is a parenthetical comment, though some Commentators treat a portion of it as part of Abraham's speech.

Then seek ye sustenance<sup>3439</sup>
From God, serve Him,
And be grateful to Him :
To Him will be your return.

18. "And if ye reject (the Message),
So did generations before you :
And the duty of the apostle
Is only to preach publicly
(And clearly)."

19. See they not how God
Originates creation, then<sup>3440</sup>
Repeats it : truly that
Is easy for God.

20. Say : "Travel through the earth"<sup>3441</sup>
And see how God did
Originate creation ; so will
God produce a later creation :
For God has power
Over all things.

21. "He punishes whom He pleases,
And He grants mercy to whom

فَاتَّبِعُوا عِنْدَ اللَّهِ الرِّزْقَ وَاعْبُدُوهُ

إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ ۝

۲۱- يُعَذِّبُ مَن يَشَاءُ وَيَرْحَمُ مَن

3439. Sustenance : in the symbolic as well as the literal sense. Seek from God all that is necessary for your upkeep and development, and for preparing you for your future Destiny. Lay all your hopes in Him and in no one else. Dedicate yourselves to His worship. He will give you all that is necessary for your growth and well being, and you should show your gratitude to Him by conforming your will entirely to His.

3440. The originating of creation is the creation of primeval matter. The repetition of the process of creation goes on constantly, for at every moment new processes are being called into being by the creative power of God, and according to His Laws. And the final creation as far as man is concerned will be in the Ma'ād, when the whole world as man sees it will be entirely newly created on a different plane. As far as God is concerned, there is nothing final,—no first and last, for He is infinite. He was before our First and will be after our Last, and if there is any meaning in these relative terms, He is the real First and the real Last.

3441. Travel through the earth : again, literally as well as symbolically. If we actually go through this wide earth, we shall see the wonderful things in His Creation—the Grand Canyon and the Niagaras in America, beautiful harbours like that at Sydney in Australia, mountains like Fujiyama, the Himalayas, and Elburz in Asia, the Nile with its wonderful cataracts in Africa, the Fiords of Norway, the Geysers of Iceland, the city of the midnight sun in Tromsø, and innumerable wonders everywhere. But wonders upon wonders are disclosed in the constitution of matter itself, the atom, and the forces of energy, as also in the instincts of animals, and the minds and capacities of man. And there is no limit to these things. Worlds upon worlds are created and transformed every moment, within and presumably beyond man's vision. From what we know we can judge of the unknown.

He pleases, and towards Him
Are ye turned.<sup>3442</sup>

يَسْأَلُونَ وَيَلِيهِ تَقْلِبُونَ ○

22. "Not on earth nor in heaven
Will ye be able (fleeing)
To frustrate (His Plan),
Nor have ye, besides God,
Any protector or helper."

۲۲- وَمَا أَنْتُمْ بِمُعْجِزِينَ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَ

SECTION 3.

23. Those who reject the Signs
Of God and the Meeting
With Him (in the Hereafter),—
It is they who shall despair
Of My mercy : it is they<sup>3443</sup>
Who will (suffer)
A most grievous Penalty.

۲۳- وَالَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا بِآيَاتِ اللَّهِ وَلِقَائِهِ
أُولَئِكَ يَكْفُرُونَ مِنْ رَحْمَتِي
وَأُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ ○

24. So naught was the answer
Of (Abraham's) people except
That they said : "Slay him
Or burn him." But God
Did save him from the Fire.<sup>3444</sup>
Verily in this are Signs
For people who believe.

۲۴- فَمَا كَانَ جَوَابَ قَوْمِهِ إِلَّا
أَنْ قَالُوا اقْتُلُوهُ أَوْ حَرِّقُوهُ
فَأَنْجَاهُ اللَّهُ مِنَ النَّارِ
إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِقَوْمٍ يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

25. And he said : "For you,
Ye have taken (for worship)
Idols besides God, out of Mutual love and regard"<sup>3445</sup>

۲۵- وَقَالَ إِنَّمَا اتَّخَذْتُمْ
مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ أَوْثَانًا كَالْمَوَدَّةِ

3442. I think ilaihi tuqlabūn is better translated "towards Him are ye turned" than "towards Him will be your return", as it implies not only the return of man to God in the Hereafter (turja'un in verse 17 above) but also the fact explained in verse 22 that man's needs are always to be obtained from God : man cannot frustrate God's designs, and can have no help or protection except from God : man has always to face God, whether man obeys God or tries to ignore God. Man will never be able to defeat God's Plan. According to His wise Will and Plan, He will grant His grace or withhold it from man.

3443. The emphasis is on "they" (ulāika). It is only the people who ignore or reject God's Signs and reject a Hereafter, that will find themselves in despair and suffering. God's Mercy is open to all, but if any reject His Mercy, they must suffer.

3444. See xxi. 66-70. Abraham was cast into the fire, but he was unhurt, by the grace of God. So righteous people suffer no harm from the plots of the wicked. But they must leave the environment of evil even if they have to forsake their ancestral home, as Abraham did.

3445. In sin and wickedness there is as much log-rolling as in politics. Evil men humour each other and support each other; they call each other's vices by high-sounding names. They call it mutual regard or friendship or love; at the lowest, they call it toleration. Perhaps they flourish in this life by such arts. But they deceive themselves, and they deceive each other. What will be their relations in the Hereafter? They will disown each other when each has to answer on the principle of personal responsibility. Each will accuse the others of misleading him, and they will curse each other. But there will then be no help, and they must suffer in the Fire.

Between yourselves in this life ;
But on the Day of Judgment
Ye shall disown each other
And curse each other :
And your abode will be
The Fire, and ye shall have
None to help."

26. But Lūt had faith in Him : <sup>3446</sup>
He said : " I will leave
Home for the sake of
My Lord : for He is Exalted in Might, and Wise."

٢٦- فَأَمِنَ لَهُ لُوطٌ وَقَالَ إِنِّي

27. And We gave (Abraham)
Isaac and Jacob, and ordained
Among his progeny Prophethood <sup>3447</sup>

In the Hereafter (of the company)
Of the Righteous. <sup>3448</sup>

C. 178.—Worldly power cannot through sin
(xxix. 28-44.) Defy the right, as was proved in the ministry
Of Lot ; nor can Intelligence misused
Stand in the place of God's Light ; nor
Can boastful insolence do aught
But dig its own grave. The strength
And skill, the beauty and power, of this world's Life are no more than a Spider's Web,
Flimsy before the force of the eternal
Verities that flow from God Supreme !

28. And (remember) Lūt : behold,
He said to his people :

٢٨- وَلُوطًا إِذْ قَالَ لِقَوْمِهِ

3446. Lot was a nephew of Abraham. He adhered to Abraham's teaching and faith and accepted voluntary exile with him, for Abraham left the home of his fathers in Chaldæa and migrated to Syria and Palestine, where God gave him increase and prosperity, and a numerous family, who upheld the flag of Unity and the Light of God.

3447. Isaac was Abraham's son and Jacob his grandson, and among his progeny was included Ismā'il the eldest son of Abraham. Each of these became a fountain-head of Prophecy and Revelation, Isaac and Jacob through Moses, and Ismā'il through the holy Apostle Muḥammad. Jacob got the name of "Israel" at Bethel: Gen. 32:28; 35:10, and his progeny got the title of "The Children of Israel".

“ Ye do commit lewdness,
Such as no people in Creation <sup>3449</sup>

29. “ Do ye indeed approach men,
And cut off the highway?—<sup>3450</sup>
And practise wickedness
(Even) in your councils? ”
But his people gave no answer
But this : they said :
“ Bring us the Wrath of God
If thou tellest the truth.” <sup>3451</sup>

30. He said : “ O my Lord !
Help Thou me against people
Who do mischief ! ”

SECTION 4.

31. When Our Messengers came
To Abraham with the good news, <sup>3452</sup>
They said : “ We are indeed
Going to destroy the people
Of this township : <sup>3453</sup> for truly
They are (addicted to) crime.”

إِنَّمَا كُنْتُمْ لَنَا تَوَّابُونَ

٢٩- أَرَأَيْتُمْ لَتَأْتُونَ الرِّجَالَ وَتَقْطَعُونَ
السَّبِيلَ ۗ

وَأَتَأْتُونَ فِي نَادِيكُمْ الْمُنْكَرُ
فَمَا كَانَ جَوَابَ قَوْمِهِ إِلَّا أَنْ قَالُوا ائْتِنَا
بِعَذَابِ اللَّهِ إِنْ كُنْتَ مِنَ الصَّادِقِينَ

٣٠- قَالَ رَبِّ انصُرْنِي

عَلَى الْقَوْمِ الْمُفْسِدِينَ ۝

٣١- وَكُنَّا جَاءَتْ رُسُلَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمَ بِالْبُشْرَى
قَالُوا إِنَّا مُهْلِكُوا أَهْلَ هَذِهِ الْقَرْيَةِ إِنَّ
أَهْلَهَا كَانُوا ظَالِمِينَ ۝

3449. Cf. vii. 80. A discreet reference is made to their unspeakable crimes, which were against the laws of all nature.

3450. They infested highways and committed their horrible crimes not only secretly, but openly and publicly, even in their assemblies. Some Commentators understand “cutting off the highway” to refer to highway robberies : this is possible, and it is also possible that the crimes in their assemblies may have been injustice, rowdiness, etc. But the context seems to refer to their own special horrible crime, and the point here seems to be that they were not ashamed of it and that they practised it publicly. Degradation could go no further.

3451. This is another instance of their effrontery, in addition to that mentioned in vii. 82 : the two supplement each other. Here the point emphasised is that they did not believe in God or His Punishment, and dared God’s Apostle Lot to bring about the Punishment if he could. And it did come and destroyed them.

3452. See xi. 69-76. The angels, who were coming on the mission to destroy the people who were polluting the earth with their crimes, called on their way on Abraham to give the good news of the birth of a son to him in his old age. When they told him their destination, he feared for his nephew who he knew was there. They reassured him and then came on to Lot.

3453. By translating “township” I imply the two neighbouring populations of Sodom and Gomorrah, who had already gone too far in their crime, their shamelessness, and their defiance, to profit by any mercy from God.

32. He said: " But there is Lūt there." They said:
" Well do we know who
Is there : we will certainly
Save him and his following,—
Except his wife : she is
Of those who lag behind ! " <sup>3454</sup>

٣٢- قَالَ إِنَّ فِيهَا لُوطًا قَالُوا
مَنْ أَعْلَمُ بِمَنْ فِيهَا ۗ
لَنُنَجِّيَنَّهُ وَأَهْلَهُ
إِلَّا امْرَأَتَهُ ۗ كَانَتْ مِنَ الْغَابِرِينَ ۝

33. And when Our Messengers
Came to Lūt, he was
Grieved on their account,
And felt himself powerless <sup>3455</sup>
(To protect) them : but they said :
" Fear thou not, nor grieve :
We are (here) to save thee
And thy following, except
Thy wife : she is
Of those who lag behind.

٣٣- وَلَمَّا أَنْ جَاءَتْ رُسُلُنَا لُوطًا
سِئَاءَ بِبِهِمْ وَضَاقَ بِهِمْ ذُرْعًا
وَقَالُوا لَا تَخَفْ وَلَا تَحْزَنْ
إِنَّا مُنَجِّوُكَ وَأَهْلِكَ إِلَّا
امْرَأَتَكَ ۗ كَانَتْ مِنَ الْغَابِرِينَ ۝

34. " For we are going to
Bring down on the people
Of this township a Punishment <sup>3456</sup>
From heaven, because they
Have been wickedly rebellious."

٣٤- إِنَّا مُنْزِلُونَ عَلَىٰ أَهْلِ
هَذِهِ الْقَرْيَةِ رِجْزًا مِنَ السَّمَاءِ
بِمَا كَانُوا يَفْسُقُونَ ۝

35. And We have left thereof
An evident Sign, <sup>3457</sup>
For any people who (Care to) understand.

٣٥- وَلَقَدْ تَرَكْنَا مِنْهَا آيَةً بَيِّنَةً
لِقَوْمٍ يَعْقِلُونَ ۝

3454. She was not loyal to her husband. Tradition says that she belonged to the wicked people, and was not prepared to leave them. She had no faith in the mission either of her husband or of the angels who had come as his guests.

3455. This part of the story may be read in greater detail in xi. 77-83.

3456. The Punishment was a rain of brimstone, which completely overwhelmed the Cities, with possibly an earthquake and a volcanic eruption (see xi. 82).

3457. The whole tract on the east side of the Dead Sea (where the Cities were situated) is covered with sulphureous salts and is deadly to animal and plant life. The Dead Sea itself is called in Arabic the Baḥr Lūt (the sea of Lot). It is a scene of utter desolation, that should stand as a Symbol of the Destruction that awaits Sin.

36. So the Madyan (people)
(We sent) their brother Shu'aib.
Then he said: "O my people!
Serve God, and fear the Last
Day: nor commit evil
On the earth, with intent
To do mischief."

۳۶- وَإِلَىٰ مَدْيَنَ أَخَاهُمْ شُعَيْبًا

37. But they rejected him:
Then the mighty Blast <sup>3458</sup>
Seized them, and they lay
Prostrate in their homes
By the morning.

۳۷- فَكَذَّبُوهُ

38. (Remember also) the 'Ād
And the Thamūd (people): <sup>3459</sup>
Clearly will appear to you
From (the traces) of their buildings
(Their fate): the Evil One
Made their deeds alluring <sup>3460</sup>
To them, and kept them back
From the Path, though they
Were gifted with Intelligence
And Skill.

۳۸- وَعَادًا وَثمودًا
وَقَدْ تَبَيَّنَ لَكُمْ مِنْ مَسْكِنِهِمْ

3458. The story of Shu'aib and the Madyan people is only referred to here. It is told in xi. 84-95. Their besetting sin was fraud and commercial immorality. Their punishment was a mighty Blast, such as accompanies volcanic eruptions. The point of the reference here is that they went about doing mischief on the earth, and never thought of the Mā'ād or the Hereafter, the particular theme of this Sūra. The same point is made by the brief references in the following two verses to the 'Ād and the Thamūd, and to Qārūn, Pharaoh, and Hāmān, though the besetting sin in each case was different. The Midianites were a commercial people and trafficked from land to land; their frauds are well described as spreading "mischief on the earth".

3459. For the 'Ād people see vii. 65-72, and n. 1040, and for the Thamūd, vii. 73-79, and n. 1043. The remains of their buildings show (1) that they were gifted with great intelligence and skill; (2) that they were proud of their material civilisation; and (3) their destruction argues how the greatest material civilisation and resources cannot save a People who disobey God's moral law.

3460. They were so arrogant and self-satisfied, that they missed the higher purpose of life, and strayed clean away from the Path of God. Though their intelligence should have kept them straight, Evil made them crooked and led them and kept them astray.

39. (Remember also) Qārūn,<sup>3461</sup>
Pharaoh, and Hāmān: there came
To them Moses with Clear Signs,
But they behaved with insolence
On the earth; yet they Could not overreach (Us).

٣٩- وَقَارُونَ وَفِرْعَوْنَ وَهَامَانَ

Against some We sent
A violent tornado (with showers<sup>3462</sup>
Of stones); some were caught
By a (mighty) Blast;<sup>3463</sup> some
We caused the earth<sup>3464</sup>
To swallow up; and some
We drowned (in the waters):<sup>3465</sup>
It was not God Who
Injured (or oppressed) them:
They injured (and oppressed)
Their own souls.

٤١- مَثَلُ الَّذِينَ اتَّخَذُوا مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
أَوْلِيَاءَ كَمَثَلِ الْعَنْكَبُوتِ إِتَّخَذَتْ

3461. For Qārūn see xxviii. 76-82; Pharaoh is mentioned frequently in the Qur-ān, but he is mentioned in association with Hāmān in xxviii. 6; for their blasphemous arrogance and defiance of God see xxviii. 38. They thought such a lot of themselves, but they came to an evil end.

3462. For ḥāṣib (violent tornado with showers of stones), see xvii. 68; this punishment was inflicted on the Cities of the Plain, to which Lot preached (liv. 34). Some Commentators think that this also applied to the 'Ad, but their punishment is described as by a violent and unseasonable cold wind (xli. 16; liv. 19 and lxix, 6), such as blows in sand-storms in the Aḥqāf, the region of shifting sands which was in their territory.

3463. For ṣaiḥat (Blast) see xi. 67 and n. 1561, as also n. 1047 to vii. 78 and n. 1996 to xv. 73. This word is used in describing the fate of (1) the Thamūd (xi, 67); Madyan (xi, 94); the population to which Lūṭ preached (xv, 73); and the Rocky Tract (Ḥijr, xv, 83), part of the territory of the Thamūd; also in the Parable of the City to which came three apostles, who found a single believer (xxxvi. 29).

3464. This was the fate of Qārūn: see xxviii. 81. Cf. also xvi. 45 and n. 2071.

3465. This was the fate of the hosts of Pharaoh and Hāmān (xxviii. 40) as well as the wicked generation of Noah (xxvi, 120).

3466. The Spider's house is one of the wonderful Signs of God's creation. It is made up of fine silk threads spun out of silk glands in the spider's body. There are many kinds of spiders and many kinds of spider's houses. Two main types of houses may be mentioned. There is the tubular nest or web, a silk-lined house or burrow with one or two trap-doors. This may be called his residential or family mansion. Then there is what is ordinarily called a spider's web, consisting of a central point with radiating threads running in all directions and acting as tie-beams to the quasi-circular concentric threads that form the body of the web. This is his hunting box. The whole structure exemplifies economy in time, material, and strength. If an insect is caught in the net, the vibration set up in the radiating threads is at once communicated to the spider, who can come and kill his prey. In case the prey is powerful, the spider is furnished with poison glands with which to kill his prey. The spider sits either in the centre of the web or hides on the under-side of a leaf or in some crevice, but he always has a single thread connecting him with his web, to keep him in telephonic communication. The female spider is much bigger than the male, and in Arabic the generic gender of 'Ankabut is feminine.

3467. Most of the facts in the last note can be read into the Parable. For their thickness the spider's threads are very strong from the point of view of relativity, but in our actual world they are flimsy, especially the threads of the gossamer spider floating in the air. So is the house and strength of the man who relies on material resources however fine or beautiful relatively; before the eternal Reality they are as nothing. The spider's most cunning architecture cannot stand against a wave of a man's hand. His poison glands are like the hidden poison in our beautiful worldly plans which may take various shapes but have seeds of death in them.

3468. The last verse told us that men, out of spiritual ignorance, build their hopes on flimsy unsubstantial things (like the spider's web) which are broken by a thousand chance attacks of wind and weather or the actions of animals or men. If they cannot fully grasp their own good, they should seek His Light. To Him everything is known,—men's frailty, their false hopes, their questionable motives, the false gods whom they enthrone in their midst, the mischief done by the neglect of Truth, and the way out for those who have entangled themselves in the snares of Evil. He is All-Wise and is able to carry out all He wills, and they should turn to Him.

3469. Parables seem simple things, but their profound meaning and application can only be understood by those who seek knowledge and by God's grace attain it.

3470. Cf. vi. 73 and n. 896. In all God's Creation, not only is there evidence of intelligent Purpose, fitting all parts together with wisdom, but also of supreme Goodness and cherishing-Care, by which all needs are satisfied and all the highest and truest cravings fulfilled. These are like beckoning signals to lead on those who pray and search in Faith, those who with the intensest desire of their soul can pray, as in Cardinal Newman's Hymn, "Lead, kindly Light! Amid the encircling gloom, lead Thou me on!"

C. 179.—Proclaim the Message of God, and pray
 (xxix. 45-69.) To Him for purity and guidance.
 God's Revelation carries its own
 Proofs and is recognised by men
 Of wisdom. Its rejecters but lose
 Their own chances of profiting
 By the Truth, and attaining the Paths
 That lead to God's own gracious Presence!

SECTION 5.

45. Recite what is sent <sup>3471</sup>
 Of the Book by inspiration
 To thee, and establish
 Regular Prayer: for Prayer
 Restrains from shameful
 And unjust deeds;
 And remembrance of God
 Is the greatest (thing in life)
 Without doubt. And God knows
 The (deeds) that ye do.

46. And dispute ye not
 With the People of the Book,
 Except with means better <sup>3472</sup>
 (Than mere disputation), unless
 It be with those of them
 Who inflict wrong (and injury): <sup>3473</sup>
 But say, "We believe
 In the Revelation which has Come down to us and in that
 Which came down to you;

٢٥- اَتْلُ مَا أُوْحِيَ إِلَيْكَ مِنَ الْكِتَابِ
 وَأَقِمِ الصَّلَاةَ
 إِنَّ الصَّلَاةَ تَنْهَىٰ عَنِ الْفَحْشَاءِ وَالْمُنْكَرِ
 وَلَذِكْرُ اللَّهِ أَكْبَرُ
 وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ مَا تَصْنَعُونَ ○

٢٦- وَلَا تَجَادِلُوا أَهْلَ الْكِتَابِ
 إِلَّا بِالَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ
 إِلَّا الَّذِينَ ظَلَمُوا مِنْهُمْ
 وَقُولُوا آمَنَّا بِالَّذِي
 أُنزِلَ إِلَيْنَا وَأُنزِلَ إِلَيْكُمْ

3471. The tilāwat of the Qur-ān implies: (1) rehearsing or reciting it, and publishing it abroad to the world; (2) reading it to ourselves; (3) studying it to understand it as it should be studied and understood (ii. 121); (4) meditating on it so as to accord our knowledge and life and desires with it. When this is done, it merges into real Prayer, and Prayer purges us of anything (act, plan, thought, motive, words) of which we should be ashamed or which would work injustice to others. Such Prayer passes into our inmost life and being, for then we realise the Presence of God, and that is true zīkr (or remembrance), for remembrance is the bringing to mind of things as present to us which might otherwise be absent to us. And that is the greatest thing in life. It is subjective to us: it fills our consciousness with God. For God is in any case always present and knows all.

3472. Mere disputations are futile. In order to achieve our purpose as true standard-bearers for God, we shall have to find true common grounds of belief, as stated in the latter part of this verse, and also to show by our urbanity, kindness, sincerity, truth, and genuine anxiety for the good of others, that we are not cranks or merely seeking selfish or questionable aims.

3473. Of course those who are deliberately trying to wrong or injure others will have to be treated firmly, as we are guardians of each other. With them there is little question of finding common ground or exercising patience, until the injury is prevented or stopped.

Our God and your God
Is One; and it is to Him
We bow (in Islam).<sup>3474</sup>

وَالْهِنَا وَالْهَكْمُ وَاحِدٌ

47. And thus<sup>3475</sup> (it is) that We
Have sent down the Book
To thee. So the People
Of the Book believe therein,<sup>3476</sup>
As also do some of these<sup>3477</sup>
(Pagan Arabs): and none
But Unbelievers reject Our Signs.

٣٤- وَكَذَلِكَ أَنْزَلْنَا إِلَيْكَ الْكِتَابَ

48. And thou wast not (able)
To recite a Book before
This (Book came), nor art thou
(Able) to transcribe it
With thy right hand:<sup>3478</sup>
In that case, indeed, would

٣٨- وَمَا كُنْتَ تَتْلُوا مِنْ قَبْلِهِ مِنْ
كِتَابٍ
وَلَا تَحْطُوهَ بِيَمِينِكَ

3474. That is, the religion of all true and sincere men of Faith is, or should be, one; and that is the ideal of Islam.

3475. It is in this spirit that all true Revelation comes from God. God is One, and His Message cannot come in one place or at one time to contradict His Message in another place or at another time in spirit, though there may be local variations according to the needs or understanding of men at any given time or place.

3476. The sincere Jews and Christians found in the holy Prophet a fulfilment of their own religion. For the names of some Jews who recognised and embraced Islam, see n. 3227 to xxvi. 197. Among the Christians, too, the Faith slowly won ground. Embassies were sent by the holy Prophet in the 6th and 7th years of the Hijrat to all the principal countries round Arabia, viz., the capital of the Byzantine Empire (Constantinople), the capital of the Persian Empire (Madāin), the Sāsānian capital known to the West by the Greek name of Ctesiphon, (about thirty miles south of modern Bagdād), Syria, Abyssinia, and Egypt. All these (except Persia) were Christian countries. In the same connection an embassy was also sent to Yamāma in Arabia itself (east of the Hijāz) where the Banū Ḥanifa tribe was Christian, like the Ḥārith tribe of Najrān who voluntarily sent an embassy to Medina. All these countries except Abyssinia eventually became Muslim, and Abyssinia itself has a considerable Muslim population now and sent some Muslim converts to Medina in the time of the Prophet himself. As a generalisation it is true that the Jewish and the Christian peoples as they existed in the seventh century of the Christian era have been mainly absorbed by Islam, as well as the lands in which they predominated. Remnants of them built up new nuclei. The Roman Catholic Church conquered new lands among the northern (Germanic) Pagans and the Byzantine Church among the eastern (Slavonic) Pagans, and the Protestantism of the 16th century gave a fresh stimulus to the main ideas for which Islam stands, viz., the abolition of priestcraft, the right of private judgment, the simplification of ritual, and the insistence upon the simple, practical, everyday duties of life.

3477. The Pagan Arabs also gradually came in until they were all absorbed in Islam.

3478. The holy Prophet was not a learned man. Before the Qur-ān was revealed to him, he never claimed to proclaim a Message from God. He was not in the habit of preaching eloquent truths as from a Book, before he received his Revelation, nor was he able to write or transcribe with his own hand. If he had had these worldly gifts, there would have been some plausibility in the charge of the talkers of vanities that he spoke not from inspiration but from other people's books, or that he composed the beautiful verses of the Qur-ān himself and committed them to memory in order to recite them to people. The circumstances in which the Qur-ān came bear their own testimony to its truth as from God.

The talkers of vanities
Have doubted.

49. Nay, here are Signs
Self-evident in the hearts
Of those endowed with knowledge: <sup>3479</sup>
And none but the unjust
Reject Our Signs. <sup>3480</sup>

50. Yet they say: "Why
Are not Signs sent down
To him from his Lord?"
Say: "The Signs are indeed
With God: and I am
Indeed a clear Warner." <sup>3481</sup>

51. And is it not enough
For them that We have Sent down to thee
The Book which is rehearsed
To them? Verily, in it
Is Mercy and a Reminder
To those who believe. <sup>3482</sup>

SECTION 6.

٥٢- قُلْ كَفَى بِاللَّهِ بَيْنِي

3479. "Knowledge" (ilm) means both power of judgment in discerning the value of truth and acquaintance with previous revelations. It implies both literary and spiritual insight. To men so endowed, God's revelations and Signs are self-evident. They commend themselves to their hearts, minds, and understandings, which are typified in Arabic by the word ṣadr, "breast".

3480. Cf. the last clause of verse 47 above. There the argument was that the rejection of the Qur-ān was a mark of Unbelief. Now the argument is carried a stage farther. Such rejection is also a mark of injustice, a deliberate perversity in going against obvious Signs, which should convince all honest men.

3481. See last note. In the Qur-ān, as said in verse 49, are Signs which should carry conviction to all honest hearts. And yet the Unbelievers ask for Signs! They mean some special kinds of Signs or Miracles, such as their own foolish minds dictate. Everything is possible for God, but God is not going to humour the follies of men or listen to their disingenuous demands. He has sent an Apostle to explain His Signs clearly, and to warn them of the consequences of rejection. Is it not enough?

3482. The perspicuous Qur-ān, explained in detail by God's Messenger, in conjunction with God's Signs in nature and in the hearts of men, should be enough for all. It is mere fractious opposition to demand vaguely something more. Cf. also vi. 124, and n. 946.

And you : He knows

 وَيَقُولُ ذُوقُوا مَا كُنتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ ○

3483. The test of a Revelation is whether it comes from God or not. This is made clear by the life and teachings of the Messenger who brings it. No fraud or falsehood can for a moment stand before God. All the most hidden things in heaven and earth are open before Him.

3484. If Truth is rejected, Truth does not suffer. It is the rejecters who suffer and perish in the end.

3485. Cf. xxii. 47 and n. 2826. The rejecters of Faith throw out a challenge out of bravado: "Let us see if you can hasten the punishment on us!" This is a vain taunt. God's Plan will take its course, and can neither be delayed nor hastened. It is out of His Mercy that He gives respite to sinners,—in order that they may have a chance of repentance. If they do not repent, the Punishment must certainly come to them—and on a sudden, before they perceive that it is coming! And then it will be too late for repentance.

3486. The challenge of the wicked for Punishment was answered in the last verse by reference to God's merciful Respite, to give chances of repentance. It is answered in this verse by an assurance that if no repentance is forthcoming, the Punishment will be certain and of an all-pervasive kind. Hell will surround them on all sides, and above them and below them.

3487. Cf. a similar phrase in vi, 65.

3488. This is not merely a reproach, but a justification of the Punishment. "It is you who brought it on yourselves by your evil deeds: blame none but yourselves. God's Mercy gave you many chances: His Justice has now overtaken you!"

3489. There is no excuse for any one to plead that he could not do good or was forced to evil by his circumstances and surroundings, or by the fact that he lived in evil times. We must shun evil and seek good, and God's Creation is wide enough to enable us to do that, provided we have the will, the patience, and the constancy to do it. It may be that we have to change our village or city or country ; or that we have to change our neighbours or associates ; or to change our habits or our hours, our position in life or our human relationships, or our callings. Our integrity before God is more important than any of these things, and we must be prepared for exile (or Hijrat) in all these senses. For the means with which God provides us for His service are ample, and it is our own fault if we fail.

3490. Cf. iii. 185, n. 491, and xxi. 35 and n. 2697. Death is the separation of the soul from the body when the latter perishes. We should not be afraid of death, for it only brings us back to God. The various kinds of hijrat or exile, physical and spiritual, mentioned in the last note, are also modes of death in a sense : what is there to fear in them ?

3491. The goodly homes mentioned in xvi. 41 referred to this life, but it was stated there that the reward of the Hereafter would be greater. Here the simile of the Home is referred to Heaven : it will be beautiful ; it will be picturesque, with the sight and sound of softly-murmuring streams ; it will be lofty or sublime ; and it will be eternal.

3492. If we look at the animal creation, we see that many creatures seem almost helpless to find their own food or sustain their full life, being surrounded by many enemies. Yet in the Plan of God they find full sustenance and protection. So does man. Man's needs—as well as helplessness—are by many degrees greater. Yet God provides for him as for all His creatures. God listens to the wish and cry of all His creatures and He knows their needs and how to provide for them all. Man should not therefore hesitate to suffer exile or persecution in God's Cause.

Sustenance? It is God
Who feeds (both) them and you :
For He hears and knows
(All things).

بَرَزْتُمْهَا ۗ اللَّهُ يَرْزُقُهَا وَإِيَّاكُمْ ۗ
وَهُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ ۝

61. If indeed thou ask them <sup>3493</sup>
Who has created the heavens
And the earth and subjected <sup>3494</sup>
The sun and the moon
(To His Law), they will Certainly reply, "God".
How are they then deluded
Away (from the truth)?

٦١- وَلَئِن سَأَلْتَهُمْ مَنْ خَلَقَ السَّمَوَاتِ
وَالْأَرْضَ وَسَخَّرَ الشَّمْسَ وَالْقَمَرَ
لَيَقُولنَّ اللَّهُ ۗ
فَأَنَّى يُؤْفَكُونَ ۝

62. God enlarges the sustenance
(Which He gives) to whichever
Of His servants He pleases, <sup>3495</sup>
And He (similarly) grants
By (strict) measure, (as He pleases) :
For God has full knowledge
Of all things.

٦٢- اللَّهُ يَبْسُطُ الرِّزْقَ
لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ مِنْ عِبَادِهِ
وَيَقْدِرُ لَهُ ۗ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عَلِيمٌ ۝

63. And if indeed thou ask them <sup>3496</sup>
Who it is that sends down
Rain from the sky,
And gives life therewith
To the earth after its death,
They will certainly reply,
"God!" Say, "Praise be To God!" But most
Of them understand not.

٦٣- وَلَئِن سَأَلْتَهُمْ مَنْ نَزَّلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ
مَاءً فَأَحْيَا بِهِ الْأَرْضَ مِنْ بَعْدِ مَوْتِهَا
لَيَقُولنَّ اللَّهُ ۗ قُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ ۗ
بَلْ أَكْثَرُهُمْ لَا يَعْقِلُونَ ۝

3493. Cf. xxiii. 84-89. "Them" in both passages refers to the sort of inconsistent men who acknowledge the power of God, but are deluded by false notions into disobedience of God's Law and disregard of God's Message.

3494. Cf. xiii. 2, and xxiii. 85. The perfect order and law in God's universe should be Signs to man's intelligence to get his own will into tune with God's Will; for only so can he hope to attain his full development.

3496. In xxix. 61 above, the point was that there is a certain type of man that realises the power of God, but yet goes after false ideas and false worship. Here the point is that there is another type of man to whom the goodness of God is made clear by rain and the gifts of nature and who realises the daily, seasonal, and secular changes which evidence God's goodness in giving us life (physical and spiritual) and reviving us after we seem to die,—and who yet fails to draw the right conclusion from it and to make his own life true and beautiful, so that, when his period of probation in this transitory life is ended, he can enter into his eternal heritage. Having come so far, such men fail at the crucial stage. At that stage they ought to have praised and glorified God and accepted His Grace and Light, but they show their want of true understanding by failing to profit by God's gifts.

SECTION 7.

64. What is the life of this world
But amusement and play? <sup>3497</sup>
But verily the Home
In the Hereafter,—that is
Life indeed, if they but knew.

65. Now, if they embark
On a boat, they call
On God, making their devotion
Sincerely (and exclusively) to
Him, <sup>3498</sup>
But when He has delivered
Them safely to (dry) land,
Behold, they give a share
(Of their worship to others)!—

66. Disdaining ungratefully Our gifts,
And giving themselves up <sup>3499</sup>
To (worldly) enjoyment! But soon
Will they know.

67. Do they not then see
That We have made
A Sanctuary secure, and that
Men are being snatched away
From all around them? <sup>3500</sup>
Then, do they believe in that

٦٣- وَمَا هَذِهِ الْحَيَاةُ الدُّنْيَا إِلَّا لَهْوٌ وَ
لَعِبٌ وَإِنَّ الدَّارَ الْآخِرَةَ لَهِيَ الْحَيَوَانُ
لَوْ كَانُوا يَعْلَمُونَ ○

٦٥- فَإِذَا رَكِبُوا فِي الْفُلِكِ
دَعَوْا اللَّهَ مُخْلِصِينَ لَهُ الدِّينَ ه
فَلَمَّا نَجَّاهُمْ إِلَى الدَّرِ
إِذَا هُمْ يُشْرِكُونَ ○

٦٦- لِيَكْفُرُوا بِمَا آتَيْنَاهُمْ ۖ وَلِيَتَمَتَّعُوا
فَسَوْفَ يَعْلَمُونَ ○

٦٧- أَوَلَمْ يَرَوْا أَنَّا جَعَلْنَا حَرَمًا آمِنًا
وَيُتَخَذَفُ النَّاسُ مِنْ حَوْلِهِمْ
أَقْبَالَ بَاطِلٍ يَوْمَ مَثْوَى

3497. Cf. vi. 32. Amusement and play have no lasting significance except as preparing us for the serious work of life. So this life is but an interlude, a preparation for the real Life, which is in the Hereafter. This world's vanities are therefore to be taken for what they are worth; but they are not to be allowed to deflect our minds from the requirements of the inner life that really matters.

3498. Cf. vii. 29, where I have slightly varied the English phrase according to the context.

It was shown in the last verse that the life of this world is fleeting, and that the true life—that which matters—is the Life of the Spirit. In contrast with this inner reality is now shown the short-sighted folly of man. When he faces the physical dangers of the sea, which are but an incident in the phenomenal world, he actually and sincerely seeks the help of God; but when he is safely back on land, he forgets the Realities, plunges into the pleasures and vanities of fleeting phenomena, and his devotion, which should be given exclusively to God, is shared by idols and vanities of his own imagination.

3499. Such folly results in the virtual rejection (even though it may not be express) of God and His Grace. It plunges man into the pleasures and vanities that merely delude and are bound to pass away. This delusion, however, will come to an end when the true Reality of the Hereafter will shine forth in all its splendour.

3500. If they want evidences of their folly in the phenomenal world itself, they will see sacred Sanctuaries where God's Truth abides safely in the midst of the Deluge of broken hopes, disappointed ambitions, and unfulfilled plans in the world around. The immediate reference was to the Sanctuary of Mecca and the gradual progress of Islam in the districts surrounding the Quraish in the midst of the trying Meccan period. But the general application holds good for all times and places.

Which is vain, and reject
The Grace of God ?

68. And who does more wrong<sup>3501</sup>
Than he who invents
A lie against God
Or rejects the Truth
When it reaches him ?
Is there not a home
In Hell for those who Reject Faith ?

69. And those who strive<sup>3502</sup>
In Our (Cause),—We will Certainly guide them
To Our Paths :<sup>3503</sup>
For verily God
Is with those
Who do right.

○ وَيَنْعَمَ اللَّهُ يَكْفُرُونَ

٦٨- وَمَنْ أَظْلَمُ مِمَّنِ افْتَرَى عَلَى اللَّهِ
كَذِبًا أَوْ كَذَّبَ بِالْحَقِّ لَمَّا جَاءَهُ
أَلَيْسَ فِي جَهَنَّمَ مَثْوًى
لِلْكَافِرِينَ ○

٦٩- وَالَّذِينَ جَاهَدُوا
فِينَا لَنَهْدِيَنَّهُمْ سُبُلَنَا
وَإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَمَعَ الْمُحْسِنِينَ ○

3501. Cf. vi. 21. Even from a worldly point of view those who reject God's Truth are at a disadvantage. But those who deliberately invent lies and set up false gods for worship,—what punishment can we imagine for them except a permanent deprivation of God's grace,—or in theological language, a home in Hell ?

3502. "Strive in Our Cause." All that man can do is to strive in God's Cause. As soon as he strives with might and main, with constancy and determination, the Light and Mercy of God come to meet him. They cure his defects and shortcomings. They provide him with the means by which he can raise himself above himself. They point out the Way, and all the Paths leading up to it. See next note.

3503. The Way of God (ṣirāt-ul-Mustaqim) is a Straight Way. But men have strayed from it in all directions. And there are numerous Paths by which they can get back to the Right Way, the Way in which the purity of their own nature, and the Will and Mercy of God, require them to walk. All these numerous Paths become open to them if once they give their hearts in keeping to God and work in right Endeavour (Jihād) with all their mind and soul and resources. Thus will they get out of the Spider's web of this frail world and attain to eternal Bliss in the fulfilment of their true Destiny.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXX (Rūm).

This Sūra, as remarked in the Introduction to the last Sūra, deals with the question of Ma'ad or the Final End of Things, from various points of view. In the last Sūra, we saw that Revelation was linked up with Life and Conduct, and Time (looking backwards and forwards) figured forth the frailty of this Life. In this Sūra the Time theme and its mystery are brought into relation with human history in the foreground and the evolution of the world in all its aspects in the background. The corruption introduced by man is cleared away by God, Whose Universal Plan points to the Hereafter. We shall see that the next two Sūras (xxx. and xxxii.) present the theme in other aspects. All four are introduced with the Abbreviated Letters A. L. M., which (without being dogmatic) I have suggested as symbolical of the Past, Present and Future.

The chronology of this Sūra is significant. It was revealed about the 7th or the 6th year before the Hijrat, corresponding to 615-16 of the Christian era, when the tide of Persian conquest over the Roman Empire was running strong, as explained in Appendix X (to follow this Sūra).. The Christian Empire of Rome had lost Jerusalem to the Persians, and Christianity had been humbled in the dust. At that time it seemed outside the bounds of human possibility, even to one intimately acquainted with the inner resources and conditions of the Persian and Roman armies and empires, that the tables would be turned and the position reversed within the space of eight or nine years. The pro-Persian Pagan Quraish rejoiced exceedingly, and redoubled their taunts and persecution against the holy Prophet, whose Message was a renewal of the Message of Christ preached in Jerusalem. Then was this passage xxx. 1-6 revealed, clearly foreshadowing the final defeat of Persia (Appendix X. 14-16) as a prelude to the destruction of the Persian Empire. There is no doubt about the prophecy and its fulfilment. For the exulting Pagans of Mecca laid a heavy wager against the fulfilment of the prophecy with Hadhrat 'Abū Bakr, and they lost it on its fulfilment.

But the rise and fall even of such mighty empires as the Persian and Roman Empires, were but small events on the chequer-board of Time, compared to a mightier movement that was taking birth in the promulgation of Islam. In the seventh or sixth year before the Hijrat, and for a year or two after the Hijrat, Islam was struggling in the world like the still small voice in the conscience of humanity. It was scarcely heeded, and when it sought to insist upon its divine claim, it was insulted, assaulted, persecuted, boycotted, and (as it seemed) suppressed. The agony of Ṭāif (two years before the Hijrat) and the murder-plot on the eve of the Hijrat were yet to come. But the purpose of God is not to be thwarted. Badr (A.H. 2 = A.D. 624), rightly called the critical Day of Decision, began to redress the balance of outward events in early Islam, in the same year in which Issus (Appendix X. 16) began to redress the balance of outward events in Perso-Roman relations. Mightier events were yet to come. A new inner World was being created through Islam.

This spiritual Revolution was of infinitely greater moment in world-history. The toppling down of priestcraft and false worship, the restoration of simplicity in faith and life, the rehabilitation of this life as the first step to the understanding of the Hereafter, the displacement of superstition and hair-splitting theology by a spirit of rational enquiry and knowledge, and the recognition of the divine as covering not merely an isolated thing called "Religion" but the whole way of Life, Thought, and Feeling,—this was and is the true Message of Islam and its mission. Its struggle—its fight—continues, but it is not without effect, as may be seen in the march of centuries in world-history.

Summary.—The ebb and flow of worldly power—as symbolised in the conflict of the Persian and Roman Empires—are but outward events: the deeper meaning is in the working of God's Universe—how Good and Evil reach their final-End (xxx. 1-19, and C. 180).

The changes and changing variety in God's Creation, physical, moral, and spiritual, yet point to Unity in Nature and Religion: man should not break away from that Unity, but glorify Him, the One, for there is none like unto Him (xxx. 20-40, and C. 181).

The hands of men have wrought corruption and mischief: but God purifies the moral world as He does the world of physical nature, strengthening the weak and pulling down the mighty in due season: wait therefore in patience and constancy, and be not depressed (xxx. 41-60, and C. 182).

C. 180.—Great Empires rise and fall, conquer
 (xxx. 1-19.) And are conquered, as nappened
 To Rome and Persia: but the true Decision
 Is with God, Who will make the righteous
 Rejoice. Men may see but the outward
 Crust of things, but in truth the End
 Of things is all-in-all. In His own
 Good time He will separate good from evil:
 Praise and glory to Him for ever!

Sūra XXX.

Rūm, or The Roman Empire.

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. A. I. Q.<sup>3504</sup>
- 2 The Roman Empire<sup>3505</sup>
Has been defeated—
3. In a land close by;
But they, (even) after
(This) defeat of theirs,
Will soon be victorious—<sup>3506</sup>
4. Within a few years.<sup>3507</sup>
With God is the Decision,
In the Past
And in the Future:
On that Day shall
The Believers rejoice—<sup>3508</sup>

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

۱- اَلَمْ ۞

۲- غَلَبَتِ الرُّومُ ۞

۳- فِي اَدْنَى الْاَرْضِ
وَهُمْ مِنْ بَعْدِ عَلَيْهِمْ سَيِّغُلِبُونَ ۞

۴- فِي بَضْعِ سِنِينَ ۞
لِلَّهِ الْاَمْرُ مِنْ قَبْلُ وَمِنْ بَعْدُ
وَيَوْمَئِذٍ يُفْرِحُ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ ۞

3504. See n. 25 to ii, 1 and Introduction to this Sūra.

3505. The remarkable defeats of the Roman Empire under Heraclius and the straits to which it was reduced are reviewed in Appendix X (to follow this Sūra). It was not merely isolated defeats; the Roman Empire lost most of its Asiatic territory and was hemmed in on all sides at its capital, Constantinople. The defeat, "in a land close by" must refer to Syria and Palestine. Jerusalem was lost in 614-15 A.D., shortly before this Sūra was revealed.

3506. The Pagan Quraish of Mecca rejoiced at the overthrow of Rome by Persia. They were pro-Persian, and in their heart of hearts they hoped that the nascent movement of Islam, which at that time was, from a worldly point of view, very weak and helpless, would also collapse under their persecution. But they misread the true Signs of the times. They are told here that they would soon be disillusioned in both their calculations, and it actually so happened at the battle of Issus in 622 (the year of Hijrat) and in 624, when Heraclius carried his campaign into the heart of Persia (see Appendix X) and the Meccan Quraish were beaten off at Badr.

3507. Bidh'un in the text means a short period—a period of from three to nine years. The period between the loss of Jerusalem (614-15) by the Romans and their victory at Issus (622) was seven years, and that to the penetration of Persia by Heraclius was nine years. See last note.

3508. See n. 3506 and Appendix X, pp. 1072-74. The battle of Bādr (2 A.H.,=624 A.D.) was a real time of rejoicing for the Believers and a time of disillusionment for the arrogant Quraish, who thought that they could crush the whole movement of Islam in Medina as they had tried to do in Mecca, but they were signally repulsed. See n. 352 to iii, 13.

5. With the help of God.
He helps whom He will, <sup>3509</sup>
And He is Exalted in Might,
Most Merciful.
6. (It is) the promise of God. <sup>3510</sup>
Never does God depart
From His promise:
But most men understand not.
7. They know but the outer <sup>3511</sup>
(Things) in the life
Of this world: but
Of the End of things <sup>3512</sup>
They are heedless.
8. Do they not reflect
In their own minds?
Not but for just ends <sup>3513</sup>
And for a term appointed,
Did God create the heavens
And the earth, and all
Between them: yet are there
Truly many among men
Who deny the meeting <sup>3514</sup>
With their Lord
(At the Resurrection)!

٥- يَنْصُرُ اللَّهُ يَنْصُرُ مَنْ يَشَاءُ
وَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ ۝

٦- وَعَدَ اللَّهُ لَا يُخْلِفُ اللَّهُ وَعْدَهُ
وَلَكِنَّ أَكْثَرَ النَّاسِ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ ۝

٧- يَعْلَمُونَ ظَاهِرًا مِّنَ الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا
وَهُمْ عَنِ الْآخِرَةِ هُمْ غٰفِلُونَ ۝

٨- أَوَلَمْ يَتَفَكَّرُوا فِي أَنفُسِهِمْ
مَا خَلَقَ اللَّهُ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْأَرْضَ
وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا إِلَّا بِأَحْسَنِ مَا هِيَ
وَإِنَّ كَثِيرًا مِّنَ النَّاسِ
بِلِقَآئِ رَبِّهِمْ لَكٰفِرُونَ ۝

3509. "Whom He will." As explained elsewhere, God's Will or Plan is not arbitrary: it is full of the highest wisdom. His Plan is formed in mercy, so as to safeguard the interests of all his creatures, against the selfish aggrandizement of any section of them. And He is able to carry out His Plan in full, and there is no power that can stop or delay His Plan.

3510. The promise refers to the Decision of all things by the Command of God, Who will remove all troubles and difficulties from the path of His righteous Believers, and help them to rejoice over the success of their righteous Cause. This refers to all times and all situations. The righteous should not despair in their darkest moments, for God's help will come. Ordinarily men are puffed up if they score a seeming temporary success against the righteous, and do not realise that God's Will can never be thwarted.

3511. Men are misled by the outward show of things, though the inner reality may be quite different. Many seeming disasters are really godsendings if we only understood.

3513. Cf. xv. 85. Here the argument is about the ebb and flow of worldly power, and the next clause is appropriately added, "and for a term appointed". Let not any one who is granted worldly power or advantage run away with the notion that it is permanent. It is definitely limited in the high Purpose of God, which is just and true. And an account will have to be given of it afterwards on a basis of strict personal responsibility.

3514. It is therefore all the more strange that there should be men who not only forget themselves but even deny that there is a return to God or an End or Hereafter, when a full reckoning will be due for this period of probation. They are asked to study past history, as in the next verse.

9. Do they not travel
Through the earth, and see
What was the End
Of those before them ?
They were superior to them
In strength : they tilled
The soil and populated it
In greater numbers than these
Have done : there came to them
Their apostles with Clear (Signs),<sup>3515</sup>
(Which they rejected, to their Own destruction) : it was not
God who wronged them, but
They wronged their own souls.

٩- أَوَلَمْ يَسِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ
فَيَنْظُرُوا كَيْفَ كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الَّذِينَ مِنْ
قَبْلِهِمْ كَانُوا أَشَدَّ مِنْهُمْ قُوَّةً
وَآثَارُوا الْأَرْضَ وَعَمَرُوهَا أَكْثَرَ مِمَّا
عَمَرُوهَا وَجَاءَتْهُمْ رُسُلُهُمْ بِالْبَيِّنَاتِ
فَمَا كَانَ اللَّهُ لِيَظْلِمَهُمْ
وَلَكِنْ كَانُوا أَنْفُسَهُمْ يَظْلِمُونَ ۝

10. In the long run
Evil in the extreme<sup>3516</sup>
Will be the End of those
Who do evil; for that
They rejected the Signs
Of God, and held them up
To ridicule.

١٠- ثُمَّ كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الَّذِينَ آسَاءُوا وَالشُّرَّاءِ
أَنْ كَذَّبُوا بِآيَاتِ اللَّهِ
وَكَانُوا بِهَا يَسْتَهْزِءُونَ ۝

SECTION 2.

11. It is God Who begins
(The process of) creation;<sup>3517</sup>
Then repeats it; then
Shall ye be brought back
To Him.

١١- اللَّهُ يَبْدَأُ الْخَلْقَ ثُمَّ يُعِيدُهُ
ثُمَّ إِلَيْهِ تُرْجَعُونَ ۝

3515. Let not any generation think that it is superior to all that went before it. We may be "heirs to all the ages, in the foremost files of time". That is no reason for arrogance, but on the contrary adds to our responsibility. When we realise what flourishing cities and kingdoms existed before, how they flourished in numbers and prosperity, what chances they were given, and how they perished when they disobeyed the law of God, we shall feel a sense of humility, and see that it was rebellion and self-will that brought them down. God was more than just. He was also merciful. But they brought about their own ruin.

3516. The Arabic superlative feminine, referring to the feminine noun 'Āqibat, I have translated by "Evil in the extreme". In this life good and evil may seem to be mixed up, and it may be that some things or persons that are evil get what seem to be good rewards or blessings, while the opposite happens to the good. But this is only a temporary appearance. In the long run Evil will have its own evil consequences, multiplied cumulatively. And this, because Evil not only rejected God's Message of Good but laughed at Good and misled others.

3517. Nothing exists of its own accord or fortuitously. It is God Who originates all creation. What appears to be death may be only transformation; for God can and does recreate. And His creative activity is continuous. Our death is but a phenomenal event. What we become after death is the result of a process of recreation by God, Who is both the source and the goal of all things. When we are brought back to him, it will be as conscious and responsible beings, to receive the consequences of our brief life on this earth.

12. On the Day that
The Hour will be established,<sup>3518</sup>
The guilty will be
Struck dumb with despair.

١٢- وَيَوْمَ تَقُومُ السَّاعَةُ
يُبْلِسُ الْمُجْرِمُونَ ○

13. No intercessor will they have Among their "Partners",<sup>3519</sup>
And they will (themselves)
Reject their "Partners".

١٣- وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُمْ مِنْ شُرَكَائِهِمْ شُفَعَاءُ
وَكَانُوا بِشُرَكَائِهِمْ كَافِرِينَ ○

14. On the Day that
The Hour will be established,—
That Day shall (all men)<sup>3520</sup>
Be sorted out.

١٤- وَيَوْمَ تَقُومُ السَّاعَةُ
يَوْمَئِذٍ يَتَفَرَّقُونَ ○

15. Then those who have believed
And worked righteous deeds,
Shall be made happy
In a Mead of Delight.

١٥- فَأَمَّا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
فَهُمْ فِي رَوْضَةٍ يُحْبَرُونَ ○

16. And those who have rejected
Faith and falsely denied
Our Signs and the meeting
Of the Hereafter,—such
Shall be brought forth to Punishment.

١٦- وَأَمَّا الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا وَكَذَّبُوا بِآيَاتِنَا
وَالْفِتْيَانِ الْآخِرَةِ
فَأُولَئِكَ فِي الْعَذَابِ مُحْضَرُونَ ○

17. So (give) glory to God,
When ye reach eventide<sup>3521</sup>

١٧- فَسُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ حِينَ تُمْسُونَ

3518. The Hour will be established: in due time the Hour will come when Judgment will be established, and the seeming disturbance of balance in this world will be redressed. Then the Good will rejoice, and the Guilty, faced with the Realities, will lose all their illusions and be struck dumb with despair.

3519. False worship will then appear in its true colours. Anything to which we offered the worship due to God alone, will vanish instead of being of any help. Indeed the deluded false worshippers, whose eyes will now be opened, will themselves reject their falsehoods, as the Truth will now shine with unquestioned splendour.

3520. In the fullness of time good and evil will all be sorted out and separated. The good will reach their destination of felicity in rich and luscious, well-watered meadows, which stand as the type of all that is fair to see and pleasant to feel. The evil will no longer imagine that they are enjoying good fortune, for the testing time will be over, and the grim reality will stare them in the face. That will be their Punishment.

3521. The special times for God's remembrance are so described as to include all our activities in life,—when we rise early in the morning, and when we go to rest in the evening: when we are in the midst of our work, at the decline of the sun, and in the late afternoon. It may be noted that these are all striking stages in the passage of the sun through our terrestrial day, as well as stages in our daily working lives. On this are based the hours of the five canonical prayers afterwards prescribed in Medina; viz. (1) early morning before sunrise (Fajr); (2) when the day begins to decline, just after noon (Zuhr); (3) in the late afternoon, say midway between noon and sunset ('Aṣr); and (4) and (5) the two evening prayers, one just after sunset (Magrib), and the other after the evening twilight has all faded from the horizon, the hour indicated for rest and sleep ('Ishā). Cf. xi. 114, nn. 1616-17; xvii. 78-79, n. 2275; xx. 130, n. 2655.

And when ye rise
In the morning;

SECTION 3.

20. Among His Signs is this,
That He created you <sup>3524</sup>

۲۰- وَمِنْ آيَاتِهِ أَنْ خَلَقَكُمْ

3522. Cf. x. 31. From dead matter God's creative act produces life and living matter, and even science has not yet been able to explain the mystery of life. Life and living matter again seem to reach maturity and again die, as we see every day. No material thing seems to have perpetual life. But again we see the creative process of God constantly at work, and the cycle of life and death seems to go on.

3523. Cf. ii. 164. The earth itself, seemingly so inert, produces vegetable life at once from a single shower of rain, and in various ways sustains animal life. Normally it seems to die in the winter in northern climates, and in a drought everywhere, and the spring revives it in all its glory. Metaphorically many movements, institutions, organisations, seem to die and then to live again, all under the wonderful dispensation of God. So will our personality be revived when we apparently die on this earth, in order to reap the fruit of this our probationary life.

3524. Cf. xviii. 37 and n. 2379. In spite of the lowly origin of man's body, God has given him a mind and soul by which he can almost compass the farthest reaches of Time and Space. Is this not enough for a miracle or Sign? From a physical point of view, see how man, a creature of dust, scatters himself over the farthest corners of the earth !

From dust; and then,—
Behold, ye are men
Scattered (far and wide)!

٢٣- وَمِنْ آيَاتِهِ مَنَامُكُمْ بِاللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ
وَإِبتِغَاؤُكُمْ

3525. This refers to the wonderful mystery of sex. Children arise out of the union of the sexes. And it is always the female sex that brings forth the offspring, whether female or male. And the father is as necessary as the mother for bringing forth daughters.

3526. Cf. vii. 189. Unregenerate man is pugnacious in the male sex, but rest and tranquillity are found in the normal relations of a father and mother dwelling together and bringing up a family. A man's chivalry to the opposite sex is natural and God-given. The friendship of two men between each other is quite different in quality and temper from the feeling which unspoilt nature expects as between men and women. There is a special kind of love and tenderness between them. And as woman is the weaker vessel, that tenderness may from a certain aspect be likened to mercy, the protecting kindness which the strong should give to the weak.

3527. The variations in languages and colours may be viewed from the geographical aspect or from the aspect of periods of time. All mankind were created of a single pair of parents; yet they have spread to different countries and climates and developed different languages and different shades of complexions. And yet their basic unity remains unaltered. They feel in the same way, and are all equally under God's care. Then there are the variations in time. Old languages die out and new ones are evolved. New conditions of life and thought are constantly evolving new words and expressions, new syntactical structures, and new modes of pronunciation. Even old races die, and new races are born.

3528. If we consider deeply, sleep and dreams, the refreshment we get from sleep to wakefulness as well as from wakefulness to sleep, as also the state of our thoughts and feelings and sub-conscious self in these conditions, are both wonderful and mysterious. Normally we sleep by night and do our ordinary work "in quest of the Bounty of God" by day. But sleep and rest may come and be necessary by day, and we may have to work by night. And our work for our livelihood may pass by insensible transitions to our work or thought or service of a higher and spiritual kind. These processes suggest a background of things which we know but vaguely, but which are as much miracles as other Signs of God.

3529. From verse 20 to verse 25 are mentioned a series of Signs or Miracles, which should awaken our souls and lead us to true Reality if we try to understand God. (1) There is our own origin and destiny, which must necessarily be our subjective starting-point: "I think; therefore I am": no particular exertion of our being is here necessary (xxx. 20). (2) The first beginnings of social life arise through sex and love: see iv. 1, and n. 506; to understand this in all its bearings, we must "reflect" (xxx. 21). (3) The next point is to understand our diversities in speech, colour, etc., arising from differences of climate and external conditions; yet there is unity beneath that diversity, which we shall realise by extended knowledge (xxx. 22). (4) Next we turn to our psychological conditions, sleep, rest, visions, insight, etc.; here we want teaching and guidance, to which we must hearken (xxx. 23). (5) Next, we must approach the higher reaches of spiritual hopes and fears, as symbolised by such subtle forces of nature as lightning and electricity, which may kill the foolish or bring prosperity in its train by rain and abundant harvests; to understand the highest spiritual hopes and fears so symbolised, we want the highest wisdom (xxx. 24). (6) And lastly, we may become so transformed that we rise above all petty, worldly, ephemeral things: God calls to us and we rise, as from our dead selves to a Height which we can only describe as the Heaven of stability: here no human processes serve, for the Call of God Himself has come (xxx. 25-27).

3530. See last note, item (5) Cf. xiii. 12. To cowards lightning and thunder appear as terrible forces of nature: lightning seems to kill and destroy where its irresistible progress is not assisted by proper lightning-conductors. But lightning is also a herald of rain-bearing clouds and showers that bring fertility and prosperity in their train. This double aspect is also symbolical of spiritual fears and hopes,—fears lest we may not be found receptive or worthy of the irresistible perspicuous Message of God, and hopes that we may receive it in the right spirit and be blessed by its mighty power of transformation to achieve spiritual well-being. Note that the repetition of the phrase "gives life to the earth after it is dead" connects this verse with verse 19 above: in other words, the Revelation, which we must receive with wisdom and understanding, is a Sign of God's own power and mercy, and is vouchsafed in order to safeguard our own final Future.

3531. In the physical world, the sky and the earth, as we see them, stand unsupported, by the artistry of God. They bear witness to God, and in—that our physical life depends on them—the earth for its produce and the sky for rain, the heat of the sun, and other phenomena of nature—they call to our mind our relation to God Who made them and us. How can we then be so dense as not to realise that our higher Future—our Ma'ad—is bound up with the call and the mercy of God?

26. To Him belongs every being
That is in the heavens
And on earth: all are <sup>3532</sup>
Devoutly obedient to Him.

۲۶- وَ لَهُ مَنْ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ
وَ الْأَرْضِ كُلٌّ لَهُ فَنِتُونَ ۝

27. It is He Who begins
(The process of) creation; <sup>3533</sup>
Then repeats it; and
For Him it is most easy.
To Him belongs the loftiest <sup>3534</sup>
Similitude (we can think of)
In the heavens and the earth:
For He is Exalted in Might,
Full of wisdom.

۲۷- وَ هُوَ الَّذِي يَبْدَأُ الْخَلْقَ
ثُمَّ يُعِيدُهُ
وَ هُوَ أَهْوَنُ عَلَيْهِ ۗ وَ لَهُ الْمَثَلُ الْأَعْلَى
فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَ الْأَرْضِ ۗ
وَ هُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ ۝

SECTION 4.

28. He does propound
To you a similitude
From your own (experience): <sup>3535</sup>
Do ye have partners
Among those whom your right hands
Possess, to share as equals
In the wealth We have <sup>3536</sup>

۲۸- ضَرَبَ لَكُمْ مَثَلًا مِّنْ أَنْفُسِكُمْ ۗ
هَلْ لَّكُمْ مِّنْ مَّا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُكُمْ
مِّنْ شُرَكَاءَ فِي مَّا رَزَقْنَاكُمْ
فَأَنْتُمْ فِيهِ سَوَاءٌ ۚ

3532. All nature in Creation not only obeys God, but devoutly obeys Him, i.e., glories in its privilege of service and obedience. Why should we not do likewise? It is part of our original unspoilt nature, and we must respond to it, as all beings do, by their very nature.

3533. Cf. xxx. 11 above, where the same phrase began the argument about the beginning and end of all things being with God. This has been illustrated by reference to various Signs in Creation, and now the argument is rounded off with the same phrase.

3534. God's glory and God's attributes are above any names we can give to them. Human language is not adequate to express them. We can only form some idea of them at our present stage by means of Similitudes and Parables. But even so, the highest we can think of falls short of the true Reality. For God is higher and wiser than the highest and wisest we can think of.

3535. One way in which we can get some idea of the things higher than our own plane is to think of Parables and Similitudes drawn from our own lives and experience. And such a Similitude or Parable is offered to us now about false worship. See next note.

3536. God is far higher above His Creation than any, the highest, of His creatures can be above any, the lowest, of His creatures. And yet would a man share his wealth on equal terms with his dependants? Even what he calls his wealth is not really his own, but given by God. It is "his" in common speech by reason merely of certain accidental circumstances. How then can men raise God's creatures to equality with God in worship?

Bestowed on you? Do ye
 Fear them as ye fear<sup>3537</sup>
 Each other? Thus do We

۳۰- فَأَقِمَّ وَجْهَكَ لِلدِّينِ حَنِيفًا
 فطرت الله التي فطر الناس عليها
 لا تبديل لخلق

3537. Men fear each other as equals in a state of society at perpetual warfare. To remove this fear they appoint an authority among themselves—a King or sovereign authority whom they consider just—to preserve them from this fear and give them an established order. But they must obey and revere this authority and depend upon this authority for their own tranquillity and security. Even with their equals there is always the fear of public opinion. But men do not fear, or obey, or revere those who are their slaves or dependents. Man is dependent on God. And God is the Sovereign authority in an infinitely higher sense. He is in no sense dependent on us, but we must honour and revere Him and fear to disobey His Will or His Law. "The fear of God is the beginning of wisdom."

3538. Cf. vi. 55, and vii. 32, 174, etc.

3540. For Hanif see n. 134 to ii, 135. Here "true" is used in the sense in which we say, "the magnetic needle is true to the north." Those who have been privileged to receive the Truth should never hesitate or swerve, but remain constant, as men who know.

3541. As turned out from the creative hand of God, man is innocent, pure, true, free, inclined to right and virtue, and endued with true understanding about his own position in the Universe and about God's goodness, wisdom, and power. That is his true nature, just as the nature of a lamb is to be gentle and of a horse is to be swift. But man is caught in the meshes of customs, superstitions, selfish desires, and false teaching. This may make him pugnacious, unclean, false, slavish, hankering after what is wrong or forbidden, and deflected from the love of his fellow-men and the pure worship of the One True God. The problem before spiritual Teachers is to cure this crookedness, and to restore human nature to what it should be under the Will of God.

فَتَمَتَّعُوا ۝ فَسَوْفَ

3542. In ix. 36 I translated Dīn qaiyim as "straight usage." Here the meaning is wider, as it includes the whole life, thoughts and desires of man. The "standard Religion," or the Straight Way is thus contrasted with the various human systems that conflict with each other and call themselves separate "religions" or "sects" (see verse 32 below). God's standard Religion is one, as God is One.

3543. "Repentance" does not mean sackcloth and ashes, or putting on a gloomy pessimism. It means giving up disease for health, crookedness (which is abnormal) for the Straight Way, the restoration of our nature as God created it from the falsity introduced by the enticements of Evil. To revert to the simile of the magnetic needle (n. 3540 above), if the needle is held back by obstructions, we must restore its freedom, so that it points true again to the magnetic pole.

3544. A good description of self-satisfied sectarianism as against real Religion. See n. 3542 above.

3545. Cf. x. 12. It is trouble, distress, or adversity that makes men realise their helplessness and turns their attention back to the true Source of all goodness and happiness. But when they are shown special Mercy—often more than they deserve—they forget themselves and attribute it to their own cleverness, or to the stars, or to some false ideas to which they pay court and worship, either to the exclusion of God or in addition to the lip-worship which they pay to God. Their action in any case amounts to gross ingratitude; but in the circumstances it looks as if they had gone out of their way to show ingratitude.

3546. Cf. xvi. 54. They are welcome to their fancies and false worship, and to the enjoyment of the pleasures of this Life, but they will soon be disillusioned. Then they will realise the true values of the things they neglected and the things they cultivated.

3547. Their behaviour is exactly as if they were satisfied within themselves that they were entitled or given a licence to worship God and Mammon. In fact the whole thing is their own invention or delusion.

3548. Cf. xxx. 33. In that passage the unreasonable behaviour of men in sorrow and in affluence is considered with reference to their attitude to God: in distress they turn to Him, but in prosperity they turn to other things. Here the contrast in the two situations is considered with reference to men's inner psychology: in affluence they are puffed up and unduly elated, and in adversity they lose all heart. Both attitudes are wrong. In prosperity men should realise that it is not their merits that deserve all the Bounty of God, but that it is given out of God's abundant generosity; in adversity they should remember that their suffering is brought on by their own folly and sin, and humbly pray for God's grace and mercy, in order that they may be set on their feet again. For, as the next verse points out, God gives opportunities, gifts, and the good things of life to every one, but in a greater or less measure, and at some time or other, according to His All-Wise Plan, which is the expression of His holy and benevolent Will.

3549. Cf. xxviii. 82 and n. 3412. Also see last note. God's grant of certain gifts to some, as well as His withholding of certain gifts from others, are themselves Signs (trials or warnings) to men of faith and understanding.

وَمَا أَنْتُمْ مِنْ زَكَاةٍ
تُرِيدُونَ وَجْهَ اللَّهِ
فَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْمُضْعِفُونَ ○

٤٠- اللَّهُ الَّذِي خَلَقَكُمْ ثُمَّ رَزَقَكُمْ
ثُمَّ يُيْتِنَكُمْ ثُمَّ يُحْيِيكُمْ
هَلْ مِنْ شُرَكَائِكُمْ
مَنْ يَفْعَلُ مِنْ ذَلِكُمْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ
سُبْحٰنَهُ وَتَعَالَى عَمَّا يُشْرِكُونَ ۞

3550. For Wajh (Face, Countenance), see n. 114 to ii. 112. Also see vi. 52.

3551. In both this life and the next. See n. 29 to ii. 5.

3552. Ribā is any increase sought through illegal means, such as usury, bribery, profiteering, fraudulent trading, etc. See ii. 275-277 and notes 324-327. All unlawful grasping of wealth at other people's expense is condemned. Economic selfishness and many kinds of sharp practices, individual, national, and international, come under this ban. The principle is that any profit which we should seek should be through our own exertions and at our own expense, not through exploiting other people or at their expense, however we may wrap up the process in the spacious phraseology of high finance or City jargon. But we are asked to go beyond this negative precept of avoiding what is wrong. We should show our active love for our neighbour by spending of our own substance or resources or the utilisation of our own talents and opportunities in the service of those who need them. Then our reward or recompense will not be merely what we deserve. It will be multiplied to many times more than our strict account.

3553. Seeking the "Face" or "Countenance" of God, i.e., out of our pure love for the Didār-i-Ilāhi, the true vision of God's own Self. See also n. 3550 above.

3554. The persons or things or ideas to which we give part-worship, while our whole and exclusive worship is due to God, are the "Partners" we set up. Do we owe our existence to them? Do they sustain our being? Can they take our life or give it back to us? Certainly not. Then how foolish of us to give them part-worship!

3555. Cf. x. 18 and similar passages.

C. 182.—The result of Evil is Evil. So

(xxx. 41-60.) Mischief spreads, but God will restore
The balance in the End. He did create
All things pure, and will purge and purify,
As He does the physical world with Winds.
Destruction awaits those that break
His Harmony and Law: it will come when least
Expected. Let the righteous wait and endure
With constancy, for Evil is shaky,
With no faith in itself and no roots,
And is doomed to perish utterly.

SECTION 5.

41. Mischief has appeared
On land and sea because
Of (the meed) that the hands
Of men have earned,<sup>3556</sup>
That (God) may give them
A taste of some of their
Deeds: in order that they<sup>3557</sup>
May turn back (from Evil).

٣١-ظَهَرَ الْفَسَادُ فِي الْبَرِّ وَالْبَحْرِ
بِمَا كَسَبَتْ أَيْدِي النَّاسِ
لِيذِيقَهُمْ بَعْضَ الَّذِي عَمِلُوا
لَعَلَّهُمْ يَرْجِعُونَ ○

42. Say: "Travel through the earth
And see what was the End
Of those before (you):
Most of them worshipped<sup>3558</sup>
Others besides God."

٣٢-قُلْ سِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ
فَأَنْظُرُوا كَيْفَ كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الَّذِينَ مِنْ
قَبْلُ كَانُوا أَكْثَرَهُمْ مُشْرِكِينَ ○

43. But set thou thy face
To the right Religion,
Before there come from God
The Day which there is<sup>3559</sup>

٣٣-فَاقِمِ وَجْهَكَ لِلدِّينِ الْقَيِّمِ
مِنْ قَبْلِ أَنْ يَأْتِيَ يَوْمٌ لَا مَرَدَ لَهُ

3556. God's Creation was pure and good in itself. All the mischief or corruption was introduced by Evil, viz., arrogance, selfishness, etc. See n. 3541 to xxx. 30 above. As soon as the mischief has come in, God's mercy and goodness step in to stop it. The consequences of Evil must be evil, and this should be shown in such partial punishment as "the hands of men have earned," so that it may be a warning for the future and an invitation to enter the door of repentance.

3557. The ultimate object of God's justice and punishment is to reclaim man from Evil, and to restore him to the pristine purity and innocence in which he was created. The Evil introduced by his possession of a limited free-will should be eliminated by the education and purification of man's own will. For, with his will and motives purified, he is capable of much greater heights than a creature not endowed with any free-will.

3558. If you contemplate history and past experience (including spiritual experience), you will find that evil and corruption tended to destroy themselves, because they had false idols for worship, false standards of conduct, and false goals of desire.

3559. We should recover the balance that has been upset by Evil and Falsehood before it is too late. For a Day will surely come when true values will be restored and all falsehood and evil will be destroyed. Nothing but repentance and amendment can avert the consequences of Evil. When the Day actually comes, repentance will be too late: for the impassable barrier between Evil and Good will have been fixed, and the chance of return to God's pattern will have been lost.

No chance of averting :
On that Day shall men
Be divided (in two).<sup>3560</sup>

44. Those who reject Faith
Will suffer from that rejection :
And those who work righteousness
Will spread their couch
(Of repose) for themselves
(In heaven) :

45. That He may reward those
Who believe and work righteous
Deeds, out of His Bounty.<sup>3561</sup>
For He loves not those
Who reject Faith.<sup>3562</sup>

46. Among His Signs is this,<sup>3563</sup>
That He sends the Winds,
As heralds of Glad Tidings,
Giving you a taste
Of His (Grace and) Mercy,—<sup>3564</sup>
That the ships may sail
(Majestically) by His Command
And that ye may seek<sup>3565</sup>

مِنَ اللَّهِ يَوْمَئِذٍ يُضَدُّ عُنُونَ

۴۴- مَن كَفَرَ فَعَلَيْهِ كُفْرُهُ
وَمَن عَمِلَ صَالِحًا
فَلَا نَفْسَ لَهُم يَوْمَئِذٍ

۴۵- لِيَجْزِيَ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
مِنْ فَضْلِهِ
إِنَّهُ لَا يُحِبُّ الْكَافِرِينَ

۴۶- وَمِن آيَاتِهِ أَنْ يُرْسِلَ الرِّيَّاحَ
مُبَشِّرَاتٍ
وَلِيُنْفِثَ فِيكُمْ مِنْ رَحْمَتِهِ
وَلِتَجْرِيَ الْفُلُكُ بِأَمْرِهِ وَلِتَبْتَغُوا

3560. The sharp division will then have been accomplished between the unfortunate ones who rejected Truth and Faith and will suffer for their rejection, and the righteous who will attain Peace and Salvation : see next verse. Note that the state of the Blessed will not be merely a passive state. They will actively earn and contribute to their own happiness : "they will spread their couch of repose for themselves."

3561. Though the repose and bliss will have been won by the righteous by their own efforts, it must not be supposed that their own merits were equal to the reward they will earn. What they will get will be due to the infinite Grace and Bounty of God.

3562. In form this clause is (here as elsewhere) negative, but it has a positive meaning : God loves those who have faith and trust in Him, and will, out of His Grace and Bounty, reward them in abundant measure.

3563. The theme of God's artistry in the physical and the spiritual world was placed before us above in xxx. 20-27. Then, in verses 28-40, we were shown how man and nature were pure as they came out of the hand of God, and how we must restore this purity in order to fulfil the Will and Plan of God. Now we are told how the restorative and purifying agencies are sent by God Himself,—in both the physical and the spiritual world.

3564. Cf. vii. 57 and n. 1036 and xxv. 48 and n. 3104.

3565. In the physical world, the winds not only cool and purify the air, and bring the blessings of rain, which fertilises the soil, but they help international commerce and intercourse among men through sea-ways and now by air-ways. Those who know how to take advantage of these blessings of God prosper and rejoice, while those who ignore or fail to understand these Signs perish in storms. So in the spiritual world : heralds of glad tidings were sent by God in the shape of apostles : those who profited by their Message prospered in spiritual gain, and those who ignored or opposed the Clear Signs perished spiritually : see next verse.

Of His Bounty : in order
That ye may be grateful.

47. We did indeed send,
Before thee, apostles
To their (respective) peoples,
And they came to them
With Clear Signs : then,
To those who transgressed,
We meted out Retribution :
And it was due from us
To aid those who believed.

48. It is God Who sends
The Winds, and they raise <sup>3566</sup>
The Clouds : then does He Spread them in the sky
As He wills, and break them
Into fragments, until thou seest
Rain-drops issue from the midst
Thereof : then when He has Made them reach such <sup>3567</sup>
Of His servants as He wills,
Behold, they do rejoice!—

49. Even though, before they received
(The rain)—just before this—
They were dumb with despair!

50. Then contemplate (O man !)
The memorials of God's Mercy!—
How He gives life <sup>3568</sup>
To the earth after
Its death : verily the Same
Will give life to the men

مِنْ فَضْلِهِ وَلَعَلَّكُمْ تَشْكُرُونَ ○

٣٦- وَلَقَدْ أَرْسَلْنَا مِنْ قَبْلِكَ رُسُلًا إِلَىٰ

قَوْمِهِمْ

فَجَاءَهُمْ وَهُمْ بِالْبَيِّنَاتِ

فَأَنْتَقَمْنَا مِنَ الَّذِينَ أَجْرُمُوا

وَكَانَ حَقًّا عَلَيْنَا نَصْرُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ ○

٣٧- اللَّهُ الَّذِي يُرْسِلُ الرِّيحَ فَتُثِيرُ سَحَابًا

فَإِذَا أَصَابَ بِهِ مَنْ يَشَاءُ مِنْ عِبَادِنَا

إِذَا هُمْ يَسْتَبْشِرُونَ ○

٣٨- وَإِنْ كَانُوا مِنْ قَبْلِ أَنْ يُنْزَلَ

عَلَيْهِمْ مِنْ قَبْلِهِ كِئْبِيسِينَ ○

٥٠- فَانظُرْ إِلَىٰ اثْرِ رَحْمَتِ اللَّهِ

كَيْفَ يُحْيِي الْأَرْضَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِهَا

إِنَّ ذَٰلِكَ لَسَجِي

3566. Again the Parable of the Winds is presented from another aspect, both physical and spiritual. In the physical world, see their play with the Clouds; how they suck up the moisture from terrestrial water, carry it about in dark clouds as needed, and break it up with rain as needed. So God's wonderful Grace draws up men's spiritual aspirations from the most unlikely places and suspends them as dark mysteries, according to His holy Will and Plan; and when His Message reaches the hearts of men even in the smallest fragments, how its recipients rejoice, even though before it, they were in utter despair!

3567. See last note.

3568. After the two Parables about the purifying action of the Winds and their fertilizing action, we now have the Parable of the earth that dies in winter or drought and lives again in spring or rain, by God's Grace: so in the spiritual sphere, man may be dead and may live again by the Breath of God and His Mercy if he will only place himself in God's hands.

Who are dead : for He
Has power over all things.

الْمَوْتَىٰ وَهُوَ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ ۝

51. And if We (but) send
A Wind from which <sup>3559</sup>
They see (their tilth)
Turn yellow,—behold,
They become, thereafter,
Ungrateful (Unbelievers)!

۝-۵۱ وَلَئِن أَرْسَلْنَا رِيحًا
فَرَأَوْهُ مُصْفَرًّا الظَّلَاةَ مِنْ بَعْدِهِ
يَكْفُرُونَ ۝

52. So verily thou canst not Make the dead to hear, <sup>3570</sup>
Nor canst thou make
The deaf to hear
The call, when they show
Their backs and turn away.

۝-۵۲ فَإِنَّكَ لَا تَسْمِعُ الْمَوْتَىٰ
وَلَا تَسْمِعُ الصُّمَّ الدُّعَاءَ
إِذَا وَلَّوْا مُدْبِرِينَ ۝

53. Nor canst thou lead back
The blind from their straying : <sup>3571</sup>
Only those wilt thou make
To hear, who believe
In Our Signs and submit
(Their wills in Islam).

۝-۵۳ وَمَا أَنْتَ بِهَادٍ الْعُمَىٰ عَنْ ضَلَّتِيهِمْ
إِنَّ تَسْمِعُ إِلَّا مَنْ يُؤْمِنُ
بِآيَاتِنَا فَهُمْ مُسْلِمُونَ ۝

SECTION 6.

54. It is God Who
Created you in a state
Of (helpless) weakness, then
Gave (you) strength after weakness,

۝-۵۴ اللَّهُ الَّذِي خَلَقَكُمْ مِنْ ضَعْفٍ
ثُمَّ جَعَلَ مِنْ بَعْدِ ضَعْفٍ قُوَّةً

3569. Another Parable from the forces of nature. We saw how the Winds gladdened, vivified, and enriched those who utilised them in the right spirit. But a wind might be destructive to tilth in certain circumstances: so the blessings of God may—by the wrong-doers resisting and blaspheming—bring punishment to the wrong-doers. Instead of taking the punishment in the right spirit—in the spirit in which Believers of God take their misfortunes,—the Unbelievers curse and deepen their sin!

3570. The marvels of God's creation can be realised in a general way by every one who has a disposition to allow such knowledge to penetrate his mind. But if men, out of perversity, kill the very faculties which God has given them, how can they then understand? Besides the men who deaden their spiritual sense, there are men who may be likened to the deaf, who lack one faculty but to whom an appeal can be made through other faculties, such as the sense of sight; but if they turn their backs and refuse to be instructed at all, how can the Truth reach them?

3571. See last note. Then there is the case of men about whom the saying holds true, that none are so blind as those who will not see. They prefer to stray in paths of wrong and of sense-pleasures. How can they be guided in any way? The only persons who gain by spiritual teaching are those who bring a mind to it—who believe and submit their wills to God's Will. This is the central doctrine of Islam.

Then, after strength, gave (you)
Weakness and a hoary head : <sup>3572</sup>
He creates as He wills,
And it is He Who has
All knowledge and power.

ثُمَّ جَعَلَ مِنْ بَعْدِ قُوَّةٍ ضَعْفًا وَشَيْبَةً
يَخْلُقُ مَا يَشَاءُ وَهُوَ الْعَلِيمُ الْقَدِيرُ ○

55. On the Day that
The Hour (of reckoning)
Will be established, <sup>3573</sup>
The transgressors will swear
That they tarried not
But an hour : thus were
They used to being deluded !

٥٥- وَيَوْمَ تَقُومُ السَّاعَةُ يُقْسِمُ الْمُجْرِمُونَ
مَا لَبِثُوا غَيْرَ سَاعَةٍ
كَذَلِكَ كَانُوا يُؤْفَكُونَ ○

56. But those endued with knowledge
And faith will say :
“ Indeed ye did tarry,
Within God’s Decree,
To the Day of Resurrection,
And this is the Day <sup>3574</sup>
Of Resurrection : but ye—
Ye were not aware ! ”

٥٦- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ أُوتُوا الْعِلْمَ وَالْإِيمَانَ
لَقَدْ لَبِثْتُمْ فِي كِتَابِ اللَّهِ إِلَى يَوْمِ الْبَعْثِ
فَهَذَا يَوْمُ الْبَعْثِ
وَلَكِن كُنْتُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ ○

57. So on that Day no excuse
Of theirs will
Avail the Transgressors, <sup>3575</sup>
Nor will they be invited (then)
To seek grace (by repentance).

٥٧- فَيَوْمَئِذٍ لَا يَنْفَعُ الَّذِينَ ظَلَمُوا مَعذِرَتُهُمْ
وَلَا هُمْ يُسْتَعْتَبُونَ ○

3572. What was said before about the people who make God’s teaching “of none effect” does not mean that Evil will defeat Good. On the contrary we are asked to contemplate the mysteries of God’s wisdom with another Parable. In our physical life we see how strength is evolved out of weakness and weakness out of strength. The helpless babe becomes a lusty man in the pride of his manhood, and then sinks to a feeble old age : and yet there is wisdom in all these stages in the Universal Plan. So God carries out His Plan in the spiritual world “as He wills”, i.e., according to His Will and Plan, and none can gainsay it. And His Plan is wise and can never be frustrated.

3573. Whatever the seeming inequalities may be now—when the good appear to be weak and the strong seem to oppress—will be removed when the balance will be finally redressed. That will happen in good time,—indeed so quickly that the Transgressors will be taken by surprise. They were deluded by the fact that what they took to be their triumph or their freedom to do what they liked was only a reprieve, a “Term Appointed”, in which they could repent and amend and get God’s Mercy. Failing this, they will then be up against the Penalties which they thought they had evaded or defied.

3574. The men of knowledge and faith knew all along of the true values—of the things of this ephemeral life and the things that will endure and face them at the End,—unlike the wrong-doers who were content with falsehoods and were taken by surprise, like ignorant men, when they faced the Realities.

3575. It will be no use for those who deliberately rejected the clearest warnings in God’s Message to say : “ Oh, we did not realise this ! ” The excuse will be false, and it would be unreasonable to suppose that they would then be asked to seek Grace by repentance. It will then be too late.

58. Verily We have propounded
For men, in this Qur-ān.
Every kind of Parable :
But if thou bring to them
Any Sign, the Unbelievers <sup>3576</sup>
Are sure to say, "Ye
Do nothing but talk vanities."

59. Thus does God seal up <sup>3577</sup>
The hearts of those
Who understand not.

60. So patiently persevere : for
Verily the promise of God
Is true : nor let those <sup>3578</sup>
Shake thy firmness, who have (Themselves) no certainty of faith.

٥٨- وَلَقَدْ ضَرَبْنَا لِلنَّاسِ فِي هَذَا
الْقُرْآنِ مِنْ كُلِّ مَثَلٍ
وَلَكِنَّ جِنَّةَهُمْ بِآيَةٍ لَيَقُولَنَّ الَّذِينَ
كَفَرُوا إِنْ أَنْتُمْ إِلَّا مُبْطَلُونَ ۝

٥٩- كَذَلِكَ يَطْبَعُ اللَّهُ عَلَى قُلُوبِ الَّذِينَ
لَا يَعْلَمُونَ ۝

٦٠- فَاصْبِرْ إِنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ حَقٌّ
وَلَا يَسْتَخْفِكَ الَّذِينَ لَا يُوقِنُونَ ۝

3576. Things of the highest moment have been explained in the Qur-ān from various points of view, as in this Sūra itself, by means of parables and similitudes drawn from nature and from our ordinary daily life. But whatever the explanation, however convincing it may be to men who earnestly seek after Truth, those who deliberately turn their backs to Truth can find nothing convincing. In their eyes the explanations are mere "vain talk" or false arguments.

3577. When an attitude of obstinate resistance to Truth is adopted, the natural consequence (by God's Law) is that the heart and mind get more and more hardened with every act of deliberate rejection. It becomes more and more impervious to the reception of Truth, just as a sealed envelope is unable to receive any further letter or message after it is sealed. Cf. also ii. 7 and n. 31.

3578. The man of God does not slacken in his efforts or feel discouraged because the Unbelievers laugh at him or persecute him or even seem to succeed in blocking his Message. He has firm faith, and he knows that God will finally establish His Truth. He goes on in his divinely entrusted task, with patience and perseverance, which must win against the levity of his opponents, who have no faith or certainty at all to sustain them.

APPENDIX X.

FIRST CONTACT OF ISLAM WITH WORLD MOVEMENTS.

The contemporary Roman and Persian Empires (see xxx. 2-7 and notes).

The conflict between the Byzantine Emperor Heraclius and the Persian King Khusrau Parwiz (Chosroes II) is referred to in Sūra xxx. (Rūm). It will therefore be convenient now to review very briefly the relations of these two great empires and the way in which they gradually decayed before the rising sun of Islam. The story has not only a political significance, but a deep spiritual significance in world history.

2. If we take the Byzantine Empire as a continuation of the Empire that grew out of the Roman Republic, the first conflict took place in B.C. 53, when the Consul Crassus (famous for his riches) was defeated in his fight with the Parthians. If we go back further, to the time of the Greek City States, we can refer back to the invasion of Greece by Xerxes in B.C. 480-479 and the effective repulse of that invasion by sea and land by the united co-operation of the Greek States. The Persian Empire in those days extended to the western (Mediterranean) coast of Asia Minor. But as it included the Greek cities of Asia Minor, there was constant intercourse in war and peace between Persia and the Hellenic (Greek) world. The cities in Greece proper had their own rivalries and jealousies, and Greek cities or parties often invoked the aid of the Great King (Shahinshah of Persia) against their opponents. By the Peace of Antalcidas, B.C. 387, Persia became practically the suzerain power of Greece. This was under the Achæmenian Dynasty of Persia.

3. Then came the rise of Macedonia and Alexander's conquest of the Persian Empire (B.C. 330). This spread the Hellenic influence as far east as Central Asia, and as far south as Syria (including Palestine), Egypt, and Northern Africa generally. Rome in its expansion westwards reached the Atlantic, and in its expansion eastwards absorbed the territories of Alexander's successors, and became the mistress of all countries with a Mediterranean sea-coast. The nations of the Roman Empire "insensibly melted away into the Roman name and people" (Gibbon, chap. ii).

4. Meanwhile there were native forces in Persia which asserted themselves and established (A.D. 10) the Dynasty of the Arsacids (Ashkāniān). This was mainly the outcome of a revolt against Hellenism, and its spear-point was in Parthia. The Arsacids won back Persia proper, and established the western boundary of Persia in a line drawn roughly from the eastern end of the Black Sea southwards to the Euphrates at a point north-east of Palmyra. This would include the region of the Caucasus (excluding the Black Sea coast) and Armenia and Lower Mesopotamia, in the Persian Empire. And this was the normal boundary between Persia and the Roman Empire until the Islamic Empire wiped out the old Monarchy of Persia and a great part of the Byzantine Empire, and annexed Egypt, Palestine, Syria, and gradually Asia Minor, finally extinguishing the whole of the Byzantine Empire.

5. Another stage in Persian history was reached when the Arsacids were overthrown and the Sāsānians came into power under Ardashīr I, A.D. 225. The Sāsānian Empire was in a sense a continuation of the Achæmenian Empire, and was a reaction against the corruptions of the Zoroastrian religion which had crept in under the Parthian Dynasty of the Arsacids. But the religious reforms were only partial. There was some interaction between Christianity and the Zoroastrian religion. For example, the great mystic Mānī, who was a painter as well as a religious leader, founded the sect of Manichæism. He flourished in the reign of Shāpūr I (A.D. 241-272) and seems to have preached a form of Gnostic faith, in which Alexandrian philosophy was mixed with Christian doctrine and the old Persian belief in the dual principle of Good and Evil. The Sāsānians failed to purify religion and only adhered to fire-worship as the chief feature of their cult. In manners and morals they succumbed to the vices of arrogance, luxury, sensuality, and monopoly of power and privilege, which it is the office of Religion to denounce and root out. That office was performed by Islam.

6. When the seat of the Roman Empire was transferred to Constantinople (Byzantium) in the time of Constantine (A.D. 330), the conflict between Rome and Persia became more and more frequent. The true Peninsula of Arabia was never conquered either by Rome or by Persia, although its outlying parts were absorbed in either the one or the other at various times. It is interesting to notice that the Roman Emperor Philip (A.D. 244-249) was a born Arab and that the architecture of the Nabatæans in the city of Petra and in Hījr shows a mixture of Roman, Greek, Egyptian, and indigenous Arab cultures.

7. Arabia received the cultural influences of Persia and the Byzantine Empire, but was a silent spectator of their conflicts until Islam was brought into the main currents of world politics.

8. The Yemen coast of Arabia, which was easily accessible by sea to Persia, was the battle-ground between the Persian Empire and the Abyssinian Empire just across the Red Sea. Abyssinia and Arabia had had cultural and political relations for many centuries. Amharic, the ruling language of Abyssinia, is closely allied to Arabic, and the Amharic people went as colonists and conquerors from Arabia through Yemen. Shortly before the birth of holy Prophet, Abyssinia had been in occupation of Yemen for some time, having displaced a Jewish dynasty. The Abyssinians professed the Christian religion, and although their Church was doctrinally separate from the Byzantine Church, there was a great deal of sympathy between the Byzantines and the Abyssinians on account of their common Christian religion. One of the Abyssinian viceroys in Yemen was Abraha, who conceived the design of destroying the Temple at Mecca. He led an expedition, in which elephants formed a conspicuous feature, to invade Mecca and destroy the Ka'ba. He met a disastrous repulse, which is referred to in the Qur-ān (Sūra cv.). This event was in the year of the Prophet's birth, and marks the beginning of the great conflict which enabled Arabia eventually to obtain a leading place among the nations of the world. The year usually given for the Prophet's birth is 570 A.D., though the date must be taken as only approximate, being the middle figure between 569 and 571, the extreme possible limits. The Abyssinians having been overthrown, the Persians were established in Yemen, and their power lasted there until about the 7th year of the Hijra (approximately 628 A.D.), when Yemen accepted Islam.

9. The outstanding event in Byzantine history in the 6th century was the reign of Justinian (527-565) and in Persian history the reign of Anaushirwān (531-579). Justinian is well-known for his great victories in Africa and for the great Digest he made of Roman Law and Jurisprudence. In spite of the scandalous life of his queen Theodora, he occupies an honourable place in the history of the Roman Empire. Anaushirwān is known in Persian history as the "Just King". They were contemporary rulers for a period of 34 years. In their time the Roman and the Persian Empires were in close contact both in peace and war. Anaushirwān just missed being adopted by the Roman Emperor. If the adoption had come off, he would have become one of the claimants to the Byzantine throne. He invaded Syria and destroyed the important Christian city of Antioch in 540-541. It was only the able defence of Belisarius, the Roman general, which saved the Roman Empire from further disasters in the east. On the other hand the Turanian Avars, driven in front of the Turks, had begun the invasion of Constantinople from the western side. Justinian also made an alliance with the Abyssinians as a Christian nation, and the Abyssinians and the Persians came into conflict in Yemen. Thus world conditions were hemming in Arabia on all sides. It was Islam that not only saved Arabia but enabled it to expand and to play a prominent part in world history after the annihilation of the Persian Empire and the partial destruction of the Byzantine Empire.

10. The sixth century of the Christian era and the first half of the seventh century were indeed a marvellous period in the world's history. Great events and transformations were taking place throughout the then known world. We have referred to the Roman Empire and the Persian Empire which dominated the civilised portions of Europe, Africa and Western Asia. The only two other countries of note in history in those days were India and China. In India there was the glorious period of Harsha Vardhana (606-647 A.D.), in which art, science, and literature flourished, political power was on a healthy basis, and religious enquiry was bringing India and China into close relationship. The famous Chinese Buddhist traveller Yuang-Chwang (or Yüang-Tsang or Hsüan-Tsang) performed his pious pilgrimage to India in 629-45. In China the glorious T'ang Dynasty was established in 618. The Chinese art of that Dynasty led the world. In political power Chinese extended from the Pacific in the east to the Persian Gulf on the west. There was unity and peace, and China—hitherto more or less isolated—received ambassadors from Persia, Constantinople, Magadha, and Nepal, in 643. But all this pomp and glitter had in it the seeds of decay. Persia and Byzantium collapsed in the next generation. India was in chaos after Harsha's death. The Chinese Empire could not long remain free from the "Barbarians": the Great Wall, begun in the third century B.C., was soon to be out of date. By about 683 the Khitans from the north-west and the Tibetans from the south were molesting China. The Germans, the Goths and the Vandals were pressing further and further into the Roman Empire. From Asia the Avars and the Turks were pressing both on the Romans and the Persians, and sometimes playing off the one against the other. The simpler and less sophisticated nations, with their ruder but more genuine virtues, were gaining ground. Into all that welter came the Message of Islam, to show up, as by galvanic action, the false from the true, the empty from the eternal, the decrepit and corrupt from the vigorous and pure. The ground of History was being prepared for the New Birth in Religion.

11. Anaushīrwān was succeeded on the Persian throne by an unworthy son Hurmuz (579-590). Had it not been for the talents of his able General Bahrām, his Empire would have been ruined by the invasions of the Turks on one side and of the Romans on the other. Eventually Bahrām rebelled, and Hurmuz was deposed and killed. His son Khusrau Parwīz (Chosroes II) took refuge with the Byzantine Emperor Maurice, who practically adopted him as a son and restored him to the Persian throne with Roman arms. Khusrau reigned over Persia from 590 to 628. It was to him that the holy Prophet addressed one of his letters, inviting him to Islam towards the end of his life. It is not certain whether the letter was actually delivered to him or to his successor, as it is not easy to calculate precisely synchronous dates of the Christian era with those of the earliest years of the Hijrī era.

12. In Arabic and Persian records the term Kisrā refers usually to Khusrau Parwīz (Chosroes II) and sometimes to Khusrau Anaushīrwān (Chosroes I), while the term Khusrau is usually treated as generic,—as the title of the Kings of Persia generally. But this is by no means always the case. “Kisrā” is an Arabic form of “Khusrau”. The name of Anaushīrwān has been shortened from the time of Firdausī onwards to Nūshīrwān. The Pehlevi form is Anoshek-ruwān, “of immortal soul”.

13. The Roman Emperor Maurice (582-602) had a mutiny in his army, and his capital revolted against him. The army chose a simple centurion called Phocas as Emperor and executed Maurice himself. The usurper Phocas ruled from 602 to 610, but his tyranny soon disgusted the Empire. Heraclius, the governor (exarch) of a distant province in Africa, raised the standard of rebellion, and his young son, also called Heraclius, was sent to Constantinople to depose Phocas and assume the reins of power. It was this younger Heraclius, who ascended the throne of Constantinople in 610 and ruled till 642, who figures in Muslim history as Hiraql.

14. Khusrau Parwīz called himself the son of the Emperor Maurice. During his refuge at Constantinople he had married a Byzantine wife. In Nizāmī's Romance she is known as Maryam. According to some historians she was a daughter of the Emperor Maurice, but Gibbon throws doubt on that relationship. In any case he used the resources of the Persian Empire to fight the usurper Phocas. He invaded the Byzantine Empire in 603. The war between the Persians and the Romans became a national war and continued after the fall of Phocas in 610. The Persians had sweeping victories, and conquered Aleppo, Antioch, and the chief Syrian cities, including Damascus, in 611. Jerusalem fell to their arms in 614-15, just 8 to 7 years before the sacred Hijrat. The city was burnt and pillaged, the Christians were massacred, the churches were burnt, the burial-place of Christ was itself insulted, and many relics, including the "true Cross" on which the Christians believed that Christ had been crucified, were carried away to Persia. The priests of the Persian religion celebrated an exultant triumph over the priests of Christ. In this pillage and massacre the Persians were assisted by crowds of Jews, who were discontented with the Christian domination, and the Pagan Arabs to whom any opportunity of plunder and destruction was in itself welcome. It is probably this striking event—this victory of the Persians over the Roman Empire—which is referred to in Sūra XXX (Rūm) of the Qur-ān. The Pagan Arabs naturally sided with the Persians in their destructive zeal, and thought that the destruction of the Christian power of Rome would also mean a setback to the Message of the Prophet, the true successor of Jesus. For our holy Prophet had already begun his mission and the promulgation of God's Revelation in A.D. 610. While the whole world believed that the Roman Empire was being killed by Persia, it was revealed to him that the Persian victory was short-lived and that within a period of a few years the Romans would conquer again and deal a deadly blow at the Persians. The Pagan Arabs, who were then persecuting the holy Prophet in Mecca, hoped that their persecution would destroy the holy Prophet's new Revelation. In fact both their persecution and the deadly blows aimed by the Persians and the Romans at each other were instruments in God's hands for producing those conditions which made Islam thrive and increase until it became the predominant power in the world.

15. The Persian flood of conquest did not stop with the conquest of Jerusalem. It went on to Egypt, which was also conquered and annexed to the Persian Empire in 616. The Persian occupation reached as far as Tripoli in North Africa. At the same time another Persian army ravaged Asia Minor and reached right up to the gates of Constantinople. Not only the Jews and Pagan Arabs, but the various Christian sects which had been persecuted as heretics by the Romans, joined in the fray and helped the Persians. The condition of Heraclius became indeed pitiable. With all these calamities, he had to deal with the Avars who were attacking from the other side of Constantinople, which was practically in a state of siege. Famine and pestilence added to the horrors of the situation.

16. In these desperate circumstances Heraclius conceived a brilliant plan. He knew that the Persians were weak in sea power. He used his sea power to attack them in the rear. In 622 (the year of the Hijra) he transported his army by sea through the Ægean Sea to the bay just south of the Taurus Mountains. He fought a decisive battle with the Persians at Issus, in the same plain in which Alexander the Great had defeated the Persians of his day in his famous march to Syria and Egypt. The Persians were taken by surprise and routed. But they had still a large force in Asia Minor, which they could have brought into play against the Romans if Heraclius had not made another and equally unexpected dash by sea from the north. He returned to Constantinople by sea, made a treaty with the Avars, and with their help kept the Persians at bay round the capital. Then he led three campaigns, in 623, 624 and 625, along the southern shore of the Black Sea and took the Persians again in the rear in the region round Trebizond and Kars. Through Armenia he penetrated into Persia and got into Mesopotamia. He was now in a position to strike at the very heart of the Persian Empire. A decisive battle was fought on the Tigris near the city of Mosul in December 627. Before this battle, however, he had taken care to get the alliance of the Turks and with their help to relieve Constantinople in 626 against the Persians and the treacherous Avars who had then joined the Persians.

17. Heraclius celebrated his triumph in Constantinople in March 628. Peace was then made between the two Empires on the basis of the status quo ante. Heraclius, in pursuance of a vow he had made, went south in the autumn to Emessa (Hims) and from there marched on foot to Jerusalem to celebrate his victories, and restore to its place the holy Cross which had been carried away by the Persians and was returned to the Emperor as a condition of peace. Heraclius's route was strewn with costly carpets, and he thought that the final deliverance had come for his people and his empire. Either on the way, or in Jerusalem, he met a messenger from the holy Prophet, carrying a letter inviting him to the True Faith as renewed in the living Apostle of the age. He apparently received the messenger with courtesy. But he did not realise the full import of the new World which was being shaped according to God's plans, and the future that was opening out through the new Revelation. Perhaps in his heart he felt impressed by the story which he heard from the Arabs about the holy Prophet, but the apparent grandeur of his empire and the pride of his people prevented him from openly accepting the renewed Message of God. He caused a search to be made for any Arab who was sufficiently acquainted with the Prophet to tell him something about him. Abū Sufyān was then trading in a caravan in Syria. He was a cousin of the Prophet, and belonged to the Umaiya branch of the family. He was sent for to Jerusalem (Ælia Capitolina).

18. When Abū Sufyān was called to the presence of Heraclius, the Emperor questioned him closely about this new Prophet. Abū Sufyān himself was at that time outside Islam and really an enemy of the Prophet and of his Message. Yet the story he told—of the truth and the sincerity of the holy Apostle, of the way in which the poor and the lowly flocked to him, of the wonderful increase of his power and spiritual influence, and the way in which people who had once received the Light never got disillusioned or went back to their life of ignorance, and above all the integrity with which he kept all his covenants—made a favourable impression on the mind of Heraclius. That story is told in dramatic detail by Bukbārī and other Arabian writers.

19. The relations of the Persian Monarch with Islam were different. He—either Khusrau Parwiz or his successor—received the holy Apostle's messenger with contumely and tore up his letter. "So will his kingdom be torn up," said the holy Apostle when the news reached him. The Persian Monarch ordered his Governor in Yemen to go and arrest the man who had so far forgotten himself as to address the grandson of Anaušīrwān on equal terms. When the Persian Governor tried to carry out his Monarch's command, the result was quite different from what the great Persian King of Kings had expected. His agent accepted the truth of Islam, and Yemen was lost as a province to the Persian Empire and became a portion of the new Muslim State. Khusrau Parwiz died in February 628. He had been deposed and imprisoned by his own cruel and undutiful son, who reigned only for a year and a half. There were nine candidates for the Persian throne in the remaining four years. Anarchy reigned supreme in the Sāsānian Empire, until the dynasty was extinguished by the Muslim victory at the battle of Madāin in 637. The great and glorious Persian monarchy, full of pride and ambition, came to an ignominious end, and a new chapter opened for Persia under the banner of Islam.

20. The Roman Empire itself began to shrink gradually, loosing its territory, not to Persia, but to the new Muslim Power which absorbed both the ancient Empires. This Power arose in its vigour to proclaim a new and purified creed to the whole world. Already in the last seven years of Heraclius's reign (635-642) several of the provinces nearest to Arabia had been annexed to the Muslim Empire. The Muslim Empire continued to spread on, in Asia Minor to the north and Egypt to the south. The Eastern Roman Empire became a mere shadow with a small bit of territory round its capital. Constantinople eventually surrendered to the Muslim arms in 1453.

21. That was the real end of the Roman Empire. But in the wonderful century in which the Prophet lived, another momentous Revolution was taking place. The Roman Pontificate of Gregory the Great (590-604) was creating a new Christianity as the old Christianity of the East was slowly dying out. The Patriarch of Constantinople had claimed to be the Universal Bishop, with jurisdiction over all the other bishops of Christendom. This had been silently but gradually questioned by the Popes of Rome. They had been building up a liturgy, a church organisation and a body of discipline for the clergy, different from those of the Holy Orthodox Church. They had been extending their spiritual authority in the Barbarian provinces of Gaul and Spain. They had been amassing estates and endowments. They had been accumulating secular authority in their own hands. Pope Gregory the Great converted the Anglo-Saxon invaders of Great Britain to his form of Christianity. He protected Italy from the ravages of the Franks and Lombards and raised the See of Rome to the position of a Power which exercised ample jurisdiction over the Western world. He was preparing the way for the time when one of his successors would crown under his authority the Frankish Charlemagne as Emperor of Rome and of the West (A.D. 800), and another of his successors would finally break away from the Orthodox Church of Constantinople in 1054 by the Pope's excommunication of the Patriarch of Constantinople and the Greeks. (See the last paragraph in Appendix V.)

References: - Among Western writers, the chief authority is Gibbon's Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire; mainly chapters 40-42, and 45-46: I have given references to other chapters in the body of this Appendix: his delineation of the characters of Heraclius and Chosroes II is brief but masterly. L. Drapeyron's French monograph, L'Empereur Héraclius (Paris, 1869) throws further light on an interesting personality. A. J. Butler's Arab Conquest of Egypt (Oxford, 1902) gives a good account of Heraclius. The famous French dramatist Corneille has left a Play on Heraclius, but it turns more on an intricate and imaginary plot in the early life of Heraclius than on the character of Heraclius as Emperor. Niẓāmī, in his Khusrau-o-Shīrīn (571 H. = 1175-66 A.D.) makes a reference at the end of his Romance to the holy Prophet's letter to the Persian King, and does attempt in the course of the Romance a picture of the King's character. He is a sort of wild Prince Hal before he comes to the throne. Shīrīn is an Armenian princess in love with Khusrau: she marries Khusrau after the death of his first wife Maryam, daughter of the Roman Emperor, and mother of the undutiful son who killed Khusrau and seized his throne. Among the other Eastern writers, we find a detailed description of the interview of Abū Sufyān in Bukhārī's Ṣaḥīḥ (Book on the beginning of Inspiration): the notes in the excellent English translation of Muḥammad Asad (Leopold Weiss) are helpful. Tabarī's History is as usual valuable. Mirkhond's (Khāwind-Shāh's) Rauḍhat-uṣ-Ṣafā (translated by Rehatek) will give English readers a summary (at second hand) of the various Arabic authorities. Maulāna Shiblī's otherwise excellent Sīrat-un-Nabī is in this respect disappointing. Maulāna Zafar 'Alī's Galaba-i-Rūm (Urdu, Lahore, 1926) is interesting for its comments.

A note on the Persian capitals may be interesting. So long as Persia was under the influence of the Semitic Elamites, the chief residence of the rulers was at Sūsa, near the modern Dizful, about 50 miles north-east of Shustar. In the Medic or Median period (say B. C. 700 to 550) the capital was, as we should expect, in the highlands of Media, in Ecbatana, the site of the modern city of Hamadān, 180 miles west of modern Ṭīhrān. Ecbatana remained even in Sāsānian times the summer capital of Persia. With the Achæmenians (B.C. 550 to 330) we come to a period of full national and imperial life. Sūsa was the chief Achæmenian capital from the time of Darius I onwards, though Persepolis (Istakhr) in the mountain region near modern Shirāz, and about 40 miles north-east of Shirāz, was used as the city of royal burial. Alexander himself, as Ruler in Persia, died in Babylon. Later, when the centre of gravity moved north and north-east, other sites were selected. The Arsacids (Ashkāniān) or Parthians were a tribal power, fitly called in Arabic the mulūk-uf-tawāif, and had probably no fixed or centralised capital. The Sāsānians took over a site where there were a number of cities, among which were Ctesiphon and Seleucia on opposite banks of the river Tigris. This site is about 45 miles north of the old site of Babylon and 25 miles below the later city of Baghdād. Ctesiphon and Seleucia were Greek cities founded by one of Alexander's successors, Seleucia being named after Seleucus. This complex of seven cities was afterwards called by the Arabic name of Madāin ("the Cities"). The Takht-i-Kisrā (or Arch of Ctesiphon) still stands in a ruinous condition on this site. This seems to have been the chief capital of the Sāsānians at the Arab conquest, which may be dated either from the battle of Qādisiyya or that of Madāin (both fought in 637 A.D.), after which Persia which then included 'Irāq came into the Muslim Empire. The 'Abbāsi Empire built Baghdād for its capital under Maṣṣū'ūr in 762 A.D. When that Empire was broken up in 1258 A.D. there was some confusion for two centuries. Then a national Persian Empire, the Ṣafawī (1499-1736) arose, and Shāh Salīm established his capital in the north-west corner in Ṭabriz. Shāh 'Abbās the Great (1587-1628) had his capital at the more central city of Iṣpahān (or Iṣfahān). After the Ṣafawī dynasty confusion reigned again for about four decades, when the Afghans were in the ascendant. When the Qāchār (or Qājār) dynasty (1795-1925) was firmly established under Aḡa Muḡammad Khān, Ṭīhrān (Teheran), near the Caspian, where his family originated, became the capital, and it still remains the capital under the modern Pehlevi Dynasty.

APPENDIX XI.

COMPARATIVE CHRONOLOGY OF THE EARLY YEARS OF ISLAM

(See paras. 11 and 8 of Appendix X.)

The dates after the Hijrat, when given according to the Arabian Calendar, can usually be calculated exactly according to other Calendars, but it is not possible to synchronise exactly the earliest dates of the Arabian Calendar with the dates of the Christian Calendar, and for two reasons. In the first place, there seems to have been some discrepancy between the Calendars in Medina and in Mecca. In the second place, the Arabian Calendar was roughly luni-solar, before the years of the Farewell Pilgrimage (Zul-Hajj, 10 H.=March 632). The Pagan Arabs were in the habit of counting months by the appearance of the moon, but irregularly intercalating a month once in about three years to bring the calendar up into conformity with the seasons. They did not do it on any astronomical calculations or on any system, but just as it suited their own selfish purposes, thus often upsetting all the old-established conventions about the months of peace and security from war and thus getting an unfair advantage for the clique in power in Mecca over their enemies (see my n. 1295 to ix. 36). Unless exact mathematical calculations are applied and reduced to a well-established system, there is apt to be confusion, and this can well be taken advantage of by arbitrary cliques in power. After the holy Prophet's adoption of the purely lunar calendar for ecclesiastical purposes, there is no confusion. Every date after A.H. 10 is exactly convertible into a corresponding date in any other accurate calendar. Wüstenfeld's and other Comparative Tables of Muslim and Christian dates may therefore be relied upon for dates after A.H. 10, but much caution is necessary in synchronisation for earlier dates.

Maulānā Shiblī, in his Sīrat-un-Nabī, Vol. I, p. 124 (edition of 1335 H., 1918 C.), adopts for the Prophet's Birthday the date 20th April 571, following Maḥmūd Pāshā. They go on the basis of an astronomical event, the total eclipse of the sun that was visible in Medina on the day that the Prophet's son Ibrāhīm was taken to the mercy of God. But there is no agreement among the authorities as to the exact date either by the Christian or the Arabian Calendar. Shiblī, following Maḥmūd Pāshā, takes the date of the eclipse to be the 7th November 632. Muir (Life, ed. 1923, p. 429), assumes some date in June or July 631. L. Caetani (Chronographia Islamica, A.H. 10) gives the date of the eclipse as 4th or 5th July 631, which he synchronises with the 28th or 29th of Rabī' I, A.H. 10, but he quotes authorities for the death of Ibrāhīm as on the 16th June 631, synchronising it with the 10th of Rabī' I, A.H. 10. There is something wrong here, as the death and the eclipse occurred on the same day. Wāqidī gives the month as Rabī' I, A.H. 10, and gives Ibrāhīm a life of 15 months. But if Abū Dā-ūd and Baihaqī are correct, Ibrāhīm lived only 2 months and 10 days, and as his date of birth is given in Zul-Hajj A.H. 8, the date of death according to these authorities would be in Rabī' I, A.H. 9. On a review of all the authorities I feel inclined to accept the date for the eclipse and the death of Ibrāhīm as 28th or 29th of Rabī' I, A.H. 10 = 4th or 5th July 631. But this cannot be asserted with certainty. The French work of reference, L'art de vérifier les dates, Paris 1818 (Vol. I, p. 310), gives the date of the solar eclipse as the 3rd of August 631, 2-30 P.M., and according to the system adopted in that book, the corresponding Hijra date would be the 28th Rabī' II, A.H. 10.

Even if this particular date was certain and exact, a certain amount of uncertainty remains in counting dates backwards. Most authorities assume a purely lunar year of 354 days for working backwards. Probably the Muslims in Medina counted in this way even before the lunar year was fixed exactly in A.H. 10. But the mass of Pagan Arabs in Mecca and elsewhere probably were all the time intercalating a month roughly once in three years, as has been stated before, until their power was utterly destroyed by the conquest of Mecca; and therefore precise exactitude in pre-Conquest dates or in the counting of people's ages in years before 8-10 A.H. is unattainable. See a note on this subject in Margoliouth's Life of the Prophet (p. xix. of the 3rd edition) and in Muir's Life (p. x. of the 1923 edition).

The date of the actual Hijrat as given in Caetani may be accepted as Sept.-Oct. 622, being in the month of Rabī' I. If the ninth of that month be accepted as the date of departure from the cave of Thaur, the best synchronised date would be 22nd September 622 C. But as the first month of the Arab year was (and is) Muḥarram, the Hijrī year I is counted as beginning on the 15th or 16th July 622 (= 1 Muḥarram A.H. 1). The formal adoption of the Hijrī era in official documents dates from the Kbilāfat of Hadhrat 'Umar,—from the year 17-18 H. according to Ṭabarī.

Sir Wolseley Haig's Comparative Tables of Muḥammadan and Christian Dates (London, Luzac, 1932), gives in a handy form three comparative Tables which enable the synchronisation of Hijrī years from A.H. 1 to A.H. 1421. The main Table for these years was printed earlier at the end of S. Haīm's New English-Persian Dictionary, Teheran, 1931. The exact title of Wüstenfeld's German Tables is: Wüstenfeld-Mahler, Vergleichungs-Tabellen, Leipzig, 1926 (2nd edition).

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXI (Luqmān).

The argument of the Final End of Things is here continued from another point of view. What is Wisdom? Where shall she be found? Will she solve the mysteries of Time and Nature, and that world higher than physical Nature, which brings us nearer to God? "Yes," is the answer; "if, as in the advice of Luqmān the Wise, human wisdom looks to God in true worship, ennobles every act of life with true kindness, but avoids the false indulgence that infringes the divine law,—and in short follows the golden mean of virtue." And this is indicated by every Sign in nature.

The chronology of this Sūra has no significance. In the main, it belongs to the late Meccan period.

Summary.—The earnest seekers after righteousness receive guidance, unlike the seekers after vanity, who perish: all Creation bears witness to this: Wisdom, as expounded by Luqmān the Wise, is true service to God, and consists in moderation (xxx. 1-19, and C. 183).

True Wisdom is firm and enduring, and discerns God's Law in the working of His Creation: it looks to the Final End of Things, whose mystery is only known to God (xxx. 20-34, and C. 184).

C. 183.—What is the Book of Wisdom? It is
 (xxx. 1-19.) A Guide and a Mercy to men, and teaches
 Them how to attain Bliss. God's Mercies
 Are infinite: how can men deny them?
 Luqmān the Wise taught grateful worship
 Of the One True God, and the service of men,
 Beginning with Parents: every good deed
 Is known to God and is brought to account.
 So walk in the Golden Mean, and serve
 Him with constancy and firmness of purpose.

Sūra XXXI, Luqman (the Wise).

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

3580. This Sūra relates to Wisdom, and the Qur-ān is appropriately called the Wise Book, or the Book of Wisdom. In verse 12 below there is a reference to Luqman the Wise. "Wise" in this sense (Hakim) means not only a man versed in knowledge human and divine, but one carrying out in practical conduct ('amal) the right course in life to the utmost of his power. His knowledge is correct and practical, but not necessarily complete: for no man is perfect. Such an ideal involves the conception of a man of heroic action as well as of deep and workman-like knowledge of nature and human nature,—not merely dreams or speculation. That ideal was fulfilled in a most remarkable degree in the holy Apostle, and in the sacred Book which was revealed through him. "The Wise Book" (Kitāb-ul-hakim) is one of the titles of the Qur-ān.

3581. A guide to all, and, to those who accept its guidance, a source of mercy as leading them to Salvation.

3582. The righteous are distinguished here by three marks, which are summed up in the phrase "doers of good", viz.: (1) they yearn towards God in duty, love, and prayer, (2) they love and serve their fellow-men in charity, (3) they win peace and rest for themselves in the assured hope of the Future.

3583. They get these blessings because they submit their will to God's Will and receive His guidance. They will do well in this life (from the highest standpoint) and they will reach their true Goal in the Future.

3584. Life is taken seriously by men who realise the issues that hang upon it. But there are men of a frivolous turn of mind who prefer idle tales to true Realities and they are justly rebuked here. In the time of the holy Prophet there was a pagan Nadhr ibn al-Ḥarith who preferred Persian romances to the Message of God, and turned away ignorant men from the preaching of God's Word.

3585. Such men behave as if they had heard nothing of serious import, or laugh at serious teaching. The loss will be their own. They will miss the higher things of life and be left out of God's blessings. Ignorance and arrogance are in most cases the causes of their fall.

3586. He is Exalted in power, and can carry out His Will, and nothing can stop the carrying out of His promise. He is also infinitely Wise: His promise is therefore full of meaning: it is not merely without purpose: it has a place in the Universal Plan.

3589. Cf. ii. 164 and n. 166.

3590. Note the change of the pronoun at this stage in the verse. Before this, God was spoken of in the third person, "He", and the acts of Creation referred to were acts that in the main were completed when the universe as we see it came into being, though its slow age-long evolution continues. After this, God speaks in the first person "We"—the plural of honour, as explained before (see n. 56 to ii. 38); and the processes spoken of are those that go on continually before us, as in the case of rain and the growth of the vegetable kingdom. In some way the creation of the heavens and the earth and animal life on it may be considered impersonal to man, while the processes of rain and vegetation may be considered in special personal relationship to him.

Wisdom on Luqmān :<sup>3593</sup>

Any who is (so) grateful
Does so to the profit
Of his own soul : but if
Any is ungrateful, verily<sup>3594</sup>

3591. I think that sex life in plants is referred to, as in xiii. 3, where see n. 1804, though the pairs here may refer to animals also. "Noble" (karīm) may refer to the more beneficent plants and trees (and animals), which God has created for man's use.

3592. The transition from "We" in the last verse to "Me" in this verse means a still more personal relation to God : (see n. 56 to ii. 38) : as we are now asked about the true worship of God, as against the false worship of others besides God.

3593. The sage Luqmān, after whom this Sūra is called, belongs to Arab tradition. Very little is known of his life. He is usually associated with a long life, and his title is Mu'ammār (the long-lived). He is referred by some to the age of the 'Ad people, for whom see n. 1040 to vii. 65. He is the type of perfect wisdom. It is said that he belonged to a humble station in life, being a slave or a carpenter, and that he refused worldly power and a kingdom. Many instructive apologues are credited to him, similar to Æsop's Fables in Greek tradition. The identification of Luqmān and Æsop has no historical foundation, though it is true that the traditions about them have influenced each other.

3594. Cf. xiv. 8. The basis of the moral Law is man's own good, and not any benefit to God, for God is above all needs, and "worthy of all praise"; i.e. even in praising Him, we do not advance His glory. When we obey His Will, we bring our position into conformity with our own nature as made by Him.

3595. Luqmān is held up as a pattern of wisdom, because he realised the best in a wise life in this world, as based upon the highest Hope in the inner life. To him, as in Islam, true human wisdom is also divine wisdom : the two cannot be separated. The beginning of all wisdom, therefore, is conformity with the Will of God (xxx. 12). That means that we must understand our relations to Him and worship Him aright (xxx. 13). Then we must be good to mankind, beginning with our own parents (xxx. 14). For the two duties are not diverse, but one. Where they appear to conflict, there is something wrong with the human will (see n. 3597).

Instruction : " O my son !
Join not in worship
(Others) with God : for False worship is indeed
The highest wrong-doing."

14. And We have enjoined on man
(To be good) to his parents :
In travail upon travail
Did his mother bear him,
And in years twain <sup>3596</sup>
Was his weaning : (hear
The command), " Show gratitude
To Me and to thy parents :
To Me is (thy final) Goal.

15. " But if they strive <sup>3597</sup>
To make thee join
In worship with Me
Things of which thou hast
No knowledge, obey them not ;
Yet bear them company
In this life with justice
(And consideration), and follow
The way of those who
Turn to Me (in love) : <sup>3598</sup>
In the End the return
Of you all is to Me,
And I will tell you
The truth (and meaning) <sup>3599</sup>
Of all that ye did."

3596. The set of milk teeth in a human child is completed at the age of two years, which is therefore the natural extreme limit for breast-feeding. In our artificial life the duration is much less.

3597. Where the duty to man conflicts with the duty to God, it means that there is something wrong with the human will, and we should obey God rather than man. But even here, it does not mean that we should be arrogant or insolent. To parents and those in authority, we must be kind, considerate, and courteous, even where they command things which we should not do and therefore disobedience becomes our highest duty.

The worship of things other than God is the worship of false things, things which are alien to our true knowledge, things that go against our own pure nature as created by God.

3598. In any apparent conflict of duties our standard should be God's Will, as declared to us by His command. That is the way of those who love God : and their motive in disobedience to parents or human authority where disobedience is necessary by God's Law, is not self-willed rebellion or defiance, but love of God, which means the true love of man in the highest sense of the word. And the reason we should give is : " Both you and I have to return to God ; therefore not only must I follow God's Will, but you must command nothing against God's Will."

3599. These conflicts may appear to us strange and puzzling in this life. But in God's Presence we shall see their real meaning and significance. It may be that that was one way in which our true mettle could be tested : for it is not easy to disobey and love man at the same time.

3600. Verses 14-15 are not the direct speech of Luqmān but flow by way of commentary on his teaching. He was speaking as a father to his son, and he could not very well urge respect for himself and draw the son's attention to the limitations of filial obedience. These verses may be supposed to be general directions flowing from Luqmān's teaching to men, and not directed to his son; though in either case, as Luqmān got wisdom from God, it is divine principles that are enunciated.

3601. The mustard-seed is proverbially a small, minute thing, that people may ordinarily pass by. Not so God. Further emphasis is laid by supposing the mustard-seed to be hidden beneath a rock or in the cleft of a rock, or to be lost in the spacious expanse of the earth or of the heavens. To God everything is known, and He will bring it forth, i.e., take account of it.

3602. For Latīf as a title applied to God, see n. 2844 to xxii. 63.

3603. The word "cheek" in English, too, means arrogance or effrontery, with a slightly different shade added, viz.: effrontery from one in an inferior position to one in a superior position. The Arabic usage is wider, and includes smug self-satisfaction and a sense of lofty superiority.

3604. The "Golden Mean" is the pivot of the philosophy of Luqmān as it is of the philosophy of Aristotle and indeed of Islam. And it flows naturally from a true understanding of our relation to God and His universe and to our fellow-creatures, especially man. In all things be moderate. Do not go the pace, and do not be stationary or slow. Do not be talkative and do not be silent. Do not be loud and do not be timid or half-hearted. Do not be too confident, and do not be cowed down. If you have patience, it is to give you constancy and determination, that you may bravely carry on the struggle of life. If you have humility, it is to save you from unseemly swagger, not to curb your right spirit and your reasoned determination.

Of our knowledge, and see how far above us

20. Do ye not see
That God has subjected <sup>3605</sup>
To your (use) all things
In the heavens and on earth,
And has made His bounties
Flow to you in exceeding Measure, (both) seen and unseen ? <sup>3606</sup>
Yet there are among men
Those who dispute about God,
Without knowledge and without
Guidance, and without a Book <sup>3607</sup>
To enlighten them !

21. When they are told to follow
The (Revelation) that God
Has sent down, they say :
"Nay, we shall follow
The ways that we found
Our fathers (following)." <sup>3608</sup>

۲۱- وَإِذَا قِيلَ لَهُمْ اتَّبِعُوا مَا أَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ
قَالُوا بَلْ نَتَّبِعُ
مَا وَجَدْنَا عَلَيْهِ آبَاءَنَا

3605. God's Creation is independent of man. But God, in His infinite mercy, has given man the faculty to subdue the forces of nature and to penetrate through high mysteries with his powers of reason and insight. But this is not merely a question of power. For in His Universal Plan, all are safeguarded. But man's destiny, as far as we can see, is noble to the highest degree.

3606. God's grace and bounties work for us at all times. Sometimes we see them, and sometimes we do not. In things which we can apprehend with our senses, we can see God's grace, but even in them, sometimes it works beyond the sphere of our knowledge. In the inner or spiritual world, sometimes, when our vision is clear, we can see it working, and often we are not conscious of it. But it works all the same.

3607. Such men lack knowledge, as they make no use of their intellects but are swayed by their passions ; they lack guidance, as they are impatient of control ; and the fruits of revelation, or spiritual insight, do not reach them, as they reject Faith and Revelation.

3608. They do not realise that in the spiritual world, as in the physical world, there is constant progress for the live ones : they are spiritually dead, as they are content to stand on ancestral ways, many of them evil, and leading to perdition.

3610. Cf. xxii. 41. Everything goes back to God. He is our final Goal, as He is the final Goal of all things.

3611. The man of God should not grieve because people reject Faith. He should do his duty and leave the rest to God. Every soul must return to God for his reckoning. God knows everything, and His Universal Plan is full of wisdom.

3612. Cf. ii. 126. The respite in this life is of short duration. The ultimate Penalty of Evil is such as cannot be quenched. Cf. xiv. 17. It will be too late then to repent.

3613. Cf. xxiii. 84-89, and xxix. 61 and n. 3493. Men will acknowledge that God created the heavens and the earth, and yet fail to understand the love and goodness of God in continuing to cherish and maintain them with His gifts. Even if they allow this, they sometimes yet fall short of the corollary, that He is the only One to be worshipped, and run after their own false gods in the shapes of their fancies and lusts. They do not do the duties which, if they rightly understood their own nature and position, they should take a delight in doing.

3614. This ejaculation expresses our satisfaction that at least this is recognised,—that the Creator of the whole world is God. It is a pity that they do not go further and recognise other facts and duties (see the last note).

3615. Cf. above, xxxi. 12. There was begun the argument about showing gratitude to God, introducing Luqmān's teaching and philosophy. Such gratitude is shown by our understanding His love and doing our duty to Him by serving our fellow-men. For God Himself is Free from all wants and is in no way dependent on our service. That argument has been illustrated in various ways. But now we are told that it can never be completed, for no human tongue or human resources can be adequate either to praise him or to expound His Word.

3616. "Words of God": His wonderful Signs and Commandments are infinite and cannot be expressed if all the trees were made into pens, and all the wide Ocean, multiplied seven times, were made into ink. Any Book of His Revelation would deal with matters which man can understand and use in his life: there are mysteries beyond mysteries that man can never fathom. Nor would any praise that we could write with infinite resources be adequate to describe His power, glory, and wisdom.

3617. God's greatness and infinitude are such that He can create and cherish not only a whole mass, but each individual soul, and He can follow its history and doings until the final Judgment. This shows not only God's glory and omniscience and omnipotence: it also shows the value of each individual soul in His eyes, and lifts individual responsibility right up into relations with Him.

٣١- أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّ الْفُلْكَ تَجْرِي

 إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِّكُلِّ صَبَّارٍ شَكُورٍ ۝

٣٢- وَإِذَا غَشِيَهم مَوْجٌ كَالظُّلُمِ
 دَعَوْا اللَّهَ مُخْلِصِينَ لَهُ الدِّينَ ۝

3618 Cf. xxii. 61 and n. 2841 Even when we can form a conception of God's infinitude by His dealings with each individual in His Creation as in verse 28 above, it is still inadequate. What is an individual himself? What is his relation to the universal Laws of God? In outer nature we can see that there is no clear-cut line between night and day: each merges into the other. Yet the sun and moon obey definite laws. Though they seem to go on for ever, yet their existence and duration themselves are but an atom in God's great universe. How much more "merging" and imperceptible gradation there is in the inner and spiritual world? Our actions themselves cannot be classified and ticketed and labelled when examined in relation to motives and circumstances. Yet they are like an open book before God.

3619 Cf. xxii. 62 and notes 2842 and 2843. All the wonderful complexities, gradations, and nuances, that we find in Creation, are yet blended in one harmonious whole, that obeys Law and exemplifies Order. They therefore point to the One True God. He is the only Reality. All other things are but shadows, and if any of them is put up in competition or equality with Him, it can be only Falsehood. For He is higher and greater than anything we can imagine.

3620 Even the things that man makes are, as using the forces of Nature, evidence of the grace of God, Who has subdued these wonderful forces to the use of man. But this gift of mastery can only be understood and appreciated by constant perseverance, combined with a recognition of the divine gifts ("giving thanks"). ṣabbār is an intensive form from ṣabr and I have indicated it by the adverb "constantly".

3621 Cf. vii. 29. Unlike the people mentioned in the last verse, who constantly seek God's help and give thanks for His mercies by using them aright and doing their duty, there is a class of men whose worship is merely inspired by terror. When they are in physical danger—the only kind of danger they appreciate,—e.g., in a storm at sea, they genuinely think of God. But once the danger is past, they become indifferent or wish to appear good while dallying with evil. See next verse.

But when He has delivered them
Safely to land, there are
Among them those that halt<sup>3622</sup>
Between (right and wrong).
But none reject Our Signs
Except only a perfidious
Ungrateful (wretch)!

فَلَمَّا بَجَّحْنَاهُمْ إِلَى الْبَرِّ فَمِنْهُمْ مُّقْتَصِدٌ

33. O mankind! do your duty
To your Lord, and fear
(The coming of) a Day
When no father can avail
Aught for his son, nor
A son avail aught
For his father.<sup>3623</sup>
Verily, the promise of God
Is true: let not then
This present life deceive you,
Nor let the Chief Deceiver<sup>3624</sup>
Deceive you about God.

۳۳- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ اتَّقُوا رَبَّكُمُ وَأَخْشَوْا
يَوْمًا لَا يَجْزِي وَالِدٌ عَنْ وَلَدِهِ
وَلَا مَوْلُودٌ هُوَ جَارٌ عَنِ وَالِدِهِ شَيْئًا
إِنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ حَقٌّ
فَلَا تَغُرَّنَّكُمُ الْحَيَاةُ الدُّنْيَا
وَلَا يَغُرَّنَّكُمُ بِاللَّهِ الْعُرُورُ ○

34. Verily the knowledge
Of the Hour is
With God (alone).
It is He Who sends down
Rain, and He Who knows
What is in the wombs.<sup>3625</sup>

۳۴- إِنَّ اللَّهَ عِنْدَهُ عِلْمُ السَّاعَةِ
وَيُنزِلُ الْغَيْثَ وَيَعْلَمُ مَا فِي الْأَرْحَامِ

3622. They halt between two opinions. They are not against good, but they will not eschew evil. They are a contrast to those who "constantly persevere and give thanks". But such an attitude amounts really to "perfidious ingratitude".

3624. The Chief Deceiver is the Power of Evil. It may make us forget that Time is fleeting and delude us by suggesting that the Reckoning may not come, whereas it is certain to come, because God's promise is true. We must not play with Time nor be deceived by appearances. The Day may come to-day or to-morrow or when we least expect it.

3625. The question of Knowledge or Mystery governs both clauses here, viz.: Rain and Wombs. In fact it governs all the five things mentioned in this verse: viz. (1) the Hour; (2) Rain; (3) the Birth of a new Life (Wombs); (4) our Physical Life from day to day; (5) our Death. See n. 3627 below. As regards Rain we are asked to contemplate how and when it is sent down. The moisture may be sucked up by the sun's heat in the Arabian Sea or the Red Sea or the Indian Ocean near East Africa, or in the Lake Region in Central Africa. The winds drive it hither and thither across thousands of miles, or it may be, only short distances. "The wind bloweth where it listeth." No doubt it obeys certain physical-Laws established by God, but how these Laws are interlocked, one with another! Meteorology, gravity, hydrostatics and dynamics, climatology, hygrometry, and a dozen other sciences are involved, and no man can completely master all of them, and yet this relates to only one of the millions of facts in physical nature, which are governed by God's Knowledge and Law. The whole vegetable kingdom is primarily affected by Rain. The mention of Wombs brings in the mystery of animal Life, Embryology, Sex, and a thousand other things. Who can tell—to take man alone—whether the child conceived is male or female, how long it will remain in the womb, whether it will be born alive, what sort of a new individual it will be,—a blessing or a curse to its parents, or to Society?

Nor does any one know
 What it is that he will
 Earn on the morrow : <sup>3626</sup>
 Nor does any one know
 In what land he is
 To die. Verily with God
 Is full knowledge and He
 Is acquainted (with all things). <sup>3627</sup>

وَمَا تَدْرِي نَفْسٌ
 مَّاذَا تَكْسِبُ غَدًا
 وَمَا تَدْرِي نَفْسٌ بِأَيِّ أَرْضٍ تَمُوتُ
 إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلِيمٌ خَبِيرٌ ۝

3626. "Earn" here, as elsewhere, means not only "earn one's livelihood" in a physical sense, but also to reap the consequences (good or ill) of one's conduct generally. The whole sentence practically means : "no man knows what the morrow may bring forth."

3627. See the five Mysteries summed up in n. 3625 above. The Argument is about the mystery of Time and Knowledge. We are supposed to know things in ordinary life. But what does that knowledge amount to in reality? Only a superficial acquaintance with things. And Time is even more uncertain. In the case of rain, which causes vegetable life to spring up, or in the case of new animal life, can we answer with precision questions as to When or How or Wherefore? So about questions of our life from day to day or of our death. These are great Mysteries, and full knowledge is with God only. How much more so in the case of the Ma'ād, the Final Hour, when all true values will be restored and the balance redressed? It is certain, but the When and the How are known to God alone.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXII (Sajda).

This short Sūra closes the series of the four A. L. M. Sūras, which began with the 29th. Its theme is the mystery of Creation, the mystery of Time and the mystery of the Ma'ād (the Final End) as viewed through the light of God's revelation. The contemplation of these mysteries should lead to Faith and the adoration of God. In chronology it belongs to the middle Meccan period and is therefore a little earlier than the last, but its chronology has no significance.

Summary.—The mystery of Creation, the mystery of Time, and the mystery of the End of Things are but known by external symbols to man ; Revelation brings faith and humble adoration, and is a blessing like Rain, which brings life to dead soil (xxxii. 1-30, and C. 185).

C. 185.—How can Unbelievers realise the Mystery
 (xxxii. 1-30.) Of Revelation? They do not even
 See the marvel and Mystery of Time
 And God's Creation, and how they were themselves
 Created! If they could but see how the End
 Will shape itself,—how the Good will be sorted out
 From Evil! The two are not equal in Goal.
 Clear are the Signs and the Revelation of God—
 In nature, history, and the Message of His living
 Prophets. If they learn not now, alas!
 It will be too late when Time's wings are furled.

Sajda, or Adoration.

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. A. I. Q. <sup>3628</sup>

2. (This is) the revelation
Of the Book in which
There is no doubt, — <sup>3629</sup>
From the Lord of the Worlds.

3. Or <sup>3630</sup> do they say,
"He has forged it" ?
Nay, it is the Truth
From thy Lord, that thou
Mayest admonish a people
To whom no warner
Has come before thee :
In order that they
May receive guidance. <sup>3631</sup>

4. It is God Who has Created the heavens
And the earth, and all
Between them, in six Days, <sup>3632</sup>

3628. See n. 25 to ii. J, and Introduction to S. xxx.

3629. By the time of the holy Prophet the earlier Books of Revelation had been corrupted, by human ignorance or selfishness or fraud, or misinterpreted, or lost altogether. There were sects violently disputing with each other as to their true meaning. Such doubts had to be set at rest, and they were set at rest by the revelation of the Qur-ān. The Quranic inspiration came direct from God, the Lord of the Worlds, and did not consist merely of human conjectures or a reconstructed philosophy, in which there is always room for doubt or dispute. Cf. also ii. 2.

3630. The force of " or " (am in Arabic) is that the only alternative to the acceptance of the Book as a divine revelation is the supposition that it was a forgery by the holy Prophet. But the supposition is absurd on the face of it : because (1) the Quraish, his critics, knew him to be an honest and truthful man ; (2) he was unlettered, and such a Book would have been beyond his powers as a simple unlettered Arab, unless God inspired it ; and (3) there was a definite reason for its coming as it did, because the Arabs had received no Messenger before him, and God has sent Messengers to every nation.

3631. The Arabs very much needed guidance for themselves, and the advent of a World Prophet through them was what might have been expected in view of the past course of God's Revelations.

3632. Six Days : See n. 1031 to vii. 54. The " Day " does not mean a day as we reckon it, viz. one apparent course of the sun round the earth, for it refers to conditions which began before the earth and the sun were created. In verse 5 below, a Day is compared to a thousand years of our reckoning, and in lxx. 4 to 50,000 years. These figures " as we reckon " have no relation to " timeless Time ", and must be taken to mean very long Periods, or Ages, or Æons. See further xli. 9-12, and notes.

And is firmly established
On the Throne (of authority) : <sup>3633</sup>
Ye have none, besides Him,
To protect or intercede (for you) :
Will ye not then
Receive admonition ?

ثُمَّ اسْتَوَىٰ عَلَى الْعَرْشِ
مَا لَكُمْ مِّنْ دُونِهِ مِنْ وَدَّيِّ وَلَا شَفِيعٍ
أَفَلَا تَتَذَكَّرُونَ

5. He rules (all) affairs
From the heavens
To the earth : in the end
Will (all affairs) go up <sup>3634</sup>
To Him, on a Day,
The space whereof will be
(As) a thousand years
Of your reckoning.

هـ- يُدَبِّرُ الْأَمْرَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ إِلَى الْأَرْضِ
ثُمَّ يَعْرُجُ إِلَيْهِ فِي يَوْمٍ
كَانَ مِقْدَارُهُ أَلْفَ سَنَةٍ
مِّمَّا تَعُدُّونَ

6. Such is He, the Knower
Of all things, hidden
And open, the Exalted
(In power), the Merciful ; — <sup>3635</sup>

٦- ذَٰلِكَ عِلْمُ الْغَيْبِ وَالشَّهَادَةِ الْعَزِيزِ
الرَّحِيمِ

7. He Who has made
Everything which He has created <sup>3636</sup>
Most Good : He began
The creation of man
With (nothing more than) clay, <sup>3637</sup>

٧- الَّذِي أَحْسَنَ كُلَّ شَيْءٍ خَلَقَهُ
وَبَدَأَ خَلْقَ الْإِنْسَانِ مِنْ طِينٍ

3633. Cf. x. 3. n. 1386. God created the World as we see it in six great Stages. But after the initial creation, He is still in authority and directs and controls all affairs. He has not delegated His powers to others, and Himself retired. Also see vii. 54.

3634. How could the immense mystery of Time behind our ideas of it be enforced on our minds better? Our Day may be a thousand or fifty thousand years, and our years in proportion. In the immense Past was God's act of creation: it still continues, for He guides, rules, and controls all affairs: and in the immense Future all affairs will go up to Him, for He will be the Judge, and His restoration of all values will be as in a Day or an Hour or the Twinkling of an eye; and yet to our ideas it will be as a thousand years!

3635. God's attributes, then, may be summed up with reference to Knowledge, Power, and Mercy. Where our knowledge is partial and uncertain, His is complete and certain. Where our power often falls short of the carrying out of our will, or needs the help of Time, His is complete and conterminous with His Will. Where our mercy seems to be bounded by or opposed to justice, His is absolute and unconditioned.

3636. God's creation in itself is good: it is beautiful, in proper proportions, and adapted for the functions it has to perform. There is no evil or disorder in it. Such evil or disorder as creeps in is due to man's will (as far as the world of man is concerned), and spiritual Teaching is directed to train and cure that will and bring it into conformity with the Universal Order and Plan.

3637. Man is asked to contemplate his own humble beginning. His material body (apart from life) is a piece of earth or clay, which is another term for primeval matter. Matter is therefore the first stage, but even matter was not self-created. It was created by God.

8. And made his progeny
From a quintessence
Of the nature of
A fluid despised : <sup>3638</sup>

9. But He fashioned him
In due proportion, and breathed
Into him something of <sup>3639</sup>
His spirit. And He gave
You (the faculties of) hearing
And sight and feeling <sup>3640</sup>
(And understanding):
Little thanks do ye give!

10. And they say : " What!
When we lie, hidden
And lost, in the earth,
Shall we indeed be
In a Creation renewed? <sup>3641</sup>
Nay, they deny the Meeting
With their Lord! "

11. Say : " The Angel of Death,
Put in charge of you,
Will (duly) take your souls : <sup>3642</sup>
Then shall ye be brought Back to your Lord."

٨- ثُمَّ جَعَلَ نَسْلَهُ مِنْ سُلَالَةٍ
مِنْ مَاءٍ مَّهِينٍ ۝

٩- ثُمَّ سَوَّاهُ
وَ نَفَخَ فِيهِ مِنْ رُوحِهِ
وَ جَعَلَ لَكُمُ السَّمْعَ وَ الْأَبْصَارَ وَ الْأَفْئِدَةَ
قَلِيلًا مَّا تَشْكُرُونَ ۝

١٠- وَ قَالُوا ءِذَا ضَلَلْنَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
ءِإِنَّا لَفِي خَلْقٍ جَدِيدٍ
۝ بَلْ هُمْ بِلِقَائِ رَبِّهِمْ كَافِرُونَ ۝

١١- قُلْ يَتَوَفَّكُم مَّلَكُ الْمَوْتِ الَّذِي
وُكِّلَ بِكُمْ ثُمَّ إِلَىٰ رَبِّكُمْ تُرْجَعُونَ ۝

3638. Then comes life and the reproduction of life. We are still looking at the purely physical aspect, but it is now a stage higher; it is an animal. Its reproduction is through the sperm or semen, which is a quintessence of every part of the body of man. Yet it issues from the same part of his body as the urine, and is therefore despicable in man's sight. It is a living cell or cells, summing up so much ancestral life-history. Cf. xxiii. 12, and n 2872.

3639. The third stage is indicated by "fashioned him in due proportion". Cf. xv. 29. After fertilisation of ovum by the sperm, an individual life comes into existence, and it is gradually fashioned into shape; its limbs are formed; its animal life begins to function; all the beautiful adaptations come into play. The fourth stage here mentioned is that of distinctive Man, into whom God's spirit is breathed. Then he rises higher than animals.

3640. As a complete man he gets the higher faculties. The five animal senses I understand to be included in the third stage. But in the fourth stage he rises higher, and is addressed in the second person, "you," instead of the third person "him". He has now the spiritual counterpart of hearing (i.e., the capacity of hearing God's Message) and seeing (i.e., the inner vision), and feeling the nobler heights of love and understanding the bearings of the inner life (both typified by the Heart). Yet with all these gifts, what thanks does unregenerate or corrupted man give to God?

3641. Cf. xiii. 5. It has been the cry of Materialists and Sceptics through the ages not only to bound their horizon with this brief life, but to deny dogmatically that there can be a future life. Though this is against the professed principles of Sceptics, in practice they take up that attitude. Here "they" refers to those "who give little thanks" to God, mentioned in the last verse. The argument used against them is: if God can produce such a wonderful creation the first time, why can He not make it again? That points to the possibility: our own general inner hope and expectation of a future life, coupled with Faith in God's work, is the ground of our certainty.

3642. If death is certain, as it is, and this life by itself in no way satisfies our instincts and expectations, we may be sure that the agency which separates our soul from our body will bring us into the new world. If we believe in a soul at all—the very foundation of Religion—we must believe in a Future, without which the soul has no meaning.

SECTION 2.

12. If only thou couldst see
When the guilty ones
Will bend low their heads
Before their Lord, (saying :)
" Our Lord! We have seen
And we have heard : <sup>3643</sup>
Now then send us back
(To the world) : we will Work righteousness : for we
Do indeed (now) believe."

۱۲- وَلَوْ تَرَىٰ إِذِ الْمُجْرِمُونَ

13. If We had so willed, <sup>3644</sup>
We could certainly have brought
Every soul its true guidance :
But the Word from Me <sup>3645</sup>
Will come true, " I will Fill Hell with Jinns
And men all together."

۱۳- وَلَوْ شِئْنَا لَآتَيْنَا كُلَّ نَفْسٍ هُدًى

14. " Taste ye then—for ye
Forgot the Meeting <sup>3646</sup>
Of this Day of yours,
And We too will
Forget you—taste ye
The Penalty of Eternity
For your (evil) deeds! "

۱۴- فَذُوقُوا بِمَا نَسِيتُمْ لِقَاءَ يَوْمِكُمْ هَذَا
إِنَّا نَسِينَكُمُ
وَذُوقُوا عَذَابَ الْخُلْدِ
بِمَا كُنتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ ○

15. Only those believe
In Our Signs, who, when

۱۵- إِنَّمَا يُؤْمِنُ بِآيَاتِنَا الَّذِينَ إِذَا

3643. In life on the new plane, there will be no room for deception or self-deception. The most hardened sinner will see the truth and the justice of the Day of Account. He will wish he could be sent back, but it will be too late. The world as we know it will have already passed away.

3644. Could evil have been avoided? Certainly everything is in God's power. If it had been His Will and Plan, He could have created a world in which there would have been no choice or will in any of His creatures. But that was not His Will and Plan. In the world as we see it, man has a certain amount of choice and free-will. That being so, He has provided Signs and means of instruction for man, in order that man's will may be straight and pure. A necessary corollary will be Punishment for the infraction of His Law. That Punishment must come to pass, for God's Word is true and must be fulfilled.

3645. Cf. xi. 119, n. 1623, and vii. 18, and see last note. Jinns are the evil spirits that tempt men, and the men who will suffer punishment will be those who have succumbed to their temptations.

3646. "Forgot": Cf. n. 1029 to vii. 51. "Forget" is here in the sense of "to ignore deliberately, to reject with scorn". In the sense of mistake or defect of knowledge it is inapplicable to the All-Perfect Being, for we are expressly told: "My Lord never errs, nor forgets": xx. 52.

They are recited to them,

١٩- أَمْ أَوْلَاؤُا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ فَلَهُمْ
جَنَّاتُ الْمَأْوَى نُزُلًا بِمَا كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ ○

3647. "In adoration" : Sujjadan, or in a posture of prostration, expressive of deep humility and faith. This is the key-word of the Sūra, which bears the title of Sajda. All the Signs of God lead our thoughts upwards towards Him, and when they are expounded, our attitude should be one of humble gratitude to God. At this passage it is usual to bow in adoration.

3648. Junūb : sides, on which men sleep and turn in sleep : I have translated "limbs" for shortness. Holy men and women "breathless with adoration" shun soft, comfortable beds, and luxurious sleep. Their limbs are better exercised in offices of devotion and prayer, especially by night. Commentators specially refer this to Prayers called Tahajjud, which are offered after midnight in the small hours of the morning, in twelve Rak'ats.

3649. In Fear and Hope : in spiritual fear lest their dedication to God should not be sufficiently worthy to be accepted, and a spiritual longing or hope that their shortcomings will be overlooked by the Mercy of God. And their adoration is not shown only in Prayer, but also in practical Service and Charity, out of whatever gifts they may have received from God.

3650. Delights of the eye : an idiom for that which pleases most and gives most satisfaction. In our present state we can scarcely imagine the real Bliss that will come to us in the Future.

3651. The Future of the two classes—the Blessed and the Wicked—is described in verses 19-22.

3652. A home brings before our minds a picture of peace and happiness. When to it are added honour and hospitality, it adds further to the idea of happiness.

20. As to those who are
Rebellious and wicked, their abode
Will be the Fire: every time <sup>3653</sup>
They wish to get away
Therefrom, they will be forced
Thereinto, and it will be said
To them: "Taste ye
The Penalty of the Fire,
The which ye were wont
To reject as false."

۲۰- وَأَمَّا الَّذِينَ فَسَقُوا فَمَا لَهُمْ النَّارُ
كُلَّمَا أَرَادُوا أَنْ يَخْرُجُوا مِنْهَا
أُعِيدُوا فِيهَا
وَقِيلَ لَهُمْ ذُوقُوا عَذَابَ النَّارِ
الَّذِي كُنْتُمْ بِهِ تُكَذِّبُونَ ○

21. And indeed We will make
Them taste of the Penalty
Of this (life) prior to <sup>3654</sup>
The supreme Penalty, in order
That they may (repent and) return.

۲۱- وَلَنذِيقَنَّهُمْ مِنَ الْعَذَابِ الْأَدْنَى
دُونَ الْعَذَابِ الْأَكْبَرِ
لَعَلَّهُمْ يَرْجِعُونَ ○

22. And who does more wrong
Than one to whom are recited
The Signs of his Lord,
And who then turns away <sup>3655</sup>
Therefrom? Verily from those
Who transgress We shall exact
(Due) Retribution.

۲۲- وَمَنْ أَظْلَمُ مِمَّنْ ذُكِّرَ
بآيَاتِ رَبِّهِ ثُمَّ أَعْرَضَ عَنْهَا
إِنَّا مِنَ الْمُجْرِمِينَ مُنتَقِمُونَ ○

SECTION 3.

23. We did indeed aforesaid
Give the Book to Moses: <sup>3656</sup>

۲۳- وَلَقَدْ آتَيْنَا مُوسَى الْكِتَابَ

3653. Cf. xxii. 22. Just as the garden is the type of Bliss, so is the Fire the type of Penalty and suffering. There will be no getting away from it. What will be the thoughts of those who had earned it? "We used to reject the idea of the Consequences as a mere chimera: and now we find it to be true!" What will be their feelings then? How will they like it?

3654. The final Penalty is to come in the Hereafter. There is no doubt about it. But before it comes, a minor Penalty comes in this very life. It may be in some kind of misfortune, or it may be in the pangs of a tortured conscience or secret sorrow. But this minor Penalty may be really a mercy, as it gives them a chance of repentance and amendment.

3655. The worst and most hardened sinner is the man to whom God's Signs are actually brought home and who yet prefers Evil and turns away from the Light of God. The Signs may be in the words and guidance of a great Teacher or in some minor sorrow or warning, which he disregards with contumely. Or it may be in a catastrophic blow to his conscience, which should open his eyes, but from which he deliberately refuses to profit. The penalty—the Nemesis—must necessarily come eventually.

3656. "The Book" is not here co-extensive with Revelation. Moses had, revealed to him, a Law, a sharī'at, which was to guide his people in all the practical affairs of their life. Jesus, after him, was also inspired by God: but his Injil or Gospel contained only general principles and not a Code or sharī'at. The holy Prophet was the next one to have a sharī'at or "Book" in that sense: for the Qur-ān contains both a Code and general principles. This Sūra is a Meccan Sūra. The Code came later in Medina. But he is given the assurance that he will also have a Code, to supersede the earlier Law, and complete the Revelation of God.

Be not then in doubt
Of its reaching (thee) : <sup>3657</sup>
And We made it
A guide to the Children
Of Israel.

فَلَا تَكُنْ فِي مَرِيَّةٍ مِنْ لِقَائِهِ
وَجَعَلْنَاهُ هُدًى لِبَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ ۝

24. And We appointed, from among Them, Leaders, giving guidance <sup>3658</sup>
Under Our command, so long
As they persevered with patience
And continued to have faith
In Our Signs.

۲۴- وَجَعَلْنَا مِنْهُمْ أَئِمَّةً يَهْدُونَ
بِأَمْرِنَا لَمَّا صَبَرُوا تَتَابَعُوا
وَكَانُوا بِآيَاتِنَا يُوقِنُونَ ۝

25. Verily thy Lord will judge
Between them on the Day
Of Judgment, in the matters
Wherein they differ
(among themselves) <sup>3659</sup>

۲۵- إِنَّ رَبَّكَ هُوَ يَفْصِلُ بَيْنَهُمْ يَوْمَ
الْقِيَامَةِ فِيمَا كَانُوا فِيهِ يَخْتَلِفُونَ ۝

26. Does it not teach them
A lesson, how many generations
We destroyed before them,
In whose dwellings they
(Now) go to and fro ? <sup>3660</sup>
Verily in that are Signs :
Do they not then listen ? <sup>3661</sup>

۲۶- أَوَلَمْ يَهْدِ لَهُمْ كَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ
مِنَ الْقُرُونِ
يَمْشُونَ فِي مَسْكِنِهِمْ
إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ أَفَلَا يَسْمَعُونَ ۝

3657. " Its reaching (thee) " : liqā-i-hi. Commentators differ as to the construction of the pronoun hi, which may be translated either "its" or "his". I construe it to refer to "the Book", as that gives the most natural meaning, as explained in the last note.

3658. The series of Judges, Prophets, and Kings in Israel continued to give good guidance, in accordance with God's Law, as long as the people continued in Faith and Constancy (persevering patience). When that condition ceased, God's grace was withdrawn, and the people broke up into wrangling sects and practically suffered national annihilation.

3659. These wrangles and disputes among them will continue until the Day of Judgment, but meantime a new Ummat (that of Islam) will arise and take its place, with a universal and unified Message for mankind.

3660. If a nation gone astray could only learn from the history of earlier nations that were destroyed for their evil! They could see vestiges of them in their daily goings to and fro: the Jews could see vestiges of the Philistines, Amalekites, etc., in Palestine, and the pagan Arabs, of the 'Ad and Thamūd in Arabia.

3661. " Listen " : i.e., listen to the warnings conveyed in God's Signs. Notice how naturally the transition is effected from the physical to the spiritual.—from the ruined physical vestiges of ungodly nations on this earth to the more intangible Signs conveyed by History and Revelation. Here the sense of Hearing is mentioned, both in its physical and its metaphysical or spiritual aspect. In the next verse the sense of Sight is mentioned in both aspects.

27. And do they not see
That We do drive Rain <sup>3662</sup>
To parched soil (bare
Of herbage), and produce therewith
Crops, providing food
For their cattle and themselves ?
Have they not the vision ? <sup>3663</sup>

28. They say : " When will
This Decision be, if ye <sup>3664</sup>
Are telling the truth ? "

29. Say : " On the Day
Of Decision, no profit
Will it be to Unbelievers
If they (then) believe !
Nor will they be granted
A respite."

30. So turn away from them,
And wait : they too <sup>3665</sup>
Are waiting.

٢٧- أَوَلَمْ يَرَوْا أَنَّا نَسُقُ الْمَاءَ

إِلَى الْأَرْضِ الْجُرْبِ

فَنُخْرِجُ بِهِ تَرَاوَعًا تَأْكُلُ مِنْهُ أَنْعَامُهُمْ

وَأَنْفُسُهُمْ أَفَلَا يُبْصِرُونَ

٢٨- وَيَقُولُونَ مَتَى هَذَا الْفَتْحُ

إِنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ

٢٩- قُلْ يَوْمَ الْفَتْحِ لَا يَنْفَعُ

الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا إِيمَانُهُمْ

وَلَا هُمْ يُنظَرُونَ

٣٠- فَأَعْرِضْ عَنْهُمْ وَانْتَظِرْ

إِنَّهُمْ مُنْتَظَرُونَ

3662. Again, as in the last verse, there is an easy transition from the physical to the spiritual. In physical nature there may be parched soil, which is to all intents and purposes dead. God sends rain, and the dead soil is converted into living land producing rich crops of fodder and corn, nuts and fruits, to satisfy the hunger of man and beast. So in the spiritual world. The dead man is revived by God's grace and mercy, through His Revelation. He becomes not only an asset to himself but to his dependents and those around him.

3663. The verse begins with "do they not see?" (a'wa lam yarau), a physical act. It ends with "have they not the vision?" (afa la yubshirun), a matter of spiritual insight. This is parallel to the two kinds of "hearing" or "listening", explained in n. 3661 above.

3664. The Unbelievers may say : "If all this which you say is true, tell us when this final restoration of Realities, Life, and true Values will come about." The answer is : "If you mean that you will postpone your repentance and reform till then, it will be no use : it will be too late for repentance, and no respite will be granted then : this is the Respite, and this is your chance."

3665. Read vi. 158 and n. 984 as a commentary on this. There it is said to the Unbelievers : "Wait ye : we too are waiting." Here the Righteous one is told : "Wait (thou) : they too are waiting." The reversal of the order is appropriate : in each case the person (or persons) addressed is mentioned first. Cf. also vii. 71.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXIII (Aḥzāb).

The series of mystic Sūras beginning with S. xxvi. having been closed with the last Sūra, we now come back to the hard facts of this life. Two questions are mainly considered here, viz., (1) the attempt by violence and brute force to crush the truth, and (2) the attempt, by slander or unseemly conduct, to poison the relations of women with men.

As regards the first, the story of the Aḥzāb or Confederates, who tried to surround and annihilate the Muslim community in Medina, is full of underhand intrigues on the part of such diverse enemies as the Pagan Quraish, the Jews (Banū Nadhīr) who had been already expelled from Medina for their treachery, the Qaṭafān tribe of Bedouin Arabs from the interior, and the Jewish tribe of Banū Quraiza in Medina. This was the unholy Confederacy against Islam. But though they caused a great deal of anxiety and suffering to the beleaguered Muslims, Islam came triumphantly out of the trial and got more firmly established than ever.

The Quraish in Mecca had tried all sorts of persecution, boycott, insult, and bodily injuries to the Muslims, leading to their partial hijrat to Abyssinia and their Hijrat as a body to Medina. The first armed conflict between them and the Muslims took place at Badr in Ramadhān A.H. 2, when the Quraish were signally defeated. (See n. 352 to iii. 13). Next year (Shauwāl A.H. 3) they came to take revenge on Medina. The battle was fought at Uḥud, and though the Muslims suffered severely, Medina was saved and the Meccans had to return to Mecca with their object frustrated. Then they began to make a network of intrigues and alliances, and besieged Medina with a force of 10,000 men in Shauwāl and Zul-qa'd A.H. 5. This is the siege of the Confederates referred to in xxxiii. 9-27, which lasted over two weeks: some accounts give 27 days. It caused much suffering, from hunger, cold, an unceasing shower of arrows, and constant general or concentrated assaults. But it ended in the discomfiture of the Confederates, and established Islam firmer than ever. It was a well-organised and formidable attack, but the Muslims had made preparations to meet it. One of the preparations, which took the enemy by surprise, was the Trench (Khandaq) dug round Medina by the Prophet's order and under the supervision of Salmān the Persian. The siege and battle are therefore known as the Battle of the Trench or the Battle of the Confederates.

As regards the position and dignity of the ladies of the Prophet's Household and the Muslim women generally, salutary principles are laid down to safeguard their honour and protect them from slander and insult. The ladies of the Household interested themselves in social work and work of instruction for the Muslim women, and Muslim women were being trained more and more in community service. Two of them (the two Zainabs) devoted themselves to the poor. The nursing of the wounded on or by the battlefield was specially necessary in those days of warfare. The Prophet's daughter Faṭīma, then aged about 19 to 20, lovingly nursed her father's wounds at Uḥud (A.H. 3); Rufaida nursed Sa'd ibn Mu'az's wounds at the Siege of Medina by the Confederates (A.H. 5); and in the Khaibar expedition (A.H. 7) Muslim women went out from Medina for nursing service.

A portion of this Sūra sums up the lessons of the Battle of the Trench and must have been revealed some time after that Battle (Shauwāl A.H. 5). The marriage with Zainab referred to in verse 37 also took place in the same year. Some portions (e.g., verse 27, see n. 3705) were probably revealed in A.H. 7 after the Khaibar settlement.

Summary.—The pagan customs in human relationships should be abandoned, and men and women should be held in honour according to natural relationships and spiritual position (xxxiii. 1-8, and C. 186).

The Battle of the Trench and its lessons: hypocrites and their fears: Truth and noble examples to be followed (xxxiii. 9-27, and C. 187).

High position and seemly conduct for the Apostle's wives: unhappy marriages (like Zainab's) not to be perpetuated on false scruples: Prophet's wives to be treated kindly and gently (xxxiii. 28-52, and C. 188).

Respect due to Apostle and his family: slander to be avoided and punished guard your words and your responsibilities (xxxiii. 53-73, and C. 189).

C. 186.—The issue of all things depends
 (xxxiii. 1-8.) On God alone: we must put our trust
 On Him as the Guardian of all affairs.
 He loves truth in all things, both great
 And small: call things by their right names.
 If false relationships by custom or superstition
 Do harm to men or women, shun them.
 The spiritual Guide is more than Father:
 The ladies of his household are Mothers
 To the Believers—in rank, dignity, and duty.
 The Guide will have to give an account,
 In the Hereafter, of how the Truth was received
 Which he was charged to proclaim to men.

Sūra XXXIII

Ahzab, or The Confederates.

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. ﴿٣٦٦﴾ Prophet! Fear God,
And hearken not
To the Unbelievers <sup>3666</sup>
And the Hypocrites :
Verily God is full
Of knowledge and wisdom.
2. But follow that which Comes to thee by inspiration
From thy Lord : for God
Is well acquainted <sup>3667</sup>
With (all) that ye do.
3. And put thy trust
In God, and enough is God <sup>3668</sup>
As a Disposer of affairs.
4. ﴿٣٦٩﴾ God has not made
For any man two hearts <sup>3669</sup>

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ اتَّقِ اللَّهَ
وَلَا تُطِعِ الْكَافِرِينَ وَالْمُنَافِقِينَ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ عَلِيمًا حَكِيمًا ۝

٢- وَاتَّبِعْ مَا يُوحَىٰ إِلَيْكَ مِنْ رَبِّكَ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ خَبِيرًا ۝

٣- وَتَوَكَّلْ عَلَى اللَّهِ
وَكَفَىٰ بِاللَّهِ وَكِيلًا ۝

٤- مَا جَعَلَ اللَّهُ لِرَجُلٍ مِنْ قَلْبَيْنِ

3666. The fifth year A.H. was a critical year in the external history of early Islam, and this Sūra must be read in the light of the events that then took place. As explained in the Introduction, the Grand Confederacy against Islam came and invested Medina and failed utterly. It consisted of the Meccan Unbelievers, the desert Arabs of Central Arabia, the Jews previously expelled for treachery from Medina, the Jews remaining in Medina, and the Hypocrites led by 'Abdullah ibn Ubai, who have already been described in ix. 43-110. Their bond of union was the common hatred of Islam, and it snapped under the reverses they met with. It is important to note three points. (1) The Jews as a body now lost their last chance of bearing the standard of Islam: the best of them had already accepted the renewal of God's Message, (2) A definite status was given to the Prophet's household, after the slanders on Ḥadhrat 'Aisha had been stilled (xxiv. 11-26, and the true position of the Mothers of the Believers had been cleared. (3) A further exposition of the purity of sex relation was given, based on the story of Ḥadhrat Zainab, the "Mother of the Poor". These points will be referred to in later notes.

3667. In the most adverse circumstances, in the midst of the assaults of Evil, the plots of treason and hypocrisy, the darts of slander and false charges, and stupid superstitions and taboos, the man of God should steer his course steadily according to God's Law and not fear human evil, in whatever form it appears. Men may misjudge, but God knows all. Men may try to overthrow Good, but Wisdom is with God.

3668. We must wholly trust God; He is the true and efficient Guardian of all interests. Cf. iv. 81, and n. 600.

3669. "Two hearts in his (one) breast": two inconsistent attitudes: such as serving God and Mammon; or subscribing to both Truth and Superstition; or hypocritically pretending one thing and intending another. Such a thing is against God's Law and Will. Apart from the condemnation of general hypocrisy, two pagan customs of the Times of Ignorance are mentioned, and their iniquity pointed out. See the notes 3670 and 3671. Nor can a man love two women with equal love; hence the injustice of marrying more than one wife; see the second clause in iv. 3.

In his (one) body : nor has
 He made your wives whom
 Ye divorce by Zihār<sup>3670</sup>
 Your mothers : nor has He Made your adopted sons<sup>3671</sup>
 Your sons. Such is (only)
 Your (manner of) speech
 By your mouths. But God
 Tells (you) the Truth, and He Shows the (right) Way.

5. Call them by (the names
 Of) their fathers : that is
 Juster in the sight of God.
 But if ye know not<sup>3672</sup>
 Their father's (names, call
 Them) your Brothers in faith,
 Or your Maulās.
 But there is no blame
 On you if ye make<sup>3673</sup>
 A mistake therein :
 (What counts is)
 The intention of your hearts :
 And God is Oft-Returning,
 Most Merciful.

فِي جَوْفِهِ وَمَا جَعَلَ أَزْوَاجَكُمْ
 الَّتِي تُظَاهِرُونَ مِنْهُنَّ أُمَّهَاتِكُمْ
 وَمَا جَعَلَ أَدْعِيَاءَكُمْ أَبْنَاءَكُمْ
 ذَلِكَ قَوْلُكُمْ بِأَفْوَاهِكُمْ
 وَاللَّهُ يَقُولُ الْحَقَّ وَهُوَ يَهْدِي السَّبِيلَ ○

هـ- اُدْعُوهُمْ لِأَبَائِهِمْ هُوَ أَقْسَطُ عِنْدَ
 اللَّهِ فَإِنْ لَمْ تَعْلَمُوا آبَاءَهُمْ
 فَاِخْوَانِكُمْ فِي الدِّينِ
 وَمَوَالِيكُمْ
 وَلَيْسَ عَلَيْكُمْ جُنَاحٌ فِيمَا أَخْطَأْتُمْ بِهِ
 وَلَكِنْ مَا تَعَمَّدَتْ قُلُوبُكُمْ
 وَكَانَ اللَّهُ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ○

3670. This was an evil Arab custom, by which the husband selfishly deprived his wife of her conjugal rights and yet kept her tied to himself like a slave without her being free to remarry. He pronounced words importing that she was like his mother. After that she could not demand conjugal rights but was not free from his control and could not contract another marriage. See also lviii. 1-5, where this is condemned in the strongest terms and punishment is provided for it. A man sometimes said such words in a fit of anger : they did not affect him, but they degraded her position.

3671. If a man called another's son "his son", it might create complications with natural and normal relationships if taken too literally. It is pointed out that it is only a façon de parler in men's mouths, and should not be taken literally. The truth is the truth and cannot be altered by men's adopting "sons". "Adoption" in the technical sense is not allowed in Muslim Law. Those who have been "wives of your sons proceeding from your loins" are within the Prohibited Degrees of marriage; iv. 23 : but this does not apply to "adopted" sons.

3672. Freedmen were often called after their master's name as the "son of so and so". When they were slaves, perhaps their fathers' names were lost altogether. It is more correct to speak of them as the Maulā of so and so. But Maulā in Arabic might also imply a close relationship of friendship : in that case, too, it is better to use the right term instead of the term "son". "Brother" is not objectionable, because "Brotherhood" is used in a wider sense than "fatherhood" and is not likely to be misunderstood.

3673. What is aimed at is to destroy the superstition of erecting false relationships to the detriment or loss of true blood-relations. It is not intended to penalise an unintentional slip in the matter, and indeed, even if a man deliberately calls another his son or father, who is not his son or father, out of politeness or affection. "God is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful". It is the action of mischievous parties which is chiefly reprehended, if they intend false insinuations. A mere mistake on their part does not matter.

6. The Prophet is closer
To the Believers than
Their own selves,<sup>3674</sup>
And his wives are<sup>3675</sup>
Their mothers. Blood-relations
Among each other have
Closer personal ties,
In the Decree of God.
Than (the Brotherhood of)
Believers and Muhājirs :<sup>3676</sup>
Nevertheless do ye
What is just to your
Closest friends : such is
The writing in the Decree
(Of God).

٤- النَّبِيُّ أَوْلَىٰ بِالْمُؤْمِنِينَ مِنْ أَنفُسِهِمْ
وَأَزْوَاجُهُ أُمَّهَاتُهُمْ
وَأُولُوا الْأَرْحَامِ بَعْضُهُمْ
أَوْلَىٰ بِبَعْضٍ فِي كِتَابِ اللَّهِ
مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُهَاجِرِينَ
إِلَّا أَنْ تَفْعَلُوا إِلَىٰ أَوْلِيَائِكُمْ مَعْرُوفًا
كَانَ ذَلِكَ فِي الْكِتَابِ مَسْطُورًا ۝

7. And remember We took
From the Prophets their
Covenant :<sup>3677</sup>
As (We did) from thee :
From Noah, Abraham, Moses,
And Jesus the son of Mary :
We took from them
A solemn Covenant :

٤- وَإِذْ أَخَذْنَا مِنَ النَّبِيِّينَ
مِيثَاقَهُمْ وَمِنْكَ وَمِنْ نُوحٍ وَإِبْرَاهِيمَ
وَمُوسَىٰ وَعِيسَىٰ ابْنِ مَرْيَمَ
وَأَخَذْنَا مِنْهُم مِّيثَاقًا غَلِيظًا ۝

3674. In spiritual relationship the Prophet is entitled to more respect and consideration than blood-relations. The Believers should follow him rather than their fathers or mothers or brothers, where there is conflict of duties. He is even nearer—closer to our real interests—than our own selves. In some Qirāats, like that of Ubai ibn Ka'b, occur also the words "and he is a father to them", which imply his spiritual relationship and connect on with the words "and his wives are their mothers". Thus his spiritual fatherhood would be contrasted pointedly with the repudiation of the vulgar superstition of calling any one like Zaid ibn Hāritha by the appellation Zaid ibn Muḥammad (xxxiii. 40): such an appellation is really disrespectful to the Prophet.

3675. See last note. This Sūra establishes the dignity and position of the Holy Prophet's wives, who had a special mission and responsibility as Mothers of the Believers. They were not to be like ordinary women: they had to instruct women in spiritual matters visit and minister to those who were ill or in distress, and do other kindly offices in aid of the Prophet's mission.

3676. No man should deprive his blood-relations of such rights of maintenance and property as they might have. The community of Believers, inhabitants of Medina and those who had migrated to Medina from Mecca, also had their mutual rights, but they were not to be put forward as an excuse to defeat the prior rights of natural relationship. In the early Medina days, Anṣār were allowed to inherit from Muhājirs whose natural relations had not emigrated, but this practice was discontinued when normal relations were re-established between Mecca and Medina.

3677. Cf. iii. 81. There is an implied covenant on all created things to follow God's Law, which is the law of their being: see v. 1. But there is a special implied covenant with all Prophets, strict and solemn, that they shall carry out their mission, proclaim God's Truth without fear or favour, and be ever ready in His service in all circumstances. That gives them their position and dignity as explained in the last verse, and their tremendous responsibility in respect of the people whom they come to instruct and lead to the right Path.

8. That (God) may question
The (Custodians) of Truth concerning
The Truth they (were charged with): <sup>3678</sup>
And He has prepared
For the Unbelievers
A grievous Penalty.

٨- لَيْسَلِ الصّٰدِقِيْنَ
عَنْ صِدْقِهِمْ
وَاعَدَ لِلْكَافِرِيْنَ
عَذَابًا اَلِيْمًا ۝

C. 187.—When the formidable forces of a whole Confederacy
(xxxiii. 9-27.) Bent on destroying Islam burst
Upon Medina, it was God's grace that saved
The Muslims. The enemies and the Hypocrites
Did their best to defeat the purpose of God,
But they were foiled. In the Apostle was found
The ideal Leader for the men of God,
Who became heirs to the heritage misused
By enemies to Faith and the Laws of God.

SECTION 2.

9. ﴿٩﴾ ye who believe!
Remember the Grace of God,
(Bestowed) on you, when
There came down on you
Hosts (to overwhelm you): <sup>3679</sup>
But We sent against them <sup>3680</sup>

٩- يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اذْكُرُوا نِعْمَةَ اللَّهِ
عَلَيْكُمْ إِذْ جَاءَكُمْ
جُنُودٌ فَأَرْسَلْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ

3678. The men to whom God's Truth has been committed for promulgation will be asked in the Hereafter as to how the Truth fared in the world—how it was received, who opposed it, and who assisted it. Like all trustees, they will have to give a full account of their trust. God knows all, and it will not add to His information. But it will be evidence for and against those to whom it was preached, so that the responsibility of those who dishonoured it may be duly enforced. The primary custodians of spiritual Truth are the Prophets, but in descending degrees all men to whom God's Message comes are included.

3679. In this verse is summed up the beginning and the end of the fateful struggle of the Siege of Medina in A H. 5. The composition of the unhallowed Confederacy that came to destroy Islam is referred to in the Introduction. They came with a force of ten to twelve thousand fighting men, an unprecedented army for that time and country. The battle is known as the Battle of the Trench.

3680. After a close investment of two to four weeks, during which the enemy were disheartened by their ill success, there was a piercing blast of the cold east wind. It was a severe winter, and February can be a very cold month in Medina, which is about 3,000 ft. above the sea-level. The enemy's tents were torn up, their fires were extinguished, the sand and rain beat in their faces, and they were terrified by the portents against them. They had already wellnigh fallen out amongst themselves, and beating a hasty retreat, they melted away. The Medina fighting strength was no more than 3,000, and the Jewish tribe of the Banū Qurayza who were in their midst was a source of weakness as they were treacherously intriguing with the enemy. And further there were the Hypocrites: see n. 3666 above. But there were hidden forces that helped the Muslims. Besides the forces of nature there were moral forces,—mutual distrust and bickerings in the enemy camp, and on the other side, perfect discipline among the real Muslims, and the superb leadership of the holy Prophet.

A hurricane and forces
That ye saw not:
But God sees (clearly)<sup>3681</sup>
All that ye do.

رِيحًا وَجُنُودًا لَّمْ تَرَوْهَا
وَكَانَ اللَّهُ بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ بَصِيرًا ٥

10. Behold! they came on you
From above you and from
Below you, and behold,
The eyes became dim
And the hearts gaped<sup>3682</sup>
Up to the throats,
And ye imagined various (Vain) thoughts about God!

١٠- إِذْ جَاءَكُمْ مِنْ فَوْقِكُمْ وَمِنْ أَسْفَلَ
مِنْكُمْ وَإِذْ زَاغَتِ الْأَبْصَارُ
وَبَلَغَتِ الْقُلُوبُ الْحَنَاجِرَ
وَتُظُنُّونَ بِاللَّهِ الظُّنُونَا ٥

11. In that situation
Were the Believers tried:
They were shaken as by
A tremendous shaking.

١١- هُنَالِكَ ابْتُلِيَ الْمُؤْمِنُونَ
وَزُلْزِلُوا زِلْزَالًا شَدِيدًا ٥

12. And behold! The Hypocrites
And those in whose hearts
Is a disease (even) say: "God
And His Apostle promised us
Nothing but delusions!"<sup>3683</sup>

١٢- وَإِذْ يَقُولُ الْمُنَافِقُونَ وَالَّذِينَ فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ
قُرْصٌ قَا وَعَدْنَا اللَّهُ
وَرَسُولُهُ إِلَّا غُرُورًا ٥

13. Behold! A party among them
Said: "Ye men of Yathrib!
Ye cannot stand (the attack)!
Therefore go back!"
And a band of them
Ask for leave of the Prophet,

١٣- وَإِذْ قَالَتْ طَائِفَةٌ مِنْهُمْ يَا أَهْلَ يَثْرِبَ
لَا مُقَامَ لَكُمْ فَارْجِعُوا
وَيَسْتَأْذِنُ فَرِيقٌ مِنْهُمُ النَّبِيَّ

3681. God sees everything. Therefore we may conclude that the discipline and moral fervour of the Muslims, as well as the enemy's insincerities, intrigues, and reliance on brute force, were all contributory causes to his repulse, under God's dispensation. There were many hidden causes which neither party saw clearly.

3683. Before this year's mass attack on Medina, the Muslims had successfully reached the Syrian border on the north, and there were hopes of reaching Yemen in the south. The holy Prophet had seen clear signs of expansion and victory for the Muslims. Now that they were shut in within the Trench on the defensive, the Hypocrites taunted them with having indulged in delusive hopes. But the event showed that the hopes were not delusive. They were realised beyond expectations in a few years.

Saying, "Truly our houses <sup>3684</sup>
Are bare and exposed," though
They were not exposed :
They intended nothing but
To run away.

يَقُولُونَ إِنَّ بُيُوتَنَا عَوْرَةٌ ۗ
وَمَا هِيَ بِعَوْرَةٍ ۗ
إِنَّ يُرِيدُونَ إِلَّا فِرَارًا ۝

14. And if an entry had
Been effected to them <sup>3685</sup>
From the sides of the (City),
And they had been
Incited to sedition,
They would certainly have
Brought it to pass, with
None but a brief delay !

۱۴- وَلَوْ دُخِلَتْ عَلَيْهِمْ
مِّنْ أَقْطَارِهَا
ثُمَّ سُئِلُوا الْفِتْنَةَ لآتَوْهَا
وَمَا تَلَبَّثُوا بِهَا إِلَّا يَسِيرًا ۝

15. And yet they had already
Covenanted with God not to turn
Their backs, and a covenant <sup>3686</sup>
With God must (surely)
Be answered for.

۱۵- وَلَقَدْ كَانُوا عَاهَدُوا اللَّهَ مِنْ قَبْلُ
لَا يُوَلُّونَ الْأَدْبَارَ ۗ
وَكَانَ عَهْدُ اللَّهِ مَسْئُولًا ۝

16. Say : "Running away will not
Profit you if ye are Running away from death <sup>3687</sup>
Or slaughter ; and even if (Ye do escape), no more
Than a brief (respite)
Will ye be allowed to enjoy !"

۱۶- قُلْ لَنْ يَنْفَعَكُمْ الْفِرَارُ إِن
فَرَرْتُمْ مِنَ الْمَوْتِ
أَوِ الْقَتْلِ وَإِذَا لَا
تُسْمِعُونَ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا ۝

3684. All the fighting men of Medina had come out of the City and camped in the open space between the City and the Trench that had been dug all round. The disaffected Hypocrites sowed defeatist rumours and pretended to withdraw for the defence of their homes, though their homes were not exposed, and were fully covered by the vigilant defensive force inside the Trench.

3685. The brunt of the fighting was on the north side, but the whole Trench was guarded. At one or two points enemy warriors did break in within the circuit of the Trench, but they were soon disposed of. Hadhrat 'Ali particularly distinguished himself in many fights, wearing the Prophet's own sword and armour. If any of the enemy had been able to penetrate into the City, the disaffected element, which was only sitting on the fence, would have risen against the Muslims at once—with no delay except what might have been necessary to put on their armour and arms.

3686. Apparently, after the battle of Uḥud, certain men who had then shown cowardice were forgiven on undertaking that they would behave better next time. A solemn promise made to the Apostle of God is a promise to God, and it cannot be broken with impunity.

3687. The coward in a fight does not usually save himself from death. He is subject, after desertion, to the fury both of the enemy and of his own side for cowardice and desertion. Assuming that he did escape with his life, where could he go to? The brand of cowardice will be on him, and he will be subject to the vengeance of his own people. In any case, his life would be in ignominy and would be brief, and he would have lost irretrievably the meed of valour.

17. Say : " Who is it that can Screen you from God
If it be His wish
To give you Punishment
Or to give you Mercy ? " <sup>3688</sup>
Nor will they find for themselves,
Besides God, any protector
Or helper.

١٧- قُلْ مَنْ ذَا الَّذِي يَعْصِمُكُمْ مِنَ اللَّهِ
إِنْ أَرَادَ بِكُمْ سُوءًا
أَوْ أَرَادَ بِكُمْ رَحْمَةً ۗ وَلَا يَجِدُونَ لَهُمْ مِنْ
دُونِ اللَّهِ وَلِيًّا وَلَا نَصِيرًا ۝

18. Verily God knows those
Among you who keep back
(Men) and those who say
To their brethren, " Come along
To us ", but come not
To the fight except
For just a little while,

١٨- قَدْ يَعْلَمُ اللَّهُ الْمَعْرُوقِينَ مِنْكُمْ
وَالتَّقَائِلِينَ لِإِخْوَانِهِمْ
هَلُمُّوا إِلَيْنَا
وَلَا يَأْتُونَ الْبَأْسَ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا ۝

19. Covetous over you. <sup>3689</sup>
Then when fear comes,
Thou wilt see them looking
To thee, their eyes revolving,
Like (those of) one over whom
Hovers death : but when
The fear is past,
They will smite you
With sharp tongues, covetous <sup>3690</sup>
Of goods. Such men have
No faith, and so God
Has made their deeds <sup>3691</sup>
Of none effect : and that
Is easy for God. <sup>3692</sup>

١٩- أَشِحَّةً عَلَيْكُمْ ۗ فَإِذَا جَاءَ الْخَوْفُ
رَأَيْتَهُمْ يُنظَرُونَ إِلَيْكَ تَدُورُ أَعْيُنُهُمْ
كَالَّذِي يُغْشَى عَلَيْهِ مِنَ الْمَوْتِ
فَإِذَا ذَهَبَ الْخَوْفُ سَلَقُوكُمْ بِالسِّنَةِ
جِدَادٍ أَشِحَّةً عَلَى الْخَيْرِ
أُولَئِكَ لَمْ يُؤْمِنُوا فَأَحْبَطَ اللَّهُ أَعْمَالَهُمْ
وَكَانَ ذَلِكَ عَلَى اللَّهِ يَسِيرًا ۝

3688. It is still worse if the cowardice or desertion is shown in a Cause, which, because of the high issues of truth and justice, may be called the Cause of God. How can any one escape God's Punishment? And in the same way, how can any one prevent another from obtaining God's Mercy by repentance and amendment? The better path, therefore, is to stand firm in God's Way, and if you fail through human weakness, to repent and seek God's Mercy. Cf xxxiii. 24, and n. 3698 below.

3689. Ashihhatan : covetous, grasping, niggardly. Here the meaning is twofold : (1) they spare themselves in the fight as compared with you ; they are niggardly with themselves as against you ; they contribute little either in personal effort or with their money and resources ; and (2) they covet any gains made or booty won, on the part of the real fighters.

3690. In times of danger, they would look to the holy Prophet for protection, and keep themselves snugly from the fight. When the danger is past, they will come and brag and wrangle and show their covetousness or greed for gain though they gave of themselves but sparingly.

3691. Even any good they may have done becomes vain because of their motives of envy, greed, and covetousness, and their cowardice.

3692. It is not surprising that men's deeds fall as it were dead because there is no pure motive behind them. For men it may be difficult to probe motives, but it is easy for God, Whom hypocrisy or false show can never deceive.

20. They think that the Confederates
Have not withdrawn; and if
The Confederates should come (again),
They would wish they were
In the deserts (wandering)
Among the Bedouins, and <sup>3693</sup>
Seeking news about you
(From a safe distance);
And if they were
In your midst, they
Would fight but little.

۲۰- يَحْسَبُونَ الْأَحْزَابَ لَمْ يَذْهَبُوا
وَأِنْ يَأْتِ الْأَحْزَابُ
يُودُّوْا لَوْ أَنَّهُمْ بَادُونَ فِي الْأَعْرَابِ
يَسْأَلُونَ عَنِ الْبَأْسِ كُمْ
وَلَوْ كَانُوا فِيكُمْ
مَا قَاتَلُوا إِلَّا قَلِيلًا ۝

SECTION 3.

21. We have indeed
In the Apostle of God
A beautiful pattern (of conduct)
For any one whose hope is <sup>3694</sup>
In God and the Final Day,
And who engages much. <sup>3695</sup>
In the praise of God.

۲۱- لَقَدْ كَانَ لَكُمْ فِي رَسُولِ اللَّهِ
أُسْوَةٌ حَسَنَةٌ
لِّمَن كَانَ يَرْجُوا اللَّهَ وَالْيَوْمَ الْآخِرَ
وَذَكَرَ اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا ۝

3693. This completes the picture of the psychology of the Hypocrites, begun at verse 12. Let us analyse it. (1) When they first saw the enemy they were already in a defeatist mood, and thought all was over (verse 12). (2) Not content with disloyalty themselves, they tried to infect others, who made paltry excuses to withdraw from the fight (verse 13). (3) They were ready to betray the City to the enemy if once the enemy had gained entrance (verse 14). (4) They forgot all the promises of fidelity which they had previously sworn (verse 15). (5) In their paltry calculations they forgot that cowardice in war does not pay (verses 16-17). (6) Without taking much part in the actual defence, they were ready to talk glibly and claim a lion's share in the fruits of the victory (verses 18-19). (7) Even when the enemy had withdrawn, their cowardly minds were still afraid that the enemy would return, and were already meditating what they would do in that case: perhaps they would dwell in the deserts and spy on Medina from a safe distance; and if caught in Medina they would fight little and intrigue much.

It was a miracle that with such men in their midst, the holy Prophet and his band won through.

3694. We now have the psychology of the Believers,—God-fearing men, led by that pattern of men and of leaders, Muḥammad Muṣṭafā.

3695. Cf. xxvi, 227: see especially the last clause of that verse in a Meccan Sūra, which was amply fulfilled in Medina.

22. When the Believers saw
The Confederate forces,
They said: " This is
What God and His Apostle <sup>3696</sup>
Had promised us, and God
And His Apostle told us
What was true." And it
Only added to their faith
And their zeal in obedience.

۲۲- وَلَمَّا رَأَى الْمُؤْمِنُونَ الْأَحْزَابَ
قَالُوا هَذَا مَا وَعَدَنَا اللَّهُ وَرَسُولُهُ
وَصَدَقَ اللَّهُ وَرَسُولُهُ
وَمَا زَادَهُمْ إِلَّا إِيمَانًا
وَتَسْلِيمًا ۝

23. Among the Believers are men
Who have been true to
Their Covenant with God:
Of them some have completed <sup>3697</sup>
Their vow (to the extreme),
And some (still) wait:
But they have never changed
(Their determination) in the least:

۲۳- مِنَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ رِجَالٌ
صَدَقُوا مَا عَاهَدُوا اللَّهَ عَلَيْهِ
فَمِنْهُمْ مَنِ قَضَىٰ نَجْبَهُ وَمِنْهُمْ مَن
يَنْتَظِرُ
وَمَا بَدَّلُوا تَبْدِيلًا ۝

24. That God may reward
The men of Truth for Their Truth, and punish
The Hypocrites if that be <sup>3698</sup>

۲۴- لِيَجْزِيَ اللَّهُ الصَّادِقِينَ بِصِدْقِهِمْ
وَيُعَذِّبَ الْمُنَافِقِينَ إِن

3696. This is in contrast to what the Hypocrites said in verse 12 above. The divine promise of help and success is contingent upon our striving and faith. Nothing comes to the poltroon and the sceptical idler. Dangers and difficulties, and conflict with Evil, are foretold us, and we must meet them with fortitude and courage.

3697. In the fight for Truth were (and are) many who sacrificed their all—resources, knowledge, influence, life itself—in the Cause, and never wavered. If they won the crown of martyrdom, they were blessed. Such a one was Sa'd ibn Mu'az, the chief of the Aus tribe, the intrepid standard-bearer of Islam, who died of a wound he had received in the Battle of the Trench. Other heroes fought valiantly and lived, always ready to lay down their lives. Both classes were staunch: they never changed or wavered.

3698. Before the Throne of God's Mercy there is always room for repentance and forgiveness, even after treason and crime: but the forgiveness will be according to God's Will and Plan, which will judge the penitent's sincerity and capacity for good to the nicest degree in his favour. Cf. also xxxiii. 17 above.

His Will, or turn to them
In Mercy: for God is
Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

25. And God turned back
The Unbelievers for (all)
Their fury: no advantage<sup>3699</sup>
Did they gain; and enough
Is God for the Believers
In their fight. And God
Is full of Strength, Able
To enforce His Will.<sup>3700</sup>

26. And those of the people<sup>3701</sup>
Of the Book who aided
Them— God did take them
Down from their strongholds<sup>3702</sup>

شَاءَ أَوْ يَتُوبَ عَلَيْهِمْ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا

لَمْ يَنَالُوا خَيْرًا
وَكَفَى اللَّهُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ الْقِتَالَ
وَكَانَ اللَّهُ قَوِيًّا عَزِيمًا

۲۶- وَأَنْزَلَ الَّذِينَ ظَاهَرُوا مِنْهُمْ مِنْ أَهْلِ
الْكِتَابِ مِنْ صَيَاصِيمٍ

3699. In spite of the mighty preparations and the great forces which the Meccans, in concert with the Central Arabian Bedouins, the discontented Jews, and the treacherous Hypocrites, brought to the siege of Medina, all their plans were frustrated. Their fury availed them nothing. They departed in hot haste. This was their last and dying effort. The initiative thereafter lay with the forces of Islam.

3700. For the meaning of 'Aziz, see n. 2818 to xxii. 40.

3701. The reference is to the Jewish tribe of the Banū Quraiza. They counted among the citizens of Medina and were bound by solemn engagements to help in the defence of the City. But on the occasion of the Confederate siege by the Quraish and their allies they intrigued with the enemies and treacherously aided them. Immediately after the siege was raised and the Confederates had fled in hot haste, the Prophet turned his attention to these treacherous "friends" who had betrayed his City in the hour of danger.

3702. The Banū Quraiza (see last note) were filled with terror and dismay when Medina was free from the Quraish danger. They shut themselves up in their castles about three or four miles to the east (or north east) of Medina, and sustained a siege of 25 days, after which they surrendered, stipulating that they would abide by the decision of their fate at the hands of Sa'd ibn Mu'az, chief of the Aus tribe, with which they had been in alliance.

And cast terror into
 Their hearts. (so that)<sup>3703</sup>
 Some ye slew, and some<sup>3704</sup>
 Ye made prisoners.

وَقَدَفَ فِي قُلُوبِهِمُ الشَّرْعَبَ

 Of their lands, their houses,
 And their goods,
 And of a land which<sup>3705</sup>

 وَأَمْوَالَهُمْ وَأَرْضًا لَمْ

3703. Sa'd applied to them the Jewish Law of the Old Testament, not as strictly as the case warranted. In Deut. xx. 10-18, the treatment of a city "which is very far off from thee" is prescribed to be comparatively more lenient than the treatment of a city "of those people, which the Lord thy God does give thee for an inheritance," i.e., which is near enough to corrupt the religion of the Jewish people. The punishment for these is total annihilation: "thou shalt save alive nothing that breatheth" (Deut. xx. 16). The more lenient treatment for far-off cities is described in the next note. According to the Jewish standard, then, the Quraiza deserved total extermination—of men, women, and children. They were in the territory of Medina itself, and further they had broken their engagements and helped the enemy.

3704. Sa'd adjudged them the milder treatment of the "far-off" cities which is thus described in the Jewish Law: "Thou shalt smite every male thereof with the edge of the sword: but the women and the little ones, and the cattle, and all that is in the city, even all the spoil thereof, shalt thou take unto thyself; and thou shalt eat the spoil of thine enemies, which the Lord thy God nath given thee" (Deut. xx. 13-14). The men of the Quraiza were slain: the women were sold as captives of war; and their lands and properties were divided among the Muhajirs.

3705. If this part of the Sūra was revealed after the autumn of the Hijra year 7, it refers to the result of the Khaibar expedition of that autumn. Khaibar is a Harat or volcanic tract, well-watered with many springs issuing from its basaltic rocks. It has a good irrigation system and produces good harvests of grain and dates in its wet valleys, while the outcrop of rocks in the high ground affords sites for numerous fortresses. At present it is inhabited chiefly by men of the race of Bilal (the Abyssinian) who played a prominent part in the expedition. It is a sort of island in the deserts on the outskirts of Najd. In the holy Prophet's time there were Jewish colonies settled here, but they were a source of constant trouble, especially after the Siege of Medina. It became a nest of all the hostile Jewish elements expelled for their treachery from elsewhere. Its capital, Khaibar, is about 90 miles due north of Medina. Its inhabitants offered some resistance, and Hadhrat 'Ali, though he had just risen from a bed of illness, performed prodigies of valour. After its surrender, a land settlement was made, which retained the cultivators of the soil on the land, but brought them under control, so that no further focus of active hostility should remain near Medina. The terms of the settlement will be found in Waqidi.

C. 188 — The Prophet's household is not for worldly
(xxxiii. 28-52.) Ends : his consorts have a place
And dignity beyond ordinary women
They must recite and proclaim the Signs
Of God. For women have spiritual virtues
And duties like unto men. God decrees
No unhappy wedlock : fear not
To dissolve such and provide what is right
And fitting for the service of God. High
Is the Prophet's position, and he must order
His household as best befits his work
And duties. God doth watch all things.

SECTION 4.

28. ② Prophet ! say
To thy Consorts :
" If it be that ye desire
The life of this world,
And its glitter,— then come !<sup>3706</sup>

وَزِينَتَهَا فَتَعَالَيْنَ أُمَتِّعْكُنَّ

3706. We now come to the subject of the position of the Consorts of Purity (azwāj muṣahharāt), the wives of the holy Prophet. Their position was not like that of ordinary women or ordinary wives. They had special duties and responsibilities. The only youthful marriage of the holy Prophet was his first marriage—that with Ḥadh̄rat Khadija, the best of women and the best of wives. He married her fifteen years before he received his call to Apostleship ; their married life lasted for twenty-five years. and their mutual devotion was of the noblest, judged by spiritual as well as social standards. During her life he had no other wife, which was unusual for a man of his standing among his people. When she died, his age was 50, and but for two considerations, he would probably never have married again, as he was most abstemious in his physical life. The two considerations which governed his later marriages were : (1) compassion and clemency, as when he wanted to provide for suffering widows, who could not be provided for in any other way in that stage of society ; some of them, like Sauda, had issue by their former marriage, requiring protection ; (2) help in his duties of leadership, with women, who had to be instructed and kept together in the large Muslim family, where women and men had similar social rights. Ḥadh̄rat 'Aisha, daughter of Ḥadh̄rat Abū Bakr, was clever and learned, and in Ḥadīth she is an important authority on the life of the Prophet. Ḥadh̄rat Zainab, daughter of Khuzaima, was specially devoted to the poor : she was called the "Mother of the Poor". The other Zainab, daughter of Jaḥsh, also worked for the poor, for whom she provided from the proceeds of her manual work, as she was skilful in leather work. But all the Consorts in their high position had to work and assist as Mothers of the Ummat. Theirs were not idle lives, like those of Odalisques, either for their own pleasure or the pleasure of their husband. They are told here that they had no place in the sacred Household if they merely wished for ease or worldly glitter. If such were the case, they could be divorced and amply provided for.

Enjoyment and set you free
In a handsome manner.

29. But if ye seek God
And His Apostle, and
The Home of the Hereafter,
Verily God has prepared
For the well-doers amongst you <sup>3707</sup>
A great reward.

٢٩- وَإِنْ كُنْتُمْ تُرِيدُونَ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ
وَالدَّارَ الْآخِرَةَ فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ أَعَدَّ
لِلْمُحْسِنِينَ مِنْكُمْ أَجْرًا عَظِيمًا ۝

30. O Consorts of the Prophet
If any of you were guilty
Of evident unseemly conduct, <sup>3708</sup>
The Punishment would be Doubled to her, and that
<sup>21</sup>/<sub>30</sub> Is easy for God. <sup>3709</sup>

٣٠- يَا نِسَاءَ النَّبِيِّ مَنِ يَاْتِ مِنْكُمْ بِفَاحِشَةٍ
مُبَيِّنَةٍ
يُضَعَفْ لَهَا الْعَذَابُ ضِعْفَيْنِ
وَكَانَ ذَلِكَ عَلَى اللَّهِ يَسِيرًا ۝

3707. They were all well-doers. But being in their exalted position, they had extra responsibility, and they had to be specially careful to discharge it. In the same way their reward would be "great", for higher services bring higher spiritual satisfaction, though they were asked to deny themselves some of the ordinary indulgences of this life.

3708. "Evident unseemly conduct": i.e., proved misconduct, as opposed to false slanders from enemies. Such slanders were of no account, but if any of them had behaved in an unseemly manner, it would have been a worse offence than in the case of ordinary women, on account of their special position. Of course none of them were in the least guilty.

3709. Cf. xxxiii. 19 and n. 3692. The punishment in this life for a married woman's unchastity is very severe: for adultery, public flogging with a hundred stripes, under xxiv. 2; or for lewdness (see iv. 15) imprisonment; or stoning to death for adultery, according to certain precedents established in Canon Law. But here the question is not about this kind of punishment or this kind of offence. Even minor indiscretions, in the case of women who were patterns of decorum, would have been reprehensible; and the punishment in the Hereafter is on a higher plane, which we can scarcely understand. But God can appreciate every shade of motive in us. More or less is possible there, which might not be possible in the rough and ready law which we administer here.

31. But any of you that is
Devout in the service of
God and His Apostle,
And works righteousness,—
To her shall We grant
Her reward twice<sup>3710</sup>: and We
Have prepared for her
A generous Sustenance.<sup>3711</sup>

۳۱- وَمَنْ يَّقِنْتِ مُنْكَنَ لِلَّهِ وَمَا سُورِهِ
وَتَعْمَلْ صَالِحًا
نُؤْتِيهَا أَجْرَهَا مَرَّتَيْنِ
وَاعْتَدْنَا لَهَا رِزْقًا كَرِيمًا ۝

32. O Consorts of the Prophet!
Ye are not like any
Of the (other) women:<sup>3712</sup>
If ye do fear (God),
Be not too complaisant
Of speech, lest one
In whose heart is
A disease should be moved
With desire: but speak ye
A speech (that is) just.<sup>3713</sup>

۳۲- يٰۤاَيُّهَا النِّبِيِّ
كَسْتُنَّ كَأَحَدٍ مِّنَ النِّسَاءِ اِنَّ اَتَّقِيْتُنَّ
فَلَا تَخْضَعْنَ بِالْقَوْلِ
فَيَطَّعَ الَّذِي فِي قَلْبِهِ مَرَضٌ
وَ قُلْنَ قَوْلًا مَّعْرُوفًا ۝

33. And stay quietly in
Your houses, and make not
A dazzling display, like
That of the former Times
Of Ignorance; and establish
Regular Prayer, and give
Regular Charity; and obey<sup>3714</sup>
God and His Apostle.
And God only wishes
To remove all abomination

۳۳- وَقَرْنَ فِي بُيُوتِكُنَّ وَلَا تَبَرَّجْنَ
تَبَرُّجَ الْجَاهِلِيَّةِ الْاُولٰٓئِ
وَ اَقِمْنَ الصَّلٰوةَ وَاَتَيْنَ التَّوَكُّوَةَ وَاَطَعْنَ
اللَّهَ وَاَسْوَءَ
اِنَّمَا يُرِيْدُ اللّٰهُ لِيُذْهِبَ عَنْكُمُ الرِّجْسَ

3710. Twice, i.e. once as a righteous woman, and again as a Mother of the Believers, serving the believing women and thus showing her devotion to God and His Apostle.

3711. Sustenance: in the spiritual sense; all that is necessary to sustain her in happiness in her future life.

3712. This is the core of the whole passage. The Prophet's Consorts were not like ordinary women, nor was their marriage an ordinary marriage, in which only personal or social considerations enter. They had a special position and special responsibilities, in the matter of guiding and instructing women who came into the fold of Islam. Islam is a Way of Life, and the Muslims are a family: women have as much place in Islam as men, and their intimate instruction must obviously be through women.

3713. While they were to be kind and gentle to all, they were to be guarded on account of their special position, lest gross people might misunderstand or take advantage of their kindness. They were to make no vulgar worldly displays as in the times of Paganism.

3714. Obedience to God's Law sums up all duties. Regular Prayer (seeking nearness to God) and Regular Charity (doing good to fellow-creatures) are mentioned as specially symbolical of our Religion.

From you, ye Members<sup>3715</sup>
Of the Family, and to make
You pure and spotless.

34. And recite<sup>3716</sup> what is Rehearsed to you in your Homes, of the Signs of God
And His Wisdom :
For God understands
The finest mysteries and
Is well-acquainted (with them).<sup>3717</sup>

SECTION 5.

35. For Muslim men and women, —<sup>3718</sup>
For believing men and women,
For devout men and women,
For true men and women,
For men and women who are
Patient and constant, for men
And women who humble themselves,
For men and women who give<sup>3719</sup>
In charity, for men and women
Who fast (and deny themselves),
For men and women who
Guard their chastity, and
For men and women who

أَهْلَ الْبَيْتِ وَيُطَهِّرَكُمْ تَطْهِيرًا ۝

۳۴- وَأَذْكُرَنَّ مَا يُنْتَلَىٰ فِي
بُيُوتِكُمْ مِنْ آيَاتِ اللَّهِ وَالْحِكْمَةِ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ لَطِيفًا خَبِيرًا ۝

۳۵- إِنَّ السُّلَمِيْنَ وَالسُّلَمِيَّاتِ وَالْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ
وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ وَالْقَنَاتِيْنَ وَالْقَنَاتِيَّاتِ وَ
الصُّدُقِيْنَ وَالصُّدُقَاتِ وَالصَّابِرِيْنَ وَ
الصَّابِرَاتِ وَالْخَاشِعِيْنَ وَالْخَاشِعَاتِ وَ
الْمُتَصَدِّقِيْنَ وَالْمُتَصَدِّقَاتِ وَالصَّائِمِيْنَ
وَالصَّائِمَاتِ وَالْحَافِظِيْنَ فُرُوجَهُمْ وَ
الْحَافِظَاتِ وَالذَّاكِرِيْنَ اللَّهَ كَثِيرًا وَالذَّاكِرَاتِ

3715. Notice the transition in this clause to the masculine gender, while before this the verbs and pronouns were in the feminine gender as referring to the consorts. The statement in this clause is now more general, including (besides the Consorts) the whole family, namely, Ḥadhrat Fāṭima the daughter, Ḥadhrat 'Alī the son-in-law, and their sons Ḥasan and Ḥusain, the beloved grandsons of the Prophet. The masculine gender is used generally, in speaking of a mixed assembly of men and women.

3716. The verb is uzkurna, feminine gender, as referring to the Azwāj again. It means not only "remember", but "recite", "teach", "make known", "publish", the Message which ye learn at home from the holy Prophet, the fountain of spiritual knowledge. The "Signs of God" refer specially to the verses of the Qur-ān, and Wisdom to the resulting instruction derived therefrom.

3717. Cf. xxii. 63, and n. 2844. God's understanding is perfect in every detail, however minute. Therefore use His Revelation for every phase of life.

3718. Islam, or submitting our will to God's Will, includes all the virtues, as particularly specified in this verse. See n. 3720.

3719. A number of Muslim virtues are specified here, but the chief stress is laid on the fact that these virtues are as necessary to women as to men. Both sexes have spiritual as well as human rights and duties in an equal degree, and the future "reward" of the Hereafter, viz., Spiritual Bliss, is provided for the one as for the other.

Engage much in God's praise,—<sup>3720</sup>
For them has God prepared
Forgiveness and great reward.

اعَدَّ اللهُ لَهُمْ مَغْفِرَةً وَأَجْرًا عَظِيمًا ۝

36. It is not fitting
For a Believer, man or woman,
When a matter has been decided
By God and His Apostle,
To have any option
About their decision : <sup>3721</sup>
If any one disobeys God
And His Apostle, he is indeed
On a clearly wrong Path.

۳۶- وَمَا كَانَ لِمُؤْمِنٍ وَلَا مُمُؤِنَةٍ
إِذَا قَضَى اللَّهُ وَرَسُولُهُ أَمْرًا
أَنْ يَكُونَ لَهُمُ الْخِيَرَةُ مِنْ أَمْرِهِمْ
وَمَنْ يَعْصِ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ
فَقَدْ ضَلَّ ضَلًّا مُبِينًا ۝

37. Behold! thou didst say
To one who had received
The grace of God <sup>3722</sup>
And thy favour: "Retain thou
(In wedlock) thy wife,
And fear God." But thou
Didst hide in thy heart <sup>3723</sup>
That which God was about
To make manifest: thou didst
Fear the people, but it is

۳۷- وَإِذْ تَقُولُ لِلَّذِي
أَنْعَمَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِ وَأَنْعَمْتَ عَلَيْهِ
أَمْسِكْ عَلَيْكَ زَوْجَكَ وَاتَّقِ اللَّهَ
وَتُخْفِي فِي نَفْسِكَ مَا اللَّهُ مُبْدِيهِ
وَتَخَشَى النَّاسَ ۗ

3720. The virtues referred to are: (1) Faith, hope, and trust in God, and in His benevolent government of the world; (2) devotion and service in practical life; (3) love and practice of truth, in thought and intention, word and deed; (4) patience and constancy, in suffering and in right endeavour; (5) humility, the avoidance of an attitude of arrogance and superiority; (6) charity, i.e., help to the poor and unfortunate ones in life, a special virtue arising out of the general duty of service (No. 2); (7) self-denial, typically in food, but generally in all appetites; (8) chastity, purity in sex life, purity in motive, thought, word, and deed; and (9) constant attention to God's Message, and cultivation of the desire to get nearer to God.

3721. We must not put our own wisdom in competition with God's wisdom. God's decree is often known to us by the logic of facts. We must accept it loyally, and do the best we can to help in our own way to carry it out. We must make our will consonant to the Universal Will.

3722. This was Zaid son of Hāritha, one of the first to accept the faith of Islam. He was a freedman of the holy Prophet, who loved him as a son and gave him in marriage his own cousin Zainab. The marriage however turned out to be unhappy. See next note.

3723. Zaid's marriage with the Prophet's cousin Zainab daughter of Jahsh was celebrated in Mecca eight years before the Hijrat, but it did not turn out happy. Zainab the high-born looked down upon Zaid the freedman who had been a slave. And he was not comely to look at. Both were good people in their own way, and both loved the Prophet, but there was mutual incompatibility and this is fatal to married life. Zaid wished to divorce her, but the Prophet asked him to hold his hand, and he obeyed. She was closely related to the Prophet; he had given a handsome marriage gift on her marriage to Zaid; and people would certainly talk if such a marriage was broken off, and poor Zainab's reputation would be ruined. This was the fear in the mind of the Prophet. But marriages are made on earth, not in heaven, and it is no part of God's Plan to torture people in a bond which should be a source of happiness but actually is a source of misery. Zaid's wish—indeed the mutual wish of the couple—was for the time being put away, but it became eventually an established fact, and everybody came to know of it.

More fitting that thou shouldst<sup>3724</sup>
 Fear God. Then when Zaid
 Had dissolved (his marriage)
 With her, with the necessary<sup>3725</sup>
 (Formality), We joined her
 In marriage to thee :
 In order that (in future)
 There may be no difficulty
 To the Believers in (the matter
 Of) marriage with the wives<sup>3726</sup>
 Of their adopted sons, when
 The latter have dissolved
 With the necessary (formality)
 (Their marriage) with them.
 And God's command must
 Be fulfilled.

وَاللّٰهُ اَحَقُّ اَنْ تَخْشَاهُ
 فَلَمَّا قَضَىٰ زَيْدٌ مِنْهَا وَطَرًا
 زَوَّجْنَاكَهَا
 لِكَيْ لَا
 يَكُوْنَ عَلَى الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ حَرْجٌ
 فِيْ اَزْوَاجِ اَدْعِيَائِهِمْ
 اِذَا قَضَوْا مِنْهُنَّ وَطَرًا
 وَكَانَ اَمْرُ اللّٰهِ مَفْعُوْلًا ۝

38. There can be no difficulty
 To the Prophet in what
 God has indicated to him<sup>3727</sup>
 As a duty. It was
 The practice (approved) of God
 Amongst those of old
 That have passed away.<sup>3728</sup>
 And the command of God
 Is a decree determined.<sup>3729</sup>

۳۸- مَا كَانَ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ مِنْ حَرَجٍ
 فَيَمَا قَرَضَ اللّٰهُ لَهُ
 سُنَّةَ اللّٰهِ فِي الَّذِينَ خَلَوْا مِنْ قَبْلُ
 وَكَانَ اَمْرُ اللّٰهِ قَدْرًا مُّقْدَرًا ۝

39. (It is the practice of those)
 Who preach the Messages
 Of God, and fear Him,
 And fear none but God.

۳۹- الَّذِينَ يَبْتَغُونَ رِسَالَاتِ اللّٰهِ وَيَخْشَوْنَهُ
 وَلَا يَخْشَوْنَ اَحَدًا اِلَّا اللّٰهَ

3724. All actual facts are referred to God. When the marriage is unhappy; Islam permits and expects the bond to be dissolved, provided that all interests concerned are safeguarded. Apparently there was no issue here to be considered. Zainab had to be considered, and she obtained the dearest wish of her heart in being raised to be a Mother of the Believers, with all the dignity and responsibility of that position. See n. 3706 to xxxiii. 28 above.

3725. The 'Iddat or period of waiting after divorce (ii. 228, and n. 254) was duly completed.

3726. The Pagan superstition and taboo about adopted sons had to be destroyed. See xxxiii. 4-5 and notes 3671-3672 above.

3727. See n. 3724 above.

3728. The next clause is parenthetical. These words then connect on with verse 39. Among the people of the Book there was no taboo about adopted sons, as there was in Pagan Arabia.

3729. God's ordering of the world is always full of wisdom. Even our unhappiness and misery may actually have a great meaning for ourselves or others or both. If our first Plan seems to fail, we must not murmur and repine, but retrieve the position by adopting a course which appears to be the best possible in the light of our duties as indicated by God. For God's Plan is framed on universal principles that cannot be altered by human action.

And enough is God
To call (men) to account.<sup>3730</sup>

40. Muḥammad is not
The father of any
Of your men, but (he is)
The Apostle of God,
And the Seal of the Prophets :<sup>3731</sup>
And God has full knowledge
Of all things.

SECTION 6.

41. ﴿٣٠﴾ ye who believe!
Celebrate the praises of God,
And do this often ;

42. And glorify Him
Morning and evening.

43. He it is Who sends<sup>3732</sup>
Blessings on you, as do
His angels, that He may
Bring you out from the depths
Of Darkness into Light :
And He is Full of Mercy<sup>3733</sup>
To the Believers.

44. Their salutation on the Day
They meet Him will be
"Peace!" ; and He has Prepared for them
A generous Reward.

45. ﴿٣١﴾ Prophet ! Truly We
Have sent thee as

وَكُفَىٰ بِاللَّهِ حَسِيبًا ۝

۴۰- مَا كَانَ مُحَمَّدٌ أَبَا أَحَدٍ مِّن رِّجَالِكُمْ
وَلَكِن رَّسُولَ اللَّهِ
وَخَاتَمَ النَّبِيِّينَ
وَكَانَ اللَّهُ بِكُلِّ شَيْءٍ عَلِيمًا ۝

۴۱- يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اذْكُرُوا اللَّهَ ذِكْرًا
كَثِيرًا ۝

۴۲- وَسَبِّحُوهُ بُكْرَةً وَأَصِيلًا ۝

۴۳- هُوَ الَّذِي يُصَلِّيْ عَلَيْكُمْ وَمَلَائِكَتُهُ
لِيُخْرِجَكُم مِّنَ الظُّلُمَاتِ إِلَى النُّورِ
وَكَانَ بِالْمُؤْمِنِينَ رَحِيمًا ۝

۴۴- تَحِيَّتُهُمْ يَوْمَ يَلْقَوْنَهُ سَلَامٌ
وَأَعَدَّ لَهُمْ أَجْرًا كَرِيمًا ۝

۴۵- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ إِنَّا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ

3730. Our responsibility is to God, not to men. Men's opinions may have a bearing on our own interpretation of duty, but when that duty is clear, our only course is to obey God rather than men.

3731. When a document is sealed, it is complete, and there can be no further addition. The holy Prophet Muḥammad closed the long line of Apostles. God's teaching is and will always be continuous, but there has been and will be no Prophet after Muḥammad. The later ages will want thinkers and reformers, not Prophets. This is not an arbitrary matter. It is a decree full of knowledge and wisdom : "for God has full knowledge of all things."

3732. Blessings : good wishes and mercies. God wishes well to all His creatures, and His angels carry out His work, for their will is in all things His Will. His chief and everlasting blessing is that He gives us a knowledge of the spiritual world, and helps us towards its attainment. For the symbolic meaning of Light and Darkness, see xxiv. 35-40 and notes.

3733. His Mercies are for all His creatures, but for those who believe and trust in Him, there are special mercies, "a generous Reward" as in the next verse.

A Witness, a Bearer<sup>3734</sup>
Of Glad Tidings,
And a Warner,—

شَاهِدًا وَمُبَشِّرًا وَنَذِيرًا ۝

46. And as one who invites
To God's (Grace) by His leave,<sup>3735</sup>
And as a Lamp
Spreading Light.

۴۶- وَدَاعِيًا إِلَى اللَّهِ بِإِذْنِهِ
وَسِرَاجًا مُنِيرًا ۝

47. Then give the glad tidings
To the Believers, that
They shall have from God
A very great Bounty.<sup>3736</sup>

۴۷- وَبَشِّرِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ أَنَّ
لَهُمْ مِّنَ اللَّهِ فَضْلًا كَثِيرًا ۝

48. And obey not (the behests)
Of the Unbelievers
And the Hypocrites,
And heed not their annoyances,<sup>3737</sup>
But put thy trust in God.
For enough is God
As a Disposer of affairs.

۴۸- وَلَا تَطِعِ الْكٰفِرِينَ وَالسُّفٰفِيْنَ
وَدَعِ اٰذَهُمْ وَتَوَكَّلْ عَلَى اللّٰهِ
وَكَفٰى بِاللّٰهِ وَكِيلًا ۝

49. ﴿۴۹﴾ ye who believe!
When ye marry believing women,
And then divorce them
Before ye have touched them,

۴۹- يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا إِذَا نَكَحْتُمُ الْمُؤْمِنَاتِ
ثُمَّ طَلَقْتُمُوهُنَّ مِنْ قَبْلِ أَنْ تَسَّوْهُنَّ

3734. The Prophet was sent by God in five capacities. Three are mentioned in this verse, and the other two in the verse following. (1) He comes as a Witness to all men about the spiritual truths which had been obscured by ignorance or superstition, or by the dust of sectarian controversy. He did not come to establish a new religion or sect. He came to teach Religion. He is also a witness to God about men's doings and how they receive God's Message: see iv. 41 and n. 560. (2) He comes as a bearer of the Glad Tidings of the Mercy of God. No matter how far men may have transgressed, they have hope if they believe, repent, and live a good life. (3) He also comes as a Warner to those who are heedless. This life will not last. There is a Future Life, and that is all-important. See next note.

3735. See last note. The two other capacities in which the Prophet was sent are here specified. (4) He comes as one who has a right to invite all men to repentance and the forgiveness of sins; but he does this, not of his own authority, but by the permission and authority given to him by God. This is said lest people may deify the Prophet as they did with other Prophets before him. The personal responsibility of each individual remains, but the Prophet can lead him on to the Right and help him. (5) The Prophet also comes as a Light or a Lamp (Sirāj) to illuminate the whole world. In lxxi. 16 and elsewhere the same word (Sirāj) is used for the sun. The comparison is apt. When the sun appears, all the lesser lights pale before his light. And the Message of Islam, i.e., of the Universal Religion, is to diffuse Light everywhere.

3736. The light of Islam is the Biggest Bounty possible and if they truly understand it, they should glory in it.

3737. Men of little or no Faith will often lay down the law and tell better men than themselves what to do. In case of refusal they shower insults and injuries. No attention is to be paid to them. It is their way. All will be right-under the government of God.

No period of 'Iddat' <sup>3738</sup>
 Have ye to count
 In respect of them :
 So give them a present, <sup>3739</sup>
 And set them free
 In a handsome manner. <sup>3740</sup>

فَمَا لَكُمْ عَلَيْهِنَّ مِنْ عِدَّةٍ تَعْتَدُونَ لَهَا
 فَمَتَّعُوهُنَّ
 وَسَرَّحُوهُنَّ سَرَاحًا جَمِيلًا ○

50. ﴿٥٠﴾ Prophet! We have Made lawful to thee <sup>3741</sup>
 Thy wives to whom thou
 Hast paid their dowers ; <sup>3742</sup>
 And those whom thy
 Right hand possesses out of
 The prisoners of war whom <sup>3743</sup>
 God has assigned to thee ;
 And daughters of thy paternal
 Uncles and aunts, and daughters
 Of thy maternal uncles
 And aunts, who migrated <sup>3744</sup>
 (From Mecca) with thee ;
 And any believing woman
 Who dedicates her soul

٥٠- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ إِنَّا أَحْلَلْنَا لَكَ
 أَزْوَاجَكَ الَّتِي أَتَيْتَ أُجُورَهُنَّ
 وَمَا مَلَكَتْ يَمِينُكَ مِنَّا أَقَاءَ اللَّهِ عَلَيْكَ
 وَبَنَاتِ عَمَتِكَ
 وَبَنَاتِ خَالَكَ وَبَنَاتِ خَلَّتِكَ الَّتِي
 هَاجَرْنَ مَعَكَ
 وَامْرَأَةً مُؤْمِنَةً إِن وَهَبَتْ نَفْسَهَا

3738. See n. 254 to ii. 228. The 'Iddat counts for three monthly courses, or if there are no courses, for three months : see lxxv. 4.

3739. This present is held, by some, to be in addition to the half dower due to them under ii. 237. If the dower had not yet been fixed, the gift would presumably be larger, and it would absorb the gift prescribed in ii. 236.

3740. The gift should be given with good grace, and the freedom of the woman should not be interfered with in any way. If she chooses to marry again immediately, no obstacle should be placed in her path. On no pretext should she be allowed to remain doubtful about her freedom.

3741. This introduces no new exemption or privilege. Verses 50-52 merely declare the points in which, on account of the special circumstances (see n. 3706 above), the Prophet's marriages differed from those of ordinary Muslims. This is considered under four heads, which we shall examine in the four notes following.

3742. Head 1. Marriage with dower (iv. 4) : this is the universal Muslim marriage. The difference in the Prophet's case was that there was no limitation to the number of four (iv. 3), and women of the People of the Book (v. 6) were not among his wives, but only Believers. These points are not expressly mentioned here, but are inferred by his actual practice. Obviously women who are expected to instruct other women in Islam must be Muslims.

3743. Head 2. Women Prisoners of War : the same remark as in the last note. The point does not now arise, as the whole conditions and incidents of war have been altered and slavery has been abolished by international agreement.

3744. Head 3. These are first cousins, and not within the Prohibited Degrees of Marriage (see iv. 23-24). These are specially mentioned here by way of limitation. None of them could marry the Prophet unless she had performed the Hijrat with him. If she had not so performed it in spite of her close relationship, she could not be credited with any great fervour for Islam, or be considered suitable for instructing other women in Islam.

To the Prophet if the Prophet<sup>3745</sup>
Wishes to wed her;—this
Only for thee, and not
For the Believers (at large);
We know what We have
Appointed for them as to<sup>3746</sup>
Their wives and the captives
Whom their right hands
Possess;—in order that<sup>3747</sup>
There should be no difficulty
For thee. And God is
Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.<sup>3748</sup>

لِلنَّبِيِّ إِنْ أَرَادَ النَّبِيُّ أَنْ يَنْتَكِحَهَا
خَالِصَةً لَكَ مِنْ دُونِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ
قَدْ عَلِمْنَا مَا تَرْضَا عَلَيْهِمْ فِي أَزْوَاجِهِمْ
وَمَا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُهُمْ
لِكَيْلَا يَكُونَ عَلَيْكَ حَرَجٌ
وَكَانَ اللَّهُ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ○

51. Thou mayest defer (the turn<sup>3749</sup>
Of) any of them that thou
Pleasest, and thou mayest receive
Any thou pleasest: and there
Is no blame on thee if
Thou invite one whose (turn)<sup>3750</sup>

هـ- تُرْجَى مَنْ تَشَاءُ مِنْهُنَّ
وَتُؤْتَى إِلَيْكَ مَنْ تَشَاءُ وَمَنْ ابْتِغَيْتَ
مِمَّنْ عَزَلْتَ فَلَا جُنَاحَ عَلَيْكَ

3745. Head 4. A believing woman who dedicates her soul to the Prophet: obviously this case, like the last, is only applicable to the Prophet, and it is hedged round with the limitation that the Prophet considers it a suitable and proper case of true service to the community and not merely a sentimental woman's freak. Some Commentators think there was no such case. But others, with whom I agree, think that this applies to Zainab bint Khuzaima, who had dedicated herself to the poor and was called the Mother of the Poor (Umm-ul-masākīn). Similarly the last head might possibly refer to Zainab bint Jaḥsh, who was a daughter of the Prophet's paternal aunt, herself a daughter of 'Abd-ul-Muṭṭalib.

3746. The ordinary law of Muslim marriage will be found chiefly in ii. 221-235, iv. 3-4, iv. 19-25, iv. 34-35, and v. 6.

3747. The words "this only for thee...right hands possess" are parenthetical, and the words "in order that..." connect on with the previous clauses beginning with "O Prophet, We have made lawful...wishes to wed her".

3748. Marriage is an important relationship not only in our physical life, but in our moral and spiritual life, and its effects extend not only to the parties themselves but to children and future generations. A number of special problems arise according to special circumstances. Every man and woman must seriously consider all sides of the question and must do the best in his or her power to temper instincts and inclinations with wisdom and guidance from God. God wishes to make every one's path easy, for He is indeed "Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful".

3749. In iv. 3 it is laid down that more than one wife is not permissible "if ye fear that ye shall not be able to deal justly with them". In a Muslim household there is no room for a "favourite wife". In the special circumstances of the Prophet there were more than one, and he usually observed the rule of equality with them, in other things as well as in the rotation of conjugal rights. But considering that his marriages after he was invested with the Prophetic office were mainly dictated by other than conjugal or personal considerations (see n. 3706, xxxiii. 28), the rotation could not always be observed, though he observed it as much as possible. This verse absolves him from absolute adherence to a fixed rotation. There are other interpretations, but I agree with most of the Commentators in the view I have explained.

3750. Where the rotation was for some reason interfered with, it was permissible, by another interference with the usual rotation, to bring satisfaction to one who had been previously set aside. This was not only permitted, but commended, as tending to remove dissatisfaction and cheer and comfort the eyes and hearts of those who were disappointed in their turn.

Thou hadst set aside.
 This were nigher to
 The cooling of their eyes,<sup>3751</sup>
 The prevention of their grief,
 And their satisfaction—
 That of all of them—
 With that which thou
 Hast to give them:<sup>3752</sup>
 And God knows (all)
 That is in your hearts:<sup>3753</sup>
 And God is All-Knowing,
 Most Forbearing.

ذَلِكَ أَدْنَىٰ أَنْ تَقْوَىٰ عَيْنَهُنَّ
 وَلَا يَمْحُزْنَ
 وَيَرْضَيْنَ
 بِمَا آتَيْتَهُنَّ كُلَّهُنَّ
 وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ مَا فِي قُلُوبِكُمْ
 وَكَانَ اللَّهُ عَلِيمًا حَلِيمًا ۝

52. It is not lawful for thee
 (To marry more) women<sup>3754</sup>
 After this, nor to change
 Them for (other) wives,
 Even though their beauty
 Attract thee, except any Thy right hand should Possess (as handmaidens):
 And God doth watch
 Over all things.

٥٢- لَا يَحِلُّ لَكَ النِّسَاءَ مِنْ بَعْدِ
 وَلَا أَنْ تَبَدَّلَ بِهِنَّ مِنْ أَزْوَاجٍ
 وَلَوْ أَحْجَبَكَ حُسْنُهُنَّ
 إِلَّا مَا مَلَكَتْ يَمِينُكَ
 وَكَانَ اللَّهُ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ رَقِيبًا ۝

C. 189.—Believers should cultivate refined respect
 (xxxiii. 53-73.) In social and spiritual life. As the Mothers
 Of the Faithful have to uphold their dignity,
 So should all women protect their honour
 And uphold their dignity. The Hour
 Will come when all Evil will be punished.

3751. Cooling the eyes: an Arabic idiom for cheering and comforting eyes which yearn to see those they love. A verse of Zeb-un-nisāa, daughter of the Muḡal Emperor Aurangzeb, may be rendered thus:

“ My heart is glad whenever lover-wise
 I dwell upon thy beauties and thy grace!
 But how can I content my hungry eyes,
 That ask continually to see thy face? ”

3752. There was not much in the way of worldly goods or satisfaction that the Prophet could give them: see xxxiii. 28 above. But he was kind, just, and true,—the best of men to his family, and they all clung to him.

3753. Our human hearts, however good on the whole, may yet, in their motives, have possibly some baser admixture. The feminine hearts are not more immune in this respect than the masculine. But everything is known and understood by God, Who will in His mercy make all allowance for our human weaknesses. His title of “ Most Forbearing ” (Ḥalīm) also gives His devoted worshippers the cue: why should we not also forbear with the faults and weaknesses of our neighbours and fellow-creatures?

3754. This was revealed in A.H. 7. After that the Prophet did not marry again, except the handmaiden Mary the Copt, who was sent as a present by the Christian Muqauqas of Egypt. She became the mother of Ibrāhim, who died in his infancy.

Fear God, and always speak the word
 That leads to Right. Arduous is the Quest
 Of Mankind's high and noble Destiny,—
 Beyond the reach of other creatures :
 Let man but strive in Faith, and fulfil
 God's Trust,—by the grace and mercy of God.

SECTION 7.

53. ﴿٥٣﴾ ye who believe !
 Enter not the Prophet's houses,—
 Until leave is given you,—<sup>3755</sup>
 For a meal, (and then)
 Not (so early as) to wait
 For its preparation : but when
 Ye are invited, enter ;
 And when ye have taken
 Your meal, disperse,
 Without seeking familiar talk.
 Such (behaviour) annoys
 The Prophet : he is ashamed
 To dismiss you, but
 God is not ashamed
 (To tell you) the truth.

And when ye
 Ask (his ladies) <sup>3756</sup>
 For anything ye want,
 Ask them from before
 A screen : that makes
 For greater purity for
 Your hearts and for theirs.

Or is it right for you <sup>3757</sup>

٥٣- يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَدْخُلُوا

 طَعَامٍ غَيْرٍ لِنَظَرٍ إِنَّهُ
 وَلَكِنْ إِذَا دُعِيتُمْ فَادْخُلُوا
 فَإِذَا طَعِمْتُمْ فَانْتَشِرُوا
 وَلَا مُسْتَأْنِسِينَ لِحَدِيثٍ
 إِنَّ ذَلِكُمْ كَانَ يُؤْذَى النَّبِيَّ فَيَسْتَحْيِي
 مِنْكُمْ
 وَاللَّهُ لَا يَسْتَحْيِي مِنَ الْحَقِّ
 وَإِذَا سَأَلْتُمُوهُنَّ مَتَاعًا
 فَسْأَلُوهُنَّ مِنْ وَرَاءِ حِجَابٍ
 ذَلِكُمْ أَطْهَرُ لِقُلُوبِكُمْ وَقُلُوبِهِنَّ
 وَمَا كَانَ لَكُمْ

3755. The rules of refined social ethics it is as necessary to teach to-day as it was with the rude Arabs whom the holy Prophet had to teach in his day. Those mentioned in this verse may be briefly recapitulated thus : (1) Enter not a friend's house without permission ; (2) if invited to dine, don't go too early ; you are asked to dine, not to wait for the preparation of the food ; (3) be there at the time appointed, so that you enter when you are expected and invited ; (4) after the meal, don't get familiar with your host, especially if there is a great distance between him and you ; (5) don't waste time in tittle-tattle, causing inconvenience and perhaps annoyance to your host ; (6) understand what is proper behaviour for you ; he may be too polite to ask you to depart. All this has a spiritual as well as a social bearing : respect and delicate consideration for others are among the highest virtues.

3756. The actual manner of showing respect to ladies may be different in different circumstances. But it is an essential principle of good society to show the greatest deference to them. To the "Mothers of the Believers" this respect was due in an exceptional degree.

3757. Considering his position, the holy Prophet deserved to be respected before all other men and nothing should be done to cause him the least harm and annoyance. This applied not only during his life-time, but it applies now, because his teaching and personality are alive to us. It was not fitting that his widows, both for their own position and for the position of the Prophet, should be married by other men after him. And this mark of respect was duly observed in history.

That ye should annoy <sup>3758</sup>
 God's Apostle, or that
 Ye should marry his widows
 After him at any time.
 Truly such a thing is
 In God's sight an enormity.

 Of all things.

إِنْ تَبَدُّوا شَيْئًا أَوْ تَخْفُوهُ

55. There is no blame
 (On these ladies if they Appear) before their fathers <sup>3760</sup>
 Or their sons, their brothers,
 Or their brothers' sons,
 Or their sisters' sons,
 Or their women,
 Or the (slaves) whom
 Their right hands possess.
 And, (ladies), fear God ;
 For God is Witness
 To all things.

هـ- لا جُنَاحَ عَلَيْهِنَّ فِي آبَائِهِنَّ

 وَلَا نِسَاءِيهِنَّ وَلَا مَا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُهُنَّ
 وَاتَّقِينَ اللَّهَ
 إِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ شَهِيدًا ○

56. ⑥ God and His Angels
 Send blessings on the Prophet : <sup>3761</sup>

هـ- إِنَّ اللَّهَ وَمَلَائِكَتَهُ يُصَلُّونَ عَلَى النَّبِيِّ

3758. "Annoy": Āḡā (IV) may equally mean: to vex, to cause hurt or injury, to insult, to ill-treat by slander or unseemly conduct, or hurt the feelings of (some one). The Prophet came with a divine mission to teach and reclaim the world, and he is entitled to the respect of all, even of those who do not consciously acknowledge his mission, for his mission works constantly like the forces of nature. In a minor degree the "Mothers of the Believers" are also entitled to respect.

3759. Respect or opposition may be shown overtly or in devious hidden ways. All good and evil are open before God, and He will take due account of everything.

3760. This refers back to the Ḥijāb (screen) portion of verse 53 above. The list of those before whom the Prophet's wives could appear informally without a screen is their fathers, sons, brothers, brothers' or sisters' sons, serving women, and household slaves or servants. Commentators include uncles (paternal and maternal) under the heading "fathers". "Their women" is held to mean all women who belonged to the Muslim community: other women were in the position of strangers, whom they received not so intimately, but with the formality of a screen as in the case of men. Compare with this list and the wording here the list and the wording in xxiv. 31, which applies to all Muslim women. In the list here, husbands and husbands' relatives are not necessary to be mentioned, as we are speaking of a single household, that of the central figure in Islam; nor men-servants nor children, as there were none. In the wording, note that for Muslim women generally, no screen or Ḥijāb (Parda) is mentioned, but only a veil to cover the bosom, and modesty in dress. The screen was a special feature of honour for the Prophet's household, introduced about five or six years before his death.

3761. God and His angels honour and bless the holy Prophet as the greatest of men. We are asked to honour and bless him all the more because he took upon himself to suffer the sorrows and afflictions of this life in order to guide us to God's Mercy and the highest inner Life.

O ye that believe!
Send ye blessings on him,
And salute him
With all respect.

57. Those who annoy<sup>3762</sup>
God and His Apostle—
God has cursed them .
In this world and
In the Hereafter,
And has prepared for them
A humiliating Punishment.

58. And those who annoy
Believing men and women
Undeservedly, bear
(on themselves)<sup>3763</sup>
A calumny and a glaring sin.

SECTION 8.

59. ﴿٦٦﴾ Prophet! Tell
Thy wives and daughters,
And the believing women,<sup>3764</sup>
That they should cast
Their outer garments over<sup>3765</sup>
Their persons (when abroad):
That is most convenient,
That they should be known<sup>3766</sup>

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا صَلُّوا عَلَيْهِ
وَسَلِّمُوا تَسْلِيمًا ٥٧

٥٧- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يُؤْذُونَ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ
لَعَنَهُمُ اللَّهُ فِي الدُّنْيَا وَالْآخِرَةِ
وَأَعَدَّ لَهُمْ عَذَابًا مُهِينًا ٥٨

٥٨- وَالَّذِينَ يُؤْذُونَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ
بِغَيْرِ مَا اكْتَسَبُوا
فَقَدْ احْتَكَمُوا بُهْتَانًا وَإِثْمًا مُّبِينًا ٥٩

٥٩- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّبِيُّ قُلْ لِأَزْوَاجِكَ وَبَنَاتِكَ
وَنِسَاءِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ
يُدْنِينَ عَلَيْهِنَّ مِنْ جَلَابِيبِهِنَّ
ذَلِكَ أَدْنَى أَنْ يُعْرَفْنَ

3762. Cf. n. 3758 above.

3763. Cf. iv. 112. In that passage we were told that any one who was himself guilty but accused an innocent man of his guilt, was obviously placing himself in double jeopardy; first, for his own original guilt, and secondly for the guilt of a false accusation. Here we take two classes of men instead of two individuals. The men and women of faith (if they deserve the name) and doing all they can to serve God and humanity. If they are insulted, hurt, or annoyed by those whose sins they denounce, the latter suffer the penalties of a double guilt, viz., their sins to start with, and the insults or injuries they offer to those who correct them. Instead of resenting the preaching of Truth, they should welcome it and profit by it.

3764. This is for all Muslim women, those of the Prophet's household, as well as the others. The times were those of insecurity (see next verse) and they were asked to cover themselves with outer garments when walking abroad. It was never contemplated that they should be confined to their houses like prisoners.

3765. Jilbāb, plural Jalābīb: an outer garment; a long gown covering the whole body, or a cloak covering the neck and bosom.

3766. The object was not to restrict the liberty of women, but to protect them from harm and molestation under the conditions then existing in Medina. In the East and in the West a distinctive public dress of some sort or another has always been a badge of honour or distinction, both among men and women. This can be traced back to the earliest civilisations. Assyrian Law in its palmiest days (say, 7th century B.C.), enjoined the veiling of married women and forbade the veiling of slaves and women of ill fame: see Cambridge Ancient History, III. 107.

(As such) and not molested.
And God is Oft-Forgiving,<sup>3767</sup>
Most Merciful.

60. Truly, if the Hypocrites,
And those in whose hearts
Is a disease, and those who
Stir up sedition in the City,<sup>3768</sup>
Desist not, We shall certainly
Stir thee up against them :
Then will they not be
Able to stay in it
As thy neighbours
For any length of time :

61. They shall have a curse<sup>3769</sup>
On them : wherever they
Are found, they shall be Seized and slain
(Without mercy).

62. (Such was) the practice
(Approved) of God among those<sup>3770</sup>
Who lived aforetime :
No change wilt thou find
In the practice (approved)
Of God.

فَلَا يُؤْذِنُ وَكَانَ اللَّهُ عَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ۝

٦٠- لَئِنْ لَّمْ يَنْتَهِ السُّفُفُونَ وَالَّذِينَ
فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ مَرَضٌ
وَالْمُرْجِفُونَ فِي الْمَدِينَةِ
لَنُغْرِبَنَّكَ بِهِمْ
ثُمَّ لَا يُجَاوِرُونَكَ فِيهَا إِلَّا قَلِيلًا ۝

٦١- مَلْعُونِينَ ۗ أَيُّنَا تُقْفَوُا
أُخَذُوا وَقَتْلُوا تَقْتِيلًا ۝

٦٢- سُنَّةَ اللَّهِ فِي الَّذِينَ خَلَوْا مِنْ قَبْلُ
وَلَنْ تَجِدَ
لِسُنَّةِ اللَّهِ تَبْدِيلًا ۝

3767. This rule was not absolute : if for any reason it could not be observed, "God is Oft-Returning, Most Merciful".

3768. It was necessary to put down all kinds of unseemly conduct in the Prophet's City. And here is the warning in the plainest terms. And the warning had its effect. The "Hypocrites" were men who pretended to be in Islam but whose manners and morals were anti-Islamic. Those "with diseased hearts" may have been the ones that molested innocent women. "Those who stirred up sedition" put false rumours in circulation to excite the crowd. Alas! we must ask ourselves the question : "Are these conditions present among us to-day?"

3769. They will be deprived of the blessing and guidance of God. They sought to cause disorder in God's world—moral as well as material; but they will themselves be destroyed. Those who become outlaws, rebels against the Law, will themselves be destroyed by the Law. Capital punishment is the only adequate punishment for treason and crimes of sustained concerted violence—for the protection of the hearths and homes of innocent citizens and the honour of their women.

3770. The Jewish law was much more severe : see notes 3703 and 3704 to xxxiii. 26. That severity is mitigated in Islam. But it is a universal principle that any element which deliberately refuses to obey law and aggressively tries to subvert all order in society, secretly and openly, must be effectively suppressed, for the preservation of the life and health of the general community.

SECTION 9.

69. ﴿٦٩﴾ ye who believe !
 Be ye not like those
 Who vexed and insulted Moses,<sup>3774</sup>
 But God cleared him
 Of the (calumnies) they
 Had uttered : and he
 Was honourable in God's sight.
70. O ye who believe !
 Fear God, and (always) say
 A word directed to the Right :<sup>3775</sup>
71. That He may make
 Your conduct whole and sound
 And forgive you your sins :
 He that obeys God
 And His Apostle, has already Attained the highest
 Achievement.<sup>3776</sup>
72. We did indeed offer
 The Trust<sup>3777</sup> to the Heavens

٦٩- يَأْتِيهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا إِلَّا كَفَرُوا
 كَالَّذِينَ أَذَوْا مُوسَى
 فَبَرَّاهُ اللَّهُ مِمَّا قَالُوا
 وَكَانَ عِنْدَ اللَّهِ وَجِيهًا ۝

٧٠- يَأْتِيهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اتَّقُوا اللَّهَ
 وَقُولُوا قَوْلًا سَدِيدًا ۝

٧١- يُصَلِّحْ لَكُمْ أَعْمَالَكُمْ
 وَيَغْفِرْ لَكُمْ ذُنُوبَكُمْ
 وَمَنْ يُطِيعِ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ فَقَدْ
 فَازَ فَوْزًا عَظِيمًا ۝

٧٢- إِنَّا عَرَضْنَا الْأَمَانَةَ عَلَى السَّمَوَاتِ

3774. The people of Moses often vexed him and rebelled against him and against God's Law. Here the reference seems to be to Num. xii. 1-13. It is there said that Moses's own sister Miriam and his brother Aaron spoke against Moses because Moses had married an Ethiopian woman. God cleared Moses of the charge of having done anything wrong : " My servant Moses is not so, who is faithful in all mine house." Miriam was afflicted with leprosy for seven days as a punishment, after which she was forgiven, as also was Aaron. This is the Old Testament story. The holy Prophet was also attacked because of his marriage with Zainab bint Jahsh, but not by his own circle ; his motives were of the highest and were completely vindicated as we have seen above.

3775. We must not only speak the truth as far as we know it, but we must always try to hit the right point ; i.e., we must not speak unseasonably, and when we do speak, we must not beat about the bush, but go straight to that which is right, in deed as well as in word. Then God will make our conduct right and cure any defects that there may be in our knowledge and character. With our endeavour directed straight to the goal, we shall be forgiven our errors, shortcomings, faults, and sins of the past.

3776. This is salvation, the attainment of our real spiritual desire or ambition, as we are on the highway to nearness to God.

3777. The Trust is something given to a person, over which he has a power of disposition ; he is expected to use it as directed or expected, but he has the power to use it otherwise. There is no trust if the trustee has no power, and the trust implies that the giver of the trust believes and expects that the trustee would use it according to the wish of the creator of the trust, and not otherwise.

And the Earth
 And the Mountains ; <sup>3778</sup>
 But they refused <sup>3779</sup>
 To undertake it, <sup>3780</sup>
 Being afraid thereof ;
 But man undertook it ;— <sup>3781</sup>
 He was indeed unjust <sup>3782</sup>
 And foolish ;—

وَالْأَرْضِ وَالْجِبَالِ
 وَابْتَيْنَ أَنْ يَحْمِلْنَهَا
 وَأَشْفَقْنَ مِنْهَا وَحَمَلَهَا الْإِنْسَانُ إِنَّهُ
 كَانَ ظَلُومًا جَهُولًا ۝

3778. What is the meaning of the offer of the Trust to the Heavens, the Earth, and the Mountains? Cf. lix. 21, where the hypothetical sending down of the Qur-ān to the Mountains is mentioned, and it is mentioned that such Parables are put forth in order to aid men to reflection. We may therefore take the Mountains, the Earth, and the Heavens as symbolical. The mountains stand for firmness and stability: they have been created for this quality, and they are always true to that quality. An earthquake or a volcano has to do with movements within the earth's crust: it has nothing to do with the Mountain's will. In fact it has no free-will of any kind: there is no question of any Trust here. If we take the Earth as a whole, as a part of the solar system or a compendium of the terrestrial Nature we see around us, it obeys the fixed laws of God, and there is no Will or Trust. If we take the Heavens either as celestial space, or as symbolical of the Angels, they absolutely obey God's Will and law: they have no will of their own.

3779. The Heavens, the Earth, and the Mountains, i.e., other creatures of God, besides man, refused to undertake a Trust or a responsibility, and may be imagined as happy without a choice of good or evil being given through their will. In saying that they refused, we imply a will, but we limit it by the statement that they did not undertake to be given a choice between good and evil. They preferred to submit their will entirely to God's Will, which is All-Wise and Perfect, and which would give them far more happiness than a faculty of choice, with their imperfect knowledge. Man was too audacious and ignorant to realise this, and the result has been that man as a race has been disrupted: the evil ones have betrayed the Trust and brought Punishment on themselves, though the good have been able to rise far above other Creation, to be the muqarrabīn, the nearest ones to God: lvi. 11 and lvi. 88. What can be higher than this for any creature?

It follows incidentally from this that the Heavens and the Earth were created before man was created, and this is in accordance with what we know of the physical world in science: man came on the scene at a comparatively late stage.

3780. Ḥamala: to undertake, bear, carry (the Trust or responsibility), to be equal to it. This is the ordinary meaning, and the majority of Commentators construe so. But some understand it to mean "to carry away, run away with, to embezzle (the thing entrusted); hence to be false to the Trust, to betray the Trust." In that case the sense of verses 72-73 would be: "God offered the Trust to other creatures, but they refused, lest they should betray it, being afraid from that point of view: but man was less fair to himself: in his ignorance he accepted and betrayed the Trust, with the result that some of his race became Hypocrites and Unbelievers and were punished, though others were faithful to the Trust and received God's Mercy." The resulting conclusion is the same under both interpretations.

3781. See ii. 30-34 and notes. God intended a very high destiny for man, and placed him in his uncorrupted state even above the angels, but in his corruption he made himself even lower than the beasts. What was it that made man so high and noble? The differentiating quality which God gave man was that God breathed something of His own spirit into man (xxxii. 9; xv. 29 and n. 1968; and other passages). This meant that man was given a limited choice of good and evil, and that he was made capable of Forbearance, Love, and Mercy. And in himself man summed up God's great world: man is in himself a microcosm.

3782. That man should undertake the God-like attributes (in however small a degree) of Will, Forbearance, Love, and Mercy, brought him nearer to God than was possible for any other creature of God. This was part of God's Will and Plan, but little did man realise then what a tremendous task he was undertaking or question himself whether he would be equal to it. Zalūm (translated "unjust") and Jahūl (ignorant) are both in the Arabic intensive form; as much as to say, 'man signally failed to measure his own powers or his own knowledge'. But God's Grace came to his assistance. Where man did his best, he won through by God's Grace, even though man's Best was but a poor Good.

How did man generically undertake this great Responsibility, which made him Vicegerent of God (ii. 30)? Here comes in the mystic doctrine of a Covenant, express or implied, between God and Humanity. See vii. 172-73 and notes 1146-48, also v. 1 and n. 682. A Covenant (Mīthāq) necessarily implies Trust, and its breach necessarily implies Punishment.

73. (With the result (that
 God has to punish <sup>3783</sup>
 The Hypocrites, men and women,
 And the Unbelievers, men
 And women, and God turns
 In Mercy to the Believers, <sup>3784</sup>
 Men and women : for God
 Is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

٤٣- لِيُعَذِّبَ اللَّهُ
 الْمُنَافِقِينَ وَالْمُنَافِقَاتِ
 وَالْمُشْرِكِينَ وَالْمُشْرِكَاتِ
 وَيَتُوبَ اللَّهُ عَلَى الْمُؤْمِنِينَ
 وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ وَكَانَ اللَّهُ
 غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ۝

3783. Man's generic Covenant, which flowed from his exercising the option given him, choosing Will, Forbearance, Love, and Mercy, made it necessary that breach of it should carry its own punishment. Breach of it is here classed under two heads : those who betray their Trust act either as Hypocrites or as Unbelievers. Hypocrites are those who profess Faith but bring not forth the fruits of Faith. Unbelievers are those who openly defy Faith, and from whom therefore no fruits of Faith are to be expected.

3784. Those who remain firm to their Faith and their Covenant (see notes 3781-82) will receive the aid of God's Grace ; their faults and weaknesses will be cured ; and they will be made worthy of their exalted Destiny. For God is Oft-Returning and Most Merciful.

So ends a Sūra which deals with the greatest complications and misunderstandings in our throbbing life here below, and points upwards to the Great Achievement, the highest Salvation.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXIV (Sabā).

Now we begin a series of six Sūras, S. xxxiv. to S. xxxix, which recapitulate some of the features of the spiritual world. This Sūra leads off with emphasis on God's Mercy and Power and Truth. Then (in S. xxxv.) we are told how angels manifest the Power of God, and how different is Good from Evil and Truth from Falsehood. S. xxxvi. is devoted to the holy Prophet and the Qur-ān that came through him. In S. xxxvii. the emphasis is on the snares of the Evil One; in S. xxxviii., on the conquest of evil by wisdom and power as in the case of David and Solomon, and by Patience and Constancy as in the case of Job; and in S. xxxix. on the Final Judgment, which will sort out Faith from Unfaith and give to each its due.

The chronology has here no significance. This Sūra belongs to the early Meccan period.

Summary.—No Good or Truth is ever lost: Human Power and Prosperity are fleeting; but God's Power and Justice endure, and will enforce personal responsibility on man on the Last Day (xxxiv. 1-30, and C. 190).

Faith and Unfaith will eventually find their true places and true values; Falsehood has no power: Truth is with God (xxxiv. 31-54, and C. 191).

C. 190.—God's Mercy and Power endure for ever:
 (xxxiv. 1-30.) Man should understand and not resist
 God's Revelation. Human wisdom and Power,
 As given to David, were only for establishing Righteousness. Human glory, like Solomon's,
 Rested on slender foundations. Sabā
 But enjoyed her fair and prosperous state
 As long as she obeyed the Law
 Of God, but perished for unrighteousness.
 Learn, then, that the Mercy and Power, Wisdom
 And Justice, of God are beyond all comparison.
 Do right and prepare for the Final Day.

Sūra XXXIV.

Saba, or the City of Saba

(see verse 15).

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. Praise be to God,<sup>3785</sup>
To Whom belong all things
In the heavens and on earth:
To Him be Praise
In the Hereafter:
And He is Full of Wisdom,
Acquainted with all things.
2. He knows all that goes<sup>3786</sup>
Into the earth, and all that Comes out thereof; all that Comes down from the sky<sup>3787</sup>
And all that ascends thereto:
And He is the Most Merciful,
The Oft-Forgiving.

3. The Unbelievers say,<sup>3788</sup>
"Never to us will come

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

۱- الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي
لَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَلَهُ الْحَمْدُ فِي الْآخِرَةِ
وَهُوَ الْحَكِيمُ الْغَنِيُّ

۲- يَعْلَمُ مَا يَلْبِغُ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَمَا يَخْرُجُ مِنْهَا
وَمَا يَنْزِلُ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ وَمَا يَعْرُجُ فِيهَا
وَهُوَ الرَّحِيمُ الْغَفُورُ

۳- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا لَا تَأْتِينَا

3785. The declaration of God's Praise has much mystic meaning. All Creation declares His Praises, i.e., manifests His Mercy and Power, Goodness and Truth—all the sublime attributes summed up in His Most Beautiful Names (vii. 180 and xvii. 110 and notes). For man, to contemplate these in itself a Revelation. This sentiment opens five Sūras of the Qur-ān evenly distributed, viz. i., vi., xviii., xxxiv., and xxxv. Here the point most emphasised is that His wisdom and mercy comprehend all things, extended in space or in time—here and everywhere, now and evermore.

3786. An ignorant man may think that water absorbed in the soil or seed sown beneath the sod is lost, but it replenishes numerous rills and streams, and feeds and sustains numerous roots and forms of life, and throws up all kinds of vegetable life. So with things that come out of the earth: who can count the myriad forms of herbs and trees that grow and perish, and yet sustain a continuous life for ages and ages? Yet these are symbolical of other things or entities beyond time or space, and beyond physical form. We see the birth and death of the animal part of man: when he is buried beneath the soil, the ignorant man thinks there is an end of him. But what countless stages still lie before him for his inner and spiritual life? And so with the Platonic Forms of Things: Goodness, Virtue, Mercy, and the various functions of the soul. They are never lost, but go up to God.

3787. The vapours that rise from the earth and ascend to the sky descend again as rain and snow and as symbols of God's Mercy. So are the prayers of the devout and the call of those in agony for help and light, answered by the descent of mercy and guidance, help and light from the Throne of Majesty. The imagery indicated in the last note can be worked out to moral and spiritual forces, and they all centre in God. Do not forget that, just as there is the element of Mercy, so there is an element of Justice and Punishment—in the physical forces as well as in the moral and spiritual forces, all centring in God.

3788. The last two verses prepared us to realise the position of Unbelievers in God's great Universe. They are the discord in the universal harmony of Prayer and Praise. Their existence is due to the grant of a limited free-will, the Trust which the Unbelievers have betrayed (see xxxiii. 72 and notes). But they must and will be eliminated: see verse 5 below. For there is nothing more certain in the world, physical, moral, and spiritual, than that every cause, great or small, must have its corresponding consequences.

The Hour": say, "Nay!
But most surely,
By my Lord,<sup>3789</sup> it will come
Upon you;—by Him
Who knows the unseen,—
From Whom is not hidden
The least little atom
In the Heavens or on earth:
Nor is there anything less
Than that, or greater, but
Is in the Record Perspicuous:<sup>3790</sup>

4. That He may reward
Those who believe and work
Deeds of righteousness: for such
Is Forgiveness and a Sustenance<sup>3791</sup>
Most Generous."

5. But those who strive
Against Our Signs, to frustrate<sup>3792</sup>
Them,—for such will be
A Penalty,—a Punishment
Most humiliating.

6. And those to whom<sup>3793</sup>
Knowledge has come see
That the (Revelation) sent down
To thee from thy Lord—
That is the Truth,
And that it guides

السَّاعَةُ قُلْ بَلَىٰ
وَمَرَاتٍ لَّتَأْتِيَنَّكُمْ
عَلِيمِ الْغَيْبِ لَا يَعْزُبُ عَنْهُ مِثْقَالُ ذَرَّةٍ
فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَلَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَلَا أَصْغَرُ مِنْ ذَلِكَ وَلَا أَكْبَرُ
إِلَّا فِي كِتَابٍ مُّبِينٍ ٥

٣- لِيَجْزِيَ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
أُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ مَغْفِرَةٌ وَأَجْرٌ كَرِيمٌ ٥

٥- وَالَّذِينَ سَعَوْا فِي آيَاتِنَا مُعْجِزِينَ
أُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ
مِّن رَّجْزِ الْيَوْمِ ٥

٤- وَيَرَى الَّذِينَ أُوتُوا الْعِلْمَ
الَّذِي أُنزِلَ إِلَيْكَ مِنْ رَبِّكَ
هُوَ الْحَقُّ وَيَهْدِي

3789. The strongest emphasis and the most perfect assurance of certainty are indicated by reference to the authority of God Himself, the Ruler of the Day of Judgment.

3790. In the symbolical language of our own human experience, a record is more enduring than memory: in fact (if properly preserved) it is perpetual. If, further, it is expressed in clear language, without any obscurity, it can always be read with perfect precision and without any doubt whatever. Apply these qualities, free from human defects, to God's laws and decrees. They are unerring and enduring. Everything, great or small, will receive due recognition—a Reward for Good and a Punishment for Evil.

3791. "Sustenance": Spiritual in things spiritual, and physical in things physical. It implies not only the satisfaction of desire, but the provision of means for sustaining the ground won and for winning more ground in the march of progress.

3792. Cf. xxii. 51. God's Plan cannot be frustrated. It is those who work against it, who will be eliminated and destroyed.

3793. Against the doubts and vain imaginings of the Ignorant is the certainty of knowledge of the Enlightened: that God reveals Himself, and that His Revelation is true, and leads to the Path of true Guidance. That Path is the Path of God, Who, in His infinite Love and Mercy, is Worthy of all Praise.

It is possible to connect this with the "Record Perspicuous" in verse 3 above: 'it is perspicuous..., for the Enlightened do see...'

To the Path of the Exalted
(In Might), Worthy
Of all praise.

7. The Unbelievers say
(In ridicule): "Shall we Point out to you a man <sup>3794</sup>
That will tell you,
When ye are all scattered
To pieces in disintegration,
That ye shall (then be Raised) in a New Creation ?
8. " Has he invented a falsehood
Against God, or has
A spirit (seized) him ? " — <sup>3795</sup>
Nay, it is those who
Believe not in the Hereafter,
That are in (real) Penalty,
And in farthest Error.
9. See they not what is
Before them and behind them,
Of the sky and the earth ? <sup>3796</sup>
If We wished, We could
Cause the earth to swallow <sup>3797</sup>
Them up, or cause a piece
Of the sky to fall upon them. <sup>3798</sup>
Verily in this is a Sign
For every devotee that
Turns to God (in repentance).

إِلَى صِرَاطِ الْعَزِيزِ الْحَمِيدِ ۝

۷- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
هَلْ نَدُوكُمْ عَلَىٰ رَجُلٍ
يُنَبِّئُكُمْ إِذَا امْرَأَتُكُمْ كَلَّتْ مُسْرَقٍ
لَكُمْ لَعْنَىٰ خَلْقٍ جَدِيدٍ ۝

۸- أَفَتَرَىٰ عَلَى اللَّهِ كَذِبًا أَمْ بِهِ جِنَّةٌ
بَلِ الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِالْآخِرَةِ فِي
الْعَذَابِ
وَالضَّلَالِ الْبَعِيدِ ۝

۹- أَفَلَمْ يَرَوْا إِلَىٰ مَا بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَمَا خَلْفَهُمْ
مِنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْأَرْضِ
إِنْ نَشَاءُ نَخْسِفْ بِهِمُ الْأَرْضَ
أَوْ نَنْقُطَ عَلَيْهِم كَسَفَا مِنَ السَّمَاءِ
إِنْ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةٌ لِّكُلِّ عَبْدٍ مُّذِنِبٍ ۝

3794. This is a taunt against the holy Prophet, and it is applicable to all who preach the doctrine of a Future Life. How is it possible, say the Unbelievers, that when a man's body is reduced to dust and scattered about, the man should rise again and become a new Creation? They add that such a preacher is inventing a deliberate falsehood or is demented.

3795. The answer is: the Future Life is the truest of all Truths; so far is the man who teaches it from being demented, that it is those who deny it, that lack knowledge and are in real jeopardy for their souls; for they persecute Truth and must not only suffer defeat, but go farther and farther from Realities and thus suffer the worst hallucination about the spiritual world.

3796. The men who walk in spiritual darkness and laugh at a Hereafter, have but to observe the Power of God in the nature around them. He Who created the heavens and the earth and sustains them can surely make a new Creation! And the cosmic Laws which are so just and inevitable should surely give them an idea of the inexorable Justice that must redress all balance.

3797. Cf. xvi. 45, and n. 2071. Who are these puny creatures—sceptics that question the might and majesty of God?

3798. Cf. xxvi. 187. This was actually a challenge hurled at Shu'aib and a shower of ashes and cinders came from above and overwhelmed the challengers!

SECTION 2.

10. We bestowed Grace aforesaid
On David from Ourselves : <sup>3799</sup>
" O ye Mountains ! sing ye
Back the Praises of God
With him ! and ye birds
(Also) ! And We made
The iron soft for him ;—<sup>3800</sup>
11. (Commanding), " Make thou
Coats of mail, balancing well <sup>3801</sup>
The rings of chain armour,
And work ye righteousness ; <sup>3802</sup>
For be sure I see
(Clearly) all that ye do."
12. And to Solomon (We Made) the Wind (obedient) : <sup>3803</sup>
Its early morning (stride)
Was a month's (journey),
And its evening (stride)
Was a month's (journey) ;
And We made a Font <sup>3804</sup>
Of molten brass to flow

١-وَلَقَدْ آتَيْنَا دَاوُدَ مِنَّا فَضْلًا
يُجِبَالُ أَوْبَى
مَعَهُ وَالطَّيْرُ
وَالكَّالَةُ الْحَدِيدُ ۝

١١-إِن أَعْمَلُ سَبِغْتِ وَقَدَّرِ فِي السَّرْدِ
وَأَعْمَلُوا صَالِحًا
إِنِّي بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ بَصِيرٌ ۝

١٢-وَأَسْلَمْنَا لَهُ الْفِطْرَ
عُدُّهَا شَهْرٌ
وَرَوْحُهَا شَهْرٌ
وَأَسْلَمْنَا لَهُ الْفِطْرَ

3799. Cf. xxi. 79-80, and notes 2733-34. David had the gift of song and sacred music, and this is shown in his Psalms. All nature—hills and birds—sing and echo back the Praises of God.

3800. Iron or steel is hard stuff : but in the hands of a craftsman it becomes soft and pliable, and with it can be made instruments for the defence of righteousness. These, in the literal sense, are coats of mail, and defensive armour, and the manufacture of them is traditionally attributed to David. But, for warfare in the moral and spiritual world also, armour is required, and this can be made of some of the toughest and hardest facts of life.

3801. Coats of chain armour have to be made with cunning art, if the chains are to fit into each other and the whole garment is to be worn in comfort in fierce warfare.

3802. Note the transition from the singular, " make them coats of mail ", to the plural, " and work ye righteousness ". The first is addressed to David, who was the artificer of defensive armour ; and the second is addressed to him and his whole people. He made the armour, but it was to be worn not only by him but all his warriors. But he and all his people were to be careful to see that they did not deviate from the paths of righteousness. Fighting is a dangerous weapon and may well degenerate (as it so often does) into mere violence. They were to see that this should not happen, and they were told that God was watching over them all with the personal solicitude implied in the singular pronoun " I ".

3803. Cf. xxi. 81-82, n. 2736, and xxxviii. 36-38. See also xxvii 38-39. The winds are swift and can cover in a short morning's or evening's flight the distance which it takes a whole month to cover on foot or by bullock cart. In our own day, with air speeds of 400 miles and more per hour, this seems a moderate statement.

3804. In the Old Testament, II. Chronicles, Chapters iii., and iv., are described the various costly materials with which Solomon's Temple was built, and it was furnished with vessels, candle-sticks, lamps, censers, etc. " Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance : for the weight of the brass could not be found out " (II. Chronicles, iv. 18). " Also he made a molten sea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compass, and five cubits the height thereof ; and a line of thirty cubits did compass it round about " (II. Chronicles, iv. 2). The receptacle or " sea " or Font was made of molten brass : presumably it contained flowing water for washing with.

For him ; and there were
 Jinns that worked in front <sup>3805</sup>
 Of him, by the leave
 Of his Lord, and if any
 Of them turned aside
 From Our command, We
 Made him taste
 Of the Penalty
 Of the Blazing Fire.

وَمِنَ الْجِنِّ مَن يَعْمَلُ بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ
 بِإِذْنِ رَبِّهِ
 وَمَنْ يَتَزَيَّغْ مِنْهُمْ عَنْ أَمْرِنَا
 نَذِقْهُ مِنْ عَذَابِ السَّعِيرِ ○

13. They worked for him
 As he desired, (making) Arches, <sup>3806</sup>
 Images, Basons
 As large as Reservoirs,
 And (cooking) Cauldrons fixed
 (In their places): "Work ye,
 Sons of David, with thanks!
 But few of My servants
 Are grateful!"

۱۳- يَعْمَلُونَ لَهُ مَا يَشَاءُ مِنْ مَحَارِبٍ
 وَتَمَاثِيلٍ وَجِفَانٍ كَالْجَوَابِ
 وَقُدُورٍ رَاسِبَاتٍ
 اِعْمَلُوا آلَ دَاوُدَ شُكْرًا
 وَقَلِيلٌ مِّنْ عِبَادِيَ الشَّاكِرُونَ ○

14. When, when We decreed
 (Solomon's) death, nothing showed them
 His death except a little <sup>3808</sup>
 Worm of the earth, which

۱۴- فَلَمَّا قَضَيْنَا عَلَيْهِ الْمَوْتَ
 مَا دَلَّهُمْ عَلَى مَوْتِهِ
 إِلَّا دَابَّةُ الْأَرْضِ

3805. See xxvii. 17, and n. 3257. The workers who are called Jinns were only rough workers, working "in front of Solomon", i.e., under his eyes and the supervision of his men. They should be distinguished from the skilled workers who worked heart and soul for the Temple, and who are addressed as the "Sons of David" in the next verse.

3806. Mihṛāb (Plural Maḥārīb), translated "arch", may be applied to any fine, elevated, spacious architectural structure. As the reference here is to the Temple of Solomon, the word "arches" is I think most appropriate. "Arches" would be structural Ornaments in the Temple. Images would be like the images of oxen and Cherubim mentioned in II. Chronicles, iv. 3 and iii. 14; the Basons (II. Chronicles iv. 22) were perhaps huge dishes round which many men could sit together and eat, according to ancient Eastern custom, while the cooking Cauldrons or Pots (II. Chronicles, iv. 16), were fixed in one place, being so large in capacity that they could not be moved about. Indian readers will get some idea of them from the huge cooking Dags, which they use in the 'Urs at Ajmīr Sharif.

3807. The building of the Temple was a great event in Israelite history. The motto here given is "Work!"; for only that would justify the maintenance of the Kingdom of David, which reached its zenith under Solomon. Without work, both literally, and figuratively for "righteous deeds", all that glory and power would be out of place, and it fell away in a few generations, with the decline of the moral spirit which was at its back.

3808. This allegory illustrates three points: (1) however great and glorious human power and grandeur may be, it is only for a time, and it may fade away even before people know of its decline; (2) the most remarkable events may be brought to light, not by a flourish of trumpets, but by a humble individual, unknown and unseen, who works imperceptibly and undermines even so strong a thing as staff, on which a great man may lean; (3) work done by men merely on the basis of brute strength or fear, as in the case of the Jinns, will not endure. This is brought up in strong contrast against the Power and Majesty of God, which will endure, which cannot be sapped, and which can only be fully appreciated by a training of the will and heart. In the same way, in David's story above, his mighty strength as a warrior (see ii. 251) and his skill in making armour are only to be valued when used, as it was used, in the service of God, in righteous works (xxxiv. 11).

Kept (slowly) gnawing away
At his staff: so when he Fell down, the Jinns saw<sup>3809</sup>
Plainly that if they had Known the unseen, they
Would not have tarried
In the humiliating Penalty
(Of their Task).

تَأْكُلُ مِنْسَاتَهُ
فَلَمَّا خَرَّ تَبَيَّنَتْ الْجِنُّ
أَنْ لَوْ كَانُوا يَعْلَمُونَ الْغَيْبَ
مَا لَبِثُوا فِي الْعَذَابِ الْمُهِينِ ۝

15. There was, for Sabā,<sup>3810</sup>
Aforetime, a Sign in their Home-land—two Gardens
To the right and to the left.
“ Eat of the Sustenance (provided)
By your Lord, and be grateful
To Him: a territory fair and happy,
And a Lord Oft-Forgiving!<sup>3811</sup>

۱۵- لَقَدْ كَانَ لِسَبَإٍ فِي مَسْكِنِهِمْ آيَةٌ
جَنَّتَيْنِ عَنْ يَمِينٍ وَشِمَالٍ
كُلُوا مِنْ زَرْقٍ رَبِّكُمْ وَاشْكُرُوا لَهُ
بَلَدَةٌ طَيِّبَةٌ وَرَبٌّ غَفُورٌ ۝

16. But they turned away
(From God), and We sent Against them the flood<sup>3812</sup>
(Released) from the Dams,<sup>3813</sup>

۱۶- فَأَعْرَضُوا فَأَرْسَلْنَا
عَلَيْهِمْ سَيْلَ الْعَرِمِ

3809. The Jinns looked upon their work as a Penalty, and so it became to them. The people who worked at the Temple of Solomon as the People of David worked and gloried in their work as a thanksgiving to God, and their work became sanctified. The Jinns knew nothing of hidden secrets; they only saw the obvious, and had not even the significance of the little worm that slowly gnawed away Solomon's staff.

3810. This is the same city and territory in Yemen as is mentioned in xxvii. 22: see note there as to its location. There the period was the time of Solomon and Queen Bilqis. Here it is some centuries later. It was still a happy and prosperous country, amply irrigated from the Maārib dam. Its roads or perhaps its canals, were skirted by gardens on both sides, right and left: at any given point you always saw two gardens. It produced fruit, spices, and frankincense, and got the name of Araby the Blest for that part of the country.

3811. The land was fair to look upon; the people happy and prosperous: and they enjoyed the blessings of God, Who is Gracious and does not punish small human faults or weaknesses.

3812. Into that happy Garden of Eden in Arabia Felix (Araby the Blest) came the insidious snake of Unfaith and Wrongdoing. Perhaps the people became arrogant of their prosperity, or of their science, or of their skill in irrigation engineering, in respect of the wonderful works of the Dam which their ancestors had constructed. Perhaps they got broken up into rich and poor, privileged and unprivileged, high-caste and low-caste, disregarding the gifts and closing the opportunities given by God to all His creatures. Perhaps they broke the laws of the very Nature which fed and sustained them. The Nemesis came. It may have come suddenly, or it may have come slowly. The pent-up waters of the eastern side of the Yemen highlands were collected in a high lake confined by the Dam of Maārib. A mighty flood came; the dam burst; and it has never been repaired since. This was a spectacular crisis: it may have been preceded and followed by slow desiccation of the country.

3813. “Arim” (=Dams or Embankments) may have been a proper noun, or may simply mean the great earth-works lined with stone, which formed the Maārib dam, of which traces still exist. The French traveller T. J. Arnaud saw the town and ruins of the Dam of Maārib in 1843, and described its gigantic works and its inscriptions: See Journal Asiatique for January 1874: the account is in French. For a secondary account in English, see W. B. Harris, Journey Through Yemen, Edinburgh, 1893. The dam as measured by Arnaud was two miles long and 120 ft. high. The date of its destruction was somewhere about 120 A.D., though some authorities put it much later.

And We converted their two

And tamarisks, and some few

17. That was the Requital
We gave them because
They ungratefully rejected
Faith :<sup>3815</sup>
And never do We give (Such) requital except to such
As are ungrateful rejecters.

18. Between them and the Cities<sup>3816</sup>

Our blessings, We had placed
Cities in prominent positions,
And between them We had

Secure, by night and by day."

19. But they said :<sup>3817</sup> "Our Lord!

3814. The flourishing "Garden of Arabia" was converted into a waste. The luscious fruit trees became wild, or gave place to wild plants with bitter fruit. The feathery leaved tamarisk, which is only good for twigs and wattle-work, replaced the fragrant plants and flowers. Wild and stunted kinds of thorny bushes, like the wild Lote-tree, which were good for neither fruit nor shade, grew in place of the pomegranates, the date-palms, and the grape-vines. The lote-tree belongs to the family Rhamnaceæ, Zizyphus Spina Christi, of which (it is supposed) Christ's crown of thorns was made, allied to the Zizyphus Jujuba, or ber tree of India. Wild, it is shrubby, thorny and useless. In cultivation it bears good fruit, and some shade, and can be thornless, thus becoming a symbol of heavenly bliss : lvi, 28.

3815. Kafûr : intensive form : "those who deliberately and continuously reject God and are ungrateful for His Mercies, as shown by their constant wrong-doing.

3816. An instance is now given of the sort of covetousness on the part of the people of Sabâ, which ruined their prosperity and trade and cut their own throats. The old Frankincense route was the great Highway (imâm mubîn xv, 79; sabîl muqîm, xv, 76) between Arabia and Syria. Through Syria it connected with the great and flourishing Kingdoms of the Euphrates and Tigris valleys on the one hand and Egypt on the other, and with the great Roman Empire round the Mediterranean. At the other end, through the Yemen Coast, the road connected, by sea transport, with India, Malaya, and China. The Yemen-Syria road was much frequented, and Madâin Şâliḥ was one of the stations on that route, and afterwards on the Pilgrim route : see Appendix IX to S. xxvi, p. 975. Syria was the land on which God "had poured His blessings", being a rich fertile country, where Abraham had lived : it includes the Holy Land of Palestine. The route was studded in the days of its prosperity with many stations (cities) close to each other, on which merchants could travel with ease and safety, "by night and by day". The close proximity of stations prevented the inroads of highwaymen.

3817. Said : in this and other places in the Qur-ân, "language" is used for thought or deed. The Commentators call it the "language of actual facts" (zabân ḥâli) as opposed to the "language of words" (zabân qâli).

21. But he had no authority
Over them,—except that We Might test the man who<sup>3821</sup>
Believes in the Hereafter
From him who is in doubt
Concerning it : and thy Lord
Doth watch over all things.

3819. The people of Sabā were given every chance. They had prosperity, skill, trade and commerce, and a healthy and beautiful country. They also had, apparently, great virtues, and as long as they remained true to their virtues, i.e., to the Law of God, they remained happy and contented. But when they became covetous and selfish, and became jealous of other people's prosperity instead of rejoicing in it, they fell from grace and declined. It may be that the climate changed, the rainfall became scantier, perhaps on account of the cutting down of hill forests; trade routes changed, on account of the people falling off in the virtues that make men popular; behind all the physical causes was the root-cause, that they began to worship mammon, self, greed, or materialism. They fell into the snare of Satan. They gradually passed out of history, and became only a name in a story. Moral: it is only God's Mercy that can give true happiness or prosperity, and happiness or prosperity is only a snare unless used for the highest service of God and man

3820. Cf. xvii. 62. Satan out of arrogance had said, when he asked for respite from the Most High: "I will bring (Adam's) descendants under my sway, all but a few." This was now proved true on the Sabā people. He had no power to force them. It was their own will that went wrong and put them into his power.

3821. Might test: the word in the original is might know. It is not that God does not know all. Why does He want to test? It is in order to help us subjectively, to train our will, to put us definitely the question, "Will you obey God or other than God?" Cf. n. 467 to iii. 154.

SECTION 3.

22. Say : "Call upon other (gods) <sup>3822</sup>
Whom ye fancy, besides God :
They have no power,—
Not the weight of an atom,—
In the heavens or on earth : <sup>3823</sup>
No (sort of) share have they
Therein, nor is any of them
A helper to God.
23. "No intercession can avail
In His Presence, except for those <sup>3824</sup>
For whom He has granted
Permission. So far (is this
The case) that, when terror
Is removed from their hearts <sup>3825</sup>
(At the Day of Judgment, then)
Will they say, 'What is it
That your Lord commanded?' <sup>3826</sup>
They will say, 'That which is True and just; and He is
The Most High, Most Great'."
24. Say : "Who gives you <sup>3827</sup>
Sustenance, from the heavens

٢٢- قُلْ ادْعُوا الَّذِينَ زَعَمْتُمْ مِنْ دُونِ
اللَّهِ لَا يَنْبُلُكُمْ مِنْ ثِقَالِ ذَرَّةٍ
فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَلَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَمَا لَكُمْ فِيهِمَا
مِنْ شِرْكِ وَلَا مَالٍ مِنْهُمْ مَنْ ظَاهِرٌ

٢٣- وَلَا تَنْفَعُ الشَّفَاعَةُ عِنْدَهُ

قَالُوا الْحَقَّ
وَهُوَ الْعَلِيُّ الْكَبِيرُ

٢٤- قُلْ مَنْ يُزِيْرُكُمْ مِنَ السَّمَاوَاتِ

3822. Other objects of worship, such as Self, or Money, or Power, or things we imagine will bring us luck or prosperity, though they can do nothing of the kind.

3823. The false gods have no power whatever either in heaven or on earth, either in influencing our spiritual life or our ordinary worldly life. To suppose that they have some share, or that they can give some help to God, even though God is Supreme, is both false and blasphemous. God is One and Supreme, without sharer, helper, or equal.

3824. Cf. xx. 109, n. 2634, where I have explained the two possible modes of interpretation. Each soul is individually and personally responsible. And if there is any intercession, it can only be by God's gracious permission. For the Day of Judgment will be a terrible Day, or Day of Wrath (Dies Irae) according to the Latin hymn, when the purest souls will be stupefied at the manifestation of God's Power. See next note.

3825. "Their hearts": the pronoun "their" is referred to the angels nearest to God. On the Day of Judgment there will be such an irresistible manifestation of Power that even they will be silent for a while, and will scarcely realise what is happening. They will question each other, and only thus will they regain their bearings. Or "their" may refer to those who seek intercession.

3826. In their mutual questionings they will realise that God's Judgment, as always, is right and just. Does this mean that no sort of intercession is required?

3827. There are six propositions introduced here with the word "Say", at verses 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, and 30. They clearly explain the doctrine of Unity (verse 22), the Mercy of God (verse 24), man's Personal Responsibility (verse 25), the Final Justice of God (verse 26), God's Power and Wisdom (verse 27), and the Inevitability of the Judgment, by which true values will be restored (verse 30).

And the earth?" Say:
 "It is God; and certain it is
 That either we or ye <sup>3828</sup>
 Are on right guidance
 Or in manifest error!"

25. Say: "Ye shall not be Questioned as to our sins, <sup>3829</sup>
 Nor shall we be questioned
 As to what ye do."

26. Say: "Our Lord will gather us
 Together and will in the end
 Decide the matter between us
 (And you) in truth and justice: <sup>3830</sup>
 And He is the One to decide,
 The One Who knows all."

27. Say: "Show me those whom
 Ye have joined with Him
 As partners: by no means
 (Can ye). Nay, He is God, <sup>3831</sup>
 The Exalted in Power,
 The Wise."

28. We have not sent thee
 But as a universal (Messenger) <sup>3832</sup>

وَالْأَرْضِ قُلِ اللَّهُ
 وَإِنَّا أَوْ إِيَّاكُمْ لَعَلَّ هُدًى

۲۵- قُلْ لَا تَسْأَلُونَ عَمَّا أَجْرَمْنَا
 وَلَا نَسْأَلُ عَمَّا تَعْمَلُونَ ○

۲۶- قُلْ يَجْمَعُ بَيْنَنَا رَبُّنَا
 ثُمَّ يَفْتَحُ بَيْنَنَا بِالْحَقِّ

۲۷- قُلِ أَرُونِي الَّذِينَ

 بَلْ هُوَ اللَّهُ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ ○

۲۸- وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ إِلَّا كَاثِبًا

3828. Right and Wrong, Good and Evil, are incompatible, one with another. In this matter we can make no compromise. It is true that in men there may be various degrees of good or evil mixed together, and we have to tolerate men as our fellow-creatures, with all their faults and shortcomings. But this does not mean that we can worship God and Mammon together. Wrong is the negation of Right as light is of darkness. Though there may be apparently varying depths of darkness, this is only due to the imperfection of our vision: it is varying strengths of light as perceived by our relative powers of sight. So we may perceive the Light of God in varying degrees according to our spiritual vision. But in simple questions of Right or Wrong, we are faced by the Categorical Imperative.

3829. Therefore do not persecute us, or bring personal animus to bear on us. We must do our duty in declaring the universal Message, which is for you as much as for us.

3830. Human controversies are vain and inconclusive. If you put your trust in God and we put our trust in God, we belong to one Brotherhood, and we shall see the perfect Truth finally when the Time comes.

3831. Wisdom and Power only belong to God. If you put your trust in other things, they will fail you, because they do not exist—as objects of worship. All else that you set your hearts upon will and must fail you, because they cannot in any wise be brought into rivalry with God.

3832. God's Revelation, through the holy Prophet, was not meant for one family or tribe, one race or set of people. It was meant for all mankind, to whom, if they turn to God, it is a Message of the glad tidings of His Mercy, and if they do not turn to him, it is a warning against sin and the inevitable Punishment. That the Punishment does not come immediately (as far as they perceive) is no reason for doubting it. It has been declared in clear and unequivocal terms, and nothing can be more certain. Why delay? Why ask carping questions? Why not profit by the Message, turn to God in repentance, and bring forth the fruits of righteousness?

To men, giving them
Glad tidings, and warning them
(Against sin), but most men
Understand not.

لِلنَّاسِ بَشِيرًا وَنَذِيرًا

29. They say: "When will this
Promise (come to pass)
If ye are telling the truth?"

٢٩- وَيَقُولُونَ مَتَى هَذَا الْوَعْدُ
إِنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ ○

30. Say: "The appointment to you
Is for a Day, which ye
Cannot put back for an hour<sup>3833</sup>
Nor put forward."

٣٠- قُلْ لَكُمْ مِيعَادُ يَوْمٍ لَا تَسْتَأْخِرُونَ
عَنْهُ سَاعَةً وَلَا تَسْتَقْدِمُونَ ○

C. 191.—Unfaith has no stable foundations to rest on:
(xxxiv. 31-54) Misleaders and misled will all be responsible
For their deeds. True values are not to be judged
By the seeming good of this Life : true Good
Will come to its own in the End, however
Derided and scorned in the period of Trial.
Revelation and the Mission of the men of God
Will stand every test. God's Truth will endure,
While Falsehood will perish, and its votaries find
The doo of Repentance closed in the End.

SECTION 4.

31. The Unbelievers say :
"We shall neither believe
In this scripture nor in (any)
That (came) before it."<sup>3834</sup>
Couldst thou but see when
The wrong-doers will be made
To stand before their Lord,
Throwing back the word
(of blame)<sup>3835</sup>

٣١- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا لَنْ نُؤْمِنَ
بِهَذَا الْقُرْآنِ وَلَا بِالَّذِي بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ
وَلَوْ تَرَى إِذِ الظَّالِمُونَ مَوْقُوفُونَ عِنْدَ
رَبِّهِمْ
يَرْجِعُ

3833. When that Day actually arrives, your period of probation will have passed. It will be too late. Now is the time for action and spiritual profit.

3834. To the Pagans all scriptures are taboo, whether it be the Qur-ān or any Revelation that came before it. The people of the Book despised the Pagans, but in their arrogant assumption of superiority, prevented them, by their example, from accepting the latest and most universal Scripture when it came in the form of the Qur-ān. This relative position, of men who fancy themselves on their knowledge, and men whom they despise but exploit and mislead, always exists on this earth. I have mentioned the people of the Book and the Pagan Arabs merely by way of illustration.

3835. One disbelief is as bad as another. There is little to choose between them. But when the final account will be taken, there will be mutual recriminations between the one and the other.

On one another! Those who
Had been despised will say
To the arrogant ones: <sup>3835</sup>
"Had it not been for you,
We should certainly
Have been believers!"

32. The arrogant ones will say
To those who had been despised:
"Was it we who kept you
Back from Guidance after
It reached you? Nay, rather,
It was ye who transgressed." <sup>3837</sup>

33. Those who had been despised
Will say to the arrogant ones:
"Nay! it was a plot
(Of yours) by day and by night: <sup>3838</sup>
Behold! ye (constantly) ordered us
To be ungrateful to God
And to attribute equals to
Him!" <sup>3839</sup>

They will declare (their) repentance <sup>3840</sup>
When they see the Penalty:
We shall put yokes

بَعْضُهُمْ إِلَى بَعْضٍ الْقَوْلَ
يَقُولُ الَّذِينَ اسْتَضَعُوا لِلَّذِينَ اسْتَكْبَرُوا
لَوْلَا أَنْتُمْ لَكُنَّا مُؤْمِنِينَ ○

٣٢- قَالَ الَّذِينَ اسْتَكْبَرُوا لِلَّذِينَ
اسْتَضَعُوا أَحْنُ صَدَدُكُمْ عَنِ الْهُدَى
بَعْدَ إِذْ جَاءَكُمْ بَلْ كُنْتُمْ مُجْرِمِينَ ○

٣٣- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ اسْتَضَعُوا لِلَّذِينَ
اسْتَكْبَرُوا بَلْ مَكْرُ الْبَيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ
إِذْ تَأْمُرُونَنَا أَنْ نَكْفُرَ بِاللَّهِ
وَنَجْعَلَ لَكَ آندَادًا
وَأَسْرُوا التَّدَامَةَ
لَمَّا رَأَوْا الْعَذَابَ
وَجَعَلْنَا الْأَغْلَالَ

3836. The Pagans will naturally say to the people of the Book: "You misled us; you had previous Revelations, and you should have known how God sent His Messengers; had it not been for your bad example, we should have received God's Revelation and become Believers." Or the humble followers will say this to their leaders, or those less gifted will say to those by whom they were misled and exploited. The dichotomy is between such as pretentiously held their heads high in the world and such as they profited by but held in contempt.

3837. In the mutual reproaches between the misleaders and the misled ones, there will be a grain of truth on both sides, and yet both were guilty in not realising their own personal responsibility.

3838. The more intelligent ones who exploit the weaker ones are constantly plotting night and day to keep the latter ignorant and under their thumb. They show them the ways of Evil, because by that means they are more in their power.

3839. If all men worshipped the true God, and none but Him, they could not on the one hand be trampled upon, and on the other hand they could not be unjust. It is in the worship of false ideals or false gods that alluring structures of fraud and injustice are built up.

3840. Cf. x. 54, and n. 1445. All these mutual recriminations would be swallowed up in the general realisation of the Truth by both sides in the Hereafter. They would be prepared openly to declare their repentance, but it would be too late. The yoke of slavery to Evil will be on their necks. God's justice put it there, but what else could it do? Their own sins will cry out against them and hold them under their yokes.

On the necks of the Unbelievers:
It would only be a requital
For their (ill) Deeds.

34. Qever did We send
A Warner to a population,
But the wealthy ones among them <sup>3841</sup>
Said: " We believe not
In the (Message) with which Ye have been sent."

35. They said: " We have more
In wealth and in sons, <sup>3842</sup>
And we cannot be punished."

36. Say: " Verily my Lord enlarges
And restricts the Provision <sup>3843</sup>
To whom He pleases, but Most men understand not."

SECTION 5. .

37. It is not your wealth
Nor your sons, that will Bring you nearer to Us <sup>3844</sup>
In degree: but only
Those who believe and work
Righteousness—these are
The ones for whom there is
A multiplied Reward <sup>3845</sup>

إِلَّا مَنِ امْن وَعَمِلَ صَالِحًا
فَأُولَٰئِكَ لَهُمْ جَزَاءُ الضَّعِيفِ

3841. Whenever the Message of God comes, the vested interests range themselves against it. Worldly power has made them arrogant; worldly pleasures have deadened their sensibility to Truth. They reject the Message because it attacks their false position.

3842. Their arrogance is openly based on their worldly power and position, their family influence, and the strength of their man-power. Turn back again to the contrast drawn between the arrogant ones and those whom they despised, in verses 31-33.

3843. Provision (or Sustenance): good things of all kinds in this life, material goods as well as power, opportunities, influence, mental gifts, etc. These do not necessarily all go to the good, nor is their denial to be interpreted to mean that it is a withdrawal of God's favour. Very often the contrary is the case. Their distribution is in accordance with the Universal Plan and Purpose, which is all-wise and all-good. But ignorant people cannot understand this.

3844. The true test of progress in spiritual life is to be measured by other things than material wealth and influence. What we have to ask ourselves is: are we the least bit nearer to God?

3845. Cf. xxx. 39. All worldly good is but a shadow that will pass away. Its intrinsic and eternal value is small. But those who work righteousness in Faith are on the true path of self-development. The reward they will get will be infinitely more than their merits entitle them to. For they will partake of the boundless Bounties of God.

For their deeds, while

38. Those who strive against
Our Signs, to frustrate them, <sup>3847</sup>

39. Say: " Verily my Lord enlarges

3846. Their happiness will not only be great in quantity (" multiplied "), but it will be of a specially sublime quality (" dwellings on high "), and it will endure without any chance of its loss or diminution (" secure they reside ").

3847. Cf. xxxiv. 5, where the argument was urged that human efforts to defeat God's Plan will only bring humiliation to those who indulge in them. Here the argument is rounded off by the statement that such efforts, besides their failure, will land them in an abyss of punishment contrasted with the " dwellings on high " of the blessed ones.

3848. Cf. xxxiv. 36 above, and n. 3843.

3849. Even in the seeming inequality of distribution of the good things of life, God has a wise and merciful purpose; for nothing arises by chance. He is the best to give us, now and evermore, just those things which subserve our real needs and advance our inner development.

3850. Here we have the case of the worship of angels or supposed Powers of God, or supposed beneficent spirits that men turn to instead of worshipping the true God. In fact these are mere names to the false worshippers. It is not the Good that they worship but the Evil, which leads them astray.

3851. Walī in Arabic may mean Friend either in the sense of Protector and Benefactor or in the sense of the Beloved. The tie of benevolence, confidence, and friendship is implied, either active or passive. The angels first proclaim their dependence on God and their need of His protection, and then disclaim any idea of their having protected or encouraged the false worshippers to worship beings other than God. They go further, and suggest that when men pretended to worship angels, they worshipped, not angels, but jinns. See next note,

3853. The supposed "rivals" of God—the false things whereon men set their hopes and fears—will have no power whatever when true values are restored; and the Fire—the Penalty—which they doubted or derided, will become the dominating real thing in their experience.

3854. Apart from the worship of Evil in the guise of the Powers of Light, there is another form of false worship, which depends on ancestral tradition. "Why" it is said "should we not do as our fathers did?" They reject a new apostle of Truth simply because his teaching does not agree with the ways of their ancestors. The answer to this is given in verse 44 below. But meanwhile the rejecters' objection to new Truth is stated in three forms: (1) our ancestors knew nothing of this; (2) the story of inspiration is false; it is merely an invention; we do not believe in inspiration; (3) when in some particular points, the new Truth does work wonders in men's hearts, they account for it by saying it is magic. The third objection is merely traditional. What is magic? If it was merely deception, surely the Truth has proved itself to be above deception. The second objection is answered by the fact that the Apostle who comes with new spiritual Truth is acknowledged to be truthful in other relations of life: why should he be false where his preaching brings him no gain but much sorrow and persecution? For the ancestral objection see next note.

3855. The ancestors (as in the case of the Arabs of the Times of Ignorance) had received no revelation of the clear kind which an apostle and a Book bring them. This is a reason for welcoming, not for rejecting, new Truth.

45. And their predecessors rejected
(The Truth); these have

3856. Passing to Peoples before the immediate ancestors, the People of the Book, or the People of Sabā and the 'Ad and Thamūd, had received favours and gifts, power and wealth, ten times more than were enjoyed by the Pagan Quraish. Yet when they turned away from God's Truth, God turned away from them, and what terrible consequences descended on them when they lost God's Grace! This should make everyone humble, not least the posterity of Muḥammad the Apostle if they forsake God's Truths! For they have received a higher Teaching!

3857. A crowd mentality is not the best for the perception of the final spiritual truths. For these, it is necessary that each soul should commune within itself with earnest sincerity as before God: if it requires a Teacher, let it seek out one, or it may be that it wants the strengthening of the inner convictions that dawn on it, by the support of a sympathiser or friend. But careful and heart-felt reflection is necessary to appraise the higher Truths.

3858. Note that in verses 46, 47, 48, 49, and 50, arguments are suggested to the Prophet, by which he can convince any right-thinking man of his sincerity and truth. Here the argument is that he is not possessed or out of his mind. If he is different from ordinary men, it is because he has to give a warning of a terrible spiritual danger to the men whom he loves but who will not understand his Message.

3859. Cf. x. 72. The second argument is that he has nothing to gain from them. His message is for their own good. He is willing to suffer persecution and insult, because he has to fulfil his mission from God.

٥٠- قُلْ إِنْ ضَلَلْتُ فَإِنَّمَا أَضِلُّ عَلَى نَفْسِي

When they will quake
With terror; but then
There will be no escape <sup>3863</sup>
(For them), and they will be Seized from a position
(Quite) near.

٥١- وَلَوْ تَرَىٰ إِذْ فَرَغُوا
فَلَا قُوَّةَ
وَأَخَذُوا مِنْ مَّكَانٍ قَرِيبٍ ○

3860. God's Truth is so vast that no man in this life can compass the whole of it. But God in His mercy selects His servants on whom it is cast like a mantle. They see enough to be able to teach their fellow men. It is through that mantle—that mission received from God—that an apostle can speak with authority to men. He cannot explain the exact mystery of inspiration, but he knows it is from God, and this is his third argument.

3861. The fourth argument is that the Truth is final: it does not come and go: it creates new situations and new developments, and if by any chance it seems to be defeated for a time, it comes back and restores the true balance;—unlike Falsehood, which by its very nature is doomed to perish: xvii. 81. The Prophet's credentials are known by the test of Time. This was already becoming apparent to discerning eyes when this Sūra was revealed in Mecca, but it became clear to the whole world with the story of Islām's progress in Medina.

3862. If it could possibly be supposed that the Prophet was a self-deceived visionary, it would affect him only, and could not fail to appear in his personality. But in fact he was steady in his constancy and Faith, and he not only went from strength to strength, but won the enduring and whole-hearted love and devotion of his nearest and dearest and of those who most came into contact with him. How was this possible, unless he had the Truth and the inspiration of God behind him? This is the fifth and last argument in this passage.

3863. After the arguments for the reality and triumph of Truth, we are asked to contemplate the position of the opposers of Truth when Truth is established. They will be struck with terror: for Truth is all-compelling. They will wish they could get away from that position, but that would be impossible. They will not be able to move far; they will be held fast to the consequences of their own earlier conduct. They will be caught quite close to the point of their departure from Truth.

52. And they will say,
 "We do believe (now)
 In the (Truth)"; but how<sup>3864</sup>
 Could they receive (Faith)
 From a position (so) far off,—

٥٢- وَقَالُوا آمَنَّا بِهِ
 وَأَنَّى لَهُمُ التَّنَاطُوسُ مِنْ مَّكَانٍ بَعِيدٍ ۝

53. Seeing that they did reject
 Faith (entirely) before, and
 That they (continually) cast<sup>3865</sup>
 (Slanders) on the Unseen
 From a position far off?

٥٣- وَقَدْ كَفَرُوا بِهِ مِنْ قَبْلُ
 وَيَقْذِفُونَ بِالْغَيْبِ مِنْ مَّكَانٍ بَعِيدٍ ۝

54. And between them
 And their desires,
 Is placed a barrier,<sup>3866</sup>
 As was done in the past
 With their partisans :<sup>3867</sup>
 For they were indeed
 In suspicious (disquieting) doubt.<sup>3868</sup>

٥٤- وَحِيلَ بَيْنَهُمْ وَبَيْنَ مَا يَشْتَهُونَ
 كَمَا فُعِلَ بِأَشْيَاعِهِمْ مِنْ قَبْلُ
 إِنَّهُمْ كَانُوا فِي شَكٍّ مُرِيبٍ ۝

3864. They will now profess their faith in Truth, but of what value will such profession be? Faith is a belief in things unseen: now everything is plain and open before them. The position in which they could have received Faith is left far off behind them, when Truth was struggling and asked for help or asylum, and they cruelly, arrogantly, insultingly repudiated Truth.

3866. What they desire is to suppress Truth and to indulge in the satisfaction of their own evil, selfish motives. They will be baulked in both, and that itself will be their anguish and punishment. That has always been the law in the eternal struggle between Right and Wrong. Cf. Shakespeare, (Troilus and Cressida, i. 3. 116), "Right and wrong, Between whose endless jar justice resides." All partisans of such narrow cliques have always suffered the same fate.

3867. Note that verses 51-54 are a powerful description of the conflict between right and wrong, and may be understood in many meanings. (1) The description applies to the position in the final Hereafter, as compared with the position in this Life. (2) It applies to the position of triumphant Islām in Medina and later, as compared with the position of persecuted Islām in its early days in Mecca. (3) It applies to the reversal of the position of right and wrong at various phases of the world's history, or of (4) individual history.

3868. Cf. xiv. 9, and see n. 1884.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXV (Fātir).

See Introduction to the last Sūra.

This Sūra deals with the mystery of Creation and its maintenance, with various forces typified by the wings of Angels. Whether we look to outer nature or to man, God's Grace proclaims His Glory, and protects His votaries from Evil.

It is an early Meccan Sūra, but its chronology has no significance.

Summary.—The forces which maintain Creation, as typified by angels, were themselves created by God, to Whom alone all praise is due : all else is naught (xxxv. 1-26, and C. 192).

All good is from God : who then will choose Evil, and reach the doom that goes with Evil ? (xxxv. 27-45, and C. 193).

C. 192.—God is the source of all things : all Power,
(xxxv. 1-26.) Wisdom, Beauty, and Truth flow from Him.
It is Evil that deceives and plots in the dark.
All knowledge is with God. The things
That are good and pure and true are not
As the things that are evil, deceitful, and false.
God is free of all needs : it is we
That need Him : let us seek His love and live.
His Message will save us from wrong, while dark
Is the fate of those who reject Him.
Praise and glory to Him, the Cherisher of all !

Sūra XXXV.

Faṭir, or The Originator of Creation;
or Malaika, or The Angels.

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Praise be to God,<sup>3869</sup>
Who created (out of nothing)<sup>3870</sup>
The heavens and the earth,
Who made the angels<sup>3871</sup>
Messengers with wings,—
Two, or three, or four (Pairs):
He adds to Creation<sup>3872</sup>
As He pleases : for God
Has power over all things.

2. What God out of His Mercy
Doth bestow on mankind
There is none can withhold :
What He doth withhold,

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ
 ۱- اَلْحَمْدُ لِلّٰهِ فَاطِرِ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْاَرْضِ
 جَاعِلِ الْمَلٰٓئِكَةِ رُسُلًا اُولٰٓئِىْ اَجْنِحٰتٍ
 مَّثْنٰی وَاثَلٰثٍ وَّرُبْعٍ
 يَّزِيْدُ فِى الْخَلْقِ مَا يَشَآءُ
 اِنَّ اللّٰهَ عَلٰى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيْرٌ
 ۲- مَا يَفْتَحِ اللّٰهُ لِلنَّاسِ مِنْ رَحْمَةٍ
 فَلَا مُمْسِكٍ لَهَا وَّمَا يُمْسِكُ

3869. See n. 3785 to xxxiv. 1. When we praise God, it means that we understand and bring to mind that His glory and power are exercised for the good of His Creation, and this is the subject-matter of the Sūra.

3870. As man's knowledge of the processes of nature advances, he sees how complex is the evolution of matter itself, leaving out the question of the origin of Life and the spiritual forces, which are beyond the ken of experimental science. But this knowledge itself becomes a sort of "veil of Light" (see Appendix VIII, p. 923): man becomes so conscious of the proximate causes, that he is apt, in his pride, to forget the primal Cause, the Cause of Causes, the ultimate hand of God in Creation. And then, Creation is such a complex process: see some of the ideas involved explained by different words in n. 120 to ii. 117. The word faṭara here used means the creation of primeval matter, to which further creative processes have to be added by the hand of God, for God "adds to His Creation as He pleases", not only in quantity, but in qualities, functions, relations, and variations in infinite ways.

3871. The grosser ideas which men have of angels must be dismissed from our minds. They are beings expressive of qualities or powers, which may be typified by "wings". We need not suppose that angelic "wings" have muscles and feathers, like the wings of birds. If they had, how could there be three, or any odd number? We may suppose "two, three, or four" to refer to pairs of wings. But we must not suppose "two, three, or four" to express precise numbers, for in sacred literature we find mention of angels with six hundred wings. And we can imagine angels with just one pair of wings. They are Messengers or Instruments of God's Will, and may have a few or numerous Errands entrusted to them. Cf. the description of the Spirit of Inspiration in xxvi. 193, and of the spirits or angels for executing the Commands of God in lxxix. 1-5.

3872. See n. 3870 above, where the complexities of the creative processes is referred to. God's creation did not stop at some past time: it continues, for He has all power, and His mercies are ever poured forth without stint.

There is none can grant,<sup>3873</sup>
 Apart from Him :
 And He is the Exalted
 In Power, Full of Wisdom.

3. ﴿٣﴾ men! call to mind
 The grace of God unto you!
 Is there a Creator, other<sup>3874</sup>
 Than God, to give you
 Sustenance from heaven
 Or earth? There is
 No god but He : how
 Then are ye deluded
 Away from the Truth?

4. And if they reject thee,
 So were apostles rejected<sup>3875</sup>
 Before thee : to God
 Go back for decision
 All affairs.

5. O men! certainly
 The promise of God<sup>3876</sup>
 Is true. Let not then
 This present life deceive you,<sup>3877</sup>

فَلَا مُرْسِلَ لَهُ مِنْ بَعْدِهِ
 وَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ

٣- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ اذْكُرُوا نِعْمَتَ اللَّهِ عَلَيْكُمْ
 هَلْ مِنْ خَالِقٍ غَيْرِ اللَّهِ
 يُرْزُقْكُمْ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ وَالْأَرْضِ
 لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا هُوَ
 فَأَنْتُمْ تُؤْفَكُونَ

٤- وَإِنْ يَكْفُرْ بِكَ فَكُنْ مِنَ الْمَرْضُوعِينَ
 قَبْلِكَ
 وَرَأَى اللَّهُ تَرْجُعَ الْأُمُورِ

٥- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ إِنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ
 حَقٌّ فَلَا تَغُرَّبَكُمُ الْحَيَاةُ الدُّنْيَا

3873. As God is the Creator and Sustainer of all beings and things, so does His kindness extend to all Creatures. No one can intercept God's mercies and gifts. Whatever is His Will and Plan and Purpose He can and does carry out. And if from any creature He withholds any particular gifts, there is no other person or power that can give those gifts. But such withholding is not arbitrary. He is full of wisdom and goodness, and every act of His, whether He withholds or gives, is full of kindness and mercy to His creatures.

3874. As the primal Cause of all things is God, an appeal is made to man to turn to God instead of running after false fancies. God is not only the source, but the centre of all life and activity, and all affairs return to Him. The world is sustained, and human life is sustained, by God's grace and providence. "Sustenance" is to be taken, in Quranic language, for all that helps to maintain and develop every aspect of life, physical and spiritual. It would be the height of folly, then, for man to ignore God's gracious Message, as explained in His Revelation.

3875. And yet there will be human perversity which will reject the True and accept the False. The man of God is not discouraged by this, as everything ultimately returns to God, and we must trust to His Wisdom in His Universal Plan.

3876. In verse 3 above the appeal was on the basis of the Past and the Present : now the appeal is on the basis of the Future. Our origin is from God ; we live, move, and have our being now in God ; but remember also that there is a Future, in which we have to render an account of ourselves to God. God's grace has promised us the Garden of Bliss ; His justice has promised us the Fire of Suffering. Both promises are certain to be fulfilled. On which side shall we range ourselves ?

3877. Cf. xxxi. 33 and n. 3624. The deception of Evil takes two forms. (1) The seductive temptations of this world may deceive us into forgetting the Hereafter. (2) The Arch-Enemy himself may so blind our spiritual vision that we may say with him, "Evil! be thou my good!" We may be misled by easy stages. Are we on our guard?

Nor let the Chief Deceiver
Deceive you about God.

6. Verily Satan is an enemy
To you : so treat him <sup>3878</sup>
As an enemy. He only
Invites his adherents,
That they may become
Companions of the Blazing Fire.

7. For those who reject God, <sup>3879</sup>
Is a terrible Penalty : but
For those who believe
And work righteous deeds,
Is Forgiveness, and
A magnificent Reward.

فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ يُضِلُّ مَنْ يَشَاءُ
وَيَهْدِي مَنْ يَشَاءُ ۝
فَلَا تَذْهَبْ نَفْسُكَ عَلَيْهِمْ حَسْرَتٍ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلِيمٌ بِمَا يَصْنَعُونَ ۝

۹- وَاللَّهُ الَّذِي أَرْسَلَ الرِّيحَ

3878. Evil is our enemy and should be treated as such. It is really foreign to our nature, however much it may disguise itself to deceive us as our friend, or a part of our own nature. Personifying the Spirit of Evil, we may say that he wants us to share in his own damnation. Shall we allow ourselves to fall into his snare ?

3879. To reject God is to reject all the good which He has implanted in our nature. Are we going to be false to the true Pattern according to which He created us, and suffer the consequences ? Or are we going to be true to that Pattern and achieve the high and noble Destiny intended for us ?

3880. Cf. n. 3877 above. When a stage is reached at which a man accepts Evil as his Good, his case is hopeless. Can such a man profit by preaching or guidance ? He has himself deliberately rejected all guidance. Such a man is best left to stray. Perhaps, even in the paths in which he is straying, some sudden flash of light may come to him ! That may be as God wills in His holy and wise Purpose and Plan. But the man of God is not to worry or feel disheartened by such men's attitude. He must go on tilling the soil that is open to him. For God's Plan may work in all sorts of unexpected ways, as in the allegory in the next verse.

They raise up the Clouds,<sup>3881</sup>
 And We drive them
 To a land that is dead,
 And revive the earth therewith
 After its death : even so
 (Will be) the Resurrection!

فَتُثِيرُ سَابَا
 فَسُقْنَهُ إِلَىٰ بَلَدٍ مَيِّتٍ فَأَحْيَيْنَاهُ الْأَرْضَ
 بَعْدَ مَوْتِهَا ۗ كَذَٰلِكَ النُّشُورُ ۝

10. If any do seek
 For glory and power,—<sup>3882</sup>
 To God belong
 All glory and power.
 To Him mount up
 (All) Words of Purity :
 It is He Who exalts
 Each Deed of Righteousness.
 Those that lay Plots<sup>3883</sup>
 Of Evil,—for them
 Is a Penalty terrible ;
 And the plotting of such
 Will be void (of result).

۱- مَنْ كَانَ يُرِيدُ الْعِزَّةَ
 فَلِلَّهِ الْعِزَّةُ جَمِيعًا
 إِلَيْهِ يَصْعَدُ الْكَلِمُ الطَّيِّبُ
 وَالْعَمَلُ الصَّالِحُ يَرْفَعُهُ
 وَالَّذِينَ يَمْكُرُونَ السَّيِّئَاتِ
 لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ شَدِيدٌ
 وَمَكْرُ أُولَٰئِكَ هُوَ يُبْزَوُ ۝

11. And God did create<sup>3884</sup>
 You from dust ;
 Then<sup>3885</sup> from a sperm-drop ;
 Then He made you
 In pairs. And no female
 Conceives, or lays down
 (Her load), but with His Knowledge. Nor is a man

۱۱- وَاللَّهُ خَلَقَكُمْ مِنْ تُرَابٍ
 ثُمَّ مِنْ نُطْفَةٍ ثُمَّ جَعَلَكُمْ أَزْوَاجًا
 وَمَا تَحْمِلُ مِنْ أُنْثَىٰ وَلَا تَضَعُ
 إِلَّا بِعِلْمِهِ ۗ وَمَا

3881. The allegory here is double. (1) Dry, unpromising soil may seem to all intents and purposes dead ; there is no source of water near ; moisture is sucked up by the sun's heat in a far-off ocean, and clouds are formed ; winds arise ; it seems as if the wind "bloweth as it listeth", but it is really God's Providence that drives it to the dead land ; the rain falls, and behold ! there is life and motion and beauty everywhere ! So in the spiritual world, God's Revelation is His Mercy and His Rain ; there may be the individual resurrection (Nushūr) or unfolding of a soul. (2) So again, may be the general Resurrection (Nushūr), the unfolding of a new World in the Hereafter, out of an old World that is folded up and dead (Takwīr, S. lxxxii).

3882. Good and Evil are to be distinguished sharply. No good is ever lost : it goes up to the Throne of God. The humblest Good, in word or deed, is exalted to high rank. If man seeks for mere glory and power, there is no such thing apart from God. But seeking God, we attain to the highest glory and power.

3883. It is the nature of Evil to work underground, to hide from the Light, to plot against Righteousness ; but Evil inevitably carries its own punishment. Its plots must fail miserably. And eventually Evil itself is to be blotted out.

3884. Cf. xviii. 37 and n. 2379 ; xxii. 5 and n. 2773 ; and xxx. 20, and n. 3524. Here the argument is that man's physical origin is lowly : his physical body is but dust ; his life-sperm issues from a part of his body which he hides and considers as a place of shame ; and the mystery of sex shows that no one individual among mankind is sufficient in himself. Glory and power and knowledge are not in him, but in God, from Whom alone he derives any glory, or power, or knowledge that he possesses.

3885. "Then" in this and the following clause refers, not to stages of time, but to stages in the argument. It is almost equivalent to "further", "also", "and in addition".

Long-lived granted length
Of days, nor is a part
Cut off from his life,
But is in a Decree<sup>3886</sup>
(Ordnained). All this Is easy to God.<sup>3887</sup>

يُعْتَرُ مِنْ مُعْتَرٍ

إِنَّ ذَلِكَ عَلَى اللَّهِ يَسِيرٌ ۝

12. Nor are the two bodies<sup>3888</sup>
Of flowing water alike,—
The one palatable, sweet,
And pleasant to drink,
And the other, salt
And bitter. Yet from each
(Kind of water) do ye
Eat flesh fresh and tender,<sup>3889</sup>
And ye extract ornaments<sup>3890</sup>
To wear; and thou seest
The ships therein that plough
The waves, that ye may
Seek (thus) of the Bounty
Of God that ye
May be grateful.

۱۲- وَمَا يَسْتَوِي الْبَحْرَانِ ۚ

13. ~~He~~ merges Night into Day,<sup>3891</sup>
And He merges Day

۱۳- يُولِجُ اللَّيْلَ فِي النَّهَارِ وَيُولِجُ النَّهَارَ

3886. Things that appear most secret and mysterious to man are all known and ordained by God. They are all subject to God's Laws and Decrees. The mystery of human birth (see n. 3625 to xxxi, 34), the mystery of sex, the mystery of Life and Death and many other things, seem to man inexplicable. But they are all ordained by God, and their reasons are fully known to Him.

3887. Man's knowledge may be acquired laboriously and may be a burden to him. God's knowledge is different; it is no task or burden to Him. Cf. xxxiii. 19 and 30.

3888. See xxv. 53 and notes 3111 and 3112. The great salt Ocean with its seas and gulfs is all one: and the great masses of sweet water in rivers, lakes, ponds, and underground springs are also one: and each is connected with the other by the constant circulation going on, which sucks up vapours, carries them about in clouds or atmospheric moisture, and again brings them condensed into water or snow or hail to mingle with rivers and streams and get back into the Ocean.

3889. For this whole passage see xvi. 14 and notes 2034 and 2035. Both from the sea and from rivers and lakes we get fish, of which some kinds have a flesh particularly fresh and tender, and of a most delicate flavour.

3890. Such as pearls and coral from the sea, and such delicately tinted stones as the 'Aqîq (carnelian), the agate, the goldstone, or other varieties of quartz pebbles found in river-beds, and considered as gems. Many such are found in the Ken river in Banda District (Bundelkhand). Some river sands also yield minute quantities of gold. In large navigable rivers and big Lakes like those of North America, as well as in the sea, there are highways for shipping and commerce.

3891. Cf. xxii. 61. The phases of Light in nature may have other uses. But for man they mark periods of rest and activity, and have great influence on his physical, moral, and spiritual life.

Into Night, and He has
 Subjected the sun and
 The moon (to His Law): <sup>3892</sup>
 Each one runs its course
 For a term appointed.
 Such is God your Lord: <sup>3893</sup>
 To Him belongs all Dominion.
 And those whom ye invoke
 Besides Him have not
 The least power. <sup>3894</sup>

14. If ye invoke them,
 They will not listen
 To your call, and if <sup>3895</sup>
 They were to listen,
 They cannot answer
 Your (prayer). On the Day
 Of Judgment they will reject <sup>3896</sup>
 Your "Partnership". And none,
 (O man!) can tell thee <sup>3897</sup>
 (The Truth) like the One
 Who is acquainted with all things.

SECTION 3.

15.  ye men! It is
 Ye that have need

فِي اللَّيْلِ وَسَخَّرَ الشَّمْسَ وَالْقَمَرَ
 كُلٌّ يَجْرِي لِأَجَلٍ مُّسَمًّى
 ذَلِكُمُ اللَّهُ رَبُّكُمْ لَهُ الْمُلْكُ
 وَالَّذِينَ تَدْعُونَ مِنْ دُونِهِ
 مَا يَسْلُكُونَ مِنْ قِطْمِيرٍ

۱۴- إِنْ تَدْعُوهُمْ لَا يَسْمَعُوا دُعَاءَكُمْ
 وَلَوْ سَمِعُوا مَا اسْتَجَابُوا لَكُمْ
 وَيَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ يَكْفُرُونَ بَشْرِكِكُمْ
 وَلَا يَنْبِتُكَ
 مِثْلُ خَبِيرٍ

۱۵- يَا أَيُّهَا النَّاسُ أَنْتُمُ الْفُقَرَاءُ

3892. Cf. xiii. 2. The sun and the moon mark phases of light, and serve man during the periods of the day and the night. The sun marks the seasons, and is the source of heat and energy and physical life for the whole solar system. The sun and the moon run according to fixed laws, and they will continue to do so, not for ever, but for the period appointed for their duration by God.

3893. God's might and majesty, and God's goodness and wisdom, having been shown by a few examples, it follows that it is folly to seek or worship any other power but God. It only throws off man into false paths, and takes him farther and farther away from the Truth.

3894. Qiyamir: the thin, white skin that covers the date-stone. It has neither strength nor texture, and has no value whatever. Any one relying on any power other than that of God relies on nothing whatever. The Qiyamir is worse than the proverbial "broken reed". Cf. iv. 53 and iv. 124, where the word naqir, 'the groove in a date-stone', is used similarly for a thing of no value or significance.

3895. False or imaginary objects of worship serve no purpose whatever. They cannot hear; if they could hear, they could not grant prayers or petitions. In fact, if they are real creatures, such as angels or deified human beings, they will very rightly repudiate any such worship as brings them into competition or "partnership" with God. See next note.

3896. Cf. x. 28 and n. 1418; also xxxiv. 40-41. No false ideas or false impressions will remain when true values are restored. Why not then accept the Truth now in this life, and get on to the true path of Grace?

3897. None can tell you the Truth better than He Who is All-Wise and All-Knowing. Why not accept His Message and receive His guidance?

Of God : but God is <sup>3898</sup>
The One Free of all wants,
Worthy of all praise.

16. If He so pleased, He Could blot you out
And bring in
A New Creation

17. Nor is that (at all)
Difficult for God. <sup>3899</sup>

18. Nor can a bearer <sup>3900</sup> of burdens
Bear another's burden.
If one heavily laden should
Call another to (bear) his load,
Not the least portion of it
Can be carried (by the other),
Even though he be nearly <sup>3901</sup>
Related. Thou canst but
Admonish such as fear
Their Lord unseen <sup>3902</sup>
And establish regular Prayer. <sup>3903</sup>
And whoever purifies himself

إِلَى اللَّهِ
وَاللَّهُ هُوَ الْغَنِيُّ الْحَمِيدُ ۝

١٦- إِنْ تَشَاءُ نَبْطِئْكُمْ
وَيَأْتِ بِخَلْقٍ جَدِيدٍ ۝

١٤- وَمَا ذَلِكَ عَلَى اللَّهِ بِعَزِيزٍ ۝

١٨- وَلَا تَزِرُ وَازِرَةٌ وِزْرَ أُخْرَىٰ
وَأِنْ تَدْعُ مُثْقَلَةٌ إِلَىٰ جِهْلِهَا
لَا يَحْمِلُ مِنْهُ شَيْءٌ
وَلَوْ كَانَ ذَا قُرْبَىٰ
إِنَّمَا تُنذِرُ الَّذِينَ يَخْشَوْنَ رَبَّهُمْ
بِالْغَيْبِ وَأَقَامُوا الصَّلَاةَ ۚ وَمَنْ تَزَكَّىٰ

3898. What is man that God should care for him, instruct him, and send him special messengers to warn him of danger and harm? It is man that depends on God and has need of Him every moment of his life. God has no need of him, but He bestows His Grace on him as on all His creatures, out of His unbounded Mercy and loving-kindness. If it were God's Will, He could blot out man for his rebellion and create an entirely new world.

3899. There is no limit to God's creative power, nor is His creative energy anything rare or unusual. This is the force of the word 'Aziz here. God's creative energy is exercised every moment, and it is the normal condition in the universe.

3900. Bearer: hāmilatun: feminine in Arabic, as referring to the soul (nafs), as in vi. 164.

3901. Natural relationship may be considered as a reasonable cause or opportunity for bearing each other's burdens. For example, a mother or a father might offer to die for her or his child, and vice versa. But this does not apply to spiritual matters. There the responsibility is strictly personal and cannot be transferred to another. In xxix. 13 we are told that the misleaders "will bear other burdens along with their own"; but the context shows that the "other" burdens are the burdens of deluding others with their falsehoods. Both sins are their own, viz., their original sin, and the sin of deluding the others. But the responsibility will be doubled.

3902. Bil-gaibi: unseen in the adverbial sense. The man, who, though he does not see God, so realises God's Presence in himself as if he saw Him, is the man of genuine Faith, and for him God's Revelation comes through many channels and is always fruitful.

3903. Prayer is one of the means of purifying ourselves of lower motives in life, for in prayer we seek the Presence of God. But the purity which we seek is for our own souls: we confer no favour on God or on any Power in the spiritual world, as some imagine who make "gifts" to God. In any case the destination of all is to God.

Does so for the benefit
Of his own soul; and
The destination (of all)
Is to God.

فَأَتَمَّا يَنْزِلُ لِنَفْسِهِ
وَأِلَى اللَّهِ الْمَصِيرُ

19. The blind and the seeing
Are not alike; <sup>3904</sup>

١٩- وَمَا يَسْتَوِي الْأَعْمَى وَالْبَصِيرُ

20. Nor are the depths
Of Darkness and the Light;

٢٠- وَلَا الظُّلُمَاتُ وَلَا النُّورُ

21. Nor are the (chilly) shade
And the (genial) heat of the sun:

٢١- وَلَا الظِّلُّ وَلَا الْحَرُورُ

22. Nor are alike those <sup>3905</sup>
That are living and those
That are dead. God can Make any that He wills
To hear; but thou
Canst not make those
To hear who are (Buried) in graves.

٢٢- وَمَا يَسْتَوِي الْأَحْيَاءُ وَلَا الْأَمْوَاتُ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُسْمِعُ مَنْ يُشَاءُ
وَمَا أَنْتَ بِسَمِيعٍ
مَنْ فِي الْقُبُورِ

23. Thou art no other
Than a warner. <sup>3906</sup>

٢٣- إِنْ أَنْتَ إِلَّا نَذِيرٌ

24. Verily We have sent thee
In truth, as a bearer
Of glad tidings, <sup>3907</sup>
And as a warner:

٢٤- إِنَّا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ بِالْحَقِّ
بَشِيرًا وَنَذِيرًا

3904. Now we are offered some contrasts between those who obey God's Law and are thus citizens of the Kingdom of Heaven and those who are rebels against God's Kingdom and are thus outlaws. How can they be considered alike? The godly are like those who see, as contrasted with those who are blind; and their motives and actions are like the purest and highest Light, contrasted with the depths of darkness; or, to take another metaphor, their lives are like the genial and warmth-giving heat of the sun, which benefits all who come within its influence, contrasted with the chilly shadows of gloom in which no vegetation flourishes.

3905. The final contrast is between the Living and the Dead; those whose future has in it the promise of growth and fulfilment, and those who are inert and on the road to perish. With God everything is possible: He can give Life to the Dead. But the human Teacher should not expect that people who are (spiritually) dead and buried will by any chance hear his call.

3906. The function of a Prophet is to preach God's Truth, to point out the right Way, to show men the need of repentance, and to warn them against the dangers which they incur by living a life of evil. He cannot compel them to accept the Truth or listen to the Message.

3907. It is God Who sends the Revelation. While there is warning in it for the heedless, there is good news (in Christian terms, the gospel) for those who listen and repent. The warning always came to all peoples before punishment.

And there never was
A people, without a warner
Having lived among them
(In the past).

وَلَا مِنْ أُمَّةٍ
إِلَّا خَلَا فِيهَا نَذِيرٌ ٥

25. And if they reject thee,
So did their predecessors,
To whom came their apostles
With Clear Signs, Books <sup>3908</sup>
Of dark prophecies,
And the Book
Of Enlightenment.

وَأِنْ يُكَذِّبُوكَ فَقَدْ كَذَّبَ الَّذِينَ
مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ ٥

جَاءَتْهُمْ رُسُلُهُم بِالْبَيِّنَاتِ
وَالْزُبُرِ وَإِلَى كِتَابِ الْمُنِيرِ ٥

26. In the end did I
Punish those who rejected
Faith: and how (terrible) <sup>3909</sup>
Was My rejection (of them) !

ثُمَّ أَخَذْتُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
فَكَيْفَ كَانَ نَكِيرِ ٥

C. 193.—Man can see by his own experience xxxv. 27-45.) What infinite shades and grades of colour
There are in nature. So are there grades
In the spiritual world. The Good and the True
Understand God, Who knows and watches
Over all His creatures. The Good will reach
Eternal Bliss, while the Evil will find
No helper. Arrogance and plotting will be
The undoing of Evil: its doom
Is sure, if it fails to profit by the respite
Granted by the All-Merciful God.

SECTION 4.

27. Seest thou not that
God sends down rain
From the sky? With it
We then bring out produce
Of various colours. <sup>3910</sup>
And in the mountains

أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ أَنْزَلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ
مَاءً ٥
فَأَخْرَجْنَا بِهِ ثَمَرَاتٍ مُخْتَلِفًا أَلْوَانُهَا ٥

3908. The three things here mentioned are also mentioned in iii. 184, where I have explained the meaning in n. 490. All spiritual teaching centres round the evidences of God in our lives, the mystic utterances of men of God, and the rules and laws which guide holy living.

3909. Cf. xxii. 44 and xxxiv. 45. The rejecters of God hardly realise the terrible consequences to them individually and collectively, if God's grace is withdrawn from them and they are left to perish in their own sins and wrong-doing.

3910. Everyone can see how God's artistry produces from rain the wonderful variety of crops and fruits—golden, green, red, yellow, and showing all the most beautiful tints we can think of. And each undergoes in nature the gradual shading off in its transformation from the raw stage to the stage of maturity.

Are tracts white and red,<sup>3911</sup>
Of various shades of colour,
And black intense in hue.

وَمِنَ الْجِبَالِ جُدَدٌ بَيَضٌ وَحُمْرٌ
مُخْتَلِفٌ أَلْوَانُهَا وَعَرَايِبٌ سُوْدٌ ○

28. And so amongst men
And crawling creatures and cattle,
Are they of various colours.<sup>3912</sup>
Those truly fear God,
Among His Servants,
Who have knowledge:<sup>3913</sup>
For God is Exalted in Might,
Oft-Forgiving.

۲۸- وَمِنَ النَّاسِ وَالذَّوَابِّ وَالْأَنْعَامِ
مُخْتَلِفٌ أَلْوَانُهُ كَذَلِكَ
إِنَّمَا يَخْشَى اللَّهَ مِنْ عِبَادِهِ الْعُلَمَاءُ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَزِيزٌ غَفُورٌ ○

29. Those who rehearse the Book
Of God, establish regular Prayer,
And spend (in Charity)<sup>3914</sup>
Out of what We have provided
For them, secretly and openly,
Hope for a Commerce<sup>3915</sup>
That will never fail :

۲۹- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يَتْلُونَ كِتَابَ اللَّهِ وَأَقَامُوا
الصَّلَاةَ وَأَنْفَقُوا مِمَّا رَزَقْنَاهُمْ
سِرًّا وَعَلَانِيَةً يَرْجُونَ تِجَارَةً

3911. These wonderful colours and shades of colours are to be found not only in vegetation but in rocks and mineral products. There are the white veins of marble and quartz or of chalk, the red laterite, the blue basaltic rocks, the ink-black flints, and all the variety, shade, and gradation of colours. Speaking of mountains, we think of their " azure hue " from a distance, due to atmospheric effects, and these atmospheric effects lead our thoughts to the glories of clouds, sunsets, the zodiacal light, the aurora borealis, and all kinds of Nature's gorgeous pageantry.

3912. In the physical shapes of human and animal life, also, we see variations in shades and gradations of colours of all kinds. But these variations and gradations, marvellous though they be, are as nothing compared with the variations and differences in the inner or spiritual world. See next note.

3913. In outer nature we can, through colours, understand and appreciate the finest shades and gradations. But in the spiritual world that variation or gradation is even more subtle and more comprehensive. Who can truly understand it? Only God's servants, who know, i.e., who have the inner knowledge which comes through their acquaintance with the spiritual world,—it is such people who truly appreciate the inner world, and it is they who know that the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom. For such fear is akin to appreciation and love,—appreciation of all the marvellous beauties of God's outer and inner world (" God is Exalted in Might ") and love because of His Grace and Kindness (" Oft-Forgiving "). But God's forgiveness extends to many who do not truly understand Him.

3914. The man of God takes God's Revelation (" the Book ") to heart, ever seeks to get closer and closer to God (" regular Prayer "), and in doing so, is moved more and more to practical Charity for his fellow-creatures. He is not ashamed of his Charity (" openly "), but he does not do it to be seen of men (" secretly "): he just does what is necessary for his fellow-creatures, whether people talk about it or not.

3915. Here is a metaphor from commerce. The good man's Charity comes not merely out of superfluities, but out of " what God has provided " for him. He therefore recognises two things: (1) that his wealth (literal and metaphorical) is not his absolutely, but that it is given to him by God; and (2) that he must deny himself the use of some of it, as a merchant puts by some of his wealth to invest as capital. Only, the godly man's Commerce will never fail or fluctuate; because God guarantees him the return, and even adds something to the return out of His own Bounty. That is, God gives more than ever our merits deserve.

30. For He will pay them
 Their meed, nay, He will Give them (even) more
 Out of His Bounty :
 For He is Oft-Forgiving,<sup>3916</sup>
 Most Ready to appreciate
 (service).<sup>3917</sup>

٣٠- لِيُوَفِّيَهُمْ أُجُورَهُمْ
 وَيَزِيدَهُمْ مِنْ فَضْلِهِ
 إِنَّهُ غَفُورٌ شَكُورٌ ۝

31. What which We have revealed
 To thee of the Book
 Is the Truth,—confirming
 What was (revealed) before it :
 For God is assuredly—
 With respect to His servants—
 Well acquainted and<sup>3918</sup>
 Fully Observant.

٣١- وَالَّذِي أَوْحَيْنَا إِلَيْكَ مِنَ الْكِتَابِ
 هُوَ الْحَقُّ مُصَدِّقًا لِمَا بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ
 إِنَّ اللَّهَ بِعِبَادِهِ
 لَخَبِيرٌ بَصِيرٌ ۝

32. Then<sup>3919</sup> We have given
 The Book for inheritance
 To such of Our servants
 As We have chosen :
 But there are among them<sup>3920</sup>
 Some who wrong their own

٣٢- ثُمَّ أَوْرَثْنَا الْكِتَابَ الَّذِينَ
 اصْطَفَيْنَا مِنْ عِبَادِنَا
 فَمِنْهُمْ ظَالِمٌ لِنَفْسِهِ ۝

3916. No man is perfect. Everyone has his faults. But when a man tries his best in the service of God, his faults are blotted out, and he is treated as if he had committed no faults : " for God is Oft-Forgiving, and ready to appreciate service ".

3917. Cf. xiv. 5, and n. 2877 for shakūr. God is ready to recognise, appreciate, and reward the smallest service, without regard to the defects in that service. His gracious acceptance is compared to "gratitude" among men.

3918. All Revelation is one. The Qur-ān therefore confirms the main and uncorrupted features of previous revelations. It must be so, because God is fully cognisant of the needs of every age and people ; and therefore His Message, while it meets those needs, must in essence be the same. His Messengers did not meet each other as men ; but their contact with God through inspiration unified their Message. And He cares for and watches over all men, and He knows fully what their needs are, even better than they know themselves.

3919. The force of " then " is that of finality. The Qur-ān is the last Book revealed. Or it may be here to point the contrast between " to thee " in the last verse, i.e., the holy Apostle, in contradistinction to the People of Islam, who inherited the Book after him.

3920. The custodians of the Qur-ān after the holy Apostle were the People of Islam. They were chosen for the Book, not in any narrow sense, but in the sense that the Book was given for their age and they were charged to obey it and preserve and propagate it, so that all mankind should receive the Message. But it does not follow that they are all true and faithful to their charge, as indeed we see too painfully around us to-day. Just as mankind was chosen collectively to be Vicegerents for God, and yet some among mankind fell into evil,—even so, some in the house of Islam fail to follow the Light given to them, and thus " wrong their own souls ". But some follow a middle course : in their case " the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak " : their intentions are good, but they have much to learn yet of the true Muslim life and Muslim virtues. Then there is a third class : they may not indeed be perfect, but both their intentions and their conduct are sound, and they form an example to other men : they are " foremost " in every good deed. They are so, not by their own merits, but by the Grace of God. And they have reached the highest Achievement,—the salvation, which is typified by the various metaphors that follow.

Souls; some who follow
A middle course; and some
Who are, by God's leave,
Foremost in good deeds;
That is the highest Grace.

33. Gardens of Eternity will they <sup>3921</sup>
Enter : therein will they
Be adorned with bracelets <sup>3922</sup>
Of gold and pearls;
And their garments there
Will be of silk.

34. And they will say :
"Praise be to God,
Who has removed from us
(All) sorrow : for our Lord
Is indeed Oft-Forgiving
Ready to appreciate (service) : <sup>3923</sup>

35. "Who has, out of His Bounty,
Settled us in a Home
That will last : no toil
Nor sense of weariness <sup>3924</sup>
Shall touch us therein."

36. But those who reject (God)—
For them will be
The Fire of Hell : <sup>3925</sup>
No term shall be determined

وَمِنْهُمْ مُقْتَصِدٌ
وَمِنْهُمْ سَابِقٌ بِالْخَيْرَاتِ يُأْتِنَ اللَّهُ
ذَلِكَ هُوَ الْفَضْلُ الْكَبِيرُ ۝

۳۳- جَدَّتْ عَدْنٍ يَدْخُلُونَهَا
يُحَلَّوْنَ فِيهَا مِنْ أَسَاوِدَ مِنْ ذَهَبٍ وَلُؤْلُؤًا
وَلِبَاسًا هَمًّا فِيهَا حَرِيرٌ ۝

۳۴- وَقَالُوا الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي
أَذْهَبَ عَنَّا الْحُزْنَ
إِنَّ رَبَّنَا لَغَفُورٌ شَكُورٌ ۝

۳۵- الَّذِي أَحَلَّنَا دَارَ الْمَقَامَةِ مِنْ فَضْلِهِ
لَا يَسُنَا فِيهَا نَصَبٌ
وَلَا يَسُنَا فِيهَا الْغُوبُ ۝

۳۶- وَالَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا لَهُمْ نَارُ جَهَنَّمَ
لَا يُقْضَى

3921. "The Garden" signifies their environment : all they see about them will give them comfort, rest, and satisfaction, and a feeling of beauty and dignity. The jewels and clothes signify their personal external state : here, again, everything will give them a sense of beauty and dignity, comfort, rest, and satisfaction. And finally, most important of all, comes their internal state, where again they will have the same sense of beauty, dignity, comfort, rest, and satisfaction : this is indicated by their words of Praise (verses 34-35).

3922. Cf. xviii. 31 and xxii. 23.

3923. Cf. above. xxxv. 30. Note how beautifully the argument is rounded off. In verse 30 they were told that "God is Oft-Forgiving, Most Ready to appreciate service". Now they have reached the Goal, and they have found the Promise profoundly true. All their hopes are fulfilled, and their sorrows ended.

3924. In case it should be thought that perpetual happiness might cloy or be dull, as would be the case in this life, it is added—as the experience of those who attain that state—that it is not so on that plane of existence. Not only is there Joy, but it remains fresh and leads to no weariness.

3925. The "Fire" is the opposite to the "Garden". Instead of there being comfort, rest, and satisfaction in their environment, there will be pain, suffering, and anguish. Instead of there being dignity there will be humiliation. And there will be no hope of its termination or abatement, not even a hope of annihilation.

For them, so they should die,
Nor shall its Penalty
Be lightened for them.
Thus do We reward
Every ungrateful one!

37. Therein will they cry
Aloud (for assistance) :
"Our Lord! Bring us out : <sup>3926</sup>
We shall work righteousness, <sup>3927</sup>
Not the (deeds) we used
To do!"—"Did We not Give you long enough life
So that he that would
Should receive admonition?
And (moreover) the warner
Came to you. So taste ye <sup>3928</sup>
(The fruits of your deeds) :
For the Wrong-doers
There is no helper."

SECTION 5.

38. Verily God knows
(All) the hidden things
Of the heavens and the earth : <sup>3929</sup>
Verily He has full knowledge
Of all that is
In (men's) hearts.

39. He it is that has made
You inheritors in the earth : <sup>3930</sup>

عَلَيْهِمْ فَيَمُوتُوا
وَلَا يُحَقِّقُ عَنْهُمْ مِّنْ عَذَابِهَا
كَذَلِكَ نَجْزِي كُلَّ كَفُورٍ

۳۷- وَهُمْ يَصْطَرِخُونَ فِيهَا
رَبَّنَا أَخْرِجْنَا نَعْمَلْ صَالِحًا
غَيْرَ الَّذِي كُنَّا نَعْمَلُ

أَوَلَمْ نُعَمِّرْكُم
مَا يَتَذَكَّرُ فِيهِ مَن تَذَكَّرُ
وَجَاءَكُمُ التَّنْذِيرُ
فَذُوقُوا فَمَا لِلظَّالِمِينَ مِنْ نَّاصِرٍ

۳۸- إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلِيمٌ
غَيْبِ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
إِنَّهُ عَلِيمٌ بِذَاتِ الصُّدُورِ

۳۹- هُوَ الَّذِي جَعَلَكُمْ خَلَائِفَ فِي الْأَرْضِ

3926. Cf. xxiii. 107. Not only will their surroundings be the opposite of those in Heaven : their internal state will be one of humiliation, of piteous and fruitless appeals, of vain regrets for a past that cannot be recalled, and vain sighs for a future whose gates they have themselves barred. If they were sent back, they would relapse to their sins. Cf. vi. 28.

3927. Cf. vii. 53. Their hankering after another chance, after having deliberately rejected all chances, will have no basis of reason in it.

3928. They had a long enough respite for repentance and amendment. And moreover, besides all the other sources, in nature, history, and their own hearts, by which they could learn of the Right, they had the actual teaching and warning of an Apostle whose words spoke direct to them. In the circumstances the Penalty is only the fruit of their own conduct.

3929. Everything that exists is known to God : not only concrete things, but feelings, motives, plans, and acts of the will in the human breast.

3930. Inheritors : khalāif. In two senses : (1) as Vicegerents of God on earth, and (2) as successors to previous people who forfeited their rights by wrong-doing. The honour and dignity of (1) and the examples of the past in (2) should have kept them straight and made them truly grateful. See also vi. 165 and n. 988.

If, then, any do reject
(God), their rejection (works)
Against themselves : their rejection <sup>3931</sup>

But adds to the odium
For the Unbelievers
In the sight of their Lord :
Their rejection but adds
To (their own) undoing.

فَمَنْ كَفَرَ فَعَلَيْهِ كُفْرُهُ
وَلَا يَزِيدُ الْكَافِرِينَ كُفْرُهُمْ
عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ إِلَّا مَقْتًا
وَلَا يَزِيدُ الْكَافِرِينَ كُفْرُهُمْ
إِلَّا خَسَارًا ۝

40. Say : " Have ye seen <sup>3932</sup>
(These) ' Partners ' of yours
Whom ye call upon
Besides God ? Show me
What it is they have created
In the (wide) earth.
Or have they a share
In the heavens ? Or
Have We given them a Book
From which they (can derive)
Clear (evidence) ?—Nay,
The wrong-doers promise
Each other nothing but delusions.

۴۰- قُلْ أَرَأَيْتُمْ شُرَكَاءَكُمُ
الَّذِينَ تَدْعُونَ مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
أَرُونِي مَا ذَاخَلَقُوا مِنَ الْأَرْضِ
أَمْ لَهُمْ شِرْكٌ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ
أَمْ آتَيْنَهُمْ كِتَابًا فَهُمْ عَلَى بَيِّنَاتٍ مِنْهُ
بَلْ إِنْ يَتَّبِعِ الظَّالِمُونَ بَعْضُهُمْ بَعْضًا
إِلَّا غُرُورًا ۝

41. It is God Who sustains
The heavens and the earth, <sup>3933</sup>
Lest they cease (to function) :
And if they should fail,
There is none—not one—
Can sustain them thereafter :

۴۱- إِنْ أَرَادَ اللَّهُ يُسَبِّحُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
أَنْ تَكُونَ لَهَا وَلَكِنَّ زَالَتَا
إِنْ أَمْسَكْتَهُمَا مِنْ أَحَدٍ مِنْ بَعْدِهِ ۝

3931. Their rejection and ingratitude only causes injury to themselves. They lose all honour and incur odium in the sight of God, and they complete their own undoing.

3932. The people who enthrone in their hearts for worship anything besides God may well be asked a few questions. Some of such questions are indicated in the text with terse precision : (1) Have you seen these gods of yours? Do they exist? " Seeing " of course does not necessarily mean physical sight. We do not see the air, but no one doubts that it exists. And the air is a physical substance. There are forces that we know exist, but we do not see them. To us, who have Faith, God is a truer Reality than anything else that we know, including ourselves. Can the false worshippers say that of any of their false gods? (2) Have your gods created or originated anything on earth? You may worship power or wealth, but that is a scramble for things as between selfish men. Power or wealth does not create new men or new worlds. (3) Have they a share in the ordering of the heavens? " The heavens " may mean what you see in the physical universe of astronomy, or the still subtler inner life. Obviously your false gods fail there. (4) Or have these false gods a book or revelation from the Supreme God, with clear evidence, to give them authority to teach men? The Prophets or Messengers of God have such authority, and they bring evidence of the One True God. The fact is that falsehood is falsehood, however much one form of it may support another by delusions.

3933. The universe, as we know it, shows not only evidence of initial design, but also the working of an intelligent Providence, which constantly sustains it. That is God. If you could imagine that removed, what is there to keep it going? There would only be chaos.

Verily He is Most Forbearing,<sup>3934</sup>
Oft-Forgiving.

42. They swore their strongest oaths
By God that if a warner
Came to them, they would
Follow his guidance better<sup>3935</sup>
Than any (other) of the Peoples :
But when a warner came
To them, it has only
Increased their flight
(From righteousness),—

43. On account of their arrogance
In the land and their
Plotting of Evil.<sup>3936</sup>
But the plotting of Evil
Will hem in only
The authors thereof. Now
Are they but looking for
The way the ancients<sup>3937</sup>
Were dealt with? But
No change wilt thou find
In God's way (of dealing) :<sup>3938</sup>
No turning off wilt thou
Find in God's way (of dealing).

إِنَّهُ كَانَ حَلِيمًا غَفُورًا

۴۲- وَأَقْسَمُوا بِاللَّهِ جَهْدَ أَيْمَانِهِمْ
لَئِنْ جَاءَهُمْ نَذِيرٌ
لَّيَكُونُنَّ أَهْدَىٰ مِنْ إِحْدَى الْأُمَمِ
فَلَمَّا جَاءَهُمْ نَذِيرٌ
مَّا زَادَهُمْ إِلَّا نُفُورًا ۝

۴۳- اسْتَكْبَارًا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَمَكْرَ السَّيِّئِ
وَلَا يَحِيقُ الْمَكْرُ السَّيِّئِ
إِلَّا بِأَهْلِهِ
فَهَلْ يَنْظُرُونَ إِلَّا سُنَّتَ الْأَوَّلِينَ
فَلَنْ تَجِدَ لِسُنَّتِ اللَّهِ تَبْدِيلًا
وَلَنْ تَجِدَ لِسُنَّتِ اللَّهِ تَحْوِيلًا ۝

3934. God's world goes on according to the laws and decrees established by Him. There are occasional lapses and deviations on the part of His creatures. But He does not punish every petty fault. One of His merciful qualities is that of repeated forbearance and forgiveness.

3935. Cf. vi. 157. In the first instance this referred to the Quraish. Their attitude to the People of the Book had been one of lofty superiority or of insincere excuses. They twitted the Jews and Christians with deviating from their own lights and their own revelations; and for themselves, they said they had received no direct revelation from God, or they would have shown themselves the most amenable to discipline, the most ready to follow God's Law. This was before the holy Prophet received his mission from God. When he received it and announced it, they turned away from it. They fled from it and put a greater and greater distance between it and themselves. But this is the way of all sinners. They find much to carp at in others, and much to excuse in themselves. But when all grounds for excuse are removed, they will be found, not nearer, but farther and farther away, from truth and righteousness.

3937. In all history, men who followed evil were dealt with in three stages by God: (1) He was forbearing and merciful, and gave them respite; (2) He sent them admonition through His Messengers, or His Signs, or His revelation; (3) He dealt out justice and punishment. At any given moment, those given to iniquity may well be asked: "Are you going to wait through all these stages or are you going at once to repent, obtain forgiveness, and walk in the ways of righteousness?"

3938. God's Laws are fixed, and His ways of dealing with those who follow iniquity are the same in all ages. Our human will may falter or turn away from its course, but God's Will ever follows its course and cannot be turned away by any cause whatever.

44. Do they not travel
Through the earth, and see <sup>3939</sup>
What was the End
Of those before them,—
Though they were superior
To them in strength?
Nor is God to be frustrated
By anything whatever
In the heavens
Or on earth: for He
Is All-Knowing, All-Powerful.

45. If God were to punish <sup>3940</sup>
Men according to what
They deserve, He would not
Leave on the back
Of the (earth) a single <sup>3941</sup>
Living creature: but He Gives them respite
For a stated Term:
When their Term expires,
Verily God has in His sight <sup>3942</sup>
All His servants.

٢٢- أَوَلَمْ يَسِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ فَيَنْظُرُوا
كَيْفَ كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ
وَكَانُوا أَشَدَّ مِنْهُمْ قُوَّةً
وَمَا كَانَ اللَّهُ لِيُعْجِزَهُ مِنْ شَيْءٍ
فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَلَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
إِنَّهُ كَانَ عَلِيمًا قَدِيرًا ۝

٢٥- وَلَوْ يُوَاقِدُ اللَّهُ النَّاسَ بِمَا كَسَبُوا
مَا تَرَكَ عَلَى ظَهْرهَا مِنْ دَابَّةٍ
وَلَكِنْ يُؤَخِّرُهُمْ إِلَىٰ أَجَلٍ مُّسَمًّى
فَإِذَا جَاءَ أَجَلُهُمْ
فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ كَانَ بِعِبَادِهِ بَصِيرًا ۝

3939. Cf. xxx. 9. If no other argument will convince men who follow evil, let them travel through space or time, and learn from the experience of others. Evil always came to an evil end. Let not any one individual or generation think that it could escape by some special trick or power. Far wiser and more powerful men were personally brought to account for their iniquities.

3940. Cf. xvi. 61. There would be no salvation for any of us if we went merely on our deserts. It is God's mercy that saves us and helps us to a better and better life until we attain the goal of our existence.

3941. A single living creature. This may refer to man, the living crawling creature, with so many possibilities and yet so many weaknesses. But it may mean all creatures literally, as the life of this planet more or less centres round the life of man. He has been given dominion on this earth, and in his state of purity he is God's vicegerent.

3942. Has in His sight all creatures: i.e., to deal with, accordingly to His laws of Forbearance, Mercy, and Justice: see-n. 3937 above. The respite does not mean that any one escapes His vigilant eye. All will be dealt with according to their deeds, with justice tempered with Mercy.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXVI (Yā-Sīn).

See Introduction to S. xxxiv. This particular Sūra is devoted to the holy Prophet and the Revelation which he brought. The Abbreviated Letters Yā-Sīn are usually construed as a title of the holy Prophet. But it is not permissible to be dogmatic about the meaning of Abbreviated Letters. See Appendix I after S. ii. This Sūra is considered to be "the heart of the Qur-ān", as it concerns the central figure in the teaching of Islam and the central doctrine of Revelation and the Hereafter. As referring to the Hereafter, it is appropriately read in solemn ceremonies after death.

In chronology it belongs to the middle or early Meccan period.

In S. xxxvii. 130 (a cognate Sūra) occurs the word Il-yā-sīn: See n. 4115-A.

Summary.—The Qur-ān is full of wisdom, and those are unfortunate who cannot profit by it: Parable of the City that defied—all but one—the Messengers of Grace and Mercy (xxxvi. 1-32, and C. 194).

Various Signs of God in nature and Revelation (xxxvi. 33-50, and C. 195).

The Resurrection and the Hereafter (xxxvi. 51-83, and C. 195).

C. 194.—The wisdom of Revelation—the Qur-ān received
(xxxvi. 1-32.) Through the holy Prophet—is a guide
To the Straight Path, and a warning against
The terrible state in which the yokes
Of Sin enslave us. The righteous receive it
With joy, for they believe in the Hereafter.
Behold, there was once a City, to which
Came two righteous men with the Gospel of Truth,
But they were rejected and persecuted: they were joined
By a third. But the City refused to believe
Or to turn from iniquity. Only one man was found
In its outskirts, to bear witness to Truth,
Faith, and Righteousness, and he did suffer
Martyrdom. He attained Peace, but mourned
For his people, in that they shut the gates
Of Salvation and God's Mercy on themselves.
Alas for man's short-sighted folly in defying
The Grace that would shield and deliver him!

Sūra XXXVI.

Yā-Sīn (being Abbreviated Letters).

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. Yā-Sīn.<sup>3943</sup>
2. By the Qur-ān,<sup>3944</sup>
Full of Wisdom,—
3. Thou art indeed
One of the apostles,
4. On a Straight Way.
5. It is a Revelation<sup>3945</sup>
Sent down by (Him),
The Exalted in Might,
Most Merciful,
6. In order that thou mayest
Admonish a people,
Whose fathers had received<sup>3946</sup>
No admonition, and who
Therefore remain heedless
(Of the Signs of God).

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- يَس ٓ

٢- وَالْقُرْآنِ الْحَكِيمِ ٓ

٣- إِنَّكَ لَمِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ٓ

٤- عَلَى صِرَاطٍ مُسْتَقِيمٍ ٓ

٥- تَنْزِيلَ

الْعَزِيمِ الرَّحِيمِ ٓ

٦- لِيُنذِرَ قَوْمًا

مَّا أُنذِرَ آبَاؤُهُمْ

فَهُمْ غَافِلُونَ ٓ

3943. Some Commentators take Yā to be the vocative particle, and Sīn to be the abbreviation of Insān, Sīn being the only "Firm Letter" in the word. In that case it would be an address to man, "O man!" But "man" in this connection is understood to mean the Leader of man, the noblest of mankind, Muḥammad the Prophet of God. For this Sūra deals mainly with the holy Prophet and his Message. But no dogmatic assertion can be made about the Abbreviated Letters, for which see Appendix I, following S. ii. Yā-Sīn is usually treated as a mystic title of the holy Prophet.

3944. The best credentials of the holy Prophet are: (1) the revelation which he brought ("the Qur-ān"), and the heroic unselfish life which he led ("on a Straight Way"). The appeal is therefore made on the testimony of these two facts.

3945. The Revelation again is characterised by two attributes which we find most helpful in contemplating the nature of God. It has force and power: for God is Exalted in Might and able to enforce His Will. And it brings a Message of hope and mercy: for God is Most Merciful. By its characteristics we know that the Qur-ān is from God.

3946. The Quraish had received no Prophet before, and therefore one of themselves was made the vehicle for the universal Message to the whole world. See C. 12-15.

7. The Word is proved true<sup>3947</sup>
Against the greater part of them :
For they do not believe.

٤- لَقَدْ حَقَّ الْقَوْلُ عَلَىٰ أَكْثَرِهِمْ
فَهُمْ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

8. We have put yokes<sup>3948</sup>
Round their necks
Right up to their chins,
So that their heads are Forced up (and they cannot see).

٨- إِنَّا جَعَلْنَا فِي أَعْنَاقِهِمْ أَغْلَالًا
فَهِيَ إِلَىٰ الْأَذْقَانِ
فَهُمْ مُّقْمَحُونَ ○

9. And We have put
A bar in front of them<sup>3949</sup>
And a bar behind them,
And further, We have Covered them up; so that
They cannot see.

٩- وَجَعَلْنَا مِنْ بَيْنِ أَيْدِيهِمْ سَدًّا
وَمِنْ خَلْفِهِمْ سَدًّا
فَأَغْشَيْنَاهُمْ
فَهُمْ لَا يَبْصُرُونَ ○

10. The same is it to them<sup>3950</sup>
Whether thou admonish them
Or thou do not admonish
Them : they will not believe.

١٠- وَسَوَاءٌ عَلَيْهِمْ ءَأَنْذَرْتَهُمْ
أَمْ لَمْ تُنذِرْهُمْ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

3947. Cf. vii. 30, and n. 1012; also xvii. 16, and n. 2193. If people deliberately and obstinately refuse "to believe", i.e. to receive guidance and admonition, the result must be that God's grace and mercy are withdrawn from them. Their own perversity inevitably blocks-up all channels for their correction.

3948. Man's misdeeds inevitably call forth the operation of God's Law, and therefore the result is in Quranic language attributed to God. The result of man's wilful disobedience is now described in a series of metaphors. (1) Refusal of God's Light means less and less freedom of action for man: the yoke of sin is fastened round man's neck, and it gets more and more tightened, right up to the chin. (2) The head is forced up and kept in a stiff position, so that the mind becomes befogged. Moral obliquity taints the intellect. According to the Sanskrit proverb, "When destruction comes near, understanding is turned upside down." According to the Latin proverb, "Whom God wishes to destroy, He first makes demented." In other words, iniquity not only is folly, but leads deeper and deeper into folly, narrowness of vision, and blindness to the finer things of life. (3) This state of deprivation of Grace leads to such a decline in spiritual vitality that the victim can neither progress nor turn back, as explained in the next verse.

3949. Their retreat is cut off, and their progress is impossible. Further, the Light that should come from above is cut off, so that they become totally devoid of any hope, and the last gleam of any spiritual understanding is extinguished in them.

3950. When the stage just described is reached, Revelation or spiritual teaching ceases to have any value for them. Why then preach? The answer is given in the verses following.

In a clear Book <sup>3956</sup>
(Of evidence).

SECTION 2.

13. Set forth to them,
By way of a parable,
The (story of) the Companions <sup>3957</sup>
Of the City. Behold,
There came apostles to it.

14. When We (first) sent
To them two apostles,
They rejected them :
But We strengthened them <sup>3958</sup>
With a third : they said,
" Truly, we have been sent
On a mission to you."

فِي إِمَامٍ مُّبِينٍ ۝

۱۳- وَأَضْرِبْ لَهُمْ مَثَلًا
أَصْحَابَ الْقَرْيَةِ
إِذْ جَاءَهَا الْمُرْسَلُونَ ۝

۱۳- إِذْ أَرْسَلْنَا إِلَيْهِمُ اثْنَيْنِ
فَكَذَّبُوهُمَا فَعَبَّوْا
بِنَثَالٍ فَقَالُوا
إِنَّا إِلَيْكُمْ مُرْسَلُونَ ۝

3956. Cf. ii. 124 and n. 124. All our account will be exactly preserved as in a book of record.

3957. Many of the classical Commentators have supposed that the City referred to was Antioch. Now Antioch was one of the most important cities in North Syria in the first century of the Christian era. It was a Greek city founded by Seleucus Nicator, one of the successors of Alexander, about 300 B.C. in memory of his father Antiochus. It was close to the sea, and had its sea-port at Seleucia. Soon after Christ his disciples successfully preached there, and they "were called Christians first in Antioch": Acts, xi. 26. It afterwards became the seat of a most important Bishopric of the Christian Church. In the story told here "by way of a parable", the City rejected the Message, and the City was destroyed: xxxvi. 29. Following Ibn Kathir, I reject the identification with Antioch decisively. No name, or period, or place is mentioned in the text. The significance of the story is in the lessons to be derived from it as a parable, for which see the next note. That is independent of name, time, or place.

3958. God sends His apostles or teachers of Truth by ones and twos, and where the opposition is great and He considers it necessary, he supports them with others. Their mission is divine, but they do not claim to be more than men. This is used by the unjust and the ungodly as if it were a reproach, whereas it should commend them to men, for mankind is glorified by such commission and by God's Self-revelation. The Message is clearly expressed in human language, but because it exposes all evil, men think it unlucky, as it checks their selfishness. It is often the poorest and most despised of mankind, from the outskirts or "farthest parts of the City", that accept the Message and are willing to work and die for it. The stiff-necked resist and accomplish their own destruction.

15. The (people) said : " Ye are Only men like ourselves ; <sup>3959</sup>
And (God) Most Gracious
Sends no sort of revelation : <sup>3960</sup>
Ye do nothing but lie."

١٥- قَالُوا مَا أَنْتُمْ إِلَّا بَشَرٌ مِثْلُنَا
وَمَا أَنْزَلَ الرَّحْمَنُ مِنْ شَيْءٍ
إِنْ أَنْتُمْ إِلَّا تَكْذِبُونَ ○

16. They said : " Our Lord doth
Know that we have been sent
On a mission to you : <sup>3961</sup>

١٦- قَالُوا رَبَّنَا يَعْلَمُ
إِنَّا إِلَيْكُمْ لَمُرْسَلُونَ ○

17. "And our duty is only
To proclaim the clear Message." <sup>3962</sup>

١٧- وَمَا عَلَيْنَا إِلَّا الْبَلْغُ الْمُبِينُ ○

18. The (people) said : " For us,
We augur an evil omen <sup>3963</sup>

١٨- قَالُوا إِنَّا تَطِيرُنَا بِكُمْ

3959. Cf. Acts, xiv. 15, where Paul and Barnabas say, in the city of Lystra near the modern Konia : " We also are men with like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities..."

3960. They not only reject the mission of the particular apostles, but they deny the possibility of God's sending such mission. Note how they convict themselves of inconsistency by using God's name " Most Gracious ", even though they may mean it ironically !

3961. Just as a Messenger whose credentials are doubted can refer to the authority granted by his Principal, as the highest proof of his mission, so these men of God invoke the authority of God in proof of their mission. In effect they say : " The knowledge of God is perfect, and He knows that our mission is from Him ; if you do not, it is your own misfortune."

3962. Then they proceed to explain what their mission is. It is not to force them but to convince them. It is to proclaim openly and clearly God's Law, which they were breaking,—to denounce their sins and to show them the better path. If they were obstinate, it was their own loss. If they were rebellious against God, the punishment rested with God.

3963. Tā'ir means a bird. Like the Roman augurs, the Arabs had a superstition about deriving omens from birds. Cf. the English word " auspicious ", from the Latin avis, a bird, and specio, I see. From Tā'ir (bird) came ta-taiyara, or iffaiyara, to draw evil omens. Because the men of God denounced evil, the evil-doers thought that they brought ill-luck to them. As a matter of fact any evil that happened to them was the result of their own ill-deeds. Cf. vii. 131, where the Egyptians ascribed their calamities to the ill-luck brought by Moses : and xxvii. 47, where the Thamūd ascribed ill-luck to the preaching of Sālih.

From you : if ye desist not,
We will certainly stone you,
And a grievous punishment
Indeed will be inflicted
On you by us."

لَئِنْ لَمْ تَنْتَهُوا لَنَرْجِمَنَّكُمْ
وَلَنُمَسِّكَنَّكُمْ
مَتَاعَ عَذَابِ الْيَوْمِ ۝

19. They said : " Your evil omens
Are with yourselves :<sup>3964</sup>
(Deem ye this an evil omen),
If ye are admonished ?
Nay, but ye are a people
Transgressing all bounds ! "<sup>3965</sup>

١٩- قَالُوا طَائِرُكُمْ مَعَكُمْ
أَئِنَّ ذُكِّرْتُمْ
بَلْ أَنْتُمْ
قَوْمٌ مُّسْرِفُونَ ۝

20. Then there came running,
From the farthest part
Of the City, a man,<sup>3966</sup>
Saying, " O my People !
Obey the apostles :

٢٠- وَجَاءَ مِنْ أَقْصَا الْمَدِينَةِ
رَجُلٌ يَسْعَى قَالَ يَا قَوْمِ
اتَّبِعُوا الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝

21. " Obey those who ask
No reward of you
22 (For themselves), and who have
30 Themselves received Guidance.<sup>3976</sup>

٢١- اتَّبِعُوا مَنْ لَا يَسْئَلُكُمْ أَجْرًا
وَهُمْ مُّهْتَدُونَ ۝

3964. 'What ye call omens arise from your own ill-deeds. Do you suppose that a man who comes to warn you and teach you the better way brings you ill-luck? Fie upon you!'

3965. To call Good evil and accuse of falsehood men of truth who come unselfishly to bring the message of the beneficent Mercy of God, is the very height of extravagance and transgression

3966. While the wealthy, influential, and fashionable men in the City were doubtful of God's providence and superstitiously believed in Chance and evil omens, the Truth was seen by a man in the outskirts of the City, a man held in low esteem by the arrogant. He had believed, and he wanted his City to believe. So, in Arabia, when the arrogant chiefs of the Quraish exiled the holy Prophet, it was men from Medina and from the outskirts, who welcomed him, believed in him, and supported his mission in every way.

3967. Prophets do not seek their own advantage. They serve God and humanity. Their hope lies in the good pleasure of God, to Whose service they are devoted. Cf. x. 72; xii. 104; etc

22. "It would not be reasonable
In me if I did not
Serve Him Who created me,<sup>3968</sup>
And to Whom ye shall
(All) be brought back.

٢٢- وَمَالِي لَا أَعْبُدُ الَّذِي

وَإِلَيْهِ تُرْجَعُونَ ○

23. "Shall I take (other) gods
Besides Him? If (God)
Most Gracious should
Intend some adversity for me,<sup>3969</sup>
Of no use whatever
Will be their intercession
For me, nor can they Deliver me.

٢٣- أَأَتَّخِذُ مِنْ دُونِهِ آلِهَةً
إِنْ يُرِيدَنَّ الرَّحْمَنُ بِضُرٍّ
لَا تُغْنِي عَنِّي شَفَاعَتُهُمْ شَيْئًا
وَلَا يُنْقِذُونِ ○

24. "I would indeed,
If I were to do so,
Be in manifest Error.

٢٤- إِنْ
إِذَا لَفَعِيَ ضَلِيلٌ مُبِينٍ ○

25. "For me, I have faith
In the Lord of you (all):<sup>3970</sup>
Listen, then, to me!"

٢٥- إِنْ أَمَنْتُ
بِرَبِّكُمْ فَاسْمَعُونِ ○

26. It was said: "Enter thou<sup>3971</sup>
The Garden." He said:
"Ah me! Would that
My People knew (what I know)!—

٢٦- فَيَقِيلُ ادْخُلِ الْجَنَّةَ قُلَّ
يَلَيْتُ قَوْمِي يَعْلَمُونَ ○

3968. The argument throughout is that of intense personal conviction for the individual himself, coupled with an appeal to his people to follow that conviction and get the benefit of the spiritual satisfaction which he has himself achieved. He says in effect: 'how is it possible for me to do otherwise than to serve and adore my Maker? I shall return to Him, and so will you, and all this applies to you as much as to me.' Note how effective is the transition from the personal experience to the collective appeal.

3969. The next plea is that for exclusive service to God. 'Suppose it were proper to worship other gods—Mammon, Self, or imaginary deities set up as idols,—yet of what benefit would that be? All power is in God. In His universal Plan, He may think fit to give me some sorrow or punishment: would these subordinate deities be able to help me or intercede for me with Him? Not at all. What use would they be? In fact I should obviously be going astray,—wandering from the true Path.'

3970. Again a transition from the assured personal conviction to the appeal to all to profit by the speaker's experience. 'I have found the fullest satisfaction for my soul in God. He is my God, but He is your God also. My experience can be yours also. Will you not follow my advice, and prove for yourselves that the Lord is indeed good?'

3971. This godly and righteous man entered into the Peace of God, typified by the Garden of Rest and Beauty. Perhaps it is implied that he suffered martyrdom. But even then his thoughts were always with his People. He regretted their obstinacy and want of understanding, and wished even then that they might repent and obtain salvation, but they were obdurate and suffered for their sins as we learn from verses 28-29 below.

27. " For that my Lord <sup>3972</sup>
Has granted me Forgiveness
And has enrolled me
Among those held in honour ! "

٢٤- بِمَا غَفَرْتَنِي رَبِّي
وَجَعَلْتَنِي مِنَ الْمَكْرَمِينَ ○

28. And We sent not down
Against his People, after him,
Any hosts from heaven,
Nor was it needful
For Us so to do.

٢٨- وَمَا أَنْزَلْنَا عَلَى قَوْمِهِ مِنْ بَعْدِهِ
مِنْ جُنْدٍ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ
وَمَا كُنَّا مُنْزِلِينَ ○

29. It was no more than
A single mighty Blast, <sup>3973</sup>
And behold! they were (like ashes) <sup>3974</sup>
Quenched and silent.

٢٩- إِنْ كَانَتْ إِلَّا صَيْحَةً وَاحِدَةً
فَإِذَا هُمْ خِمْدُونَ ○

30. Ah! alas for (My) servants!
There comes not an apostle
To them but they mock him! <sup>3975</sup>

٣٠- يُحْسِرَةٌ عَلَى الْعِبَادِ مَا يَأْتِيهِمْ مِنْ
رَسُولٍ إِلَّا كَانُوا بِهِ يَسْتَهْزِئُونَ ○

31. See they not how many
Generations before them
We destroyed? Not to them <sup>3976</sup>
Will they return :

٣١- أَلَمْ يَرَوْا كَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا قَبْلَهُمْ مِنَ
الْقُرُونِ أَنَّهُمْ إِلَيْهِمْ لَا يَرْجِعُونَ ○

3972. This man was just a simple honest soul, but he heard and obeyed the call of the apostles and obtained his spiritual desire for himself and did his best to obtain salvation for his people. For he loved his people and respected his ancestral traditions as far as they were good, but had no hesitation in accepting the new Light when it came to him. All his past was forgiven him and he was raised to dignity and honour in the Kingdom of Heaven.

3973. God's Justice or Punishment does not necessarily come with pomp and circumstance, nor have the forces of human evil or wickedness the power to require the exertion of mighty spiritual forces to subdue them. A single mighty Blast—either the rumbling of an earthquake, or a great and violent wind—was sufficient in this case Cf. xi. 67 and n. 1561 (which describes the fate of the Thamūd; also, n. 3463 to xxix. 40.

3974. Cf. xxi. 15. They had made a great deal of noise in their time, but they were reduced to silence, like spent ashes.

3975. Cf. vi. 10 and many other passages of similar import. Ignorant men mock at God's apostles, or any one who takes Religion seriously. But they do not reflect that such levity reacts on themselves. Their own lives are ruined and they cease to count. If they study history, they will see that countless generations were destroyed before them because they did not take Truth seriously and undermined the very basis of their individual and collective existence.

My servants is here equivalent to "men" God regrets the folly of men, especially as He cherishes them as His own servants.

3976 Not to them will they return. What do the two pronouns them and they refer to? Commentators and translators have construed them differently, and some of them evade the question. To my mind the best construction seems to be: the generations which we have destroyed before the people addressed ('do they not see?') will not be restored to the people addressed: generations (qurūn) standing for the periods of prosperity and good fortune enjoyed by the ancestors. They have all been wiped out: they will never be restored, but all people will be brought before the Judgment-seat for giving an account of their deeds.

32. But each one of them
All--will be brought
Before Us (for judgment).

۳۲- وَإِنْ كُلُّ لَتَا حِجِيۡهِ لَدَيْنَا مُخَضَّرُونَ ۝

C. 195.—Are there not Signs enough around you
(xxxvi. 33-50.) To bear witness to God, and His saving Grace ?
The earth dies and revives : there are mysteries
Of Life and Sex, of Light and the Stars
And Planets in heaven, that follow
Their orbits by Law and in harmony !
There are the ships and the modes of transport
By which man can conquer the forces
Around him with God-given Gifts !
Learn the Law of Goodness from them
And believe in the Hereafter : it will come
When least expected. Be prepared for God !

SECTION 3.

33.  Sign for them
Is the earth that is dead : <sup>3977</sup>
We do give it life,
And produce grain therefrom,
Of which ye do eat.
34. And We produce therein
Orchards with date-palms <sup>3978</sup>
And vines, and We cause
Springs to gush forth therein :
35. That they may enjoy <sup>3979</sup>
The fruits of this (artistry) :
It was not their hands <sup>3980</sup>
That made this:
Will they not then give thanks ?

۳۳- وَإِيۡةٌ لَّهُمُ الْاَرۡضُ الْبَيۡتَةُ ۝

۳۴- وَجَعَلۡنَا فِيۡهَا جَدَّتٍ مِّنۡ تَخۡمِيۡلٍ

۳۵- لِيۡۤاۡ كَلُوۡۤا مِّنۡ ثَمَرِہٖ
وَمَا عَمِلۡتَہٗ اَیۡدِیۡہُمُ
اَفَلَا یَشۡکُرُوۡنَ ۝

3977. Lest any one should say, 'if they are destroyed, how can they be brought before the Judgment-seat' a symbol is pointed to. The earth is to all intents and purposes dead in the winter, but God revives it in the spring Cf. ii. 164, xxx. 19, and many other passages to that effect.

3978. Date-palms and vines stand as symbols for fruit-trees of all kinds, these being the characteristic fruits of Arabia. Grain was mentioned in the last verse ; fruit is mentioned now. All that is necessary for food and the satisfaction of the choicest palate is produced from what looks like inert soil, fertilised by rain and springs Here is wonderful evidence of the artistry and providence of God.

3979. Literally, eat (akala). Cf. vii. 19, n. 1004 and v. 69, n. 776. The same wide meaning of profit, satisfaction, and enjoyment may be attached to the word "eat" in verse 33 above.

3980. Man may till the soil and sow the seed, but the productive forces of nature were not made by man's hands. They are the handiwork and artistry of God, and are evidence of God's providence for His creatures. See n. 3978 above.

36. Glory to God, Who created
In pairs all things that <sup>3981</sup>
The earth produces, as well as
Their own (human) kind
And (other) things of which
They have no knowledge.
37. ~~And~~ a Sign for them
Is the Night: We withdraw <sup>3982</sup>
Therefrom the Day, and behold
They are plunged in darkness ;
38. And the Sun
Runs his course
For a period determined <sup>3983</sup>
For him : that is
The decree of (Him),
The Exalted in Might,
The All-Knowing.
39. And the Moon,—
We have measured for her <sup>3984</sup>
Mansions (to traverse)
Till she returns
Like the old (and withered)
Lower part of a date-stalk. <sup>3985</sup>

٣٦- سُبْحَانَ الَّذِي خَلَقَ الْأَزْوَاجَ كُلَّهَا

وَمِمَّا لَا يَعْلَمُونَ ○

٣٧- وَإِيَّاهُ لَهْمُ اللَّيْلِ تَسْلَخُ مِنْهُ النَّهَارُ
فَإِذَا هُمْ مُظْلِمُونَ ○

٣٨- وَالشَّمْسُ تَجْرِي
لِمُسْتَقَرٍّ لَهَا
ذَلِكَ تَقْدِيرُ
الْعَزِيزِ الْعَلِيمِ ○

٣٩- وَالْقَمَرَ قَدَرْنَاهُ مَنَازِلَ
حَتَّىٰ عَادَ
كَالْعُرْجُونِ الْقَدِيمِ ○

3981. The mystery of sex runs through all creation,—in man, in animal life, in vegetable life, and possibly in other things of which we have no knowledge. Then there are pairs of opposite forces in nature, e.g., positive and negative electricity, etc. The atom itself consists of a positively charged nucleus or proton, surrounded by negatively charged electrons. The constitution of matter itself is thus referred to pairs of opposite energies.

3982. " Withdrawing the Day from the Night " is a striking phrase, and very apt. The Day or the the Light is the positive thing. The Night or Darkness is merely negative. We cannot withdraw the negative. But if we withdraw the real thing, the positive, which filled the void, nothing is left but the void. The whole of this section deals with Signs or Symbols,—things in the physical world around us, from which we can learn the deepest spiritual truths if we earnestly apply ourselves to them.

3983. Mustaqarr may mean: (1) a limit of time, a period determined, as in vi, 67, or (2) a place of rest or quiescence; or (3) a dwelling place, as in ii. 36. I think the first meaning is best applicable here; but some Commentators take the second meaning. In that case the simile would be that of the sun running a race while he is visible to us, and taking a rest during the night to prepare himself to renew his race the following day. His stay with the antipodes appears to us as his period of rest.

3984. The lunar mansions are the 28 divisions of the Zodiac, which are supposed to mark the daily course of the moon in the heavens from the time of the new moon to the time when the moon fades away in her "inter-lunar swoon", an expressive phrase coined by the poet Shelley.

3985. ' Urjūn : a raceme of dates or of a date-palm; or the base or lower part of the raceme. When it becomes old, it becomes yellow, dry, and withered, and curves up like a sickle. Hence the comparison with the sickle-like appearance of the new moon. The moon runs through all her phases, increasing and decreasing, until she disappears, and then reappears as a little thin curve.

40. It is not permitted
To the Sun to catch up <sup>3986</sup>
The Moon, nor can
The Night outstrip the Day :
Each (just) swims along <sup>3987</sup>
In (its own) orbit
(According to Law).
41. And a Sign for them
Is that We bore <sup>3988</sup>
Their race (through the Flood)
In the loaded Ark ;
42. And We have created
For them similar (vessels) <sup>3989</sup>
On which they ride.
43. If it were Our Will, <sup>3990</sup>
We could drown them :
Then would there be
No helper (to hear
Their cry), nor could
They be delivered,

٣٠- لَا الشَّمْسُ يَنْبَغِي لَهَا أَنْ تُدْرِكَ
الْقَمَرَ وَلَا اللَّيْلُ سَابِقُ النَّهَارِ
وَ كُلُّ فِي فَلَكٍ يَسْبُحُونَ ۝

٣١- وَإِيَّاهُ لَهُمْ أَنْتَا حَمَلْنَا
ذُرِّيَّتَهُمْ فِي الْفُلِكِ الْمَشْحُونِ ۝

٣٢- وَخَلَقْنَا
لَهُمْ مِنْ مِثْلِهِ مَا يَرْكَبُونَ ۝

٣٣- وَإِنْ نَشَاءُ نَغْرِقْهُمْ
فَلَا صَرِيحَ لَهُمْ
وَلَا هُمْ يُنْقَدُونَ ۝

3986. Though the sun and the moon both traverse the belt of the Zodiac, and their motions are different, they never catch up each other. When the sun and the moon are on the same side and on a line with the earth there is a solar eclipse, and when on opposite sides in a line, there is a lunar eclipse, but there is no clash. Their Laws are fixed by God, and form the subject of study in astronomy. Similarly Night and Day follow each other, but being opposites cannot coincide, a fit emblem of the opposition of Good and Evil, Truth and Falsehood : see also n. 3982 above.

3988. Besides the beauty of the Night, with the stars and the planets "swimming" in their rounded courses according to perfect Law, suggesting both symmetry and harmony, there are other Signs touching closely the life of man himself, projected through Time, in the past history of his race and in his own personal experience. The past history of his race takes us to the story of the Flood, which is symbolical of the deliverance of man from the forces of nature. Noah's Ark is the symbol of that deliverance. But the symbol still remains as a memorial : the Ark was a "Sign to all Peoples" : xxix. 15. Man's own personal experience is appealed to in every ship afloat : see next note.

3989. The stately ships sailing through the seas, heavier than air, yet carrying man and his goods safely and smoothly across the waters, are another Sign for man. Ships are not mentioned, but (vessels) like the Ark : they would cover all kinds of sea-craft, but also the modern aircraft, which "swims" through air instead of through water.

3990. Were it not that God gives man the intelligence and ingenuity to construct and manage sea-craft and air-craft, the natural laws of gravity would lead to the destruction of any who attempted to pass through sea or air. It is the gift (mercy) of God that saves him.

44. Except by way of Mercy
From Us, and by way
Of (worldly) convenience
(To serve them) for a time. <sup>3991</sup>

٣٣- إِلَّا رَحْمَةً مِنَّا وَ
مَتَاعًا إِلَىٰ حِينٍ ○

45. When they are told,
“ Fear ye that which is <sup>3992</sup>
Before you and that which
Will be after you, in order
That ye may receive Mercy,”
(They turn back).

46. Not a Sign comes to them
From among the Signs <sup>3993</sup>
Of their Lord, but they
Turn away therefrom.

٣٥- وَمَا نَأْتِيهِمْ مِنْ آيَةٍ مِنْ آيَاتِ

47. And when they are told,
“ Spend ye of (the bounties) <sup>3994</sup>
With which God
Has provided you,” the Unbelievers
Say to those who believe :
“ Shall we then feed those Whom, if God had so willed, <sup>3995</sup>
He would have fed, (Himself) ?—

٣٦- وَإِذَا قِيلَ لَهُمُ أَنْفِقُوا
مِمَّا مَرَّرْنَا بَيْنَ يَدَيْكُمْ
قَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا وَالَّذِينَ آمَنُوا
أَنْطَعِمُ مَنْ لَوْ يَشَاءُ اللَّهُ أَطْعَمَهُ ۗ

3991. Cf. xvi. 80. God has given man all these wonderful things in nature and utilities produced by the skill and intelligence which God has given to man. Had it not been for these gifts, man's life would have been precarious on sea or land or in the air. It is only God's Mercy that saves man from destruction for man's own follies, and that saving or the enjoyment of these utilities and conveniences he should not consider as eternal: they are only given for a time, in this life of probation.

3992. Man should consider and beware of the consequences of his past, and guard against the consequences in his future. The present is only a fleeting moment poised between the past and the future, and gone even while it is being mentioned or thought about. Man should review his whole life and prepare for the Hereafter. If he does so, God is Merciful: He will forgive, and give strength for a better and higher life in the future. But this kind of teaching does not suit those steeped in this ephemeral life. They are bored, and turn away from it, to their own loss.

3993. The Signs of God are many, in His great world,—in nature, in the heart of man, and in the Revelation sent through His apostles. They turn away from all of them, as a man who has ruined his eyesight turns away from the light.

3994. To selfish men, the good may make an appeal, and say: “Look! God has given you wealth, or influence, or knowledge, or talent. Why not spend some of it in charity, i.e., for the good of your fellow-creatures?” But the selfish only think of themselves and laugh such teaching to scorn.

3995. They are too full of themselves to have a corner in their hearts for others. “If,” they say, “God gave them nothing, why should we?” There is arrogance in this as well as blasphemy: arrogance in thinking that they are favoured because of their merits, and blasphemy in laying the blame of other people's misfortunes on God. They further try to turn the tables on the Believers by pretending that the Believers are entirely on a wrong track. They forget that all men are on probation and trial: they hold their gifts on trust: those apparently less favoured, in that they have fewer of this world's goods, may be really more fortunate, because they are learning patience, self-reliance, and the true value of things ephemeral which is apt to be very much exaggerated in men's eyes.

Ye are in nothing
But manifest error."

48. Further, they say, " When
Will this promise (come to pass),<sup>3996</sup>
If what ye say is true ? "
49. They will not (have
To) wait for aught
But a single Blast :
It will seize them while
They are yet disputing
Among themselves !
50. No (chance) will they then
Have, by will, to dispose (Of their affairs), nor
To return to their own people !

C. 196.—When the Day comes, men will be taken
(xxxvi. 51-83.) Aback. The judgment-seat will be established.
Blessed will be those who attain Salvation :
Their Joy, Satisfaction, and Peace will be crowned
With nearness to their Lord !
Alas for the Sinful, who deliberately
Followed Evil: their own nature
And actions will speak against them :
They will face the realities of Punishment !
Both Revelation and Nature are eloquent
In instructing man for his own good
In the Hereafter, which will come
As a certainty. Praise and Glory to God !

SECTION 4.

51. The trumpet shall be<sup>3997</sup>
Sounded, when behold !
From the sepulchres (men)
Will rush forth
To their Lord !

۵۱- وَنُفِخَ فِي الصُّورِ

فَإِذَا هُمْ مِنَ الْأَجْدَاثِ

إِلَىٰ رَبِّهِمْ يَنْسِلُونَ ○

3996. In addition to the arrogance and blasphemy referred to in the last note, they not only refuse Faith, but they taunt the men of Faith as if the men of Faith were dealing in falsehood: " If there is a Hereafter, tell us when it will be ! " The answer is: " It will come sooner than you expect: you will yet be disputing about things of Faith and neglecting your opportunities in Life, when the Hour will sound, and you will have no time even to make your dispositions in this life: you will be cut off from everyone whom you thought to be near and dear to you, or able to help you ! "

3997. Traditionally, the angel who will sound the Trumpet is Isrāfil, but the name does not occur in the Qur-ān. The Trumpet is mentioned in many places: e.g., vi. 73; lxxviii. 18, etc.

52. They will say : " Ah !
Woe unto us ! Who
Hath raised us up
From our beds of repose ? " ...<sup>3998</sup>
(A voice will say :)
" This is what (God)
Most Gracious had promised,
And true was the word
Of the apostles ! "

53. It will be no more
Than a single Blast,<sup>3999</sup>
When lo ! they will all
Be brought up before Us !

54. Then, on that Day,
Not a soul will be
Wronged in the least,<sup>4000</sup>
And ye shall but
Be repaid the meeds
Of your past Deeds.

55. Verily the Companions<sup>4001</sup>
Of the Garden shall
That Day have joy
In all that they do ;

٥٢- قَالُوا يَوْمَئِذٍ
بَعَثْنَا مِنْ مَرْقَدَانَا
هَذَا مَا وَعَدَ الرَّحْمَنُ
وَصَدَقَ الْمُرْسَلُونَ

٥٣- إِنْ كَانَتْ إِلَّا صَيْحَةً وَاحِدَةً
فَإِذَا هُمْ جَمِيعٌ لَدَيْنَا مُحْضَرُونَ

٥٤- فَالْيَوْمَ لَا تُظَلَمُ نَفْسٌ شَيْئًا
وَلَا تُجْزَوْنَ
إِلَّا مَا كُنْتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ

٥٥- إِنَّ أَصْحَابَ الْجَنَّةِ
الْيَوْمَ فِي سُغُلٍ فَاكِهُونَ

3998. The dead will rise as in a stupor, and they will be confused in the new conditions ! They will gradually regain their memory and their personality. They will be reminded that God in His grace and mercy had already announced the Hereafter in their probationary lives, and the word of God's apostles, which then seemed so strange and remote, was true and was now being fulfilled !

3999. Time and Space, as we know them here, will be no more. The whole gathering will be as in the twinkling of an eye. Cf. xxxvi. 49 above.

4000. The Judgment will be on the highest standard of Justice and Grace. Not the least merit will go unrewarded, though the reward will be for the righteous far more than their deserts. No penalty will be exacted but that which the doer himself by his past deeds brought on himself. Cf. xxviii. 84.

4001. We now have the symbolism for the indescribable Bliss of the Hereafter, in the four verses 55-58. Notice the subtle gradation in the description. First, in this verse, we have the nature of the mise en scène and the nature of the joy therein. It will be a Garden, i.e., everything agreeable to see and hear and feel and taste and smell ; our bodily senses will have been transformed, but we can imagine something corresponding to them in our spiritual being : delightfully green lawns and meadows, trees and shrubs ; the murmur of streams and the songs of birds : the delicate texture of flowers and leaves and the shapes of beauty in clouds and mist ; the flavours of fruits ; and the perfumes of flowers and scents. The joy in the Garden will be an active joy, without fatigue : whatever we do in it, every employment in which we engage there, will be a source of joy without alloy.

56. They and their associates <sup>4002</sup>
Will be in groves
Of (cool) shade, reclining
On Thrones (of dignity);
57. (Every) fruit (enjoyment) <sup>4003</sup>
Will be there for them;
They shall have whatever
They call for;
58. "Peace!"—a Word <sup>4004</sup>
(Of salutation) from a Lord
Most Merciful!
59. "And O ye in sin!" <sup>4005</sup>
Get ye apart this Day!
60. "Did I not enjoin <sup>4006</sup>
On you, O ye children

٥٦- هُمْ وَأَزْوَاجُهُمْ فِي ظِلِّ

٥٧- لَهُمْ فِيهَا فَاكِهَةٌ

٥٨- سَلَامٌ

٥٩- وَامْتَاذُوا الْيَوْمَ أَيُّهَا الْمُجْرِمُونَ ○

٦٠- أَلَمْ أَعْهَدْ إِلَيْكُمْ بَنِيَّ

4002. Secondly, the joy or happiness is figured to be, not solitary, but shared;—shared by associates like those we imagine in 'spiritual Love or Marriage; in whose fair faces "some ray divine reflected shines" (Jāmī); whose society is enjoyed in homes of happiness, situated in soothing shade, and furnished with thrones of dignity and peace.

4003. Thirdly, besides any external conditions of Bliss, the Bliss in the Hereafter has an inner quality, expressed by the word fākihātun. The root fakīha means 'to rejoice greatly,' 'to be full of merriment'. The ordinary meaning of 'fruit' attached to fākihāt is derived from the idea that the flavour of choice, ripe fruit, delights the heart of man. Just as akala (to eat) is used for 'enjoyment', (v. 69, n. 776 and xiii. 35, n. 1854), so fākihāt, 'fruit', stands here for that specially choice enjoyment, which goes with a fastidious and well-cultivated taste. In other words, it suggests that highest kind of joy which depends upon the inner faculty rather than any outward circumstance. This is further emphasised by the second clause, "they shall have whatever they call for". Again using the language of this life, the musician's heaven will be full of music; the mathematician's will be full of mathematical symmetry and perfection; the artist's will be full of beauty of form, and so on.

4004. Fourthly, we reach the highest grade of bliss, the mystic salutation "Peace!" from God Most Merciful. Cf. x. 10. That Word sums up the attainment of the final Goal. For it explains the nature of the Most High;—He is not only a Lord and Cherisher, but a Lord Whose supreme glory is Mercy, Peace, and Harmony!

4005. Notice how this finely balanced passage, after reaching the summit of sublimity in describing the state of the Blessed, in the word Salām, gradually takes us down to contemplate the state of the Sinners in a graduated descent.

In the first place, it refers to their negative state, their state of isolation. From this Day of Judgment, they will no longer have the chance of being with the Blessed and perhaps of profiting spiritually by that proximity. The first feature of the Day of Judgment is that it is a Day of Separation—of sorting out. Each soul now finds its own true level, as the period of probation is over.

4006. Secondly, there is a gentle reproach to the wrong-doers, more in sorrow than in anger. They are addressed as "children of Adam", to emphasise two facts, (1) that they have disgraced their ancestry, for Adam after his Fall repented and was forgiven, and the high Destiny of mankind has been the prize open to all his descendants, and (2) that God Most Merciful has throughout the ages continued to warn mankind against the snares laid by Satan, the avowed enemy of man, and that God's Grace was ever on the watch to help all to freedom from those snares,

Of Adam, that ye
Should not worship Satan ;
For that he was to you
An enemy avowed?—

أَدْمَرَ أَنْ لَا تَعْبُدُوا الشَّيْطَانَ
إِنَّهُ لَكُمْ عَدُوٌّ مُبِينٌ ۝

61. " And that ye should <sup>4007</sup>
Worship Me, (for that) this
Was the Straight Way ?
62. " But he did lead astray
A great multitude of you.
Did ye not, then, understand ? <sup>4008</sup>
63. " This is the Hell <sup>1009</sup>
Of which ye were (Repeatedly) warned !
64. " Embrace ye the (Fire) <sup>4010</sup>
This Day, for that ye
(Persistently) rejected (Truth)."
65. What Day shall We set
A seal on their mouths, <sup>4011</sup>
But their hands will speak
To Us, and their feet
Bear witness, to all
That they did.

٦١- وَإِنْ اعْبُدُونِي ۝
هَذَا صِرَاطٌ مُسْتَقِيمٌ ۝

٦٢- وَلَقَدْ أَضَلَّ مِنْكُمْ جِبِلًّا كَثِيرًا
أَلَمْ تَكُونُوا تَعْقِلُونَ ۝

٦٣- هَذِهِ جَهَنَّمُ
الَّتِي كُنْتُمْ تُوعَدُونَ ۝

٦٤- إِصْلَوْهَا الْيَوْمَ
بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَكْفُرُونَ ۝

٦٥- الْيَوْمَ نَخْتِمُ عَلَىٰ أَفْوَاهِهِمْ
وَتُكَلِّمُنَا أَيْدِيهِمْ
وَتَشْهَدُ أَرْجُلُهُمْ بِمَا كَانُوا يَكْسِبُونَ ۝

وَتَشْهَدُ أَرْجُلُهُمْ

4007. Thirdly, besides the negative warning, a positive Way was shown to them—the Straight Way, the Way of those who receive God's Grace and attain to Bliss, the Rope which would save them from shipwreck, the Shield which would save them from assault, the key to the door of proximity to God.

4008. Fourthly, it is pointed out that they were given Understanding ('aql'), so that by their own faculties they could have judged their own best interests, and yet they betrayed or misused those faculties, and deliberately threw away their chances! And not only a few, but so many! They went gregariously to ruin in spite of the individual care which their Lord and Cherisher bestowed on them!

4009. Fifthly, the naked fact is now placed before them,—the Hell,—the state of damnation, which they could so easily have avoided!

4010. As they deliberately and persistently rejected all teaching, guidance, and warnings, they are now told to experience the Fire of Punishment, for it is but the consequence of their own acts.

4011. The ungodly will now be dumbfounded. They will be unable to speak or offer any defence. (The consequences of all acts, which follow according to God's Law, are, in Quranic language, attributed to God). But their silence will not matter. Their own hands and feet will speak against them. "Hands and feet" in this connection are symbolical of all the instruments for action which they were given in this life, including their faculties and opportunities. The same extended meaning is to be understood for "eyes" in the following verse. Cf. also xli. 20-21, where eyes, ears, and skins are all mentioned as bearing witness against such as misused them.

66. If it had been Our Will,<sup>4012</sup>
We could surely have
Blotted out their eyes ;
Then should they have
Run about groping for the Path,
But how could they have seen ?

٦٦- وَلَوْ نَشَاءُ لَطَمَسْنَا عَلَىٰ أَعْيُنِهِمْ
فَأَسْتَبَقُوا الصِّرَاطَ
فَأَنَّىٰ يُبْصِرُونَ ○

67. And if it had been
Our Will, We could
Have transformed them
(To remain) in their places ;<sup>4013</sup>
Then should they have been Unable to move about,
Nor could they have returned
(After error).

٦٧- وَلَوْ نَشَاءُ
لَسَخْنَاهُمْ عَلَىٰ مَكَانَتِهِمْ
فَمَا اسْتَطَاعُوا مُضِيًّا
وَلَا يَرْجِعُونَ ○

SECTION 5.

68. If We grant long life
To any, We cause him
To be reversed in nature :<sup>4014</sup>
Will they not then understand ?

٦٨- وَمَنْ تَعَيَّرَهُ نَكَسْنَاهُ فِي الْخَلْقِ
أَفَلَا يَعْقِلُونَ ○

69. We have not instructed
The (Prophet) in Poetry,<sup>4015</sup>
Nor is it meet for him :
This is no less than

٦٩- وَمَا عَلَّمْنَاهُ الشِّعْرَ
وَمَا يَتَّبِعِي لَهُ إِن هُوَ إِلَّا

4012. "If it had been Our Will": i.e., if such had been the Will and Plan of God. If God had not intended to give man his limited free-will, or power of choice, the case would have been different: there would have been no moral responsibility which could have been enforced. They could have had no sight or intelligence, and they could not have been blamed for not seeing or understanding. But such is not the case.

4013. If God's Plan had been to grant no limited freedom of choice or will to men, He could have created them quite different, or could have transformed them into stationary creatures, either in physical form as in the case of trees, or in moral or spiritual qualities, where there was no possibility either of progress or deterioration. Man would then have been unable to reach the heights of grandeur which are now open to him, or, if he goes wrong, to return through the door of repentance and mercy, and still pursue his path of ascent. But it was God's Plan to give man all these privileges, and man must shoulder all the responsibilities that go with them.

4014. This connects on with the last verse. Everything is possible with God. If you doubt how man can be transformed from his present nature, contemplate the transformations he already undergoes in his present nature at different ages. As a child his powers of mind and body are still undeveloped. As he grows, they grow, and certain moral qualities, such as courage, daring, the will to conquer, unfold themselves. In extreme old age these are again obscured, and a second childhood supervenes. The back of the man who walked proudly straight and erect is now bent. If these transformations take place even in his present nature and constitution, how much easier was it for God to cast him in an immobile mould? But God granted him instead the high possibilities and responsibilities referred to in the last note.

4015. Cf. xxvi. 224 and n. 3237. Here "Poetry" is used as connoting fairy tales, imaginary descriptions, things futile, false, or obscure, such as decadent Poetry is, whereas the Qur-ān is a practical guide, true and clear.

A Message and a Qur-ān

74. Yet they take (for worship)

٤- وَاتَّخَذُوا مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ آلِهَةً

4016. "Alive", both in English and Arabic, means not only "having physical life", but having all the active qualities which we associate with life. In religious language, those who are not responsive to the realities of the spiritual world are no better than those who are dead. The Message of God penetrates the hearts of those who are alive in the spiritual sense.

4017. Cf. xxviii. 63. If people reject Truth and Faith after they have been admonished and warned, the charge against them, of wilful rebellion, is proved. They cannot then plead either ignorance or inadvertence.

4018. If they are blind to other Signs of God, they can at least see the simple homely things of life in which they receive so many benefits from God's mercy. How is it that wild animals can be domesticated, and in domestication can be so useful to man? Man can use them for riding or for draught; he can use their flesh for food and drink their milk; he can use their hair or wool. Cf. xvi. 66, 80; and xxiii. 21-22.

4019. Such as skins for leather, furs for warmth, sheeo's wool or camel's hair for blankets or textiles, musk for perfume, and so on.

4020. The whole argument turns on this. 'Our teaching is for your own benefit. We confer all these blessings on you, and yet ye turn away from the Giver of all, and run after your own vain imaginations!

78. And he makes comparisons<sup>4024</sup>
For Us, and forgets his own
(Origin and) Creation :
He says, " Who can give
Life to (dry) bones
And decomposed ones (at that) ? "

لَعَلَّهُمْ يُنصَرُونَ ۝

٤٥- لَا يَسْتَطِيعُونَ نَصْرَهُمْ

٤٦- فَلَا يَحْزُنكَ قَوْلُهُمْ إِنَّا نَعْلَمُ
مَا يُسْتَرُونَ وَمَا يُعْلَنُونَ ۝

٤٧- أَوَلَمْ يَرِ الْإِنْسَانُ أَنَّا
خَلَقْنَاهُ مِنْ نُطْفَةٍ
فَإِذَا هُوَ خَصِيمٌ مُّبِينٌ ۝

٤٨- وَضَرَبَ لَنَا مَثَلًا وَنَسِيَ خَلْقَهُ
قَالَ مَنْ يُحْيِي الْعِظَامَ
وَهِيَ رَمِيمٌ ۝

4021. There is some difference of opinion among Commentators as to the exact meaning to be attached to this clause. As I understand it, the meaning seems to be this. Man is apt to forget or turn away from the true God, the source of all the good which he enjoys, and to go after imaginary powers in the shape of gods, heroes, men, or abstract things like Science or Nature or Philosophy, or superstitious things like Magic, or Good-Fortune or Ill-Fortune, or embodiments of his own selfish desires. He thinks that they might help him in this Life or in the Hereafter (if he believes in a Hereafter). But they cannot help him : on the contrary all things that are false will be brought up and condemned before God's Judgment-seat, and the worshippers of the Falsehoods will also be treated as a troop favouring the Falsehoods and therefore worthy of condemnation. The Falsehoods, therefore, instead of helping them, will contribute to their condemnation.

4022. If men are so foolish as to reject God, let not the men of God grieve over it. They should do their duty, and leave the rest to God. God knows all the open and secret motives that sway the wicked, and His Plan must ultimately prevail, however much appearances may be against it at any given time.

4023. Man's disobedience and folly are all the more surprising, seeing that—apart from God's greatness and mercy—man is himself such a puny creature, created out of something that is less than a drop in the vast ocean of Existence. Yet man has the hardihood to stand out and dispute with his Maker, and institute idle comparisons as in the next verse !

4024. That is, man thinks that God is like His creatures, who at best have very limited powers, or man draws idle parallels like that mentioned at the end of this verse. ' Who can give life to dry bones, and decomposed ones at that ? ' Man certainly cannot, and no power in nature can do that. But why compare the powers and capacities of God's creatures with the powers and capacities of the Creator ? The first creation—out of nothing—is far more difficult for us to imagine than a second or subsequent process for which there is already a basis. And God has power over all things.

79. Say, " He will give them
Life Who created them
For the first time ! <sup>4025</sup>
For He is well-versed
In every kind of creation !—

٤٩- قُلْ يُحْيِيهَا الَّذِي أَنشَأَهَا أَوَّلَ مَرَّةٍ
وَهُوَ بِكُلِّ خَلْقٍ عَلِيمٌ

80. " The same Who produces
For you fire out of <sup>4026</sup>
The green tree, when behold !
Ye kindle therewith
(Your own fires) !

٨٠- الَّذِي جَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِنَ الشَّجَرِ الْأَخْضَرِ
نَارًا
فَإِذَا أَنْتُمْ مِنْهُ تُوقِدُونَ

81. " Is not He Who created
The heavens and the earth
Able to create the like <sup>4027</sup>
Thereof ? "—Yea, indeed !
For he is the Creator Supreme,
Of skill and knowledge (infinite) !

٨١- أَوَلَيْسَ الَّذِي خَلَقَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ
بِقَدِيرٍ عَلَىٰ أَن يَخْلُقَ مِثْلَهُمْ
بَلَىٰ وَهُوَ الْخَلَّاقُ الْعَلِيمُ

82. Verily, when He intends <sup>4028</sup>
A thing, His Command is,
" Be ", and it is !

٨٢- إِنَّمَا أَمْرُهُ إِذَا أَرَادَ
شَيْئًا أَن يَقُولَ لَهُ كُنْ فَيَكُونُ

83. So glory to Him
In Whose hands is
The dominion of all things :
And to Him will ye <sup>4029</sup>
Be all brought back.

٨٣- فَسُبْحَانَ الَّذِي
بِيَدِهِ مَلَكُوتُ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ
وَرَأَيْتَهُ يُرْجَعُونَ

4025. God's creative artistry is evident in every phase of nature, and it works every minute or second. The more man understands himself and the things within his reach, the more he realises this. How foolish, then, for any one to set imaginary limits to God's powers? There are more ways of creation than are dreamt of in man's imagination!

4026. Even older and more primitive than the method of striking fire against steel and flint is the method of using twigs of trees for the purpose. In the E. B., 14th edition, ix. 262, will be found a picture of British Guiana boys making a fire by rotating a stick in a round hole in a piece of wood lying on the ground. The Arab method was to use a wooden instrument called the Zinād. It consisted of two pieces to be rubbed together. The upper one was called the Afār or Zand, and the lower the Markh. The markh is a twig from a kind of spreading tree, the Cynanchum viminale, of which the branches are bare, without leaves or thorns. When they are tangled together, and a wind blows, they get ignited and strike fire (Lane's Arabic Lexicon). In modern Arabic Zand is by analogy applied to the flint piece used for striking fire with steel.

4027. Cf. lxxix. 27. Which is the more difficult to create,—man, or the heavens and the earth, with all creatures? God created the heavens and the earth, with all creatures, and He can create worlds and worlds like these in infinity. To him it is a small matter to raise you up for the Hereafter.

4028. And His creation is not dependent on time, or instruments or means, or any conditions whatsoever. Existence waits on His Will, or Plan, or Intention. The moment He wills a thing, it becomes His Word or Command, and the thing forthwith comes into existence. Cf. ii. 117; xvi. 40, n. 2066; etc.

4029. All things were created by God; are maintained by Him; and will go back to Him. But the point of special interest to man is that man will also be brought back to God and is answerable to Him, and to Him alone. This Message is the core of Revelation; it explains the meaning of the Hereafter; and it fitly closes a Sūra specially connected with the name (Yā-Sīn) of the Holy Prophet.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXVII (Sāffāt)

As explained in the Introduction to S. xxxiv, this is the fourth of a series of Sūras in which the mysteries of the spiritual world are manifested in different ways, tending to the defeat and final extirpation of Evil. The defeat of Evil is throughout connected with Revelation, and here the ranged fight is illustrated by a reference to the angels in heaven and to the earlier Prophets in our earthly history, from Noah to Jonah. In chronology this Sūra belongs to the early middle Meccan period.

Summary.—Through all the mysteries of the heavens and the earth, there is a sorting out of the evil against the good : their final destinations contrasted (xxxvii. 1-74, and C. 197).

Peace and victory came to Noah, Abraham, Moses and Aaron, Ilyās and Lūṭ, in their conflict with Evil (xxxvii. 75-138, and C. 198).

So was it with Jonah when he glorified God. But men will ascribe to God what is unworthy of Him : God's apostles strive for His glory, and shall be victorious (xxxvii. 139-182, and C. 199).

C. 197.—God is One, the Source and Centre
(xxxvii. 1-74.) Of all affairs, and we must work
In discipline, harmony, and unity
To put down Evil. The Hereafter
Is sure, when personal responsibility
Will be enforced. For the true
And sincere servants of God,
There will be the highest Bliss,
Unmixed and everlasting :
For those who defy God's Law
There will be the deepest enduring
Misery. Which will men choose ?

Sūra XXXVII.

Saffat, or Those Ranged in Ranks.*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. By<sup>4030</sup> those who range
Themselves in ranks,<sup>4031</sup>
2. And so are strong
In repelling (evil),<sup>4032</sup>
3. And thus proclaim
The Message (of God)!
4. Verily, verily, your God
Is One!—<sup>4033</sup>
5. Lord of the heavens
And of the earth,

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

۱- وَالصَّفَاتِ صَفًّا ۝

۲- فَالزَّجْرَاتِ زَجْرًا ۝

۳- فَالتَّلِيَّتِ ذِكْرًا ۝

۴- إِنَّ إِلَهَكُمْ لَوَاحِدٌ ۝

۵- رَبُّ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ

4030. At a later stage, we shall study the general meaning of the adjurations in the Qur-ān indicated by the particle wa. See App. xiv., p. 1786. Here we may note that the last Sūra (Yā-Sīn) practically began with the adjuration "by the Qur-ān, full of wisdom", emphasising the fact that Revelation was the evidence by which we could learn the highest wisdom of the spiritual world. Here our attention is called in three verses or clauses, to three definite attitudes which illustrate the triumph of Good and the frustration of Evil. See the notes following.

4031. Two questions arise: (1) are the doers of the three things noted in verses 1-3 the same persons, whose actions or qualities are differently described, or are they three distinct sets of persons? (2) in either case, who are they? As to (1) the most authoritative view is that the three clauses describe the same set of persons in different aspects. As to (2) some take them to refer to angels, and others understand by them the good men, the men of God, who strive and range themselves in God's service. The words are perfectly general, and I interpret them to refer to both classes. The feminine form is grammatically used in Arabic idiom for the indefinite plural. In xxxvii. 165 below, the word sāffūn is used in the definite plural, and seems to be spoken by these beings, angels or men of God or both, according to how we interpret this verse.

4032. The three acts in verses 1-3 are consecutive, as shown by the particle fa. I understand them to mean that angels and good men (1) are ever ready to range themselves in ranks in the service of God and work in perfect discipline and accord at all times; (2) that they check and frustrate evil wherever they find it and they are strengthened in doing so by their discipline and their ranging themselves in ranks; and (3) that this service furthers the Kingdom of God and proclaims His Message and His glory to all creation.

4033. That divine Message is summed up in the gospel of Divine Unity, on which the greatest emphasis is laid: "verily, verily your God is One". It is a fact intimately connected with our own life and destiny. 'Your Lord is one Who cares for you and cherishes you; you are dear to Him. And He is One: it is only He that you have to look to, the source of all goodness, love, and power. You are not the sport of many contending forces or blind chances, There is complete harmony and unity in heaven and you have to put yourselves into unison with it—by discipline in ranks, by unity of plan and purpose in repelling evil, and by concerted action in promoting the Kingdom of God. Here is the mystery of the manifold variety of creation converging into the absolute Unity of the Creator.

And all between them,
And Lord of every point
At the rising of the sun! <sup>4034</sup>

6. We have indeed decked
The lower heaven <sup>4035</sup> with beauty
(In) the stars,—<sup>4036</sup>

7. (For beauty) and for guard <sup>4037</sup>
Against all obstinate
Rebellious evil spirits,

8. (So) they should not strain
Their ears in the direction
Of the Exalted Assembly <sup>4038</sup>

وَأَبَيْنَهُمَا وَرَبُّ الشَّارِقِ ۝

۶- إِنَّا زَيَّنَّا السَّمَاءَ الدُّنْيَا
بِزِينَةِ الْكَوَكِبِ ۝

۷- وَحِفْظًا مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْطَانٍ مَارِدٍ ۝

۸- لَا يَسْتَعُونُ إِلَى السَّلَا الْأَعْلَى

4034. That Unity comprehends everything that exists—the heavens and the earth, and all between them'. For He is their Lord. He is the Lord of the Mashāriq,—of every point at the rising of the sun. As the Commentators tell us, there are in the solar year only two equinoctial days, when the sun rises due east: on every other day the sun rises at a shifting point either north or south of due east. In vii. 137 we have mashāriq al arḍi wa magāribahā, where the plural of the words for East and West is negligible, as the conjunction of the two embraces all points. The same may be said of lxx. 40, where God is called "Lord of all points in the East and the West". If we are speaking of longitudes, they may embrace all latitudes. In lv. 17 God is called "Lord of the two Easts and the two Wests", referring to the extreme points in either case. A cursory reader may ask, why is only the East referred to here? The reply is that it is not so much the East as the rising of the sun, on which stress is laid. The Arabic mashriq or mashāriq is close enough to the root-word sharaqa, to suggest, not so much the East as the rising of the sun, especially when the plural form is used. The glorious sun rises from different points, as seen by us, but it illuminates the whole heaven and earth. It is an emblem of Unity. We can see things from different points of view, but the centre of all things is God, and He is One.

4035. That is lower than the highest heaven, the Empyrean, the sphere of fire (kurrat un nār), the seat, we may suppose, of the Exalted Assembly (of angels) mentioned in verse 8 below. In the poetic imagery of the East as of the West, (e.g., see Milton, Paradise Lost, III. 56, 481-3) there are the seven heavens of the planets of the solar system; above them is the sphere of the fixed stars; above them is the crystalline sphere balancing other motions; higher still is the premium mobile ('that first moved'), the source of heavenly motions; and above all, the Empyrean. The stars and planets thus come in the lower heavens. The same imagery will be found in Dante.

4037. Verses 7-11 seem to refer to shooting stars. Cf. xv. 17-18, and notes 1951-53. The heavens typify not only beauty but power. The Good in God's world is guarded and protected against every assault of Evil. The Evil is not part of the heavenly system: it is a thing in outlawry, merely a self-willed rebellion,—"cast away on every side, repulsed, under a perpetual penalty" (verses 8-9).

4038. We can form a mental picture of the Court of the Most High, in the highest heaven, conforming to the highest idea we can form of goodness, beauty, purity, and grandeur. The Exalted Assembly of angels is given some knowledge of the Plan and Will of God. Evil is altogether foreign to such an atmosphere, but is actuated by feelings of jealousy and curiosity. It tries to approach by stealth and overhear something from the august Assembly. It is repulsed and pursued by a flaming fire, of which we can form some idea in our physical world by the piercing trail of a shooting star.

But be cast away
From every side,

9. Repulsed, for they are
Under a perpetual penalty,

10. Except such as snatch away
Something by stealth, and they
Are pursued by a flaming <sup>4039</sup>
Fire, of piercing brightness.

11. Just ask their <sup>4040</sup> opinion :
Are they the more difficult
To create, or the (other) beings
We have created ?
Them have We created
Out of a sticky clay! <sup>4041</sup>

12. Truly dost thou marvel, <sup>4042</sup>
While they ridicule,

13. And, when they are Admonished, pay no heed,—

14. And, when they see
A Sign, turn it
To mockery,

15. And say, " This is nothing
But evident sorcery !

16. " What ! when we die,
And become dust and bones,

وَيُقَدِّفُونَ مِنْ كُلِّ جَانِبٍ ۝

٩- دُحُورًا وَ لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ وَاصِبٌ ۝

١٠- إِلَّا مَنْ خَطِفَ الْخَطْفَةَ
فَاتَّبَعَهُ شَهَابٌ ثَائِبٌ ۝

١١- فَاسْتَفْتِهِمْ أَهُمْ أَشَدُّ
خَلْقًا أَمْ مَنْ خَلَقْنَا
إِنَّا خَلَقْنَاهُمْ مِنْ طِينٍ لَازِبٍ ۝

١٢- بَلْ عَجِبْتَ وَيَسْخَرُونَ ۝

١٣- وَإِذَا ذُكِرُوا لِآيَاتِنَا كُرُونُ ۝

١٤- وَإِذَا رَأَوْا آيَةً يَسْتَسْخَرُونَ ۝

١٥- وَقَالُوا إِن هَذَا إِلَّا سِحْرٌ مُّبِينٌ ۝

١٦- عِذَا مِتْنَا وَكُنَّا تُرَابًا وَعِظَامًا

4039. See last note and Cf. xv. 18 and notes 1953-54.

4040. " Their " : " they " are the doubters, the evil ones, the deniers of God's grace and mercy, who laugh at Revelation and disbelieve in a Hereafter. Are they more important or more difficult to create than the wonderful variety of beings in God's spacious Creation ? Do they forget their own lowly state, as having been created from muddy clay ?

4041. Cf. vi. 2 ; vii. 12 ; xxxii. 7 ; etc.

4042. It is indeed strange that unregenerate man should forget, on the one hand, his lowly origin, and on the other hand, his high Destiny, as conferred upon him by the grace and mercy of God. The indictment of him here comprises four counts : (1) they ridicule the teaching of Truth ; (2) instead of profiting by admonition, they pay no heed ; (3) when God's Signs are brought home to them, they ridicule them as much as they ridiculed the teaching of Truth ; and (4) when they have to acknowledge incontestable facts, they give them false names like " sorcery ", which imply fraud or something which has no relation to their life, although the facts touch the inner springs of their life intimately.

- Shall we (then) be
Raised up (again) ?
17. "And also our fathers <sup>4043</sup>
Of old ?"
18. Say thou : "Yea, and ye shall
Then be humiliated
(On account of your evil)," <sup>4044</sup>
19. Then it will be a single (Compelling) cry ; <sup>4045</sup>
And behold, they will Begin to see ! <sup>4046</sup>
20. They will say, " Ah !
Woe to us ! this is
The Day of Judgment ! "
21. (A voice will say,
" This is the Day <sup>4047</sup>
Of Sorting Out, whose Truth ye (once) denied ! "

SECTION 2.

22. " Bring ye up ",
It shall be said,

ءِ اِنَّا لَبَعُوْتُوْنَ ۝

۱۷- اَوْ اَبَاؤُنَا الْاَوَّلُوْنَ ۝

۱۸- قُلْ نَعَمْ وَاَنْتُمْ دَاخِرُوْنَ ۝

۱۹- فَاِنَّمَا هِيَ زَجْرَةٌ وَّاحِدَةٌ
فَاِذَا هُمْ يَنْظُرُوْنَ ۝

۲۰- وَقَالُوا يَوَيْكَنَا
هَذَا يَوْمُ الدِّينِ ۝

۲۱- هَذَا يَوْمُ
الفَصْلِ الَّذِي كُنْتُمْ بِهِ تَكْتُمُوْنَ ۝

۲۲- اَحْشَرُوا الَّذِيْنَ

4043. Although the Hereafter, and the spiritual life of which it is a corollary, are the most solid facts in our intelligent existence, materialists deny them. They cannot believe that they could have any existence beyond the grave—still less their ancestors who died ages and ages ago: how could they ever come to life again ?

4044. They are assured that the future life is a solid fact, but that it will be in very different conditions from those they know now. All their present arrogance will have been humbled in the dust. There will be another plane, in which souls will have experiences quite different from those in their probationary life here. In that life the virtues they lacked will count, and the arrogance they hugged will be brought low.

4045. Cf. xxxvi. 29, 49, and 53.

4046. Their spiritual blindness will then leave them. But they will be surprised at the suddenness of their disillusion.

4047. The Day of Judgment is the day of sorting out. Cf. xxxvi. 59. Good and evil will finally be separated, unlike the apparently inexplicable conditions in the present probationary life, when they seem to be mixed together.

“ The wrong-doers
And their wives, <sup>4048</sup>
And the things they worshipped—

23. “ Besides God,
And lead them to the Way
To the (Fierce) Fire!

24. “ But stop them, <sup>4049</sup>
For they must be asked :

25. “ ‘ What is the matter
With you that ye
Help not each other ? ’ ” <sup>4050</sup>

26. Qay, but that day they Shall submit (to Judgment); <sup>4051</sup>

27. And they will turn to
One another, and question
One another.

28. They will say : “ It was ye
Who used to come to us
From the right hand
(Of power and authority) ! ” <sup>4052</sup>

ظَلَمُوا
وَآزَواجَهُمْ وَمَا كَانُوا يَعْبُدُونَ ۝

٢٣- مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
فَأَهْدُوهُمْ إِلَى صِرَاطِ الْجَحِيمِ ۝

٢٤- وَقِفُوهُمْ إِنَّهُمْ مَسْئُولُونَ ۝

٢٥- مَا لَكُمْ لَا تَنصُرُونَ ۝

٢٦- بَلْ هُمْ الْيَوْمَ مُسْتَسْلِمُونَ ۝

٢٧- وَأَقْبَلَ بَعْضُهُمْ عَلَى بَعْضٍ
يَتَسَاءَلُونَ ۝

٢٨- قَالُوا إِنَّكُمْ
كُنْتُمْ تَأْتُونَنَا عَنِ الْيَمِينِ ۝

4048. That is, if their wives were also wrong-doers. They are separately mentioned, because the Arabic phrase for “ wrong-doers ” is of the masculine gender. All the associates in wrong-doing will be marshalled together. There will be personal responsibility : neither husband nor wife can lay the blame on the other.

4049. The scene here is after judgment. As, in an earthly tribunal, the prisoner or his advocate is asked why sentence should not be pronounced upon him, so here those who are proved to have been guilty of wrong are allowed to consider if anything or any one can help them. Then comes the exposure of the misleaders.

4050. Obviously no one can stand and intercede, for it is a question of personal responsibility for each soul. No one can help another.

4051. All the previous arrogance of this life will be gone, but they will face each other, and those who were given a false lead, as in the story of Pharaoh (Cf. xx. 79), will question their misleaders as in the following verses.

4052. This is the mutual recrimination of the sinners—those who sinned, against those whose instigation or evil example led them into sin. The misleaders in the life here below often used their power and influence to spread evil. The “ right hand ” is the hand of power and authority. Instead of using it for righteous purposes, they used it for evil,—selfishly for their own advantage, and mischievously for the degradation of others.

29. They will reply : " Nay, ye
Yourselves had no Faith! <sup>4053</sup>

٢٩- قَالُوا بَلْ لَمْ تَكُونُوا مُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

30. " Nor had we any authority
Over you. Nay, it was
Ye who were a people
In obstinate rebellion !

٣٠- وَمَا كَانَ لَنَا عَلَيْكُمْ مِنْ سُلْطٰنٍ
بَلْ كُنْتُمْ قَوْمًا طٰغِيْنَ ۝

31. " So now has been proved true, <sup>4054</sup>
Against us, the Word
Of our Lord that we Shall indeed (have to) taste
(The punishment of our sins).

٣١- فَحَقَّ عَلَيْنَا قَوْلُ رَبِّنَا ۙ
اِنَّا لَذٰلِكَ اٰتٰفُونَ ۝

32. " We led you astray : for truly <sup>4055</sup>
We were ourselves astray."

٣٢- فَاغْوٰيْنَاكُمْ اِنَّا كُنَّا غٰوِيْنَ ۝

33. Verily, that Day, they will
(All) share in the Penalty.

٣٣- فَاِنَّهُمْ يَوْمَئِذٍ فِي الْعَذَابِ مُشْتَرِكُونَ ۝

34. Verily that is how We Shall deal with Sinners.

٣٤- اِنَّا كَذٰلِكَ نَفْعَلُ بِالْمُجْرِمِيْنَ ۝

35. For they, when they were Told that there is
No god except God, would
Puff themselves up with Pride, <sup>4056</sup>

٣٥- اِنَّهُمْ كَانُوْا اِذَا قِيْلَ لَهُمْ
لَا اِلٰهَ اِلَّا اللّٰهُ يَسْتَكْبِرُوْنَ ۝

4053. But the fact that others mislead, or that their evil example is before us, does not justify us in falling from right conduct. Faith should save us from the fall. But if we have ourselves no Faith—in righteousness, or a future life, or the reality of God's Law, how can we blame others? The misleaders can well say, "You will be judged according to your misdeeds!" The responsibility is personal, and cannot be shifted on to others. The others may get a double punishment,—for their own evil, and for misleading their weaker brethren. But the weaker brethren cannot go free from responsibility for their own deeds; for evil means a personal rebellion against God, if we believe in a personal God. Evil has no authority over us, except in so far as we deliberately choose it.

4054. God's decree of justice requires that every soul should taste the consequences of its own sins, and that decree must be fulfilled. No excuses can serve. It is only God's mercy that can save.

4055. Further, the misleaders can well urge against those who reproach them for misleading them: "How could you expect anything better from us? You were already warned by God's Message that we were astray."

4056. Selfish arrogance was the seed of sin and rebellion: ii. 34 (of Satan): xxviii. 39 (of Pharaoh); etc. It is that kind of arrogance which prevents man from mending his life and conduct. When he speaks of ancestral ways, or public opinion, or national honour, he is usually thinking of himself or of a small clique which thrives on injustice. The recognition of the true God, the one God, as the only standard of life and conduct, the only Reality, cuts out Self, and is therefore disagreeable to Sin. If false gods are imagined, who themselves would have weaknesses that fit in with sin, they give countenance to evils, and it becomes difficult to give them up, unless God's grace comes to our assistance.

36. And say : " What ! Shall we Give up our gods
For the sake of
A Poet possessed ? " <sup>4057</sup>
37. Nay ! he has come
With the (very) Truth,
And he confirms (the Message
Of) the apostles (before him). <sup>4058</sup>
38. Ye shall indeed taste
Of the Grievous Penalty ;—
39. But it will be no more
Than the retribution <sup>4059</sup>
Of (the Evil) that ye
Have wrought ;—
40. But the sincere (and devoted)
Servants of God,—
41. For them is a Sustenance <sup>4060</sup>
Determined, <sup>4061</sup>
42. Fruits (Delights) ; <sup>4062</sup> and they (Shall enjoy) honour and dignity,
43. In Gardens of Felicity,

٣٦- وَيَقُولُونَ إِنَّمَا لَتَّارِكُوا إِلَهَتِنَا
لشاعر مجنون ٥

٣٧- بَلْ جَاءَ بِالْحَقِّ
وَصَدَقَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ٥

٣٨- إِنَّكُمْ لَنَأْتِئُوا الْعَذَابَ الْأَلِيمَ ٥

٣٩- وَمَا تَنْجُزُونَ
إِلَّا مَا كُنْتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ ٥

٤٠- إِلَّا عِبَادَ اللَّهِ الْمُخْلَصِينَ ٥

٤١- أُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ رِزْقٌ مَعْلُومٌ ٥

٤٢- فَوَاكِهَ وَهُمْ مُكْرَمُونَ ٥

٤٣- فِي جَنَّاتِ النَّعِيمِ ٥

4057. Possessed of an evil spirit, or mad. Such was the charge which the Unbelievers sometimes levelled at the holy Prophet in the early stages of his preaching.

4058. The message of Islam, so far from being "mad" or in any way peculiar, is eminently conformable to reason and the true facts of nature as created by God. It is the Truth in the purest sense of the term, and confirms the Message of all true Messengers that ever lived.

4059. Justice demands that those who sow evil should reap the fruit, but the punishment is due to their own conduct and not to anything external to themselves.

4060. "Sustenance": metaphorical sense, correlated with the Fruits mentioned below: see next verse.

4061. "Determined": Ma'lūm: the reward of the Blessed will not be a chance or a fleeting thing. It will follow a firm Decree of God, on principles that can be known and understood.

4062. "Fruits": Cf. xxxvi. 57, and n. 4003. The spiritual Delights are figured forth from parallel experiences in our present life, and follow an ascending order: Food and Fruits; Gardens of Bliss, (with all their charm, design, greenery, birds' songs, fountains, etc.); the Home of Happiness and Dignity, with congenial company seated on Thrones; Delicious Drinks from crystal Springs, for social pleasure; and the society of Companions of the opposite sex, with beauty and charm but none of the grossness too often incidental to such companionship in this life.

44. Facing each other
On Thrones (of dignity) :
45. Round will be passed
To them a Cup
From a clear-flowing fountain,
46. Crystal-white, of a taste
Delicious to those
Who drink (thereof),
47. Free from headiness ; <sup>4063</sup>
Nor will they suffer
Intoxication therefrom.
48. And besides them will be
Chaste women, restraining
Their glances, with big eyes <sup>40:34</sup>
(Of wonder and beauty).
49. As if they were <sup>4065</sup>
(Delicate) eggs closely guarded.
50. When they will turn to
One another and question
One another. <sup>4066</sup>
51. One of them will start
The talk and say :
" I had an intimate
Companion (on the earth), <sup>4067</sup>

4063. The passing round of the social cup, as in the case of other pleasures, is without any of the drawbacks and evil accompaniments of the pleasures of this world, which are taken as types. In drink there is no intoxication : in fruit there is no satiety. Cf. Dante : "the bread of Angels upon which One liveth here and grows not sated by it." (Paradiso, Canto II., Longfellow's translation.)

4064. In the emblem used here, again, the pure type of chaste womanhood is figured. They are chaste, not bold with their glances : but their eyes are big with wonder and beauty, prefiguring grace, innocence, and a refined capacity of appreciation and admiration.

4066. Cf. above, xxxvii. 27, where the same phrase is used in the reverse conditions. In each case there is a going back to the earlier memories or experiences of this life.

4067. This companion was a sceptic, who laughed at Religion and a Hereafter. How the tables are now turned ! The devout man backed up his Faith with a good life and is now in Bliss : the other was a cynic and made a mess of his life, and is now burning in the Fire of Regrets !

4068 He is allowed a peep into the state which he so narrowly escaped by the grace of God.

4069. And he gratefully acknowledges his short-comings: "I should have been a sinner just like this, but for the grace of God!" He sees that if he had erred it would have been no excuse to plead the other man's example. He had Faith and was saved, to walk in the path of righteousness.

4070. After he realises the great danger from which he narrowly escaped, his joy is so great that he can hardly believe it! Is the danger altogether past now? Are the portals of death closed for ever? Is he safe now from the temptations which will bring him to ruin and punishment?

4071. The answer is: Yes. "Beyond the flight of Time, Beyond the realm of Death, There surely is some blessed clime, Where Life is not a breath!" In the words of Longfellow this was an aspiration on this earth. In the Hereafter it is a realisation!

Some interpret verses 60-62 as a continuation of the speech of the man in heaven. The meaning would in that case be the same.

٦٨- ثُمَّ إِنَّ مَرْجِعَهُمْ لَإِلَى الْجَحِيمِ ○

4072. Cf. xvii. 60, n. 2250. This bitter tree of Hell is a symbol of the contrast with the beautiful Garden of heaven with its delicious fruits.

4074. The parable of fruits and drinks in the contrasted fortunes of the Good and the Evil is further elaborated in xlvii. 15, where the boiling water given to the evil ones cuts up their entrails.

4075. When they eat of the zaqqūm in the lowest depths of hell, they are apparently brought up to drink of the mixture as a further punishment, after which they go back to repeat the round.

69. Truly they found their fathers
On the wrong Path ;

٦٩- اَلِهْمُ الْفَوَّاءُ اَبَاءَهُمْ ضَالِّينَ ۝

70. So they (too) were rushed <sup>4076</sup>
Down on their footsteps !

٦٠- فَهَمُّ عَلَى اَثَرِهِمْ يُهْرَعُونَ ۝

71. And truly before them,
Many of the ancients
Went astray ;—

٦١- وَلَقَدْ ضَلَّ قَبْلَهُمْ

72. But We sent aforetime, <sup>4077</sup>
Among them, (apostles)
To admonish them ;—

٦٢- وَلَقَدْ اَرْسَلْنَا فِيهِمْ مُنْذِرِيْنَ ۝

73. Then see what was
The End of those who <sup>4078</sup>
Were admonished
(but heeded not);—

٦٣- فَاَنْظُرْ كَيْفَ
كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الْمُنْذَرِيْنَ ۝

74. Except the sincere (and devoted) <sup>4079</sup>
Servants of God.

٦٤- اِلَّا عِبَادَ اللّٰهِ الْمُخْلِصِيْنَ ۝

C. 198.—The Prophets of God formed a series

(xxxvii. 75-138.) That worked in God's service to instruct
Their fellow-men. In case of distress
God helped and delivered them. Men did flout
And persecute them, but they carried out
Their mission with constancy ; and God's Purpose
Always won, to the destruction of Evil.
So was it in the story of Noah and the Flood,
Of Abraham the True, of Ismā'il
Ready for self-sacrifice, of Isaac

4076. A grim reproach. 'You found your fathers doing wrong ; and you must rush headlong in their footsteps to perdition !'

4077. It is human to err. The error is forgiven if there is repentance and amendment. The point is that God in His mercy at all times in history sent apostles and teachers to give His Message, and men deliberately rejected that Message.

4078. It is on the reception or rejection of God's teachings and guidance that judgment will come. In this world itself, see what is the teaching of history. Unrighteousness and wrong-doing never prosper in the long run.

4079. But there is always a band of sincere and devoted men who serve God, and the highest spiritual life is open to them.

Note that this verse occurs at xxxvii. 40 above, where the argument of the difference between the fates of the righteous and the unrighteous was begun. Here it is rounded off with the same phrase, and now we proceed to take illustrations from the early Prophets.

The righteous, of Moses and Aaron, of Elias
And Lot : all men of Faith, who receive
The blessings of posterity and Peace
And Salutation from God Most Gracious.

SECTION 3.

75. (In the days of old),
Noah cried to Us,<sup>4080</sup>
And We are the Best
To hear prayer.
76. And We delivered him
And his people from
The Great Calamity,<sup>4081</sup>
77. And made his progeny
To endure (on this earth);<sup>4082</sup>
78. And We left (this blessing)
For him among generations<sup>4083</sup>
To come in later times :
79. " Peace and salutation to Noah
Among the nations ! " <sup>4084</sup>
80. Thus indeed do We reward
Those who do right.
81. For he was one
Of Our believing Servants.

٨٠- اِنَّا كَذٰلِكَ نَجْزِي الْمُحْسِنِيْنَ ۝

٨١- اِنَّهُ مِنْ عِبَادِنَا الْمُؤْمِنِيْنَ ۝

4080. Cf. xxi. 76-77. The story of Noah occurs in many places : here the point is that when men gird themselves against evil, God protects them, and Evil cannot triumph against God's Plan.

4081. The Deluge, the Flood of Noah. The main story will be found in xi. 25-48.

4082. Noah's posterity survived the Flood in the Ark, while the rest perished.

4083. His name is remembered for ever, commencing a new era in religious history. Note that the words in verses 78-81, with slight modifications, form a sort of refrain to the following paragraphs about Abraham, Moses, and Elias, but not about Lot and Jonah. Lot was a nephew of Abraham, and may be supposed to belong to the story of Abraham. Jonah's career nearly ended in a tragedy for himself, and his people got a further lease of power "for a time" (xxxvii. 148). And both Lot and Jonah belong to a limited local tradition.

4084. The story of the Flood is found in some form or other among all nations, and not only among those who follow the Mosaic tradition. In Greek tradition the hero of the Flood is Deukalion, with his wife Pyrrha : in Indian tradition (Shatapatha Brāhmana and Mahābhārata) it is the sage Manū and the Fish. The Chinese tradition of a great Flood is recorded in Shū-King. Among American Indians the tradition was common to many tribes.

82. Then the rest We overwhelmed
In the Flood.

83. Verily among those
Who followed his Way
Was Abraham.<sup>4085</sup>

84. Behold, he approached his Lord
With a sound heart.<sup>4086</sup>

85. Behold, he said to his father
And to his people, "What
Is that which ye worship?"

86. "Is it a Falsehood—
Gods other than God—
That ye desire?"<sup>4087</sup>

87. "Then what is your idea
About the Lord of the Worlds?"<sup>4088</sup>

88. Then did he cast
A glance at the Stars,

89. And he said, "I am
Indeed sick (at heart)!"<sup>4089</sup>

٨٢- ثُمَّ أَعْرَقْنَا الْآخَرِينَ ○

٨٣- وَإِنَّ مِنْ شِيعَتِهِ لِإِبْرَاهِيمَ ○

٨٤- إِذْ جَاءَ رَبَّهُ بِقَلْبٍ سَلِيمٍ ○

٨٥- إِذْ قَالَ لِأَبِيهِ وَقَوْمِهِ
مَاذَا تَعْبُدُونَ ○

٨٦- أَفُفْكَأ
إِلَهَةَ دُونَ اللَّهِ تُرِيدُونَ ○

٨٧- فَمَا ظَنُّكُمْ بِرَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ○

٨٨- فَنَظَرَ نَظْرَةً فِي النُّجُومِ ○

٨٩- فَقَالَ إِنِّي سَقِيمٌ ○

وقف لازم

4085. The main story will be found in xxi 51-73; but the episode about his readiness and that of his son to submit to the most extreme form of self-sacrifice under trial (in verses 102-107 below) is told here for the first time, as this Sūra deals with the theme, "Not my will, but Thine be done!" In "followed his way", the pronoun "his" refers to Noah, "he", of verse 81 above.

4086. A sound heart: qalb salīm: a heart that is pure, and unaffected by the diseases that afflict others. As the heart in Arabic is taken to be not only the seat of feelings and affections, but also of intelligence and resulting action, it implies the whole character. Cf. Abraham's title of Hanīf (the True): ii. 135 and n. 134. Cf. also xxvi. 89: "only he will prosper who brings to God a sound heart."

4087. False worship—worship of idols or stars or symbols, or Mammon or Self—is due either to false and degrading conceptions of God, or to a sort of make-believe, where practice is inconsistent with knowledge or ignores the inner promptings of Conscience. Abraham's challenge to his people is: 'Are you fools or hypocrites?'

4088. 'Do you not realise that the real Creator is One—above all the forms and superstitions that you associate with Him?'

4089. The grief was really preying on his mind and soul, that he should be associated with such falsehoods. His father himself was among the chief supporters of such falsehoods, and his people were given up wholly to them. He could not possibly share in their mummeries, and they left him in disgust. Then he made his practical protest in the manner narrated in xxi. 56-64.

90. So they turned away
From him, and departed.

○ ٩٠- فَتَوَلَّوْا عَنْهُ مُدْبِرِينَ

91. Then did he turn
To their gods and said,
“ Will ye not eat
(Of the offerings before you) ? . . .

○ ٩١- فَرَأَى إِلَى إِلَهِتِهِمْ فَقَالَ
أَلَا تَأْكُلُونَ

92. “ What is the matter
With you that ye
Speak not (intelligently) ? ”

○ ٩٢- مَا لَكُمْ لَا تَنْطِقُونَ

93. Then did he turn
Upon them, striking (them) <sup>4090</sup>
With the right hand. <sup>4091</sup>

○ ٩٣- فَرَأَى عَلَيْهِمْ
ضَرْبًا بِالْيَمِينِ

94. Then came (the worshippers)
With hurried steps,
And faced (him).

○ ٩٤- فَأَقْبَلُوا إِلَيْهِ يَزْعِفُونَ

95. He said: “ Worship ye
That which ye have (Yourselves) carved ? <sup>4092</sup> ”

○ ٩٥- قَالَ أَتَعْبُدُونَ مَا تَنْحِتُونَ

96. “ But God has created you
And your handiwork ! ”

○ ٩٦- وَاللَّهُ خَلَقَكُمْ وَمَا تَعْمَلُونَ

97. They said, “ Build him
A furnace, and throw him <sup>4093</sup>
Into the blazing fire ! ”

○ ٩٧- قَالُوا ابْنُوا لَهُ بُيُوتًا
فَالْقُوَّةَ فِي الْجَحِيمِ

98. (This failing), they then
Sought a stratagem against him, <sup>4094</sup>

○ ٩٨- فَأَرَادُوا بِهِ كَيْدًا

4090. See the reference in the last note.

4091. With the right hand: as the right hand is the hand of power, the phrase means that he struck them with might and main and broke them.

4092. His action was a challenge, and he drives home the challenge now with argument. ‘ Do you worship your own handiwork ? Surely worship is due to Him Who made you and made possible your handiwork ! ’

4093. The argument of Abraham was so sound that it could not be met by argument. In such cases Evil resorts to violence, or secret plotting. Here there was both violence and secret plotting. The violence consisted in throwing him into a blazing Furnace. But by the mercy of God the fire did not harm him (xxi. 69), and so they resorted to plotting. But the plotting, as the next verse (xxxvii. 98) shows, was a boomerang that recoiled on their own heads.

4094. Cf. xxi. 71. Their plot against the righteous Abraham failed. Abraham migrated from the country (Chaldea, Babylon, and Assyria) and prospered in Syria and Palestine. It was his persecutors that suffered humiliation.

But We made them the ones
Most humiliated!

99. He said: "I will go
To my Lord! He
Will surely guide me!"<sup>4095</sup>

100. "O my Lord! grant me
A righteous (son)!"

101. So We gave him
The good news<sup>4096</sup>
Of a boy ready
To suffer and forbear.<sup>4097</sup>

102. Then, when (the son)
Reached (the age of)
(Serious) work with him,
He said: "O my son!
I see in vision<sup>4098</sup>
That I offer thee in sacrifice:<sup>4099</sup>
Now see what is
Thy view!" (The son) said:
"O my father! Do
As thou art commanded:

فَانظُرْ مَاذَا تَرَىٰ

قَالَ يَا بَتِ افْعَلْ مَا تُؤْمَرُ

4095. This was the Hijrat of Abraham. He left his people and his land, because the Truth was dearer to him than the ancestral falsehoods of his people. He trusted himself to God, and under God's guidance he laid the foundations of great peoples. See n. 2725 to xxi. 69.

4096. This was in the fertile land of Syria and Palestine. The boy thus born was, according to Muslim tradition, (which however is not unanimous on this point), the first-born son of Abraham, viz. Ismā'il. The name itself is from the root Sami'a, to hear, because God had heard Abraham's prayer (verse 100). Abraham's age when Ismā'il was born was 86 (Gen. xvi. 16).

4097. The boy's character was to be Halim, which I have translated "ready to suffer and forbear". This title is also applied to Abraham (in ix. 114 and xi. 75). It refers to the patient way in which both father and son cheerfully offered to suffer any self-sacrifice in order to obey the Command of God. See next verse.

4098. Where did this vision occur? The Muslim view is that it was in or near Mecca. Some would identify it with the valley of Minā, six miles north of Mecca, where a commemoration sacrifice is annually celebrated as a rite of the Ḥajj on the tenth of Zūl-Ḥijja, the 'Id of Sacrifice, in memory of this Sacrifice of Abraham and Ismā'il (see n. 217 to ii. 197). Others say that the original place of sacrifice was near the hill of Marwa (the companion hill to Ṣafā, ii. 158), which is associated with the infancy of Ismā'il.

4099. At what stage in Abraham's history did this occur? See n. 2725 to xxi. 69. It was obviously after his arrival in the land of Cannan and after Ismā'il had grown up to years of discretion. Was it before or after the building of the Ka'ba (ii. 127)? There are no data on which this question can be answered. But we may suppose it was before that event, and that event may itself have been commemorative.

Thou will find me,
If God so wills one
Practising Patience and Constancy !”

106. For this was obviously
A trial—

١٠٦- إِنَّ هَذَا لَهُوَ الْبَلَاءُ الْبَيِّنُ ○

4100. Note that the sacrifice was demanded of both Abraham and Ismā'il. It was a trial of the will of the father and the son. By way of trial the father had the command conveyed to him in a vision. To make sure that it was not an idle dream, and, if it was a real order, to make sure that his son consented, he consulted the son. The son readily consented, and offered to stand true to his promise if his self-sacrifice was really required. The whole thing is symbolical. God does not require the flesh and blood of animals (xxii. 37), much less of human beings. But he does require the giving of our whole being to God, the symbol of which is that we should give up something very dear to us, if Duty requires that sacrifice.

4101. Our version may be compared with the Jewish-Christian version of the present Old Testament. The Jewish tradition, in order to glorify the younger branch of the family, descended from Isaac, ancestor of the Jews, as against the elder branch, descended from Ismā'il, ancestor of the Arabs, refers this sacrifice to Isaac (Gen. xxii. 1-18). Now Isaac was born when Abraham was 100 years old (Gen. xxi. 5), while Ismā'il was born to Abraham when Abraham was 86 years old (Gen. xvi. 16). Ismā'il was therefore 14 years older than Isaac. During his first 14 years Ismā'il was the only son of Abraham; at no time was Isaac the only son of Abraham. Yet, in speaking of the sacrifice, the Old Testament says (Gen. xxii. 2): “ And He said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of Moriah: and offer him there for a burnt offering...” This slip shows at any rate which was the older version, and how it was overlaid, like the present Jewish records, in the interests of a tribal religion. The “land of Moriah” is not clear: it was three days' journey from Abraham's place (Gen. xxii. 4). There is less warrant for identifying it with the hill of Moriah on which Jerusalem was afterwards built than with the hill of Marwa which is identified with the Arab tradition about Ismā'il.

4102. In the Biblical version Isaac's consent is not taken; in fact Isaac asks, ‘ where is the lamb for sacrifice ? ’ and is told that ‘ God would provide it ’. It is a complete human sacrifice like those to Moloch. In our version it is as much a sacrifice by the will of Ismā'il as by that of Abraham. And in any case it is symbolic: “ this was obviously a trial ”; “ thou hast already fulfilled thy vision ”; etc.

114. ١١٤ Again, (of old,)
We bestowed Our favour

١١٤- وَلَقَدْ مَنَنَّا

4103. The adjective qualifying " sacrifice " here, 'ʿaẓīm, (great, momentous) may be understood both in a literal and a figurative sense. In a literal sense it implies that a fine sheep or ram was substituted symbolically. The figurative sense is even more important. It was indeed a great and momentous occasion, when two men, with concerted will, " ranged themselves in the ranks " of those to whom self-sacrifice in the service of God was the supreme thing in life. This was a type of the service which Imām Ḥusain performed, many ages later, in 60 A.H., as I have explained in a separate pamphlet. But note that the ransom, i.e., the commutation of sacrifice, was made not by the men, but by God. God wants our will and devotion, not necessarily our lives in a physical sense. He will find means, if we offer ourselves, to use us not for our destruction, but for our further advancement. In this sense, said Jesus, " he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it " (Matt. x. 39).

4104. Cf. above, xxxvii. 78-81 and n. 4083.

4105 Isaac was Abraham's second son, born of Sarah, when Abraham was 100 years of age. See n. 4101 above. He was also blessed and became the ancestor of the Jewish people. See next note.

4106. So long as the Children of Israel upheld the righteous banner of God, they enjoyed God's blessing, and their history is a portion of sacred history. When they fell from grace, they did not stop God's Plan : they injured their own souls.

۱۲۲- إِنَّهُمَا مِنْ عِبَادِنَا الْمُؤْمِنِينَ ۝

4108. What could have been a greater calamity to them than that they should have been held in slavery by the Egyptians, that their male children should have been killed and their female children should have been saved alive for the Egyptians?

4109. The Israelites were delivered by three steps mentioned in verses 114, 115, and 116 respectively; but the consummation of God's favour on them was (verses 117-118) the Revelation given to them, which guided them on the Straight Way, so long as they preserved the Revelation intact and followed its precepts. The three steps were: (1) the divine commission to Moses and Aaron; (2) the deliverance from bondage; and (3) the triumphant crossing of the Red Sea and the destruction of Pharaoh's army.

4110. Mustabīn has a slightly different force from Mubīn. I have translated the former by "which helps to make things clear", and the latter by "which makes things clear",—apt descriptions as applied to the Taurāt and the Qur-ān.

4111. See above, xxxvii. 78-81 and n. 4083.

123. So also was Elias <sup>4113</sup>.

129. And We left (this blessing) <sup>4115</sup>
For him among generations
(To come) in later times:
130. "Peace and salutation

١٢٩- وَتَرَكْنَا عَلَيْهِ فِي الْآخِرِينَ ۝

١٣٠- سَلَامٌ عَلَىٰ إِبْرَاهِيمَ ۝

4112. See n. 905 to vi. 85. Elias is the same as Elijah, whose story will be found in the Old Testament in 1 Kings xvii-xix, and 2 Kings i-ii. Elijah lived in the reign of Ahab (B.C. 896-874) and Ahaziah (B.C. 874-872), kings of the (northern) kingdom of Israel or Samaria. He was a prophet of the desert, like John the Baptist,—unlike our holy Prophet, who took part in, controlled, and guided all the affairs of his people. Both Ahab and Ahaziah were prone to lapse into the worship of Baal, the sun-god worshipped in Syria. That worship also included the worship of nature-powers and procreative powers, as in the Indian worship of the Lingam, and led to many abuses. King Ahab had married a princess of Sidon, Jezebel, a wicked woman who led her husband to forsake God and adopt Baal-worship. Elijah denounced all Ahab's sins as well as the sins of Ahaziah and had to flee for his life. Eventually, according to the Old Testament (2 Kings, ii-11) he was taken up in a whirlwind to heaven in a chariot of fire after he had left his mantle with Elisha the prophet.

4113. For Baal-worship see last note.

4114. They persecuted him and he had to flee for his life. Eventually he disappeared mysteriously: see n. 4112.

4115. See above, xxxvii. 78-81, and n. 4083.

4115-A. Ilyāsīn may be an alternative form of Ilyās: Cf. Saināa (xxiii. 20) and Sīnīn (xcv. 2). Or it may be the plural of Ilyās, meaning "such people as Ilyās"

131. Thus indeed do We reward

C. 199.—So was it also with Jonah ; he had (xxxvii. 139-182.) His trials, but God had mercy on him,
And his mission was successful. How
Can men ascribe to God qualities
And relations derogatory to His nature?
High is He above all creatures.
The ranks of angels and apostles stand firm
In His service. Evil is sure to be overcome.
So Praise and Glory to God, the Lord
Of Honour and Power, and Peace to His apostles !

4116. The best illustration of this passage about Lūt will be found in vii. 80-84. He was an apostle sent to Sodom and Gomorrah, Cities of the Plain, by the Dead Sea. The inhabitants were given over to abominable crimes, against which he preached. They insulted him and threatened to expel him. But God in His mercy saved him and his family (with one exception, see the following note), and then destroyed the Cities.

4117. Cf. vii. 83, and n. 1051. Lot's wife had no faith: she lagged behind, and perished in the general ruin.

4118. Cf. xv. 76, and n. 1998. The tract where they lay is situated on the highway to Syria where the Arab caravans travelled regularly, "by day and by night". Could not future generations learn wisdom from the destruction of those who did wrong ?

SECTION 5.

139. So also was Jonah <sup>4119</sup>
Among those sent (by Us).

١٣٩- وَإِنَّ يُوسُفَ لَمِنَ الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝

140. When he ran away
(Like a slave from captivity) <sup>4120</sup>
To the ship (fully) laden,

١٤٠- إِذْ أَبَقَ إِلَى الْفُلِ الْمَشْحُونِ ۝

141. He (agreed to) cast lots, <sup>4121</sup>
And he was condemned:

١٤١- فَسَاهَمَ فَكَانَ مِنَ الْمُدْحَضِينَ ۝

142. Then the big Fish <sup>4122</sup>
Did swallow him,
And he had done <sup>4123</sup>
Acts worthy of blame.

١٤٢- فَالْتَقَمَهُ الْحُوتُ
وَهُوَ مُلِيمٌ ۝

143. Had it not been
That he (repented and)
Glorified God, <sup>4124</sup>

١٤٣- فَلَوْلَا أَنَّهُ كَانَ مِنَ الْمُسَبِّحِينَ ۝

144. He would certainly have Remained inside the Fish <sup>4125</sup>
Till the Day of Resurrection.

١٤٤- لَلَيْتَ فِي بَطْنِهِ إِلَى يَوْمِ يُبْعَثُونَ ۝

4119. For illustrative passages, see xxi. 87-88, n. 2744, and lxviii. 48-50. Jonah's mission was to the city of Nineveh, then steeped in wickedness. He was rejected and he denounced God's wrath on them, but they repented and obtained God's forgiveness. But Jonah "departed in wrath" (xxi. 87), forgetting that God has Mercy as well as forgiveness. See the notes following. Cf. x. 98, n. 1478.

4120. Jonah ran away from Nineveh like a slave from captivity. He should have stuck to his post and merged his own will in God's Will. He was hasty, and went off to take a ship. As if he could escape from God's Plan!

4121. The ship was fully laden and met foul weather. The sailors, according to their superstition, wanted to find out who was responsible for the ill-luck: a fugitive slave would cause such ill-luck. The lot fell on Jonah, and he was cast off.

4122. The rivers of Mesopotamia have some huge fishes. The word used here is Hūt, which may be a fish or perhaps a crocodile. If it were in an open northern sea, it might be a whale. The locality is not mentioned: in the Old Testament he is said to have taken ship in the port of Joppa (now Jaffa) in the Mediterranean (Jonah, i. 3), which would be not less than 600 miles from Nineveh. The Tigris river, mentioned by some of our Commentators, is more likely, and it contains some fishes of extraordinary size.

4123. See n. 4120.

4124. "But he cried through the depths of darkness, 'There is no god but Thee: glory to Thee! I was indeed wrong!'" (xxi. 87.)

4125. This is just the idiom. This was to be the burial and the grave of Jonah. If he had not repented, he could not have got out of the body of the creature that had swallowed him, until the Day of Resurrection, when all the dead would be raised up.

145. But We cast him forth
On the naked shore
In a state of sickness,<sup>4123</sup>
146. And We caused to grow,
Over him, a spreading plant
Of the Gourd kind.
147. And We sent him
(On a mission)
To a hundred thousand<sup>4127</sup>
(Men) or more.
148. And they believed ;
So We permitted them
To enjoy (their life)<sup>4128</sup>
For a while.
149. How ask them their opinion :<sup>4129</sup>
Is it that thy Lord
Has (only) daughters, and they
Have sons?—
150. Or that We created
The angels female, and they
Are witnesses (thereto)?
151. Is it not that they Say, from their own invention,

- ١٣٥- فَنَبَذْنَاهُ بِالْعَرَاءِ
وَهُوَ سَقِيمٌ ۝
- ١٣٦- وَأَبْتَنَّا عَلَيْهِ شَجَرَةً مِّنْ يَقْطِينٍ ۝
- ١٣٧- وَأَرْسَلْنَاهُ
إِلَى مِائَةِ أَلْفٍ أَوْ يَزِيدُونَ ۝
- ١٣٨- فَأَمَّنُوا
فَمَتَّعْنَاهُمْ إِلَىٰ حِينٍ ۝
- ١٣٩- فَاسْتَفْتَيْتَهُمْ
الرَّبِّكَ الْبَنَاتُ وَاللَّهُمُ الْبَنُونَ ۝
- ١٤٠- أَمْ خَلَقْنَا
الْمَلَائِكَةَ إِنَاثًا وَهُمْ شَاهِدُونَ ۝
- ١٤١- أَلَا إِنَّهُمْ مِّنْ إِتْكَاهِمُ لَيَقُولُونَ ۝

4126. Cf. xxxvii. 89 above. His strange situation might well have caused him to be ill. He wanted fresh air and solitude. He got both in the open plain, and the abundantly shady Gourd Plant or some fruitful tree like it gave him both shade and sustenance. The Gourd is a creeper that can spread over any roof or ruined structure.

4127. The city of Nineveh was a very large city. The Old Testament says: "Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey" (Jonah, iii. 3); "wherein are more than six score thousand persons" (Jonah, iv. 11). In other words its circuit was about 45 miles, and its population was over a hundred and twenty thousand inhabitants.

4128. They repented and believed, and Nineveh got a new lease of life. For the dates to which Jonah may be referred, and the vicissitudes of the City's history as the seat of the Assyrian Empire, see notes 1478-79 to x. 98.

The lessons from Jonah's story are: (1) that no man should take upon himself to judge of God's wrath or God's mercy; (2) that nevertheless God forgives true repentance, whether in a righteous man, or in a wicked city; and (3) that God's Plan will always prevail, and can never be defeated.

4129. We begin a new argument here. The Pagan Arabs called angels daughters of God. They themselves were ashamed of having daughters, and preferred to have sons, to add to their power and dignity. See xvi. 57-59, and n. 2082. Yet they invented daughters for God!

152. "God has begotten children" ?<sup>4130</sup>
But they are liars!

١٥٢- وَلَدَ اللَّهُ وَإِنَّهُمْ لَكَاذِبُونَ ۝

153. Did He (then) choose<sup>4131</sup>
Daughters rather than sons?

١٥٣- أَصْطَفَى الْبَنَاتِ عَلَى الْبَنِينَ ۝

154. What is the matter
With you? How judge ye?

١٥٤- مَا لَكُمْ كَيْفَ تَحْكُمُونَ ۝

155. Will ye not then
Receive admonition?

١٥٥- أَفَلَا تَذَكَّرُونَ ۝

156. Or have ye
An authority manifest?

١٥٦- أَمْ لَكُمْ سُلْطَنٌ مُّبِينٌ ۝

157. Then bring ye your Book
(Of authority) if ye be Truthful!

١٥٧- فَأْتُوا بِكِتَابِكُمْ

لَئِنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ ۝

158. And they have invented
A blood-relationship<sup>4132</sup>
Between Him and the Jinns:
But the Jinns know
(Quite well) that they
Have indeed to appear
(Before His Judgment-seat)!

١٥٨- وَجَعَلُوا بَيْنَهُ وَبَيْنَ الْجَنَّةِ نِجَابًا

وَلَقَدْ عَلِمَتِ الْجِنَّةُ

إِنَّهُمْ لَكَاخِبُونَ ۝

159. Glory to God! (He is free)
From the things they ascribe
(To Him)!

١٥٩- سُبْحَانَ اللَّهِ

عَمَّا يَصِفُونَ ۝

160. Not (so do) the Servants
Of God, sincere and devoted.<sup>4133</sup>

١٦٠- إِلَّا عِبَادَ اللَّهِ الْمُخْلِصِينَ ۝

4130. Any attribution to God of ideas derogatory to His Oneness and His supreme height above all creatures is likely to degrade our own conception of God's Universal plan, and is condemned in the strongest terms.

4131. There is the strongest irony in this passage.

4132. The angels are at least pure beings engaged in the service of God. But the Pagan superstitions not only connect them with God as daughters but even connect God by relationship with all kinds of spirits, good or evil! In some mythologies the most evil powers are gods or goddesses as if they belonged to the family of God the Creator and had some semblance of equality with Him! This, too, is repudiated in the strongest terms.

For Jinns see n. 929 to vi. 100.

4133. Those sincere in devotion to God never ascribe such degrading ideas to God.

161. For, verily, neither ye
Nor those ye worship—

۱۶۱- فَاتَّكُمُ وَمَا تَعْبُدُونَ ۝

162. Can lead (any) <sup>4134</sup>
Into temptation
Concerning God,

۱۶۲- مَا أَنْتُمْ عَلَيْهِ بِفِتْنِينَ ۝

163. Except such as are (Themselves) going to
The blazing Fire!

۱۶۳- إِلَّا مَنْ هُوَ صَالِ الْجَحِيمِ ۝

164. (Those ranged in ranks say): <sup>4135</sup>
“Not one of us but has
A place appointed;

۱۶۴- وَكُلًّا مِمَّا إِلَّا لَهُ مَقَامٌ مَعْلُومٌ ۝

165. “And we are verily
Ranged in ranks (for service);

۱۶۵- وَإِنَّا لَنَحْنُ الصَّافُونَ ۝

166. “And we are verily those
Who declare (God's) glory!”

۱۶۶- وَإِنَّا لَنَحْنُ السَّيِّحُونَ ۝

167. And there were those <sup>4136</sup>
Who said,

۱۶۷- وَإِن كَانُوا لَيَقُولُونَ ۝

168. “If only we had had
Before us a Message
From those of old,

۱۶۸- لَوْ أَنَّ عِنْدَنَا
ذِكْرًا مِّنَ الْأَوَّلِينَ ۝

169. “We should certainly have Been Servants of God, <sup>4137</sup>
Sincere (and devoted)!”

۱۶۹- لَكُنَّا عِبَادَ اللَّهِ الْمُخْلِصِينَ ۝

4134. Evil has no power over faith, truth, and sincerity. Such power as it has is over those who deliberately put themselves in the way of Destruction. It is their own will that leads them astray. If they were fortified against Evil by Faith, Patience, and Constancy, Evil would have no power to hurt them. God would protect them.

4135. To round off the argument of the Sūra we go back to the idea with which it began. Those who range themselves in ranks for the united service of God (see above, xxxvii. 1 and n. 4031)—whether angels or men of God—are content to keep their ranks and do whatever service is assigned to them. It is not for them to question God's Plan, because they know that it is good and that it will ultimately triumph. Any seeming delays or defeats do not worry them. Nor do they ever break their ranks.

4136. There were the sceptics or Unbelievers,—primarily the Pagan Arabs, but in a more extended sense, all who doubt God's providence or revelation.

4137. Such men take refuge in ancestral tradition. 'If our forefathers had had an inkling of Revelation or miracles, or had worshipped as we are now taught to worship, we should gladly have accepted. Or if they had had anything of the miracles which other nations of old are said to have received, we could then have accepted.' But now stronger and more convincing proofs have come to them in the Qur-ān in their own tongue, and they doubt and reject it.

170. But (now that the Qur-ān Has come), they reject it :
But soon will they know! <sup>4138</sup>
171. Already has Our Word
Been passed before (this)
To Our Servants sent (by Us),
172. That they would certainly
Be assisted,
173. And that Our forces, — <sup>4139</sup>
They surely must conquer.
174. So turn thou away <sup>4140</sup>
From them for a little while,
175. And watch them (how <sup>4141</sup>
They fare), and they soon
Shall see (how thou farest) !
176. Do they wish (indeed) <sup>4142</sup>
To hurry on our Punishment ?
177. But when it descends
Into the open space <sup>4143</sup>
Before them, evil will be
The morning for those who
Were warned (and heeded not) !

4138. God's Truth will manifest itself against all odds, and the whole world will see.

4139. The victory will be the victory of God's Truth by the forces of God, but every soldier in the army of Truth, who has done his duty, will be entitled to claim a share in the victory.

4140. Addressed in the first instance to the holy Prophet, but good for all time. He was not to be discouraged by his initial failures. Soon came victory to him from God. So is it always in the struggles of truth and righteousness. The righteous can afford to ignore opposition, confident in the strength which comes from the Grace of God.

4141. Watch and wait, for the Right must come to its own.

4142 The last verse enjoined Patience under the attacks of Evil, in the knowledge that evil must be conquered at last. Evil may perhaps turn back scoffingly and say, ' If a punishment is to come, why not bring it on now ? ' Why indeed ? The answer is : when it comes, it will come like a rush by night when the enemy is overpowered, when he least expects it : when the day dawns, it is a sorry plight in which the enemy finds himself. Cf. xxii, 47, and n. 2826 ; and xxvi, 204, n. 3230.

4143. See last note. The parable is that of an enemy camp in a plain, which is surprised and destroyed by a night attack from the hills. Evil is the plight of any survivors in the morning. Their regrets will be all the more poignant if they had had some sort of a warning beforehand and had paid no heed to it !

178. So turn thou away <sup>4144</sup>
From them for a little while,

١٧٨- وَتَوَلَّ عَنْهُمْ حَتَّىٰ حِينٍ ۝

179. And watch (how they fare)
And they soon shall see
(How thou farest)!

١٧٩- وَابْصُرْ فَسَوْفَ يُبْصِرُونَ ۝

180. Glory to thy Lord, <sup>4145</sup>
The Lord of Honour
And Power! (He is free)
From what they ascribe
(To Him)!

١٨٠- سُبْحٰنَ رَبِّكَ

رَبِّ الْعِزَّةِ

عَمَّا يَصِفُونَ ۝

181. And Peace on the apostles!

١٨١- وَسَلَامٌ عَلَى الْمُرْسَلِينَ ۝

182. And Praise to God,
The Lord and Cherisher
Of the Worlds.

١٨٢- وَالْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ۝

4144. This and the following verse repeat verses 174-75 (with a slight verbal alteration). The argument in verses 176-77 brought in a new point. When that is finished, the repetition carries us back to the main argument, and rounds off the whole Sūra.

4145. This and the following two verses recapitulate: (1) Glory, Honour, and Power belong to God; (2) No one is equal to Him; (3) He sends apostles and revelations, and His aid will overcome all obstacles; for (4) He loves and cherishes all His Creation.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXVIII (Ṣād).

For the place of this Sūra in the series of six, dealing with some of the mysteries of the spiritual world, see Introduction to S. xxxiv.

This Sūra, both in chronology and subject-matter, is cognate to S.xxxvii., and carries forward the same argument. But here the emphasis is laid on the working of earthly power when combined with spiritual power, and it is pointed out how much more significant (and real) spiritual power is. For this reason the illustrative stories are mainly those of David and Solomon who were kings as well as prophets, and a parallel is suggested with the unfolding public life of our holy Prophet.

Summary.—Worldly and evil men are surprised at the renewal of Truth and Righteousness; but righteousness has more power than worldly strength, as is seen in the story of kings like David, who had both (xxxviii. 1-26, and C. 200).

So also Solomon loved the Lord more than worldly power, which may be good but may be misused by evil men; so also Job and other men of power and insight, chose the path of final bliss rather than final misery (xxxviii. 27-64, and C. 201).

So also in the case of the final Messenger: his Gospel of Unity must triumph over all Jealousy and Arrogance in God's good time (xxxviii. 65-88, and C. 202).

C. 200.—Self-glory and Separatism, these
(xxxviii. 1-26.) Are among the roots of Evil, also Envy
And Suspicion. Not all the combinations
Of Evil can for a moment reverse
God's Purpose or His Justice. David,
Endowed with worldly Power and the Virtues,
Had yet to purge himself of the thought
Of Self-glory, which he did; and thus
He became one of those nearest to God.

Sūra XXXVIII.

Sad (being one of the Abbreviated Letters).

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Sad:<sup>4146</sup>

By the Qur-ān,
Full of Admonition :<sup>4147</sup>
(This is the Truth).

۱- ص وَالْقُرْآنِ
ذِي الذِّكْرِ ۝

2. But the Unbelievers
(Are steeped) in Self-glory<sup>4148</sup>
And Separatism.

۲- بَلِ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا فِي عِزَّةٍ
وَتَشْتَاكِ ۝

3. How many generations
Before them did We destroy ?
In the end they cried<sup>4149</sup>
(For mercy)—when
There was no longer time
For being saved !

۳- كَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ مِنْ قُرُونٍ
فَنَادَوْا وَلَا تَجِئْ
مُنَاصٍ ۝

4. So they wonder
That a Warner has come

۴- وَعَجِبُوا أَنْ جَاءَهُمْ مُنذِرٌ

4146. ṣād is a letter of the Arabic alphabet. It is used here as an Abbreviated Letter, for which see Appendix I (at the end of Sūra ii.). See also the second para. of n. 989 to vii. 1 for this particular letter. No dogmatism is permissible in trying to interpret Abbreviated Letters. But it is suggested that it may stand for Qiṣaṣ ("Stories"), in which the dominant consonant is ṣ. For this Sūra is concerned mainly with the stories of David and Solomon as illustrative of the relative positions of spiritual and worldly power. Sale's note: "it may stand for Solomon"; is a real howler: for in Arabic the letter ṣād does not occur at all in the name of Solomon.

4147. Full of admonition: the word ḡikr is far more comprehensive than any single word or phrase that I can think of in English: it implies (1) remembrance in a spirit of reverence; (2) recital, celebrating the praises of God; (3) teaching, admonition, warning; (4) Message, Revelation, as in Ah-luṣ-ḡikr, "those who possess the Message" (xvi. 43, and n. 2069). In Ṣūfī phraseology it implies mystical enlightenment, both the aspiration and the attainment, for in the highest spiritual atmosphere, the two are one. Devotional exercises are also called ḡikr, with reference to meaning (2) above.

4148. The great root of Evil and Unbelief is Self-glory or Arrogance, as is pointed out in several places with regard to Satan: cf. below, xxxviii. 74-76. This leads to Envy and Separatism, or a desire to start a peculiar doctrine or sect of one's own, instead of a desire to find common grounds of belief and life, which lead to the Religion of Unity in God. This teaching of Unity was what the Pagans objected to in the holy Prophet (verse 5 below)!

4149. Teaching, Warning, Signs have been given by God to all nations and at all times, and yet nations have rebelled and gone wrong and suffered destruction. If only later generations could learn that wrong-doing results in self-destruction! For the justice of God merely carries out the result of their own choice and actions. At any time during their probation they could repent and obtain mercy, but their "Self-glory and Separatism" stand in the way. Ultimately they do cry for a way of escape, but it is then too late.

To them from among themselves! <sup>4150</sup>
 And the Unbelievers say,
 "This is a sorcerer
 Telling lies!"

مِنْهُمْ وَقَالَ الْكٰفِرُونَ
 هٰذَا سِحْرٌ كٰذِبٌ ۝

5. "Has he made the gods <sup>4151</sup>
 (All) into one God?
 Truly this is
 A wonderful thing!"

۝-۵ اَجَعَلَ الْاِلٰهَةَ الْهٰٓءِ وَاحِدًا ۙ
 اِنَّ هٰذَا لَشَيْءٌ عَجَابٌ ۝

6. And the leaders among them
 Go away (impatiently), (saying), <sup>4152</sup>
 "Walk ye away, and remain
 Constant to your gods!
 For this is truly
 A thing designed (against you)!"

۝-۶ وَاَنْطَلَقَ الْمَلَا مِنْهُمْ
 اِنْ اَمْشَوْا وَاَصْبِرُوا عَلٰى الْهَيْتِكُمْ
 اِنَّ هٰذَا لَشَيْءٌ يُرَادُ ۝

7. "We never heard (the like)
 Of this among the people
 Of these latter days: <sup>4153</sup>
 This is nothing but
 A made-up tale!"

۝-۷ مَا سَمِعْنَا بِهٰذَا فِي الْمِلَّةِ الْاٰخِرَةِ
 اِنَّ هٰذَا اِلَّا اَخْتِلَاقٌ ۝

8. "What! Has the Message
 Been sent to him—<sup>4154</sup>

۝-۸ ءَاَنْزَلَ عَلَيْهِ الذِّكْرَ

4151. And what is the offence of the Apostle of Unity? That he has made all their fantastic gods disappear; that in place of chaos he has brought harmony; that in place of conflict he brings peace! It is a wonderful thing, but not in the sarcastic sense in which the Unbelievers scoff at it!

4153. 'Whatever may have been the case in the past', they said, 'our own immediate ancestors worshipped these idols in Mecca, and why should we give them up?' Self-complacency was stronger with them than Truth; and so they call Truth "a made-up tale"! Some Commentators interpret millat ākhirat to refer to the last religion preached before Islam, viz. Christianity, which had itself departed from Monotheism to Trinity, but the Pagan Arabs had little love for Christianity and could not have used these terms for it.

4154. Here comes in envy. 'If a Message had to come, why should it come to him, the orphan son of 'Abdullāh, and not to one of our own great men?'

(Of all persons) among us? " ...
But they are in doubt
Concerning My (own) Message! <sup>4155</sup>
Nay, they have not yet
Tasted My Punishment!

مِنْ بَيْنِنَا
بَلْ هُمْ فِي شَكٍّ مِنْ ذِكْرِي
بَلْ لَتَأَيَّدُوا قَوْلًا عَدَابٍ ۝

9. Or have they the Treasures
Of the Mercy of thy Lord, — <sup>4156</sup>
The Exalted in Power,
The Grantor of Bounties
Without measure?

۹- أَمْ عِنْدَهُمْ خَزَائِنُ
رَحْمَةِ رَبِّكَ
الْعَزِيزِ الْوَهَّابِ ۝

10. Or have they the dominion
Of the heavens and the earth
And all between? If so,
Let them mount up <sup>4157</sup>
With the ropes and means
(To reach that end)!

۱۰- أَمْ لَهُمْ تَمْلِكُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا
فَلْيَرْتَفِعُوا فِي الْأَسْبَابِ ۝

11. But there—will be <sup>4158</sup>
Put to flight even a host
Of confederates.

۱۱- جُنْدٌ مَّا هُنَا لِكَ مَهْزُومٍ
مِنَ الْأَحْزَابِ ۝

12. Before them (were many
Who) rejected apostles, — <sup>4159</sup>
The People of Noah,
And 'Ad, and Pharaoh
The Lord of Stakes, <sup>4160</sup>

۱۲- كَذَّبَتْ قَبْلَهُمْ قَوْمُ
لُوطٍ وَعَادٌ وَفِرْعَوْنُ ذُو الْأَوْتَادِ ۝

4155. They have no clear idea of how God's Message comes! It is not a worldly thing to be given to any one. It is a divine thing requiring spiritual preparation. If they close their eyes to it now, it will be brought home to them when they taste the consequences of their folly!

4156. If they set themselves to judge God, have they anything to show, comparable to God's Mercy and Power? He has both in infinite measure. Who are they to question the grant of His Mercy and Revelation to His own Chosen One?

4157. Weak and puny creatures though they are, they dare to raise their heads against the Omnipotent, as if they had dominion over Creation and not He! If they had any power, let them mount up to heaven and use all the means they have to that end, and see how they can frustrate God's Purpose!

4158. Of course they cannot frustrate God's Purpose. In that world—the spiritual world—they will be ignominiously routed, even if they form the strongest confederacy of the Powers of Evil that ever could combine. Cf. the last clause of verse 13 below.

4159. In their day, Noah's contemporaries, or the 'Ad and the Thamūd, so frequently mentioned, or Pharaoh the mighty king of Egypt, or the people to whom Lot was sent (cf. xxxvii. 75-82; vii. 65-73; vii. 103-137; vii. 80-84) were examples of arrogance and rebellion against God: they rejected the divine Message brought by their apostles, and they all came to an evil end. Will not their posterity learn their lesson?

4160. The title of Pharaoh, " Lord of the Stakes ", denotes power and arrogance, in all or any of the following ways: (1) the stake makes a tent firm and stable, and is a symbol of firmness and stability; (2) many stakes mean a large camp and a numerous army to fight; (3) impaling with stakes was a cruel punishment resorted to by the Pharaohs in arrogant pride of power.

13. And Thamūd, and the People
Of Lūṭ, and the Companions <sup>4161</sup>
Of the Wood ;—such were
The Confederates. <sup>4162</sup>

١٣- وَتَمُودُ وَقَوْمُ لُوطٍ وَأَصْحَابُ لَيْكَةِ
أُولَئِكَ الْأَحْزَابُ ○

14. Not one (of them) but
Rejected the apostles,
But My Punishment
Came justly and inevitably <sup>4163</sup>
(On them).

4161. Companions of the Wood : see xv, 78, and n. 2000.

4162. Cf. above, verse 11, and n. 4158.

4163. Cf. xv, 64, n. 1990 ; and xxii, 18.

4164. Cf. xxxvi, 29, and n. 3973.

4165. Fawāq : delay, the interval between one milking of a she-camel and another, either to give her a breathing space or to give her young time to suck,—or perhaps the milker to adjust his fingers. Such interval will be quite short. The derived meaning is that when the inevitable just punishment for sin arrives, it will not tarry, but do its work without delay.

4166. Cf. xxvi, 204 and n. 3230. Those who do not believe in the Hereafter say ironically : "Let us have our punishment and sentence now : why delay it ?" The last verse and the next verse supply the commentary. As to those who mock, they will find out the truth soon enough, when it is too late for repentance or mercy. As to the men of God, who are mocked, they must wait patiently for God to fulfil His Plan : even men who had worldly strength and power, like David, had to exercise infinite patience when mocked by their contemporaries.

4167. David was a man of exceptional strength, for even as a raw youth, he slew the Philistine giant Goliath. See ii, 249-252, and notes 286-87. Before that fight, he was mocked by his enemies and chidden even by his own elder brother. But he relied upon God, and won through, and afterwards became king.

18. It was We that made
The hills declare,<sup>4168</sup>
In unison with him,
Our Praises, at eventide
And at break of day,
19. And the birds gathered
(In assemblies): all with him
Did turn (to God).<sup>4169</sup>
20. We strengthened his kingdom,
And gave him wisdom
And sound judgment<sup>4170</sup>

The presence of David,<sup>4172</sup>

Of them, they said :

4168. See n. 2733 to xxi. 79. All nature sings in unison and celebrates the praises of God. David was given the gift of music and psalmody, and therefore the hills and birds are expressed as singing God's praises in unison with him. The special hours when the hills and groves echo the songs of birds are in the evening and at dawn, when also the birds gather together, for those are respectively their roosting hours and the hours of their concerted flight for the day.

4169. Note the mutual echo between this verse and verse 17 above. The Arabic awwāb is common to both, and it furnishes the rhyme or rhythm of the greater part of the Sūra, thus echoing the main theme: 'Turn to God in Prayer and Praise, for that is more than any worldly power or wisdom.'

4170. Cf. n. 2732 to xxi. 79, for David's sound judgment in decisions; he could also express himself aptly, as his Psalms bear witness.

4171. This story or Parable is not found in the Bible, unless the vision here described be considered as equivalent to Nathan's parable in II Samuel, xi. and xii. Baidhāwī would seem to favour that view, but other Commentators reject it. David was a pious man, and he had a well-guarded private chamber (mihrāb) for Prayer and Praise.

4172. David used to retire to his private chamber at stated times for his devotions. One day, suddenly, his privacy was invaded by two men, who had obtained access by climbing over a wall. David was frightened at the apparition. But they said: "We have come to seek thy justice as king: we are brothers, and we have a quarrel, which we wish thee to decide."

23. "This man is my brother :<sup>4173</sup>
He has nine and ninety
Ewes, and I have (but) one :
Yet he says, 'Commit her

Harsh to me in speech."

٢٣- إِنَّ هَذَا أَخِي تَد

And David gathered that we
Had tried him : he asked
Forgiveness of his Lord,<sup>4176</sup>
Fell down, bowing

4173. The brother who was most aggrieved said : " This my brother has a flock of ninety-nine sheep, and I have but one ; yet he wants me to give up my one sheep to his keeping ; and moreover he is not even fair-spoken. He talks like one meditating mischief, and he has not even the grace to ask as an equal, or one sharing in a business or an inheritance. What shall I do ? "

4174. The circumstances were mysterious ; the accusation was novel ; it was not clear why the unjust brother should also have come with the complainant, risking his life in climbing the wall to evade the guard, and he certainly said nothing. But David was so full of self-complacence and kingly pride that he took them literally, and began to preach about the falsehood and the fraud of men, who should be content with what they have, but who always covet more.

4175. Especially, said David, is it wrong for brothers or men in partnership to take advantage of each other ; but how few are the men who are righteous ? He had in his mind his own devotion and justice. But lo and behold ! the men disappeared as mysteriously as they had come. It was then that David realised that his vision had been a trial or temptation—a test of his moral or spiritual fibre ! Great though he was as a king, and just though he was as a judge, the moment that he thought of these things in self-pride, his merit vanished. In himself he was as other men : it was God's grace that gave him wisdom and justice, and he should have been humble in the sight of God.

4176. Judged by ordinary standards, David had done no wrong ; he was a good and just king. Judged by the highest standard of those nearest to God (Muqarrabān, lvi. 11), the thought of self-pride and self-righteousness had to be washed off from him by his own act of self-realisation and repentance. This was freely accepted by God, as the next verse shows.

26. O David! We did indeed
 Make thee a vicegerent <sup>4177</sup>
 On earth : so judge thou
 Between men in truth
 (and justice):
 Nor follow thou the lusts
 (Of thy heart), for they will Misdlead thee from the Path <sup>4178</sup>
 Of God : for those who
 Wander astray from the Path
 Of God, is a Penalty Grievous,
 For that they forget
 The Day of Accoutn.

٢٦- يٰدَاوُدُ اِنَّا جَعَلْنَاكَ خَلِيفَةً فِي الْاَرْضِ
 فَاَحْكُمْ بَيْنَ النَّاسِ بِالْحَقِّ
 وَلَا تَتَّبِعِ الْهَوٰى
 فَيُضِلَّكَ عَنْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ
 اِنَّ الَّذِيْنَ يَضِلُّوْنَ عَنْ سَبِيْلِ اللّٰهِ
 لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ شَدِيْدٌ
 بِمَا نَسُوْا يَوْمَ الْحِسَابِ ۝

C. 201.—For just ends was the world created.

(xxxviii. 27-64.) Solomon, in the midst of his worldly power
 And glory, never forgot God ; nor Job
 In the midst of afflictions ; nor other men
 Of Power and Vision, whose patience and constancy
 Brought them nearer to God. So should
 All the righteous strive to win
 The final Bliss, for truly grievous
 Are the woes of Evil in the Final Account.

SECTION 3.

27. Not without purpose did We <sup>4179</sup>
 Create heaven and earth
 And all between! That
 Were the thought of Unbelievers!
 But woe to the Unbelievers
 Because of the Fire (of Hell)!

٢٧- وَ مَا خَلَقْنَا السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْاَرْضَ وَ مَا بَيْنَهُمَا
 بَاطِلًا ۗ ذٰلِكَ ظَنُّ الَّذِيْنَ كَفَرُوْا
 قَوْلِيْ لِلَّذِيْنَ كَفَرُوْا مِنْ النَّارِ ۝

4177. Cf. ii. 30, and n. 47. David's kingly power, and the gifts of wisdom, justice, psalmody, and apostleship were bestowed on him as a trust. These great gifts were not to be a matter of self-glory.

4178. As stated in n. 4171 above, this vision and its moral are nowhere to be found in the Bible. Those who think they see a resemblance to the Parable of the prophet Nathan (2 Samuel, xii. 1-12) have nothing to go upon but the mention of the "one ewe" here and the "one little ewe-lamb" in Nathan's Parable. The whole story is here different, and the whole atmosphere is different. The Biblical title given to David, "a man after God's own heart" is refuted by the Bible itself in the scandalous tale of heinous crimes attributed to David in chapters xi. and xii. of 2 Samuel, viz. adultery, fraudulent dealing with one of his own servants, and the contriving of his murder. Further, in chapter xiii., we have the story of rapes, incest, and fratricide in David's own household! The fact is that passages like those are mere chroniques scandaleuses, i.e., narratives of scandalous crimes of the grossest character. The Muslim idea of David is that of a man just and upright, endowed with all the virtues, in whom even the least thought of self-elation has to be washed off by repentance and forgiveness. The spiritual lessons here taught soar into the highest regions of mysticism.

4179. Cf. iii. 191. Unbelief is the subjective negation of a belief in Order, Beauty, Purpose, and Eternal Life. Unbelief is to Faith as Chaos is to Cosmos, as the Fire of Misery is to the Garden of Bliss.

28. Shall We treat those Who believe and work deeds <sup>4180</sup>
Of righteousness, the same
As those who do mischief
On earth? Shall We treat
Those who guard against evil,
The same as those who
Turn aside from the right?

٢٨- أَمْ نَجْعَلُ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
كَالْمُفْسِدِينَ فِي الْأَرْضِ
أَمْ نَجْعَلُ الْمُتَّقِينَ
كَالْفُجَّارِ ۝

29. (Here is) a Book which
We have sent down
Unto thee, full of blessings, <sup>4181</sup>
That they may meditate
On its Signs, and that
Men of understanding may
Receive admonition.

٢٩- كِتَابٌ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ إِلَيْكَ
مُبَارَكٌ لِيَدَّبُرُوا آيَاتِهِ
وَلِيَتَذَكَّرَ أُولُو الْأَلْبَابِ ۝

30. ~~How~~ David We gave
Solomon (for a son),— <sup>4182</sup>
How excellent in Our service!
Ever did he turn (to Us)!

٣٠- وَوَهَبْنَا لِذَاوُدَ سُلَيْمَانَ ۖ
نِعْمَ الْعَبْدُ إِنَّهُ أَوَّابٌ ۝

31. Behold, there were brought <sup>4183</sup>
Before him, at eventide,
Coursers of the highest breeding, <sup>4184</sup>
And swift of foot;

٣١- إِذْ عَرَّضَ عَلَيْهِ بِالْعَشِيِّ
الصُّفُنَاتُ الْجَيَادُ ۝

4180. The reference to the Hereafter at the end of verse 26 above is of a piece with the whole tenor of this Sūra, which deals with the superiority of the spiritual kingdom and the Hereafter. If there were no Hereafter, how could you reconcile the inequalities of this world? Would not the Unbelievers be right in acting as if all Creation and all life were futile? But there is a Hereafter and God will not treat the Good and Evil alike. He is just and will fully restore the balance disturbed in this life.

4181. Revelation is not a mere chance or haphazard thing. It is a real blessing—among the greatest that God has bestowed on man. By meditation on it in an earnest spirit man may learn of himself, and his relation to nature around him and to God the Author of all. Men of understanding may, by its help, resolve all genuine doubts that there may be in their minds, and learn the true lessons of spiritual life.

4182. The greatest in this life have yet need of this spiritual blessing: without it all worldly good is futile. Referring back to the story of David, we are now introduced to Solomon, who was a great king but greater still because he served God and turned to Him. The Qur-ān, unlike the Old Testament, represents Solomon as a righteous king, not as an idolater, doing "evil in the sight of the Lord" (1 Kings, xi. 6).

4183. The passages about David and Solomon have been variously interpreted by the Commentators. The versions which I have suggested have good authority behind them, though I have followed my own judgment in filling in the details.

4184. Ṣāfināt: literally, horses that stand, when at ease, on three legs, firmly planted, with the hoof of the fourth leg resting lightly on the ground. This would imply breeding and a steady temper, to match with their quality of swiftness mentioned in the next clause.

32. And he said, " Truly
Do I love the love<sup>4185</sup>
Of Good, with a view
To the glory of my Lord,"—
Until (the sun) was hidden
In the veil (of Night) : <sup>4186</sup>

٣٢- فَقَالَ إِنِّي أَحْبَبْتُ حُبَّ الْخَيْرِ
عَنْ ذِكْرِ رَبِّي
حَتَّى تَوَارَتْ بِالْحِجَابِ ۝

33. "Bring them back to me."
Then began he to pass<sup>4187</sup>
His hand over (their) legs
And their necks.

٣٣- رُدُّوْهَا عَلَيَّ قَطْفِقَ مَسْحًا بِالسُّوقِ
وَالْأَعْنَاقِ ۝

34. And We did try<sup>4188</sup>
Solomon : We placed
On his throne a body<sup>4189</sup>
(Without life) : but he did turn
(To Us in true devotion) :

٣٤- وَلَقَدْ فَتَنَّا سُلَيْمَانَ
وَالْقَيْنَا عَلَى كُرْسِيِّهِ جَسَدًا
ثُمَّ أَنَابَ ۝

35. He said, "O my Lord!
Forgive me,<sup>4190</sup> and grant me<sup>4191</sup>

٣٥- قَالَ رَبِّ اغْفِرْ لِي وَهَبْ لِي

4185. The story is not found in the Old Testament. I interpret it to mean that, like his father David, Solomon was also most meticulous in not allowing the least motive of self to be mixed up with his spiritual virtues. He was fond of horses; he had great armies and wealth; but he used them all in God's service. Cf. xxvii. 19, n. 3259; xxvii. 40, n. 3276, etc. His battles were not fought for lust of blood, but as Jihāds in the cause of righteousness. His love of horses was not like that of a mere race-goer or of a warrior: there was a spiritual element in it. He loved by a kind of love which was spiritual,—the love of the highest Good.

4186. His review of his fine horses was interrupted by his evening devotions, but he resumed it after his devotions.

4187. Like all lovers of horses, he patted them on their necks and passed his hands over their fore-legs and was proud of having them—not as vanities but as a "lover of Good".

4188. What was the trial of Solomon? All the power, wealth, and glory, which were given to him were a spiritual trial to him. They might have turned another man's head, but he was staunch and true, and while he enjoyed and used all the power he had—over spirits, men, and the forces of nature, (see below), he kept his mind steady to the service of God. Cf. viii. 28, where "your possessions and your progeny" are declared to be "but a trial".

4189. "The body without life" on his throne has been variously interpreted. The interpretation that appeals to me most is that his earthly power, great as it was, was like a body without a soul, unless it was vivified by God's spirit. But Solomon did turn to God in true devotion, and his real power lay there. He did his best to root out idolatry, and he completed the Temple in Jerusalem for the worship of the One True God. Cf. his conversion of Bilqis the Queen of Sheba, xxvii. 40, n. 3276. See also vii. 148, where the same word Jasad is used in connection with the image of a calf which the Israelites had set up for worship in the absence of Moses. Men may worship worldly Power as they may worship an idol, and there is great temptation in such Power, though Solomon withstood such temptations.

I do not think that a reference to xxxiv. 14 (n. 3808) will fit the context here.

4190. The seeking of worldly Power, even if intended to be used for God's service, has a little of Self in it. It may be quite legitimate and even meritorious in ordinary men, but even the thought of it in a Prophet is to be apologised for. See a similar idea in the case of David explained in n. 4176 to xxxviii. 24 above.

4191. He asked for a Power that he would not misuse, though others might not be able to refrain from misusing it,—such as power over forces of nature or forces of violence (see the next three verses).

A Kingdom which,
(It may be), suits not
Another after me :
For Thou art the Grantor <sup>4193</sup>
Of Bounties (without measure).

36. Then We subjected the Wind <sup>4191</sup>
To his power, to flow
Gently to his order,
Whithersoever he willed,—

37. As also the evil ones, <sup>4194</sup>
(Including) every kind
Of builder and diver,—

38. As also others bound <sup>4195</sup>
Together in fetters.

39. "Such are Our Bounties :
Whether thou bestow them <sup>4196</sup>
(On others) or withhold them,
No account will be asked."

40. And he enjoyed, indeed, <sup>4197</sup>
A Near Approach to Us,
And a beautiful Place
Of (final) Return.

SECTION 4.

41. Commemorate Our Servant
Job. <sup>4198</sup>

مُلْكًا

لَا يَتَّبِعُنِي لِأَحَدٍ مِّنْ بَعْدِي ۗ
إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْوَهَّابُ ۝

۳۶- فَسَخَّرْنَا لَهُ الرِّيحَ

تَجْرِي بِأَمْرِهِ رُخَاءً حَيْثُ أَصَابَ ۝

۳۷- وَالشَّيَاطِينَ كُلَّ بَنَّاءٍ وَعَوَّاصٍ ۝

۳۸- وَالْآخِرِينَ مُمْقِرِينَ فِي الْأَصْفَادِ ۝

۳۹- هَذَا عَطَاؤُنَا

فَأَمْنٌ أَوْ أَمْسِكُ

بِغَيْرِ حِسَابٍ ۝

۴۰- وَإِنَّ لَهُ عِنْدَنَا لَزُلْفَىٰ

وَحُسْنِ مَّآبٍ ۝

۴۱- وَإِذْ ذُكِّرُوا عَبْدًا نَّآئِبًا إِذْ نَادَىٰ رَبَّهُ

4192. Cf. xxxviii. 9 above.

4193. Cf. xxi. 81, and n. 2736.

4194. Cf. xxi. 82, and n. 2738. Cf. also xxxiv. 12-13 and notes there : in the latter passage the spirits mentioned are called Jinns. The divers were probably those employed in pearl-fisheries.

4195. Cf. xiv. 49, where the same expression "bound together in fetters" is applied to Sinners on the Day of Judgment.

4196. God bestowed such abundant powers and bounties on Solomon that they could not be counted or measured ; and he was free to give away anything he liked or keep anything he liked. In this was great temptation for an ordinary man. Solomon as a prophet withstood it and asked to be forgiven for power and such a kingdom as others might not be able to use lawfully. His earthly kingdom went to pieces after his death. But his name and fame endure. And what is more, he obtained a place among the Nearest Ones to God. See next verse.

4197. The same words are used of David in xxxviii. 25 above, thus symmetrically closing the argument about the two greatest kings in Israel.

4198. For this passage, verses 41-44, cf. xxi. 83-84.

Behold he cried to his Lord :
 "The Evil One has afflicted
 Me with distress<sup>4199</sup> and suffering!"

42. (The command was given : )

"Strike with thy foot :<sup>4200</sup>
 Here is (water) wherein
 To wash, cool and refreshing,
 And (water) to drink."

43. And We gave him (back)
 His people, and doubled
 Their number,—as a Grace<sup>4201</sup>
 From Ourselves, and a thing
 For commemoration, for all
 Who have Understanding.

44. "And take in thy hand
 A little grass, and strike<sup>4202</sup>
 Therewith : and break not (Thy oath)." Truly We found
 Him full of patience and constancy.
 How excellent in Our service!<sup>4203</sup>
 Ever did he turn (to Us)!

45. And commemorate Our Servants
 Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob,
 Possessors of Power and Vision.<sup>4204</sup>

أَنِّي مَسَّنِيَ الشَّيْطَانُ بِنُصْبٍ وَعَذَابٍ ۝

٢٢- أَرْكُضْ بِرِجْلِكَ ۝

هَذَا مَغْتَسَلٌ ۝

بَارِدٌ وَشَرَابٌ ۝

٢٣- وَوَهَبْنَا لَهُ أَهْلَهُ

وَمِثْلَهُمْ مَعَهُمْ رَحْمَةً مِنَّا

وَذِكْرَى لِرَأُولِي الْكِبَابِ ۝

٢٤- وَخُذْ بِيَدِكَ ضِعْفًا

فَأَضْرِبْ بِهِ وَلَا تُخَنِّتْ ۝

إِنَّا وَجَدْنَاهُ صَابِرًا ۝

نِعْمَ الْعَبْدُ إِنَّهُ أَوَّابٌ ۝

٢٥- وَاذْكُرْ عَبْدَنَا إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَإِسْحَاقَ

يَعْقُوبَ أُولِي الْأَيْدِي وَالْأَبْصَارِ ۝

4199. The distress was of many kinds, physical, mental, and spiritual. See n. 2739 to xxi. 83. He suffered from loathsome sores; he lost his home, his possessions, and his family; and almost his balance of mind. But he did not lose Faith but turned to God (see verse 44 below), and the recuperative process began.

4200. The recuperative process having begun, he was commanded to strike the earth or a rock with his foot, and a fountain or fountains gushed forth,—to give him a bath and clean his body; to refresh his spirits; and to give him drink and rest. This is a fresh touch, not mentioned in S. xxi. or in the Book of Job, but adding beautifully to our realisation of the picture.

4201. Cf. xxi. 84, and notes 2739-2740.

4202. In his worst distress Job was patient and constant in faith, but apparently his wife was not. According to the Book of Job (ii. 9-10), "Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still retain thine integrity? Curse God, and die. But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh. What? Shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips." He must have said in his haste to the woman that he would beat her: he is asked now to correct her with only a wisp of grass, to show that he was gentle and humble as well as patient and constant.

4203. Cf. xxxviii. 30 above, where similar words are spoken of Solomon. Patience and constancy are also a form of service, if our attitude is due to an active faith in God, and not mere passivity. So Milton in his Sonnet: "They also serve who only stand and wait."

4204. In the last Sūra (xxxvii. 83-113) Abraham and Isaac (and by implication Jacob) were mentioned as resisting Evil and winning through. Here they are mentioned as men with spiritual power and vision, Israelite patriarchs, who bore witness to the Gospel of the Hereafter, and were therefore a blessing to their people, for they taught the Truth.

46. Verily We did choose them
For a special (purpose)—
Proclaiming the Message
Of the Hereafter.
47. They were, in Our sight,
Truly, of the company
Of the Elect and the Good.
48. And commemorate Ismā'il,<sup>4205</sup>
Elisha, and Zūl-Kifl :
Each of them was
Of the company of the Good.
49. This is a Message
(Of admonition) : and verily,
For the Righteous,<sup>4206</sup>
Is a beautiful place
Of (final) Return,—
50. Gardens of Eternity,
Whose doors will (ever)
Be open to them ;<sup>4207</sup>
51. Therein will they
Recline (at ease) ;
Therein can they
Call (at pleasure)
For fruit in abundance,<sup>4208</sup>
And (delicious) drink ;

۴۶- إِنَّا أَخْلَصْنَاهُمْ بِخَالِصَةٍ
ذِكْرَى الدَّارِ ۝

۴۷- وَإِنَّهُمْ عِنْدَنَا لَمِنَ
الْمُصْطَفَيْنَ الْأَخْيَارِ ۝

۴۸- وَادْكُرْ إِسْمَاعِيلَ وَالْيَسَعَ وَذَا الْكِفْلِ
وَكُلٌّ مِّنَ الْأَخْيَارِ ۝

۴۹- هَذَا ذِكْرٌ
وَإِنَّ لِلْمُتَّقِينَ لَحُسْنَ مَآبٍ ۝

۵۰- جَنَّاتٍ عَدْنٍ
مُّفْتَتِحَةً لَهُمُ الْأَبْوَابُ ۝

۵۱- مُتَّكِنِينَ فِيهَا
يَدْعُونَ فِيهَا بِفَاكِهَةٍ كَثِيرَةٍ
وَشَرَابٍ ۝

4205. Ismā'il, the Patriarch of the Arab race, was also mentioned (xxxvii. 101-107) as a pattern of self-sacrifice ; now he is mentioned in the company of the Good, i.e., of those who were a blessing to their people Here he is bracketed with Elisha (for whom see n. 906 to vi 86), and Zūl-Kifl (for whom see n. 2743 to xxi. 85). All these three were examples of constancy and patience under suffering.

4206. Some of the pre-eminent examples of the Elect and the Good having been mentioned, we have now a reference to the Righteous as a body (rank and file as well as leaders) and their future in the Hereafter as won by victory over Evil.

4207. The Final Bliss will not be a hole-and-corner thing, a pale reflection of some Palace or Retreat, where mystery reigns behind closed doors. Its doors will be open, and its inmates will be free to go in and out as they will, because their wills will be purified and brought into accord with the Universal Law.

4208. See n. 4003 to xxxvi. 57. The free Gardens are types of satisfaction in external surroundings ; the comfortable reclining thrones, the fruit, and the drink are types of the soul's individual satisfaction ; and the society of pure-minded companions, of equal ages, is the type of a soul's social satisfaction.

52. And beside them will be
Chaste women restraining <sup>4209</sup>
Their glances, (companions)
Of equal age. <sup>4210</sup>

٥٢- وَعِنْدَهُمْ قَصِيرَاتُ
الْقُرُوفِ أَسْرَابٌ ۝

53. Such is the Promise
Made to you
For the Day of Account !

٥٣- هَذَا مَا تُوْعَدُونَ
لِيَوْمِ الْحِسَابِ ۝

54. Truly such will be
Our Bounty (to you) ;
It will never fail ;—

٥٤- إِنَّ هَذَا لِرِزْقِنَا
مَالٌ مِنْ تَفَادٍ ۝

55. Yea, such ! But—
For the wrong-doers
Will be an evil place <sup>4211</sup>
Of (final) Return !—

٥٥- هَذَا وَإِنَّ لِلظَّالِمِينَ
لَشَرَّمًا ۝

56. Hell !—they will burn
Therein,—an evil bed
(Indeed, to lie on) !— <sup>4212</sup>

٥٦- جَهَنَّمَ يَصْلُونَهَا
فَيْسَ الْمِهَادُ ۝

57. Yea, such !—Then
Shall they taste it,—
A boiling fluid, and a fluid <sup>4213</sup>
Dark, murky, intensely cold !—

٥٧- هَذَا فَلْيَدُّ وَقْوُهُ
حَمِيمٌ وَغَسَّاقٌ ۝

58. And other Penalties
Of a similar kind,
To match them !

٥٨- وَآخَرُ مِنْ شَكْلِهِ أَزْوَاجٌ ۝

4209. Cf. xxxvii. 48 and n. 4064, and xxxvi. 56, n. 4002. As we conceive happiness in this life, it is not complete if it is only solitary. How we hanker after some one who can share in our highest joy ! That feeling is also figured here.

4210. To make the metaphor of social happiness complete, we want companionship of equal age. Age and youth cannot be happy together. It is not suggested that in the Timeless state figured here, there will be old age ; but if it is possible to conceive of temperamental differences then, the company will be so arranged that it will be congenial. Or we can accept the type of youth and freshness as common to all in that happy state.

4211. This is in parallel contrast to the state of the Blessed in xxxviii. 49 above.

4212. Cf. xiv. 29. This continues the parallel contrast to the state of the Blessed already described.

4213. Cf. x. 4, and n. 1390. The conjunction of the boiling fluid with the dark, murky, intensely cold fluid heightens the effect of the Penalty. In place of harmony, there is the discord of extreme opposites. And the discord is not confined to this : it runs through the whole idea of Hell. See the next verse.

59. Here is a troop
Rushing headlong with you !<sup>4214</sup>
No welcome for them !
Truly, they shall burn
In the Fire !

60. (The followers shall cry
To the misleaders :)
"Nay, ye (too) ! No welcome
For you ! It is ye who
Have brought this upon us !"<sup>4215</sup>
Now evil is (this) place
To stay in !"

61. They will say : " Our Lord !
Whoever brought this upon us, —
Add to him a double<sup>4216</sup>
Penalty in the Fire ! "

62. And they will say :
" What has happened to us
That we see not men
Whom we used to number
Among the bad ones ? "<sup>4217</sup>

63. " Did we treat them
(As such) in ridicule,
Or have (our) eyes
Failed to perceive them ? "

64. Truly that is just and fitting, —<sup>4218</sup>
The mutual recriminations
Of the People of the Fire !

٥٩- هَذَا فَوْجٌ مُّقْتَدِمٌ مَّعَكُمْ
لَا مَرْحَبًا بِهِمْ
إِنَّهُمْ صَالُوا النَّارِ ○

٦٠- قَالُوا بَلْ أَنْتُمْ
لَا مَرْحَبًا بِكُمْ
أَنْتُمْ قَدْ مَتَمُّوهُ لَنَا
فَيْسَ الْقَرَارُ ○

٦١- قَالُوا رَبَّنَا مَنْ قَدَّمَ لَنَا هَذَا
فَزِدْهُ عَذَابًا ضِعْفًا فِي النَّارِ ○

٦٢- وَقَالُوا مَا لَنَا لَا نَرَى رِجَالًا
كُنَّا لَعْنُهُمْ مِنْ الْأَشْرَارِ ○

٦٣- أَلَمْ نَخُذْ لَهُمْ سِخْرِيًا
أَمْ زَاغَتْ عَنْهُمْ الْأَبْصَارُ ○

٦٤- إِنَّ ذَلِكَ لَحَقٌّ
تَخَاصُمُ أَهْلِ النَّارِ ○

4214. The wonder is that so many people should embrace Evil, and in so much hurry and eagerness ! Here they may be welcomed by the leaders of Evil, but in the final state it will be the opposite of welcome. They will be followed with reproaches and curses.

4215. It is the nature of Evil to shift the blame on to others. The followers will reproach the leaders, but none can escape personal responsibility for his own acts and deeds !

4216. Cf. vii. 38, and n. 1019. See also xi. 20. The evil ones now vent their spite on others. Here they ask for a double penalty for their misleaders, but they forget their own personal responsibility. In the next verse, they express their surprise that others have escaped the torments, which they themselves have earned !

4217. The bad ones : i.e., the ones whom they (evil ones) ridiculed as fools sure to come to an evil end, because they refused to join in with the evil ones in their plots. The values are now reversed. The good ones are among the Blessed, and are not to be seen in the " Bed of Misery ". The ridicule is now against the evil ones.

4218. The mutual recriminations and spite are themselves a part of the Penalty, for such feelings increase their unhappiness.

C. 202.—The Gospel of Unity is the true Cure
(xxxviii. 65-88.) For Evil : for it gives the good news
Of God's Power Supreme, and His Mercy
And Forgiveness again and again. It warns
Us to avoid Evil, for Evil arose
From selfish Pride and Rebellion. No power
Has it over God's servants, sincere
And true : while Revelation comes
As a gift free to all God's Creation.

SECTION 5.

65. Say : " Truly am I
A Warner : no god
Is there but the One
God, Supreme and Irresistible,—<sup>4219</sup>

66. " The Lord of the heavens
And the earth, and all
Between,—Exalted in Might,
Able to enforce His Will,<sup>4220</sup>
Forgiving again and again."<sup>4221</sup>

67. Say : " That is a Message
Supreme (above all),—

68. " From which ye
Do turn away !<sup>4222</sup>

69. " No knowledge have I
Of the Chiefs on high,
When they discuss
(Matters) among themselves."<sup>4223</sup>

٦٥- قُلْ إِنَّمَا أَنَا مُنذِرٌ
وَمَا مِنْ إِلَهٍ إِلَّا اللَّهُ الْوَاحِدُ الْقَهَّارُ ۝

٦٦- رَبُّ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا
الْعَزِيزُ الْغَفَّارُ ۝

٦٧- قُلْ هُوَ نَبُوءٌ عَظِيمٌ ۝

٦٨- أَنْتُمْ عَنْهُ مُعْرِضُونَ ۝

٦٩- مَا كَانَ لِي مِنْ عِلْمٍ بِالْمَلَأِ الْأَعْلَى
إِذْ يَخْتَصِمُونَ ۝

4219. Cf. xii. 39, where Joseph preaches to the men in prison. The one supreme Message of importance to mankind was (and is) the Unity of God : that He is the Creator and Sustainer of all ; that His Will is supreme ; that He can carry out His Will without question, and no powers of Evil can defeat it ; and that He forgives by His grace again and again. This Message the holy Prophet came to deliver, and he delivered it.

4220. In n. 2818 to xxii. 40, I have explained the full import of 'Azīz as a title applied to God, and I have expressed two of the leading ideas involved, in the two lines here. The argument in this Sūra turns upon the contrast between earthly Power and the Divine Power : the one is impotent and the other is supreme.

4221. Gaffār is the emphatic intensive form, and I have accordingly translated it as " Forgiving again and again ". Cf. xx. 82.

4222. The Message which is of supreme import to mankind,—from that they turn away. Instead of profiting by it, they turn away to side issues, or unprofitable speculation : such as : what is the origin of Evil ; when will judgment come ? etc.

4223. The hierarchy in Heaven, under God's command, discuss questions of high import in the Universe. Those are not necessarily revealed to men, except in so far as it is good for men to know, as in verses 71-85 below. But the chief thing for man is to know that God is Most Merciful, that He forgives again and again, and that Evil has no power over those who trust in God.

70. ' Only this has been revealed
To me : that I am
To give warning
Plainly and publicly.' <sup>4224</sup>

٤٠- إِنْ يُؤْتَىٰ إِلَيَّ إِلَّا أَنَّمَا أَنَا
نَذِيرٌ مُّبِينٌ ○

71. Behold, thy Lord said <sup>4225</sup>
To the angels : " I am
About to create man
From clay : <sup>4226</sup>

٤١- إِذْ قَالَ رَبُّكَ لِلْمَلٰئِكَةِ إِنِّي
خَالِقٌ بَشَرًا مِّنْ طِينٍ ○

72. " When I have fashioned him
(In due proportion) and breathed
Into him of My spirit, <sup>4227</sup>
Fall ye down in obeisance
Unto him."

٤٢- نٰذَا اَسْوَيْتُهُ وَنَفَخْتُ
فِيْهِ مِنْ رُّوْحِي
فَقَعُوْا لَهٗ سٰجِدِيْنَ ○

73. So the angels prostrated themselves,
All of them together :

٤٣- فَسَجَدَ الْمَلٰئِكَةُ كُلُّهُمْ اٰجْمَعُوْنَ ○

74. Not so Iblīs : he
Was haughty, and became <sup>4228</sup>
One of those who reject Faith.

٤٣- اِلَّا اِبْلِيسَ اِسْتَكْبَرَ وَكَانَ
مِنَ الْكٰفِرِيْنَ ○

75. (God) said : " O Iblīs!
What prevents thee from
Prostrating thyself to one
Whom I have created
With My hands ? <sup>4229</sup>
Art thou haughty ?

٤٥- قَالَ يَا اِبْلِيسُ مَا مَنَعَكَ
اَنْ تَسْجُدَ لِمَا خَلَقْتُ بِیَدَيَّ
اَسْتَكْبَرْتَ

4224. Two things are implied in Mubīn : (1) that the warning should be clear and perspicuous ; there should be no mincing of matters, no ambiguity, no compromise with evil, vii. 184 ; (2) that the warning should be delivered publicly, before all people, in spite of opposition and persecution, xxvi. 115. Both these ideas I have tried to express in this passage.

4225. Two passages may be compared with this : viz. : (1) ii. 30-39, where merely the first stages of the Rebellion against God and its consequences to mankind are mentioned, and (2) xv. 29-40, where the further intrusion of evil in man's life here below is referred to, and an assurance is given that Evil will have no power except over those who yield to it. The latter is the passage most relevant here, as we are now dealing with the spiritual power of Revelation to defeat the machinations of Evil.

4226. This shows that the material world round us was created by God before God fashioned man and breathed of His soul into him. Geology also shows that man came on the scene at a very late stage in the history of this planet.

4227. See n. 1968 to xv. 29, where the spiritual significance of this is explained.

4228. Arrogance (self-love) is thus the root of Evil and of Unfaith.

4229. With My hands : i.e., by My power and creative skill. This is the point. Man, as typified by Adam, is in himself nothing but frail clay. But as fashioned by God's creative power into something with God's spirit breathed into him, his dignity is raised above that of the highest creatures.

Or art thou one <sup>4230</sup>
Of the high (and mighty) ones ?”

76. (Iblis) said : “ I am better
Than he : Thou createdst
Me from fire, and him
Thou createdst from clay.”

77. (God) said : “ Then get thee
Out from here : for thou
Art rejected, accursed.

78. “ And My Curse shall be
On thee till the Day <sup>4231</sup>
Of Judgment.”

79. (Iblis) said : “ O my Lord !
Give me then respite <sup>4232</sup>
Till the Day
The (dead) are raised.”

80. (God) said : “ Respite then
Is granted thee—

81. “ Till the Day
Of the Time Appointed.” <sup>4233</sup>

82. (Iblis) said : “ Then,
By Thy Power, <sup>4234</sup> I will Put them all in the wrong,—<sup>4235</sup>

أَمْ كُنْتَ مِنَ الْعَالِينَ ○

٤٦- قَالَ أَنَا خَيْرٌ مِنْهُ خَلَقْتَنِي
مِنْ نَّارٍ وَخَلَقْتَهُ مِنْ طِينٍ ○

٤٧- قَالَ فَأَخْرِجْ مِنْهَا
فَأَنْتَ رَجِيمٌ ○

٤٨- وَإِنَّ عَلَيْكَ لَعْنَتِي
إِلَى يَوْمِ الدِّينِ ○

٤٩- قَالَ رَبِّ فَأَنْظِرْنِي
إِلَى يَوْمِ يُبْعَثُونَ ○

٥٠- قَالَ فَأَنْتَ مِنَ الْمُنْظَرِينَ ○

٥١- إِلَى يَوْمِ الْوَقْتِ الْمَعْلُومِ ○

٥٢- قَالَ فَبِعِزَّتِكَ
لَأُغْوِيَنَّهُمْ أَجْمَعِينَ ○

4230. If, then, Satan refuses, it is a rebellion against God. It arises from arrogance or haughtiness, an exaggerated idea of Self. Or, it is asked, are you really sufficiently high in rank to dispute with the Almighty? Of course he was not.

4231. See n. 1972 to xv. 35, where it is explained why the respite is to the Day of Judgment. The whole of that passage in S. xv. forms a good commentary on this.

4232. For the significance of the respite see n. 1973 to xv. 36.

4233. It is not an indefinite respite. It is for a period definitely limited, while this our Probation lasts in this world. It is part of the test as to how we use our limited free-will. After that, our whole existence will be on a different plane. The good will have been sorted out, the chain of consequences of the present world will be broken, and “ a new Creation ” will have taken the place of the present World.

4234. This phrase, this oath of Satan, is a fresh point introduced in this passage, because here we are dealing with Power—the Power of Good contrasted with Evil,—the spiritual Power of God as contrasted with the power that we see in our earthly affairs. Satan acknowledges that even his Power, such as it is, has no reality except in so far as it is permitted to operate by God in God's wise and universal Plan, and that it cannot harm the true and sincere worshippers of God.

4235. See n. 1974 to xv. 39.

83. "Except Thy Servants
Amongst them, sincere
And purified (by Thy grace)."

○ ٨٣-الْأَعْبَادُكَ مِنْهُمْ الْمُخْلِصِينَ

88. "And ye shall certainly
Know the truth of it (all) <sup>4241</sup>
After a while."

٨٨-وَلَتَعْلَمَنَّ نَبَأَ بَعْدِ حِينٍ ○

4236. Cf. n. 1990 to xv. 64.

4237. Cf. vii. 18; vii. 179; and xi. 119, n. 1623. The punishment of defiance, disobedience, and rebellion is inevitable and just, and the followers who choose to identify themselves with the disobedience must suffer as well as the leaders. Cf. x. 33.

4238. Cf. xxv. 57; xxvi. 109; and many other passages. The prophet of God neither seeks nor expects any reward from men. On the contrary he suffers much at their hands. He is unselfish and offers his services under God's inspiration. He is satisfied with the hope "that each one who will may take a straight Path to his Lord". That is his reward. And the reward he hopes for from God is similarly unselfish. He earnestly hopes to win His Good Pleasure—or, to use another metaphor, "to see His Face"

4239. Mutakallif: a man who pretends to things that are not true, or declares as facts things that do not exist, one who takes upon himself tasks to which he is not equal. True prophets are not people of that kind.

4240. So far from there being any false or selfish motive in the Message proclaimed in Revelation, it is a healing mercy to all mankind. More, it is in accord with all parts of God's Creation, and makes us kin with all Creation, the handiwork of the One True God.

4241. There may be many things which we in our "muddy vesture of decay" may not fully understand or take in. If we only follow the right Path, we shall arrive at the Goal in the Hereafter, and then everything will be clear to us.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XXXIX (Zumar).

This is the last of the series of six Sūras beginning with S. xxxiv., which deal with the mysteries of the spiritual world, as leading up to the Ma'ād, or the Hereafter. See Introduction to S. xxxiv.

Its subject-matter is how Creation in its great variety is yet sorted out in Groups or Classes, all governed by one Plan, and created and sustained by One God, Who will separate Good from Evil at the last Day. The word zumar occurs in verses 71 and 73.

Its chronology has no significance. It belongs to the later Meccan period.

Summary.—The variety in Creation yet points to unity of Plan : there is only One God : to Him is due all worship and from Him flow all Justice and Grace (xxxix. 1-21, and C. 203).

There is unity in Revelation, and guidance comes from God alone : turn to Him only, for all else is false (xxxix. 22-52, and C. 204).

God's Mercy is all-embracing : despair not : seek it before it is too late : for Judgment and Justice will come for certain (xxxix. 53-75, and C. 205).

C. 203.—To God is due sincere devotion, and to Him
 (xxxix. 1-21.) Alone : there is none like unto Him.
 All nature obeys His laws, and our own
 Growth and life proclaim Him Lord
 And Cherisher. How can we blaspheme ?
 We must serve Him, the One, the True,
 With sincere devotion, and follow His Law
 In its highest meaning : or else the loss
 Is our own. All nature proclaims
 Aloud His Grace and Loving-kindness.

Sūra XXXIX.

Zumar, or the Crowds.

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. Al The revelation
Of this Book
Is from God, <sup>4242</sup>
The Exalted in Power,
Full of Wisdom.
2. Verily it is We Who have Revealed the Book to thee
In Truth : so serve God,
Offering Him sincere devotion.
3. Is it not to God <sup>4243</sup>
That sincere devotion
Is due? But those who Take for protectors others
Than God (say): "We only
Serve them in order that
They may bring us nearer <sup>4244</sup>
To God." Truly God
Will judge between them
In that wherein they differ. <sup>4245</sup>
But God guides not
Such as are false
And ungrateful.

4242. In connection with Revelation two qualities of God are mentioned: (1) that He is All-Powerful and can carry out His Will in spite of all opposition; and (2) that He is full of knowledge and wisdom. The first answers those who question how God can send Revelation to man; the second explains that true wisdom consists in carrying out God's Will as revealed to us.

4243. In the many Signs in Creation as described below, there yet is a clear indication of the unity of Plan, pointing to the Unity of the Creator. Worship or service is due to none but Him. And He wants exclusive and sincere devotion.

4244. Worshipers of Idols or of deities other than God, e.g., saints or perhaps Wealth and Power, Science or Selfish Desire, may pretend that these are symbols that may get them nearer to their self-development, nearer to the goal of their life, nearer to God, but they are altogether on the wrong track.

4245. This departure of theirs from true worship, this divergence from the right way, produces endless disputations and sects. God will judge between them. But if they are determined to go after falsehoods and forget the gratitude and service which they owe to God, and God alone, they are putting themselves on a Path where they will get no guidance. They are cutting themselves off from revealed Truth.

4. Had God wished
To take to Himself
A son, He could have Chosen whom He pleased
Out of those whom He <sup>4246</sup>
Doth create : but Glory
Be to Him! (He is above
Such things.) He is God,
The One, the Irresistible.

He makes the Night

He has subjected
The sun and the moon

6. He created you (all)
From a single Person : <sup>4249</sup>

His mate ; and He
Sent down for you eight head <sup>4250</sup>

He makes you,

٦- خَلَقَكُمْ مِنْ نَفْسٍ وَاحِدَةٍ

أَنْزَلَ لَكُمْ مِنَ الْأَنْعَامِ ثَمَنِيَّةَ أَزْوَاجٍ
يَخْلُقُكُمْ فِي بُطُونِ

4246. It is blasphemy to say that God begot a son. If that were true, He should have had a wife (vi. 101), and His son would have been of the same kind as Himself; whereas God is one, with no one else like unto Him (cxii. 4). Begetting is an animal act which goes with sex. How can it be consistent with our conception of One Who is above all Creatures? If such a blasphemous thought were possible, as that God wanted some one else to help Him, He could have chosen the best of His creatures instead of lowering Himself to an animal act. But glory to God! He is above such things! His Unity is the first thing that we have to learn about Him. As He is Omnipotent, He requires no creatures to help Him or bring other creatures to Him.

4247. Cf. vi. 73, and n. 896.

4248. His Power is equalled by His Mercy. Who can there be like unto Him?

4249. Cf. iv. 1, and n. 504.

4250. See vi. 143-4, where four kinds of cattle are mentioned in pairs in connection with certain Arab superstitions which are there condemned. Here the same four kinds are mentioned as representative of domesticated cattle given by God as useful to man. These are sheep, goats, camels, and oxen. In Arab idiom the horse is not included among "cattle".

For the wisdom and goodness of God in granting man dominion over cattle, see xxxvi. 71-73, 4251. See xxii. 5, where the gradual physical growth of man in several successive stages is mentioned as one of the Signs of God's creative Power and cherishing care.

4252. The three veils of darkness which cover the unborn child are : the caul or membrane, the womb, and the hollow in which the womb is enclosed. But we might understand "three" in a cumulative rather than a numerical sense.

4253. It is clear that you owe your very existence and your maintenance, growth, and preservation, to God. He is the centre of your being : how is it that you are turned away by chance things from Him ?

4254. God is independent of all wants, and therefore man's ingratitude does not affect God. But God cares for man, and therefore man's gratitude and service earn God's Good Pleasure, and man's ingratitude and rebellion are displeasing to God.

4255. Cf. vi. 164. The account is between you and God. No one else can take your burdens or carry your sins. Vicarious atonement would be unjust. You have to return to God in the Hereafter. You will find that He knows all that you did in this life, and its full significance. He will explain to you even better than you can understand yourself ; because all your secret hidden motives, which you sometimes tried to ignore yourself, are fully known to Him.

4256. Cf. x. 12. Trouble and adversity often bring a man to his bearings. But if he is not firm and constant, he forgets the lessons which life is meant to teach him. As soon as he gets a little prosperity, he forgets that it is from God, and attributes it to something which may only be a secondary cause, e.g., his own efforts or the Powers of Nature, or something which he has invented and made into a god, e.g., idols or fate. God is the Ultimate Cause of all things. To set up rivals to Him in this way is not only wrong and degrading to the false worshipper himself, but misleads countless ignorant people, who may not be able to make allowances for the figures of speech or the symbolism by which subtler minds can explain away falsehoods.

Turning to Him in repentance :

SECTION 2.

- 10 Say : " O ye
 My servants who believe !
 Fear your Lord. <sup>4260</sup>
 Good is (the reward)
 For those who do good
 In this world.

۱۰- قُلْ يٰعِبَادِ الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوا اتَّقُوا رَبَّكُمْ
 لِلَّذِيْنَ اَحْسَنُوْا
 فِيْ هٰذِهِ الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةٌ

4257. Those who practise and those who teach evil and blasphemy may seem to flourish in this world. But their satisfaction will be of very short duration. They are treading all the while the Path that leads to the Fire of Perdition.

4258. Cf. iii. 113-117. It is a great thing when a man gets into the attitude of humble devotion to God. To him the hereafter is a real thing, and he prepares for it with good works. He does not build his hopes on the vanities of this world, but on God's Grace and Mercy. Such a man is "endued with understanding" and receives God's Message with fervour and alacrity. He is not to be compared with the cynic or the unbeliever, who knows nothing of the real value of the inner life.

4259. Cf. iii. 19.

4260. The "fear of God" (Taqwā) is explained in n. 26 to ii. 2. See also n. 2912 to xxiii. 60. The fear of God is akin to love, for it means that we are afraid to displease Him.

Spacious is God's earth ! <sup>4261</sup>
 Those who patiently persevere
 Will truly receive
 A reward without measure ! ”

13. Say: “ I would, if I <sup>4263</sup>
 Disobeyed my Lord,
 Indeed have fear
 Of the Penalty
 Of a Mighty Day.”

۱۳- قُلْ إِنِّي أَخَافُ
 إِنْ عَصَيْتُ رَبِّي
 عَذَابَ يَوْمٍ عَظِيمٍ ۝

14. Say: “ It is God I serve,
 With my sincere
 (And exclusive) devotion :

۱۴- قُلْ اللَّهُ أَعْبُدُ مُخْلِصًا لَهُ دِينِي ۝

15. “ Serve ye what ye will <sup>4264</sup>
 Besides Him.” Say :
 “ Truly, those in loss
 Are those who lose
 Their own souls
 And their People <sup>4265</sup>
 On the Day of Judgment :
 Ah ! that is indeed
 The (real and) evident Loss !

۱۵- فَاعْبُدُوا مَا شِئْتُمْ مِنْ دُونِهِ قُلْ

 وَأَهْلِيَهُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ
 أَلَا ذَلِكَ هُوَ الْخُسْرَانُ الْمُبِينُ ۝

4261. Cf. xxix. 56 and n. 3489. We must always do right. We cannot plead that the circumstances in which we find ourselves force our hands. If our home conditions do not allow us to act according to the Faith that is in us, we must be prepared to suffer ostracism or even exile.

4262. Cf. vi. 14. “ The first ” need not necessarily be chronological : it may also refer to the first rank in zeal, and in readiness to suffer for the Cause.

4263. Cf. vi. 15. The worst Penalty in a spiritual sense is the Displeasure of God, just as the highest achievement, the fulfilment of all desire, is the attainment of God's Good Pleasure : vi. 16:

4264. This is not a command or permission but a reproach and warning. The address of the man of God may be paraphrased thus : ‘ Whatever happens I will follow the command of God. He has revealed Himself, and I know that He is One, supreme over all creatures. Him alone will I serve. Is there any so ignorant as to seek anyone else ? Let him do so and see the result. The loss will be his own. For he falls from Grace into Evil.’

4265. The cult of Evil results in the destruction of all that is best and most valuable in us, as well as poisons all the affections which link us to our families, friends, and people, in the Final Adjustment, which we call the Day of Judgment.

16. They shall have Layers<sup>4266</sup>

17. Those who eschew Evil,—
And fall not into<sup>4268</sup>
Its worship,—and turn
To God (in repentance),—
For them is Good News:
So announce the Good News
To My Servants,—

١٧- وَالَّذِينَ اجْتَنَبُوا الطَّاغُوتَ اَنْ يَّعْبُدُوْهَا
وَ اٰنَابُوْا اِلَى اللّٰهِ لَهُمُ الْبُشْرٰى<sup>ع</sup>
بِبُشْرٰى عِبَادِ ۝

18. Those who listen
To the Word,
And follow
The best (meaning) in it: <sup>4269</sup>
Those are the ones
Whom God has guided, and those
Are the ones endued
With understanding.

١٨- الَّذِينَ يَسْتَمْعُونَ الْقَوْلَ
فَيَتَّبِعُونَ اَحْسَنَهُ<sup>ط</sup>
اُولٰٓئِكَ الَّذِينَ هَدٰى اللّٰهُ
وَاُولٰٓئِكَ هُمُ الْاٰلِ الْاَبَابِ ۝

19. Is, then, one against whom
The decree of Punishment

١٩- اَفَمَنْ حَقَّ عَلَيْهِ كَلِمَةُ الْعَذَابِ<sup>ط</sup>

4266. The consequences of Sin when Judgment comes are aptly figured by Layers upon Layers of Fire, which hem in the sinners above and below. It is also suggested that the Layers, though of Fire, have something dark in them—the scorching quality of Sin.

4267. But God does not leave mankind without warning. Man has been granted a limited amount of free-will, and in order to help him in its right use, all the consequences of his action are clearly explained to him. To those who will listen to Reason are given arguments which can be apprehended by their own intelligence; to those who are swayed by affections and emotion, an appeal is made in the name of the love of God; to those who understand nothing but fear, the warning is conveyed by a portrayal of the dreadful consequences of wrong-doing.

4268. There is always the danger that Evil may seize us even if we approach it out of mere curiosity. If we take an interest in it we may become its worshippers or slaves. The wise man eschews it altogether, and so he enrolls among the Servants of God, and gets the good news of His Mercy and Good Pleasure.

4269. The Commentators construe this clause in two alternative ways. (1) If "word" be taken as any word, the clause would mean that good men listen to all that is said and choose the best of it. (2) If "word" be taken to mean God's Word, it would mean that they should listen reverently to it, and where permissive and alternative courses are allowed for those who are not strong enough to follow the higher course, those "endued with understanding" should prefer to attempt the higher course of conduct. For Example, it is permitted (within limits) to punish those who wrong us, but the nobler course is to repel evil with good (xxiii. 96): we should try to follow the nobler course. I prefer the latter construction: it accords better with my interpretation of the last verse: see n. 4268.

Is justly due (equal
To one who eschews evil) ? <sup>4271</sup>
Wouldst thou, then, deliver
One (who is) in the Fire ?

أَفَأَنْتَ تَنْقُدُ
مَنْ فِي النَّارِ

20. But it is for those
Who fear their Lord,
That lofty mansions, <sup>4271</sup>
One above another,
Have been built:
Beneath them flow
Rivers (of delight): (such is)
The Promise of God :
Never doth God fail in
(His) promise. <sup>4272</sup>

۲۰- لَكِنَ الَّذِينَ اتَّقَوْا رَبَّهُمْ لَهُمْ

21. Seest thou not that God
Sends down rain from
The sky, and leads it
Through springs in the earth? <sup>4273</sup>
Then He causes to grow,
Therewith, produce of various
Colours: then it withers; ...
Thou wilt see it grow yellow;
Then He makes it
Dry up and crumble away.
Truly, in this, is
A Message of remembrance to
Men of understanding.

۲۱- أَلَمْ تَرَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ أَنْزَلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً

ثُمَّ يُخْرِجُ بِهِ زَرْعًا مُخْتَلِفًا أَلْوَانُهُ
ثُمَّ يَهَيِّئُ فِتْرَتَهُ مُصْفَرًّا
ثُمَّ يَجْعَلُهُ حُطَامًا
إِن فِي ذَلِكَ
لَذِكْرَى لَأُولِي الْأَلْبَابِ

C. 204.—What distance separates the man
(xxxix. 22-52.) Whose heart is melted by the Message
Of God and enlightened by His Light,
And him who rejects Revelation! God

4270. If a man is already steeped in sin and has rejected God's Grace, how can we expect Revelation to work in his soul?

4271. Cf. xxix. 58, and xxxiv. 37. The idea of heaven here is that of a Home of sublimity and beauty, with a picturesque outlook, such as we would describe in this life by the type of a palace by gently-flowing streams. The mansions will also suggest generous space and architectural beauty, tiers upon tiers piled one upon another.

4272. Mi'ād: the time, place, and manner of the fulfilment of a Promise. God's promise will be fulfilled in all particulars better than we can possibly imagine.

4273. The circuit of water, by which the rain falls from the clouds, is absorbed through the earth, and flows through rivers or underground streams to the sea, where it again rises as vapour and forms clouds, was explained in notes 3111-12 to xxv. 53. Here our attention is drawn to one portion of the process. The rain fructifies the soil and the seeds. Produce of various kinds is raised. The harvest ripens and is gathered in. The plants wither, dry up, and crumble away. Men and animals are fed. And the circuit starts again in another season. Here is a Sign of the Grace and Goodness of God, clear to those who understand.

Teaches men by Parables : straight
 Is His Word and clear. Any doubts in the minds
 Of men will be resolved after Death:
 Even now, God's Signs are enough : no other
 Can guide. Death and his twin-brother,
 Sleep, are in the hands of God : to Him
 Is our Goal. He will judge in the End.
 His Will is all-in-all. No other thing
 Can be of any account before His Law.

SECTION 3.

22. Es one whose heart
 God has opened to Islam,<sup>4274</sup>
 So that-he has received
 Enlightenment from God,
 (No better than one hard-hearted) ?
 Woe to those whose hearts
 Are hardened against celebrating<sup>4275</sup>
 The praises of God! They
 Are manifestly wandering
 (In error)!

23. God has revealed
 (From time to time)
 The most beautiful Message
 In the form of a Book,
 Consistent with itself,<sup>4276</sup>
 (Yet) repeating (its teaching

٢٢- أَفَمَنْ شَرَحَ اللَّهُ صَدْرَهُ لِلْإِسْلَامِ

٢٣- اللَّهُ نَزَّلَ
 أَحْسَنَ الْحَدِيثِ كِتَابًا
 مُّتَشَابِهًا مَّثَانِي ۖ

4274. Those who listen to God's Message find at each stage God's Grace helping them more and more to expand their spiritual understanding and to receive God's light, so that they travel farther and farther to their Goal in the Path of Truth and Righteousness. They are not to be compared to those who shut out God's Light from their hearts. See next note.

4275. Just as there is spiritual progress for those who seek God, so there is more and more spiritual retrogression for those who close their hearts to God. Their hearts get hardened, and they allow less and less God's Grace to penetrate within. But it is obvious that they flounder on the Way, and cannot walk with the firm steps of those of assured Faith.

4276. Is Mutashābih here to be understood in the same sense as in iii. 7, where I have translated it as "allegorical"? See n. 347 to iii. 7. The better opinion is that there is a slightly different shade of meaning here, as suggested by the context. In the earlier passage, it was opposed to Muh-kam : here it is contrasted or compared to Mathānī. The root meaning is : 'having something similar; working by analogy or allegory, or parable; having its parts consistent with each other'. The last meaning I adopt here. The Qur-ān was revealed in parts at different times. And yet its parts all conform to each other. There is no contradiction or inconsistency anywhere.

4277. Maithānī: Cf. xv. 87, where we have translated "oft-repeated": "the seven oft-repeated (verses)". See n. 2008 to that passage. Here the meaning is similar, but the context gives a different colour to it, as is seen in the translation.

4278. The skin is the outer integument of the body. It receives the first shock from the impact of anything unusual, and it trembles and its hair stands on end under excitement. So in spiritual matters the first stimulation from God's Message is external. Those who receive Faith do it as it were with tremor and not with apathy. But the next stage is that it penetrates their outer nature and goes right into their hearts. Their whole nature is "softened" to receive the beneficent Message, and it transforms them through and through.

4279. "Whom He pleases" and "leaves to stray" are explained fully in n. 2133 to xvi. 93. See also xiv. 4 and n. 1875.

4280. The unrepentant Sinners will receive the full Penalty on the Day of Judgment. They will receive it full in the face, i.e. their whole being will be affected by it. Their hands (figuratively) will be tied, and they cannot therefore use their hands to ward off the Penalty of the Fire: in any case their hands will not have the power to ward it off. Are such helpless people to be compared for a moment with people who have received Grace and are therefore guarded from all harm and danger? Certainly not. To the evil the fruit of their deeds, and to the good the grace of their Lord!

Be said to the wrong-doers:

4282. Cf. xvi. 26. They will be punished from quarters or in ways they do not perceive. From their Unbelief and Rebellion they think they derive great advantages, but they suddenly find out, when too late, that that which they exulted in was the cause of their own undoing.

4283. Cf. ii. 114. Sin often brings disgrace and humiliation in this life, but the greater and truer punishment is in the Hereafter. But men often do not know the inwardness of this matter. If they flourish here for a time, they think they will escape the real consequences in the Hereafter. Or if they suffer a little harm here, they think that will make up the Penalty, and they will escape the Hereafter. Both ideas are wrong.

4284. Men can only understand high spiritual truths by parables and similitudes and these are given abundantly in the Qur-ān. The object is, not merely to tell stories, but to teach lessons of spiritual wisdom.

4285. Previous revelations had been in other languages. Now the revelation was given in Arabia in Arabic itself, the language of the country which all could understand. And it is a beautiful language, straight and flexible, and fit to be the vehicle of sublime truths. Cf. C. 12.

4286 See xviii. 1 and n. 2326. Cf. also vii. 45, n. 1024 ; and xix. 36, n. 2488.

4287. The difference between the creed of Polytheism and the Gospel of Unity is explained by the analogy of two men. One belongs to many masters; the masters disagree among themselves, and the poor man of many masters has to suffer from the quarrels of his many masters; it is an impossible and unnatural position. The other serves only one master; his master is good, and does all he can for his servant; the servant can concentrate his attention on his service; he is happy himself and his service is efficiently performed. Can there be any doubt as to (1) which of them is the happier, and (2) which of them is in a more natural position? No man can serve two, still less numerous, masters.

4288. God is praised that He has put us, not under gods many and lords many, but has, out of His infinite Mercy, allowed us direct approach to Him, the One, the True, the Eternal.

4289. Even the prophets are not exempt from bodily death, much less the righteous, but they live in their beneficent work and the memories they leave behind them. All men have to die, good and bad alike. But there is a life after death, and in that life all the unexplained things about which people dispute in this world will be made clear in the presence of God.

SECTION 4.

32. Who, then, doth more wrong
Than one who utters
A lie concerning God,<sup>4291</sup>
And rejects the Truth
When it comes to him:

(Even) the worst in their deeds<sup>4295</sup>
And give them their reward
According to the best
Of what they have done.

۳۲- فَمَنْ أَظْلَمُ مِمَّنْ كَذَبَ عَلَى اللَّهِ
وَكَذَبَ بِالصِّدْقِ إِذْ جَاءَهُ
أَلَيْسَ فِي جَهَنَّمَ
مَثْوًى لِّلْكَافِرِينَ
۳۳- وَالَّذِي جَاءَ بِالصِّدْقِ وَصَدَّقَ بِهِ
أُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْمُتَّقُونَ

۳۴- لَهُمْ مَا يَشَاءُونَ
عِنْدَ رَبِّهِمْ
ذَٰلِكَ جَزَاءُ الْمُحْسِنِينَ

۳۵- لِيُكَفِّرَ اللَّهُ عَنْهُمْ أَسْوَأَ الَّذِي عَمِلُوا
وَيَجْزِيَهُمْ أَجْرَهُمْ بِأَحْسَنِ الَّذِي
كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ

4291. When the creature deliberately adopts and utters falsehoods against his own Creator, in spite of the Truth being brought, as it were, to his very door by God's Signs, what offence can we imagine more heinous than this? In Christian theology this is the blasphemy "against the Holy Ghost" spoken of in Matt. xii. 31-32: "whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man", (Christ)," it shall be forgiven him; but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come".

4292. Blasphemers have really no place to go to. The question form suggests that even Hell is not an abode for them; it is merely a place for punishment or a state of punishment.

4293. This is true of the Prophet, and all men of God and all righteous persons. Any one who preaches the Truth and brings home God's Signs to men is performing the duty of a right and noble life. In this he confirms the teaching of all previous men of God. Any one who supports and confirms such a teacher is also doing his duty and on the right way.

4294. At that stage their wills will have been purified, and they could wish for nothing that they could not or should not have. And it will be as "in the presence of their Lord". If an earthly king gives a decoration, how much greater is the honour when the investiture takes place by the king himself personally?

4295. The conjunction (lām in Arabic, translated "so that") indicates here the results, not the purpose. God's Reward is so bounteous, that if we truly and sincerely put our will into His keeping, He will remove the consequences not only of our minor faults but of the worst of our sins, and judge us according to the very best of our deeds.

36. Is not God enough <sup>4296</sup>
For His servant? But
They try to frighten thee
With other (gods) besides Him!
For such as God leaves
To stray, there can be
No guide.

37. And such as God doth <sup>4297</sup>

None to lead astray.
Is not God Exalted

Or if He wills some Grace
For me, can they keep back <sup>4300</sup>

4296. The righteous man will find God enough for all the protection he needs, all the rest and peace he craves for, and all the happiness he can imagine. If the evil ones wish to frighten him with false gods, he knows that that is mere superstition. In the case of idols to whom worship is paid, this is easily intelligible. But there are other false gods which men worship,—wealth, position, power, science, selfish desire, and so on. The idea may occur to them: "this is the right course, but what will men say?" or "shall I lose my case if I tell the truth?" or "will it ruin my chances if I denounce sin in high places?" All such false gods will only mislead and leave their victims in the lurch. The worship of them will lose them the Grace of God, which wants to guide and comfort all who seek God.

4297. On the other hand if any one holds fast to God's Truth, nothing can mislead or betray him.

4298. God's Power can protect, and will defeat all plots against His Will, as well as punish Evil when it gets beyond bounds.

4299. Cf. xxix. 61; also n. 2927 to xxiii. 85. Most worshippers of false gods are not either atheists or sceptics. They admit the existence of God as an abstract proposition, but it has not come into their hearts and souls: it has not been translated into their lives. They run after false worship on account of ancestral custom or on account of their thoughtlessness or false environment, or on account of their own selfish desires or limited outlook. To them is addressed the argument: 'Ultimately your false gods can do nothing for you: why not turn to the One True God, on Whom you depend, and Who can give you Grace and Mercy, Justice and Punishment?'

SECTION 5.

42. It is God that takes
The souls (of men) at death; <sup>4306</sup>

٤٢- اللَّهُ يَتَوَفّٰى الْاَنْفُسَ حِيْنَ مَوْتِهَا

4301. Cf. xii. 67 and xiv. 12. God alone is He Who will and can discharge any trust put in Him. All other things will fail. Therefore those who put their trust in anything should put their trust in God.

4302. Cf. xi. 121 and n. 1624-A.

4303. Cf. xi. 93. The two clauses, about those who suffer a Penalty of ignominy and those on whom descends a lasting Penalty, apparently refer to the same persons in two different aspects: (1) they suffer shame, and (2) their punishment endures.

4304. Revelation is sent by God through His messenger, but it is for all. It is given in order that men and women may be taught Righteousness. It is given in Truth: there is no pretence about it. It is for their own good. If they reject it and follow Evil, the loss is their own.

4305. God's apostles do all they can to teach mankind. But they cannot force men's wills. If men reject their teaching, the account of the rejecters is with God. Cf. vi. 107 and n. 935.

4306. The mystery of life and death, sleep and dreams, is a fascinating enigma, of which the solution is perhaps beyond the ken of man. A vast mass of superstition as well as imaginative and psychological literature has grown up about it. But the simplest and truest religious doctrine is laid down here in a few words. In death we surrender our physical life, but our soul does not die; it goes back to a plane of existence in which it is more conscious of the realities of the spiritual world: "God takes the soul".

And those that die not
 (He takes) during their sleep : <sup>4307</sup>
 Those on whom He
 Has passed the decree
 Of death, He keeps back <sup>4303</sup>
 (From returning to life),
 But the rest He sends
 (To their bodies)
 For a term appointed.
 Verily in this are Signs <sup>4309</sup>
 For those who reflect.

٤٤- قُلْ لِلَّهِ

4307. Cf. vi. 60. What is sleep? As far as animal life is concerned, it is the cessation of the working of the nervous system, though other animal functions, such as digestion, growth, and the circulation of the blood, continue, possibly at a different pace. It is the repose of the nervous system, and in this respect it is common to man and animals, and perhaps even to plants, if, as is probable, plants have a nervous system. The mental processes (and certainly volition) are also suspended in sleep, except that in ordinary dreams there is a medley of recollections, which often present vividly to our consciousness things that do not or cannot happen in nature as we know it in our co-ordinated minds. But there is another kind of dream which is rarer—one in which the dreamer sees things as they actually happen, backwards or forwards in time, or in which gifted individuals see spiritual truths otherwise imperceptible to them. How can we explain this? It is suggested that our soul or personality,—that something which is above our animal life—is then in a plane of spiritual existence akin to physical death (see last note), when we are nearer to God. In poetic imagery, Sleep is "twin-brother to Death".

4308. Sleep being twin-brother to Death, our souls are for the time being released from the bondage of the flesh. God takes them for the time being. If, as some do, we are to die peacefully in sleep, our soul does not come back to the physical body, and the latter decays and dies. If we have still some period of life to fulfil according to God's decree, our soul comes back to the body, and we resume our functions in this life.

4309. If we contemplate these things, we can see more clearly many spiritual truths: e.g. (1) that our bodily life and death are not the whole story of our existence; (2) that in our bodily life we may be dead to the spiritual world, and in our bodily death, may be our awakening to the spiritual world; (3) that our nightly Sleep, besides performing the function of rest to our physical life, gives us a foretaste of what we call death, which does not end our personality; and (4) that the Resurrection is not more wonderful than our daily rising from Sleep, "twin-brother to Death".

4310. Let alone worship, men should not rely upon any power or person other than God to help them out or intercede for them. When it is idols, they are poor lifeless things which have obviously neither power nor intelligence. But even prophets or saints or heroes have no power to intercede except as God wills and permits. See next note.

4311. For Shafā'at (Intercession, Advocacy) see ii. 255 ; x. 3 ; xx. 109, n. 2634 ; and xxi. 28, n. 2688. It follows that no one can intercede with God, except (1) by God's permission, and (2) for those who have prepared themselves by penitence for God's acceptance. Even in earthly Courts, Advocacy is not permitted to any one : the Advocate must be granted the position of Advocate before he can plead before the judge. Nor can it be supposed that a plea for forgiveness or mercy can be put forward except on grounds recognised by equity and justice.

4314. The mysteries of life and death, of worship and spiritual growth, are matters of high moment, which it may be difficult for us to apprehend in this present life. It is no use arguing about them and plunging in endless controversies. The proper attitude is to appeal to God humbly to accept our purified hearts and Faith, in the firm hope that everything which is now vague to us will be cleared up in the Hereafter, and to pray to Him for His guidance and mercy.

4315. Cf. xiii. 18. Those who reject God's Message must realise that the time will come when they will wish they had sacrificed everything in the cause of Truth and Righteousness. It will be too late then. Why not examine the matter seriously now and accept God's Grace and Light ?

اَنْ يَّاتِيَكُمْ الْعٰدَابُ
ثُمَّ لَا تَنْصُرُوْنَ ۝

4323. Cf. xxviii. 82. God's gifts are given to all men—to some in a greater degree than to others. But it is all done according to His wise Plan, for His Will is just and looks to the good of all creatures. No one should therefore be puffed up in prosperity or cast down in adversity. Prosperity does not necessarily mean merit on man's part, nor adversity the reverse. Thinking men bear in mind the large Plan—which is visible in all God's Signs.

4324. Forgives all sins : i.e., on sincere repentance and amendment of conduct.

4325. The exhortation in brief is : 'Repent and work righteousness, before it becomes too late'. No help will come to you when the Judgment is actually established and you stand before the Judgment-Seat.

55. "And follow the Best <sup>4326</sup>

٥٧- أَوْ تَقُولَ لَوْ أَنَّ اللَّهَ هَدَانِي لَكُنْتُ مِنَ الْمُتَّقِينَ ۝

٥٨- أَوْ تَقُولَ حِينَ تَرَى الْعَذَابَ لَوْ أَنَّ لِي كَرَّةً فَأَكُونَ مِنَ الْمُحْسِنِينَ ۝

٥٩- بَلَى قَدْ جَاءَتْكَ

4326. Cf. xxxix. 18, and n. 4269. God's Command meets the weakness of His weakest servants, and only asks that His servants should surrender their selfish will to God's Will. In divine compassion, therefore, we are allowed to do just what we can, even though our standard should fall short of the highest standard. But our aim should be to follow the highest standard, and God's Grace will come to our assistance. But we must do so in this life,—and at once, as soon as the Word penetrates our mind or understanding. We must not delay a moment, for the Judgment may come at any time, suddenly, before we even perceive where we are.

4327. Many kinds of sighs and regrets will then assail us. In the first place, we shall see our shortcomings: we were negligent when we should have been serious: we mocked when we should have tried to learn and understand. But it will be too late then to retrieve our position.

4328. In the second place, we might be inclined to say, 'I wish I had received warning or guidance'. But this would not be true, because the warning and guidance are being conveyed in the clearest manner in God's Revelation. That is the force of 'lest it should say'. It could have said so, had it not seen that the objection is clearly anticipated in the call to repent and in the warning about the Hereafter.

4329. In the third place, when we stand face to face with the Penalty of our own deeds, we might say, 'I wish I had another chance'. But not one, but many, chances are being given, especially when we are told (verse 53 above): 'Despair not of the Mercy of God: for God forgives all sins: for He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful'. The force of 'lest it should say' here is the same as explained in the last note.

4330. The reply explains how all such pleas have been anticipated and met. It was deliberate rejection that will deserve and meet its consequences. It is further explained that the motive of sin, as with Satan, was haughtiness and Self. There is no room for Self when the only Reality is God.

My Signs, and thou didst
Reject them : thou wast <sup>4331</sup>
Haughty, and became one
Of those who reject Faith! "

60. On the Day of Judgment
Wilt thou see those
Who told lies against God ;—
Their faces will be turned <sup>4332</sup>
Black ; is there not
In Hell an abode <sup>4333</sup>
For the Haughty ?

61. But God will deliver
The righteous to their place <sup>4334</sup>
Of salvation : no evil
Shall touch them,
Nor shall they grieve.

62. God is the Creator
Of all things, and He
Is the Guardian and Disposer <sup>4335</sup>
Of all affairs.

63. To Him belong the keys
Of the heavens
And the earth :
And those who reject
The Signs of God,—
It is they who will <sup>4336</sup>

۶۲- اللّٰهُ خَالِقُ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ ۝

اُولٰٓئِكَ هُمُ الْخٰسِرُوْنَ ۝

4331. Cf. ii. 34. The example of the arch-sinner illustrates what happens in a minor degree in every kind of sinner.

4332. As spotless white is the symbol of purity, honour, and truth, so black is the symbol of evil, disgrace, and falsehood. Perhaps "black" in connection with Hell also refers to the scorching punishment of the Fire.

4333. Cf. above, xxxix. 32, and n. 4292, where the subtle implication of the interrogative form is explained.

4334. Mafāzat : place or state of safety or salvation, place or state of victory or achievement ; accomplishment of wish or desire. This is contrasted against the frustration, failure, and perdition of the children of evil,— what may be called damnation in theological phrase.

4335. God has not only created all the Worlds, but He maintains them and cares for them. He does not sit apart from His world. Everything depends upon Him.

4336. God has nothing to lose by the rebellion or disobedience of His creatures. It is they who lose, because they go counter to their own nature, the beautiful mould in which God created them.

SECTION 7.

64. Say : " Is it
Some one other than God
That ye order me <sup>4337</sup>
To worship, O ye
Ignorant ones ? "

65. But it has already
Been revealed to thee, — <sup>4338</sup>
As it was to those
Before thee, — " If thou
Wert to join (gods
With God), truly fruitless <sup>4339</sup>
Will be thy work (in life),
And thou wilt surely
Be in the ranks of those
Who lose (all spiritual good) " .

66. Nay, but worship God,
And be of those who
Give thanks. <sup>4340</sup>

67. No just estimate
Have they made of God, <sup>4341</sup>
Such as is due to Him :
On the Day of Judgment
The whole of the earth
Will be but His handful, <sup>4342</sup>
And the heavens will be

٦٣- قُلْ أَغَيَّرَ اللَّهُ

تَأْمُرُونَنِي أَعْبُدُ

أَيُّهَا الْجَاهِلُونَ ○

٦٥- وَلَقَدْ أُوحِيَ إِلَيْكَ

وَأَلَى الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِكَ ء

لَكِنَّ أَشْرَكَتَ

لِيَحْبَطَنَّ عَمَلُكَ

○ وَتَكُونَنَّ مِنَ الْخَسِرِينَ

٦٦- بَلِ اللَّهُ فَاَعْبُدْ

○ وَكُنْ مِنَ الشَّاكِرِينَ

٦٧- وَمَا قَدَرُوا اللَّهَ

حَقَّ قَدْرِهِ ؤ

وَالْأَرْضُ جَمِيعًا بِيَمِينِهِ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ

وَالسَّمَوَاتُ

4337. "Order me" : there is great irony here. The man of God turns to his critics and says: "You arrogate to yourselves the right to order me how to worship! But who are you? You are only ignorant men! My commission is from God. It is the same as came to men of God before me in all ages, viz. (1) that the only Truth is in the Gospel of Unity; and (2) that if you worship other things and turn away from God, your life will be wasted and all your probation will have been of no account.

4338. The Message of Unity, renewed in Islam, has been the Message of God since the world began.

4339. Cf. v. 6. False worship means that we run after fruitless things, and the main purpose of our spiritual lives is lost.

4340. To "give thanks" is to show by our conduct that we esteem the gifts of God and will use them in His service.

4341. Cf. vi. 91, and n. 909; and xxii. 74. In running after false gods or the powers of nature they have forgotten that all creatures are as nothing before God.

4342. See last note. The whole earth will be no more to God than a thing that a man might enclose in the hollow of his hand, nor will the heavens with their vast expanse be more than a scroll, which a man might roll up with his right hand, the hand of power and action. This is of course figurative. God is not a creature of flesh and blood, with hands or fingers. Cf. xxi. 104, and lxxxi. i.

Rolled up in His right hand :
 Glory to Him !
 High is He above
 The Partners they attribute
 To Him !

68. The Trumpet will (just)
 Be sounded, when all
 That are in the heavens
 And on earth will swoon,<sup>4343</sup>
 Except such as it will
 Please God (to exempt).
 Then will a second one
 Be sounded, when, behold,
 They will be standing
 And looking on !

69. And the Earth will shine
 With the glory of its Lord :<sup>4344</sup>
 The Record (of Deeds)
 Will be placed (open) ;
 The prophets and the witnesses
 Will be brought forward ;
 And a just decision<sup>4345</sup>
 Pronounced between them ;
 And they will not
 Be wronged (in the least).

70. And to every soul will be Paid in full (the fruit)

مَطْوِيَّتٌ بِيَمِينِهِ

٤٨- وَنُفِخَ فِي الصُّورِ
 فَصَعِقَ مَنْ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَنْ فِي الْأَرْضِ
 إِلَّا مَنْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ
 ثُمَّ نُفِخَ فِيهِ أُخْرَى
 فَإِذَا هُمْ قِيَامٌ يَنْظُرُونَ ○

٤٩- وَأَشْرَقَتِ الْأَرْضُ بِنُورِ رَبِّهَا
 وَوُضِعَ الْكِتَابُ
 وَجَاءَ آءٌ بِالنَّبِيِّنَ وَالشَّهَدَاءِ
 وَقُضِيَ بَيْنَهُمْ بِالْحَقِّ
 وَهُمْ لَا يُظْلَمُونَ ○

٥٠- وَوُفِّيَتْ كُلُّ نَفْسٍ

4343. Ṣa'iqā implied the idea of a swoon, or loss of all consciousness of being ; it implies a cessation of the normal functioning of the usual powers of life or feeling. The metaphor is that with the first Trumpet of the Resurrection, the whole world will cease to be in the form and the relations which we see now ; there will be a new heaven and a new earth, see xiv. 48, n. 1925 ; human souls will for the time being be dazed and lose all memory or consciousness of time or place or personality. With the second one, they will stand in a new world ; they will see with clearer vision than ever before ; and judgment will proceed.

4344. It will be a new Earth. All traces of injustice or inequality, darkness or evil, will have gone. There will be the one universal Light, the Glory of God, which will now illuminate all. Falsehood, pretence, and illusion will have disappeared. Everything will be seen in its true light.

4345. It is in such a scene of Reality that Judgment will be held. Before the Throne of God (if we may use metaphors again to form some idea out of the things we know) the book of each man's deeds and motives will be placed wide open, which all may see ; the Prophets and Preachers of Truth, and the martyrs who gave their lives or made their real sacrifices in the cause of Truth, will be in the Court, to give evidence ; and the decision pronounced will be absolutely just, for the Judge will not only be just, but He will know every fact and circumstance, and His wisdom will give due weight to everything, great or small.

Of its deeds ; and (God)
Knoweth best all that <sup>4346</sup>
They do.

SECTION 8.

71. And The Unbelievers will be Led to Hell in crowd : <sup>4347</sup>
Until, when they arrive there,
Its gates will be opened.
And its Keepers will say, <sup>4348</sup>
“ Did not apostles come
To you from among yourselves,
Rehearsing to you the Signs
Of your Lord, and warning you
Of the Meeting of this Day
Of yours ? ” The answer
Will be : “ True : but
The Decree of Punishment
Has been proved true <sup>4349</sup>
Against the Unbelievers ! ”

72. (To them) will be said :
“ Enter ye the gates of Hell,
To dwell therein :
And evil is (this)
Abode of the arrogant ! ” <sup>4350</sup>

73. And those who feared
Their Lord will be led
To the Garden in crowds : <sup>4351</sup>
Until behold, they arrive there ;

تَاعَمِلَتْ
وَهُوَ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا يَفْعَلُونَ ۝

٤١- وَسَيُقَالُ لِلَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا إِذَا جِئْتُمْ زُمْرًا
حَتَّىٰ إِذَا جَاءَ وَهَا فُتِحَتْ أَبْوَابُهَا
وَقَالَ لَهُمْ خَزَنَتُهَا أَلَمْ يَأْتِكُمْ رُسُلٌ
مِّنكُمْ

يَتْلُونَ عَلَيْكُمْ آيَاتِ رَبِّكُمْ وَيُنذِرُونَكُمْ
لِقَاءِ يَوْمِكُمْ هَٰذَا
قَالُوا بَلَىٰ وَلَكِنْ

حَقَّتْ كَلِمَةُ الْعَذَابِ عَلَى الْكَافِرِينَ ۝

٤٢- قِيلَ ادْخُلُوا أَبْوَابَ جَهَنَّمَ
خَالِدِينَ فِيهَا

فَبِئْسَ مَثْوَى الْمُتَكَبِّرِينَ ۝

٤٣- وَسَيُقَالُ لِلَّذِينَ اتَّقَوْا رَبَّهُمْ إِذَا جِئْتُمْ
زُمْرًا حَتَّىٰ إِذَا جَاءَ وَهَا

4346. In an earthly court, a decision may possibly go wrong because the judge is deceived ; here no deceit or mistake will be possible, for God knows all, and knows it better than any one else can.

4347. Crowds : this is the word which gives the key-note to the Sūra. If the soul does not stand to its own convictions or search out the Truth by itself, it will only be classed with the crowds that go to Perdition !

4348. The Keepers may be supposed to be angels, who know nothing of the conditions of evil on this earth, and are surprised at such crowds coming to the “ Evil Abode ”. Their question is more like that of a remark or comment by the Chorus in a Greek Tragedy.

4349. Cf. x. 33. The answer is perhaps given by other angels : ‘ yes ; apostles were sent to them from among themselves, to warn them and to proclaim to them Mercy through repentance ; but the decree of God, which warned them of punishment, has now come true against them, for they rebelled and were haughty ; they rejected Truth, Faith, and Mercy ! ’

4350. As elsewhere, the root of Evil is pointed out to be in self-love and arrogance. Cf. ii. 34, etc.

4351. The righteous ones will also go in crowds, and not be alone. There is now a true sorting out. Verses 73-75 are parallel in contrast to verses 71-72 above.

Its gates will be opened ;
And its Keepers will say :
" Peace be upon you !
Well have ye done ! <sup>4352</sup>
Enter ye here,
To dwell therein."

وَفَتِحَتْ أَبْوَابُهَا وَقَالَ لَهُمْ خَزَنَتُهَا
سَلَامٌ عَلَيْكُمْ طِبْتُمْ
فَادْخُلُوهَا خَالِدِينَ ○

74. They will say : " Praise be <sup>4353</sup>
To God, Who has Truly fulfilled His promise
To us, and has given us
(This) land in heritage : <sup>4354</sup>
We can dwell in the Garden
As we will : how excellent
A reward for those
Who work (righteousness) ! "

٤٣- وَقَالُوا الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي

صَدَقْنَا وَعَدَّاهُ

وَأَوْرَثَنَا الْأَرْضَ

نَتَّبِعُوا مِنْ الْجَنَّةِ حَيْثُ نَشَاءُ

فَنِعْمَ أَجْرُ الْعَامِلِينَ ○

75. And thou wilt see
The angels surrounding
The Throne (Divine)
On all sides, singing Glory
And Praise to their Lord.
The Decision between them
(At Judgment) will be
In (perfect) justice,
And the cry (on all sides)
Will be, " Praise be to God, <sup>4355</sup>
The Lord of the Worlds ! "

٥٥- وَتَرَى الْمَلَائِكَةَ حَافِينَ

مِنْ حَوْلِ الْعَرْشِ

يُسَبِّحُونَ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّهِمْ

وَقُضِيَ بَيْنَهُمْ بِالْحَقِّ

وَقِيلَ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ

رَبِّ الْعَالَمِينَ ○

4352. The angels in heaven are not surprised at the advent of the good and righteous souls. They are glad ; they greet them with the salutation of Peace ; they congratulate them ; and they welcome them in.

4353. This is said by the new arrivals in heaven. As is right, they begin with the Praises of God, which shows at once their satisfaction and their gratitude.

4354. In heritage : i.e. as our Portion. Cf. iii. 180, and n. 485 ; vi. 165, and n. 988. There is no question here of their passing on any property to heirs. They are the final possessors of Heaven for eternity, by the grace of God.

4355. These are the opening words of the first Sura, and they describe the atmosphere of the final Bliss in Heaven, in the light of the Countenance of their Lord, the Universal Lord of all !

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XL (Mū-min).

This Sūra is called "The Believer" (Mū-min) from the story of the individual Believer among the people of Pharaoh, who declares his faith and looks to the Future (verses 28-45). It is also called Qāfir (He who forgives, see verse 3). In S. xxiii, called The Believers (Mū minūn), the argument was about the collective force of Faith and Virtue. Here it is about the Individual's witness to Faith and Virtue, and his triumph in the End.

We now begin a series of seven Sūras (xl-xlvi) to which are affixed the Abbreviated Letters Hā-Mīm. Chronologically they all belong to the same period, the later Meccan Period, and they immediately follow the last Sūra in time. About the Abbreviated Letters generally, see Appendix I at the end of S. II. As to the precise meaning of Hā-Mīm no authoritative explanation is available. If Mīm here has a signification similar to Mīm in A.L.M. (see n. 25 to ii), it means the End of things, the Last Day, and all these Sūras direct our special attention to that. Hā, the emphatic guttural, in contrast with the softer breathing of Alif, may be meant to suggest that the Beginning (see n. 25 to ii. 1, last paragraph) is only for the End, the Present for the Future, and to emphasize the eschatological element in Faith. But this is mere conjecture, and should be taken for no more than it is worth.

The general theme of the whole series is the relation of Faith to Unfaith, Revelation to Rejection, Goodness to Evil, Truth to Falsehood. It is shown that the first in each of these pairs is the real friend, helper, and protector of man, while the second is his enemy. The very word Ḥamīm in that sense is used in Sūras xl and xli (xl. 18 and xli. 34), while in the other Sūras we have words of equivalent import, e.g. walī or naṣīr (xlii. 8 and 31); qarīn (xliii. 36, 38); maulā (xliv. 41); auliyāa or nāṣirīn (xlv. 19, 34); and auliyāa (xlvi. 32). Is it permissible to connect the Abbreviated Letters Hā-Mīm with these ideas as expressed in the word Ḥamīm?

Another suggestion worthy of consideration is that Hā stands for Ḥaiy, and Mīm for Qaiyūm. These are two attributes of God, meaning, (1) the Living, and (2) the Self-Subsisting, Eternal. The one points to Life and Revelation, and the other to the Hereafter and Eternity; and both these matters are specially dealt with in the seven Hā-Mīm Sūras. The first letter of Ḥaiy (Hā) is appropriate for life, and the last letter of Qaiyūm is appropriate for the Last Days, the Ma'ād, the Hereafter. Again, this is mere conjecture, and should not be taken for more than it is worth.

Summary.—Faith is ever justified, for God forgives: but evil deeds must have evil fruits, for God knows and is just (xl. 1-20, and C. 206).

In all history Evil came to evil; the protest of Faith, in the midst of Evil, may be ignored; but Faith is protected by God, while Evil perishes (xl. 21-50, and C. 207).

No doubt is there of the Future Judgment ; the Power, Goodness, and Justice of God are manifest ; will man dispute, or will he accept the Signs before it is too late ? (xl. 51-85, and C. 208).

C. 206.—Believe in God, For He is Perfect
(xl. 1-20.) In Knowledge and Power, forgives Sin
And accepts Repentance, and justly
Enforces His Law. Those who reject Him
Are but in deceit : His glory is sung
By the highest and purest. Give all devotion
To Him alone. The Day of Requital
Is ever drawing near, when Falsehood
Will vanish, and God's Truth and Justice
Will be established for all Eternity.

Sūra XL.

Mu-min, or The Believer.

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ a-Mim.<sup>4356</sup>

2. The revelation
Of this Book
Is from God,
Exalted in Power,
Full of Knowledge,—<sup>4357</sup>

3. Who forgiveth Sin,
Accepteth Repentance,<sup>4358</sup>
Is Strict in Punishment,
And hath a Long Reach
(In all things).
There is no god
But He: to Him
Is the Final Goal.

4. وَمَنْ يَدْعُ One can dispute
About the Signs of God<sup>4359</sup>
But the Unbelievers.
Let not, then,
Their strutting about<sup>4360</sup>
Through the land
Deceive thee!

فَلَا يَغْرُوكَ تَقَلُّبُهُمْ فِي الْبِلَادِ

4356. See paragraphs 2-4 of the Introduction to this Sūra.

4358. God's knowledge is supreme and all-reaching. But there are other attributes of His, which concern us even more intimately; e.g., He forgives sin and accepts our repentance when it is sincere and results in our change of heart and life; but He is also just, and strict in punishment; and so no loophole will be left for Evil except in repentance. And further, all His attributes reach forward to everything: His Mercy, as well as His Knowledge and Justice; His Bounties as well as His Punishments.

4359. God's knowledge and attributes are perfect, and everything around us proclaims this. We are surrounded by His Signs. It is only want of Faith that will make people dispute about them.

4360. Cf. iii. 196. Their strutting about shows how little they can read the Signs.

5. But (there were people) before them,
Who denied (the Signs),—
The People of Noah,
And the Confederates <sup>4361</sup>
(Of Evil) after them ;
And every People plotted
Against their prophet,
To seize him, and disputed
By means of vanities, <sup>4363</sup>
Therewith to condemn
The Truth : but it was I
That seized them !
And how (terrible) <sup>4363</sup>
Was My Requital !

ه- كَذَّبَتْ قَبْلَهُمْ قَوْمُ نُوحٍ

لِيُدْحِضُوا بِهِ الْحَقَّ
فَأَخَذْتَهُمْ
فَكَيْفَ كَانَ عِقَابِ ○

6. Thus was the Decree
Of thy Lord proved true
Against the Unbelievers ; <sup>4364</sup>
That truly they are
Companions of the Fire !

٦- وَكَذَلِكَ حَقَّتْ كَلِمَةُ رَبِّكَ
عَلَى الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
أَنَّهُمْ أَصْحَابُ النَّارِ ○

7. Those who sustain <sup>4365</sup>
The Throne (of God)
And those around it
Sing Glory and Praise
To their Lord ; believe
In Him ; and implore Forgiveness
For those who believe :
“ Our Lord ! Thy Reach <sup>4366</sup>

٧- الَّذِينَ يَحْمِلُونَ الْعَرْشَ
وَمَنْ حَوْلَهُ يُسَبِّحُونَ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّهِمْ وَ
يُؤْمِنُونَ بِهِ وَيَسْتَغْفِرُونَ لِلَّذِينَ آمَنُوا
رَبَّنَا وَسِعْتَ

4361. Cf. xxxviii. 11-13, and n. 4158. All the hosts of wickedness collected together from history will have no power against God's Truth, or the Messenger of that Truth, or God's holy Plan for all His Creation.

4362. Whenever a great or vital Truth is proclaimed and renewed, there are always shallow minds that are ready to dispute about it ! And what petty and vain arguments they advance ! They think they can discredit or condemn the Truth in this way, or render “ of none effect ” God's Plan. But they are mistaken. If they seem to succeed for a time, that is merely their trial. They may try to plan and plot against God's men. But their plots will fail in the long run. They will themselves be caught in their own snares. And then, how terrible will be their Punishment !

4363. Cf. xiii. 32.

4364. Cf. xxxix. 71. The Decree, or Word, of God, by which Evil was to be judged and condemned, was proved true against these men. They are “ Companions of the Fire ”: in other words, they are fit to live only in the environment of Evil !

4365. Cf. xxxix. 75. As the Throne of God is figurative, so is the act of sustaining or carrying it. Nor must we suppose that this is restricted to such ideas as we form of angels. All good men and women who rise to the spiritual dignity of carrying the throne of God, or being in the company of such as carry it, sing the praises and glory of God. They are a part of that environment, just as the evil ones are a part of the environment of the Blazing Fire. Their Faith is perfect, for they have seen the Glory with their own spiritual eyes ; and they beg for forgiveness for their weaker brethren, who struggle in Faith and Repentance in God's Path

4366. Cf. verse 3 above.

Is over all things,
In Mercy and Knowledge.
Forgive, then, those who
Turn in Repentance, and follow
Thy Path ; and preserve them
From the Penalty
Of the Blazing Fire !

8. " And grant, our Lord !
That they enter
The Gardens of Eternity,
Which Thou hast promised
To them, and to the righteous
Among their fathers,<sup>4367</sup>
Their wives, and their posterity !
For Thou art (He),
The Exalted in Might,
Full of Wisdom.

9. " And preserve them
From (all) ills ;
And any whom Thou
Dost preserve from ills<sup>4368</sup>
That Day,—on them
Wilt Thou have bestowed
Mercy indeed : and that
Will be truly (for them)
The highest Achievement " .<sup>4369</sup>

SECTION 2.

10. The Unbelievers will be Addressed : " Greater was

۱۰- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
يُنَادُونَ لَكَفَّتُ اللَّهُ أَكْبَرُ مِنْ مَقْتِكُمْ

4367. There is nothing selfish in prayer. We pray for all who are true and sincere. But just as Evil is catching, so Goodness is catching in another sense. The associates of the Good and those near and dear to them also share in their goodness and happiness, if only they try to walk in the same Way. And the Grace of God is working for all, all the time.

4368. That is the final Judgment, and any who is saved from the evil consequences of their deeds in this life will truly have been saved by God's Mercy, and for them it is the highest achievement they could have, the attainment of all their wishes, the fulfilment of their destiny and the noblest purpose of their Life, the supreme Salvation and Felicity.

4369. Muslim Salvation, then, is more positive than mere safety from dangers or evils : it is the complete fulfilment of the noble destiny of man in the attainment of the fullest Grace.

4370. The Unbelievers having rejected God's Signs, they now see how they are shut out from Grace, and they feel disgusted with themselves. How much greater was God's displeasure with them, when He showered mercy upon them and they yet rebelled ! How could they now hope for Grace !

To yourselves, seeing that ye
Were called to the Faith
And ye used to refuse."

11. They will say : " Our Lord !
Twice hast Thou made us <sup>4371</sup>
Without life, and twice
Hast Thou given us Life !
Now have we recognised
Our sins : is there
Any way out (of this) ? "
12. (The answer will be : )
" This is because, when
God was invoked as
The Only (object of worship), <sup>4371</sup>
Ye did reject Faith,
But when partners were
Joined to Him, ye believed !
The Command is with God, <sup>4373</sup>
Most High, Most Great ! "
13. He it is Who showeth
You His Signs, and sendeth
Down Sustenance for you <sup>4374</sup>
From the sky : but only
Those receive admonition
Who turn (to God).
14. Call ye, then, upon God
With sincere devotion to Him,

۱۴- فَادْعُوا اللَّهَ مُخْلِصِينَ لَهُ الدِّينَ

4371. Cf. ii, 28: " How can ye reject the faith in God?—seeing that ye were without life, and He gave you life ; then will He cause you to die, and will again bring you to life ; and again to Him will ye return." Non-existence, or existence as clay without life was equivalent to death. Then came true Life on this earth ; then came physical death or the cessation of our physical life ; and now at the Resurrection, is the second life.

4372. Cf. xxxix. 45, and n. 4313. When exclusive devotion is not rendered to God, there is no true understanding, in the mind of a creature, of his own true position, or of the working of the Divine Will and Purpose. How can he then hope to achieve the purpose of his life, or obtain God's Mercy, which is the only way to obtain release from the consequences of Sin ?

4373. At the Judgment, the matter will have passed out of the stage at which further chances could have been hoped for. But in any case God is High above all things, Great above all that we can conceive of, both in Mercy and in Justice. The Decision will be with Him, and Him alone.

4374. Lest it should be thought that God's Grace did not meet the Sinner again and again and offer God's Mercy again and again, it is pointed out that God's Signs were freely vouchsafed everywhere and continuously, and that every kind of means was provided for man's " Sustenance " or growth and development, physical, mental, and spiritual. But only those could take advantage of it who turned their attention to God, who submitted their will to Him.

Even though the Unbelievers<sup>4375</sup>
May detest it.

15. Raised high above ranks
(Or degrees),<sup>4376</sup>
(He is) the Lord
Of the Throne (of authority):
By His Command doth He
Send the spirit (of inspiration)
To any of His servants<sup>4377</sup>

Of Mutual Meeting,—<sup>4378</sup>

16. The Day whereon
They will (all) come forth:
Not a single thing
Concerning them is hidden
From God. Whose will be
The Dominion that Day?<sup>4379</sup>
That of God, the One,
The Irresistible!

17. That Day will every soul
Be requited for what
It earned; no injustice
Will there be that Day,
For God is Swift<sup>4380</sup>
In taking account.

4375. Cf. ix. 33.

4376. He is raised far above any rank or degree which we can imagine. It is possible also to treat Rafī, as equivalent to Rāfī, meaning that He can raise His creatures to the highest ranks and degrees in His spiritual kingdom, for He is the fountain of all honour.

4377. The choosing of a man to be the recipient of inspiration—to be the standard-bearer of God's Truth—is the highest honour possible in the spiritual Kingdom. And God bestows that honour according to His own most perfect Will and Plan, which no one can question, for He is the fountain of all honour, dignity, and authority.

4378. All men will meet together and meet their Lord at the Resurrection, no matter how far scattered they may have been in life or in death.

4379. The Kingdom of God—of Justice, Truth, and Righteousness—will then be fully established. Evil can then no more come into competition with Good, even in the subjective consciousness of man.

4380. Swift in several senses: (1) the time of the present life or of the interval before Judgment, i.e., before the restoration of true values, is so short as compared to Eternity, that it may be counted as negligible: in the next verse the Day is characterised as "(ever) drawing near"; (2) in spite of the great concourse of souls to be judged, the process of Judgment will be almost instantaneous, "in the twinkling of an eye" (xvi. 77), because everything is already known to God; and yet not the least injustice will be done.

18. Warn them of the Day
That is (ever) drawing near,
When the Hearts will

To choke (them);

Nor intercessor will the wrong-doers
Have, who could be
Listened to.
19. (God) knows of (the tricks)
That deceive with the eyes, <sup>4383</sup>
And all that the hearts
(Of men) conceal. <sup>4384</sup>
20. And God will judge

C. 207.—Travel in space and time, and you
(xl. 21-50.) Will see that Evil came to nothing

4381. Hearts will come right up to the Throats to choke them: an idiom implying that the whole of their life-functions will be choked up with terror. But a more subtle meaning emerges from further analysis. The heart (or the breast) is the seat of affection, emotion, and every kind of feeling, such as terror, pain, despair, etc. These things will as it were overflow right up to the throat and choke it. The throat is the vehicle for the voice; their voice will be choked, and they will be able to say nothing. The throat is the channel for food, which goes to the stomach and maintains a healthy functioning of life; the choking means that the healthy functioning will stop, and there will be nothing but woe.

4382. In that enforcement of personal responsibility, what sympathy or intercession can the wrong-doers get? Is Hamim in any way connected with the Abbreviated Letters Hā-Mīm attached to this Sūra? See Introduction.

4383. Men may be taken in by tricks that deceive with the eyes, but God's perfect knowledge penetrates through all mysteries. "Deceive with the eyes" may mean several things: (1) a sleight of hand (literally or figuratively) may deceive in respect of the eyes of beholders, for the things that they see do not actually happen; (2) it may be the deceiver's own eyes that play false, because, for example, they show love when hatred is meant; or (3) it may be that the eyes of the beholder play him false, in that he sees things that he should not see, and thus sins with his eyes.

4384. Here we come into the region of evil motives and thoughts which may be concealed in the heart, breast, or mind, but which are all perfectly known to God.

4385. If men build their hopes or their faith in anything except the Divine Grace, they will find themselves deserted. Any pretences that they make will be known to God. On the other hand every single good act, or word, or motive, or aspiration of their will, will reach God's Throne of Mercy.

But evil. Mighty men of old
 In arrogance plotted against God's Truth,
 But were brought low. A humble Believer
 In Pharaoh's Court stood up for Truth,
 And counselled his People to obey the Right :
 In earnest humility did he address them.
 They heard him not. But he was saved,
 And they were engulfed in the Wrath of God.

SECTION 3.

21. Do they not travel
 Through the earth and see
 What was the End
 Of those before them ? <sup>4386</sup>
 They were even superior
 To them in strength,
 And in the traces (they <sup>4387</sup>
 Have left) in the land :
 But God did call them
 To account for their sins,
 And none had they
 To defend them against God.

٢١- أَوَلَمْ يَسِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ فَيَنْظُرُوا

22. That was because there came
 To them their apostles <sup>4388</sup>
 With Clear (Signs),
 But they rejected them :
 So God called them
 To account : for He is Full of Strength,
 Strict in Punishment.

٢٢- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّهُمْ كَانَتْ تَأْتِيهِمْ رُسُلُهُمْ
 بِالْبَيِّنَاتِ فَكَفَرُوا

 إِنَّهُ قَوِيٌّ شَدِيدُ الْعِقَابِ ○

23. Of old We sent Moses, <sup>4389</sup>
 With Our Signs
 And an Authority manifest,

٢٣- وَلَقَدْ أَرْسَلْنَا مُوسَىٰ بِآيَاتِنَا
 وَسُلْطٰنٍ مُّبِينٍ ○

4386. Cf. xxx. 9 and several other similar passages.

4387. See n. 3515 to xxx. 9. We can learn from the history of previous nations. Many of them were more powerful, or have left finer and more imposing monuments and made a deeper impression on the world around them than any particular generation addressed. "Traces" in the text may be taken in that extended sense. And yet all this did not save them from the consequences of their sins. They were called to account and punished. None of the power or pomp or skill of which they boasted could for a moment ward off the punishment when it came in God's good time.

4388. But God in His Mercy always sends a Message of warning and good news through his apostles, and He gives His apostles Clear Signs and an authority that can be recognised. Among the Clear Signs are: (1) the pure and unselfish lives of the apostles; (2) the revelation of truth which they bring; (3) their influence on the course of events in their own and succeeding generations; etc. Some of these may be so remarkable that they merit the name of Miracles.

4389. This is not the story of Moses himself, so much as an introduction to the story of the one just man who believed, in the court of Pharaoh: see verse 28 below. This Sūra ("The Believer") is called after him.

24. To Pharaoh, Hāmān,<sup>4390</sup>
And Qārūn; but they Called (him) "a sorcerer
Telling lies!"...

٢٣- إلى فرعون وهامان وقارون
فقالوا سحر كذاب

25. Now, when he came to them<sup>4391</sup>
In Truth, from Us,
They said, "Slay the sons
Of those who believe<sup>4392</sup>
With him, and keep alive
Their females," but the plots
Of Unbelievers (end) in nothing
But errors (and delusions)!...

٢٥- فلما جاءهم بالحق من عندنا
قالوا اقتلوا أبناء الذين آمنوا
معاه واستحيوا نساءهم
وما كيد الكافرين إلا في ضلل

26. Said Pharaoh: "Leave me
To slay Moses; and let him
Call on his Lord!<sup>4393</sup>
What I fear is lest
He should change your religion,<sup>4394</sup>
Or lest he should cause
Mischief to appear
In the land!"

٢٦- وقال فرعون ذروني اقتل موسى
وليدع ربه
إني أخاف أن يبدل دينكم
أو أن يظهر في الأرض الفساد

4390. Here are three types of Unfaith, each showing a different phase, and yet all united in opposition to the Truth and Mission of Moses. (1) Pharaoh is the type of arrogance, cruelty, and reliance on brute force; Cf. xxviii. 38-39. (2) Hāmān was Pharaoh's minister (n. 3331 to xxviii, 6; also xxviii. 38): he was the type of a sycophant who would pander to the vanity of any man in power. (3) Qārūn excelled in his wealth, was selfish in its use, and overbearing to the poor (xxviii. 76-81, and n. 3404). They all came to an evil end eventually.

4391. Verse 24 described the opposition of three types of Unfaith, which opposed Faith, in different ways, as described in the last note Qārūn, in his overweening insolence, may well have called Moses and Aaron "sorcerers telling lies" in the Sinai desert, as he despised priests and men of God, and might cast the Egyptian reproach in their teeth as a reminiscence. Here, in verse 25, we have an episode about the time of the birth of Moses: "them" and "they" refer to Pharaoh and his Court; the "coming" of Moses here refers to the time of his birth. On that construction, "with him", lower down in their speech would be elliptical, referring to "slay the sons", as if they had said, "Kill all Israelite male children: the unknown Prophet to be born would be amongst them: so kill them all with him." In verse 26 we again skip some years and recall an episode when Moses, having got his mission, stood in Pharaoh's Court, and some of the Egyptian Commonalty were almost ready to believe in him.

4392. That is, the Israelites, for they were the custodians of God's Faith then. For the slaughter of Israelite children by Pharaoh, see xxviii. 4-6, and notes.

4393. This is an episode that occurs when Moses, invested with his mission, confronts Pharaoh in his Court and preaches to him: see xx. 49 and following verses; also xx. 57, 63.

4394. Some of Pharaoh's people did afterwards give up the worship of Pharaoh and of the Egyptian gods and believed "in the Lord of Aaron and Moses" and in fact suffered martyrdom for the Faith of Unity; xx. 70-73.

27. Moses said: " I have indeed
Called upon my Lord
And your Lord <sup>4395</sup>
(For protection) from every Arrogant one who believes not
In the Day of Account! "

٢٧- وَقَالَ مُوسَىٰ إِنِّي عُذْتُ بِرَبِّي
وَرَبِّكُمْ مِّنْ كُلِّ مُتَكَبِّرٍ لَا يُؤْمِنُ
بِیَوْمِ الْحِسَابِ ۝

SECTION 4.

28.  Believer, a man <sup>4396</sup>
From among the people
Of Pharaoh, who had concealed
His faith, said: " Will ye
Slay a man because he Says, ' My Lord is God ' ?—
When he has indeed come
To you with Clear (Signs)
From your Lord? And if
He be a liar, on him
Is (the sin of) his lie;
But, if he is telling <sup>4397</sup>
The Truth, then will
Fall on you something
Of the (calamity) of which
He warns you: truly
God guides not one <sup>4398</sup>
Who transgresses and lies!

٢٨- وَقَالَ رَجُلٌ مُّؤْمِنٌ مِّنْ
مَّنْ آلِ فِرْعَوْنَ يَكْتُمُ إِيمَانَهُ

وَقَدْ جَاءَكُمْ بِالْبَيِّنَاتِ مِنْ رَبِّكُمْ
وَإِنْ يَكُ كَاذِبًا فَعَلَيْهِ كَذِبُهُ
وَإِنْ يَكُ صَادِقًا
يُضِيبَكُمْ بَعْضُ الَّذِي يَعِدُكُمْ
إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَهْدِي مَنْ هُوَ
مُسْرِفٌ كَذَّابٌ ۝

29. " O my People! yours
Is the dominion this day:

٢٩- يَقَوْمِ لَكُمْ الْمُلْكُ الْيَوْمَ

4395. The whole point of the Gospel of Unity which Moses preached was that the God of Moses and the God of Pharaoh, of Israel and of Egypt, the Lord of all the Worlds, was One,—the only True God. See xx. 49-50 and notes 2572 and 2573.

4396. There is nothing to justify the identification of this man with the man mentioned in xxviii. 20, who warned Moses long before Moses had received his mission. On the contrary, in this passage, the man is evidently speaking after Moses had received his mission, preached to Pharaoh, and got a certain amount of success, for which Pharaoh and his people were trying to seek his life. Moses had evidently already brought his Clear Signs.

4397. A commonsense view is put before them by an Egyptian who loves his own people and does not wish them to perish in sin. " Will you kill this man for calling on God? Have you not seen his character and behaviour? Do you not see the 'Clear Signs' about him that bespeak his credentials? Suppose for a moment that he is a liar and pretender: he will suffer for his falsehood, but why should you turn against God? But suppose that he is really inspired by God to tell you the truth and warn you against evil, what will be your fate when God's Wrath descends? For it must descend if he is a true Messenger sent by God."

4398. This is with reference to the "Clear signs". 'They are Signs of God's guidance, for God would never guide a man who exceeds the bounds of truth and tells you lies! Such a man is bound to be found out!'

Ye have the upper hand <sup>4399</sup>
 In the land : but who
 Will help us from
 The Punishment of God,
 Should it befall us ? ”
 Pharaoh said : “ I but
 Point out to you that
 Which I see (myself) ; <sup>4400</sup>
 Nor do I guide you
 But to the Path of Right ! ”

30. When said the man
 Who believed : “ O my People !
 Truly I do fear
 For you something like <sup>4401</sup>
 The Day (of disaster)
 Of the Confederates (in sin) !—<sup>4402</sup>

31. “ Something like the fate
 Of the People of Noah,
 The ‘Ad, and the Thamud,
 And those who came
 After them : but God
 Never wishes injustice <sup>4403</sup>
 To His Servants.

32. “ And O my People !
 I fear for you a Day <sup>4404</sup>
 When there will be
 Mutual calling (and wailing),—

ظَهْرَيْنَ فِي الْأَرْضِ
 فَمَنْ يَنْصُرُنَا مِنْ بَأْسِ اللَّهِ إِنْ جَاءَنَا
 قَالَ فِرْعَوْنُ مَا أُرِيكُمْ إِلَّا مَا أَرَى
 وَمَا أَهْدِيكُمْ
 إِلَّا سَبِيلَ الرَّشَادِ ○

۳۰- وَقَالَ الَّذِي آمَنَ يَوْمَ يَقُومُ
 رَبِّي أَخَافُ عَلَيْكُمْ مِثْلَ
 يَوْمِ الْأَحْزَابِ ○

۳۱- مِثْلَ دَابِ قَوْمِ نُوحٍ
 وَعَادٍ وَثَمُودَ وَالَّذِينَ مِنْ بَعْدِهِمْ
 وَمَا اللَّهُ يُرِيدُ ظُلْمًا لِّلْعِبَادِ ○

۳۲- وَيَقُومُ رَبِّي أَخَافُ عَلَيْكُمْ
 يَوْمَ التَّنَادِ ○

4399. ‘Do not be puffed up with arrogance because the power is in your hands at present ! Do you deserve it ? Will it last ? If you are sinning and drawing upon yourselves God’s Punishment, is there anything that can shield you from it ?

4400. Pharaoh’s egotism and arrogance come out. ‘I can see and understand everything. As I see things, so do I direct you.’ The Path which I see must be right, and you must follow it.’

4401. He appeals to past history. ‘Have you not heard of people who lived before you ?—like the generations of Noah, the ‘Ad, the Thamud, and many more—who held together in sin against God’s Preachers, but were wiped out for their sins ?’

4402. Cf. xxxviii. 11-13, and n. 4158, also xl. 5, and n. 4361.

4403. ‘All these disasters happened in history, and they will happen again to you if you do not give up evil. Do not for a moment think that God is unjust. It is you who are deliberately preparing the disasters by your conduct.’

4404. This Day may refer to the Day of Judgment, of which three features are here referred to. (1) People may wail and call to each other, but no one can help another : each one will have his own judgment to face ; (2) the wicked will then be driven to Hell from the Judgment-Seat ; and (3) there will be no one to help, guide, or intercede, because the grace and guidance of God had already been rejected. But the words are perfectly general, and are applicable to all stages at which the Wrath of God is manifest.

33. "A Day when ye
Shall turn your backs
And flee : no defender
Shall ye have from God :
Any whom God leaves
To stray, there is none
To guide ...
34. "And to you there came
Joseph in times gone by,<sup>4405</sup>
With Clear Signs, but
Ye ceased not to doubt
Of the (mission) for which
He had come : at length,
When he died, ye said :
'No apostle will God send<sup>4406</sup>
After him.' Thus doth God
Leave to stray such as Transgress and live in doubt,—
35. "(Such) as dispute about
The Signs of God,
Without any authority
That hath reached them.
Grievous and odious
(Is such conduct)
In the sight of God
And of the Believers.
Thus doth God seal up<sup>4407</sup>
Every heart—of arrogant
And obstinate transgressors."

٣٣-يَوْمَ تَوَلَّوْنَ مُدْبِرِينَ

4405. So far he has been speaking of general religious tradition. Now, as an Egyptian, addressing Egyptians, he refers to the mission of Joseph in Egypt, for which see the whole of Sūra xii, and Appendix VI following it. Joseph was not born in Egypt, nor was he an Egyptian. With what wonderful incidents he came into Egypt! What difficulties did he not surmount among his own brothers first, and in the Egyptian family which afterwards adopted him! How injustice, spite, and forgetfulness on the part of others, yet wove a spell round him and made him a ruler and saviour of Egypt in times of famine! How he preached to prisoners in prison, to Zulaikha in her household, to the Egyptian ladies in their banquet, and to the Court of Pharaoh generally! The Egyptians profited by the material gains which came to them through him, but as a nation remained sceptical of his spiritual truths for many generations after him.

4406. See Appendix IV, p. 406, for a discussion of the interval between Joseph and Moses. Perhaps the interval was about one to three centuries, a very short period for the memory of a learned nation like the Egyptians. And yet they as a nation ignored his spiritual work, and afterwards even persecuted Israel in Egypt until Moses delivered them. They actually saw the benefits conferred by Joseph, but did not realise that God's Kingdom works continuously even though men ignore it. See Appendix V, pp. 408-13, for a sketch of Religion in Egypt. For such men how could the Grace and Guidance of God be effective in their hearts?

4407. See the last note. The arrogant transgressors having closed their hearts to the Message of God and to every appeal made to them, it followed by God's Law that their hearts were sealed up to any fresh influences for good. Cf. vii. 100; also ii. 7, and n. 31.

36. Pharaoh said : “ O Hāmān !
Build me a lofty palace,<sup>4408</sup>
That I may attain
The ways and means—

٣٦- وَقَالَ فِرْعَوْنُ يَا مَنُ ابْنِ لِي صَرْحًا

37. “ The ways and means
Of (reaching) the heavens,
And that I may mount up
To the God of Moses :
But as far as I am concerned,
I think (Moses) is a liar ! ”
Thus was made alluring,<sup>4409</sup>
In Pharaoh’s eyes,
The evil of his deeds,
And he was hindered
From the Path ; and the plot<sup>4410</sup>
Of Pharaoh led to nothing
But perdition (for him).

38. The man who believed said
Further : “ O my People !
Follow me : I will lead
You to the Path of Right.<sup>4411</sup>

٣٨- وَقَالَ الَّذِي آمَنَ يٰ قَوْمِ

39. “ O my People ! This life
Of the present is nothing
But (temporary) convenience :
It is the Hereafter .

٣٩- يٰ قَوْمِ إِنَّمَا هَذِهِ الْحَيَاةُ الدُّنْيَا مَتَاعٌ
وَإِنَّ الْآخِرَةَ

4408. Cf. xxviii, 38, and n. 3371. There are two points to be noted here. (1) Pharaoh, in the arrogance of his materialism, thinks of the Kingdom of Heaven like a kingdom on earth ; he thinks of spiritual things in terms of palaces and ladders: notice that the word asbāb (ways and means) is emphasised by repetition. (2) His sarcasm turns Moses and God to ridicule. Really he does not believe in anything spiritual, and he frankly states that ‘for his part he thinks Moses is a liar’, though other men less lofty than he (Pharaoh) may be deceived by the Clear Signs of Moses.

4410. Pharaoh had plotted to slay Moses (xl. 26) and to kill the Children of Israel (xl. 25). The plot recoiled on his own head and on the head of his people who joined in the plot ; for they were all drowned in the Red Sea.

4411. Note the contrast between the earnest beseeching tone of the Believer here and the hectoring tone of Pharaoh in using similar words in xl. 29 above.

That is the Home
That will last.<sup>4412</sup>

40. "He that works evil
Will not be requited
But by the like thereof:
And he that works
A righteous deed—whether
Man or woman—and is
A Believer—such will enter
The Garden (of Bliss): therein
Will they have abundance<sup>4413</sup>
Without measure.

41. "And O my People!
How (strange) it is<sup>4414</sup>
For me to call you
To Salvation while ye
Call me to the Fire!

42. "Ye do call upon me
To blaspheme against God,<sup>4415</sup>
And to join with Him
Partners of whom I have
No knowledge; and I
Call you to the Exalted
In Power, Who forgives
Again and again!"

- 43 "Without doubt ye do call
Me to one who is not
Fit to be called to,<sup>4416</sup>
Whether in this world,

4412. Faith makes him see the contrast between vanities, even though they may glitter temporarily, and the eternal Good that is destined for man.

4413. Cf. ii. 212. The spiritual Good will not only last. It will be a most liberal reward, far above any merits of the recipient.

4414. It may seem strange according to the laws of this world that he should be seeking their Good while they are seeking his damnation! But that is the merit of Faith. Its mission is to rescue its enemies and God's enemies, as far as their will will consent!

4415. The worship of Pharaoh was but typical of Egyptian blasphemy, but it had many sides, including the worship of heroes, animals, powers of good and evil in nature, and idols of all kinds. It is this comprehensive cult which required forgiveness again and again, but God is Exalted in Power, and gives such forgiveness on repentance.

4416. Faith is not content with its own inner vision and conviction. It can give ample arguments. Three are mentioned here: (1) nothing but God is worthy of worship, either in this world of sense or in the spiritual world; (2) our Return will be to God, the only Reality; and (3) the worship of Falsehood must necessarily lead to the Penalty of Falsehood, unless God's Mercy intervenes and forgives on our sincere repentance.

Or in the Hereafter ;
Our Return will be
To God ; and the Transgressors
Will be Companions
Of the Fire !

44. " Soon will ye remember
What I say to you (now).<sup>4417</sup>
My (own) affair I commit

Watches over His Servants."

45. When God saved him

فَيَقُولُ الضَّعِيفُ الَّذِينَ

4417. The wording suggests as if there was a plot to kill him, but he was saved, as the next verse shows. His thought to the last is with his People. 'No matter what you do to me : you will have cause to remember my admonition, when perhaps it is too late for you to repent. For my part I commit myself to the care of God, and my Faith tells me that all will be right.'

4418. The Pharaoh of the time of Moses, and his people, suffered many calamities in this world : vii. 130-136. But those were nothing to the spiritual Penalties mentioned in the next verse.

4419. When the Judgment really comes, it is not like an ordinary physical disaster. The Fire of Punishment is ever present—morning and evening—i.e., at all times. The sentence becomes final and there is no mitigation.

4420. Just as Unity, Harmony, and Peace are symbols of Truth, Bliss, and Salvation, so Reproaches, Disputes, and Disorders are symbols of Hell.

Take (on yourselves) from us

48. Those who had been arrogant

49. Those in the Fire will say
To the Keepers of Hell : <sup>4422</sup>
“ Pray to your Lord
To lighten us the Penalty
For a Day (at least) !”

50. They will say : “ Did there
Not come to you
Your apostles with Clear Signs ?”
They will say, “ Yes ”.
They will reply, “ Then <sup>4423</sup>

C. 208.—God’s grace and help are ever ready
(xl. 51-85.) For His servants who patiently persevere.
Let not arrogance blind the souls
Of men : the Hour of Judgment is bound
To come. The keys of Life and Death
Are in the hands of God. Dispute not
The Signs of God, but learn from History
And the world around you. Science and skill
Avail you not if the soul is dead.

4421. Note the evasion and cynicism of the answer, befitting the character of spiritual mis-leaders! ‘What! are we not suffering with you in the same Fire! Pray to God if you like! He has pronounced His Judgment!’ Cf. xiv. 21-22.

4422. Cf. xxxix. 71. The poor misguided ones will turn to the angels who are their Keepers, asking them to pray and intercede for them. But the angels are set there to watch over them, not to intercede for them. In their innocence they ask, ‘Did you have no warnings from apostles, men like yourselves, in your past life?’

4423. The answer being in the affirmative, they will have to tell the dreadful truth: ‘This is neither the time nor the place for prayer, for mercy! And in any case, Prayer without Faith is Delusion, and must miss its mark.’ Cf. xiii. 14.

SECTION 6.

51. We will, without doubt,
Help Our apostles and those
Who believe, (both)
In this world's life
And on the Day
When the Witnesses <sup>4424</sup>
Will stand forth,—

٥١- إِنَّا لَنَنْصُرُ رُسُلَنَا وَالَّذِينَ
آمَنُوا فِي الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا

52. The Day when no profit
Will it be to Wrong-doers
To present their excuses, <sup>4425</sup>
But they will (only) have
The Curse and the Home
Of Misery.

٥٢- يَوْمَ لَا يَنْفَعُ الظَّالِمِينَ مَعَذِرَتُهُمْ
وَلَهُمُ اللَّعْنَةُ
وَلَهُمْ سُوءُ الدَّارِ ۝

53. We did aforetime give Moses
The (Book of) Guidance, <sup>4426</sup>
And We gave the Book
In inheritance to the Children
Of Israel,—

٥٣- وَكَذَٰلِكَ آتَيْنَا مُوسَى الْهُدَى
وَأَوْزَيْنَا بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ الْكِتَابَ ۝

54. A Guide and a Message
To men of understanding.

٥٤- هُدًى وَذِكْرَى لِأُولِي الْأَلْبَابِ ۝

55. Patiently, then, persevere : <sup>4427</sup>
For the Promise of God
Is true : and ask forgiveness <sup>4428</sup>
For thy fault, and celebrate

٥٥- فَاصْبِرْ إِنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ حَقٌّ
وَاسْتَغْفِرْ لِذَنْبِكَ وَسَبِّحْ

4424. The Day of Judgment is described as "the Day when Witnesses will stand forth". This description implies two things: (1) that there man will be judged justly; his past actions and his faculties and opportunities will be witnesses as to the use he made of them (xxiv. 24); in fact he will himself be a witness against himself (vi. 130); and the prophets and just men will bear witness to the fact that they preached and warned men (xxxix. 69; ii. 133).

4425. After the testimony mentioned in the last note, there will be no room for excuses, and if any were made, they could serve no purpose, unlike the state of matters in this world, where there is much make-believe, and Falsehood often masquerades as Truth and is accepted as such even by those who should know better.

4426. Moses was given a Revelation, and it was given in heritage to the Children of Israel, to preserve it, guide their conduct by it, and hold aloft its Message: but they failed in all these particulars.

4427. The Israelites corrupted or lost their Book; they disobeyed God's Law; and failed to proclaim and exemplify God's Message. That is why the new Revelation came to the holy Apostle. If, in the beginning, it was rejected and persecuted, there was no cause for discouragement; on the contrary, there was all the greater need for patience and perseverance.

4428. Every mortal according to his nature and degree of spiritual enlightenment falls short of the perfect standard of God (xvi. 61), and should therefore ask God for forgiveness. What is merit in an ordinary man may be a human shortcoming in one nearest to God: see xxxviii. 24-25, and notes 4175-76. Prophets have a further responsibility for their People or their Ummat, and they ask in a representative capacity.

The Praises of thy Lord
In the evening
And in the morning.<sup>4429</sup>

56. Those who dispute
About the Signs of God
Without any authority
Bestowed on them,—there is<sup>4430</sup>
Nothing in their breasts
But (the quest of) greatness,
Which they shall never
Attain to : seek refuge,
Then, in God : it is He
Who hears and sees (all things).

57. Assuredly the creation<sup>4431</sup>
Of the heavens
And the earth
Is a greater (matter)
Than the creation of men :
Yet most men understand not.

58. Not equal are the blind
And those who (clearly) see :<sup>4432</sup>
Nor are (equal) those
Who believe and work
Deeds of righteousness, and
Those who do evil.
Little do ye learn
By admonition !

59. The Hour will certainly come :<sup>4433</sup>
Therein is no doubt :
Yet most men believe not.

٥٩- إِنْ السَّاعَةَ لَا تَكْفُرُ فِيهَا
وَلَكِنَّ أَكْثَرَ النَّاسِ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ ○

4429. Cf. iii. 41. Evening and morning are the best times for mystic contemplation and spiritual effort. But the phrase "evening and morning" may mean "at all times".

4430. The Disputers are actuated by nothing but the desire for self-glory and self-aggrandizement. Their desire is not likely to receive fruition, but others should take warning from it.

4431. The heavens and the earth include mankind and all other creatures and millions of stars. Man is himself but a tiny part of creation. Why should he be so ego-centric? The whole is greater than a tiny part of it. And God Who created the whole of the Worlds is able to do much more wonderful things than can enter the imagination of man. Why should man be arrogant and doubt the Resurrection, and take upon himself to doubt the possibility of God's Revelation? It is only because he has made himself blind. See next verse.

4432. The man of Faith who backs his faith by righteous conduct is like the man of clear vision, who sees things in their true perspective and walks with firm steps in the Way of God. The man who does evil is like a blind man : the Light of God is all around him, but the man has made himself blind, and he can see nothing. He has rejected Faith and cannot even learn by other people's admonition.

4433. "The Hour" is the crown and consummation of man's life on this earth,—the gateway to the Hereafter.

60. And your Lord says :
 " Call on Me ; I
 Will answer your (Prayer) : <sup>4434</sup>
 But those who are
 Too arrogant to serve Me
 Will surely find themselves
 In Hell—in humiliation ! ”

SECTION 7.

61. Et is God Who has <sup>4435</sup>
 Made the Night for you,
 That ye may rest therein,
 And the Day, as that

 Verily God is Full of
 Grace and Bounty to men :
 Yet most men give
 No thanks.
62. Such is God, your Lord,
 The Creator of all things.
 There is no god but He :
 Then how ye are deluded <sup>4436</sup>
 Away from the Truth !

 Who are wont to reject
 The Signs of God.

 ٤٤- اِنَّ اللّٰهَ الَّذِيْ جَعَلَ لَكُمْ الْاَرْضَ

4434. As this life is not the end of all things, and we are to have its fulfilment in the Hereafter : we have only to pray to the Lord of the Present and the Hereafter, and He will hear us, forgive us, guide us, and make our Path smooth. But Pride will have its fall,—and its humiliating Punishment : Cf. xxxvii. 18.

4435. The succession of Day and Night in our physical life is frequently appealed to, as a symbol to draw our attention to the Mercy and Bounty of God. If we viewed these things aright, we should serve God and seek Light from Him and Rest from Him, and celebrate His praises with gratitude.

4436. If we worship false gods, i.e., go after vanities, what is it that deludes us and leads us astray? What could it be but our rank ingratitude and failure to use the understanding which God has given us?

4437. See the last two notes. If men are deluded by Falsehoods, it is because they reject Revelation and refuse to learn from the Signs of God all around them.

4438. The argument in the last two verses was from man's personal experiences of his physical life. In this and the next verse a parallel argument is addressed to man on a much higher plane : 'look at the spacious earth and the canopy of the sky ; look at the special position you occupy above other animals that you know, in shape and form, and moral and spiritual capacities ; consider your refinements in food and fruits and the higher spiritual Sustenance of which your physical food is a type ; would you not indeed say that the Lord is good, and would you not glorify His holy name?'

As a resting place,<sup>4439</sup>
 And the sky as a canopy,
 And has given you shape—<sup>4440</sup>
 And made your shapes
 Beautiful,—and has provided
 For you Sustenance,<sup>4441</sup>
 Of things pure and good;—
 Such is God your Lord.
 So Glory to God,
 The Lord of the Worlds !

65. He is the Living (One):<sup>4442</sup>
 There is no god but He :
 Call upon Him, giving Him
 Sincere devotion. Praise be
 To God, Lord of the Worlds !

66. Say : " I have been forbidden <sup>4443</sup>
 To invoke those whom ye
 Invoke besides God,—seeing that
 The Clear Signs have come
 To me from my Lord ;
 And I have been commanded
 To bow (in Islām)
 To the Lord of the Worlds."

67. It is He Who has <sup>4444</sup>
 Created you from dust,

قَرَارًا وَالسَّمَاءَ بِنَاءً

4439. A resting place : I understand this to imply a temporary place of rest or sojourn, a period of probation, to be followed by the eternal Home.

4440. Cf. vii. 11 and n. 996. The shape and form refer to the physical form as well as to the inborn moral and spiritual capacities of man. As regards physical form, Cf. Milton's description of Adam and Eve. " Two of far noble shape, erect and tall " (Paradise Lost, iv. 288). As regards moral and spiritual capacities, they are typified by the breathing of God's spirit into man : xv. 29.

4441. "Sustenance": all that is necessary for growth and development, physical, moral, and spiritual. Cf. n. 2105 to xvi. 73.

4442. The real, self-subsisting Life is only in Him : Cf. ii. 255, and n. 296. All other forms of life are but shadows compared to His perfect Light.

4443. If God, when we truly apprehend Him, is the only Reality, we must take our standard and inspiration from Him. All other objects of worship are mere delusions. To any one who sees this clearly, through God's Self revelations, the only possible course is to give up everything else, which his own inner experience as well as outer Revelation tell him is false or of a temporary nature, and to bring his own will and actions into complete unison with the only Reality: for that is the meaning of Islām. bowing to the Will of God. When we bow to the Real and Everlasting, we are automatically saved from falling victims to the False and Evanescent.

4444. Cf. this passage with xxii. 5 and notes 2773 and 2774. The various stages of man's physical life are : (1) first, simple matter (dust) ; (2) the sperm-drop in the father ; (3) the fertilised ovum in the mother's womb ; (4) out into the light, as a human child ; (5) youth and full maturity ; (6) decay ; and (7) death. In some cases the later stages are curtailed or cut off ; but in any case, a Term appointed is reached, so that the higher purpose of God's Will and Plan may be fulfilled in each given case, that man " may learn wisdom ".

Then from a sperm-drop,
 Then from a leech-like clot ;
 Then does He get you
 Out (into the light)
 As a child : then lets you
 (Grow and) reach your age
 Of full strength ; then
 Lets you become old,—
 Though of you there are
 Some who die before ;—
 And lets you reach
 A Term appointed ;
 In order that ye
 May learn wisdom.

68. It is He Who gives Life <sup>4445</sup>
 And Death ; and when He Decides upon an affair,
 He says to it, " Be ",
 And it is.

 That dispute concerning
 The Signs of God ?
 How are they turned away <sup>4446</sup>

70. Those who reject the Book <sup>4447</sup>
 And the (revelations) with which
 We sent Our apostles :
 But soon shall they know, —

 وَبِمَا أَرْسَلْنَا
 بِهِ رُسُلَنَا فَسَوْفَ يَعْلَمُونَ ۝

4445. The keys of life and death are in God's hands. But He is not dependent on time or place or instruments or materials. All that He has to do is to say "Be", and it comes into existence. Cf. xvi. 40, and n. 2066 ; xxxvi. 82, and n. 4029. Conversely, His Will or Command is sufficient to annihilate Existence into Non-Existence (Life into Death) or determine the limits or conditions of Existence or Non-Existence.

4446. Those who dispute about the Signs of God which are clear to all who care to see, are merely in the mists of Unreality : Cf. x. 32.

4447. " The Book " may refer to the Holy Qur-ān or to the fundamental Revelation, the " Mother of the Book " (xiii. 39), while the Books revealed to the apostles are the definite Revelations that came down to men from time to time.

71. When the yokes (shall be) <sup>4418</sup>
Round their necks,
And the chains;
They shall be dragged along—

٤١- إِذِ الْأَعْلَالُ فِي أَعْنَاقِهِمْ وَالسَّلْسِلُ
يُسْحَبُونَ ۝

72. In the boiling fetid fluid; <sup>4419</sup>
Then in the Fire
Shall they be burned;

٤٢- فِي الْحَمِيمِ ۖ
ثُمَّ فِي النَّارِ يُسْجَرُونَ ۝

73. Then shall it be said
To them: "Where are
The (deities) to which
Ye gave part-worship—

٤٣- ثُمَّ قِيلَ لَهُمْ
أَيْنَ مَا كُنْتُمْ تُشْرِكُونَ ۝

74. "In derogation of God?"
They will reply: "They have <sup>4450</sup>
Left us in the lurch:
Nay, we invoked not,
Of old, anything (that had Real existence)." Thus
Does God leave
The Unbelievers to stray.

٤٤- مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ ۗ
قَالُوا ضَلُّوا عَنَّا
بَلْ لَمْ نَكُنْ نَدْعُوا مِنْ قَبْلُ شَيْئًا ۗ
كَذَلِكَ يُضِلُّ اللَّهُ الْكَافِرِينَ ۝

75. "That was because <sup>4451</sup>
Ye were wont to rejoice
On the earth in things
Other than the Truth,
And that ye were wont
To be insolent.

٤٥- ذَلِكَ بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَفْرَحُونَ
فِي الْأَرْضِ بِغَيْرِ الْحَقِّ
وَبِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَمْرَحُونَ ۝

76. "Enter ye the gates <sup>4452</sup>
Of Hell, to dwell therein:
And evil is (this) abode
Of the arrogant!"

٤٦- ادْخُلُوا أَبْوَابَ جَهَنَّمَ خَالِدِينَ فِيهَا
فَبئسَ مثوى المتكبرين ۝

4448. The rejection of God's Message, however brought, carries its own penalty. The yoke of spiritual slavery to Sin and Evil is fastened more and more firmly round the rejecter's neck, because there is no one to safeguard his freedom, and the chains of superstitions and the ugly consequences of evil restrict his freedom and the limited faculty of choice which was given by God to man. This process receives its climax at the Hour of Judgment.

4449. The sinner gets dragged further and further in the disgusting consequences of his evil actions, until the fire of destruction closes in upon him.

4450. All falsehoods will vanish: Cf. vii. 36. The only Reality will be fully manifest even to those to whom Evil was made to seem alluring in the lower life. They will feel in their inmost souls that they had been pursuing mere shadows, things of no real existence. This was the result of their rejecting the Light and the Grace of God: they got entangled in the mazes of error.

4451. God does not withdraw His grace from any unless (1) they actively and deliberately take a delight in things that are vain or false, and (2) they insolently reject the things that are true,—in other words, unless men are deliberately false to their own lights, as illuminated by the Light of God.

4452. Cf. xxxix. 72.

77. So persevere in patience ;
For the Promise of God
Is true : and whether <sup>4453</sup>
We show thee (in this life)
Some part of what We Promise them,—or We Take thy soul (to Our Mercy)
(Before that),—(in any case)
It is to Us that
They shall (all) return.

۷۷- فَأَصْبِرْ إِنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ حَقٌّ ۚ
فَأَمَّا نُرِيَنَّكَ
بَعْضَ الَّذِي نَعُودُهُمْ
أَوْ نَتَوَقَّيَنَّكَ
فَالْإِنبَاءُ يَرْجِعُونَ ۝

78. We did aforetime send Apostles before thee : of them <sup>4454</sup>
There are some whose story
We have related to thee,
And some whose story
We have not related
To thee. It was not (Possible) for any apostle
To bring a Sign except
By the leave of God :
But when the Command <sup>4455</sup>
Of God issued,
The matter was decided
In truth and justice,
And there perished,
There and then, those
Who stood on Falsehoods.

۷۸- وَ لَقَدْ أَرْسَلْنَا رُسُلًا مِّن قَبْلِكَ مِنْهُمْ
مَّن قَصَصْنَا عَلَيْكَ

فَإِذَا جَاءَ أَمْرُ اللَّهِ
فُضِيَ بِالْحَقِّ
وَخَسِرَ هُنَالِكَ الْكٰفِرُونَ ۝

SECTION 9.

79. It is God who made <sup>4456</sup>
Cattle for you, that ye

۷۹- اللَّهُ الَّذِي جَعَلَ لَكُمْ الْأَنْعَامَ

4453. Cf. x. 46, and n. 1438. As the eventual justice and readjustment of values must take place, when every soul returns to the Judgment-seat of God, it makes no difference if good and evil meet their deserts in this very life or not. Cf. also xiii. 40.

4454. Cf. iv. 164. God sent Messengers of His Truth to every people. There are some whose names are known to us through the holy Qur-ān, but there are a large number whose names are not made known to us through that medium. We must recognise the Truth wherever we find it.

4455. The Signs of God are everywhere, and can be seen by the discerning eye at all times. But if any extraordinary Signs are demanded by cynics or Unbelievers, they will not be granted merely because they are demanded. It is God's Will that issues them, not merely the desire of human beings, even if he be a Messenger of God. But when an extraordinary Sign does issue by the Command of God, it means that the cup of the iniquitous is full; that their case is decided, and their time of respite is past; and that Justice takes the place of Mercy, and evil is blotted out.

4456. Cf. xvi. 5-8. The fact that beasts, which in their wild state are so noxious, are, when domesticated, so useful to man, is itself one of the great and standing Signs of God's care for man. The great usefulness of cattle is very instructive. They serve for riding, and many of them for food; further, they are used for the plough, and they produce milk, or wool, or hair; and from their carcasses man derives bones and horns for many industrial uses; but passing on to higher aspects of life, they further social, moral, and spiritual uses as draught-animals, in that transport serves one of the fundamental purposes of civilisation, being in this respect like ships for international commerce: xxx. 46, and n. 3565. It is by means of human intercourse through transport that we can carry out the highest needs of our culture, "any need there may be in our hearts", i.e., in our inner being.

May use some for riding
And some for food ;

80. And there are (other) advantages
In them for you (besides);
That ye may through them
Attain to any need
(There may be) in your hearts ;
And on them and on ships
Ye are carried.

81. And He shows you (always) <sup>4457</sup>
His Signs : then which
Of the Signs of God
Will ye deny ?

82. Do they not travel through
The earth and see what
Was the End of those Before them ? They were
More numerous than these
And superior in strength <sup>4458</sup>
And in the traces
(They have left) in the land :
Yet all that they accomplished
Was of no profit to them.

83. For when their apostles
Came to them
With Clear Signs, they exulted <sup>4459</sup>
In such knowledge (and skill)

لَتَرْكَبُوا مِنْهَا وَمِنْهَا تَأْكُلُونَ ۝

۸۰- وَ لَكُمْ فِيهَا مَنَافِعُ

وَلِتَبْلُغُوا عَلَيْهَا حَاجَةً

فِي صُدُورِكُمْ

۸۱- وَ يُرِيكُمْ آيَاتِهِ ۙ فَآيَ

آيَاتِ اللَّهِ تُنْكِرُونَ ۝

۸۲- أَفَلَمْ يَسِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ فَيَنْظُرُوا

كَيْفَ كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ

كَانُوا أَكْثَرُ مِنْهُمْ وَأَشَدَّ قُوَّةً

وَ أَثَارًا فِي الْأَرْضِ

فَمَا آغْنَى عَنْهُمْ مَأْكَانُهُمْ يَكْسِبُونَ ۝

۸۳- فَلَمَّا جَاءَتْهُمْ رُسُلُهُمْ بِالْبَيِّنَاتِ

فَرِحُوا بِمَا عِنْدَهُمْ مِنَ الْعِلْمِ

4457. The Signs of God's goodness and mercy are so numerous that it is impossible to enumerate them. Which of them can any mortal deny? This is the theme of that highly poetical Sūra, Raḥmān (S. lv.).

4458. Cf. ix. 69. For any generation to take inordinate pride in its own single achievements in science or skill becomes ridiculous if we consider the broad stream of history. In the first place, men will find that a great deal of what they attribute to their own merits only became possible owing to the earlier work of their predecessors. Secondly, many of their predecessors were more numerous and mightier in power than they, although the perspective of time may have reduced the apparent depth of their influence, and the monuments which they have left behind may have suffered from the destroying hand of Time. Thirdly, and most important of all, when they forgot God and His inexorable Law, nothing of their own handiwork profited them: they perished in the common ruin as all vanities must perish. Cf. also xl. 21 above, and n. 4387. See how the recapitulation rounds off the argument.

4459. Arrogance and an exaggerated idea of Self were at the bottom of the Evil to which they succumbed.

As they had ; but
That very (Wrath) at which <sup>4460</sup>
They were wont to scoff
Hemmed them in.

84. But when they saw
Our Punishment, they said :
“ We believe in God,—
The One God — and we
Reject the partners we used
To join with Him.”

85. But their professing the Faith <sup>4461</sup>
When they (actually) saw
Our Punishment was not going
To profit them.
(Such has been) God’s way
Of dealing with His servants
(From the most ancient times).
And even thus did
The rejecters of God
Perish (utterly)!

وَ حَاقَ بِهِمْ

٨٤- فَلَمَّا رَأَوْا بَأْسَنَا قَالُوا

وَكَفَرْنَا بِمَا كُنَّا بِهِ مُشْرِكِينَ ○

٨٥- فَلَمْ يَكُ يَنْفَعُهُمْ إِيمَانُهُمْ
لَمَّا رَأَوْا بَأْسَنَا
سُنَّتَ اللَّهِ الَّتِي
قَدْ خَلَتْ فِي عِبَادِهِ
وَخَسِرَ هُنَالِكَ الْكَافِرُونَ ○

4460. Cf. xvi. 34. Nothing could stop the Justice of God punishing Evil. What they had ridiculed came as an inexorable fact. None of their grandeur or art or science or skill was of any use when they lost their souls!

4461. Again and again were they given chances, and again and again did they reject them. When it was too late, and in fact when it had no meaning, they offered to profess Faith. That was of no use. God does not accept unmeaning things of that kind. He wants to train and purify our will. For their disobedience and rebellion they perished utterly.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLI (Hā-Mīm).

This is the second of the series of seven Sūras bearing the Abbreviated Letters Hā-Mīm, as explained in the Introduction to S. xl. To prevent confusion with other Sūras of the Hā-Mīm series, the word Sajda is sometimes added to the title, making it Hā-Mīm as-Sajda, the double title being necessary as there is another Sūra called Sajda (S. xxxii). To avoid the double title, it is sometimes called Fuṣṣilat, from the occurrence of the word in verse 3.

The meaning of Hā-Mīm has been explained in the Introduction to S. xl, where will also be found a note on the chronology and general theme of the seven Hā-Mīm Sūras.

For this particular Sūra the theme is that the basis of Faith and Revelation is God's Power and Goodness, and the fruit of both is man's righteousness and healing.

Summary.—What is Revelation and Faith, and what is man's attitude to both, and what are its consequences? (xli. 1-32, and C. 209).

The fruits of Faith and Unfaith, Truth and Falsehood (xli. 33-54, and C. 210).

C. 209.—Revelation explains, and makes things clear;

(xli. 1-32.) It gives the message of hope and mercy,
 And it warns men against the snares
 Of Evil. Deny not God, the Lord
 Of the Worlds, Whose glory and power
 Are shown in Creation, and His Mercy
 In Revelation. Learn from the fate
 Of the Peoples of old! Learn from the warnings
 Of your own nature : your very limbs
 And faculties, if misused, bear witness
 Against you. Repent ere it be too late.

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*1. Hā-Mīm : <sup>4462</sup>2. A revelation from (God), <sup>4463</sup>
Most Gracious, Most Merciful;—3. A Book, whereof the verses
Are explained in detail;—
A Qur-ān in Arabic,
For people who understand;—4. Giving Good News
And Admonition: yet most <sup>4464</sup>
Of them turn away,
And so they hear not.5. They say: "Our hearts are <sup>4465</sup>

From that to which thou
Dost invite us, and
In our ears is a deafness,
And between us and thee
Is a screen: so do <sup>4466</sup>
Thou (what thou wilt);

فَاعْمَلْ

4462. Abbreviated Letters: see Introduction to S. xl. See also n. 4382 to xl. 18, and n. 4505 to xli. 34.

4463. In the last Sūra (xl. 2-3) the revelation was described with reference to some of the qualities of God, from Whom it came. Here it is described mainly with reference to its subject-matter. (1) It brings the Message of Grace and Mercy; (2) it is not merely a book of Dark Sayings, but everything is explained clearly and from various points of view; (3) it is in Arabic, the language of the people among whom it was first promulgated, and therefore easily intelligible to them if they take the trouble to understand; and (4) it opens the way to Forgiveness through Repentance and gives warning of all spiritual Dangers.

4464. With all the qualities mentioned in the last note, if men do not profit by its blessings, the fault lies in their will: they turn away, and thus fail to hear the voice that calls to them.

4465. The consequence of their wilful rejection is that a distance is created between Revelation and those for whom it is meant; their ears become deaf, so that the voice falls fainter and fainter on their ears: they feel a bar between themselves and the Messenger who comes to teach them. Cf. vii. 25.

4466. This is either a superiority complex adopting the sarcastic tone of an inferiority complex, or it expresses calculated indifference to spiritual teaching. In effect it says: 'Our hearts and minds are not intelligent enough to understand your noble ideas, nor our ears sufficiently acute to hear their exposition: you and we are quite different; there is a gulf between us. Why worry about us? You go your way, and we shall go ours!'

For us, we shall do
(What we will!)"

6. Say thou : " I am
But a man like you : <sup>4467</sup>
It is revealed to me
By inspiration, that your God
Is One God : so stand
True to Him, and ask
For His forgiveness." <sup>4468</sup>
And woe to those who
Join gods with God,—
7. Those who practise not
Regular Charity, and who
Even deny the Hereafter.
8. For those who believe <sup>4469</sup>
And work deeds of righteousness
Is a reward that will Never fail.

SECTION 2.

9. Say : Is it that ye
Deny Him Who created
The earth in two Days? <sup>4470</sup>
And do ye join equals
With Him? He is
The Lord of (all)
The Worlds.

إِنَّا عَمِلُونَ ۝

٦- قُلْ إِنَّمَا أَنَا بَشَرٌ مِّثْلُكُمْ

فَاسْتَقِيمُوا إِلَيْهِ
وَاسْتَغْفِرُوهُ ۝

وَوَيْلٌ لِّلْمُشْرِكِينَ ۝
الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْتُونَ الزَّكَاةَ
وَهُمْ بِالْآخِرَةِ هُمْ كَافِرُونَ ۝

٨- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
لَهُمْ أَجْرٌ غَيْرُ مَمْنُونٍ ۝

٩- قُلْ أَتَيْتُكُمْ لَتَكْفُرُونَ بِالَّذِي
خَلَقَ الْأَرْضَ فِي يَوْمَيْنِ
وَتَتَّعَلُونَ لَهُ أَنْدَادًا
ذَٰلِكَ رَبُّ الْعَالَمِينَ ۝

4467. The reply is in effect : that the bringer of the Message is not an angel nor a god, and so there can and ought to be no barrier between him and his hearers ; but he has been chosen to bring a Message of Truth and Hope to them ; they should accept the Gospel of Unity, and by Repentance obtain God's Grace and Forgiveness.

4468. There is nothing but pity for those who reject Truth, run after false worship, have no sympathy or charity for their fellow-men, and even deny that there is any future Life.

4469. But blessed are those who have Faith. They will have a Future and a Bliss that will never fail.

4470. This is a difficult passage, describing the primal creation of our physical earth and the physical heavens around us. If we count the two Days mentioned in this verse, the four Days mentioned in verse 10, and the two Days mentioned in verse 12, we get a total of eight Days, while in many passages the creation is stated to have taken place in six Days ; see vii. 54, n. 1031 ; and xxxii. 4, n. 3632. The Commentators understand the "four Days" in verse 10 to include the two Days in verse 9, so that the total for the universe comes to six Days. This is reasonable, because the processes described in verses 9 and 10 form really one series. In the one case it is the creation of the formless matter of the earth ; in the other case it is the gradual evolution of the form of the earth, its mountains and seas, and its animal and vegetable life, with the "nourishment in due proportion", proper to each. Cf. also xv. 19-20.

12. So he completed them
As seven firmaments

١٢- فَقَضَاهُنَّ سَبْعَ سَمَاوَاتٍ

4471. Cf. xiii. 3 and xvi. 15, n. 2038. High above it : the highest mountains are 29,000 feet above sea-level, and the lowest depths of the bottom of the ocean are 31,600 feet below sea-level, so that the vertical difference between the highest and lowest points on the solid crust of the earth is about 11½ miles. The highland areas are the main sources of the water-supply in all the regions of the earth, and vegetable and animal life depends on water-supply.

4472. See n. 4470 above.

4473. Sā-ilīn may mean either (1) those who seek, or (2) those who ask or enquire. If the former meaning is adopted, the clause means that everything is apportioned to the needs and appetites of God's creatures. If the latter, it means that the needs of enquirers are sufficiently met by what is stated here.

4474. For istawā see n. 1386 to x. 3. Cf. also ii. 29.

4475. From lxxix. 30 it would appear as if the earth was spread out after the sky was made. In the present passage the creation of the earth and the evolution of life on our globe are mentioned first; and the making of the sky into the seven firmaments is mentioned last. The two statements are not inconsistent. It is stated here that when the sky was made into seven firmaments, it had existed previously as smoke, or vapour, or steam. The idea I derive from a collation of the relevant Quranic passages is that God first created primeval matter, which was as yet without order, shape, or symmetry. This state is called Chaos as opposed to Cosmos in Greek Cosmogony. The next stage would be the condensation of this primeval matter, into gases, liquids, or solids: on this subject no precise information is given us: it belongs to the realm of Physics. About the earth we are told of four stages or Days, and about the heavens, of two stages or Days. For Days see n. 4477 below. If these stages proceeded or proceed together in time, it is obvious that each stage as we know it on earth is half as long as each stage in the heavens. But these are questions of Physics, Astronomy, or Geology, not questions of Religion.

4476. I take this to mean that God's design in creation was not to keep heaven and earth separate, but together, as we indeed are, being part of the solar system, and travellers through space, crossing the path of several comets. And all matter created by God willingly obeys the laws laid down for it.

In two Days,<sup>4477</sup> and He Assigned to each heaven
Its duty and command.
And We adorned
The lower heaven
With lights, and (provided it)<sup>4478</sup>

Is the Decree of (Him)
The Exalted in Might,
Full of knowledge.

قَالُوا لَوْ شَاءَ رَبُّنَا

4477. For "Days", which may include thousands of years, see vii 54, and n. 1031. They refer to stages in the evolution of physical nature. In the Biblical cosmogony, (Gen. i, and ii. 1-7), which reflects old Babylonian cosmogony, the scheme is apparently to be taken literally as to days and is as follows. The first day God created light; the second, the firmament; the third, the earth and vegetation; the fourth, the stars and planets; the fifth, fish and fowl from the sea; and the sixth, cattle, creeping things, beasts on land, and man; on the seventh day He ended His work and rested. Our scheme is wholly different. (1) God did not rest, and never rests. "His Throne doth extend over the heavens and the earth, and He feeleth no fatigue in guarding and preserving them"; (2) God's work has not ended; His activity still goes on: xxxii. 5; vii. 54; (3) man in our scheme does not come in with land animals; his advent is much later; (4) our stages are not sharply divided from each other, as in the above scheme, where the stars and planets having been created on the fourth day, it is not intelligible how the first three days were counted, nor how vegetation grew on the third day. Our stages for earth and heaven are not in sequence of time for the heavens and the earth. Our six stages are broadly speaking, (1) the throwing off of our planet from cosmic matter; (2) its cooling and condensing; (3) and (4) the growth of vegetable and animal life; (5) and (6) the parallel growth of the starry realm and our solar system.

4478. Cf. xv. 17, and n. 1951; also xxxvii. 6-9. The transition from the third person ("He completed," etc.) to the first person ("We adorned," etc.) may be noted. The act of creation is an impersonal act: the act of adornment and guarding is a personal favour to God's creatures.

4479. See verse 17 below.

4480. "From before them and behind them": i.e., from every side. They were warned from every point of view.

Certainly have sent down angels <sup>4181</sup>
(To preach) : now we reject
Your mission (altogether)."

15. Now the 'Ad behaved
Arrogantly through the land,
Against (all) truth and reason, <sup>4182</sup>
And said: "Who is superior
To us in strength?" What!
Did they not see that
God, Who created them,
Was superior to them
In strength? But they
Continued to reject Our Signs!

16. So We sent against them

But they preferred blindness

So the stunning Punishment <sup>4185</sup>
Of humiliation seized them,
Because of what they had earned.

4481. Cf. xv. 7, n. 1941; vi. 8-9, n. 841-42. The 'Ad had more power and material civilisation than the Pagan Arabs contemporary with the holy Prophet. But the greater the material civilisation, the greater the arrogance as the besetting sin.

4482. Against! (all) truth and reason : Cf. vii. 33. Their estimate of their own strength was greater than was justified by facts, but if they had all the strength which they arrogated to themselves, yet how could they stand before God?

4483. The detailed story of the 'Ad and their besetting sin, and the preaching of their apostle Hūd to them will be found in xxvi. 123-140; also vii. 65-72, and n. 1040. For the furious Wind, Cf. liv. 19.

۲۲- وَ مَا كُنْتُمْ تَسْتَكْبِرُونَ أَنْ يَشْهَدَ عَلَيْكُمْ

4486. "Marched in ranks": to show their further humiliation; for they will be like prisoners going to Punishment.

4487. All the members of their bodies and the faculties of their minds, which they misused, will bear witness against them. Similarly, in xxxvi. 65, their hands and their feet bear witness against them. The "skin" not only includes the sense of touch (which is so often misused in sex), but also the sense of taste and the sense of smell, which are specialised forms of the organ of touch. All the sensory organs, and all their intellectual and emotional counterparts advance us by their use and pull us down by their misuse. They become tell-tale witnesses against us if abused.

4488. A new phase of their existence will now dawn on them. They used to think that if they concealed their evil deeds from the rest of the world, nothing would happen to them! But God can give "tongues to trees", and can make every fact in life, known and unknown to the world, contribute to the elucidation of truth and justice. "Speech" on behalf of their senses and faculties should of course be understood figuratively. When we succumb to evil, our limbs and faculties themselves betray us.

4489. The limbs and faculties will say: "You did not seek to hide your evil from us: in fact you used us for your evil, because we were in your power. Did you not know that God knew everything, and that our knowledge would be evidence against you?"

Your hearing, your sight,
And your skins should bear
Witness against you! But
Ye did think that God
Knew not many of the things
That ye used to do!

23. "But this thought of yours<sup>4490</sup>
Which ye did entertain
Concerning your Lord, hath
Brought you to destruction,

4490. "You now see the situation! We were given for your use and service. You misused us, to your own utter and irretrievable destruction!"

4491. If they have patience: there is sarcasm in the meaning. "Let them not be impatient: they will soon find a home in the Fire of Hell! If they ask for grace and forgiveness then, it will be too late."

4492. Just as the idea of happiness in heaven is expressed, not only by individual satisfaction, but by congenial society, so the idea of Punishment in hell is deepened by the fact that Evil will be made to meet evil: those who made sin fair-seeming in this life will be there to share in the regrets and mutual recriminations which will make life a burden. In fact, in these Hā-Mīm verses, the idea of fit companionship for the Good and uncongenial company for the Evil, runs like a thread throughout. See Introduction to S. xl.

4493. They painted in glowing colours the pleasures of sin in the past and the pleasures of sin in the future, thus practising a double deception, which will now be found out.

4494. Jinns: see n. 929 to vi. 100. All spirits of wickedness and all men who submitted to them, in the past, were under one common sentence; and future generations who embrace evil will also join them. Cf. vi. 128.

4495. The echo here of verse 23 above completes the argument from another point of view.

4496. A favourite trick of those who wish to dishonour Revelation is, not only not to listen to it themselves, but to talk loudly and insolently when it is being read, so that even the true listeners may not be able to perform their devotions. They think that they are drowning the voice of God: in fact they are piling up misery for themselves in the future. For God's voice can never be silenced.

4497. Nothing that they can do, however outrageous, will escape its fit punishment. And to reject God's Signs is to shut the very door to His Grace and Mercy.

4498. It is one of the qualities of sin and all evil, that it wishes to drag down others in its own camp, and rejoices to see them humiliated and disgraced, just as, in the opposite case, the good rejoice to help and honour others and make them happy wherever they can. Cf. vi. 12-113.

Dispute not, but live righteousness.
Knowledge belongs to God, but Falsehood
Deprives man of hope, humility,
And clear sight, and drives him to Hypocrisy. So turn to Truth, and live.

4499. The people who succeed in eternal Life are those who recognise and understand the one and only Reality, that is God, and further shape their probationary Life firmly and steadfastly on the principles of that Truth and Reality. They will have their friends and protectors in the good angels, in contrast to the evil ones, who will have no friendship or protection, but only the reproaches of the Evil Ones.

4503. Better in speech : i.e., speaks better counsel ; or is more worthy of being listened to. That his word reaches the highest mark of human speech is evidenced by three facts : (1) that he calls all to the Truth of God, showing that his thoughts are not centred on himself ; (2) every deed of his is righteousness, showing that there is no divergence between his preaching and his conduct ; and (3) he completely associates himself with the Will of God, showing that he is the full embodiment of Islam. What a fine description of the holy Prophet !

4504. You do not return good for evil, for there is no equality or comparison between the two. You repel or destroy evil with something which is far better, just as an antidote is better than poison. You foil hatred with love. You repel ignorance with knowledge, folly and wickedness with the friendly message of Revelation. The man who was in the bondage of sin, you not only liberate from sin, but make him your greatest friend and helper in the cause of God ! Such is the alchemy of the Word of God ! Cf. xxiii 96 ; xxviii. 54.

4505. Hamim : the key-word of the Hā-Mīm Sūras. See n. 4500 above, and Introduction to S. xl.

4506. The moral standard referred to in the last verse can only be reached by the exercise of the highest patience and self-restraint. All sorts of human weaknesses and counsels of pseudo-wisdom and "self-respect" will keep breaking in, but resist them as suggestions of Evil (see next verse). If you can reach anywhere near that high standard, you will be indeed most fortunate in a spiritual sense, for God's Revelation will have made you great and free.

36. And if (at any time)
An incitement to discord <sup>4507</sup>
Is made to thee
By the Evil One,
Seek refuge in God.
He is the One
Who hears and knows
All things.

۳۶- وَإِمَّا يَنْزَغَنَّكَ

إِنَّهُ هُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْعَلِيمُ ○

37. Among His Signs are <sup>4508</sup>
The Night and the Day,
And the Sun and the Moon.
Adore not the sun
And the moon, but adore
God, Who created them,
If it is Him ye wish
To serve.

۳۷- وَمِنَ آيَاتِهِ اللَّيْلُ وَالنَّهَارُ وَالشَّمْسُ وَالْقَمَرُ
لَا تَسْجُدُوا لِلشَّمْسِ وَلَا لِلْقَمَرِ
وَاسْجُدُوا لِلَّهِ الَّذِي خَلَقَهُنَّ
إِنْ كُنْتُمْ رِيبًا تَعْبُدُونَ ○

38. But if the (Unbelievers)
Are arrogant, (no matter) : <sup>4509</sup>
For in the presence
Of thy Lord are those
Who celebrate His praises
By night and by day.
And they never flag
(Nor feel themselves Above it).

۳۸- فَإِنْ اسْتَكْبَرُوا
فَالَّذِينَ عِنْدَ رَبِّكَ
يُسَبِّحُونَ لَهُ بِاللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ
وَهُمْ لَا يَسْئَمُونَ ○

السجدة

4507. Nazaga has in it the idea of discord, slander, disharmony, as well as incitements to such disturbances in the soul. They can only proceed from evil, and should be resisted with the help of God. See also last note.

4508. Night and Day are opposites, and yet, by the alchemy of God, they can both subserve the purpose of human good, because the Night can give rest while the Day can promote activity. The Sun and the Moon are similarly complementary. So, in moral and spiritual affairs, seeming opposites may by God's alchemy be made to subserve the purposes of Good. They are but instruments: God is the Cause. Adore God, and not the things which He has created. Use the things which He has created, but do not adore them.

4509. It does not in any way affect God if men rebel against Him. It is men's own loss. God's glory is being celebrated night and day by angels and men who receive the privilege of approaching His presence. To them it is a delight and an honour to be in the sunshine of Truth and Happiness.

39. And among His Signs

In this : thou seest
 The earth barren and desolate ; <sup>4510</sup>
 But when We send down
 Rain to it, it is stirred
 To life and yields increase.
 Truly, He Who gives life <sup>4511</sup>
 To the (dead) earth
 Can surely give life
 To (men) who are dead.
 For He has power
 Over all things.

٣٩- وَمِنْ آيَاتِهِ أَنْ تَرَى الْأَرْضَ خَاشِعَةً
 فَإِذَا أَنْزَلْنَا عَلَيْهَا الْمَاءَ
 اهْتَزَّتْ وَرَبَتْ ط
 إِنَّ الَّذِي أَحْيَاهَا
 لَمُجِي الْمَوْتِ ط
 إِنَّهُ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرٌ ○

40. Those who pervert <sup>4512</sup>

The Truth in Our Signs
 Are not hidden from Us.
 Which is better?—he that
 Is cast into the Fire,
 Or he that comes safe through,
 On the Day of Judgment?
 Do what ye will :
 Verily He seeth (clearly)
 All that ye do.

٤٠- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يُلْحِدُونَ فِي آيَاتِنَا لَا
 يَخْفَوْنَ عَلَيْنَا ط
 أَفَسَنْ يُلْقَى فِي النَّارِ خَيْرٌ
 أَمْ مَنْ يَأْتِي آمِنًا يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ ط
 اعْمَلُوا مَا شِئْتُمْ
 إِنَّهُ بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ بَصِيرٌ ○

41. Those who reject the Message <sup>4513</sup>

When it comes to them

٤١- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا بِالذِّكْرِ لَمَّا جَاءَهُمْ

4510. Evil makes of the souls of men what drought makes of land : it kills life, beauty, and fruitfulness. God's Word in the spiritual world has the same wonderful effect as rain has on barren land : it gives life, beauty, and fruitfulness. And the effect of God's Word is also seen through the lives of men who repel evil with what is better. They also convert dead souls (which harbour spite and hatred) into living souls, which come into the main current of spiritual life, and help in carrying out God's beneficent Purpose.

4511. Why should we wonder then at the potency of God's Word, whether in our probationary lives here, or in the eternal life of the Hereafter.

4512. Pervert the Truth in Our Signs : either by corrupting the scriptures or turning them to false and selfish uses ; or by neglecting the Signs of God in nature around them, or silencing His voice in their own conscience. Everything is known to God. Why not work for true salvation at the final Judgment ?

4513. Mere rejection by men will not silence the Signs of God, which will work uninterruptedly and with the fullest potency.

(Are not hidden from Us).
And indeed it is a Book
Of exalted power.

Grievous Penalty.

44. Had We sent this as

4514. God's Truth is fully guarded on all sides. No one can get the better of it by attacking it from before or behind it, openly or secretly, or in any way whatever.

4515. The gist of God's Message, now, before, and for ever, is the same : Mercy to the erring and repentant ; just punishment to those who wilfully rebel against God.

4516. Cf. xvi. 103-105 ; xii. 2 ; etc. It was most natural and reasonable that the Messenger being Arab, the Message should be in his own tongue, that he might explain it in every detail, with the greatest power and eloquence. Even though it was to be for the whole world, its initial exposition was thus to be in Arabic. But if people had no faith and were spiritually deaf or blind, it would not matter in what language it came.

Who believe not, there is

SECTION 6.

45. We certainly gave Moses
The Book aforetime : but disputes
Arose therein. Had it not
Been for a Word<sup>4518</sup>
That went forth before
From thy Lord, (their differences)
Would have been settled
Between them : but they Remained in suspicious
Disquieting doubt thereon.

46. Whoever works righteousness
Benefits his own soul ;
Whoever works evil, it is Against his own soul :
Nor is thy Lord ever
<sup>24</sup> Unjust (in the least)
<sup>30</sup> To His servants.

لَّذِينَ آمَنُوا هُدًى وَ شِفَاءً ۖ
وَالَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ
فِي آذَانِهِمْ وَقْرٌ وَهُوَ عَلَيْهِمْ عَمًى ۖ
أُولَٰئِكَ يُنَادُونَ مِنْ مَّكَانٍ بَعِيدٍ ۝<sup>٤٥</sup>

٣٥- وَلَقَدْ آتَيْنَا مُوسَى الْكِتَابَ فَاخْتَلَفَ فِيهِ ۖ
وَلَوْ لَا كَلِمَةٌ
سَبَقَتْ مِنْ رَبِّكَ
لَقَضَىٰ بَيْنَهُمْ ۖ
وَإِنَّهُمْ لَفِي شَكٍّ مِنْهُ مُرِيبٍ ۝

٣٦- مَنْ عَمِلَ صَالِحًا فَلِنَفْسِهِ
وَمَنْ أَسَاءَ فَعَلَيْهَا ۖ
وَمَا رَبُّكَ بِظَلَّامٍ لِّلْعَبِيدِ ۝

4517. Cf. xli. 5, and vi. 25. They pretended that it was too deep for them, when they meant that they were superior to it ! The fact was that by putting themselves in an artificially false position, they rendered themselves impervious to the Message. The voice of Revelation or the voice of conscience sounded to them as if it came from a far-off place ! They themselves made themselves strangers to it.

4518. Callousness and self-sufficiency in religion are often illustrated by sects like the Pharisees and Sadducees among the Jews. Where there are honest differences of opinion, they can, in God's Plan, lead to greater enquiry and emulation. Where the differences are fractious, there is often even then time left for repentance. In any case the Word or Decree of God is for the best good of all, and should not disturb Faith. Cf. x. 19. A good life, of faith and truth, is in our own interests, and the opposite against our own interests. God is never unjust.

47. To Him is referred <sup>4519</sup>
 The Knowledge of the Hour
 (Of Judgment : He knows all) :
 No date-fruit comes out
 Of its sheath, nor does
 A female conceive (within
 Her womb) nor bring forth
 (Young), but by His Knowledge.
 The Day that (God) will propound
 To them the (question), <sup>4520</sup>
 "Where are the Partners
 (Ye attributed) to Me?"
 They will say, "We do
 Assure Thee not one
 Of us can bear witness!"

48. The (deities) they used to invoke
 Aforetime will leave them
 In the lurch, and they
 Will perceive that they
 Have no way of escape.

49. QMan does not weary <sup>4521</sup>
 Of asking for good (things),
 But if ill touches him,
 He gives up all hope
 (And) is lost in despair.

50. When We give him a taste <sup>4522</sup>
 Of some mercy from Ourselves,

٤٧- إِلَىٰ يَوْمِ يُبْعَثُونَ
 وَمَا تُخْرِجُ مِنَ بُطُونِهَا
 وَمَا تُحْمِلُ مِنْ أُنثَىٰ
 وَلَا تَضَعُ إِلَّا بِعِلْمِهِ
 وَيَوْمَ يُنَادِيهِمْ آيَنَ شُرَكَائِي
 قَالُوا أِذْنَاكَ
 مَا مِنَّا مِنْ شَهِيدٍ

٤٨- وَضَلَّ عَنْهُمْ مَا كَانُوا يَدْعُونَ
 مِنْ قَبْلُ
 وَظَنُّوا مَا لَهُمُ مِنَ مَّحِيصٍ

٤٩- لَا يَسْتَمُ الْإِنْسَانُ مِنْ دُعَاءِ الْخَيْرِ
 وَإِنْ مَسَّهُ الشَّرُّ
 فَيَسْأَلْ قَنُوطًا

٥٠- وَلَئِنْ آدَيْنَاهُ رَحْمَةً مِنَّا

4519. There are profound mysteries which the knowledge of man cannot fathom but which are all open knowledge to God, because He plans, guides and controls all things. The precise time of the Hour of Judgment is one of these. We are not to dispute about matters like these, which are matters of speculation as far as human intelligence is concerned. Such speculations ruined the Ummat of Moses, and set them on the arid path of doubts and controversies. Our task is to do our duty and love God and man (see the last two verses). Cf. also xxi. 4.

4520. When the final restoration of true values comes, all falsehood will be exposed openly and publicly. The false gods will vanish, and their falsehood will be acknowledged by those who had lapsed from true worship. But it will be too late then for repentance.

4521. Not only is man prone to doubts and speculations in matters beyond his ken, thus disturbing the even tenor of his spiritual life : he is apt to run into opposite extremes in his daily experiences in this life. He is always hankering after the good things of this life. They are not all good for him. If he receives a little check, even though it may be to bring him to his bearings and turn his thoughts to higher things, he is apt to fall into despair.

4522. When men entertain false ideas of values in life, there are two or three possible attitudes they may adopt in reaction to their experiences. In the first place, their desire may be inordinate for the good things of this life, and any little check brings them into a mood of despair. See last note. In the second place, if their desire is granted, they are puffed up, and think that everything is due to their own cleverness or merit, and they forget God. Not only that, but they go a step further, and begin to doubt a Hereafter at all! If by chance they have a faint glimmering of the Hereafter, which they cannot help recognising, they think themselves "favoured of Heaven", because of some small favours given to them in this life by way of trial. Thus they turn all things, good or evil, away from their real purpose, because they are devoted to falsehood.

After some adversity has Touched him, he is sure
To say, " This is due
To my (merit) : I think not
That the Hour (of Judgment)
Will (ever) be established ;
But if I am brought back
To my Lord, I have (Much) good (stored) in His sight !"
But We will show
The Unbelievers the truth
Of all that they did,
And We shall give them
The taste of a severe
Penalty.

And gets himself remote
On his side (instead of <sup>4524</sup>

53. Soon will We show them
Our Signs in the (furthest)

٥٣- سَنُرِيهِمْ آيَاتِنَا فِي

4523. The last verse and note dealt with men's distortion of the values of life. Here we come to men's ingratitude and hypocrisy. If they receive good, they go farther away from God, instead of coming nearer to him. If they suffer ill, they call on God and offer prolonged prayers, but it is not sincere devotion and therefore worthless.

4524. Cf. xvii. 83.

4524-A. An argument is now addressed, of a most searching nature. Examine your own souls. See if you do not really find something unusual in God's Revelation! If you do, and yet you reject it, what a terrible responsibility fastens itself on you? Could anything be more foolish or more misguided than to reject a Message which is transforming the whole world?

4524-B. 'If you resist the convictions of the whole world, you are only forming a Cave or a narrow obscure sect or schism, which serves no purpose, and is unfit to live in the broad light of Universal Religion.' Cf. ii. 176, n. 176.

 It becomes manifest to them

54. Ah indeed! are they
 In doubt concerning
 The Meeting with their Lord? <sup>4525</sup>
 Ah indeed! it is He
 That doth encompass
 All things!

 الْآلَا إِنَّهُ

4524-C. God's Truth always spreads, in its own good time, across to the uttermost ends of the earth, as it did in the case of Islam. But its intensive spread in the hearts and souls of people is even more remarkable than its extensive spread over large areas. Men like the four Companions of the Prophet—and many more—became leaders of men and arbiters of the world's fate. Medina, from being a focus of jarring tribes and factions that hated each other, became the seat of heroic actions and plans and the nursery of great and noble heroic deeds that resounded throughout the world. It makes no difference what men may say or do. God's Truth must prevail, and He knows who obstruct and who help.

4525. Short-sighted people may like to think that there may be no Judgment. But Judgment is inevitable and cannot be escaped, for God "doth encompass all things"

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLII (Shūrā).

This is the third Sūra of the Hā-Mīm series of seven Sūras, for which see the Introduction to S. xl.

The theme is how evil and blasphemy can be cured by the Mercy and Guidance of God, which come through His Revelation. Men are asked to settle their differences in patience by mutual Consultation (xlii. 38); which explains the title of the Sūra.

Summary.—The Contrast of blasphemy and disputation against Revelation, Unity, and Faith, as relying on the Signs and the Mercy of God (xlii. 1-29, and C. 211).

Evil comes through men's own deeds, of which they cannot avoid the consequences, but Guidance comes through God's Mercy and Revelation (xlii. 30-53, and C. 212).

C. 211.—Inspiration is part of the Glory and Goodness
 (xlii. 1-29.) Of God. His Unity is shown
 In His Creation; yet man will turn
 To false gods, and dispute about Religion.
 Faith has been one at all times,
 But sects and divisions rose through selfish
 Contumacy. Let all contention cease,
 And conduct weighed by the just balance
 Of God's Word. The just and the unjust
 Will all be brought before God, Whose Mercy
 And Bounty are writ large in the Signs
 In His marvellous Creation,—one, yet diverse!

Sūra XLII.

Shūra, or Consultation.

In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.

1. Imā-Mim; <sup>4526</sup>
2. 'Ain. Sīn. Kāf. <sup>4527</sup>
3. Thus doth (He) send
Inspiration to thee
As (He did) to those before thee, — <sup>4528</sup>
God, Exalted in Power,
Full of Wisdom.
4. To Him belongs all
That is in the heavens
And on earth : and He
Is Most High, Most Great. <sup>4529</sup>
5. The heavens are almost Rent asunder from above them <sup>4530</sup>
(By His Glory) :
And the angels celebrate
The Praises of their Lord,
And pray for forgiveness
For (all) beings on earth : <sup>4531</sup>
Behold ! Verily God-is He,

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

اِحْمَرَّ

عَسَقَ

كَذَلِكَ يُوحِي إِلَيْكَ
وَأِلَى الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِكَ
اللَّهُ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ

لَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَهُوَ الْعَلِيُّ الْعَظِيمُ

تَكَادُ السَّمَوَاتُ يَتَفَطَّرْنَ مِنْ فَوْقِهِنَّ
وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ يُسَبِّحُونَ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّهِمْ
وَيَسْتَغْفِرُونَ لِمَنْ فِي الْأَرْضِ
إِنَّا اللَّهُ هُوَ

4526. See Introduction to S. xl. paragraphs 2-4.

4527. This Sūra has a double set of Abbreviated Letters, one in the first verse, and one in this second verse. No authoritative explanation of this second set is available, and I refrain from speculation. See Appendix 1.

4528. Inspiration is full of Power and Wisdom, and both these qualities are derived from the Power and Wisdom of God. Unlike human power, this Power is necessarily good and merciful; unlike human wisdom, this Wisdom is necessarily complete and indisputable.

4529. We cannot conceive the distance which separates the Most High from the highest of His creatures, God Most Great from the greatest of the beings that we can imagine. The highest heavens are mentioned in the next verse, as well as the noblest creatures that we can imagine, the angels.

4530. How can we conceive of sublimity and greatness in a higher degree than this, that the highest heavens are almost ready to burst asunder by His Glory, which is higher than all?

4531. The angels are the noblest and purest beings of whom we can conceive. They reflect on the one side God's Glory and Praise, and on the other, two other attributes of God, that look towards His erring creatures, viz.: Forgiveness and Mercy. The two sets of attributes are complementary. Believers and unbelievers alike are included in their solicitude and prayer. They thus proclaim in their own being and in their prayers the Greatness and unbounded Goodness of God.

The Oft-Forgiving,
Most Merciful.

6. And those who take
As protectors others besides
Him,—<sup>4532</sup>
God doth watch over them ;
And thou art not
The disposer of their affairs.

7. Thus have We sent
By inspiration to thee
An Arabic Qur-ān : <sup>4533</sup>
That thou mayest warn
The Mother of Cities <sup>4534</sup>
And all around her,—
And warn (them) of
The Day of Assembly,
Of which there is no doubt :
(When) some will be <sup>4535</sup>
In the Garden, and some
In the Blazing Fire.

8. If God had so willed, <sup>4536</sup>
He could have made them
A single people ; but He Admits whom He will
To His Mercy ;
And the wrong-doers
Will have no protector
Nor helper.

9. What ! Have they taken
(For worship) protectors

٩- أَمْ اتَّخَذُوا مِنْ دُونِهِ أَوْلِيَاءَ

4532. We now come to the contrast, the folly and ingratitude of man. But that cannot escape its final doom in the Universal Plan of God. Only Judgment rests with God. A Prophet is not responsible for the conduct of men, in a system which permits some limited free-will and personal responsibility.

4533. The point of the Qur-ān being in Arabic is that it is plain and intelligible to the people through whom and among whom it was promulgated ; see next clause.

4534. The City of Mecca. See n. 913 to vi. 92. This is undoubtedly a Meccan verse. Even apart from the Qibla, Mecca is the centre of Islam, and "all around her" is the whole world.

4535. The contrast is again emphasised, as explained in the Summary.

4536. Cf. v. 51, and n. 761. It is one of the Signs of God that He has made us different, that we may be tried in the exercise of our will, and that we may reach, through righteousness and Faith, our highest development, and enjoy His gifts of Mercy and Grace. But we must not become contentious, and fall into evil : we must understand our own limitations. Otherwise we shall lose His grace and protection.

Besides Him? But it is
 God,—He is the Protector,<sup>4537</sup>
 And it is He Who
 Gives life to the dead:
 It is He Who has power

SECTION 2.

10. Whatever it be wherein
 Ye differ, the decision
 Thereof is with God : <sup>4538</sup>
 Such is God my Lord :
 In Him I trust,
 And to Him I turn.
11. (He is) the Creator
 Of the heavens and
 The earth : He has made
 For you pairs
 From among yourselves,<sup>4539</sup>
 And pairs among cattle :
 By this means does He
 Multiply you : there is nothing
 Whatever like unto Him,
 And He is the One
 That hears and sees (all things).
12. To Him belong the keys
 Of the heavens and the earth :

۱۰- وَمَا اخْتَلَفْتُمْ فِيهِ مِنْ شَيْءٍ فَحُكْمُهُ
 إِلَى اللَّهِ ذَلِكُمُ اللَّهُ رَبِّي عَلَيْهِ تَوَكَّلْتُ
 وَإِلَيْهِ أُنِيبُ ۝

۱۱- فَأَطْرَفُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
 جَعَلْ لَكُمْ مِنْ أَنْفُسِكُمْ أَزْوَاجًا
 وَمِنَ الْأَنْعَامِ أَزْوَاجًا
 يَذُرُّكُمْ فِيهِ
 لَيْسَ كَمِثْلِهِ شَيْءٌ
 وَهُوَ السَّمِيعُ الْبَصِيرُ ۝

۱۲- لَكَ مَقَالِيدُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ ۝

4537. There can be no greater ingratitude or blasphemy than to worship false gods, or to seek protection from things that have no power, when God—Who has power over all things—is always seeking to protect and cherish His creatures, and placing in their way all the means for attaining the best in them.

4538. In the highest issues of life men may see things differently. If their differences arise merely from selfish motives, or narrowness of vision, they are sinning against their own souls. If their differences arise from sincere but mistaken notions, their proper course is not to form divisions and sects, or to increase contention and hatred among men, but to leave all things to God, trusting in Him and turning to Him in all difficulties. The final decision in all things is with Him.

4539. The mystery of sex has not only its physical aspects, but its moral and spiritual aspects, and therefore mankind is in this respect differentiated from the lower animals, and among mankind the grades and qualities are suggested by the phrase "from among yourselves". As regards cattle, they are specially mentioned among the animals, as having special relations with man and specially subserving his needs, not only in the physical sphere, but also in the matter of transport, which is the key to all civilization and culture : Cf. xxxvi. 71-73 ; also xxiii. 21-22, where they are compared to ships, the symbol of international intercourse.

 By inspiration to thee—
 And that which We enjoined
 On Abraham, Moses, and Jesus :
 Namely, that ye should remain
 Steadfast in Religion, and make
 No divisions therein :<sup>4542</sup>
 To those who worship
 Other things than God,
 Hard is the (way)
 To which thou callest them.<sup>4543</sup>
 God chooses to Himself
 Those whom He pleases,
 And guides to Himself
 Those who turn (to Him).

14. And they became divided<sup>4544</sup>
 Only after knowledge
 Reached them,—through selfish
 Envy as between themselves.
 Had it not been
 For a Word that

۱۴- وَمَا تَفَرَّقُوا إِلَّا مِنْ بَعْدِ مَا جَاءَهُمُ
 الْعِلْمُ بَعْضًا بِبَيْنَتِهِمْ
 وَلَوْ لَا كَلِمَةٌ

4540. "Sustenance", here as elsewhere, stands for all things that support every phase of life, physical, social, intellectual, or spiritual. Cf. x. 59, n. 1447. The source of all gifts is God; His bounty is inexhaustible, and He gives to all; but He does not give to all in the same measure, because, out of the fullness of His knowledge and wisdom, He can judge best what is best for any of His creatures.

4541. God's Religion is the same in essence, whether given, for example, to Noah, Abraham, Moses, or Jesus, or to our holy Prophet. The source of unity is the revelation from God. In Islam it is "established" as an institution, and does not remain merely a vague suggestion.

4542. Faith, Duty, or Religion, is not a matter to dispute about. The formation of sects is against the very principle of Religion and Unity. What we should strive for is steadfastness in duty and faith, and unity among mankind.

4543. Unity, unselfishness, love for God and man,—these things are inconsistent with selfish aggrandizement, unjust suppression of our fellow-creatures, false worship, and false conduct to our brethren. Hence the Gospel of Unity, though it is in complete accord with the pure pattern after which God made us, is yet hard to those who love self and falsehood. But Grace is free to all, and in His wise Plan, He will specially select Teachers to show the Way to humanity, and no one who turns to Him will lack guidance.

4544. Cf. ii. 213. If you reject Truth after it has reached you, it can only be through selfish contumacy or envy.

Went forth before <sup>4545</sup>

 Doubt concerning it.

4545. Cf. x. 19, and n. 1407. God's decree has allowed a certain Term during which a sinner has the chance of repentance and forgiveness. Were it not so, sin would be punished at once, and the matter would be decided straightway: So also, when people reject Truth from selfish or contumacious motives, they get rope: perchance they may repent.

4546. Cf. xiv. 9 and n. 1884. "Those who have inherited the Book" are the People of the Book, of the ages since the Book or Revelation came to them. Referring to the Jews and Christians contemporary with our Prophet, how true it is that they were broken up into hostile sects which hated and persecuted each other! Islam came to unite them, and it did. For the present phases of Christianity and Judaism are of later growth.

4547. How beautifully the mission of Islam is commended in this verse! (1) The more sectarianism and division there is in the world, the more need is there for the Gospel of Unity. (2) It must steadfastly pursue its way. (3) It must not be deflected by worldly or political motives. (4) Its faith must be directly in God and in God's Revelation. (5) It must judge justly between warring factions, as the Religion of Peace and Unity.

4548. The mission of Islam is further described. (6) The God whom it preaches is not an exclusive God: He is the Lord of the Worlds: to any given person, of whatever faith, 'He is your God, as well as mine.' (7) Our Faith is not a question of words; it is deeds which decide; each one of us has personal responsibility for his own conduct. (8) There is no cause of contention whatever, when we preach Unity, Truth, and the Hereafter. (9) If you have doubts, the final arbiter is God, and His Throne is our Goal.

16. But those who dispute
Concerning God after He
Has been accepted, —<sup>4519</sup>
Futile is their dispute
In the sight of
Their Lord: on them
Is Wrath, and for them
Will be a Penalty
Terrible.

19. Gracious is God<sup>4552</sup>
To His servants: <sup>4553</sup>

۱۹- اللَّهُ لَطِيفٌ بِعِبَادِهِ

4549. After He has been accepted. The disputants are the Unbelievers who pugnaciously assault the minds of Believers after the Believers have by conviction accepted Faith in God as leading to spiritual Light. Such disputation is futile. An inner spiritual experience can never be shaken by dialectical assaults. On the contrary such disputations recoil on the heads of those who indulge in them. God's Wrath is on them in this life, and the terrible Penalty of the Hereafter must inevitably follow their evil plots against Truth.

4550. Revelation is like a balance, an instrument placed by God in our hands, by which we can weigh all moral issues, all questions of right and wrong in conduct. We must do so constantly. For the Judgment in any given case may come at any time: it may be quite near, and we must always be prepared. The Balance may also refer to the God-given faculty by which man can judge between right and wrong.

4551. The Unbelievers do not believe in Judgment and laugh at it. They say defiantly, "If there is to be a punishment, let it come at once!" The threefold answer to this will be found in n. 1810 to xiii. 6. With those who believe, the case is different. They know that the Hereafter is an awful Reality, and prepare for it. They see clearly on what a wrong track the scoffers are!

4552. Latif: so kind, gracious, and understanding, as to bestow gifts finely suited to the needs of the recipients. For the various meanings of Latif, see n. 2844 to xxii. 63. Cf. also xii. 100

4553. "Servants" here seems to include all men, just and unjust, for God provides for them all.

He gives Sustenance <sup>4554</sup>

Would have been decided

لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ ٥

۲۲- تَرَى الظَّالِمِينَ مُشْفِقِينَ مِمَّا

4554. Sustenance, i.e., provision for all needs, physical, moral, spiritual, etc. "To whom He pleases" is not restrictive, but modal. 'God provides for all, but His provision is according to His wise Will and Plan, and not according to people's extravagant demands.' He can provide for all, because He has complete power and can carry out His Will. A further comment will be found in the next verse.

4555. The parable is from the efforts of the husbandman, who ploughs and prepares the soil, sows the seed, weeds in due season, and reaps the harvest. You reap as you sow. But God will add manifold advantages for spiritual tilth. To those who are only engrossed in the vanities of this world, something may accrue in this world, but the spiritual world is closed to them.

4556. Nothing can exist without the permission of God. Can people, who indulge in false worship say: "Why does God permit it?" The answer is: "a certain latitude is allowed with the grant of a limited form of free-will. When the time for Judgment comes, the Punishment is sure." See n. 1810 to xiii. 6. Decree (or Word) of Judgment: See n. 1407 to x. 19.

4557. The chief feature of the punishment of wrong-doing is that the minds of the wrong-doers are haunted with terror on account of their own guilty conscience. They cannot possibly escape the weight of that terror.

They have earned, and (the burden
Of) that must (necessarily)

Who believe and work
Righteous deeds will be

Have, before their Lord,
All that they wish for.
That will indeed be
The magnificent Bounty
(Of God).

٢٤- أَمْ يَقُولُونَ افْتَرَى عَلَى اللَّهِ كَذِبًا
فَإِنْ يَشَاءِ اللَّهُ يَخْتِمْ

4558. In contrast with the withering terror of the wrong-doers is the ease and rational happiness of those who do good "On them shall be no fear, nor shall they grieve" (ii. 38). Their wills will have been purified, and they shall have all that they shall desire, "before their Lord". That is, their highest Bliss will be the sight of their Lord. No higher Bounty can they wish for.

4559. Heaven may be pictured to our minds in various forms. This is one of the highest, and God announces it freely to the righteous.

4560. No sort of tangible reward does the man of God ask for proclaiming the Glad Tidings of God. But at least he has the right to ask that his kith and kin should not persecute him and put all sorts of obstacles in his way, as did the Quraish against the holy Prophet. The love of kindred may be extended to mean the love of our common humanity, for all mankind are brothers descended from Adam. Everyone can understand the ordinary love of kindred. Can we not extend the idea to a mystical meaning of Love for all mankind, thus proving kinship with the divine Love, which in the story of Joseph is figured by the earthly love between the sexes?

4561. Cf. xxxv. 29-30, and notes 3915 (for increase) and 3917 (for God's appreciation of service).

4562. If any one has a doubt about a prophet's mission, let him look at the prophet's life, at his work, at his character. God loves Truth, not Falsehood. God's aid goes with Truth, not with Falsehood. The beauty and power of God's Word cannot be found in Falsehood. The false man's heart would be sealed, not expanded to new heights, as is that of the Message-bearer of God.

4563. Whatever the sin, God's Mercy is open to sincere Repentance, at all times, until the decree of condemnation issues.

4564. To the prayers of the righteous He listens, and He gives them of His Bounty beyond their deserts. Every time they do a little good, they are increased in their goodness. Every right impulse or aspiration is strengthened and leads to progressive spiritual advancement.

4565. It may be objected that all prayers, even of good people, are not answered. The reply is : (1) that even everyone who is good does not necessarily know what is best for him, for the values in this life are curiously distorted ; and (2) on account of their want of knowledge, if everyone got all he asked for, there would be chaos and confusion, and " transgression beyond bounds through the earth ", for the different interests are so intermingled and balanced that some measure must be observed in granting people's wishes. This measure is best supplied by the watchful care of God and His perfect knowledge of all our real needs.

4566. "As He pleases" is here almost equivalent to "as He thinks best".

C. 212.—What we call the ills of life is due
(xl.ii. 30-33.) To our own ill-deeds, and many of them
Are forgiven by God. His Plan can never
Be frustrated. This Life is but a stage
Of convenience : live true and resist
All wrong, but learn the best way to do so.
On God rely ; else no protector
Will you find. God's Revelation
Comes as a Guide and Mercy : it shows
The Straight Way, the Way of God All-Wise.

SECTION 4.

30. ~~W~~ Whatever misfortune
Happens to you, is because

٣٠- وَمَا أَصَابَكُمْ مِنْ مُصِيبَةٍ فِيمَا

4567. That men should get such a blessing as rain when they expect it according to ordinary calculations of probabilities does not impress them, as it is a daily occurrence. But God's mercy is more than this. It comes to our aid even when all hope is lost, and gives us new chances and new openings where we least expect them. His quality of cherishing and protecting His creatures is always active, and what higher praise can we give?

4568. Dābbatun : beasts, living, crawling creatures of all kinds : see n 166 to ii. 164. Similarly in xxiv. 45, and other passages, the word is used for living creatures of all kinds, life generally, whose material basis is the mysterious thing which science calls protoplasm. The more our biological knowledge increases, the more do we marvel at the unity of Life on the one hand, and its diversity on the other.

4569. Life is not confined to our one little Planet. It is a very old speculation to imagine some life like human life on the planet Mars. Though no scientific demonstration is possible, it is reasonable to suppose that Life in some form or other is scattered through some of the millions of heavenly bodies scattered through space. What a wonderful Sign of God! The Almighty Who created such countless beings has surely the power to bring them together.

Of the things your hands <sup>4570</sup>
Have wrought, and for many
(Of them) He grants forgiveness.

31. Nor can ye frustrate (aught),
(Fleeing) through the earth; <sup>4571</sup>
Nor have ye, besides God,
Any one to protect
Or to help.

32. And among His Signs
Are the ships, smooth-running <sup>4572</sup>
Through the ocean, (tall)
As mountains.

33. If it be His Will,
He can still the Wind:
Then would they become
Motionless on the back
Of the (ocean). Verily
In this are Signs
For everyone who patiently <sup>4573</sup>
Perseveres and is grateful.

34. Or He can cause them
To perish because of
The (evil) which (the men)
Have earned; but much
Doth He forgive.

كَسَبَتْ أَيْدِيكُمْ
وَيَعْفُوا عَنْ كَثِيرٍ ۝

۳۱- وَمَا أَنْتُمْ بِمُعْزِزِينَ فِي الْأَرْضِ ۚ
وَمَا لَكُمْ مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
مِنْ دَلِيلٍ وَلَا نَصِيرٍ ۝

۳۲- وَمِنْ آيَاتِهِ الْجَوَارِ
فِي الْبَحْرِ كَالْأَعْلَامِ ۝

۳۳- إِنْ يَشَأْ يُسْكِنِ الرِّيحَ
فَيَظْلَلْنَ رَوَاكِدَ عَلَى ظَهْرِهِ ۗ
إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لآيَاتٍ
لِكُلِّ صَبَّارٍ شَكُورٍ ۝

۳۴- أَوْ يُوقِفَهُنَّ بِمَا كَسَبْنَ
وَيَعْفُ عَنْ كَثِيرٍ ۝

4570. All evil, all sorrow, all pain and affliction, are things not normal, things twisted from the pure and holy nature as created by God's hands. As far as man is concerned, his misfortunes are but the consequences of the things he has done. He must bear personal responsibility for them and not throw the blame on others.

4571. Every evil deed or word or thought must have its evil consequences: but if God forgives anything,—and He forgives much,—let no one imagine that he has defeated—or can defeat—God's Will or Plan. The only help or protection that is possible is from God. Cf. xxix. 22.

4572. The great and stately ships are appealed to again and again as being among the Signs of God, from many aspects. The aspect referred to here is how the great sailing ship runs prosperously as long as "the breath of heaven fills the sail", and what a miserable helpless creature she becomes when she once becomes becalmed. Students of English literature will remember the striking picture which Coleridge draws in his "Rime of the Ancient Mariner." The becalmed ship is as it were in the grip of Death because of the crime which the sailor had committed, and his mind feels psychologically the full force of the Sign. By analogy we can apply this to other craft: the steamer is not free from other dangers of the sea, nor air-craft from numerous dangers of the air.

4573. If we study such Signs in the right spirit, we learn the highest lessons for our spiritual life: on the one hand, patient perseverance with reliance on God, and on the other, a feeling or attitude of grateful thanks to God, that he enables us to achieve so much in spite of our shortcomings, and forgives in us so much that deserves punishment and disaster.

35. But let those know, who <sup>4574</sup>
Dispute about Our Signs,
That there is for them
No way of escape.
36. Whatever ye are given (here)
Is (but) a convenience <sup>4575</sup>
Of this Life : but that
Which is with God
Is better and more lasting :
(It is) for those who believe <sup>4576</sup>
And put their trust
In their Lord ;
37. Those who avoid the greater <sup>4577</sup>
Crimes and shameful deeds,
And, when they are angry
Even then forgive ;
38. Those who hearken <sup>4578</sup>
To their Lord, and establish

٣٥- وَيَعْلَمُ الَّذِينَ يُجَادِلُونَ فِي آيَاتِنَا
مَا لَهُمْ مِنْ مَّجِيصٍ ۝

٣٦- فَمَا أُوْتِيتُمْ مِنْ شَيْءٍ فَتَتَّعُوا الْحَيَاةَ
الدُّنْيَا وَمَا عِنْدَ اللَّهِ خَيْرٌ وَأَنْفَى
لِلَّذِينَ آمَنُوا
وَعَلَىٰ رَبِّهِمْ يَتَوَكَّلُونَ ۝

٣٧- وَالَّذِينَ يَجْتَنِبُونَ كَبِيرَ الْإِثْمِ وَ
الْفَوَاحِشَ وَإِذَا مَا غَضِبُوا هُمْ يَغْفِرُونَ ۝

٣٨- وَالَّذِينَ اسْتَجَابُوا لِرَبِّهِمْ وَأَقَامُوا

4574. If we treat God's Signs in the wrong spirit, i.e., contumaciously reject them or constantly dispute about them instead of trying to understand them, we are told that such tactics will avail us nothing : we cannot escape the consequences of our sins. The only way to escape is by repentance on our part and the grant of mercy by God.

4575. Any good (or ill) which is our lot is only a temporary phase to serve the convenience of this life. But there is a higher good, which comes from God's own Presence. Such good is both superior in quality, and more permanent. In the same way, any ills that we may suffer in this life, have reference only to the conditions of this our life of probation. The ills that we "earn" in our spiritual life—such as deprivation of God's Grace—are far more momentous and permanent.

4576. The higher and more permanent gifts which come from God's Presence are for those who truly worship and serve God. These are described by nine of their characteristics : viz. (1) they have Faith ; and it follows that (2) they trust in God, instead of running after false standards or values ; (3) they eschew the more serious offences against God's Law, and of course keep clear of any offences against sex ("shameful deeds") ; (4) while knowing that they are not themselves perfect, they are ready to forgive others, even though they are sorely tried with anger and provocation ; for the rest see n. 4578

4577. Here we are speaking of the ordinary man or woman who tries to follow God's Law : he or she is not perfect, but at least eschews the major breaches of conduct. For those higher in spiritual degree there is of course a stricter standard. But all are entitled to the blessing of Islam, whatever their degree.

4578. Continuing the enumeration of the characteristics described in n. 4576 above, we have the following further qualities in those who wish to serve God. (5) They are ready at all times to hearken to God's Signs, or to listen to the admonitions of men of God, and to follow the true Path, as they understand it ; (6) they keep personal contact with God, by habits of Prayer and Praise ; (7) their conduct in life is open and determined by mutual Consultation between those who are entitled to a voice, e.g., in private domestic affairs, as between husband and wife, or other responsible members of the household ; in affairs of business, as between partners or parties interested ; and in State affairs, as between rulers and ruled, or as between different departments of administration, to preserve the unity of administration ; (8) they do not forget Charity, or the help due to their weaker brethren, out of the wealth or gifts or talents or opportunities, which God has provided for themselves ; and (9) when other people use them spitefully, they are not cowed down or terrorised into submission and acceptance of evil, but stand up for their rights within the limits mentioned in verse 40.

Regular prayer ; who (conduct)
 Their affairs by mutual
 Consultation ; <sup>4579</sup>
 Who spend out of what
 We bestow on them
 For Sustenance ;

الصَّلَاةُ
 وَأَمْرُهُمْ شُورَى بَيْنَهُمْ
 وَمِمَّا أَرْزَقْنَاهُمْ يُنْفِقُونَ ۝

39. And those who, when
 An oppressive wrong is inflicted
 On them, (are not cowed
 But) help and defend themselves. <sup>4580</sup>

۳۹- وَالَّذِينَ إِذَا أَصَابَهُمُ الْبَغْيُ
 هُمْ يَنْتَصِرُونَ ۝

40. The recompense for an injury
 Is an injury equal thereto <sup>4581</sup>
 (In degree) : but if a person
 Forgives and makes reconciliation,

۴۰- وَجَزَاءُ سَيِّئَةٍ سَيِّئَةٌ مِثْلُهَا
 فَمَنْ عَفَا وَأَصْلَحَ

4579. "Consultation." This is the key-word of the Sūra, and suggests the ideal way in which a good man should conduct his affairs, so that, on the one hand, he may not become too egotistical, and, on the other, he may not lightly abandon the responsibilities which devolve on him as a Personality whose development counts in the sight of God. See the points in head (7) under n. 4578 above. This principle was applied to its fullest extent by the holy Prophet in his private and public life, and was fully acted upon by the early rulers of Islam. Modern representative government is an attempt—by no means perfect—to apply this principle in State affairs. See my Religious Polity of Islam.

4580. This follows from the high value attached to an individual soul's Personality in Islam. Cf. last note. There are four possible situations that may arise : an individual may have to stand up against an oppressor (1) for his own trampled rights, or (2) for the rights of others within his ken ; or (3) a community may have similarly to stand up for its own rights collectively ; or (4) for the rights of others. Nos. 2, 3, and 4 are considered highly meritorious for all, though few have the courage or the spirit to rise to so high a standard. No. 1 is specially liable to abuse on account of man's selfishness ; Nos. 2, 3, and 4 are also abused by men pretending to motives of public good when they are serving their own personal interests or idiosyncracies ; hence the qualifications mentioned in the next four verses and the notes thereto.

4581. See last note. When you stand up for rights, either on private or public grounds, it may be through processes of law, or by way of private defence in so far as the law permits private action. But in all cases you must not seek a compensation greater than the injury suffered. The most you can do is to demand equal redress, i.e., a harm equivalent to the harm done to you. Even this may serve to curb your unregenerate soul, or a community bent on revenge. But the ideal mode is not to slake your thirst for vengeance, but to follow better ways leading to the reform of the offender or his reconciliation. See xli. 34, and xxiii. 96. You can take steps to prevent repetition, by physical or moral means ; the best moral means would be to turn hatred into friendship by forgiveness and love. In that case the compensation or reward (if we must use such terms) is infinitely greater, for it wins the good pleasure of God.

But this active righting of wrongs, whether by physical or by moral or spiritual means, which are commended as better, is an antithesis to the monkish doctrine, when you are smitten on one cheek, to turn the other also. This would not suppress, but encourage wrong-doing. It is practised by none but poltroons, and is preached only by hypocrites, or men who want to make slaves of others by depriving them of the power of self-defence. It occurs in two of the four canonical Gospels (Matt. v. 39, and Luke vi. 29), but we need not therefore assume that it was preached by Jesus.

His reward is due <sup>4582</sup>
From God : for (God)
Loveth not those who
Do wrong. <sup>4583</sup>

فَأَجْرُهُ عَلَى اللَّهِ
إِنَّهُ لَا يُحِبُّ الظَّالِمِينَ ○

41. But indeed if any do help
And defend themselves
After a wrong (done)
To them, against such <sup>4584</sup>
There is no cause
Of blame.

وَلَكِنْ أَنْتَصَرَ بَعْدَ ظُلْمِهِ
فَأُولَئِكَ مَا عَلَيْهِمْ مِنْ سَبِيلٍ ○

42. The blame is only <sup>4585</sup>
Against those who oppress
Men with wrong-doing
And insolently transgress
Beyond bounds through the land,
Defying right and justice :
For such there will be
A Penalty grievous.

۴۲- إِيْسَاءَ السَّبِيلِ عَلَى الَّذِينَ
يَظْلِمُونَ النَّاسَ
وَيَبْغُونَ فِي الْأَرْضِ بِغَيْرِ الْحَقِّ
أُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ ○

43. But indeed if any Show patience and forgive, <sup>4586</sup>
That would truly be
An exercise of courageous will
And resolution in the conduct
Of affairs.

۴۳- وَ لَسْنَا صَابِرًا وَ عَفْرًا
إِنَّ ذَلِكَ لَكِن
عَزْمُ الْأُمُورِ ○

4582. To love God is the highest motive of our conduct, for it leads to the love of God's creatures; to win the approbation and love of God, is the highest reward, far transcending any compensation or satisfaction we can obtain in this life.

4583. God does not love those who do wrong. If, therefore, we tolerate wrong, or encourage wrong by allowing it to run rampant when we can prevent it, we fail in our duty to God.

4584. Such people are not to be blamed, though they are following the lower law. The blame is on those who arrogantly ride rough-shod over the land, oppressing people with grievous wrong. See next verse.

4585. The fact that men seek the lower rather than the higher Law is itself a result of arrogant wrong-doing, of which the type was the Pharaoh who claimed to be "your Lord Most High" and oppressed the Israelites, and kept his own people under slavery and subjection, and the false glamour of magic and deception.

4586. It is harder to be patient and forgive, and yet to get wrongs righted, as was done by the holy Prophet, than to bluster about and "punish the guilty" or "teach them lessons". It may look like futility or lack of purpose, but in reality it is the highest and noblest form of courage and resolution. And it may carry out the purpose of reform and the suppression of evil even better than stern punishment. The gentleness of innocence often "persuades where stronger measures fail." But of course circumstances alter cases, and there is some allowance also to be made for the personal equation of the men you have to deal with: in some cases severity may be called for, but it should be from a strict judicial motive, and not merely from personal anger or spite or any lower motive in disguise

SECTION 5.

44. For any whom God
Leaves astray, there is
No protector thereafter.
And thou wilt see
The wrong-doers, when
In sight of the Penalty,
Say : " Is there any way <sup>4587</sup>
(To effect) a return ? "
45. And thou wilt see them
Brought forward to the (Penalty),
In a humble frame of mind
Because of (their) disgrace, <sup>4588</sup>
(And) looking with a stealthy
Glance. And the Believers
Will say : " Those are indeed <sup>4589</sup>
In loss, who have given
To perdition their own selves
And those belonging to them
On the Day of Judgment.
Behold ! Truly the wrong-doers
Are in a lasting Penalty ! "
46. And no protectors have they <sup>4590</sup>
To help them,
Other than God.
And for any whom God
Leaves to stray, there is .
No way (to the Goal).

۴۴- وَمَنْ يُضِلِّ اللَّهُ فَمَا لَهُ
مِنْ وَدَّيِّ قَبْلَ بَعْدِهِ
وَتَرَى الظَّالِمِينَ لَمَّا رَأَوْا الْعَذَابَ
يَقُولُونَ هَلْ إِلَىٰ مَرَدٍّ مِنْ سَبِيلٍ ۝

۴۵- وَتَرَاهُمْ يُعْرَضُونَ عَلَيْهَا خَشِيعِينَ
مِنَ الذَّلِيلِ
يَنْظُرُونَ مِنْ كَرْبٍ خَفِيٍّ
وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَآ
الْخَاسِرِينَ الَّذِينَ خَسِرُوا أَنفُسَهُمْ
وَآهْلِيهِمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ
إِلَّا رِآةَ الظَّالِمِينَ فِي عَذَابٍ مُّقِيمٍ ۝

۴۶- وَمَا كَانَ لَهُمْ مِنْ أَوْلِيَاءٍ يَنْصُرُونَهُمْ
مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ
وَمَنْ يُضِلِّ اللَّهُ فَمَا لَهُ مِنْ سَبِيلٍ ۝

4587. When the actual consequences of evil are in sight, the foolish sinner wishes that it were possible to get back to the life of probation. But he neglected or abused it and rejected God's Grace all the time. How can he then be restored to a closed chapter of his life ?

4588. They were very arrogant in their probationary life. Now will they be humbled to the dust. And they will be in utter despair and misery. They will not be able to see the favours and good things of the other life (Cf. xx. 124-126). Even their misery, which will face them as a terrible Reality, they will only be able to look at askance, so thoroughly cowed will be their spirit.

4589. This will be their thought, and their realised experience : ' after all, any troubles and sorrows, any persecutions and taunts which they suffered in the life of probation from the enemies of truth, were of no consequence; the real loss was that revealed at the Judgment at the restoration of true values; the wicked and the arrogant, have lost their own souls, and have brought to perdition all who attached themselves to them and followed their evil ways; and this Penalty is one that will endure ! How much more real it is ! '

4590. The argument begun in verse 44 above is here rounded off. ' If once men finally cut themselves off from God's guidance and care, they will have no protection whatever. All their false objects of worship will only mislead them further and further. How they will wish the fact blotted out when they are in sight of Judgment, and vainly wish for time to be reversed ! They will be in the Fire, while the men whom they despised and rejected will have reached the final Goal ! For them there will be no such way ! '

47. لisten ye to your Lord,
 Before there come a Day
 Which there will be
 No putting back, because <sup>4591</sup>
 Of (the ordainment of) God!
 That Day there will be
 For you no place of refuge
 Nor will there be for you
 Any room for denial <sup>4592</sup>
 (Of your sins)!
48. If then they turn away,
 We have not sent thee
 As a guard over them. <sup>4593</sup>
 Thy duty is but to convey
 (The Message). And truly,
 When We give man
 A taste of a Mercy <sup>4594</sup>
 From ourselves, he doth
 Exult thereat, but
 When some ill happens
 To him, on account
 Of the deeds which
 His hands have sent forth,
 Truly then is man ungrateful!
49. لo God belongs the dominion
 Of the heavens and the earth.
 He creates what He wills <sup>4595</sup>
 (And plans). He bestows

٤٧- اِسْتَجِيبُوا لِرَبِّكُمْ مِنْ قَبْلِ
 اَنْ يَأْتِيَ يَوْمٌ
 لَا مَرَدَّ لَهُ مِنَ اللّٰهِ
 مَا لَكُمْ مِنْ مَلْجَا يَوْمَئِذٍ
 وَمَا لَكُمْ مِنْ تَكْوِيْنٍ ۝

٤٨- فَاِنْ اَعْرَضُوْا فَمَا اَرْسَلْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ
 حَفِيْظًا ۗ اِنْ عَلَيْكَ اِلَّا الْبَلَاغُ
 وَاِنَّا اِذَا اَذَقْنَا الْاِنْسَانَ مِثْرًا رَّحْمَةً
 فَذَرَّ بِهَا
 وَاِنْ تُصِبْهُمْ سَيِّئَةٌ
 بِمَا قَدَّمَتْ اَيْدِيْهِمْ
 فَاِنَّ الْاِنْسَانَ كَفُوْرٌ ۝

٤٩- لِلّٰهِ مُلْكُ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْاَرْضِ
 يَخْلُقُ مَا يَشَاءُ ۗ يَهْبَسُ لِنَسْفِ اِنَّا نَا

4591. The Day of Judgment is inevitable. God has ordained it, and it cannot in any way be put back.

4592. At Judgment no one can escape the consequences of his crimes or deeds. And no one can disavow them or deny them, or by any chance pretend that they do not apply to him.

4593. The warning is now given, that men may repent and do good, and pray for God's Mercy and Grace. If the warning is not heeded or is rejected, the man of God is not responsible for bringing about the Penalty or for forcing people to come to the right Path. He is not a guard set over them to free them from the need of exercising their limited free-will.

4594. Cf. xxx. 36. It is a sad reflection that men, when they receive some gift out of God's Mercy, exult in their good fortune and attribute it to some merit in themselves, instead of to the Grace and Mercy of God, thus missing the real lesson of Life. On the other hand, when they are in trouble, due to their own errors and shortcomings, they fall into despair and blame God, instead of blaming themselves. This is rank ingratitude. So they miss the true lesson of Life in that case also.

4595. Verses 49-50 deal, in their ordinary meaning, with God's creative power, replete with knowledge and continued purpose, contrasted with man's instincts and gropings after knowledge. The mystery of sex and parenthood is referred to in a new light. With reference to children, a parent is often spoken of as the "author" of their being. The growth of population and the proportion of males and females in it have various sociological and psychological implications; yet how little do parents really know about them? The knowledge of science as regards the determination of sex in the embryo is practically nothing. Even if advancing knowledge threw light on what may be called the mechanical aspects of the question, the profounder problems touched by it are beyond the reach of man. Yet they are not governed by chance. God has a meaning and purpose in all things, and His power is complete to carry out His purpose.

(Children) male or female
According to His Will (and Plan),

50. Or He bestows both males <sup>4596</sup>
And females, and He leaves
Barren whom He will :
For He is full
Of knowledge and power.

51. It is not fitting <sup>4597</sup>
For a man that God
Should speak to him
Except by inspiration, <sup>4598</sup>
Or from behind a veil, <sup>4599</sup>
Or by the sending
Of a Messenger <sup>4600</sup>
To reveal, with God's permission,
What God wills : for He Is Most High, Most Wise.

52. And thus have We,
By Our command, sent

وَيَهَبُ لِمَن يَشَاءُ الذُّكُورَ ۝

٥٠- أَوْ يُزَوِّجُهُمْ ذُكْرَانًا وَرِثَانًا ۚ
وَيَجْعَلُ مَن يَشَاءُ عَقِيمًا ۗ
إِنَّهُ عَلِيمٌ قَدِيرٌ ۝

٥١- وَمَا كَانَ لِبَشَرٍ
أَنْ يُكَلِّمَهُ اللَّهُ إِلَّا وَحْيًا
أَوْ مَن ذُرِّيَّتٍ جَابِ أَوْ يُرْسِلَ رَسُولًا
فَيُوحِيَ بآدْبِهِ مَا يَشَاءُ ۗ
إِنَّهُ عَلَىٰ حَكِيمٍ ۝

٥٢- وَكَذَلِكَ أَوْحَيْنَا إِلَيْكَ

4596. To parents themselves it is a mystery why a male or female child is given at any birth, or how the balance of the two sexes is made up in a family or in large groups of mankind, or why in some cases the womb is barren and the would-be parents are denied the joys and responsibilities of parenthood. But each individual human soul is precious in the Plan of God, and all these variations, besides their reactions on parents and on society, have a purpose to fulfil in the large Plan of God.

4597. This leads us on to the higher spiritual meaning of verses 49-50, as leading up to verses 51-53. Man is but a speck in God's creation. His growth and family relationships are not by any means comparable to God's creative acts, whose various stages are referred to in n. 120 to ii. 117, n. 916 to vi. 94, and n. 923 to vi. 98. That being so in the mysteries of man's daily life, how much more profound is the contrast between man and God in the apprehension of the higher spiritual problems concerned with Revelation? How can man be fit to speak to God? He is not fit. But there are three ways in which God, in His infinite Mercy, communicates with man, as described in verses 51-53.

4598. God is Most High, Most Wise ; man is, in spite of his high destiny, often the lowest of the low (xcv. 5). Yet God, out of His infinite Mercy and Grace, has bestowed His revelation on man. How does it come about? Three ways are mentioned : (1) Wahyun, Inspiration ; (2) from behind a veil ; and (3) by the sending of a Messenger : see the notes following.

Wahyun, Inspiration, is interpreted to be of two kinds : (1) a suggestion thrown by God into the heart or mind of man, by which man understands the substance of the Message, whether it is a command or prohibition, or an explanation of a great truth ; and (2) verbal or literal inspiration, by which the actual words of God are conveyed in human language. Orthodox opinion admits the existence of both kinds, though the latter ("recited", matlū) is held to be of a superior degree, only vouchsafed to the greater Prophets, while the former ("other than recited", gair-matlū) may be given not only to the greater Prophets but to other men of spiritual insight who have not attained the degree of Prophethood. If we accept the theory of verbal inspiration, it would also cover the Messages brought by the angel Gabriel : see n. 4600 below.

4599. Behind a veil : not of course a material veil, or screen, or Purdah, but the mystic Veil of Light, or 70,000 Veils of Light, for which see Appendix VIII to S. xxiv.

4600. Messenger : Rasūl : the angel Gabriel, through whom the revelations were given to the holy Prophet. These spiritual visions, conveying the message of Revelation, are the basis of the Qur-ān.

Inspiration to thee:
 Thou knewest not (before) <sup>4601</sup>
 What was Revelation, and
 What was Faith; but We
 Have made the (Qur-ān)
 A Light, wherewith We
 Guide such of Our servants
 As We will; and verily
 Thou dost guide (men) <sup>4602</sup>
 To the Straight Way,—

53. The Way of God, <sup>4603</sup>
 To Whom belongs
 Whatever is in the heavens
 And whatever is on earth.
 Behold (how) all affairs
 Tend towards God!

رُوحًا مِّنْ أَمْرِنَا
 مَا كُنْتَ تَدْرِي مَا الْكِتَابُ وَلَا الْإِيمَانُ
 وَ لَكِن جَعَلْنَاهُ نُورًا
 نَهْدِي بِهِ مَن نَّشَاءُ مِنْ عِبَادِنَا
 وَإِنَّكَ لَتَهْدِي إِلَى صِرَاطٍ مُسْتَقِيمٍ

۝۳- صِرَاطُ اللَّهِ الَّذِي
 لَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ
 إِلَّا إِلَى اللَّهِ تَصِيرُ الْأُمُورُ ۝

4601. Before the receipt of his mission in his fortieth year, the holy Prophet, though a man of steadfast virtue and purity and unflinching in his search for Truth (see C. 22-23), was yet unacquainted with Revelation in the highest sense of the term, and with the certainty that comes from perfected Faith, or realised nearness to God. Rūḥ, which I have here translated Inspiration has also been understood by some Commentators to refer to the angel Gabriel, the vehicle of Revelation. The Light of the Qur-ān made all things clear to man, and to the world.

4602. The Qur-ān and the inspired Prophet who proclaimed it, are here identified. They were a Guide to men, showing the Straight Way. This Way is described in various ways: for example, see i. 6, and n. 22; xviii. 1-2, and notes 2326-27; and xc. 11-18.

4603. The most comprehensive description of the Straight Way is that it is the Way of God, the Way of the Universal Law; for God is the source, centre, and goal of all things in heaven and earth. Everything goes back to Him. According to our own understanding we make our own laws, our own standards, and our own institutions. But the ultimate test of their validity or authority is God's Will, as revealed to us by His Revelation.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLIII (Zukhruf)

This is the fourth Sūra of the Hā-Mīm series of seven Sūras. For their chronology and general theme see the Introduction to S. xl.

This Sūra deals with the contrasts between the real glory of Truth and Revelation and the false glitter of what people like to believe and worship. It cites the examples of Abraham, Moses, and Jesus, as exposing the False and holding up the Truth. The key-word (Zukhruf, Gold Adornments) occurs in verse 38, but the idea occurs all through the Sūra.

Summary.—The Book of Revelation makes things clear, even though the ignorant and foolish mock at it and ignore God's Signs : it will last, while its rejecters will perish (xliii: 1-25, and C. 213).

Abraham exposed the falsehood of traditional worship : the glitter and adornments of this world will not last : what was the end of Pharaoh in his arrogant fight with Moses ? (xliii. 26-56, and C. 214).

Jesus was a servant of God, but his sectarian followers raised false disputations about him : all is known to God, Whose Truth will shine, in spite of unfaith (xliii. 57-89, and C. 215).

C. 213.—Revelation makes ever-lasting Truths
(xliii. 1-25.) Clear : those who mock merely undo themselves.
Consider the Signs of God's gracious kindness
Around you, and glorify Him : attribute not
Unworthy qualities nor any companions
To the One True God. Seek Truth in worship
More than mere ancestral ways,
And shut not out Revelation's Light.

Sūra XLIII.

Zukhruf, or Gold Adornments.*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. ا ā-Mim.<sup>4604</sup>
2. By the Book that Makes things clear,—
3. We have made it
A Qur-ān in Arabic,<sup>4605</sup>
That ye may be able
To understand (and learn wisdom).
4. And verily, it is
In the Mother of the Book,<sup>4606</sup>
In Our Presence, high
(In dignity), full of wisdom.
5. س Shall We then<sup>4607</sup>
Take away the Message
From you and repel (you),
For that ye are a people
Transgressing beyond bounds?
6. But how many were<sup>4608</sup>
The prophets We sent
Amongst the peoples of old?

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمٰنِ الرَّحِیْمِ

ا-حَمِّ

ب-وَالْكِتٰبِ الْمُبِیْنِ ۞

ج-اِنَّا جَعَلْنٰهُ قُرْءٰنًا عَرَبِیًّا
لَعَلَّكُمْ تَعْقِلُوْنَ ۞د-وَرٰثَةً فِیْ اُمِّ الْكِتٰبِ
لَدٰیْنَا لَعَلَّ حٰكِمٍ ۞ه-اَفَنْظِرِبْ عَنكُمُ الَّذِیْنَ كَفَرُوْا
اَنْ كُنْتُمْ قَوْمًا مُّسْرِفِیْنَ ۞

و-وَكَمْ اَرْسَلْنَا مِنْ نَّبِیٍّ فِی الْاَوَّلِیْنَ ۞

4604. Abbreviated Letters : see Introduction to S. xl, paragraphs 2-4.

4605. Cf. xlii. 7, n. 4533.

4606. Cf. iii. 7, n. 347; and xiii. 39, n. 1864. The Mother of the Book, the Foundation of Revelation, the Preserved Tablet (Lauh Mahfuz, lxxxv. 22), is the core or essence of revelation, the original principle or fountain-head of God's Eternal and Universal Law. From this fountain-head are derived all streams of knowledge and wisdom, that flow through Time and feed the intelligence of created minds. The Mother of the Book is in God's own Presence, and its dignity and wisdom are more than all we can think of in the spiritual world.

4607. In vouchsafing Revelation, what an inestimable Mercy has God conferred on mankind! Yet so many deluded souls are ungrateful, and ignore or oppose its teaching. If it were not for His attributes of Forgiveness and Forbearing He would be justified in withdrawing that Light, but He continues to shed it, that all who will may come and be blessed by it.

4608. In spite of, or because of, man's obstinate and rebellious nature, God sent prophet after prophet to the peoples of old, but there was among them always a party that ridiculed them and treated God's Signs as naught.

7. And never came there
A prophet to them
But they mocked him.

٤- وَمَا يَأْتِيهِمْ مِنْ نَبِيِّ
إِلَّا كَانُوا بِهِ يَسْتَهْزِءُونَ ○

8. So We destroyed (them)—
Stronger in power than these;—
And (thus) has passed on <sup>4609</sup>
The Parable of the peoples
Of old.

٨- فَأَهْلَكْنَا أَشَدَّ مِنْهُمْ بَطْشًا
وَمَضَىٰ مَثَلُ الْأَوَّلِينَ ○

9. If thou wert
To question them, ' Who created
The heavens and the earth ? ' <sup>4610</sup>
They would be sure to reply,
' They were created by (Him),
The Exalted in Power,
Full of Knowledge ' ;— <sup>4611</sup>

٩- وَلَئِنْ سَأَلْتَهُمْ مَنْ
خَلَقَ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
لَيَقُولُنَّ خَلَقَهُنَّ
الْعَزِيزُ الْعَلِيمُ ○

10. (Yea, the same that) <sup>4612</sup>
Has made for you
The earth (like a carpet) <sup>4613</sup>
Spread out, and has made
For you roads (and channels)
Therein, in order that ye
May find guidance (on the way) ;

١٠- الَّذِي جَعَلَ لَكُمْ الْأَرْضَ مَهْدًا
وَجَعَلَ لَكُمْ فِيهَا سُبُلًا
لَعَلَّكُمْ تَهْتَدُونَ ○

11. That sends down
(From time to time)

١١- وَالَّذِي نَزَّلَ

4609. The result of rebellion was destruction. And the pagan Meccan generation contemporary with the Prophet are reminded that the peoples of old who were destroyed were, many of them, more powerful than they, and that they, in disobeying God's Law, were inviting the same fate for themselves. The events of the past have become Parables for the present and the future.

4610. Cf. xxix. 61 and n. 3493 ; and xxxi. 25 and n. 3613. This class of men acknowledge God's Power and God's Knowledge or Wisdom, but do not realise God's infinite Mercy and care for His creatures.

4611. Note the beautiful rhetorical figure of speech here. The reply of the inconsistent men who do not follow God's Law is turned against themselves. When they acknowledge God's Power and Knowledge, their speech is interrupted, and the concomitant qualities of God's Mercy and care of His creatures, with pointed reference to the inconsistent ones themselves, is set out in eloquent terms, as completing what they themselves had said, and the right course of conduct is pointed out to them (verses 10-14).

4612. See last note.

4613. Cf. xx. 53 and n. 2576. Mihād, a carpet or bed spread out, implies not only freedom of movement but rest also. The 'roads and channels' carry out the idea of communications and include land routes, sea routes, and airways.

Rain from the sky
In due measure ;—<sup>4614</sup>
And We raise to life
Therewith a land that is
Dead ; even so will ye
Be raised (from the dead) ;—<sup>4615</sup>

مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً بِقَدَرٍ
فَأَنْشَرْنَا بِهِ بَلْدَةً مَّيْتًا
كَذَلِكَ نُخْرِجُكُمْ

12 That has created pairs <sup>4616</sup>
In all things, and has made
For you ships and cattle <sup>4617</sup>
On which ye ride,

۱۲- وَالَّذِي خَلَقَ الْأَزْوَاجَ كُلَّهَا وَجَعَلَ
لَكُمْ مِنَ الْفُلْكِ وَالْأَنْعَامِ مَا تَرْكَبُونَ ۝

13. In order that ye may
Sit firm and square
On their backs, and when
So seated, ye may
Celebrate the (kind) favour <sup>4618</sup>
Of your Lord, and say,
“Glory to Him Who
Has subjected these
To our (use), for we Could never have accomplished
This (by-ourselves),

۱۳- لِيَسْتَوُوا عَلَى ظُهُورِهِمْ
ثُمَّ تَدْكُرُوا نِعْمَةَ رَبِّكُمْ
إِذَا اسْتَوَيْتُمْ عَلَيْهِ وَتَقُولُوا
سُبْحَانَ الَّذِي سَخَّرَ لَنَا هَذَا
وَمَا كُنَّا لَهُ مُقْرِنِينَ ۝

14. “And to our Lord, surely, <sup>4619</sup>
Must we turn back !”

۱۴- وَإِنَّا إِلَى رَبِّنَا لَمُنْقَلِبُونَ ۝

4614. In due measure : i.e., according to needs, as measured by local as well as universal considerations. This applies to normal rainfall ; floods and droughts are abnormal conditions, and may be called unusual manifestations of His power, fulfilling some special purpose that we may or may not understand.

4615. The clause ‘And We raise...(from the dead)’ is parenthetical. Cf. xxxv. 9, n. 3881. Note the transition from the third to the first person, to mark the Resurrection as a special act of God as distinguished from the ordinary processes of nature ordained by God.

4616. Cf. n. 2578 to xx. 53. Also see xxxvi. 36, n. 3981.

4617. By analogy all means of transport, including horses, camels, ships, steamers, railways, aeroplanes, airships, etc. The domestication of animals as well as the invention of mechanical means of transport require a skill and ingenuity in man, which are referred to God as His gifts or endowments to man.

4618. See last note. People of understanding attribute all good to its true and original source viz. : God.

4619. Men of understanding, every time they take a journey on earth, are reminded of that more momentous journey which they are taking on the back of Time to Eternity. Have they tamed Time to their lawful use, or do they allow Time to run away with them wildly to where they know not ? Their goal is God, and their thoughts are ever with God,

15. Yet they attribute <sup>4620</sup>
To some of His servants
A share with Him
(In His godhead) !
Truly is man a blasphemous
Ingrate avowed !

١٥- وَجَعَلُوا لَهُ مِنْ عِبَادِهِ جُزْءًا
إِنَّ الْإِنْسَانَ
لَكَفُورٌ مُّبِينٌ ۝

SECTION 2.

16. What ! Has He taken <sup>4621</sup>
Daughters out of what He Himself creates, and granted
To you sons for choice ?

١٦- أَمْ اتَّخَذَ مِنَّا يَخْلُقُ بَنَاتٍ
وَاصْفَكُمْ بِالْبَنِينَ ۝

17. When news is brought <sup>4622</sup>
To one of them of (the birth
Of) what he sets up
As a likeness to (God)
Most Gracious, his face
Darkens, and he is filled
With inward grief !

١٧- وَإِذَا بُشِّرَ أَحَدُهُمْ
بِمَا ضَرَبَ لِلرَّحْمَنِ مَثَلًا
ظَلَّ وَجْهُهُ مُسَوِّدًا
وَهُوَ كَظِيمٌ ۝

18. Is then one brought up <sup>4623</sup>
Among trinkets, and unable
To give a clear account
In a dispute (to be Associated with God) ?

١٨- أَوْ مَنْ يُنشِئُوا فِي الْحَلِيَّةِ
وَهُوَ فِي الْخِصَامِ
غَيْرٌ مُبِينٌ ۝

19. And they make into females
Angels who themselves serve <sup>4624</sup>

١٩- وَجَعَلُوا الْمَلَائِكَةَ الَّذِينَ هُمْ عِبْدُ الرَّحْمَنِ

4620. As a contrast to the men of true understanding are the ungrateful blasphemous creatures, who offer a share in godhead to others besides God ! They imagine sons and daughters to God, and forget the true lesson of the whole of Creation, which points to the Unity of God. This theme is further developed in the following Section.

4621. To imagine goddesses (female gods) or mothers or daughters to God was particularly blasphemous in the mouths of people who held the female sex in contempt. Such were the pagan Arabs, and such (it is to be feared) are some of the moderns. They wince when a daughter is born to them and hanker after sons. With that mentality, how can they attribute daughters to God ?

4622. Cf. xvi. 57-59 and notes. With scathing irony it is pointed out that what they hate and are ashamed of for themselves they attribute to God !

4623. The softer sex is usually brought up among trinkets and ornaments, and, on account of the retiring modesty which for the sex is a virtue, is unable to stand up boldly in a fight and give clear indications of the will to win. Is that sort of quality to be associated with God ?

4624. Angels for grace and purity may be compared to the most graceful and the purest forms we know. But it is wrong to attribute sex to them. They are servants and messengers of God and so far from being rivals seeking worship, are always engaged in devotion and service. If any persons invent blasphemies about God, such blasphemies will form a big blot in their Book of Deeds, and they will be called to account for them.

God. Did they witness
Their creation? Their evidence
Will be recorded, and they
Will be called to account!

20. ("Ah!") they say, "If
It had been the Will<sup>4625</sup>
Of (God) Most Gracious,
We should not have
Worshipped such (deities)!"
Of that they have
No knowledge! They
Do nothing but lie!<sup>4626</sup>

21. What! have We given them
A Book before this,
To which they are
Holding fast?

22. Nay! they say: "We found<sup>4627</sup>
Our fathers following
A certain religion,
And we do guide ourselves
By their footsteps."

23. Just in the same way,
Whenever We sent a Warner
Before thee to any people,
The wealthy ones among them<sup>4628</sup>
Said: "We found our fathers
Following a certain religion,
And we will certainly
Follow in their footsteps."

إِنَّا أَنشَأْنَاهُمْ
وَأَشْهَدُوا خَلْقَهُمْ
سَنُكْتَبُ شَهَادَتَهُمْ وَيُسْأَلُونَ ○

۲۰- وَقَالُوا لَوْ شَاءَ الرَّحْمَنُ
مَا عَبَدْنَاهُمْ
مَا لَهُمْ بِذَلِكَ مِنْ عِلْمٍ
إِنَّهُمْ إِلَّا يَخْرُصُونَ ○

۲۱- أَمْ أُتِينَاهُمْ كِتَابًا مِنْ قَبْلِهِ
فَهُمْ بِهِ مُسْتَسْكِنُونَ ○

۲۲- بَلْ قَالُوا إِنَّا وَجَدْنَا آبَاءَنَا
عَلَىٰ أُمَّةٍ
وَإِنَّا عَلَىٰ آثَرِهِمْ مُهْتَدُونَ ○

۲۳- وَكَذَلِكَ مَا أَرْسَلْنَا مِنْ قَبْلِكَ فِي
قَرْيَةٍ مِنْ تَذْوِيرٍ إِلَّا قَالَ مُتْرَفُوهَا
إِنَّا وَجَدْنَا آبَاءَنَا عَلَىٰ أُمَّةٍ
وَإِنَّا عَلَىٰ آثَرِهِمْ مُقْتَدُونَ ○

4625. Worsted in argument they resort to a dishonest sarcasm. 'We worship these deities: if God does not wish us to do so, why does He not prevent us?' In throwing the responsibility on God, they ignore the limited free-will on which their whole life is based. They are really playing with truth. They are arguing against their own knowledge. They have no authority in any scripture, and indeed they are so slippery that they hold fast to no scripture at all.

4626. Cf. vi. 116.

4627. Then comes the argument about ancestral custom, which was repudiated by Abraham (see verses 26-28 below). Indeed a good reply to ancestral custom in the case of the Arabs was the example of Abraham, the True in Faith, for Abraham was the common ancestor of the Arabs and the Israelites.

4628. It is some privileged position, and not ancestral custom, which is really at the bottom of much falsehood and hypocrisy in the world. This has been seen again and again in religious history.

24. He said : " What ! <sup>4629</sup>
 Even if I brought you
 Better guidance than that
 Which ye found
 Your fathers following ? "
 They said : " For us,
 We deny that ye (prophets)
 Are sent (on a mission
 At all)."
25. So We exacted retribution
 From them : now see
 What was the end
 Of those who rejected (Truth) !

٢٣- قُلْ أَوْ لَوْ جِئْتُكُمْ بِأَهْدَى
 مِمَّا وَجَدْتُمْ عَلَيْهِ آبَاءَكُمْ
 قَالُوا إِنَّا
 بِمَا أُرْسِلْتُمْ بِهِ
 كَافِرُونَ ○

٢٥- فَأَنْتَقَمْنَا مِنْهُمْ فَأَنْظُرُ
 كَيْفَ كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الْمُكذِبِينَ ○

C. 214.—If the Arabs hark back to ancestry, why not (xl.iii. 26-56.) Accept the Faith of Abraham the True ?
 He joined not gods with God. Spiritual
 Worth is measured by other things
 Than gold or silver or the adornments
 Of this world. These are but things of the hour.
 The lasting gifts are those of the Hereafter.
 If Israel goes back to Moses, how he
 Was mocked by Pharaoh in his pride
 Of power ! Yet Pharaoh and his deluded
 People perished : so ends the pomp
 And power and vanity of this world !

SECTION 3.

26. Behold ! Abraham said <sup>4630</sup>
 To his father and his people :
 " I do indeed clear myself
 Of what ye worship :
27. " (I worship) only Him
 Who made me, and He
 Will certainly guide me."

٢٦- وَإِذْ قَالَ إِبْرَاهِيمُ لِأَبِيهِ وَقَوْمِهِ
 إِنَّنِي بَرَاءٌ مِمَّا تَعْبُدُونَ ○

٢٧- إِلَّا الَّذِي فَطَرَنِي
 فَإِنَّهُ سَيَهْدِينِ ○

4629. The Warner or apostle pointed out the merits and the truth of his teaching, and how superior it was to what they called their ancestral customs. But they denied his mission itself or the validity of any such mission. In other words they did not believe in inspiration or revelation, and went on in their evil ways, with the inevitable result that they brought themselves to destruction.

4630. The plea of ancestral ways is refuted by the example of Abraham, in two ways : (1) he gave up the ancestral cults followed by his father and his people, and followed the true Way, even at some sacrifice to himself ; and (2) he was an ancestor of the Arabs, and if the Arabs stood on ancestral ways, why should they not follow their good ancestor Abraham, rather than their bad ancestors who fell into evil ? See n. 4627 above. The incident in Abraham's story referred to here will be found in xxi. 51-70.

28. And he left it
As a Word <sup>4631</sup>
To endure among those
Who came after him,
That they may turn back
(To God).
29. Yea, I have given <sup>4632</sup>
The good things of this life
To these (men) and
Their fathers, until the Truth
Has come to them,
And an Apostle
Making things clear.
30. But when the Truth came
To them, they said:
"This is sorcery, and we <sup>4633</sup>
Do reject it."
31. Also, they say: "Why
Is not this Qur-ān sent
Down to some leading man
In either of the two <sup>4634</sup>
(Chief) cities?"
32. Is it they who would portion out
The Mercy of thy Lord? <sup>4635</sup>
It is We Who portion out
Between them their livelihood

٢٨- وَجَعَلَهَا كَلِمَةً
بَاقِيَةً فِي عَقْبِهِ
لَعَلَّهُمْ يَرْجِعُونَ ○

٢٩- بَلْ مَتَّعْتُ هَؤُلَاءِ وَآبَاءَهُمْ
حَتَّىٰ جَاءَهُمُ الْحَقُّ
وَرَسُولٌ مُّبِينٌ ○

٣٠- وَلَمَّا جَاءَهُمُ الْحَقُّ قَالُوا
هَذَا سِحْرٌ وَإِنَّا بِهِ كَافِرُونَ ○

٣١- وَقَالُوا لَوْلَا نُزِّلَ هَذَا الْقُرْآنُ
عَلَىٰ رَجُلٍ مِّنَ الْقَرْيَتَيْنِ
عَظِيمِ ○

٣٢- أَهَمْ يَفْسِقُونَ رَحِمَتْ مَرَاتِكَ
مَنْ قَسَمْنَا بَيْنَهُمْ مَّعِيشَتَهُمْ

4631. A Word: i.e., the Gospel of Unity, viz.: "I worship only Him Who made me", as in verse 27. This was his teaching, and this was his legacy to those who followed him. He hoped that they would keep it sacred, and uphold the standard of Unity. Cf. C. 7-8. Cf. also xxxvii. 108-111.

4632. Note the first person singular, as showing God's personal solicitude and care for the descendants of Abraham in both branches. The context here refers to the prosperity enjoyed by Mecca and the Meccans until they rejected the truth of Islam when it was preached in their midst by an apostle whose Message was as clear as the light of the sun.

4633. When the pagan Meccans could not understand the wonderful power and authority with which the holy Prophet preached, they called his God-given influence sorcery!

4634. The world judges by its own low standards. From a worldly point of view, the holy Prophet was poor and an orphan. Why, they thought, should he be so richly endowed in spiritual knowledge and power? If such a gift had to come to a man among them, it was the right (they foolishly said) of one of the chiefs in either the sacred city of Mecca, or the fertile garden-city of Taif!

4635. That is, spiritual gifts, those connected with Revelation. What audacity or folly in them to claim to divide or distribute them among themselves? They may think they are distributing the good things of this world among themselves. In a sense that may be true, but even here, their own power and initiative are very limited. Even here it is God's Will on which all depends. In His wisdom God allows some to grow in power or riches, and command work from others, and various relative gradations are established. Men scramble for these good things of this world, but they are of no value compared to the spiritual gifts.

In the life of this world :
And We raise some of them
Above others in ranks,
So that some may command
Work from others.
But the Mercy of thy Lord
Is better than the (wealth)

SECTION 4.

36. If anyone withdraws himself <sup>4638</sup>
From remembrance

۝-۳۶- وَمَنْ يَعْشُ عَنْ ذِكْرِ

4636. So little value is attached in the spiritual world to silver or gold, or worldly ranks or adornments, that they would freely be at the disposal of everyone who denied or blasphemed God, were it not that in that case there would be too great temptation placed in the way of men, for they might all scramble to sell their spiritual life for wealth! They might have silver roofs and stair-ways, silver doors and thrones, and all kinds of adornments of gold. But God does not allow too great a temptation to be placed in the path of men. He distributes these things differently, some to unjust men, and some to just men, in various degrees, so that the possession of these is no test either of an unjust or a just life. His wisdom searches out motives far more subtle and delicate than any we are even aware of.

4637. Adornments of gold: the keyword to this Sūra. All false glitter and adornments of this world are as naught. They more often hinder than help.

4638. If men deliberately put away the remembrance of God from their minds, the natural consequence, under God's decree, is that they join on with evil. Like consorts with like. We can generalise evil in the abstract, but it takes concrete shape in our life-companions.

Of (God) Most Gracious,
We appoint for him
An evil one, to be
An intimate companion to him.

الرَّحْمَنِ نَقِيصُ لَهُ

37. Such (evil ones) really
Hinder them from the Path,<sup>4639</sup>
But they think that they
Are being guided aright!

۳۷- وَإِنَّهُمْ لَيَصُدُّونَهُمْ عَنِ السَّبِيلِ
وَيَحْسَبُونَ أَنَّهُمْ مُهْتَدُونَ ○

38. At length, when (such a one)<sup>4640</sup>
Comes to Us, he says
(To his evil companion):
"Would that between me
And thee were the distance
Of East and West!"<sup>4641</sup> Ah!
Evil is the companion (indeed)!

۳۸- حَتَّىٰ إِذَا جَاءَنَا قَالَ
يَكَيْتَ بَيْنِي وَبَيْنَكَ بُعْدَ الْمَشْرِقَيْنِ
فَبِئْسَ الْقَرِينُ ○

39. When ye have done wrong,<sup>4642</sup>
It will avail you nothing,
That day, that ye shall be
Partners in punishment!

۳۹- وَلَنْ يَنْفَعَكُمْ الْيَوْمَ إِذْ ظَلَمْتُمْ
أَنَّكُمْ فِي الْعَذَابِ مُشْتَرِكُونَ ○

40. Canst thou then make<sup>4643</sup>
The deaf to hear, or give
Direction to the blind
Or to such as (wander)
In manifest error?<sup>4644</sup>

۴۰- أَفَأَنْتَ تُبْرِئُ الصَّمَمَ
أَوْ تَهْدِي الْعُمْى
وَمَنْ كَانَ فِي ضَلَالٍ مُّبِينٍ ○

4639. The downward course in evil is rapid. But the most tragic consequence is that evil persuades its victims to believe that they are pursuing good. They think evil to be their good. They go deeper and deeper into the mire, and become more and more callous. "Them" and "they" represent the generic plural of anyone who "withdraws himself from...God" (see last verse).

4640. If ever the presence of God is felt, or at the time of Judgment, a glimmering of truth comes to the deceived soul, and it cries to its evil companion in its agony, "Would that I had never come across thee! Would that we were separated poles apart!" But it cannot shake off evil. By deliberate choice it had put itself in its snare.

4641. Distance of East and West: literally, 'distance of the two Easts'. Most Commentators understand in this sense, but some construe the phrase as meaning the distance of the extreme points of the rising of the sun, between the summer solstice and the winter solstice. Cf. n. 4034 to xxxvii. 5. A good equivalent idiom in English would be "poles apart", for they could never meet.

4642. All partners in evil will certainly share in the punishment, but that is no consolation to any individual soul. Evil desires the evil of others, but that does not diminish its own torment, or get rid of the personal responsibility of each individual soul.

4643. Cf. xxx. 52-53. The evil go headlong into sin, and sink deeper and deeper until their spiritual faculties are deadened, and no outside help can bring them back. God's grace they have rejected.

4644. There is hope for a person who wanders in quest of truth, and even for one who wanders through mistake or by weakness of will. But there is none for one who, by deliberate choice, plunges into "manifest error", i.e. error which any one can see.

41. Even if We take thee <sup>4645</sup>
 Away, We shall be sure
 To exact retribution from them,

۴۱- فَأَمَّا أَنْدَهَبْتَ بِكَ

44. The (Qur-ān) is indeed

SECTION 5.

46. We did send Moses <sup>4649</sup>
 Aforetime, with Our Signs,

۴۶- وَلَقَدْ أَرْسَلْنَا مُوسَىٰ بِآيَاتِنَا

4645. Cf. viii. 30 : "how the Unbelievers plotted against thee, to keep thee in bonds, or slay thee, or get thee out (of thy home)." They were always plotting against the holy Prophet in his Meccan period. But even if their plots had succeeded against human beings, they could not defeat God's Plan, nor escape the just punishment of their deeds. Cf. also x. 46, and n. 1438.

4646. Let the wicked rage, say what they like, or do their worst : the man of God is encouraged to go forward steadfastly in the Light given him, for he is on a Path that leads straight to God.

4647. Zikrun : Message, Remembrance, Cause of remembrance, Memorial, Title for remembrance to posterity. Thus two meanings emerge, not necessarily mutually exclusive. (1) The Qur-ān brings a Message of Truth and Guidance to the Apostle, and his people; (2) the revelation of the Qur-ān raises the rank of the Apostle, and the people among whom, and in whose language, it was promulgated, making them worthy of remembrance in the world's history for all time. But the honour also carried its responsibilities. All who hear it must give an account of how far they profit by it spiritually.

4648. That is, by examining their Message, and asking the learned among their real followers. It will be found that no Religion really teaches the worship of other than God.

4649. For the story of Moses in detail, see vii. 103-137, but especially vii. 104, 130-136.

4650. For the mockery of Moses and his Signs see xvii. 101 ; also below, xliii. 49, 52-53.

4651. Moses showed them nine Clear Signs : see n. 1091 to vii. 133 ; also xvii. 101. Each one of them in its own setting and circumstances was greater than any of its " sister " Signs. The object was if possible to reclaim as many Egyptians as possible from their defiance of God.

4652. This speech is half a mockery, and half a ruse. In spite of their unbelief, they had fear in their minds, and in order to stop the plagues, one after another, they promised to obey God, and when the particular plague was removed, they again became obdurate. See vii. 133-135.

4653. The wāw here in Arabic is the Wāw ḥālīya : the abundant streams from the Nile flowing beneath his palace being evidence of his power, prosperity, and sovereignty. The Nile made (and makes) Egypt, and the myth of the god Osiris was a compound of the myths of the Nile and the sun. The Pharaoh, therefore, as commanding the Nile, commanded the gods who personified Egypt. He boasted of water, and he perished in water,—a fitting punishment !

52. "Am I not better
Than this (Moses), who
Is a contemptible wretch <sup>4654</sup>
And can scarcely
Express himself clearly ?

54. Thus did he make
Fools of his people,
And they obeyed him :
Truly were they a people
Rebellious (against God).

٥٤- فَاسْتَخَفَّ قَوْمَهُ

55. When at length they <sup>4656</sup>
Provoked Us, We exacted
Retribution from them, and
We drowned them all. <sup>4657</sup>

٥٥- فَلَمَّا أَتَقْنَا مِنْهُمْ

56. And We made them
(A people) of the Past <sup>4658</sup>
And an Example
To later ages.

٥٦- فَجَعَلْنَاهُمْ سَلَفًا
وَمَثَلًا لِّلْآخِرِينَ ۝

4654. Being a despised Israelite in any case, and having further an impediment in his speech. See xx. 27, and notes 2552-53.

4655. Gold bracelets and gold chains were possibly among the insignia of royalty. In any case they betokened wealth, and the materialists judge a man's worth by his wealth and his following and equipage. So Pharaoh wanted to see Moses, if he had any position in the spiritual kingdom, invested with gold bracelets, and followed by a great train of angels as his Knight-companions ! The same kind of proofs were demanded by the materialist Quraish of our holy Prophet. These were puerilities, but such puerilities go down with the crowd. Barring a few Egyptians who believed in God and in the Message of Moses, the rest of Pharaoh's entourage followed Pharaoh in his pursuit of revenge, and were drowned in the Red Sea.

4656. God is long-suffering, and gives many and many opportunities to the most hardened sinners for repentance. But at length comes a time when His justice is provoked, and the inevitable punishment follows.

4657. Cf. vii. 136.

4658. Pharaoh and his hosts were blotted out, and became as a tale of the past. Their story is an instructive warning and example to future generations. The later course of Egyptian religion after the Exodus is referred to in Appendix V, pp. 408-413.

C. 215.—If Christians go back to Jesus, he

(xl.iii. 57-89.) Was but a man and a servant of God :
 He came to still the jarring sects,
 Not to create a new one : he preached
 The One True God, his Lord. So give up
 Disputing, and join in devotion to God.
 That is the Way to the Garden of Bliss,
 But the opposite leads to the Fire. Beware !
 The Truth has come, and God knows how you
 Receive it. He is the Lord of power and mercy.
 The Truth must prevail : resist it not.

 وَجَعَلْنَاهُ مَثَلًا لِبَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ ○

4659. Jesus was a man, and a prophet to the Children of Israel, "though his own received him not." Some of the churches that were founded after him worshipped him as "God" and as "the son of God", as do the Trinitarian churches to the present day. The orthodox churches did so in the time of the holy Prophet. When the doctrine of Unity was renewed, and the false worship of others besides God was strictly prohibited, all false gods were condemned, e.g., at xxi. 98. The pagan Arabs looked upon Jesus as being in the same category as their false gods, and could not see why a foreign cult, or a foreign god, as they viewed him, should be considered better than their own gods or idols. There was no substance in this, but mere mockery, and verbal quibbling. Jesus was one of the greater prophets : he was not a god, nor was he responsible for the quibbling subtleties of the Athanasian Creed.

4660. A reference to the limited mission of the prophet Jesus, whose Gospel to the Jews only survives in uncertain fragmentary forms.

60. And if it were Our Will,<sup>4661</sup>
We could make angels
From amongst you, succeeding
Each other on the earth.

Is a Straight Way.

٦١- وَإِنَّهُ لَعَلَّمُ لِلسَّاعَةِ

٦٢- وَلَا يَصُدُّكُمْ الشَّيْطَانُ

63. When Jesus came
With Clear Signs, he said :
“ Now have I come
To you with Wisdom,<sup>4663</sup>
And in order to make Clear to you some
Of the (points) on which
Ye dispute : therefore fear God
And obey me.

٦٣- وَلَمَّا جَاءَ عِيسَى بِالْبَيِّنَاتِ قَالَ
قَدْ جِئْتُكُمْ بِالْحِكْمَةِ

٦٤- إِنَّ اللَّهَ هُوَ رَبِّي وَرَبُّكُمْ فَاعْبُدُوهُ
هَذَا صِرَاطٌ مُسْتَقِيمٌ ○

4661. If it were said that the birth of Jesus without a father sets him above other prophets, the creation of angels without either father or mother would set them still higher, especially as angels do not eat and drink and are not subject to physical laws. But angels are not higher.

4662. This is understood to refer to the second coming of Jesus in the Last Days just before the Resurrection, when he will destroy the false doctrines that pass under his name, and prepare the way for the universal acceptance of Islam, the Gospel of Unity and Peace, the Straight Way of the Qur-ān.

4663. True wisdom consists in understanding the unity of the Divine purpose and the Unity of the Divine Personality. The man Jesus came to reconcile the jarring sects in Israel, and his true teaching was just the same as that which was expounded in a wider form by Islam. He did not claim to be God : why should not the Christians follow the doctrine of Unity rather than what has become their ancestral and traditional custom ?

4664. In verses 26-28 an appeal is made to the pagan Arabs, that Islam is their own religion, the religion of Abraham their ancestor ; in verses 46-54, an appeal is made to the Jews that Islam is the same religion as was taught by Moses, and that they should not allow their leaders to make fools of them ; in verses 57-65 an appeal is made to the Christians that Islam is the same religion as was taught by Jesus, and that they should give up their sectarian attitude and follow the universal religion, which shows the Straight Way.

65. But sects from among Themselves fell into disagreement :
Then woe to the wrong-doers,
From the Penalty
Of a Grievous Day!

67. Friends on that Day <sup>4666</sup>

To another,—except
The Righteous.

4665. Cf. xii. 107. What is there to wait for? The Hour of Judgment may come at any moment. It will come all of a sudden before they realise that it is on them. They should make up their minds to give up misleading disputations and come to the Straight Path.

4666. The hatred and spite, which are associated with evil, will be felt with peculiar intensity in that period of agony. That itself would be a punishment, from which the righteous will be free. The righteous will have passed all perils of falling into wrong frames of mind.

4667. The devotion and service to God result in the soul being made free from all fear and sorrow, as regards the past, present, and future, if we may take an analogy from Time for a timeless state. Such devotion and service are shown by (1) believing in God's Signs, which means understanding and accepting His Will, and (2) by merging our will completely in His universal Will, which means being in tune with the Infinite, and acting in all things to further His Kingdom.

4668. The Garden is the type of all that is beautiful to eye, mind, and soul, all that is restful and in tune, a complete state of bliss, such as we can scarcely conceive of in this troubled world. Several metaphors indicate how we can try to picture that bliss to ourselves in "this muddy vesture of decay."

71. To them will be passed <sup>4669</sup>
Round, dishes and goblets
Of gold : there will be
There all that the souls
Could desire, all that
The eyes could delight in :
And ye shall abide
Therein (for aye).
72. Such will be the Garden
Of which ye are made <sup>4670</sup>
Heirs for your (good) deeds
(In life).
73. Ye shall have therein
Abundance of fruit, <sup>4671</sup> from which Ye shall have satisfaction. <sup>4672</sup>
74. The Sinners will be
In the Punishment of Hell,
To dwell therein (for aye) :
75. Nowise will the (punishment)
Be lightened for them,
And in despair will they
Be there overwhelmed.
76. Nowise shall We <sup>4673</sup>
Be unjust to them :

٤١- يَطَّافُونَ عَلَيْهِمْ بِصِصَافٍ مِنْ ذَهَبٍ
وَ الْكُؤَابِ ۚ وَ فِيهَا مَا شَتَّيْتُمْ فِي الْأَنْفُسِ

٤٢- وَ تِلْكَ الْجَنَّةُ الَّتِي
أُورِثُ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ بِمَا كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ ۝

٤٣- لَكُمْ فِيهَا فَاكِهَةٌ كَثِيرَةٌ

٤٥- لَا يُفْتَرُ عَنْهُمْ
وَ هُمْ فِيهِ مُبْسُونَ ۝

٤٦- وَ مَا ظَنَنْتُمْ

4669. We shall have all our near and dear ones ("wives") with us : perfected Love will not be content with Self, but like a note of music will find its melody in communion with the others. The richest and most beautiful vessels will minister to our purified desires, and give complete and eternal satisfaction to our souls in every way.

4670. We shall be there, not as strangers, or temporary guests, but as heirs,—made heirs in eternity because of the good lives we had led on earth.

4671. "Fruit" and "eating" are metaphorical. Even as types or emblems, eating and drinking were suggested by "dishes and goblets of gold" in verse 71 above. The "fruit" here links on with the last words in the last verse (72), "ye are made heirs for your (good) deeds (in life)". It is not a doctrine of "rewards"; strictly so called. A reward is measured by merit, but here the bliss is beyond all merits or deserts. It is a doctrine of works and their fruits : every deed must have its inevitable consequences. At first sight it may be compared to the doctrine of "Karma", but it differs from it in postulating God's unbounded Mercy, and the efficacy of Repentance.

4672. Literally, "shall eat". But the word akala is used in many places in the comprehensive sense of "enjoy", "have satisfaction". For example, see n. 776 to v. 69. Cf. also vii, 19 and n. 1004.

4673. The wrong-doers suffer not because God is unjust or cruel, nor as a deterrent to others, for the probationary period will then have passed, but because their evil deeds must bear their inevitable fruit. God's Grace was ever ready to offer opportunities for Repentance and Forgiveness. But they rejected them. They were unjust to themselves. This is complementary to the doctrine of works and their fruits, as explained in n. 4671 above.

But it is they who
Have been unjust themselves.

77. They will cry : " O Mālik ! <sup>4674</sup>
Would that thy Lord
Put an end to us !"
He will say, " Nay, but Ye shall abide ! " <sup>4675</sup>

78. Verily We have brought <sup>4676</sup>
The Truth to you :
But most of you
Have a hatred for Truth.

79. What ! Have they settled <sup>4677</sup>
Some Plan (among themselves) ?
But it is We Who
Settle things.

80. Or do they think <sup>4678</sup>
That We hear not
Their secrets and their Private counsels ? Indeed
(We do), and Our Messengers
Are by them, to record.

81. Say : " If (God) Most Gracious
Had a son, I would <sup>4679</sup>
Be the first to worship."

82. Glory to the Lord
Of the heavens and the earth,

4674. Mālik : one who is lord or possessor ; one who is in charge ; applied to the Angel in charge of Hell.

4675. Cf. xx. 74. Annihilation is better than agony. But wrong-doers cannot destroy the "fruits" of their actions, by asking for annihilation.

4676. We come back now to the Present,—primarily to the time when Islam was being preached in Mecca, but by analogy the present time or any time. Truth is often bitter to the taste of those who live on Falsehoods and Shams and profit by them. They hate the Truth, and plot against it. But will they succeed ? See next verse and note.

4677. Men cannot settle the high affairs of the universe. If they plot against the Truth, the Truth will destroy them, just as, if they accept the Truth, the Truth will make them free. It is God Who disposes of affairs.

4678. However secretly men may plot, everything is known to God. His Recording Angels are by, at all times and in all places, to prepare a Record of their Deeds for their own conviction when the time comes for Judgment.

4679. The man of God does not object to true worship in any form. But it must be true : it must not superstitiously attribute derogatory things to God, or foster false ideas.

4680. Cf. vii. 54 and n. 1032. All Power, Authority, Knowledge, and Truth are with God. He neither begets nor is begotten. Glory to Him!

4681. That Day of theirs: they had their Day on earth; they will have a different sort of Day in the Hereafter, according to the promise of God about the Resurrection and Judgment, or perhaps about Retribution in this very life! So leave them to play about with their fancies and vanities. Truth must eventually prevail!

4682. We glorify God, and we call His name blessed, because He has not only supreme power and authority, but because we shall return to Him and see "the Light of His Countenance" (xxx. 38).

4683. The classical Commentators construe this clause differently. According to their construction, the clause would be translated, "except those who bear witness to the Truth, and with full knowledge." "Truth" they would construe to be the Gospel of Unity. According to them, while idols and false gods have no power of intercession, persons like Jesus, who is falsely worshipped by his misguided followers, but who himself preached the Gospel of Unity with full understanding, will have the power of intercession. This implies that we construe the singular man shahida to refer to the same person or persons as the plural hum ya'lamūn. This difficulty is removed if we construe as I have translated it. In that case "he who bears witness to the Truth" is the holy Prophet, who came to renew the Gospel of Unity, and "they know (him)" would refer to the Quraish, amongst whom he was brought up and among whom he earned the reputation of being a man of probity (Amīn).

87. If thou ask them, Who <sup>4684</sup>

وَقِيلَ لَهُ

٤٦٨٤

4684. Cf. xxxi. 25, and n. 3613; and xxxix. 38, and n. 4299.

4685. Commentators are divided in opinion as to the construction. The best opinion is that which I have adopted, referring back qilihī as a genitive governed by 'ilm in verse 85. An alternative construction is to construe the wāw here as the wāw qasamiya: in that case we should have to suppose some other clause as understood, in order to complete the sense.

4686. The Prophet was much troubled in mind by the Unfaith of the Quraish: xviii. 6. He is here told to leave them alone for a time, for the Truth must soon prevail.

4687. Cf. xxv. 63, and n. 3123.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLIV (Dukhān).

For the chronology and the general theme of the Sūras of the Hā-Mīm series, of which this is the fifth, see the Introduction to S. xl.

The theme of this particular Sūra is how worldly pride and power are humbled in the dust if they resist spiritual forces, and how Evil and Good find their true setting in the Hereafter.

The title-word Dukhān occurs in verse 10. It means smoke or mist, and may refer to a drought or famine, as explained in the notes to that verse.

Summary.—Revelation explains clearly how worldly pride and arrogance may come to naught, even at long odds, against spiritual truths (xliv. 1-29, and C. 216).

A people may be given all blessings and may fail in its trust, as did Israel: will the Quraish learn the lesson of Good and Evil? (xliv. 30-59, and C. 217).

C. 216.—Blest is the night in which God's Message
 (xliv. 1-29.) Comes down, as a Mercy to men, to warn them
 Against Evil. How fractious of men to ignore
 Or suppress such warnings? Proud Pharaoh
 And his Chiefs did resist God's authority,
 But their sins rebounded on themselves:
 They were swallowed up by the sea; and their tilth,
 Their gardens, their noble fanes and buildings,
 And all the advantages of which they boasted
 Passed to other hands. Not a tear
 Was shed over them in heaven or earth.
 Thus ends the tale of power misused.

Sūra XLIV.

Dukhān, or Smoke (or Mist).*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

6. As a Mercy

4688. These Abbreviated Letters are discussed in the Introduction to S. xl. paragraphs 2-4.

4689. The Qur-ān is its own evidence. In the last Sūra (xliii. 3) stress was laid on the fact that everyone could understand it. Here the stress is on the fact that it is a Message of Mercy from God in that it warns mankind against evil.

4690. Usually taken to be a night in the month of Ramadhān, say the 23rd, 25th, or 27th night of that month. It is referred to as the Night of Power in xcvi. 1-2. See also ii. 185. But perhaps we need not fix it literally by the calendar. The night that a Message descends from God is indeed a blessed night, like a day of rain for a parched land.

4691. Such an occasion is one on which divine Wisdom places before us through Revelation the solution of spiritual problems of the highest import to mankind.

4692. It is because God is the friend of the friendless and the help of the helpless that He hears all sincere prayers, and as His knowledge embraces all things, He grants to us whatever is best for us, not as we see it, but as He knows it in His perfect knowledge.

11. Enveloping the people :
This will be a Penalty
Grievous.

تَغْشَى النَّاسَ ١١
هَذَا عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ ٥

4693. Cf. ii. 4. They cannot fully realise what a tremendous thing it is that God is their own Lord and Cherisher (next verse), as He is the Lord and Cherisher of the whole Universe, until they firmly believe,—until their Faith amounts to a certainty, secure and unshakable.

4694. The story is mainly about the Quraish. But there is a wider meaning behind it, applicable to men generally, and at all times. As a body the Quraish, especially in the earlier stages of the preaching of Islam, before they started persecution, received the Message with more amusement than hatred. They played about with it, and expressed doubts about it, whereas the Preacher was most earnest about it, with all his heart and soul in it, as he loved his people and wished to save them from their wickedness and folly.

4696. The "smoke" or "mist" is interpreted on good authority to refer to a severe famine in Mecca, in which men were so pinched with hunger that they saw mist before their eyes when they looked at the sky. Ibn Kathīr in his Tārīkh mentions two famines in Mecca, one in the 8th year of the Mission, say the fourth year before the Hijra, and another about the 8th year after the Hijra. But as either or both of these famines lasted as many as seven years, the dates are to be taken very roughly. It is even possible that the two famines were continuous, of varying severity from year to year. Bukhārī mentions only the post-Hijrat famine, which was apparently so severe that men began to eat bones and carrion. Abū Sufyān (about 8 A.H.) approached the holy Prophet to intercede and pray for the removal of the famine, as the Pagans attributed it to the curse of the Prophet. Sūra xxiii., which is also Meccan, but of later date than the present Sūra, also refers to a famine: see xxiii 75. and n. 292f. As Sūras were not all revealed entire, but many came piecemeal, it is possible that particular verses in a given Sūra may be of different dates from the Sūra as a whole.

12. (They will say :)
 "Our Lord! Remove
 The Penalty from us,
 For we do really believe!"
13. How shall the Message
 Be (effectual) for them,<sup>4697</sup>
 Seeing that an Apostle
 Explaining things clearly
 Has (already) come to them,—
14. Yet they turn away
 From him and say : "Tutored
 (By others), a man possessed!"<sup>4698</sup>
15. We shall indeed remove<sup>4699</sup>
 The Penalty for a while,
 (But) truly ye will revert
 (To your ways).
16. One day We shall seize
 You with a mighty onslaught :
 We will indeed (then)
 Exact Retribution!
17. ~~We~~ We did, before them,

4697. The Quraish had before them an Apostle whose purity of life was openly known to them; they themselves called him al-Amīn (worthy of all trust); he preached in their own language in words of burning eloquence and transparent clearness; yet they turned away from him and called him a madman, or one whose Message was not inspired by God, but written by some hidden hand (see next note)! How will the teaching of spiritual Truth make way among such unreasonable people?

4698. Tutored : see xvi. 103, and n. 2143.

Possessed : see xv. 6, and n. 1940.

4699. God gives every chance to all His creatures, however rebellious. He gives them a little trial, perhaps personal, perhaps economic, to see if that would bring them to their bearings, and train their will in the right direction. Some are thus reclaimed, and some do not learn. Perhaps, for the latter, he gives them a chance by removing the trial; some are reclaimed, and some still remain obdurate. And so, in His wisdom, He allows His grace to work, again and again, until, at the last, Judgment must seize the last and irreclaimable remnant "with a mighty onslaught".

Such working of God's Providence is clearly visible in the story of the Quraish. It is a pity that the economic conditions of Mecca have not been studied in detail in any of the standard biographies of the Prophet. The so-called biographies by non-Muslims, e.g., Muir's Life, do not even mention any Meccan famine or its reactions on the Quraish mind!

4700. This reference is to the pride of Pharaoh and his Egyptians, and their fall, rather than to the story of Moses himself; just as in xlv. 30-33 the reference is to the blessings bestowed on Israel, contrasted with their pride, unbelief, and fall; and in xlv. 37, to the ancient Himyar kingdom in Yaman, which similarly fell for its sins.

There came to them
An apostle most honourable,<sup>4701</sup>

وَجَاءَهُمْ رَسُولٌ كَرِيمٌ ۝

18. Saying : " Restore to me <sup>4702</sup>
The servants of God :
I am to you an apostle
Worthy of all trust ; <sup>4703</sup>

١٨- أَنْ أَدُّوا إِلَيَّ عِبَادَ اللَّهِ ط
إِنِّي لَكُمْ رَسُولٌ أَمِينٌ ۝

19. " And be not arrogant
As against God :
For I come to you
With authority manifest.

١٩- وَأَنْ لَا تَعْلُوا عَلَى اللَّهِ ع
إِنِّي آتِيكُمْ بِسُلْطَنِ مُبِينٍ ۝

20. " For me, I have sought <sup>4704</sup>
Safety with my Lord
And your Lord, against
Your injuring me. <sup>4705</sup>

٢٠- وَإِنِّي عُذْتُ بِرَبِّي

21. " If ye believe me not, <sup>4706</sup>
At least keep yourselves
Away from me."

٢١- وَإِنْ لَمْ تُؤْمِنُوا بِي
فَاعْتَزِلُونِ ۝

22. (But they were aggressive :) <sup>4707</sup>
Then he cried

٢٢- فَدَعَا

4701. Most honourable : this epithet is specially applied to Moses here, as expressing the truth, in contrast to the Pharaoh's false characterisation of him as " a contemptible wretch " (xliii. 52).

4702. The argument of Moses and his " authority manifest " will be found at vii. 104-108, 120-126, 130-137. Notice how fully he assumes the authority of his office here. He claims all " servants of God ", i.e., true worshippers, as under his protection, for his mission was both to the Egyptians and the Israelites; he asks that they should be restored to him; and he boldly denounces the Pharaoh's arrogance " as against God ".

4703. " Worthy of all trust " : Amīn, a title applied to prophets in S. xxvi. : e.g., see xxvi. 107. As the holy Prophet had historically earned that title among his own people, the reminiscences of the story of Moses apply to him in his relations with the arrogant Quraish.

4704. It is no use their plotting his death or his vilification; for his safety is in God. As he truly says, " God is not only my Lord, but your Lord also; your responsibility arises apart from my preaching, but I preach in order to remind you of it."

4705. " Injuring me " : literally " stoning me ". " Stoning " may be here symbolical of any injury or vilification.

4706. If you do not believe me, at least go your ways : do not add to your sins by trying to suppress me and the Message of Truth which I bring : keep out of my way.

4707. They would not even leave him alone to do his duty. So he cried to God, not indeed to destroy them, for a Prophet does not judge, but only God judges; he justified himself in prayer, that he had done his best, but they were obdurate in sin, and they were trying to oppress and injure the believers. Then came the order to march. They were to march under the cover of night, because the enemy was sure to pursue. They were to march with all believers, presumably believing Egyptians (such as were not martyred) as well as Israelites, for some Egyptians had believed : vii. 121.

To his Lord:
 "These are indeed
 A people given to sin."

23. (The reply came :)
 "March forth with my servants
 By night : for ye are Sure to be pursued.

24. "And leave the sea
 As a furrow (divided) : <sup>4708</sup>
 For they are a host
 (Destined) to be drowned."

25. How many were the gardens <sup>4709</sup>
 And springs they left behind,

26. And corn-fields
 And noble buildings,

27. And wealth (and conveniences
 Of life), wherein they
 Had taken such delight !

28. Thus (was their end) !
 And We made other people
 Inherit (those things) !

29. And neither heaven <sup>4710</sup>
 Nor earth shed a tear
 Over them : nor were
 They given a respite (again).

4708. For the passage of Moses and his following, the sea had divided : they were to pass through the gap or furrow and leave it alone, to lure on the Egyptian host, on which the sea afterwards closed in, totally destroying them.

4709. There follows a word-picture of all the fine and enjoyable things which the ruling caste had monopolised. Now these proud monopolists were drowned in the sea, and the inheritance went to other hands.

4710. They died, "unwept, unhonoured, and unsung". They were too inordinate to be given another chance. Pharaoh had claimed to be their supreme god, and they had followed him !

C. 217.—So with the Children of Israel :

(xliv. 30-59.) Granted gifts and favours, they became Arrogant and fell. Can the Quraish
Escape the doom for sin ? We created
The world for just ends. The Day
Will come when good and evil will be Sorted out : each will meet
The fruits of its own deeds. Give good heed
To the Message revealed, and wait and watch.

SECTION 2.

30. We did deliver aforetime
The Children of Israel
From humiliating Punishment,<sup>4711</sup>

٣٠- وَلَقَدْ نَجَّيْنَا بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ
مِنَ الْعَذَابِ الْمُهِينِ ۝

31. Inflicted by Pharaoh, for he
Was arrogant (even) among
Inordinate transgressors.

٣١- مِنْ فِرْعَوْنَ ۝
إِنَّهُ كَانَ عَلِيًّا مِنَ الْمُسْرِفِينَ ۝

32. And We chose them aforetime
Above the nations, knowingly,<sup>4713</sup>

٣٢- وَلَقَدْ اخْتَرْنَا لَهُمْ عَلَىٰ عِلْمٍ عَلَىٰ الْعَالَمِينَ ۝

33. And granted them Signs<sup>4713</sup>
In which there was
A manifest trial.

٣٣- وَآتَيْنَاهُمْ مِنَ الْآيَاتِ
مَا فِيهِ بَلَاءٌ مُبِينٌ ۝

34. As to these (Quraish),<sup>4714</sup>
They say forsooth :

٣٤- إِنَّ هَؤُلَاءِ لَيَقُولُونَ ۝

4711. The Israelites were held in bondage prior to the Exodus. Their hard taskmaster placed every indignity on them, and by Pharaoh's decree their male children were to be killed, and their females were to be kept alive for the Egyptians.

4712. From degrading servitude, Israel was delivered, and taken, in spite of many rebellions and backslidings on the way, to "a land flowing with milk and honey", where later they established the glorious kingdom of David and Solomon. This was not merely fortuitous. In God's prescience it was to be a link in furthering the great universal Plan. But their being chosen did not mean that they could do what they liked. In that sense there is no "chosen race" before God. But God gives every race and every individual a chance, and when the race or individual fails to live up to it, he or it must fall and give place to others.

4713. Among the "Signs" given to Israel were their own Revelation under Moses, their prosperous land of Canaan, their flourishing Kingdom under David and Solomon, their prophets and teachers of Truth, and the advent of Jesus to reclaim the lost ones among them. All these were trials. When they failed in the trials, they were left to wander desolate and suffer.

4714. The cases of the Egyptians and the Israelites having been cited as great nations which fell through inordinate vanity and wrong-doing, the case is now pressed home against the Quraish leaders in their arrogance to the holy Prophet himself. They deny Revelation; they deny a future life, as the Sadducees did among the Jews before them; they persecute the man of God, and those who believe in him; and they mockingly demand that their ancestors should be brought back to life, if it is true that there is a future life. They are reminded that better men than they lived in their own country of Arabia, men who had knowledge of God's revelation under the earliest Dispensation. See next note. They perished because of their unbelief and wrong-doing. What chance have they unless they turn and repent?

35. " There is nothing beyond
Our first death,
And we shall not
Be raised again.

٣٥- إِنْ هِيَ إِلَّا مَوْتُنَا الْأُولَى
وَمَا نَحْنُ بِمُنشَرِينَ ○

36. " Then bring (back)
Our forefathers, if what
Ye say is true ! "

٣٦- فَأْتُوا
بِآبَائِنَا إِنْ كُنْتُمْ صَادِقِينَ ○

37. What ! are they better
Than the people of Tubba' <sup>4715</sup>
And those who were
Before them ? We destroyed
Them because they were Guilty of sin. <sup>4716</sup>

٣٧- أَهْمُ خَيْرٌ أَمْ قَوْمُ تُبَعِّعَ
وَالَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ أَهْلَكْنَاهُمْ
إِنَّهُمْ كَانُوا مُجْرِمِينَ ○

38. We created not
The heavens, the earth,
And all between them,
Merely in (idle) sport : <sup>4717</sup>

٣٨- وَمَا خَلَقْنَا السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ
وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا لِعِبَارٍ ○

39. We created them not
Except for just ends :
But most of them
Do not understand.

٣٩- مَا خَلَقْنَاهُمْ إِلَّا بِالْحَقِّ
وَلَكِنَّ أَكْثَرَهُمْ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ ○

40. Verily the Day of <sup>4718</sup>
Sorting Out is the time
Appointed for all of them,—

٤٠- إِنَّ يَوْمَ الْفَصْلِ
مِيقَاتُهُمْ أَجْعَلُينَ ○

4715. Tubba' is understood to be a title or family name of Himyar kings in Yaman, of the tribe of Hamdān. The Himyar were an ancient race. At one time they seem to have extended their hegemony over all Arabia and perhaps beyond, to the East African Coast. Their earliest religion seems to have been Sabianism, or the worship of the heavenly bodies. They seem at different times, later on, to have professed the Jewish and the Christian religion. Among the Embassies sent by the holy Prophet in A.H. 9-10 was one to the Himyar of Yaman, which led to their coming into Islam. This was of course much later than the date of this Sūra.

4716. In prehistoric times the Himyar and Yaman seem to have played a large part in Arabia and even beyond : see last note. But when they were intoxicated with power, they fell into sin, and gradually they ceased to count, not only in Arabia but even in Yaman.

4717. Cf. xxi. 16, and n. 2676. All creation is for a wise and just purpose. But men usually do not realise or understand it, because they are steeped in their own ignorance, folly, or passions.

4718. Day of Sorting Out, or the Day of Decision. Cf. xxxvii. 21, and n. 4047. Ignorance, prejudice, passion, spite, and selfishness, seem sometimes to flourish in this probationary life. In any case they are mixed up with knowledge, justice, commonsense, love and regard for others. But the good and the evil will be sorted out and separated at the Day of Judgment. There is a time appointed for it. In God's good time all will come right.

41. The Day when no protector <sup>4719</sup>
Can avail his client
In aught, and no help
Can they receive,
42. Except such as receive <sup>4720</sup>
God's Mercy : for He is Exalted in Might, Most Merciful.

SECTION 3.

43. Verily the tree <sup>4721</sup>
Of Zaqqūm <sup>4722</sup>
44. Will be the food
Of the Sinful,—
45. Like molten brass ;
It will boil
In their insides,
46. Like the boiling
Of scalding water.
47. (A voice will cry :
" Seize ye him
And drag him
Into the midst
Of the Blazing Fire !
48. " Then pour over his head
The Penalty of Boiling Water

٤١-يَوْمَ لَا يُغْنِي مَوْلَىٰ عَنْ مَوْلَىٰ شَيْئًا
وَلَا هُمْ يُنصَرُونَ ۝

٤٢-إِلَّا مَن رَّحِمَ اللَّهُ ۗ
إِنَّهُ هُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الرَّحِيمُ ۝

٤٣-إِنَّ شَجَرَتَ الرَّقْمِومِ ۝

٤٤-طَعَامُ الْآثِمِينَ ۝

٤٥-كَالْمُهْلِ ۝

يَعْلَىٰ فِي الْبُطُونِ ۝

٤٦-كغلي الحميم ۝

٤٧-خُذُوهُ ۝

فَاغْتَلُوهُ إِلَىٰ سَوَاءِ الْجَحِيمِ ۝

٤٨-ثُمَّ صُبُّوا فَوْقَ رَأْسِهِ مِنْ عَذَابِ الْحَمِيمِ ۝

4719. When that Day comes, the strictest justice will prevail. No man, however prominently he may have walked on the world's stage, can help another. He himself will need help, not the sort of log-rolling help which high and low render to each other in this life, but which in the conditions of reality will be of no avail. The only things which will help will be the Mercy of God.

4720. God's Mercy will be the only thing of any efficacy : for He is both able to help (" Exalted in Might ") and willing to forgive (" Most Merciful ").

4721. Now follows a word-picture of the horrors to which Evil must lead us. What human language and what figures of speech can adequately describe them ?

4722. The opposite of " delicious Fruits " is the terrible tree of Zaqqūm, which is further described in xxxvii. 62-68, where see n. 4073. Also see xvii. 60, n. 2250.

49. "Taste thou (this) !
Truly wast thou
Mighty, full of honour ! 4723

50. "Truly this is what
Ye used to doubt ! " 4724

51. As to the Righteous
(They will be) in
A position of Security, 4725

52. Among Gardens and Springs ;

53. Dressed in fine silk 4726
And in rich brocade,
They will face each other ; 4727

54. So ; and We shall
Join them to Companions 4728
With beautiful, big,
And lustrous eyes. 4729

55. There can they call
For every kind of fruit 4730
In peace and security ;

٤٩-ذُقْ ۞

إِنَّكَ أَنْتَ الْعَزِيزُ الْكَرِيمُ ۞

٥٠-إِنَّ هَذَا مَا كُنْتُمْ بِهِ تَمْتَرُونَ ۞

٥١-إِنَّ الْمُتَّقِينَ فِي مَقَامٍ أَمِينٍ ۞

٥٢-فِي جَنَّاتٍ وَعُيُونٍ ۞

٥٣-يَلْبَسُونَ مِنْ سُندُسٍ وَإِسْتَبْرَقٍ
مُتَقَابِلِينَ ۞

٥٤-كَذَلِكَ تَدْرُؤُونَ وَرُؤُوسُهُمْ
يُحُورُ عَيْنٍ ۞

٥٥-يَدْعُونَ فِيهَا بِكُلِّ فَاكِهَةٍ
أَمِينٍ ۞

4723. In this particular Sūra the besetting sin we are considering is the arrogance born of place or power, wealth or honour, as understood in this world. The punishment of ignominy looks back to the kind of sin which is to be punished.

4724. When the Punishment becomes a realised fact, how foolish will those look who doubted whether there would be a Hereafter ?

4725. There will be no uncertainty, as on this earth ; no danger of discontinuance ; no possibility of their satisfaction being terminated.

4726. Cf. xviii. 31, and n. 2373.

4727. Everything will be open and in social companionship : for all the petty feelings of jealousy or exclusiveness will have passed away.

4728. The Companions, like the scene, the dress, the outlook, and the fruit, will be beautiful. These symbolic words need not be taken to mean that there will be eating and drinking, or dressing, or marriage, or any physical things of that kind. There will be life, but free from all earthly grossness. The women as well as the men of this life will attain to this indescribable bliss : ix. 72 ; and objects of beauty, grace, and satisfaction, described symbolically, must apply to both.

4729. Hūr implies the following ideas : (1) purity ; possibly the word Ḥawwārīyūn, as applied to the first Disciples of Jesus, is connected with this root ; (2) beauty, especially of eyes, where the intense white of the eye-balls stands out against the intense black of the pupil, thus giving the appearance of lustre, and intense feeling, as opposed to dullness or want of expression ; and (3) truth and goodwill.

4730. The metaphorical signification is explained in n. 4671 to xliii. 73.

56. Nor will they there
Taste Death, except the first <sup>4731</sup>
Death ; and He will preserve
Them from the Penalty
Of the Blazing Fire,—<sup>4732</sup>

57. As a Bounty from thy Lord!
That will be
The supreme achievement ! <sup>4733</sup>

58. Verily, We have made
This (Qur-an) easy, <sup>4734</sup>
In thy tongue,
In order that they
May give heed.

59. So wait thou and watch ;
For they (too) are waiting.

٥٦- لَا يَذُوقُونَ فِيهَا الْمَوْتَ إِلَّا الْمَوْتَةَ
الْأُولَىٰ ۖ

وَوَقَّهُمْ عَذَابَ الْجَحِيمِ ۝

٥٧- فَضَلًا مِّن رَّبِّكَ ۖ

ذَٰلِكَ هُوَ الْفَوْزُ الْعَظِيمُ ۝

٥٨- وَإِنَّمَا يَسَّرْنَاهُ بِلِسَانِكَ

لَعَلَّهُمْ يَتَذَكَّرُونَ ۝

٥٩- فَارْتَقِبْ إِنَّهُمْ مُّرْتَقِبُونَ ۖ

ع

4731. First Death : the ordinary natural death from this life, which brought them to the Garden of Felicity : there will be no further death after that. Cf. xxxvii. 59, and n. 4071.

4732. As in the Buddha's doctrine, the higher object of this our life is to obtain salvation from sorrow, pain, and the other incidents which make of it a constant struggle. In Islam we are taught that this is not possible by our unaided efforts. Certainly, striving on our part is an indispensable condition ; but it is the Mercy of God which comes to our help and keeps us from the Fire of final Punishment. This is mentioned last as the foundation on which is built our eternal felicity and our positive spiritual joys.

4733. This is our idea of Salvation : the negative avoidance of all the consequences of evil, and the positive attainment of all—and more than all—that our hearts could possibly desire. For God's Bounty outstrips anything that our eyes have seen, or our ears have heard of, or our imagination can conceive.

4734. Easy : not only to understand, being in the Arabic tongue ; but mellifluous, whose rhythm carries off our spirits to a higher spiritual plane. In another sense, it is difficult ; for to get to its deepest meaning, we shall have to strive hard, as the contents of this Sūra alone will show.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLV (Jāthiya).

This is the sixth Sūra of the Hā-Mim series : for their general theme and chronology, see the Introduction to S. xl.

Summary.—The title, “ Bowing the knee ”, taken from verse 28, expresses the leading idea in the Sūra. In this life, in spite of the Signs of God, and the evidences of His goodness all around, men go about in Unfaith, and mocking at Faith ; but the End will bring them all to their knees.

C. 218.—The Signs of God are everywhere :
 (xlv. 1-37.) His power, wisdom, and goodness are shown
 Through all Creation and in Revelation.
 How can man be so ungrateful
 As to reject true Guidance, reaping thus
 The fruits of Evil? But men of Faith
 Have patience and forgive their weaker
 Brethren, and trust in the final justice
 Of God. Form no sects, as was done
 Aforetime, nor make your lusts your gods :
 The Future is sure, and in the hands
 Of God, to Whom all will bend the knee,
 When Truth will shine in all its glory.
 So praise and glory to God, the Lord
 And Cherisher of all the worlds !

Sūra XLV.

Jathiya, or Bowing the Knee.*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Inā-Mim.<sup>4735</sup>
2. The revelation<sup>4736</sup>
Of the Book
Is from God
The Exalted in Power,
Full of Wisdom.
3. Verily in the heavens<sup>4737</sup>
And the earth, are Signs
For those who believe.
4. And in the creation<sup>4738</sup>
Of yourselves and the fact
That animals are scattered
(Through the earth), are Signs
For those of assured Faith.
5. And in the alternation<sup>4739</sup>
Of Night and Day,
And the fact that God
Sends down Sustenance<sup>4740</sup> from
The sky, and revives therewith
The earth after its death,

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ
ا- حَمِّ

٢- تَنْزِيلُ الْكِتَابِ مِنَ اللَّهِ
الْعَزِيزِ الْحَكِيمِ

٣- إِنَّ فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ لَآيَاتٍ
لِّلْمُؤْمِنِينَ

٤- وَفِي خَلْقِكُمْ وَمَا يَبُتُّ مِنْ دَابَّةٍ
آيَاتٍ لِّقَوْمٍ يُوقِنُونَ

٥- وَاختِلَافِ اللَّيْلِ وَالنَّهَارِ
وَمَا أَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مِنْ رِزْقٍ
فَأَحْيَا بِهِ الْأَرْضَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِهَا

4735. See Introduction to S. xl. paragraphs 2-4

4736. This verse is the same as xl. 2, except that "wisdom" is here substituted in the last line for "knowledge". This is appropriate, as in this Sūra we are dealing with the folly of those who reject God and His Signs, while S. xl. dealt with the individual soul's witness to Faith and Virtue.

4737. Verses 3-5 deal with some of the points in the noble argument in ii. 164, but again there are differences on account of the different context. Note that here the argument is divided into three parts, one in each verse. (1) In verse 3 we are dealing with big Signs external to ourselves, some of which are far beyond our personal experiences: for them we require Faith: they are Signs "for those who believe." For the other two see the next two notes.

4738. (2) These Signs are in our own nature and in the animals we meet with every day: here we have certainty within human limits: these are "for those of assured Faith.

4739. (3) These are our daily experiences from external things, but they affect us and our lives intimately: here are questions of deductions "for those that are wise."

4740 "Sustenance" is almost equivalent here to "rain". And "rain" itself, and its revival of a dead earth, refer symbolically to Revelation and its putting new life into a dead soul. Similarly the alternation of Night and Day, and the change of the winds, besides being Signs as wonderful phenomena of Nature, refer to spiritual ignorance and knowledge, rest and activity, and the constant beneficent changes that are going on in the world, making for the spread of the blessing of God's Revelation.

وَتَصْرِيفِ الرِّمِيهِ آيَاتٍ
لِّقَوْمٍ يَّعْقِلُونَ ۝

6. Such are the Signs<sup>4741</sup>
Of God, which We rehearse to thee
In truth : then in what
Exposition will they believe
After (rejecting) God
And His Signs ?

٤- تِلْكَ آيَاتُ اللَّهِ نَتْلُوهَا عَلَيْكَ بِالْحَقِّ
فِي أَيِّ حَدِيثٍ بَعَدَ اللَّهُ
وَآيَاتِهِ يُؤْمِنُونَ ۝

7. Woe to each sinful
Dealer in Falsehoods :<sup>4742</sup>

٤- وَيْلٌ لِّكُلِّ أَقَاكٍ أَثِيمٍ ۝

8. He hears the Signs
Of God rehearsed to him,
Yet is obstinate and lofty,
As if he had not
Heard them : then announce
To him a Penalty Grievous !

٨- يَسْمَعُ آيَاتِ اللَّهِ تُنَلَىٰ عَلَيْهِ
ثُمَّ يُصِرُّ مُسْتَكْبِرًا كَأَن لَّمْ يَسْمَعْهَا
فَبَشِّرْهُ بِعَذَابٍ أَلِيمٍ ۝

9. And when he learns
Something of Our Signs,
He takes them in jest :
For such there will be
A humiliating Penalty.<sup>4743</sup>

٩- وَإِذَا عَلِمَ مِنْ آيَاتِنَا شَيْئًا
اتَّخَذَهَا هُزُوًا
أُولَٰئِكَ لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ مُّهِينٌ ۝

10. In front of them is Hell : and of no profit
To them is anything
They may have earned,
Nor any protectors they
May have taken to themselves
Besides God : for them
Is a tremendous Penalty.<sup>4744</sup>

١٠- مِنْ وَرَائِهِمْ جَهَنَّمُ
وَلَا يُغْنِي عَنْهُمْ مَا كَسَبُوا شَيْئًا
وَلَا مَا اتَّخَذُوا مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ أَوْلِيَاءَ
وَلَهُمْ عَذَابٌ عَظِيمٌ ۝

4741. If there are any to whom the Signs from Nature, from within their own heart and conscience, and from the voice of Revelation, are not enough to convince them, what possible kind of exposition will they accept ?

4742. A soul so dead, as described in the last note, is indeed wretched. It will resort to falsehoods, in worship, in conduct, and in its attitude towards God. It will be obstinate, and pretend to be 'above such things'. It will hear the most beautiful Message but not profit by it. The loss or punishment is its own, and grievous it is !

4743. Note that in each of the verses 8-11 the Penalty is characterised by a certain description, which accords with the crime. (1) In verse 8, the man is arrogant about the Signs of God's love and care all around him, and his Penalty is "grievous". (2) In verse 9, he ridicules God's Signs, and his Penalty is "humiliating" : he makes himself a ridiculous fool. (3) and (4) are described in the two following notes.

4744. (3) In verse 10 the sinner has piled up the good things of this life, and thinks he has got plenty of helpers and protectors, but all these things are of no use. On the contrary, his Penalty will be "tremendous", to correspond with the great pains which he has taken to multiply the gods of his worship.

11. This is (true) Guidance :
And for those who reject
The Signs of their Lord,
Is a grievous Penalty
Of abomination.<sup>4745</sup>

۱۱- هَذَا هُدًى
وَالَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا بِآيَاتِ رَبِّهِمْ
لَهُمْ عَذَابٌ مِّن رَّجْزِ أَلِيمٍ ۝

SECTION 2.

12. It is God Who has
Subjected the sea to you,<sup>4746</sup>
That ships may sail
Through it by His command,
That ye may seek
Of His Bounty, and that
Ye may be grateful.

۱۲- اللَّهُ الَّذِي سَخَّرَ لَكُمُ الْبَحْرَ
لِتَجْرِيَ الْفُلُكُ فِيهِ بِأَمْرِهِ
وَلِتَبْتَغُوا مِنْ فَضْلِهِ
وَلَعَلَّكُمْ تَشْكُرُونَ ۝

13. And He has subjected
To you, as from Him,
All that is in the heavens<sup>4747</sup>
And on earth : behold,
In that are Signs indeed
For those who reflect.

۱۳- وَسَخَّرَ لَكُم
مَا فِي السَّمَوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ جَمِيعًا مِّنْهُ
إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِّقَوْمٍ يَتَفَكَّرُونَ ۝

14. Tell those who believe,
To forgive those who
Do not look forward
To the Days of God :<sup>4748</sup>

۱۴- قُلْ لِلَّذِينَ آمَنُوا يَغْفِرُوا لِلَّذِينَ
لَا يَرْجُونَ أَيَّامَ اللَّهِ

4745. (4) In verse 11, he has flouted and rejected the specific guidance that came to him from the Word of God, or from the admonition of a man of God. His Penalty is a penalty of abomination : he earns unspeakable horror and abomination from all the Righteous, and is an unclean object in the Kingdom of Heaven.

4746. Cf. xvi. 14 and notes thereon, especially n. 2037. The one encircling ocean of our globe is one of the most significant facts in our physical geography. Its salt water is an agent of global sanitation. The salubrious effects of sea-air, with its ozone, are well known to everyone who has recouped his health by its means. Thanks to ships, the sea unites rather than divides : communications are, and have always been, more active between sea-coast towns than further inland. They thus further human intercourse, and help us to seek the "Bounty of God", not only in a commercial but in an intellectual and spiritual sense. All this is through "God's command" i.e. by His beneficent ordering of the universe, and we should be grateful.

4747. Cf. xxxi. 20, and n. 3605. The sea was only one example of God's cherishing care in making all things in nature available for the use of man, through the genius and faculties which He has given to man. Man should never forget that it is all "as from Him", i.e. from God. For is not man God's vicegerent on earth (ii. 30)?

4748. Cf. vii. 54, n. 1031. The "Days of God" I interpret to mean not periods of twenty-four hours, but the stages through which God's Purpose works in us, in bringing home to us a sense of sin and a sense of God's Mercy. We must be patient with those who have not yet acquired that sense. "Days of God" may also mean the Days of the Kingdom of God, when evil will be destroyed and God's authority will reign unquestioned.

In the end will ye
(All) be brought back
To your Lord.

Favoured them above the nations.

17. And We granted them
Clear Signs in affairs

١٤- وَأَاتَيْنَاهُمْ بَيِّنَاتٍ مِّنَ الْأَمْرِ

4749. It is not for private persons to take vengeance even for the cause of right and justice. God will give due recompense for good or evil according to His own full Knowledge and righteous Plan, and in His own good time. Nor is it permissible even to a group of persons to arrogate to themselves the championship of the right. There are always apt to be private motives of hatred or enmity or mixed motives of that kind. These are, and must necessarily be absent in the case of a Jihād under a righteous Imām ; for, by the very definition of the term, a righteous Imām is swayed by no feelings of a private nature and is guided by nothing but divine Light. It is private vengeance that is forbidden, not help, or striving, wherever possible, against evil.

4750. " People " here may be taken to be a group of common characteristics, e.g. the righteous in contrast with the unrighteous, the oppressed in contrast with the oppressors, and so on.

4751. Ordinarily good and evil come to their own even in this world ; but in any case there is the final Judgment before God.

4752. The argument here is similar to that in xlv. 32-33. but it is more particularised here. Israel had the Revelation given through Moses, the power of judgment and command through the Kingdom of David and Solomon, and numerous prophetic warnings through such men as Isaiah and Jeremiah.

4753. " Sustenance ", here as elsewhere, is to be understood both in a physical and metaphorical sense. The Mosaic Law laid down rules of diet, excluding things unclean, and it laid down rules for a pure and honourable life. In this way Israel became the standard-bearer of God's law, thus " favoured above the nations ".

- (Of Religion): it was only <sup>4751</sup>
 After knowledge had been Granted to them that they Fell into schisms, through
 Insolent envy <sup>4752</sup> among themselves.
 Verily thy Lord will judge

 Matters in which they
 Set up differences.
18. Then we put thee

 Of the Righteous.
20. These are clear evidences <sup>4758</sup>
 To men, and a Guidance
 And Mercy to those
 Of assured Faith.

٢٠- هَذَا بَصَائِرُ لِلنَّاسِ وَهُدًى
 وَرَحْمَةٌ لِقَوْمٍ يُوقِنُونَ ○

4754. Cf. x. 93. The Jews were the more to blame, that they fell from Grace after all the divine favours which they had enjoyed. Their schisms and differences arose from mutual envy, which was rebellious insolence against God. As the next verse shows, some of them (not all) rejected the mission of the holy Prophet, also through envy that a Prophet had come among the Arabians.

4755. Cf. ii. 90, and that whole passage, with its notes.

4756 Shar'at is best translated the "right Way of Religion", which is wider than the mere formal rites and legal provisions, which mostly came in the Medina period, long after this Meccan verse had been revealed.

4757. That is, in thy service of God. Ignorant and contentious men are of no use or service to any Cause. The more you seek their help, the more do their ignorance and their contentiousness increase their own importance in their own eyes. Evil protects (or thinks it protects) evil: it has really no power of protection at all, for itself or for others. The righteous seek the protection of God, Who can and will protect them.

4758. The evidences of God's Signs should be clear to all men: to men of Faith, who accept God's Grace, they are a Guide and a Mercy.

21. What ! do those who Seek after evil ways
 Think that We shall

 Those who believe and
 Do righteous deeds,—that
 Equal will be their
 Life and their death ?
 Ill is the judgment
 That they make.

SECTION 3.

22. God created the heavens <sup>4760</sup>
 And the earth for
 Just ends, and in order
 That each soul may find
 The recompense of what
 It has earned, and none
 Of them be wronged.
23. Then seest thou such <sup>4761</sup>
 A one as takes
 As his god his own
 Vain desire ? God has,
 Knowing (him as such),
 Left him astray, and sealed <sup>4762</sup>
 His hearing and his heart
 (And understanding), and put

٢١- أَمْ حَسِبَ الَّذِينَ اجْتَرَحُوا السَّيِّئَاتِ
 أَنْ نَجْعَلَهُمْ
 كَالَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ سَوَاءً
 تَحْيَاهُمْ وَمَمَاتُهُمْ
 سَاءَ مَا يَحْكُمُونَ ۝

٢٢- وَخَلَقَ اللَّهُ السَّمَوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ بِالْحَقِّ
 وَلِتُجْزَىٰ كُلُّ نَفْسٍ
 بِمَا كَسَبَتْ وَهُمْ لَا يُظْلَمُونَ ۝

٢٣- أَفَرَأَيْتَ مَنِ اتَّخَذَ إِلَهَهُ هَوَاهُ
 وَأَضَلَّهُ اللَّهُ
 عَلَىٰ عِلْمٍ وَخَتَمَ عَلَىٰ سَمْعِهِ وَقَلْبِهِ

4759. Three meanings can be deduced. (1) The evil ones are not in God's sight like the righteous ones ; neither in life nor in death are they equal ; in life the righteous are guided by God and receive His Grace, and after death His Mercy, while the others reject His Grace, and after death receive condemnation. (2) Neither are the two the same in this life and in the after-life : if the wicked flourish here, they will be condemned in the Hereafter ; if the good are in suffering or sorrow here, they will receive comfort and consolation in the Hereafter. (3) The real life of the righteous—for they have received spiritual life—is not like the nominal life of the wicked, which is really death ; not is the physical death of the righteous, which will bring them into eternal life, like the terrible death of the wicked, which will bring them to eternal misery.

4761. If a man follows, not the laws of God, which are also the laws of his own pure nature as made by God, but the desires of his own distorted self, as shaped by the rebellion of his will, the inevitable consequence will be the withdrawal of God's grace and guidance. All his faculties will then be debased, and there will be nothing to guide him, unless he turns in repentance again to God.

4762. Cf. ii. 7 and notes.

A cover on his sight.
Who, then, will guide him
After God (has withdrawn Guidance)? Will ye not
Then receive admonition?

24. And they say: "What is
There but our life
In this world?
We shall die and we live,<sup>4763</sup>
And nothing but Time
Can destroy us." But
Of that they have no
Knowledge: they merely conjecture:

25. And when Our Clear
Signs are rehearsed to them,
Their argument is nothing
But this: they say, "Bring<sup>4764</sup>
(Back) our forefathers, if
What ye say is true!"

26. Say: "It is God Who Gives you life, then
Gives you death; then
He will gather you together
For the Day of Judgment
About which there is
No doubt": but most
Men do not understand.

SECTION 4.

27. No God belongs

And the earth, and
The Day that the Hour

۲۶- قُلِ اللّٰهُ يُحْيِيكُمْ

وَلَكِنَّ أَكْثَرَ النَّاسِ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ ۝

۲۷- وَ لِلّٰهِ مُلْكُ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَ الْاَرْضِ
وَ يَوْمَ تَقُومُ السَّاعَةُ

4763. Cf. xxiii. 37, and n. 2896. The additional touch here, "And nothing but Time can destroy us", suggests the materialist philosophy that Matter and Time are eternal backwards and forwards; and possibly also that though each individual perishes, the race lasts till Time destroys it. This is not knowledge but conjecture. Why not accept light from Him Who knows all?

4764. Cf. xlv. 36. It is no argument to say, "If there is a future life, bring back our forefathers and let us see them here and now!" It is not for a man to raise the dead when and where he pleases. It is for God to command. And His promise is about the general Resurrection for the Day of Judgment. In His hands are the keys of life and death.

Of Judgment is established, —
That Day will the dealers <sup>4765</sup>
In Falsehood perish !

يَوْمَئِذٍ يَخْسِرُ الْبُاطِلُونَ ○

28. And thou wilt see
Every sect bowing the knee : <sup>4766</sup>
Every sect will be called
To its Record : " This Day

30. When, as to those who Believed and did righteous
Deeds, their Lord will Admit them to His Mercy :
That will be the Achievement <sup>4768</sup>

٣٠- فَأَمَّا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ

31. But as to those who Rejected God, (to them
Will be said) : " Were not
Our Signs rehearsed to you ?
But ye were arrogant,
And were a people
Given to sin !

٣١- وَأَمَّا الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
أَفَلَمْ تَكُنْ آيَاتِي تُنزلُ عَلَيْكُمْ
فَأَسْتَكْبِرْتُمْ
وَكُنتُمْ قَوْمًا مُّجْرِمِينَ ○

4765. These vain wranglers about the future life and deniers of the Truth may have a run in this fleeting world ; but the moment the world of Reality is established, they will see what they now deny. The facts will destroy their fancies, and they themselves will find themselves humiliated and lost, for having deliberately ignored God's Signs and acted in opposition to His holy Will.

4766. Bowing the knee : the key-phrase of the Sūra, and its title. Cf. xix. 72. Whatever the arrogance of the wicked may be in this life, whatever exclusive sects and divisions they may form, in this life, the time will come when they will humbly submit and bow the knee to the Truth. Before the Judgment-seat, when their Record is produced, they must necessarily be dumb.

4767. Cf. xliii. 80. Nothing misses the Recording Angel, and whatever is said in the Record is true.

4768. The attainment and satisfaction of all hopes and desires ; the reaching of the final goal of Bliss. Cf. xliv. 57, and n. 4733.

32. " And when it was said
That the promise of God
Was true, and that the Hour—
There was no doubt
About its (coming), ye
Used to say, ' We Know not what is <sup>4769</sup>
The Hour: we only think
It is an idea, and we
Have no firm assurance.' "

٣٢- وَإِذَا قِيلَ إِنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ حَقٌّ

إِنْ نُظِنُ إِلَّا ظَنًّا
وَمَا مَحْنُ بِمُسْتَيْقِينِ ○

33. Then will appear to them
The evil (fruits) of what
They did, and they will be <sup>4770</sup>
Completely encircled by that
Which they used to mock at!

٣٣- وَبَدَأَ لَهُمْ سَيِّئَاتِ مَا
عَمِلُوا وَحَاقَ بِهِمْ
مَا كَانُوا بِهِ يَسْتَهْزِءُونَ ○

34. It will also be said:
" This Day We will forget <sup>4771</sup>
You as ye forgot
The meeting of this Day
Of yours! And your
Abode is the Fire, and
No helpers have ye!

٣٤- وَقِيلَ الْيَوْمَ نَنْسِكُمْ
كَمَا نَسَيْتُمْ لِقَاءَ يَوْمِكُمْ هَذَا

وَمَا لَكُمْ مِنْ نَاصِرِينَ ○

35. " This, because ye used
To take the Signs of God
In jest, and the life
Of the world deceived you: " <sup>4772</sup>
(From) that Day, therefore,
They shall not be taken out
Thence, nor shall they be Received into Grace.

٣٥- ذَلِكَمُ بِأَنَّكُمْ اتَّخَذْتُمْ آيَاتِ اللَّهِ

فَالْيَوْمَ لَا يُخْرَجُونَ مِنْهَا
وَلَا هُمْ يُسْتَعْتَبُونَ ○

4769. There is arrogance as well as untruth in this pretence. The coming of Judgment has been proclaimed times out of number by every man of God. They cannot dismiss it as a mere idea or superstition. Their object is merely an ostentatious and lofty rejection of Faith.

4770. Cf. xi 8. Their mockery will be turned against themselves, for they will be hemmed in by the very Realities which they had ignored or doubted or laughed at.

4771. Cf. vii. 51 and n. 1029. "Forget" is of course metaphorical for "deliberately to ignore"

4772. It is implied that 'you deliberately allowed yourselves to be deceived by the vanities of this world', or 'that you put yourselves into a position where you were deceived, for you were expressly warned against Evil'.

36. When Praise be to God,<sup>4773</sup>
 Lord of the heavens
 And Lord of the earth,—
 Lord and Cherisher
 Of all the worlds!

37. To Him be Glory
 Throughout the heavens
 And the earth: and He
 25 Is Exalted in Power,
 30 Full of Wisdom!

٣٦- فَلِلّٰهِ الْحَمْدُ رَبِّ السَّمٰوٰتِ

 وَهُوَ الْعَزِيْزُ الْحَكِيْمُ ۝

4773. The argument having been completed about the fruits of this life being reaped in the Ma'ād, or the Hereafter, when perfect balance will be restored and perfect Justice will reign supreme, the Sūra closes with praise and glory to God, Who is not only Omnipotent but is full of Wisdom, and cherishes and cares for all His creation. We began with the remembrance of His Revelation and Mercy, and we close with the celebration of His goodness, power, and wisdom. Note how the argument is rounded off by the reminiscence of the last clause of the second verse of this Sūra.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLVI (Aḥqāf).

This is the seventh and last Sūra of the Hā-Mīm series. For the general theme and chronological place of these Sūras see the Introduction to S. xl.

The Aḥqāf (mentioned in verse 21) are the long and winding crooked tracts of sand-hills, characteristic of the country of the 'Ād people, adjoining Hadhramaut and Yaman : see vii. 65, n. 1040. These people had, at that time, probably a fertile irrigated country, but their sins brought on the calamity mentioned in xlv. 24-25. The lesson of this Sūra is that if the Truth is challenged, the challenge will be duly answered, and Truth vindicated.

Summary.—All Creation has a Purpose behind it : Truth and Revelation will be vindicated, and those who question it will be undone by the very means by which they set such store : the righteous should wait in patience and constancy (xlv. 1-35, and C. 219).

C. 219.—Creation is for just ends, and Falsehood
(xlv. 1-35.) Is but straying from the Path :

Say what people may

Truth carries its own vindication :

Follow it firmly. Let age think of youth,

And youth not turn rebellious. There are fine

Gradations in the kingdom of God : then strive

For the best. Let not pride and arrogance

Undo you : the humble are often the best

Recipients of Truth. All will come right

In good time : so persevere with patient firmness

Of purpose. Justice that seems to tarry

Comes really on swiftest foot but sure.

4774. See Introduction to S. xl., paragraphs 2-4.

4775. This verse is the same as the second verse of the last Sūra, but the theme is worked out differently in the two Sūras. In S. xlv. was shown how deniers of Revelation will at last be humbled until they can no longer deny its truth and power. In this Sūra is shown how Truth and Revelation will be vindicated by patience and constancy (xlv. 35).

4776. Cf. xlv. 22. Many things may appear to us in the present world as strange and inexplicable. But everything made by God has a just purpose which must be fulfilled. Nothing in this world is permanent: everything is for an appointed term. The Word of God alone abides. All else will pass away after it has fulfilled its purpose. But Unbelievers refuse to face the danger of which they are warned.

4777. Some people may rush thoughtlessly into false worship, because it is the fashion or an ancestral custom, etc. They are asked to pause and see for themselves. Have the false gods or falsehood created anything? (They destroy much.) Or have they any share or lot in the things we associate with the heavens,—spiritual well-being, etc.?

4778. 'Or is there any warrant for you from any earlier revelation, assuming that you do not believe in this Revelation? Or can you point to the least scrap or remnant of real knowledge on which you can base what we condemn as your false life? No, you cannot.

4779. As there is no argument at all in favour of your sham worship, what sense is there in it? Either your false gods are senseless stocks and stones which will never answer you to the end of Time, being themselves devoid of understanding, or they are real objects which will disown you at the last. If you worshipped Self, your own misused faculties will witness against you at the last (xli. 20-23). If you worshipped good men or prophets, like Jesus, they will disown you (v. 119). Similarly, if you worshipped angels, they will disown you (xxxiv. 40-41).

4780. When the truth is actually brought to their doors, they call it sorcery! Cf. xxxvii. 12-15, and n. 4042.

4781. 'If I forged a message from myself as one purporting to come from God, you would not be able to see me enjoy any of the blessings from God which I enjoy: you would not see me calm and relying on God, nor would you see me bear the reputation of being a trustworthy man. A liar comes to an evil end. But what about those who talk so glibly and freely about things which they know not? God knows all, and He is my witness! But even against your false accusations, I pray for His forgiveness and mercy to you, for He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful!'

For a witness between me

11. The Unbelievers say
Of those who believe :

إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَهْدِي الْقَوْمَ الظَّالِمِينَ ۝

۱۱- وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا لِلَّذِينَ آمَنُوا

4782. 'What is there to forge? All prophets have taught the Unity of God and our duty to mankind. I bring no new-fangled doctrine, but eternal truths that have been known to good men through the ages. It is to reclaim you that I have come. I do not know what will be your fate for all this callousness, nor what you will do to me. But this I know, that I am preaching truth and righteousness as inspired by God. My duty is only to proclaim aloud and clearly the Message entrusted to me by God. The rest I leave to God.'

4783. Another side of the argument is now presented. 'You pagan Arabs! You are puffed up with pride, though you are an ignorant nation. Among Israel there are men who understand the previous scriptures, and who find in the Qur-ān and its Preacher a true confirmation of the previous scriptures. They accept Islam as a fulfilment of the revelation of Moses himself! (See Deut. xviii. 18-19). And yet you hold back, though the Qur-ān has come in your own language, in order to help you to understand. How unjust and how shameful! In that case, with what face can you seek guidance from God?'

4784. There were learned Jews (and Christians) who saw in the holy Prophet the Messenger of God foreshadowed in previous Revelations, and accepted Islam. As this is a Meccan Sūra we need not construe this as a reference to 'Abdullāh ibn Salām, whose conversion was in Medina only two years before the Prophet's death, unless we accept this particular verse to be so late in date. The sincere Jews were in a position to understand how this Revelation fitted in with all they had learnt about Revelation.

“ If (this Message) were <sup>4785</sup>
 A good thing, (such men)
 Would not have gone
 To it first, before us !”
 And seeing that they
 Guide not themselves thereby,
 They will say, “ This is
 An (old,) old falsehood !”

لَوْ كَانَ خَيْرًا
 مَا سَبَقُونَا إِلَيْهِ

12. And before this, was <sup>4786</sup>

 And this Book confirms (it)

 “ Our Lord is God,”
 And remain firm
 (On that Path),—
 On them shall be no fear, <sup>4788</sup>
 Nor shall they grieve.

۱۳- إِنْ الَّذِينَ قَالُوا رَبُّنَا اللَّهُ

14. Such shall be Companions

۱۴- أُولَئِكَ أَصْحَابُ الْجَنَّةِ خَالِدِينَ فِيهَا
 جَزَاءً بِمَا كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ ۝

4785. A great many of the early Muslims were in humble positions, and were despised by the Quraish leaders. ‘If such men could see any good in Islam,’ they said, ‘there could be no good in it: if there had been any good in it, we should have been the first to see it!’ The spiritually blind have such a good conceit of themselves! As they reject it, and as the Revelation is proved to have historic foundations, they can only call it “an old, old falsehood”!

4786. The last revealed Book which was a Code of Life (Shari'at) was the Book of Moses: for that of Jesus was not such a Code, but merely moral precepts to sweep away the corruptions that had crept in. The Qur-ān has the same attitude to it as the teaching of Jesus had to the Law. Jesus said (Matt. v. 17): “Think not that I am come to destroy the Law or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.” But the corruptions took new forms in Christian Churches: an entirely new Shari'at became necessary, and this was provided in Islam.

4787. To say, “Our Lord is God” is to acknowledge that we owe no service to any creature, and shall render none: God shall have our exclusive devotion. “To remain firm on that Path” is shown by our conduct: we prove that we love God and all His creatures, and will unflinchingly do our duty in all circumstances.

4788. Cf. ii. 38. The phrase occurs in numerous other places, with a new application on each occasion. Here, if our claim is true that ‘our Lord is God’, what fear can possibly come on us, or what calamity can there be to cause us grief? For our Lord is our Cherisher, Defender, and Helper, our Hope and our Comfort, which can never fail.

15. We have enjoined on man <sup>4789</sup>

 At length, when he reaches
 The age of full strength <sup>4791</sup>
 And attains forty years,
 He says, "O my Lord!
 Grant me that I may be Grateful for Thy favour
 Which Thou hast bestowed
 Upon me, and upon both
 My parents, and that I
 May work righteousness
 Such as Thou mayest approve ;
 And be gracious to me
 In my issue. Truly
 Have I turned to Thee
 And truly do I bow

١٥- وَوَضَيْنَا لِلنَّاسِ بِالذِّمِّهِ إِحْسَانًا

١٦- أُولَٰئِكَ الَّذِينَ نَتَقَبَّلُ عَنْهُمْ أَحْسَنَ

4789. Cf. xxix. 8 and xxxi. 14.

4790. In xxxi. 14 the time of weaning was stated to be at the age of two years, i.e., 24 months. See also ii. 233. That leaves six months as the minimum period of human gestation after which the child is known to be viable. This is in accordance with the latest ascertained scientific facts. The average period is 280 days, or ten times the inter-menstrual period, and of course the average period of weaning is much less than 24 months.

The maximum period of breast-feeding (2 years) is again in accordance with the time that the first dentition is ordinarily completed in a human child. The lower milk incisors in the centre come out between the 6th and 9th month; then come out the milk teeth at intervals, until the canines appear. The second molars come out at about 24 months, and with them the child has a complete apparatus of milk teeth. Nature now expects him to chew and masticate and be independent of his mother's milk completely. On the other hand it hurts the mother to feed from the breast after the child has a complete set of milk teeth. The permanent teeth begin at the sixth year, and the second molars come at 12 years. The third molars are the wisdom teeth, which may appear at 18 to 20 years, or not at all.

4791. The age of full strength (ashudd) is held to be between 18 and 30 or 32. Between 30 and 40 the man is in his best manhood. After that he begins to look to his growing issue, and rightly commends the new generation to God. Perhaps his spiritual faculties also gain the upper hand after 40.

4793. A godly man often has an ungodly son, who flouts all that the father held sacred, and looks upon his father himself as old-fashioned and unworthy of respect or regard. The contrast in an individual family may be matched by the contrast in the passing and the rising generations of mankind. All this happens as a passing phase in the normal evolution of mankind, and there is nothing in this to be despondent about. What we have to do is for the maturer generations to bring up their successors in godly ways, and for the younger generations to realise that age and experience count for something, especially in the understanding of spiritual matters and other matters of the highest moment to man.

4794. Cf. xli. 25 and n. 4494. Each individual, each generation, and each people is responsible for its own good deeds or misdeeds. The law of actions and their fruits applies: you cannot blame one for another. The only remedy lies in seeking for God's Grace and Mercy, not only for ourselves but for others in brotherly or fatherly love.

This verse is in balanced contrast to verse 16 above.

4795. There is fine grading in the spiritual Kingdom. Every deed, good or bad, is judged and weighed to the minutest degree, with its motives, intentions, results, and relevant circumstances. It is not a mere rough classification. The fruits of evil will be exactly according to the degree of evil. But, as stated in other passages (e.g., xxviii, 84), the reward of good deeds will be far beyond their merits, on account of the Mercy and unbounded Bounty of God.

According to the deeds
Which they (have done),
And in order that (God)
May recompense their deeds,
And no injustice be done

4796. "Received your good things" implies (in Arabic) grabbing at them, being greedy of them, seeking them as fleeting pleasures rather than the more serious things of life, sacrificing the spiritual for the material.

4797. They will be told : 'You took your choice, and you must pay the price. You did wrong in a rebellious spirit, and prided yourselves on your wrong-doing, not occasionally, but of set purpose and constantly. Now will you be humbled in the dust, as a fitting punishment.'

4798. Cf. vii. 65, and note 1040. The point is that the Warner who was raised among the 'Ād people—as among other peoples—was not a stranger, but one of their own brethren, even as the holy Prophet began his preaching with a call to his own brethren the Quraysh.

4799. Winding Sand-tracts : Aḥqāf : see Introduction to this Sūra. The very things, which, under irrigation and with God's Grace, gave them prosperity and power, were to be their undoing when they broke God's Law and defied His Grace. See verses 24-26 below.

4800. They were too much wedded to their evil ways—to the false gods that they worshipped—to appreciate the sincere advice of the man of God. They defied him and defied God Who had sent him. Mockingly they challenged him to bring on the threatened punishment! For they did not believe a word of what he said.

From our gods? Then bring
Upon us the (calamity)
With which thou dost
Threaten us, if thou

4801. The coming of the Punishment for evil was (and is always) certain. At what particular time it would come he could not tell. It is not for the prophet, but for God, to bring on the Penalty. But he saw that it was useless to appeal to them on account of the ignorance in which they were content to dwell.

4802. The Punishment came suddenly, and when they least expected it. They wanted rain, and they saw a cloud and rejoiced. Behold, it was coming towards their own tracts, winding through the hills. Their irrigation channels would be full, their fields would be green, and their season would be fruitful. But no! What is this? It is a tremendous hurricane, carrying destruction on its wings! A violent blast, with dust and sand! Its fury destroys everything in its wake! Lives lost! Fields covered with sand-hills! The morning dawns on a scene of desolation! Where were the men who boasted and defied their Lord! There are only the ruins of their houses to witness to the past!

4803. Here is the figure of speech known in rhetoric as aposiopesis, to heighten the effect of the suddenness and completeness of the calamity. In the Arabic text, the verb aṣṣbaḥū, in the third person plural, leads us to expect that we shall be told what they were doing in the morning. But no! They had been wiped out, and any small remnant had fled (see n. 1040 to vii. 65). Nothing was to be seen but the ruins of their houses.

4804. The 'Ad and their successors the Thamūd were more richly endowed with the faculties of the arts, sciences, and culture than ever were the Quraish before Islam. "Hearing and seeing" refer to the experimental faculties; the word "heart" in Arabic includes intellect, or the rational faculties, as well as the instruments of feeling and emotion, the æsthetic faculties. The Second 'Ad, or the Thamūd, have left interesting traces of their architecture in the country round the Hijr: see n, 1043 to vii. 73, and notes 2002-2003 to xv. 80-82.

4805. The highest talents and faculties of this world are useless in the spiritual world if we reject the laws of the spiritual world and thus become outlaws there.

4806. See n. 4770 to xiv. 33. They used to mock at God's Signs, but those were the very things which hemmed them in, and showed that they had more power and effectiveness than anything else.

4807. In Arabian history and tradition alone, to say nothing of God's Signs elsewhere, sin inevitably suffered its Punishment, and in various ways. Would not the later people take warning?

4808. The false things that they worshipped were figments of their imagination. If they had had any existence in fact, it was not of the kind they imagined.

29. Behold, We turned Towards thee a company <sup>4809</sup>
Of Jinns (quietly) listening
To the Qur-ān : when they Stood in the presence
Thereof, they said, "Listen
In silence!" When the (reading)
Was finished, they returned
To their people, to warn
(Them of their sins).

30. They said, "O our people!
We have heard a Book
Revealed after Moses,
Confirming what came
Before it: it guides (men)
To the Truth and
To a Straight Path.

31. "O our people, hearken
To the one who invites <sup>4810</sup>
(You) to God, and believe
In him: He will forgive
You your faults,
And deliver you from
A Penalty Grievous.

32. "If any does not hearken
To the one who invites (Us) to God, he cannot <sup>4811</sup>
Frustrate (God's Plan) on earth,
And no protectors can he have
Besides God: such men
(Wander) in manifest error."

٢٩- وَإِذْ صَرَفْنَا إِلَيْكَ نَفَرًا
مِّنَ الْجِنِّ يَسْتَمِعُونَ الْقُرْآنَ
فَلَمَّا حَضَرُوهُ قَالُوا أَنصِتُوا
فَلَمَّا قُضِيَ
دُلُّوا إِلَىٰ قَوْمِهِمْ مُنذِرِينَ ○

٣٠- قَالُوا يَقَوْمُنَا إِنَّا سَمِعْنَا كِتَابًا
أُنزِلَ مِن بَعْدِ مُوسَىٰ
مُصَدِّقًا لِّمَا بَيْنَ يَدَيْهِ
يَهْدِي إِلَى الْحَقِّ وَإِلَىٰ طَرِيقٍ مُّسْتَقِيمٍ ○

٣١- يَقَوْمَنَا أَجِيبُوا دَاعِيَ اللَّهِ
وَآمِنُوا بِهِ
يَغْفِرَ لَكُمْ مِّن ذُنُوبِكُمْ
وَيُخْرِجَكُم مِّن عَذَابِ آلِيَوْمٍ ○

٣٢- وَمَنْ لَا يُجِبْ دَاعِيَ اللَّهِ
فَلَيْسَ بِمُعْجِزٍ فِي الْأَرْضِ
وَلَيْسَ لَهُ مِن دُونِهِ أَوْلِيَاءُ
أُولَٰئِكَ فِي ضَلَالٍ مُّبِينٍ ○

4809. A company of Jinns. Nafar (company) may mean a group of from three to ten persons. For Jinns, see n. 929 to vi. 100. I have usually translated "spirits", but here some unfamiliar class of men or beings seems to be meant. They listened to the reading of the Qur-ān with great respect. The next verse shows that they had heard of the Jewish religion, but they were impressed with the Message of Islam, and they seem to have gone back to their people to share the Good News with them.

4810. The one who invites all to God is the holy Prophet. He invites us to God: if we believe in God and His Apostle, God will forgive us our sins on our repentance and amendment of our lives, and save us the Penalty of the future life.

4811. If a person refuses to believe the Truth, or opposes it, it has not the least effect on God's holy Plan, which will go on to its completion; but it will deprive him of Grace and of any protection whatever; he will wander about as an outlaw in manifest helplessness.

33. See they not that
God, Who created the heavens
And the earth, and never
Wearied with their creation,<sup>4813</sup>
Is able to give life
To the dead? Yea, verily
He has power over all things.

34. And on the Day that<sup>4813</sup>
The Unbelievers will be Placed before the Fire,
(They will be asked,
"Is this not the Truth?")
They will say, "Yea,
By our Lord!"
(One will say :)
"Then taste ye"<sup>4814</sup>
The Penalty, for that ye
Were wont to deny (Truth)!"

35. Wherefore patiently persevere,
As did (all) apostles
Of inflexible purpose ;
And be in no haste
About the (Unbelievers). On the Day<sup>4815</sup>
That they see the (Punishment)
Promised them, (it will be)
As if they had not
Tarry'd more than an hour
In a single day. (Thine
But) to proclaim the Message :<sup>4816</sup>
But shall any be destroyed
Except those who transgress ?

٣٣- أَوَلَمْ يَرَوْا أَنَّ اللَّهَ الَّذِي
خَلَقَ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْاَرْضَ
وَلَمْ يَعْبَ بِخَلْقِهِنَّ بِقَدْرِ عَلٰى اَنْ يُحْيِيَ
الْمَوْتٰى ۗ بَلٰى اِنَّهٗ عَلٰى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيْرٌ ۝

٣٤- وَ يَوْمَ يُعْرَضُ الَّذِيْنَ كَفَرُوْا عَلٰى النَّارِ
اَلَيْسَ هٰذَا بِالْحَقِّ ۗ
قَالُوْا بَلٰى وَ رَبِّنَا ۗ
قَالَ فَذُوْقُوا الْعَذَابَ
بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَكْفُرُوْنَ ۝

٣٥- فَاَصْبِرْ كَمَا صَبَرَ
اُولُو الْعَزْمِ مِنَ الرَّسُلِ
وَلَا تَسْتَعْجِلْ لَّهُمْ ۗ
كَانْتُمْ يَوْمَ يَرُوْنَ مَا يُوْعَدُوْنَ
لَمْ يَلْبَسُوْا اِلَّا سَاعَةً مِّنْ نَّمٰرٍ
بَلٰغَةً ۗ

فَهَلْ يُهْلِكُ اِلَّا الْقَوْمَ الْفٰسِقُوْنَ ۝

4812. Cf. ii. 255 (Verse of the Throne) : "His Throne doth extend over the heavens and the earth, and He feeleth no fatigue in guarding and preserving them." He Whose power is constant and unwearied in creating and preserving all things in heaven and earth can surely give life to the dead at the Resurrection.

4813. Cf. xlvii. 20, where the argument was closed about the undutiful son of a good father. After that the example of the 'Ad and of the believing Jinns was cited, and now is closed that argument in similar terms.

4814. The Truth which they denied is now all too clear to them. They are out of the Light of Truth, out of the Light of God's Countenance. And that in itself is a terrible Penalty.

4815. All spiritual work proceeds in its own good time. We should never be impatient either about its success or about the punishment which is bound to come for those who oppose it or wish to suppress it. The inevitable punishment is spoken of as the Punishment promised. It will come so soon and so suddenly that it will appear as if there-was not the delay of a single hour in a single day! Time is a great factor in our affairs in this world, but it hardly counts in the spiritual Kingdom.

4816. The Preacher's duty is to proclaim the Message in unmistakable terms. If any human beings come in the way, it will be to their own destruction ; but none but rebellious transgressor will be punished. There is always hope and forgiveness for repentance and amendment.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLVII (Muḥammad).

We have examined and followed the current arrangement of the Sūras according to subject-matter and independently of chronology, and we have found that a logical thread runs through them. We have now finished more than five-sixths of the Qur-ān. The remaining sixth consists of short Sūras, but these are again grouped according to subject-matter.

We begin the first of such groups with a group of three Sūras (xlvi. to xlix.), which deal with the organisation of the Muslim Ummat or community both for external defence and in internal relations. The present Sūra deals with the necessity of defence against external foes by courage and strenuous fighting, and dates from about the first year of the Hijra, when the Muslims were under threat of extinction by invasion from Mecca.

Summary.—Aggressive hostility to Faith and Truth should be fought firmly, and God will guide (xlvi. 1-19, and C. 220).

Faint-heartedness condemned; those who strive and those who turn away will be sorted out (xlvi. 20-38, and C. 221).

C. 220.—No plots against Truth or Faith will succeed:
 (xlvi. 1-19.) But those who follow both will be strengthened.
 Be firm in the fight, and God will guide.
 Rebellion against God is destruction: fidelity
 Will cool the mind and feed the heart;
 It will warm the affections and sweeten life.
 Hypocrisy carries its own doom.

Sūra XLVII.

Muhammad (the Prophet).

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Those who reject God
And hinder (men) from
The Path of God,—
Their deeds will God
Render astray <sup>4817</sup>
(From their mark).
2. But those who believe
And work deeds of
Righteousness, and believe
In the (Revelation) sent down
To Muhammad -- for it is
The Truth from their Lord,—
He will remove from them
Their ills and improve
Their condition. <sup>4818</sup>
3. This because those who Reject God follow vanities,
While those who believe follow
The Truth from their Lord :
Thus does God set forth <sup>4819</sup>
For men their lessons
By similitudes.
4. Therefore, when ye meet <sup>4820</sup>
The Unbelievers (in fight),

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

١- الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
وَصَدَّوْا عَنْ سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ
أَضَلَّ أَعْمَالَهُمْ ۝

٢- وَالَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
وَآمَنُوا بِمَا نُزِّلَ عَلَى مُحَمَّدٍ
وَهُوَ الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّهِمْ
كَفَّرَ عَنْهُمْ سَيِّئَاتِهِمْ
وَأَصْلَحَ بَالَهُمْ ۝

٣- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا اتَّبَعُوا الْبَاطِلَ
وَأَنَّ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اتَّبَعُوا الْحَقَّ مِنْ رَبِّهِمْ
كَذَلِكَ يَضْرِبُ اللَّهُ لِلنَّاسِ أَمْثَالَهُمْ ۝

٤- فَإِذَا لَقِيتُمُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا

4817. Whatever they do will miss its mark, because God is the source of all energy and life. If the wicked try to persecute men or seduce them from the Truth, the result will be the opposite of what they intend.

4818. Bāl means state or condition, whether external, or of the heart and mind. Both meanings apply here. The more the wicked rage, the better will be the position of the righteous, and God will make it easier and easier for the righteous to love and follow the Truth.

4819. We learn the greatest spiritual lessons by parables and similitudes from things that happen in the outer world. If a man goes after a mirage or a thing that has no real existence, he can never reach his goal, while the man that follows the kindly Light from God that leads him on must be happier in mind, sounder in heart, and firmer in life, generally for every moment that he lives.

4820. When once the fight (Jihād) is entered upon, carry it out with the utmost vigour, and strike home your blows at the most vital points (smite at their necks), both literally and figuratively. You cannot wage war with kid gloves.

Smite at their necks ;
 At length, when ye have
 Thoroughly subdued them,
 Bind a bond <sup>4821</sup>
 Firmly (on them) : thereafter
 (Is the time for) either
 Generosity or ransom : <sup>4822</sup>
 Until the war lays down
 Its burdens. Thus (are ye Commanded) : but if it
 Had been God's Will,
 He could certainly have exacted
 Retribution from them (Himself) ;
 But (He lets you fight)
 In order to test you, <sup>4823</sup>
 Some with others.
 But those who are slain <sup>4824</sup>
 In the way of God,—
 He will never let
 Their deeds be lost.

فَضْرَبَ الرِّقَابَ
 حَتَّىٰ إِذَا أَخْنَدْتُمُوهُمْ
 فَشَدُّوا الوُثَاقَ
 فَأَمَّا مَنَّا بَعْدُ
 وَإِنَّمَا فِدَاءٌ
 حَتَّىٰ تَصْغَرَ الْحَرْبُ أَوْ زَارَهَا ۗ ذَٰلِكَ
 وَلَوْ يَشَاءُ اللَّهُ لَانتَصَرْنَا مِنْهُمْ
 وَلَكِن لِّيَبْلُوَ بَعْضَكُمْ بِبَعْضٍ
 وَالَّذِينَ قُتِلُوا فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ
 فَلَنْ يُضِلَّ أَعْمَالَهُمْ ۝

5. Soon will He guide them <sup>4825</sup>
 And improve their condition,

٥- سَيَهْدِيهِمْ وَيُصْلِحُ بَالَهُمْ ۝

6. And admit them to
 The Garden which He <sup>4826</sup>
 Has announced for them.

٦- وَيُدْخِلُهُمُ الْجَنَّةَ
 عَرَفَهَا اللَّهُ ۝

4821. In the first onset there must necessarily be great loss of life ; but when the enemy is fairly beaten, which means, in a Jihād, that he is not likely to seek again the persecution of Truth, firm arrangements should be made to bring him under control. I thus construe the words "bind a bond firmly (on them)", but others have construed the words to mean, "after the enemy's numbers are fairly thinned down, prisoners may be taken". With this passage may be compared viii. 67, and n. 1234.

4822. When once the enemy is brought under control, generosity (i.e., the release of prisoners without ransom) or ransom is recommended.

4823. The Believers are tested in Faith by the extent to which they are willing to make sacrifices, even to the laying down of their lives ; and the enemies are tested as to whether they would repent and let the righteous live in freedom and security.

4824. There are two alternative readings, (1) qātalū, "those who fight", and (2) qutilū, "those who are slain". The meaning under the first reading is wider, and includes that under the second. I have translated on the basis of the second reading, which is in accordance with the text of the Royal Egyptian edition.

4825. If we read "who are slain" in the last clause but one of verse 4, (see last note), "guide" would mean "guide them in their spiritual journey after death". Improve their condition : see n. 4818 above. If after death, their minds and hearts will be more and more settled and at rest, and their spiritual satisfaction greater.

4826. "The Garden which He has announced for them" : the state of Bliss which is declared in Revelation to be destined for those who serve God.

7. وye who believe !
If ye will aid
(The cause of) God,
He will aid you,
And plant your feet firmly.

8. But those who reject (God),—
For them is destruction,
And (God) will render
Their deeds astray <sup>4827</sup>
(From their mark).

9. That is because they
Hate the Revelation of God ;
So He has made
Their deeds fruitless. <sup>4828</sup>

10. Do they not travel <sup>4829</sup>
Through the earth, and see
What was the End
Of those before them
(Who did evil) ?
God brought utter destruction
On them, and similar (Fates await) those who Reject God.

11. That is because God
Is the Protector of those
Who believe, but
Those who reject God
Have no protector.

SECTION 2.

12. Verily God will admit
Those who believe and do
Righteous deeds, to Gardens
Beneath which rivers flow ;

٤- يَأْتِيهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا

إِنْ تَنْصُرُوا اللَّهَ

يَنْصُرْكُمْ وَيُثَبِّتْ أَقْدَامَكُمْ ○

٨- وَالَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا فَتَعْسًا لَهُمْ

وَ أَضَلَّ أَعْمَالَهُمْ ○

٩- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّهُمْ كَرِهُوا مَا أَنْزَلَ اللَّهُ

فَأَحْبَطَ أَعْمَالَهُمْ ○

١٠- أَفَلَمْ يَسِيرُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ فَيَنْظُرُوا

كَيْفَ كَانَ عَاقِبَةُ الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ

دَمَّرَ اللَّهُ عَلَيْهِمْ

وَاللَّكْفَرِينَ أَمْثَلَهَا ○

١١- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّ اللَّهَ مَوْلَى الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا

وَأَنَّ الْكُفْرِينَ لَا مَوْلَى لَهُمْ ○

١٢- إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُدْخِلُ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا

الصَّالِحَاتِ جَنَّاتٍ تَجْرِي مِنْ تَحْتِهَا الْأَنْهَارُ

4827. See above, xlvii. 1 and n. 4817.

4828. Their deeds are "fruitless" in the sense that they are vain ; they do not produce the results intended by their doers. But they will not be exempt from producing the natural consequences of evil, viz., further degradation and misery for the soul.

4829. The end of evil is evil. All past history and tradition shows that. Will not men of every generation learn that lesson ? God helps His servants, but those who rebel against God have no one to help them.

While those who reject God
Will enjoy (this world) <sup>4830</sup>
And eat as cattle eat ;
And the Fire will
Be their abode.

وَالَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
يَتَسْتَعْمُونَ وَيَأْكُلُونَ كَمَا تَأْكُلُ الْأَنْعَامُ
وَالنَّارُ مَشْوَى لَهُمْ ○

13. And how many cities,
With more power than
Thy city which has
Driven thee out, <sup>4831</sup>
Have We destroyed
(For their sins) ?
And there was none
To aid them.

١٣- وَكَأَيِّن مِّن قَرْيَةٍ هِيَ أَشَدُّ قُوَّةً
مِّن قَرْيَتِكَ الَّتِي أَخْرَجْتِكَ
أَهْلَكْنَاهُمْ
فَلَا نَاصِرَ لَهُمْ ○

14. Is then one who is
On a clear <sup>4832</sup> (Path)
From his Lord,
No better than one
To whom the evil
Of his conduct seems pleasing,
And such as follow
Their own lusts ?

١٤- أَفَمَن كَانَ عَلَىٰ بَيِّنَةٍ
مِّن رَّبِّهِ
كَمَن زُيِّنَ لَهُ سُوءُ عَمَلِهِ
وَاتَّبَعُوا أَهْوَاءَهُمْ ○

15. (There is) a Parable
Of the Garden which
The righteous are promised :
In it are rivers
Of water incorruptible ; <sup>4833</sup>
Rivers of milk
Of which the taste
Never changes ; rivers

١٥- مَثَلُ الْجَنَّةِ الَّتِي وُعدَ الْمُتَّقُونَ
فِيهَا أَنْهَارٌ مِّن مَّاءٍ غَيْرِ آسِنٍ
وَأَنْهَارٌ مِّن لَّبَنٍ
لَّمْ يَتَغَيَّرْ طَعْمُهُ وَأَنْهَارٌ

4830. An apt simile. Beasts of the field eat their fill, but have no higher interests. Men who worship the world exclusively are no better: their pleasures and enjoyments rise no higher than those of the beasts of the field. They have no inkling of spiritual happiness. On the contrary, as they were endowed with spiritual faculties which they misused, they will not escape the Fire of Punishment, the Penalty of Sin.

4831. A reference to Pagan Mecca, which drove out the holy Prophet because of his righteousness and because he preached Repentance. The date of this Sūra must therefore be after the Hijrat.

4832. Clear, or enlightened ; a Path on which shines the Light of God.

4833. In this symbolism there are four kinds of drinks and all kinds of fruits; and the summing up of all spiritual delights in the " Grace from their Lord ". The four kinds of drinks are : (1) delicious, cool, pure water, not like earthly water, for it never suffers corruption ; (2) milk which never turns sour, whose taste is like that of fresh warm milk drawn from the udder ; (3) wine, not like any wine on earth, for it leaves no headaches behind, and causes no intoxication, which is a kind of madness or poison, but is ever a joy to drink ; and (4) honey, pure and clear, with no admixture of wax or any foreign substance. These drinks, again speaking metaphorically, will cool the spirit, feed the heart, warm the affections, and sweeten life.

Of wine, a joy
 To those who drink ;
 And rivers of honey
 Pure and clear. In-it
 There are for them
 All kinds of fruits ;<sup>4834</sup>
 And Grace from their Lord.<sup>4835</sup>
 (Can those in such Bliss)
 Be compared to such as Shall dwell for ever
 In the Fire, and be given,
 To drink, boiling water,
 So that it cuts up<sup>4836</sup>
 Their bowels (to pieces) ?

مِنْ خَيْرِ لَذَّةِ لِلْقَرِيبِينَ ؕ
 وَأَنْهَرُ مِنْ عَسَلٍ مُّصَقًّى ۖ
 وَلَهُمْ فِيهَا مِنْ كُلِّ الثَّمَرَاتِ
 وَمَغْفِرَةٌ مِّن رَّبِّهِمْ ۖ
 كَمَنْ هُوَ خَالِدٌ فِي النَّارِ
 وَسُقُوا مَاءً حَمِيمًا
 فَقَطَّعَ أَمْعَاءَهُمْ ۝

16. And among them are men
 Who listen to thee,
 But in the end, when they
 Go out from thee,<sup>4837</sup>
 They say to those who
 Have received Knowledge,
 "What is it he said
 Just then ?" Such are Men whose hearts God
 Has sealed, and who
 Follow their own lusts.

١٤- وَمِنْهُمْ مَّن يَسْتَمِعُ إِلَيْكَ
 حَتَّىٰ إِذَا خَرَجُوا مِنْ عِنْدِكَ
 قَالُوا لِلَّذِينَ أُوتُوا الْعِلْمَ
 مَاذَا قَالَ أِنْ كَانَ
 أُولَٰئِكَ الَّذِينَ طَبَعَ اللَّهُ عَلَىٰ قُلُوبِهِمْ
 وَاتَّبَعُوا أَهْوَاءَهُمْ ۝

17. But to those who receive<sup>4838</sup>
 Guidance, He increases
 The (light of) Guidance,
 And bestows on them
 Their Piety and Restraint
 (From evil).

١٤- وَالَّذِينَ اهْتَدَوْا
 زَادَهُمْ هُدًى
 وَآتَاهُمْ تَقْوَاهُمْ ۝

4834. The signification of Fruits in their metaphorical sense has been already explained : see n. 4671 to xliii. 73. In the setting of the present verse, note that it implies a second degree of totality of Bliss, the third or highest and final degree being the Grace or Mercy of God.

4835. Grace from their Lord : that is the covering up or blotting out of sin and all that was sad or unsatisfactory in the lower life ; the pure Light from the Countenance of God Most High : xcii. 20.

4836. Cf. xxxvii. 66-67, and n. 4074. Just as the Bliss of the Blessed will penetrate their being through and through, so the agony of the condemned ones will penetrate their being through and through. "Bowels" besides meaning their inmost being, also suggests the seat of their feelings and affections.

4837. Cf. x. 42, and n. 1434 ; also vi. 25, 36, and n. 857. The case here referred to is that of the Hypocrites who came to the assemblies of Islam in Medina and pretended to listen to the Prophet's teaching and preaching. But their heart and mind were not in learning righteousness, but in carping at things they saw and heard. When they got out, they knew nothing of the teaching, but on the contrary asked foolish and ignorant questions, such as might raise doubts.

4838. Spiritual advancement is progressive : each step makes the next ones easier and more complete.

18. Do they then only wait <sup>4839</sup>
 For the Hour,—that it
 Should come on them
 Of a sudden? But already
 Have come some tokens <sup>4840</sup>
 Thereof, and when it
 (Actually) is on them,
 How can they benefit
 Then by their admonition?

١٨- فَهَلْ يَنْظُرُونَ إِلَّا السَّاعَةَ
 أَنْ تَأْتِيَهُمْ بَغْتَةً
 فَقَدْ جَاءَ أَشْرَاطُهَا
 فَأَنَّى لَهُمْ إِذَا جَاءَتْهُمْ
 ذِكْرُهُمْ

19. Know, therefore, that
 There is no god
 But God, and ask
 Forgiveness for thy fault, <sup>4841</sup>
 And for the men
 And women who believe :
 For God knows how ye <sup>4842</sup>
 Move about and how
 Ye dwell in your homes.

١٩- فَأَعْلَمَ أَنَّكَ لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا اللَّهُ
 وَاسْتَغْفِرْ لِذَنْبِكَ
 وَاللِّمُؤْمِنِينَ وَالْمُؤْمِنَاتِ
 وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ مُتَقَلَّبَكُمْ
 وَمَثْوَاكُمْ

C. 221.—Those eager for service want the call for service ;
 (xlvi. 20-38.) But the hypocrites blench at such call.

If it were not obeyed, and evil should get
 The upper hand, will it not stalk arrogant
 Over the land, and trample under foot
 All claims of right and kinship? Fight it,
 And fail not in the test of your mettle. Be bold
 And establish the Flag of Righteousness
 In the highest places. Thus comes Peace,
 For which due sacrifice must be made.

4839. Cf. xliii. 66, and n. 4665.

4840. The sands of time are always running, and when a wrong is done, the time for its punishment is approaching every moment. No one should therefore wait. The time for repentance is Now at any given time. When the punishment comes, it is too late for repentance, and all admonition would be useless.

Looking to the particular time when this Sūra was revealed, viz., about a year after the Hijrat, already there were Signs that the plans of the Pagans to crush Islam were crumbling to pieces. The Hijrat showed how much good-will there was in Medina for the holy man of God, and how many people from Mecca adhered to him. The battle of Badr showed that they could hold their own against odds of three to one.

4841. Cf. xl. 55, and n. 4428.

4842. The time and manner of our conducting ourselves at home and when we move about on our business are all material to the judgment of our conduct, and for every nuance in our moral and spiritual progress, we must seek God's help and guidance.

SECTION 3.

20. Those who believe say,<sup>4843</sup>
 "Why is not a Sūra
 Sent down (for us)?"
 But when a Sūra
 Of basic or categorical<sup>4844</sup>
 Meaning is revealed,
 And fighting is mentioned
 Therein, thou wilt see those
 In whose hearts is a disease<sup>4845</sup>
 Looking at thee with a look
 Of one in swoon at
 The approach of death.
 But more fitting for them—

۲۰- وَيَقُولُ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَوْلَا نُزِّلَتْ سُورَةٌ
 فَإِذَا أَنْزَلْتُمْ سُورَةَ مُحْكَمَةً
 وَذَكَرْتُمْ فِيهَا الْقِتَالَ
 رَأَيْتَ الَّذِينَ فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ مَرَضٌ
 يُنظُرُونَ إِلَيْكَ نَظَرَ
 الْمَغْشِيِّ عَلَيْهِ مِنَ الْمَوْتِ
 فَأُولَئِكَ لَهُمُ

21. Were it to obey
 And say what is just,
 And when a matter<sup>4846</sup>
 Is resolved on, it were
 Best for them if they Were true to God.

۲۱- طَاعَةٌ وَقَوْلٌ مَعْرُوفٌ
 فَإِذَا عَزَمْتَ الْأَمْرَ
 فَلَوْ صَدَقُوا اللَّهَ لَكَانَ خَيْرًا لَهُمْ

22. Then, is it<sup>4847</sup>
 To be expected of you,
 If ye were put in authority,
 That ye will do mischief
 In the land, and break
 Your ties of kith and kin?

۲۲- فَهَلْ عَسَيْتُمْ إِنْ تَوَلَّيْتُمْ
 أَنْ تُفْسِدُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ
 وَتَقَطُّعُوا أَرْحَامَكُمْ

4843. The men of faith and loyalty are eager and anxious to get a command to serve the Cause even if it be at the sacrifice of their lives. Not so the Hypocrites, "those in whose hearts is a disease". They are mortally afraid as mentioned below.

4844. Cf. iii. 7, and n. 347. The defence of truth and righteousness at all sacrifice, when a definite and categorical command issues from the righteous Imām under inspiration from God, is a fundamental condition of enlistment in the cause of God. It is true that Punishment and Judgment belong to God alone; but our mettle and fidelity have to be tested, (see verse 4 above), and God uses human agency in human affairs.

4845. Cf. ii. 10. The disease is hypocrisy, disloyalty to the Cause, want of courage and of the spirit of self-sacrifice, want of true understanding.

4846. The resolution is not taken except under guidance from God. Those, therefore, who fail to implement it by their own effort and sacrifice, are not true to God. And such disloyalty or cowardice is not even good for them from a worldly point of view. With what face can they meet their friends after their disgraceful conduct?

4847. It is no use to say, as the Quraish said, that it is not seemly to fight against kith and kin. From one point of view the stand against sin brings "not peace, but a sword". It is a case of either subduing evil or being subdued by evil. If evil gets the upper hand, it is not likely to respect ties of kith and kin. It did not in the case of the holy Prophet and his adherents, and had to be suppressed, to bring about the conditions necessary for peace.

23. Such are the men
Whom God has cursed <sup>4848</sup>
For He has made them
Deaf and blinded their sight.

٢٣- أُولَٰئِكَ الَّذِينَ لَعَنَهُمُ اللَّهُ
فَأَصَمَّهُمْ وَأَعَمَّى أَبْصَارَهُمْ ۝

24. Do they not then
Earnestly seek to understand
The Qur-ān, or are
Their hearts locked up
By them ?

٢٤- أَفَلَا يَتَذَكَّرُونَ الْقُرْآنَ
أَمْ عَلَىٰ قُلُوبٍ أَقْفَالُهَا ۝

25. Those who turn back <sup>4849</sup>
As apostates after Guidance
Was clearly shown to them,—
The Evil One has instigated
Them and buoyed them up
With false hopes.

٢٥- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ ارْتَدُّوا عَلَىٰ أَدْبَارِهِمْ
مِن بَعْدِ مَا تَبَيَّنَ لَهُمُ الْهُدَىٰ
الشَّيْطَانُ سَوَّلَ لَهُمْ وَأَمْلَىٰ لَهُمْ ۝

26. This, because they said <sup>4850</sup>
To those who hate what God has revealed, " We
Will obey you in part
Of (this) matter " ; but God
Knows their (inner) secrets.

٢٦- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّهُمْ قَالُوا لِلَّذِينَ كَرَهُوْا مَا
نَزَّلَ اللَّهُ سَنُطِيعُكُمْ فِي بَعْضِ الْأُمْرِ
وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ إِسْرَارَهُمْ ۝

27. But how (will it be) <sup>4851</sup>
When the angels take
Their souls at death,
And smite their faces <sup>4852</sup>
And their backs ?

٢٧- فَكَيْفَ إِذَا تَوَفَّتْهُمُ الْمَلَائِكَةُ
يَضْرِبُونَ وُجُوهَهُمْ وَأَدْبَارَهُمْ ۝

4848. Cursed : i.e., deprived of His Grace : left them straying, because they deliberately rejected His guidance. The result is that what they hear is as if they had not heard, and what they see is as if they had not seen. They have no desire to understand God's Will or God's Revelation ;—or is it that they have themselves locked and bolted their hearts and minds, so that nothing can penetrate them ?

4849. Such men are entirely in the hands of Evil. They follow its suggestions, and their hopes are built on its deceptions.

4850. They have become so impervious to facts and truths, because, without the courage to oppose God's Cause openly, they secretly intrigue with God's enemies, and say that they will follow them part of the way, and by remaining partly in the other camp, they will be far more useful as spies and half-hearted doubters than by going over altogether. If they think that this game will be successful, they are mistaken. All the inner secrets and motives of their hearts are known to God. Cf. lix. 11.

4851. It is all very well for them to practise hypocrisy in this life. How will they feel at death, when they find that the angels know all, and touch the very spots they had taken such care to conceal ?

4852. Their faces and their backs : there is a subtle metaphor. The face is what looks to the front, the side you present to the outer world ; the back is what is not shown, what is hidden from the world. The hypocrites will be hit at both points. Or, the face is what they boast of, what they are proud of ; the back is the skeleton in the cupboard, the things they dare not utter, but which yet haunt them. The hypocrites are hit on every side. Cf. viii. 50.

28. This because they followed
That which called forth
The Wrath of God, and
They hated God's good pleasure ;
So He made their deeds
Of no effect.

SECTION 4.

29.  do those in whose <sup>4853</sup>
Hearts is a disease, think
That God will not bring
To light all their rancour ?

30. Had We so willed,
We could have shown them
Up to thee, and thou
Shouldst have known them <sup>4854</sup>
By their marks : but surely
Thou wilt know them
By the tone of their speech !
And God knows
All that ye do.

31. And We shall try you <sup>4855</sup>
Until We test those Among you who strive
Their utmost and persevere
In patience ; and We shall
Try your reported (mettle). <sup>4856</sup>

32. Those who reject God,
Hinder (men) from
The Path of God, and resist
The Apostle, after Guidance

٢٨- ذَلِكَ بِأَنَّهُمْ اتَّبَعُوا مَا آسَخَطَ اللَّهُ
وَكَرِهُوا رِضْوَانَهُ
فَأَحْبَطَ أَعْمَالَهُمْ ۝

٢٩- أَمْ حَسِبَ الَّذِينَ فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ مَرَضٌ
أَنْ لَنْ يُخْرِجَهُ اللَّهُ أَضْغَانَهُمْ ۝

٣٠- وَلَوْ نَشَاءُ لَأَرَيْنَاكَهُمْ
فَلَعَرَفْتَهُمْ بِسِيمَانِهِمْ
وَلَتَعْرِفَنَّهُمْ فِي لَحْنِ الْقَوْلِ
وَاللَّهُ يَعْلَمُ أَعْمَالَكُمْ ۝

٣١- وَلَنَبْلُوَنَّكُمْ حَتَّى نَعْلَمَ
الْمُجَاهِدِينَ مِنْكُمْ وَالضَّائِرِينَ
وَنَبْلُوَنَّكُمْ بِأَخْبَارِكُمْ ۝

٣٢- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا وَصَدَّوْا عَنْ سَبِيلِ
اللَّهِ وَشَاقُوا الرَّسُولَ مِنْ بَعْدِ مَا تَبَيَّنَ لَهُمُ

4853. Cf. verse 20 above, and n. 4845. Being diseased at the very core of their being, they do not understand the simplest facts of spiritual life.

4854. Evil is not always necessarily branded in this life with a distinguishing mark or brand. But the discerning ones know. Evil is betrayed by its speech and behaviour.

4855. Cf. xxxiv. 21. and n. 3821. The test and trial is for our own psychological development, to help in the exercise of such choice as has been given to us in our free-will. Cf. also iii. 154, and n. 467.

4856. Akhbār: the things reported of you ; reputation for courage and constancy, which has to be brought to the test of facts and experience. In an epigram of Tacitus we are told of a Roman Emperor that he would have been considered in every way to have been worthy of being a ruler if only he had never ruled ! So in life people may think us courageous, true, noble, and self-sacrificing ; and we may consider ourselves as possessing all such virtues ; but it is actual experience that will bring them to the test.

Has been clearly shown to them,<sup>4857</sup>
Will not injure God
In the least, but He
Will make their deeds
Of no effect.

33. O ye who believe!
Obey God, and obey
The Apostle, and make
Not vain your deeds!

34. Those who reject God,<sup>4858</sup>
And hinder (men) from the Path
Of God, then die rejecting God,—
God will not forgive them.

35. Be not weary and
Faint-hearted, crying for peace,
When ye should be<sup>4859</sup>
Uppermost: for God is
With you, and will never
Put you in loss
For your (good) deeds.

36. The life of this world
Is but play and amusement:<sup>4860</sup>
And if ye believe
And guard against evil,
He will grant you
Your recompense, and will not

الْهُدَىٰ لَنْ يُضِرُّوا اللَّهَ شَيْئًا
وَسَيُجِطُّ أَعْمَالُهُمْ ۝

۳۳- يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اطِيعُوا اللَّهَ وَاطِيعُوا
الرَّسُولَ وَلَا تُبْطِلُوا أَعْمَالَكُمْ ۝

۳۴- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا وَاصَدُّوا عَن سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ
ثُمَّ مَاتُوا وَهُمْ كُفَّارٌ فَلَنْ يَغْفِرَ اللَّهُ لَهُمْ ۝

۳۵- فَلَا تَهِنُوا وَتَدْعُوا إِلَى السَّلَامِ ۝
وَأَنْتُمْ أَلَا عَلَوْنَ ۝
وَاللَّهُ مَعَكُمْ
وَلَنْ يَبْزُقَكُمْ أَعْمَالَكُمْ ۝

۳۶- إِنَّمَا الْحَيَاةُ الدُّنْيَا لَعِبٌ وَلَهْوٌ
وَإِنْ تُوْمِنُوا وَتَتَّقُوا
يُؤْتِكُمْ أُجُورَكُمْ وَلَا

4857. Cf. verse 25 above, and verse 34 below: in verse 25 was shown the source of the evil, viz., yielding to the deceptions of the Evil One; in this verse are shown the proximate consequences of such yielding to evil, viz., failure of all we do; and in verse 34 below are shown the eternal consequences, viz., our deprivation of God's Grace and Mercy.

4858. See last note.

4859. To those who are trying to root out evil, and have authority to do so, the question is not of peace or conflict, but of whether Good or Evil is to prevail. They must remember that Good must ultimately prevail, and God's help is with those who, as far as men can, are trying to further the universal Plan. Cf. n. 4847 to verse 22 above.

4860. Cf. vi. 32, and n. 855; and xxix. 64, and n. 3497. Amusement and play are not bad things in themselves. As preparations for the more serious life, they have their value. But if we concentrate on them, and neglect the business of life, we cannot prosper. So we must use our life in this world as a preparation for our spiritual or inner life.

Ask you (to give up)
Your possessions.<sup>4861</sup>

37. If He were to ask you
For all of them, and Press you, ye would Covetously withhold, and He would<sup>4862</sup>
Bring out all your ill-feeling.<sup>4863</sup>

38. Behold, ye are those<sup>4864</sup>
Invited to spend
(Of your substance)
In the Way of God:
But among you are some
That are niggardly. But any
Who are niggardly are so
At the expense of
Their own souls.
But God is free
Of all wants,
And it is ye that are needy.
If ye turn back<sup>4865</sup>
(From the Path), He will Substitute in your stead
Another people; then they
Would not be like you!

يَسْأَلُكُمْ أَمْوَالَكُمْ ۝

۝-۳۷ إِنْ يَسْأَلْكُمْ مَوَالِيهَا
فِيخْفِكُمْ تَبَخَّلُوا
وَيُخْرِجْ أَضْغَانَكُمْ ۝

۝-۳۸ هَآأَنْتُمْ هَؤُلَاءِ
تُدْعُونَ لِتُقْفِقُوا فِي سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ
فَمِنْكُمْ مَن يَبْخُلُ
وَمَن يَبْخُلْ فَإِنَّمَا يَبْخُلْ عَن نَّفْسِهِ
وَاللَّهُ الْغَنِيُّ
وَأَنْتُمْ الْفُقَرَاءُ
وَإِنْ تَتَوَلَّوْا يَسْتَبْدِلْ قَوْمًا غَيْرَكُمْ
ثُمَّ لَا يَكُونُوا أَمْثَالَكُمْ ۝

4861. Complete self-sacrifice, if voluntarily offered, has a meaning: it means that the person's devotion is exclusively and completely for the Cause. But no law or rule can demand it. And a mere offer to kill yourself has no meaning. You should be ready to take risks to your life in fighting for the Cause, but you should aim at life, not death. If you live, you should be ready to place your substance and your acquisitions at the disposal of the Cause. But it is not reasonable to pauperise yourself and become a hanger-on for the Cause. Moreover, the inborn tendency to self-preservation in an average man would lead to concealment and niggardliness if all were asked for the Cause, by Law, and there would further be a feeling of bitterness and rebellion.

4862. Cf. iii. 180.

4863. Cf. above, verse 29. Rancour or ill-feeling, or any desire but that of devotion, should never be given a handle in a wise Law.

4864. Here the cases of the special devotee and of the average man with his human foibles are distinguished. Stinginess is not a virtue: it hurts more the finer nature of the individual practising it than it hurts the Cause. God is free of all wants and independent of any need that we can meet. His Cause is similarly independent of human aid. But it uses human agency for our own human advancement. The need to be able to serve in the Kingdom of Heaven is ours. We are the needy beggars who should claim the privilege before the Lord of Bounties unbounded.

4865. If we desert the Cause, the Cause will not fail. Better men than we will uphold the flag. But we should fall, and others will take our place, who are not so timid, half-hearted, or stingy. In Wordsworth's words, "High Heaven rejects the lore of nicely calculated less or more."

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLVIII (Fat-h).

1. This is the second of the group of three Medina Sūras described in the Introduction to S. xlvii. Its date is fixed by the mention of the Treaty of Ḥudaibīya, Zul-qa'd A.H. 6=Feb. 628 (see n. 1261 to ix. 13).

2. Ḥudaibīya is a plain, a short day's march to the north of Mecca, a little to the west of the Medina-Mecca road, as used in the Prophet's time. Six years had passed since the Prophet had left his beloved City, and it had been in the hands of the Pagan autocracy. But Islam had grown during these six years. Its Qibla was towards the Ka'ba. The Pagans had tried to attack Islam at various times and had been foiled. By Arab custom every Arab was entitled to visit the Sacred Enclosure unarmed, and fighting of any kind was prohibited during the Sacred Months (see n. 209 to ii. 194), which included the month of Zul-qa'd. In Zul-qa'd A.H. 6, therefore, the Prophet desired to perform the 'Umra or lesser pilgrimage (n. 212 to ii. 196), unarmed, but accompanied with his followers. A large following joined him, to the number of fourteen to fifteen hundred.

3. This was not to the liking of the Pagan autocracy at Mecca, which took alarm, and in breach of all Arab tradition and usage, prepared to prevent the peaceful party from performing the rites of pilgrimage. They marched out to fight the unarmed party. The Prophet turned a little to the west of the road, and encamped at Ḥudaibīya, where negotiations took place. On the one hand the Prophet was unwilling to give the Quraish any pretended excuse for violence in the Sacred Territory; on the other, the Quraish had learnt, by six years' bitter experience, that their power was crumbling on all sides, and Islam was growing with its moral and spiritual forces, which were also reflected in its powers of organisation and resistance. The enthusiasm with which the Covenant of Fealty was entered into under a tree in Ḥudaibīya (xlviii. 18) by that great multitude united in devotion to their great leader, was evidence of the great power which he commanded even in a worldly sense if the Quraish had chosen to try conclusions with him.

4. A peaceful Treaty was therefore concluded, known as the Treaty of Ḥudaibīya. It stipulated: (1) that there was to be peace between the parties for ten years; (2) that any tribe or person was free to join either party or make an alliance with it; (3) that if a Quraish person from Mecca, under guardianship, should join the Prophet without the guardian's permission, he (or she) should be sent back to the guardian, but in the contrary case, they should not be sent back; and (4) that the Prophet and his party were not to enter Mecca that year, but that they could enter unarmed the following year.

5. Item 3, not being reciprocal, was objected to in the Muslim camp, but it really was of little importance. Muslims under guardianship, sent back to Mecca, were not likely to renounce the blessings of Islam; on the other hand Muslims going to Mecca would be centres of influence for Islam, and it was more important that they should be allowed to remain there than that they should be sent back to Medina.

It was impossible to think that there would be apostates or renegades to Paganism!
 "Look on this picture, and on that!"

6. The Muslims faithfully observed the terms of the Treaty. The following year (A.H. 7) they performed the lesser Pilgrimage in great state for three days. It is true that the Meccans later on broke the Peace in the attack which one of their allied tribes (the Banū Bakr) made on the Muslim Banū Khuza'a (who were in alliance with the Prophet), but this led to the conquest of Mecca and the sweeping away of the autocracy. Meanwhile Hudaibīya was a great victory, moral and social, as well as political, and its lessons are expounded in this Sūra, as the lessons of Badr were expounded in viii. 42-48, and of Uḥud in iii. 121-129, 149-180.

Summary.—Victory comes from cool courage, devotion, faith, and patience, as shown at Hudaibīya; therefore remember God, and follow His Apostle (xlviii. 1-29, and C. 222).

C. 222.—Victory and Help go with calmness of mind,
 (xlviii. 1-29.) Faith, fidelity, zeal, and earnestness,
 Not with greed, lukewarmness, or timidity.
 Discipline and obedience are essential
 For service. The rewards for service are not
 To be measured by immediate results,
 But accrue in countless hidden ways
 For Patience and Restraint. Be strong
 Against Evil, but kind and gentle amongst Yourselves: the seed will grow and become Strong, to your wonder and delight.

Sūra XLVIII.

l'at-h or Victory.

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. Verily We have granted
Thee a manifest Victory: <sup>4866</sup>
2. That God may forgive thee <sup>4867</sup>
Thy faults of the past
And those to follow;
Fulfil His favour to thee;
And guide thee
On the Straight Way;
3. And that God may help <sup>4868</sup>
Thee with powerful help.
4. It is He Who sent Down Tranquillity <sup>4869</sup>
Into the hearts of
The Believers, that they may
Add Faith to their Faith;—<sup>4870</sup>
For to God belong

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

۱- إِنَّا فَتَحْنَا لَكَ فَتْحًا مُّبِينًا ۝

۲- لِيَغْفِرَ لَكَ اللَّهُ مَا تَقَدَّمَ مِنْ ذَنْبِكَ وَمَا
تَأَخَّرَ وَيُتِمَّ نِعْمَتَهُ عَلَيْكَ
وَيَهْدِيكَ صِرَاطًا مُسْتَقِيمًا ۝

۳- وَ يَنْصُرَكَ اللَّهُ نَصْرًا عَزِيمًا ۝

۴- هُوَ الَّذِي أَنْزَلَ السَّكِينَةَ فِي قُلُوبِ
الْمُؤْمِنِينَ لِيَزِدُوا إِيمَانًا مَعَ إِيمَانِهِمْ
وَاللَّهُ

4866. This is best referred to the Treaty of Ḥudaibiya, for which see the Introduction to this Sūra. By this Treaty the Meccan Quraish, after many years of unrelenting conflict with Islam, at length recognised Islam as (what they thought) an equal power with themselves. In reality the door was then opened for the free spread of Islam throughout Arabia and thence through the world.

4867. See n. 4428 to xl. 55, and Cf. xviii. 19. Any mistakes of the past were now rectified, and any future ones prevented by the free scope now offered, by the act of the Quraish Pagans themselves, to the recognition and free promulgation of Islam.

4868. Three objects or results of the Treaty are mentioned: (1) forgiveness, which is equivalent to Mercy, (2) fulfilment of the dignity of Prophethood with the dignity of an effective and recognised position in Arabia; (3) opening up a straight way leading to Islam, by access to Mecca from next year, Mecca being the symbolic centre of Islam. These three are summed up in the comprehensive phrase "powerful (or effective) help"

4869. The results were achieved by tranquillity, calmness, and cool courage among the 1400 to 1500 unarmed men who accompanied the Prophet to Ḥudaibiya and who were threatened with violence by the excited Quraish leaders of Mecca.

4870. It is a casuistical question to ask, Are there degrees in Faith? The plain meaning is that Believers will see one Sign of God after another, and with each their Faith is confirmed. During all the long years of persecution and conflict they had Faith, but when they see their old enemies actually coming out to negotiate with them, their Faith is justified, fulfilled, and confirmed: and they turn in gratitude to God.

The Forces of the heavens <sup>4871</sup>
And the earth; and God is
Full of Knowledge and Wisdom;—

5. That He may admit <sup>4872</sup>
The men and women
Who believe, to Gardens
Beneath which rivers flow,
To dwell therein for aye,
And remove their ills
From them;—and that is,
In the sight of God,
The highest achievement
(For man),—

6. And that He may punish
The Hypocrites, men and Women, and the Polytheists,
Men and women, who imagine
An evil opinion of God.
On them is a round <sup>4873</sup>
Of Evil: the Wrath of God
Is on them: He has cursed <sup>4874</sup>
Them and got Hell ready
For them: and evil
Is it for a destination.

7. For to God belong <sup>4875</sup>
The Forces of the heavens
And the earth; and God is
Exalted in Power,
Full of Wisdom.

4871. There are visible forces which you see in the physical world. Men fight with armed forces, and the Muslims had to defend themselves with arms also, and not without success. But social, moral, and spiritual forces were fighting for them under God's command, and they were the real forces that established the Message of Islam and the position of its Leader and Preacher.

4872. This clause is co-ordinated to the previous clause, "That they may add Faith to their Faith". The intervening words, "For to God...and Wisdom" are parenthetical. The third co-ordinate clause comes in the next verse, "And that He may punish...". The skeleton construction will be, "God sends down calm courage to Believers, in order that they may be confirmed in their Faith; that they may qualify for the Bliss of Heaven; and that the evil ones may receive the punishment they deserve."

4873. They will be encircled (or hemmed in) by Evil.

4874. That is, deprived them of His Grace, on account of their continued rejection of it.

4875. These words are repeated (with a slight change) from the parenthetical clause in verse 4, to emphasize the assertion as a substantive proposition, that fighting and visible forces in the physical world are not the only forces with which God works out His Plan. The invisible forces are more important as they were at Hudaibiya. The slight difference is instructive; in the parenthetical clause, God's Knowledge was emphasized, and in the substantive clause it is God's Power, Knowledge plans, and Power executes.

SECTION 2.

11. The desert Arabs who <sup>4878</sup>
Lagged behind will

۱۱- سَيَقُوْلُ لَكَ الْمُخَلَّفُوْنَ مِنَ الْاَعْرَابِ

4876. The Apostle came in order to establish Faith in God and true worship. We can view him in three capacities: (1) as a witness to help the weak if they were oppressed and check the strong if they did wrong; (2) as a giver of the Glad Tidings of God's Grace and Mercy to those who repented and lived good lives; and (3) as one who warned sinners of the consequences of their sin.

4877. In the Hudaibiya negotiations, when it was uncertain whether the Quraish would treat well or ill the Prophet's delegate to Mecca, there was a great wave of feeling in the Muslim camp of 1400 to 1500 men. They came with great enthusiasm and swore their fealty to the Prophet, by placing hand on hand according to the Arab custom: see paragraph 3 of the Introduction to this Sūra. This in itself was a wonderful demonstration of moral and material strength, a true Victory: it is called Bai'at ur-Ridhwān (Fealty of God's Good Pleasure) in Islamic History. They placed their hands on the Prophet's hand, but the Hand of God was above them, and He accepted their Fealty.

'Alaihu is an archaic form for 'Alaihi.

4878. When the Prophet started from Medina on the Mecca journey which ended in Hudaibiya, he asked all Muslims to join him in the pious undertaking, and he had a splendid response. But some of the desert tribes hung back and made excuses. Their faith was but lukewarm, and they did not want to share in any trouble which the Meccans might give to the unarmed Muslims on pilgrimage. Their excuse that they were engaged in looking after their flocks and herds and their families was an after-thought, and in any case made after the return of the Prophet and his party with enhanced prestige to Medina.

Say to thee :

“ We were engaged in
(Looking after) our flocks
And herds, and our families :
Do thou then ask
Forgiveness for us.” <sup>4879</sup>
They say with their tongues
What is not in their hearts.
Say : “ Who then has
Any power at all
(To intervene) on your behalf
With God, if His Will
Is to give you some loss <sup>4880</sup>
Or to give you some profit ?
But God is well acquainted
With all that ye do.

12. “Nay, ye thought that
The Apostle and the Believers
Would never return to
Their families; this seemed
Pleasing in your hearts, <sup>4881</sup> and
Ye conceived an evil thought,
For ye are a people
Lost (in wickedness).”

13. And if any believe not
In God and His Apostle,
We have prepared,
For those who reject God,
A Blazing Fire !

14. To God belongs the dominion
Of the heavens and the earth :
He forgives whom He wills, <sup>4882</sup>
And He punishes whom He

شَغَلْتَنَا أَهْوَالُنَا وَأَهْلُونَا
فَاسْتَغْفِرْ لَنَا
يَقُولُونَ بِأَلْسِنَتِهِمْ
مَا لَيْسَ فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ
قُلْ فَمَنْ يَمْلِكُ لَكُمْ مِنَ اللَّهِ شَيْئًا
إِنْ أَرَادَ بِكُمْ ضَرًّا
أَوْ أَرَادَ بِكُمْ نَفْعًا
بَلْ كَانَ اللَّهُ بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ خَبِيرًا

١٢- بَلْ ظَنَنْتُمْ أَنْ لَنْ يَنْقَلِبَ الرَّسُولُ
وَالْمُؤْمِنُونَ إِلَىٰ أَهْلِيهِمْ أَبَدًا
وَرُزِينَ ذَلِكَ فِي قُلُوبِكُمْ وَظَنَنْتُمْ ظَنَّ
السَّوْءِ ۖ وَكُنْتُمْ قَوْمًا بُورًا ۝

١٣- وَمَنْ لَمْ يُؤْمِنْ بِاللَّهِ وَرَسُولِهِ
فَأِنَّا آَعْتَدْنَا لِلْكَافِرِينَ سَعِيرًا ۝

١٤- وَاللَّهُ مُلْكُ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ
يَغْفِرُ لِمَنْ يَشَاءُ وَيُعَذِّبُ مَنْ يَشَاءُ

4879. They said this with their tongues, but no thought of piety was in their hearts.

4880. Their false excuse was based on a calculation of worldly profit and loss. But what about the spiritual loss in detaching themselves from the holy Prophet or spiritual profit in joining in the splendidly loyal feelings of service and obedience which were demonstrated at Hudaibiya? And in any case they need not think that all their real and secret motives were not known to God.

4881. Their faith was so shaky that they thought the worst would happen, and that the Meccan Quraish would destroy the unarmed band. In their heart of hearts they would not have been sorry, because they were steeped in wickedness and rejoiced in the sufferings of others. But such persons will burn in the fire of their own disappointment.

4882. Evil must inevitably have its punishment, but there is one way of escape, viz., through repentance and the Mercy of God. God's Justice will punish, but God's Mercy will forgive; and the Mercy is the predominant feature in God's universe: " He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful."

Wills : but God is
Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.

15. Those who lagged behind <sup>4883</sup>
(Will say), when ye (are Free to) march and take Booty (in war) : " Permit us
To follow you." They wish
To change God's decree :
Say : " Not thus <sup>4881</sup>
Will ye follow us :
God has already declared <sup>4885</sup>
(This) beforehand " : then they Will say, " But ye are <sup>4886</sup>
Jealous of us." Nay,
But little do they understand
(Such things).

16. Say to the desert Arabs <sup>4887</sup>
Who lagged behind : " Ye
Shall be summoned (to fight)
Against a people given to <sup>4888</sup>
Vehement war : then shall ye
Fight, or they shall submit. <sup>4889</sup>
Then if ye show obedience,
God will grant you
A goodly reward, but if
Ye turn back as ye

وَكَانَ اللَّهُ غَفُورًا رَحِيمًا ۝

١٥- سَيَقُولُ الْمُخَلَّفُونَ إِذَا انطَلَقْتُمْ إِلَى
مَغَائِمٍ لِمَا تَأْخُذُوهَا ذُرُوقًا أَنْ تَتَّبِعْتُمْ
يُرِيدُونَ أَنْ يُبَدِّلُوا كَلِمَ اللَّهِ
فَلَنْ تَتَّبِعُونَ كَذِبَكُمْ
قَالَ اللَّهُ مِنْ قَبْلُ
فَسَيَقُولُونَ بَلْ تَحْسُدُونَ عَلَيْنَا
بَلْ كَانُوا لَا يَفْقَهُونَ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا ۝

١٤- قُلْ لِلْمُخَلَّفِينَ مِنَ الْأَعْرَابِ
سُدُّ عَوْنٍ إِلَى قَوْمِ أُولِي بَأْسٍ شَدِيدٍ
تُقَاتِلُونَهُمْ أَوْ يُسَلِّمُونَ
فَإِنْ تَطِيعُوا يُؤْتِكُمُ اللَّهُ أَجْرًا حَسَنًا
وَإِنْ تَوَلَّوْا كَمَا تَوَلَّيْتُمْ

4883. Now comes out another motive behind the minds of the laggards. The journey for pilgrimage had no promise of war booty. If at any future time there should be a promise of booty they would come! But that is to reverse God's law and decree. Jihād is not for personal gain or booty : see S. viii. and Introduction to S. viii., paragraph 2. On the contrary Jihād is hard striving, in war and peace, in the Cause of God.

4884. Not thus : i.e. not on those terms ; not if your object is only to gain booty.

4885. See viii. 1, and n. 1179.

4886. The desert Arabs loved fighting and plunder, and understood such motives for war. The higher motives seemed to be beyond them. Like ignorant men they attributed petty motives or motives of jealousy if they were kept out of the vulgar circle of fighting for plunder. But they had to be schooled, and they were schooled to higher ideas of discipline, self-sacrifice, and striving hard for a Cause.

4887. While they are reproached for their supineness in the march which led to Ḥudaibīya, where there was danger but no prospect of booty, they are promised, if they learn discipline, to be allowed to follow the Banner of Islam where (as happened later in the Persian and Byzantine Wars) there was real fighting with formidable and well-organised armies.

4888. Cf. xxvii. 33.

4889. That is, you shall go forth to war if you learn discipline, not for booty, but for a great and noble Cause. For if your opponents submit to the Cause, there will be no fighting and no booty.

Did before, He will punish
You with a grievous Penalty."

17. No blame is there
On the blind, nor is
There blame on the lame,
Nor on one ill (if he Joins not the war):
But he that obeys God <sup>4890</sup>
And His Apostle,— (God)
Will admit him to Gardens
Beneath which rivers flow;
And he who turns back,
(God) will punish him
With a grievous Penalty.

SECTION 3.

18. God's Good Pleasure <sup>4891</sup>
Was on the Believers
When they swore Fealty
To thee under the Tree: <sup>4892</sup>
He knew <sup>4893</sup> what was
In their hearts, and He Sent down Tranquillity <sup>4894</sup>
To them; and He rewarded
Them with a speedy Victory; <sup>4895</sup>

19. And many gains will they Acquire (besides): and God
Is Exalted in Power,
Full of Wisdom.

مَنْ قَبْلُ يُعَذِّبُكُمْ عَذَابًا أَلِيمًا ۝

١٤- لَيْسَ عَلَى الْأَعْمَى حَرْجٌ
وَلَا عَلَى الْأَعْرَجِ حَرْجٌ
وَلَا عَلَى الْمَرْيُوضِ حَرْجٌ
وَمَنْ يُطِيعِ اللَّهَ وَرَسُولَهُ
يُدْخِلْهُ جَنَّاتٍ تَجْرِي مِنْ تَحْتِهَا الْأَنْهَارُ
وَمَنْ يَتَوَلَّ يُعَذِّبْهُ عَذَابًا أَلِيمًا ۝

١٨- لَقَدْ رَضِيَ اللَّهُ عَنِ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ
إِذْ يُبَايِعُونَكَ تَحْتَ الشَّجَرَةِ
فَعَلِمَ مَا فِي قُلُوبِهِمْ
فَأَنْزَلَ السَّكِينَةَ عَلَيْهِمْ
وَآتَاهُمُ فَتْحًا قَرِيبًا ۝

١٩- وَ مَغَانِمَ كَثِيرَةً يَأْخُذُونَهَا
وَ كَانَ اللَّهُ عَزِيزًا حَكِيمًا ۝

4890. There may be neither fighting nor booty. But all who obey the righteous Imām's call to Jihād with perfect discipline will get the spiritual Rewards of the Hereafter. The blind, the maimed, and the infirm will of course be exempted from active compliance with the Call, but they can render such services as are within their power, and then they will not be excluded from the reward.

4891. The noun from the verb radhiya is ridhwān (Good Pleasure); hence the name of this Bai'at, Bai'at ur Ridhwān, the Fealty of God's Good Pleasure: see n. 4877 to xlvi. 10.

4892. The great ceremony of the Fealty of God's Good Pleasure took place while the holy Apostle sat under a tree in the plain of Ḥudaibiya. This Tree became very famous, and so much superstitious veneration was attached to it by later generations that it had to be cut down.

4893. Or tested: see n. 4855 to xlvi. 31.

4894. Sakīna = Peace, calm, sense of security and confidence, tranquillity. Cf. above xlvi. 4, and n. 4869. The same word is used in connection with the battle of Ḥunain in ix. 26, and in connection with the Cave of Thaur at an early stage in the Hijrat: ix. 40.

4895. The Treaty of Ḥudaibiya itself was a "speedy Victory": it followed immediately after the Bai'at

20. God has promised you
Many gains that ye shall <sup>4896</sup>
Acquire, and He has given <sup>4897</sup>
You these beforehand ; and
He has restrained the hands
Of men from you ; that it
May be a Sign for <sup>4898</sup>
The Believers, and that
He may guide you
To a Straight Path ;
21. And other gains (there are),
Which are not within <sup>4899</sup>
Your power, but which
God has compassed : and God
Has power over all things.
22. If the Unbelievers
Should fight you, they would <sup>4900</sup>
Certainly turn their backs ;
Then would they find
Neither protector nor helper.
23. (Such has been) the practice <sup>4901</sup>
(Approved) of God already
In the past : no change
Wilt thou find in
The practice (approved) of God.
24. And it is He Who
Has restrained their hands

۲۰- وَعَدَّكُمْ اللَّهُ مَغَانِمَ كَثِيرَةً تَأْخُذُوهَا
فَعَجَّلَ لَكُمْ هَذِهِ
وَكَفَّ أَيْدِيَ النَّاسِ عَنْكُمْ
وَلِتَكُونَ آيَةً لِّلْمُؤْمِنِينَ
وَيَهْدِيَكُمْ صِرَاطًا مُّسْتَقِيمًا ۝

۲۱- وَأُخْرَى لَمْ تَقْدِرُوا عَلَيْهَا
قَدْ أَحَاطَ اللَّهُ بِهَا
وَكَانَ اللَّهُ عَلَىٰ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ قَدِيرًا ۝

۲۲- وَلَوْ قَاتَلَكُمْ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
لَوَلَّوْا الْأَدْبَارَ
ثُمَّ لَا يَجِدُونَ وِلِيًّا وَلَا نَصِيرًا ۝

۲۳- سُنَّةَ اللَّهِ الَّتِي
قَدْ خَلَتْ مِن قَبْلُ ۚ
وَلَنْ تَجِدَ لِسُنَّةِ اللَّهِ تَبْدِيلًا ۝

۲۴- وَهُوَ الَّذِي كَفَّ أَيْدِيَهُمْ

4896. The gains so far seen from the Bai'at and their calm and disciplined behaviour were certainly great ; but greater still were to follow in the spiritual sense, in the rapid spread of Islam, in the clearance from the Sacred House of the idolatrous autocracy, and in the universal acceptance of the Message of God in Arabia.

4897. The first fruits of the Bai'at were the victory or treaty of Hudaibiya, the cessation for the time being of the hostility of the Meccan Quraish, and the opening out of the way to Mecca. These things are implied in the phrase, " He has restrained the hands of men from you."

4898. Hudaibiya (in both the Bai'at and the Treaty) was truly a sign-post for the Believers ; it showed the solidarity of Islam, and the position which the Muslims had won in the Arab world.

4899. Other gains : these are usually referred to the later victories of Islam, but we must view them not merely in their political or material aspect, but chiefly in the rise of Islam as a world power morally and spiritually.

4900. Their morale was now truly broken.

4901. Cf. xxxiii. 62.

From you and your hands
From them in the midst <sup>4902</sup>
Of Mecca, after that He Gave you the victory
Over them. And God sees
Well all that ye do.

25. They are the ones who
Denied revelation and hindered

A crime would have accrued
To you without (your) knowledge,

To force your way, but

That He may admit
To His Mercy whom He will. <sup>4905</sup>
If they had been <sup>4906</sup>
Apart, We should

وَكَانَ اللَّهُ بِمَا تَعْمَلُونَ بَصِيرًا ○

٢٥- هُمُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا
وَصَدُّوكُمْ عَنِ الْمَسْجِدِ الْحَرَامِ
وَالْهَدْيِ مَعْكُوفًا
أَنْ يَبْلُغَ حِجْلَهُ
وَلَوْلَا رِجَالٌ مُؤْمِنُونَ وَنِسَاءٌ مُؤْمِنَاتٌ
لَمْ تَعْلَمُوهُمْ أَنْ تَطَؤُوهُمْ
فَتُصِيبَكُمْ مِنْهُمْ مَعَرَّةٌ
بِغَيْرِ عِلْمٍ
لِيُدْخِلَ اللَّهُ فِي رَحْمَتِهِ
مَنْ يَشَاءُ
لَوْ تَزَيَّلُوا

4902. Little incidents had taken place that might have plunged the Quraish and the Muslims from Medina into a fight. On the one hand, the Quraish were determined to keep out the Muslims, which they had no right to do; and on the other hand, the Muslims, though unarmed, had sworn to stand together, and if they had counter-attacked they could have forced their entrance to the Ka'ba, the centre of Mecca. But God restrained both sides from anything that would have violated the Peace of the Sanctuary, and after the Treaty was signed, all danger was past.

4903. The Muslims from Medina had brought the animals for sacrifice with them, and had put on the Ihrām or pilgrim's garb (see n. 217 to ii. 197), but they were not only prevented from entering Mecca, but were also prevented from sending the sacrificial animals to the place of sacrifice in Mecca, as they could have done under ii. 196. The sacrifice was therefore actually offered at Hudaibiya.

4904. There were at the time in Mecca believing Muslims, men and women, and the faith of some of them was unknown to their brethren from Medina. Had a fight taken place in Mecca, even though the Muslims had been successful, they would unwittingly have killed some of these unknown Muslims, and thus would unwittingly have been guilty of shedding Muslim blood. This was prevented by the Treaty.

4905. God works according to His wise and holy Will and Plan, and not according to what seems to us, in the excitement of human life, to be the obvious course of things. By preventing a fight He saved many valuable lives, not only of Muslims but also of some who became Muslims afterwards and served Islam. He grants His Mercy on far higher standards than man in his limited horizon can see.

4906. If the party from Medina could have distinguished Muslims from non-Muslims among the Meccans, they might have been allowed to enter and punish the pagan Quraish for their inordinate vanity and gross breach of the unwritten law of the land. But in the actual circumstances the best solution was the Treaty of Hudaibiya.

Certainly have punished
The Unbelievers among them
With a grievous punishment.

26. While the Unbelievers
Got up in their hearts
Heat and cant—the heat <sup>4907</sup>
And cant of Ignorance,—
God sent down His Tranquillity <sup>4908</sup>
To his Apostle and to
The Believers, and made them
Stick close to the command
Of self-restraint; and well
Were they entitled to it <sup>4909</sup>
And worthy of it.
And God has full knowledge
Of all things.

The vision for His Apostle: <sup>4910</sup>
Ye shall enter the Sacred
Mosque, if God wills,
With minds secure, heads shaved,
Hair cut short, and without fear.

Knew not, and He granted,
Besides this, a speedy victory. <sup>4911</sup>

4907. While the Unbelievers were blustering and excited, and meticulously objected to introductory words such as "In the name of God, Most Gracious, Most Merciful" (they did not like the titles), the Muslims were calm and collected, and got the substance of their demands embodied in the Treaty without worrying about words. This was due to their unity and trust in their Leader.

4908. Cf. above xlviii. 18, and n. 4894.

4909. It=Tranquillity. Their calmness amid much provocation was a gift of God; they had earned a right to it by their obedience and discipline, and showed themselves well worthy of it.

4910. The Prophet had had a dream that he had entered the Sacred Mosque at Mecca, just before he decided on the journey which resulted in the Treaty of Hudaibiya. By it he and his people could enter next year without the least molestation and in the full customary garb, with head shaved or hair cut short, and all the customary minor rites of pilgrimage.

4911. See above, xlviii. 18, and n. 4895.

All religion : and enough
Is God for a Witness.<sup>4912</sup>

29. Muḥammad is the Apostle
Of God; and those who are
With him are strong
Against Unbelievers, (but) Compassionate amongst each other.<sup>4913</sup>

Thou wilt see them bow
And prostrate themselves
(In prayer), seeking Grace
From God and (His) Good
Pleasure.<sup>4914</sup>

On their faces are their
Marks, (being) the traces<sup>4915</sup>
Of their prostration.
This is their similitude
In the Taurāt ;<sup>4916</sup>
And their similitude
In the Gospel is :<sup>4917</sup>
Like a seed which sends Forth its blade, then
Makes it strong; it then
Becomes thick, and it stands

الَّذِينَ لَهُمْ وَكَفَى بِاللَّهِ شَهِيدًا ۝

۲۹- مُحَمَّدٌ رَّسُولُ اللَّهِ
وَالَّذِينَ مَعَهُ أَشِدَّاءُ عَلَى الْكُفَّارِ
رُحَمَاءُ بَيْنَهُمْ
تَرَاهُمْ رُكَّعًا سُجَّدًا
يَبْتَغُونَ فَضْلًا مِّنَ اللَّهِ وَرِضْوَانًا
سِيمَاهُمْ فِي وُجُوهِهِمْ مِّنْ أَثَرِ السُّجُودِ
ذَلِكَ مَثَلُهُمْ فِي التَّوْرَةِ
وَمَثَلُهُمْ فِي الْإِنْجِيلِ
كَزَّرِعٍ
أَخْرَجَ شَطْئَهُ فَأَنْزَرَهُ
وَأَسْتَغْلَظَ فَأَسْتَوَى

4912. The divine disposition of events in the coming of Islam and its promulgation by the holy Prophet are themselves evidence of the truth of Islam and its all-reaching character; for there is nothing which it has not influenced. See also lxi. 9, n. 5442.

4913. Cf. ix. 128. The devotees of God wage unceasing war against evil, for themselves, and for others; but to their own brethren in faith—especially the weaker ones—they are mild and compassionate: they seek out every opportunity to sympathise with them and help them.

4914. Their humility is before God and His Apostle and all who have authority from God, but they yield no power or pomp, nor do they worship worldly show or glitter. Nor is their humility before God a mere show for men.

4915. The traces of their earnestness and humility are engraved on their faces, i.e. penetrate their inmost being, the face being the outward sign of the inner man. If we take it in its literal sense, a good man's face alone shows in him the grace and light of God; he is gentle, kind and forbearing, ever helpful, relying on God, and possessing a blessed Peace and Calmness (Sakīna, xlvi. 26) that can come from no other source.

4916. In the Book of Moses, which is now found in a corrupt form in the Pentateuch, the posture of humility in prayer is indicated by prostration: e.g., Moses and Aaron: "fell upon their faces", Num. xvi. 22.

4917. The similitude in the Gospel is about how the good seed is sown and grows gradually, even beyond the expectation of the sower: "the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how; for the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear": Mark, iv. 27-28. Thus Islam was preached by the holy Prophet; the seed seemed to human eyes lost in the ground; but it put forth its shoot, and grew, and became strong, until it was able to stand on its own legs, and its worst enemies recognised its existence and its right to live. Note how much more complete the parable is in the Qur-ān. The mentality of the sowers of the seed is expressed in beautiful terms: its growth and strength filled them "with wonder and delight."

On its own stem, (filling)
 The sowers with wonder
 And delight. As a result,<sup>4918</sup>
 It fills the Unbelievers
 With rage at them.
 God has promised those
 Among them who believe
 And do righteous deeds
 Forgiveness,
 And a great Reward.

عَلَى سَوْقِهِ
 يُعْجِبُ الزُّرَّاعَ
 لِيَغْضِبَ بِهِمُ الْكُفَّارَ
 وَعَدَّ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ
 مِنْهُمْ مَغْفِرَةً وَأَجْرًا عَظِيمًا ۝

4918. I construe the particle "li" as expressing not the object, but the result. The result of the wonderful growth of Islam in numbers and strength was that its enemies were confounded, and raged furiously within their own minds, a contrast to the satisfaction, wonder, and delight of the Prophet and his Companions. The pronoun in "rage at them" of course refers to the Prophet and his Companions, and goes back to the earlier words, "on their faces" etc.

INTRODUCTION TO SŪRA XLIX (Hujurāt).

This is the third of the group of three Medina Sūras, which began with S. xlvii. See the Introduction to that Sūra.

Its subject-matter is the manners to be observed by the members of the rapidly-growing Muslim community, among themselves and towards its Leader. The key-word "Hujurāt" (Inner Apartments) occurs in verse 4.

Its date is referred to the Year of Deputations, A.H. 9, when a large number of deputations of all kinds visited Medina to offer their allegiance to Islam.

Summary.—A community must show its respect to its Leader in all forms of behaviour; quarrels are unseemly and should be composed; manners spring from morals; and mutual respect and confidence are a duty and a privilege in Islam (xlix. 1-18, and C. 223).

C. 223.—Respectful behaviour to the Leader, in manner,
(xlix. 1-18.) Voice, and demeanour, are the bonds and cement
Of an organised community. The whispers
Of rumour should be tested, and selfish impatience
Should be curbed to discipline. All quarrels
Should be composed, if necessary by the force
Of the community, but with perfect
Fairness and justice. Ridicule, taunts,
And biting words, should be avoided,
In presence or in absence. Suspicion
And spying are unworthy of men who believe.
All men are descended from one pair :
Their honour depends, not on race, but
On righteousness. Faith is not a matter
Of words, but of accepting God's Will
And striving in His Cause. The coming
Into Islam confers no favour on others,
But is itself a favour and a privilege,
A guidance for those who are true and sincere.

Hujurat, or the Inner Apartments.

*In the name of God, Most Gracious,
Most Merciful.*

1. ﴿١﴾ ye who believe!
Put not yourselves forward <sup>4919</sup>
Before God and His Apostle;
But fear God: for God
Is He Who hears
And knows all things.

2. ﴿٢﴾ ye who believe!
Raise not your voices <sup>4920</sup>
Above the voice of the Prophet,
Nor speak aloud to him
In talk, as ye may
Speak aloud to one another,
Lest your deeds become <sup>4921</sup>
Vain and ye perceive not.

3. Those that lower their voice
In the presence of
God's Apostle,—their hearts
Has God tested for piety: <sup>4922</sup>
For them is Forgiveness
And a great Reward.

4. ﴿٤﴾ Those who shout out <sup>4923</sup>
To thee from without

بِسْمِ اللّٰهِ الرَّحْمٰنِ الرَّحِیْمِ

۱- یٰٓاَيُّهَا الَّذِیْنَ اٰمَنُوْا لَا تَقْدِمُوْا
بَيْنَ يَدِیْ اللّٰهِ وَرَسُوْلِهِ وَاَتَقُوا اللّٰهَ
اِنَّ اللّٰهَ سَمِیْعٌ عَلِیْمٌ ۝

۲- یٰٓاَيُّهَا الَّذِیْنَ اٰمَنُوْا
لَا تَرْفَعُوْا اَصْوَاتَكُمْ فَوْقَ صَوْتِ النَّبِیِّ
وَلَا تَجْهَرُوْا لَهُ بِالْقَوْلِ كَجَهْرِ بَعْضِكُمْ لِبَعْضٍ
اَنْ تَحْبَطَ اَعْمَالُكُمْ وَاَنْتُمْ لَا تَشْعُرُوْنَ ۝

۳- اِنَّ الَّذِیْنَ یَغْضُوْنَ اَصْوَاتَهُمْ عِنْدَ
رَسُوْلِ اللّٰهِ اُولٰٓئِكَ الَّذِیْنَ اٰمَنُوْا
فَلَوْ هُمْ لَلتَّقْوٰی لَهُمْ مَّغْفِرَةٌ وَّاَجْرٌ عَظِیْمٌ ۝

۴- اِنَّ الَّذِیْنَ یُنَادُوْنَكَ مِنْ وَّرَآءِ

4919. Three shades of meaning are implied: (1) do not make yourselves conspicuous in word or deed when in the presence of God (e.g. in a Mosque, or at Prayers or religious assemblies); (2) do not anticipate in word or deed what your Leader (God's Apostle) may say or do; (3) do not be impatient, trying to hasten things before the time is ripe, of which the best Judge is God. Who speaks through His Apostle. Be reverent in all things, as in the presence of God: for He hears and sees all things.

4920. It is bad manners to talk loudly before your Leader. Some ill-mannered people so raise their voices as to drown the voice of their Leader, in conversation or in Council.

4921. Such rudeness may even destroy the value of such services as they may otherwise have been able to render, and all this without their even realising the harm they were doing to the Cause.

4922. The essence of good manners arises from the heart. The man who really and sincerely respects his Leader has true piety in his heart, just as the man who does the opposite may undo the work of years by weakening the Leader's authority.
